FOREST FIRES NEW PERIL IN HUNTING AREA

CAMPFIRES CAUSE BAD BLAZES IN DRY WOODS

The hazards of forest fires were added to the perils of rifle bullets Friday for an estimated army of 175,000 Michigan deer hunters.

The conservation department said that 16 blazes burning over 550 acres of woodlands had been reported and that the state was ready to call out every available fire-fighting unit.

Most of the blazes, officials said, were started by campfires left by careless hunters. They said the woods were especially dry this fall.

Temperature in Fifties District Ranger B. M. Stout reported from Manistee Friday that three fires did heavy damage in sections of the Manistee National Forest Thursday.

In view of the warm weather, successful hunters were hurrying home with their bucks. The state highway department reported Friday that 41 trucks had been taken across the Straits of Mackinac by ferries in the first two days of the season.

The conservation department announced that special permits to carry trucks to the lower peninsula through Wisconsin would be issued at Ewen, Crystal Falls and Escanaba.

One hunter was found dead on a deer near southeast of Traverse City Friday evening, apparent victim of a heart attack.

Hunter Struck A number of hunters suffered injuries Friday, among them Glenn Tingley, 38, of Tecumseh, who was in serious condition in a Graying hospital.

Alarms were sounded in 13 towns but no bombs were dropped by the Nazi airman.

The announcement said the two nations would share equally all available supplies "should circumstances render necessary a reduction of programs of imports."

The unity of action which had been effected in the past two months, the communique added, was achieved in the World War only after the third year of fighting.

The war council meeting was held as Great Britain called for 20,000 women to serve behind the lines as clerks, cooks and chauffeurs, doubling the women's auxiliary territorial service.

The war office also called for 20,000 men between the ages of 35 and 50 to guard vulnerable home areas and release regular troops for more active service.

German planes flew over the Shetland Islands, north of Scotland, and over Lancashire, Cheshire and North Wales. The raiders were driven off by anti-aircraft fire and British airmen.

The Shetlands were bombed by a Nazi raider Monday but broken windows in farmers' houses constituted the sole damage, the British reported.

Kuhn Nuisance, Dewey Admits Bund Leader's Defense Based On 'Politics' and 'Hatred'

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 17 (AP)—General Motors corporation and three affiliates convicted with it of violating the anti-trust act were fined $5,000 each today by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley.

Judge Lindley imposed the fines after over-ruling motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment.

John Thomas Smith, New York attorney for the corporation, was granted 90 days to file exceptions on which an appeal may be made to the U. S. circuit court of appeals at Chicago.

The trial judge assessed one-half of the prosecution costs—estimated at approximately $100,000—against General Motors and the remaining half against General Motors Sales Corporation, one of the affiliates convicted.

The jury's split verdict, convicting the four corporations of violating the anti-trust act by forcing sales with GMAC but acquitting 17 officials who were individual defendants, was returned last night.

RHINE MAY BE BUFFER STATE IN PARIS PLAN

REAL WAR PURPOSE PROVES PUZZLE TO GERMANY

By Kirke L. Simpson Associated Press Staff Writer Britain is Germany's chosen arch foe but the Nazi leadership apparently is eyeing France with greater concern in bidding anew for neutral intervention to smoke out the real allies in the war that nobody wants or has yet begun to fight in earnest.

The "authorized source" feelers in Berlin urging that President Roosevelt take a hand in the making of peace have taken a new twist. What Hitler really would like most to know is not whether the allies demand restoration of Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria, but whether the Paris, London war-making pact includes a deal to make "the watch on the Rhine" a reality instead of a song for a vanquished Germany.

Only Hints So Far There have been hints of that from French sources. It has been openly urged by official military commentators in France that this time victory over Germany should mean permanent ejection of Germany from the Rhineland, the region between the Rhine and the French frontier.

France has never been reflected in any official French or British exposition of war purposes. Yet the blunt tone of Premier Daladier's rejection of all peace proposals and the inclusion of restoration of Austria as a French war-aim invite speculation.

Post-war war efforts by France to girdle Germany with buffer states proved an ineffective means of insuring peace on the continent. French failure to resist Hitler's re-militarization of the Rhineland laid the basis for the present military stalemate.

The war of 1939-40 began right there. Non-Germans of Austria, Poland and Czechoslovakia can trace their present uneasy writhing under the heavy yoke of Nazi police to that French reluctance to take up arms again, even to keep the Rhineland free of German guns, fortifications and troops.

Solution For Peace Whether that reluctance sprang from the confused and at times menacing political situation in France, or flowed out of British "appeasement" councils, history will decide. It is, however, the essential factor in the situation in which Europe and the world finds itself today.

A demilitarized Rhineland would have made impossible virtually all that has happened to let the war dogs loose again in Europe. There can be no doubt in Berlin that somewhere behind (Continued on Page 13).

Professional Wife Accused Of Running Away With Savings Cadillac, Mich., Nov. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Josephine Pelikan, 41, accused by several men of capitalizing matrimony by absconding with their money, was bound over to circuit court today for trial on a larceny charge.

Appearing against the woman in recorder's court, Mike Fortelka, 63, testified she disappeared with his $450 in savings after they had obtained a marriage license in 1936 subsequent to her answering an advertisement in a matrimonial column.

The elderly man testified that Mrs. Pelikan, who he said was known to him as Helen Kovacic, had persuaded him to convert his savings into cash and place it into a safety deposit box under both their names. The next day, he said, she disappeared and the money also was gone.

Judge Fred M. Breen set bail at $2,000. No trial date was announced.

CHRYSLER CASE COMES TO HEAD

Negotiators In Strike Affecting 100,000 Near Showdown

Detroit, Nov. 17 (AP)—Settlement by Chrysler labor dispute keeping 100,000 workers idle was hinted in both corporation and CIO quarters today, with a hopeful sign from a federal mediator.

In guarded statements leaders of both sides, along with a conciliator, James F. Dewey of the department of labor, indicated a belief that settlement of the six-week-old quarrel might be reached within a few days.

Dewey, announcing negotiations would be resumed at 10 a. m. tomorrow, said he expected at that time to hear "proposals from each side on all matters necessary to end this difficulty."

To a direct question whether Chrysler's 58,000 workers could return to work by Monday, the corporation's vice president in charge of operations, Herman L. Wecker, replied: "Nothing is impossible."

Old Age Assistance Cases Re-examined Lansing, Nov. 17 (AP)—Dr. Philip A. Callahan, state social security director, ordered his district staffs today to re-examine all old age assistance cases before the department takes over the administration of aid to dependent children and aid to the blind December 1.

The social welfare department predicted the order would reduce materially the number of applications on file for old age assistance.

Turkey Day Split At Stevens Point Stevens Point, Wis., Nov. 17 (AP)—For non-political reasons, the Portage county board decided today that Thanksgiving Day for county officials would be Nov. 30.

The supervisors, now in annual meeting, want to work Nov. 23 so they can be ready for the deer hunting season opening Nov. 25.

Survey Of Cedar River Refuge Harbor Receives Approval Of Army Engineers Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—The war department announced today that surveys of 47 proposed harbors or refuge for small craft on the Great Lakes had been approved by army engineers.

YOUNG CZECHS LINED UP FOR FIRING SQUAD

'BENES FOLLOWERS' BLAMED BY NAZIS FOR ASSAULT

Berlin, Nov. 17. (AP)—Nine students of Prague universities and academics were executed by German firing squads today as ring-leaders in a series of rebellious demonstrations Wednesday in the Nazi protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia.

The shooting of the nine was reported by DNB, German official news agency. Other news filtering into Berlin provided sketchy details of the events in the capital of the former Czechoslovak republic.

"No Disorders" One definite fact established was that there were no disorders in Prague and that the population knew nothing of the executions before a radio announcement early in the evening said merely that "nine were shot."

Telephone communication with Prague was haphazard and few details were available.

It was established during one call, however, that reports in informed Prague circles were that the executions followed revelations made after a raid on an illegal printing establishment in the home of a former Czech government official. This call was interrupted.

Another connection established with an American official in the former Czechoslovak capital disclosed that the city was quiet and that the general population heard about the executions hours after they occurred.

Officials Tight-Lipped Berlin official and other usually well-informed quarters were tight-lipped and said nothing was known beyond the DNB communique.

DNB said that extraordinary measures were taken after the students, described as "Benes followers" assaulted Germans. Dr. Eduard Benes, last president of Czechoslovakia, now is living in exile in Paris.

The news agency's communique said: "For some time a group of Czech intellectuals associated with the fugitive President Benes have sought to disturb peace and order in the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia with greater or smaller demonstrations of resistance."

"Investigation established that the leaders of these actions of resistance were to be found particularly in colleges and academies. In consequence of the fact that on Oct. 28 and Nov. 15 these elements assaulted individual Germans the Czech academies were closed for three years, nine perpetrators shot and a large number of participants arrested."

Students Spirited Away In addition to the telephoned assurances that Prague was quiet tonight, it seemed certain that German police and military forces in the protectorate would be able to quell an effort at rebellion.

Black-shirted SS elite guard security forces there are in command of Sepp Dietrich, trusted friend of Adolf Hitler.

It was he who came to the memorial in an official capacity. By January, 1941, he added, he hoped to be able to come to the final dedication of the memorial itself—scheduled for that month.

The mention of 1941 interested the politically-minded because the president's second term ends on January 20, 1941. They wondered whether he wanted to come back to the memorial a third time, either before or after that date, in an official capacity or as a private citizen.

Gets Big Laugh Mr. Roosevelt did little to clarify the matter today. He merely tossed back his head, clapped a hand on his knee and laughed uproariously when reporters speculated that there had been some speculation about what he meant.

The press conference touched various subjects, including the supreme court, naval construction, presidential appointments and international affairs.

Prompted by questions, the chief executive said: "I have been writing a story, he would say that unless there were an emergency he would wait until January to fill the vacancy left on the supreme court by the death of Justice Pierce Butler. No thought has been given a successor yet."

Finland has not been promised financial and economic assistance by the United States but has a perfect right to obtain loans from American banks about two months ago Finland was after a loan, to build a railway or something like that, and was referred to New York banks.

There was no news story in the conference last week between Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and United States Minister George A. Gordon. It had little international importance.

The meteoric height of some naval vessels was too great but the condition has been corrected and the ships no longer are top heavy.

TEN DROWN AS BOATS COLLIDE Menhaden Fish Vessel Goes to Bottom Near Beaufort, S. C. Beaufort, S. C., Nov. 17 (AP)—At least 10 persons were known to have drowned tonight in a boat collision in the inland waterway six miles north of here.

The drowned were aboard the Menhaden vessel Southland, proceeding from Ocracoke to Morehead City with 300,000 Menhaden fish. She went to the bottom after she was in collision with the tugboat Escape, towing the barge Escapo, bound from Wilmington to Hopewell, Va.

The identified dead were E. J. Fulcher and Charlie Fulcher, brothers of Stacy, in east Carteret county, and three negroes, Robert Lee of Southport, Isaac Claribby of Bolivia, near Southport, and Joseph Eagles of Southport. The other dead were negroes.

None of the Escape's crew was hurt. Officials said after a hasty study that the waterway would not be blocked, although the Southland's superstructure was visible.

Sheriff C. G. Holland, who gave out details of the collision, said there apparently was a mixup on signals and the boats struck with full force. Most of the Southland's crew of 20 were below deck.

The Southland was owned by John Guthrie of Morehead City, and Oil company. Coast guard boats from Fort Macon proceeded to the scene.

Baltimore Shaken By Another Quake Baltimore, Nov. 17 (AP)—Reports of another brief earthquake, similar to the one which shook four states two days ago, flooded newspaper office switchboards here tonight.

Frightened citizens again reported rattling dishes and moving furniture and sensations similar to those noted during the earlier shock. Time of the shock here was set unofficially at about 9:55 p. m.

STATE PAYROLLS UP Lansing, Nov. 17 (AP)—The state commission of labor and industry today reported an increase of 5.3 percent in Michigan industrial payrolls in October, and of 4.5 percent in the number of employees.

SECRETARY VEILS CAPONE'S CASE Former Gang Czar Has $30-a-Day Suite for Brain Treatment Baltimore, Nov. 17 (AP)—Behind a barrier of secrecy, "Scarface Al" Capone, ruler of Chicago's gangland in the fabulous days of prohibition, tonight began treatment calculated to relieve a brain disorder that attacked him in prison more than two years ago.

Union Memorial hospital authorities and his attending physician, Dr. Joseph E. Moore, widely-known syphilologist and an instructor at the Johns Hopkins medical school, issued a guarded statement asserting Capone would be treated "as a patient, and not as a public personality."

Capone is suffering from paralysis, a progressive brain paralysis. Hospital authorities emphasized that the former gang czar would be allowed no visitors and that the $30-a-day suite on the fifth floor of the institution would be closed to all except hospital attaches and members of the family.

Asked if Capone is rational, Dr. Moore said: "No comment."

Lansing Publisher Nowack Is Named In $200,000 Libel Detroit, Nov. 17 (AP)—Maurice H. Brown, at times a figure in state politics, sued Edward A. Nowack, Lansing publisher of a political organ, for $200,000 in federal court today on allegations of libel.

The plaintiff, who gave his address as South Bend, Ind., charged that the Michigan State Digest, published by Nowack, had called him an "underworld character," "ex-convict," "racketeer," and a "shakedown artist."

Brown, who was paroled in 1930 and later pardoned after serving four years in Southern Michigan prison on a statutory conviction, had dabbled in state politics during the first administration of the late Governor Fitzgerald and earlier.

Governor Fitzgerald, in his second administration, had charged Brown with inspiring the attack of the Rev. Amos B. Bogart of Battle Creek on the administration's policy toward gambling. In his suit against Nowack, Brown claims the pardon gives him immunity to further references to his conviction.

SAFE WINTER DRIVING URGED

Seven Tips for Motorists Are Listed by Safety League

Evanson, Ill. (Special)—With winter conditions prevailing in most sections of thirty-three northern states, safety authorities today asked motorists to be extra careful and take practical precautions in battling "Old Man Winter."

Declaring that December is the most crucial time in the year for motor safety, Judge Harry H. Porter, chief justice of the municipal court of Evanson, Ill., pointed out that accidents increase 35 to 40 per cent in northern states during winter months, as against only 3 to 20 per cent in southern states according to location and severity of weather conditions. He termed the public safety drive "A War at Home" and reminded listeners of the fact that nineteen months of the last World War claimed lives of 50,510 American soldiers, while during the past nineteen months 51,380 persons were killed in automobile accidents in the U. S.

Judge Porter, who is general chairman of the National Safety Council's street and highway traffic section and president of the Safe Winter Driving League, declared that the latter figure represented a 20 per cent reduction in traffic deaths over the previous nineteen months. The figures for nineteen months are used because that was the length of time the United States was involved in the last war.

"It illustrates," he said, "the importance of safety education, engineering and enforcement. The Safety Council's committee on winter driving hazards, headed by Prof. Ralph A. Moyer of Iowa State college, and composed of twenty-eight leading authorities in all branches of research and automotive transportation, is making a strong 'counter attack' on Old Man Winter by exploding fallacious theories and proving the facts on safe winter driving by impartial research and tests."

The "7 Tips for Safe Winter Driving," revised and based on the new research conducted thus far, follow:

1. Test brakes for simultaneous gripping.
3. Travel at less than moderate speeds on snow or ice covered highways and city streets. The common practice of lowering tire pressure gives only slightly more traction and not nearly sufficient for all-around safety. It also damages tires. Non-skid treads on tires are definitely helpful on wet pavement, but only to a very limited extent on snow, while on ice they give no more anti-skid protection than smooth tires.

4. Leave plenty of room between you and the car ahead. Necessity of sudden stops and turns should be avoided. Take curves slowly, even with chains, and don't try to pass cars ahead of you on hills and curves.
5. Put on chains wherever dangerous packed snow and ice prevails to any extent, particularly on hills. Without chains or cinders on an icy road it is unsafe to overtake vehicles in urban areas, and hazardous in rural areas, unless the road is clear for a half mile ahead.
6. When stopping on ice and snow keep car in gear and apply brakes before you would in dry weather. Use tire chains but drive as if you didn't have them. They add appreciably to control of car. On ice and snow chains on rear wheels alone reduce stopping distances 25 to 35 per cent, and on all four wheels 40 to 50 per cent. "Pump" brakes, even with chains, to keep wheels from locking completely.
7. Exercise greater caution generally and open cowl ventilator to force out possible carbon monoxide gas, since opening side win-

Hunters Get Deer In Nahma Region

Nahma, Mich.—Hunters in the Nahma region are reporting good luck while hunting during the first couple days of the season. Nahma residents who filled their licenses on the opening day were: William Acker, Merton Reno, Sam Drexton, George Koush, and Clarence Sheedio. Members of the Petoskey Hunting Lodge also got two bucks on the first day.

Dr. H. Danz of Green Bay, a guest of Charles E. Good, got his buck on the second day.

CAPONE GANG CARRYING ON

Criminal Syndicate Turns From Alky to Gambling and Vice Control

(By NEA Service) Chicago—Al Capone's gangland empire has transferred its activities to new fields since its leader was bundled off to prison—and maybe its allegiance has been transferred, too.

If Capone should try to resume his interrupted career following his release from more than seven years in prison, he would find the field still profitable. But that his old lieutenants who still are active would be willing to put him back at the top of the heap is far from certain.

The Capone syndicate, as Chicago police call the post-rapeal hangerover of the old mob, shifted its attention for the most part to more lawful fields when repeal ended the big money in illicit liquor. The group is said to still control part of the Windy City's cleaning and dyeing industry.

Horse racing, vice and gambling add to the syndicate's revenue. Most of Chicago's betting handbooks are under its management. Police say bookies who wish to operate under their own auspices are forced to pay protection in order to stay healthy and in business.

SLAYING REVEALS SYNDICATE'S ACTIVITY

The recent shotgun slaying of Edward J. O'Hare, president of Chicago's Sportsman Park race track, revealed what police believe is the syndicate's intention to branch out into other fields of professional sport. O'Hare was found to be a director of the Chicago Cardinals, professional football club, and was known to have been angling for a roller skating derby concession in several southern states.

Chicago police claim to be mystified as the public about the part former Capone lieutenants play in the present syndicate set-up. Two years ago State's Attorney Courtney listed Frank Nitti, Charles Fischetti, Louis Campagna, Lawrence Mangano and Danny Stanton among the county's vice and gambling chiefs.

MANY OLD CRIMES STILL IN CHICAGO

Still known to be around Chicago are Frank Nitti, once regarded as the brains of the mob;

Murray Humphreys, regarded as the gang's No. One man while Nitti was serving an income tax term; Jack Guzik, one time general manager of the syndicate; Lawrence Mangano and others.

Ralph Capone, Al's brother, recently stated he was employed at $50 a week by a water bottling concern. Frank Diamond, the ex-gangster's brother-in-law and former bodyguard, told police he was a contractor.

Danny Stanton, questioned last October about a fatal shooting, said he was a tavern owner. Hymlie Levin's loop handbooks were among the first to feel the axe in a drive conducted by the state's attorney last year to close out Chicago bookies.

Some of the well-known members of the gang are dead, others have left town. Frankie Rio, Capone's bodyguard, who served a year in Philadelphia in 1929 for carrying concealed weapons, died a natural death four years ago in Oak Park, highly respectable Chicago suburb.

McGURN SHOT DOWN VALENTINE'S DAY Most famous member of the gang to die since Al entered Alcatraz is James DeMora, better known as "Machine Gun" Jack McGurn. Suspected of having been the machine-gunner in the St. Valentine's day massacre of 1929, McGurn was shot down in a bowling alley the day after St. Valentine's day, 1936. A valentine was found in his pocket.

John Torrio, in the early 1920's an even more important figure than Capone, started serving a two-year income tax evasion term in Leavenworth last spring. James Sammons, a Capone machine gunner, is serving a life term for trying to bribe an Indiana law officer in 1933.

Tony Volpe, whose deportation was upheld that year by the U. S. supreme court, is said still to be in Chicago. Neither Italy nor Argentina, his birthplace, would accept.

Police estimate that the total of present and former Capone mobsters still in and around Chicago is about 100. Some are broke, a few are content with jobs as handbook doormen or race track

Crystal Falls Bank Teller Sentenced

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Miss Katherine Anesi, 32, former teller and bookkeeper in the First National bank at Crystal Falls, has been sentenced by Federal Judge Raymond to serve 15 months in federal prison for embezzlement of approximately $9,500 of the bank's funds.

Upon advices from Washington it was decided today that she will serve her term in the women's prison at Alderson, W. Va. Miss Anesi has been in custody in the Ottawa county jail in Grand Haven. She showed no emotion at being sentenced. When arraigned after being indicted by the federal grand jury she pleaded guilty.

Miss Anesi's thefts from inactive savings accounts of the bank extended over a period of several years and, according to reports, were induced originally because of family difficulties, including illness. She also had a desire to wear fine clothing and indulge in activities such as bowling and which she could not support on her salary of about $75 a month.

Some time ago, it was stated, she desired to confess to Ward Kelly, cashier of the bank, but refrained when he became occupied with a telephone conversation. Her thefts were later discovered by a bank examiner. She had previously covered them up by transfer of savings account records but, it is said, on this occasion left some records purposely misplaced so that they would be discovered.

ticket sellers, but none are doing what may be classed as hard labor. Informed opinion is that no matter what the syndicate's next move is, and whether or not Capone resumes control, O'Hare will be sorely missed. The dead man was suave, clever, and without peer as a contact with persons whom it was important for the gang to know and be friendly. If the syndicate ordered his execution it may live to regret it.

Ore Shipping Doubled As Season Nears End

2,631,000 Tons Is Seen for Year; 14 Boats Coming

Nine days more and the ore shipping from Escanaba C. & N. W. docks is scheduled to be finished for this year...

For the first 17 days of November, business has been exceptionally good, with more than three times as much ore shipped for that period than was shipped for the same period last year.

But although this year has shown a great increase over last year, it is still behind the 1937 record, of 3,147,741 tons, which was the high for any season since pre-1930 boom days.

The E. W. Mudge will pick up 8,900 tons Saturday and the N. F. Leopold will take 9,300 tons Sunday, while on Monday, the Cornelius and the Youngtown are scheduled for 6,500 and 12,000 tons.

But although this year has shown a great increase over last year, it is still behind the 1937 record, of 3,147,741 tons, which was the high for any season since pre-1930 boom days.

For the year to date, 1939 leads 1938 by about two and a half times, with tonnage of 2,496,330 for this year and 1,064,391 for last year.

A hundred forty men are employed at the docks now, which is twice the number employed at this time last year.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—Clarence Day is not alive to see his gentle reminiscences of "Life With Father" transmuted into a successful play.

But when Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse wrote a play out of "Life With Father," they were not without family support, for Clarence Day's widow stood vigilantly over the task.

She was with the authors when they wrote and with the show when it rehearsed and to help make the play household authentic behind the footlights, she contributed most of her furniture—the same furniture that had been in the Day family for several generations.

Life with father in those nostalgic vignettes drawn by Clarence Day was not an easy matter. Father was particular about the household audits. Mother never quite knew what she did with the money.

Father suddenly discovered that he had neglected in his youth to be baptized. He was not charged. Mother was horrified and insisted that he guarantee his safe entry into Heaven. Father adamantly declined to do it.

He scared his servants to death and maintained an oppressive attitude over his four sons.

PLAYWRIGHTS STUCK CLOSELY TO BOOK And the authors of the play have not strung a plot of their own invention around these simple and nostalgic facts about Father Day. For the most part, they have brought to life the charming people that Clarence Day's faithful readers like and revered on paper.

The play is a huge success at the Empire where, appropriately, old-fashioned, horse-drawn barouches and Victorias now draw up under spurious gas-lights to signal their good-spirited fares.

Events have shown that they (Germany) would be satisfied with nothing less than repetition of forcible attainment of their desires, which they had unsuccessfully tried before.

Too many people mistake the discomforts of democracy for defects and are ready to burn down the barn to get rid of the rats.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—Some Republican politicians have been worried over the recent political energy of Herbert Hoover. Although his friends say he is not a candidate, he exhibits all the earmarks of running in 1940.

He is definitely concentrating on securing control of the California delegation to the Republican National Convention, and he has been indefatigable in traveling around the country visiting editors and politicians even in the smallest towns.

Ronald Bridges asserted that Hoover's activity was confusing to the party and that the ex-President owed it to the other candidates to make clear his position in regard to 1940. So it was suggested that they point this out to Mr. Hoover in a friendly way.

Smith phoned to New York, where Mr. Hoover was visiting, and they saw him next day.

NERVOUS BRIDGES

Ronald Bridges opened up the conversation, but was a little nervous about it. After some hemming and hawing, however, he finally conveyed the idea that many Republicans hoped Mr. Hoover would clarify his position about running again.

Mr. Hoover, meanwhile, had eyed Mr. Bridges with complete lack of enthusiasm. Finally, he said: "Young man, did you come here to tell me that I should repeat General Sherman's famous remark?"

Bridges replied in the affirmative. Whereupon the ex-President launched into a long exposition of how he planned to dominate the 1940 election—not for himself, but in order to influence the platform and pick a candidate who would vindicate his administration. He indicated that he was deeply humiliated because the Republican Party had not supported his policies more definitely, and made it absolutely clear that the next Republican candidate could not run on a "repudiate Hoover" ticket.

HOOPER AND CANDIDATES

Hoover also went over the list of available Republican candidates and spoke rather disparagingly of several. He had no use for Landon, Hamilton or Vandenberg. Regarding the latter: "Well, I hate to talk about him for fear he might be our candidate."

"I am looking over some of these new Republican governors," Hoover explained. "I don't think the Senate provides a good springboard for the nomination—and I am going to see what likely young men we have in the party."

He paid high tribute to Governor Bricker of Ohio and even higher tribute to Governor Baldwin of Connecticut, although he added that the latter did not have a chance for the GOP nomination.

PUNDIT MARK SULLIVAN

Returning to the question raised by Bridges of declaring his own intentions, Hoover said: "Do you mind if I call in Mark Sullivan on this?"

Sullivan, veteran newspaperman and sagacious member of Hoover's medicine ball cabinet, came in immediately. A vigorous debate then took place in which both Hoover and Sullivan insisted that the ex-President could not possibly count himself out of the race. If so, they argued, he would immediately lose his strength to control the nomination. (This, incidentally, is the same argument used by Roosevelt to justify his silence on a third term.)

Ronald Bridges argued to the contrary. Smith remained on the side-lines. The net impression gained by his listeners was that Herbert Hoover was determined that the next Republican campaign would be waged on a "vindicate Hoover" platform, that he had a certain "nuisance value" which he was determined to utilize, and that he was approaching the 1940 campaign exactly as if it were his own—with tremendous drive, energy and organizing ability, but with none to great understanding of the American people.

Politicos of both parties looked over John Anson Ford, crusading Los Angeles County Supervisor, when he attended a State Department conference in Washington on inter-American cultural relations. Ford has been approached with the idea of running against Senator Hiram Johnson next year, but has given no indication what he will do.

Orpheus Choral Club And Ruth Gessner Acclaimed In Friday Evening's Concert

More than 700 music lovers in this vicinity discovered at the junior high school last night that it is not necessary to leave the confines of Delta county to be given a musical treat.

The Orpheus Choral club of 35 mixed voices under the direction of R. P. Bowers and Ruth Gessner, local concert pianist, gave the audience at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium as enjoyable a musical evening as it has had in a long time.

Ruth Gessner, Guest Artist. Mrs. Gessner, with a background of study and concert work in Berlin, Vienna, Palestine and other European cities, was guest artist and gave a splendid performance.

PAVING "BONDS" TO BE ISSUED

Securities To Be Authorized Only As Formality

The city will go through the motions of making another special assessment bond issue probably in January and probably for about $27,000 to cover costs of pavement work in the last year.

Just motions, however, because the bonds probably won't even be printed, although authorization will be made for their printing in the event it should become necessary.

The reason for this is that the city is in favorable financial condition and does not have to print and sell bonds in order to finance special improvement work. Procedure in the average city is to go all through the bond procedure before a move is made on an improvement, whereas in Escanaba most of the work for which the bonds are to be "issued" has already been done.

Public hearings to entertain any objections to the work have been held for each project, but since the city had money available to finance the work until property owners should pay for it in installments, the bonds have not been necessary.

This principle applies not only to the anticipated issue, but also to an issue of $30,500 of September 1, 1938. These bonds were printed, but not sold. Instead, they have been held in a local bank and only recently the first installment of $6,100, paid to the city by property owners, were cancelled.

It saves a printing charge of about $24 and in addition, the interest the city would be charged if the bonds were sold. The interest on four percent would figure at about $1,200 on a $30,000 issue. That means savings to the general taxpayers.

The new bond issue will be authorized, but not printed, or sold, to cover costs of paving on 18th street, from 15th to 16th avenue north, at an estimate of $1,155; on 19th street, south from Ludington to Sixth avenue south, at an estimate of $6,370; on 16th street north from 11th avenue to the docks, at an estimate of $6,826. Hearings have been held on these and all but three blocks of the pavement is laid now.

Hearings are to be held soon on pavement work for Sixth avenue south, between 11th and 12th streets and on Third avenue south between 14th and 15th streets.

Iron Horse Closes 21 Years Service

Green Bay—After 41 years of service, the oldest "iron horse" of its class on the entire North Western system is to be "retired" here next week, as soon as the Fox river trestle at De Pere, over which it has run daily for the last four years, has been strengthened to support heavier power.

Built in the Schenectady shops of the American Locomotive company in July, 1898, No. 181 was the last word in motive power. Engineers were hesitant about taking it out because of its "enormous" weight of 133 tons, complete with tender. Now the light yard engines weigh 140 tons; the R-1, lightest road engine, 175 tons, and the J, which handles most of the through freights, 245 tons. The 181 is the last Class R locomotive in service on the system, and frequent trips to the shop attest that the old iron mare ain't what she used to be.

Steel girders are to be laid under the deck of the De Pere trestle to permit the use of R-1 power. This work was started Tuesday, and is to be completed next week, after which the old engine will go to the scrap yard. It was brought here from Antigo for switching service on the De Pere freight run.

Nahma News

School Carnival Postponed Nahma, Mich.—The annual fall school carnival which was to be given Saturday, November 18, has been postponed, because of the number of school activities in the past few weeks.

The carnival is given for the benefit of the High School Athletic association.

Health Lecture

The third lecture of a series of six was presented by Dr. Marie A. Hagele Wednesday afternoon at the club house, with forty-six women present. The topic was: "How life begins." A film on prenatal care was shown. This film was prepared at Harper hospital in Detroit, under the supervision of the Maternal Health committee of the Michigan State Medical society.

The fourth lecture deals with the problems of the care and the training of babies and young children and is illustrated by a motion picture, "Judy's Diary."

Each member receives an outline of each lecture. An opportunity is given for an open discussion of individual problems following each talk and women are encouraged to bring questions to class.

The complete series, sponsored by the county health department and Michigan Department of Health, offers an excellent opportunity for women to gain the basic knowledge of modern maternal and child hygiene. Dr. Hagele accompanies her talks with considerable illustrative material charts—maps and posters in addition to the motion pictures and lantern slides.

Garden News

Medical Lecture Garden, Mich.—Dr. Marie Hagale of the Michigan Department of Health, lectured to twenty-nine women in the council chamber on Tuesday afternoon, illustrating her points by charts. The subject, "The beginning of life, pre-natal and post-natal care," was given in a very lucid manner and interest was very high as proved by the many questions which were asked by the audience. Following the talk a movie covering the subject was shown, which stimulated still more questions. The hostess for this meeting was Mrs. Walter Stellwagen, the chairman Mrs. Roland Bondreau, and the preparations they had made in the room contributed quite a little to the success of the movie. The next lecture on "Infant care" will be given at the same place and time Tuesday, Nov. 21, 2:30 p. m.

DR. T. J. WERLE CLUB SPEAKER

"Find it early, then get to a sanatorium," was the advice given by Dr. T. J. Werle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis association, in presenting a graphic account before the Lions club Thursday night of the progress made by the association in the past 20 years in the battle against the dread disease. Dr. Werle also spoke before high school students Thursday afternoon and at the woman's health lecture at the high school in the evening. His appearances here while touring the Upper Peninsula were arranged by Mrs. J. D. Stangle, chairman of the Seal Sale committee of the Child's Welfare club. Care of patients suffering with tuberculosis in Michigan costs the state about $4,000,000 annually and still 60 per cent of patients who die do so within 2 years of entering the sanatoriums, Dr. Werle stated. Only about 10 per cent of the patients in sanatoriums for treatment are able to pay which accounts for the huge cost borne by the state. This cost is only a part of the bill which the disease exacts for there is the additional loss from the lack of earning power of the various patients being treated. All of this is unnecessary, the speaker declared, for we know now how to prevent the disease, but must be able to find it to protect others from it. The death toll in Michigan from tuberculosis last year was 1,866 persons. Education is the only means and hope of ending tuberculosis as it is through this medium that the disease may be prevented, despite the marked decrease in the state death rate from this disease that the battle was difficult because of the human factor involved. Adolescent girls are subject to the disease but when they contract it authorities are able only in 50 per cent of the cases to find the source from which it was contracted. Boys are stricken at a greater rate than girls and few cases are found in children from 5 to 10 years of age. The adolescent stage is really the danger period, for it has been found that younger children accept the bacilli that cause tuberculosis but do not develop the disease. The spread of tuberculosis is mysterious and in three stages. In the primary stage the child may go to school with safety to others but should avoid undue exertion. He described the other stages and the treatment necessary. Lauds Pincrest Dr. Werle traced the history of tuberculin and said that today through the use of tuberculin and the X-ray it is possible to find the disease in its early stages and to cure it. He warned against waiting, if found in its early stage and immediate and proper treatment procured the cure is quick and immediate. In the second stage it takes from 3 to 5 years to effect a cure and the person is never fully well while in the advanced stage it takes from 5 to 7 years and many never recover. Pincrest Sanatorium at Powers and Dr. Towey, its head, rates highly in the middle-west, Dr. Werle stated, and went on with a brief description of methods used at sanatoriums. "Find it early, get to a sanatorium," he said in closing. Three new members, Phil Hupy and Charles Swedberg of Gladstone and Al DePuydt of Perkins were inducted into the club. A fine wild duck dinner, arrangements for which were made by a committee headed by Vincent Johnson was served to 45 members and guests present.

VOLUME LIGHT AS PRICES FALL

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for Net change, Friday, Previous day, Month ago, Year ago, 1938 high, 1938 low, and Movement in Recent Years.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—The stock market averted from its rallying course today after an early attempt to resume the climb started Thursday.

Gains running to a point or so were posted for leaders in the initial hour. The move failed to hold and soon light offerings were sufficient to reduce or cancel the improvement.

Dealings were moderately active at the start, but thereafter it was a slow-going procession and transfers for the full proceedings amounted to 770,840 shares against $24,690 the day before. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .1 of a point at 52.

Individual issues, including packers, a few utilities, rails, and specialties displayed quiet strength from the beginning, but steels, motors, aircrafts, coppers and oils refused to work up rising vigor.

While business news continued as the principal market prop, the thought apparently would not come in Wall Street that steel production and other lines now at or near capacity might be due for a setback in the next quarter. Early forecasts of heavy purchases due to the European war were shaved materially.

Optimistic estimates of favorable 1939 earnings for the packers compared with losses last year gave a lift to stocks of Armour and Wilson & Co.

General Electric eased following announcement of the coming retirement of Chairman Owen D. Young and President Gerard Swope due to their reaching the company's age limit. The company voted a 65-cent dividend, making payments on the stock for the year to date total $1.40 a share against 90 cents in the preceding period.

Chrysler held up the greater part of the day as settlement of the company's labor dispute appeared imminent. It finished off a shade. General Motors lost 1-8 at 5 1/2 in the wake of the Indiana federal jury's verdict finding "GM" companies guilty of conspiracy to restrict interstate commerce. Owing to Chrysler shutdowns, automobile output for the week was up but 500 units and was around 10,000 under the 1938 week.

Douglas, Sperry, Boeing and United Aircraft dipped after reports difficulties might be encountered in obtaining private financing for needed expansion to take care of record backlog. In arrears at the finish were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Western Union and Texas Corp.

Among gainers were Loft, Bayuk Cigar, Brooklyn Union Gas, American Can, Allied Chemical and Owens-Illinois. Great Northern Paper, selling ex-dividend, ran up 1 5/8 in brisk dealings in the curb. Others fractions to more than a point up included Gulf Oil, American Gas & Electric and Lockheed. Electric Bond & Share and American Cyanamid "B" slipped a notch. Turnover of 149,000 shares compared with 149,000 Thursday.
