Marquette Farm Agent Says Market Can Be Found

Ishpeming—A belief that much can be done to improve the quality and increase the yield of Marquette county potatoes was expressed last night by L. R. Walker, county agricultural agent, addressing the Ishpeming Rotary club.

Mr. Walker said the experience of several individuals proves larger yields are possible with intensive effort and that there is a demand for high quality potatoes.

Potatoes are the only commodity raised by farmers of the county which are not consumed, in their entirety, within the county. There has been an effort to put U. S. No. 1 Green Mountains on the Detroit market and the only drawback has been that the upper peninsula has not been able to supply the demand. There is not, he said, a steady flow of potatoes to the metropolitan market and the result has been that where a demand has been created for the potatoes, it has not been possible to meet it regularly.

Chippewa Best Bet

He expressed belief that the Chippewa potato, recently introduced into the county, is a better bet for the farmer than the Green Mountain, as it retains all the qualities of the latter and matures two weeks earlier. In an area of early frost, this is a point of great merit, Mr. Walker asserted.

The average Marquette county farm is about 28 acres, he explained, and the farmer needs a cash crop that will give him substantial income for the acreage tilled. He expressed belief that potatoes are the answer.

Mr. Walker suggested that more interest in farmers' problems be shown by city residents, that local potato shows be sponsored, that business and professional men support efforts to increase the earning power of the farmer.

He declared there was no good reason why upper Michigan potatoes could not be placed on the metropolitan market in competition with the products of Maine, Idaho and Colorado. Other heavy producing states are North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Adequate Cleared Acreage

There is no need to clear a single additional acre to double the crop of potatoes, he declared. Rotation of crops, intensive cultivation, proper spraying and other steps known to agriculturists will do it, he said. Before farmers can be induced to attempt this, he conceded, there should be preliminary work in developing a marketing organization and in getting the farmers, themselves, to cooperate.

He pointed out that there are several champion potato growers in Marquette county, farmers who during the last decade have won peninsula and state honors for quantity and quality of yield.

Marquette county's farm lands, buildings and livestock are valued at $3,788,452, or an average of $2,743 per farm.

Almost three-fourths of each farm is plowable pasture and hay, while in lower Michigan farms these items only comprise 44 percent of the average acreage.

There are 453 farms west and south of Ishpeming, with 8,330 acres of tillable land. They raise approximately 100,000 bushels of potatoes on 800 acres, giving them an aggregate cash value ranging from $25,000 to $75,000. The value of these 453 farms is placed at $664,000, Walker stated.

Series Of Safety Lectures Closed

A series of four lectures on safety has been completed for Cubs of the Jefferson School Pack 11, sponsored by the P. T. A.

40 to 50 Cubs attended each of the lectures that dealt with "Bicycle Safety", "Children on the Streets", "Safety at Home", and "Safety at Play". The topics were presented by Howard Dufour, Escanaba District Cub Commissioner.

At the close of each session Donald McMillan, Cubmaster prepared an examination covering the topic presented.

A great deal of interest was shown by the boys as the lectures were based upon actual accidents. Other courses will be offered during the winter.

Certificates will be awarded to

Lions Speaker

CAPT. O. E. DEMAREY

Capt. O. E. Demaray, Marquette, commander of the Michigan state police district 8, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Escanaba Lions club at 6:45 o'clock on Monday evening in the Delta hotel. Capt. Demaray will be accompanied by Sgt. Ralph Sheehan of the safety division and Sgt. Nick Modders of Manistique. In addition to the talks by the state police there will be a sound film on the organization shown.

Also guests on the program will be the members of the Lion sponsored by scout troop. Lion Clyde Frick will be in charge of the program, which is the first of the winter boys' work programs of the club.

Senior High To Give Operetta November 28, 29

With a northern French setting of the early 14th century, and a variety of modern music "The Marriage of Nannette," the eleventh annual senior high operetta, will be presented at the William Oliver Memorial auditorium, November 28 and 29.

Practices have been held for the past six weeks with approximately two hundred students and teachers doing their part to make the operetta a success. Thirty two of these are in the orchestral division, 65 in the village's chorus, 12 in the dancing chorus, and 21 students taking the leads.

Several romances are built up, as the story progresses, between men of royalty, villagers and the already romantic gypsies. For added excitement there are several bandits who cause quite a bit of commotion when they kidnap the Countess Heloise, supposedly the most beautiful woman in France, who is the promised bride of the duke. Before the story is over the duke has many flirtations including the one with Nannette, the title lead, who is very much in love with one of the villagers.

All three acts of the operetta are set in the courtyard of the Inn "L'Agneau d'Or" (The Golden Lamb), in the village of Champdes-Fleurs. The inn is owned by Nannette's mother, who has no other thought in mind for her daughter's future than to have her marry a wealthy man of high rank disregarding all accusations of love on her daughter's part.

Tickets are being sold by all members of the senior high music departments and go on reserve starting November 25, at 8:00 a. m.

Tonney Reports On State Meet; Asks Changes

A meeting of the Health Committee of the Delta County Board of Supervisors was held Friday evening in the offices of the County Health Department.

Dr. Fred O. Tonney, county health officer, reported on the recent meeting of the Michigan Public Health Association at Grand Rapids, calling particular attention to a paper by Dr. Burton R. Corbus, president of the Michigan Medical Society on "A Prepayment Plan for Medical Care" sponsored by the society. Under this plan it is possible for the low income groups to obtain adequate medical service, including hospital and laboratory services for a small regular monthly fee. The patient may choose his own doctor and any hospital within an approved list of high standing institutions. This plan is to go into effect throughout Michigan about the first of the year. It was also reported that Dr. Henry F. Vaughn, health commissioner of Detroit, was elected president of the Michigan Public Health association and that the next meeting is scheduled to be held at Detroit together with the national meeting of the American Public Health association in that city next year.

Dr. Tonney then advised the committee of his impressions in coming here as the new county health officer.

Children's Teeth Bad

First, the people do not know enough about their health department and what it means to them, not even where it is, and secondly, he was struck with the poor condition of the children's teeth as he began to examine them in the Delta county schools. About 80 per cent, he estimated, have bad teeth. Teeth, he explained, are on only one evidence of poor lime salt utilization in children. Other effects are poor bone development, retarded growth and lack of resistance to disease.

The one essential for lime salt utilization by the body, he said, is Vitamin D, a sort of chemical accelerator, which enables the body to absorb lime salts from foods such as milk, cereals, bread and meat.

The primary source of Vitamin D is the ultra-violet light of sunshine, he said, and it is nature's plan to provide the necessary vitamin from the sunshine which when absorbed by the bare skin of the body is converted into vitamin D.

However, in northern latitudes the sun's rays fall at a slant, especially in winter, which means that they must traverse many more miles of atmosphere before reaching the earth's surface. The ultra-violet rays are easily screened off by passage through atmosphere and this explains the difference between ultra-violet light content of summer and winter sunshine. It also explains why children have rickets, a disease of softened bones, more frequently in winter than in summer.

Dr. Tonney said he was trying to interest citizen groups in Escanaba in a Cod Liver Oil Project for the children, cod liver oil being a principal source of Vitamin D. He stated that health department nurses were approaching civic organizations here in an effort to raise funds to purchase cod liver oil for infants and preschool children (2 to 5 years). He reported that the Lions Club is soon to put on a "cod liver oil show," the proceeds of which will go to the cod liver oil fund of the county health department.

To Practice Here

James R. Fitzharris, graduate of the Michigan Law school in 1938, and a resident of Escanaba for most of his life, will practice law here with Denis McGlin in the Hughitt building, he announced. Mr. Fitzharris was graduated from St. Joseph's high school in 1929 and from Michigan State college in 1934, with high honors of magna cum laude. He was a member of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society at Michigan State. Mr. Fitzharris was prominent in debate work in high school and college, was Upper Peninsula tennis champion for three years and was golf professional at the Escanaba Golf club, at Blaney Park and at Crystal Downs country club, Frankfort, Mich., during summers while he was in school.

was next drawn to several foot of tuberculosis infection in the county. One especially, on a dairy farm, was given consideration in which a mother in an advanced state of the disease had already infected one son and there were four other children on the farm almost certain to be infected.

The committee passed the following resolution: "In as much as there are at present several active foci of tuberculosis in Delta county, which refuse to be hospitalized for the protection of their families and neighbors, it is the sense of this committee that the county health department should utilize its police powers to enforce hospitalization of such cases wherever a health hazard exists."

The board voted to put a sign over the county health department offices at 1221 Ludington street and also placards on the automobiles used by county health department employees.

The members present were Chairman Ole Peterson, Harry Green, Ralph Kennedy and Harold Gustafson.

Boulevards Planned To Beautify Street

The new lighting system along Ludington street is only the first step in a general city program of lighting planned to be completed perhaps within five years.

The lights were not extended east of Sixth street because under the long-term plan, the ends of Ludington street are to be boulevarded, with the lights to be placed in the boulevard. At the east end, the boulevard will end at about First street and so blend in with the Ludington park landscaping. At the west end, the boulevard will form an attractive entrance to the city.

Such were the plans outlined yesterday by City Manager George E. Bean, in answer, partly, to the many inquiries as to why the Ludington lights could not immediately be extended east and west.

Next on the city light improvement program is the placing of lights similar to the Ludington installation on Stephenson avenue, and with this work already sanctioned by the city council, it is expected to be finished by Christmas. Lighting engineers will study best angles for light distribution to suit the needs of Stephenson avenue and after materials A. Anderson and Miss E. Billings arrive, it will take the city electrical department only about a week to assemble and install the lights.

Other streets scheduled for better lighting in the long-time program are Tenth street and Washington avenue.

INJURIES FATAL TO MRS. LYONS

Former Escanaba Woman Claimed By Death In Chicago

Mrs. Hannah Lyons, of Chicago, former resident of Escanaba, died Friday in a Chicago hospital, her death resulting from complications following a fracture of the hip which she received in a fall six weeks ago.

Mrs. Lyons, who was the widow of James Lyons, made her home in Escanaba for many years and was widely known among the older residents of the city. She was born August 2, 1868, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Surviving her are one daughter, Miss Cecil, of Chicago, and two sons, James C. Lyons, and Chester, who is located in California. The body will be brought to Escanaba Monday morning and will be taken to the Anderson Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete, pending arrival of members of the family.

Club Studio Lounge Is Completed

A view of the attractive studio lounge of the Escanaba Woman's club, in the Carnegie public library building, in which group meetings of the Fine Arts Department of the club are held, is shown here. Enjoying the lounge which was recently completed, are Mrs. Jay Niver, president of the Escanaba Woman's club, and Mrs. E. J. MacMartin, president of the Upper Peninsula Federation of Women's clubs.

The Escanaba Woman's club's long cherished dream of a suitable room in which to hold departmental meetings became a reality last week when the final clang of the carpenter's hammer resounded throughout the Escanaba Carnegie public library.

When departmental work was introduced in the Escanaba club, the library board, realizing the stimulating possibilities of a central meeting place for groups, permitted the club unlimited use of the room which had formerly been used as a lecture room.

The general scheme of decoration is calculated to enhance the architectural aspects of the room. The walls, being of sunlight yellow, have transformed the otherwise dark and dingy basement room into one of warmth and comfort.

Plum and jade green hangings, used as accents, complete the color keynote in the decorative scheme. The focal point in the room consists of a fireplace faced with black composition material, highly waxed to stimulate marble.

The fireplace is flanked by extending curio shelves in buff with black accents. Articles of artistic and historic value are being collected for the shelves. A davenport, studio couch, chairs, tables, and lamps have been arranged in informal groups to develop a homelike atmosphere.

The furniture is being re-upholstered through a WPA workers sewing project and members of the club's needle guild. Venetian blinds are the perfect answer to the window question.

Some outstanding features of the equipment in the studio lounge include a combination radio and phonograph, one hundred and fifty opera and symphonic records, a piano, and a valuable collection of music. There are also etchings, oil paintings, and wood cuts, some of which were state awards and others of which were purchased from the federal art exhibits.

The local art group is gradually adding to the paintings in the collection. Aided by Contribution Shrewd buying on the part of the committee in charge of the studio lounge has kept the cost of rejuvenating the room down to less than two hundred dollars.

The worthiness of this project at once became manifest to the public bodies. Contributions of labor and materials were made by the library board, Escanaba city council, WPA, NYA, and civic minded individuals.

The studio lounge is available, within the jurisdiction of the Escanaba Woman's club and the library board, to groups of forty or fewer, whose objectives lie within its purposes and within the limitations of its equipment.

Una Mae Johnson And Leslie Rose Wedding Friday

Miss Una Mae Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Julia Johnson of Bark River, formerly of Escanaba, became the bride of Leslie Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Rose of 409 South 14th street, this city, at a ceremony which took place Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the parsonage of St. George's church in Bark River.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Joyce Johnson, and Herman LaFramboise, of Detroit, an uncle of the bride, was best man.

The bride wore an attractive dress of shimmer red, a black lip skunk jacket, black hat, and black accessories completing her costume. Her bridesmaid wore du-bonnet velvet with matching accessories. Both had harmonizing shoulder corsages of roses and baby mums.

A wedding dinner for immediate members of the families, with covers for ten guests, was served at the home of the bride's mother, Autumn flowers and the bride's cake formed the attractive table decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose left later on a honeymoon trip to Chicago. They will make their home in Escanaba.

Arlene Edmark, George Nottle Are Wed On Saturday

A pretty wedding of the late fall season was that of Miss Arlene Edmark, daughter of Fred Edmark, of this city, and George Nottle of Escanaba, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nottle of Calumet, which took place Saturday afternoon.

The marriage service was read by Rev. Karl J. Hammar in the parsonage of the Central Methodist church at four o'clock.

The bride wore an ensemble of grape wine shade and a corsage of roses and baby mums. Her sister, Miss Inez Edmark, who was bridesmaid, wore an ensemble of the same shade and a like corsage. George Petaja served Mr. Nottle as best man.

A wedding supper for immediate family members was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waino Petaja.

Mr. and Mrs. Nottle will make their home in Escanaba at 311 South 16th street. Mr. Nottle is with the Sawyer-Stoll company of this city.

WE, the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

IT TAKES HEROIC EFFORT TO BE A HERO NOWADAYS

So that he could be a hero in the eyes of a girl he wanted desperately to impress, a 17-year-old New Jersey boy set fire to the girl's house and then rushed in and rescued her five young brothers and sisters.

He was a hero for two days—and then it was learned that he had set the fire.

The story, bizarre as it is, is a reminder that men have a hard time being heroes today.

Pioneer men, because their strength and protection were essential, were heroes to the womenfolk. They had plenty of chances to prove that they were MEN.

Later, when homesteading was over and the day of big business was at hand, American men went right on being heroes to their womenfolk, conquering a world the women know nothing about.

TYCOONS NO HEROES TO THEIR WIVES

But now that women have moved in on the business world and know from association that the business man is a good part mouse—things are pretty tough on the would-be heroes.

A few young men each fall manage to become gridiron heroes. Once in a great while a Douglas Corrigan comes along, pulls a daring stunt and has the girls cooing and ah-ing.

But most young men today never get a chance to be a hero

Building Improvements

SMALL HOMES • STORES • APARTMENTS • MODERNIZATION

by PAUL T. HAAGEN, A.I.A.

Importance of Framework In Homes Cited

Stress Necessity for Savings In Small Structures

Structural framework must be kept constantly in mind in the planning of low-priced dwellings, according to FHA officials.

The architect must think in terms of the materials he uses and in terms of the available units of these materials, they say. From 10 to 20 per cent of the materials delivered to a site are wasted. This means wasted cost in transportation of the materials, as well as in labor costs.

Waste may be attributed in part to the failure of the designer to plan so as to utilize masonry units without the necessity of breaking odd sizes, lumber in standard lengths requiring neither overlapping nor cutting, and glass in stock dimensions.

Additional savings may be made in the use of stock mill items such as doors, windows sash, frames, moldings, and cabinets, avoiding as much fabrication at the site of building as possible, it is said. The placing of walls and partitions should be kept direct and simple, since corners mean increased cost. The general plan, to save material, should be kept rectangular, as nearly square as practicable. Interior partitions should be straight, avoiding breaks and angles, and should be placed over bearing members to eliminate additional supports.

Screen Over Chimney Top Safety Item

Many homes being built today include one or more open wood-burning fireplaces. With such fireplaces, one precaution should be taken to reduce the fire hazard to an absolute minimum.

A wood fire builds up a strong draft and good-sized sparks, and pieces of burning paper will often be drawn up and discharged by the chimney. To prevent these from flying out and igniting the roof or perhaps piles of leaves near the house, a screen should be placed over the top of the chimney.

The screen should be given an occasional cleaning in order to prevent clogging and reduction of the necessary draft in the chimney.

The Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration offers a method for obtaining funds to repair or remodel fireplaces and chimneys. The money is advanced by lending institutions qualified by the FHA.

BREAKFAST NOOK DESIRABLE FEATURE

It is frequently desirable, in houses which have full-sized dining rooms, to dedicate a corner or a breakfast nook, especially when there are junior members of the family.

The nook should have a built-in cabinet for breakfast dishes, children's silverware and dishes, and electric cooking equipment such as grill, percolator, and waffle iron.

A folding table hinged to the wall may be built. A breakfast nook will reduce housework as well as wear and tear on the dining-room furniture.

Breakfast nooks may be built in homes with funds obtained from lending institutions qualified by the Federal Housing Administration under its Property Improvement Credit Plan.

ROOF PAINTING

A bad roof can cause more annoyance during winter weather than at any other season of the year, so home owners are urged to check their roofs before the severe blasts of winter arrive.

Most roofing authorities recommend that the tin roof be painted immediately upon installation and every two years thereafter. In cases where galvanized sheet metal is used, the roof should not be painted for at least six months after installation, as this period of conditioning is necessary to free the surface from acids which otherwise may tend to loosen the paint.

Peeling paint should be removed with steel wool, sandpaper, or a wire brush before new paint is applied.

In preparing a budget for roof improvements, as well as other last-minute repairs for winter that meet eligibility requirements, the home owner may bear in mind that funds for such work are obtainable from qualified lending institutions under the Federal Housing Administration's Modernization Credit Plan.

CHIMNEY EFFICIENCY

A large part of the efficiency of a chimney is due to its height, and for this reason many authorities recommend 30 to 35 feet as a minimum height.

Drafts in low chimneys are erratic in their action, and although a chimney much lower than the recommended minimum may be efficient at times, it will probably be inconsistent. Any at-

Stone and Wood Give Charm

The charm of a small cottage is blended here with the rugged dignity that only stone can give, with the result that a distinguished home is evolved. The double window on the side not only provides the living room with another exposure but also serves as an effective architectural feature. The lengthwise garage gives the house an appearance of breadth and provides a balance for the center wall of stone. This home, valued at $7,800 by the Federal Housing Administration, was built in New Jersey with the assistance of an FHA-insured mortgage of $6,600.

ADEQUATE LIGHTING NEEDED IN HOME

In planning a new home or in modernizing an old one, considerable attention should be given to the problem of providing adequate lighting equipment so that this all-important factor in family health is not neglected.

The importance of choosing the best available fixtures and wall colors which readily and properly reflect light without glare is instantly evident. Painters, builders, and electricians combine to give their best efforts for satisfactory results.

Proper lighting in a home, authorities recognize, can do much to ease eye-strain as well as to lessen the gloom of dark cheerless days.

Under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration funds with which to repair and change the lighting system of a home may be obtained from qualified lending institutions.

bitary minimums have to be considered in the light of local conditions, however, for overhanging trees, the height of the chimney above the roof, and strong prevalent winds can cause disturbance in the draft action.

A smoking chimney or unsatisfactory fireplace may be repaired or replaced with funds obtainable from qualified lending institutions under the Federal Housing Administration's Property Improvement Credit Plan.

May Convert Porches Into Sun Parlors

Seldom-used side and rear porches, carry-overs from an era when numerous porches were prevailing architectural features, can be converted into sun parlors with comparatively little remodeling and expense.

A glassed-in sunroom, providing maximum sun and light, is frequently the most popular room in the house. Besides being a cheerful place in which to sit, a sunroom can be used for flowers and often is made into a summer sleeping porch.

Conversion of a porch into a sunroom can be accomplished with funds obtained from qualified lending institutions under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

LIQUID PREVENTS DAMAGE BY ICE

A colorless waterproofing liquid is being marketed which, its manufacturers maintain, will prevent the entrance of water or snow into joints, cracks, or fissures in brick, concrete, stucco, art stone, cut stone, and other porous masonry. Applicable with funds obtainable under FHA's Modernization Credit Plan, the liquid prevents ugly staining of walls and ornamental stone com-struction without changing the appearance of the building. It penetrates and fills the pores, leaving an inner lining of an insoluble substance.

Many Types of Home Repairs Are Eligible

Scores of Improvements Possible Under FHA Plan

To emphasize the many types of work that property owners or lessees may accomplish under the Federal Housing Administration's Property Improvement Credit Plan, a list of home repairs or improvements is suggested by the FHA.

Under this plan funds may be borrowed by responsible persons from private financial institutions to finance the cost of repairs, alterations, and improvements such as are listed below.

List of Types of Work
 The list, while not all-inclusive, gives a general indication of basic types of work which may be done: Plumbing, including necessary fixtures as a part of the plumbing system.

Light plants as a part of the lighting system.
 Incinerators, if permanently built into the structure.

Heating systems, whether coal, wood, oil, gas, etc.
 Hot-water heaters, if in connection with plumbing system.

Coal stokers, oil burners, gas-conversion burners, if installed in connection with heating system.
 Temperature regulators.

Ash-removal equipment, if in connection with heating system.
 Electric wiring and lighting fixtures, if integral part of wiring system.

Radiation, if part of heating system.
 Gas generators as a part of the lighting or heating system.

Wells and cisterns, including pumps and windmills operated in connection with plumbing system.
 Sewage-disposal systems.

Water and sewerage connections with public mains.
 Air-conditioning equipment, if permanently built into structures.

Humidifying equipment, if an integral and permanent part of heating or air-conditioning system.
 Built-in ventilating equipment.

Forced heat-circulating equipment.
 Fire escapes, if permanently attached to structure.

Sprinkler systems.
 Fire and burglar alarm systems.

Items, if permanent part of structure.
 Elevators and dumb waiters.
 Cabinets, if built in.
 Linoleum, if cemented to the floor.

Built-in ironing boards, dinettes, flower boxes, cabinets, bookcases, cupboards.
 Built-in laundry chutes.

Fitted storm doors and sash built for porches, windows, etc.
 Fitted screen doors and windows built for porches, windows, etc.

Window - Conditioning, Insulation New doors and windows of all kinds.

Built-in door or wall mirrors.
 Automatic garage door openers.
 Weather stripping.
 Awnings and shutters.
 Coal chutes.

Built-in package receivers and mail boxes.
 All applied wall coverings.
 Wall and floor tiles.
 Sound-proofing.
 Insulating.
 Fire-retarding walls.
 Stairs.

Water-proofing cellars.
 Flooring.
 Furnaces and boilers.

Any person planning alterations, repairs, or improvements to a residential property under FHA's Property Improvement Credit Plan may have a ruling on the eligibility of particular items in question by writing direct to the Federal Housing Administration, at Washington, D. C.

EXTRA BATH

The comfort of an extra bath is available to home owners who have a seldom-used clothes closet or some other waste room space in which to install a cabinet shower.

While lacking the convenience of an entire additional bathroom, the cabinet shower alleviates an inadequate bathroom situation. Complete shower-bath cabinets can be easily installed in space three square feet or less. The cabinets are guaranteed to be leakproof, and their installation requires no special treatment of walls or floor. Dead-end hallways, closets, or nooks in the basement are ideal locations.

 Models are varied, with styles designed for master bathrooms as well as for basement installation. The Federal Housing Administration, under its Property Improvement Credit Plan, may insure the loan of qualified lending institutions for installation of shower cabinets.

A RECREATION ROOM IN YOUR HOME

Plan now for a recreation room. During the long winter months you will find it the most enjoyable room in your home. Have the fun of designing and furnishing it to suit your own fancy.

Empty attic or basement space can be quickly and economically converted into the most livable room in your home. A place where your guests will enjoy being entertained and the children can play.

FOREST CUTTING PLAN ADVANCED

"Two Cut" System Urged to Extend Life of Wood Working Industry

A plan worked out while he was engaged in study at the University of Michigan...

Stoddard is the author of a new plan of selective forest cutting which has been hailed as the best way of "liquidating" forests in the lake states...

The problem, as Stoddard recognized it, is how to prolong the life of these wood using industries...

The Stoddard study treats in detail of the "two cut" system, which he says, would permit a larger yield of wood and would also leave the forests in better condition to start new growth...

Total remaining saw timber in Wisconsin, Stoddard estimates at 9 billion feet...

"And then one fall up comes a big wind and blows most of the pine cones from the tree tops into the lake...

"Well, things do happen. The next year, we had the big forest fire and right here in this section is where it done its worst...

"Well, old trapper, I'll have to mosey along towards home. I'll stop by again sometime and we'll take another hike."

And he did, and we did, and that's another story.

WELFARE TESTS CALLED MONDAY

Social Case Workers of Four Counties To Be Examined

Social service case workers of Menominee, Dickinson, Delta and Schoolcraft counties will undergo oral examinations Monday in welfare offices here toward qualifying them for work under the new county welfare commission administrations to be effective December 1.

Under the ERA these workers have been governed by a departmental merit system. That new welfare law requires that they qualify under civil service.

The eight case workers who have been employed by the ERA will continue in their jobs with expanded duties under the new system, providing all pass the civil service tests. Written tests were given on October 14. They will investigate relief, old age assistance and social security cases.

City Manager George E. Bean will be one of the two examiners Monday.

Old Orchard Farm

Ground Broken for Caretaker's Home

Ground was broken on Wednesday, out at Old Orchard farm, for the remodelled caretaker's home, that is to be erected at the entrance to the farm. From the appearance and the size of the equipment that Sam Mills moved in on the job one might gain the impression that he was going to erect a sky scraping business block, instead of a foundation for a four room house. But Sam has a reputation for doing well every job he undertakes and he was afraid the fine weather of last week wasn't going to last, so he wanted to wind a small job up quickly. He excavated for the basement on Wednesday, laid the concrete floor on Thursday and early this week will pour the walls. And then Jimmie Leach will take complete charge as architect, carpenter, foreman and general handy man on the job, with Hank Barron helping out at times. But Jimmie says Hank can't saw a board straight so what work Hank does on the job will be principally driving nails.

Read Drain Restored In order that the road drain in front of the farm, filled in when the highway was widened, may be restored the county highway department set a crew of men at work on Friday digging the necessary ditch. In order that a row of elm trees, standing near the farm entrance, may be saved, the farm will furnish 200 feet of ten inch tile, to be laid in the portion of the drain near the trees and an open ditch will provide drainage the remainder of the distance to the culvert, down near Dourneau's corner. This is an improvement that will be vitally necessary to prevent Jimmie Leach and his sister Ella from gaining entrance to their home by rowboat, only when the thaw comes next spring. So this work will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

The new caretaker's house will have two bedrooms, a living room and a kitchen, with a full basement and a garage at the north side of the house. The present caretaker's cabin will be moved to the new location and will form one of the rooms in the remodelled house. In the spring water from the farm's pumphouse will be run to the new house and it is possible that a furnace may be installed in the basement next summer.

While the deer hunters may be kicking about the unseasonably warm weather of the past week, the livestock, out at Old Orchard, have been enjoying every minute of it. The horses, cattle, sheep and breeding hogs have been spending practically every daylight hour down in the corn field, where excellent pasture will be provided for them as long as the weather will permit them to be turned out of the stables. In addition to the dried corn leaves, the husking crews purposely left all of the small ears on the stalks and in their hurry to emulate the records of corn huskers down in the corn belt, they missed some of the good ears too, so the livestock are living high these days.

Cows Getting Silage The silo, erected last summer and filled in August, was opened last week and the dairy cows, in addition to their regular feed, are getting a ration of ensilage morning and night and they are lapping it up with great gusto. A particularly fine grade of silage is being taken out this fall, as the corn was pretty well ripened when it was cut and in addition to the green corn stalks and leaves the cows are getting a lot of preserved corn on the cob and they don't turn their noses up at the feed.

As the hog market continues in the doldrums, no effort is being made to hasten the fattening process for the drove of 21 pigs that are to be turned into pork some time during the early winter. They are being given all the sugar beet tops they will consume and a fair ration of ear corn daily and while they are growing nicely they are not yet "fat hogs" by any means.

When November came, Jimmie Leach insisted that the flock of farm chickens should be housed constantly. But the fine, warm weather of last week caused him to relent and the whole flock was out in the barn-yard and the alfalfa field every day of the week but as soon as cold weather threatens they will go into the hen-house to remain until spring.

All of the seed corn, for planting next spring, has been selected and hung up in the basement of the farm house, to dry thoroughly during the winter months. For next year's corn crop kernel selection, rather than ear selection was followed in picking the seed and

DEATH CALLS

MRS. PETERS

Escanaba Woman Ill for Six Weeks; Funeral On Tuesday

Mrs. John Peters, 310 North Twelfth street, died at St. Francis hospital at noon Saturday. She had been ill for the past six weeks and had entered the hospital two weeks ago.

She was born in County Kerry, Ireland, and had lived in Escanaba for the past forty years.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, Ellen of Escanaba, and Mrs. William Koback, of Flint; one son, Francis, of Escanaba; and two brothers, Denis Curran of this city and John Curran of New York City.

The body was taken to the Degan funeral home to be prepared for burial and will be removed to the family home this afternoon at three o'clock. Services will be held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Patrick's church, the Very Rev. Fr. Thomas A. Kennedy officiating, and burial will be in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Newberry News

Newberry, Mich.—Mrs. Carl Hall of Newberry is recovering nicely from a major operation she underwent last Friday at the War Memorial hospital at Sault Ste. Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sampsel of McMillan are the parents of a daughter, born Sunday, November 12, at the Newberry clinic.

Edward Johnson of Newberry is recovering nicely at the Newberry clinic where he underwent surgical treatment for foot infection early last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Collins of Engadine are the parents of a son, born Monday, November 13, at the Newberry clinic.

Sergt. William Irish of the Newberry state police gave another of his shooting exhibitions at the Raco CCC camp early this week. Sergt. Irish, upper peninsula pistol shot champion, also gave a lecture on the safe handling of firearms.

SUGAR BEETS SHIPPED Menominee—Shipment of sugar beets to the Superior Sugar Refining company here has been completed for the season, Manager August Ludwig said yesterday. A total of 92,000 tons of beets have been received, the largest tonnage in the plant's 36 years of operation.

Of the total, 60,000 tons have been sliced so far. The plant is expected to end its record run before Christmas, Manager Ludwig said.

Previous record was 76,000 tons of beets sliced several years ago. The plant was built in 1903, was operated for many years as the Menominee River Sugar company.

After next year the manager of the farm feels it will be safe to introduce the corn developed at Old Orchard, on other farms of the county, if Delta county farmers are interested in using it.

Hints For Huntsmen Supplied By Olafson

BY ANDY P. OLAFSON Well I see by the Paper where the Deer season is open so I suppose we will have to go out and get a couple more for the neighbors and relatives but to tell the Truth I am getting sick of that Deer meat after eating it all summer and now that we have butchery I prefer Fresh pork and we could not catch the pigs running around in the woods but after we feed them corn then we catch Q butcher the same and it is good next to Lutefisk

And speaking of Lutefisk I have a Letter from one of your Daily Press readers in which it says a good idea and this man says he seen by the Paper where the city of Flint steamer was unloaded in Norway and was coming back to U. S. America empty so he says it seems Foolish & silly for it to come back empty so long as it is empty so why not load it up with good old Norwegian Lutefisk for Christmas and Cod liver oil from Norway for colds and etc. and not send it back empty which I am in favor of so write to your Congressman about it

BIDDING LIGHT; MARKET HIGHER

BY FREDERICK GARDNER

New York, Nov. 18 (AP)—The stock market today stepped out of an apathetic week on the recovery side.

With attendance exceptionally sparse in boardrooms, bidding even for favorites was light throughout and improvement at the close of the brief proceedings ran mainly to fractions.

Such buying as occurred was centered on industrials and was attributed principally to the optimistic flow of earnings and dividends and prospects for further gains in individual business lines.

Many traders, however, continued to stand aside because of opinions expressed here and there that the economic upswing might come a cropper in the next quarter when inventories attain larger dimensions than at present.

The list started out with indefinite trends, but firming up somewhat in the final hour. The ticker tape frequently was silent and transfers amounted to 276,650 shares, smallest for any session since October 14. The volume compared with 1,423,620 two weeks ago.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues managed to emerge with a gain of .1 of a point at 52.1, retrieving the 1 loss of yesterday. For the week this composite was up .6 of a point, its first net advance after three consecutive weeks' declines.

Of the 572 issues changing hands today, 236 were up, 163 down and 173 unchanged.

Steel mills were helped by indications that operations next week would be at or near the record level. In addition consumption of iron and steel scrap in October was placed at nearly 4,000,000 gross tons compared with around 2,300,000 in the same 1938 month.

Motors had the benefit of renewed hopes the 42-day-old Chrysler labor stalemate would be broken over the week-end. Ralls did little either way, although October traffic revenues were believed to have touched the highest mark for this month in a number of years.

Off-ahnds were American Telephone, Santa Fe, Western Union, International Harvester and Bayk Cigar.

Higher by as much as a point in the curb were Electric Bond & Share, Lockheed, and Niagara Hudson Power. Lake Shore and Carrier Corp. slipped a bit lower.

WAR STORIES IN STAMPS

Turkey Holds Balkan Key; Pacts Guard Neutrality

PARTITION of Poland has focused European attention upon the Balkans. The Soviet grab cut Germany off from a direct route to Rumania, moved Communism to the frontiers of vigorously anti-Communist Hungary.

Control of the Dardanelles is Turkey's high card. In addition, the nation is geographically relatively safe from attack; its neutrality is reinforced by a series of protective alliances.

Ankara, the capital, and Moscow have been linked by trade and diplomatic agreements since 1921. Similar pacts are in effect with Balkan states. The Moslem element, with Iraq, Iran and Afghanistan, guards the southern border.

Turkey has, moreover, a military alliance with Britain and France, effective in event of aggression in the eastern Mediterranean. A Soviet-dominated Balkan neutrality group might affect this agreement.

Turkey is well equipped to defend its position. Although the army numbers only 300,000, a field force can be placed in a matter of a short time. With a small air force, a little navy and few guns and tanks, the nation depends chiefly upon the infantry and a terrain which favors defense.

The Turkish army is shown in review on the stamp, above, released in 1938 in commemoration of the 18th anniversary of the founding of the republic.

FEDERAL BONDS CONTINUE GAINS

New York, Nov. 18 (AP)—U. S. government issues continued to forge ahead today in a bond market which boasted a fair preponderance of gains in the principal corporate groups.

The upturn in the fedrals, giving a full half point for several treasuries, was accomplished on comparatively small turnover. Offerings were slow to come out, dealers reported.

Several low yield corporate issues moved up with the governments. Speculative ratings were somewhat uneven, reflecting week-end profit-taking in a few of the lower price rails and miscellaneous issues.

Closing fractions to around 1 1/2 points higher were American & Foreign Power 5s at 65, Allegheny 5 1/2s at 64, and Delaware & Hudson 5s at 63 1/2. International Telephone 5s at 49 1/2, Armour (Delaware) 5s at 48 1/2, National Dairy 3 3/4s at 107 1/2 and Portland General Electric 1 1/2s at 82.

Transactions totaled $3,449,500, face value, compared with the previous Saturday volume (November 4) of $3,773,500.

ASKIKAN TRANSFERRED

Marquette—Andrew Askikan, field auditor in the upper peninsula for the Michigan unemployment compensation commission and chairman of the Upper Peninsula Republican club, revealed yesterday that he has been transferred to the commission's Detroit office and declared that in his opinion the transfer was the result of efforts on the part of his foes in the Republican party, and what he calls the "corporation clique," to get him out of the district for political reasons.

The transfer means an increase in salary, Askikan says, but he is of the opinion that the increase should have been given him without the transfer. Askikan, who estimated yesterday that the U. P. Republican club had a membership of "about 3,000," gave The Mining Journal a statement in which he asserts that he was promised the position of upper peninsula director of the MUCC, but the promise was not fulfilled because his political enemies were afraid that if he secured the position it would give a chance to circulate throughout the upper peninsula and help his cause along, should he decide to be a candidate for congress next fall.

5 WOULD KILL

BY TOM HORNER

CAST OF CHARACTERS

ARNOLD BENTHORNE—Five persons wished him dead. HELEN BENTHORNE—His charming young wife. WILLIAM ALSTON—Benthorne's father-in-law and business associate.

JOEY DI TORIO—Night club owner and gangster. ARA JOHNSON—The mystery girl.

JOHN DOUGLAS—A young mining engineer in love with ARA. CAPTAIN DAWSON—A detective who likes to listen.

CHAPTER IV

Flynn read on, in speechless amazement. When he had finished, he handed the paper back to Captain Dawson.

"He named five of them, Captain. Only Mrs. Benthorne and Mr. Alston were here. Now all you have to do is find out which one..."

"Are you sure the other three were not here, Flynn?" Dawson shot at him. "Joey di Torio, 'Big Red,' and a woman named Ara. The way you and Krone were letting people by, there could have been a murderer's convention here last night. How do you know?"

"That's in the text, that's it! The girl in the taxi—her name was Ara—Ara Johnson!"

"I was wondering when you'd get around to remembering that," Dawson smiled. "You know, Flynn, if your memory doesn't improve, you'll be off the homicide squad and back on a beat."

"Aw, now, Captain—why you and me—"

"Yes, I know. If it weren't for your all-fired Irish luck I'd never put all-fired Flynn on it. Now see if your luck will hold out here in those two who wanted to get married. The taxi driver should be easy to find. Rent him out, threaten him with accessory to murder charges. He'll talk," Dawson concluded.

Flynn understood. "Okay, Captain. I'll have them here by dawn. I'll get Joey first."

"I'll give you until 10 o'clock. But before you go, bring Mrs. Benthorne here. I want to talk to her. I want to talk to all of the five persons Benthorne feared."

Flynn went out, grinning. Dawson liked the big Irish officer, insisted on having him in his detail. Flynn was a buffer—he knew the chief did not mean half he said when he exploded in anger. And Dawson had reason to believe in Flynn's uncanny luck. On several puzzling cases the Irishman had bungled and in doing so had revealed the clues that solved the murders. Flynn falls into solutions. Dawson told his superiors. "I couldn't work without him."

Dawson had seen Helen Benthorne's picture in the society columns many times, and he had glimpsed her as she came into the house after Benthorne was shot, but he had not realized she was as young or as beautiful as she appeared at the door of the study.

"Captain Dawson is here, Mrs. Benthorne," he heard Flynn say as the door swung wide straight and tall like her father. She had asked, and received, permission to change from the pajamas and negligee she had on when Benthorne's body was found. Now she was dressed in a long, black hostess gown, that sheathed her rounded figure and slim hips, fell in swishing folds around her ankles. Her blond hair was curled softly on her forehead. Her eyes were red from weeping. She looks like a girl, a very little, and a very frightened little girl, Dawson thought.

As she caught sight of him, seated behind the desk, Helen Benthorne uttered a strangled little cry; her hand went to her throat.

Dawson was on his feet, leaning toward the light. "I'm sorry to bother you, Mrs. Benthorne," he began.

She regained self-control quickly. "You gave me a start, Captain Dawson," she explained as she seated herself beside the desk. "Seeing you behind the desk, in the shadows, I almost believed—Oh, this is all so terrible!" She forced back her tears by

AP Writer Describes Nazi Siegfried Line

BY LOUIS LOCHNER
Berlin—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The fundamental idea underlying the construction of the west wall, or Siegfried line, was that of diffusing rather than concentrating Germany's far flung defense system which extends along a border of almost 375 miles and reaches from opposite Switzerland past France, Belgium and Luxembourg to Holland.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING INFORMATION
Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Daily Press will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.
All ads are restricted to their proper classification and to the regular Daily Press style of layout. The publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy.
Advertising orders for irregular insertions take the one line rate. No ad is taken for less than a rate of three lines. Count six average words to the line. An average word consists of six letters.
Accounts unpaid after 30 days will not be charged further credit.
Charged ads will be received by telephone and if paid at the Daily Press office within six days from the first day of insertion cash rates will be allowed.
Ads ordered for three or six times and stopped before expiration will be charged for only the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the rate earned.

The Daily Press makes an earnest effort to keep its advertising columns free of deceptive and dishonest announcements. Readers are requested to report unsatisfactory dealings with any advertiser in these columns.
PLEASE DO NOT ask for information on blind ads. The Daily Press will not disclose the identity of any advertiser or give any information not contained in the ad itself. A flat charge of 10c will be made for each box number listed.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Munising News

Hunters Still Hope For Tracking Snow

Munising, Nov. 18—With overcast sky promising almost anything, hunters in Alger county today hoped for "tracking" snow. So far the kill in the county has been about normal but the absence of snow makes following a deer, even if wounded, difficult. This week-end will see many of the local men, and women also, out seeking a glimpse and a good shot at one of the fleet-footed animals. Many of the hunters are concentrating their talents in the area near Melstrand and Cusino, but all parts of the county have their share of nimrods. The Cusino game refuge, deer haven, is open this year, and many are seeking to fill their licenses in that location. Deer have taken to the swamps, according to many hunters.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rextrew during the deer season. Ted Sheldon of Detroit and Robert Chubb of Port Huron will leave today for their homes after visiting here with friends for several days. Mrs. William Wise returned on Friday from a trip to California. Earl Marsh, Alton Rextrew and Rudolph Hohlund are among the Munising residents who have filled their deer licenses this season. Miss Priscilla Yell will leave today for Detroit where she will visit with friends for several days. She will then go to Port Huron for a week-end visit. W. A. Cox, George Leach and Dr. A. A. Mellon on Wednesday bagged their deer near Lost Lake.

ASSIGNED AS TROOPER
Ishpening—Clarence E. Eckloff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Eckloff, was one of 33 probationary troopers assigned to police duty by Commissioner Oscar G. Olander, of the Michigan state police, this week. He reported to the Flint detachment. The state police training school turned out 33 probationary troopers who were assigned to 25 posts of the lower peninsula. They spent approximately ten weeks at the East Lansing state police headquarters as members of the first trooper training school of 1939. During that period, training was given in a variety of police sciences such as ballistics, fingerprint identification and traffic control. This classroom work is supplemented with work on the pistol range, in the motorcycle sand pits and in the gymnasium.

DAHLMEIR-GARITY
Minneapolis, Nov. 18—Miss Helen Garity, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garity, 4123 Pleasant avenue, became the bride of William Dahlmeir, formerly of this city and now of Munising, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dahlmeir, also of this city, in incarnation church here at 10 o'clock this morning. The Rev. Father Colbert, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Dahlmeir expect to leave for Munising next week. They will reside there, where Mr. Dahlmeir is employed by the Munising Hardware company.

CHURCH BAZAAR MONDAY
Munising, Nov. 18—The annual bazaar of St. Anthony's Guild will be held on Monday and Tuesday in the Legion club. A turkey supper, served from 5 o'clock Monday night, will open the year's affair. Mrs. Nell Morrison and Mrs. Henry Chaffy are in charge of the supper arrangements. A special bazaar for children will be held on Tuesday afternoon.

MUNISING BRIEFS
The Knights of Columbus will hold a regular meeting in the Fraternal hall on Monday evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock. Munising Odd Fellows will hold an important meeting on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Fraternal hall. Nominations for officers of the lodge will be made at that time.

Mrs. Albert Hanson is confined to her home on West Superior street by illness. Zeno Nelson of Grand Rapids left Thursday for his home after spending several days here on business.

Mrs. Anna Shirey entertained the Thursday Night club at her home on West Superior street on Thursday evening. Mrs. George Huse was the winner of the prize in five hundred.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Heywood of Royal Oak are spending the deer season here visiting with Mrs. Heywood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Seglund.

Mrs. Matt Halletstrom of Chatham is a patient in the Munising hospital.

The Munising civic chorus will meet on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church. The meeting will be held on Tuesday to prevent interference with Thanksgiving plans of members of the chorus.

Henry Negelski of Munising shot a 25-point buck, weighing 255 pounds dressed, while hunting northeast of here, near Miner's bluff, with his brother, Jacob, on Friday.

The Munising fire department was called to extinguish an attic fire in the Earl Johnson residence, Cox's addition, on Friday morning.

Rental Library Boasts Numerous Popular Novels

New books in the rental library include a number of titles that have achieved great popularity in city library and book shops. The Great Tradition—Frances Parkinson Keyes—a dramatic story of a young man torn between his affection for the Germany of his Junker grandfather and the America of his New England senator grandfather. Disillusionment, fulfillment of dreams, war and romance combine to make a dramatic narrative. Imperial Twilight—the Story of Karl and Zita of Hungary by Helitta Harding is an absorbing history of very recent Hapsburg drama—much of the material for which was gleaned not from library shelves but through the author's personal contacts and interviews during her repeated sojourns in Europe. Royal figures become fascinating and very human beings.

True North—Elliott Merrick—is a story of a young man from New York who went down to the Labrador—to learn the charm of its isolation, its beauty and its fierce people. The story shows the imperative need for action there in a desperate struggle for existence itself. Kitty Foyle—Christopher Morley—the confession of an American girl who happened to live in Philadelphia but might have lived anywhere in this country of ours. She tells what it was to be a child in the 1920's, a girl in the 1930's, in school, in business, in love and in her struggle against a frozen social tradition.

Sam—by John Selby—the American winner of the new All-Nations Pigeon Novel Competition. It is the vigorous story of a Babbitt of the newspaper world, Sam Larson, who built up the Centropolis Sun as a powerful weapon in his personal middle western empire. Seven Against the Years by Sterling North—a story which follows the widely varying careers of seven university men of the class of '29 in the decade after their graduation. The literary editor of the Chicago Daily News has written a novel that sweeps across our national life.

The Nazarene—by Sholem Asch—a masterpiece of one of the world's great novelists reverent by based on the life of Christ. From the Roman governor's palace to the lowest thieves' den in Jerusalem the amazing story moves with a richness of detail that makes those turbulent days as vivid as the living present. Again the River by Stella E. Morgan—a novel which Eleanor Roosevelt has described as "the most stirring books I have read in a long time". It is a story that will make for sympathetic understanding for the hundreds of American families who periodically suffer the ravages of floods.

Maud—edited by Richard Lee Stout—a book based on the diaries of one of the most intelligent, entrancing and outrageous little flirts who ever "told all"—a glamorous girl of the 80's who lived in semi-frontier Illinois. Its pictures of small town social customs are delightful. Escape by Ethel Vance—an exciting story of a woman condemned to death in a German concentration camp and the efforts of her son, born in America, to release her. Children of God—Vardis Fisher—a dramatic story of the Mormons describing the strange beginnings of the sect, their growth, persecution, heroism and migration across the western plains of the United States. It is an unusually fine fictionalized account of an outstanding episode in American history.

Lost Sunrise—by Kathleen Norris—the latest love story of one of this country's favorite authorresses. It has never before been published in any form, unlike many of her others which have appeared earlier in magazines.

Manistique Boys Have High Offices In ROTC Regiment

Two Manistique boys, Kurt R. Mattson and Raymond Beener have been appointed to high positions in the Michigan Tech R. O. T. C. regiment. Kurt Mattson is cadet captain and adjutant of the second battalion. Raymond Beener is first lieutenant and assistant regimental supply officer.

Mattson, a senior metallurgist, is a member of the American Society for Metals. Beener is a senior in chemical engineering and member of Tau Mu Tau honorary military engineering fraternity.

And Didn't Even Stop To Say Thanks

Richmond, Va. (AP)—A Capitol Square squirrel, fat, lazy, and apparently too spoiled by easy living to have learned how to swim, was going down for the third time in one of the square's pools. An onlooker pulled off his shoes, rolled up his trousers and jumped in. The water, crystal clear and apparently about two feet deep, actually went up to the man's waist. Undaunted, he rescued the squirrel, which promptly scampered away.

LOST HUNTER RETURNS HOME

Ed Sundell Spends Two Nights In Marshy Woodlands

EDWIN SUNDELL

Following the harrowing experience of spending two nights in the marshy woods north of the East Branch of the Manistique River, Ed Sundell, manager of the Manistique Light and Power company office here, returned to his home, 135 North Front street, yesterday morning.

Sundell became lost in the woods while hunting Thursday and spent Thursday night, all day Friday and Friday night attempting to work his way out. He finally came out of the woods early Saturday morning, finding refuge at a hunting camp near M-28, not far from Creighton. Lower Michigan hunters at the camp took Sundell to Shingleton, from where he called his home here to notify his family of his safety. He returned to Manistique in company with the Pontiac hunters shortly after.

Had Compass, Matches
Sundell reported that he had a compass and desired to locate a CCC road east of the river, but that the territory was swampy and he was unable to get to the CCC road without wading through considerable water. He decided against that because of the danger of exposure, he reported yesterday, and stuck doggedly to a northward course over dry ground. During the nights, he built fires to prevent exposure and slept for short periods.

Although very tired and considerably worried by the anxiety of his family, Sundell returned to Manistique yesterday in good spirits. He reported that in all his roaming through the woods, he never met another hunter nor heard a rifle shot. Sundell was hunting in Creighton's camp near the East Branch of the Manistique river. When he failed to return at nightfall Thursday, other members of the hunting party were not unduly worried since members of the camp party invariably hunted a considerable distance from the camp and often failed to return until late. On several occasions, members of the party remained from the camp overnight.

However, when no word was heard from him Friday other members of the camp party returned to Manistique to enlist a volunteer searching party.

CCC enrollees of Camp Gernask, supplemented by volunteers from Manistique, formed a searching party to scour the area yesterday morning but were notified to abandon the search after Sundell had reported from Shingleton.

Iowa Stops Golden Gophers; Irish Win, 7 to 0

HAWKEYES STUN GOPHERS, 13-9

Iowa Iron Men Spring Surprise In Last Quarter Push

BY L. E. SKELLEY
Iowa City, Iowa, Nov. 18 (AP)—Iowa's amazing iron men, the fairly tale lads of 1939 football, came roaring back with two last quarter touchdowns in an almost unbelievable finish to stun Minnesota's Golden Gophers, 13 to 9, before 50,000 cheering homecoming fans here today.

The indomitable Ironmen, seven of whom went the route as Coach Eddie Anderson used only 17 players in another sensational gridiron conquest, were battered and beaten for three quarters.

Minnesota's crushing power had sent a typical bruising Gopher team into a 9 to 0 lead at the end of the third period. It seemed almost certain that the astonishing exploits of the Ironmen, who went into the battle with victories over three other Big Ten teams and Notre Dame, would be ended by the Gophers.

Kinnick Goes Route
Iowa's little band of heroes, however, wouldn't say quite.

Doughty Nile Kinnick, who completed his sixth game without relief, took command early in the fourth period. He hurled three forward passes to carry the Hawks 50 yards to a touchdown that shocked the confident Gophers and put Iowa within striking distance of a victory that two minutes previously hadn't seemed possible.

The touchdown pass was a beautiful aerial shot from the Iowa ace to Captain Erwin Prasse who caught the ball on the eight-yard line and raced across the goal line unopposed. Kinnick calmly dropped the extra point and the Ironmen were only two points behind.

The Gophers, struggling desperately now to hold their lead, fought off Kinnick's passing thrusts until the final four minutes.

Again Iowa's aerial lightning struck. Starting from their 21-yard line, the Hawkeyes, aided by an interference ruling on a pass, reached the Minnesota 28-yard stripe.

Kinnick, although rushed by hard-charging Gophers, sailed the ball into the end zone where bounding Bill Green, substitute Iowa fullback, tucked the ball close to his chest.

May Tie for Title
That play sent some 44,000 Iowans into near hysteria, for it meant the first victory over the Gophers since Iowa won, 9 to 7, in 1929, and the first triumph over a team coached by Bernie Bierman.

Kinnick's drop kick for that extra point was blocked. But what did those Ironmen and the excited Hawkeye supporters in the stands care? They didn't mind at all. They knew that the Kinnick-Green scoring play meant the ball game.

And it did. The Gophers attempted to regain the lead by passes in the closing minutes, but Kinnick stopped that Minnesota bid by intercepting a pass with less than 30 seconds to play.

The game ended with Iowa in possession of the oval and thousands of cheering homecomers rushed on to the playing field to carry the Hawkeyes into the dressing room.

The victory clinched second place in the Big Ten race for the Hawkeyes. They have a chance for championship tie if they can beat Northwestern next week and if Ohio State loses to Michigan.

Football Headlines Belong To Hawkeyes

BY HERB BARKER
New York, Nov. 18 (AP)—Oklahoma's Sooners and the Tarheels of North Carolina bounced out of football's dwindling undefeated class today but the headlines belong to Iowa's sensational Hawkeyes.

Paced as usual by the great Nile Kinnick, Iowa spotted Minnesota a 9-0 lead and then rallied to whip the Gophers, 13-9, before a crowd of 50,000 at Iowa City. Kinnick, completing his sixth successive game without relief passed for both Hawkeye touchdowns.

Oklahoma suffered its first regular season defeat in two years as Missouri's Tigers squeezed through to a 7-6 victory and virtually clinched the Big Six crown. Ronald King, a sub back for the Tigers, stole the show from his more famous team-mate, Paul Christman, as well as from Oklahoma's Beryl Clark.

North Carolina was decisively outplayed by Duke's Blue Devils whose second-half drive buried the Tarheels under a 13-3 score. There was no stopping such other unbeaten arrays, however, as Tennessee, Tulane, Cornell and Texas A. and M. as well as once-beaten Ohio State, Notre Dame, Holy Cross, Nebraska and Princeton.

Tennessee, top-ranking team in the Associated Press poll for several weeks, whipped Vanderbilt 13-0 but had to make one early goal line stand to maintain intact its unscored-upon record. Tulane pushed Columbia around almost at will to win, 25-0, while Nebraska chalked up another inter-sectional victory at the east's expense, beating Pitt in a great duel, 14-13.

Cornell, unbeaten and untied, threw its full strength against Dartmouth in an important Ivy league struggle and swamped the Indians under a 35-6 count. Princeton, beaten only by Cornell, had to push over two fourth-quarter touchdowns to stop Yale, 13-7.

Texas A. and M., boasting a perfect record, moved steadily ahead toward the second conference title by swamping Rice, 19-0, as Holy Cross, one of the east's few strong outfits, rammed Carnegie Tech, 19-0, with Joe Osmanski scoring two touchdowns.

Ohio State, which like Princeton has bowed only to Cornell, found Illinois an easy victim, 21-0, and thus clinched at least a share of the Big Ten title. Notre Dame's second and third stringers led the Irish to a 7-0 conquest of Northwestern.

One of the greatest personal duels of the day occurred at Philadelphia where Tom Harmon capped Michigan to a 19-17 victory over Penn, led by Francis Reagan. The east suffered still more grief as Detroit buried Manhattan under a 36-13 count and Kentucky took West Virginia over the jumps, 13-6. Marquette won a spectacular 22-19 decision over Texas Tech.

Fordham, Catholic and George Washington were the east's lone winners. Fordham shellacked off-beaten St. Mary's (Calif.), 13-0, Catholic buried Loyola (New Orleans), 34-0, and George Washington whipped Kansas, 13-6.

In the east, Georgetown completed its second successive season without defeat by taking advantage of opportunities and bowling over New York university, 14-0. Syracuse sprang an upset in taking Colgate for a ride, 7-0, while Nick Basca's broken field running carried Villanova to a 12-6 decision over Temple. Army had to come from behind to tie the Penn State, 14-14.

Georgia Tech remained unbeaten in the Southeastern conference nipping Alabama, 6-0, while Auburn, finally hitting the form expected of it in pre-season forecasts, buried Louisiana State, 21-7. Georgia and Sewanee gave the southeastern group a pair of victories over Southern conference rivals. Georgia whipped South Carolina, 33-7, and Sewanee topped Citadel, 14-7.

In Southern conference games, Virginia Military topped Maryland, 13-0; William & Mary conquered Washington & Lee, 18-14, and North Carolina State surprised Furman, 12-7. Virginia Tech took non-conference Virginia into camp, 13-0.

Wisconsin Badgers almost won their first Big Ten decision but Purdue rallied in the fourth quarter to gain a 7-7 draw. Indiana played non-conference. Michigan State in the same score. Chicago's long scoring drought ended as the Maroon won from Oberlin, 25-0. Iowa State unexpectedly knocked off Kansas State, 10-0, in a Big Six test.

In the southwest, Texas came from far behind to whip Texas Christian, 25-19. Baylor knocked off Centenary in a non-conference struggle, 13-6.

All was calm in the Rocky Mountain Big Seven where Utah trounced Colorado State, 42-7; Colorado, the leader, whipped Brigham Young, 12-6, and Utah State won from Wyoming, 20-13. Oregon State and Washington State hung up victories in the Pacific coast conference where the leaders are Southern California and U. C. L. A. Oregon State crushed California, 21-0, while Washington State subdued Stanford, 7-0.

Southern California was idle but U. C. L. A. played to a scoreless deadlock with non-conference Santa Clara.

ILLINOIS BOWS TO OHIO STATE

Share of Big Ten Title Assured By 21-0 Win Over Illini

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Columbus, O., Nov. 18 (AP)—Ohio State's rampaging Bucks, picked by pre-season dopesters to lose three games, clinched a share of the Western conference championship today with a 21 to 0 victory over Illinois before 45,643 rain-drenched homecoming fans.

The battling Illini, perpetrators of the season's biggest upset two weeks ago when they swept Michigan from the heights, had only one chance today. They neared pay dirt on a thrilling "break" on the opening play by recovering a Buckeye fumble on the Ohio seven yard line. After going to the three, Illinois lost the ball on downs.

After halting that threat, Ohio immediately marched 93 yards for a touchdown—the first of three long jaunts into the Illinois end zone.

Halfback Jimmy Strausbaugh climaxed the first Ohio surge by firing a 27-yard touchdown pass to Quarterback Don Scott, who kicked the extra point.

Line backer Strausbaugh wound up a 73-yard march by breaking over tackle for 19 yards and another touchdown, and again Scott booted the point.

The third "sleeper-jump" trip, a 75-yarder, came in the third period as Scott tossed a 23-yard pass to End Esco Sarkinen who was all alone in the end zone. Tackle Charley Magg added the 21st point.

Magg a few minutes before had missed a field goal placement from the 26-yard line.

It was Ohio's fifth Big Ten victory and its sixth in seven games this season.

Although Ohio had only 14 first downs to Illinois' ten the Bucks rolled up 228 yards from rushing to 80 for the invaders, and also outgained them 73 to 59 yards at passing.

Illinois, unable to crack the huge Buckeye line, resorted to the air in a desperate but futile attempt to score. The Coach Bob Zuppke's clan tossed 20 aerials, completing seven, while Ohio intercepted four.

The Bucks completed five of 13 heaves, two for touchdowns and two others were muffed due to the alphy condition of the ball.

Fullback Jim Langhurst, Big Ten scoring leader a year ago, was forced to drop from the Ohio lineup when he suffered a knee injury early in the first period.

Late Touchdown Gives Notre Dame 7-0 Victory

BY EARL HILLIGAN

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 18 (AP)—Notre Dame's Irish, with two members of the "shock troops" legion touching off the fuse, exploded their might in the final minutes today for a touchdown which whipped Northwestern's Wildcats, 7 to 0.

Before 53,000 spectators, who huddled in the murky darkness and a steady drizzle, Notre Dame blasted loose in the last five minutes with the lone score of the contest. Milt Pleplai going over for a touchdown after brilliant runs by two substitute Irish backs, Bob Hargrave and Steve Jurwik.

Hargrave, a third string quarterback, caught a Northwestern punt on the Notre Dame nine yard line and twisted and dodged 50 yards before being nailed at the Northwestern 41. Two offside penalties helped the Irish drive to the Wildcat 29. At this point Jurwik, a fourth string "unknown" reeled off 22 yards around left end before being forced out of bounds by Bill DeCorrevont. Milt Pleplai crashed to the two yard line, then over for a touchdown. When a teammate fumbled on the placement try for point, Zontini ran the ball over the line to convert.

Even then Northwestern, outplayed through most of the game, fought back desperately. Don Clawson returned the ensuing kickoff 44 yards to the Notre Dame 36, but Notre Dame produced a tight line and pass defense that nullified every Northwestern bid—and it was all over but the shouting.

The Irish, who piled up 15 first downs to 6 for Northwestern, dominated the contest almost from the start. In the first period they drove to the Northwestern 11, from which point Lou Zontini's try for a field goal was blocked. Later in the period they moved to the Northwestern 18 before losing possession on downs.

In the second period Little Ben Sheridan broke away for 52 yards, De Correvont saving a touchdown with a smart defensive maneuver that enabled a teammate to get Sheridan from behind. Again, in the third period Notre Dame moved to the Wildcat 18, only to have Northwestern come up with another one of its gallant stands.

De Correvont broke away only once, streaking 33 yards in the second period. It was in that period that Northwestern drove to the Irish 25, only to lose its scoring chance through interception of a pass.

UPSET SCORED IN BADGER TIE

Purdue Connects Midway In Final Period For 7-7 Deadlock

BY DAVE ROWE
Madison, Wis., Nov. 18 (AP)—The University of Wisconsin football team scored a mild upset today when it held Purdue to a 7-7 tie before a Badger homecoming crowd of 32,000.

For three and a half periods it appeared as though Wisconsin was due for its first Big Ten victory of the season. However, midway in the final period, Coach Mal Edwards eleven connected on its passing attack and drove to the game-tying points.

After Lou Brock, Purdue right half, tossed three passes for a total gain of 31 yards, he himself got on the receiving end and scored on a 15-yard pass from Mike Byelene, substitute halfback. Fred Montague, reserve quarterback, booted the game-tying conversion.

Wisconsin's score came in the first period on a four yard smash by George Paskvan, fullback, with Ted Damos, reserve halfback, kicking the extra point.

Both touchdowns were set up by recovery of opponents' fumbles within the 30-yard line.

Brock Key Man
Purdue, favored to hand Wisconsin its sixth straight defeat, was stopped cold on running plays by the hard-charging Badger forwards. However the Bollermakers loosed an unexpectedly strong aerial attack which kept Wisconsin repeatedly in trouble.

Purdue gained 182 yards on 15 pass completions. From scrimmage however, Wisconsin held the upper hand with a total of 134 yards, an average of 3 yards per try, while holding Purdue's vaunted running attack to a gain of 47 yards.

The Bollermakers had an 11 to 8 advantage on first downs.

Brock was the key man on nearly every Purdue offensive maneuver. He piled up 34 yards on 8 running attempts and completed nine aerials for 95 yards. Byelene, close friend to his running mate for honors, completed five passes good for 87 yards. Jack Brown, starting halfback, was on the receiving end of most of Brock's rifle like shots.

For Wisconsin Paskvan, battering the line with abandon, gained 46 yards on 15 tries to maintain his 3 yard average in conference play.

Lowly Maroons Nip Oberlin By 25 To 0

BY HERB BARKER
Chicago, Nov. 18 (AP)—University of Chicago Maroons, ended a four-game losing streak by defeating Oberlin, 25 to 0, in the mist and rain at Stagg field. John Davenport, fleet Chicago dash-man, accounted for three touchdowns and shook loose on a 41-yard gallop that enabled Washburn to score the fourth from the three yard line. Wasem failed in his three attempts to convert with Leach, substituting for Wasem, droppicking to add the extra point on the fourth touchdown.

Sattlem Kicks Point In Army 14-14 Tie

BY HERB BARKER
West Point, Nov. 18 (AP)—Army came from behind twice to gain a 14-14 deadlock with Penn State. State led, 14-7, with three minutes remaining, when a 41-yard pass from John Hatch to Harry Heffner gave the Cadets a first down on State's 3. Frank Waddell plunged over two plays later, and Ivan Sattlem kicked the point.

Pitt Jinx Broken By One Lone Point

BY HERB BARKER
Pittsburgh, Nov. 18 (AP)—An aroused band of Nebraska Cornhuskers broke the Pitt jinx by the margin of a single point, downing the Panthers 14-13 for their second victory since the series started in 1921.

Favored Princeton Takes Big 3 Title

BY HERB BARKER
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18 (AP)—Unleashing a vicious final period attack, a favored Princeton team came from behind today to triumph over Yale, 18-7, and capture the Big Three title before 35,000 fans.

Steam Turned On By Fordham, 13-0

BY EARL HILLIGAN
New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—Turning the heat in two unstoppable drives when scoring opportunities showed up the Fordham Ram defeated the Gaels of St. Mary's 13-0 in an inter-sectional football game played in perfect weather before 34,800 at the Polo Grounds today. The Rams scored once each in the third and fourth quarters after St. Mary's aerials highlighted a scoreless first half.

Unbeaten Tarheels Trounced By Duke

BY EARL HILLIGAN
Durham, N. C., Nov. 18 (AP)—A powerful Blue Devil football team carried Duke to an upset 13 to 3 victory over North Carolina's previously undefeated Tar Heels. Today Duke officials announced an official attendance of 50,800, claiming it was a new record for any game south of Baltimore.

Tulane Rolls Over Columbia, 25 and 0

BY EARL HILLIGAN
Baker Field, New York, Nov. 18 (AP)—Tulane's gridiron powerhouse rolled over Columbia's football team for three touchdowns in the first half, but tried strictly conservative until the final minutes to finish an easy afternoon with a 25-0 victory over the Lions. A crowd of 25,000 turned out to watch the unbeaten, once-tied southerners roll to their triumph.

THANKSGIVING

PILGRIMS of 1939

The still chill of a November morning, 318 years ago, gave no indication of man's feelings. Silent men, with flintlocks shouldered, and pale women, their cowls drawn close, slipped silently through early winter's snow. And there were smiles on their faces—smiles of thankfulness for a haven that responded to their diligent toil so munificently.

Perhaps we of the streamlined twentieth century come by our comforts too easily; perhaps we fail, at times, to evaluate our ease of self-provision. But the "pilgrims" of 1939 are likened to those of 1621—all consummately appreciative of past blessings—all surpassingly confident of their hopes in the future.

Michigan Nips Penn, 19-17; Spartans Tie Indiana

HARMON-REGAN DUEL THRILLER

Teams On Even Terms, But Wolverines Are Best On Support

BY SID FEDER
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP)—Michigan nipped Pennsylvania 19 to 17 today, but the football game, a thriller right down to the finish, was just a backdrop to the brilliant duel staged by two of the year's finest backs in any league—Tommy Harmon and Frank Reagan.

This pair of ace backs, Harmon the Michigan flyer and Reagan the Quaker quarterback, played out their string to just about a tie in a sassy battle of triple-threaters as 57,000 of the faithful cheered them on in perfect Indian summer weather.

In the end, however, it was Harmon who received just a little more support from his teammates to turn the tide to the Wolverines in this 18th renewal of an historic gridiron series dating back to '99.

Break In Second Half
The "break" in Harmon's favor came when he converted what appeared a 15-yard loss into a sprinting, swerving 65-yard gallop for a touchdown. This occurred before the folks had even settled down in their seats at the start of the second half. Michigan had taken the kickoff on its own 35 and Harmon started a sweep to the left.

Here it was that Reagan's support failed. Three times his teammates had sure tackling shots at "Terrific Tommy" and three times they missed. Harmon's path was blocked to the left, so he calmly turned around, and as Penn defenders chased him, he dashed all the way back to his own 20-yard line before heading in the right direction again. Hastily formed interference threw him through his pursuers, and suddenly there he was in the clear, off and running for what spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

Even with that beautiful piece of running, however, Harmon didn't have a thing on Reagan, who was as fine a back today as the Quakers have seen in years. Where Harmon scored two touchdowns, passed for a third and kicked an extra point, Reagan tallied one six-point and spearheaded marches of 92 and 73 yards, before bowing out in the closing minutes, injured but still wanting to fight.

His Day To Howl
Where Harmon gained 202 net yards in 29 rushes with the ball for an average of 6.1 per crack, Reagan picked up a net of 85 yards in 13 tries for a 6.5 yard average.

Reagan completed 14 passes in 26 tries for 188 yards, and gave a performance at quarterback, particularly in the Quakers' 92-yard touchdown drive in the third period, in which there wasn't a flaw. The Quakers used 13 plays in that drive, and Reagan was in on ten of them, picking up 85 yards on the ground and passing for 41 more, before he sliced inside right end for the touchdown.

They said Harmon would go today because his injured block-kick side-kick in the Michigan backfield, Evy Evashevski, was back in action. But Tommy's ball-carrying today would have been A-1 in any ball game. It was his day to howl. And he did. So Reagan made it a duel.

Statistically, there wasn't much to choose between the two teams, although the Quakers had gone into the game as 2 to 1 underdogs in the betting. At the windup, Penn had 17 first downs to Michigan's 13, but the Wolverines were way on top in marching through the line with a net gain of 291 yards to 142 for Penn. However, the Quakers did a lot of sailing through the air with the greatest ease, and their 16 pass completions gave them 195 yards to a total of 48 for Michigan.

Throughout the first quarter, the party didn't shape up as much of a ball game. Penn couldn't get anywhere at all, and Michigan was unable to keep a consistent offensive going, although the Wolverines once reached the Quaker 30 and later the 24.

Shortly after the second quarter opened, Reagan, starting from his own 46 after the Quakers had received a punt, started a drive which gave the home town boys first blood. The Quaker ace passed to Jim Chandler for a short gain, then alternately tried each end and the middle of the line for a total of 23 yards. A. A. Chismadia, substitute back, picked up 17 through the line, and when the attack stalled, Gene Davis brought his educated toe into the lineup to kick a 14-yard field goal.

Team Wakes Up
This gave Penn a temporary advantage, but, more important, it woke the Wolverines out of their nap. Back they came after the kickoff and didn't stop until they scored. Harmon ran the kickoff back 39 yards to his own 48. In the following furious drive, he picked up 20 yards and Bob Westfall, Michigan's second-best back this afternoon, ripped off 25, before Harmon dove over from the one-foot line. Harmon added the point—the only one he converted in three tries.

That marked the end of scoring for the first half, but Penn made a desperate bid in the waning minutes, and had marched 45 yards to the Michigan 20 in three plays—two of them passes by Reagan—when the referee's whistle called the intermission.

Michigan took a two-touchdown edge in the first minute of the second half on Harmon's hurricane sprint and from then on, the Wolverines protected their lead.

OFFICIALS PUNCHED
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP)—Over-realous spectators at the Penn-Michigan football game today didn't like the decision on which the clash ended, so they took it out on two of the officials with a punch or two.

Pennsylvania had tried an on-side kickoff in order to get possession of the ball in the fading moments, and, although the officials ruled in Penn's favor on the play, the Michigan protest which followed took up the game's remaining few seconds.

Penn Coach George Munger ran across the field to protest to Referee H. O. Dayhoff, (Bucknell) and Umpire W. G. Crowell, (Swarthmore) over the fact that time had not been taken out while the conference with the Michigan players had been going on.

His protest was over-ruled and he stalked off, but by this time several hundred spectators had surrounded the officials. One or two were seen to toss a punch or two at the officials before the group pushed its way through the gates and broke up the gathering.

Lions And Packers Tied In Pro League; Detroit Plays Rams
Cleveland, Nov. 18 (AP)—With three regulars still on the injured list, the Detroit Lions will attempt to maintain their title pace here tomorrow in a National Football League battle with the Cleveland Rams.

Ends Charley Hanneman and James (Monk) Moscrip and Halfback Fred Vanzo will be missing from Detroit's starting lineup due to injuries, and the Lions may have a difficult time repeating an earlier 15 to 7 triumph over the Rams.

Dave Diehl, former Michigan State end, is expected to start his first professional game at one of the flank assignments.

The Lions are tied for first place in the league's Western division with Green Bay, which plays Brooklyn tomorrow.

One Victim Found By Luckless Wayne
Detroit, Nov. 19 (AP)—Wayne university's victory-starved football team found an opponent to its liking today and scored a 20 to 6 victory over University of Buffalo, which ended the season without a triumph.

Held scoreless in the first half, Wayne turned two sophomore fullbacks loose for touchdowns in the third and fourth periods.

Jerry Schelker carried the ball eight yards across the goal line after a Buffalo punt had been blocked, and Boris Katz scored from the one-foot line.

Lats in the game. Katz scored Wayne's third touchdown after intercepting a desperate Buffalo pass. Buffalo never advanced within Wayne's 43 yard line.

Gladstone Prospects Called "Pretty Fair"

Gladstone, Mich. — Prospects for the basketball season appear pretty fair, according to Coach Eldon Kell who this week started practice with about 30 players reported.

Among the group of 30 are five lettermen, Ed Zervic, Paul Price, Carl Knutson, Lansing Marble and Dale Minnick, around which to build.

Other promising members of the squad are Norman Berg, Dick Mackie, Warren Fisher, Loren Holm, William Beson, Howard Quistfort and Bernard Olson.

The Purples have three weeks to prepare before opening at home against Rapid River, one of eight home games on the schedule. The season will close with a home

PASSES TRADED ON EVEN TERMS

Victory Hungry Rooters At East Lansing Not Satisfied

BY JACK I. GREEN
East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 18 (AP)—Michigan State and Indiana, meeting for the first time in 12 years, traded passes on almost even terms today and ended with a 7 to 7 tie which failed to satisfy the victory-hungry followers of both teams.

The Spartans' life-saving forward wall got the jump on their bigger opponents early in the game and repulsed all attacks while Wyman Davis and Eddie Pearce were passing and running their way to a touchdown.

Coach Bo McMillin then sent his passing artist, Hal Hersh, one of the best in the Western Conference, into the game and Hersh tossed beyond the Spartan ramparts in the third period to even the score.

Hersh Bottled Up
A crowd of 18,000 persons, including many alumni back for homecoming day, saw the teams struggle through the remaining moments of the game on almost even terms. The Hoosiers ran up 11 first downs and a net gain of 257 yards to seven first downs and 99 net yards for Michigan State, but their tricky lateral game produced fumbles which cost them heavily in the pinches.

The Spartan squad was laying for Hersh and his ends drove in deep to keep his passing game in hot water throughout the game. The Spartan line, playing probably the best game of its shining career, found holes for the runners in the first period but McMillin's lads tightened then and stopped Michigan State's running game cold.

Indiana had superiority in the statistics but only frightened the Spartan fans on a few occasions. The Hoosiers made 111 yards rushing and 150 yards on passes, while Michigan State gained only 103 yards rushing and 41 passing.

The Spartans recovered five of Indiana's six fumbles at strategic moments in the game while Indiana recovered the Spartans' solo bobble.

Steps Out of Bounds
The most thrilling moment in the game nearly gave Michigan State the winning touchdown. Attempting to punt from his seven yard line Michigan State's big end, Stanley McRae, got a bad pass from center and thought to run with the ball. Perceiving the Hoosiers' tackles bearing down, he turned and passed 23 yards to the surprised State fullback, Jack Amon, who came in and raced 79 yards to cross the Indiana goal line. The referee declared Amon had stepped out of bounds on the State 41.

Wyman Davis, sophomore backfield sensation, opened the battle in style for Michigan State by tossing a pass from Indiana's 49 for a nine yard gain. Davis then raced off tackle for 11 yards and little Eddie Pearce picked up five more at the same place. Pearce passed for five yards to Davis and then Fullback Jack Amon took over on the seven yard line and in three line bucks scored. Les Bruckner kicked the point.

Indiana seized on Davis' fumble of Bill Bringle's punt soon after and from the State 43 yard line headed goal-wards. One drive faltered on downs but Hal Hersh came in and teamed with the little

Field Goal Misses
Shortly after, Michigan State carried the attack back again, but it stalled when Crosthwaite's 30 yard pass was intercepted on Indiana's 39 yard line by Cleo Maddox, substitute Indiana back. Maddox, in turn fumbled and Bruckner again made an unsuccessful try at a field goal from the 40.

McMillin shook up his squad at second intervals in the final minutes of play but Indiana found itself fighting without success at its 25 yard line when the game ended.

SPILLING the DOPE BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

OUT OF BOUNDS . . . football officials have always been plagued by having to call back apparent touchdowns because the runner stepped out of bounds enroute to the goal line. . . . or have been plagued by failure to call the ball carrier out of bounds. . . . in either case, crowds yell. . . . they invariably say they saw the runner's foot kick up chalk marks. . . . now, that always a difficult play to call. . . . but the Boiler Room Gang at the junior high school (Jack Bartel, John Edick, Clem Flanagan et al) solved that one. . . . they're advocating ringing the football field with these rubber tubes used at gas stations so that the car, running over them, rings the bell. . . . The Boiler Room Gang argues that the runner would trip the bell every time he stepped on the goal line. . . . oh yes, the boys are going to rig up a photo-electric cell over the goal line to automatically chalk up six points on the scoreboard when the ball crosses the goal line. . . . however, there still remain a few details to be worked out on the latter idea. . . . the inventors aren't making known their own schemes just yet. . . . for fear someone will beat them to the patent!

The new cars have more room for the more abundant wife.

JIM ROUMAN is sweating these days over his basketball team. . . . and wondering when, or if, his boys ever will forget football long enough to concentrate on basketball. . . . we've watched practices a couple of times and are convinced that Jimmy has plenty on the ball. . . . he's a star player himself and a keen student of the game. . . . and has the knack of imparting his knowledge to the boys. . . . while it is far too early to say much, we believe that Jimmy will worry plenty of teams during the year. . . . he hasn't a whole lot of material to work with but, mark our words, he'll make the most of what he has. . . . and you might take a tip from this amateur cage critic. . . . keep an eye on Keith McDonald, junior reserve center on the football team. . . . Keith seems to have the makings.

NAHMA TRAVELS TO RAPID RIVER

Coach Wiitala Has Five Lettermen Back for Team

Rapid River, Mich., Nov. 18.—The 1939-40 basketball season will be officially opened here on Tuesday night when Rapid River and Nahma, two natural rivals in class D competition, meet in the opening game, the first game to be played in the new high school gymnasium.

Coach Eero Wiitala has five lettermen back from last year, Harlan Duroy, Walter Fuhrman, Peter Duort, Andrew Bannister and Morley Roberts. He has been working hard with the squad for the past two weeks and reports the boys have shown good progress for the time spent. Wiitala has divided the team into two groups, the first group consisting of the five lettermen plus Carroll Gilland, Lloyd Stenlund, Robert Malnor and Henry Groleau. The second group is composed of Peter Ploord, John Wickstrom, Glenn Caswell, Arthur Pfeifer, Joseph Wolf, Robert Gustafson, Blash Wolf, Owen Short, Eddie St. Thomas, George Harris, Norman Lancour, Richard LaFont, Bert Thomas and William Cavill.

Coach Bernard Tobin comes here Tuesday night with a veteran Nahma quintet which won the district title last year. Not a single player was lost from that team and the visitors are expected to make things tough for the locals in the season's opener.

The schedule for the season follows:
Nov. 21—Nahma.
Dec. 1—Eben.
Dec. 3—at Gladstone.
Dec. 15—Rock.
Dec. 19—Cooks.
Jan. 12—Trenary.
Jan. 19—at Nahma.
Jan. 23—at Perkins.
Jan. 26—Powers.
Jan. 30—Harris.
Feb. 2—at Rock.
Feb. 9—at Cooks.
Feb. 16—at Trenary.
Feb. 17—Perkins.
Mar. 1—at Powers.

Lanky Don Lash Seeks AAU Title
Newark, N. J., Nov. 18 (AP)—A lanky Indiana state policeman who has done considerable running in his time, tries for his sixth consecutive national senior A. U. championship over a 10,000-meter course tomorrow in Branch Brook Park.

He is Don Lash and his competition is to be virtually the same type he has beaten almost every time out. His competitors over the six-and-a-quarter mile flat course include runners for five clubs and a number of unattached athletes, among them Joe (Iron Man) McCuskey, former Fordham university and New York A. C. star.

Unattached runners besides Lash and McCuskey are Victor Drygall, University of Idaho freshman; J. Gregory Rice, post graduate student at Notre Dame; Carmen Bova, Seton Hall college ace; Thomas Quinn of Michigan State Normal college; Ed Blackwell of

Texas Tech Raiders Taken By Marquette
Lubbock, Tex., Nov. 18 (AP)—Marquette launched a smooth offense and stubborn defense to triumph 22 to 19 today over the Texas Tech Red Raiders who had outscored and outplayed the Golden Avalanche most of the way.

Trailing 15-19, Marquette started a drive late in the third period and pushed the ball to the three as the quarter ended. James Richardson threw a scoring pass to Robert Sleske early in the fourth to give the Avalanche victory. Kämtnitz converted.

In a desperate last-minute attempt to come back, C. L. Storrs threw a pass to Francis Bingham, Tech end, who dropped the ball for an incompletion behind the goal line.

JOHNSON CALLS TEAM TOGETHER

Eagles of Last Year 'Are Renamed; Plan for Tough Schedule

Arnold "Dopey" Johnson's recently reorganized Eagles basketball team, to be known this year as the Northern Motors, will practice at the city recreation hall gymnasium at 7:15 o'clock Monday night.

The Motors team will have practically the same line-up as last year's Eagles, who won 61 of 69 games. New blue and white uniforms have been provided for the players.

The schedule has not been drawn up, but Johnson said he hopes to get games with the Crystal Falls Ramblers, the Sturgeon Bay Arabians, the Michigan Blue Jays, the Ironwood Independents and all comers, including various traveling outfits.

Ride-em!

Lion Tail Twisters and Teachers Meet At Donkey Ball

Lions, donkeys and teachers will be the featured bill of fare at the junior high school gymnasium Tuesday night.

The Lions—Tail Twisters of the Escanaba club—and the Escanaba high school faculty will ride the donkeys in a donkey basketball game.

And the fans, undoubtedly, will ride the whole outfit.

Well, anyway, it's this way. A traveling troupe of donkeys is coming to town, shod with rubber soled shoes, and they'll be brought to the junior high school gym to provide transportation for the Lions and teachers while they engage in a basketball game. The donkeys are not ordinary donkeys—they're named after famed movie actresses and are just as temperamental. They'll do anything—if they feel like it. To make the riders feel like perfect—well, the other word for donkeys—of themselves. Meanwhile, the crowd is in stitches.

The game is a benefit game for the Escanaba high school basketball team and proceeds will be used for the purchase of new uniforms.

Central M. E. And St. Stephens Lead

Central Methodist defeated First Methodist and St. Stephens' Episcopal won over Bethany Lutheran to share the honors in the first official week of play in the church softball league.

Although it was only a practice game after the official match was over, St. Stephens' and Bethany Lutheran hung up a record for the longest game of the season, going 18 innings before George McGilligan broke up the game with a three bagger which scored Chapman's winning run for St. Stephens.

The schedule for this week is as follows:
Tuesday—Central Methodist vs. St. Stephens at St. Stephens; Bethany Lutheran vs. First Methodist at First Methodist.

Standings follow:
TEAM W. L. PCT.
Central Methodist 1 0 1.000
St. Stephens' 1 0 1.000
First Methodist 0 0 1.000
Bethany Lutheran 0 1 .000
