SCHOOL HEADS TO FIGHT CUT OF $2,500,000

BUDGET DIRECTOR'S DEDUCTION PLAN CALLED ERROR

Lansing, Dec. 14 (AP)—Dr. Albert J. Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, said today school officials would file suit if necessary in an attempt to block an attempt by Gus T. Hartman, state budget director, to divert $2,500,000 from the legislature's appropriation to the public schools this year.

"Our people in the state would take it into court," Dr. Phillips said. Such a diversion would be unreasonable.

Granted As "Advance" The money involved in the controversy was granted by the 1939 legislature as an "advance" against this year's appropriation.

Hartman disclosed he had taken the position that the legislature intended the sum be deducted from the $39,000,000 school grant for 1939-40.

The department of public instruction immediately countered that the legislature already had subtracted the $2,500,000 when it fixed this year's allotment. Department officials said its budget and school-aid payments to the local districts had been built with that idea in mind.

Showdown Sought Hartman said he would confer next week with Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, and Auditor General Vernon J. Brown. He said he desired an immediate "showdown" because "we want no undue hardships to attend this thing."

Clear L. Taylor, finance officer of the department of public instruction, asserted: "We know all about it. Mr. Hartman is in error, and I believe he knows it. The legislature appropriated $2,500,000 to the schools as an advance against this year's appropriation. It established a formula for distribution of the fund. This was done to meet an emergency at the close of the school year 1938-39.

"Later the legislature adopted another bill, fixing our 1939-40 appropriation at $39,000,000. It made no mention of the advance, and the legislature certainly would have been specific about it had it desired that the $2,500,000 be deducted from the $39,000,000. The larger appropriation had a formula for distribution that was very different from the formula in the $2,500,000 advance."

Lobby Powerful Taylor said he did not believe Brown would agree with Hartman. Brown also was out of the city.

Hartman said he knew he was asked for the opposition "of the school lobby, the most powerful lobby in Michigan."

Pointing to a provision in the school appropriation law which will give the schools the first $2,000,000 of unanticipated revenues in addition to the $29,000,000, Hartman said he felt that sum would be available and would compensate for the loss of the $2,500,000 "advance" payment. "I don't think they are in such bad shape," Hartman said.

Hoover Denies Rift In War Relief Ranks

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Reports of tension between Herbert Hoover's relief organization and the Red Cross, which is headed by President Roosevelt, led to the following barrage of pronouncements today (in chronological order): 1. Hoover denied at New York that there was any friction between his campaign for Finnish relief funds and any other group. He said it "is a great pity that people will start out to poison the wells of human charity."

Imperialism of Moscow Denounced By Brophy In Detroit Talk

Detroit, Dec. 14 (AP)—John Brophy, appearing as the personal representative of CIO Chief John L. Lewis, denounced Russia for its invasion of Finland, in an address here today. Brophy, director of industrial locals for the National Congress of Industrial Organizations, spoke to the convention of the CIO United Retail and Wholesale Employes of America.

"We condemn the brutality of a Nazi Germany on the march," he said, "and we condemn a Soviet Union turned imperialistic. "We want peace for America, for the world, and we can't get it if imperialism is on the march and it does not matter under what banners or slogans it marches."

Brophy denied that the CIO program and policies "are Communist as charged by some people," adding "they are as American as the Bill of Rights."

Negro Admits That He Placed Woman's Body In Sewer Hole

Detroit, Dec. 14 (AP)—William E. Dowling, Wayne county assistant prosecutor, said today that Maurice J. Vanderpool, 31-year-old negro, had confessed that he placed a woman's body in a sewer shaft Oct. 29.

The body, identified as that of Mrs. Hazel Plance, 25, negro, was discovered by a WPA worker on Monday.

Dowling quoted Vanderpool as saying that he "happily" pushed Mrs. Plance as they were riding in an elevator, and her head struck a door. The negro admitted that he was going to revive her, but that he was unable to do so.

Captive Tars Sing And Cheer As Guns Pound Sea Raider

Montevideo, Uruguay, Dec. 14 (AP)—Vivid eye-witness stories of the Admiral Graf Spee's fight with British cruisers were told tonight by members of a group of 62 British seamen who were prisoners directly under one of the 11-inch gun turrets while the Graf Spee threw steel at her attackers. Freed of their marine prison—several after weeks of confinement—the seamen described how they counted hits by British guns and cheered for the attacking cruisers, at the same time realizing they were doomed if the Graf Spee sank because the doors of their steel cells were barred when the action began.

Locked In By Guards One of the best accounts of the first big sea fight of the European war was told by a quiet mannered officer of the British steamer Doric Star who was taken prisoner before his ship was sunk by the Graf Spee off the coast of Africa.

The prisoners were awakened at six in the morning, he said, by cannonading.

"We knew what that sound meant," he said, "and we knew it was serious when the guards of our quarters locked and barred the doors and left to go to their battle stations."

"As the battle progressed most of us realized a British victory might mean our deaths, but nevertheless there was singing and cheering for the attackers."

Swallowed His Gargle "Altogether, we counted 17 hits by British shells on the Graf Spee in the various encounters that day.

"Probably you won't believe this, but several men who were shaving when the cannonading began went on and finished the job."

"I had a sore throat and was taking medicine when we had a British visitor—a piece of a shell which had exploded outside the door, sent normally permitted to stay of a half-gallon, would have expired at midnight, Uruguay time, or 10:30 p. m., E.S.T."

Guani declined to say how long this extension of time would run, but explained that the German captain would be given sufficient time to make his warcraft seaworthy.

Close inspection of the crippled ship indicated the need of extensive repairs.

Meanwhile, the British cruiser Exeter, damaged and forced out of the battle which drove the Admiral Graf Spee to refuge here last night, was approaching the Argentine naval base at Puerto Belgrano, seeking to drydock for repairs. One hundred hospital beds were prepared there for her wounded.

"Death Watch" Augmented The Uruguayan decision meant that the Graf Spee, still at anchor in the bay with her 35 dead and 60 wounded on board, need not immediately attempt a suicidal dash through the reinforced British warship patrol outside the harbor.

POCKET BATTLESHIP CRIPPLED; ENGLISH SEAMEN FREED

BY HAROLD K. MILKS Montevideo, Dec. 14 (AP)—The shell-battered Nazi pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee, playing a dangerous game of cat and mouse with a gathering British battle-fleet, tonight won Uruguayan permission to remain in this neutral port until she can repair the damage suffered in the war's first great sea fight.

The Uruguayan foreign minister, Alberto Guani, tonight announced that, "in accordance with the Uruguayan neutrality law and international law," the Graf Spee could stay in Montevideo harbor.

NAZI FLEET MOVING

London, Dec. 15 (Friday) (AP)—British airmen just returned from a smashing air battle over the North Sea reported today they had seen a section of the German fleet near the scene of the World War battle of Jutland.

Reconnaissance fliers said they saw a Nazi battleship, a cruiser, some destroyers and a submarine, the air ministry announced.

It was the first report in the European war of such a strong penetration of the North Sea by German naval forces.

on request of the German government, pending repairs.

Extensive Repairs Needed The announcement was made shortly before the 24-hour time limit, normally permitted for the stay of a belligerent ship, would have expired at midnight, Uruguay time, or 10:30 p. m., E.S.T.

Guani declined to say how long this extension of time would run, but explained that the German captain would be given sufficient time to make his warcraft seaworthy.

Air Battles Staged Over Helgoland In Hunt For U-Boats

London, Dec. 14 (AP)—The air ministry announced tonight that four German Messerschmidt fighting planes and three British fighters had been shot down in fierce air battles over Helgoland Bight "during the last 24 hours."

The announcement said "considerable forces of the royal air force have been operating over the North Sea in the last 24 hours."

The operations, the air ministry said, included a wide search for enemy surface craft and submarines and close reconnaissance of the estuaries and islands of north-west Germany.

The air battles took place during those flights.

"One British formation engaged a strong enemy fighter force," the air ministry said, adding that except for the three British warplanes shot down over Helgoland all British formations returned without losses.

Flint, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—Carl Morrison, 49, of Flint, drove his automobile onto Pere Marquette railway tracks tonight and suffered fatal injuries when a freight train demolished it. On the way to Hurley hospital an ambulance carrying Morrison collided with another machine and was disabled. A second ambulance picked up Morrison.

'OIL CRACKING' SUITS SETTLED

Patents to Process Are Said To Be Worth Thirty Million

Detroit, Dec. 14 (AP)—Settlement of a prolonged and intricate dispute over patent rights and royalties on an oil refining process said to involve millions of dollars in present or prospective values was reported virtually completed tonight.

J. L. Waynes, vice president of Chemical Research corporation, disclosed that a full settlement was expected by Jan. 21 in a fight over a gasoline-cracking method claimed by the Gyro Process company, a subsidiary of the corporation.

One case, involving the Pure Oil company and the so-called Standard Oil Patent Club, has been heard in Wayne county circuit court for 18 months. Four others are pending in the same court and a fifth in federal court. All will be dismissed upon the formal settlement, Wallace said.

Patents to the process, known as the "vapor-phase-cracking-process," have been estimated to be worth $1,000,000 to $10,000,000. Together with estimated royalties, the figure has soared to $30,000,000.

Engineer Admitted To $15,000 Bail In Wife Knifing Case

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—Herbert F. Patterson, automotive designing engineer charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of his wife, was admitted to $15,000 bail today after three weeks in jail.

He must appear Dec. 22 when a decision will be made by Justice of the Peace Frank E. Jeannette on whether to hold him for trial. Examination was completed yesterday.

Bond in a first degree murder case is unusual but discretionary with a magistrate if he finds there are "unusual circumstances."

Ivan A. Johnston, McComb county prosecutor, did not oppose bond for Patterson.

Justice Jeannette in setting bond commented that he did not mean to pass on the question of innocence or guilt, nor did he intend to decide at this time whether Patterson should face trial.

Patterson was jailed Nov. 25, a month after his wife was found slain in their St. Clair Shores home under mystifying circumstances.

Purchases Approved In Hiawatha Forest

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Purchase of 143,558 acres at a cost of $573,237 for national forests in 22 states and Puerto Rico was approved by the national forest reservation commission at its final 1939 meeting, Secretary Woodring, president of the commission, announced today.

Among the purchases approved were (unit, acreage and cost): Hiawatha, Mich., 920 and $2,140; Huron, Mich., 763.32 and $2,006.04; Manistee, Mich., 3,399 and $8,222.40; Ottawa, Mich., 3,714.84 and $8,272.64.

Van Wagoner Says Highway Financing Is Not In The Red

Lansing, Dec. 14 (AP)—State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner denied today that his department was $3,077,000 "in the red" at the end of the last fiscal year, a statement made earlier this week by Auditor General Vernon J. Brown in a review of the state's fiscal position.

On that date, Van Wagoner said, the department actually was "in the black" with a balance of $1,067,525, and now has a cash balance of $2,500,000.

"Mr. Brown takes the cumulative pictures of liabilities, but does not compare it cumulative with assets," Van Wagoner said. "He compared the calendar year on which our income is derived with the fiscal year on which the state budget is set up. That's unfair."

WAY IS PAVED TO GIVE FINNS MATERIAL AID

Ridgeway, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—James G. Frey, deputy secretary of state of Michigan and prominent in Republican party councils there, died here today after several months illness. He was 43 years old.

Frey was first stricken last June. Each rally was followed by a relapse. Death occurred at the residence of a sister, Mrs. Maurice Desmith. He was unmarried.

He was born in McKeesport, Pa., April 5, 1896, served overseas in the World War with an American ambulance unit and was decorated by the Italian government.

When he returned to the United States he entered University of Michigan and graduated in 1922.

Before turning to politics Frey worked on newspapers in Pennsylvania and in Ann Arbor and Battle Creek, Mich.

He was elected to the Michigan house of representatives in 1929-31-33-35 from Calhoun county and became celebrated in Republican party circles as "the man who knows everybody."

He became secretary of the Michigan Republican state central committee and in 1936 was assistant secretary of the Republican national convention at Cleveland.

Tireless Party Worker A willing, tireless and affable party worker he tackled jobs which held little chance for glory, but in 1936 the state Republican leadership considered him as a candidate for secretary of state and in 1938 for state treasurer. His name was not formally submitted either time, however.

He served as a member of the legislative commission to recodify the election laws a few years ago. In 1929 he was a member of a Michigan study commission that toured Europe to obtain data on development of airport and landing facilities.

He was an unofficial greeter for the Republican party in Michigan, had the confidence of all factions and won innumerable friends.

Funeral services tentatively provided for services and burial in Pennsylvania.

ROUNDHOUSE AT NAHMA BURNED

East End of Building Destroyed; Wind Saves Others

The east end of the frame construction roundhouse of the Bay de Noquet Lumber Company's railroad line at Nahma was destroyed in a fire that broke out about 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The company's own fire apparatus was used to "quench the blazes and the fire was under control by 2 o'clock, although it continued to burn until dark.

A strong south wind, blowing flames and sparks away from the nearby sawmill and piles of drying lumber, toward the bay, was held responsible for holding damage to the one building. The west end of the roundhouse and the adjoining car repair shop were not damaged.

Charles Good, in charge of the Nahma mill, was out of town and William Acker, superintendent, who was in charge, declined to estimate the loss, which it was unofficially reported would reach several hundred dollars. The fire was said to have had a good start when it was discovered.

One engine was in the three-stall roundhouse when the fire started, but it was pulled from the shed by an engine and train of flat cars which were run into the shed and coupled with the engine. Charles Ward, engineer, was in charge of the rescue.

This roundhouse was constructed two years ago after its predecessor burned to the ground.

has been contributing about $500,000, or about 11 per cent, of the annual league budget.

Britain's general lack of burning enthusiasm for the ouster was attributed to her consciousness that the nation of 180,000,000 population against whom she acted borders India, France, too, remembered that this nation of huge manpower is close to part of her own colonial possessions.

The text of the council resolution said that body associated itself with the assembly in condemnation of the Soviet for its invasion of Finland, and therefore, under Article 16 of the covenant "finds that by its act the U. S. S. R. had placed itself outside the League of Nations."

"It follows that the U. S. S. R. no longer is a member of the league."

Munitions Next Move This step left the league, still surprised by the sudden upsurge of a war-time vigor in its halls and corridors, faced with the need of setting up a clearing house to see that league members get plenty of munitions to Finland.

The assembly resolution empowered the league's staff of technical experts to co-ordinate efforts to help the little league member. One of their tasks, for example, may be to see that the ammunition sent by one league member fits the guns sent by another.

Before the assembly voted, the league was informed by Britain's representative, R. A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, that England would give "the best assistance in their power to Finland," despite other heavy wartime burdens.

BY LYNN HEINZERLING With the Finnish army on the Eastern Karelian Front, Dec. 14 (AP)—Several battalions of fierce fighting Finns clung stubbornly today to their positions on the Taipale river near Lake Ladoga in the face of heavy artillery fire.

For more than a week they have been holding out against the Russians, writing a new chapter of Finland's struggle for independence.

Shells Blacken Snow Today I stood in a first line Finnish trench and watched with a group of Finnish soldiers as Soviet artillery sent shell after shell screaming across the winding stream into a forest about half a mile away.

When the day was over the Russians had blackened the snow for acres and blasted the woods around—but the Finns still were holding the river positions.

(In another southeastern section of their country, the Finns announced officially today they had turned the tide of the Russian invasion, forcing the red army into retreat and recapturing an extensive area around Tolvaarvi, which is 40 miles west of the eastern frontier and the same distance north of Lake Ladoga.

In the north the Russians, penetrating the Finnish nickel mining district, neared the blating town of Salmijarvi while the Finns retreated in orderly fashion, burning towns and rural buildings behind them.)

Stately Trees Felled Acres and acres of stately pine and spruce trees, agleam with winter's frost, have been cut down in this Taipale river area by tons of 3-inch, 6-inch and 8-inch Russian shells.

Bpt since the attack began in this sector December 6 the Finns haven't yielded an inch. They have slipped a dozen attempts by the Russians to throw a

Poland Can't Pay War Debt To U. S.

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Polish ambassador, Count Jerzy Potocki, told the United States government today that because of "invasion" by Germany and Russia, Poland would be unable to pay the installment on its war debt.

The $5,662,000 installment is due tomorrow. Yugoslavia also notified the state department that it would be unable to pay a $38,515 installment due tomorrow.

Hungary, however, paid $9,828 in principal on her debt. Finland, the only country to have paid its installments in full in recent years and now engaged in war with Russia, is expected to make a $234,000 payment tomorrow.

President Roosevelt has said he would ask congress to make the money available to the republic for purposes of relief.

Michigan Democrats Invite Murphy For Jackson Day Speech

Lansing, Dec. 14 (AP)—U. S. Attorney General Frank Murphy, Michigan Democrat, was invited by the Democratic state central committee today to deliver the keynote address at a Jackson day dinner in Detroit January 8.

In a formal invitation, Charles S. Porritt, state chairman, wrote Murphy: "It is unnecessary for me to say that all democrats of Michigan would be honored by the presence of their distinguished leader and that your presence would make it an outstanding success and the beginning of a most important year of activity."

War Seems Fantastic To me war seemed fantastic amidst the frosty, snowy beauty of the Finnish landscape, just like a Christmas card.

Behind the front line positions the roads were choked with one-horse sleighs carrying supplies and shells to the front.

Tonight I saw hundreds of skilful ski troops along the roads leading to the front waiting for the call to go on patrol duty.

Although I saw a few children playing with their sleds in this region ahead of the Mannerheim line, most of the area had been depopulated far inland.

Active everywhere were smiling women of the Lotta Svaari auxiliary corps, making and serving coffee, helping the wounded and filling many places usually occupied by men.

In dugouts, rest stations and officers' quarters there always was a picture of Finland's famed General Mannerheim, with the inscription, "The strength of small peoples is to be united."

The Finnish troops looked warm and comfortable in their heavy khaki uniforms. Some were wearing white camouflage capes.

From the trench they watched the shelling with little interest, little alarm, since at that time the shells were falling in an area where no troops were stationed.

They said the Russians used large shells whenever they spotted any kind of movement in the Finnish lines, however.

floating fortress had surrendered 62 British seamen taken from nine raided merchantmen, British diplomatic authorities indicated that the 10,000-ton British cruiser Cumberland had joined the "death watch" flotilla outside the harbor.

The same sources also said that it was very likely the great battle cruiser Renown and the aircraft carrier Ark Royal would rush here from South African waters.

The Cumberland mounts eight 8-inch guns and has a speed of 31.5 knots.

Already, the light cruisers Ajax and Achilles, which drove the Graf Spee into this harbor after a day-long battle yesterday, were on watch, along with the crippled British cruiser Exeter.

Reports from the Ajax and Achilles said that they had no dead and only a few wounded. There were unconfirmed reports, however, of some dead aboard the Exeter.

The Renown, last reported on guard off Capetown with the Ark Royal for other German pocket battleship raiders, has six 15-inch guns.

Prisoners Happy The seamen surrendered today by the Graf Spee had huddled together in the brig of the pocket battleship while yesterday's battle raged for hours above their heads.

They were released at 6:45 p. m. (4:15 p. m. E.S.T.) Under the direction of British legation officials, a tugboat pulled alongside the pocket battleship and the seamen emerged from their prison.

They clambered happily into tug for the trip ashore. Headed by five merchant captains, the men mounted the same gangplank over which Captain Hans Langsdorff of the Graf Spee a half hour earlier had led half a dozen smartly clad Nazi officers on his way to make a formal call in port.

The prisoners ranged in age from a man 72 years old to youths who appeared less than 15 years.

Most of them carried shapeless bags holding their scanty belongings. Some clung tightly to life-belts salvaged from their old ships.

Without exception they showed the effects of a terrible day spent in close confinement in the bowels of the Graf Spee while the battleship was pounded by British shells and shaken by the recoil of its own 11-inch guns.

The imprisoned captives were identified as Brown of the S. S. Huntsman, Pottinger of the S. S. Ashlea, Edwards of the S. S. Trevanion, Stubbs of the S. S. Doric Star and Patrick G. G. Dove of the Africa Shell. All these ships

Freighter Sensibar Taken Off Sand Bar

Grand Haven, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—The decommissioned freighter Sensibar, pulled free by tugs after a week at the mercy of Lake Michigan seas on a sand bar, entered the harbor here today for a checkup of possible damage.

The tugs Favorite of Sault Ste. Marie and the Montana and Wisconsin of South Chicago, combined their efforts during a calm spell to refloat the vessel at 4:30 p. m. The Sensibar was towed into the harbor less than three hours later.

Under tow of the Montana and Wisconsin to be converted here into a gravel carrier, the Sensibar broke loose during a storm a week ago when an eight-inch hawser parted. She was driven ashore two miles south of the harbor entrance. Heavy seas during the past week hindered the attempts of tugs to pull her off the bar.

Navigation Season Closes At Soo As Last Vessels Pass

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—Interlake carriers close their navigation season here today as the steamers Secord and Bricolock locked down from Lake Superior with grain from Fort William, Ont.

There was still no ice to hinder the movement of ships, but today's passages were the last scheduled by any transportation concern. The season was one of the busiest in the history of the St. Mary's Falls Canal, November tonnage being the fourth highest on record.

Because the U. S. lighthouse department already had lifted navigation aids, the Secord and Bricolock lay inside Whitefish Bay until daylight. They locked down at 10:30 a. m.

Freighter Sensibar Taken Off Sand Bar

Grand Haven, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—The decommissioned freighter Sensibar, pulled free by tugs after a week at the mercy of Lake Michigan seas on a sand bar, entered the harbor here today for a checkup of possible damage.

The tugs Favorite of Sault Ste. Marie and the Montana and Wisconsin of South Chicago, combined their efforts during a calm spell to refloat the vessel at 4:30 p. m. The Sensibar was towed into the harbor less than three hours later.

Under tow of the Montana and Wisconsin to be converted here into a gravel carrier, the Sensibar broke loose during a storm a week ago when an eight-inch hawser parted. She was driven ashore two miles south of the harbor entrance. Heavy seas during the past week hindered the attempts of tugs to pull her off the bar.

U. S. EMBASSY LIST REDUCED

Russian Aggression May Change Diplomatic Relations

BY ANDRUE BERBERG
Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Accustomed though they are to seeing American embassies and legations eliminated in one country after another, officials face with uneasiness the same prospect in three more countries—Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

Perhaps there may be a fourth, Finland, if the Russian steamroller breaks through the valiantly defended Finnish lines.

Information is reaching the government that the few shreds of independence remaining to the three smaller Baltic nations after their acceptance of Russia's demands are gradually vanishing.

It is only a few months since the foreign ministers or representatives of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia journeyed sadly to Moscow and signed on the sword-traced line, permitting Russian troops to enter their countries, to establish air and naval bases.

Nominally they remain independent. Actually their whole foreign policy is now directed from the Kremlin. Their domestic policies and administrations are careful to follow the wishes of Moscow.

And, according to information reaching here, officials of the three governments who might otherwise have striven for their national freedom, are rapidly moving over to the stronger—the Russian—side.

Russia has not found it necessary to incorporate the Baltic nations into her system because they have become, to all intents and purposes, a part of it. In the opinion of some informed observers here, Russia is waiting until she completes the conquest of Finland before making provinces, or a province, of the three Baltic countries. Meantime they are useful in her invasion of Finland.

Such being the case, some officials believe it is only a question of time, a short time, before the state department will have to review its representation in the Baltic states.

So far no change has been made. The legations continue to function, although there is no foreign policy among the Baltic nations to report about. But the growing Russianization of the Baltic may force the closing of the legations.

Escanaba Now Rated As Superior Market

New York—How prosperous a city is Escanaba? How does it compare with other cities? How much money is earned and spent there each year?

The answers to these questions, valuable to merchants and advertisers, are contained in the most comprehensive study of the subject ever made, recently completed by the Department of Commerce, and covering every town in the United States larger than 2,500 population.

Escanaba is shown to be an above-average community. It accounts for .0176 per cent of the nation's business with a population of only .0118 per cent of the total. It supports 210 retail establishments which do an annual business of $4,790,000.

The yearly sales volume in the city is $399 for each resident. This figure, for the entire country, is $270.

Escanaba's fine consumer purchasing power is indicated by figures for federal income tax returns, sales of automobiles and radios, and use of electric and telephone service.

Workers In U. S. Are Better Off This Year

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Charlotte, N. C.—Factory workers in this and practically every other industrial town who have jobs are better off today than they ever have been. Their wages, measured by the amount of food and clothing their pay envelopes will buy, are the highest in history. The working generation of 1939 gets far more for its dollar than that of 1929. Only disadvantage facing the employee of today is the fact that a fourth of his income must go for taxes, relief, and graft.

In remembering the late 1920's as a period of unbridled prosperity, we often forget that many changes have taken place which benefit the wage earner and salary worker of 1939. Living costs have plummeted while wage rates have skyrocketed. The cost of living, as estimated by authorities today, is off a seventh from 1929. This means that a man who is receiving the same wage today that he was 10 years ago, actually has been given a 16 per cent pay boost. The worker who today gets 14 per cent less in his pay envelope than in 1929 can buy just as much as he could then.

Food and Clothing Cheaper
Major savings in the average family's living costs today are in the weekly market basket. Food now is almost a third cheaper than in 1929. There is not much saving in rent or the cost of building. If you want to build a house today it will cost you about as much as it did 10 years ago. You can not rent a desirable apartment or single house much cheaper than you could then. Clothing, however, costs a lot less. Today $75 will buy as many suits, dresses, hats, and shoes as $100 bought 10 years ago.

Taxes are a different story. Back in 1919, 15 cents was sucked out of every wage worker's dollar by local, state, and federal government costs. Today, taxes take 25 cents out of a working man's dollar. Moreover, if taxes were high enough to pay all our public bills as we go along, instead of borrowing part of the money, government costs would take even a greater portion of the worker's income. The average wage earner does not realize this because most taxes he pays are hidden. It would be committing political hari-kari to let consumers know how much cheaper their food, clothing and rents would be if public spending had been kept within bounds in the past 10 years.

Taxes Offset Efficiency
That living expenses would be less today is not opinion, but fact. A comparison of 1939's raw material costs and retail prices with those of 1929 bears this out. Raw material prices are now 30 per cent lower than in 1929; but retail prices are only 20 per cent lower. Many raw commodities are actually selling today for less than it costs to produce them. The reason that a housewife has to pay as much as she does for a shirt or a loaf of bread is not because the cotton planter or the wheat farmer is being paid too much. In fact, the planters and farmers are getting little.

It is due to two reasons: (1) The workers who made the shirts and the bread have had a justifiable increase in pay; and (2) because the shirt manufacturer's and baker's taxes are about twice as big as they were in 1929. Hence, the savings in raw material costs through lower prices and in labor cost through increased efficiency of new machines have almost been eaten up by taxes. If government expenses had not gotten out of hand, these savings would have been passed on to consumers through lower prices. They, in turn, would be able to buy more goods of other kinds, thus providing new jobs for the workers displaced by the

Meanwhile, wage rates will continue to rise gradually.

Taxation Stifling Jobs
So, Yuletide of 1939 rolls around with the lot of the American job-holder making a striking comparison with that of labor in other lands. No rationed food, no soaring living costs, no cold and dark homes. Only points of similarity is the huge cut taxes take out of the weekly pay envelope.

When I say that job-holders are better off in America today than anywhere else in the world I have not forgotten there are millions out of work. Faulty education and unwise taxation are behind this unemployment. Not until politics are rooted out of our schools and voted out of our local, state, and federal governments, can we ever hope to solve unemployment and end the threat to our liberty.

As to the immediate trend of living costs and wages, I see no important changes. Food early 1940 will see some modest advance in food and clothing prices, but there will be no sharp mark-ups. Careful shoppers will be able to save a little money on post-Christmas bargain sales. Unless, however, goods are really marked down, I see little reason for housewives to stock up heavily in clearance sales this January.

MRS. JENSEN PASSES AWAY

Wife of Prominent Local Business Man Dies Here Yesterday

Mrs. Jennie A. Jensen, 68, wife of Peter Jensen, well known local businessman, passed away at the family home at 209 Ludington street yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock after a lingering illness of several years.

Mrs. Jensen was born October 16, 1871 at Ebeltoft, Denmark, and moved to the United States in 1894, locating at Michigamme. She lived there for a short while and moved to Escanaba 44 years ago, residing here ever since.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city, of the Danish Sisterhood, the Royal Neighbors of America and the Order of Eastern Star.

The deceased is survived by her husband; four sons, William C. Arthur P., Nels P., and Roy A. of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Hendrickson of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Norman Stephenson of this city; one sister, Mrs. Peter Christensen of Michigamme; three brothers in Denmark; and seven grand children.

The body was removed to the Anderson Funeral Home. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:40 o'clock at the funeral home and at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Carl Berger officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Lose $5? Then Try Treasurer's Office

Don't crowd, folks, but if you lost a $5 bill when you were paying your taxes at the county treasurer's office yesterday, all you have to do is identify yourself and collect the money.

A sharp eyed employe of the office found the bill on the customer's side of the counter yesterday afternoon. Since it's the Christmas shopping season, some one probably needs that money, employes felt, and they were anxious to get it back to the rightful owner. The treasurer's office, of course, knows just about who was in during the day.

Cedarville School Adopts New System Of Marking Grades

Cedarville, Mich., Dec. 16 (AP)—From now on you'll either pass or you'll flunk in the Cedarville school—there won't be any more "in between."

The school officials in this little Upper Peninsula community have adopted a system of grading pupils which they believe will eliminate unfavorable aspects of the more conventional practices.

If a student passes a course or a grade he gets an "S". If he flunks he gets a "U". No longer will there be "A" pupils, "B" pupils, "C" pupils, and "D" pupils with all the attendant heartaches.

The system was adopted here after an open meeting in which the students themselves participated and, after a debate, voted to scrap the old grading methods. Teachers in the school here believe the new system will simplify division of students, will cause students to work toward accomplishment rather than mere grades, eliminate jealousy and feelings of inferiority.

OLD STUFF HERE

The "U" and "S" grading system is nothing new in the Escanaba public school system. It was first given a trial in the Jefferson school four years ago, and was later adopted by the grades in other buildings.

More Cheerful News

NEWS items from various sources concerning the railroad situation here and elsewhere in the Upper Peninsula had a rosy hue this week.

A joint committee of labor union representatives and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce was informed in Chicago by R. L. Williams, chief executive officer of the Chicago and North Western railway, that the railroad planned no drastic curtailment of operations at its shops and car repair yards in Escanaba. The laying off a small number of men here recently was merely a seasonal retrenchment move, it was pointed out.

The usual winter repairs on the Chicago and North Western docks are under way. A crew of 80 men is now employed, and the number will be increased to 150 in the near future. Indications are also that a favorable volume of forest products will be handled this season.

Good news for Gladstone and other communities on the Peninsula division of the Soo Line railway was contained in the announcement that the Michigan Public Service commission had ordered the restoration of Trains 86 and 87, which were discontinued last summer. The order will mean an improvement in mail and passenger service for these communities and an increased railroad payroll at Gladstone.

Escanaba is a "railroad town", and local business conditions are definitely linked with the railroads, particularly the Chicago and North Western. For this reason, the news of the week offers much encouragement.

On The Right Track

IT is inevitable these days that more and more attention should be directed toward the problem of finding something for employable youngsters to do. While legislators and social reformers concern themselves with providing security for the aged, it is unreasonable that the enigma faced by the nation's young people should be entirely forgotten.

A lot of people discovered with something of a shock recently that not only were 5,000,000 of the nation's 21,000,000 young people between the ages of 16 and 24 out of work, but that the roster of employables was increasing by about 500,000 annually. Youth leaders and educators had a pretty fair notion something like this was true for a long time, but they couldn't get much of a hearing. Old age pensions and such were consuming all of the national energy, and the kids who came out of colleges and high schools were left to muddle along by themselves.

As the problems of pensions, compensation for the jobless, relief and unemployment begin to show up in their true perspectives, people everywhere are getting interested. They are becoming aware of the fact that all of these things are irrevocably linked—that none can be considered independently of the others.

One of the principal efforts being made today in behalf of youth is to improve present methods of vocational guidance. The American Vocational Association, meeting recently in Grand Rapids, Mich., recognized its responsibility and is energetically fostering co-operation among labor, industry, government and education to find a means of hurdling present-day economic obstacles. The association realizes that within its own field there is room for sound reforms, aimed at finding a definite place in society for every young person who passes through the educational system.

It was natural, in the desperation that accompanied depression, that many persons found themselves doing jobs for which they were not trained and which they didn't enjoy. Readjustment of this condition must begin earlier than the day when the youngster starts pounding the pavement for a job. It must begin back in the schools. Efforts must be made to determine the kind of work for which each student will be best fitted, and then the whole machinery of co-operation among all the agencies must become operative to find him such a job.

Proper vocational guidance is only part of the answer. It will be a good start. But the glaring mathematics of 5,000,000 unemployed youngsters with an annual increment of 500,000 still haunts us. Mere shifting of workers within the present available supply of jobs will not help very much to balance the equation.

Neither the Vocational association nor any other single agency can offer a workable plan for creating new jobs. This is a problem for the whole of society. Sometime, soon, we've got to move over and make room.

Industry Knows the Answers

NO one understands better than industry itself the tender relationships that exist between it and the consumer. Nor has industry forgotten that the kind of treatment it accords its employees will reflect on the community and ultimately back on the industry.

Apparently aware of their present limitations and prompted by a desire to set their own house in order, representatives of industry, attending the Congress of American Industry in New York, recently adopted a 25-point program, designed to bring about a better understanding between manufacturers and the people upon whom industry is dependent.

Dominant in the platform was an appreciation of the sociological importance of industry and emphasis of the belief that free enterprise has a definite responsibility toward labor—that without recognition of this responsibility, things can not be expected to run smoothly.

Here are a few objectives to which industry has pledged itself:

Increasing the value of products the consumer needs and wants, reflected both in the price he pays and the quality he receives.

Use of research facilities available in the creation of new products and to the end of increasing the quantity, variety and usefulness and improving the quality of goods put upon the market.

Maximum income for employees, based both on the greatest regularity of employment, and on such equitable wage rates consistent with conditions in the community, as will promote increased production and employment.

Employment, retention and promotion according to ability, with due regard to past service.

Co-operation with the employe in making provision against the hazards of death, old age, sickness and disability.

Recognition of the right of the employe to join any labor organization, or none at all, as the employe himself may deem best in his own interest, of his own free will and volition, without coercion, duress or intimidation from any source.

Back in the roustabout days of industrial pioneering, there was little thought given to consumer relationships or responsibility toward employes. A man built a factory and tacked up a "Men Wanted" sign—and that was that. From there on, his sole duty was to produce; everything else took care of itself.

Today the industry-employe-consumer circle is not so simple. Systematized, intelligent progress is necessary. The welfare of all groups is closely linked. Government has attempted to step in and soothe the wounds that were opened in 1929. Industry was not satisfied and has now proceeded to formulate its own credo.

Anything that can put men back to work, produce a higher standard of living will be welcomed.

AROUND THE PENINSULA (Ironwood Globe)

Shipments of iron ore from Upper Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota set the pace that accounted for the Sault locks having one of the busiest seasons this year in history. November tonnage went over the 10,000,000 mark, the largest for any November with the exception of the war days of 1917 and the boom years of 1923 and 1928. And in those days it was also iron ore that was the leader.

Three agencies may combine to give Menominee a new pavement on Sheridan road, which has the rather uncomplimentary distinction of having more hills and valleys, so to speak, than any other main street in the Peninsula. If Mayor Michael C. Oisen's plans materialize, the WPA will provide some of the funds and the city will make a contribution. The third party will be the state highway department, which will pave that part of the street which is considered a state highway, presumably a width of 20 feet.

Don Smith, secretary of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Chamber of Commerce, calls for the co-operation of the public in stamping out petty racketeering in the form of fake solicitations, and the like. He probably has in mind such promotions as the Rebekah lodge cancelled a dinner that was supposed to be a benefit for the Rebekah home for the aged in Lower Michigan. It developed that a man and his wife were to handle all the details and, incidentally, were to get the lion's share of the proceeds. It is difficult to understand how the lodge "fell" for the racket in the first place. The offer of "help" by strangers should have aroused its suspicion.

The Delta County Taxpayers league which was organized last summer, is becoming active and has several committees at work studying phases of city and county government. It cannot be said that the purposes of the league are anything but laudatory. One is to educate both taxpayers and government officials in the interest of efficiency and economy in public administration, and the other is to disseminate information with regard to efficient government. The latter purpose is perhaps stated incorrectly. The league will probably disseminate information on inefficient government as well as the efficient. At any rate, there is need for considerable education in government these days.

Victor Weston, Bay Mills township supervisor of Iriquois Beach, near Brimley, enthusiastically supports the suggestion of a down state man that protection of the merganser duck should be lifted. Weston speaks from the standpoint of commercial fishermen, but he can find much support among trout fishermen who wade the streams of the Peninsula. Aside from their belief that the merganser destroys many young fish, they have a selfish reason. A merganser is a pesky thing and will keep just ahead of a fly fisherman and drive the trout down, thus ruining an afternoon of sport.

The Peninsula has 15,125 WPA workers and about 1,500 others waiting to be assigned to jobs. Almost every one of them is keenly interested in the exchange of communications between Congressman Frank Hook of the twelfth district and George H. Field, regional WPA director in Chicago. Those communications amount to an effort on the part of the congress-

World Affairs Reviewed

BY JOHN T. FLYNN NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Since the war in western Europe at least has apparently settled down to an economic war, the odds shift heavily to the side of the Allies.

Germany's army may be stronger than Britain's and France's—which is doubtful—and Germany's planes may be numerous. But Germany is hopelessly inadequate for sustaining an economic contest.

If this is to be an economic contest the issue will be decided by the economic cracking up of either Germany or her enemies. And as we look at the picture, we see two outstanding facts:

First, the present economic position of England and France is immeasurably superior to Germany's, and Second, the access of these powers to the resources of the world is immeasurably superior. They are superior not alone because they have the ships to haul goods and the navies to convoy them, but they have the credits to buy goods. And Germany has none of these things.

On the economic front the war settles down to this very significant phase. Germany's overseas and external supplies are already pretty nearly shut off. England and France have succeeded in that objective. It now becomes Germany's struggle to shut off the supplies of England and France and she undertakes to do this with weapons hopelessly inadequate for the purpose.

LOSSES ARE TINY FRACTION OF BRITAIN'S SHIPPING

The account of English vessels sunk may seem impressive—some 85 vessels. But since England has 2500 merchant ships of 2000 tons and over it will be seen how slight is the effective loss. There has been a loss in supplies, but Germany has sustained from captures of her own vessels even greater supply losses. And what is more she has already suffered a loss of one-third of her submarines which is a really serious one.

Germany now turns to the magnetic mines, which are mines supplied with a detonating device set off by a magnetic needle. The iron hull of a ship passing over the mine causes the magnetic needle to turn toward the ship thus setting off the mine.

But these are good only in shallow water. And already England has discovered that wooden vessels passing over the mines can do so harmlessly while iron tows carried aft explode the mines without damage.

IT'S QUESTION OF WHO CRACKS UP FIRST

It is not true, of course, to say that the war does not subject the economic systems of England and France to an immense strain. The debts of both these countries are vast. England enters the war with a debt which would be comparable to our debt if we owed a hundred million dollars. She must pile more on that.

Both countries, democratic in character, are compelled to subject their people to dictatorial rule, which does not sit easily upon them. Under these circumstances, two great questions arise:

First, the struggle between Germany and her foes now is a struggle of nerves exaggerated by economic and social irritants. Which group of nerves will last longest? Will Germany, reduced to very severe privations of food and clothing, and the loss of all luxuries and private business, ultimately grow weary of the struggle and overthrow Hitler?

Or will democratic England, far better off than her German enemy in food and clothing, grow weary of the government restraints and the spectre of ultimate ruin after the war and crack up first?

It must be confessed that the odds are altogether against Germany in this struggle. The Briton does not crack up easily and he has immeasurably more to sustain his resistance in the way of material support than the German.

NO COUNTRY CAN REALLY WIN IN WAR

Second, what will happen to Britain and France when the war is over? It looks as if the answer must be—ruin of their economic systems, ruin of their currencies, many dark years of disaster, possible overthrow of their democratic regimes.

This, of course, is in the realm of speculation. But the outlook for all of these warring countries, win, lose or draw, is exceedingly black. They have played with war too long. War has become too terrible for them. They cannot win against it.

The victor in this contest will be War itself.

man to get the WPA to consent to increasing the scale of wages to $48.10 for unskilled workers in the Peninsula. If Hook succeeds, it will be a feather in his cap. Former Governor Murphy made it the subject of campaign speeches and numerous other politicians have talked about it, but none has succeeded in getting the increase put through.

Dr. Wendell C. Lund, former Escanaba resident who is head of the education division of the Farm Security Administration, has been giving Upper Peninsula audiences an eight-point program for development of this region, and it will strike most persons as being sound. His program calls for reforestation, resort development, road building, fish and game plantings, seeking new industries, zoning and resettlement, government aid and public education on needs. Four of the planks might be lumped into one, for the development of the resort industry hinges to a considerable extent on road building, more game and fish and reforestation. But what about saving some of the forests the Peninsula now has? That, too, is vital to the resort industry.

Students in a California high school wrote, rehearsed and produced a one-act comedy in two hours. Hollywood would probably hire the lot of them next time it takes over a whizz like "Gone With the Wind."

Berlin, Dec. 15—The Union of German people in Poland has issued a protest against the sudden introduction of Polish as the sole official language in all territorial districts which were formerly Prussian. The union demands that both languages shall be used in public affairs, at least for a few years during the period of transition. The protest states that when the Prussians took over the country in 1815 the Polish language was retained in all public affairs.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—The quiet Frank and Anne S. Hummert have given almost as much employment to actors and actresses as any producer I could name. They are the creators of some 20 ether-wave scripts, and they cater to a weekly audience of some half a billion Americans.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Helen Menken, Van Heflin, Ethel Barrymore, Erin O'Brien-Moore, Alexander Kirkland—they've all worked and are working on Hummert's shows give promising young people enough money to stay on Broadway.

The Hummerts themselves are prodigious workers. Their yearly output is some 6,500,000 words—the equivalent of 65 fair-sized novels. All are written either in their Park Avenue office, Colonial style and pastel-colored, or at their estate near Greenwich, Conn.

Frank Hummert is an ex-newspaperman from New Orleans. He has ridden with the Texas Rangers and did publicity work for the government in the last war. His wife, Anne, is an ex-newspaperwoman.

BULLETIN BATTALION

Those unfortunate people whose business keeps them wandering from office to office in the midtown rush, and who retain a passion to keep up to the second with the European unpleasantness, have developed a "bulletin eye."

Somewhat like the celebrated Sidewalk Superintendents who readily know of the whereabouts of a knot hole through which you can squint at a working steam shovel, the "bulletin eye" can detect a news-flash from far away.

Most of the radio stores enforce a "No War News" policy on their sample wares, and independent merchants in other lines don't seem to believe that a crowd by such bulletins will do much business.

Further downtown, there is the newspaper theater which obligingly types up the latest reports and posts them, in duplicate, next to the box office.

The New York Times, deciding that it wasn't worthwhile, to keep its electric sign running all day, has compromised on hand-lettered bulletins of the war, tacked up at strategic points around the building. And in a huge display window are map references for the military student of events on all fronts.

But for those who pride themselves on being as well-informed as any foreign desk in metropolitan newspaperdom, it's possible to hang around Radio City and get the news as soon as the copy boys who tear bulletins off the tickers.

An oil company maintains a kind of World's Fair exhibit in one of the stores on the Fifth Street side of Rockefeller Center, and the part of the show that draws the crowd is the magnified, illuminated press ticker that spells out the news of the world as it arrives.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—As far as the Republican Executive Committee is concerned, you can put down these dates and place for the party's 1940 convention:

—CHICAGO, JULY 15 OR 22—

Final decision is up to the National Committee, which will meet in Washington in late January or early February. But in the secret deliberations of the Executive Committee last week, sentiment was practically unanimous for the above setup.

The leaders favored Chicago because of its central location, plus the fact that it is neutral territory, since Illinois has no favorite son. Also, it is in the heart of the farm belt, which the Republicans are convinced will be the major battlefield of the campaign.

The July dates were a compromise. The GOP chiefs abandoned hope of holding their convention after the Democrats. They saw in Roosevelt's suggestion that both parties delay selecting their tickets until late August or September, an ultimatum that the Democrats intended to stall until fall. The Republicans can't wait that long, since the offensive is up to them.

At the same time they didn't want to pick a date that would give Roosevelt a chance to crow. July 15 or 22 meets this requirement, and unless something unforeseen develops at the National Committee session to upset the plan, such a date will be adopted.

Note—Republican chiefs believe that if they meet late in July, the Democrats will hold their convention early in August.

FINNISH AID

Despite his disclaimers of any special plan regarding the $254,000 Finnish debt payment, the President will make a specific recommendation to Congress on what to do with it. He will propose that the money be returned to the "people of Finland" to help them repair the ravages committed by Russian aggression.

The President wants the fund used in such a way as to make it clear to the rulers of Moscow that the American people condemn their brutal attack on a small and peaceful neighbor. His recommendation will be made in a special message following the budget message.

Note—Several Congressmen are reported to be planning to jump the gun on Roosevelt on the first day of the session by introducing bills for the return of the Finnish money.

FINNISH MINISTER

To the fact that Finland pays her debt, add the fact that she has a Minister in Washington who is extremely popular with the press.

Hjalmar Procope did something the other day which newsmen have not seen since the days of Irish Minister Michael MacWhite. After a conference with State Department officials, instead of hurrying off to his car as most diplomats do, he came to the press room for a chat.

He shook hands generally all around, sat down on the couch amid a litter of newspapers, and offered himself for questions.

He kept his good humor even when someone asked him if the new Communist government at Terijoki was representative of all Finland. "Good Lord, no!" he said, and took out a pocket atlas to illustrate its insignificance.

He thanked everybody when he went away, then bobbed back to say he would like to have any late news that might come in that evening.

GO WEST, GIRLS

If you are looking for a husband, don't come to Washington. That is the advice drawn from a study of census figures, which show that there are 100 women to 89.8 men in the District of Columbia.

Probably this advice doesn't apply to those who whirl in the upper brackets of social Washington. The debutantes with a good family background and a fairly fat bankroll can always make off with a young diplomat, an eligible man about town, or if worst comes to worst, a young New Dealer.

In fact, many doting mammas bring their daughters to Washington expressly for the purpose of exposing them to its social and diplomatic glamour. And many foreign offices, in turn, send their young diplomats to Washington to let them look over the field of American heiresses.

But for the everyday run of Washington womanhood, the Census Bureau is right. The Capital of the United States is no happy hunting ground for husbands.

Note—The Census Bureau also says that the highest percentage of marriageable men is concentrated west of the Mississippi, especially in the Rocky Mountain area. Nevada, with 40 per cent more single men than women, is not only the easiest place to lose a husband, but to catch one. Wyoming, Montana, and Arizona have the next highest surplus of men.

While people a hundred miles from here Are talking of your worth, The folks at home may hardly know That you are on the earth, But don't enlighten them, my friend, The way you feel you should, Although you'd like to prophesy— Keep mum and just saw wood.

DRYS GAINING SINCE REPEAL

43 Per Cent of Country Prohibits Traffic in Liquor

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Five thousand dry victors have dotted the history of six years of repeal since beer came foaming back at the close of 1933. At least 43 per cent of the United States by area has gone dry in that interval, and at the present rate of increase of the spread of dry territory, more than half the country will be dry by 1947.

In such terms, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, today's most active prohibition organization, describes the Second Dry Crusade, which began the very day repeal ended the first one in disaster.

PROHIBITION OBJECTIVE REMAINS UNCHANGED

National prohibition is still the objective of all dry organizations, but none will predict the year they think it will be attained a second time.

Mrs. Ida B. Wise-Smith, national president of the W. C. T. U., gives this hint:

"The re-legalized liquor traffic has magnified itself not only in numbers (432,269 saloons already now in six years, as compared with 177,000 before prohibition) but in the character of its appeal (now made to women and youth in particular as against men in former days). Hence it will come to its fall with a corresponding degree of rapidity.

"Everything, local option elections, the Gallup poll with its constant rise in prohibition sentiment, all show that there is a swing back to prohibition. As to how long this will be, no one can tell."

MONEY FLOWS INTO CAMPAIGN

Spokesman for 500,000 members in 10,000 locals, the W. C. T. U. has spent in the past four years $760,000 of a fund dedicated to prohibition education (or propaganda, as you choose). Its present task is to "implement all public sentiment that has been created by this drive."

The Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, under Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, is likewise spending more than $100,000 a year contributed among 8,000,000 Methodists who support its activities. Here again the accent is on education. Dry leaders today are unanimous in feeling that prohibition is to succeed, must be backed by a more effective public opinion than Prohibition I.

STILL KEEP TICKET IN FIELD

The 1940 presidential campaign will see a prohibition candidate in the field, according to the plans of that party. He will probably be Dr. Leigh Colvin, who bore the dry standard into the 1936 campaign.

It is on the home front that the drys are operating today, in a progression that works upward from the individual home to the neighborhood, to the town, the township, the county, and the state. When victory has been achieved in all states, then some new form of national law—probably not a constitutional amendment—will be advocated. Edward D. Dunford, Washington representative of the Anti-Saloon League, has called attention to the similarity of this procedure to pre-1920 days.

Three states are completely dry—Kansas, Oklahoma, and Mississippi. Tennessee, until this year a fourth, withdrew from the dry column in the chief dry setback.

GAINS CENTERED IN SMALL TOWNS

But one by one small towns and communities are going dry again. In Ohio, a rather typical state, 807 townships, 70 per cent of the state's area, have outlawed by-the-drink sales of hard liquor. Illinois has 728 dry communities covering 1,000,000 residents. Texas, with a dry governor, now has 112 done-dry counties out of 254, with 45 others partially dry.

These gains have been made by the drys despite the fact that 13 states bar local option.

Liquor consumption fell off for the first time since repeal in the fiscal year ending last June, but has resumed the up-grade.

Shank's Fan Mail Takes Jump After Fifth Grade Visit

Fan mail of S. J. Shank, superintendent of the city water works picked up noticeably yesterday afternoon, when he received 40 letters in one batch. They were from pupils of the Franklin school fifth grade, who had visited the plant laboratory earlier in the afternoon.

The thing that seemed to impress the pupils most was the "agar plates" which show colonies of bacteria, visible to the naked eye. Mr. Shank said he was surprised that fifth graders could comprehend as much as these boys and girls did about the workings of the plant. The class will get a letter in a day or two thanking them for being so interested.

Ski Show, Style Revue And Snow Ball Tonight

Thrilling skiing exhibitions, a winter sportswear style revue, singing and dancing are the features of the first annual Ski Show, which will be staged tonight at the Coliseum under the sponsorship of the Escanaba Ski club.

Attractive girls will serve as models in the style revue, which will begin at 10:15 p. m. They are: Eunice Lindstrom, Frances Gherna, Ruth Moras, Jean and Ruth Stack, Barbara Defnet, Judith Judson, Mary Grace Ammel, Bernice Carlson, June Ranguette, Betty Johnson, Anna Nelson, Ann Makoutz, Cecil Clement and Arlene Johnson. Three male models will appear on the program to show the latest styles in men's ski suits. They are: William Beckstrom, August Juliani and Gordon McLeod.

The Ski Show will open with dancing at 9:30 p. m., with Kobasick's orchestra furnishing the music. Following the style revue, there will be a skiing exhibition on the large slide, which has been erected in the Coliseum. Borax will be applied on the canvas-covered slide to make skiing possible.

Christiana turns, stemming, telemark turns, herring bone climbing and other ski techniques will be demonstrated by Joseph Maurin, instructor at the Gateway winter resort. Maurin has participated in all the leading ski tournaments in the midwest during the past 15 years, and has many fine performances to his credit. He took special instruction in ski technique from the world famous Benno Rybicka, Austrian skier, who has been associated with Hannes Schneider.

Two stars of the Iron Mountain ski tournament—Walter Brattlund and Ray Laramie—also will appear on the skiing program. A brief talk, outlining the plans for the Iron Mountain ski tournament on Feb. 11, will be given by Don Smith, secretary of the Iron Mountain Winter Sports club.

Local singers also will appear on the style revue program. At midnight, the dancers will engage in a "snow-ball" fight. Dancing will continue until 2 a. m.

$500 SAVED ON VISIT TO FARM

Wenner Tells of Experience In Annual Report

It doesn't happen very often that a saving of $500 can be chalked up for one farm visit by the county agent or state field men of the state agricultural service, but this happened in one instance last summer. E. A. Wenner, Delta county agent said in his annual report, recently prepared.

With Mr. Seaton, of the extension service, a market garden specialist, Mr. Wenner visited a farmer who had been having trouble with his beans, at the farmer's request. The name was withheld.

The grower thought he had plant insects in his fields and was all ready to spend $500 for a high-pressure sprayer. The only thing Mr. Seaton could find wrong with the beans was that they suffered of bean blight and all the spraying in the world wouldn't help that.

The farmer was hard to move, but the agricultural agents finally convinced him that he should save his $500 and merely be more careful of the seed he purchased for the following year. He was advised to buy a small, cheap hand duster which would probably take care of all the insects he would have to control for the next few years, Mr. Wenner reported.

The Church of England might be surprised to learn it owns an acre of tobacco in the tobacco country near Franklinton, N. C. The deed was never transferred, and accrued taxes would amount to over $8,000, but the property is still classified as non-taxable church land.

ADMITTS TAKING $6,284 PURSE

Peshigo Man Confesses Snatching Money From Woman

Marinette, Wis.—Emery Price, 51-year-old Peshigo WPA employe, was to be arraigned today in Marinette for the theft of a purse containing $6,284.59 from an elderly Peshigo widow last Wednesday night.

Price signed a full confession before Marinette District Attorney Norman B. Langill and Marinette Sheriff Arthur Wouff late yesterday, but no charge had been placed against him early this afternoon.

He will probably be arraigned on a charge of larceny from the person, after admitting that he snatched the purse from Mrs. Nellie McPherson's arm as she was entering her home last Wednesday.

Took Only $15
Price told officers he took only $15 from the purse and then hid the purse in the woodshed, covering it with chips and pieces of wood.

Reconstructing the theft, officers said, Price told them he went to visit Dan Scott, Mrs. McPherson's next door neighbor, who was cooking soup. Scott told Price to return about eight o'clock and the soup would be ready. Price, when leaving Scott's home saw Mrs. McPherson coming home, and around the corner of the house and snatched her purse.

He said he walked down the street when he met Chief of Police Charles Dress who told him that Mrs. McPherson had just called, saying she had lost her purse.

Had It In Shed
"I told Chief Dress that maybe she had mislaid it and it would show up in the morning," Price said.

While he was talking to Dress, he told officers, the fire alarm rang and he went to the fire. Afterwards he took the purse home and hid it in the woodshed. Thursday morning he got up and took $15, he said, intending to come back later.

Price told sheriff's officers that he planned to take all of the cash out of the purse, $485, and then leave the purse in the street where someone would find it and return it to Mrs. McPherson. The purse also contained $5,800 in Peshigo National Bank certificates.

Before he could return and get the money, however, Elmer Couvillion's dog found the purse in the woodshed and started playing with it. Price said his wife saw the dog playing with the purse and thinking it was meat, called the dog in the house. When she found it was the purse she accused Price of taking the money and he admitted it.

"I don't believe she really knew who took that money," Price said. Mrs. Price turned the money over to Chief Dress and Under-sheriff Edward O'Hearon Sunday night at Peshigo.

"I did not realize what I was doing," Price concluded. "I am sorry now that I had anything to do with it."

It was reported in Marinette today that the dog that found the purse was run over by a truck in Peshigo and killed.

Reckless Driving Fine Is Suspended

Harold Lesner of Ford River, arrested by the sheriff's department following an accident last Sunday night in which two Escanaba girls were injured, was found guilty yesterday of reckless driving and fined $25 and $8.25 court costs, in court of Justice of the Peace George W. Carr.

The fine was suspended on condition that Lesner would pay for medical services for the girls: Virginia Holmes, 1321 First avenue south, and Elaine Olson, 1307 Tenth avenue south.

Oliver "Bud" Coon of Gladstone, whose car was wrecked in another early Sunday accident near Groos, was fined on a reckless driving charge earlier this week in the court of Alger Strom, Gladstone, the sheriff's office reported.

The suspension of drivers' licenses as a penalty for driving while drunk has increased greatly in Texas. In the fiscal year 1936-37, first year the law was in effect, 264 licenses were suspended, while in the year just closed there were 1,258 suspensions.

Research Digging Deep Into Cause Of Common Cold

BY DR. E. J. BRENNER
Owing to its general importance, every conceivable type of research is being carried out to learn more about the nature of the common cold. Besides purely clinical observations, epidemiological studies have been carried out in such widely scattered localities as Alabama, the Labrador Coast, the West Indies, and in Spitzbergen. Most of these had as their objective the study of the influence of the weather on the incidence of colds, for the most noticeable characteristic of the infection is its relation to changes in the environmental temperature. It primarily is a disease of the winter months.

In a recent study concerning respiratory infections in childhood, it is pointed out that children usually have two colds each winter, or the first cold is followed by a series. The report comes from Alabama where 482 cases were observed. In this group, 103 had definite ear involvement following the cold. In 43 cases, group was one of the most pronounced symptoms, and 120 children had bronchitis as a prominent complication. In the whole group, 15 children developed lobar pneumonia, four with empyema (pus in the pleural space), but all recovered. Enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck was noted 22 times, and this complication was attended by high fever of two or three weeks' duration.

It may be seen from such a study that colds often are attended by serious complications in childhood and that every effort should be made to avoid them.

We do not know the cause of colds except that they often are "caught" by contact with individuals who have the infection, and that over-heating of houses and apartments during cold weather predisposes to them. If we could protect children against these two factors, there would be fewer colds and, of course, fewer disabling complications.

The most important procedure in the care of colds is confinement of the patient to bed. Complications require special care and the advice of a physician.

WATER WORKS MEET PLANNED

Shank Temporary Chairman for Organizing Association

Several panel discussion leaders have been signed to speak at the first annual Upper Peninsula Water Works convention to be held in Escanaba sometime in February, S. J. Shank, superintendent of the Escanaba plant, said yesterday.

Mr. Shank is temporary chairman of the Peninsula water works group, which is expected to get permanent, formal organization at the February meeting.

Working with Mr. Shank are Claude Howard, Ford plant superintendent of Kingsford, vice chairman; Richard Abrahamson of Manistique, secretary-treasurer, and A. R. Carlson, Newberry, a director in the preliminary organization. These men and others have agreed to lead discussions.

A meeting is scheduled to be held probably next week in Manistique to work out further details.

The convention will be for superintendents and water plant employees throughout the peninsula and more than 100 are expected to attend.

CHRISTMAS IS VILLAGE NAME

Unique Community Built In Vicinity of Munising

A new settlement is developing near Munising on the shores of Lake Superior. Its name, its founders hope, will speed the sale of holiday and tourist novelties by mail and shipment to roadside stands all over the country.

The town is Christmas, Mich. Already boasting a factory and six houses, it is expected to rival the fame of Santa Claus, Ind., and Christmas, Fla., as a postmark town during the holiday season. During the rest of the year, its pioneering residents will specialize in the manufacture of gift articles by native crafts.

Develops From Dream
That, at least, is the dream of George Mitchell, a determined young former WPA worker, formerly of Hancock, who conceived the plan of a year-around, cooperative project for those skilled craftsmen who are handicapped by economic circumstances in finding a market for their products.

"I was one of these," he says, "but I didn't know then what opportunities lay ahead."

Out of his diverse experiences as a ditchdigger, a miner, and a laundry operator, Mitchell invented a steel frame that has revolutionized hand weaving of rugs. The Mitchell frame, now patented, does the work of some 30 or 40 old-fashioned wooden frames.

He is experimenting now with the manufacture of handsome rugs, laces, embroidery, tablecloths and curtains in the hope that novices, who volunteer as Christmas workers, can be taught by experts in the new methods.

Looking for Recruits
In addition, he hopes to recruit silversmiths from Pennsylvania, Maryland workers in seashells and rocks, North Carolina and Tennessee craftsmen in caning and reedwork, carvers of coconut shells, ivory, or any novelty material; toymakers, coppersmiths, birchbark and rustic-wood craftsmen—all to offer variety in output.

"We don't want to build any false hopes," Mitchell says. "Newcomers must be able to pay their own way. But if they are craftsmen of good character and ability who are willing to work hard, I know we can make Christmas the success we all hope it will be."

Consists of 167 Acres
Christmas today consists of 167 acres of wooded land on Upper Peninsula Highway M-94 along a beach on the former site of Bay Furnace, the original Alger county seat which burned one night 60 years ago and was never rebuilt by its 300 inhabitants.

As the former WPA workman conceives it, the town will blossom into a tourist resort, a vacation playground, a resort shoppers' paradise, in which articles for the summertime roadside shops will be made in the winter-time factory, providing year-around happiness and—he hopes—security for all.

P. T. A. Meeting
 Another interesting and well-attended Parent-Teacher association meeting took place last Tuesday evening, the regular meeting night of the F. W. Good Parent-Teachers.

The business part of the meeting got underway at 7:30 o'clock at which time many things of importance pertaining to the welfare of the school and school children were discussed together with the giving of the various committee reports plus the executive committee report by Mrs. Robert Schwartz, acting secretary. A very satisfactory report on the Halloween party was given by Mrs. William Mercier, proving again the financial and social success of that particular party.

Mrs. Mercier named the following ladies to serve on committee for January meeting. They are as follows: Mrs. Matt McDonald chairman, Miss Dorothy Diedrich, Miss Marie Richards, Mrs. Frank James, Mrs. George Ranville, Mrs. Frank Hruska, Mrs. Ray Davis, Mrs. Richard Bjorkman, Mrs. I. Bonifas and Mrs. Dave Phalen.

On the program were Mrs. C. Riegel, district director of the Parent-Teacher association in Delta county, gave a very interesting talk on cooperating between parents and faculty, and Mrs. Oren King, president of the Delta county Council of Parent-Teachers association.

Following the regular business meeting, bridge, five hundred and cribbage were played. The winners in each respectively were Mrs. Herman Bramer, Mrs. Frank James, Mr. William Vinette.

A delicious lunch was served at close of the card contests in the school dining hall with colorful table decorations in keeping with Christmas season. The committee in charge were: Mrs. Fred Olmsted chairman, Mrs. Allen Mercier, Mrs. Percy Stratton, Mrs. Frank Sefek, Mrs. Adrian Hebert, Mrs. Henry Hebert, Mrs. Thomas Tobin, Mr. Bernard Tobin, Mrs. Ed Johnson and Miss Olive McClinchy. Movie Shown
 Another movie in the series being furnished the local school by the state department of conservation was shown Tuesday afternoon in the high school assembly room. The title of this movie was the Red Poacher, dealing with forest fire and also one reel on the moving of the moose from Isle Royale to the Casino game refuge, near Munising.

Pelting Completed
 Work was nearly completed this week by the employees of the Hiawatha Fox farm on the pelting of the fox for this season. Over fifty persons were given employment in the skinning of the fox. Many minkeries located near Hermansville have also completed their pelting process for the year. This work was done earlier this year than usual due to market conditions and also to the excellent weather.

Even with the completion of the pelting process for the year the employment situation in the village is still above average with the pine mill still running two shifts in the sawing of lumber. The flooring factory is closed at the present for repairs.

Grade School Basketball
 In the Saturday morning grade school basketball games the Croations again ran away with their opposition, downing the Bears 60-16 and the Eagles trimmed the Beavers 44-6. In the last game of the morning the Cardinals trimmed the Cubs 23-12.

Eskymos Play Iron Mountain Here This Evening

VISITORS HAVE VETERAN CREW

Locals Seek Third Win; Last Home Game for More Than Month

In their last home game in more than a month, Escanaba high school cagers entertain their arch rivals, Iron Mountain, defending Upper Peninsula champions, on the local court this evening, the game starting at 8:15 o'clock. A preliminary will precede the main game.

The Mountaineers, with three regulars back from last year's championship outfit, stack up as the strongest opponent of the Eskymos thus far this season. Veterans are Kootchie Nelson, whose sensational last quarter shooting turned the tide in the championship game at Marquette, Fornetti and George Franson. These three are augmented by two reserves of last year, Clemmy Felra and Paul. Together the boys form a formidable crew with plenty of speed and height. All of them, along with Coach George Mason, were present at the Escanaba-Kingsford game and have a good idea of the Escanaba attack and defense weaknesses.

Coach Jim Rouman has been working hard the last two days in trying to iron out weaknesses in the Eskymos game but is frankly non-committal over the possibilities of victory over the Mountaineers.

Sees Tough Game

"We are in for a tough game," said Rouman yesterday, "and I feel that unless the boys are at their best we may be in for our first defeat. I am prepared for it, however, because I know the limitation of the boys. I am well satisfied with the way they have come along so far but realize they have much yet to learn. If the boys play as they have shown me they can, we have a good chance of beating Iron Mountain. But, whether we win or lose, we hope to play the brand of basketball that the crowd likes to see. We are trying to make basketball a game of fun—for the players and fun for the fans—with less emphasis on winning so many games. As soon as the boys begin to feel that the game is work or the fans begin to feel that the game is uninteresting, it will be time to look around for new ideas."

Rouman indicated yesterday there would be no change in his starting lineup from the first two games. That will mean that Barrow and Schram will be at forward, Anderson at center and Gauthier and McDonald guard. Reserves will include Don Pfofenhauer, Shomin, Peter, Holmes and Goymerac.

Vance Hiney and Al Rudness, two top notch officials from Negaunee, will work the game.

Here's One Louis Godoy Can Lick

Arturo Godoy wades into Joe Louis fearlessly. The catch is that it's only a cardboard duplicate of the champion. In the Madison Square Garden ring, Feb. 9, the Chilean heavyweight will learn that neither the Brown Bomber's chin nor flats are papier-mache.

SPILLING the DOPE

WE EXPECT the high school gym to be packed tonight when Escanaba and Iron Mountain clash. . . there are several reasons for our belief. . . in the first place, Jim Rouman has put out a team this year whose play has caught the fancy of the fans, not so much because of victories in the first two games but because there is action and cage fitness. . . fans like action and cleverness and the team has shown both in its first two games. . . in the second place, Iron Mountain is the defending Upper Peninsula championship team. . . they're still a clever outfit and fans will want to see them in action. . . in the last place, tonight's game will be the last time the Eskymos play at home until the last week in January. . . after tonight, the locals travel to Ishpeming, Gladstone and Menominee before returning to their home court. . . so you'd better get to the game early tonight if you want a good seat.

A detour is the roughest distance between two points.

TWO OTHER important games involve Delta county teams tonight. . . Manistique and Gladstone renew their traditional rivalry on the former's court in a game that always draws interest. . . these two towns are natural rivals, being about the same size and close to each other, and games between their teams always are spirited. . . although there is little basis for comparison, the teams appear to be evenly matched this year. . . a parallel situation exists tonight when Rapid River and Rock tangle on the former's floor. . . these two class D teams are natural rivals and their games have never lacked action. . . so basketball has its day as far as county teams are concerned.

A little powder on the coat lapel often causes a terrific explosion.

BASEBALL FANS still are trying to figure out what is behind the Detroit Tiger trading this year. . . to the uninitiated observer, that swap of aging Billy Rogell for aging Bartlett of the Cubs. . . here apparently isn't any more difference in them than in the last syllable of their names. . . and the trade of Benny McCoy, home town boy who displayed such promise as a recruit last year, seems difficult to fathom. . . there is some slight basis for trading here, however, in that the Tigers probably felt that Judge Keneas Landis wouldn't make him a free agent if he were traded. . . in other words, the Tigers felt that they would lose McCoy anyway and might as well try and get some player for him in trade. . . but Landis styled that. . . but the trades may have some value. . . at least they keep fans talking about the Tigers.

High Fever Cancels State Title Match

Detroit, Dec. 14 (AP)—A boxing match to determine the state welterweight championship was postponed indefinitely today when Joey Mielieiove, one of the principals, was reported to have contracted a high fever.

Mielieiove was to have fought Mansfield Driskell, also of Detroit, at Fairview Gardens tomorrow night.

John J. Hetteche, state athletic commissioner, who has instituted a program to crown Michigan champions in each weight division, said that Mielieiove had been examined by a commission physician and ruled unable to fight.

V-8's, Lauerman's Win Practice Tilts

The Escanabians lost to the V-8's 14 to 18 in a practice game of the WPA league last night at the senior high school, and Lauerman's beat the Hawks, 21-17.

Roy Johnson, with 12 points, led the V-8 scoring; Tom Dufour with five-points was high for the Escanabians; Olmsted and D. Heidenreich, with six points each were high for Lauerman's and Olson with eight points led the Hawks scoring.

AMBERS RATED TOP COMEBACK

Lefty Grove Is Close Second In Sports Experts Poll

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Lou Ambers, the first fighter ever to regain the lightweight championship from the man who dethroned him, has been elected the prize "comeback" of 1939 by the country's sports experts who participated in the Associated Press' ninth annual poll.

The Little Herkimer Hurricane, who won his 125-pound title back from Henry Armstrong in their famous "battle of the fous," barely nosed out the veteran Lefty Grove of the Boston Red Sox for the distinction, with 56 points to 50 for the pitcher, Tony Galento, the heavyweight fighter, placed third with 43 points.

Altogether, 67 athletes were nominated as first, second or third choice by 73 writers. Ambers was the first choice of 13, while 10 plunked for Grove and 9 for Tony. Three points were awarded for first, two for second, one for third.

It was a close thing between Ambers and Grove right down to the final batch of votes. Whereas Ambers' victory over Armstrong in their second battle was clouded somewhat by the fact he was awarded five rounds on fouls, Grove's remarkable performance was clean-cut.

Arn Goes Dead

In 1938 Lefty's arm went dead and as he was on the brink of 40 there wasn't much hope he ever would pitch effective ball again. Yet he came back the past season to win 15 games, lose only four and keep the Red Sox in second place in the American league.

Galento's comeback was from the stage of pneumonia that laid the great bartender low and threatened to end his ring career just when he was about to reach the contender class. Also, when Tony made his heroic stand against champion Joe Louis and then knocked out Lou Nova, he wiped out the memory of several malodorous build-up bouts.

Fourth on the list with 29 points, and the choice of six voters, was Don Meade, the little jockey, was South Dakota. Restored to the saddle after being grounded nearly three years by racing officials, he was the leading winner of the season.

Niles Klinkip, Iowa footballer, and Al Hostak, Seattle middleweight fighter, each received four first-place votes. Dick Metz, Chicago golfer; Dutch Leonard, the veteran pitcher who won 20 games for Washington; Curt Davis, St. Louis Cardinals pitcher, and Bob Feller, Cleveland pitcher, gained two first-place votes apiece.

John J. Hetteche, state athletic commissioner, who has instituted a program to crown Michigan champions in each weight division, said that Mielieiove had been examined by a commission physician and ruled unable to fight.

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—Ten Central State Teachers college basketball players and two coaches squeezed into two automobiles today and then started on a 1,500-mile trip for a series of three games. It is the longest trip a Central State team ever has attempted.

Central State's quintet will play the Kentucky State Teachers at Morehead, Ky., Friday and the Eastern Kentucky Teachers at Richmond Saturday. On the return trip the Michigan team will stop at Toledo, O., to oppose Toledo university Tuesday.

The squad is headed by Coach Danny Rose, former University of Michigan basketball star.

BOXING PERMIT BEING SOUGHT

Hope Held to Make Upper Peninsula Center for Golden Gloves

Chaplain A. O. Martin, director of the CCC boxing team, announced yesterday that application is being made for a sanction permitting a match between members of the Escanaba Amateur Boxing club and members of the CCC team, to be held in Escanaba some time early in January. The state boxing commission will act upon the request.

Chaplain Martin has been very active in promoting amateur boxing in the CCC camps, having picked through a series of eliminations, a team to compete in the sectional Golden Gloves tournament at Grand Rapids.

The match, in addition to its entertainment value, is another step in reviving interest in amateur boxing in the U. P. An unfortunate situation now exists whereby Upper Peninsula boys desiring to enter the state Golden Gloves tournament must win an elimination held in the lower peninsula. This means a heavy expense which can be lowered if the Upper Peninsula is designated as one of the elimination districts.

The state boxing commission has indicated that it will favor a separate district in the event that there is enough interest to warrant it. All matches staged in the Upper Peninsula so far have been enthusiastically received and a successful match in Escanaba will practically insure a Golden Gloves district for the Upper Peninsula.

The match is sponsored by cooperation with the local boxing club which is under the supervision of the Department of Parks and Recreation. Ray Goodnough, WPA recreational leader is director of the club. The club's share of the proceeds will be used to further promote amateur boxing in the city and for additional equipment and facilities.

Manistique Entertains Gladstone Five Tonight

Seeking a second victory in as many starts, Gladstone high school cagers travel to Manistique tonight to oppose the Schoolcraft county seat quint on its home floor.

Coach Eldon Kell witnessed the Manistique-Menominee game early this week and after viewing it was not overly optimistic about the chances of his charges emerging victorious tonight.

Against Menominee, Coach Reque's team had numerous scoring opportunities but was unable to cash in on an average percentage of them. They will have an advantage in height over the locals and in addition the experience of an extra game.

Sessions this week were designed to remedy some of the faults disclosed in the opening game last week against Rapid River, mainly spotty ball handling and poor passing. Some of this may have been due to nervousness, it having been the first game, as a definite improvement in both departments was noticeable this week.

It is likely that the starting lineup tonight will include Mackie and Knutson, forwards; Zervic, center; Marble and Fisher, guards; Berk, Holm and Price will undoubtedly see action during the evening.

Hutson Heads First Pro All-Star Eleven

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Shorn of their team title, the New York Giants today salvaged a measure of satisfaction with the announcement that four of their number were selected for the 1939 National Pro Football league first all-star team, chosen by a vote of the 10 coaches.

The Chicago Bears placed three men, the Washington Redskins two, and the Philadelphia Eagles and the newly-crowned Green Bay Packers, one each.

Only four players are repeaters, and for the first time in league history two first-year men—Davey O'Brien of the Eagles and Bill Osmani of the Bears—were selected.

Mel Hein was chosen for the seventh consecutive year at center, and other players who repeated their 1938 performances were Don Hutson of Green Bay, Dan Fortmann and Joe Stydahar of the Bears.

Hutson, holder or sharer of every pass-receiving record, received 48 points, the highest individual vote. Fortmann was second with 37, with Hein and Stydahar tied for third with 36 each.

Two rookies—Kl Aldrich of the Chicago Cardinals at center and Parker Hall of the Cleveland Rams at halfback—won second team berths, and three others

RAPID AIMS AT LITTLE GIANTS

Wiitala's Crew Seeking Scalp of Old Time Rivals Tonight

Rapid River, Mich., Dec. 14—Encouraged by their fine showing against the veteran Gladstone crew last week, Rapid River high school cagers go into their game with Rock Friday night with the secure conviction that they'll turn tables on their old rivals.

Reserve teams will meet in a preliminary at 7:15 o'clock.

Coach Eero Wiitala has been working overtime this week in an effort to continue the squad's improvement of last week and reported yesterday that he is confident the boys will trip Rock—or at least make it plenty hot for the Little Giants. The locals have not had much luck against the visitors from the north in the past couple years and are anxious to get back into the victory string.

Coach Wiitala is expected to start Roberts and Stenlund at forwards, Bannister center and Fuhrihan and Short guards. This combination worked well against Gladstone and is expected to prove troublesome for Rock.

The Little Giants have one victory over Harris in their credit this year in their only start of the season.

George Ruwitch of Escanaba will officiate the game.

Coaches Will Honor Amos Alonzo Stagg

Los Angeles, Dec. 14 (AP)—The American Football Coaches Association will honor Amos Alonzo Stagg and his fiftieth anniversary of coaching at its convention December 29.

With Fritz Crisler of Michigan chairman of the event, the coaches will tender the veteran Stagg, now at College of Pacific, a banquet in the ballroom of a Los Angeles hotel (Biltmore).

More than 200 coaches are expected to attend the convention, headed by President Lou Little of Columbia university.

BOARD BATTLES IN MENOMINEE

County Accountant's Office Abolished Over Taxpayers Protest

A petition by the Menominee county Taxpayers League yesterday to the Menominee board of supervisors, asking for retention of the office of the county accountant was refused and the Taxpayers group announced plans to make the action a public question.

The Taxpayers, at an adjourned meeting of the board, which met in regular session in October, and abolished the office of county accountant, asked yesterday not only for retention of the office, but for broadening of its powers and duties.

When the petition was refused, George Baun, chairman of the Menominee Taxpayers association, announced that a meeting will be held next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the V.F.W. hall, Menominee, to discuss plans for carrying the issue to the citizens of the county.

Patrick Henry Bresnahan of the board of supervisors told the Taxpayers group that in view of the financial condition of the county it would be impossible to retain the office.

E. A. Wentworth, who has been county accountant for more than 15 years, released a printed broadside to members of the board and the audience that had gathered to hear the proceedings. In it, he charged "gangster type of politics" in various sections of the board and made personal charges against Mr. Bresnahan, Wesley Zerkas, Mayor Michael C. Olson and Supervisor Charles Whitton, as to their reasons for wishing to abolish the office. He charged deception and selfish reasons for abolishing of the office.

H. A. Carter, field representative of the Michigan Public Expenditures Survey of Detroit, who spoke at a Delta county Taxpayers League meeting in Escanaba Tuesday and E. A. Floyd and other leaders of the Delta association were present at the Menominee meeting. Mr. Carter spoke, outlining advantages of county accounting supervision.

EIGHT GOLFERS LEAD AT MIAMI

Two Clipped Off Par In First Round of $10,000 Open

BY LARRY ROLLINS
Miami, Fla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Eight golfers, among them national open champion Byron Nelson, scored two-under-par 68's today to share the first round lead in the $10,000 Miami open.

Battling for the year's professional supremacy, Nelson played steady, unspectacular golf to put together a pair of 34's and force two strokes ahead of his rival, Henry Picard, in their feud for the Harry Vardon trophy. P. G. A. Champion Picard, who equalled par on each nine for his 70, leads Nelson by five points for the full year's competition.

Even with Nelson at the end of a par-shattering round in which 23 golfers bettered regulation figures were Ralph Guldahl, two-time national open champion;

Sam Sneed, the slugging husky starting a comeback after a siege of illness; Jimmy Hines of New York; Dick Metz of Chicago; Stanley Horne of Montreal; Clayton Heatter of Linville, N. C., and Art Clark of Uniontown, Pa.

Fourteen others, including an amateur, Wilford Wehrle of Chicago, clipped a stroke off par with 69's. The professionals at that notch were Craig Wood of New York; Ed Dudley of Philadelphia; Jim Turnesa of Providence, R. I.; Maurrie O'Connor of Belleville, N. J.; Jimmie McHale of Saranac, N. J.; E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark.; Frank Moore of Reading, Pa.; Joe Turnesa of Rockville Center, N. Y.; Denny Shute of Coral Gables, Fla.; Marvin Stahl of Lansing, Mich.; Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y.; Ralph Hutcheson of Bethlehem, Pa., and Paul Runyan of White Plains.

Picard, who made a birdie and a bogie on each side, shared the 70 spot with Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Boston, last year's Miami open winner; Johnny Revolta of Chicago; Bill Heinlein of Indianapolis; Felix Serafin of Scranton, Pa.; Frank Walsh of Deal, N. J.; Henry Poe of Reading, Pa., and Sam Byrd of Philadelphia.
