Hoover Commission Report Seen As Rally Symbol for GOP in '50

By WALTER A. SHIAD

HARRY TRUMAN, as the only President, deserves all the respect and well wishes of the people to which his 75 years and his position entitle him.

Named by President Truman to head a commission created by congress to work out a reorganization of the federal government, he did a splendid job and the recommendations have been acclaimed as sound and necessary and have been given the unqualified approval of President Truman, And the President is assisting, with indifferent success, to have many of these recommendations approved by the congress.

But something is happening to the bipartisan of the Hoover commission and its recommendations. Already there is a flood of propaganda going out from half a dozen different organizations which seem to have a common backing and a common purpose to "lead" the Hoover commission to the people.

From observations here, there is every indication that the GOP leadership seek to build Mr. Hoover and his commission report into an issue in the 1950 elections.

Serves as Symbol

Mr. Hoover has become some sort of a "symbol" in the Republican party, for not only is he the only living president, but he is the last Republican president elected to office in 21 years, having been elected in 1929. So Mr. Hoover's name was the only one which was given with respect approval at the recent "kick-off for '50" dinner given here on the occasion of the election of Guy Cabell of New Jersey as the new GOP national chairman. Whether it was coincidental or not, the principal speaker at this dinner was Will Hays, the ex-movie czar, who in the last living successful national chairman of the Republican party. Hays was national chairman from 1918 to 1921 when Warren Harding was elected president. Mr. Hays, a national chairman was Hubert Work of Colorado, chairman from 1922 and who resigned as secretary of interior to take the job. He died in 1912. Will Hays, Butler, who was Collier's national chairman from 1924 to 1928, also died.

Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the retiring GOP national chairman, who was at the party held during the 1918 fight, but the $4-dollar question to the assembled Republicans was he asked: "I know that most of you are constantly entertained, as I am, with the theory, what does the Republican party stand for?"

Scott could only point out to the successive party platforms adopted over the four years and the party record in the congress, at least up to this point, fails to uphold.

Hoover as Forerunner

Mr. Hoover, on the occasion of his 75th birthday, again assumed the role of forerunner, although his reputation for predictions made in 1932 was easily forgotten. But he set the pattern and the theme of the GOP campaign will take in 1950 when he predicted that we are "on the last mile to collectivization, blissfully driving down the back road to it at top speed."

He referred to the concentration of power in the federal government and presumably the "back road" is such programs as support of farm crops, rural electrification, farm price supports, old age pensions, survivors insurance, reclamation of natural resources into public power, rural telephones, public housing, unemployment compensation and the many other benefits which Republicans and Democrats now share as a "welfare state."

Of course there is a "main road" to collectivization to which Mr. Hoover did not refer and that is the concentration of economic power in the hands of a few private corporations to the detriment of the public. But there is little question that that from now on we will hear much of this so-called "welfare state," of socialism and collectivism and that Mr. Hoover's "last mile" will be used plenty by the GOP high command in the coming campaign.

Profit Made

We hear so much about government loss of the taxpayers money, it is refreshing to see that at least in some instances Federal agencies make a profit on their operations. The home loan bank board reports dividends of $5 million dollars on its total investment of $22 million, 158,000 dollars in the share capital of more than 1,400 member associations of the Federal home loan bank system. Further, the total investment has been reduced.

Marie Wilson Plans 'Irma' Sequel

By INEZ GERHARD
MARIE WILSON, in New York to help publicize the hilarious screen version of "My Friend Irma," was probably the most cooperative actress Paramount has worked with in a long time. Also one of the nicest. "I want to go on a vacation someday," she said. "But with the radio 'My Friend Irma' going on, I want to be there just anything that's offered." Pre-views then will do "The Life of Theda Bara" and another story based on the life of Mack Sennett.

Since Fred Astaire's "retirement" didn't take the hit working harder than ever. Winding up Paramount's "Last Dance" with Betty Hutton, he goes to MGM for "Three Little Words," returns to Paramount prior to learn with Bing Crosby.

MARIE WILSON
one of the pictures have been so enthusiastically received that a sequel, "Irma Goes West," is being prepared. To be made with the same cast. Three members of it, Miss Wilson, Dean Jagger and Jerry Lewis, the comedians, have been signed for "That's My Boy." So she's back on the screen to stay.

More about the pretty Marie. Arriving on one of New York's hottest days, she posed on a lead of for news photographers. Her dog, a true lens hound, promptly scrambling up beside her and gazed into the cameras.

If you have a Mark Warnow Victor Record (No. 2768-B) of "The Music Goes Round and Round" you may be able to get $10 for it. Mark Goodson and Bill Todman, producers of CBS' "Spin to Win," use it as their theme song, and they're worn their disc thin. So they will pay that amount for the first 10 records they receive in good condition, of course.

Tipsters and radio columnists cannot use Hatteners to the "Katie Smith Club" story about the woman's Mystery Personality. Hatteners' contact with a certain celebrity, and a contestant must do some on - the spot guesswork.

Betty Hutton, whose "Red, Hot and Blue" will be released before the end of the year, will make "Anne Get Your Gun" for MGM.

When making "Samson and Delilah" Cecil B. DeMille stuck strictly to the Bible story based on the research department discovered an error. "For instance," he explained. "The Bible says Samson was bound with fetters of brass." Brass was not discovered until 300 years after Samson's time. The mistake may have slipped into the King James version. So copper was used.

Barbara Hale received the fifth annual screen speech award from the Langmuir Institute of America when she served in New York. She was selected because of the excellence of her diction in Columbia's "John Steel Again."

William Talman, of RKO's "I Married a Communist," got his big break when he landed a part on Broadway in "Spring Again." He played it one week, then was dropped. His understudy replaced him—the understudy being Kirk Douglas.

When Jack Berch got off on the Yonkers and fishing trip to the Yukon he transferred his program for five weeks ahead and triple-checked all equipment and arrangements. Everything was fine, till, at the last moment, he tried out his tailor-made, zippered sleeping bag, and found that when his feet hit, buttons his head and shoulders were well out in the air.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Band-leader Elliot Lawrence, recognized as one of the best band leaders in the business, has just written a number that can be played with one finger. . . . And Bill Harrington, singing star of "Your Hit Parade," composer of several popular songs, is working on an anthracite-called "Hit Parade" . . . "Stop the Music" is said to be the hardest radio show in New York to get tickets for. It's reported that the bottles of Stromboli have adopted Bergman's hit style.

Labels Required For Wool Goods

New developments in the manufacture of woolsens are adding to their service, but as consumers we need to know what they are if they are to be a help to us.

Questions about shrinkage, color fastness, washing, and mending, we can answer only by reading the labels. Phyllis Ann Peterson, specialist in clothing at Michigan State College, believes that we need definite statements of woolsens as we have on cotton.

Labels should tell whether the fabric is permanently pressed, whether it will not shrink more than one or two per cent, and whether it will begin to stretch after six or eight washings.

According to recent news we are assured that these questions will be answered by at least one company. The same company which developed the sanitizing process for cottons has now announced a similar shrinkage control process for wool called "amfortan". This company signs that wool garments bearing the trademark, "amfortan" will not shrink out of fit.

No special session of the state next session will be called by Governor G. Meenan Williams this fall.

Such a session will be called by the "Michigan Mirror" division of the Michigan Iron and Lumber Association in an exchange of letters between the governor and State Treasurer H. Hale Brink. Auditor General Carl K. Aven and Controller Robert F. Steadman are also invited.

An additional session might be made. The problem of state finances, caused directly by diversion of 75 per cent of sales tax revenues to public schools and cities and townships will await the 1931 session of the state legislature.

Here is the record and you can sign for yourself. Last May the governor intimated to do in 1930 "when" the "budget" was ready.

The count also reported that he would verify whether all statements were proper in the light of legislative appropriations. The auditor general said he would issue warrants only if such was done along these lines. If a deficit develops, the treasurer was willing to delay payment of salaries, to cut off certain funds other than trust funds, and to use even unexpended funds temporarily. He said it might be possible to reduce linear inventory of the state. Figure control of commission. That was the step taken by Governor Frank Murphy in 1928 when a similar deficit existed.

Brink suggested that the treasury try "sweeping" rather than store state spending and thus be of help in reducing any treasury deficit.

It is the contention of Controller Steadman that the treasury deficit will not really develop during March, 1930. During February and March the state paid off several substantial sums of sales tax revenue.

to arrange this and tomorrow. These payments are expected to run during the period of the tax-paying month.

This history will repeat itself. Eleven years ago the late Frank Murphy was governor. The 1921 session of the legislature had set the state under $18 million in the red. By the end of the first fiscal year (June 30, 1922) the actual deficit was $3,000,000—about half of what had been anticipated.

When distress of MONTHLY FEMALE WEAKNESS

Are you troubled by distress of menstrual periods, pain, feel so nervous, tired at each time they come? Dr. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a grand soothing effect on one's system which the medicine has without the medium of bringing it before the public.

It would put across the ideas of these 20 per cent it would make it all general business," he observed.

His business is principally an engineering one. This requires a multitude of tools, dies, jigs and fixtures. But even in this field, the business is different from the engineering firms which furnish service units to large business concerns.

Milburn is conscious of the limited resources of the people who come to him with ideas. So he uses all sorts of mechanical improvisations to help a minimum.

Yet, all his customers are not individual inventors. He does some case precision work for a watch company to facilitate that company's production of precision measuring instruments. He has also done some work with makers' tools and jigs. He did considerable engineering and production on a toy firm that went into aircraft engines built by Wright brothers' company. And he answers the call of many manufacturing companies from all over the country for special engineering work.

Kentucky Man Is 'Inventor' For Inventors

CINCINNATI, OHIO. — Way out in a cornfield near Burlington, Ky., lives Frank Simon Milburn, known to the world as the man who claims to distinguish in that he operates one of the most unusual plants in all the Middle West. This is true for many reasons, but probably for the chief reason that Milburn is the sole worker in the plant.

The building which houses the industry has a puzzling collection of concrete tools and machinery, dies, jigs and other items. It does practically no manufacturing, this strange industry — in fact the least production requires the better Mr. Milburn likes it.

It is difficult to describe the operation as a business. It is more like a profitable hobby.

Milburn likes an "inventing" problem, so he has his own occupation in solving the problems of big and little people who write him.

For 15 years now, he has been wrestling with a couple of problems. He has his own business because he likes to solve problems. He has his own business to work in downtown Cincinnati.

His business, essentially, is to take on the engineering of ideas of embryonic inventors.

His contact media are two-line classified ads in such magazines as Popular Mechanics. These bring him inquiries from all sorts of inventors. And they are interesting stories he gets.

"I have seen more rat traps and combination salt and pepper shakers than anybody in the world," he observed with a broad grin.

About 80 per cent of the inquiries are of questionable usefulness, but the other 20 per cent contains useful ideas and potentially worthwhile ideas for new products, or improvements of existing products.

He was in earnest when he pondered the end and plight of many worthwhile items or gadgets. The inventor may have a practical idea; Milburn may be able to engineer the product satisfactory for production; but the inventor cannot do it without the medium for bringing it before the public.

"If we could put across the ideas of these 20 per cent it would make it all general business," he observed.

It was Mortimer's suggestion that his routine-business partner come along for a dual marriage ceremony.

Cupid acted a direct hit right after Donelson arranged a drugstore meeting at noon as the bride-to-be phoned him.

After that romance had tough competition from persons who took a fancy to the couple in love.

Donelson had the extra problem of dealing with some 200 applicants who took a fancy just to him. One late, they learned their choice was true.

Phone calls, interviews, photographing flash bulbs, and other gifts led the couple through four hectic days. Donelson lost seven pounds.

Once, rumblings of commercialism lured the preoccupied Donelson threatened to go off to nearby Troy, Ky., for the dual ceremony which was the way he planned it with Mortimer's in the first place.

Sincerely agreed to those who wanted to help out. Cash came in for the license, and cars and drivers were available on a loan basis. A gown for the bride and a suit for the bridegroom, plus the ring, were given.

Fireworks Celebration Disrupts Air Lines

HOOD RIVER, ORE.—A fireworks celebration by the "Crags Riders"—a mountaineering organization — disrupted airline traffic near Mount Hood and convinced one pilot he was seeing a new form of "ding saucers."

Paul Thresh, a Northwest airlines pilot flying west into Portland, reported to the tower there that he had seen a strange object of red light as he approached Mount Hood area. This caused him to turn his plane to follow them, he said, "but they ran away from me."

Thresh's report temporarily halted several flights at the Portland airport. The tower thought at first that a plane might be in distress and would have to use the port for an emergency landing. This caused the tower to clear the field for several minutes and passenger flights were held up until it became apparent that no plane was involved and police solved the mystery.

Courtship, Wedding Materialize From Ad Placed in Newspaper

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—A five-day courtship and marriage all of which resulted from a newspaper want ad had Charles Donelson, 21, marrying at the age of 21 and quick results.

"When things got going, they really went," he said.

Donelson was married to Irene Krebs, 18. It was a double ceremony which also united Donelson's business partner, Orville Mortimer, 20, and Miss Dolores Haskay, 16.

Donelson disclosed in his ad, on a Tuesday, that he wanted a bride by Saturday. He is an ex-soldier and former circus fire-eater.

It was Mortimer's suggestion that his routine-business partner come along for a dual marriage ceremony.

A true experience of WILLIAM F. COLLYER • San Diego, Calif.

2 "I shot the rattler—spooned the snake into the light. I freed the light—closed the shutter. My flash light with its 'Evershad' battery was the only light I had. I made a portrait, cut the snake's head and moved the venom."
