If Cookies Go Fast in Your Home, Better Plan To Prepare Several Varieties to Keep on Hand

By Lynn Chambers

LYNN your cookie jar standing up these days? Do the youngsters make a short and snappy line to your back door because they know you always have a nice hand for them? Or, is yours the home deserted by your own youngsters as well as their friends in favor of a more friendly kitchen? Cookies are so simple to make. It's a wonder any home is without an abundance to supply at all times. Most recipes make several dozen cookies, and they're both easy to mix and quick to bake.

The recipes chosen for today will make a hit with youngsters because they're flavorful but not too fancy. Chewy Raisin Waters (Makes about 4 dozen) 1/2 cup seedless raisins 1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup apricot preserves 1/2 cup vanilla extract 1 cup brown sugar (packed) 1/2 cup rolled oats 1/2 cup chopped nuts 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Rinse and drain raisins. Heat together raisins, shortening and water to melt shortening. Cool. Blend in flavoring, sugar, oats and nuts. Sift together flour, salt, soda and spices to blend into raisin mixture. Chill dough. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate (325°) oven for 10 to 20 minutes.

Appleauce Cookies (Makes six dozen) 2 cups sifted flour 1 cup raisins 1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup apricot preserves 1/2 cup vanilla extract 1 cup brown sugar (packed) 1/2 cup rolled oats 1/2 cup chopped nuts 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Blend shortening and honey. Add well-beaten eggs and cream. Sift flour with baking powder, salt, soda and nutmeg into a separate sifter. Drop or form into light, flat cookies. Bake about 20 minutes.

Orange Drop Cookies (Makes 4 dozen 1 1/2-inch cookies) 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup apricot preserves 1/2 cup vanilla extract 1 cup brown sugar (packed) 1/2 cup rolled oats 1/2 cup chopped nuts 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Blend together shortening, sugar, salt and egg yolks until light. Add grated orange rind and juice. Sift together flour and baking powder. Stir into creamed mixture, then add nuts and stir until smooth. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate (325°) oven, about 15 minutes, or until distinctly brown. Remove immediately from pan to a wire cooling rack and eat each cookie separately, holding the cookie in hand while doing it. These cookies are best eaten when still warm. They will have a nice glaze when cooled. Use with:

The look of approval on Junior's face is only an indication of how good these "chewy raisin waters" actually are. Whether they're eaten hot or the cookie rack or are several days old, they're going to taste like mere.

Bake in a moderately hot (400°) oven for 15 to 20 minutes.

Honey Crisp Cookies (Makes 2 dozen 4-inch cookies) 1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup honey 1/2 cup sifted flour 1/2 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 cup apricot preserves 1/2 cup vanilla extract 1 cup brown sugar (packed) 1/2 cup rolled oats 1/2 cup chopped nuts 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Blend shortening and honey. Add well-beaten eggs and cream. Sift flour with baking powder, salt, soda and nutmeg into a separate sifter. Drop or form into light, flat cookies. Bake about 20 minutes.

Orange Drop Cookies (Makes 4 dozen 1 1/2-inch cookies) 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup apricot preserves 1/2 cup vanilla extract 1 cup brown sugar (packed) 1/2 cup rolled oats 1/2 cup chopped nuts 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Blend together shortening, sugar, salt and egg yolks until light. Add grated orange rind and juice. Sift together flour and baking powder. Stir into creamed mixture, then add nuts and stir until smooth. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate (325°) oven, about 15 minutes, or until distinctly brown. Remove immediately from pan to a wire cooling rack and eat each cookie separately, holding the cookie in hand while doing it. These cookies are best eaten when still warm. They will have a nice glaze when cooled. Use with:

Orange Frosting 2 tablespoons orange juice 1 tablespoon sugar 1 egg yolk 1/2 cup confectioner's sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup vanilla extract 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Gum Drop Bars (Makes 3 dozen) 4 eggs, beaten thoroughly 1 cup light brown sugar 1 tablespoon salt 1 cup sifted cake flour 1/2 teaspoon soda 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 cup pecans, chopped 1/2 cup shredded gum drops

Add sugar and water to eggs which have been beaten thoroughly. Sift together dry ingredients and sprinkle a portion over the gum drops and pecans. Add remaining dry ingredients to sugar and egg mixture; fold in nuts and gum drops. Spread thinly on an oiled and floured shallow pan, 10 1/2" x 15", and bake slowly in a moderate (325°) oven for 20 to 30 minutes. When cool, cut into bars.

LYNN BARS: These cookies are made so readily they have been allowed to reach room temperature. If they are too soft for drop cookies, let it chill until proper texture is reached. Fragile cookies best kept in tin, with waxed paper between them. Do not store crisp cookies with moist ones in the same container, as the moist ones will become soggy. Store cookies in tin or cookie jars to keep them until used, but let them cool completely before storage so they will not stick to each other.

Cookies should be baked at the temperature given in the recipes so that they do not dry out too much, or have their texture destroyed.

Recipes for cookies which call for a generous amount of fat, it is not necessary grease the cookie sheet.

Break crumbs of the cookie pan, and grease again, if you must use the sheet for another batch to bake.

Cookies keep their shape better if they are allowed to settle for a few minutes after coming from the oven, and removed with a spatula when they are just slightly cool.

When you roll dough, have it well chilled so that it rolls readily, and makes the thin cookies you desire. When cookie pans have to be greased, use a pastry brush or small piece of paper and rub until a film of fat coats the surface.

Ideal Pillow Thickness The ideal thickness for a pillow is the distance from the shoulder to the neck for support. Consider individual differences as to both thickness and softness should be considered when selecting pillows in the interest of maximum sleeping comfort.

Poor Placement Of Refrigerator Cuts Efficiency

Before you buy a refrigerator it is well to know where it should be placed to give you the greatest interior saving value and efficiency. You may be largely lost if a refrigerator is poorly placed.

You can save yourself a lot of trouble by placing it near a front circulation center, not too far from the sink. It should be installed on a small table nearby and a key for opening will help in putting away and getting out the perishables.

Keep your refrigerator in the open with at least 25 inches of free space between the back of the refrigerator and the wall. If your back must be recessed, 3 to 4 inches at the back and 18 in. better and 8 to 12 inches at the top. Adequate circulation carries away the heat from the motor.

Avoid extremes of heat and of cold. Although modern refrigerators are well insulated, extra heat makes them run overtime, as you will have noticed on a hot summer day. You won't want to duplicate summer heat by placing it in a room where the sun is shining on the floor above it. The refrigerator is a poor spot for a refrigerator because the extreme cold is hard on its mechanism. Because the floor is level, this is a point that may be overlooked but is an important factor for good operation. An adequate circulation and moderate temperature.

Negaunee Girl Scout Council Receives Charter

The Negaunee Girl Scout Council at its third month received its 1949-50 charter from the Girl Scout National Headquarters in New York City. The charter outlines the Negaunee Council to function as an official unit of Girl Scouts in the United States of America for the next twelve months.

This is the first charter granted to the Negaunee Council under a new plan whereby charters are issued in recognition of achievement. According to volume of membership, unit activities, unit leaders and the number of troops as well as the quality of the program for which charters are granted.

In a letter accompanying the charter, Mrs. C. Vaughan Ferguson, Girl Scout National President, congratulated the Negaunee Council for its work of the previous year and stated that the charter had been printed on the country's annual report and its accomplishments during the year. Mrs. Ferguson stated that Girl Scouting is a nationwide and world-wide youth movement with great potential for the strengthening of democracy. She stated that the good work done locally by the Council will determine the national and international value of Scouting in the future. She hoped that before long it would be possible for any girl, in any part of the country, to be a Girl Scout, if she so desired.

Progressive Business and Civic-Minded People of Marquette and Vicinity

This department has been worked up as a reflection of public opinion. No person has written of himself or his business. These people are all leaders in their various lines of endeavor, and the co-operation of those citizens in Marquette who helped to make this department possible is sincerely appreciated.

HENRY L. DUPRAS

It is because of his unflinching optimism and faith which he so contentedly lays toward the future of Marquette that he is prompted to call the particular attention of our readers to the first service which Mr. H. L. Dupras, of the Bank's Service Garage, performs in the successful conduct of the business.

Dupras is a resourceful and aggressive personality, whose progressive policies have earned for him a widespread reputation as a business man of more than average ability. And his apparent willingness to devote some of his labor to the promotion of civic activities further enhances his value to the city.

The operation of Hanks's Service Garage, reflecting as it does the mechanical skill as well as the business ability of the proprietor of this man, has earned for him the esteem of a well-developed popular army among the people they serve. We are glad to give Hanks the credit he so richly deserves for achievements and to give him a continued successful career as one of Marquette's most progressive business men.

HARRY O. ERICKSON

Marquette has attained a prominent position in the business and civic life of its section of the state because of the foresight of those men who had the ability to envision the possibilities of their community and the trade area it serves. And a wide-awake progressive man who should judge the possibilities in this category is Mr. Harry O. Erickson, manager of the Pontiac Wholesale Market.

Such men have, many times over, proven their worth to the community both as business men and as active workers in the civic betterment and progressive movement. Erickson earned the good will and respect of his fellow citizens for contributing his bit to the betterment of the city and the people as a whole.

It is our duty to include Harry Erickson in that group of progressive and civic minded people who have done so much for Marquette and to express the wish that he will continue to do many more years to forge ahead with the success which he has enjoyed in the past.

JACK H. GREEN

We wish in this edition to pay tribute to Mr. Jack H. Green, of the J. H. Green Co., well known metal dealers in Marquette and Hancock, for his many services to the city of Marquette and his splendid record of achievement in the business life of the city.

Mr. Green probably has as wide a circle of friends as any business man we could name, because he is just naturally the kind of man who makes friends with everybody, and it is not to be expected that he is not content to leave himself in a manner as to deserve the respect and admiration of all who know him.

Marquette is fortunate to have able to number among its most progressive business men citizens of this type.

It is always ready and willing to lend his support to the promotion of any project which is calculated to benefit this entire district. He may be depended upon, and his services to the people of Marquette in many a number to be described here, it may be sufficient to say that we consider Jack Green at present to the community and to progress the business men of whom his city may be proud.

JOHN W. BIEKKOLA

One of the most progressive businessmen of Marquette and a man who deserves the respect and admiration of a great many people in this city is capable, and Northern Service Co., handles Frigidaire household appliances, refrigerators, and ice-making machines. In addition to auto accessories and whose wide knowledge and long experience in the appliance business has raised him into a position of prominence in his line.

It is because of this that the company has earned a reputation for reliability second to none. Mr. Biekkola is also civic minded and has always been ready to contribute his time and energy to any plan which promises to benefit his entire district. And the people of Marquette may regard with particular satisfaction the many services which he has performed for the community in the interest of progress and civic betterment. We are glad to give Mr. John Biekkola as a progressive business man of whom we will be proud to give him credit to the city, has been constant and achievement in his line. We wish for him further success.

FRANZ MENZE

Recognized as an authority on building and construction problems Mr. Franz Menze has turned his mind and vision toward the people of Marquette and vicinity.

More than that, Menze is a man whose methods are those of direct action and they attack their problems with optimum end results. Add to this their acknowledged business ability and their keen sense of value for their own efforts, and the results they are almost invariably successful in business or other matters.

They not only set the best and most dependable ones, they are self genuine, plain, maintain a modern equipment and improve on only which has to be the first-class service with a smile.

It is our duty to include Franz Menze in that group of progressive and civic minded people who have done so much for Marquette and to express the wish that he will continue to do many more years to forge ahead with the success which he has enjoyed in the past.

MRS. LAURI H. HELBERG

A city grows and prospers by reason of the public spirited men and women who take an active interest in its development. Marquette has the advantage of many such well-known business men and one who is deserving of recognition for her contribution to the city is Mrs. Lauri H. Helberg of the Steam Bath Parlor.

Her professional ability coupled with a sense of obligation to the public and a sincere desire to improve the conditions in the business life of the city.

Lauri Helberg has always been ready and willing to contribute her time and energy to the promotion of any project which is calculated to benefit the community as a whole. She has often sacrificed her personal interests for the benefit of the city. Her efforts are deserving of commendation.

We congratulate Mrs. Helberg on her past successes and hold her to the future with the hope of even greater success.

EARL C. ST. CYR

Every progressive and successful business man in Marquette contributes in some manner to the growth and progress of the city. And a man who is always willing to do his part in both business and civic activities is Mr. Earl St. Cyr, of the Cyr Bottled Gas Co., who has many friends and customers throughout the entire district.

The prominent part that the Cyr Bottled Gas Co. is playing in the business and rural life of Marquette and vicinity mirrors the progressiveness and ability of such men as he. Furthermore, Mr. St. Cyr has also at all times been steadfast in his devotion to the city and the surrounding country, and many occasions has been the first to support the advancement of a meritorious civic project.

Marquette and this district are fortunate to have such a man as Earl St. Cyr in a position of responsibility and service, and the progressive feels that it merely reiterates our appreciation of his brief article to one of the city's more progressive business men.

ED LAWRY and CHRISTIAN MILLER

Messrs. Ed Lawry and Christian Miller, well known Kaiser-Pratt automobile dealer, lead the parade among the women in Marquette and vicinity.

Lawry and Miller were never given to do anything thinking, but they are not content to sit idly by and let their problems with optimum end results. Add to this their acknowledged business ability and their keen sense of value for their own efforts, and the results they are almost invariably successful in business or other matters.

They not only set the best and most dependable ones, they are self genuine, plain, maintain a modern equipment and improve on only which has to be the first-class service with a smile.

It is our duty to include Ed Lawry and Christian Miller and wish for their continued success which they do well deserve.

LOUIS and WALTER FASSBENDER

When a city like Marquette has able recognition for its business and leading center for many square miles of the surrounding country. It is because of the foresight of those business men who had the vision to realize the possibilities of their city and who also had the courage to work for the fulfillment of that vision and are well-known business men who belong in this category is Mr. Louis and Walter Fassbender.

Marquette owes much to such men, but each succeeding generation must produce its own business and civic leaders to assure the continuing growth and prosperity of the city.

It is also the purpose of this department to call attention of our readers to some of these present day leaders and in this instance we particularly wish to pay tribute to Mr. Walter Fassbender who is associated with his father, Louis Fassbender of the Hancock District.

Mr. Fassbender and his son are not alone in their efforts to increase the prestige of the city, but they are fine examples of the type of men whose combined efforts are responsible for Marquette's past and future prosperity.

GRANT and AGNES A. KINSEY

To be a consistent and reliable contributor of the home country they offer their insurance operations. It is because of their unflinching faith in the future of Marquette and their unflinching efforts to promote this development that Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kinsey are selected now for this brief tribute.

The Kinseys have proved every year that they are honest and capable lounge operators of unusual ability for it is due largely to their ideals of service to the community that he declines to serve on the bar drinking, that the Shoreland Club and fair holds its high position in the public's favor.

They are people of keen head and sound judgment who are ideas have been the inspiration of many who are doing good in the community. Their energy in directing the operations of their establishments are important in their outstanding success. We are glad to pay this deserved tribute to Grant and Agnes Kinsey to point out to our readers that they are the guiding influence behind the splendid success and fine dining to be had at the Shoreland Central Lounge and Bar in Marquette.

He is completely aware of his civic responsibilities and is with his own hands ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole.

We commend Clyde Linn on his accomplishments and wish for him, continued success.

HOWARD MACDONALD and ECHLIN W. KAKEE

In every community there are a number of business and professional men who can be pointed out as having taken a three-fold part in the onward progress of their city. Two well known and the next men of Marquette who belong in this category are Howard Macdonald and Echlin W. Kakee, of the Macdonald & Keake, Inc., their well-known business.

Their energy in the line of business is recognized throughout the entire district. Their foresight and energy in directing the operations of their civic betterment and community program, is well known to all intelligent associates.

Messrs. Macdonald and Kakee are men who are equally well liked and respected by their intimate friends and their business associates. Their foresight and energy in the community, thankful for their success in business and to have their own representation by their contributions to various civic movements of benefit to the city. We congratulate Macdonald and Kakee for being good citizens, progressive and civic minded men in the interest of their home community.

PAUL P. TINETTI

In sending out some of the most successful business men of Marquette we would be remiss if we failed to include Mr. Paul P. Tinetti of the Tinetti Specialty Co., who has been a prominent figure in the business and civic life of this city. It is well known that Paul Tinetti has been a prominent figure in his participation in both business and civic activities of this city.

Tinetti has always been a conscientious and willing to meet in every detail those opportunities which would be remiss if we failed to mention his civic betterment and further civic enterprise. He may well be proud of his achievement along these lines.

Paul Tinetti deserves a great deal of credit for the honest and conscientious manner in which he has conducted his business affairs. His energy and his attention to detail have earned him the respect and admiration of his friends and acquaintances in and around Marquette who would, if given the opportunity, join in a number of ways to help him in his continued success.

He has set a standard for himself and the operation of his business, that under the circumstances, has been very difficult to maintain. However, that he has done so is a credit to his ability and the success of his business is due to his unflinching attention to detail and his ability to recognize and unhesitatingly respond to the needs of his customers.

Julie is also civic minded and has been asked to contribute to the civic life of the city in many ways. He has been able to lend his support to the civic betterment and good will which he has earned, and his friends are confident that he will continue to maintain his high standing in his line of business.

GRACE JORGENSEN

The true value of a citizen is not measured by the number of successes but rather by the manner in which they are achieved. PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE OF MARQUETTE AND VICINITY

JOSEPH E. BARRON

There are a number of business and professional people in Marquette who have gained recognition in their progressive work as well known insurance men who belong in this category. Mr. Joseph E. Barron of the Iron Iron & Steel Agency.

He is well established in the portfolio of the business and in the life of the city. He is an aggressive person, yet one who is not avaricious. His success has earned for him and the company he represents a host of friends and policy holders in this district.

The ethical manner in which he has conducted his business affairs is but one of the reasons for his outstanding success.

In addition to his business activities, Barron has also accepted his share of responsibility in aiding the city's progress. As a result of the combined efforts of men like him, Marquette is firmly established in the minds of the iron men as the logical business center of this section of the state.

We congratulate Mr. Barron on his success in business and in civic affairs and trust he will continue for many years to erect a fine record which he has justly earned.

OSCAR DURAND

In mentioning the names of those men who are taking a progressive part in the evolution of the business and civic life of Marquette and vicinity, we would be remiss if we failed to include Mr. Oscar Durand of the health department, which is highly respected by Duquesne Hillers.

Mr. Durand is that solid type of citizen whose fairness and friendliness and a strong sense of duty serve only the finest goals, properly prepared and served in a manner that leaves nothing to be asked for, are accountable for a large measure of his success.

As time goes on his personal interests have become more closely interwoven with the business and civic affairs of his city and he has become accepted as a man who can always be called upon to further community activities.

Oscar Durand has by his conduct of the business and by his attention to civic affairs, earned the friendship and good will of his fellow citizens. He is to be complimented upon his activities and we know we express the wishes of so many friends and associates in wishing him continued success in the community.

HILMER AND OSCAR LEVINE

Marquette owes much to those progressive citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city and who have helped to make it a business center for this part of the state. In mentioning some of these men it is only fair to include Messrs. Hilmer and Oscar Levine, whose technical knowledge backed up by their many years experience in the automobile repair business, has brought them to the forefront in their particular field.

They also do their share in furthering community affairs and do, in a great deal of credit for their success in both business and civic activities.

The Levine brothers are widely known for their sincere participation in these few words of commendation are but a just recognition for the many activities they have conducted on behalf of the general welfare of the community.

The honest and successful conduct of their business affairs is but a reflection of their character. We trust that the Levine brothers will continue to successfully promote business and civic activities for many years to come.

ROBERT E. ANDERSON

In compiling this review of progressive Marquette business people, we have endeavored to select those citizens who by the manner in which they have conducted themselves and their business have earned for them positions of leadership in their various fields of activities. Such a man is Mr. Robert E. Anderson of the Carroll Street Supply, who has many friends and customers residing in this district.

Anderson's main interests have been solely confined to his own business and he has not only also included his contributions, in one form or another, to those progressive activities which come within the scope of his activities. He has never failed to make good those obligations.

Robert Anderson is a man of wide experience whose exploits in his own and civic life of Marquette and vicinity, merits more than his passing attention and this writer is privileged to pay this tribute to one of the men who well deserves more credit than is accorded him here.

CHARLES AND RAY DRESSELER

When a man goes on recognition in his business and civic life of his city for the progressive and straightforward manner in which he has managed his business affairs, he is to be complimented for his achievements. And in this respect the men we have in mind are also deserving of praise for his progress in his own growth and progress of his city.

We refer to Mr. Charles Dresseler, whose many years of business and management by him, is highly respected by Duquesne Hillers.

We also think it appropriate in this review to also credit to some of the younger generation who are carrying on the footsteps of their fathers. And a man who certainly deserves such credit is Mr. Ray Dresseler, who is actively engaged in the management of the plumbing business established by his father many years ago. It is because of the efforts of such men that Marquette continues to grow and prosper and to become an even better place in which to live.

It is in like Charles Dresseler and his son who has a distinct place in our hearts and we take pleasure in paying them this brief tribute.

TRESA M. GILLEY

Progressive women coupled with ability always a promising feature in the passing scene of any community's daily life, is to be appreciated by the entire population of this and in recognition of the splendid personality which has been the mark of Tresa M. Gilley, a business and civic life of Marquette. Her many friends and associates in this community regard Mrs. Tresa M. Gilley of Gilley's Clothing Store as a woman of distinction in her city and this district.

Tresa Gilley is keeping her position at the forefront at all times and has maintained a position of leadership in all her activities. Her energetic participation in the management of her affairs always has led to her recognition as one of the city's more progressive business women.

Charles M. Gilley has accomplished in the past the best indication of what may be expected in the future. She has our admiration and best wishes for continued success.

HAROLD C. CHRISTENSEN

There are many men in this district who have at the forefront in the progressive ranks in which they have conducted their business affairs and accepted their civic responsibilities but who will not permit much to be said of their achievements.

But in reviewing a group of such citizens we must include Mr. Harold C. Christensen of the Lashelle C. Christensen & Champagne Iron. He is a man who has always conducted his work effectively even though he has been accomplished in an unobtrusive manner. Christensen, busy as he is, always finds time to do his part in civic movement calculated to benefit the community as a whole. He has, however, will not permit him to say the things about himself which are said by his friends who would also tell you that his professional conduct is a credit to the high sense of honor.

We do not hesitate to recommend Harold Christensen to our readers as a citizen who continues at all times to work to the advantage of the people of this entire district.

CHARLES W. NIEMI

Locally a man who has earned the reputation of being one of our district's more progressive citizens, Mr. Charles W. Niemi, who well deserves more credit than is accorded him here.

Mr. Niemi is the type of man who would be an asset in any community, not only because of his successful conduct of his business affairs, but because the ultimate benefit of his activities is felt throughout this entire district. A man who justly deserves that of a citizen in a modest effort, friendly Charles W. Niemi of the Quality Hardware, who numbers many of our district's more progressive citizens.

Mr. Niemi is the type of man who would be an asset in any community, not only because of his successful conduct of his business affairs, but because the ultimate benefit of his activities is felt throughout this entire district. A man who justly deserves that of a citizen in a modest effort, friendly Charles W. Niemi of the Quality Hardware, who numbers many of our district's more progressive citizens.

It would be hard to estimate the actual dollar-and-cents value of such a man and his community. We congratulate the people of Marquette for numbering among their more progressive citizens a man like Charles Niemi and we also express the wish that he will enjoy many more years of success and prosperity.

ARTHUR, EMIL, and WILLIAM KOISKI

Most cities, if they amount to much, are men made. They do not just happen. It is upon the realization of their more progressive citizens that their city must grow and progress and be something other than just another place on the map.

Recalcitrant Democrats Charged With Disloyalty to Their Party

BY WALTER A. SHIELD
A NATIONAL MAGAZINE recently carried an article on the first congress elected at a recent President Truman's Fair Deal program had bogged down the independence of the Democratic majority, most of them freshmen, who were elected in the 1948 election.

The article pointed out that most of these freshmen congressmen and senators carried their districts by larger votes than did the President, and hence they figured they owed him nothing, thus could be self-sufficient to be independent.

All that which reads well, but to the mind of this Reporter is based on a fallacious premise that not only do they owe nothing to President Truman, but they owe nothing to the Democratic party.

All right, so they owe the President nothing, but what about the Democratic party which elected them, and the Democratic party platform adopted in convention and which is supposed to be a pledge to the people of the country? Had these men run independently of the party, they likely would have moved more.

The Fair Deal program set to the congress by the President was drawn to carry out the pledges of the Democratic platform adopted at the Philadelphia convention. If the representatives of the party seeking a job in the congress can avail themselves of the party machinery, run for office as a Democrat and on the Democratic platform, then once in office, repudiate that platform with impunity, then the two-party system of politics in this country is doomed and the result will be unnumbered splinter parties. This same status of affairs in Europe has led to the very demise of representative government in those countries. The majority members of the Democratic party in the first congress may call their actions independence of thought and refusal to become a "rubber stamp," but it means the end of party responsibility.

GOP Had It
The same situation was true in the Republican party in the first congress when the members of that party failed to carry out their own party platform. At least the Democrats who have been banished from the Democratic party are on sound ground. They refused to accept the party platform and walked out of the convention.

Most obvious evidence of this irresponsibility in the congress, the same tactics which were apparent in the 80th congress, is the attempt of appropriation committees to write legislation, or to write policy into appropriations bills without any color of authority or legality.

What happens is that the house or senate will hold weeks of hearings on a given subject, then pass a bill authorizing expenditure of a certain sum to implement the carrying out of that particular legislation. Of course the appropriations committee should sharply examine such authorization, but they are not content with that, and have even attempted to rewrite policy legislation or to withhold appropriations which have been approved by the entire congress. Thus we have the power of a dozen men nullifying the actions of the total congressional membership.

NTEA's Campaign

The National Tax Equality association recently has flooded congressional mail with "concord" telegraphic messages. Said Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois: "We have been a model of effective and timely, although somewhat synthetic, protest. Whereas in regard to the interest of the small businessmen whom NTEA claims to represent, or the big enterprises which have recently been disclosed as among its larger contributors, the farmer and consumer cooperation has more evidence that they are facing strong opposition."

Sen. Scott Lucas, the Democratic majority leader, has announced he will support an action the oleomargarine tax repealer at this session, which now likely will run on and on into November. The milk producers and others opposing the oleo tax repeal thought they had successfully phibetized.

Probe Epidemic

Probe, probe, probe. With 1950 an election year you can expect one on most any subject you mention. Your guess is as good as any on what it will be next. But the GOP probe fizzled. The atomic energy commission probe fizzled. The "five-cent" probe fizzled. Only thing proven was that General Motors is a hot business shop. And everyone knew that anyway. No great a hot business shop. Only guess is that they favor for friends.

The prospect in Marquette as a member of the Great Lakes Conference football crown will undoubtedly be decided in a week-end fight next when the schedule pits the league-leading Gladstone Ironvets against Marquette and Newberry, currently tied for the runner-up spot. The Ironvets, after winning as a free door with a record of 10-0, have come up with a remarkably strong showing in the last week and a season's record of 10-0-1-1 and no losses has one of the victories coming in conference play. Marquette and Newberry have league records of 7-1-1-1-1 and a tie, the stand-off coming in the game between the Gravenese and Coleray City gridiron two weeks ago. Tonight's gridiron appears at Marquette only next week-end the Redjacks entertain Newberry at Gladstone.

In the event the Delta County boys get by both games, they will have a clear cut claim to the conference championship, as they meet only four league opponents. However, in the event of a loss in either game, the odds will favor Marquette, with Newberry as the second choice in the Grand veterans meet six Great Lakes opponents, while Newberry faces five. In figuring the conference standings a tie is counted as a half a win in computing the percentage table.

Although we don't see the same, we understand that Billy Deaulac was the outstanding ball carrier on the Field School team in the game with the Northern Wildcats during that 6-0 at Marquette. Deaulac has been rated little better, but in the account of the contest. The only mention of his name was that he made the point after touchdown, but fans who saw Northern chalk up its first win in all its days he was a major factor in the Wildcats' win and playing the game at his own outpost with a lead charity home.

as a Quarter Money and Gilman had decided not to use him because of the injury. Three other former Gladstone and Blue gridironers, George Collins, Phil Hiney and P. J. Kealy, are also members of the Northern Wildcats this year. Incidentally, according to the bookends of the game between Michigan and Michigan State Saturday, we believe the "quartering" offense of the Wolverines would find Jimmie a valuable addition on this year.

Negaunee and a team coached by a former local boy, Gould Nichols, kept us from having a perfect slate in our previous last weekend. It was the second time this season the Miners have upset the apple cart. Standing on the strength of LePage's touchdown run dumped the Miners and Blue, while Nick's Crystal Park team whipped Houghton. That gave us a net of 11 on the right side of the ledger and in all but of 22 in the season. Tonight in the high school circles will string along with Iron River to whip Knapford, however in Grand Island, and the Marquette-Gladstone battle to end in a deadlock. Saturday afternoon it will be Gladstone over Escanaba, Munising over Stephenson, Iron Mountain over Marquette, Wolford over Crystal Falls, look out for an upset in this area because of Houghton, and Newberry over Marquette. That is how we see Saturday night encounter should be Negaunee over Ishpeming. The Miners can't let us down a third time.

In the Collegiate gridiron world it will be Chi State over Indiana and the only thing in doubt will be the site of the game, Michigan over Stanford, Michigan State over Stanford, Michigan State over Nebraska, Purdue over Iowa, Notre Dame over Washington, Wisconsin in a mild upset over Illinois, and finally the one of the alma mater definitely influencing our judgement, Pitt over North-western.
