NEAGUNEE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1919.

NUMBER 52.

Change Date For Arrival Of Santa

Advancement of the date for the formal opening of Santa Claus Lane, at which time the good man will make his first appearance of the 1919 season in Neagunee, Friday, Dec. 9, to Thursday, Dec. 8, was revealed Thursday by Carl Levine, chairman of the Neagunee Christmas Carnival.

Preliminary to the activities in the business district, Santa will make a tour of the residential area beginning at 5:30 p. m. and ending at about 7 p. m. The formal opening of Santa Claus Lane is set for approximately 7:30. The procession in which St. Nick will be escorted by the city band will move down from street to the Santa Claus Lane headquarters in the community building, when from there appeals will be given to the children.

Mr. Levine announced also that he has an additional attraction for the opening of Santa Claus Lane, the Neagunee Business and Professional Association Christmas Carnival committee has decided to award $20 in cash to three lucky winners. The prize money will be split into three $10 awards.

In order to qualify for an opportunity to win cash, you must know, it is not necessary to purchase anything, but you must be present. All that local residents or visitors must do register their names at the business owners displaying Christmas Carnival posters. Thereafter, they should sign a name and address and allow slips will be placed in a container and transferred on Friday to the Santa Claus Lane headquarters, where the drawings will be made on Friday night.

Merchants were advised yesterday by the chairman not to mix these slips with their regular Carnival coupons. It is not necessary to obtain these registrations on any slips of coupons, as any slips of coupon paper left over, he said.

"The important thing is to get these slips in a separate box and then turn them in Friday afternoon at Santa Claus Lane headquarters so they may be placed in the central container from where the drawings will be made on Friday evening."

Chest X-Ray Clinic Opens Here Tuesday

Neagunee residents will have an opportunity to obtain chest X-rays next Tuesday and Wednesday, when the Michigan Department of Health medicine chest will be stationed at the Community building.

Chest X-rays will be taken from 10 to 5:00 p. m. and from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. on Wednesday and from 10 to 1:00 p. m. on Thursday.

The X-ray clinic is free to all patients and students over 15 years of age and health officers will certify that every adult has his or her chest X-rayed at least a year. To have the X-ray taken is not necessary to remove clothing.

Bank Mails Annual Yule Christmas Club checks

Christmas Club checks totaling $25,000 were distributed by the bank and will be received today by Neagunee residents. John T. Leonard, president of the Neagunee Christmas Club, revealed yesterday afternoon, that the 1919 Yule club is divided into 1,016 shares, which is an increase of 76 over a year ago. Despite the increase in the number of persons participating in the plan, funds distributed dropped $1500 from the total distributed in December of 1918. When Christmas Club savings amounted to $57,950.00. The slight decrease is attributed to the fact that the recent dividend strike of the new owners has reduced approximately all savings of unemployment.

During the past year there were nine classes ranging from 10 cents per week up. The average dividend this year totals approximately $55.84. The average saving during the past year was over $1,000 per week.

When membership for the 1919-20 season was closed on December 31st year the Christmas Club program has been in existence at the First National Bank. The program was initiated in this town 28 years ago by Herbert C. Leonard, who was the first postmaster of bringing into financial condition the club. Leonard has never before had been inside a bank. Leonard has accumulated $25,000 of weekly savings by accumulating money for Christmas. Leonard said, Christmas Clubs have been in existence in Neagunee since American banking history. More and more people are turning to saving extra money and locally there has been a great growth during the past few years. The Neagunee Christmas Club, which Neagunee residents are using the bank chapter to plan how to participate in the 1919 program will help solve their Yule shopping problems next December by providing them with sufficient cash to act in their behalf in their own expenses.

Survey Value of New Brucellosis Vaccine

For two years Michigan veterinarians have been using a new vaccine developed to control the spread of Brucellosis, a dairy cattle. Michigan State College veterinarians have completed a survey to determine its value. (1) Dr. B. J. Killian, extension veterinarian (left) confers with Dr. Ed. Sterner, Ionia practitioner, on blood samples taken from herds the Ionia veterinarian had vaccinated. (2) Sterner has vaccinated more than 3,000 animals and reports excellent results. (3) Dr. J. P. Boudreau, MSU veterinarian and bacteriologist, knows authority on Bang's disease and undulant fever, developed the vaccine. Brucella is in his laboratory. More than 75,000 Michigan cattle have been vaccinated with it. (3) Dr. Sterner placed the vaccine into an atomizer in the registered herd of G. E. Peterson, Oregon, as the dairyman watches. Peterson reports the vaccine cleared up a "break of Bang's disease" in his herd and stopped the loss of valuable animals.

Observe Cautions In Removing Spots From Garments

The National Institute of Cleaning and Dyeing, Silver Spring, Maryland, says there are four cautions to observe whenever you get a spot or a stain on your garment. 1. Avoid heat! After you've spotted any substance on a fabric, do not press over it with an iron. Heat sets a stain.

2. Don't rub! If you get a stain on a garment, avoid rubbing it with either water or a cleaning agent. Rubbing may chafe a fabric.

Health Department Warns of Carbon Monoxide Danger

Watch out for carbon monoxide from the car ahead of you, especially if you are driving a new model car, the Michigan Department of Health warns.

Be sure that the exhaust system of your own car does not clog, and then give some thought to exhaust from the car ahead.

In some new model cars the air intake for the air conditioned heater is located in the front fender or grille, directly in line with the exhaust pipe of the preceding car. This intake can and may draw in enough exhaust fumes to endanger occupants of the car, according to the Department's Division of Industrial Health, which said some manufacturers have taken or are taking steps to eliminate the danger.

In congested traffic, when you are within less than 8 feet from the car ahead or when you are parked behind a car with its motor running, close the vents carefully and even damage color.

3. Move stains removed promptly: Many stains become permanently set by aging in storage. The heat or warmth of a bureau drawer or clothes closet is often enough to cause trouble.

4. Tell all! Fresh stains are easier to remove than old stains. Call the attention of your cleaner to special stains. Inform him as to what caused the stain. If you work on the spot, tell him what you have used.

Following these four simple rules will save a lot of unnecessary trouble and expense where your wardrobe is concerned.

Minutely. Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning are drowsiness, headache, dizziness and nausea.

If you suspect carbon monoxide poisoning, take the person "out from air at once. If he is overcome by the poison, wrap him in blankets to keep him warm, and give him artificial respiration until a physician and an inhalator or respirator arrive.

Sports Howwow from the

By TOM FELLOW

The "All Star National" season in full bloom over again. It's about the only sport that is picking their teams up again. The athletes varying from the Latin-American to the 11 best athletes in the Great Lakes. Indicators of the excellence of these athletes is the fact that Michigan's Leo Niemelin, and Minnesota's Leo Niemelin, were named to the All-American circle were named from the Associated Press All-American circle. It is also named by the Chicago Tribune in which the one of the players was named. Yes, he, of them are named on Callers — considered the official All-American, which is selected by the All-American board of coaches including the best football strategists in the land. What caused a hitch on the players. All Midwest due to the fact he failed to receive a single vote from Minnesota, yet Ike Al had probably his best day of the season against the Gophers.

Making their appearance also are the numerous All-State teams. As usual, the Upper Peninsula received its latest recognition with Mel Holme, rated the outstanding back north of the State, named to the United Press first team. A year ago it was Warren "Moose" Gustafson, of Escanaba, who received the recognition in the United Press eleven. Now it's Roy Gustafson, considering by some followers of the game on a par with Holme, made the second team and the Detroit news first team. Holme and Jim Devine, Norway guard, were named to the Detroit Times second team, while Gustafson, Taylor and Foster, of Newberry, Jim Chavakis, Escanaba and Bill Beveridge, Gladstone, were given honorable mention by the Times. A nice gesture by the "experts," probably none of whom saw any of the Upper Peninsula boys in action. All that remains now is for the Detroit Press Press team.

Although the Bonus Chateau negotiations over the last three years one of the strongest independent basketball teams in the U. P. will, from all appearances, not be organized this season. The principal reason for the failure of the Bonus to resume competition is lack of a gymnasium following the Neguaune Board of Education can on one of the high school gym. The Engles solved this problem by utilizing St. Paul's court for their home games. Members of the Engles are: Jack Ahola, Jack Clark, Bob and Tom Gleason, Fred Herman, Jack Lord, Tom Isakson, Clyde Roberts, John Seppanen and Berry Parina.

As predicted in this column including the Northern Wisconsin Michigan circuit is having a tough time surviving this year. The hoop has been cut in six teams, including Peshigo, Iron River, Ishpeming, Republic, Hermantown and Sault Ste. Marie. In addition to Neguaune, other old stand-bys no longer represented include Escanaba, Crystal Falls, Norway and Iron Mountain.

Miners Play Two Games This Weekend

Still seeking their first win of the 1949-50 campaign, Coeur d'Alene's Neguaune High School miners will play another twin bill this week. The miners, traveling to Stambaugh tonight and playing host to Newberry in their first game on their new home court at 10:00 p.m. Saturday night.

After dropping both ends of the double header to Ironwood and Bessemer in a pre-Christmas game at the Goblebe range, the defending U. P. Class C champs still have to prove themselves as far as this year is concerned and from indications they will encounter tough opposition again this weekend.

At Stambaugh tonight, the Miners face a veteran Hilltopper five, as Coeur Willard Anderson has his starting line-up from last season intact. Stambaugh is paced by Sherwood, a long shot artist, and Mel Holme, of football fame, who is a hook shot artist of renown and occupies the nine slot on the basketball court. The Hilltoppers dropped their opening encounter by a five point margin, following by a scoring 10-minute sprint.

Coeur d'Alene's Fraser will also bring an experienced Coeur City team to Stambaugh Saturday night. The Lake county five, which completed last year's matriculation of play, opened its season last week by defeating Brimley.

The Miners have been outperforming this week, especially on passing drills and shooting in games. In these departments, excellent in the first two games. Coeur d'Alene reported Wednesday that it is impossible to judge the results of the time spent on shooting practice until Friday and Saturday nights. On their jaunt to the western end of the Peninsula, the Miners hit an only 20 per cent of their attempts from the field at Ironwood and 23 per cent at Bessemer, as compared with 33 per cent for the Red Devils and 39 per cent for the Speed Boys.

Fraser indicated Wednesday that his starting five will be dependent on whether or not Bill Corkin's injured knee sustains an improvement. In the event he is ready to go, Corkin will be paired at the forward post with Mattson, while Thompson will occupy the pivot position, and the starting centermen of the guard posts will be handled by Rivers and Otto. If Corkin is unavailable for duty, he will be replaced by Telo.

Tuition fees and other charges paid by students at the University of Michigan and Michigan College have doubled in recent years. Whereas students paid 20 per cent of the U of M operating costs in 1929, students today pay double that amount—40 per cent, said Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, in a conference with Gov. C. Mennen Williams at Lansing. Dr. John A. Hannah told MRH he pointed out that Michigan colleges are now competing with other universities for state aid in a way that results in less state aid than in the increasingly reluctant to appropriate state funds for colleges in general. He said that state aid is not increased to finance higher education adequately. If college fees are increased further, only privileged groups will have advantages of education, the two college presidents warned.

One of the best things to hit the Michigan conservation movement in many years is the state park program performed by inmates from Michigan prisons. A ski run and winter sports improvements are being completed at the Porcepung Mountain State Park near Ontonagon. Construction is being pushed also at the Tahquamenon State Park in the Upper Peninsula. State recreation areas are being benefited by work programs. Kim Slighter, still car-free and an aviation enthusiast, is not a possible candidate for republican nomination of governor in 1950. Interviewed recently by reporters, Slighter replied: "Why should I run for public office? I'm 35, having a good time and free to take any new case I want or fly my plane where I want, when I want." Slighter recommended that republicans make an issue of the C. I. O. "control" of the state democratic party.

Do Christmas Mailing Early, Avoid Standing In Line, Postmaster Advises

"If you wish to avoid standing in line and insure delivery of your packages and greeting cards by December 21, then do your Christmas mailing early," said the postmaster, Mr. J. T. Newell, who is in charge of the office. Postmaster Michael Shinnick issued Gwinn residents this week.

There is evidence that the Christmas volume of mail is heavier than in any year before, postal authorities officials are advising the Gwinn postmaster and they are emphasizing in addition to an early mailing, the use of mail boxes and placement of zone numbers on all mail sent to larger cities to expedite delivery.

Other ways in which Gwinn residents can facilitate mailing are by sending packages in bulk, delivery or special handling, by handling in cards and parcels in bundles, sorting the cards before to pre-manage destination and placing them with the address slip up, and by checking on the weight and the growth of large packages before presenting them for mailing.

Christmas Club Checks Mailed Gwinn Residents

Checks totaling $6,748 were mailed yesterday afternoon to the residents, who participated in the 1949 Christmas Club program, Harry Knutson, bank cashier, has revealed.

"Want a BILL?" is a familiar cry these days around our high schools. And youngsters will dash across the street to buy into the act. They will stop in the middle of the street to pick up newspapers and many a youngster may be seen standing in the street talking to the driver.

All these signals of a new school term mean added caution on the part of every driver. They mean slowing down when approaching a school zone, a constant lookout for the boy or girl who may cross the street without stopping to look for you.

Of course, our youngsters should be careful — it is your duty as a parent to caution them against such dangerous actions. But it is also your duty to keep in mind that these children, with the excitement of being young school and all the new activities, are just to be handled. So it is up to you to keep them safe.

Not only our schools, but the city playgrounds, youth centers, bowling alleys, theaters — all these locations should be "slow down — watch out" zones for every driver. Be careful and give the kids a "Break" — save yourself from the tragedy that comes from knowing you've killed or injured a child!

Fire, caused by electric light wires, caused quite a little damage to the Silver Hotel on Monday afternoon. The blaze would have been decidedly more serious had it occurred during the night, for in this case it was discovered promptly and given immediate attention. The wrapping off of the insulation of the live wires leading to Peter Inoumami's store in the sixth building was the immediate cause of the fire.

The deer season closed Tuesday and from all accounts the kill this year in Marquette county has been even better. Frederick Tromp, who spent the Thanksgiving vacation on Grand Island, returned with two deer, which he killed himself. Charles Kripotnick, Walter Hanson, J. J. Hauserman and Arthur Primman returned empty handed. Couldn't even buy one! Fred J. LaCombe and Julius Johnson went down to Lathrop's Thanksgiving morning and returned by the night train with a deer each and a bunch of rabbits. Some say they purchased the rabbits, others say they were given to them by the deer thrown in. C. L. Stearns is credited with killing a yearling during the season which weighed just six pounds when dropped. He mistook it for a Jack rabbit.

Thanksgiving seems to begin a season of special excitement—of added bustle and social activities—and of increased traffic on every road and highway.

On the highways you'll find the families who are "leaving home" for the Thanksgiving . . . you'll find the shoppers—housewives who are buying extra quantities for the big feast, and those who are home for the season and early Christmas shoppers. All these are indications that you, as a driver, must "slow down" and watch, every second, the unexpected car which may dart out from a parking place, or you swiftly on the highway.

Caution: The driving members of your family to take extra precautions throughout the holiday season. Discuss the need for pedestrian safety, too, with every member in your family. Remind the youngsters to cross at the crosswalks, to watch for coming cars. Yes . . . and emphasize that you, with your wife and older children, too, it's surprising how many of us become more careless in the excitement of coming holidays.

Make sure that "Thanksgiving" actually means a day of three for your family—a day when you can well afford your baby to see off your family . . . a day when you're recreational, not over-careless in causing an accident or illness a child . . . or a day when you're pleading to the hospital because of some other driver's careless driving. Drive safely—to save lives and make the coming holiday season really joyous!

It's all so important! Remember! You're really joyous!

The proposed statement of the board containing factual background was not released in either the press or read by members of the citizens committee, as when Miss Johnson was queried by President Daniel J. Victors over Harlan Parochial and Chassell in its first two starts the St. Paul High School football team will be seeking its third consecutive win Saturday night, when the Emeralds travel to Laurium to meet Sacred Heart. Little is known of the strength of the Copper Country quint, but the Parochial basketball team, having lost to Laurium in their first two games, the ball handling and shooting from the floor of the Catholic looked sharp in their first two outings, and as a result, emphasis in practice this week has been on correcting defensive lanes which appeared in the Chassell game and ball shooting. The Parochials appeared particularly weak on offense in both the Harlan and Chassell hits.

Coach Dick Follis will only be the more alert as lineups that he has used successfully in two previous seasons with Brown and

Inflate Your Shape

HOME SEWING can be fun with the help of this new inflatable dress form. You can shape the form to be practically a replica of your self; a little padding here and there does the trick. This dress form model comes in standard sizes from 18 to 20 and unlike most forms some adjustment in size can be made by regulating the amount of air used. The waistline can be adjusted with a tape and basic proportions can be controlled by fitting your own bra under the form. After fitting and draping work there are tapes to which material can be pinned. When not in use the form can be deflated to fit in a small space such as the sewing machine drawer. It weighs less than one pound and is easy to keep clean by merely wiping with a damp cloth. Stains are electronically sealed in order to insure complete air-tightness.

In addition to deaerating the form has other uses. It serves as an ideal hanger for a freshly pressed dress or formal gown since it is unrumpled and in perfect condition until it is to be worn. It can also serve as a dryer for sweaters and washable frocks.

This season's clothes are certainly for talk as well as for wear. What woman hasn't heard about Jacques Fath's dresses with their asymmetrical lines and geometric folds. Gloria's "Cork" knit (kilo) alouettes and petal skirts are startling, some breath-taking — all provoke comment. In addition to the silhouette styles, materials are extremely elegant. An octon on a net, two favours are combed. Velvet touches on pockets and collar. Linings of fur. Sails on wool. Tulle panels over crepe. It's all very hot.

For the town-and-country set, high style and variety also reign. Heavy tweed suits have nipped-in waistlines and colorful, pointed-toe shoes. The classic wool dress wears a high-standing collar with cuffs, and sometimes pockets to match. You'll also see tweed coming out in courtier's styled dresses.

More than ever, separates are standing up in their own right.

as warlike "musks." No simple jackets over collared shirts. Jersey blouses with chinchilla skirts. There's perfect trimmings—folds and just right for the show-stopping. By mixing and matching, an ingenious woman can have several stunning outfits.

A friend of mine took an old wool jacket and dyed it a steaming shade of brown. (If you try this, be careful to use aluminum dye so that will take effect on a rayon lining as well as the wool.) Jean then proceeded to make a waist by cutting off the sleeves and shaping the bottom like a smart vest. Believe me, it's the cutest thing I've seen. She wears it with a long sleeved yellow blouse top, a green pleated skirt, and new necktie with "waxlike" to wear them under suits with a silk skirt tucked accoutrements around the neck. This is ideal if you're a "cold baby" or get tired of the blouse routine.
