First Quarter Report Shows City Operating Condition Good

Total cost of financing the City of Negaunee during the first three months of 1955 was $195,246.68, according to the quarterly budget summary and expense report of City Manager George E. Melochik Jr. for the period ending March 31.

Expenditures complied by the city Manager included $134,650 charged against the general fund, $40,623.57 for the electric fund, $10,274.73 for gas and warehouse, $15,150.83; Police department, $11,852.86; garbage collection, $8,084.41; fire department, $8,844.00, and capital outlay for equipment, $8,460.44.

In the electric utility, the principal item of expense was the purchase of power purchased, which amounted to $31,148.40 for the three month period. In addition to the cost of purchasing power an additional $1,089.64 was required for distribution of it.

Power and pumping were the leading costs in the water utility, amounting to $6,700.33. The transmission and distribution expense in the water utility totaled $1,802.43.

Total appropriation for the general fund for 1955 was $526,690.26, and after deducting first quarter expenditures there remains in the fund a balance of $35,954.31.

$307,097.38 in general property taxes and $24,247.83 in state aids. Electric utility revenues totaled $46,030.67, with the principal sources consisting of residential lighting amounting to $37,084.47 and commercial and industrial lighting in the amount of $10,946.47.

Water utility receipts were $11,781.45. Of this amount, $6,218.32 was realized from metered and fire rate sales, while there was an additional income of $1,700 in hydrant rentals.

Cost of operating the electric utility exceeded the income by approximately $5,000, but the water utility which has been run in the municipal ledgers over the years, showed a profit for the quarter of $1,112.

Wangberg; secretary, Roy Brown; treasurer, Don Digliera; Inler guard, Robert Matison; Iner guard, Robert and chaplain, Randolph Johnson.

School Bands Perform Here On Saturday

Approximately 1,200 musicians representing 22 Northern Michigan High schools will participate here Saturday in the annual Upper Peninsula Band Festival, which Negaunee will entertain for the first time.

Center of activity will be Negaunee High School auditorium and Memorial Gymnasium, and the bands will perform for critics Saturday morning and part of the afternoon. The gymnasium will also be the scene of the massed band concert at eight o'clock Saturday evening.

Each of the units will play three selections for adjudicators during the day starting at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The bands are not entered in competition with one another and ratings by adjudicators are intended to show the strong and weak points of each organization and aid directors in improving them.

Outstanding students from each school will take part in the massed concert Saturday, which highlights the festival. Each of the instructors selected 17 students whose names were forwarded to the massed band committee. This group then formed the 125 piece band on the basis of ability and instrumentation to complete the ensemble.

Residents of this area may hear bands perform during the day free of charge, but there will be an admission fee for the Saturday night concert, which is used to help defray festival expenses.

Dates for the drive to rid the municipality of debris and rubbish that accumulates during winter months, were set on recommendations of city officials who suggested the campaign to hold during the second week of May.

Resolution Honors Local Cage Squad

Received here Wednesday by school officials, Coach Harry Sorri and members of his basketball squad were commended by a resolution paying tribute to a Negaunee High for winning the Upper Peninsula Class B basketball championship, passed by the Michigan House of Representatives.

Introduced by Representative Dominic Jacobetti, Negaunee resident, who was elected to the legislature last fall, the resolution set follows:
Whereas, Negaunee High School won the Upper Peninsula Class B championship in basketball competition; and

Whereas, The basketball team of Negaunee High School won the Upper Peninsula Class B championship under the excellent coaching of Harry Sorri; therefore be it resolved that the members of the basketball team of Negaunee High School who were the spirit of team play which characterized their efforts from

It was pointed out that to do a thorough job in one week's time is essential residents to be able to get out into their yards, pick up the debris and place it in the alleys for collection at a designated time. Weather conditions generally do not permit such a program until about the first week in May, and to avoid duplication in the city-wide cleanup, it was suggested that the official city campaign take place during the second week of the school auditorium.

Appointed by Dorote Rosa, N. P. A. president to supervise the Clean Up drive, in addition to the chairman were the following members: William C. Manager George E. Melochik Jr. and members of the committee: Stuart Perlin, Dan Symons, A. K. Richards, Negaunee High School and members of the staff of St. Paul's High School.

Participation in the project will be under the direction of school officials in public schools and under the direction of city manager and superintendent will supervise the part of the municipal work on the program.

Members of the sponsoring committee will meet early next week to work out details regarding publicizing the campaign and the actual mechanical work.

"We hope at this meeting to come up with some new ideas for the benefit of the city," suggested members from business men on the way to the meeting. "We can improve it," the chairman said.

Last campaign last year was good enough to win its first place national recognition as the cleanest city of its size in the United States, but having won the title it makes one job just that much tougher this year.

"In order to repeat this honor, which is a rare accomplishment, we must develop new methods and techniques in improving final results and we are open to any and all suggestions from the public," the chairman said.

Resolving to end, and all the squad, Robert Herman, Richard Lukason, David Gilbert, Stan Bonham, James Gervin, James Lahtinen, Robert Laitala, Wm. Mitchell and Jerry Johnson, Roger Jennings and Wm. Melochik were thanked for a job well done; now therefore be it resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this group be invited to congratulate Coach Harry Sorri and the basketball team of Negaunee High School winning the Upper Peninsula Class B championship, and be it further

Plans Made For Summer Recreation

With a recreation survey, authorized by the Negaunee City Council and Board of Education, now scheduled to begin until next week, school board members have completed plans to sponsor a summer program that will include activities carried on in previous years.

City Manager George E. Moholic, Jr., has been invited by the National Association that its representative will arrive here on April 25 to begin a study on the area and facilities phase of the program.

Charles Reed, head of the Recreation Association field department, informed the manager that when this phase of the study has been completed John Collier and an assistant will arrive here about June 1 to initiate work on other parts of the survey.

Reed pointed out that in initiating the survey at this time, members of his staff would have an opportunity to see something of the outdoor program here for the spring and summer months.

Authorization for the study was given about a year ago by both the Board of Education and City Council with the understanding that the two governing bodies would share expenses of the project.

When a request was made of the National Recreation Association to send experts to Negaunee for this purpose, the governing bodies here were informed that because the Association staff was limited and requests for its assistance were so numerous, it would probably be a year before men would be available.

Board of Education members in discussing the annual program for this summer were of the opinion that arrangements could not be delayed until results of the survey were available.

Supv. E. W. Born has been authorized to go ahead with plans for the usual type of summer programs, which includes employment of a man playground director and a woman to assist him. Students will be hired on a part-time basis who will be in charge of the program. The program will include full use of facilities at the playground providing for such activities as softball, baseball, tennis, volleyball and other sports, plus the classes or beginning and advanced swimmers at Champion Beach.

Hatmaking at Home Easy; Wayne U. Professor Tells How to Do-It-Yourself

Elsa Koskinen, Wayne University home economics professor, explains to Laura Elford (right), College of Nursing freshman from Flint, that an ordinary household pan can be used to make hats at home. Miss Koskinen demonstrates her technique in Wayne's educational film, "Hats For You."

If you need a new hat for that important party or club meeting, stop shopping and make it yourself, says Miss Elsa Koskinen, associate professor of home economics at Wayne University.

No special equipment is needed, she explains. Original chinopans can be created on such common household items as pots and bowls. Scraps of leftover fabric will convert your old fishing hat into a stylish sailor for Mom.

Miss Koskinen advises beginners to start with classic designs, such as the pillbox and sailor, varying them in interpretation with fabric and trim.

She suggests the following types of basic materials for the amateur: an old felt or straw hat or a commercial hat frame made of balsa-wood. The first step is the blocking of the hat.

If using an old felt or straw hat: Wash, then steam in hot water. Squeeze out excess moisture and pull over desired shape to dry. (Use bowl, pan or suitable substitute.)

Remove and out-base to desired contour. Attach pins wire to edge with overcast stitch. Then bind with ribbon or bias strip of fabric.

Different separations are involved when using a balsa-wood base: Pan a 12-inch square of balsa-wood, through, enter quickly to avoid losing too much of the lining.

Put over desired shape to dry, twisting corners of square so that bias stress will absorb the fullness.

Secure the material to form with rubber band or other means and remove. Cut base to desired contour; overcast wire to edge; bind with bias strip; and stretch covering fabric over frame, pinning in position. (Knots or fray-type fabrics cover the frame smoothly because they stretch easily.)

Bring covering fabric over edge and inside frame. Stitch in position.

Numerous covering or trimming materials are available for adding special touches. Miss Koskinen says: Commercial flowers, costume jewelry, beads, buttons, lace doilies, a cut-out felt flower can all be used liberally.

Wayne University's visual-aids department has produced a 15-minute, 16-mm., color-sound film during Miss Koskinen, entitled "Hats for You," which gives step-by-step instructions for hobbyists. Millinery Groups interested in renting the film may write the Visual-Aids Unit, Utilization Department, Wayne University, Detroit, for information. Rental fee is $2.

City Council Asks Data On Ferry Plan

To aid council members in deciding what action to take on the proposed Menominee-Frankfort ferry service, which Negaunee has been asked to co-fund, representatives of the Menominee Ferry committee have been invited to appear at the next meeting of the municipal governing body. City Manager George E. Moholic, Jr. has revealed.

Appearance of the Menominee representatives results from letters sent by the committee to Negaunee and other municipalities in the Upper Peninsula requesting their aid in the Menominee-Frankfort program for which boats now in use at the Straits of Mackinac would be utilized, once the new bridge is completed.

The Negaunee council accepted and placed on the original list of the committee, which is composed of Menominee City and Chamber of Commerce officials.

In a second letter, read at the April council meeting, Mayor James A. Spivey of Menominee, pointed out that groups in Lower Michigan, including the Michigan Boat Club, are proposing the boats be used between Michigan and Wisconsin points, or Michigan and Illinois communities, thus diverting further tourist traffic away from the Upper Peninsula. It is therefore necessary that the Upper Peninsula be able to use the strength for the purpose of protecting its vital interest in the matter, Mayor Spivey wrote.

To obtain a complete picture of the proposed ferry service, particularly with reference to economic factors involved and whether all Michigan taxpayers would be expected to share in the costs, the Menominee committee is being invited to appear at the next meeting before the City Council takes action on the matter. City Manager Moholic stated.

YOU CAN FIX IT

The first step in replacing the old screening in your door and window screens is to remove the moldings so that you can get at the lathes that hold the old screening in place. You will want to use a sharp knife because it is particularly easy to avoid splintering them. Use a sharp knife to cut the paint seal between molding and frame. Using an old chisel or a putty knife as a lever, loosen and remove the molding starting at the center and working toward each end. Always apply the pressure under a brad, and raise the molding evenly a little at a time, along its entire length.

When you replace the molding, drive the new brads through the holes, unless the lathes have been too much enlarged. Planetary bands with a call set will fill the holes over the heads with Finest Wood Finishing Compound to fill any other holes and smooth the surface of the molding where they join at the corners.

It is important to get the right kind of lathes to fit into the new screening. Not all moldings go along well with each other. Use copper lathes with aluminum screening, or aluminum lathes with plastic screening with copper lathes. Fasten covering with plastic screening with copper lathes with aluminum and steel screening.

Studying Script For Operetta

Rehearsals are underway by members of the Negaunee Women's Choral Club in preparation for the organization's annual spring production, which this year will be an operetta entitled "The Fortune Teller".

Pictured above as they went over the script this week with Miss Berlyng Miller, who is in charge of direction for speaking parts, are the three leads, Mrs. Norman Stansbury, Jr., Mrs. Peter Nora and Mrs. S. J. Bessolo.

Separate practices are being held by members having speaking parts and those taking part in the various musical or dance routines, while still another group is busy working on costumes for the production.

Directing the singing roles and chorus numbers for the operetta, which will be presented May 18 and 19, is Mrs. Jean Sundquist, choral club director.

Miss Miller is serving her first year as instructor in senior English as a specialist at Negaunee High School. After graduating from East Central College at Ada, Oklahoma, where she majored in speech and minored in English, Miss Miller taught for two years in Dalhart, Texas, and later was on the faculty at Hudson, Kansas, before coming to Negaunee.

She spent one year and two summer terms at the State University of Iowa, where she did graduate work in the educational theatre under Dr. Edward C. Malone. She has appeared in productions of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" and "Romeo and Juliet" and was assistant director of the production, "Julius Caesar." She also worked as an assistant in the summer work shop at the State University.

In addition to her teaching duties at Negaunee, Miss Miller coaches the debate team. She is director of the first literary club and a group to perform in the Upper Peninsula High School Play Festival.

Bright Comfort For The Home

Any mother with playful, active youngsters scampering through the house will find this multi-colored tweed wool carpet a great boon.

Easy to keep clean, this textured soft floor covering does not show soil and "camouflages" any spots that might occur. Also, with the variety of colors that go into the weave, the tweed simplifies the housewife's depressing problem. Concern over color matching is greatly diminished since this carpet harmonizes with practically any room scheme.

The tweeds are typical of the many new carpets available this Spring. Patterns have come to the fore again not only in tweeds, but in irregular striped designs and even plaids. Carpet makers say that never before has there been such a wide assortment of patterns, colors, textures and weaves in the stores as there are this season. The stage-wise homemaker will also be happy to learn that these carpets can be purchased at almost any price and with ease.

Once Spring cleaning is out of the way, housewives like the mother shown here should start thinking about the many new carpets now available and what they can mean to her home and family.

The sound of little feet tramping across the floor are almost completely muffled by carpet which absorbs sounds, and cuts down noise severely "construction" problem with the blocks, without worrying about slipping in the soles.

She will find that besides offering eye appeal and beauty, wall-to-wall carpets and room-size rugs in wool, cotton, man-made fibers or blends are easy to clean, and cover scuffing, worn or scratched wood floors.

Two residents and one organization from this area will be honored Saturday night when Negaunee Eagles, Aerie 1044, holds its second annual award dinner at 6:30 in the Eagles clubrooms.

Presentation of awards to individuals or groups for outstanding community service in various lines was initiated last year by the Negaunee lodge in conjunction with a program that is carried on the Fraternal Order of Eagles national organization.

One award was presented at the first dinner with Oral J. LaCombe, Jr., receiving a citation for outstanding civic service during 1953.

Bright Do-It-Yourself Idea For Spring

Old nylon stockings become gorgeous gay toppers on Spring season of Daphne Doré, TV actress.

You can easily put an extra touch of individuality into your Spring costume by trimming your hats with lovely, colorful flowers made from discarded nylon. It's loads of fun—and money-saving, too.

To create a floral top, you'll need only some color remover and all-fabric dye, strands of copper screening, floral tans, colored crochet cotton, paraffin—all inexpensive and readily obtainable at stores in your community. A pair of scissors, the usual tinting vessels and a heating unit for the dye bath are all the equipment needed.

Since the flowers will last for years, you can remove them from the hat later and use them for corsages or as decorations for your hair, wrist, dresses, suits or outerwear.

You can get a free booklet of instructions from Tintex Home Economics Bureau, 485 Fifth Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

This year the lodge will present three awards, which are as follows:

Community Achievement Award, presented to the individual who does an outstanding job of providing inspiration for others in surmounting a physical handicap.

Civic service award, made in recognition of contributions to the welfare of the entire community.

Good Neighbor award, presented to a civic or fraternal group for its contributions to the welfare of the community.

Although winners of the three awards have already been determined by the committee appointed to select recipients, their names will not be announced until the night of the dinner.

Tickets for the affair, which is open to the public, may be obtained at the Eagles club rooms or from members of the lodge.

Piano Students Present Annual Recital Sunday

Piano students of Mrs. Bernice Williams from Negaunee and Ishpeming will present a program at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Mitchell Methodist church Sunday School rooms.

Negaunee students participating include Dean DeLongchamp, Louise Holmstrom, Andrea Hemmilla, Grace Warren, Susan Hill, Bobbie Sue DeLongchamp, Judith Jensen, Dorothy Warren, Barbara Veit and Donna Bralley, Helen Rivers, Marilyn Rogers and Peggy Thompson.

There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

SURRENDERS GAVEL — Oral J. LaCombe Jr., right, retiring as head of the Negaunee Elks, turns the gavel over to his successor, James Domperre, new exalted ruler.

Music Department Of Host Band Festival School

Growth Of Program Here Remarkable

"Musical hath charms" is an old adage, and, if true, Negaunee High School students are gaining in this quality every year, for enrollments this year in the music department are the largest in school history.

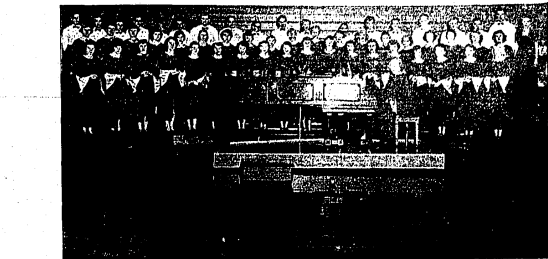

From a voluntary theatre orchestra, 30 or more years ago the music program has developed to a point where more than half of the entire student body is receiving music instruction every day in one of five organizations, which form a part of the regular school curriculum.

Beginning of a music program in the high school was in the field of vocal music, where Rosa Marden was the first instructor. Three organizations were formed, a boys glee club, girls glee club, and mixed chorus, and this program continues in the mid 20's under direction of Dorothy Engstrom who succeeded Mrs. Mardon.

During these years the vocal groups completed with considerable success in the Upper Peninsula high school contests which were held every year.

Highlight of the program was the annual operetta, and older students still recall with a thrill such outstanding productions as "The Belle of Barcelona" and "Tulip Time in Holland."

To provide music between acts of the operettas, Mrs. Marden and Miss Engstrom had formed what were known as theatre orchestras and these groups were the forerunners of the instrumental music program that is carried on today.

Negaunee High School Mixed Chorus

He was instrumental in augmenting the music department staff and two additional instructors were engaged, Carl Peterson and Mrs. Jean Sundquist.

Mr. Peterson this year spends his time exclusively with students in elementary schools, and at present is in the midst of preparing for the annual Central Grade School operetta.

Mrs. Sundquist directs all of the vocal music at the higher level, and organizations for which she serves as instructor include the girls chorus, mixed chorus, ale club and triple trio. With an average of better than one out of two students now participating in some form of music, and groups meeting daily for the first time this year, Director Walter Daley feels that the growth in this field is only the beginning — bigger and better things are still in store for the Negaunee High School music department, he believes.

With the engagement of Roy LeMieux in the late 20's as the first full time music director, the instrumental program got underway with organization of orchestra and band. It continued under his successor, R. W. Nordling with some of the groups meeting daily for practice sessions and others holding rehearsals after school one or twice a week.

Enlargement of the program to its present scale started when Walter L. Daley came to Negaunee from Ironwood, where he had gained a reputation as an outstanding band director.

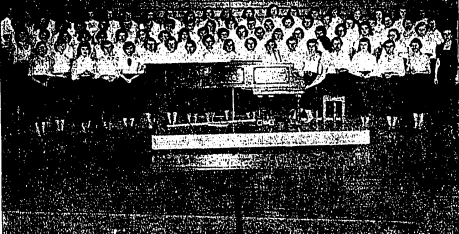

Mr. Daley initiated a program that provided individual instruction for pupils from the Junior High level up, increased the size of both band and orchestra, formed a girls string orchestra, and a school dance band, menting the music department staff and two additional instructors were engaged, Carl Peterson and Mrs. Jean Sundquist.

A striking example of the new type of coasting was found yesterday when Mitko Carao, a young lad whose home is on Clark street, narrowly escaped death under the hoofs of one of Winter & Suesz delivery horses. The boy was coasting on the incline on Kenner street and ran into the delivery rig just as it was coming out of the warehouse yard and at a point where the driver could not see the unassuming coaster until too late. One of the horse's hoofs struck the boy in the head, but after the wound had been dressed at Dr. Robbins' hospital the lad was removed to the family residence and it is not thought any serious consequences will follow.

Adjudicators Named for Band Festival

Adjudicators for the annual Upper Peninsula Band Festival here Saturday will be two members of the University of Michigan School of Music staff, Geo. R. Cavender and Glenn P. Smith. It was announced this week by T. K. Richards, Negaunee High School Principal.

Cavender, assistant director of University bands, has been a member of the Michigan staff since September, 1932. Before accepting the Michigan post, he was director of instrumental music in the Ypsilanti public schools for five years. A native of Wakefield, where he completed his high school education in 1927, Cavender attended Northern Michigan College of Education, receiving his bachelor of science degree in music in 1931. After one year as director of music in the Pigeon Falls schools, he enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1932, in a duty assignment in a band battalion in 1933, 1934. Twenty-nine months of his service were in the Pacific theater.

Following his discharge from the Marine in 1934, he attended the University of Michigan and received a master of music degree in education in 1937.

At Ypsilanti, he developed the boys marching band into one of the top high school units in the state. The drum and bugle corps, while he also directed, received recognition in national competition. Cavender aided in the organization of the Burnhill Memorial band, of Ypsilanti, a city band, serving as its conductor for five years. He also organized the first civic symphony orchestra in Ypsilanti and was a conductor. As assistant director of bands at Michigan he has worked with William D. Rowell in drilling the University marching band, served as assistant conductor of the symphony band, and conductor of the varsity band. He also is a teacher in the wind instrument division of the school of music.

Glenn P. Smith, who is a member of the wind instrument department of the School of Music, was educated at Wheaton College and Northwestern University.

Smith was an Illinois high school chamber orchestra champion in 1929, and won not only state, but national honors in 1930. In the same year and again in 1931 he was selected as the outstanding chamber player at the Chicagoan Music Festival.

Five years ago, Smith was a public school music educator in Kansas and Illinois schools. He joined the University of Michigan faculty as a music instrument instructor in 1930.

Lakeview Principal Gives Report on State Conference

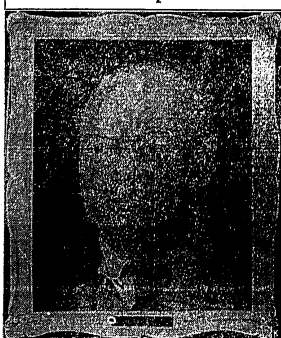

Emphasis was placed on the responsibility of the principal in the improvement of instruction at the annual meeting of Michigan elementary school principals, according to a report on the session by Miss Anna Kivilla, Lakeview principal.

Miss Kivilla's attendance at the session was in line with Board of Education policy which requires that one of the Negaunee elementary school heads attend the meeting each year. Last year, C. V. Hines, Central Grade School principal, was the delegate.

This year's conference was held at Kellogg Center on the Michigan State University campus. Principal speaker was Dr. Harold Spears, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary schools in San Francisco. Dr. Spears spoke on the conference theme and each of the principals present participated in group discussions on Supervision and its relation to the improvement of the elementary school.

More than 1,000 principals are members of the organization, which is a department of the Michigan Education Association. In addition to Miss Kivilla, Miss Helen L. Menze, Iron Mountain, Mrs. Emma O'Brien, L'Anse, and Leon Hank, Bessemer.

Craftsmanship in Wool

This portrait of Sir Winston Churchill, made entirely from wool carpet, has been presented to the Prime Minister by British carpet-makers. It was hand-woven by J. G. S. Varney of London in honor of Sir Winston's 58th birthday. By using high quality worsted carpet yarns in a wide range of colors, Mr. Varney was able to create the wool portrait without resorting to dyeing or tinting.

School Music Program Will Be Continued

Authorization has been granted by the Negaunee Board of Education for continuation of the summer school music program, initiated here last year in connection with the Negaunee High School Diamond Jubilee observance.

Under the direction of Walter Daley, music department supervisor, the program a year ago featured three appearances by the high school band in connection with public events, plus participation in parades at Iron Mountain and the upcoming Centennial.

Board members in sanctioning the summer project as part of the regular music curriculum expressed their approval with results of the program last year.

Daley announced today that without the necessity of preparing for numerous public appearances during the summer months the program will be one devoted largely to starting beginners and strengthening weak sections.

"These are the principal objectives of any good summer school music program," he said, "it gives you an opportunity that is not available during the regular school year to work with your beginning students and concentrate on weak parts of your music units."

"We will provide both individual and group instruction. In addition, I plan to keep both the concert orchestra and junior band active."

As part of the program, there will be at least one concert appearance by the senior band, Daley disclosed. The concert orchestra will continue its rehearsals in preparation for an early fall engagement.

City, Mining Firm Face Road Problem

Both members of the Negaunee City Council and local officials representing the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. are standing pat regarding their decisions pertaining to replacement of a portion of Queen road, which will be closed on June 2 or before.

Difference of opinion arose at the April meeting of the Council when a communication was read from the mining company announcing its intention to close the portion of the Queen road on June 2 in accordance with terms of an easement agreement.

When the communication came up, Mayor Fred Harris requested City Manager George E. Moholick, Jr., to review negotiations that had been underway several months regarding the matter.

The manager reported that the easement is governed by an agreement dating back to August 26, 1941, which provides that Jones & Laughlin can request removal of that portion of the highway covered by the easement, when it interferes with mining operations. He stated the agreement provides, also, that the mining company would grant an alternate right-of-way along the route.

Public Liability Involved

"Last year the pitn was to relocate the existing route from the railroad track, having a new cut there, eliminating a dangerous curve and generally improving and resurfacing the road to the route leading to Buffalo Hill from the "A second route was presented to the council early in 1955, going to Buffalo Hill, running a south-westerly and paralleling the tracks into the location, in attempting to work out considerations of this road, there were matters of a water line, vested interests and a liability provision.

"The first two provisions were resolved, but we were unable to progress on the liability question in the event of a cave-in. I feel that the city should not assume liability in the event of a cave-in, particularly on a public road. We do not know and should not be responsible for that type of action underground. Our final meeting was a hold two days ago and we did not progress any further, because of the particular point of liability."

Queried on what he meant by liability, the manager stated: "The City should not be held responsible in the event of a cave-in, death, or anything of that nature. No one should be responsible for relocating roads if mining operations make it necessary to move again."

In response to the suggestion by the manager, Mayor Fred Harris then invited Robert Braund, manager of the Michigan ore division of Jones & Laughlin, to address the council.

Road Unsafe, Braund Says
"We have come to a stalemate," Braund said, "I have talked with our attorneys and they frankly advise me that action we are taking is merely an implemting of a void agreement now in existence between the city and several companies. "Essentially we are dealing with the problem of entry, and in my judgment the road is not safe. We gave notice to them as to what could and the road will be closed as soon as possible. We have offered the best route we can."

Councilman Linco then inquired: "Is this secondary route you propose over an ore body?"

"Not over, but close to it, about 25 to 30 feet," Braund replied. "You can ask me if it is reasonably safe, but I can't say it is 100 per cent safe, I can't say."

City Attorney Aaron Lowenstein, asked for his viewpoint, said: "The City has a duty to provide safe transportation for its citizens. The Jones & Laughlin company should have the same concern in having safe roads for its employees."

Manager George E. Moholick asked: "On whose shoulders is the responsibility of this road to be?"

"How are the employees of Jones & Laughlin laboratory going to get to work when this road is closed?"

Difficult Problem
"I haven't given that a thought," Braund answered.

"At best, this problem is difficult and at its worst it is impossible," the manager said, "I can't think of a more difficult problem. You can understand both the city's course and the Jones & Laughlin reluctance to build a road. The whole solution lies in obtaining an area where we can provide a road that is safe for all."

Mayor Harris, summing up the matter, stated: "In view of the discussion and obstacles we are faced with, this cannot be decided quickly. I think the people know the full responsibility of which we are working. After all, it is our position, as it is that of Jones & Laughlin, that the first concern of both parties is the safety and interest of the citizens of Negaunee.

Braund, summarizing the company point of view, stated: "By offering the other right-of-way, the company has fully complied with and fully met the requirements of this valid road easement, which was mutually entered into by the city of Negaunee and the fee owners." He said the present road is unsafe, should be closed now, and will be closed on June 2.

That portion of the easement pertaining to the road over which there is disagreement follows: "Whenever it may be required within 90 days from the day said notice is received, remove such right-of-way at his own expense, a sufficient distance, to permit the convenient working and operation of said mine, mines, deposits or deposits of miners, acquiring in lieu of said right-of-way, an abandoned, and thorough easement of said party of the second part in that portion of the above described right-of-way, so abandoned, and thereupon the termination of said notice, fully cease and determine."

The council decided to give the matter more intensive study before taking final action.

MOUNTAIN-CLIMBING INTERNATIONAL trucks, one of which is shown a background below, haul the ore to mills from nearly inaccessible mines. Miners examine ore for yellow streak, proof of uranium.
