North Western May Change Route To Eliminate Negaunee

Possibility that the Chicago and Northwestern Railway may alter its route, resulting in elimination of depot facilities in Negaunee was developed at a special meeting of the City Council, although local representatives of the company this week stated they had received no information regarding such a change. However, railroad engineers are in the area at the present time working on a route survey.

Reports of a route change being considered by the company were divulged at the council meeting when Mayor Fred Harris informed his colleagues and city officials that the North Western had discontinued employing a freight car at the Gold Street crossing.

"According to a company bulletin, trains are now supposed to stop before they cross Gold Street," Mayor Harris said. "With traffic moving up the hill from Gold Street, it is a dangerous crossing, and I believe a check should be taken and then it can be taken care of."

"City Manager George Mchellek, Jr. suggested that perhaps automatic flasher signals should be installed at the crossing with the city and railway participating in the expense, in accordance with a policy outlined in the past.

"I think the railroad would be reluctant to spend money on a new money at this crossing. If it is replied to the manager's suggestion, "as it is rumored the North Western may abandon the Negaunee in Negaunee."

"I have heard the railway may discontinue use of its depot and re-route its track north of Tocal Falls, which would be out of the city. There would be no depot in Negaunee in this case," he said.

"Yes, I have heard that the 400 may be pulled out of Negaunee, and that the new route would be a fair location we are now in the process of building may have been abandoned," Mchellek said, "but these are just rumors."

John Lewis, who was present at the meeting representing people in the Buffalo location, inquired regarding progress on their new road, informed the council of the attending the session because of use rumors.

"We have heard the same talk," he said, "plus stories that a new road may again have been moved because of mining operations, and that's why it is so hard to try and find out if there is any truth to it."

"I can't answer that question publicly," Mayor Harris stated, "but I have been informed that the railroad intends to change its tracks at the Lake from Little Lake, if the North Western didn't

Board Accepts Plaque In Memory of Three Veterans

Members of the Board of Education at their special meeting Monday night accepted a plaque, which was donated to the public schools in memory of three members of the Negaunee High School Class of 1941, who gave their lives in the service of their country in World War I.

Presentation was made at a special meeting of the Board of Education by Ted Loftus, a classmate of the three youths—Robert Farrugh, Robert Hoffman and Stanley Jakkola.

Board members accepted the plaque and voted to hang it in the main lobby of the high school building, the building dedicated to all Negaunee servicemen who gave their lives in conflict in which this country has been engaged.

The plaque is made of copper and mounted in a natural wood frame. The inscription, etched in the copper, reads as follows: "in memory of Herbert Farrugh, Mervyn Robert Hoffman, Stanley Jakkola, Army, who gave their lives in the service of their country." Mounted on the bottom of the frame beneath the inscription are three stars, one for each of the deceased.

In other business at the special meeting, the board approved participation of the high school band in the South Continental parade and held a discussion on the question of including auto mechanics in two courses for the coming school year.

Board members did not favor construction of a building addition to provide facilities for the course, but approved the class, if it should be scheduled in the present building. Mrs. Bill superintendent Ed W. Born informed the board he would call a meeting of industrial arts department instructors and discuss with them the possibility of transferring equipment in the building to fit around rooms available to provide space for auto mechanics.

School Board Approves Budget For Presentation To Taxpayers

Meeting in special session Monday night, members of the Negaunee Board of Education placed their stamp of approval on a 1955-56 budget calling for expenditures totaling $550,000 for presentation to taxpayers at the annual meeting Monday, July 11.

Total budget for the ensuing year amounts to $400,911, only $200 over the budget for the 1954-55 school year ending June 30, which amounted to $352,091.

Despite substantial salary increases for faculty members and a flat hike of $300 for non-teaching personnel, the proposed budget increase is slight, because the board pared considerably the maintenance and improvement program.

There's good news for taxpayers in the budget proposed by Superintendent E. W. Born and adopted for presentation by the board, as it calls for another reduction in millage amounting to 2.8 mills. A decrease of 2 mills is planned in the levy for Lakeland view school bond retirement, from 4.5 mills to 2.5 mills, and one-tenth of a mill is scheduled to be cut from the tax rate for operational purposes.

Total millage for the 1955-56 school year will be 13.5, as compared with 16.1 in 1954-55. In the three years that Superintendent Born has been administrator here, the tax levy for school purposes has been reduced a total of 7.0 mills.

The total operational budget for the ensuing year, which consists of funds available of the 1956 and 1958 debt retirements, is $400,911, an increase of $17,000 approximately over the $476,000 allotted for this purpose last year. Revenues are estimated at $222,236.43 in local taxes based on a valuation of $20,211,676, $38,000 from the state primary fund, $29,100 in state income taxes, $19,938 in state school aid, and $36,000 from tuition.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

If You Can't
Lick 'em—Join 'em

Just back from visiting with my daughter's family—and playing Grandpa to two of the cutest kids you ever saw. While there I picked up a couple of new ideas on child raising:

If your child's learning to use a pen, provide an old fountain pen—filled with bluing. Looks and writes like ink, but won't stain clothes or furniture.

Maybe you have a boy, like my grandson, who thinks he's too old for a bib—but isn't. A big cowboy bandana works just as well, and looks he-man to boot.

From where I sit, getting along with children isn't getting along with grownups—it requires an effort to see things from the other person's point of view. As my age, there's no accounting for taste. Take my neighbor who keeps a margarita and drinks hot coffee in the summertime. That seems strange to me... a man who's partial to bond dog and a cooling glass of beer. But I'd be "childish" to say it was wrong.

Ralph Sheehan Addresses Local Lions Club

Members of the Negaunee Lions Club at their dinner meeting Monday night heard an address by Ralph Sheehan, past director of Lions International.

Sheehan, in a talk on the basic philosophies underlying Lionism, emphasized that the two most important were friendship and the desire to help others.

"Before you can begin to put in force the second philosophy of a service organization you must firmly believe in and practice the first, 'friendship,'" he said.

"Each of you in this new organization must learn to really know the next man, to call him by his first name, to overlook his shortcomings and appreciate his abilities. To establish a business, to establish a firm, to establish a partnership, it is necessary that the petty jealousies and bickerings be eliminated," Sheehan added.

The second philosophy, the former director pointed out, is of paramount importance in a service club, because in order to serve others you must have the desire to help them.

Son of Former Residents Dies In Auto Crash

James Mars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mars, former local residents, was killed in an automobile crash occurring near Osseo, Wis., early Tuesday morning.

Born Nov. 11, 1929 in Osseo, Mars attended high school in Osseo, and graduated June 5, 1933, from State Teachers College in Eau Claire, Wis. Prior to attending college, Mars spent two years in the service.

He is survived by his parents, his mother being the former Vera Hyvonen, Negaunee; one sister, two sons, Mrs. Earl Erickson, Alpena, and Mrs. Dan Mathews, St. Ignace; four nieces and several cousins.

The Mars family lived in Negaunee 20 years ago.

Following the talk by Sheehan, a business meeting of the board of directors was held, and tentative plans were made for the Negaunee Club charter night, scheduled for Aug. 6.

City Financial Picture Good, Melchick Says

Although expenses for new equipment have been heavy and new employees were given salary increases, the City of Negaunee at the end of May was in better financial condition than at the end of 1934, according to George E. Melchick Jr., informed Council members at a public meeting in the school summary report for the second quarter.

Melchick revealed that during the first five months of 1935 the city had received $200,000 in taxes as compared with $205,563.81 for a similar period a year ago, an increase of approximately $42,000.

"This increase," he said, is largely the result of salary hikes for employees totaling $18,000, purchase of new equipment and the electric utility amounting to $19,000 but purchase of a new bus for a cost of $8,000.

"Nevertheless," he added, "we are stronger financially now than we were at this time last year. The city's revenues during the first five months of 1935 totaled $1,375,511. In comparison is $1,014,434, a gain of approximately $322,000."

"On the basis of this increased earnings and heavy equipment increases and made these purchases at a net cost of approximately $100,000 to the city. Increase have been evident in all three funds, the general, light and water."

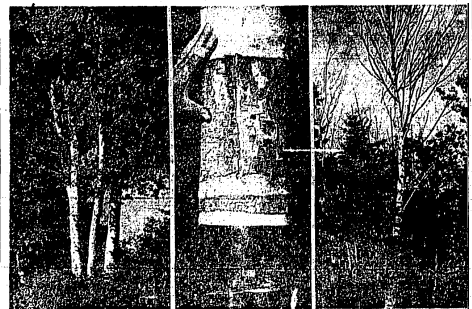

Melchick called attention of the governing body to the fact that the heating plant was in such condition that he believed it would not serve through another winter, pointing out it was over 40 years old.

He advocated that before Council seek bids on installation of new heating facilities, a heating engineering firm be employed to make a study of city hall heating requirements and draw up plans and specifications which could be used in obtaining bids on the cost of installing a new plant.

The Council accepted his recommendation and authorized him to obtain quotations from heating engineers refraining the cost of a survey. In other instances on the agenda the governing body approved the dance limitation ordinance in its third reading and set July 1 as the effective date of the new ruling banning dancing in places where prohibited beverages are sold to the general public.
