MILLIKEN TO STOP BRIEFLY IN COUNTY ON SWING THRU U.P.

Governor Milliken will be visiting the Upper Peninsula. He is expected to arrive at the Ontonagon County Airport at 8:10 a.m. on Friday, March 17, 1978.

From the airport, he will visit in Ontonagon for at least thirty minutes and then proceed to White Pine. He is expected at the Konteka at 10:00 a.m. He is expected to stay at the Konteka for at least thirty minutes and then proceed to Ironwood.

This will be an opportunity to discuss with the Governor various problems of the area. As you know, after our case was presented to the Governor, he did declare Ontonagon County as Economic Disaster Area. Action on this declaration is now up to the Small Business Administration.

Everyone is welcome to meet and greet the Governor on March 17, 1978 at 10:00 A.M.

MACK BILL AIMED AT AIDING LOGGING INDUSTRY

Lansing - A bill described by Sen. Joe Mack as "the only hope for salvation of the woods industry in the U.P.," was recently introduced in Lansing.

In introducing the legislation, Mack said those in the logging industry are compelled to pay $34.50 per $100 in wages for those employed within the industry.

Mack feels the bill (SB 1360) will ease this burden. The bill states that worker's compensation rates within the logging industry should receive the same consideration as the foundry industry.

He stated that when the automobile industry was in jeopardy because of exorbitant worker's compensation rates for auto-connected foundries, the state stepped in with legislation to help out.

"What's good enough for the automobile industry should be good enough for the logging industry," Mack said.

He said that nowhere in the nation are worker's compensation rates so arbitrary and discriminatory. Rates for Wisconsin woods operations are over 100 percent less.

The senator cited proposed mill expansions in the western end of the Upper Peninsula, which could provide many more jobs within the industry.

JACOBETTE SAYS HE'LL BE GOV OF 51ST STATE

Lansing - The on-again, off-again move to turn Michigan's Upper Peninsula into the 51st state is on again, and this time supporters have the backing of a U.P. lawmaker.

Rep. Dominic Jacobetti was to introduce a bill today to allow the U.P. to break away from the rest of the state and seek its own statehood.

"The people downstate want to get rid of us and we want to leave. We're tired of getting jazzed around by the governor of this state," the Negaunee Democrat said Wednesday.

The measure would allow U.P. residents to decide via referendum whether the region should form a separate state, a move which Jacobetti predicted "is going to happen. I'm serious about this."

State Attorney General Frank Kelley has ruled the U.P. could legally withdraw from the rest of the state but only with the approval of residents of the region and the Legislature.

Secession would reduce the area to the status of a territory. Kelley said in his opinion. Before that territory could become a state, it would be required to adopt its own constitution and apply to Congress for admission.

The feud between the upper and lower parts of the state is nothing new, and U.P. lawmakers have threatened to secede in the past. Lawmakers in the less populous U.P., where about 300,000 of the state's nine million residents live, argue that they get the short end of the stick on most pieces of

"The people downstate are greedy and want everything for themselves. They don't want to give us anything," Jacobetti, chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, said.

Jacobetti added that the state should be known as "Superior" and that he already has figured out who the governor should be. "I would, naturally," he said.

COAL STRIKE NOT ENDED YET

Washington, D.C. - While President Carter gets set to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act in his effort to reopen the nation's mines, the coal miners themselves spent the week-end trooping in and out of union halls, casting the votes that turned thumbs down on the last ditch coal contract that was to have ended the strike of three months.

The strikers have survived the three-month work stoppage because of cooperation in part by local business and trade people. Merchants hold special sales and extend credit, banks grant long-term loans and townspenons extend various forms of aid. The miners have also up till now been eligible for food stamps through the federal program. However, if the President invokes the Taft-Hartley Act and the miner's refuse to return to work, that aid would cease.

Even if the contract vote had gone the other way it would have been weeks before the first trainloads of coal would have left the coal fields. Much will depend on the state of the mines when work is resumed according to one spokesman.

A government official said that Carter had not ruled out asking Congress for authority to seize the mines. Union President Arnold Miller has said that such an action would "cause some violence in the coalfields."

Energy Secretary James Schlesinger said that up to 3 1/2 million persons could be out of work by late April if the strike were to last that long because of the increasing effect the lack of coal supplies is having on the rest of the economy.

In Michigan Gov. Milliken says even greater efforts by state residents to conserve energy could stave off the probability of rotating two-hour blackouts throughout the state that has been suggested as likely to occur in several weeks if coal supplies have not resumed.

DONATIONS CONTINUE FOR RATE HIKE INTERVENTION

Ontonagon - The Ontonagon Township Board has received a large donation from Calumet Township and the promised appropriation from Ontonagon County to be used in the rate intervention case of the Upper Peninsula Power Company.

According to Fred Glaser, Ontonagon Township Clerk, Calumet Township in Houghton County donated $1,000 to be used in the case and joins eight other public bodies in an intervention to prevent the proposed rate increase of 14.4 percent for the power company. Glaser said that the total amount received, although more money has been pledged, is $4,565 to date.

Allen R. Briggs, attorney for the intervenors, said matching funds will be sought from the state attorney general to fight the case.

Briggs added that a hearing on the petition to intervene will be held on Tuesday, March 7, in Lansing. Public meetings on the proposed rate increase will be held in Houghton March 14. Briggs said that on April 4 proofs and testimony in the case will be taken. He said that Tuesday he will ask the Public Service Commission to hold the Apr 4 session in the Upper Peninsula. He added that if this request is denied and a large crowd is on hand for the March 14th hearing he will ask that the proceedings be held in the U.P. because of the substantial interest of the people.

CARP LAKE BOARD - LL&E TALK ABOUT HOSPITAL'S FUTURE

The Carp Lake Township Board met with representatives of Louisiana Land & Exploration, White Pine Copper Division, Copper Range Company, and the LaCroix Hospital to discuss the possibilities of the township assuming the operation of the LaCroix Hospital. Various alternatives were also received.

It is hoped to study the above concept immediately and to present the issue to the citizens of Carp Lake Township for their study and consideration in the near future.

The followings the fifth in a series of weekly articles prepared by The Citizens Committee For Better Government, Inc. as a public service for our readers. In the first four articles appearing in this paper forty three of the fifty or more civil, noncriminal duties of the Prosecuting Attorney were outlined. Other duties in numerical sequence are continued in this article.

DUTIES OF THE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY -- PART V

44) Role In Filling Vacancies in County Offices - The Prosecuting Attorney, together with the County Clerk and the Judge of Probate, have authority to fill vacancies in county offices (other than their own). This includes authority to fill vacancies in the office of the Sheriff, Register of Deeds, Drain Commissioner, County Treasurer, County Surveyor (member of County Board of Auditors, where same exists), Coroner or Medical Examiner. When these appointments are made to fill vacancies they are made to apply to the balance of the unexpired term. Some question has arisen as to the power of the Prosecuting Attorney, County Clerk and the Judge of Probate to fill vacancies in the Board of County Commissioners where there is no quorum possible or where all positions in the Board of County Commissioners are vacant.

45) Proceedings To Bring In A Confined Witness - The Prosecuting Attorney may bring proceedings for a Writ of Habeas Corpus to bring in a witness for testimony who is confined in any jail or prison within the state.

46) Representing The County and State in Appeals - Whether it be a civil or criminal case the Prosecuting Attorney represents the county and the state in appeals from the Circuit Courts to the Courts of Appeal and to the Supreme Court. This is true, even though theoretically the state is represented by the Attorney General through the office of the Solicitor General. Due to the considerable number of criminal appeals brought on behalf of indigent (poor) defendants, at the expense of the taxpayers and because the Solicitor General has a limited staff a heavy degree of the burden, particularly in criminal cases is imposed upon and borne by the Prosecuting Attorneys throughout the state.

47) Opposing a Judicial Pardon or Expunging a Record - The Prosecuting Attorney may oppose a proceeding to obtain a judicial pardon. This involves situations where petitions are made to expunge a record of conviction of a person convicted while a minor. This proceeding is not applicable to traffic offenses or felonies punishable by life imprisonment.

48) Opposing and Requesting Termination of Probation - The Prosecuting Attorney may oppose, or request termination of, consideration of a 17 to 20 year old defendant as a "youthful trainee" (probationary consideration) under the "Holmer Youthful Trainee Act". In recent years the necessity for the use of the Act has been reduced by the availability of adequate probation facilities in the greater number of the District Courts of the State.

49) Responding to Petitions for Restoration of Driver's or Chauffeur's License - The Prosecuting Attorney, except in Wayne County, represents the Secretary of State in responding to petitions filed in the Circuit Court for restoration of a drover's or chauffeur's license.

50) Authorization of Criminal Warrants - The most important function of the Prosecuting Attorney is that related to the issuance of authorization for issuance of a warrant in a criminal case. It is in the exercise of this function that a Prosecutor must determine whether a charge or complaint is baseless and/or is not supported by any competent evidence or the circumstances do not otherwise justify or warrant any prosecution. It is also the function most closely watched by complainants and the public generally. Failure of a Prosecuting Attorney to perform this function by reason of a bias or prejudice due to political considerations, friendships and alliances or for other unjustifiable reasons creates a proper criticism and obvious suspicion. On the other side, and on behalf of the Prosecutor, he must be on the alert to protect citizens against unjustifiable prosecutions, extortions, coercion and oppression at the hands of vindictive complainants.

If, in truth the Prosecutor can not with conviction fairly and impartially pass upon the authorization for the issuance of a warrant he is obligated and duty-bound to call in a Special Prosecuting Attorney by reference of the matter to the office of the Attorney General who superintends Prosecuting Attorneys in the same manner as the Prosecuting Attorney has over all law enforcement in the county. He is, as it should be, the keeper of the public conscience, conducting his office, not for selfish or private considerations, but, solely and only for societal interests.

This concludes the summary of the majority of the duties of the Prosecuting Attorney. It does not contain every single expressed or other implied duty or function, but the extensive scope not generally known or considered has been covered.

(In the next series the Committee will discuss Real Estate Tax)

POR. MT TV CO URGENTLY REQUESTS DONATIONS FROM SERVICE USERS

White Pine - Although funds to keep the Porcupine Mountain Television Co. in operation have been coming in, there is not enough to pay the expenses of the company in the next year and the future of rural television in the White Pine, Ontonagon, Rockland and Mass areas is still in doubt according to a spokesman.

The antenna company translates signals and provides for television reception in the rural areas. Following the start of a fund-raising drive $3,295 was received but, according to the spokesman, it takes $8,000 a year to operate the translator, and this year major improvements were planned.

The spokesman said donations have been received from many new families which receive the signal, but that many old subscribers have not paid the yearly $20 dues. He said that if the previous donors came through again, the company's goal could be met.

TRAVEL WRITERS TO HOLD SEMI ANNUAL MEET IN U.P.

They said "no" to Toronto, Canada, and Monterey, Mexico, but "yes" to Marquette, USA!

The Society of American Travel Writers, one of the most prestigious groups of writers in North America, has chosen the Upper Peninsula as the site for its semi-annual meeting next year, and Marquette won out over the competitive bidding of such cities as Canada's largest metropolis and historic, colorful Monterey.

This coveted "plum" didn't land in the U.P. without a lot of effort. UPTRA Executive Manager Bob Helwig made two presentations to the Society, one last June and the other in January.

His promotion of the Upper Peninsula and Marquette must have been especially effective. As a result of its decision, the Society will meet for a four-day conference at the Holiday Inn and Cliffs Ridge Ski Area next February.

Approximately 50 of the continent's leading travel writers will be in attendance including Buz Holt, travel editor of the Chicago Tribune, Bill Hibbard, the Milwaukee Journal's travel editor, and Editor-in-chief Sylvia McNair of the Mobil Travel Guide.

For "frosting on the cake," Helwig has been able to convince the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association to meet in the Peninsula in June 1979, this time in the White Pine-Ontonagon and Copper Harbor areas.

A major aim of writers in both groups is to generate feature material on the areas in which they are meeting, so the Peninsula can expect Paul Bunyan-size benefits from the conference long after the writers have packed their bags and returned home.

than crossing Keweenaw Bay by pickup to get to the same place as the snowmobile.

There were a number of fish taken this past weekend, but a check last Saturday by a creel census crew only showed 91 lake trout taken by 183 fishermen. Success fair, good, or other? You guess.

CHARISMATIC CONFERENCE PLANNED FOR MARQUETTE IN APRIL

Fr. Richard Rohr and a team from the New Jerusalem Community will be coming to the Marquette area the week-end of April 28. The conference is sponsored by the Upper Peninsula Catholic Charismatic Renewal, and is open to anyone wishing to attend.

Fr. Rohr O.F.M. ordained to the Priesthood in 1970, is the principal Pastor of New Jerusalem Community. He devotes his time to the community, teaching scripture and prayer and the importance of living the Gospel message. In addition he gives retreats, talks and teachings to varied groups throughout the country, and has many of his talks in wide circulation through cassette tapes. Articles by Fr. Rohr have appeared in numerous publications, and he does editorial work for the journal, Catholic Charismatic. His teaching is based on his walk with the Spirit and his life lived and shared in a Body of Christ.

Because all outreach activities of New Jerusalem are normally conducted by teams in order to most effectively communicate its vision, Fr. Rohr is usually accompanied by a group chosen by the Pastoral Team when he accepts invitations to share with outside groups. This team will consist of from three to ten people and is selected with careful consideration given to the needs of the area being served. There will be time for prayer, healing, private conferences, celebration of the Eucharist, as well as sharing.

New Jerusalem Community began in 1971 as a young peoples' prayer group. Now it has emerged as a Body of Christ comprised of about 400-500 persons of all ages, all walks of life, from many religious communities, and from all parts of the Greater Cincinnati area. Most of the Community's members are Catholic and Archbishop Bernardine recognizes New Jerusalem and has taken it under his pastoral care and guidance.

Leadership and administration flow through teams of Pastors, Pastoral Counsellors and Coordinators who work through New Jerusalem in the fields of renewal, counseling, retreats, worship, etc. Renovation and Maintenance Teams improve and maintain community buildings. Various ministries serve the Body in such areas as music, children, hospitality, neighborhood visitation, initiating new members, and many other fields.

Members of New Jerusalem feel that "In the midst of our daily life, the Lord calls us to be a radical sign of His body, suffering, serving, and supporting His life among His people."

MDNR REPORT - DISTRICT V

It wouldn't be a normal ice fishing season with out at least one story about an odd happening. Ron Kamarainen, of Baraga, provides the first such story for this year. Ron and a few other fishermen were out north of Koski Flats last Sunday. After a period of no action, Ron felt a strike. He set the hook and pulled up his line. When his bait came into view through the hole in the ice he was surprised to see a lamprey was quite a bit larger than the lure and it is a puzzle as to how it managed to hang on until it was pulled out of the water. Ron did have a dead smelt on the lure for bait, but the lamprey ignored it in favor of the plastic imitation of a smelt. Blood from a turnip?

It might be that I am not an ice fisherman that causes me to wonder about the number of heavy vehicles being used on the ice of Lake Superior. By heavy vehicles I mean cars and pickup trucks all the way up to the 3/4 ton, 4-wheel-drive size. Most of this type of vehicle use has been at Pequaming where they have access, then spreading out to the north and west. There have been no reports yet on any of the vehicles on the lake bottom from earlier years. Why these fishermen feel there is a need for anything larger than a snowmobile to travel on the lake beats me. There are quite a few places around the lake shore to get to their fishing spots by snowmobile which is a lot safer

WARRIORS ROLL ON TO MARQUETTE - George Paoli, WPHS

Last week the White Pine Warriors became the M.H.S.A.A. District 123 Champions by defeating the Wakefield Cardinals in the finals.

Tournament action started last Monday in the White Pine High School Gymnasium, as the Warriors faced the Ironwood Catholic Ramblers. The Warriors defeated the Ramblers, 79-69, to put them into a semifinal game against the Bessemer Speedboys. With 4 seconds left in that game it didn't look as though the Warriors would make it to the finals. Bessemer led 68-67 as Jim Dahlin of Bessemer was fouled and shooting in a one and one situation. Dahlin made his first free throw but missed the second. Steve Graphos pulled down the rebound and passed the ball up to John Tiberg, who made a long jump shot to tie the game at 69-69 and put the game into over-time. In over-time the Warriors out-scored the Speedboys 6-3 and won the game 75-72.

The Warriors faced the Wakefield Cardinals in the final tournament game last Friday. The Cardinals, with a 1-19 record had upset the Bergland Vikings 65-63, to get into the finals. The Warriors defeated the Cards, 98-56, to secure the championship.

The Warriors face Dollar Bay at the Hedgecock Fieldhouse in Marquette on Thursday, March 9, at 7:00. Advanced tickets will be sold at the White Pine High School office until noon on Thursday.

LAST OF LOAD OF LOGS TO BE CUT FOR EWEN PROJECT

Ewen - The last of the logs needed to complete the "World Fair Load of Logs" replica will be cut and skidded Saturday, March 18, and Sunday, March 19, if needed, according to Dan Ojala of the committee in charge of the project.

The white pine trees, ranging in diameter up to 40 inches, are located on U. S. Forest Service land south of Kenton in the Robinson Pond area. Ojala said professional loggers from the area are cooperating in the tree harvest, which will be filmed for television.

Ojala added that the public is encouraged to witness the historic event and can meet at Tom's Northland Store at Kenton at 9 a.m. Saturday, March 18th, to be guided to the site. The site is easily accessible to the public, said Ojala.

After the cutting, Ojala said, the public will be encouraged to attend the open house at the McMillan Township Fire Hall to view the expansion and new truck. A bake sale and lunch will also be held.

NEW FIRE TRUCK OPEN HOUSE PLANNED AT EWEN

Residents of McMillan Township and any other interested persons are invited to attend the Open House to be held at the new Fire Hall between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Mar. 18. A bake sale and a luncheon will be held in conjunction with the Open House. The star attraction of the day will be the new Township fire truck. Donations of baked goods for the sale are welcomed and will be appreciated. Proceeds of the event will go to help defray the costs of the new construction and purchase of the new vehicle.

The how and whys of syrup making will be explained. When to start tapping, how to tap, equipment needed to tap, and collection of sap will be discussed.

DE ROCHE APPEARS BEFORE IRON MINING HEARINGS IN IRON RIVER

Dave DeRoche, candidate for the senate from the U.P. (38th Dist.) appeared before the joint House-Senate Committee to study all aspects of the Iron Ore Mining Industry in Michigan, in Iron River on Feb. 17, 1978. DeRoche's testimony called for sweeping changes in existing legislation as it applies to the mining industry. The Iron River Democrat cited provisions of laws which go back as far as 1893 which grant numerous special privileges and benefits to the mining industry. De Roche's proposals would provide the mining industry, equal and fair treatment, no better and no worse than that given all other industries in the state. The proposals, which drew support from economists and labor leaders in the audience, included:

1. The enactment of a tax on all mineral rights owned by anyone other than the surface rights owner.
2. The revision of the Specific Ore Tax to change the base to the current price of pellets and to tie the rate to the local millage rate levied.
3. The establishment of an Economic and Environmental Rehabilitation Fund to diversify the economy and repair the environment in counties which once mined but do so no longer.
4. The enactment of a tax credit to mining companies in which the % increase in the number of jobs exceeds the average rate of growth of the state's economy.
5. The repeal of any legislation which exempts the mining industry from reasonable environmental safeguards.
6. The repeal of any legislation which permits the condemnation of private property by the mining industry or grants that industry the right to acquire surface or mineral rights at a rate lower than that granted to other industries or individuals.
7. The amending of the Mine reclamation act so it would deal effectively with land disturbances and would include reasonable permit requirements, meaningful penalties precise performance standards and bond forfeiture provisions.
8. The amending of the proposed all metallic minerals lease to conform to MEPA, to eliminate bias in favor of the mining industry, and to fix the responsibility for disposal of waste and rehabilitation of disturbed land with the mining industry.

"This 8 point plan," DeRoche said, "reflects my conviction that tax equity, economic growth and environmental quality are not irreconcilable goals. It also addresses the problems of economic diversification and environmental repair in former mining areas, problems which have been ignored by the legislature for decades. The plan would also bolster the sagging public confidence in the political process which, in Michigan, has been susceptible to the undue influence of an industry whose only claim to special privilege derives from its wealth and its ability to influence the legislative process."

"I am particularly pleased with the interest and support my proposals drew from many of those who attended the hearing. The assurances that the plan would receive serious consideration from the committee is especially gratifying," DeRoche concluded.

FISHERIES HABITAT WORK BY YACC PROGRESSES

Fisheries habitat improvement work is being done at Courtney and Six Mile Lakes this winter by the Young Adult Conservation Corps, according to Owen Giesler, U.S. Forest Service Ranger at Ontonagon. Fish attractors (fish shelters), which are log cribs filled with brush, are being built on the ice. They are weighted down with concrete and will sink when the ice melts. They provide cover for the fish and tend to concentrate fish making them easier to catch.

ONTONAGON VILLAGE COUNCIL MEETING REPORT

Ontonagon - Thomas Hartzell and Francis Yanasak were named to the Ontonagon Village Zoning Board of Appeals Monday so that the Board could transact business that has been pending since last Oct. 19.

Since October the Ontonagon Village Council has asked for volunteers to sit on the zoning body, but individual councilmen's efforts and newspaper and radio pleas went unanswered. At Monday's session of the village council a suggestion was made that perhaps the public would volunteer if they were paid for such meetings.

No action was taken on this suggestion, but Councilmen Hartzell and Yanasak volunteered to serve at no pay until the business before the zoning group is taken care of. It was pointed out that similar action was taken in the past by Councilmen William White and the late Thomas Harris.

In other action at Monday's session the council: Accepted the bid of Dean's Pontiac for a police car; agreed to ask the Equalization Department to notify council members of equalization meetings which they could attend; approved attendance of Manager Steve Worochek and two crew members at a distribution system training session in Escanaba; outlined recent efforts to bring industry to the village and heard that Sen. Donald Riegel will attempt to help the village in its dispute with the Environmental Protection Agency.

Worochek, in answer to a question, said the village had not been notified of any move by the Health Department to close the dump in June but expects to be called to a hearing on the matter.

So many politicians are talking about turning this country around that it's hard to remember, from day to day, in which direction we're headed!

Back in our town, though, we can take comfort in knowing that this place is big enough to have an occasional scandal and still small enough so that there's a good chance we'll know some of the people involved.
