RUPEE TACKLES TREASURY OVER GUN CONTROL REGULATIONS

Northern Michigan Congressman Philip E. Ruppe has asked the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms to withdraw proposed regulations establishing a national computerized firearms registration system. Ruppe's request was contained in a letter sent to Richard Davis, an Assistant Secretary in the Treasury Department.

The BATF proposal would require gun dealers, importers and manufacturers, to report all sales every three months, require additional unique serial numbers be stamped on all weapons, and make it a felony for a licensee who fails to report a firearms loss or theft within one week of discovery.

Ruppe charged in his letter that even though the agency may have good motives for advocating the proposals, it nevertheless appears to be a case of expanding those regulations far beyond the original intent of Congress. An issue that involves the regulation of one's Constitutional right to own firearms should be decided by the people's elected representatives, Ruppe explained. "In the long run," Ruppe said, "imposition of these rules, could easily lead to total Federal control over all firearms."

A resolution disapproving the BATF action has been signed by Ruppe and over 130 other House members. Furthermore, the House Treasury Appropriations Subcommittee recently voted to deny funds to BATF for implementing these regulations.

Hundreds of letters from Northern Michigan residents have been received in Ruppe's Washington office, the vast majority opposing the regulations.

"This public outcry and legislative action well illustrate the unalterable opposition which many Americans and their Representatives feel towards this encroachment into their lives," Ruppe told Secretary Davis. "I would like to add my opposition to theirs."

Ruppe is particularly upset that the system of BATF regulations has been debated and rejected on several occasions by Congress. Now, he says, the Administration is attempting to circumvent the legislative process by pushing a bureaucratic rule.

"No matter what BATF calls its regulations, it comes down to a thinly disguised attempt at imposing national gun control," Ruppe said. "There is no reliable study to show that this costly and unwieldy program would reduce the nation's crime rate. Gun control is not the answer to our crime problem."

The Treasury Department has extended to June 30 the public comment period on the proposed regulations. The Department said the period was extended because of the high volume of letters received on the proposal.

Ruppe urged all Northern Michigan residents with an interest in this issue to write the Department.

Sparks from the Tinderbox

The wilderness lobby strikes again!

The 1977 deletions of Suomi Hills and Trout Lake area from the RARE II inventory are presently being appealed by the Wilderness Society and the Sierra Club. These areas have been renominated in a letter to US Forest Service Chief John McGuire with some linear boundary changes. As now submitted the Trout Lake tract is enlarged and the Suomi Hills parcel somewhat decreased in size so as to exclude private land. Our two areas were previously deleted because we did not meet the criteria and that condition has not changed. I quote from a December 28, 1977 letter from John McGuire, "The degree of development, the relationship of private and Federal lands, the amount of roads, several gravel pits and plantations all detract from the practicality of managing the areas in their natural conditions. The two areas were not included in the inventory for these reasons."

The Suomi Hills area is too narrow for wilderness designation. Highway 38 traffic noises are easily heard across the woods and in our community along HY 48. Everybody knows that the Joyce Estate portion of the Trout Lake tract has been only open to foot traffic since Mrs. Kean's death. Wilderness designation could not change that. We know Itasca County has done fine under the US Forest Service. So, why are we confronted with single-track mentalities trying to warp God's purposes to suit the whimsy of a mere fraction of the population?

To combat this latest attack we all have to write additional letters to our US legislators protesting vehemently any further wilderness designations. It may be early 1979 before RARE II is completed and it is vital that we actively see it through to the least destructive conclusion. Organizations across the country are trying to quash the RARE II inventory completely claiming it is unnecessary and unwanted by the great majority of the people. Trees are a renewable resource. While young growing trees purify the air some older trees have proven dangerous during high winds. In some countries they are called 'widow makers'.

A lengthy article detailing the travails of Upper Michigan farmers whose properties have been nominated for wilderness study under RARE II appeared in the Sunday issue of the Duluth News Tribune, February 19, 1978. During Saturday's wilderness workshop at Northland College, Ashland, Wisconsin, Steve Payne, a Wilderness Society representative from Duluth, admitted to nominating that 10,000 acre Matchwood Township area for wilderness WITHOUT EVER HAVING SEEN IT! When questioned, Payne said his organization was disappointed that only three RARE II study areas were designated in Michigan's Ottawa National Forest. Initially, our Suomi Hills in the Chippewa was also nominated 'sight unseen', a dangerous practice commonplace with Mr. Payne.

All across the country a few wilderness advocates are indiscriminately nominating lands for wilderness and discombobulating the lives of thousands. It is extremely wrong that needless legislation makes it possible for so few to harm so many. Freaked out on the feeling of self-righteous power it gives him as he mails in his wilderness nominations, one unidentified, paranoid person has legal freedom to ruin countless lives in the name of the 'public'. It is absolutely indecent. This callous disregard for the well-being of the innocent people involved seems to indicate that the wilderness nominators suffer from delusions of grandeur or a type of selfish-blindness. First they pushed for useless (except as it suits their purposes) legislation so they might remove numerous tracts of lands from multiple use and then they commenced to nominate every likely stand of trees for wilderness designation. Where do they contact this disease? We must find a cure before it's too late. Their license to play this dangerous nominations game must be withdrawn.

TED ALBERT STATES VIEWS

Ted Albert of Ironwood, Democratic candidate for the 11th Congressional District, stated his views on various issues of concern recently in a series being carried in the Houghton Daily Mining Gazette. The text of Albert's statement follows:

"This Congressional District has been faced with many important and burning issues. Perhaps the most prominent of all of the issues is that relating to our economic salvation, our economic security -- the providing of new jobs and the securing and preserving of old jobs. Jobs, that will create the much-needed feeling of wholesomeness that is derived from the ability of providing the needs of homes and family. Jobs, that will instill and imbue in each person the feeling that he belongs and that government and society really care. Jobs, and the fruits of one's labor, is by far the issue of all issues; the answer and solution to all of our ills, and all of our problems.

In this district, we are repeatedly told and we are constantly reminded that we are in the midst of economic plight. This posture, this picture of our economic insecurity is constantly discussed and aired. Radio, TV, newspapers all news media and feature articles and programs, are filled with agonizing depictions of the problem. One senses an air of futility and a resignation to a fixed fate.

As a Congressman, I will devote ceaseless effort and energy to the changing of that picture. One of my first actions will be to bring industry, business and labor around the table - and not across the table - to map out an intensive and unified plan of action for the expansion of existing business and industry, and the attraction of new. It is to the economic advantage of each of these groups to work together in this common cause. I will initiate an intensive drive to bring to this district a larger share of business and contracts. This, I will do with diligent and persuasive pursuit. Close contact and communication with our major industries is a must with me. I will strive to see that the maximum amount of production is kept here, and attracted here. We know it to be an economic fact that we have an abundance of natural resources, minerals; valuable and varied, forest lands, with timbers; as principal resources. Unfortunately, however large the resources, we fall far behind because of our trade deficit annually. Our trade deficit is approximately 32 million dollars a year, because we ship out - we export nearly all of our natural resources - and then, we import almost all of the end products made of our natural resources, produced elsewhere - out of our district.

By addressing our serious attention to this important economic fact, and doing something tangible and aggressive to establish the industries, here, in our district, that use our raw materials. Doing this, there will be a greater possibility of using and utilizing our raw materials at a profit through primary and secondary manufacture. From our natural resources will come a flow of raw materials that will provide the basis for broader economic activity. Such industries, in or near our natural resources, will provide their own markets, add to landowners income and to community income by providing remunerative outlets for labor. We will not only create the jobs we so badly need but especially place a greater number of dollars in circulation. Development of more jobs, attraction of more industry, full utilization of our tremendous natural resources, taxation, strengthening of city, township and county government - these are the matters that vitally affect the people. To this endeavor, I will apply my ability to translate words and ideas into action.

CARP LAKE PARKS OPEN

Elmer Niemela, secretary of the Carp Lake Township Park Commission, announces the official opening of the facilities on Memorial Day. All facilities will be in use this year. However, any evidence of vandalism in any of the parks will again necessitate the closing of the facilities. An ordinance is also being sought to prohibit all vehicles, including motorcycles, and horses from the parks. The Green Park has already had a newly-seeded area torn up by a four-wheel drive vehicle. These are your parks, say the Commission, maintained solely for your enjoyment by your tax money. It is the hope of the Commission the parks can be kept open and improvements made throughout the summer. Any comments or suggestions will be appreciated by the commission.

PORCUPINE MT. COMMUNITY SCHOOLS SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM

The Porcupine Mt. Community Schools announces its 1978 summer recreation program. A number of activities are being offered for students in grades 4 through 7. The following list gives most of the potential offerings. Students are asked to examine the list, discuss choices with friends and family, then fill out the registration form and return it to the school office as soon as possible.

All activities will begin the week of June 12 in Ewen-Trout Creek and Bergland and on June 19 in White Pine. Exact times and week days will be published later on. The anticipated "Day Camp" program will meet twice a week for three or more hours per session. Activities will include bike hikes, picnics, lake visits for fishing and swimming, short bus trips to area points of interest, gym activities, school-ground games, art and crafts, plus a variety of other recreational and educational type activities. The entire summer program will last a minimum of six weeks.

Information regarding swimming instruction and supervised Tot Lots was also released. Programs will be available for the children of Ewen-Trout Creek, Bergland and White Pine.

Tot Lots will offer safe supervised play areas for your child two or four mornings per week. More than this, however, the Tot Lots will be organized to coordinate play activities with planned learning experiences. Through Tot Lots children can develop their abilities of self-expression, cooperation, self-confidence, and sharing as well as skills in many areas.

Who may attend these activities? Children in this year's kindergarten, first, second and third grades, as well as all pre-schoolers who will likely begin kindergarten next fall may attend the Tot Lot program.

When and Where? The Tot Lot program will begin the week of June 12 in Bergland and Ewen-Trout Creek and the week of June 19 in White Pine and continue until the end of July. The complete schedules will be announced later. Parents must provide for their own child's transportation to and from their school.

What will be the cost? The total cost for a family is $10.

This will cover all summer activities for all children in the

The Western U.P. District Health Department and the Michigan Department of Public Health are sponsoring a hearing and vision screening program for pre-school children. They are interested in testing the hearing and vision of all children between the ages of 3½ to 4½ years inclusive. This service is being provided without cost to the parents. A report and recommendation concerning each child will be given to the parents following the program. A surprising number of young children have vision or hearing difficulties which are not even suspected. Many can be found, however, through a vision or hearing screening test and referred to a doctor. Defects are much easier to correct at an earlier age and some permanent handicaps can be prevented.

The screening will be done at the following locations: Ontonagon Elementary School - June 5 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. White Pine Elementary School - June 8 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Ewen High School - June 12 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Mass Elementary School - June 19 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

The AFL-CIO Retirees Chapter will meet at the White Pine Union Hall on June 3rd at 1 p.m.
