ANNUAL SENIOR RECEPTION TO JUNIORS DEC. 5

Plans Promising to Make Prom Big Event of School Year.

Each Fall comes the social evening of social evenings, the Annual Senior Reception or "Prom." This Fall is no exception, and on December 5 the Class of 1925 will entertain in the gymnasium, although we probably will not recognize it in its new dress.

A few look forward to the "Prom" with thoughts of their own "Senior Prom" in their minds, and say "They cannot beat our party."

A majority look forward to the "Prom" as a new experience, for it will be their first semi-formal college party.

And the Seniors look forward to busy days and hard work, but with the knowledge that after the hard work is over will come that satisfying feeling of work well done.

To organize and direct the efforts of the class, Miss Clara June, president, has appointed the following committees:

Decorations: Frances Hallfrisch, chairman; Edward Nicholas, Lin Shobaski, Henry Prin, Ed Stanaway, Marshall Treado, Florence Billings, Marie Connolly, Leah Lowenstein, Helen Niles, Muriel Holmgren, Alice Nyman.

Music: Herbert Baker, chairman; Raymond LeMieux, Thelma Stanford.

Property: William Carter, chairman; Marshall Everett, Emery Jacques, Earl Wilkins, Joe Leonard, Ira Clark.

Invitations: Elsie Bergroth, Percy Murphy, Norma Gillette, Ethel Baumgartner, Arnold Jeason, Roudaliph Smith.

Program and Favor: Evelyn Veran, Ted Hildner, Anna Johnson, Russell Roberts, Isabel Peterson.

Refreshments: Byrdette Stüttel, Ruth Bennett, Cora Brown, Lois Curtis.

BASKETBALL SEASON PROMISES ARE BIG

Coach Hedgecock has already put his squad through a week of graduated practice to see who will represent Northern when it goes up against Calumet Y December 12. Other games are being arranged with Oshkosh, Central, Northland, M. C. M. and Superior. These will be a two-game series.

Last year's veterans are M. Treado, who was captain and center; Anderle, McDonald, Carter, Denn, McInnis, and Leonard, forwards, and Prin, guard.

There are several promising candidates in the large squad that turned out for the first week of practice. The following men reported: Sandelin, Sharp, Rudness, Tuckett, Tremeyne, Freidl, Murry, Nystrom, Gadbois, Nelson, Hiney, Hemr, "Hod" Nelson, Carlson, Kindlin, Limpert, Nieme, H. Treado and Gueiff.

Sandelin, who distinguished himself on the gridiron, is also an experienced loop artist. He played on the Lakeview High, Chicago, quintet three years and one year at Carthage College, Sharp, of Marsailles, Illinois, played three years while in high school. The last year, his team won the district championship. Both these men are forwards. Rudness was a member of the Negaunee team that won the upper peninsula championship two years ago. Tuckett was a member of the Negaunee team of last year. Freidl was a member of the La-Crosse squad last year. Tremeyne played on the Painesdale High three years. Murry was a regular on the Michiganme quintet for several seasons. Nystrom, Limpert, Gueiff, Hiney, "Hod" Nelson, Carlson, and Kindlin received their training in Marquette schools. Gadbois, Anderle, McDonald and Hemr, hail from Menominee.

The Junior students taking Physical Ed. have spent considerable time outside of their regular class hour in practicing blocking, passing and pivoting. It is expected that several teams will be organized. This will provide excellent training for varsity football for next year.

Glee Club and String Quartette Do Entertaining

Last Friday at 11:00 the Marquette High School assembly room resounded with the first program presented by the 1924-25 Glee Club of the Northern Normal. Besides the chorus of voices, the club includes a peppy ten-piece orchestra, a male quartet, and a string quartet. To say the least, they were most enthusiastically greeted and applauded.

The club has been cut down to seventeen men, and will be further abbreviated for the purpose of portability. On Monday afternoon the club jumped into the Flanigan bus and took a ride to Treenary, where they entertained the community with their usual varied program of choruses, quartets and solos.

Edward Erickson hails from Keweenaw Bay. He was a member of the 1921 graduating class of the Baraga High School. Here at Northern he is a member of the Senior Class and the Sketch Club. He is enrolled in the High School Teachers' course. He will share executive responsibilities of the Senior class in the capacity of vice-president.

Clara June, elected President of the Senior Class this year, is particularly well qualified for the position. She is a leader, in academic work as well as in campus activities, Secretary of the Student Girls' League and Vice-President of her sorority, the Delta Sigma Nu. Last year as President of the Ygradsil Literary society, she pleased everybody by the excellence of her programs. Clara is a Marquette girl,

Cathedral Choir Will Present Program Dec. 4

Another choral organization, the second on our Lyceum Course, will entertain on December 4. Judging by the enthusiastic comment following the concert of the Rhonda Singers, the auditorium will be packed on this occasion.

Those people who have heard such numbers as "The Hallelujah Chorus," the "Prayer" from Lohengrin, and "The Recessional" sung by a good chorus, as this is, have been fortunate; and those who have not will do well to hear them while they have the chance. Besides these and other solemn selections, we are promised a program of operatic and secular numbers. We feel sure that this will be a delightful program. Let no one miss it.

JUNIOR CLASS HELD ELECTION NOVEMBER 19

Men Carry Away Honors in Closely Contested Rivalry.

With the Senior election out of the way, the Juniors lost no time in getting organized. Their quickness in getting under way and the smoothness with which the election machinery worked points to a brilliant future for this newest youngster at N. S. N.

That they had an abundance of good material from which to select their leaders is shown by the following list of nominees:

For President—Melvin Kindlin, Byron Davey, Alice Broman, Carol Ann Wittler, Lesly Cory, Virginia Jacques.

For Vice-President—John Hildner, Stephen Moringo, Margaret Laing, Helen Finnegan, Ellis E. Lehto.

For Secretary—Jean Weston, Cecile Larson, William Niemi.

For Treasurer—Lucile Trestrall, Carlton Brown, Evelyn Vertefuille.

The close of election day, November 19, found the following members elected to pilot the Class of 1926 for the year.

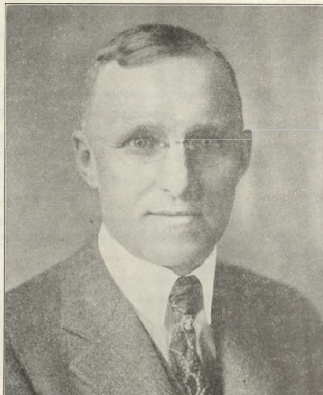

President, Byron Davey; Vice-President, John Hildner; Secretary, William Niemi; Treasurer, Carlton Brown.

Byron Davey comes from the eastern end of the peninsula, Sault Ste. Marie. John Hildner is a copper country product, coming from Houghton. William Niemi is from the Iron Country in the western end of the peninsula, Washburn. Carlton Brown travels cast to the Celery City, Newberry, when he is homeward bound. Our best wishes to the Juniors on their way.

Druid Gathering.

It is rumored about the campus that the stern and studious Druids became so undignified as to have a party Saturday, November 22. A "news hound" has been set on their trail and it is expected he will ferret out the details in time for the next issue of The News.

'05 MAN PRESIDENT

JOHN E. ERICKSON

Mr. Erickson is one of our Northern graduates who is a credit to himself and to the school. He received his Life Certificate here in 1905. Then he went to the University of Michigan, where he was graduated in 1909 with his Bachelor of Arts degree. As Education was his chosen field of specialization he immediately took up teaching. He was principal of Munising

High School one year, of Negaunee, five and a half years and of Houghton six years. Having rather unusual ability as a leader, he was chosen Director of Houghton County Public Relief Commission, where he served competently for five years. He made himself indispensable to the Houghton School System, and in 1921 was advanced to the Superintendency, which he still holds.

At the last session of the Michigan State Teachers' Association Mr. Erickson was elected President of the Seventh District. We congratulate Mr. Erickson, and feel sure that his splendid record will be an inspiration to those Northerners who follow him.

Armistice Program

A program to commemorate the signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918, was given in the auditorium on the afternoon of Armistice Day. The program opened with two rousing marches by the Northern Normal Band. "The Star Spangled Banner," impressively sung by the Men's Glee Club, followed, while the audience stood at attention with eyes fixed on the flag. Then came the singing of "America" by the chorus and audience.

Mr. E. A. Macdonald, speaker of the day, expressed his appreciation of the inspiring music and in turn gave to the audience an inspiring address in keeping with the occasion.

The program closed with another selection by the band.

On Tuesday, November 11, the Richard M. Jopling post of the American Legion, gave their annual Armistice Ball in the Normal gymnasium.

The Cloverland Seven played the martial music and all rushed into the battle. Between each skirmish, the water-carriers brought punch and cookies to the tired fighters.

At 11 an Armistice was declared, and the grand march held as a celebration. Commander of the Post Carl Tauch and his wife led the march. By 1 o'clock all were honorably discharged. As the guests left they tried to take, as spoils of the war, parts of the red, white and blue decorations.

Dramatics.

Last year the students at Northern were thrilled and highly entertained at several performances of Northern's Dramatic Club.

There is to be a like organization this year and it will hold its first meeting Tuesday at 4 o'clock.

Anyone interested in dramatics or its allied arts is invited. There will be a program and a tea immediately following.

The talent already gathered promises great things and assures everyone of pleasant programs in the future.

Alumni Notice!

The Senior Prom this year is to be held on Friday, December 5, 1924. All alumni who wish to attend must send in their names to the Invitation Committee in order to secure an invitation. Invitations will be presented at the door and no one will be admitted without one. Those alumni desiring to bring a boy or girl who is not a member of the Northern Normal must send with their own name the name of the person they wish to bring. No outsider will be admitted whose name has not been previously submitted to the committee.

All names must be sent in to the Invitation Committee not later than Monday, December 1, 1924. Any bids arriving late will not be considered. Please remember this, and do not wait until the last minute to decide whom you are going to take.

THE WAY OUR ARTIST SEES FOUR FAMILIAR CAMPUS FACES

Like a football player, he surely looks, His face is the hardest bodied kind; But his heart and his soul are in his marks and his books, All night, he'll eternally grind.

She doesn't WEAR for YOU That wide awake SMILE Just a WEEK before THE PROM. She's NOT much on LOOKS, But her DATES Are all FILLED. SHE is a good FELLOW.

His kind is not rare, At Gym party or prom, He'll always be there, But always alone. "The girls here, fall short," Is his popular say, As he raves of his sweetie back home.

Her humor is rare, tho her marks are all shot, She can dance, she can laugh and be gay. But she'll get the best job of the entire lot, For she's so—you can't tell—It's her way.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN WITH US TONIGHT

The next number on our Lyceum Course, on November 25, will be a lecture by Ruth Bryan Owen, one of the most popular women orators in the United States. As the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, who has been called "the last of the statesmen-orators," much has been expected of her; and if we may judge by press notices, she has fulfilled all expectations.

Mrs. Owen has been very active in relief work. She acted with Mrs. Hoover as secretary-treasurer of the Economic Relief Committee, aiding unemployed women. In this, and other executive capacities, including three years in the West Indies, three years in England, and three years in Egypt, she has acquired an insight into world affairs that can scarcely be surpassed among her sex.

In the past our Lyceum numbers have been very well attended by the student body. The past programs have all been musical, in which the message was purely spiritual. We hope Northern will attend this lecture equally strong. We can promise an impression as profitable and lasting as that received from the musical programs.

Editorial

Thanksgiving.

In a couple of days we shall have begun our Thanksgiving vacation. Most of us shall have departed for our homes, carrying with us visions of a deliciously broiled fowl, be it chicken, duck or turkey, with all the trimmings.

If we but try to name the things for which we should be thankful we find ourselves confronted with a list of enormous proportions.

So when you sit down to your Thanksgiving day feast, before you begin the orgy, just remember the people who are less fortunate than you that day, and thank the Creator that you have something to be thankful for.

May our blessings go with you, and this one word of advice: Don't eat too much turkey; save a little space for the pun'kin pie.

Were You Talking?

An experience of the Editor during the Armistice Day program lead to this comment. We had the misfortune to be sitting just in front of a group of girls; and, during practically the entire address, while we were vainly trying to hear the words of the speaker, that row of girls kept up a continual buzz of conversation.

The reason for this editorial kick is this: While we don't care a plugged cent whether they heard anything or not, we wanted to hear it ourselves. That's why we were there.

What shall our attitude be? —Olive G. Fox.

Everyday Talk.

The only thing that both living generations agree upon, is that life is a game. The young really play, while the old try to "poker it out."

First Grade Critic.

Miss Frances Herald comes to us directly from a teaching position in the College for Women, Greenboro, N. C. She is a native of Wisconsin and a graduate of the Oshkosh State Normal School and Teachers' College Columbia University.

The Faculty.

Why are the members of the faculty seated before us on the stage during Assembly? The only reason that I can see is that they are seated there to inspire us.

Suppose we observe them the next Assembly period. During that hour you may be successful in catching a smile from one of them. It is said that music hath charms; but it fails to move the tragic look from their faces.

I do not think they serve as a very efficient inspiration. We ought not to criticize, but—they do look gloomy.

Concerning Attitudes.

On one of the shores of the harbor of Marquette stands a forbidding institution, housing, under compulsion, hundreds of one-time citizens of the commonwealth of Michigan.

A recent visitor from Mars, about to enter the latter institution, was met at the entrance by a young lady of gloomy countenance, who exclaimed, "How I hate this place!

Pleasant Social Evening.

Friday evening, November 14, found a fair-sized and enthusiastic crowd assembled in the gymnasium to indulge in the modern version of Terpsichorean art.

Library Cleanings.

The library has been receiving a number of new books. During the past two weeks, the following titles, some of which are replacements, have been put upon the shelves for circulation.

Clarke, B. H.—Representative One-Act Plays. Criticism in America; Its Function and Status.

Firkins, Ina—Index to Short Stories (Rev. ed.).

Fisher, Irving—Elementary Principles of Economics.

Gettell, R. C.—Introduction to Political Science.

Gide, Charles—Principles of Political Economy.

Goode—School Atlas.

Gray, Henry—Anatomy of the Human Body.

Gregory, Lady—Seven Short Plays.

Hall, A. B.—Textbook on Parliamentary Law.

Hoyt, J. K.—New Cyclopaedia of Practical Quotations.

Impen, Roger—One Thousand Poems for Children.

Kimber, D. G.—Text-book of Anatomy and Physiology.

Kipling, Rudyard—Rudyard Kipling's Verse.

McDougal, William—Ethics and Some Modern World Problems.

Mace, Herbert—A Book About the Bee.

Miller, H. L.—Directing Study. Mother Goose (Volland ed.).

Stone, J. C.—How to Teach Primary Number.

Williams, J. F.—A Text-book of Anatomy and Physiology.

High Girls Organize.

Girls of the Normal High are going to do things. They have organized a club. Just what the name of this club is to be, they have not yet decided, but whatever the name, the club will make it possible for the girls to get better acquainted, to have some good times and to do some worth while things.

The students of the Business Administration class are co-operating with Mr. A. E. Archambeau, a business man of Marquette, in the writing of Mr. Archambeau's advertisements for the Normal News. The students of the class each write an advertisement to fill the prescribed space. Mr. Archambeau then selects the one which he considers best for the purpose. The writer of the winning advertisement receives one dollar. Sigurd Berglund was the author of the advertisement which appeared in the Volume 7, Number 4, issue of the Normal News, while George Wats is the author of the ad appearing in this issue.

Sunday, November 23, was designated as God and Country Day. There was an educational meeting at Trenary Sunday afternoon. Mr. C. C. Wiggins, head of the Commercial department of the Normal, gave a talk. Mr. Harry Bottrell, a graduate of Northern State Normal, is superintendent at Trenary.

Delta Sigma Nu members entertained their pledges at a "dainty" luncheon, November 17, 1924. The luncheon was served in the College Eat Shop. This affair was one of the gayest Delta Sigma Nu has had this year.

Mrs. John Lowe entertained the Delta members at a dinner given at her home Friday, November 21. Our hostess had elaborately decorated the table, both with food and otherwise. It is needless to say that we had a very enjoyable time. The sad part of it all, which prevented us from having a party, was that we had to hurry back to school for our 1 o'clock classes.

W. B. McClintock, of the Manual Training Department, visited the Soo last week to speak before an athletic banquet for the football men, their fathers, and the faculty.

The critic teachers dropped in on Mr. Lee to surprise him Saturday evening, November 15. It is needless to say that everyone had a wonderful time.

A brief business consultation of the Commercial Club on Friday, November 14, resulted in the selection of November 18 for the annual banquet. The interest in the regular business meeting which preceded the banquet was manifestly subordinated to the sublime contemplation of the revels which were to follow. There was ample compensation for the impatience suffered, however, for a very delectable repast was served; the decorations and favors were delightful. Mrs. Wiggins, strange to say, usurped Mr. Wiggins' place as chief entertainer, and a scene ensued which heightened the hilarity of the carousers. Several also contributed anecdotes for the general amusement.

The French Club is to meet Tuesday, November 25, for the purpose of electing officers. A delightful program is to be given. Miss Archambeau, the faculty advisor, is to speak on French customs, and Miss Lolita Van Chestine is to sing a group of typical French songs.

It is a newspaper to which the children contribute articles weekly. They have their editorial staff whose duty is to oversee the work of the reporters and assemble the news for the paper. This project is a unit of activity that has a well defined, worth while
