Welcome High School Teams

ONCE again Northern will act as host to several high school basketball teams which have been fortunate enough to qualify as contestants in the Upper Peninsula Regional Tournament.

As exponents of good basketball and clean sportsmanship these teams represent the "cream of the crop." For these reasons the Northern News extends its heartiest congratulations and wishes them an enjoyable visit in Marquette. In extending a cordial welcome to these teams, we would like them to view the college as their future Alma Mater. This is a splendid opportunity for them to become acquainted with the college and the function it has in serving the schools of the Upper Peninsula. We would like them to consider Northern when the time comes for them to choose a college.

It is on these occasions that Northern must show its worth. Every Fall Term we find the sororities and fraternities "rushing" the Freshmen for pledges. Why not a general college rush for outstanding high school graduates? There are entirely too many of these graduates being lured to the larger colleges downstate. It is up to the students here to show them that they can receive the same (and in many cases better) education and advantages here at Northern. In what better manner can this be shown than to have it made clear that a spirit of friendliness and loyalty prevails among the students of Northern. If the students of this institution have its welfare at heart, enough, in fact, to seek prospective worthy students, we can be assured that it will certainly reflect itself on enrollment day.

Start Early

IT SEEMS that the selection and guidance of youth for the profession of education should be started a few years before they plan on entering college. There is not enough conscientious thought given to the importance and responsibility that is naturally allied with the teaching profession.

The Phi Delta Kappa, a national educational organization, has for years given much consideration to this problem. In 1933, according to the Phi Delta Kappan, the official organ of this society, a proposal was put forth by the survey committee suggesting that they undertake the preparation, publication, and distribution of a suitable booklet to serve as a means whereby young men might be encouraged to give education, as a profession, due consideration while still in high school. They also recommended that the fraternity commit itself to a policy of aggressive action in support of such a project. Last year the council made an appropriation to support the undertaking. This booklet would be written, published, and distributed by a special committee. It would be published for the sole purpose of aiding in the selection and guidance of youth for the profession.

Often it is due to the contact between student and teacher that causes the former to consider the teaching profession as a vocation. After being in school for such a long period of time they naturally look to the profession because it is the only field in which they have had the opportunity to become acquainted with. This has often been the cause of inadequately suited students. They should have been informed of the other vocations. Therefore it is the purpose of vocational guidance advocates to disseminate this information concerning the selection and guidance of students aspiring to become teachers.

By preparing a booklet on this subject for the use of high school students and college freshmen much discouragement and failure in the profession can be avoided.

The worst wheel creaks the most.—G. B. Shaw.

DOTS, DASHES AND POINTEDLY—

The reason so many co-eds like Bob, the postman, is that he always brings some "mail" along with him.

Sieve Baltic spied Jake "Doc" Arneith hanging over the railing and he raised his hands and said, "Romeo", with all the gusto of Al Jolson's "Mammy". Steve seems to be a little confused as to just who was on the balcony and who was below, or is his a modern version.

Ruby Price just can't seem to lose her shadow.

Cutlets from Hamlet: "To is or not to was that is the ask."

Fresh co-eds are just beginning to realize that last fall they should have told their cowhand boyfriends to either make the debating or basketball team. A whole weekend together, just think, Yeah—think about exams. . . .

Maggie Warren's Juvenile Shoppe over on Third is the new after-school rendezvous for the fellows who are fatigued after a day of entertaining the ruling Northesters.

Bill VanCleve has a new theme song: "May I hang over the railing with you?"

The Sophomores this year can sympathize with the Freshmen girls who have to stand on one leg and wiggle the other while the boys laugh.

And we're willing to wager that the lowerclassmen haven't been spending so much time in the gym just because they like to hang over the bar.

The Crack of Dawn

Now, girls and boys, you should be ashamed of yourselves! I most certainly am not going to discuss that "morning-after-the-night-before" feeling that so many of you are familiar with, when getting up in the morning is anything but painless. Instead, I shall set before your eyes (assumed and otherwise) the torturous process by which many of us awaken at the crack of dawn or our room-mate (some are so brutal).

You'd think that any of those superior males—(ahem—girls, bow your heads in reverence) who had had the ingenuity to invent the automobile and the can-opener (dear can-opener, what we girls would ever do without it is a mystery to me—and sometimes what we do do with it, is still a mystery—so let's relax) would have had enough ingenuity to invent a pleasant way of awakening. As is, the sensation the average person has on arising is something between a "cyclonic windstorm striking the vicinity," and "the fire truck going through the room"—resulting in said person coming dazedly to life, and wearing a scared expression for the rest of the day (watch about you, folks—you might see one).

Of course, this article is not meant for members of the stronger sex; to them, the mere act of arising in the morning is nothing. It does not even daunt their manly courage when the room temperature is 20 degrees below and the floor temperature 30 degrees below that in the shade (window shade). But for us, sweet, clinging bits of femininity, the ordeal is too much. The thought of boldly stepping from a nice warm bed on an icy floor makes us shudder—the idea of having a room-mate forcefully pull us out makes our blood run cold, while the brutal sound of an alarm clock sends spasms of fear through our slender frames (not picture—or frame-ups). Oh! If only we could get up seven times on Monday and be through with it for a week! If only we could wash our molars seven—but I'm digressing.

This plan is very practical, and is being practiced right here at Northern. When you hear the first bell, you must begin to show signs of life, so that you will be able to get to your next class without walking in your sleep. By the time the third bell rings, you are cozily snuggled (not smuggled) in your chair, enjoying another of your "daily dozens" for the next bell.

FACULTY FACTS

Did you know that— Dr. Clucas is a Diesel-engine booster? He will readily talk on the subject, and firmly believes that the Diesel-Age will be upon us soon. Can't you just hear the salesman saying, "Diesel sell like hot cakes?" As a matter of fact, he is postponing the purchase of a new car until he can get an oil burner, so that, as he puts it, "I can travel to California for about $10." Well, Dr. Clucas, "oil" will be dead end, you know.

Mr. Hedgecock is probably the busiest person on the campus right now. He is the director of the Phy Ed demonstration to be given March 18 and as such has the responsibility of directing the antics of 200 students. Anyone who has tried to handle 10 can appreciate the magnitude of Mr. Hedgecock's venture. Well, coach, if things go wrong, "venture" your disgust by taking your hair down and crying, and things will look better.

Mr. McCollom wears a vest only on rare occasions. Imagine the astonishment of his geography classes should they come to school some day and not see that familiar white-shirted front before them! He probably thinks the least he can get by with is better. A case of "the least is best, and the vest is best, and never the twain shall meet."

Miss Van Antwerp narrowly escaped serious injury when she fell down the stairs in the J. D. Pierce school. She was walking to Mr. Batum at the head of the stairs, and turning to leave, she misjudged her step and slid to the bottom. She had the presence of mind to relax, and consequently came out of it with minor bruises, which we were all glad to hear. "Astrate" is no place to try a new step, Miss Van Antwerp.

Mr. Parker operates a sort of gratis taxi from Arch street to the college. Every day at 1:00 P. M. he may be seen in his big blue Buick, unloading his passengers at the school. They seem to just pour out in a steady stream. We wonder if there is something in the Theta constitution that compels the frat adviser to provide transportation for the far-away Thetas? Incidentally, the Thetas are thankful that they have Mr. Parker for their frat adviser for year after year, the "Parker house rolls" merrily along.

Running short of facts, this news column will now dodge all missiles, and focus you all by sneaking out the back way, proving that "any ruse is a good ruse."

ALUMNI NEWS

The hiring of two high school teachers for the remainder of the school year was confirmed by the Sault Ste. Marie Board of Education on February 18. Miss Marigold Lindelof replaced Mrs. Clarence Baker as English and speaking instructor, while Toivo Simonen (B. S. '35), Munising, who substituted during the illness and death of Clarence Cain, has been continued as a substitute for the remainder of the year in the manual arts department.

Howard H. Billings (L. '28), Marquette, teacher in the Central School of Iron River, has been given a leave of absence, effective March 1, when he will accept a permanent position with the Singer Sewing Machine company. Mr. Billings has been associated in a temporary capacity. He plans to go to Marquette to become assistant district manager and later will go to Oshkosh to have charge of a district.

Miss Ellen Hyppa (5 yr. G. '33), Wakefield, was married to Turi Waltonen of Marquette on Dec. 21, in the parsonage of Messiah Lutheran Church, Dr. O. H. Bostrom officiating. The bride is a graduate of Wakefield High School and N. S. T. C. The groom is a graduate of the Marquette High School and is employed at the Quality Market in Marquette.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Miss Marie Gendron was the guest of honor at a colorful tea given at the home of Mrs. G. C. Meyland, Tau Pi Nu sorority hostess, last Monday afternoon, March 9.

Miss Gendron, a Northern graduate of '35, is an alumna member of Tau Pi Nu. At the tea the guest of honor renewed her old acquaintances in the sorority and was introduced to the new members recently initiated.

Cup cakes led in green and white, the sorority colors, were served with the tea. During the afternoon Miss Catherine Anderson and Miss Shirley DeRosier poured. Also in honor of Miss Gendron, the Tau Pi Nus and russhes attended the assembly concert of the Ironwood A Capella choir in a body.

TOURNEY OPENS HERE THURSDAY

HEMATITES EARN U. P. TITLE SHOT FOR SIXTH YEAR

Ishpeming, Iron River Favorites to Meet for Class B Title.

Ishpeming, Gwin and Trenay will represent this district in the Upper Peninsula Basketball Tournament to be held in the College gymnasium for three days beginning Thursday night, March 19.

For the sixth consecutive season the Ishpeming crew has come through to take the district Class B title. This team ran roughshod over the Soo in their first game Friday night and then went on to dispose of their old enemy, Negaunee, in the finals the following night. Negaunee had earned the right to play this game by defeating the Marquette Redmen in a nip and tuck battle Friday night which ended with a 19-18 victory for the Miners.

Gwin repeated for the third consecutive time by taking the Class C district title at Munising. In this tourney, the Marquette Baraga Parochials were beaten by Republic in the first game Thursday night, and Joe DeCook's Newberry outfit lost to Munising in the second game. J. D. Pierce, which had drawn a bye, was hopelessly outclassed by Munising 48-20 on Friday night while Gwin was administering Republic a severe beating. The Model Towners piled up a big first half lead in Saturday's finals and were able to withstand a second half comeback by Munising and win 25-21, for their third straight year.

Trenay nosed out Champion 15-14 with a basket in the last ten seconds to take the Class D title in the tourney held in the Marquette High gym.

Pre-tourney dope seems to indicate that Ishpeming will meet Iron River's powerhouse for the Peninsula Class B championship. Iron River has been walloping every team they have met this season by big scores and Ishpeming, after stretching its string of victories to 43 consecutive games, has been defeated only once this year that once by Newberry when they were playing with a crippled lineup. Gwin looks like a good bet to repeat in Class C with Norway looming as the next biggest threat. Trenay didn't look very impressive in winning the Class D district crown from Champion. Bergland has been doing pretty well in its class this year and must be considered when speaking of potential Class D champions.

PIERCE CAGERS WIN LAST GAME

The John D. Pierce high school basketballers brought their 1935-36 sked to a close here, March 6, 1936, by a close win over Gwin, 35 to 31.

The Pierce cagers ran up a 19-12 lead over "Doc" Miller's crew in the first half and then went on to play even term ball for the remainder of the contest.

No substitutions were made by either team during the entire game and only 11 fouls were called by referee Hiney, seven on Pierce and four on Gwin.

Koski and Scholus led the Training school boys' attack with 14 and 12 points respectively. Soyring was the Model Towners' ace with 10 tallies garnered on four field baskets and two gift throws.

Score by periods:
John D. Pierce...9 10 6 10—35
Gwin.....7 5 7 11—31
Referee—Hiney, Negaunee.

Beginning tomorrow night, Northern will be hosts to 13 teams competing in the 17th U. P. Basketball Tournament. . . . It'll be a big week-end for the competing high school teams and their supporters. . . . This tourney used to be held in the local gym every year, but since 1932 different cities have been selected to sponsor the tournament, so it is not a yearly event at Northern. Nonetheless it seems to be the consensus of opinion among Peninsula students that Marquette is the town in which they prefer to meet their opponents on the basketball court. Like many adults, they believe Marquette to be an ideal host town.

How many of us, especially Marquette students, remember when back in our short pants days we used to get into the gym about 45 minutes before the first game and anchor ourselves to a choice seat around the balcony rail? . . . Later when the games were well under way and every bit of space occupied, one of these balcony seats would often bring us as high as fifty cents apiece from prosperous gentlemen . . . maybe having a son on the team to entertain. . . . Men with lady friends along bit the hardest. . . . When you figure that on some days there were three sessions, and that if a fellow was enterprising enough he might well dispose of two or three seats per session . . . well it is nice enough . . . on the job for three days . . . and then seeing about 12 or 14 games in the bargain.

On Thursday night the Millionaires will meet the Copper Country contender for the McNaughton hockey trophy in the first of a two game series. Last Sunday the Calumet Aristocrats defeated the Painesdale Panthers (last year's champs) 2-1 in the first of a two game series to determine which team will play the Marquette outfit in the finals. Total scores will count, however, so if the Panthers in the second game pile up a victory margin of more than one point, they can clinch the final playoff rights. . . . It would sound nice though to have the Millionaires and Aristocrats meet. It would sound a lot more dignified and refined than actually would be the case if they come together.

This column wouldn't be complete without at least one prediction. . . . Well, here's a whole flock of 'em . . . now start blasting away, you guys. . . . Here they are: Iron River over Menominee, Ishpeming over Calumet, and Coach Ed. Mosombe's boys over Ishpeming for the Class B title. In Class C, Gwin and Norway meet in the first game. . . . I believe this game will be decided by free shots, but lean just a little toward the Model Town. The winner of this tilt should have no trouble in turning back the victors of the Crystal Falls-Dollar Bay tilt for top honors. . . . In Class D, Channing over Winona, Channing over Grand Marais, Trenay over Bergland and, finally, Channing over Trenay.

JOHNSON TOPS SCORING LIST

N. S. T. C. Squad Credited With 566 Points to Opponents' 497.

As Northern's basketball season ended on February 29, with a 57-32 victory over St. Norbert's, we can not speak of it as a whole and as the past season.

The Olive and Gold outscored its fifteen opponents of the season by 69 points, totaling 566 points to 497 for the opposition. Dividing this total by 15 (the number of games played, including the Alumni), we find Hedgcock's outfit averaging just short of 38 points per game as compared to about 33 for the opposition. They ran up their largest single game score of 57 against St. Norbert's. The Alumni squad and Ironwood Junior College held them to 26 points (their lowest score) per game in the first games of the season.

Arnie Johnson started the season for Northern at guard, and played four games at that position before being moved to forward where he began finding the basket. He leads the team with a season's total of 123 points, averaging about 8 points per game. He averaged slightly over 10 points in the games he played at forward. Ray Dion, graduating this June with Johnson, comes next on the team's scoring list with 89 points for the season. Johnson totaled 61 points in the last three games of the season.

If Northern outscored their opponents, they also noticeably outfouled them by 61. The local teachers had 278 fouls charged against them to 217 for their opponents. Against Northland and St. Norbert's in the last two games of the season, Northern was charged with 28 fouls in each game, their guest teams getting 20 and 14 respectively; only 11 against Northland first game here. The Marquette team held and roughed for an average of 18.5 fouls per game.

Below is listed the total number of points for the season for each player, and also the number of fouls and points of Northern and her opponents.

MUNISING LOSES TO GWINN CREW

"Doc" Miller's Team Display Top Form in Recent Games.

Gwin high school's basketball crew edged out Munising's quint 25-21, Saturday night, March 14, at Munising, to make it three years in a row that the Model Towners have copped the Class C district honors. The victory for the Model Towners stamp them as the team to beat for U. P. honors in Marquette this week-end.

"Doc" Miller's team started out in impressive fashion and with the front line crew of Soyring, Maki and Asikainen clicking smoothly ran up a 15-4 lead at half time. The Alger machine, however, came back strong in the last two canoes, and with Anderson and Seglund tossing the oval in from all angles of the floor made a determined bid for victory. The spurt was not enough, however, and the final gun found the Munising quint four points short of a win.

The loss was a heartbreaker for the best Munising quint in years, as the tilt was lost from the free throw lane, the Alger being successful on only one foul before out of eleven. Gwin tossed in seven out of eleven.

The Munising crew made its way into the finals by edging out Joe DeCook's Newberry Indians 34-33 on Thursday and then romping over Pierce's quint 48-20 on Friday.

Gwin, getting a first round by, disposed of Republic 44-30 to earn their way into the finals.
