MARY THE THIRD IS CLEVER PLAY

Junior Play Is Gentle Satire On Matrimonial Problems

"Love's old story" was told anew in a delightful modern way in Rachel Grothers' play, Mary the Third, presented by the Junior class Thursday, June 10. Forest Roberts, director, working with a capable group of Juniors, presented one of the most popular plays of several years.

The play was an ingenious, tantalizing combination of irony, humor and pathos. For those who love the old fashioned happy ending the evening was a success and those who enjoyed the gay sparkling darning of the story went away satisfied.

Before the play proper two prologues were presented. The first, a whimsical little scene with the lover pursuing and the beloved enjoying it in the old fashioned way, included in its cast Isabel Steele, pretty and coy, winning her William; Eino Michelson, suave courtly suitor, who will win her in spite of herself. The little scene was well played.

In the second prologue, Mary the Second, petite attractive Marie Richards, in a matrimonial turmoil, trying desperately to decide between Robert, a practical soul with very little imagination, but a great capacity for love, played very effectively by Stanley Susan, and Richard, an idealistic dreamer, Norman McLean.

Ellen Bennett as the lovable, completely idealistic Mary of the rebellious third generation, did an unusually fine piece of characterization. She was completely absorbed in the intensity of her role. Miss Bennett was particularly effective when she stood stunned and bewildered, robbed of the security of her own home which she had idealized. The eager sincerity that was consistently a part of her character throughout the play was the keynote to the beauty of the play.

The outstanding character role of the play was that of Lysle Hutton as Granny. Her voice held that subtle tinge that conveyed to the audience that she was a wonderful old woman, the very backbone of this household, whether her daughter knew it or not. She was especially effective in her eloquent inquisitive pantomime. Miss Hutton kept completely in character throughout the play.

Offer Several New Courses This Summer

Among the courses offered this summer are several new ones in Education, especially designed for teachers who desire to study modern trends in teaching. To comply with the request of several who have asked for such courses, the following are being offered: Social Studies in the Elementary School 308 and Construction of Elementary Curricula 407; to Abnormal Psychology has been added Mental Hygiene 302. Current Problems in Teaching, 350 and Health Education in the Elementary Grades 211 are two additional courses not recently given.

In looking over the schedule we find that the English department offers no less than eleven courses while Commerce and Home Economics are conspicuous by their absence. Among the foreign languages, only French can be taken, but in all the other departments, several courses are offered. Undoubtedly, many of us will find Physical Education the most attractive of all, with opportunities for swimming, tennis, badminton and archery.

MORE PLACEMENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Past Two Weeks Show Increase Of Sixteen Senior Acceptances

The following members of the Senior Class of the Northern State Teachers College have accepted positions during the past two weeks as indicated below:

- Letizia Cardone, Wakefield, to Traverse City.
- Doris Exde, Marquette, to Menominee.
- Margaret Ethier, Hubbell, to Baraga.
- John Hubbard, Marquette, to Ironwood.
- Helen Jarvi, Calumet, to Chassell.
- Elizabeth Millward, Marquette, to Gladstone.
- Philip Bahrman, Marquette, to Channing.
- Eino Grekkila, Hibbing, Minn., to Yale.
- Edward Gleason, Negaunee, to Saranac.
- Martha Johnson, Norway, to Grayling.
- Walter Wallin, as Bobby, the lovable wild youth, was consistently good. His dialogue with Mary was one of the most appealing scenes in the play. He was natural, the typical boy, valiantly defending his mother.
- Eino Michelson as Lynn and Norman McLean as Hal, did a good piece of work in the roles of earnest suitors for the hand of Mary. Lennie and Max, those completely natural brash young moderns, were played by Gertrude Heline and Kenneth Yeoman. Marda Roberts played the part of the maid.

about his difficult family. He handled the part exceptionally well.

TO HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES, PARENTS, AND TEACHERS:

I cordially invite the following high school graduates to attend Northern State Teachers College:

Young people who wish to enter the teaching profession (Northern is placing 98% of the graduates).

Young people who plan to enter one of the other professions. (Northern offers two to four years of pre-professional work).

Young people who desire a general cultural training.

Young people who have not decided on their life work. (Northern gives personal attention to such students).

Expenses at Northern are very low—often less than half those at other good colleges more distant.

The teachers have much to do in determining whether and where high school graduates go to college. They can be of material service to both parents and students by telling them of the opportunities for splendid college training at Northern.

Very cordially yours,
Webster H. Pearce
President.

EPSILON FETES NEW MEMBERS

Induct Fourteen At Annual Banquet, June 11; Officers Chosen

On Friday, June 11, 14 of Northern's promising students were entertained in the recreation room, at which time they were initiated into the Phi Epsilon honor society. A pleasant dinner was followed by an entertaining program with Mr. Lee as toastmaster. Grace Hanner issued a president's greeting to the new members and Robert Northey responded in behalf of his group.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Arthur Erickson, superintendent of schools in Ironwood, and he discussed "Social Studies in the Modern School." Social studies, according to the speaker, are among the least liked courses in the school curriculum and unless they are made more vital and interesting the purpose of training good citizens will be doomed to failure. Of the four possible courses to follow, Mr. Erickson stated that we should choose the one termed Liberal which would mean a friendly attitude toward new ideas and progressive action. Social studies should place greater emphasis upon the lives of common people, devote more time to studying the way in which democracy has developed and show the growth of industrial civilization.

Mr. Erickson's discourse was followed by a short business meeting. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

- President—Hazel Elson.
- Vice-President—Eino Michelson.
- Secretary—Evelyn Ridan.
- Treasurer—Norman Peterson.

STATE LIBRARY ANNOUNCES NEW LIST OF BOOKS

The Michigan State Library announces a new preferred list of books from which school boards of primary school districts may select volumes to purchase for their libraries. This new list was compiled by the State Library and the Department of Public Instruction. The publication of the list is required by law and the books listed are the only ones which may be purchased for district school libraries with the funds apportioned from the collection of penal fines. In making up the list the State Library is guided by the selection of the American Library Association and the Children's Catalogue. The principal objective is to provide a balanced list and as wide a variety as possible.

TEACHING TRENDS INDICATE CHANGE

Intermediate, Elementary Positions, Are In Demand At Present

The Placement Bureau is doing excellent work in spite of handicaps forced upon it by applicants themselves. Three-fourths of the students are enrolled in branches where there is no demand and in this way make it nearly impossible for the Bureau to do anything for them.

In the past there was a demand for Junior and Senior High School teachers and as a result these teachers received large salaries. That field is now overcrowded and the demand is shifted to intermediate and primary teachers. Demands for lower grade teachers is state-wide. Calls have been received for qualified teachers from counties as far south as the southern boundary of Michigan.

There is a demand for men teachers who can handle other activities besides their regular class work. Some men enrolled think that because they cannot make the varsity there is no need of taking part in basketball, football, track, and other sports. Regardless of whether you make the team you can still learn the games. This applies to other (Continued on Page 2)

In 1935 he was elected to the state board of education and remains in that office until 1941.

SENIORS CLOWN IN CIRCUS ACTS

Intelligent Hybrids Delight Audience With Antics And Stunts

"Colossal and stupendous," proclaimed the advance billings, and better words to describe the Senior circus could not be found. Taking advantage of their last opportunity to raise the roof of Northern, the Seniors really went to town. There was not a dull moment from the appearance of the first clown to the last balanced bar of the band.

Ringmaster Jack Hubbard dished out ballyhoo in typical circus style as he announced Jo-Jo the dog-faced boy and "Hercules" Cummings, the strong man's performance, previously enacted before all the heads of "Yururup", carried special appeal for feminine spectators as bulging biceps strained. Wayne Nelmark, whose movements were synchronized with those of his partner in a manner astounding to behold, writhed through the intricate steps of a Parisian adagio dance in his own inimitable manner. Professor Konwinski's wonder horse with the intelligence of two human beings demonstrated unusual mathematical ability. Before beginning the act Joe related the history of his animal's performance; this horse's tale is indeed exceptional.

The only serious moments in the program ensued as Bob Laurie, Senior class president, gave his address. He told of the growth of a new democratic spirit in the student body and gave as an example the discussion groups. He advocated greater freedom of student expression in classes and urged the students to lead the way. Backed by administrative encouragement the trend is in a favorable direction, he said.

Bucky Loncharat, "that sparkplug of scintillating song", led the class in song and then appeared in a trio who sang several numbers of his own composition. Madame Notat's magnificent menagerie was then presented (Continued on Page 4)

FRESHMEN VICTORS IN CLASS RUSH

FINAL EVENTS DECIDE MEET

Island Events Prove To Be Large Factor In Frosh Victory

Another Rush Day has come and gone, with the Freshmen ending up with the highest number of points—true to Northern tradition. Now that both classes have gotten over the usual number of black and blue spots, charley horses, painful sunburns, and the general after-effects of the Rush, gym classes go on much the same as before. Concerning the weather, last Friday's was really one of those days we dream about for Rush Day, warm enough to partly satisfy the boys who were given a ducking in the pool, but just enough clouds in the sky to limit the burning power of the sun.

Promptly at 10 o'clock the Freshmen and Sophomore classes assembled in the auditorium for the morning division of the contest. Dr. Williams directed the band in a stirring march, Helen Eeklund, president of the Student Girls' League, and Paul Olson, president of the Men's Union, gave introductory explanations, Olson acting as chairman for the morning.

The Freshmen won their first five points when the attendance was taken. They outnumbered their elders by about three per cent.

With the decisions given for the singing contest, the Sophomores evened the score by winning five points for the group singing of "Come, Men of Northern." The Sophomores also won the ten points awarded for the best comic stunt. They gave a pantomime of part of the spirit and fun of every Rush Day.

In the yell contest, the Freshmen came back to win the five points for the best organized yell. The spell-down was so evenly matched that the judges were left standing on the platform at the end of the allotted time. This gave five more chalk marks to each class.

The last event of the morning, the impromptu speech contest, was won by Mary Beamer, who represented the Freshman class. The topic of both speeches was "The values of Rush Day." Mary Harvey spoke for the Sophomores. With the five points for this last event chalked up on the Frosh side of the score card, the totals for the morning gave twenty points to each class.

The results of the events at the Island were as follows:

Girls' Egg Throwing Contest—(15 points) Won by the freshmen.
Men's Surf Board Contest—(15 points) Won by the freshmen. Contestants were: Don Dilger, Joseph Poisson and Irving Jadin, freshmen; and Walter McClintock, Keith Annear and Marvin Langlois, sophomores.

Girls' Balance Beam Walk—(15 points) Won by the sophomores.
Men's Egg Throwing Contest—(15 points) Won by the freshmen.

Men's King of the Float—(15 points) Won by the sophomores. Participants were: Francis Vetort, Glen Hunter, Carl Judy, Dean Tipper and Roy Wehmanen, sophomores; and Wilber Schenk, Joseph Poisson, Donald Oates, Evald Erickson, and George Hugst, freshmen.

Girls' Tag of War—(25 points) Won by freshmen.
Mixed Medley Relay—(20 points) Won by freshmen.

Men's Tag of War—(25 points) Won by freshmen.

At the Island, the frosh took 115 points out of a possible 145 points. At the close of the events at the Island, the classes moved to the college athletic field where the final contests were held.

After a loosely run and much disputed girls' hoop relay, the sophomore class was given the fifteen points, although the frosh girls came in first. The sophomore girls earned

CLASS OF 1937

From the Bleachers

By Wolfe

The season is over, the athletic sked is completed, and the most important goals have been accomplished. Tech has been defeated twice on the gridiron, twice on the basketball court, twice on the track. The track and basketball seasons were successful, and the freshmen defended their class heritage in the yearly rivalry with the sophomores.

And in the sport world outside the campus:
TOP FLOOR, PLEASE—The Chicago White Sox have recently come to the end of a 10 game win streak, the longest this season, and are playing the most heads up ball in the league.

The American Davis Cup team has embarked for England to compete for the famous trophy of Wimbledon. The American Davis Cup team has embarked for England to compete for the famous trophy of Wimbledon.

another fifteen points when they outran their younger rivals in the girls' quarter mile relay.
A few minutes later the eight sophomore men in the men's half mile relay came in with another victory that was good for fifteen points.

However, in the girls' fifty yard dash the three freshmen girls made a grand slam and added nine more markers to the frosh's rapidly dwindling margin.

In the men's hundred yard dash the sophomores took first (5 points) and third (1 point) places, while the frosh were able to cop only a second place (3 points).

Next on the program was the mixed shuttle relay, worth twenty points; the sophomores finished first, but it was afterwards found that two more freshmen had run than was necessary and they were, therefore, given the win.

After a strenuous six minute battle the freshmen girls walked off with the girls' pushball contest and another twenty-five points.

In the final event, the sophomore boys completely outwitted and outfought the freshmen and captured the twenty-five points that were offered in the men's pushball contest. This was the first time in many years that the older men had won this event.

At the conclusion of the events the count stood: Freshmen 192 points and sophomores 126 points.

bledon. The Americans defeated the Australians in the zone finals, and with England minus Fred Perry, the U. S. team is determined to take the goblet back across the Atlantic waters.

PARACHUTES FOR:
—The Milwaukee Brewers, the most sensational team in the American Association the first five weeks of the season, have fallen into reverse, and are losing altitude fast. At this writing, they have just dropped out of the top position for the first time this year.

—Carl Hubbell, brilliant pitcher of the New York Giants, after a record breaking 24 game win streak, has failed to connect in his last three efforts, and has been defeated or knocked off the mound by the Brooklyn Dodgers, Chicago Cubs, and St. Louis Cardinals in order.

HISTORY IS MADE AFTER NOON:
—Bill Dietrich, bespectacled hurler of the Chicago White Sox, who two years ago had one foot in a banana peel and the other in the Three-Eye League moves in alongside his teammate, Vern Kennedy, in the Hall of Fame with a no-hitter against the Cleveland Indians. Kennedy was the last major leaguer to accomplish the feat, his masterpiece also accomplished at the expense of the Indians in August of 1935.

—Hank Greenberg, gangling Tiger first sacker, tied the all-time record, when he slammed out two circuit blows in one inning against the St. Louis Browns.

GOOD MORNING, JUDGE—Cash customer, and old acquaintance Diz Dean made his Nth appearance before league officials for violating another regulation concerning temperaments, with the garrulous Cardinal coming out on top. And to celebrate a few days later, the same Mr. Dean walked out onto the Polo Grounds before 55,000 raving Giant enthusiasts, a perfect Daniel-in-the-lion's-den set-up, made to order for the Great One, and polished off the Manhattan fence-busters 8-1, allowing only three Triple Imposters to give such a thoroughly outstanding performance that the boys from the Bronx not only forgot to cheer, but forgot that the great Carl Hubbell was twirling for the home towners.

SHOOTING HIGH:
Bill Setton and Earl Meadows, crack U. of Southern California pole vaulters, continue to amaze track enthusiasts with their impossible antics. Latest achievement for each is 14 feet 8 1/2 inches, which is two inches better than the mark set by George Varoff, California janitor, at Randall Island Stadium last spring. Less than three years ago, Bill Graher held the world's record at 14 feet 1 1/2 inches.

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK:
War Admiral, dynamic son of the veteran Man O' War, captures the gonfalon at Belmont Stakes, making him one of the very few triple winners in horse-racing history. Previous to that he won the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

The official score of the Rush is given as 192-126. The sophomores say it should be 172-146. But the sophs are usually second best in the rush, and likewise with the score. Nevertheless, they continue to counter with a vocabulary of "ifs" for all who offer conversation on the situation.

And now we take our leave of you. And pause to say our last adieu; College may be lots of fun But just the same, we're glad it's done.

THREE TRACK RECORDS BROKEN

Three new records were established during the regime of the past track season; two on the home field and one at Tech. Olson set a new high jump record of 5 feet 10.5 inches on the college field, Bill Van Cleave set the other with the fast time of 4:48.7 on the Northern track. The relay team went places at Tech and flashed along to a new record of 3:44.5.

Coach Hedgecock loses outstanding men who are specialists in their respective events through graduation, but a wealth of new material is sufficient to cause the coach to have an optimistic outlook on the coming track year.

It was a successful track season and the coaches and participants are to be commended for the fine display of athletic prowess and sportsmanship.

UNIQUE PROGRAM PUT ON BY J. D. P.

The students of the John D. Pierce grade school presented a very interesting program of their achievements on Monday morning, June 7. Owing to the capability and efficiency of the critic teachers and the interest of the pupils a well planned program was given. The future teachers had a pleasant opportunity to become acquainted with what is expected of them as teachers.

The kindergartners under the direction of Miss Fox gave a delightful dramatization of several nursery rhymes.

Miss Marsh's first grade showed skillful vocal ability. They caused quite a sensation with their human locomotive.

Miss Soles' second grade dramatized an interesting health project with much ability.

The Third Grade Herald, a successful newspaper project, under the direction of Miss Herald, was the third graders' contribution. The pupils explained the various parts of the paper and each member of the staff was introduced to the audience.

The fourth grade presented an educational dramatization of the usefulness of the bee, the snake, the toad and the frog. This was part of Miss Mehner's nature study project. Due to the limited time, the fifth and sixth grade projects were eliminated.

cd. Numa, a ferocious feline whose size brought surprised gasps from the audience, was bent to the trainer's will as she displayed unusual courage and nerves of steel. Several zooks, making their first appearance in any ring, became unruly but were calmed by their trainer. Steve "Born to Dance" Baltic appeared in a difficult juggle dance which was halted prematurely as an unfortunate accident damaged his equipment. The world's premier tight rope artist, Professor Wiitalla, disciple of Blondeau, "or was it Blondeau?" concluded the day's activities and those in attendance left the big top on a carpet of peanut shells.

year service stripes go to the following: Wiitalla, Captain Gleason, Hoffman, and Brigman. Coach Hedgecock thanked the usually forgotten men (those who worked, but failed to earn a sweater) for their fine work. Hedgecock said, "Although some men have not earned this award, it is quite possible they have contributed to the success of the team than the men that have earned an award."

The fine work of both the women's and men's debating teams was acknowledged, and appropriate awards were presented to the debaters. The first year award for women's debating was merited by Hazel Elson and Mary Harvey. They were presented with an olive and gold shield. Three third year men, Vinge, Worth, and McLean were honored, but not awarded, as no appropriate award has been decided upon. William Doyle received the traditional first year award in the olive and gold shield.

TRI MU FORMAL USUAL SUCCESS

The Tri Mu fraternity held their annual dinner-dance at the Hotel Northland last Friday evening. Besides the twenty-three members and their guests, the faculty consisting of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McCollom, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Meyland and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Brown attended. Music was furnished by Lewis Jacobs' orchestra.

Those in the committee in charge of arrangements were: Anthony Loncharte, Joseph Miheve, Donald Oates, Paul Olson. The fraternity advisers are Mr. Roy McCollom and Mr. Gilbert Brown and the officers are as follows: Anthony Loncharte, president. Howard Anderson, vice-president. Carl Ollila, secretary.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

The Beta Omega Tau sorority held its annual dinner dance at the Hotel Northland Saturday, June 5. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. H. Pearce, Miss Emily Huntington, Miss Ruth Craig, faculty adviser, and Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Thoren.

A color scheme of lavender and white was carried out by the centerpieces, consisting of lavender and white sweet peas placed in lavender and green bud vases, and by the programs of white suede paper with a lavender insignia of the sorority on the cover.

Committees in charge of preparation were as follows: Dinner—Mary Walsh and Grace Turvey.

Tables and flowers — Olive Ann DesJardins, Fern Bennett and Marie Johnson.

Music—Jean Winn and Betty McQuade.

Invitations—Marie Richards and Vivian Amundsen.

Programs — Helen Derleth and Jeanne Drury.

Reception — Dorothy Thomas and Mary Derleth.

The Theta house was the scene of the Gamma Phi Alpha sorority annual dinner dance Saturday, June 5. Orchid and gold, the sorority colors, were used in decorating the room. Gold dance programs bore the sorority's insignia in orchid and nut cups and place cards were of orchid with gold printing. At small tables centered with yellow roses and lavender sweet peas, the guests were seated.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Gant, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. McClintock, Miss Lucille Payne, sorority adviser, and Miss Ayres.

In charge of arrangements were the following:

GAMMA DOINGS

The Gammas, too, have entered the spring rush of events. Starting with their annual Spring Formal of June 5, they have been busy.

On Monday night, Miss Payne, sorority adviser, entertained 116 the group by going with the girls down to Donckers' and "treating" the girls accordingly. Everyone seemed to enjoy their sundae.

Near Picnic Rocks on Saturday night, June 12, the sorority had a picnic supper. The group had lots of fun roasting wienies, roasting marshmallows, and singing around the fire.

The Art department of Northern was presented with some very fine pieces of art by Miss Olive Pendill. They are from the late James Pendill estate.

Two lovely bronze statues were in the group. One entitled A Faun, which may be seen in Miss Carey's office. The other is of Hermes, which is a well known one. These were done by a Graeco-Roman artist.

Many photographs of famous Roman pieces of sculpture and figures were included in the gift. The frames of these are going to be used for posting pieces of student work and the pictures will be used for study.

A large steel etching, done by Piranesi, an 18th century Venetian, has been turned over to Mr. Parker, and may be seen in room 206.

A large piece of mounted white coral was also included and will be given to the biological department, under Dr. Lowe.

Why doesn't someone suggest that sororities rent the Thetas with the house? Then they wouldn't be turned loose on Saturday nights. We should now be rhythm conscious. One week-end we have orchestral and chorus music, the next we have band music, and our own glee club gave a program. Maybe everybody will be able to sing "Come Men of Northern" now.
