OFFICE RELEASES VETERANS' DOPE

Veterans presently enrolled for study who discontinue their training under the G. I. Bill before they have exhausted their period of entitlement to training at government expense must obtain a "supplemental certificate of eligibility" from VA before they re-enter training.

This "supplemental certificate of eligibility" indicates the amount of additional training to which the veteran is entitled at government expense after the amount of time previously used in training has been deducted.

The veteran who re-enters training without first getting a "supplemental certificate of eligibility" is, according to the VA, not officially entered into training, and will not receive his subsistence allowance checks until the new certificate is issued.

Q. Will VA pay tuition for a veteran to attend school while he is taking on-the-job training under the G. I. Bill?

A. Yes. VA will pay for such schooling if his course of study is related to the vocation for which he is in training, or if the school course is prescribed and recommended as a part of his job-training.

Q. Is the amount of my disability compensation in any way affected by the amount of money I earn or receive from other sources?

A. No. Q. Is the stipend of a veteran entitled to the same benefits as the veteran's own child?

A. Yes, if the stipend is or was a member of the veteran's household. Q. I was told that my disability, which I claim was due to service, cannot be service-connected because I had it before I entered service. Am I eligible for compensation?

A. If VA decides that your ailment was incurred in or aggravated by your service in the armed forces you will be entitled to receive compensation, if it exists to a compensable degree.

Gamma Phi pledges give "June in January" Party for members and guests. The annual Gamma Phi Alpha mid-winter dance was given in honor of their members by the pledges of the sorority on Friday, January 16.

"June in January" was the theme, and flowers, snowmen, and thermometers formed the decor.

Hot, spiced apple cider and cookies were served as refreshments.

The success of the dance was due largely to the work of the co-chairmen, Catherine Hunt and Margaret Ann LeBonte.

Announce Election Results For Mock Party Convention

The Social Science Club, assisted by their adviser, Mrs. Starr, held an election January 14 and 15, to determine what party should be represented at the mock political convention to be held this spring. The election results were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Party Name, Votes. Includes Republicans (418), Democrats (172), Wallace (46), Socialists (46), Communists (23), Prohibition (7), Peoples (4), Miscellaneous or wasted (1).

Of the one hundred ten instructors and staff members, only forty-three voted, which is a percentage of thirty-nine. This was due largely to the fact that many instructors and staff members didn't know they were allowed to vote.

School Board Conference Convenes At Northern On Sat., January 31

The Midwinter Conference of School Board Members and Superintendents will be held on Saturday, January 31. Delegates from all township and city schools in the Upper Peninsula are expected to be represented at the conference.

The program will begin Saturday morning at 9:30 A. M., at which time Northern's president will welcome the conferees.

Beginning at 1:25 in the afternoon an hour will be devoted to the subject of Outdoor Education, a comparatively new phase of state sponsored education.

Dr. R. B. Hoekings of Crystal Falls, conference chairman, and Eugene B. Elliott, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be among others who will deliver addresses at the conference.

The cast consisted of the following: Dr. Magers as Ophelia, Mrs. Welles as Juliet, Miss Loubert as Portia, Miss Traubagen as Catherine, Miss McCarthy as Cleopatra, and Miss Denmore as Desdemona.

It's interesting to note that this percentage is equal to that of our last election in Michigan in 1944, which was also sixty-six per cent. The club states, however, that the student body, being a select and compact group should have shown more cooperation.

The Social Science Club members cooperated fully and credit should be given to their officers, Stan Lund, president; Ed Kuick, vice-president; Clarice Sall, secretary. The two trustees, Jim Whitman and Gerald Whitman worked diligently with this group also.

Because of the outcome of this voting, the Social Science Club will act as the Republican National Committee would act in the coming mock convention, which they hope will be held early in May.

MUS AND GUESTS DINE AND DANCE

The annual Tri Mu dinner-dance was held Saturday, January 17, at N. M. C. E. The dinner began at 6:00 p. m. in the college lounge.

The Tri Mu wives again proved their mettle by producing another successful meal of escalloped potatoes, cold salad, baked ham and ice cream for dessert.

Dancing began in the J. D. Pierce gymnasium at 8:30. Music was provided for the Tri Mu and their ladies by the Bob Eddy trio.

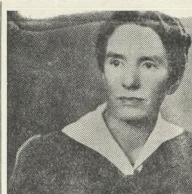

The party was held without incident with the exception of an occasional case of frost-bite due to the sub zero cold wave in the Pierce gym.

Faculty Women Entertain Student Girls With Skit, Group Singing At Dinner

A dinner, sponsored by the women members of the faculty, was given for all Northern women students on Monday evening, January 19, in the college gymnasium.

A humorous skit, portraying selected characters from one of the Shakespearean plays, was enacted by members of the college faculty and of the John D. Pierce High School faculty.

The cast very aptly converted the original dialogue of the play into their own modern version, much to the amusement of all.

Assembly Program To Feature Erika Mann Tues., Feb. 17

On Tuesday evening, February 17, at 8:00 P. M., Erika Mann, noted author, foreign correspondent, and radio news analyst, will speak on the full significance of current events in Europe today.

Unlike most who fled at the start of fascist terror, Erika Mann did not flee to the security of America, but instead traveled throughout Europe writing articles denouncing Fascism.

A leader of democratic thought and action, Miss Mann brings us realistic interpretations, in human as well as ideological terms, of the full significance of current events in Europe.

PROFESSOR ALLEN GOES TO DETROIT

There will be speeches on the following subjects: "Who should Distribute Educational Films to the Community?" "Classroom Films," "Using Projected Still Pictures in the Classroom," "Teaching with Films".

The University of Michigan Audio-Visual Center and Northern Michigan College of Education are jointly sponsoring an audio-visual conference for Upper Peninsula schools in Marquette, April 16th and 17th.

Clubs Trump
The News has started a series of pictures and stories featuring various clubs and organizations at Northern which stress educational and social activities.

The work of the various organizations at Northern is an extremely important part of education. Much material is gone over for which class time cannot be found.

An equally important value of these clubs is the social contact that every member gets. Much class work is necessarily impersonal, and it is easy for students to get the impression that culture is an ivory tower affair with no contacts with real life.

Social contacts form such a large part of every professional person's life that any organization which promotes them has a special value to the students of Northern.

Therefore the News wishes to promote the activities of all organizations that foster some educational field, and do it on a social level of the highest kind.

ARNE FINDS HAPPINESS—OR—LOVE CHEATS THE GREAT BEYOND

This happened the day before Christmas when Arne was very young. Arne's mother had just returned from Christmas shopping when she called to her husband: "Ludvig! Oh, Ludvig!"
"Was it me, dear?"
"Oh, Ludvig!"
"Yes, dear."
"Ludvig, I could not get the lute-fisk."
"Vy could you not get the lute-fisk?"
"I paid all the money for cranberries and fruits and nuts and sausages."
"Dat iss bad."
"Ludvig, Christmas without lute-fisk!"
Arne's mother, exercised very bad taste in speaking of this matter where Arne could hear. From now onwards with the advice of modern psychology would never speak of such family-shaking matters where they might fall heavily on tender ears.

With enough of it—world shaking effects could be expected.
After high school, Arne entered Northern and became a social science major. He studied long and hard, and for a time, it seemed that he was near to the solution of his problem of finding happiness and making the world happy. Then confusion set in. All philosophy was inconsistent and conflicting. There was no truth. Life was not worth living with no hope of happiness. He resolved that he would end his wretched existence.
That night he walked slowly with pensive expression and stilted-knitting brows to the waters of Lake Superior intent upon drowning himself. As he approached the water's edge, however, he noticed a young woman on the beach. She was taking off her shoes and anklets at the time, and this embarrassed Arne at first. Women's skirts had gotten quite long, and Arne hadn't seen a pair of anklets for some time. He was about to turn away in his embarrassment when the young woman saw him.
"Where are you doing?" he stammered.
"I am taking off my shoes and anklets," she said.
"Oh," he replied, not knowing what further to say.
"I am going to swim out into the great beyond," the young woman continued.
"I guess you won't need your shoes and anklets in the great beyond, will you?" Arne asked politely.
"I am going to leave them on the beach where they will be easy to find. I have embroidered my name on my anklets, so it will be easy for the newspaper men to report the tragedy in the morning."
"By the way, what is your name?" asked Arne.
"Madge," said the young woman simply.
Arne liked the sound of the young woman's name, and he hated to see her leave too abruptly. Madge began wading out into the great beyond, however.
"Stay Madge, why is it you're going swimming out into the great beyond?" asked Arne off-handedly.
Madge turned about and walked back to the beach. Then she said in her resonant alto voice:
"All my life I have been looking for someone to love, but I have found no one. There is no happiness without love."
"I understand," said Arne profoundly.
"No you don't. All my life I have been looking for understanding, but I have found no one could understand. (Continued on Page 4, Col 1)

Ralph entered Northern after graduation from the Menominee High School only to leave three semesters later to join the Army Air Force. Throughout his three and a half years as a radio operator in the upper regions, Ralph saw action in the south Pacific. Coming back to earth and Northern, this former first sergeant dug in and piled up credits for this happy day ahead.
Leading Ralph's extra-curricular duties is, of course, the Tri Mu Fraternity. And since he is a music major, he participates in all activities of that department. The Orchestra and Band feature his trombone and his vocal abilities harmonize with the Chorus and Glee Club. Ralph is also a member of the E. S. A. and the former Junior Class Treasurer who recently turned detective!
Everyone undoubtedly knows that Ralph is a music man complete and enjoys playing his trombone whether the arrangements are for band, orchestra, or the jump variety. That popular ditty, "How Soon" is given special billing for listening with nothing in particular following, as long as it isn't tangled up with strings of feline origin.
Of course the boy is mad about food! But did you know that mayonnaise is not listed as food on Ralph's menu—it just is not listed. Only things like potato dumplings and other co-ed's plus Ralph's self-styled hamburgers are evident.
Because he's a Mu man, sports are second to nothing. We don't even have to mention that he loves to fish, play any kind of ball, bowl, or do anything connected with winter activities. And it's needless to say that the Wildcats' part contentment into Ralph's heart—
But we do know something you might not be aware of: When February comes Ralph will miss most of all the Mu's and that sharp blonde co-ed. However, of one thing we are absolutely certain—we'll miss Ralph Siemann.

Mary's musical tastes are governed by the mood and such things. Translated, the latter may mean male vocalists, so we flip on a Perry Como for Mary. "Anything will satisfy: Always Buy Como! And wouldn't it be nice if Mr. Como would sing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes?" 'Tis a favorite.
"Please don't serve me spaghetti," is emphatically stated by Mary, but "chicken in any form will be fine," as is 'most anything else. Just do not bother to disguise the spaghetti. (We think Miss Tarro has a slight distaste for the red-sauced twine.)
In closing the interview Mary reminded her future ambition is to work on her master's degree, for now that she's leaving, school sounds like a fine institution. Even all the work was fun—"especially that of the News." Ah, her loyalty we love — her reporting we appreciated—in fact, we like Mary Tarro in general.

N'est-ce Pas?

Question: Why did you vote as you did at the election for the mock political convention?
Ted Hentschell: "I felt that the 1948 Republican Convention will have a greater number of candidates running for office."
Don Kern: "They asked us to vote for the party that will have the most interesting convention. I think the Republicans win."
Lawrence Eastley: "When the Republican convention is in progress, more votes will be expressed. It will be a lot more fun."
Ted Alt: "The Republicans will not in their convention go too far out of line. But here in school with a more liberal outlook, things could be exciting."
Ida Giotto: "I voted Republican because I felt it would be the most interesting; for the Democratic presidential nominee is cut and dried. The only controversy would be in the vice-presidency where the Republicans have numerous candidates to choose from."
Dick Nelson: "For getting the most practical advantage out of a mock convention, I thought the Republican convention would be most interesting."
Ed Kuleh: "Although the Republican convention promises a wide open contest for the presidential nomination I am of the opinion that the Republican candidates are all the same breed... answerable to the same source of pressure. This is not true in the Democratic Party and I believe Truman could be given a lot of trouble on the convention floor."
Kenneth Summerst: "I believe that the Republican party would give the most latitude for student discussions, whether these discussions will be intelligent or not will of course depend on the students."

Gossip Gatherers Prepare For Fate

Hello,
Don't quote us on this, but there may be some truth in the ugly rumor that is making the rounds. To wit: It's time to start worrying about exams. We ignored the matter until we saw the smug expressions being worn by the faculty. We went out two of our junior spies to check on the report... when last seen they were racing toward the H & G library with horror-written all over their chubby little faces.
It is entirely possible that we won't be around for the next issue if exams are all they are cracked up to be. It is best to be prepared for the worst so we hereby leave our last will and testament:
TO PETTE DISHEER we leave an album of snappy Sousa marches. We are Peter's landlady in a trouble-bred Sousa fan and that his renditions of El Capitán, etc. are nothing less than amazing.
We leave JOE BENZIE with this: If at first you don't succeed, try, try, try again.
TO FRANK CADIEU we leave wishes for a very speedy recovery from his bout with two plastic cellophane. Plastic, plastic everywhere these days... even in your eyes.
We leave BETTY WAITERS and ED HILL—alone. They seem so much happier that way.
A bouquet of shamrocks to CATHERINE McNAMARA for her fine solo work on "McNamara's Band" at the Newman supper.
At this point we will do a turn-about and ask BILL SORMUN to leave us his extraordinary necktie. It waded at us!!
We leave Ted a special table at the Caf for JOYCE FRIE and TED ALT and their bride game.
TO THE NEWS STAFF we leave sound-proof earmuffs. The music students have to pay to use those practice rooms but who is going to (Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

Wildcats Tour Lower Peninsula

NORTHERN WINS OVER NORTHLAND

Taking an early lead and holding it throughout the game, the Northern cagers trimmed Northland college, 56-48, in the college gymnasium Thursday, December 15 and gained revenge for an earlier defeat.

Setting the pace for Northern's fifth triumph in seven games were Tom Kirby and Bill Zagelmeier, who collected 28 points between them. Kirby, who worked into the starting lineup recently, was the game's high scorer with 16 tallies. Zagelmeier, controlling most of the rebounds with Sam Minard, added power to the offense with four baskets and four free shots.

Shortly after the start of the game Northern, with Tom St. Germain, Jack Refling and Minard hitting the hoop, took a 15-11 lead. The Wildcats stiffened their defense in the last part of the first half, holding the visitors to two field goals and a pair of gift shots, while scoring 16 points themselves.

In the second half Kirby unleashed a scoring drive hitting the mark from within the free throw area, and by the middle of the period the Cats held a 23-point advantage. Defense work of Minard and Zagelmeier was too much for Northland.

In the last part of the second half Northern with a 50-28 lead eased up and Coach Money showed in his reserves. He used 14 players in the game and all but three were in the scoring column. Twelve Northland players saw action.

CAPTAIN

TED KJOLHEDE Senior member of Central Michigan Colleges 1947-48 basketball team. Ted played guard on the Chippewas squad for the last three seasons and is one of the best set shots on the squad. In the last encounter with the Wildcats, Kjolhede was one of the high point men of his team.

MONEY'S WILDCATS REACH TOP FORM

Coach Money's much improved team has finally found a scoring punch in the last several games and the outcome of this game will depend on keeping the Wildcats at their top form. However, the varsity in its drills and scrimmages during the week have shown top form which bids an ill omen for their foes this weekend. Game time will probably find the same lineup on the hardwood which clicked to a 56-48 triumph over Northland last week. Kirby and Zagelmeier will be at forwards, Minard will start at center and Refling and St. Germain at guards.

Central's starting lineup will find Cronin and Marzonep at forwards, Doornbos at center and Parfitt and Kjolhede in the guard positions.

Tournament From the rumor's we hear coming from the locker room there seems to be a movement underway to sponsor a basketball tournament between teams representing classes of the schools. The clashes could be run off at the end of the basketball season and this would give the Seniors time enough to find enough men to make up a team and find reserves enough to finish a complete game.

Independents Lead Hotly Contested Intramural League

Play in the Intramural Basketball League is fast and furious these days as the various teams fight for positions in the playoffs to be held in February. The eight top teams will vie for the college intramural basketball championship. Each team is playing seven games during the regular season.

Two teams were knocked from the unbeaten ranks last week as the Tri Mu team was edged by the Tri Mu Pledges 25 to 23 and the Archers lost to the Dormvets 21 to 16. In other games, the high flying Rocketts continued undefeated as they trimmed the Rambling Wrecks 68 to 30. Alex and Moberg scored 20 points each with Joe Roberts following closely with 18. The Independents kept pace with the Rocketts by gaining their fourth win over the 9:50 Specials 32 to 19. The Whiz Kids sped past the Hot Rocks 41 to 10 and the Gangsters pulled the game out of the fire in the last minute as they nosed out the Rambling Wrecks 27 to 24.

Fight for the individual scoring lead continues at a fast pace with six men heading the list of gunners. Holm of the Whiz Kids leads with 56; Roberts, Rocketts 47; Alex, Rocketts 42; Moberg, Rocketts 36; Gaviglio, Marvets 34 and Corgan of the Gangsters also with 34. Standings this week are:

Wildcats To Invade Ferris, Central

Northern's Wildcat basketball squad will leave today on its first invasion of the lower peninsula to open up the 1948 sports season with teams from below the Straits.

Up to the time the paper went to press Coach Money hadn't indicated which of the varsity players would make the trip but because transportation is limited—only ten players will be selected. Friday night the Moneyemen will play Ferris Institute and on Saturday night they will take on the Chippewas of Central Michigan College.

Ferris The game Friday night will be the first clash of the current campaign between the Ferris Bulldogs and Northern's Wildcats. A return game with Ferris is scheduled to be played in the Northern gym February 13th. Ferris has a strong squad this year and are expected to give the Wildcats a hard battle. However, the Moneyemen have been drilling hard all week and expect to hand the Ferris cagers a taste of defeat in this first meeting of the teams.

Central Two unpredictable cage forces collide Saturday nite when the Northern Wildcats invade the home courts of Central College's Chippewas seeking revenge. Central defeated Northern by a one point margin in an early season game and the boys from upstate are anxious to prove that this first loss which wasn't decided until the final 25 seconds of play was just a lucky break for the Chippewas.

GERT GALAVANTS ON GALA TRIP TO GLORIOUS MEXICO

Well, I was off to gay old Mexico. What a trip! A relative was along, so I got a lot of knitting done. "Nuf said about the train trip."

After a brief stay in El Paso, I made a trip across the International Bridge to Juarez, Mexico. The food in Mexico is cheap. We had a full course steak dinner for a buck and a quarter. I did some shopping also. No doubt you've seen my Mexican jacket. No need to say what color it is; but if you missed it, you missed it. In a small, quaint cafe I saw a most novel floor show. It consisted primarily of song and dance acts while there were furious cock fights going on in the corner. I just missed seeing a bull fight. Maybe it's just as well that I did. I had my picture taken on a Texas longhorn, and everyone asks me, "Which is which?" At the bull fight, had I gone, they might have gotten me mixed up with the bulls. Who knows?

One of the more pleasant aspects of Mexico is the "tomorrow" attitude that the "natives" have. Mexico is called the "land of tomorrow." Everything waits until tomorrow, but tomorrow never comes. What a life!

On the way back to the States, I was afraid that I wouldn't be allowed to cross the border again. It occurred to me that maybe immigration might wish to see me stay in Mexico. But I was allowed to return, so all was well.

In Tucson the family met a cowboy who is not only single but who also owns a gold mine and a ranch. There were big plans afoot for me to meet him, but the meeting never did "come off". Tough luck! Oh well, I had fun anyway. "Adios, amigos!"

"Gert."

"GOSSIP"

We were going to leave ELLWOOD MATSON a new car but he beat us to it and got it for himself. Silly boy, ours is a 1948 Packard!??

The entire Ironwood basketball team is hereby turned over to BETTY LAUX. This said that the high school girls weren't too happy about the college competition. Aw, Betty, give the kids a break!

We leave a position on the NEWS staff to EDNA KIEL. Now she'll have to tell all she knows for the dirt column. We're listening...

We left the "74 Mu party after checking on who was there. (We had a window reserved for private peeping.) BILL LARSEN squired JOSIE HURST to the very gay affair. WALT WILSON AMES looked very pleased at having JANICE COLES there with him. We couldn't stay any longer because at 12" below, we even lost interest in gossip.

We leave several of the girls envying BETTY BREDAHL'S trip to the Caf with BILL ZAGELMEIER. WE LEAVE. Don't forget the Gibson Girl Social.

See ya.

"I do understand you though. You have been unhappy, haven't you?"

"But how did you know?" asked Midge in disbelief.

"You have been lonely."

"Oh yes."

"Sometimes it has seemed that there is no happiness in this world."

"You do understand."

"Yes," Arne said matter-of-factly.

"Oh, it is so good to be understood. At last I have found someone I can love."

He grasped her hands.

The Club will hold their next meeting on February 10.

Country Life

The College Country Life held its monthly meeting Tuesday, January 13 at 4:00, in the fifth grade room in the John D. Pierce School.

The speaker for the occasion was Dr. Hoppes, Director of the Training School. He spoke on the differences between urban and rural schools.

The program was closed with a short business meeting.

"It is so good to be able to love at last," she continued.

There was suddenly a warmth in Arne's heart, and he said, "It is good to be loved!"

Then the two of them turned away from the dark beach and walked for a distant street light. The moral of this story is: Some happiness can be found in this world if you don't take yourself too seriously.

BOOKS ARRIVE AT COLLEGE LIBRARY

Among the books that have only recently become part of the school's lending library, there are two that should have a mighty appeal to all of you who are interested in popular music. One, "Shining Trumpets", is "The whole noisy, exciting, and bespangled story of jazz and its creators, from the beginning to the present"; by Rudi Blesh. The story starts back in darkest Africa, goes on to the beginnings of an American art in the Delta and New Orleans, and finally covers the whole field of artists from then until now.

The second book, entitled, "Relax and Listen", is written by a man who, for the last seventeen years, has been an executive of R. C. A. Victor Records and has produced music of every variety for all kinds of people. His name is John Hallstrom. Mr. Hallstrom's idea is that everybody likes music but their enjoyment is frequently handicapped by lack of knowledge of definitions and by the want of sophistication with which music is so often surrounded. His formula, to "Relax and Listen" will be a pertinent bit of information to a lot of us.

For those of you who aspire to the teaching profession, Paul Green has given out with some important information on the subject of education for youth. The right sort of education, he believes, will help us to live happier, more fruitful lives. Paul Green is Professor of Dramatic Art at the University of North Carolina.

You people who need book reports or who like to read for entertainment, will find some interesting works among the new arrivals too. Some of them are: The Short Novels of Tolstoy, edited and with an introduction by Phillip Rahv; "A Garden To The Eastward" by Harold Lamb, "Years Ago", a play by Ruth Gordon, "Art In The New Land", by Charlie May Simon, "Adventures of a Ballad Hunter", by John A. Lomax, "Toward Freedom". The Autobiography of Jawaharlal Nehru, West Country Stories by A. L. Rowse and many others.

The latest work of the Art Composition class is an interesting combination of two arts; that of music and that of art. The students in this class created rhythmic lines with pencil to classical and semi-classical music. Then, they hunted for suggestions of shapes in these lines and used them as a basis for a composition done in tempera. The results were creative in appearance. The curious will find the entire exhibit on the third floor corridor bulletin board and also inside the art room.

Congratulations: To Mr. and Mrs. George Koskimaki for the latest addition to Vel-ville. It's a girl and the name is Christine.
