

June 2nd 1917

THE FALMOUTH HOTEL, FALMOUTH.

My dear Waitland family

I have just time to catch a word announcing safe arrival We landed this afternoon and after a sleep here tonight will go on to London. There we expect to be several days and I shall have ample opportunity to see my beloved family.

This coast is wonderful.
After the strain of voyage it's good to settle down into a real bed and relax. From my window here I can see the sea - and see a large ship which ran on the rocks some time ago + broke her back.

It would be fine to rest here a while - but our work permits little rest - mostly activity.

Kindest regards - mine from London

Kellogg Speed