Round Table Established To Get Students Involved

Increased efforts in communication have marked the activities of the ASNMU governing board so far this year. At a meeting Tuesday night, ASNMU President Kevin O'Donnell announced plans for the new communications networks soon to be operated on this campus.

Through the efforts of O'Donnell and Organizations Commissioner

Don Kovach, a Wildcat Round-table, made up of the presidents of most campus organizations and the Dean of Students, is meeting each Tuesday evening. Designed to view to listen in on th promote direct communication between large groups of students and the administration, the Roundtable remains small enough for effective discussion of issues. Members in-clude the president and vice-president of the ASNMU, the presidents of the IFC, Panhel, BLF, Art Stu-dents League, Foreign Students, MASV, Vets Club and the AWS. Because the Roundtable has no legislative authority and no source of revenue, it is hoped by the organizers that the student leaders will consider the meetings neutral territory and feel free to discuss any topic of concern to the student body with the Dean of Students

The Wildcat Roundtable will meet from 6-8 p.m. each Tuesday night. Interested students are in-vited to listen in on the meetings. The president of the ASNMU will chair the meetings, beginning each session with a report on the previous week's activities on cam-pus. The Dean of Students will then give a report, followed by open discussion of any issue

Roundtable members feel pertinent. Next Tuesday, President John X. Jamrich will address the group. The second proposed bridge over the NMU communication gap is a student run, campus oriented, AM radio station. Another O'Don-Am radio station. Another O Don-nell development, the proposed radio station will operate under five watts of power, a limit im-posed by FCC licensing, and serve only the dormitories. Contempor-ary sound will be its forte, with the added advantage of direct, umor killing dialonge on hand for rumor killing dialogue on hand for student information should a cristudent information arise. The station will be operated by student disc jockeys, engineers and managers and will be sponsored by the ASNMU Governing Board

Walker Acting Head Of Auxiliary Enterprises

Northern Michigan University's President John X. Jamrich has announced, with the approval of the Board of Control, the appointment of Lyman S. Walker as acting director of the University's Auxiliary Enterprises.

Walker, who had been serving as assistant director of Auxiliary Enterprises, will perform duties as the director of the university food ser-vices and acting coordinator of selfliquidating projects under his new title.

He will oversee the operations of the university center, housing and food services, with the directors of each of these operations reporting to him.

Walker is a graduate of Michigan State University and received his master's in management from Central Michigan University in 1969. A veteran of the U.S. Navy and a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, Walker had held the position of food manager at CMU for nine years, prior to coming to Northern in 1969.

As the curtain rises on another year of CENTER STAGE, so, too, does the curtain rise on a new season of dramatic productions at Northern Michigan University.

Opening the theatrical season will be a Studio Theatre production:

a series of one-acts to be presented October 8, 9 10, and 11 in IF 105. October 22 marks opening night of a five-day scheduled run of The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail, the first major production of the 1970-71 season, directed by Dr. James L. Rapport.

Miss P. Gibson Ralph and her cast will effect the culmination of two full months of rehearsals with The Three Sisters, to be presented in Kaye Hall on November 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22.

In December, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead will open on the nonth of that month, rounding out the semester's dramatic presentations. Second semester offers a "duo-production in one" with The Maids and Deathwatch, another staging in the Instructional Facilities Building on February 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28.

A unique production with a cast of all faculty-members follows in March: A Flea in Her Ear. Topping off the month will be another Studio Theatre presentation opening on March 31. This year's musical, Dark of the Moon, will highlight and conlcude the season with productions in the Forest Roberts Theatre on May 13, 14, 15, 21 and 22

All productions for the season will begin at 8:15, with all seats reserved; there will be no late seating. Box Office for productions opens two weeks prior to each play in the Forest Roberts Theater, and advanced reservations must be picked up by 8 p.m. on the night of the performance.

Auditions for productions are open to all students. Audition dates for each production are posted in the Roberts Theater, where scripts are available

May I take this opportunity to commend the Theater Department on their selections for presentation this season. The variety and depth of the productions should facilitate a most rewarding year. As a member of N.M.U. theater, I commend you.

Mascot Dies

The Wildcat purchased by North-ern Michigan University's Student Government last Wednesday (Sept. 16), has died.

Announcement of the mascot's death was made today by Dr. David Engstrom of the Marquette Vet-erinary Clinic, where the Wildcat had been kept since his arrival.

Engstrom stated that "the animal was sick upon arrival, and along with the stress of travel, this illness resulted in his death 30 hours later.

"He was treated by local vet-erinarians, but his condition was too serious to prevent death." Kevin O'Donnell, student body president, indicated that the stu-dent government will now seek a Wildcat cub, which could be used as the university's mascot during the 1971-72 academic year.

Thievery...Again

"It has been rather shockingly brought to our attention that theft of student property has been occurring at an enormously high rate on this campus and that it is continuing to occur, at least for the time being, because attempts to apprehend those doing the stealing have failed.

The above paragraph was the lead of an editorial published in the November 7, 1969 issue of the Northern News. Again this year, the problem of thievery on campus is a major problem, according to officials of the NMU Security Department.

Last fall, within the period of a single weekend, $3,000 worth of stereo tape decks and other such similar equipment were stolen from automobiles on campus. With such devastating statistics as this, students should use a little "hindsight" and help prevent that same condition from recurring again this year.

What can be done? In an effort to bring it to an end, we urge all students to be on the lookout for suspicious activity and report any such activity to the Security Department-immediately.

In addition, students, faculty, and staff should lock car doors at all times; record serial numbers of all room valuables, such as stereos, television and the like. Such safety precautions are vital to the curtailment of student property theft.

Farewell To NSA

ASNMU Board member Denise Couturier deserves the congratulations of all NMU students for the initiative that she took in pulling our student government out of membership in the National Student Association (NSA); an initiative which should have been taken years ago.

The actual services offered by the NSA were few and far between and consisted basically of a three inch thick packet of promotional material which seemed to find its resting place strewn all over the dorms.

The cost of this garbage ran into hundreds of dollars, which YOU, the students, paid for. Because of this positive action taken by Couturier, your student government will have a few more dollars to invest in local projects, which will directly benefit those of you that paid the 50 cent head tax money

We sincerely hope that this sort of action on the part of ASNMU Governing Board members will be only the beginning of true representation of NMU students.

To the Editor:

How is Northern ever to improve itself academically when loans are given to students with below a 2.00 GPA?

On the front page of the first issue of the Northern News is an article describing the new shortterm student loan. In order to receive this loan, Freshmen and Sophomores must have a 1.75 GPA and Juniors and Seniors, 'a 1.85. If Northern is striving to advance itself, it should hardly see to the financial needs of students who are on academic probation. These students are hindering the improvement of Northern, not helping it. Why, then, must Northern help them to stay here? I feel they should not be entitled to student loans.

Other schools would not give this student any consideration at all; but NMU gives him favors! If this school is to be improved, it must change its policies. We cannot keep giving people, namely those who do not deserve to be students, a last chance.

The Used Book Syndrome

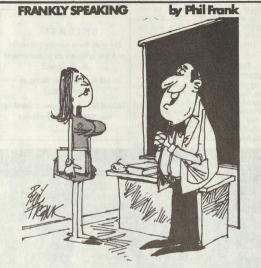

Generally, I don't express a com-plaint unless I have a better solution to offer. However, the used book syndrome doesn't readily lend itself to the employment of a better solution.

I'm sure anyone other than a first semester freshman is acquaintwith the situation I refer to, ed but for those of you who aren't, the problem consists of finding something to do with outdated editions of a text, or better yet, the incorporation of a completely new course text which then re-

NORTHERN WOODS AND WATERS

Outdoor Action Heavy With Fishing, Small Game Hunting

By Butch Sapp NEWS Outdoor Writer

Sportsmen-students at NMU this fall are faced with a problem unknown at most schools. There isn't Partridge, woodcock and squirrels are legal targets now with rabbits and other small game being added soon. Bear hunters have been roaming the woods since the first of the month. Bowhunters can claim their game beginning Oct. 1.

Add the possibilities of stream trout fishing until Sept. 30, and the increasing productivity of Lake Superior for lake trout and salmon, which will get better as the water cools, and you can begin to see the

To help you decide how to spend your off-school hours, here's a report on relative success possibilities. Partridge (ruffed grouse) seem to be on the first year of their upswing, if you believe in the sevenyear-cycle theory. Last vear, the year-cycle theory. Last year, the bottom dropped out of the grouse population, but the DNR census reports up to a 50% increase in birds this year. That doesn't mean they are plentiful at all, only that there are more than last year.

Until the leaves are off the trees, pat hunters will continue to have trouble hitting what birds they find. The brown bombers take off Cindy Sokol like they have a blown hemi in their crops and have a unique knack for putting plenty of protection between your muzzle and their body before you can get lined up on them. The green on the trees doesn't help the situation. For-tunately, many of the birds are still grouped in coveys, so if you flush one and can't get a shot, stand still and ready for a moment in case a straggler busts out.

In case a straggler busts out. Gray squirrels are plentiful in localized areas. A good beech nut crop this year should indicate fair to good success. Warm weather in Canada this spring assured an in-creased waterfowl population, a prospect enlightened by the federal government's liberalization of the daily limit on some species and the opening of certain areas near the Seney National Wildlife Refuge to goose hunters. Check the pamphlet issued with your duck stamp.

Hunters all over the state are crying over the absence of deer, but none are more vocal than here in the UP. As a result, there will be no doe season in the UP this year, rule which does not apply archers. Laymen feel that this will increase the supply of bucks next year, although there certainly will not be as much venison hanging on camp poles this fall. Let's hope the hunters really do know more than the state biologists. On the water, sleek brook trout

There must be a school some-where thet? a till wrige there books where that's still using these books and an incoming shipment of them would be a Godsend to that and an incoming shipment of them would be a Godsend to that school's students. And even if the bookstores are buying certain books, the prices they're willing to pay highly recommend that one keep the publication for the sole purpose of satisfying that deep, ever-present craving to know that someone hasn't taken him for a sucker. However, that proposition has all the qualities of ye olde loaded question (Have you stopped beating your wife?) for to keep the useless book is to say one has less intelligence than if he followed the former course of action. So there, upon the fence, the student sits

In the end, it all works out to show how one with any degree of independent nature, coming from the outside community, can, and is, easily reduced to something less than a cretin within the university. able population of native specks, especially in the cool upper reaches and in spring holes. Browns, too, will be seeking gravel runs to spawn in before long. Lake-run rainbows may be caught at the mouths of area rivers by trollers using min-

Salmon anglers are having what the DNR calls "fair to good" suc-cess on Lake Michigan cohos and chinooks, especially at the mouth Thompson Creek near Manistique. Boaters and shore fishermen are both taking their share of sal-mon, but sporadically because the schools are still moving in and out. The mouth of the Anna River in Munising has produced a few four to five pound salmon so far this season, but many anglers have gone home fishless. Marquette harbor has nome institues. Marquette naroor has produced at least one small coho so far this fall for a K.I. Sawyer fisherman. He took the 17 incher off the coal dock in the lower dock in the lower harbor. Lake trout fishermen in the har-bor and south shore have continue

Dr. George Lott of the Speech Dept. and Skip Schnieder, a senior broadcasting major, is developing guidelines and policies for presenta-tion to the Governing Board next week. Barring the possibilities of many pitfalls, the station could be on the air within six weeks.

In other Governing Board action last Tuesday, a budget of $3,921 was approved for Homecoming Week activities, a tentative budget $5,100 was approved for the ASNMU Governing Board's annual activities, and a motion was passed to discontinue the Governing Board's membership in the National Student's Association. Committee reports included information on the possibility of obtaining re-frigerators for the dorm rooms (a highly likely possibility in the near future), the concern for a list of approved off-campus housing facilities, and the availability next week of petitions for nominees seeking to fill one off-campus and one oncampus representative position on the Governing Board. Petitions will be available in the Student Activities Office.

Veterans at Northern Michigan University who are looking forward to receiving monthly G.I. checks to receiving monthly G1. checks this semester were offered several suggestions by the Veterans Ad-ministration this week: (1) Turn in your Certificate of Eligibility to the college registrar when you register-or as soon after as possible. (2) See to it that this enrollment form is returned promptly to the VA by the NMU registrar.

The law requires that the VA must be notified that the veteran has actually enrolled before pro-cessing his check, and, in practice, this means most NMU veterans should receive their first check in October

If the VA is not notified of the veteran's enrollment early enough, it will not be able to get out his first check until November.

If a veteran does not receive his check with a few weeks after the school registrar returns the en-rollment certificate to VA, the veteran should notify his nearest VA office.

The VA also explained that the veteran must have returned his Certificate of Pursuit card for the last semester if previously enrolled under the G.I. Bill. This is normally done during the last month of the semester, but it is often forgotten. The VA also offered several other suggestions for NMU veterans:

*If you change your college or course of study, apply immediately to VA for a Certificate of Eligibility.

*If you change the address to which your checks are coming, notify the Post Office as well as

*Let VA know of any dependency changes due to marriage, divorce, births or deaths.

*If you reduce your course load, or drop out of school, let the VA know immeidately so that prompt adjustments can be made in records and payment procedure.

SECOND STRAIGHT SHUTOUT Wildcats Bomb Hofstra

Against Hofstra, Dave Ripmaster

by Mark Kelly NEWS Sports Editor

It took Northern Michigan just four plays to get on the score-board last Saturday afternoon, and from then on it was clear sailing as the Wildcats Shredded a young Hofstra team, 45-0. Tomorrow night the undefeated Northernites face another unde-feated, unscored upon club, when they duel it out with the nationally ranked Akron Zips. The Zips are riding a nine game winning streak.

broke up the center on the opening play from scrimmage and rambled all the way to the visitor's 10. After Ripmaster and Davis runs put the ball on the one, Davis angled around right end for the opening score. Gene Grady converted and it was 7-0 with less than two

After three Hofstra plays netted just two yards, the Dutchmen punted, and the Wildcats went 71 yards in nine plays before Rip-master plunged in from the one and Grady again kicked the extra point.

Northern's third TD of the game came on the opening play of the second quarter when quarterback Marty Brenner floated a perfect pass to split end Mike Bee for a picture perfect 50 yard tally.

The fired up 'Cats came right back the next time they got the ball, with Hurley, Wis., freshman Dom Sicchio carrying the last three plays of the series, gaining 2, 16 and finally going over, around and through Hofstra defenders to score from 15 yards out. Grady made it four straight on PAT's and it was 28-0 with 9:35 still re-maining in the half.

Mike Perry intercepted a pass on Hofstrå s next offensive series and returned it 34 yards to the Dutch-men 10 where Bob Bartkowiak booted a 22 yard field goal to give NMU a comfortable 31-0 bulge at halftime.

In the second half, Northern scored on their first series, from their own 32 to paydirt in six plays. Ripmaster again got loose up the middle and rumbled 35 yards to the Hofstra eight where Scutt carried twice and went in for the score. Bartkowiak put it through the uprights and the mar-gin was 38-0. Freshman Rich Redd scored the final tally. Rich Redd, freshman halfback from Utica, scored the final tally late in the fourth quarter when he went left, cut in, and bounced off

Summer In Europe For Ron Fandrick

by Marty Fox NEWS Sports Writer

The summer of 1970 was far from dull for NMU wrestler Ron Fandrick. The Wildcat heavyweight, whose three year Northern record is 54-4-1, spent the month of August wrestling in Europe.

It all started at a wrestling camp in New York August 18. Ron was up every day at 6:30 running two miles before breakfast. Then it was practice from 10 to 12 and again from 4 to 6. The purpose of the camp was to determine through a series of "wrestle-offs," a team to represent the U.S. in Europe. Fandrick won a spot on the team by beating the heavyweight from Northwestern University in the finals. The final was a two out of three affair with Ron taking two in a row by pins.

From New York it was on to Paris and from there to Split, Yugoslavia. In the Yugoslavian tournament, five countries participated. Ron did not place in this meet.

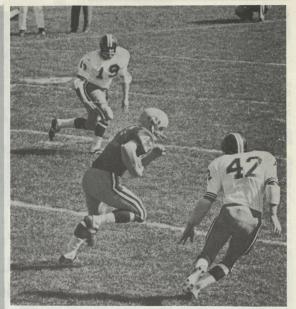

From there it was on to Romania for a tournament in which 15 countries participated. In this meet Ron placed fifth in heavyweight competition. This feat is even more remarkable when you consider Ron was wrestling Greco-Roman style, a style completely foreign to the U.S. team. Unlike college wrestling in the States, the Greco-Roman form is all above the waist. A wrestler is penalized for grabbing the legs or feet.

Ron's defeat in this tournament came at the hands of the European National Champion from West Germany. His opponent was unbeaten and unscored upon but had his hands full with Fandrick before winning 6-4. The match was viewed by a national television audience in Romania.

About the trip, Fandrick said it was a rewarding experience. He said, "Physically I beat them. But over there they know the Greco-Roman style and their experience beat me in the end."

Fandrick also said that a person doesn't realize how good he has it here in the U.S., until he visits a Communist country. "I learned a lot," stated Fandrick.

Ron says he owes a great deal of thanks to John Quarton, his coach and general manager, who was a marvelous influence on him.

Northern fullback Dave Ripmaster takes off for 45 yards on the first play from scrimmage in Saturday's trouncing of Hofstra. Hofstra defenders are Greg Walter (19) and Mark Sullivan (42).

Meet The Wildcats

by Erin O'Brien NEWS Sports Writer

Tom Watson, the 6'3", 220 lb., senior who hails from Newberry, Mich., played four years of high school football before he came to Northern. Although he did not come to NMU on a football scholarship, he did receive one after the first semester of his freshman year. His first position with the Cats was that of defensive end, but then he was made into an offensive tackle, his present position and one he has been at for the past three years. "It's a rougher position and you don't get much recognition," Tom says about playing offensive tackle, "but I like it better." Asked if it bothered him not receiving as much recognition as some of his teammates, he said, "It doesn't bother me a bit as long as we win the game."

Tom always dreamed of coming to Northern to play football be-cause of the excellent athletic program which is constantly improving. In his freshman year and his first year in football at NMU, the Wildcats finished the year undefeated. Tom was very pleased with the season and he received a lot of praise from the coaching staff. In 1968, the team was basically the same, with the same team members and a tougher schedule. In his junior the 'Cats went through a rebuilding season, having lost the strength of season, having lost the strength of their team to graduation. Tom said it was a year he would like to forget. This year Tom has great hopes for the Wildcats. "They're the best bunch of guys ever," he stated. "The team hasn't really been tested yet, but we will at Akron this week."

A captain of a football team must possess certain qualifications. Perhaps the most important of these is experience, the ability to lead, and having the respect and admira-tion of the teammates who elect him. Tom received 46 of 47 possible votes from his fellow teammates to become the senior elected captain for the 1970-71 grid season. Majoring in Physical Education, Tom is looking forward to coaching football and teaching following his graduation.

Of course, he has been asked Of course, he has been asked quite a bit about considering going pro after he leaves NMU. About playing professional football, Tom said, "I would accept an offer to sign a contract to play professional-ly. It would be one of the greatest experiences of my life."
