For New Head Football Coach

In a move that shocked players and students alike, Rollie Dotsch announced Monday his resignation as athletic director and head football coach at Northern Michigan University.

Dotsch's announcement resulted from his being offered and accepting the post of offensive line coach with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

"At my age this is a great opportunity," Dotsch said Monday. "However, it was not an easy decision. It's simple to choose between good and bad, but very difficult to decide between two very good things, staying at Northern or going to Green Bay."

In accepting the Green Bay position, Dotsch rejoins recently appointed Packer general manager and head coach Dan Devine, who Dotsch served under for four years as assistant coach at the University of Missouri.

Dotsch has been head coach at Northern since 1966, compiling a 33-15-1 record, while holding the athletic directorship since April 1, 1969. In 1967, he guided a Wildcat squad to an unbeaten record in regular season play, before a post-season NAIA play-off loss to Fairmont State. Last season's 8-2 record, against one of the most challenging schedules in NMU grid history, was another proud moment for the Escanaba native.

High on the list of people Dotsch thanked in resigning were the players and assistant coaches whom he lauded for "their dedication and loyalty over the past five years," adding "without their support this opportunity would never have been possible."

Looking ahead, Dotsch says he has "a great deal of respect for the Green Bay organization and Dan Devine. It's a solid organization in all respects and I'm looking forward to the challenges pro football will present."

Upon accepting Dotsch's resignation, NMU president Dr. John X. Jamrich said "Northern Michigan deeply regrets losing the services of Mr. Dotsch as head football coach and director of athletics. His record as a successful coach speaks for itself. He also proved himself a most able administrator and an outstanding representative of our University."

Dr. Jamrich indicated a successor will be named as soon as possible, hopefully within the next month. In his resignation, Dotsch asked to be relieved of his duties at the earliest possible date in order to join the Packers.

Rap Line CommendedASNMU To Pay February Phone Bill

By Esther Peacock
NEWS Staff Writer

Rap Line representatives were present at the Associated Students of Northern Michigan University Governing Board meeting Tuesday night to hear the vote on Fred Pentz' motion that $170 be appropriated for Rap Line to pay its telephone bills. Learning that this bill had already been paid by a Campus Ministry representative, Governing Board member Bill Clancy suggested that the motion be amended to pay the telephone bill for February. After the motion had passed as amended, ASNMU President Kevin O'Donnell commended the efforts of Rap Line. The Governing Board pledged future support to Rap Line if the organization continues to grow and function.

Rolana Tankus, president of Associated Women Students, made a request of $300 from the Governing Board in order to have the necessary funds to include off-campus women in the Annual Honors Banquet co-sponsored by AWS and the Residence Halls Association. If these funds are acquired from various organizations, the 1971 Honors Banquet will include commuters and off-campus women for the first time. Miss Tankus will submit a budget and other information to the Board next week.

After much prodding by Governing Board member Ron Peterson, University Center personnel discovered what was wrong with the clock in the Wildcat Den and promised to fix it. Two size "D" cell batteries will be purchased immediately. The television will also be fixed.

A Northern News editorial printed two weeks ago advocated that the ASNMU Governing Board take action to get student participation in the selection of a new dean. In response, Denise Couturier introduced the following proposal at the next meeting. "I propose that the Governing Board of the Associated Students of Northern Michigan University be allowed to interview candidates for the office of Dean of Arts and Science and that the recommendations of the Governing Board be considered before a final decision is reached." The Governing Board agreed upon this motion and a letter to this effect was sent to President John X. Jamrich early this week.

Payne Hall representatives sought Governing Board approval of their petition which states that Payne Hall should be allowed to determine its own open house policy without other University restrictions. After reviewing evidence, including a photostat of Payne Hall's petition signed by 268 of Payne's 300 residents, the Governing Board gave its approval to this petition.

NMU Development Fund Sets Priorities For Expenditures

Under the direction of its officers and the administration of Northern Michigan University, the NMU Development Fund has set a series of priorities for which funds are being sought.

The fund is a successor to the old NMU Foundation. Under reorganization, its powers to solicit are broader, its directorate more representative of all the sectors interested in the University. It is a corporate identity separate from the university, yet its entire effort and all its funds are for the sole purpose of furthering the interests of Northern.

It will accept funds designated for particular efforts, such as scholarships or any university activity. Those given without designation will be applied to priorities set up by the board.

The board's top priority is the School of Business and Management to be built on the foundations of the present School of Business.

While Northern now offers a degree in business administration and has graduated hundreds within the past few years from this department, it has, after considerable research, determined that one of

BLACK VOICES

Submitted by Mr. Melvin Payne

Like most Afro-Americans, or Blacks, or Africans today of my age and generation when Malcolm X was rapping the sho nough deal about America, and the inhumanity of whites to blacks, exploitation of our peoples, and the black man's solutions to these problems which are essential to our survival. I, like most of us, could be found every Friday and Saturday nights partying my ass off at the Graystone or 20 Grand not totally aware of what was coming down. We were brought up in the grand, non-violent tradition of the N.A.A."C."P. and for my (our) identity (we) called ourselves "Negroes." A proud "Negro" at that? With very little sense of direction other than integrating toilets and outhouses just for the mere pleasure of being next to a swine! Trying to prove to him how much I like him I (we) wanted to be, for, this "was" the true essence of true manhood? I (we) was too young, too ignorant, too blind, too foolish, too unaware, too "Negro" to understand that I (we) were hearing the words of another Black Messiah in our own times.

Yeah, whitey talked about him as if he were "crazy" and tried to make believe so, but, deep behind those closed doors out of the "masters" eyes and ears those same niggers who publicly just couldn't stand him loved him without fear not only because he himself had been thinking and feeling exactly the same way, but it looked so good and sounded so good to hear one of us bad niggers getting into the crackers assae. He was one of us! Standing there fighting with words and what really got him over was that we knew he could and would administer a well desired ass kicking to survive and for the survival of our peoples.

Saint Malcolm X had a perfect understanding of what true history was about and what a real revolution was really about, and who were our real enemies which was really no secret. He talked of Africans and those of African descent from all over the world becoming as one for the purposes of striving for Human Dignity and Freedom. He taught us to be proud of our African heritage and culture at a time when such a thing was thought to be a sham. But most of all he taught us how to be human beings, men and women, sisters and brothers who must be willing to fight for our Freedom by any means necessary. It is a waste of time to hate whites or to integrate when the central issue was the struggle for Human Dignity and Freedom. He instilled in our generation a sense of pride and identity. We ceased to accept the term "Negro" and became blacks, Afro-Americans, and Africans. We discovered our cultures of proud and beautiful black peoples who had been whitewashed. We, for the first time since Marcus Garvey, discovered ourselves without being discovered by those damn descendants of Columbus. We soon expressed what Rev. Jesse Jackson expresses, "I am somebody."

BUSCOT FILM CONCERT

Andalucion Dog by Salvador Dali
Ron Bretz in concert
Freaks by Ted Browning

Out of Salvador Dali's surrealistic kingdom comes Andalucian Dog, a film he and Luis Bunel completed in 1928. Today a classic of the screen, at the time caused a riot in the theatre and the most violent attacks by critic critics and the public alike. One enraged viewer actually took a knife and slashed one of Dali's paintings on display in the lobby of the cinema.

Ron Bretz, accomplished guitarist and vocalist exhibits a unique style of raw and uninhibited talent. His stage appeal and the intensity of his music will be something you won't want to miss.

Freaks. A tragic insight into the world through the eyes of natures mutants. A shocking film of circus life by Ted Browning.

The Northern News is a free and editorially independent student newspaper. Editorials express the unanimous opinion of the editorial board of the Northern News unless otherwise indicated. Final responsibility for all news and editorial content rests with the editor-in-chief.

Metamorphosis

Aside from the fact that this year's Winter FunFest Committee is totally disorganized, lacks needed leadership ability, is unable to get a handful of Queen candidates together for a group picture, and has publicity people who don't even know the meaning of the word, this committee really shafted Northern's students when they booked the Metamorphosis for this year's FunFest concert.

We've been through this before, but this has to be the biggest bungle yet.

Somehow, this university has the misconception that our student body won't support a "big name" concert on this campus. WE THINK THEY WILL. And it's high time this university gives the students an opportunity to prove it.

For Homecoming 1970, we thought the appearance of Doc Severinson was the last straw. But, we did as the rest of the students did: we purchased our tickets and attended the concert, thereby adding our support to something which we really did not WANT to support. Well, this time around, we say let's do things differently.

Let's tell this university: We're not going to buy your tickets to hear YOUR Metamorphosis.

Let's tell this university: They can take THEIR concert and cram it. Let's tell this university: We're going to BOYCOTT their concert.

Let's face it, students. There is only one effective way to prove to this university that we want big-name concerts. There is only one language this university understands, and that is spelled p-r-e-s-s-u-r-e.

There's only one way to exert the right type of pressure in this instance: BOYCOTT THE WINTER FUNFEST CONCERT!

Board Inaction

Two weeks ago, we urged Student Body President Kevin O'Donnell to exert real leadership on the ASNMU Governing Board. We urged him AND the Board to insure that there was student membership on the Dean's Selection Advisory Committee. We were not kidding. We meant it then, and we mean it now.

In response to this editorial, Board member Denise Couturier introduced the following proposal at their next meeting: "I propose that the Governing Board of the Associated Students of Northern Michigan University be allowed to interview candidates for the office of Dean of Arts and Science, and that the recommendations of the Governing Board be considered before a final decision is reached." We have heard of "wishy-washy" leadership before, but this example really tops them all. Unfortunately, the Board saw fit to approve this motion, and a letter to this effect was sent to President Jamrich early this week.

What the passage of this motion means, in effect, is this: WE DON'T WANT STUDENTS SITTING ON THE SELECTION COMMITTEE. A stand such as this coming from a student government is totally absurd, and unheard of. It lacks any real meaning, and is contrary to what so many students have been trying to achieve at this university: student participation in the decision-making process.

Part of the blame for this type of stand rests with President O'Donnell, for his obvious lack of strong leadership on this question. Part of the blame rests with the Governing Board for not following the wishes of the students, and the rest of the blame lies with you, the student body, who sit back on your duff and permit this sort of inaction to occur.

We thoroughly regret the stand that was taken on the part of the Governing Board, but it is not too late.

On Tuesday of this past week, President Jamrich requested that I submit to him the names of three students to sit on the Selection Committee. I will present these names to him early next week and will also submit these names to the Chairman of this Committee, Dr. Elisha Greifer.

We cannot sit back and follow the inaction of the Governing Board and O'Donnell on this issue. We must persist in our attempt to place students on the Dean's Selection Advisory Committee. It's not too late!

Communication?

At a recent dinner meeting of the Wildcat Roundtable with various representatives of the University's faculty, and administration, Dr. Lowell Kafer, Dean of Students at Northern opened the meeting with the following statement, "The reason all of you are here this evening is to communicate. Communication is the name of the game."

And yet the Northern News has never received an offer for a seat on the Wildcat Roundtable.

Why?

Communication is the name of the game, Dr. Kafer.

by Rick Mitz

I don't ordinarily drink very much or very often. Once in awhile, though, I'll have an occasional Scotch, an occasional beer, an occasional Brandy Alexander, an occasional Manhattan, an occasional Whiskey Sour, an occasional glass of wine, an occasional Margarita, an occasional Daiquiri, an occasional Zombi, and an occasional hangover. I know very little about the drinking habits of other people—only about my own. I find myself drinking when I'm very tired or awake, very sad or very happy, very panic-stricken or very relaxed—which isn't very often because with all my occasionals, I'm usually very catatonic.

But I'm interested in other people's drinking habits because, although drinking in itself isn't very important, I think it's indicative of many things; people drink for reasons that are reflections on our society (e.g. the social drinker, the alcoholic), and often it's just another way of avoiding reality in tumultuous times.

So I decided to find out the drinking tastes of students around the country—what they're drinking and why they're drinking it. What could have been just an arduous task became an interesting one because—as I called around the nation asking students at different colleges what they drink—every time they mentioned the favorite drink of their region, I would try some. For research purposes, of course.

I first talked with a girl who lives in Washington, D.C., where, she said, she knows students from George Washington University, Georgetown and Howard, three colleges in the area.

"People here," she said, "are fairly conservative drinkers. They drink Scotch or bourbon," she said as I mixed myself a little Scotch and water in one glass and a bit of bourbon and water in another.

"There's hardly any beer drinking here," she said, "because liquor's relatively cheap compared to other parts of the country—and beer's not so cheap." She added that not many students seem to be drinking wine "because people here just don't savor the wine flavor."

"There's an emphasis on drinking hard liquor because of the heavy pressures on sophistication—and there's something less sophisticated about beer," she said.

Thanking her, I downed my Scotch and bourbon and made my next call to Oshkosh, Wisconsin, where I talked with an art major at Wisconsin State University there.

"Beer is the biggest thing here because it's the cheapest—and be—

 Metamorphosis... why?
 Richard R. Santor

Dear Editor:
 Whose University is this? Can't we get some groups we want to hear? Must we continually listen to groups the Marquette public want? The Metamorphosis isn't my idea of a student group!
 Gary J. Bass

Dear Editor:
 I am writing this letter to tell you that I am thoroughly disgusted with the university's choice in groups for the Winter Funfest Concert. In my own opinion, I believe that the choice of Metamorphosis was made more for the pleasure of the Marquette community than for the students of Northern Michigan University.

or are we here to satisfy the NMU community? Why don't we have a concert with a decent group?
 We are not in the North Pole.
 Jon L. Vanderzee

Dear Editor:
 As a student of Northern Michigan University, I feel that I have a right to express my opinion concerning the "coming attraction" for All Events. I do not feel that the Metamorphosis is the best, or only group we can obtain for the student's listing pleasure. I have also found that many other students are in agreement with my stand. What is wrong with this school? Are we so backwards that we cannot have rock bands such as Santana, Sly & the Family Stone, Chicago, or others? I think it's about time that we do something about this... we should have a say about our social entertainment. The objective of this University is to please the student; so far Northern, you've failed!
 Kathy Bordo

Dear Editor:
 We are writing this letter in protest over the Winter Funfest

Planning Committee's choice of the musical group, "Metamorphosis," for our concert. We find it hard to believe that this is the kind of musical group that Northern students want for their concert. The Committee's selection of "Metamorphosis" is really poor when compared to our other state schools. For example, last semester Central Michigan University had "Neil Diamond," "Chicago," and the "Temptations."

To put it bluntly, why can't the whole student body of Northern decide what groups to have for our musical concerts? Or are the groups chosen to satisfy the people of the Marquette community? Also, we feel the better the group Northern gets, the more money it could make on the concerts.

Certainly, we feel Northern can do much better!

The Fraternity System At Northern Michigan

The fraternity system has made a significant contribution to higher education since its inception on the college and university campuses over 150 years ago. Fraternities have developed and flourished by providing students with an avenue for personal growth and development outside of the classroom. Organized so as to provide primary group experiences, fraternities provide for small, congenial groups of friends. These groups of fraternities offer students beneficial experiences through opportunities in leadership, social interaction, and group living.

As the University grows in enrollment, the opportunities for the close associations in friendships which can be provided by small groups are becoming increasingly important. The fraternity system with its small group experience is well suited to serve this purpose. In addition to servicing the genuine needs of students, the fraternity system has continually provided an active support for community and campus activities.

Today the University and every institution connected with it is being reevaluated. Because of its integral position with the University, the fraternity system should also be continually evaluating itself. Through self-analysis and subsequent restructuring of goals and functions, the fraternity system should maintain its primary purpose of providing viable and necessary activities for today's student.

Dr. John X. Jamrich, President

Tau Kappa Epsilon

On February 18, 1961, the brothers of Tri Mu Fraternity were granted a charter by Tau Kappa Epsilon National Fraternity making TKE the first national fraternity on the campus of Northern Michigan University. Ten years later, TKE continues to work in an effort to promote and encourage the fraternal, social, scholastic, and moral well being of its members.

Many people in today's society believe the Greek System is "dying." If this is the case, how would one account for the fact that fraternities are growing faster today than at any time in their history, or the fact that a man pulling on a gus-o-war rope after four and one half hours still maintains the desire to win.

Fraternity life is on the move. Become part of it. The challenges and rewards have yet to be equalled.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Lambda Chi Alpha is a social fraternity. Therefore, parties play an important role in our yearly activities.

However, Lambda Chi Alpha by no means has lost sight of the fact that we are students at a university, and being students we have an obligation, not only to ourselves, but to that university—to obtain and maintain a competent scholastic program. The previous semester, Lambda Chi Alpha was scholastically the highest fraternity on campus.

Another side of fraternities that we often neglect to maintain is the responsibility taken on by a group of men in their society. Lambda Chi Alpha not only supports, but initiates activities to contribute to our community.

Sports has always been an important factor in our organization. Lambda Chi Alpha has always competed well in all Inter-Fraternity Council sports, and last year captured both Bowling and Basketball championships. Greek Week has always been taken seriously by Lambda Chi Alpha as an event that we participate in very much. This spring, Brother Lucien Collins has been selected as Northern Michigan University's Annual Greek Week chairman, by I.F.C.

Our forty-five man chapter being active in sports, scholarship, public relations, tradition, and above all,

The Delta Upsilon Chapter of the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity, here at Northern has increased its membership to 47 with the influx of 15 new members going active last semester. Upon graduation, we lost four members in the persons of Paul Amigone, Dean Russell, Kent Grossheusch, and Mark Loeb. All four of the above were noticeable leaders not only in the brotherhood of Delta Sigma Phi but also on the campus of Northern.

To let the people of our campus community get to meet us, we are having an open house for all on Saturday, February 27, 1971, from 8 p.m. to 12 at our fraternity house, 477 E. Arch Street.

At present, the brothers are rigorously practicing to clinch a broom-ball championship during the funfest and also working on the initial structure of our snow statue: "United We Stand..."

socially, Lambda Chi Alpha exists by its elite leadership. This year we have Jett W. Whitehead, president; J. Michael Hersey, vice-president; Ed Unterreiner, secretary; and Wally Hamel, treasurer, directing us in these activities.

With Northern Michigan University's annual Winter FunFest rapidly approaching, Lambda Chi Alpha is pleased to announce that Miss Connie Walton, a Crescent candidate, will be our Queen candidate for this NMU event. Our Crescent Club is a women auxiliary of the fraternity, which is strictly an honorary affiliation which contributes greatly to our Rush, public relations, sports morale, and general morale toward the fraternity. The thirteen ladies include: Sue Gassel, president; Helen Wuuck, vice-president; Phyllis Shiman, secretary-treasurer; Lori Lis, corresponding secretary; Diane Lundwall, activities chairman; Susie Appleman, Historian; Lois Duncan; Linds Eckstrom; Linda Edmondson; Jean Kivela; Corey Lockridge; Linda Rukstelo; and Nancy Sivula.

Lambda Chi Alpha has been active on this campus since 1965. We have enjoyed six years of prosperity and intend to enjoy many years of intense involvement in all facets of college activities at Northern Michigan University.

Interested? Come visit us at our house—619 N. Fourth Street.

Delta Tau Delta

Returning from '69-'70 All-Sports victory, Delta Tau Delta has lost many of its members. In June of 1970, 42 members graduated. So we have begun to take the task of rebuilding. This will be a hard task to bear. Many of the contemporary college students have a misconception of what a fraternity is. Some feel that with initiation into a frat, they will lose their "individuality." We feel just the opposite; being a member helps to bring out the individual. We have found this to be true in the past. We therefore, challenge anyone to become part of a Greek organization.

This semester we have had elections of new officers. These officers have to work hard to make the fraternity a worthwhile organization, but it is the members who make the officer's job easier to perform. The officers are: Bill Cox, president; Frank Cuzenza, vice-president; Jack Hunt, treasurer, Dan McGann, secretary; Gary Allen, guide; and Tony Marasco, pledge-master.

Delta Sigma Phi

This year the Delt Sigs are represented in the Queen competition by a beautiful brown haired junior from St. Clair, Jan Zimmer.

With the dates of March 1-5 coming closer, we brothers are looking forward for the strong inter-fraternal competition with high hopes that this funfest will be a successful one!

Phi Kappa Tau

This semester, the Phi Tau's have again gotten off on the right foot. Our election of officers show much imagination and potential in both fraternity and "Greek" matters as well as life. They are as follows: Greg Olson, president; Sam Detmer, vice president; Rich Veine, treasurer; Ron Stromgren, secretary.

To complement this system, the Phi Tau's have high hopes for the up and coming Winter Funfest and above all for their queen candidate, Miss Barbara Breeden. She is presently a senior here at Northern, hailing from Hillsdale, Michigan. Her studies are directed toward speech and drama.

Our fraternity is presently involved in educational, social and personal growth. By this we hope to not only advance ourselves, but the basic ingredient needed for a productive society and the people within it—brotherhood!

The brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi are in the building process this semester. This semester, the Alpha Sigs are initiating an entirely new approach to rush, and a completely new look at pledging. The Alpha Sigs are also very proud of their newly-founded little sisters club, Alpha Epsilon of Alpha Sigma Phi. Alpha Epsilon is 15 girls strong and they, too, are building for a better social atmosphere here at NMU.

The Alpha Sig Scholar award goes to brother Doug Campbell who earned a 3.54 grade point for the fall semester 1970.

The brotherhood of Alpha Sigma Phi would like to honor their graduating seniors for 1970; Pat Strutzel, George Tibor, Ron Alberio, Jerry Bichel, Dick Randall, Tom Mathes, Lynn Witmer, Bill Salo, Bruce McClintock, Frank Zmuda, Larry Salina, Rich Pelligrini, Doug Fraternities Relevant To Students' Needs?

Today the fraternity system is being criticized for not being relevant to the college students' needs. Some of this criticism is fair in that fraternities, like almost every other organization, have not always kept up with the needs of a changing college student body. Substantiation can also be found in the fact that although in 1970 there was a 4% increase in the number of fraternities, there was a 3% decrease in the total fraternity membership.

A good way to evaluate whether or not fraternities are a significant activity for today's college student is to designate student needs and to evaluate them with the functions of a fraternity. In my opinion, today's college student is seeking one or more of the following: 1) a thorough understanding of himself and his environment and how he fits into it; 2) a commitment to a goal; and/or 3) a sense of community, a feeling of belonging.

Ideally the true fraternity is committed to the purpose of viable and relevant group activities and the development of the individual. The actualization of these purposes by a fraternity would realize the needs of every student. Realistically, many fraternities do not offer this positive group experience and have evolved into what a non-member might term a club or a gang.

Aware of their declining membership and that the fraternity system can be a vehicle for the individual to realize his personal needs, fraternities have begun to question what they are doing. Having re-established their purposes, they are now creating, developing, and implementing programs conducive to a viable fraternity. On Northern's campus, fraternities have taken advantage of resource people skilled in personal growth programs, such as, interpersonal relations, problem solving, leadership development, and academic achievement.

That the fraternity idea has meaning for the college student is evident by the 4% growth in college fraternal organizations. The question, then, of the continuing relevance is being answered by the restructuring of fraternity activities.

Ronald J. Stump, Assistant to the Dean of Students

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The strength of a Greek organization lies primarily in what it does for its membership, rather than what influence it has on the campus or the community at large.

Prejudice against Greeks runs high in many circles, and not entirely without reason. The nation's press calls attention to the misdeeds of a few, and this tends to inspire condemnation of the lot of them.

And yet it should be admitted that not all those who oppose fraternities do so because they read of occasional misdeeds by the Greeks. Some are particularly distressed by the idea that both fraternities and sororities are undemocratic strongholds of snobbery and aristocracy. Such a viewpoint is based on a misreading of almost everything. It is true that Greek organizations do not accept just anyone who wants to be a member; one must deserve to be a Greek. But Greeks are not unique in being selective; almost every college and university in the nation imposes certain requirements for admission, as do civic groups such as the Optimists, Rotary, Lions, Cosmopolitan, Kiwanis, and so forth. As anyone knows, to abandon the right to be selective is to downgrade the quality—and therefore the usefulness—of any organization.

If it could be shown that Greek organizations do some harm to campus or community, there might be grounds for opposition, but nothing of the sort is true. Those who scorn the Greeks should talk to the needy, the orphans, and even the boys in Vietnam who have been aided by the tireless humanitarian and philanthropic efforts of fraternities and sororities. They should also inquire why, in the past six years, some 400 colleges and universities have requested that national Greek organizations establish chapters on their campuses.

In short, it seems that the Greeks are far from the coffin and the grave, and that those misinformed people who deride the Greek system have no legitimate grounds for their opposition.

Theta Chi

The lifeblood of any organization in the American society is the ability to change in a dynamic world. If the organization does not change relative to its environment, it will lose its importance in society's mind and eventually succumb to progress.

This is the situation which is typical of many fraternities in the past ten years. Tradition has overwhelmed them and begun to choke the life out of them. What can fraternities do to combat obsolescence?

The Theta Chi chapter at Northern is changing its structure and values to meet the needs of today's college student. This is our goal and will be our goal if we are to remain a part of this society.

cause 18-year olds can drink beer in Wisconsin," he said as I poured myself a tall glass of beer.

He said that many marijuana smokers drink during and after smoking. "It's sort of a new fad, I guess. People like to taste something sweet after smoking—you know, they're hungry for something that tastes good," he said.

"There's a new phenomenon here—apple wine—85 cents a quart. Everyone drinks it. It's cheap and—well, it's pretty good."

Signing off from Oshkosh, I finished my beer and started in on my apple wine.

When I returned from the bathroom, I placed a call to Colorado where I talked with a girl who attends Denver University.

"Definitely beer and wine she said. There's no doubt about it. Beer and wine. Definitely."

I asked her to hold on as I poured myself two glasses of definitely beer and wine. "Well," she said, "I guess sometimes students drink those exotic types of drinks—tequilas and Margaritas—but for the most part, they definitely drink—"

Beer and wine. Definitely. The tequila and the Margarita went down smoothly as the operator placed my call to Albuquerque where I talked with a guy from the University of New Mexico and asked him what people drink there, getting ready to pour myself a glass of whatever it was.

"People here drink what's cheapest," he said. "So they drink beer and wine."

"Please," I said. "No."

"No?"

"I just can't handle another glass of beer or wine. Don't they drink anything else?"

"Well," he said, pausing. "Some students do drink apple wine. . ."

"Beer and wine will do just fine. Thank you," I said as I hung up and had another glass of beer and wine—this time mixing them to get it over quicker.

My next call was to Theodore Hamm Company in St. Paul because I had heard that they're coming out with a new drink, an alcoholic beverage somewhere between malt liquor and wine that comes in a slightly tart or slightly sweet flavor.

"It's a new kind of drink," the man told me, "unlike anything you might be drinking now."

"How did you know I was drinking now?" I gurgled into the phone.

"What's it called?"

"It's called Right Time."

I poured myself some and drank it quickly.

"How nice of Hamm's to name a product after my column," I said as I collapsed to the floor, mumbling something about student drinking habits.

I don't remember much about my other calls except when I finally awoke a few days later, I found a lot of half-finished glasses of wine, beer, Screwdrivers, Scotch, Coolers, Black Russians and—oh, yes, apple wine.

As informal as my drinking survey was, I did discover a number of things. Although pot, as I had expected, is prevalent on college campuses, students are still drinking.

each student seems to be drinking what he drinks for different reasons.

Drinking has always been an Older Generation vice, and young revolutionaries are quite careful to avoid anything that the Establishment has established. There are no real premeditated student drinking trends. Student drinking habits seem to be a matter of practicalities—cost is important and Do-

Your-Own-Thing seem to prevail. The most important factor, though, is taste.

I made one more phone call—not to the liquor store—but to the drug store to ask them to deliver a bottle of Alka Seltzer.

If student drinking habits are anything like my own, Alka Seltzer could very well be the most popular student drink.

Losing Season Assured

Late Rally Fails, 'Cats Bow To EMU

by Mark Kelly
NEWS Sports Editor

Glenn Brown's Northern Michigan Wildcats saw hopes of a .500 season fade away Tuesday night as a late rally failed and left them with a 96-89 setback at the hands of Eastern Michigan. The loss leaves NMU with a 10-14 mark with two games remaining, while Eastern closed out their regular season with a 16-10 mark before going into state NAIA play-off competition.

Northern will meet WSU-Oshkosh tomorrow night in Oshkosh. A game against Lake Superior State in the Soo scheduled for Monday night has been postponed since the Lakers are also going into state play-off action.

Against Eastern, the Wildcats tore into the heavily favored Hurons at the beginning, coming back from an early 2-0 deficit and the two teams battled neck and neck through the first four minutes of play. Then Northern pulled to a five point lead with 15:45 left in the half on baskets by DeWayne Blanchard and Brian Ouimette, and behind the shooting of Blanchard and George Barber upped the margin to eight with ten minutes gone.

But Lindell Reason's 20-foot baseline jumper and a driving layup by Al Jagutis off a fast break made the score 28-25. Barber came back with a jumper from 15, and co-captain Hugh Friday, playing his final game before a home crowd, hit a free throw, making it 31-25. Eastern's Jesse Evans notched a tip in the next time down the court, but then the 'Cats reeled off a string of three consecutive baskets, on jumpers by Friday, Barber, and freshman Karl SalScheider, making Northern's lead 37-27 and threatening to break the game wide-open.

Then the roof fell in. A wildly cheering throng of 4,000 fell silent as the visitors scored 13 straight points, eight of them by the hot handed Reason, to put EMU up 42-37 with 4:00 left in the half.

Northern's scoring draught lasted over three full minutes before Friday converted both shots of a two-shot free throw situation at 3:48. Eastern, however, continued to dominate the boards and held the upper hand, 48-43, at intermission.

Eastern went right to work in the second half, taking advantage of cold shooting by Northern and a decided rebounding edge. It looked as if Jim Dutcher's charges were going to run Northern off the court when they opened up a 15 point bulge on eight straight points, making the score 80-65 with 7:04 remaining.

But the Wildcats, urged on by the crowd that didn't want to see the home team's chances die, made a run at the visitors. Blanchard and Marquette junior Larry Ruffatto did most of the scoring that saw NMU come back to within nine, 88-79, with three minutes remaining. Ruffatto pumped in a 15 footer followed by Barber's steal and subsequent layup that made it 90-83 with 2:33 left. Reason took the pressure off momentarily with a pair of free throws, but Al Inkala's two driving layups off passes from Friday and Friday's two charity tosses put the Northermites down but just two with 1:33 left.

But the upset was not meant to be. Eastern went into a well executed delay game that forced the 'Cats to foul, and All-American Kennedy McIntosh and the hot handed Reason combined for six straight free throws that iced the contest, 96-89.

Rebounding told the big story, as the high-flying Hurons ripped off 50 caroms compared to NMU's 35. McIntosh had 13, followed by Bill James' 10. Blanchard was high for Northern with nine.

The 6-4 Reason led all scorers with 30, followed by McIntosh's 27, while George Barber notched 24 and Blanchard 16 for the losers. The shooting was fairly even, EMU hitting 47% from the field compared to the Wildcats' 48%. Northern held a slight edge from the line, netting 73% compared to Eastern's 70%, but NMU had 14 fewer attempts.

Barber's 24 points put him above the 800 career mark and six shy of moving into the top ten on Northern's all-time scoring list.

NMU To Host High School Mat Tourney

Northern Michigan University is hosting the Upper Peninsula High School Wrestling Finals, today and tomorrow, at C.B. Hedgecock Fieldhouse.

Ishpeming, undefeated in dual competition and Great Lakes Conference champion, is expected to challenge defending champion Iron Mountain for the U.P. crown. The Hematites, coached by former NMU grid standout Dan Flynn, placed third in 1970.

Preliminary rounds begin at 6 p.m. tonight, with consolation and finals tomorrow and tomorrow evening. A small admission fee will be charged. Gildo Canale, Northern assistant athletic director, is meet director.

13-2 Dual Record

Wildcat Grapplers Win Triple Dual

By Marty Fox
NEWS Sports Writer

Northern Michigan's wrestling Wildcats won a triple dual meet last Saturday in the Hedgecock Fieldhouse. A good crowd viewed the four and one-half hour meet.

The 'Cats defeated a strong Lake Superior State team 20-14 in the opening match of the day. Steve Smith, Mike Tello, Bob Regan, John Hittler and Tim Furno won their matches by decision. Ron Fandrick won by forfeit. The match was in doubt until the final bout when L.S.S.C. decided not to let their heavyweight compete against the powerful Fandrick.

In the other first round meet, the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee defeated the University of Wisconsin-Parkside 19-14. This was another closely contested match. UWM got a pin from Jim Zeinert at 190 and a 5-2 decision from heavyweight Grant Tews in the final two matches to pick up the win.

In the second match, NMU defeated Parkside 24-14. Steve Smith won by forfeit and Mike Tello decided Parkside's Ken Martin 6-4, in what was probably the best match of the day. Also gaining victories for NMU were Bob Regan and John Hittler by decisions, and Tim Furno and Ron Fandrick by pin. Furno's pin came in 2:20 and Fandrick polished off Parkside's Mark Barnhill in a mere 20 seconds.

In the other second round match, L.S.S.C. walloped UWM 31-7, in a match that was never in doubt. Ty Black, Jim Fallis and Jerry Pudvan each won their second meet of the day for the Lakers.

In the final match of the day, NMU beat UWM 28-20. Steve Smith won by forfeit, Mike Tello by decision and Bob Regan, John Hittler, Tim Furno and Ron Fandrick by pin. It was the third win of the day for all six. Fandrick's pin came in 2:45.

Al Collins, Ray Sutherland, Bob

Bonetti, and Jim Olson, failed to win in three tries although all did a commendable job. This was especially true of Olson, who wrestled at 177, well above his actual weight.

In the final match, Lake Superior beat Parkside 22-12. Ty Black Jim Fallis and Jerry Pudvan all won their third match of the day. John Bradshaw of UWM also was a three time winner.

The triple win gave the matcats a 13-2 dual meet record for the year. The last dual meet of the season took place Wednesday night as the 'Cats went against Big Ten foe Wisconsin, at Madison.

Next week the wrestlers are slated to participate in the Eight-State Tournament in Macomb, Ill.

Skiers Successfully Defend Championship

Placing 1-2-3 in jumping, the fourth and final event of the three-day competition, Northern Michigan's men's ski team rallied to win their second consecutive Central Intercollegiate Ski Association 4-Event championship conducted at three sites last weekend.

The script was a carbon copy of last year's championships when the Wildcats rallied in the jumping events to overcome Michigan Tech for the overall team title.

Tech led again this year after dominating the cross country competition at Presque Isle on Friday and upsetting the Northern alpine skiers in downhill and slalom events at Hancock's Mont Ripley Saturday.

The scene switched to Duluth Sunday and there a trio of NMU jumpers erased the Northern deficit.

Tom Sodergren, Ishpeming sophomore, was first in the 50-meter competition followed by another Ishpeming sophomore, Bob Saxwold. Third place went to a third sophomore, John Woiwode of Daerborn Heights.

In Saturday's alpine competition, MTU nudged Northern by 2.11 per cent in the 4-Event scoring system that is based on percentages.

Northern held the lead after the first run of downhill but then ran into trouble when captain Paul Lundy, Iron Mountain junior, suffered a fall.

Dan Kipley, Traverse City sophomore, was the downhill winner in :62.16, followed by three Tech skiers. Northern's Joe Priante, Ironwood sophomore, grabbed fifth.

Dr. Don Hurst, NMU ski coach, called the victory "a great team effort." Hurst pointed out that top jumper Carl Trinud, a freshman from Scandinavia, Wis., was injured and couldn't compete, but the Wildcat squad still "had enough strength to win it."

The skiers will be idle until heading for the NCAA championships next week.

Women Win CISA Event Championships

Northern Michigan's women's ski team swept to victory in the Central Intercollegiate Ski Association's 3-Event championships for women, repeating as team champion by winning all three events held last Friday in Marquette and Saturday in Hancock.

The Northern women were uncontested in Friday's cross country run at Presque Isle with Shelly Thayer, Traverse City freshman; Debbie Fergus, Howell freshman, and Jane Biron, Lakesidesophomore finishing 1-2-3.

At Mont Ripley in Hancock Saturday, the NMU coeds took the top spots in downhill and three of the top five places in slalom.

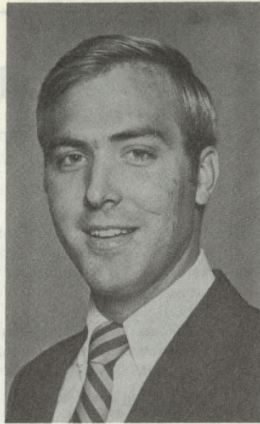

Wendy Willis, Rochester freshman, won the downhill in :32.66 and the slalom in :81.15. Pat Tunney, Cadillac freshman, was runner-up in both events. Jan Robertson, Royal Oak junior, was third in the downhill and fifth in slalom.

In the alpine team standings, Northern was :103.34 in downhill followed by Michigan Tech. The 'Cats had :248.6 in slalom to :277 by Michigan State.

"Our women completely dominated the events Saturday," said coach Karen Kunkel. "Our first two places were more than two full seconds ahead of anyone else."

Since there is no NCAA national ski competition for women, Northern's team moves next to the Central States Ski Association divisional championships.

Coach Kunkel is looking forward to the girls doing "another great job" in that competition.

Lee Frederick

Frosh Cagers End Campaign With Four Men

Northern Michigan's freshmen, caught with a five-man roster, took a 75-48 trimming at the hands of Suomi College Tuesday night to finish the season with a 7-7 record.

Coach Lee Frederick's yearlings were forced to finish the game with only four players after Larry Laitala, the leading scorer for the night with 23, fouled out in the closing minutes.

The Kittens, attempting to hold the ball, took only three shots from the field in the first half and fell behind 32-15 at intermission.

George Wadlin was the only other Wildcat in double figures with 12 while four Suomi cagers posted that many or more.

Tankers, Gymnasts In Action Tomorrow

Northern Michigan swimmers are slated for a downstate trip this weekend and the gymnasts have a triple dual meet at home Saturday as the 1970-71 schedule draws near for both clubs.

Coach Don Trost's swimmers, 9-2 for the season and winners of nine straight dual meets, are slated to face Wayne State in Detroit today and Central Michigan at Mt. Pleasant tomorrow afternoon.

The tankers have been idle since winning road meets at LaCrosse, Wis., and St. Cloud, Minn., February 12-13.

Dave Cummings, with records this season in the 100 and 200 yard freestyle events, is the team pacesetter with 92½ points and 13 first place finishes.

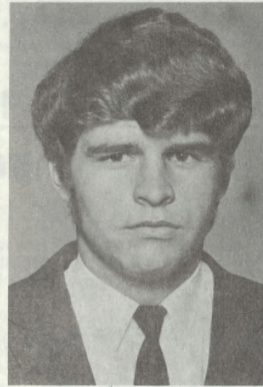

Freestyler Dan Helton is runner-up in both categories with 72½ points and 10 wins, followed by diver George Eisenhardt, the NMU record holder in the 3-meter event, with 66 and eight. Diver Tom Schwab has 64 points and five wins and butterfly man Fred Eisenhardt has 63 points and seven victories.

Coach Lowell Meier's gymnasts, who have won five of their last seven dual meets and hold a 6-4 record, face Bemidji (Minn.) State and Central Michigan at home tomorrow starting at 1:00 p.m.

Idle for two weeks, the Gymcats are being led in scoring by Mike Zuke with 218.76 and nine individual wins. Three other gymnasts are also over the 100 points mark with Bob Conroy at 177.85 and seven firsts, Rick Mahceda with 159.28 points and five victories, Bill Simpson with 145.81 and eight wins and Ed McDermid at 103.53.

Following this weekend's action, the swimmers will be in the Motor City Invitational in Detroit March 5-6 and the gymnasts will compete in the Lake Erie Conference championships at Slippery Rock, Pa., on March 6.

Freshman Larry Laitala had his finest night as a Wildcat in NMU's loss to Suomi College Tuesday. The Champion sharpshooter led all scorers with 23 points, including a perfect 11 for 11 from the free throw line.

Good Luck, Mr. Dotsch

Rollie Dotsch, Northern Michigan's director of athletics and head football coach, has resigned to accept a coaching position with the Green Bay Packers. With his acceptance of the offensive line coaching job the entire university suffers the loss of not only a great coach, but a fine administrator as well.

Dotsch's coaching record speaks for itself: 33-15-1 in a five-year span at Northern, and he went through 1967 with the first undefeated, untied record in NMU history. Need we say more?

In commenting on Dotsch's resignation, NMU President Dr. John Jamrich said, "His record as a successful coach speaks for itself. He also proved himself a most able administrator and an outstanding representative of our University."

Along with the hundreds of Rollie Dotsch supporters, the Northern News sends along its wishes for a most successful career as offensive line coach Rollie Dotsch with the Green Bay Packer organization. Good luck!

community needs and desires as a concert and these have been flops.

Presently, there is a new committee being formed (SABSBNHO) that wishes to book some better entertainers for our concerts. I recommend that they should have full cooperation from the University and should be backed, financially, as much as possible by the University.

This is what we've been waiting for. Let's not blow it again.

Gary Warren

Dear Editor:

Northern Michigan Concert time is here again. The Winter Funfest committee for the concert set out way back in November to find a group to play at this year's funfest. It was a rather hard chore for anyone to do since there is no budget to use for concerts.

Well, many people started rumors or heard them that groups like Chicago, Ten Years After, or Santana might play at this year's concert. The only thing that was wrong was that they had no definite information about this. These were the groups they wanted to hear. Granted, we did check the availability and prices of many national groups, but again it was the lack of a budget that forbade us to get one of these groups.

All we could do, at this point, was to find a group in a different price group. We did find such a group, called Bare Earth, but again it was the lack of a budget that we couldn't sign contracts on this group. We tried to find people to back up, but we just could not find the money.

So we moved down another bracket and found a group called Metamorphosis. They were within a budget that we could afford. So we did the technical setting up of contracts and started to talk about the group. So here we are, a couple of weeks away from the date of the concert.

I'm sorry to say that there is disappointment all around about the choice of the group because everyone was looking forward to hearing Chicago, Ten Years After, or Santana. But because of the lack of a budget, there was not much anyone could do. We did accomplish one thing out of this year's concert: there will be a special budget set up for all profit made from any concert to be used only on concerts.

Sorry

Dear Editor:

It was with the greatest regret I did read in the last issue of the Northern News that "Chip" Colgrove had, in a fit of pique, decided to discontinue writing his column for the enjoyment of his readers.

Without trying to feed Mr. Colgrove's ego, which probably would from time to time count its calories, I would like to give credit where credit is due. Forgive the last "cliche" but I'm not as clever or as inventive with words as "Chip" is. However, Larry's articles were well composed and most refreshing.

As to the typesetter who was the object of "Chip's" invective, I can only offer some sort of apology for the harshness of his remarks. Human frailty which is looked on with disdain by Mr. Colgrove has its good points inasmuch as it is so much a part of all of us. "Chip" might realize that some day when he attempts to walk on water.

Anyone knowing "Chip" knows that he is not a dolt. He has a brilliant mind, a "way with words," and a frightening drive for perfection.

For the sake of those of us who truly appreciated his articles, despite any infallibility on the part of the typesetter, we can only ask "why?" we, the readers, should be deprived of the enjoyment his refreshing articles give for the sake of a moment of anger.

We can only hope that "forgiveness" isn't a lost art, and Mr. "Chip" will reconsider. To do otherwise would be selfishness, and that would be a trait that should be no part of a perfectionist.

its greatest opportunities to serve the Upper Peninsula and the Midwest is through the development of a School of Business and Management, looking eventually to a master's degree, and greater service to business and industry.

It will take three to five years to engage staff and develop curriculum in keeping with the aims of the School of Business and Management. Current courses offer specialized study, but curricula do not deal with professional management, and there are few opportunities to study the total function of management. Dr. John X. Jamrich, president of Northern, pointed out.

"There is a high demand for positive minded, trained and professional managers in a multitude of endeavors," he said.

"Northern can best serve where it finds the best fields of service appropriate to its location and resources. There is a rapidly increasing demand for skilled management personnel. Reasons are fundamental: continued increase in population and expansion of the economy; proliferation of science and technology giving man ever greater control over human and material environment; development of the electronic computer as a tool of business; growth in the size and complexity of organizations in all sectors of our society.

"Within the Upper Peninsula itself one of the greatest handicaps to our economic growth is an under-supply of management-oriented and management-trained personnel."

There will be other objectives of the funds, such as scholarships for students of high academic level, professorial research, endowed chairs of lectureship, a museum and library enrichment.

The road was (is) hard and the fools and obstacles were (are) many but we understood the message he was leaving. Although it took me (us) some time to get it together what has emerged from those once "Negroes" is a new breed, yeah yall right, a new breed of niggers who ain't taking no bull, nothing less than complete Human Dignity and Freedom (damn the semantics), and who over the past four centuries are quite capable of a lot of havoc and hell until America gets her shit together!!! Keep in mind today, 1971, the Graystone is closed!! Negronesia never existed and I (we) have learned to think, observe, hear, listen, and fight for myself! Those quasi-liberals, etc., can do us one favor; just go somewhere and nonviolently die!!! We will deal with the conservatives as history deals with civilizations.

What do we owe Malcolm X? Brothers and Sisters he freed our minds! From this generation on may we as parents be able to look to those coming generations of bad niggers in the eyes and not be ashamed fore we stood as human beings fighting for our humanity. May we be a generation of blacks who accomplish something rather than "relatively" nothing. May my sons (our sons) be able to look at us with pride and say, "Daddy, yall some bad mother ing Niggers!!!" This we (I) owe to Brother Malcolm X, freedom of my mind to get the job done.

Northern Students Take Action In Attempt To Save Deer Herd

By Butch Sapp
NEWS Outdoor Writer

At least the NMU students are taking advantage of a bad winter for Michigan's deer herd. Roger Brundage and Bill Wagonlander, both geography majors, are participating in a volunteer deer-feeding program sponsored by the DNR. Besides participating in the emergency program, however, the students are proceeding with research into the condition of the deer and the effectiveness of their feeding method.

Wagonlander and Brundage obtain surplus shelled corn which has been authorized by the federal government for distribution by the DNR. Every other day, the students deposit about 25 pounds of this corn in small piles throughout a deer yard located near the southern border of the Marquette Beagle Club north of Marquette. They also have authorization from the owner of the land to cut scrub cedar on which the deer may browse.

"We're learning a lot about field research methods," Wagonlander says about the project, "although we're not getting any academic credit for the work. We've both heard a lot of pros and cons about the emergency feeding program, so we decided more should be known about wintering deer before we, or anyone else, dives whole-hog into such an expensive project."

There are about 15 or 20 deer using the 40 acre or so yard, and the students are enthusiastic about the preliminary results of their research. "When we first started the feeding two weeks ago, we found some areas where deer had fed on low-food-value spruce and balsam. Their necks were swollen and they looked in pretty rough shape, although we couldn't get close enough to them for a real good evaluation," Wagonlander continued. "Now we notice that deer will feed on the piles of corn we set out not ten minutes after we leave. What we haven't found out yet, is whether or not the food we set out is really saving them from starvation. Then there is the problem that even on an extensive basis, it is impossible to reach all the deer yards in the U.P."

The DNR has surplus corn available for other interested persons who would regularly participate in the emergency feeding program. Volunteers should bring their own containers to the DNR office south of Marquette and receive instructions from persons there concerning where and how to place the food. Officials of the DNR themselves are skeptical of the value of the emergency feeding program, but consented to allow volunteers to feed the deer as a last resort.

Upper Michigan's whitetail deer, like this one photographed in early December, face the bleak prospect of a long cold winter on meager rations. Many die from starvation each winter, but because of feeding programs such as those undertaken by NMU students Roger Brundage and Bill Wagonlander many will live to see the spring and to produce strong fawns.
