

THOSE APPEARING at the basketball manager's meeting last Tuesday night were the five pictured above. Another meeting is to be held next Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock. All squadron managers are asked to be present at that meeting in the Taft High School gym. From left to right, Sgt. Martin Zahorik, S/Sgt. Red Christopher, Lt. Joe Kogler Corp. Tom Ross, and S/Sgt. Cecil Cochrane.

of the uniformed participants and this writer that such constructive thinking toward the post-war world might be an interesting reading and serve to invite others in to voice what they would like to see started in the way of sociological, economical and cultural movements after the big job is finished.

This week, our first Gardner Field man to be interviewed is Pfc. Cliff Ewing.

Q. To get the ball rolling, Cliff, what subject would you like to use as an opener?

A. Education strikes me as being a very basic problem which has a lot of room for improvements in my conception of what our post-war world should be.

Q. That is a big subject, Cliff, just where would you start?

A. To begin with I believe an educational program should be, from the very beginning, more intensive

Famous Last Words

Of Benny The Bungler

America's Alertmen, AAA, Command, EDC

CPI HENRY
MCALEAR

CHARLIE CHAPLIN SHOW SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW NIGHT AT U.S.O.

A blitzkrieg of late fall and winter entertainment for the Sunday Community Night program of the U.S.O. was announced this week by the local staff.

Starting the barrage of major motion picture programs, the first revival will be shown tomorrow night. The full-length feature

USO CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY AT STAG DINNER

With the men of the photographic department of the field as their guests a dinner next Wednesday night members of the staff will commemorate the local USO's twenty-fifth dinner party. Starting in February with the members of the Air Force band, various squadrons and