Dear Miss Rhoades!

Such an immense surprise to receive your news, your picture the beautiful handkerchief! I beg you to accept my heartiest thanks for everything; I enjoy it so much, and I admire the lovely handkerchief. Why do you go to such an expense for the little I could do for you when unfortunately you were ill here! Indeed you are very kind and I appreciate your kindness highly.

May you come back some other time and enjoy better your next stay here. Of course, times are hard now and not fit for travelling; you know something about it already your going home having been so exciting. It needed quite some courage to pass different borders and be caught in mobilization! Quite an experience.

So often I think of all the foreigners who have been here. Will they be able to come back some times? soon? how will things turn out?

So many questions & problems;
and who knows what the end will be? -

Dear Miss Rhoades, may you keep well, be happy & prosperous
in every thing you undertake.
Again, my best thanks, best wishes & greetings. My regards also to Mrs. Ellis, please.

Respectfully yours
Marildal Meyer
