The loss will reach nearly $1,500,000. More than 300 cars burned and the plant, except for the electrical department, was destroyed.

Fire Captain Killed.

One fireman, Capt. J. Ryan, was killed under a falling wall, and half a dozen firemen and others were injured. None of the injured is in a serious condition.

We are not at the end of railroad development, but rather at its beginning and I feel, as I have always felt, that the ownership and operation by the federal government of all the railroads now constructed would go far toward the obliteration of state lines, and I regard the preservation of our dual form of government as necessary to the perpetuity of the republic.

The plan, according to which the federal government is to own only the necessary trunk lines and the several states the remainder of the roads, is consistent with our form of government and instead of leading to centralization. way company, covering the greater part

Wall Buries Scores.

The fire started in the repair room and spread with great rapidity. Capt. Ryan's engine with his crew and the crews of two other engines were working in an alley outside the building when an explosion ripped out the wall, sending tons of brick down on the firemen, carrying down the fire escapes on the rear of a row of flat houses, and burying half a dozen firemen in the ruins.

A hundred men set to work to dig their comrades out of the ruins, while scores of others turned their attention to the flat houses to which the fire had

SUE E. H. HARRIMAN FOR ALTON RUIN.

Advice of Attorney General of Illinois in THIRTY-FIVE ESCAPE FLAMES AT Report to Governor-State Action Perilous.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April S.-Attorney General Stead, after a thorough investigation of the "gold bricking" of purchasers of Chicago & Alton stock, has reached the conclusion that E. H. Harriman, George J. Gould, James Stillman, and Mortimer L. Schiff are liable for damages for their manipulations, charilably called "financiering," of that railips-Exeter academy, was destroyed by

He intimates also that they are criminally liable and asserts that the charter were compelled to jump from the second of the road can be revoked by the state. His advice, however, is that stockholders who have been deceived into buying stock on which no dividends can be made because of the heavy debts contracted by the road bring suit for damages against Harriman and his associates.

State's Right Is Clear.

The right of the state to act is made clear, but so also are the consequences. As was pointed out when the state took up an investigation of Harriman's manipulations of the road, Mr. Stead declares the state authorities face the certainty of bringing disaster to the innocent purchasers if an attempt be made to proceed civilly against the financiers. Urges Stockholders to Act.

If the charter should be revoked the stockholders also would suffer. Mr. Stead advises the purchasers themselves institute action on the ground that they have been defrauded. A long statement of the Chicago & Alton manipulations and their result are incorporated in a letter which the attorney general has submitted to Gov. The two officials have been over the figures together, and both now are studying them further.

NEBRASKAN FOR GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP BY DEGP S.

Let Nation Run Trunk Lines and States Operate the Small Railroads.

We are not at the end of railroad develup the states and thus offer a sure bulwark against centralization.

As to the acquiring of lines, I suppose that all would agree that the system should be inaugurated gradually, so that the government could profit by experience. It is probable that a commencement would be made with one transcontinental line, with a possible cross line. A line from the lakes to the gulf would do more to demonstrate the wisdom or the fallacy of government ownership than all the arguments that could be made for or against the system. If the government is incompetent to attend to such matters and too extravagant in public work, the private or built, whichever the government officials think best. The government might buy a controlling interest in the line—that is the way the railroad magnates do. If it built a new line, the success of the new line would largely determine the value of other various states.

It is needless to say that no confiscation is proposed. There is no disposition under strict regulation or government overship or is needless to say that he consistation in specific regulation or government ownership of injustice to investors in rallroad seurities and the courts would prevent injustice even if it were attempted.

LESLIE SLAYERS TO JOLIET PRISON.

Nicholas Is Given Life and Leopold Fourteen Years for Chicago Crime.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 10 .- With one of the defendants declaring that, if he were to be found guilty, the sentence should have been heavier than it was, and with lawyers and spectators amazed at the jury's verdict, the trial of Howard E. Nicholas and Leonard Leopold ended yesterday afternoon.

Nicholas' punishment was fixed at imprisonment for life and Leopold's set at fourteen years in the penitentiary.

Both were charged with the murder of Mrs. Margaret Leslie, who was found dead in a room of the Palace hotel, Clark and Indiana streets, in October of last year.

Calls Penalty Too Light. "I think," said Leopold, after the twelve men had reported, "that if the jury found me guilty of this charge they should have given me a much more severe penalty. On the other hand, the jury should have let me go free. It either was a question of guilty or not guilty of murder."

Nicholas appeared to think the jury had treated him too harshly.

"As soon as I saw the jurors filing into their places I knew it was all off," said Nicholas. "However, I am not discouraged and am confident that with another trial the jury will be made to see a number of telling points that were left out of this trial."

Jury Out Four Hours. The jury retired at 12.30 o'clock and returned with a verdict four hours lat-

Leopold was clinging tightly to the arms of his chair, and when he heard the sentence of fourteen years he relaxed and appeared relieved. Nicholas was his usual self.

Acording to reports, more than a dozen ballots were taken by the jurors as to the guilt of Leopold. The balloting as to Nicholas' guilt was not protracted. Only four tests were made and the jury was found to be Within a few weeks the Pacific has Tielded two stories of pirates, at a time when piracy was generally believed to have become one of the lost professions. Developments have shown that the black flag, metaphorically speaking, still flies over craft in the Pacific Ocean, although the times of those captivating gentry who scoured the Spanish Main of the Atlantic have indeed passed away forever.

Compared with the Pacific Ocean, the Atlantic is a narrow body of water, but the Pacific, the romantic old South Sea famed for financial 'bubbles" and for the adventurers who have sought it for their country's good, is almost boundless in its extent. The combined navies of the world could not properly police the great sea, and it has innumerable islands, charted and uncharted-spots of land which appear and disappear in most erratic and unexpected manner. But the commerce on the Pacific is the trans-Atlantic "greyhounds," with the regularity of a suburban train, ply between the continents. Rich materials, and some ammunition. bullion, money, are coming and going in Hired to Ravage the Seas.

These modern buccaneers are "captains of industry." They organize raids, plan piracies, but it is the wily native who is entrusted with the execution of the schemes. Most of the master minds do not care to risk their precious lives, while there are plenty of disreputables in the native quarters willing for a few dollars in silver to cut a throat or lead an attack upon a liner. Some of the adventurers live by blackmail, others by giving tips to native pirates and robbers of where loot may be found.

Hongkong, Macao, Nagasaki and Singapore all have their quota of these cosmopolites. The Japanese seal pirates who were killed or captured by the United States revenue cutter Mc-Culloch, while they were making a raid on the seal rookeries on St. Paul Island, one of the Aleutian chain, are said to have been organized by one of the most notorious of modern buccaneers, "Red," or Alexander, McLean, who has operated boldly in the Pacific for several years, and has been engaged in so many desperate enterprises that he has been nicknamed "the Sea Wolf."

"Red" McLean has all the qualities comance usually bestow upon its fictitious heroes. He is a tall, powerful man, with the figure of an athlete and the voice of a bull. He has the blackest of black hair, a heavy black mustache and piercing black eyes, which are small but magnetic. His specialty has been seal poaching, and to capture the fur-bearing amphibians he has sailed at different times under American, British and Mexican flags, thus effectively maintaining his anonymity. In his time he had been chased by cruisers, menaced by mutineers, threatened by gales, but he has the courage and abandon of a corsair. With a determination that nothing appears to be able to break, he has been operating in Bering Sea ever since the United States tively small section of which it is the pivotal point can cobs be produced passed the act intended to preserve the seals from extinction.

In a few minutes the Sainam was in the hands of the Chinese, who began a systematic search for loot. They discovered the $40,000 had not been placed on board, but they made off with all the money and valuables they could find, and broke open doors, windows, boxes, during their hunt for treasure. Then they all dropped over the side into the waiting junks and put off.

Captain Joslin, although seriously wounded, took charge of the ship and rought her into Canton. There he reported the attack, but the Chinese gunboats were tardy in leaving. The Chinese gunboat commanders always appear to fear they might catch the pirates. So the British river gunboat Moorhen was dispatched up the river, but, as usual, the pirates escaped.

The first corncob pipe was practically an accident, says a writer in the Williamsport Grit. A Missouri man wanted to smoke and had no pipe. He was shelling corn and when he found a large and particularly smooth cob an idea struck him. He whipped out his jackknife, cut the cob in two and bored out the pith of the larger section in a twinkling. Cutting a smaller hole in the side, he looked about for the stem. His eye lighted on a bunch of hard, harsh reeds growing nearby. He selected a reed, cut off a section between two of the joints, inserted it into the side of his cob, and behold, the Missouri

> Law Requirements-Cannot Secure Operators.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., April 9 .-In preparation for mine-hour law, the Chicago & North Western railway is closing scores of its smaller offices throughout Iowa. Twenty offices on the Galena division alone have been discontinued within one week and many others will be closed this spring.

Operators Are Scarce.

The railways are unable to secure telegraph operators sufficient to man the of-fices now that this class of men can only work nine hours. The operators are being moved to the larger offices where it is necessary to have three men instead of two as formerly. In this way expenses are kept down, the law is adhered to, and the larger offices handle the work formerly distributed among the many smaller ones.

It is said the changes will make little practical difference event that trains practical difference except that trains will be less late at terminals. The main increases are between Chicago and Denver, where the time has been maintained fairly well. The new schedules will probably be effective May 1.

Commutation passenger rates in Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania may be abolished. This is the subject to be considished. This is the subject to be considered tomorrow by the Central Passenger association. The reasons given for abolishing the cheap rates are that the roads are obliged to make 2 cents a mile the minimum as well as the maximum rate in order to avoid a loss.

It is said that there are many interesting things in "The Gingerbread Man," the new musical fairyesque, that Myron B. Rice will present at the Gladstone Theater Thursday, April 25. Encores are said to follow each musical number and stage picture, and even the discriminating theater-goer finds it hard to tell which picture is the most beautiful, or which song is the most pleasing. There is a daintiness about the reindeer chorus, dragging the sleigh of old Santa Claus, that takes hold of the spectator. The effect of dress upon our own selves is really astonishing. A humorous writer in a late issue of The Atlantic pictured a stately great-aunt reproving young girl for depression or spirits, in words something like these: "And so, No one will grieve because your lips are dumb.

Household Economics in Club Work.

Household economics as a department of club work has been accused of being vague and impractical. We admit that in a sense the name is a misnomer, and while intended to be broad enough to include all phases of home life and interests, one often gets the impression it has to do only with household economy and the servant problem. By giving to the housekeeper an intelligent study of her work, showing her that a knowledge of sanitation and hygiene, food values, decoration, these, the manifold interests of the home, become a science to be studied and loved rather than drudgery to be avoided. Women are becoming voice which says: That which elevates litions of girlhood is not so appalling is a success or a failure. Let us add a matter after all. Are the most popular entertainments known to modern society. From the informal assembly of a few friends for a chat and a cup of tea, to the elaborate reception to introduce debutante, they are called teas.

For the former the drawing room or library is made attractive with a few flowers, and a fire where possible and from her afternoon tea table with its singing kettle and pretty appointments the hostess dispenses her simple hospitality. Nothing but some dainty sandwiches and cakes are offered with the tea or coffe which last, in hot weather, should be iced and served out of doors if possible The guests serve themselves and each other. At an afternoon tea, for which cards have been sent to all one's acquaintances naming a special day, there s an awning and a carpet at the entrance and a man to open the carriage doors. Another opens the house door without waiting for a summons. The ladies remove their wraps in a dressing room upwhere one or two maids are in attendance. A man stationed at the drawing room door asks the name of each guest and repeats it aloud for the benefit of the hostess, who stands just within the room to greet her friends. If a daughter is to be introduced she stands at her mother's side, in which case the rooms are decked with flowers and bouquets galore, the latter being the gifts of friends. There sometimes is a small or-chestra behind a screen of plants.

In the dining room the table is made attractive with flowers and lights, and three or four waiters are in attendance to serve sandwiches, salads, ices, cakes and bonbons, tea, chocolate and bouillon. Small napkins are a convenience, but not a necessity.-Washington Star.

Born in 1819, he began on the basis of a common school education, supplemented by one term in a small academy. At 35 ne was elected to the Maine Legislature and made speaker on the first day's session, the only instance in the history of the state when a person with no legislative experience was chosen to that post. H ewas made a presidential elector in 1856.

In 1862 he was elected to Congress, and was subsequently twice re-elected and was subsequently twice re-elected by increased majorities. During this term of service, and while chairman of the House committee on pensions, he superintended the complete reorganization of the pension bureau. His election as governor of Maine occurred in 1870 and was twice confirmed by re-elections. He was a Democrat until 1853, when he followed the lead of Anson P. Morrill, then candidate for governor of Maine.

While primarily of an executive disposition, Gov. Perham has always been widely celebrated as an orator. Several of his addresses in the House-particularly that on the impeachment of President Johnson and on "Relief from Taxation and the National Finances"-were regarded as exceptionally able and effective. Since his withdrawal from active politics Gov. Perham has served as director of many educational and other public institutions. Among other things, Mr. Perham, while in Congress, was the author of the enactment providing for the granting of $2 per month additional pension to each one of the minor children of a soldier. Prior to July 25, 1866, a widow drew no pension on account of her minor chil-dren, and when the widow was dead only $8 was paid where there were several minor children of an enlisted man. This enactment stands on the statute books today in the same language as he presented it to the pension committee in 1866.

Gov. Perham also advocated reform in the Maine jail system, so as to provide for the employment of prisoners in some industrial pursuit; an industrial school for girls; the establishment of free high schools, and arranged for biennial elections and sessions of the Logislature. He was appointed appraiser for the port of Portland and held the office for edyears, when he resigned. In 1891 served on a commission appointed by President Harrison to select a site for a dock in the waters of the gulf of Mexico.

Rule Your Diet: Control Destiny It's what you eat that makes you what

That's what the food sharps of the agricultural department said when they read of the conclusions of Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale that the vegetarian is the strongest type physically. According to a table of recipes outlined today food not only decides a man's muscular character, but his mental caliber and particular fitness in business life as well.

Here are some of them: To Make Money in the Stock Market-Eat meat fresh from the stock Market—Eat meat fresh from the slaughter house, just as the eagle, the shrewdest of all types, kills a lamb and eats it on the spot.
To Become a Prize Fighter or a Great Warrior—Eat all raw meats.
To Be Mediocre—Eat beef and—
To Cultivate Brain Storms—Eat midnight lobster.

To Be a Mollycoddle-Eat nuts and break-

Success in everything depends upon the regularity of your diet. The department authorities say that man reflects animal spirit. Pursuing this argument, they point to the fact that just as the carnivorous animals, as the tiger and lion, are predatory and ferocious, so can a human being become by devouring raw meat. And by the same process the granivorous animals, like the cow and horse, are tractable and strong, just as the man is who lives on vegetables.

Thus by the regular diet of beans three times a day, from generation to generation, the subject finally strong but easily persuaded individual.
On the other hand, if the subject eats raw beef sandwiches he becomes belligerent, crafty, treacherous, and selfish.

In Shakespeare's time no musical dictionary could have distinguished between "orchestra" and "band," for the simple reason that neither word was then English in a musical sense. "Orchestra" did not arrive before the eighteenth century, and even "band" not until the lattury, and even band not until the latter half of the seventeenth, when Charles II. had a "band of violins," in imitation, probably, of Louis XIV.'s "bande." The old English word for a band of music was "noise." Riis Says IIo Third Term.

Jacob Riis, who is returning east from the Pacific coast, also talked with the President today. He declared that the President meant what he said on the night of the election in 1904 that he would not accept another nomination for the presidency. Mr. Riis said he took the President at his word. All the Presi-dent wants, said Mr. Riis, is to see that his policies are carried through.

Telegrams and letters continue to be received by the President bearing on the disclosures made at the white house regarding the "combination" to defeat the President's policies. They assure the President of support in his fight.

NEW YORK, April 8 .- Timothy Kane, who for three years has suffered agonizing diseases, is in Bellevue hospital with his mental faculties weak as those of a child, and with surgeons and nurses teaching him to speak, read, write and distinguish between the ob-

Three years ago the man was struck on the head and a lesion of the brain developed. Two weeks after he had been injured he developed epilepsy. Paralysis followed. Then came motor aphasia, and then loss of speech.

Surgeons, after they had found Kane to be sane, removed the top of the man's skull and performed daring feats in surgery. They explored every cavity of his brain and then waited.

Three days later Kane could speak, and now he is on the road to recovery.

HONEST MEDICINE

TRY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR STOMACH TROUBLE.

Convincing Evidence Supported by a Guarantee That Must Convince

The Most Skeptical. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a doctor's prescription, used by an eminent practitioner, and for nearly a generation known as a reliable household remedy throughout the United States. Needless to say, no advertised medicine could retain popular favor for so long a period without having great merit and it is the invaluable curative properties of the pills that have made them a standard remedy in every civilized country in the world. Added to this is the absolute guarantee that the pills contain no harmful drug, opiate, narcotic or stimulant. A recent evidence of their efficacy is found in the statement of Mrs. N. B. Whitley, of Boxley, Ark., who says:

"I had suffered for a good many years from stomach trouble. For a long time I was subject to bad spells of faintness and lack of breath accompanied by an indescribable feeling that seemed to start in my stomach. Whenever I was a little run-down or over-tired, these spells would come on. They occurred frequently but did not last very long.

I was confined to my bed for ten weeks one time and the doctor pronounced my trouble chronic inflammation of the stomach and bowels. Since that time I have been subject to the fainting spells and at other times to fluttering of the heart and a feeling as though I was smothering. My general health was very had and I was weak and 'I had seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills mentioned in the newspapers and decided to try them. When I began taking the pills I was so run-down in strength that I could hardly do any housework. Now I could walk ten miles if necessary. Both my husband and myself think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine made and we always recommend the pills to our friends."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood and give strength and tone to every part of the body. They have cured serious disorders of the blood and nerves, such as rheumatism, sciatica, anæmia, nervousness, headaches, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance and many forms of weakness in either sex. They are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

CAPE HUNTING DOGS.

Large Antelopes Easily Run Down by Pack of These Animals.

specimen of the Cape hunting dog, Lycaon pictus, has lately been added to the menagerie in the London Zoological gardens. It is an animal which does not take kindly to captivity and the indi-viduals that from time to time have the collection have ever been short lived. This specie bears a strong resemblance to a hyena, says the Rhodesia Her-ald, not only in its markings, but in the general appearance. It is a tall dog, fairly slim in build and with long limbs. The broad and rather flat head ends in short muzzle; the ears are very large. The ground color of the coat, which is rather scantily haired, is yellowish; the markings, which are disposed about the body and limbs in a very irregular manner, are short streaks and blotches of black, white and gray. The tail is of a fair length, somewhat thickly haired, and ends in a whitish tuft. The muzzle is black and a black stripe runs down between the eyes.

The Cape hunting dog has a wide range in Africa south and east of the Sahara desert. It is wonderfully swift-footed and hunts its prey in regular Large antelopes are easily run down by these packs and domestic sheep and cattle need strong protection against the depredations of the "hyena dog."

"INFLUENZA" FROM "INFLUENCE." Meant Influence of Stars in Spreading Disease.

"Influenza" was originally an Italian word for "influence," and, among other things, for the "influence" of the stars, which manifested itself balefully in epidemics of disease. Hence "influenza di febbre scarlatina," for instance meant an "epidemic of scarlet fever." And so. when Eighteenth century Italy was pros-trated by the sneezing, snuffling scourge and pased it on to England, it was nat-urally spoken of as "the" influenza— "the" epidemic—though on the way through France it acquired also the name of "la grippe," in allusion to its ferocious way of seizing its victims.

DANGER IN "GROWING PAINS."

Not Natural, Says Physician; Mean Muscular Rheumatism.

An eminent specialist claims that there is no such thing as "growing pains." We have been been taught that when a child has stinging pains in the limbs, shoulders or other parts of the body it is an indication that the body is growing, and therefore most parents welcome the news of such suffering in children. The physician referred to above claims that growing pains are muscular rheumatism, and should have immediate attention. Something is wrong, and steps should be taken at once to learn why the child's blood is not in perfect con-

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. PORTRAIT OF CROMWELL'S WIFE. Only One in Existence Shows Her Fame Was in Kitchen.

While portraits of Oliver Cromwell are sufficiently numerous, only one indisputably genuine portrait of his wife is known to exist. This appeared as the frontispiece of a rare and curious cook-ery book published in 1664 entitled "The Court and Kitchen of Elizabeth, Commonly Called Joan Cromwell, the Wife of the Late Usurper, Truly Described and Represented."

Blood Gets Sour.

At this time of year, says a wellknown authority, the Kidneys become weak, clogged and inactive, failing to filter out the poisons and acids, which sour the blood, causing not only facial and bodily eruptions, but the worst forms of Rheumatism, Nervous and Stomach troubles, Backache and painful, annoying Urinary afflictions. It is worth any one's time now to get from some good prescription phasmacy the following ingredients: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after your meals and at bedtime.

This simple home-made mixture will force the Kidneys to normal, healthy action, so they will filter and strain all uric acid and poisonous waste matter from the blood, and expel this in the urine, at the same time restoring the "full blood count"-that is, 95 per cent. red blood corpuscles-which is absolutely indispensable to perfect health.

It is quite true that these troub-les may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N.Y. She writes:-Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years.'

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation. Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.
