Mr. St. Jacques has been a resident of Delta county for 36 years and is probably as well known to the people as any other man in the county. He has been active in business and has been identified with every movement for the progress and improvement of this section along agricultural and business lines. He is a hard worker in anything he undertakes and there will be few who will not know that he is a live candidate for treasurer.

Mr. St. Jacques enjoys the confidence and trust of his fellow citizens to a considerable extent and at present is alderman from the Fourth ward of Escanaba. He is also one of the Vice Presidents of the Escanaba Businessmen's Association, where his advice and judgment on matters of importance has much weight. Twelve years ago he filled the position of county treasurer for a term of four years and the record made by him at that time was perfect.

Mr. St. Jacques has assurances of support from all parts of the county as well as in the county seat. No one will make any mistake by casting a vote for Mr. St. Jacques for treasurer, who is as much entitled to the place as any candidate up for office at this or any other

German Protos Reaches French Capital Ahead, but Carried Penalty of Thirty Days.

PARIS, July 29.-The American Thomas automobile has won the great race from New York to Paris by the wide margin of over twenty-seven days. Second place goes to the German car, Protos, which reached Paris two days ahead of the Thomas in the race from Vladivostok to the French capital.

The result of the trans-continental run has been given out by a representative of the New York Times, the newspaper which first suggested the race and arranged the details before the start was made from the American city.

The American car's lead was obtained in the run across America. Fifteen days were allowed for the trip to Alaska, the conditions in the far northern territory making it impossible for any of the cars to travel over the mountain trails, piled high with snow. The Thomas was the only machine shipped to Alaska.

Be on Ground When Club Will Be Perfected.

CITY WANTS ANNUAL CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29 .-As the day approaches for the army tests of dirigible balloon and heavierthan-air machines at Fort Myer, each day gives further evidence of the interest being taken in the problems of aerial navigation. Where skepticism prevailed when Prof. S. P. Langley was conducting his experiments on the Potomac river several years ago, today the practical demonstration of a trial flight has worked up a large measure of expectancy in the public mind.

Form National Society.

The initial steps in the formation of a society, national in scope, for the advancement of science of aerial navigation were taken in Washington by a group of leading scientists. The new organization which is to be known as the National Aeronautical Society of the National Aeronautical Society Chieago will be the first of its kind in America although there are nearly thirty aero clubs engaged in working up public interest in aerodynamics by exploiting the practical advancement that already has been made.

Many Scientists Expected. Prominent aeronauts and scientists from every section of the country will be here when the Fort Myer tests begin and it is proposed to complete the or-ganization of the new society at that time. In the meantime a committee composed of Octave Chanute, the contemporary of Prof. Langley, Prof. Albert Zahn and August Post will en deavor to have the annual aero congress held in Washington this autumn.

Bishop Rhode succeeds Bishop Muldoon as auxiliary bishop of Chicago. Bishop Muldoon, it is understood, is to be transferred to the charge of the new diocese of Rockford. The new bishop is but 39 years old and is one of the youngest bishops in the country. He was born in Prussian Poland, but came to Chicago when a small boy. He was ordained in 1896 and became assistant pastor of SS. Peter and Paul's church in this city, where he remained for two years. He then was made pastor of St. Michael's church in South Chicago, where he still remains. The church now becomes the seat of the new bishop, who represents the Polish Catholics of America ag their first prelate.

J. T. GRAVES FOR SECOND PLACE.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 29 .- The first national convention of the Independence party finished its labors early today, after nominating Thomas L. Hisgen of Massachusetts for President of the United States, and John Temple Graves of Georgia for vice president, and adoptsecond place on the ticket by acclama-

The first ballot for President stood: Hisgen, 396; Graves, 213; Howard, 200; Lyon, 71; Hearst, 49. Total, 924. Necessary for a choice, 616.

The Lyon vote came from New York and Connecticut. Ohio and New York favored Hearst. Southern delegations divided between Graves and Howard, and New York, Oklaboma, Oregon, IIlinois, Iowa and Michigan each helped the latter, while Illinois, Iowa and Michigan also gave votes to Graves. Second Ballot Changes.

On the second ballot the first break came from Connecticut, which voted Hisgen a solid 14, seven of which had gone formerly to Lyon, Illinois followed with 54 for Hisgen, taking 22 from Graves 5 from Howard.

Kentucky moved up into the Hisgen column, taking 26 from Howard; New York transferred 64 of her 78 and Texas rushed 36 more ballots to Hisgen. The ballot stood: Hisgen, 590; Graves 189; Howard, 109; Hearst, 49. Total vote, 937; necessary for a choice, 624.
Maryland rallied to Hisgen. Ne Nen York followed with 71 votes for Hisgen. Ohio leaving Hearst, gave 44 to Hisgen and 2 to Graves; Oregon and North Dakota changed likewise and then Virginia, seeing the end cast her 24 votes in the same direction. Michigan, Georgia, Missouri, District of Columbia, Florida and Tennessee then changed their votes to Hisgen. The vote as announced stood: Hisgen, 831; Graves, 77; Howard, 38; Hearst. 2. Total vote cast 948; necessary for a choice, 632.

John Temple Graves moved to make the nomination unanimous and it was done with a whoop.

The nomination of Mr. Graves as vice president by acclamation followed immediately.

Riot at Bryan's Name. John I. Sheppard of Kansas, who attempted to put W. J. Bryan's name in nomination had to be given the protection of the entire force of the Independence party officials to save him from the infuriated delegates. Sheppard was escorted from the hall by a detail of sergeants-at-arms while the crowd of delegantsgates surged behind, denouncing him as a traiter.

TOKIO, July 28.-In anticipation of the visit of the American fleet to Japan waters, the municipal bodies of more than one port have already taken initial steps to extend to officers and men a hearty and characteristically Japanese

On July 7 the Yokohama municipality held a conference, at which the members discussed the proposed reception in honor of the fleet which is expected to arrive at Yokohama during October. N. Itsuhashi, the mayor, proposed that a garden party should be held on the cricket grounds to which should be invited about 2300 American officers, the American ambassador and his staff, and that about 20,000 yen should be spent by the city on this entertainment.

To Banquet at Hotel.

The proposal was unanimously carof Georgia for vice president, and adopting a platform of principles. The nomination of Hisgen was reached on the third ballot, with a vote of 831 out of 948 ballots cast. Graves was named for second place on the ticket by acclamations. Will Give Jap Dinner.

In addition to the above entertainments the Yokohama chamber of commerce intends to give a Japanese dinner to the American visitors at a tea house. It is expected that the preparations for the occasion at the capital will be upon a proportionately elaborate scale, following the precedent created on the occasion of the last visit of the British

"ALL SKI'S" NOT POLES.

C. Mays of Milwaukee Declares Suffix Is of Slavonian Origin and Applies to Many.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 28.-All citizens whose names end in "ski" or "sky" should be recorded as Poles, thinks W. T. Monroe, superintendent of the census bureau of the Chicago board of education. He imagined he discerned a startling lack of patriotism, therefore, when 10,000 men in the Sixteenth ward with "sky" or "ski" terminations to the names told his enumerators they were Germans.

Mr. Monroe received some enlightenment yesterday in a letter from C. Mays of Milwaukec, part of which follows: "Dear Sir: Where did you get the idea that those names ending in 'ski' or 'sky' are Polish? They are of Slavonian origin, but may be of any other race. "Dombrowski was French secretary of war. Podbielski was German secretary of war. Rojestvenski was a Russian naval commander. Your own name is corrupted French, Monroi.

"Besides, Poland has not existed offi-cially since 1770. 'Ski' no more shows a Polander than does 'son,' which is its exact equivalent, show a Swede. "Of the round 10,000,000 Polish-speaking people today there are 2,000,000 Germans, 5,000,000 Austrians, and 3,000, 000 Russians. There exists no Poland any more than a Burgundy, a Normandy, a Northumbria, a Roman empire, a Byzantine empire.

"Polish Jew is an absurdity; he speaks and writes German. Yiddish is German in old Hebrew letters. He lives in Russia, Germany, or Austria, but never in Poland. Poland has been dead 130 years. I regret it, but it is a fact."

TAFT'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL CAN-DIDATE MAKES KNOWN HIS PO-LITICAL ATTITUDE.

ROOSEVELT'S POLICY IS HIS.

Candidate Endorses Tariff Revision, Currency Reform and Publicity of Campaign Contributions.

FOR PHYSICAL RAIL VALUATION.

CINCINNATI, O., July 28. - Judge William H. Taft, Republican candidate for the presidency, in accepting the nomination of that party today pledged himself to carry out the policies of the President. In an address which differed much in type from that of the President, but which carried deepest conviction he declared the aim of the next Republican administration must be to perfect the standards which had been set up by Mr. Roosevelt. His address contained no stinging shafts or stirring epigrams but was a direct, purposeful and logical discussion of the problems incident to the campaign.

"The chief function of the next administration, in my judgment," he said, "is distinct from, and a progressive development of that which has been performed by President Roosevelt. The chief function of the next administration is to complete and perfect the machinery by which these standards may be main tained, by which the law breakers may be promptly restrained and punished but which shall opera with sufficient accuracy and dispatch to interfere with legitimate business as little as possible. Such machinery is not now adequate."

Difference Between Platforms.

Mr. Taft then reviewed in great detail then entered into an argument compar-ing the planks of the Republican and Democratic conventions adopted at their recent conventions.

Mr. Taft characterized the national control of interstate commerce by incorporation as an intolerable burden on the airs. business interests of the country unless properly classified. He saw no good in gling on the ground and when the peothe Democratic idea of preventing one corporation from owning more than 50 per cent. of stock in another. A corporation controlling 45 or 50 per cent. could attended by physicians and taken to work the same monopolizing evils, he their homes. declared, as if it owned 70 per cent. He characterized the Democratic proposal to hour's delay. sell products at a fixed price the country over as most impractical. Combinations of capital are of advantage, he said, disof capital are of advantage, and when cussing the trust problem, and when they are legitimate and properly controlled, a benefit to the people. To detrolled, a benefit to the people. To destroy them would bring national disaster. Taft claims that this is the Democratic programme.

He indorsed the Republican idea of a protective tariff, but declared for revision at a special session of congress. portant matter of the abuse of power of injunction.

"Our position is clear and unequivo-cal," he said. "We are anxious to prevent even an appearance of any injustice to labor in the issuance of injunctions, not in a spirit of favoritism to one set of our fellow citizens, but of justice to all of our fellow citizens. The reason for exercising or refusing to exercise the power of injunction must be found in the character of the unlawful injury and not in the character or class of the persons who inflict this injury. The man who has a business which is being unlawfully injured is entitled to the remedies which the law has always given him, no matter who has inflicted the in-Otherwise, we shall have class legislation unjust in principle and likely to sap the foundations of a free govern-

Matter of Notice.

In discussing the matter of notice be-fore issuance of an injunction Mr. Taft then reviewed this plank in the plat-

'Under this recommendation, a statute may be framed which shall define with considerable particularity, and empha-size the exceptional character of the cases in which restraining orders may is-sue without notice, and which shall also provide that when they are issued, they shall cease to be operative beyond a short period, during which time notice shall be served and a hearing had unless the defendant desires a postponement of the hearing. By this provision the in-justice which has sometimes occurred by a preliminary restraining order of widest application has been issued with-out notice, and the hearing of the motion for the injunction has been fixed weeks and months after its date, could not re-

The Democratic platform makes no provision for notice but recommends trial by jury, which he characterizes as a most dangerous attack on the power of the courts.
"Those who advocate this intervention of a jury in such cases seem to sup-pose that this change in some way will inure only to the benefit of the poor working man. As a matter of fact, the person who will secure chief advantage from it is the wealthy and unscrupulous defendant, able to employ astute and cunning counsel and anxious to avoid justice," he said.

Bank Insurance Wrong.

If they were beaten in the Chicago convention in their efforts to inject La Follette ideas in into the platform there is some satisfaction for the "Half-breeds" of Wisconsin for Mr. Taft is for the physical valuation of railroads as an aid to the securing reasonable rates for the shipper and fair profits for the carriers. But, Mr. Taft says, this valuation is not entirely necessary. The plan might be an important factor not a controlling one in aiding the interstate commission. In connection with the railroad problem Mr. Taft recommends more auxiliary machinery to aid that body

SPORTING LIFE IN BURMAH. Popularity of Bull Racing-Pugilists

Strike with Their Eyes Shut. A form of speculation not generally known in England but very popular in Burmah is bull racing. A certain native sportsman is the owner of one of these bulls, for which he has refused an offer of 10,000 rupees. It has won several races and is looked after and as carefully ferred to the platform plank on that subject. He declared the Democratic programme of insurance on bank deposits is a plan which would work ruin to the banking interests of the country. "No one can foresee the burden which under this system would be imposed upon the sound and conservative bankers of the country by this obligation to make good the losses caused by the reckless, speculative and dishonest men who would be enabled to secure deposits under such a system on the faith of the proposed insurance; as in its present shape the proposal would remove all safeguards against recklessness in banking, and the chief, and in the end proba-bly the only benefit would accrue to the speculator, who would be delighted to enter the banking business when it was certain that he could enjoy any profit that would accrue, while the risk would that would accrue, while the risk would have to be assumed by his honest and hardworking fellow," he said.

Mr. Taft declared for the postal savings banks system which he said have proven a success in other countries. He declared the "colonies" of the United States should be retained and that to drop the Philippings would be cowardly drop the Philippines would be cowardly for the country was doing the duty of a Christian nation in educating the Filipinos and making fit for self-government. He endorsed the big navy proposition and gave words of praise to the Democrats for endorsing this idea.

He refuted the charge of extravagance made by the other party and said that this was the favorite shout of the Democrats in campaign time.

The Ceremonies.

The ceremonies of the day at the Taft residence began at 9:30 a.m., with the raising of a large American flag to the top of 50-foot staff. This was largely a neighborhood affair for the flag was presented by Mr. Taft's neighbors and fel-low citizens of Cincinnati. Judge Jacob H. COUNTY OF OUTLAWS. Bold Criminals in Oklahoma Defy Authorities to Arrest Them. Pushmata county is not only one of the largest in the state but it contains more inaccessible mountain fastnesses and possibly more outlaws hiding in the mountains than any other county in the state. Within the last six months the depredations of the outlaws have be come of a most exasperating nature and the officers of that and surrounding counties seem unable to break up the outlaw haunts.

Posse after posse has gone into the Kiamachi, the Winding Stair and the Jack Fork mountains to try to drive out the horse thieves and robbers known to rendezvous there, but the officers sel-Ben and Alex Scigliano were arrested charged with the crime. Isaac, a brother, was also implicated, but escaped. The dead man was struck over the head with a club solution of the custom is to get a posse on the dom succeed in finding them. In fact the

The Sun-Dial's Motto.

If you want your life to run without friction, adopt the sun-dial's moto: "I record none but hours of sunshine." What a great thing it would be if we could only learn that the art of wiping out of our memories forever everything that is unpleasant, everything which brings up bitter memories and unfortunate associations and depressing, discouraging suggestions, would double and quadruple our happiness and power! If we could only keep the mind filled with beautiful thoughts which uplift and encourage, the efficiency of our lives would be multiplied many, many times.

No mind can do good work when clouded with unhappy thoughts. The mental sky must be clear or there can be no enthusiasm, no brightness, clearness, or efficiency in our mental work.

If you would do the maximum of which you are capable, keep the mind filled with sunshine, with beauty and truth, with cheerful, uplifting thoughts. Bury everything that makes you unhappy and discordant, everything that cramps your freedom, that worries you, before it buries you.

Man was not made to express discord, but harmony; to express beauty, truth, love and happiness; wholeness, not halfness: completeness, not incompleteness. The mental temple was not given us for the storing of low, base, mean things. It was intended for the abode of the gods, for the treasuring of high purposes, grand aims, noble aspirations. It does not take very long to learn that the good excludes the bad; that the higher always shuts out the lower; that the greater motive, the grander affect tion, excludes the lesser, the lower. The good is more than a match for the bad. -Orison Swett Marden, in Success.

Old Scottish Sanctuary.

The old sanctuary of the abbey and palace of Holyrood house, to quote the full description, was an interesting institution. The debtor was free from arrest during the week. On entering the sanctuary he enrolled himself in a formal manner and obtained a room—that is, if he could pay for it. There was a public house within the boundaries, and it was not uncommon to see the debtor in the inn playing dominoes and his creditors standing looking in at the window with wistful eyes. The debtor was safe, and he knew it, and the face of the creditor told the same tale. Sunday being a dies non, the debtor could leave his ary and visit his family, but he had to be careful to get back to Holyrood on Sun-day night. Sometimes a debtor had the day night. temerity to leave on a week day, but he did so at his peril.—London Globe.

Big Money in Fairs.

WEED OUT PALACE OFFICIALS.

Young Men of Empire Want Corrupt and Incompetent Favorites Removed from Office.

SITUATION IS GROWING CALM.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 28 .- Now that the first rejoicings over the constitution granted to Turkey by the Sultan last week are at an end, the people are beginning to discuss the future. Already they are clamoring against the high officials who were responsible for the abuses and injustices of the old regime.

Public opinion is demanding a clean sweep, especially of the palace officials who are identified with the days of "personal rule." The task of weeding out the corrupt and the incompetent would be stupendous.

Sultan in Tears. The Sultan, it is now known, broke into tears at the conference of Thursday at which it was decided to grant a con-stitution. The situation is calmer since the order for the release of political offenders was promulgated, but disturbances are still feared at Adrianople. The young Turks in Constantinople yesterday imposed the new constitution upon a number of high officials, making them swear to support it under threats.

Only once has the Sultan been induced to show himself to the large gatherings of demonstrators in front of the

WEDDED THROUGH BARS

Inmate of Colorado Jail Is Married to Girl Standing on Box Outside the Cell.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., July 28 .-A marriage at the county jail took place under unusual circumstances last night when Prof. Hans Albert, a musician formerly of Omaha, and Miss Grace Hadsell of Ottumwa, Ia., daughter of the United States marshall at that place were declared man and wife by Rev. Inman, a Methodist minister of Gold-field, Colo. Albert's arrest was caused Saturday by the girl's father to prevent the marriage, the charge being insanity. Last night Miss Hadsell and the minis-ter visited the jail and asked to see her lover. The request was refused and the jailer, thinking the incident closed, went upstairs. During his absence, a box was placed outside Albert's cell window. Miss Hadsell mounted and, clasping her lover's hand through the window, was made his wife.

JAPAN IS FRIGHTENED.

Believes That Trade Will Suffer Severely if American Railways Raise Their Rates.

TOKIO, July 28.-A feeling apprehension seems to be growing in Japan with regard to the ultimate action of the five American railway companies which threaten to raise their fares on goods carried eastward from the Pacific coast. If the originally proposed schedule be adopted a crushing blow will be given to the trade in Japan's miscellaneous manufactures which now occupy a highly important place in her export trade. A combined protest having been made by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the Mitsui company, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha and the Morimura guild it is thought probable that the directors of the five railway companies will reconsider their decision.

A VICIOUS CIRCLE. Reports from the American Railway association indicate that 100,000 more freight cars are at work than were in use on April 29. Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission says that "fewer and fewer cars and locomotives are idle, and business is getting better." These are suggestive facts. They are welcome, but they need to be considered along with others that Chairman Knapp mentions. Railways have been operating for months at heavy expense, under diminished earnings, and with no spare revenue for Calif. Consequently, as Chairman Knapp points out, there is likelihood, if not certainly, that there will be shortage of cars and locomotives within the next few months. Railroads that have "degenerated" will be called upon to do business with an equipment not up to White House Coffee the standard. "Centers of production will be glutted while markets will be bare," to quote the significant phrase of a Washington correspondent. It will surprising if there does not spring up another crusade against the railroads, based on their inability to do the counjustly the extra difficulties of admin-

Do You Have a Bank Account?

The possession of a bank account is a matter that must be of interest to every man, women and child in any prosperous community. Many people without stopping to give it consideration, are inclined to delay in making a start along this line. When you stop to think about it there is really no good reason why you shouldn't have a growing bank account. This bank is ready and willing to help you save. One Dollar is all that is needed to open an account. You have the privilige of withdrawing your funds whenever you want to. Still, with all these inducements and incentives to become a saver there are hundreds of people in our county who do not deposit their money in a bank. If YOU are among this number, do not wait any longer, bring your first deposit to this bank and get a bank book.

As heir to the presidency, he must possess the same qualifications as the President. office, thus permitting five men who had the first, it would seem that much care would be given to the selection of the vice presidential candidate. In practice this has not been so. Two of the vice presidents elevated to the chief magistracy through the death of Presidents have signally discomfited the party to which they owed their office by opposing

Opposed Own Parties. John Tyler of Virginia and Andrew Johnson of Tennessee, had too fla-grantly opposed the parties which elected them vice presidents to hope for a nomination to the higher office. Ches-ter A. Arthur, nominated with James A. Garfield to soothe Roscoe Conkling's disappointment in not securing a thirdterm nomination for Gen. Grant, hoped for commendation, but failed to win it. Millard Fillmore and Theodore Roose velt received the presidential nomination through the regular channels, but Fill-more failed of election. But one man, first made President through the death of his predecessor, has later been elected office. Other Presidents have, however, served as vice president before reaching the higher office. John Adams, vice president while George Washington sided as chief executive, succeeded

Washington to the high office. He was in turn succeeded by his vice president, Thomas Jefferson. Andrew Jackson, who called the first Devocratic national convention in order that it might nominate Martin Van Buren as vice president on the Democratic ticket with him, practically named Van Buren as his successor. These three, with the five who succeeded through the accident of death, make a total of eight vice presidents who have ascended to the presi-

Webster's Two Chances.

When William Henry Harrison of thio, was named as the Whig candi date in 1840, John Tyler, who had always displayed Democratic sympathies, though he had been of the Calhoun faction and so opposed to Jackson and Van Buren, wept because Henry Clay, who was the favorite Whig candidate, had been kept from his own. After several unavailing efforts to get someone to take the nomination for vice president, Tyler was named for it in the hope that he would win the votes of those Democrats opposed to Van Buren. Thurlow Weed had asked Daniel Webster if he would consent to be the nominee for vice presi-dent on the ticket with Harrison, but Webster refused, as he did eight years later, when Zachary Taylor was the presidential candidate. Had he accepted the nomination either time he would have realized his lifelong desire of being President, for both Harrison and Taylor died before the expiration of their term of office.

He hoped that the Democrats would give him the presidential nomination, which his quarrel with his own party precluded him from even asking, but was disappointed. Like the two Adamses, he did not attend the inauguration of his successor. Senate Elects Vice President.

Only once has it been necessary for the Senate to exercise its right to elect the vice president, a right conferred by the twelfth amendment if no candidate for the vice presidential office receives a majority of the votes. This happened in 1837, when Richard M. Johnson, nommated on the same ticket with Martin Van Buren, received just one-half of the 294 electoral votes. The amendment provides that from the two highest numbers on the list of those voted for as vice president, the Senate shall choose the vice president. To do so a quorum of senators must be present and a majority of the whole number is necessary to a choice.

Refused by Telegraph.

The convention of 1844 was the first to have its proceedings reported by telegraph. From Baltimore to Washington the news of Wright's nomination was sent over the mysterious wire. Indignant at what he considered a base betrayal of Van Buren, the senator declined the nomination by electric telegraph, thus distinguishing himself as graph, thus distinguishing himself as signed the precentainly no man had ever done before, vanced years. When Vice President Hendricks died in 1885 it was seen that the death of the President would place the government in the hands of the Republicans, though the people had voted that the Democrats should be in power for four years. In January, 1886, Congress passed a new presidential succession act by which, after the President and vice president, the members of the cabinet succeeded to the presidency—the secretary of state, the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy, the postmaster general, the secretary of the interior and the attorney general, in the order of the creation of the departments down to the

COURIERS ACROSS SAHARA.

Though a journey across the Sahara is still an undertaking of some magnitude, the pacification of the central region by the French has been wonderfully rapid during the last five years.

Removed as it seems from the exciting influence of events in Morocco, and undisturbed by Senussite propaganda, the French officers have been able to establish friendly relations with the Tuareg and other Berber tribes, and have organized a chain of posts right across the desert connecting Algeria with French West Africa. The route for the telegraph has been surveyed and a "wireinstallation is being established.

Meantime, by the last mail from Da-kar the governor of French West Africa reports that he has instituted a monthservice by couriers between the Niger and the Mediterranean. The southern point of departure will be the ancient town of Gao on the Niger, some 200 miles below Timbuktu, and the point of departure from the north Insalah in the oasis of Tuat, which is some 300 miles south of the rail head in the Sud Oranasis. Intermediate posts have been established at Agades and the Ahaggar. The oversight of the new route covers fully 1000 miles of desert.

Much is expected in the way of accustoming the wild tribesmen of the Sahara to the new order of things from the regular running of this service, and possibly some development of trade may follow. But at present it will be useful chiefly as a means of rapid communication between the French military posts. It is intended that officers selected for service in or returning home from the Niger districts shall make use of the transsaharan route. which will be more direct and less costly than the journey from or to France via Senegal or Dahomey. Both horses and camels will be used on the new service.— Pall Mall Gazette.

Rifle and Smooth Bore.

The main difference between a rifle and a smooth-bore gun is that the inner surface of the rifle barrel has one or more spiral grooves cut into it. The object of this is to permit a portion of the material of the bullet or projectile to sink into the grooves. As the projectile is forced out of the barrel these projections into the grooves tend to remain there, thus giving rise to a spinning motion. In fact, it is not only going forward, but is rotating rapidly as it goes. The axis will tend-in accordance with the gyroscopic principle -to maintain, without change, its direction. But that is really saying that the projectile will tend to remain in its true course. So this is why a rifled gun shoots straighter than a smooth bore .-St. Nicholas.

Women as College Trustees.

College trusteeship is one of the more recent concessions made to women, and while, as is to be expected in every instance, women trustees are greatly in the minority among their men colleagues, so many institutions have adopted the nnovation that it is simpler to say where they are not than to enumerate all of the prominent institutions where the woman trustee has become an ac-In the first class are the state universities, as those of Kansas, Nebraska and Michigan. Here the universities of Illinois, Wisconsin and California are the three notable exceptions. To this class also belongs Leland Stanford, Jr., university and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the southern colleges for women alone, as Randolph-Macon and Sweet Briar institute. In the second class may be counted, among others, the four great wo-men's colleges, Vassar, Smith, Wellesley and Bryn Mawr, Barnard college and Radcliffe college, Oberlin, Boston university, Cornell university and Syracuse, of which these last four are co-educational.

The proportion of women to men trus-ees varies on different boards. Mawr college, for example, adopts a liberal attitude toward the question. Of the fifteen members of its corporation one is a woman, and of the eighteen members constituting its board of directors four are women. Smith college has a board of trustees of fifteen members, of which three are women. Vassar has a board of thirty-one members, of which four are women. Poston university has four are women. Boston university has corporation of thirty-three members, of which two are women, and Cornell university has a board of trustees of fortytwo members, of which one is, at present, a woman. Except in a few in stances, the number of women varies from four to one without reference to the number of men. Radcliffe is erned by sixteen women out of thirtythree associates, as they are called, and the Western Reserve university, in lleveland, O., has an advisory council of women of twenty-five members, sup-plementing a board of trustees of only wenty-two representatives of the sterner college, or a donor, or an alumna. There is inherent logic in placing a woman, responsible for the conduct of a large institution, on its governing board. Miss Caroline Hazard, president of Wellesley college, is a trustee of that school exofficio, and, likewire. President Woolley is a trustee of Mount Holyoke college. President M. many who have been dignified by a posi-tion on the governing body of a college. These are often donors in the accepted sense, women of wealth. Often they are women of liberal service, who have spoken and worked and plead in behalf of the cause and object which they have held dear. Nearly all of the women's colleges are fortunate in the friendship of one such woman. Bryn Mawr has of one such woman. Bryn Mawr has Miss Garrett of Baltimore; Wellesley has Mrs. Henry F. Durant, Vassar has Mrs. Fred F. Thompson, the University of California has Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, Barnard has two ladies among its founders. All of these are trustees, respectively, of the institutions commanding their benefactions and their service. Again there are other women of influence, remarkable rather for attainment, honorableness and character, to whom colleges owe their very inception and existence. To such as these. Radcliffe and the Woman's College of Brown university are much indebted.

After the donor trustee comes the alumnae representative. Just as it is assumed that no college admitting women can consult the best interests of its women students without a woman on its governing body, so it is assumed that the interests of its alumnae body, ipse facto a college's best supporters, are secured by admitting their representatives into its council chamber. And, vice versa, their best and most enlightened services are secured. We find these alumnae trustees on the boards of our greatest colleges, at Vassar, Smith, Wellesley and Bryn Mawr; at Barnard, Radeliffe and Western Reserve; at Cornell and at

-040-Seven Miles of Suffragettes.

The largest demonstration ever made by either men or women to ask for the franchise, took place in London on June 21. Thirty special excursion trains were run to London from all parts of England, and the seven great processions and other features announced in our olumns last week came off as scheduled. The dispatches say:

max in the year's fight for woman suffrage. It is hardly too much to say that never was such a political demonstration seen in London before.

"Fully 500,000 people assembled in and around Hyde park as active or pas sive participants in the great meeting, while for two or three hours in the middle of the day the whole center of the city was in a ferment. Various processions appeared, each about a mile in length, and the routes through which these passed were densely crowded with spectators. "The suffragettes from the provinces were met at the various railroad staby delegations from the London organization, and these, forming them-selves into line, marched from different points of the compass to Hyde park. Arriving there, the leaders and speakers for the various sections literally had to fight their way to the platforms.

"These women's demonstrations are These women's demonstrations are far more attractive from a spectacular point of view than those held by men. Almost all the suffragettes wore white dresses with sashes of their colors, green, white and purple, inscribed 'Votes for women,' and the scene as viewed among the pletforms, was a fast iewed among the platforms was a feast of color.

There were 6000 police on hand to guard against trouble, but very few disturbances took place. The women were happy and good natured, and the attitude of the thousands of spectators is said in the dispatches to have been mainly one of "amused tolera-tion." If they were merely amused The woman trustee, as a class, comes generally under one of three heads; she is either the administrative officer of the college, or a donor, or an alumna. There

Sauce for the goose i no sauce for the gander.)

Thirty persons were treated for minor injuries caused by these disturbances, but no one was seriously hurt-a remarkable record for a demonstration including 500,000 people.

A tower had been put up in Hyde wrote park overlooking all of the twenty stands, and from the tower a bugle note quote to gave the signal for the speaking to begin at all of them, and for the resolution to be put to a vote demanding the immediate enfranchisement of women, and finally the signal for all the audience to cry in unison, "Votes for women!"—Woman's Journal.

Dollar Bills by Weight.

"Dollar bills are worth almost their weight in gold," a bank president said the other day to a depositor. "Yes, I suppose they come in handy for change and are easy to carry," the depositor replied absently.

"No, I was speaking literally." the bank president said. "We got into an argument in the bank here the other day as to how much a dollar bill weighed. each A $20 gold piece weighs 540 grains. We found that twenty-seven crisp, new $1 bills weigh the same as a $20 gold piece. We tested some bills that had been in use and found that it took but twentysix of them to balance the gold piece. I suppose that twenty-six used bills gather an accumulation of dirt in passing from hand to hand that weighs about what one new bill does."—Kansas City Star.

WOMEN AND COLLEGE EDUCATION.

By President Ellot of Harvard.

The main object of the higher education of women has not been kept sufficiently in view. Of course, there are other objects, plenty of themtraining for the professions; training for all the varieties of work that women are now engaging in; training for all that enjoyment and usefulness that come with knowledge of the fine arts, and with appreciation of the artistic spirit, and of what the artistic spirit can do for the activities of a nation. It is woman to whom falls in greater part the training of the population in the sense of beauty and in appreciation of the worth of beauty.

Who keeps the flowers blooming in the average house lot? Who fills the one southern window with plants in tin cans and broken pieces of crockery? Who engages the florist to keep the rich house filled with flowers through all the seasons? For whom are the beautiful objects in the rich home produced and set forth? Always by and for the woman. Who teaches the little children to enjoy the beauties of nature and of art? Always, or almost always, the woman.

I look forward, therefore, to the future of the higher education for women as a great influence in the perfecting of family life, of civic life, of household joy and good. -Harper's Bazar.

ADVANTAGES OF BEING RICH.

By Ada May Krecker. If riches have worth at all it is in relieving the mind of thoughts of money. It is in letting soul and sense freely flower unimprisoned by paltry pennies. The ignominy of poverty is the barbarous necessity of interpreting all one's experience in terms of dimes and dollars; of counting pennies over food, shelter, amusements, charities, everything; of choosing evil things for lack of pennies to get the good. It is vulgar thus to do violence to one's taste, to one's delicacy, elegance, ease. It is vulgar to solace us with soft sentiments instead of expressing ourselves with art and beauty. It is vulgar to starve our souls by denying them what they require, to chain them to earth when they are winged to fly to heaven. For piteous as are poverty's deformities of the body, her ravages on the life of the soul talized, the soul scarred. Millions of men and women are crippled, stultified, diseased of mind and morals by reason of their beggary. Less idle, as the world is now ordered, are the consolations of philosophy and religion. There is no lot, however base and paitry, but yields fantastically lavish compensation to an heroic heart. And there is no soul so mean but buds and flowers in some beauty peculiar to itself, be its environs as they will. When the civilized man so attunes his life to his surroundings, so harare sadder. By ugliness and squalor the heart is brumonizes organism to environment that each responds perfeetly to the other, his pitiful battles for existence will come to an end. Wealth will abound. Trivial toil will supply all the gentle luxuries he needs, and his superb mental and spiritual forces will be set at leisure to engage in those noble exercises which are their proper and worthy employment.

MISSION OF ART TO UPLIFT MAN.

By Jean Delville.

There perhaps never has been a period in the history of man or in the annals of art when nature was more beloved and more appreciatively studied than by the poets and men of science and artists of our own time. And unquestionably this has had a fruitful influence in many ways upon the modern mind and the sensibilities of mankind as a whole. But we are too greatly fascinated by the visible, too easily led away by their immediate and objective side of things, and thus lose sight of their inner meaning, mysterious and divine. The beautiful, the good and the true are harmonious in nature, and the glory of art consists in making this harmony apparent. Left to themselves, the uncultivated grasp only what strikes their grosser senses; they see nature under its ugliest and most illusory aspect. It is the mission of art to make them feel the indwelling beauty which, like truth, always has existed. Art is so profoundly related to humanity that before knowing what the art of to-morrow will be we must know what will be its science and philosophy. If art does not aim at spiritualization of thought one well may ask the reason for its existence. The average picture has no inspiration for us. Unimaginative landscape is one of the illegitimate forms of art, but the imaginative landscape which suggests the cosmic beauty with which the artist's soul has communed enters truly into the domain of art and gives us no mere physical impression, but a mental vision of nature.

THE THEATER AND THE PUBLIC.

By Otis Skinner.

As is the character of the community and the age, so is its theater. It cannot lead; it must follow, for it reflects life and tendencies -"the very age and body of the time." If the public selects the trashy play or exposition on which to lavish its favor, it is because that portion of the public possesses cheap and trasby minds and uncultured tastes.

Find the man who prefers the educated dogs, the burlesque Hebrew and the impossible Irishman of vaudeville to a well-sustained, well-acted play, and you have found one who cannot discriminate between the merits of Raphael's "Madonna" and the "Newlyweds" and "Happy Hooligan" of the Sunday supplement.

We cannot blame them, but we can educate them. Begin at the beginning-in the home, in the schoolroom. give the men and women of the future a start in the right direction-the result will follow.

INVESTIGATION OF CAUSES FOR AD-VANCE HAVE ALREADY BEEN PLANNED.

NO AUTHORITY TO SUSPEND.

Government's Agents Must Wait Until Tariffs Are Posted Before Taking Action.

INFORMATION IS NOW WANTED.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27 .-The interstate commerce commission today issued a statement to the effect that without waiting for the filing of formal complaints it will institute an investigation of its own for the purpose of determining whether or not advances in freight rates are justified.

Must Wait for Advance. "The commission," the statement says "has no authority to suspend a proposed advance in rates and can order reduction of the advanced rates only as the result of an investigation after the advanced rates have become effective, but the commission, while it could make no effective order prior to the actual advancing of the rates, has almost unlimited power of investigation, and it is understood that if the tariffs filed with the commission show general increase, the commission without waiting for the filing of formal complaints, will institute an investigation on its own motion for the purpose of determining whether or not the advance are justified. Such general invances are justified. Such general information would enable it to handle very pron ptly any complaint which may be filed against advanced rates. No Advices Received.

"The commission is having a close check of all advance in freight rates. The commission, of course, has no official information of the proposed advances until they set forth in tariffs, which are required by law to be filed with the commission thirty days in advance of their effective date. So far the principal advances disclosed in the tar-iffs filed are in the rates on packing house products, grain and grain products, from Ohio river crossings to southeastern territory, ranging from 2 to 4 cents per 100 pounds, according to the commodity; rates on sugar from Atlantic seaboards points and New Orleans to Chicago, Duluth, St. Paul and other northwestern points of 2 cents per 100 pounds; class rates from Mississippi river points and Kansas City to Texas common points, ranging from 10 cents on first class to 4 cents on the lowest

BALDWIN WILL TEST GOVERNMENT AIRSHIP AT FT. MEYER.

Aeronaut Declares He Has Introduced Contrivances Which Will Be Used in Other Countries.

C., July 27.-If fulfilling all of the requirements of the waters, the municipal bodies of more government in the trial flights of his than one port have already taken initial military dirigible at Fort Myer, he will steps to extend to officers and men a receive $6750, while Count Zeppelin will hearty and characteristically Japanese receive $500,000 from the government if | welcome. all the requirements are fulfilled by his airship. The latter machine is twentytimes as large as Capt. Baldwin's dirigible. Yet, Capt. Baldwin contends that in the aeronaut which he built for the army, he has incorporated new ideas which will be eventually adopted by other nations in the construction of dirigibles. These new features are embedied in the gas envelope of Capt. Baldwin's machine, which differs widely from the Republique, the French dirigible and the Nulli Secundus, the British military dirigible.

Baldwin Balloon Rigid.

By his own process of vulcanizing rubber, Capt. Baldwin claims to have se cured a material that will stand a strain of 95 pounds to the inch strip, and which is not affected by either heat or cold. In addition there is practically no elasticity to a gas bag made of this material, thus making a rigid balloon without the use of a frame. The rubber skin is lined on both sides with the best Japanese silk, adding considerably to the strength of the envelope.

Midway between the ends of the gas bag, which is slightly over 90 feet long, is a balloon 25 feet long, into which air can be pumped to counterbalance the alterations in bulk due to changes in atmospheric pressure or contraction of the gas due to heat or cold. A "window" permits the aeronaut to look within the gas envelope.

Trial Flight Soon.

The car or framework of Capt. Baldwin's airship is suspended from the envelope by means of a square mesh net-ting which is the creation of Capt. Bald-win. The Nulli Secundus, the British army dirigible, has a canvas casing to which the car is suspended, while Count Zeppelin has an alumnium envelope en tirely surrounding the numerous balloons which give buoyancy to his ship.
Although the capacity of Capt. Baldwin's gas bag is less than one-fourth that of the British dirigible, its lifting capacity is nearly as great.

"There are many things that would be on my dirigible which I have not been Grace Snell - Coffin - Walker-Coffin-Layman-Coffin-Love is now divorced for the sixth time.

BANK FAILURE COSTLY

Over Forty Failures Expected in Cologne as Result of One Serious Financial Trouble.

COLOGNE, July 27 .- W. Rauh, the largest cutlery manufacturer of Solingen, is insolvent, it was announced to day as the result of the failure of the Solingen Bank of Solingen, whose for mal bankruptcy was declared July 25. Rauh's assets are said to exceed his liabilities by $125,000.

Another large cutlery and exporting firm Von Zur Gathen, suspended on Saturday and it is reported in financial circles here that about forty further sus-pensions are expected at Solingen, these eing chiefly small firms.

The condition of the Solingen bank turns out to be much worse than was at first supposed, it having been ascertained that $1,000,000 of the outstanding claims cannot be collected, the debt ors having become involved themselves or else are insolvent.

Man Who Says He Is Second Cousin of Late Jay Gould in County Hospital.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 27.-Mel vin A. Gould, who says he is a second cousin of the late Jay Gould, is very ill at the county hospital. He is 70 years of age and suffering from lack of proper nourishment. The old man has been living in his own cottage and has been cared for by his foster daughter, whom he had befriended in former years. She is said to be no longer able to care for him and he must become a county charge. There is a mortgage on cottage and if he dies there will be hardly enough money to bury him. He was once wealthy. Most of his property was turned into cash in order that he might speculate. He lost thousands of dollars trying to develop a claim which was worthless.

BOATS EXPECTED IN OCTOBER.

TOKIO, July 28.-In anticipation of Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin succeeds in the visit of the American fleet to Japan

On July 7 the Yokohama municipality held a conference, at which the members discussed the proposed reception in honor of the fleet which is expected to arrive at Yokohama during October. N. Itsuhashi, the mayor, proposed that a garden party should be held on the cricket grounds to which should be invited about 2300 American officers, the American ambassador and his staff, and that about 20,000 yen should be spent by the city on this entertainment.

To Banquet at Hotel, The proposal was unanimously carried. A bill providing for the expenditure will shortly be submitted to the city assembly. Leading citizens will also give a banquet at a foreign hotel in honor of the American officers.

Will Give Jap Dinner.

In addition to the above entertainments the Yokohama chamber of commerce intends to give a Japanese dinner to the Λ merican visitors at a tea house. It is expected that the preparations for the occasion at the capital will be upon a proportionately elaborate scale, fol-lowing the precedent created on the oc-casion of the last visit of the British

C. Mays of Milwaukee Declares Suffix Is of Slavonian Origin and Applies to Many.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 28.-All citizens whose names end in "ski" or "sky" should be recorded as Poles, thinks W. T. Monroe, superintendent of the census bureau of the Chicago board of education. He imagined he discerned a startling lack of patriotism, therefore, when 10,000 men in the Sixteenth ward with "sky" or "ski" terminations to the names told his enumerators they were

Germans. Mr. Monroe received some enlightenment yesterday in a letter from C. Mays of Milwaukee, part of which follows: "Dear Sir: Where did you get the idea that those names ending in 'ski' or 'sky' are Polish? They are of Slavonian origin, but may be of any other race. Dombrowski was French secretary of war. Podbielski was German secretary of war. Rojestvenski was a Russian naval commander. Your own name is corrupted French, Monroi. "Besides, Poland has not existed offi-cially since 1770. 'Ski' no more shows a Polander than does 'son,' which is its exact equivalent, show a Swede. "Of the round 10,000,000 Polish-speaking people today there are 2,000,000 Germans, 5,000,000 Austrians, and 3,000,000 Russians. There exists no Poland any more than a Burgundy, a Normandy, a Northumbria, a Roman empire, a Byzantine empire.

Dining Late and Long.

In Sir Algernon Wests early days society often dined late and long, and the late Lord Clanwilliam once told him of one occasion when he dined at a friend's villa near Putney and the meal did not begin until 8 o'clock. When they at last rose from the table and went to their rooms, Lord Clanwilliam flung open his window and saw the haymakers coming into the field. "I wonder," he thought, "what hour they begin work," and on consulting his watch he found it was 8:30. The haymakers were returning to work from their breakfast.—Tit-

Fine Men for a Jury.

The difficulty of impaneling a jury in the early courts of Wisconsin may be seen from a story related by former Senator Spooner of that state. "Judge Irvin was on the bench, and a murder trial was pending. G. T. Long, familiarly known as 'Lucy' Long, was undersheriff. There was difficulty in get-ting a jury that knew nothing about the facts of the case. The regular panel had been exhausted and a special venire had been issued and was finally returned.

about this case?"

Fishing on Horseback.

On the California coast they fish on horseback. After a big blow enormous numbers of squid are sometimes seen washing about among the pounding breakers. When such news comes to the town every man or boy who can beg or borrow a horse goes galloping down to the beach armed with a 6-foot bamboo, at the end of which is a strong steel hook. They dash into the surf, and, driving the sharp steel into the squirm-ing jellylike creatures, haul them ashore by one and leave them lying high and dry upon the beach, pumping ink and water, and with their long sucker-rimmed arms coiling about like snakes. Squid sell for a couple of shillings apiece. Their flesh is good for bait; the pen, a long opal-tinted bone which extends from the tip of the tail to the neck, forms the cuttlefish bone of commerce, and the eyes, which when dried look like large dull pearls, find a ready sale among the curio dealers.—Fry's Magazine.

GUFFEY A FRIEND OF OPPORTUNITY

PENNSYLVANIAN, WHOM BRYAN DOWNED, A MAN OF RARE CAPABILITIES.

ON THE JUMP ALL THE TIME.

Never Lets a Chance Slip by That Will Redound to Fame or Fortune of Col. Guffey.

A GAME FIGHTER AND A STICKER.

If Col. James McClurg Guffey-they call him "colonel" in Pennsylvania, although his only battle record has been political-of Pittsburg, Allegheny county, had lived in the good old days of Lake City, Minn., says: "I was so bad shivering spears, it is dollars to doughwith kidney trouble nuts, his friends insist, that he would that I could not have earned the unqualified approval straighten up after of Sir Thomas Malory, one of the leadstooping without ing war correspondents of the time, sharp pains shooting says Thomas M. Jones in the New York through my back. I Post. Guffey would have been no clumsy swashbuckler. He would have been as handy with a suave "i' faith, gentil sir." or the psychologically timed "Gramercy" as with his sword. But would have been "there with goods when the scrap was on," to bor-row a favorite expression of the Sharkey Athletic club.

Out at Denver recently, the henchmen of William Jennings Bryan boasted, be fere the Democratic convention was epened, that they would "put the Indian sign on Jim Guffey." Ail of which they did. Guffey went back to Pittsourg thrown out of his place on the national committee, by order of the Nebraskan cene date, who has long been sharpening his knife against the day when t cuid be time to make a telling slas! at the man who was once his backer. And Guffey's niche has been filled by James Kerr—also a Pennsylvania "colo-nel"—once the petroleum producer's friend and associate in state strife, but his implacable enemy at Denver.

An Old Time Democrat.

Guffey is a Pennsylvania product. He was born on a farm in the heart of the soft coal district of Westmoreland county, once the banner Democratic county of western Pennsylvania—when Guffey, once the banner Democratic county as a young man, and his like ran it and believed in the principles of Andrew Jackson, including that cardinal one of seeing no good at any time in any Re

After Col. Guffey moved out of the county, the wicked Republicans took possession of it, and ever since have been having things pretty much their own He went south to take a position under the superintendent of the Louis-ville & Nashville Railroad company, getting a practical business training which developed his shrewdness and keen eye for a bargain. He has been making good bargains ever since.

Opportunities in Oil.

He was quick to see opportunities ofered to a young man in the oil regions. He located at St. Petersburg, Clarion county, in 1872, and began to sell oil well machinery as an agent for a manufacturing firm, which brought him into facturing firm, which brought him had close relations with oil men and their operations in that new territory. It was one of the delegates-at-large to the Denders had been shaded as one of the delegates-at-large to the Denders him declaration was

Early in Panhandle.

When oil was discovered in Texas, Col. Guffey was on hand, shaking hands with old Opportunity, and when the rampageous territory of Oklahoma saw the The hawker reached in his sack and drill drop through to the third sand and oil gush forth, who but Guffey was to the front, helping the wild and woolly ones to develop-and always getting his share? In fact, wherever in and the motor car dealer cordially shook this country oil has been discovered, hands—but no sale was made.—New Orthere will be found traces of Col. Jim as its handmaiden, ready to help along in the good work.

But it is not entirely in oil and gas that Guffey has been successful. He owns vast tracts of soft coal lands in his native county of Westmoreland, in West Virginia, and other states, and home in the East Liberty district, dictating the moves on the battered Democratic chessboard of the Keystone state. There need be no apprehension that the wolf will ever claw at the door-sill of the Guffey mansion.

His Neighbors Like Him.

Among his neighbors and those who know him best, he is regarded as a good citizen, frank, honest, and manly, and a generous giver to charity, or any cause for the common good. But he doesn't stand on the street corner and display his wares-nobody knows what gives; but every one knows that he

Such are the "surface indications" of the man whom William Jennings Bryan had indicted at the Denver convention. To tell the truth, Col. Guffey has not made much of a success as a political leader. He began politics early, and was when young the friend of the late William A. Wallace, one of the greatest leaders of the Democratic party Pennsylvania ever knew. Guffey was sub-lieutenant to Wallace, and assisted him when he was elected United States senter a good many years are senator a good many years ago.

He followed the fortunes of Wallace along with James Kerr of Clearfield, an able and brainy man, and Guffey's prinable and brainy man, and Guffey's principal and most courageous opponent at the Denver convention. When Wallace and the late Samuel J. Randall fought for the leadership, Guffey remained with Wallace, and when the old chief retired it was Guffey and Kerr who warred, side by side, in factional contests. In public life Col. Guffey was not prominent until the late Gov. Pattison placed him on the Pennsylvania commission to him on the Pennsylvania commission to the Chicago exposition, where he rendered splendid service in securing coal and oil exhibits, decidedly the finest at that wonderful show.

On National Committee.

This brought him into prominence, and once more he decided to enter politics. It was not until 1896, however, that he saw the chance. William F. Harrity, who had been Grover Cleveland's political manager in the campaign of 1892 was disgusted with the running of the once more he decided to enter politics. It was not until 1896, however, that he saw the chance. William F. Harrity, convention that nominated Bryan for President; could see nothing in Bryan as a presidential possibility, with his radical free silver ideas, and declined to have anything to do with the canvass. Mr. Harrity said he was out of politics. He had burned his candie at both ends, helping friends into office, and now he proposed to "cut it out" and build u a fortune. En passant, he has b ilt up that fortune.

It was at this juncture that Guffey saw old Opportunity coming down the to meet him with glad acclaim and gen-erous welcome. Forming a coalition with Mr. Kerr, the Pittsburg colonel and his friends took possession of the Demo-cratic state convention at Reading, and then and there, incontinently dispossessed Mr. Harrity of his position as a member of the Democratic national committee from Pennsylvania. They took from Harrity his three-eyed peacock feather to bestow it upon Col. Guffey. That was Guffey's re-entry into politics.

Pattison's Last Campaign. In 1902 Guffey yielded to the wishes his friends and supported ex-Gov. Pat-tison for the gubernatorial nomination, finally succeeding in naming him. Patti-son twice before had been elected governor of Pennsylvania by the younger element of the party, and it was thought that his was a name to conjure with for a third time. He was a good clean man, his public administrations had been reputable, and Guffey thought that he surely was going to elect him. He threw into the Pattison campaign all of his personal influence and made large contributions to the campaign find, but it ributions to the campaign fund, but it

Quay had nominated that queer bundle eccentricities, his cousin, Samuel W Pennypacker, taking him from the common pleas court bench in Philadelphiaa staid, respectable candidate, against whom nothing could be said except that he was Quay's candidate. Pattison was defeated, much to Guffey's disgust, and died soon afterward.

Fights Republican.

In the gubernatorial contest of 1906, Guffey was literally forced to take up as the Democratic candidate Lewis Emery, Jr., who had been nominated by the Lincoln Republican party at a meet-ing in Philadelphia. Guffey kicked against the pricks; he warned his lieuagainst the pricks; he warned his hea-tenants that the party would never "stand for" a man who had been a Re-publican all his life, and that they were inviting sure defeat. The current against a straight-out Democrat, however, was too strong. Among those who insisted on the endorsement of Emery was Gor don and Kerr, not in accord with Guffey, James K. P. Hall, state chairman, and the state committee treasurer, B. F. Meyers of Harrisburg, who had all along fought under the Guffey banner, and who thought the time was ripe for re-form, inasmuch as there had come, during the Pennypacker administration, ex posure by a Democratic state treasurer William H. Berry, of the notorious stealings in connection with the building of the new capitol. It was with many misgivings that Guffey finally yielded. Emery was placed on the ticket only to go down to defeat before the present governor, Edwin S. Stuart, who had promised in the campaign to see that the capitol grafters were punished and had a personality that made him many votes.

Fatal Bryan Split.

Berry's revelations of how the state had been looted in the matter of building and furnishing the state capitol caused the greatest sensation the state had ever seen. They made the entire country gasp over a colossal theft. Berry was in line for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1910, almost as certain to get it as anything is certain operations in that new territory. It was not long before he was leasing lands, securing interests in promising farms, drilling wells, and branching forth as an oil producer of the first rank.

He soon became owner of oil lands, pipe lines, and all the accessories thereunto appertaining, so that he was regarded as having "arrived"—incidentally as having arrived with both feet—which was "going some" for a newcomer in the oil fields. To use the words of a friend, "He invested in pipe lines and ry, however, was insistent, and, when friends, including Berry, know it. Berry, however, was insistent, and, when the convention elected delegates-at-large for Denver, Berry's name was not on the ticket. He had gone down to de-

Guffey had his way in this, as in every other thing, and went to Denver, believing that he could not fail. But it seems that Bryan is more potent than Guffey, especially when he has the "kindly chorus" of a big convention back of him. So Guffey is "down." But let no one profess to believe that he is "out." He may be defeated for the moment, but those who know him best know, too, that his sword will be put out in the next fight, well sharpened at that. Again he will be on the qui vive for Old Mr. Opportunity's coming down the pike.

Last summer the agent of the South Texas Truck Growers' association visited the Bermuda islands and the Canary islands and secured a big consignment of seed. This seed has produced this year's onion crop in Texas of a greater size and of a fine quality. Whereas it was formerly estimated that the Bermuda growers shipped 1,000,000 crates of onions to this country annual ly, it is now estimated that their ship ments this year amounted to about 380,

Some 750 carloads of onions have been shipped out of southwest Texas already, and the movement is not yet over. It is estimated that over 1000 carloads will be shipped. These have brought prices at first as high as $600 and $700 a carload before the competition of other onions came in, but now are bringing from $400 to $500 a carload. The gross returns of the onion crop in this part of Texas will be over a million dollars this year. This does not include the amoun sold and consumed at home.

Homestead. First accounts of the recent settlement made by Dr. V. H. Wurdemann of financial matters growing out of the divorce suit were erroneous in several particulars. By the settlement, as effected Thursday, Dr. Wurdemann turns over to his first wife property said to be worth $21,-000, but mortgaged in the sum of $10,-000, to be held by her as guardian for the two children of their marriage, Converse and Helen L. Wurdemann.

The property thus transferred to Mrs. Wurdemann consists of the Wurdemann homestead at 1807 Grand avenue, two lots at Thirty-seventh street and Grand avenue, two lots on the Hopkins road, $800 in cash, a sailboat, rifle and bicycle $800 in cash, a sailboat, rifle and bicycle. In addition to this there is transferred $30,000 in life insurance, in which Mrs. Wurdemann is beneficiary in the sum of $25,000, which has still several years to run, and upon which Mrs. Wurdemann must keep up the premiums, with the alternative of letting the insurance lapse. Mrs. Wurdemann has agreed to pay for a $600 piano which was bought before the separation, her son's college expenses for the last year, and other expenses for the last year, and other

The settlement relieves Dr. Wurdemann from paying $75 a month for the support of his daughter, and from the support of his son. When Mrs. Wurdemann was given a divorce from Dr Wurdemann in 1906 the custody of the son was given to him. Upon Mrs. Wurdemann's recent showing that the son was not properly cared for by his father, and prefered to be with his mother, Judge Halsey transferred custody to the

-Owe Recovery to Cuticura. "In 1884 my grandson, a babe, had an attack of eczema, and after trying the doctors to the extent of heavy bills and an increase of the disease and suffering, I recommended Cuticura and in a few weeks the child was well. He is to-day a strong man and absolutely free from the disease. A few years ago I contracted eczema and became an intense sufferer. A whole winter passed without once having on shoes, nearly from the knees to the foes being covered with virulent sores. I tried many doctors to no purpose. Then I procured the Cuticura Remedies and found immediate improvement and final cure. M. W. LaRue, 845 Seventh St., Louisville, Ky., Apr. 23 and May 14, '07."

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman.

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown. N. J., writes: "I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

WASHINGTON LETTER

[Special Correspondence.] With impressive ceremonies, attended by the clergy of the Episcopal church of the diocese and a vast crowd of laymen, the ceremony of breaking the ground for the foundation of Bethlehem chapel of the Holy Nativity of Washington cathedral recently took place on the beautiful site of the proposed edifice.

Not since the cornerstone of the cathedral was formally laid by the late Bishop Satterlee, which was attended by President Roosevelt and clergymen from all over the United States, has a more picturesque religious service been seen in this city.

The chapel is dedicated to the memory of Right Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee, first bishop of Washington.

Part of Great Cathedral. The Bethlehem chapel will be an integral and important part of the cathedral. It will be a portion of the crypt directly under the altar of the cathedral and is the foundation of the sanctuary. As such it is properly the first part of the cathedral to be built.

The foundation stone laid by Bishop Satterlee on the feasts of St. Michael and All Angels in 1907 is the first stone of the wall which will form the rear wall of the Bethlehem chapel and the substructure of the cathedral altar. The chapel will be of Norman architecture. It is a small part of the entire cathedral, but will cost $50,000.

A Mighty Edifice. When the last stone shall have been laid the national cathedral will compare well in size and magnificence with the great European cathedrals. The interior will be 450 feet in length, 93 feet in height and 132 feet in breadth. Estimating one person to occupy an area of 19.7 inches square, St. Peter's at Rome would hold 54,000 persons, Milan cathedral 37,000, St. Paul's at London 25,000, Notre Dame at Paris from Escanaba cheered on Rapid River. 21,000 and Washington cathedral 27,-

Capitol Park Extension.

The project for a magnificent extension of the capitol grounds to the north and northeast from the present limits so as to take in about thirtyeight acres of additional territory has received a long lift at this session toward ultimate realization. It is firmly believed by the men who have long been working to obtain this extension that in a few years at most it will be made possible to carry out the project. One feature of the development scheme, as is well known, is to build county is about to materialize, first in a memorial to Lincoln which shall be the west side districts and later on one of the world's greatest monuments,
