no year has seen such devastation of timber as 1908. The smoke and fog which have covered the northwest states and impeded navigation on the lake have been growing heavier from day to day. Other sections of the country have suffered heavily, from New England to the Pacific coast. The government has maintained at a total cost of $30,000, fire patrol in a quarter of a million square miles of national forest. and prevented serious loss. This example has been followed by many private individuals. In this peninsula the Cleveland-Cliffs Co. has suffered little. Its land-lookers have been almost constantly in the woods and they have given the farmers and others much valuable advice as to the best means of fighting the fires. Their presence in the woods has been effective in more ways than one. They aroused the interest of the farmers and others who would perhaps have been indifferent if they were not warned to be on the alert.

FOREST PROTECTION

Since the great forest fires which preceded the Chicago conflagration of 1871,

Most of the large land and timber owners of the upper peninsula have given the forest fire question attention the past three or four weeks, and it is largely through the efforts of mined to leave it all to the courts. The Prime Minister of Great Britain

This is true and false. It is correct in the sense that Mr. Asquith used the He meant that the foreign trade of the United States, although vast by comparison with that of almost all other nations and falling below none save Great Britain and Germany, is small in comparison with the enormous domestic traffic of the American Republic. No other country can compare with the American Republic in its home trade or in the total volume of its domestic and foreign commerce. That fact is what makes the American Protective Tariff system entirely different in its effects from a like check upon the foreign trade of a small country with scanty natural resources. Here it is a stimulus, whereas in some countries it might have a fettering and obstructive effect upon commercial and industrial development. The American by eminently practical men, and it will be maintained, revised and improved in Protection.—Cleveland "Leader."

W. R. Burns, of Munising, was nominated by the Schoolcraft representative district, defeating Edward McNamara of Mackinac, whose success had been predicted.

The Democrats of Delta county Tuesday night nominated a full ticket, with the exception of prosecuting attorney. Most of the precincts were represented. Charles Ford was put up for sheriff, defeating George McCarthy, and George Stoik over J. S. Doherty for county clerk. The other candidates are; judge of probate, John P. McColl, treasurer, John Roddy; register, Charles Peterson; representative, Victor LaPorte.

Campaign Funds. "We welcome Mr. Taft to this as ranced ground," said Mr. Bryan in one of his numerous interviews since the Denver convention. The ground refersed to is Mr. Taft's statement that ne eampaign contributions would be reseived from corporations. Mr. Beyon intended to convey the impression that Mr. Taft had come to that determinetion after the Denver convention. In that the Democratic 'postess one' is not honest. Mr. Taft is a law abiding ettizen. Such contributions are unia w ful, made so by a law passed by a Republican congress at the instance of a Republican administration of which Judge Tart was a part six menths before the Denver convention. The fact that Andrew Carnegie served in the military telegraph service in the civil war was duly certified in official form by General Oliver, acting secretary of war, in accordance with the special act of congress authorizing the issue of such certificates. The records of the department show that shortly after the outbreak of the civil war Thomas A. Scott, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, who was then assistant secretary of war, summoned his assistant, Mr. Carnegie, to Washington for the purpose of establishing a military telegraph system.

Gore Attends Convention.

Thomas P. Gore, the blind United States senator from Oklahoma, occupied a seat on the platform when the convention was called to order more than an hour after the appointed time. The delay in taking up the work of the day was due to the fact that the committee on resolutions was not ready to report ere was promise that the McCarren Murphy conflict would not show in the convention proceedings, Senator McCarren having agreed, according to report, not to introduce a resolution, as threat-ened yesterday that he would do, for the election of a new state committee. chairman of the credentials committee reported that there were no contests to be submitted to the convention.

Parker Scores Sherman.

Judge Alton B. Parker, permanent chairman, was introduced to the convention amid enthusiastic cheering. Not the least striking feature of Judge Parker' address was a declaration that James D Sherman, the companion of Mr. Taft on the Republican ticket, invaded Wall street for political contributions in 1906, when Mr. Sherman was chairman of the congressional committee.

"Evidence is not wanted of the set purpose of the leaders of that (the Republican) party," he said, "to continue their plan of securing funds from those who are interested either in legislation or in non-enforcement of law. Smarting under the exposure of the insurance in vestigations of 1905, and subsequent dis closures not under oath, its congressional committee in 1906 called for dollar contributions from individuals to aid in the election of Republican members of The President himself subscribed a dollar, and a few others whose names were duly advertised, and then the publication of contributions ceased and the chairman of the congressiona committee, now the Republican candidate for vice president, went down as had his predecessors of old into Wall street to get the money with which to influence the doubtful district.

Platform Is Adopted.

The platform adopted gives the support of New York Democracy to the nationa ticket: gives praise to Candidates Bryan and Kern; charges the state Republican administraton with failure to reform politics and extravagance in office, and favors election of United States sena tors by the people.

PRINCE DESERTS WIFE.

Romance Featured by Chicago Marriage Ends in Flight of Husband from American Girl.

PARIS, Sept. 16.-Prince Robert de Broglie, whose matrimonial tribulations in 1906 and 1907 were ventilated in France and the United States, has abandoned his wife and child, and his lawyer has announced the intention of the prince to bring an action for divorce on the ground of unfaithfulness.

The Princess de Broglie is an American woman. Her majden name was Estelle Alexander, and she lived in San Francisco. She was the divorced wife of Sidney B. Beit when she married the prince in Chicago in 1906. The prince's father was opposed to the union and he succeeded in having the Chicago marriage declared void by a French court. Following this action the prince remarried Miss Alexander under the French law.

When the princess was seen at her home today she was utterly indignant at what she characterized as the "cruei and cowardly act" of her husband. She said that the charge against her was baseless and that it had been simply trumped up by the prince, who doubt-less wanted to rid himself of his American wife for the purpose of marrying another woman or to effect a reconcilia-

HARRIMANINNEWYORK

Railroad Magnate Believes People in West Are Becoming Less Hostile to Big Companies.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 .- E. H. Harriman returned to this city yesterday after an absence of seven weeks, the greater part of which time he devoted to an inspection of the Union Pacific system and the Southern Pacific railway. Mr. Harriman denied that he contemplated any immediate financing for Southern Pacific or Union Pacific. He ridiculed the rumors of any possible control of the St. Louis and San Francisco system, which has been a matter of gossip in financial circles recently.

"Why have the stocks of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific been so exceedingly strong recently?" was asked.
"Because they were too weak before," was Mr. Harriman's quick reply.

The rail magnate declared that he fa-vored an increase in freight rates and that the general public is becoming less hostile to railroads, especially in the west. Though declining to discuss the political situation, Mr. Harriman assailed the interstate commerce laws, denouncing them as a menace to railway development. He said there is as much trade with the Orient now as before the recent change, but that there is more competition on the water now.

It has been a common practice here at headquarters for aspiring clerks to attend night colleges, and, after securing diplomas, practice professions after office These so-called "sundown" doc tors, dentists, lawyers, architects, etc. were able materially to increase their incomes. Night Sweats & Cough.

E. W. Walton, Condr. S. P. Ry., 717 Van Ness St., San Antonio, Tex., writes: "During the summer and fall of 1902, my annoyance from catarrh reached that stage where it was actual misery and developed alarming symptoms, such as a very deep-seated cough, night sweats, and pains in the head and chest. I experimented with several socalled remedies before I finally decided to take a thorough course of Peruna.

"Two of my friends had gone so far as to inform me that the thing for me to do was to resign my position and seek ahigher, more congenial climate. Everyone thought I had consumption and I was not expected to live very long.

"Having procured some Peruna, I decided to give it a thorough test and applied myself assiduously to the task of taking it, as per instructions, in the meantime. "The effects were soon apparent, all alarming symptoms disappeared and my general health became fully as good as it had ever been in my life. "I have resorted to the use of Peruna the registration and drawing to be held in October, 1908. Persons who desire to register for this drawing should go to CHAMBERLAIN or PRESHO, South Dakota, via Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, between October 5 and October 17 and there sign and swear to an applica-tion for registration which will be fur-

These lands embrace 838,000 acres, part of which have been allotted to Indians, and are located on the south side of the State of South Dakota, and adjoin the lands in Gregory County which were opened in 1904. They are desirable for farming and stock-raising purposes. Similar lands in adjoining counties are selling for $35 to $40 an acre.

Desert Cures for Snake Bites.

The rattlesnake has a part all his own in the desert practice of healing. Rattlesnake oil cures rheumatism and the stiffened joints a man gets working down in a wet mine; the oil rubbed in the ears cures deafness, and a rattlesnake skin, tanned soft and supple as chamois and worn around the waist, will keep a man well on the hardest trip—but the dust from the rattles will cause blindness which nothing will cure.

There is a plant which the rattlesnake fears-he will not crawl across it, and if it is dropped on him he uncoils and crawls away. Perhaps this is only a bit of myth, but every desert man knows the golondrina—the creeping plant with tiny, round, gray green leaves and mi-nute white blossoms with a brown cen-

GOV. FORT GETS BOMB PACKAGE THROUGH MAILS

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO ASSASSI-NATE NEW JERSEY EXECU-TIVE, BUT IS BLOCKED.

INSPECTOR OPENS IN FIRST.

Box Contained Bullets and Matches and Would Have Meant Instant Death if Opened Quickly.

SENDER HAS SENSE OF HUMOR.

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept 12 .- An attempt to assassinate Gov. Fort of New Jersey has been thwarted by the watchfulness of postoffice employes, who discovered in the mails an infernal machine addressed to the governor. The package was a cleverly contrived combination of powder, bullets and matches, which had been so arranged that had the governor opened it in the ordinary way, there is little doubt it would have killed him.

That the death dealing package was intercepted before it had reached its destination was due to the vigilance of the postal officials who have scanned the governor's mail with unusual care since the executive's recent crusade against violation of the law at Atlantic City. .

The attitude taken by the governor when he directed that the excise and other similar laws at the great seaside resort be strictly enforced and even threatened to order out the militia if necessary to that end, aroused great resentment in some quarters. It was to guard the governor as much as possible from any annoyance arising from that affair that the unusual watch was put on his mail.

Package Short of Stamps.

Several days ago when a package of somewhat unusual shape was found t bear insufficient postage, it was taken by a clerk to one of the postal inspec tors. The inspector became more im pressed by the shape and condition of the package than by the shortage of stamps, and at once wrote the governo informing him that a package of sus picious appearance addressed to him was being held at the office. The inspec tor asked for permission to open it with out forwarding it to its destination. The permission was given at once.

Exercising the greatest care, the in spector and his assistants removed the wrappings from the package to find tha their worst fears' were confirmed. I was a real infernal machine, crude bu so cleverly constructed that it was ca pable of doing tremendous damage. I contained a quantity of powder and bullets with matches so arranged that hurried opening of the package would have set off the powder and hurled the bullets in all directions.

Sender Is a Wit

That the sender of the machine had a grim sense of humor became apparent from an examination of the content. of the package. On a bit of paper he had written a message to the governor which read: "Please notify us promptly of any change in your postoffice ad dress." Another read: "You will know me better after we are acquainted.'

Another line by which it is believed the sender sought to give the impression that the machine was sent by a foe of constitutional government instead of personal enemy of the governor, read: "And the gun against this rotten government.

Gov. Fort said today that he did not care to discuss the matter in any way. "It speaks for itself," was the only comment he would make when he was questioned about his narrow escape.

Wrapper Sent to Governor. Pieces of the wrapper from the pack-

Capital Is Inadequate.

The troubles of the company as set forth in the petition are due in a great measure to an inadequacy of capital, stock exchange. Since last Friday the preferred stock dropped from $70 to $43 a share and was at the latter figure yesterday morning.

The first break in the prices of the company's stocks was indicated in its annual statement issued September 1, which indicated the company's net profits to be $560,000 for the fiscal year ending April 1 and a balance of only $284,000 after charges for repairs and depreciation in its cold storage plants throughout the country. Two years ago the balance was $492,138.

REPLIES TO PRESIDENT.

Judge Smith, in Open Letter, Asks if Administration Will Oppose Lenroot.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 11.-[Special.]-In an open letter to President Roosevelt, Judge Charles Smith of this city, who a short time ago was placed in the famous Ananias club by the President, pointedly asks whether the influence of the administration will be used to defeat Candidate Lenroot in the Eleventh district. Judge Smith does not seem to take his membership in the club seriously, but he evidently fears that the publication of the facts as brought to light in President Roosevelt's correspondence may hurt the candidacy of Mr. Lenroot. His letter, omitting the part referring to the published accounts of his country of his counts of his election to the Ananias club, is as follows:

To the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt:
I find the following in the columns of this paper of last evening's issue. (Then quoting from the story to the effect that Judge Smith has been elected a member of the The fact that the President seems not dis inclined to correspondence makes it less embarrassing to me than it otherwise would be to break in on the slience of Sagamore Hill.

The question of the club but little concerns me or my neighbors, but shall, nevertheless, in its due order, have the ample attention that the dignity of those other than myself immediately concerned, would seem to demand. As in part preliminary and in part germane to that question, however, I beg solemnly to ask whether or not the President, in fact, feels called upon to violate his "invariable rule, never departed from," to interpose the power of a great name to crush Mr. Lenroot. Thousands of earnest men in Wisconsin, men that have fought for reform alongside this young man, men that know him to be true as steel and sound to the core, await the answer with keenest interest. Can it be that every time a brave man steps out in front of the line and challenges the power of Speaker Cannon, prince of defiant despots, challenges the power of the Aldrichs in the Senate, that castle of the oppressive and corrupt forces against which a nation is in arms, a heavy hand openly or covertly is to be laid upon him and he be led to the rear?

BRYAN REPLIES TO TAFT EULOGY BY ROOSEVELT

SAYS IT IS VALUELESS UNLESS PRESIDENT AGREES TO REMAIN IN WASHINGTON.

WANTS NOMINEE TO SPEAK.

Declares Few Sentences from Republican Candidate Are Worth More Than Commendatory Letter.

LABOR AND ANTI-TRUST LAWS.

> In these words, William J. Bryan summed up his opinion of the letter of President Roosevelt commendatory of Mr. Taft, soon after the Democratic candidate arrived in this city.

"It was expected, of course," said Mr. Bryan, "that President Roosevelt would support Mr. Taft. He could hardly do less in view of that fact that he select-Chalmers, who took charge of the com- ed him as the administration candidate and supported him with all the influence that the administration could bring to bear. The President's letter, however, may be objected to as irrelevant, immaterial and not the best evidence. If Mr. Taft were dead, it would be interesting to know from Mr. Roosevelt what he knew of Mr. Taft's opinions and work, but as Mr. Taft is alive and able to speak for himself it is hardly necessary for Mr. Roosevelt to tell us what Mr. Taft will do.

"Taft Amended Platform."

"Mr. Taft is running upon a platform which was so unsatisfactory that he had to amend it in several important particulars, and yet even as amended it gives the public no definite idea as to what Mr. Taft stands for.

"Mr. Taft also has made some speeches and promises to make some more. The ones he has already made have not thrown any light upon the political situation but it is to be hoped that he will yet conclude to define his position with sufficient clearness to enable the public to know what he stands for. It is not sufficient for the President to say that Mr. Taft is a friend of labor.

Anti-Trust Law and Labor.

"That is a subject upon which the laboring man is entitled to an opinion and Mr. Taft's friendship is to be determined not by the President's endorsement but by the measures which Mr. Taft advocates. Mr. Taft believes that coupled with the financial depression of the labor organization should come unhave been reflected in der the operation of the anti-trust law, the sales of Booth stock on the Chicago thus dealing with the men who belong to the labor organization as if they were merchandise, for the anti-trust law deals with the monopoly of the products of

"Mr. Taft is opposed to trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt, thus denying to the laboring man a safeguard which is guaranteed to every man tried in a criminal court. Mr. Taft does not agree with the laboring man in regard to the use of the injunction in labor disputes. No words of praise from the President can change Mr. Taft's attitude on this question, or make the attitude more acceptable to the wage earners.

Roosevelt Is Criticised.

"Mr. Taft's position on the trust question is not changed by the President's endorsement. The President himself has not succeeded in putting any trust magnates in the penitentiary and only a few of the trusts have been disturbed. If Mr. Taft is no more successful than the President in his attack on the trusts, he will not satisfy the expectations of the public. There are more trusts in the country today than there were when Roosevelt was inaugurated and Mr. Taft favors a weakening rather than a strengthening of the anti-trust law, for he has advocated an amendment that will limit the operation of the law to unreasonable restraint of trade.

"On the tariff question Mr. Taft has failed to express himself with clearness. The Republican platform does not use the word 'reduction.' It only promises revision, and Mr. Taft has construed that to mean that some schedules will be lowered and some raised, but there is no intimation that the average will be lower or higher than it is now.

"Predent Must Remain."

"And so in regard to all the questions which are at issue. Mr. Taft must make his position known. He cannot rely upon the President's endorsement. If Mr. Taft had a reform record of his own he would not need to be endorsed the President and the President's endorsement is of no value unless the President will agree to stay in Washington and see that Mr. Taft makes Springless baby carriages and go-carts have at last come under the ban of the board of health of Harrison, N. This resolution was offered by Dr. Henry Allers. There is considerable speculation in Harrison concerning the methods the board will

BELIEVER IN UNIONS,

Declares Democracy Is No Friend of Labor When Southern States Fail to Benefit Workingmen.

CITES OLD INJUNCTION CASES

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 11.-Speaker Joseph G. Cannon opening his campaign for re-election to Congress from the Eighteenth district of Illinois, last night delivered a speech dealing with the leading issues of the national campaign, devoting considerable attention to William J. Bryan and to Samuel Gompers. The speech in part took the form of a reply to Mr. Gompers' attack on Speaker Can-non, made in a speech in Danville on Labor day. In leading up to a reply to Mr. Gompers, Mr. Cannon said that there were two paramount issues in this campaign. One was the tariff, and the other the in-tegrity and independence of the judiciary. Mr. Cannon said that the depres-sion of last October did not affect the farmers, who constitute one-third of the population, and that the people in the aggregate were never in so good a condi-tion to withstand a depression and that the country was fast recovering from

Mr. Cannon then took up the subject

Mr. Cannon then took up the subject of injunctions and said:

Mr. Gon.pers complains that the supreme court of the United States has placed a new interpretation on the Sherman antitrust law in the decision of the Danbury hatters' case. Mr. Gompers is mistaken. Like other special pleaders, he puts into that decision things that were not written, or decided or considered. The hatters' case was a complaint against an interstate boycott. The American Federation of Labor had ordered a boycott throughout the United States against the Danbury hat manufacturers because of a refusal to unionize their shops. The complaint was against the boycott as a restraint of interstate commerce and in defiance of the Sherman law. The case was decided on that ground and the opinion of the supreme court sustained the decision of the lower court on that ground.

Mr. Gompers says that this decision for the first time brings the labor unions under the restrictions of the Sherman law. He is mistaken. The United States courts, district and circuit, have in numerous cases held that the law applied to labor organizations. In the opinion of the supreme court, Chief Justice Fuller, a Democrat, cited several of these decisions.

Old Decision Cited. of injunctions and said:

Old Decision Cited.

Mr. Cannon referred to the case in which the United States circuit court of Louisiana in March, 1893, issued an unction against striking miners of the Workingmen's Amalgamated Council of Louisiana, and held that the Sherman law applied to combinations of workers as well as to combinations of capital.

That decision was rendered fifteen years ago, before the Pullman strike in Chicago, and it has been the interpretation of the law ever since. Mr. Bryan was in Congress for two years after that decision, and although the Democrats controlled the government we fail to find anything in the records to show that he or his party tried o amend the Sherman law or make an protest against the action of the court.

federal courts have not laid any in decisions against agreement between employers and employes, or against peaceemployers and employes, or against peaceabel strikes to procure an increase in wages. I do not believe that the supreme court ever will decide against such agreements and strikes. When it does I shall go hot-foot to aid in changing the law, for their condition. I have never opposed such combination and organization.

I have personally known the men who have headed the labor organizations for many years past—Arthur Sargent, Clark and others—and on all real effective labor legislation I have never known politics to have any effect. It is only in extreme measures that the demagogue has come to the front to pose as a friend of labor when he could do so without responsibility for his action. I have no sympathy with such efforts, and I do not believe that the men who compose the great army of union labor who compose the great army of union laborare to be fooled by any such efforts. Gompers Cannot Order. On Labor day Mr. Gomeprs addressed he citizens of Danville. I am informed the citizens of Danville. I am informed that he paid his respects to me. This was his privilege as an American citizen. The offense that brings me under this condemnation is that, as a representative in Congress and speaker of the House, I have refused to take orders from him, and to agree to a scheme of legislation which would make one law for one set of American citizens and another law for all other citizens. I appeal from Mr. Gompers' attempted domination of myself and other members of Congress to the citizenship of the republic. I especially appeal to that great body of fair minded men unionized for the purpose of bettering their condition, who would scorn to ask legislation for themselves different from that which applies to all other citizens.

all other citizens.

Mr. Gompers has heretofore waged his war against individuals, but now he seeks, by virtue of his great power over the non-partisan organization, of which he is the partisan organization, of which he is the head, to place its membership in the attitude of voting for and supporting Mr. Bryan and the whole Democratic ticket as against Mr. Taft and the whole Republican ticket; and, in the event of Mr. Gompers' success, the republic is to be brought under the domination of Mr. Bryan's policies, which I believe to be destructive to the best interests of the American people.

Who Is Labor's Friend.

Who is Labor's friend.

Organized labor has its strength in the north and west, and it has secured such legislation as has already been enacted from the Republican party, both in national and in state legislation. If organized labor accepts the professed friendship of the Democratic party as genuine, it will need to appeal to Democrats in Congress, who do not give much heed to the appeals of labor at home in the south, where organized labor has never been influential enough to procure satisfactory labor laws from Democratic Legislatures.

Mr. Cannon then took up the claim

Mr. Cannon then took up the claim of Mr. Bryan to the heirship of the pres-ent Republican administration. He was amazed, he said, that Mr. Bryan could find any similarity between himself and President Roosevelt. Mr. Bryan had fought the dragons of his own hallucina-Mr. Bryan had tion as valiently as any knight of old and had been as devoted a crusader as Don Quixote; but he had never shown any inherited qualities that would justify his claim to be the heir of the direct and indomitable Theodore Roosevelt or to the practical business administration of the Republican party.

Walking for Women.

Walking-healthy, regular walking-is a difficult undertaking for women. It is because most of them have little ambi-tion to do anything that has no special attraction. Pastimes that please and amuse are preferred.

The city streets are not the place for the right kind of walking. The jarring pavements, the noise, the dust, the heat.

dress, the former principally to agree with one's convenience and both to en-

The clothes to wear on these walks are a most important factor. They should fact that women, the chief sufferer on be light in weight and comfortable. The

The let should have a broad brim, for the glare of the sky on a bright morning.

even early, is unpleasant. The skirt should be no less than 4 inches from the These rules are simple and may be adapted easily to one's individual needs. Of all the various exercises that are prescribed for physical deficiencies none is so natural as walking.

Often a special series of gymnastics, with paraphernalia, clothes, instructor, etc., will be adhered to patiently by a woman when the habit of moderate, pleasant walking, faithfull acquired. would work more strongly for her health.

Perhaps the fact that the former cirmstances are "special" is what prods her with power. The Child's Corner.

Many little children have no place for their toys, and yet are reprimanded for having them in the way.

In most houses there is a little room at the end of the upper hall usually set apart for a clothespress. This, if sup-plied with light and air, makes a cozy playhouse, and, with convenient shelves can hold the whole array of toys. Of course a larger room is much to be desired, and should be given whenever pos-

Little cupboards and cabinets can be made by putting shelves in packing boxes of the desired Neatly papered inside and out, or covered with cretonne, and with curtains in front, they are ornamental as well as useful. Here her two little girls made scrap-books, cut out dolls' clothes, read their books, and studied their lessons, very proud of their own table, and making great use of the convenient drawer. -0-10-

A woman once saw a little girl of 6 r 7 years reading a daily newspaper, scanning the columns of telegraphic news, and it occasioned her to remark: idea of that child reading a pa-It was very true the child was reading a paper and today she is a woman and still reads papers and believes in other children reading them. Reading is one of the greatest consolations of life. Said a woman not long ago: "I have lived my life in books. Days of hardships, labor, anxiety and even pain, have been brightened during the hours when I could pick up a good book, magazine or paper and forget for a moment the trials I left behind me." Reading is a strengthener of opinions, and it can be a shield against a tyranny of petty fashions. If you are angry, read a book; if you want to say what you should not, and thereby cause trouble, read a jolly book, for it is a good prop at such times. Let no one tell you what to read, for you may learn to dislike reading by trying to read what others enjoy but what to you would be a dismal occupation. Read what you like, but let it be something worth the perusal. If you have children, permit them to read. Let them read good newspa-pers, and there are good ones, also en-courage magazine and book reading. Let the boys have magazines that treat of subjects to their liking, for the read ing matter that may please the daughter will not satisfy the boy with a mind reaching out for mechanical ideas, his-torical or other researches. Reading in one respect is like eating; it does not do you much good unless you have an appetite for it. Another thing, when you read a book, mark the ideas that strike you as worthy of deeper thought. We all like to find something in a book that is food for thought, and a marked paragraph, page, sentence or verse calls at-tention to that one particular portion of reading matter which may be the greatest charm to all, yet liable to be over looked, for comparatively few people are steady or careful readers and most eruse a narrative for amusement or to kill time. Try to see something in all reading matter from which you can learn something, if only a tiny idea. That is the value of reading good liter-ature, for it is words and words, clothing a framework of strong, sensible timents.—Woman's National Daily.

How many lunches for Tommy and Sam? Battleships Not Needed.

"The United States has never been attacked by a foreign power since we gained our freedom. The idea of systematic walking is distasteful at first. Anything with "system" in it is condemned by most women. The disagreeable system in this case means only a regulation of time and dress the former principally to kill our enemies. How ridiculous it would look for a business man to wish to kill off a customer of his because he and the customer couldn't come to an agreement; and we are all customers of each other from an economic standpoint. Widows of Ex-Presidents.

Mrs. James A. Garfield, Mrs. Benja-Harrison and Mrs. Grover Cleveand, three widows of ex-Presidents, are now living. The Presidents have usually died before their wives, as the work of the chief executive of the national generally uses most of the vitality of the man engaged in it. A Little Boy's Summer.

Once there was a little boy and a mama. It was beginning to be summertime at last, but all the summertime the little boy knew was a little starched-up, best-clothes visit to the park on Sunday afternoons, for he and his mama lived away up, up many stairs in a flat, and his mama was too busy to go to the three big ones which he carried in his park on other days.

The weather grew warmer and warmer, and by and by the little boy didn't feel well. He couldn't sleep nice and for breakfast. So mama went to the elephone and called up Dr. John. Then mama dressed the little boy in his pretty clothes and Sunday hat, and by the by Mr. Carriage Man hurried up to the door and they hurried downstairs and got into the carriage with their grips and lunch-box and umbrella and shaw and fan, and away they went down the street and up another street and along another street, until they came to the station, and there was the choo choo huffing and puffing and almost ready to start. So they hurried and climbed up into the choo choo, and the choo choo man brought in their things, and the engine said whoof-whoof! and off they went. The little boy knelt up by the window and had such a good time watching the houses and people and carriages flying by, and pretty soon the choo choo huffed and puffed away out into the country, and the little boy could see the hills and trees, and the horses and cows in the fields, and the blue sky and white houses and red barns and little dogs that ran out and barked at the choo choo and made the little boy laugh. This curious numismatic treaswas originally issued for use in Sommer islands, now known as the Bermudas, some time about 1616, by the Virginia company, with which Smith was prominently connected. the obverse is a crude representation of a hog, adopted because these islands were at one time overrun by wild hogs. Above this are the Roman numerals "VI.," for sixpence, while around the border is the misspelled inscription. "SOMMER ILANDS." The reverse shows a rude attempt to represent a three-masted ship of ancient style. These coins were evidently at one time widely circulated throughout the Bermudas, as specimens are found from time to time excavations, the rare sixpence found having been discovered in Hamil-The denominations of the Sommer slands, or "Hoggie" coins, consisted of shillings, sixpences, and twopences, al of which were struck in copper, and all being of great rarity. Then the little boy knelt by the window again, but pretty soon he got tired of seeing so many things flying by, and he lay down on the seat and went sound asleep with mama's shawl for a pillow. When he woke up the choo choo was getting pretty near the place where grandma lived, so he and mama put on their hats and gathered up their things, and by and by there was grandma's house away over on a lovely green hill with shady trees all about it and red chimneys and white fences, just as it was in the picture in mama's dining room.

Presently the choo choo stopped, and mama and the little boy hurried out, and there was Jimmy to meet them! Jimmy was a big boy-almost as big as Dr. John-and he had two beautiful gray ponies and a pretty carriage with yellow wheels. He took the little boy up on the front seat with him and let him hold the ends of the lines, and mama sat in the back seat with the grips and the lunch box and the shawl and the fan and the umbrella. Then they drove away over the smooth country road, the air sweet with clover and wild roses, and the birds singing their sunset songs in the trees. By and by they drove through a wide gateway and trotted straight up to grandma's house. and there was grandma waiting in the porch to hug and kiss them. And grandma pulled off the stems and put the berries in a pretty china dish and poured yellow cream over them and sprinkled them with sugar, and the little boy had them for his supper with sound, and he wasn't good and hungry two g-r-e-a-t b-i-g slices of toasted whole-wheat bread.

to poultry raising the intelligent attention that any business requires to make it go there are undoubtedly golden opportunities. As everybody knows, poultry raising has grown to be one of the most important industries in the United States. There are people who are not only making snug incomes, but are getting rich at poultry raising. A quarter of a century ago the poultry business as a money making proposition cut a comparatively small figure; not alone because the products then were away down in value, but because then there were not the facilities to aid in incubation and in safe brooding. Now it is said by a person who pretends to know that if the eggs eaten every year in the United States could be gathered beforehand and placed end to end, they would reach thirty times around the earth. In addition enough eggs are exported every year to reach from Denver to New York. Valued at an average of 20 cents a dozen the annual egg crop of the United States reaches a total of $300,000,000.

All eggs look alike to the average consumer until they have been broken. RENOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR ON THE FIRST BALLOT IN CONVEN-

HIS FOES FAIL TO RALLY

They Proposed Early in the Day to Put Up David Jayne Hill as His Opponent.

PLATFORM STRONG ENDORSEMENT.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 15.-Gov. Charles E. Hughes was again nominated for the governorship of New York state by the Republicans in state convention here this afternoon, on the first ballot.

The convention opened its second day's session with real enthusiasm after an ironing-out of the wrinkles which developed yesterday. There was opposition to the governor at first, but the "allies" gradually weakened.

The opposition to Gov. Hughes this morning decided upon Dr. David Jayne Hill, ambassador to Germany, as their candidate for governor. A cable dis- the balloons to make headway against it. patch from Berlin this afternoon states that Dr. Hill was much surprised when the Halen See it was struck by a squall he was told of the plan.

Hughes Is Endorsed.

The platform as read and adopted rat ifies the Chicago platform, endorses Taft and Sherman and President Roosevelt, the principles of Republicanism and Taft rather than those of an "untried and unstable theorist," and endorses the administration of Gov. Hughes in the following terms:

"We endorse the administration of Gov. Hughes, who has shown himself a courageous executive, resolved to accomplish what he believes to be for the public good. He has approved measures passed by a Republican Legislature, up-holding the integrity of the constitution, maintaining the high character of the public service, providing for the proper regulation of corporations, and for the protection of the people's interests."

All Nation Interested.

It was stated upon authority today that no cablegram had been sent to Dr. Hill, and that therefore no answer was expected. It was further said that at last night's conference Mr. Root made it plain to the conferees that the national eaders were intensely interested in the action of this convention, that they were desirous of the nomination of Gov. Hughes, not alone because of strength which they believed his nomination would add to the national ticket in New York state, but because they believed it would be of great value to the national campaign in other states, particularly in the middle west.

Mr. Root is said to have intimated to the leaders that there were available for use at the right moment, if necessary, not a shadow of doubt as to the position of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft on the subject-should any one still entertain such doubt.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 15 .- Addi tional and revised returns made early to-day of the state election in Maine yesterday altered but slightly the result announced last night, the plurality of Bert M. Fernald, the Republican candi date for governor, over Obadiah Gard ner, Democrat, remaining at 7329, with twenty-five small towns and twenty-six plantations still to report. A complete poll of the vote is not expected for several days. The feature of the election was the increase in the Democratic vote through out the state. Every one of the four congressional districts showed gains, the acrease over 1904 being 15,000 votes and 4000 over 1906. These gains were made almost entirely in the rural dis tricts, showing clearly the popularity of Mr. Gardner among the farmers of the

The Republican vote also was by 3000 than in 1906, but it fell 4000 below the vote in 1904. All the Republican candidates for Congress were elected. The incoming Legislature will be strongly Republican in both branches.

The returns indicate that a record breaking vote was polled throughout the

TAFT ASKS BRYAN TO DISCLOSE HIS OWN PAST RECORD

REPUBLICAN SAYS DEMOCRAT IS TRYING TO SEPARATE HIM-SELF FROM HISTORY.

IS REMARKABLE SPECTACLE.

Commoner Has Spent Twelve Years in Hunt for Campaign Issue and Then Cannot Find Real One.

NEBRASKAN ONLY AFTER VOTES.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 14.-Asserting that his official record, his speech of acceptance and subsequent utterances are ample indications of his own political position, William H. Taft replied to Mr. Bryan's comment on the Rooseveit letter, by switching the spot light of inquiry back to Mr. Bryan's own political record, and making an analysis thereof. This is Mr. Taft's reply:

Long Hunt for Issue.

"In my notification speech and in other speeches made since, I attempted to make clear my position on all the issues of the campaign. If Mr. Bryan has been unable to understand them I cannot make them clear. I stand on my rec ord in office and what I have said. If Mr. Bryan should devote a little time to his own record, from which he seems to be struggling to separate himself, with all the adroitness acquired in a twelve-year hunt for an issue on which he can be elected Presi-

"The readiness with which Mr. Bryan in successive presidential campaigns passes from one paramount issue to another shows that the chief consideration which has affected his selection of an issue has been its plausibility in attract-

"He presents the ramerkable spec tacle of one who has been seeking the presidency for twelve years without success and without official responsibility and without the opportunity to test the various propositions which he has advocated for reforms, and yet of having the event demonstrate what a colossal failure he would have made in each instance, had he been permitted to carry his proposals in the policies of the country. "He does not now answer the question whether, if he were President and an exigency should arise in which he would be called upon to exercise his discretion affirmatively to maintaining the parity between gold and silver, he would exercise that decretion. He has not permitted himself to discuss in this campaign the issue of anti-imperialism, which was the paramount issue in 1900 as he de-

"Mr. Bryan professes to be the great friend of labor, and yet he was one of the chief supporters in the passage of the Gorman-Wilson bill that made labor helpless for four years. He then proposed as a remedy for the disasters to which labor was thus exposed, the issuing of a fifty-cent dollar, which would have cut in half such wages as there were, and would have led to the hardest hind of struggle on leaver, part to rewere, and would kind of struggle on labor's part to restore its wages to its proper equivalent under the gold standard. The country has been most fortunate that the fal lacy of Mr. Bryan's railroad proposi-tions has been exposed without the cost of putting them into actual governmental practice and it will be fortunate indeed, if the danger of four years depression, to which it would be exposed in case of Mr. Bryan's election, may be averted, and if by Republican success in November, and subsequent prosperity and by a clinching of the Roosevelt policies, he again shown to be a prohpet without honor.

DEER PARK, Md., Sept. 14 .- W. J. Bryan Sunday put his stamp of disapproval on Sunday olitical speechmaking when, without his knowledge, the residents around Mountain Lake park were notified to assemble there at 3 o'clock to hear him talk. Over 1200 of them gathered, while Mr. Bryan at Deer Park was protesting to a local commit-tee that he would make no speech. He finally was prevailed upon to take the three-mile drive and shake hands with those in the assemblage, with the understanding that he should not speak and that there should be no handclapping.

A Hawaiian Small Boy Simply "Drops Down the Edge of the Scenery."

Water sports are by no means the only vigorous athletics indulged in by the boys of Hawaii. Mountain climbing is a favorite pastime, for there are peaks 4000 feet high within easy walking distance of any part of Honolulu, and on the island of Hawaii there are two mountains fully 14,000 feet in height. Sometimes the Honolulu schools give picnics on the mountain sides that the pupils may gather land-shells. It is on these excursions in search of land-shells that the Hawaiian schoolboys revel in picnics on the mountain sides that the that the Hawaiian schoolboys revel in the once national sport-mountain slid-

A very steep mountain side is selected, where the grass is long and sloping downward. Every one gathers his own ti leaves—the ti leaf is something like the banana leaf, but not nearly so long. With a bunch of ti leaves in his hand, the first boy steps to the edge of the side, grasps the leaves by the stems in both hands, places the leafy part under him and sits down, gives himself a start and drops down the edge of the scenery like a flash. I was assured that it was an easy matter to regulate the speed of in three months, after my physician descent, by merely grasping the ti stems declared that an operation was absoacting as a brake. I longed for hrill of dropping down over the edge of a mountain, and upon my brief sled of ti leaves began the descent. I went like the wind; it seemed as though my breath dashed to pieces among the trees below. I thought of my brake and drew up on the ti leaves with all my might and came up with a jerk that parred every bone in my body. There I sat, looking downward almost perpendicularly, held For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, it approaches perfection in the eyes of the Hawaiian small boy, and sometimes leads to accidents, when, for instance, the thin layer of ti leaves wears out beneath the slide, a gentle tug at the stalks parts the sled and sends the slider downward in a most uncomfortable and ungraceful manner, all arms and legs. Lucky is the victim of such an accident if he is not stopped in his downward career by the trunk of a tree.—St. Nicho-

The fact is that the western farmer has become so accustomed to finding some explanation for business operations that involve borrowing that he cannot break himself of the habit, though he is far better equipped to make loans for temporary needs than the merchant, to whom it is a matter of course. MACHINE WARNS OF FROST.

Electric Device Which Has Saved Many Orchards in Cold Weather.

Scientific fruit raising in the larger orchards of the irrigated belt in the far northwest has been benefited by an invention, the credit of which is thought to belong to some unknown Chinaman, says the Boston Transcript. This is the electric frost foreteller. It is a little thermometer, set to declare itself. thermometer, set to declare itself on the safe side of the frost line, and when the releasing limit is reached it ring's a bell in the orchardist's bedroom and keeps it up until he gets up and turns the switch. the switch.

The next step is a hasty visit to the orchard, where are located at intervals covered pots filled with crude petroleum.

To each of these he touches a match or torch; a dense smudge envelops the trees and the danger is over; the lids are put back and the fires go out. An inspector of these orchards says the smudge pots will keep the orchards eight smudge pois will keep the orchards eight degrees warmer than those not supplied with them, and they have frequently been brought safely through cold nights that have ruined the products of adjoining ranches.

The simplicity of such a device, if it is all that is claimed for it, makes it easily available for orchardists all over the country, whether in Florida or Massachusetts, and it could be applied to market gardens or private gardens as EYESIGHT WAS IN DANGER

Armed with such a weapon the "black fellow" will take a perch upon some con-venient rock and gaze steadily into the wonderfully transparent blue water. Oven For Books.

The disinfection of books is a diffi-cult task which cannot be performed thoroughly or without injury by simply heating the closed volumes in an ordinary oven. M. Berlioz has invented an oven provided with a device for the evaporation of aldehydes, in which closed volumes of any size can be completely sterilized at atmospheric pressure and a temperature below the boiling point without the slightest injury to covers, paper or binding. The only precaution required for delicate bindings consists in wrapping the volumes in paper. A severe test of the apparatus, says the Scientific American, was made in the case of a volume of 1,300 pages, a page of which had been contaminated to the inner margin with pus and fecal matter. The book was completely sterilized in two hours at a temperature below 200 degrees F. On the other hand, very delicate bindings showed no ill effects from a two hours' sterilization in the oven.

A Grotesque Army.

According to the correspondent of the London Times both the rival sultans of Morocco are depending for troops upon each other's deserters and are otherwise interesting. "I was unable to visit Mulai Hafid's camp," he says, "but Mulai Abdul Aziz's army presented certain anomalies. The noncommissioned officers in uniform who sold sweatmeats to the soldiers during the march past at a great review seem useful accessories, and doubtless the naked lunatic who stood on his head and turned somersaults directly in front of the war minister at the saluting point served some utilitarian, if rather occult, purpose. Not to offend the modesty of certain Europeans who were present, one of the sultan's bandsmen was divested of his clothing, and the madman continued his eccentricities in uniform, while the bandsman, arrayed in a short white shirt, played a trombone."

Took No Chances. Edward McIntyre, a Minnesota young man, has set an example of combined patience, endurance and foxiness that it would be hard to match. An abandoned homestead near Estevan, Saskatchewan, was thrown open to entry, and animated was the scramble therefor. McIntyre took pains to be the last inquirer at the land office on the day previous to that set for the filing. Then he stationed himself on a chair in the corridor, with his hand on the knob of the land office door. And there he stayed till the office opened in the morning, a vigil of seventeen hours. Many others had gathered from all directions to get a chance at the homestead, but McIntyre was the winner. Whenever western Canadians want to be shown a trick or two let them apply to Gopher genius.-St. Paul Dispatch.

A Military Record.

Probably the world's record for continuous service as a soldier is held by a Russian noncommissioned officer named Budnikoff, 128 years old. He entered the army in 1797, at the age of fifteen, as a private in the hussar life guards and served as a soldier for the land above described, before Clerk of the more than eighty years. He fought in many wars, including the campaign of 1812, won all four classes of the St. George's order for valor, besides about forty other crosses and medals, and now receives an annual pension of $600. He is still hale and hearty. He was married ninety years ago and had a son and two daughters. The son was killed in the Russo-Turkish war.

Paris Motor Police.

Men in uniform, something like those dated the fifth day of March, A. D. 1903, exe- of the cyclist police, have just appearcuted by Solomon Lancour and Libbie Lancour ed in the Champs Elysees and on the his wife, of the township of Masonville, Delta principal boulevards of Paris. On one of these fans is the word "fumee," on the second "trop vite" and on the third "odeur." Each of these signals duly assigned by the said Benjamin Meloche is intended to warn the automobilists and Alexina G. Meloche his wife, to Thomas that they are either going too fast or Kennedy, of Escanaba, Delta county, Michigan, are contravening the laws against smoke and smell. These useful officials are paid by the Automobile club and have the authorization of the prefect of police.

Rules For Life In Flats.

A remarkable clause is contained in the will of a wealthy landlord named Boernitz, who died last week in Berlin. The testator bequeaths a large number of flats to his heirs on the conchildren, dogs, cats or birds. Tenants may not be engaged in night work which will cause them to return home while the other occupants are sleeping. One musical instrument is permitted in each flat, but no flowers may be placed on the window sills, and the tenants must sign an agreement to wear

Malta's Goats. Malta's celebrated goats are likely soon to be only a memory on the historic island, for it has been found that provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed | banishing goats' milk means an end to by a sale of the premises therein described, at the ravages of Malta fever. The compublic auction, to the highest bidder, at the mission appointed in 1907 to trace the origin of the fever in the garrisons and crews of warships made the discovery that the germ of the fever was present in the milk of the goat. Wherever the use of this milk has been prohibited the fever has disappeared.
