GLADSTONE DELTA MAY LENGTHEN THE STATE FAIR

State Can Have Two Weeks in Which to Hold Next Fair.

ANNOUNCED BY SEC. HANNAN

The Majority of the Directors of the Association Are in Favor of Increasing the Length of the Fair-Will Begin Sept. 18.

Lansing.—That Michigan can have two weeks in which to hold its state plane flight is a check for a good-sized fair next fall and that the period is almost certain to be lengthened to nine or ten days at least, is announced by Secretary Hannan of the Michigan returned from the annual meeting of the state fair officers of 23 different states which was held in Chicago. The association has so arranged the time of the Michigan fair and those of adjoining states that Detroit can have two weeks without infringing upon the rights of any other association. The Michigan state fair will begin on September 18. According to Secretary Hannan, the majority of the directors of the association are heartily in favor of increasing the length of the fair to at least nine or ten days and there is a possibility that the entire two weeks may be utilized. That the Detroit fair is to be bigger and better than ever before is also announced by the secretary. The number of fairs which will precede the Michigan évent make it certain that there will be many attractions ready to come here. Last year the officials York without light. And yet they of the New York, Indiana and Wisconsin fairs sent many exhibits to Michigan, and so well were they satisfied With aeroplane makers organized with the excellent treatment received here and the transportation facilities which were provided to and from Detroit, that the number sent here will be greatly increased this year, it is said. Secretary Hannan was called upon by the other fair officials at the Chicago meeting to explain how such excellent transportation facilities were obtained for the Detroit event. He explained it by paying a high tribute to George W. Dickinson, who had entire charge of the transportation problem. Mr. Dickinson is a member of the state railroad commission and for this reason was equipped to secure the best facilities which the railroads could give.

"Progress of Road Building in Michigan" was the title of Deputy Highway Commissioner Rogers' paper—the feature of the closing session of the conare more interested in the price of vention of American road builders at Following are the important features of the address:

"Michigan has 58,015 square miles of territory, divided into 83 counties, grow brush heaps in his ears he loses which in turn are divided into 1.226 organized townships, the latter being the units of rural government. The 70,000 miles of public wagon roads which serve our state are all under township control, except certain roads in counties which voluntarily adopt the county road system and come under the direct supervision of a township highway commissioner.

"In the counties which have adopted the county road system, 34 in all, such roads as the county road commissioners see fit to adopt are constituted as county roads and maintained and improved with county funds, but all other roads in such counties remain township roads and are maintained and improved with township funds.

"The Michigan state aid law became operative July 1, 1905, and the following figures, giving the mileage built in each of the last five years. show that it is increasing in popularity: In 1905, 20 miles of road were built; in 1906, 40; in 1907, 80; in 1908. 160; in 1909, 214; in 1910, 276, or a total of 790 miles in the six years. On July 1, 1910, the close of the fifth fiscal year, there had been completed 545.5 miles of state reward road at a cost of $1,732,995.32, on which $292,299 of state reward was paid. This shows the average cost of roads of all classes for the first five years was $3,180 a mile, while the average state reward per mile was $719, or approximately 22.6 per cent. of the total cost of the roads built. Roads have been built in 61 of the 83 counties and in 361 townships.

A preacher says that young women | Poor Superintendents Meet.

Superintendents of the poor from different parts of the state met for the opening session of their seventh annual convention. W. H. Gatney and E. H. Wexstaff of Ionia and M. M. Stover, matron of the Van Buren County infirmary, read papers. The evening session was held at the Industrial school chapel and included addresses by Doctor Parker of Detroit and Superintendent Lawson.

Sale Clears $26,721.

"The people who owned the Oakland County Telephone company, haven't any cause to find fault with the sale to Martin, who conceived and worked up the Oakland county exchange.

"They are getting $66,721 and the plant cost about $40,000. They got their stock for nothing and the bonds covered plant and franchise. It is a firstclass plant and has been a winner for ing a yellow jacket and a peacock Pontiac, both to the investors and the general public."

State Farmers' Clubs In Session.

Lansing.—The State Association of Farmers' Clubs in session here, went on record with recommendations on a dozen questions of national legislation. The resolutions governing the temperance question were toned down to a general denunciation of the saloon and a recommendation for legislation that would make it impossible to have liquor shipped into a "dry" territory.

A resolution recommending the enactment of a law which would bar the literature of wholesale liquor dealers from the United States mail, was turned down. The question of statewide prohibition was left untouched.

The association condemned the management of the state fair for allowing the sale of liquor on the state fair grounds, but no specific charges were made against any director or officer. When the resolutions were presented they contained one favoring an amendment of the state constitution in a manner which would permit woman suffrage. The resolution was adopted. The association also gave favorable consideration to a resolu-State Fair association, who has just tion which asked national legislation providing for the expenditure of a sum on highways equal to that spent on waterways. The following is a summary of the resolution adopted for state legislation.

In favor of the appropriation of a sum sufficient to erect a new auditorium for the Michigan Agricultural college.

In favor of civil service in all state departments.

In favor of increasing automobile licenses and applying the residue to the construction of county roads. In favor of a closed season on quail and partridge for ten years. In favor of allowing grocers and butchers to peddle their products through the country without a license.

The association adopted resolutions favoring the following national legislation:

The direct election of United States senators. Better currency and banking laws, tending to do away with the influencing of the money market by Wall street manipulators. Equitable revision of the Payne tariff law by a non-partisan commission. Equitable reciprocity with Canada. Conservation of national resources.

Laws increasing power of interstate commerce commission. Women's Labor Law Is Upheld.

The constitutionality of the women's labor law, an act passed at the last session of the legislature, was sustained by the supreme court in an opinion rendered, and the statute which requires that manufacturers or shopkeepers shall not force their women employes to work more than 54 hours a week cannot be violated without fear of prosecution.

Some time ago State Labor Comproceedings against the International Seal & Lock company of Hastings in the Barry county circuit court for the violation of the law, but the case was decided against the state, and acting for the labor commission, Attorney General Kuhn carried it to the court of last resort.

Section 9 of the act in question is as follows: "No female shall be employed in any factory, mill, warehouse, workshop, clothing, dressmaking or millinery establishment, or any place where the manufacture of any kind of goods is carried on, or where any good are prepared for manufacturing, or in any laundry, store, shop or any other mercantile establishment, for a period longer than an average of nine hours per day, or 54 hours in any one week, nor more than ten hours in any one day, provided, however, that the provisions of this section in relation to the hours of employment shall not apply to nor affect any person engaged in preserving perishable goods in fruit or canning establishments."

Private Banks Under State Control?

There will be another attempt at the coming session of the legislature to bring private banks under the control of the state banking department. The necessity of this has been again emphasized in the opinion rendered by Attorney General Kuhn that private banks are not proper depositories for public money. The strongest lobby at every session for years has been that of the private bankers and they have always been able to defeat legislation aimed at bringing their institutions under the control of the state banking department ..

After a long fight in the last session the banking act was amended so that private banks must display a sign showing that they are private banks. but that was the extent of the reform legislation.

But this time it is understood that a number of the private bankers of the state will join in the movement for bringing the private banks under the jurisdiction of the state authorities. They realize, it is said, that the continual agitation has hurt the private banks and lessened public confidence. and for that reason are anxious to have the O. K. of the state banking commissioner.

Saginaw-Mrs. Pauline Frederick of Detroit, some time ago, purchased a lot in Oakwood cemetery, and when her husband was killed two years ago his remains were buried there. The remainder of the plot is covered by the base of a gigantic double beech tree, which is said to be 125 years old. Mrs. Frederick wishes to cut down the tree and prepare the lot for her interment. With that end in view, she wrote to the cemetery board and asked that the tree be leveled. TRUSTEES TO HAVE CHARGE

Elihu Root at Their Head and Taft Is Honorary President-Foundation Is to Be Perpetual.

Washington. - Andrew Carnegie transferred to a board, of trustees $10,000,000 in five per cent. first-mortgage bonds, the revenue of which will be used to "hasten the abolition of international war" and to establish lasting world peace. The formal transfer was made at a meeting Wednesday in the rooms of the Carnegie Research foundation.

The trustees organized by choosing as president United States Senator Elihu Root, permanent representative of the United States at The Hague tribunal. President Taft has consented to be honorary president

The method by which the annual income of half a million dollars shall be expended is left by Mr. Carnegie entirely to the trustees. The foundaestablishment of universal peace is attained the donor provides that the revenue shall be devoted to the bansection of the state that Michael H. ishment cf the "next most degrading evil or evils" the suppression of which would "most advance the prog-

ROUT FOR MEXICAN REBELS

Diaz' Troops Inflict Decisive Defeat on Insurrectos in Chihuahua-74 Are Killed.

Washington.-The Mexican federal troops have completely routed the revolutionists in Chihuahua and captured the city of Guerro, according to a telegram received Wednesday by the state department from Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City.

"This cleared the state of Chihuahua and other parts of the country." said Mr. Wilson, "of all organized resistance to the government."

El Paso, Tex.—Dispatches from the front Wednesday said that after their drawn batttle of Sunday the rebel forces and the government troops under General Navarro camped in close proximity to eath other. Neither side showed any signs of renewing leaders in both camps that serious fighting will take place soon.

The two forces clashed at the village of Cerro Prieto, 100 miles west of Chihuahua. Though inferior in numbers the revolutionists fought General Navarro to a standstill. All told, 74 persons are known to have been killed.

One of These Talented Women Is Sarah Bernhardt and the Other Ellen Terry.

Two famous grandmothers are distinguished visitors of this country. Referring to these talented ladies the Rochester Post Express says: "One of the grandmothers is Mme. Sarah Bernhardt; the other is Ellen Terry. Both actresses have reached an age when it is permissible to retire from active life; but the French actress is said to be as energetic as a woman half her age, while Ellen Terry is declared to be as young as ever she was in the palmy days when she and Henry Irving ruled the theatrical world of England. Miss Terry has retired from the stage so far as acting is concerned, and has taken to lecturing on Shakespeare's heroines. And who could do better than she who has played so many of the womanly women of the great dramatist? Readers of her breezy biography know what she thinks of Portia, Beatrice, Voila, Rosaland and other famous women of the tragedies and comedies, but no printed page could charm as does the wonderfully expressive features and the velvet voice of the greatest living English-speaking actress."

"My mother used to have a very bad humor on her head which the doctors called an eczema, and for it I had two different doctors. Her head was very sore and her hair nearly all fell out in spite of what they both did. One day her niece came in and they were speaking of how her hair was falling out and the doctors did it no good. She says, 'Aunt, why don't you try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Oint ment?' Mother did and they helped her. In six months' time the itching, burning and scalding of her head was fund $10,000,000 five per cent. first- over and her hair began growing. From a series of experiments recently made at the University of Kansas it is evident that the average person can taste the bitter of quinine when one part is dissolved in 52,000 parts of water. ## THE ART OF SELLING THINGS

PERSISTENCE IS ONE OF GREAT-EST ELEMENTS IN SUCCESS.

Keep Going Till You Find Person Who Wants to Buy What You Have to Sell.

To sell things they must be brought to people's attention, and the common way of doing this is by adversale; but when the debutante her- tising; but if a man has no place of slippers," he went on, "and that is self is too poor or too penurious to business and no stock except what he that they wear so long; they are buy her own book it is carried further | can carry around, why, then he must sell by personal presentation, the secret of success in this sort of calling lying in keeping going till you find the person that wants what you have to sell.

"It is not the easiest way in the world of making a living, but there are men who do well at it, even with things that might seem most unpromising."

The speaker was a man selling slippers, nothing but slippers, of which he had as many pairs as he could carry comfortably. To a novice it might seem that you might walk the streets all day and never find any body that wanted to buy a pair of slippers, but the slipper man knows better. "There is one trouble about worn on smooth floors and carpets and rugs, and so they may wear a long time, a year or years, but they do wear out, there are always some people wanting slippers, and it is for these people and for those who think when they see them that they might as well get a new pair now that I am always looking. "They may be far apart and I may have to call on many people to find them, but I know that if I keep going I shall get them.

"So I keep going; into houses, of fices, stores; I may meet the man that wants slippers, needs a pair at the psychologic moment when he wants to buy, when his feet are tired and the slippers look good to him and he thinks he'll take a pair home or put them on right now.

"In such a case it is easy to sell but obviously I wouldn't have hit him aigrettes with a band of fur, or white at that time or any other if I hadn't kept going. I may have tried forty person who wants them may be the Height of Clouds. How high are the clouds?

Many varying answers have been returned to this question, and in fact it may be added that there is no fixed height for any kind of cloud. Some remarkably interesting measures of the height of clouds were made at Vienna by an ingenious method. Advantage was taken of the extremely brilliant light furnished for the great illuminated fountain erected not long ago in that city.

By means of a projector it was found that a beam of light could be sent up to the clouds, producing upon them a luminous spot capable of being observed simultaneously from points on the earth two or three miles apart. By such observations the height of certain clouds of the cirrus variety was found to be as much as 10,000 meters, or nearly 33,000 feet.

Aigrettes, as they are being arranged today, are not the long, stiff affairs we have been accustomed to seeing; they are made in all sorts of attractive ornaments, such as big, fluffy-looking balls and wreaths with the aigrettes going the wrong direction. But such novelties in feathers as expensive as aigrettes will hardly last longer than one season, and it is certain they will not become common. In truth, they are only fancies for the rich in purse. The short aigrettes used in making the fluffy ornaments are selected, and especially those rich and full as to spirals. Many of the costly ornaments look like brushes, so closely are they grouped, and when black and white spirals are employed the effect is even more brushlike.

Modish Hat Seen Lately. The hat worn with a dull blue chiffon velvet gown at a reception last week was of blue and silver all-over lace, the exact color of the frock. The model was an indescribable shape formed of a series of puffs. The brim garnish had a plaiting of shaded melines about four inches wide. These fell prettily over the hair, which was arranged in loose ringlets at the nape of the neck. The only sprash of contrasting color was at the right side where there was a big ornament of French silver filligree set with sapphires, emeralds and brilliants. This was very garish in comparison to the soft tones of the lace and melines. extraordinary size of the ornament

The yoke is heavy white lace and the stock tucked white chiffon. Accompanying this is a huge black satin hat, the top of brim covered with blue, and a magnificent wing in shaded blue is placed directly in front.

Odd Millinery Idea. An odd idea in millinery is to cut leaves and flowers from cretonne and turn the edges down over a thin silk wire. Lastly, all the edges must be finished with small beads sewed in close together. For this decoration the white chalk or rubber beads are effective, and so are all black. Colors, however, are used.

When finished the spray should be ised to decorate a hat of a solid color or one all in black.

The flowers make a handsome trimming, and, if a woman has the time to make it, an inexpensive hat also, because half a yard of cretonne will be sufficient for the entire hat.

Rev. J. Edgar Wilson, after various trials, has fenced in the P. Y. P. S. rink. Successive complaints were made that the fence should not be built, that it was built too high, and that it was not high enough. These faults have been overcome and flooding every night has built up the ice. It will probably be opened for the season Saturday afternoon.

Charles E. Moores, who has been an engineer on the Northwestern railway for 38 years, died in the cab of his engine Tuesday morning as he was approaching the Escanaba station. It seems that he made the mistake of selling the chickens, four of them for a quarter, to Allen Valentine, who keeps a restaurant on the corner of Grand avenue and Main street. He didn't drink He waited in the hope that somebody would come in and show him what was what. Well, in a few

The tenderfoot watched him closely. He poured himself a gener-

An Urgent Call.

In a Scottish village a small boy once raised a hubbub in the parish church. His mother had bought a sheep's head and left it to cook, telling him to watch it while she went to church.

The minister had reached his "fifthly" when the boy thrust his head in at the door and whispered. "Mither!" The good woman recognized her son instantly and made signs to him to go "Mither!" again came the whisper. The mother shook her finger at the boy and her head too.

But the boy was in earnest. Raising his voice, he shouted, "Mither, ye needna wink an' blink at me, but ye'd better come awa' hame at once, for the sheep's head's buttin' a' the dumplins oot o' the kail pat!"

Caught the Fever.

An Irish policeman who was also something of a sportsman had been posted on a road near Dublin to catch the scorching motorist. Presently one came along at twenty miles an hour, and the policeman saw it pass without a sign. Next came a large motor traveling at forty miles an hour, and the eyes of the guardian of the public brightened. And then one passed at the rate of a mile a minute. "Begorra," said Pat, slapping his thigh, "that's the best of the lot!"

Didn't Inspire Him. When Lafayette visited Virginia be was entertained with other eminent guests by President Monroe at Oak Hill. Leesburg, too, the historic town nine miles from Monroe's country seat, accorded him honors on that occasion, and at a dinner at that town John Quincy Adams delivered a famous toast to the surviving patriots of the Revolution, who, he said, were like the sibylline leaves-the fewer they became the more precious they were. On the return to Oak Hill another of Monroe's guests said to Mr. Adams: "Excuse the impertinence, but would you not tell me what inspired the beautiful sentiment of your toast to-

"Why," replied Mr. Adams, "it was suggested this morning by the picture of the sibyl that hangs in the hall of the Oak Hill mansion."

"How strange!" remarked the less brilliant guest. "I have looked at that picture many times during the past years, and that thought never occurred to me."

Quick Witted.

A number of years ago, when the then Chicago Record was placing its foreign correspondents, George Ade was sent abroad by Victor F. Lawson for the purpose of selecting the best men he could find. Ade did all right until he got into Servia. There he found all the newspaper men in jail for political offenses. He was in a quandary, so he cabled to Mr. Lawson: "Newspaper men all in jail. Press censor very strict." Lawson promptly cabled back: "Make press censor correspondent." And Ade did it.

LORIMER ACQUITTED SAVED FROM DEATH AT SEA

SENATOR IS CLEARED OF BRI-BERY BY U. S. SENATE PROBERS.

REPORT IS MADE UNANIMOUS

It Now Goes to Full Committee and Later to Upper House for Ratification-Allegations Are Unsustained by Testimony.

Washington.-The subcommittee of the congressional committee on election which investigated charges of bribery in the election of Senator William Lorimer Monday unanimously voted to report to the committee on elections that the charges were without

The committee took up the evidence in its entirety at an executive session. It canvassed the testimony, weighed the evidence and the arguments and took into consideration all of the facts that have been advanced in connection with the charges concerning Lorimer's election and decided there had been shown no foundation for the charges that bribery had entered into the case in connection with Mr. Lorimer's election.

The motion finally was offered to report to the full committee of the senate that the charges had not been proved. On this motion there was no dissenting vote in the subcommittee. Following this action the subcommittee's report will be prepared for the full committee at once, and the report will be sent to the senate within a short time.

The charge that Senator Lorimer had purchased his seat in the United States senate was first made publicly when the confession of Charles A. White, a member of the Illinois legislature from O'Fallon, was published on April 30, 1910. The names of Robert E. Wilson, Lee O'Neil Browne, H. J. C. Beckemeyer and Michael Link were mentioned as having been involved in the purchase of the senatorial toga. White confessed that he had been paid $1,000 for his Lorimer vote by Lee O'Neil Browne, the minority leader in Springfield. White himself was a Democrat, and Senator Lorimer had been elected by a combination of Democrats and Republicans.

Immediately after the publication of the story all the legislators involved were summoned to the state's attorney's office in Chicago. Under a grilling examination lasting several days and under the threats of prosecution on perjury charges, confessions of the truth of White's charges were gotten from Link and Beckemeyer. An indictment was returned at once in Cook county charging Lee O'Neil Browne with bribery, and another indictment was returned in Sangamon county carrying a similar charge against State Senator John Broderick

Robert E. Wilson was also indicted for bribery and Joseph Clark of Vandalia was indicted on a charge of perjury, he having denied receiving any portion of the money alleged to have been paid him for the Lorimer vote. The indictments against Broderick. Wilson and Clark are still pending in Cook and Sangamon counties.

Lee O'Neil Browne was tried twice in the criminal court of Cook county. The first time the jury disagreed and the second jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

JUSTICE WHITE NOW CHIEF

Louisiana Man Is Confirmed as Head of the United States Supreme Court.

Washington .- President Taft Monday sent to the senate the nomination of Associate Justice Edward Douglass White to be chief justice of the United States Supreme court and the senate immediately confirmed it. The president also sent in the following nominations: To be associate justices of the United States Supreme court, Judge Willis Van Devanter of Wyoming and Judge Joseph Rucker Lamar of Georgia.

To be judges of the new Court of Commerce:

Martin A. Knapp, now chairman of the interstate commerce commission, for a term of five years.

Robert W. Archbald, now United States District judge for the middle district of Pennsylvania, term of four vears. William H. Hunt, now a judge of the Court of Customs Appeals, formerly United States District judge of the district of Montana, term of three

PASSENGERS AND CREW OF WRECKED STEAMER SAFE.

One Hundred and Six Persons Are Taken from Olympia in Safety by Relief Boats.

Valdez, Alaska. - All the 106 persons on the Alaska Steamship company's steamship Olympic, which went on the rocks at Blight island, Prince William sound, Saturday night, were taken off the ship, together with the mails and baggage, and were conveyed to Valdez and Ellemar.

The Olympic left Cordova after unloading a large quantity of coal in her afterhold and soon ran into a fierce gale. The empty stern stood too high out of the water, and in the tempest the ship became unmanageable and was spun about by the wind. About midnight she went hard and fast on the Blight island reef.

Wireless Operator Hayes sent out the distress call, which was picked up at Cordova and Valdez, and also gave as much information of the wreck as he could, for the water soon put out the fires and made the wireless unworkable. The government launch Donaldson from Fort Liscum and the steamship Juno left at once for Blight island and took off the passengers without mishap to any of them. The crew also was saved.

It is hoped to save the freight on the Olympic, but it is feared the vessel will be a total loss. A rock pierced the ship's hold. The vessel was valued at $250,000 the cargo at $50,000.

CUMMINS HITS TARIFF LAW

Begins Contest for Change in Rules to Permit Revision Schedule by Schedule.

Washington .- Contending that the present tariff law imposes excessive duties and that the country at large demands its amendment, Senator Cummins of Iowa delivered a speech in the senate Tuesday in advocacy of his resolution limiting the power of amendment of bills dealing with the separate schedules of the law. The speech was the first attack of the session on the Payne-Aldrich law, and it precipitated a general discussion in which Senators Aldrich, Hale, Lodge and Carter took part.

Declaring then that under existing parliamentary usage in the house and senate the amendment of a tariff law is out of the question, he contended that the first step to be taken was the modification of the rules so as to render it possible to amend an individual provision of the tariff law without taking up the entire tariff

"The real issue." he said. "is whether we shall so amend our rules as to permit the amendment of the law, schedule for schedule."

Senator Aldrich expressed concurrence with the Iowa senator.

"I think," said the Rhode Island member, "that we are all agreed that it is desirable to take up the tariff by subjects, not by schedules."

He expressed doubt, however, as to the adequacy of the Cummins amendment to accomplish this result, contending that the adoption of the resolution would have the effect of curtailing the constitutional power of the house to originate tariff legislation.

Senator Heyburn would not give assent to the proposition that all Republicans are agreed to the policy of piecemeal tariff revision; he advocated the protective policy and declined to be committed to any other policy.

"After an experience with five tariffs, I believe that some way should be devised for the amendment of tariff laws without entering into a general revision," said Senator Lodge, planting himself squarely on Senator Cummins' side.

Senator Aldrich thought there might be concurrence on the part of the two houses, but he did not accept the theory that the question could be dealt with by joint legislation.

National Civic Federation Meets to Discuss Trusts, Railroads and Other Matters.

New York. - President Seth Low called to order the eleventh annual meeting of the National Civic Federation and made a brief opening address in which he outlined the matters that would engage the attention of the body during the three days it will be in session. The most important of the topics that will be considered are: Regulation of corporations and combinations, regulation of railroads and municipal utilities, compensation for industrial accidents, and arbitration and conciliation. The federation has been organizing councils in every state in the Union, composed of representative business and professional men, and delegates from these councils are attending the meeting. There will be also special meetings of the various departments of the federation.

Connecticut's New Executive Refuses to Sit at Same Table With Former President-Latter Is Greeted With Hearty Cheers.

New Haven, Conn. - Gov. Elect Simeon E. Baldwin was not present Tuesday evening at the annual banquet of the New Haven chamber of commerce for the reason that he had refused to sit at the same table with Theodore Roosevelt.

Till the last, however, the governor refused to tell whether or not he would attend the banquet and there were a few of the diners who felt confident that Judge Baldwin would put in an eleventh hour appearance at the banquet hall.

Officials of the chamber here, however, had been notified. Neither they nor Judge Baldwin wished it known that he had refused to attend the banquet because any definite announcement of such action by him would have resulted in a stampede by the Democratic members of the chamber and so many of them would have followed the governor in refusing to attend that the banquet would have been a fizzle.

There were 700 present when Colonel Roosevelt entered the Yale dining hall, where the feasting was held. Colonel Roosevelt was greeted with cheers when he arose to speak. "It seems to me that nothing could be a better augury of the future of this country," he said, "than that a Republican president should appoint an ex-Confederate of opposite political faith chief justice of the United States and receive unanimous applause of his countrymen. "With your permission I shall propose two toasts: First, to President Taft, and second, to that learned jurist, Chief Justice White."

After the toasts had been drunk Colonel Roosevelt spoke along lines of his speeches made in the west. He said he wished to see the hand of the state and nation placed on the great corporations, to regulate them, but added that the corporations should be treated with an exact measure of Washington. - In his annual report sent to congress Monday, Attorney General Wickersham shows that more than $6,000,000 either has been collected by the government or is involved in judgment cases against firms and individuals for smuggling and under-valuation of imports. He promises a continuance of the investigation now in progress and believes more indictments for customs frauds will follow.

There have already been fifty-eight convictions in the southern part of New York, says he, and at least a score more indictments will be found. In this same connection the attorneygeneral asks congress to pass a law forbidding revenue men from accepting perquisites from importers and another law granting immunity to accused persons who turn state's evidence and assist the government in the prosecution of others. It is also demanded that a heavier penalty be placed upon the statute books for importing firms which refuse to show their books upon the request of the collector of any port in the United States. The present penalty is a $100

The attorney-general briefly reviews three of the most important cases ever brought before the United States Supreme Court, all of which are now pending. They are the suits to dissolve the Standard Oil Trust and the American Tobacco company-the "tobacco trust"-and the suit to determine the constitutionality of the corporation tax law. All these arguments will be presented in January. Mr. Wickersham wants the salaries of the federal judges raised and intimates that the government could do better work in the prosecution of trusts if higher fees were paid its attorneys. He points out that corporations are noted for the big sums they pay their counsel.

President Taft granted one hundred and eleven pardons during the year. Only one woman was committed to a federal penitentiary although nineteen women were sent to state prisons. The number of men sent to federal and state penitentiaries were 1,183.

After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. How the Great Actor Watched the Law Makers at Work and Guessed Their Characters With Remarkable Accuracy.

Sir Henry Irving first appeared on the American stage in 1833. Not long after his debut as Mathias, in "The Bells," I had the pleasure of meeting the great English actor-manager at a little breakfast in Washington. During the course of the meal he asked if I could take him into the house of representatives, then in session.

As soon as he was seated he became inplace on the floor of the house. As tensely interested in the proceedings upon the floor. At first he scanned the whole house, seeming to take it in with one broad sweep of the eye. Then his attention became fixed upon one member and he sat silently observing him for perhaps five minutes. Sir Henry thought a moment. "I should think he would be more accurately described as 'Sunrise,' " he said blandly.

A moment later the great actor's at tention was held by a man round "I should like very much to make whom were gathered four or five of apparently speaking, in some excitement, about a measure before the

"I cannot quite fathom that man's intellect," he said at last; "apparently, he is lethargic, physically, yet of wonderfully keen intellectual powers. But what interests me in him is the fact that his head is a perfect copy, in contour, of the head of Shakespeare. The similarity is marvelous. I have never seen any other head so closely approach in its characteristics the best bust that we have of Shakespeare. Is he a leader in this body? He should be with such a head. ### THRESHING RETURNS FROM WESTERN CANADA.

They Reveal Larger Averages of Wheat and Oats Than Anticipated. The returns from the grain fields of Western Canada as revealed by the work of the Threshers, show much larger yields than were expected as the crop was ripening. It is a little early yet to give an estimate of the crop as a whole, but individual yields selected from various points throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta show that the farmers there as a thereafter he sat in silent observation rule have had reason to be thankful over the results. Excellent yields are reported from many portions of Manitoba and a large district of Saskatchewan has turned out well, while the central portion of Alberta is splendid. There will be shown at the land exposition at St. Louis a sample of the Marque's wheat-a new variety and one that appears to be well adapted to the soil and climate of Western Canada-that yielded 53 bushels to the acre. The exhibit and statement will be supported by affidavits from the growers. This wheat weighs well, and being a hard variety will find a ready market at the highest prices obtainable for a first-class article. It is men in public life today, and his name interesting to point out that a field of one hundred acres of this wheat would give its producers 5,300 bushels. Sold at 85 cents a bushel would give him $45 an acre. Counting all the cost of interest on land at $20 an acre, getting the land ready for crop. Seed sowing, harvesting and marketing, the entire cost of production would not exceed $8 an acre, leaving the handsome net profit of $37 an acre. Is there any crop that would yield a better return than this, with the same labor and initial expense? Cotton fields will not do it, apple orchards with their great expense of cultivation and the risk to run from the various enemies of the fruit cannot begin to do it. While what is considered an exceptional case just now is presented, there is no doubt that this Cornelius Vanderbilt Showed in His "He was very shy, and modest almost man's experience may be duplicated to a fault. The social conditions are splendid, the cllmate is excellent, and there is every condition to make the settler satisfied. At the farming congress, held at Spokane in October, wheat shown by the Alberta Government, took the silver cup, awarded by the Governor of the State. It completely outclassed all other specimens on exhibition, and it was but an ordinary selection, hundreds of fields in Alberta and Saskatchewan being able to duplicate it. Nevada Senator Declared That Alaska Would Be Found to Be One of the World's Principal Sources of the Yellow Metal.

From the time, in August, 1875, when he became chairman of the monetary commission provided by joint resolution of congress to examine and report upon the question of bimetallism, until the silver issue passed off the political stage, John P. Jones, Nevada member of the United States senate for 30 years, beginning in 1873, was one of the foremost champions of bimetallism in this country. His desertion of the Republican party in 1896 on the silver question is historic; likewise his return to it four years later. About a year after the 1896 presidential campaign had been decided in favor of William McKinley and the gold standard I met Senator Jones, and in the course of the conversation said to him: "I have heard it said, Senator, that you have changed your opinion respecting the use of silver as a money metal, and I have been wondering whether that report is correct."

"I will tell you about that as we walk along," he said, and took my arm. "I have not changed my opinion respecting the expediency of using silver as a money metal-at least, the opinion I held when I advocated bimetallism. But conditions have changed lately, as they changed following the discovery of gold in California. Before that discovery, the silver dollar was really the standard, and the ratio between gold and silver was strongly in favor of silver. Two factors have served to bring about the present change. One is the discovery of a process by which very low grade gold ore can be profitably worked, and the other is the vast development of gold mining in South Africa and the United States. These factors have served to give us more of the gold than we had at the time I was advocating bimetallism."

"I have heard it said. Senator." I interrupted, "that your changed opinion might be traced to the fact that you are interested in a gold mine near Sitka, Alaska."

The man who had been superintendent and part owner of the famous "Crown Point" silver mine, which eventually brought him a large fortune, smiled.

"Oh, no, that statement is not correct," he said, "though I am interested in a gold mine near Sitka, which, while it is not a very large one, is rich in ore. But I will tell you something in regard to this gold mine of mine that I believe to be as true as that I am talking and walk-'g with you this minute. That mine, aloud."

sir, is significant of what is in store for Alaska. No experienced prospector could be found who would say Sitka is merely an isolated outcropping of gold. No, sir. It indicates the presence of vast and rich deposits of gold somewhere, although the outcroppings may not be found within a hundred or several hundred miles of the mine."

The senator stopped in his walk. He turned until he faced in a northwesterly direction. He raised his right hand and pointed impressively in the direction.

"Up there, in the remote northwest," he said, "we are going to find mountain basin. I am perfectly con- istically gentle manner, he ventured vinced of it. #### TAX REFORM

Mining Journal: Our Michigan grangers are shown by the federal census to be working 206,376 farms of which the value, including the buildings, is estimated at the modest sum of $897, 057,000. Exact figures on what these Michigan farms are on the assessment rolls for are not available, but it is probably somewhere between a third and half of this amount, though possibly even less than a third. When it is reflected that the entire assessed valuation for the state is not much more than twice the the figure which the federal census bureau announces as the value of farm property in Michigan it is evident that this class of property Officer-Have you any profession by cannot be very severely dealt with by the tax assessors.
