U. S. Eyes Atom Subs For NATO

WASHINGTON (AP) — A message to President Kennedy from President Charles de Gaulle of France appeared today to open the way for detailed exploratory talks on formation of a NATO striking force armed with Polaris nuclear missiles.

De Gaulle's answer is expected to be discussed Saturday at Palm Beach, Fla., when Kennedy confers with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Thomas K. Finletter, the President's representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Thursday night they would talk about "NATO problems."

The prospects for creation of a Polaris missile force for NATO are not rated very high at present. But U.S. officials said that De Gaulle's message was at least not discouraging and the project which was launched last month in the Nassau conference is therefore over its first hurdle.

De Gaulle is reported to have told Kennedy that the Nassau plan raised many questions which will take considerable time to study and discuss. He reaffirmed France's present policy of developing a national nuclear striking force. But he did not reject the Nassau proposal and the way therefore is open, officials said, for U.S.-French talks as well as U.S.-British talks and for consultation within the NATO council in Paris.

U.S. officials are uncertain about how the NATO proposal will work out because of the vast array of unsolved problems which must be dealt with before there are any concrete results.

France, for example, does not have submarines capable of launching nuclear missiles nor does France have nuclear warheads which could be fitted to Polaris.

Continued U.P. Forest Jobs, Bennett Asks

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (Special to The Mining Journal) — John B. Bennett, Ontonagon, Mich., 12th District Congressman, announced this morning that he has requested President Kennedy to instruct the secretary of commerce and agriculture to make an immediate allocation of public works funds for continuation of work in the Ottawa National Forest in the western Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Congressman Bennett said the jobs of more than 600 people are at stake. "These men have had their unemployment compensation benefits exhausted and for the most part are on direct relief," he said.

Supported Emergency Program

Rep. Bennett told the President that he had supported the emergency public works program when it passed Congress last fall "with the positive assurance that areas of serious unemployment like the Upper Peninsula would receive first priority in the distribution of funds."

"Congress has appropriated ample funds for the continuation of this and similar projects," the Congressman stated, "and I hope the President will act promptly on this urgent request."

32 Peasants On Way Back To Siberia

MOSCOW (AP) — The 32 Siberian Christians who sought refuge in the American Embassy are now on their way back to Siberia, a Soviet government spokesman said today.

"They went sightseeing in Moscow Thursday afternoon," he said, "and in the evening they boarded a train which will take them back to where they came from."

Asked if they would get their old jobs back, the spokesman only repeated: "They are going back to where they came from."

The U.S. Embassy said the Soviet Foreign Ministry gave it a firm commitment that the Siberians would get good treatment and the embassy would be advised about the handling of the case.

The Siberians—six men, 12 women and 14 children—pushed aside Soviet police guards Thursday morning and invaded the embassy. They tearfully told American officials they were being persecuted for their religious beliefs and asked the Americans to help them get out of the Soviet Union.

The Americans patiently explained they were powerless to help. The Siberians, from peasant families, refused to budge, so Soviet authorities were notified.

Authorities arrived with a bus and finally, after arguing and pleading, got them all aboard the bus.

The peasants came from Chernogorsk, a coal mining region about 2,100 miles east of Moscow. They described themselves as Evangelical Christians, a small sect which they said does not recognize state authority.

Extra Plate Has Message

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — A clerk at a state department of motor vehicles office opened a package Thursday, expecting to find two new California license plates inside. Instead he found three.

Perfectly impressed on the extra plate—in place of the usual combination of three letters and three numbers—was a six-letter message apparently conceived by a droll convict at Folsom Prison, where the plates are made.

It said: "YOU BUM."

Tshombe Seeks To Negotiate

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katangan President Moise Tshombe was reported today making a new bid for negotiations as U.N. combat forces prepared to close in on the remnants of his resistance forces at Kolwezi.

But if there are no negotiations and U.N. troops continue advancing, Tshombe declared in an interview, "We shall fight to the end. If Kolwezi falls, then we will fight in the bush."

Tshombe was interviewed by Kolwezi by Adrian Porter of The Associated Press and a Belgian newsman as U.N. Indian, Irish and Ethiopian troops chased dwindling Katangan forces out of Jadotville without a fight.

A rearguard of Tshombe's gendarmes and white mercenaries fled in automobiles seized from civilians, yielding the important copper and cobalt producing center which they had threatened to defend street by street.

The victory left U.N. forces in control of up to three-fourths of Katanga's ore-producing facilities. Tshombe left Jadotville earlier with the main body of Katangans and set up the remnants of his government in Kolwezi, 150 miles northwest of his former capital of Elisabethville and 80 miles beyond Jadotville.

"I hear that (U.N. Secretary-General) U Thant wants me to start negotiations," Tshombe said. "I am disposed to do so."

Waiting In Vain

He said he had been waiting in vain for a U.N. plane to pick him up to return to Elisabethville for talks and also for word from the American and British consuls in Elisabethville guaranteeing his safety.

There was no indication here on what Tshombe based his statement that Thant wished negotiations. The secretary-general on Wednesday rejected Tshombe's condition for talks — a cease-fire on the Jadotville road and the consular escort — and said the time was past for negotiations. He said Tshombe must now indicate by actions, not words, willingness to cooperate in U.N. plans for the Congo's unification.

The only discussions now required, Thant said, involved technical questions.

The general manager of the Union Miniere installations, which process a third of Katanga's copper and two-thirds of its cobalt, said it would take several months to get the plant going again.

The manager, Joseph Derriks, 50, a Belgian, said Katangan gendarmes had forced his workers to remove a vital piece of electrical equipment and had blown up installations in some of the processing factories.

Pay Increase Sought For Servicemen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration will ask Congress to raise the pay of active duty servicemen and reservists an average of 14.4 per cent.

The estimated annual cost of the proposed pay increase is about $1.75 billion. About four million persons would get the boost.

President Kennedy has given his approval to the plan, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Thursday. It will be submitted to Congress this month.

The estimated cost is large, McNamara said "but I believe it to be fully justified."

Capitol Hill Cautions

"Remote and isolated duty" pay for both officers and enlisted men would be substituted for "sea and foreign duty pay." The re-enlistment bonus for enlisted men the military wants to keep because of special skills would give way to a variable career incentive pay. The retirement pay system would be based on cost-of-living changes instead of merely on length of service.

The first reaction from Capitol Hill was cautious.

Heavy Fighting In S. Viet Nam

Yanks Blame Bad Security For Ambush

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. military authorities said today the ambush by Communist guerrillas of a helicopter-borne force of South Vietnamese troops indicates intelligence security — one of the basic problems of that war—still is unsolved.

As many as 600 Communist Viet Cong guerrillas were reported to have lain in wait for the South Vietnamese, who came in on the battlefield southwest of Saigon two days ago in U.S. Army helicopters.

The Viet Cong opened fire on the fourth wave of helicopters, according to reports received here, and inflicted heavy casualties on the South Vietnamese while shooting down five of the 15 choppers. Three Americans have been listed as killed in the action and six wounded not seriously.

The Army is preparing for the White House a report on helicopter losses in Viet Nam.

Army officers said that the objective of the mission obviously was tipped off to the Communists.

Key To Success

These officers said both sides in the bitter South Vietnamese war tried to penetrate each other's ranks with intelligence agents.

The key to success in the helicopter strikes against the elusive Viet Cong is surprise, and this obviously was lacking in the big fight near the Mekong River.

Some officials said one lesson this action may teach is the need for newer transport helicopters equipped with effective weapons.

Not Built For Armament

The 10 troop carriers used in the attack are not built for armament, although some craft of this type have been fitted with machineguns which fire out the side doors in what experts say is an unsatisfactory manner.

Romney Eyes Race Equality

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney told the Metropolitan Conference on Open Occupancy Thursday he would use the power of the State to bring equality in housing to Michigan.

He stressed repeatedly that the decision to treat all men equally is an individual responsibility, a matter of spiritual and moral ethics.

"I believe there is a sufficiently broad acceptance of equality in housing, education and employment to permit appropriate action in some areas of state legislation," he said.

German Border Guards Nab Would-Be Refugee

BERLIN (AP) — East German border guards today captured a would-be refugee who got tangled in the barbed wire guarding the Communist wall through West Berlin.

Ostensibly, the 10,000-word editorial in the Peking People's Daily of Dec. 31 is a response to statements of the recent Italian Communist party by Red boss Palmiro Togliatti. But the Soviet premier is the target. He is not mentioned by name. But the editorial repeatedly lambastes "some people."

Seek Own Blast

The Chinese themselves are believed working to produce an explosion that will vault them into the nuclear weapon club. Until they do, the U.S.S.R. is the only power which can use the weapon as a lever to force Red expansion.

What should be done, in the Peking view?

In a mass of Communist double-talk, the editorial lays down recommendations.

"U.S. imperialism," says the editorial, "is doing its utmost to disseminate dread of nuclear weapons in pursuit of a policy of nuclear blackmail."

Telstar Back In Action After 'Sick Leave'

NEW YORK (AP) — Telstar went back into action today transmitting television programs across the Atlantic, its radiation sickness overcome by a kind of electronic aspirin.

The communications satellite had been out of operation for six weeks.

Engineers of the Bell Telephone laboratories diagnosed the trouble, blamed on radiation, and found a way to restore normal operation.

Electrical Fever

In essence, one translator in Telstar's command decoder was running electrical fever, refusing to act on command.

The remedy was a trick code which cut off the electrical fever, not unlike an aspirin.

For 11 minutes today, Telstar transmitted a television dedication of its ailments and remedy from a panel of engineers in New York. Then French and British stations transmitted their congratulations via the satellite.

'Good As Ever'

"The pictures seem as good as ever they were," said A. H. Mumford, of the British post office. "It is a wonderful achievement. In some respects almost more wonderful than the original launching. We look forward to continued success."

2nd Setback Reported By Vietnamese

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Heavy fighting between government forces and the Viet Cong Communists was reported today from the area of Wednesday's bloody government defeat.

Two government dead and 12 wounded were evacuated from the Mekong Delta sector about six miles northwest of Tan Hiep. But there was no immediate indication of how the renewed battle was going.

Committed To Battle

Reports earlier said government forces flushed out an estimated 200 Communist guerrillas a few miles from the scene of Wednesday's battle. American sources said all South Vietnamese forces in the area were being committed to the battle.

Apparently all American advisers in the area moved in with the government units to assist in trapping the guerrillas who on Wednesday smashed an attacking force and killed 65 Vietnamese troops and three Americans.

101 Reds Killed

The government claimed that 101 Viet Cong were killed in the engagement Wednesday.

The Saigon government today disclosed a second major setback this week. It said 30 Vietnamese troops were killed and 26 Vietnamese and one American were wounded in a Viet Cong attack New Year's Day on a special forces training camp near Pleiku, 250 miles north of Saigon.

No Contact

About 100 guerrillas smashed into the camp, apparently forcing it and seizing weapons. Sources in Pleiku said government forces were pursuing the Communists but so far had not made any contact with them.

Strike Starts, Operations Stop At Cliffs Dow

Marquette's largest industrial plant was idle today as the strike by union employees of the Cliffs Dow Chemical Co. began as scheduled at midnight last night.

The strike decision, disclosed yesterday by Lawrence Lanco, 306 Fitch Ave., president of Local 14522, United Mine Workers of America, was made at a vote of the union last Thursday and Friday in the Union Hall, S. Front St. The difference stems primarily over a wage increase proposal.

All shipments by Cliffs Dow have been terminated and the company is making no attempt to dispatch any shipments and does not plan to do so during the strike, according to R. W. Jenner, Cliffs Dow president.

All operations at the plant, which had employed around 300 at the start of the strike but which in peak operations employs around 400, have ceased.

Both sides said no negotiation meetings are scheduled.

It also was disclosed that James Despins, Green Bay, of the United States Mediation Service, and Carl York, Escanaba, of the Michigan Mediation Service, attended the last two negotiation sessions, held last week.

Union officials said the company has offered a two cents per hour wage increase and an additional one cent in fringe benefits. The union said it originally asked a boost of 15 cents per hour, but had reduced its request to five cents per hour.

Pickets began patrolling the Dow plant immediately after the strike began. Up to this morning everything was reported as being orderly at the plant.

"We are maintaining a picket line at the gate and everything has been on the peaceful side," Lanco said.

Lanco also reported that Thomas R. Bush, Sault Ste. Marie, representative for District 50 of the UMW, assisted by Earl Neely, Cadillac, regional director for the UMW, participated in recent negotiation sessions. They were scheduled to return here later in the day.

Cliffs Dow is Marquette's largest industry, with Lake Shore, Inc., employing the second largest number, 200.

Cliffs Dow is the largest single producer of charcoal, charcoal briquettes and wood distillation chemicals in the United States.

Salaried and supervisory personnel are working, however, and the union is permitting operations for the boiler plant to work in order to maintain steam pressure.

Jenner said the company is ready to meet with the union representatives "at any time they request."

Mediators Were Here

Lanco said that while no meetings had been scheduled, he hoped there would be some soon. "We are willing to meet, if the company has something to offer," he added.

Leslie McMahon Dies Of Burns Suffered At Logging Camp

Leslie Irving McMahon, 47, of 1672 Erie St., Marquette Township, died around 1:30 this morning in the Francis A. Bell Memorial Hospital, Ishpeming, of severe burns suffered at a logging camp Dec. 27.

Mr. McMahon was severely burned about his entire body when an oil space heater exploded in a home-made house trailer at the Ahonen Lumber Co. camp in Champion Township.

Another Hears Explosion

The explosion occurred around 4 that morning and the victim had been taken to Bell Hospital by John D. Ahonen, Marquette, and Walter Sundquist, Crystal Falls, other employees at the camp.

State police said Mr. McMahon had gotten up when he heard a rumbling noise in the stove and was turning the damper when the stove exploded.

Ahonen, sleeping in a building about 20 feet from the trailer, awoke and summoned Sundquist, the two of them finding Mr. McMahon lying on the bottom bunk near the back of the trailer. They first had smothered the flames with snow. Officers stated that he had suffered burns on about 75 per cent of his body.

Mr. McMahon was born Jan. 11, 1915, in Kalkaska, and had resided most of his life in Marquette.

Planning Unit Says Community Center 'Badly Needed' Here

Functions which could be served by a proposed community building were brought forth last night at a meeting of the Marquette Area Planning Commission in the city hall.

In informal discussion, planning commission members called the proposed community center "badly needed" in the city.

Max Putters, representative of the Area's urban planning firm, Villacian-Leman and Associates,

Inc., Southfield, reported that he had offered the assistance of the planning firm in determining needs and possible locations of a community center.

Suggested By Shiras Institute

The Shiras Institute has proposed that 25 per cent of the cost would be paid by the Shiras group, 23 per cent by the city and 50 per cent by the federal government.

The proposal calls for a building which would be used for general community needs and double as a teen-age recreation center.

ity building being planned in another Michigan city.

This community center, being planned for a city with a population of 40,000, includes an all-purpose room which could be used for indoor recreation, with a stage, snack bar and kitchen; four club rooms; a senior citizens' room; craft rooms such as a woodworking shop, sewing room and photography room; a game room for playing cards and ping pong, and a locker room, showers and steam bath.

Putters pointed out that if the city forces the need of a civic center, a center could be built in connection with the proposed community building.

A civic center might include a museum, library, auditorium and community hall, although the needs vary according to the community, he said.

Mrs. Saul, Stricken At Home, Dies

Mrs. Kenneth (Wilma) Saul, 32, Harvey, died at 5:45 yesterday afternoon, shortly after being admitted to St. Mary's Hospital.

Officials said Mrs. Saul was stricken around 4 p.m. in her residence and taken to St. Mary's in the city ambulance.

Pallbearers will be Les Holm, Richard Fox, William Makl, Joseph McCarthy, Robert Hoppe and Richard Zambon.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning this evening.

Planning commission members noted that there is no question that a community building could be used by organizations and individuals from all age groups.

Facilities Often Scarce

Although there are facilities for community groups and organizations located in Marquette, these facilities, such as school and college gymnasiums, auditoriums and meeting rooms, often are not available, Putters noted.

The facilities are often in official use when groups and organizations would like to use them, he pointed out.

Locations Scattered

Putters added that the locations of facilities are scattered throughout the city and that there is a question of liability when the premises are used by other groups.

As an illustration of what a community building might include, Charles Leman of the Villacian-Leman firm, reported on a commun-

Membership Meet Of City's Chamber Scheduled For Jan. 23

Marquette's Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual membership dinner meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 23, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Marlan Larson, newly elected president of the chamber, who said the session will be held in the Northern Michigan College Student Center building, beginning at 6:45 in the evening.

The speaker will be much sought-after Harry Hall, Detroit, executive director of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, whose discussion on "Lead — But Not Be Led" has been considered one of the better platform efforts of the year.

"We are going to have a report program," promised Chamber President Larson, "that will be one of the highlights of the year."

Organization has been set up to bring in a reservation list of 500 persons for the dinner meeting and they will all be amply repaid with the program, Larson stated.

"We are fortunate in being able to get Mr. Hall as our speaker and we are going to be well treated to some outstanding report presentations," he added.

Ticket Drive

Jack Zeigler has been named in charge of ticket sales.

Invitations will go out shortly to all members of the chamber and their ladies, with a followup committee at work to nail down the 500-reservation goal.

Officers and directors of the chamber joined in an expression of appreciation for the cooperation extended by Northern in setting up annual meeting plans.

1,879 Gain In Phones For County; Directories Readied

Telephone directories for 1963 for Marquette and the Ishpeming-Negaunee areas, which will be distributed beginning tomorrow, contain a new customer convenience.

In all, 15,233 copies of the Marquette directory will be delivered this year and 9,230 of the Ishpeming-Negaunee directory.

In the last year the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. gained 1,879 telephones in the county. Gwinn had the largest gain with 1,115, followed by Marquette with 593, Gwinn has now become the third largest telephone exchange in the county, Marquette being first and Ishpeming second.

In the front of the new directory, there's a list of area codes for 1300 communities in the U. S. and Canada, which studies have shown are called most often by Michigan telephone users.

Helps On Toll Calls

"These communities, with their respective area codes, are listed for the convenience of customers who place long distance calls through an operator," said John C. Gerling, manager - Public Relations, here for Michigan Bell.

"Such area codes identify a particular geographical area, and customers can use these area codes to help speed their long distance calls.

to other parts of Michigan and to other states."

Identified By Area Code

These 1,300 localities are only some of the 40,000 which now are identified by area code.

The new directory also contains many ANC (All-Number Calling) listings. About one telephone number in five is listed as just seven numbers—the new way of expressing telephone numbers without letters.

The number of telephones with ANC will increase annually until, within the next three-to-four years, all Michigan Bell telephones will be identified this way.

Exceptions

These exceptions are noted:

1. Other guests need not be named, if they have no business connection. IRS will spell out, in a future regulation, how to figure the deductible portion of the cost.
2. Company secrets or classified matters need not be told in the expense diary, so long as they are recorded and kept available to revenue agents on demand.
3. If there are a number of business guests, not all need to be named. A satisfactory entry might read like this: "June 10, 1963—Lunch, cocktails and tip, $62.50; Milford Cafe, Bridgeport; for T. L. Young, sales manager, Anchor Distributing Co., and his force of 8 salesmen; to discuss promotion of new line of luggage."

Advice

Since any single expenditure of $25 or more calls for a receipt or voucher, IRS has had to offer some advice on what constitutes one expenditure. These may be helpful:

A dinner followed by a theater party would be two expenditures. Two rounds of drinks in a cocktail lounge would be one expenditure, even if paid for separately.

Drinks in a cocktail lounge, followed by dinner in a dining room, would be two expenditures. Drinks and dinner at the dining table would be one expenditure.

The tip can be included in the charge for meal or drinks, for record-keeping purposes. But if this would put the bill over the $25 limit, the tip can be noted separately.

Nathan President To Attend UPCAP Meeting Here Jan. 12; Goals, Action To Be Studied

Robert R. Nathan, president of the firm of Robert R. Nathan Associates, will attend the quarterly meeting of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems (UPCAP) to be held in Marquette on Saturday, Jan. 12.

The announcement that Nathan will attend the session was made by Joseph S. Revis, senior economist of the Nathan firm and resident economist for the Nathan technical assistance program to the UPCAP group, who has an office in Escanaba.

Nathan will present a preliminary program of recommended goals and actions to the UPCAP delegates for their consideration as a guide to future action by the group.

UPCAP, a delegate organization representing county governments of the Upper Peninsula, is serving as a regional study and planning body to promote economic growth in the Peninsula and has as its goal immediate action to alleviate current unemployment and development of a program which will bring long-term economic health to the U. P.

To aid in this program, on the request of UPCAP under a grant from ARA, the firm of Nathan Associates, Inc. was chosen to set up a technical assistance program to provide UPCAP and its member counties with expert guidance in the programming and implementation of economic development over the next 18 months.

The firm, headed by Nathan, has been working for many years in the field of economic development as advisors and consultants to a wide variety of problems.

Long List Of Clients

It has served, among a long list of clients, many agencies of the United States Government, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the City of Philadelphia, and numerous foreign governments, including France, Korea, Burma, Afghanistan, and El Salvador. Assignments have been as broad as the development of economic plans and programs for entire countries, and as specific as location studies for particular plants.

Held Wartime Office

Nathan during the 1930s served as a consultant to the President's Committee on Economic Security as well as being chief of the national income division of the U. S. Department of Commerce from 1934 to 1940.

During the war he served as chairman of the Planning Committee (1942-43), served in the Army (1943), and in 1945 was deputy director of the War Mobilization and Reconversion.

Organized Firm In 1946

Since January 1946 he has headed up the firm of Nathan Associates, Inc., exercising supervision and general direction over all projects undertaken by the firm.

He has made many trips abroad to give direction and guidance to the services rendered for Burma, the United Nations Korean Reconstruction Agency, Israel, France, Colombia, El Salvador, Ghana, Iran, Afghanistan and Puerto Rico.

Nathan is also the author of many books and articles and is a member of the American Statistical Association, The American Economic Association, the District of Columbia Bar Association, American Veterans Committee, as well as others.

U.S. Alters Rule Book On 'Fun Living'

By STERLING F. GREEN WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Americans have raised their standard of living—and drinking and playing — by deducting personal outlays as business expenses.

But the government changed the rules as of Jan. 1 with an income tax regulation that demands solid substantiation of all claims for business entertainment, gifts and travel.

The spillover 87th Congress declared, in effect, that the Treasury will no longer absorb bar bills, supper club checks, greens fees or club dues unless the spender proves a business-getting purpose.

Great Abuses

In translating the law into a 33-page regulation, Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin of the Internal Revenue Service has struck with special force at what he called "great discrepancies and fraud" in business entertaining.

These 1,300 localities are only some of the 40,000 which now are identified by area code.

The new directory also contains many ANC (All-Number Calling) listings. About one telephone number in five is listed as just seven numbers—the new way of expressing telephone numbers without letters.

The number of telephones with ANC will increase annually until, within the next three-to-four years, all Michigan Bell telephones will be identified this way.

Northern Given $51,480 Grant For Institute

Northern Michigan College has received a $51,480 grant from the National Science Foundation to conduct a summer institute for junior and senior high school teachers of general science and mathematics.

The grant marks the sixth consecutive year that the National Science Foundation has awarded a grant to Northern in support of an institute for teachers of science and mathematics.

The institute will be under the direction of Dr. Roy E. Heath, professor of chemistry at Northern.

Forty teachers in grades seven through 12 will be selected for the eight-week institute which will be held from June 24 to Aug. 17.

Dr. Heath said each participant will receive a stipend of $600 plus dependency allowances. Credits earned in the institute may be applied toward a Master of Arts degree in teaching.

To be eligible for the institute, a teacher must have had at least three years experience teaching general science in junior and senior high school, have a minimum of 10 hours of teaching in the general science curriculum, and must not have received previous stipend support for past N.S.F. summer institutes in physical science or mathematics.

The major objectives of the institute will be to:

- Improve the competence of the participating teachers in the subject matter of science.
- Fill the gaps in the teacher's original training; to refresh his memory of ideas once learned, but not recently applied, and to broaden his understanding of fundamental concepts in science.
- To provide the teacher with varied laboratory experience in designing and constructing equipment, and demonstrating basic science concepts.
- To strengthen the foundation of general science teachers in biology and chemistry, plus certain areas of physics, space and earth science.

Application forms may be obtained by writing Dr. Heath, institute director, Northern.

Two Guess Exact Total In 'Tower Of Lights' Contest

Two persons guessed the exact number of lights in the "Tower of Lights" contest conducted by WDMJ, The Mining Journal radio station.

Determining the winners in this year's event was no easy task, according to station personnel. Thousands of entries had to be screened before the winners could be announced.

Anyone could enter the contest, in which participants guessed the number of lights used in the tower display, made in the form of a Christmas tree, which was set up atop The Mining Journal building on W. Washington St.

The display will remain atop the building for at least several more days, station personnel said.

Winners in the contest were Donald R. McInnis, 221 W. Ridge St., and Mrs. Robert E. LaCourse, 814 W. Kaye Ave., Marquette. They guessed the exact total, at 983 lights. In a drawing to determine which would get the first place money, McInnis won. $50 award and Mrs. LaCourse the second place prize, $25.

Four persons tied for third place, with guesses of 982. In the drawing for this prize, Mrs. Mary Fox, Box 283, Marquette, won the $10 award.

Station personnel said token prizes will be given to the consolation winners.

Two Pilots Parachute To Safety In Crash Of Sawyer T-33 Jet

Two pilots of a K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base T-33 jet trainer aircraft bailed to safety late yesterday afternoon when their plane "flamed out" and could not be re-started.

The plane crashed in a wooded area about two miles south of Gwin.

The pilots, Capt. Robert E. Cleveland, 30, Winter Haven, Fla., and Capt. Robert E. Ross, 28, Charleston, S.C., both of the Sault Ste. Marie Air Defense Sector, headquarters at Sawyer, were picked up within minutes after the crash by a Sawyer rescue helicopter.

Neither pilot was injured, base officials said.

Seen By Gwin Man

Anthony Minelli, Gwin, an eyewitness, led a ground convoy to the scene of the crash and the wreckage was discovered at 6 p.m., yesterday. No fire resulted from the crash, Sawyer spokesmen said.

When the decision was made that the plane could not be brought back to the base, the pilots turned it away from any inhabited area and bailed out at 3,000 feet, they added.

The plane cut a path in the woods 125 yards long and came to a halt 50 yards from the Escanaba River.

Was Hunting In Area

Minelli had been hunting in the area when he heard the plane in trouble. He hurried in to Gwin to notify police and was waiting in Gwin when the ground convoy arrived there from Sawyer.

A board of officers is investigating the cause of the crash.

The phrase, "flamed out," means the plane lost its jet flame. Attempts to re-ignite it failed,

Unwed Parents Held On Morals Charge In Big Rapids

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — The unwed parents of an infant girl were held in lieu of $1,000 bond each on a morals charge Thursday resulting from investigation into the child's death.

R. D. Deal, 50, and Betty Jane Fuller, 34, waived examination before Justice of the Peace Marvin West and were jailed pending a court appearance Jan. 17.

Big Rapids Police Chief Max Harroun said the 12-week-old girl, Sandra, was dead on arrival Tuesday at Community Hospital, a victim of shock, malnutrition and dehydration.

Civil Service Employees Can Be Fired

LANSING (AP) — Listed on page 13 — the unlucky number for somebody — is some handy advice in a little booklet State Civil Service will be sending to all new appointees named by Gov. Romney.

During his two years in office it is estimated Romney will name around 150 persons to administrative jobs.

They might have some problems with left-overs from the past 14 years of a Democratic administration. The new Republican boss of a state agency might think he is stuck with people he doesn't like and doesn't want.

Not So

He might think he couldn't fire them.

Why? Because they are protected by Civil Service.

Not so, Civil Service advises. Explains the booklet:

"Some people have the misconception that state agencies cannot fire undesirable employees. The fact is that in the last 21 years 5,819 civil service employees have been fired with only 945 appeals and 177 reinstatements by the Civil Service Commission..."

Resignations

It adds:

"There is little question that many times this number have been allowed to resign when faced with removal proceedings."

6 CPAs To Aid Romney Check On Spending

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney has named a group of six certified public accountants to help his new administration keep a close check on state spending.

Romney described it as a task force on expenditure management. He said it "should enable us to make certain we are rendering the maximum service possible with the least amount of money."

Monthly Balance Sheet

The accountants who are volunteering their services will make available to the Governor a monthly balance sheet and other management information on the state's financial position. It will not deal with policy.

Named to the force are Paul F. Ieraman, Ann Arbor, secretary; Mark B. Litter, John McEachern, Arthur P. Bartholomew Jr., and John J. Fox, Detroit; and Don Edwards, chairman of Michigan State University's department of accounting and finance.

City Woman Charged With Embezzlement

Mrs. Margaret B. Golliday, 34, of 824 High St., was bound over yesterday in Municipal Court to the February term of Marquette County Circuit Court by Judge Edward H. Dembowski on a charge of embezzlement.

Mrs. Golliday is charged with embezzling upwards of $5,000 from Jan. 1, 1962, through Dec. 10. The complaint was signed by her former employer, Dr. Raymond G. d'Adesky, Marquette. Investigation is being conducted by Sheriff Thomas A. Jernstad, Marquette.

Bond, set at $1,000, was posted and Mrs. Golliday was released from the Marquette County Jail. She had waived preliminary examination.

Junior Hostess Program For USO To Be Planned Tonight

Mrs. Vernon Bleckner, acting director of the Marquette County USO (United Service Organization), will meet tonight with representatives of county organizations at the chamber of commerce to plan a program of junior hostesses for the center.

The center will be open on a limited basis between the middle and the last of the month, Robley H. Morrison, Marquette, chairman of the county USO committee, said this morning.

Regular Schedule In February

The center will open on a regular schedule sometime in February, Morrison said. Hours will be from 7 to 10:45 p. m. Tuesday through Friday; from 10 a. m. to 10:45 p. m. on Saturday and from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Sunday.

Remodeling of the premises in the Guelff Building leased for the USO Center, is being conducted by Russell Peterson, Marquette contractor.

A lounge and a reception area, including an office and check room, will be located at the front of the center. A program area will be in the middle of the center and the rear of the premises will contain a kitchenette with a snack bar, storage space, a men's washroom and a women's washroom and powder room.

Morrison reported that partitions have been installed and furnished, most of which will be purchased by the national organization, has been ordered. Equipment, such as a refrigerator and stove, dishes and typewriters, is being purchased locally.

The remodeling project, exclusive of furnishings, will cost approximately $10,000. Funds are being provided by the national organization.

Major Property Damage Car Accidents On Increase Here

Marquette counted 389 traffic accidents in which more than $100 in damages resulted to one or more vehicles last year, Chief of Police Donald Hermanson reported today.

This represents an increase of 156 over the 233 accidents in this category in 1961.

In addition to these major property damage traffic accidents, Chief Hermanson said, there were another 427 accidents within the city limits in which damage to the vehicles was confined to less than $100. Thus, altogether the

11 Persons Pay $150 In Fines, Costs

Eleven persons were ordered to pay a total of $150.00 in fines and costs for traffic violations when they appeared before Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski.

Bartolomeo Mauro Jr., 20, Saginaw, was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and $5.10 costs by Jan. 11 for reckless driving.

City police arrested Mauro yesterday morning after a traffic mishap which occurred earlier in the morning at the intersection of Wright St. and Tracy Ave.

Fined On Second Charge

Officers, notified by another motorist, discovered Mauro's automobile lodged against a sign post at the northeast corner of the intersection.

Mauro was also ordered to pay an identical assessment ($25 and $5.10 costs) for failure to report a property damage accident.

Robert H. Skuggon, L'Anse, paid a fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs for making an improper left turn at the corner of W. Washington and Third Sts. He was ticketed by city police Dec. 19.

For failure to yield the right-of-way, Bryan A. Mattiello, 247 Rock St., was fined $6.30 and ordered to pay costs of $3.70. He was ticketed by city police Dec. 28 following an accident at the corner of Jackson and Champion Sts.

Wisconsin Lutherans Decline Bid

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod "finds it necessary most respectfully to decline" to participate with other major Lutheran bodies in planning a new cooperative agency, a spokesman said Thursday.

Pastor Oscar J. Naumann, president of the Wisconsin Synod, said in a letter to the presidents of the Missouri Synod, The Lutheran Church in America, and The American Lutheran Church that "we are not ready to surrender our own convictions concerning the requirements for joint worship and church work."

Proposal

The three larger groups, at separate conventions last year, approved a proposal to explore possibilities of forming a new Lutheran inter-church agency to succeed or replace the National Lutheran Council. The three, which represent an estimated 95 per cent of the 8.6 million Lutherans in the United States and Canada, agreed that all Lutheran groups should be invited to participate.

350,000 Members

Pastor Naumann said that the Wisconsin Synod, which has 350,000 members, would be willing to enter the discussions "if differences in doctrine and practice which separate the various Lutheran bodies are frankly acknowledged."

Guardsmen-Civil Employees OK For Retirement Pay

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Thursday that Michigan National Guardsmen serving dual roles as enlisted men and as full-time civilian employees are eligible for state employees' retirement benefits.

Kelley said such employees are eligible because their work for the National Guard may be properly defined as carrying out "a public purpose of the state."

The ruling applies to some 1,000 persons in administrative, maintenance and custodial jobs at National Guard installations in Michigan.

Heartening Change Sweeping Through Mental Hospitals

(EDITOR'S NOTE — New and encouraging treatments for the mentally ill today are replacing the centuries-old idea of hiding victims behind asylum walls. Here, in the first of five special reports, is a look at what's being done to heal those who run into emotional buzz saws.)

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Just before midnight one December evening, his emotional pain became too intense.

And so a middle-aged man exploded into a shouting volcano of rage, then surrendered to helpless sobbing.

New Kind Of Clinic

By taxi, his wife took him to a new kind of hospital clinic offering emergency first aid — 24 hours a day — for emotional injury, a kind of mental accident ward.

Across the city, worried parents discussed their son, a bright boy of 12 who was inexplicably failing in school, and decided to take him to a mental health clinic.

In a suburb, a family doctor arranged for a young mother to enter a nearby general hospital, where her mental illness would be treated as readily as the hospital treated physical sickness.

Two Things In Common

The man, the boy and the woman had two things in common.

Each had run into an emotional buzz saw, and it hurt.

But each lived in communities offering new or expanding facilities to treat, cure or prevent mental and emotional illnesses.

At the emergency clinic, the man of 50 was given a tranquilizer, and he talked with a psychiatrist, learning that his feelings of frustration and depression were not uncommon, taking the first step toward understanding and dealing with his problems.

Nation's No. 1 Disease

At the mental health clinic, specialists began helping the boy and his parents understand their own attitudes and family relationships which were prompting the boy into rebellion because he felt he was being treated unfairly.

At the general hospital, the young mother began treatment to overcome the deepening depression shattering her life. Having her family nearby would also aid her quicker return to health.

These are a few of the elements in a heartening change of climate regarding mental illness, the nation's No. 1 disease in number of victims.

More Public Interest

The change is sweeping through state mental hospitals. Once they were mainly dull, lock-away jails for "the insane." Today, the best hospitals are sending the vast majority of newly admitted patients back to home and health.

Generating the winds of change are drugs, intensive psychotherapy, increased hospital staffs, earlier treatment, a variety of new community facilities and more enlightened public understanding and interest. Now there are sound prospects for preventing much mental illness.

Pioneers are marking the way. But across the land, the record is spotty, with many states, counties and cities lagging behind.

Enormous Challenges

The challenges are enormous and a crisis looms unless far more widespread action is taken. Philip E. Ryan, executive director of the National Association for Mental Health, warns.

Mental patients fill half the nation's hospital beds. One in 10 Americans is mentally ill in mind to severe degree.

One survey indicates four out of five city dwellers have some symptoms of emotional disturbances, and the rate could be as high in rural areas. Ten per cent of public school children are estimated to be emotionally disturbed, in need of help.

Sources Of Trouble

The tempo and stresses of modern life may play a role.

What goes wrong?

Dr. William Menninger of the renowned Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kan., puts it this way:

Everyone sooner or later runs into some emotional buzz saw. And it's painful.

The trouble may involve job, marriage, family, school, a tragedy, approaching retirement, failure to achieve goals, something arousing fear, anxieties, doubts, anger, depression or other deep emotional reactions.

Many of us manage to handle these problems adapting and maintaining balance.

Slightly Out Of Focus

But millions become upset, seeing the world slightly out of focus. Many get ulcers or other physical pains and disease.

Many turn to drink, to drugs, to bizarre behavior, to angers, to circular worrying over the same old problems.

Other millions break down completely, retreating into some private world, with severe illness.

There is no single cause of mental illness, authorities agree.

Highest Recovery Rate

"None of us is always perfectly healthy mentally," Dr. Menninger says. "Each of us has emotional quirks and problems. We can only approach mental health, and then we run against a buzz saw, we aren't quite as mentally healthy as we were, and may again become."

Of all illnesses, says Dr. Menninger, mental illness has the highest recovery rate, with a big if — if the person receives prompt, skilled care.

William Howard Taft was the only ex-president of the United States to be sworn in as chief justice of the country.

High Cost Of Accidents

How much do traffic accidents in the City of Marquette cost over the period of a year? Perhaps it would be impossible to arrive at a figure that is accurate down to the last cent, but it is possible to come up with a pretty close estimate by using averages employed by the National Safety Council in its formula for computing the costs of traffic accidents.

The Marquette Police Department records show that there were 389 accidents in the city limits last year in which $100 or more damages resulted to one or more vehicles. There were two fatal traffic accidents during the year and an even 100 personal injury accidents (in which a total of 140 persons were injured).

The National Safety Council formula is based on expert estimates of average costs in actual damage, of average insurance costs and of average loss of earnings by persons killed or injured, plus economic losses to the community. According to this formula, fatal traffic accidents are assessed at $125,000, personal injury accidents at $1,250 and property damage accidents at $175. Using these averages, Marquette's traffic accident bill last year figures out to $425,575.

The estimated total is, of course, on the conservative side. It does not even take into consideration more than 400 other accidents that occurred in the city during the year but that involved damages of less than $100 to the vehicle or vehicles in the accident.

More importantly, though, the total of $425,575 includes no calculation of the costs in human suffering, heartaches, loss to children of a father or mother, loss of companionship, permanent injury or any of the other intangible consequences of traffic accidents. Who will estimate these, and how will he do it?

Marquette's accident rate in 1962 increased over the rate for 1961, reflecting a growth in traffic in the city and attendant problems. Some measures probably can be taken to counteract the tendency toward higher accident rates. Completion of the by-pass of Marquette may help reduce the number of accidents to some extent. An increase in the size of the traffic patrol force could bring about a decrease in traffic accident frequency.

But in the final analysis, the greatest single factor in reducing traffic accidents is the individual driver. Unless drivers are always conscious of the elements of safety whenever they are behind a wheel, there is little hope of any drastic reduction in the accident rate.

Marquette can improve on its 1962 traffic safety record, but it will take the cooperation of all drivers to do this.

Peninsula Perambulator

Ontonagon's Dan Dobbek, who knows his baseball, is learning how to manipulate skis on Porcupine Mountains State Park terrain these days, being careful, of course, not to suffer an injury that would delay his chances of rounding into shape for the 1963 season. An off-season resident of Minneapolis, Dobbek underwent a back operation late in 1961 and it's hampered his play in organized baseball. Now the property of the Cincinnati Reds, the one-time Ontonagon High School athlete played with the club's farm team in San Diego, Calif., in 1962, hitting 12 home runs during two months' play with the Padres. Tenderness of heart kept a Calumet family from enjoying a partridge dinner the other evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bracco were in their home when they heard a crash, not to suffer an injury that would delay his chances of rounding into shape for the 1963 season. Yens Petersen, a man who was reported by the United States Army as "killed in action" during World War I, has retired after 26 years' employment at the Escanaba paper mill. He has a reputation as "top machinist and top acetylene welder around the Upper Peninsula." Petersen was serving with the 327th Field Artillery in Europe when the "KIA" report was sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Petersen, in Gladstone. They received the message on the day of his brother's funeral. Two weeks later another brother died. Actually, Yens Petersen was shell-shocked and it was some time before he recovered.

Over the years, fire laddies at the Menominee fire station have been quite accommodating in performing tasks other than fighting fires. For instance, the pet cat of some nice old lady will get itself treed, which calls for a run with the aerial ladder to bring the animal back to earth. Then there's been a case or two of the "absent minded" man who locks himself out of his own second floor apartment, or the baby locked in the bathroom. But there's a limit to how far firemen can go in accommodating the public, according to Chief William L. Sporer. He reported that the other afternoon a well-dressed couple (whose identity was not learned) called at the fire house looking for a game of chess.

Carl R. Wickman, senior vice president of the State Bank of Escanaba and a banker in the institution for more than 50 years, has retired. He will be honored at a testimonial dinner by officers, directors and employees of the bank Jan. 14. 23 Buildings Available Now In Peninsula For Industrial Plants

Michigan's industrial vigor in the second half of 1962 is reflected in the winter edition of the Available Plant Summary, issued today by the Michigan Economic Development Department.

The report shows 2.4 million square feet of floor space was returned to productive use since the summer report was issued. Activity in the second half of the year was double the first six months of 1962 during which 1.2 million square feet of floor space was returned to use. This is a total of 3.6 million square feet for the year.

Bulk of the space returned to use in the second half was for industrial purposes. Of the total, 1.7 million square feet is now being used for industrial purposes. This is more than the entire amount put back into use in the first half of the year. Other uses in the second half were: Warehousing, 616,000 square feet; commercial, 52,000 square feet.

These figures do not reflect new construction of an estimated 2.3 million square feet for industrial purposes; 500,000 square feet for warehousing; and 1.4 million square feet for commercial purposes. This makes a grand total of 7.8 million square feet for the entire year.

281 Available Buildings
The winter edition of the Available Plant Summary shows 281 available buildings in 135 communities. This shows drops of 17 in the number of buildings and seven in the number of communities since the summer edition. There were 50 buildings added to the list in the last six months and 67 buildings in the summer edition have been deleted in the winter edition.

The Upper Peninsula has 23 available buildings, a drop of four from the 27 listed earlier. Two were added while six were deleted.

The Michigan Available Plant Summary is considered the most comprehensive of any such publication. About six thousand copies of each edition are mailed, a large portion of them to industrialists throughout the nation. Robert J. Byers, acting director of the Economic Development Department, said:

"The summary lists buildings particularly suited to industrial purposes. Some of them are not now in use because previous occupants required larger quarters to permit expansion. It is our sincere hope that these buildings will be put back into production and every effort will be made to bring them to the attention of new industries and industries expanding into Michigan. Further information on these buildings may be obtained by writing the Michigan Economic Development Department, Lansing, Mich."

Today's Special Story

New Year's Resolutions

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you made any good resolutions for 1963?

I have resolved not to get tattooed. Living has taught me that in the matter of good resolutions it pays to move slowly and carefully.

On the way to a place where I sometimes lunch, I pass the parlor — or perhaps den is the better word — of a tattoo artist. His window is full of brightly colored designs and fascinating photographs of his human needlework.

For 10 years, I have had a wild and unwholesome urge to go inside and have a favorite design tattooed on my forehead — the great ship Titanic sinking — in four vivid colors. The design naturally includes the iceberg which caused the ship to go down.

Other Factors
Each year I have resolved not to yield to temptation and let myself be tattooed in this manner. I credit my success so far to inherent strength of character, and two other factors:

My wife says the sight of any kind of shipwreck makes her nervous, and
Few companies would issue credit or lend money to a man with the sinking of the Titanic inscribed on his forehead, no matter how much a tattoo would enhance one's prestige at cocktail parties.

When 1964 dawns, my forehead will be disappointingly bare as ever, but I'll have the consolation of knowing that I kept my word to myself and carried out the good resolution I made.

Error Of Millions
At the risk of being smug, I'd like to point out the major error of millions of Americans today in the seasonal throes of trying to fulfill their good resolutions.

They go on too big a self-improvement binge.
"I'm going to give up smoking, drinking and overeating," says the man. "I'm going to take off 20 pounds and get more exercise."
"I'm going to get more sleep, and loaf less at the office. I'm going to be kinder to my wife and children, and quit kicking the neighbor's dog around. I'm going to—"

In three days he turns himself into a nervous wreck, and by the end of the week he has made everyone around him miserable, too.

Halfbetter Than None
The thing to do is to start with a small good resolution — the smaller the better — but then go ahead and keep it.

For example, why don't you, too, resolve to abstain from having the sinking of the Titanic tattooed on your forehead during 1963?

If the temptation becomes too irresistible, you can compromise by having it tattooed on your chest. You will still be a man of half-honor.

And half an honor is better than none.

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Congress may give the entire field of government insurance a going-over this session and, perhaps, tighten up the laws.

The three major questions are these:

1. Should the insurance limits in bank savings accounts be raised? The present $10,000 is low compared to the same limit when the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. first went into business. With inflation fast increasing the total a thrifty family may accumulate, the present ceiling is unrealistic.
The original limit was intended to spread savings, to divide the insured risk and to help along some of the smaller banks. But the limit today is forcing many savers to divide their savings among many banks.

2. Should savings and loan associations be subject to greater scrutiny by deposit insurers? And should the entire savings and loan controls be overhauled?
These questions arise from the great savings and loan scandal in Maryland, where many associations, lacking both federal and state effective supervision, failed. The losses were tremendous and few in government did not suffer, or did not have friends who underwent losses. Congressmen, many of whom have temporary homes in Maryland and most of whose staffs have first-hand knowledge of the ramifications of the manipulators, are unusually interested in the matter, and investigations, and possible new legislation, are likely.

3. Should credit union shares be insured? This is a ticklish problem. Some credit unions favor it, others are opposed.
One of the matters that concerns the 13 million shareholders in credit unions is that if they accept government insurance it will be only a short step from government taxation.

Many leaders in the credit union movement have been opposed to government insurance of shares, despite the fact that many members want it.

This is not a new go-round. President Eisenhower urged federal insurance of credit union shares, although Congress did not vote it.

Pro And Con
Arguments for and against insurance are being circulated among members. The "pro" arguments are that it is the obligation to protect members to the fullest extent possible, and that insurance will attract more depositors.

On the other hand, credit union leaders assert there has never been a need for such insurance. There have been a number of defalcations in recent years, but the unions were largely protected by personal bonds.
However, it is argued that the credit unions have prospered for 50 years and survived the Depression. The big banks have a strong argument: Borrowing and lending involves such large sums these days that accounts of only $10,000 are not profitable to savings institutions. They would like more $100,000 accounts and they are eager to lay their figures before Congressional committees.

More Protection
On the other hand, Congress is much more likely to increase the limits of insured savings accounts.

The big banks have a strong argument: Borrowing and lending involves such large sums these days that accounts of only $10,000 are not profitable to savings institutions. They would like more $100,000 accounts and they are eager to lay their figures before Congressional committees.

The Pause And A Look Around

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

In a newspaper interview, Mr. Khrushchev has just said that the Cuban crisis in October will "leave a very deep imprint on international relations. This was a moment when the sinister shadow of nuclear war raced over the world. People started looking at questions of peace and war in a new way." The new way, he added, is to forestall danger by "way of compromise."

We are not, I think, at that point. That is to say, we are not at the point where a settlement of the cold war by compromise is in sight. It is more exact to say that after the Cuban crisis the nuclear powers know better than they did before that they cannot initiate an attack against one another without changes in the balance of power. As between East and West, military power cannot be used to change existing boundaries.

This is a very great lesson that we have learned. But it does not mean that we are now in a position to begin negotiating a settlement of cold war. Where we have actually gotten to is a willingness under the compulsion of the nuclear danger to live with the situation as it is.

What we have then is not peace but a pause, and in this pause a reduction of the pressures at the vital points, notably Berlin, where the danger of nuclear war is most threatening. The effect of the pause in the East-West conflict is to make more emphatic and urgent the internal problems and issues within the Communist world and within ours.

These internal problems are one reason, perhaps the main reason, why the pause does not mean that we are in sight of a settlement. Neither side, neither Mr. Khrushchev nor Mr. Kennedy, has the power to make a settlement. Mr. Khrushchev is entangled in a struggle with China for the leadership of the Communist world.

The Western Alliance is no longer accepted. It would not be going too far to say, I think, that, given the pause which resulted from the Cuban affair, President Kennedy's greatest task will be to reappraise, redefine and readjust the American role in the Western World.

The era which began with World War II has ended, the era in which the United States was at the same time the defender and the banker of the Western World. The United States, to be sure, continues to have a virtual monopoly on nuclear weapons. But the time has arrived when the military defense of the Western World and particularly of Western Europe, can no longer be borne in so extraordinarily large a measure by the United States.

At the same time, the United States is no longer able to be the preeminent banker, and if it is to continue to play the part it is now playing, it will need to have still greater cooperation from Europe. It will have to have greater cooperation in preserving the international usefulness of the dollar, greater cooperation in the opening of markets to American exports, greater cooperation in financing the defense of Europe and the development of the nations of the Southern Hemisphere.

The coming session of Congress will be under the shadow of these American needs. Can the President obtain from Congress the legislation to try — conceding that no one can be absolutely sure it will succeed — to try to overcome the sluggishness of the American economy since the middle of the Fifties? This must be done if the United States is to hold its place in the world.

Can the Administration negotiate successfully in Europe a cooperative defense of the dollar — which is the reserve currency of the non-Communist world? Unless the Administration can do this, the withdrawal of gold — now running at nearly a billion dollars a year — will cause the kind of reaction in Congress and in this country which could end in an insistence upon restricting American investment abroad and on raising the tariffs and imposing quotas to reduce imports into the United States.

The great design of a liberal low-tariff area throughout the whole non-Communist world is not only a long way from being realized. Because of the condition of our international balance of payments, the great design is threatened by a serious relapse into protectionism.

Treatment Of Animals

Dear Sir:
It seems that conditions still exist despite warnings from the humane society and law enforcement officers concerning cruelty to animals. Abandoning an animal is a serious charge.

Recent reports have come to the attention of the humane society that a couple was seen abandoning a cat from a station wagon in North Marquette. A dog was found wandering around the streets in Marquette in a half frozen condition.

Complaints are numerous regarding poorly constructed dog houses which are seen in many yards. There is no protection at the doors from snow and wind; no insulation inside; no straw on the floor; and cracks in the houses where snow can drift in is evident in many cases.

Cats are left outside at night and perhaps all day, too, without adequate protection from the weather.
Irresponsible persons should not own animals.

Many people who want to find good homes for the pets they no longer want to keep do not realize that all they have to do is to contact the humane society or the local dog warden for their particular area and they will give the proper advice concerning the matter.

From the Michigan State Law Book No. 4: "An Act for the More Effectual Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," in part — "and whoever having the charge or custody of any animal, either as owner or otherwise, inflicts unnecessary cruelty upon the same, or willfully fails to provide the same with proper food, drink, shelter or protection from the weather shall for every such offense be punished by imprisonment in jail not exceeding three months or by a fine not exceeding $100 or both fine and imprisonment."

By taking an active part in humane society work, every animal lover can help to alleviate the suffering of defenseless animals. New members are welcome. Phone HU 6-6805 or HU 5-5216.

Cupid Gets Quick Answer To Request Mailed To Sawyer

It's not often that Air Force personnel are able to help Cupid, but a recent letter to the information office at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base provided just such an opportunity.

A young man wrote, asking help in reestablishing contact with a girl whose family had formerly lived at Sawyer. He enclosed a stamped envelope with her name on it, requesting that it be forwarded if her family's new address could be found.

Such a request could obviously not go unfulfilled. A quick check of old rosters revealed the full name of the girl's father, and the personnel section provided his new duty station within minutes.

The address on the envelope was completed forthwith, and Cupid's arrow was sent speeding on its way in less than an hour.

This is a recent photo of talented maestro Leonard Bernstein who is conducting the New York Philharmonic Orchestra in a concert which will include an interpretation of rhythm in music Saturday night. The concert will be carried by WLUC-TV.

Bernstein's Presentation On 'Rhythm'

The second concert of the 1962-1963 season by Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic will be devoted to an interpretation of "Rhythm" in music. The broadcast, scheduled from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. Saturday, will be carried by WLUC-TV.

On the program, originally presented on the CBS Television Network in March of 1960, Conductor Bernstein will trace the history of rhythm from the primitive drum to modern jazz.

In his discussion of the development of rhythm, the conductor will call on the Philharmonic to reproduce the sounds of ancient and modern percussion beats. Illustrating the similarity between primitive and modern music, Bernstein contrasts the heartbeat to a drummer's movement and parallels the music of Ravel to Cole Porter.

The major work of the evening will be devoted to Aaron Copland's highly rhythmic "El Salon Mexico" and the finale from Cesar Franck's "Symphony in D-Minor."

As with other programs in the series, the concert will be presented under the sponsorship of the Ford Motor Co. It pre-empt's the Jackie Gleason Show this week over WLUC-TV.

PTA 'Prexy' Lists 1963 Challenges

Local PTA units hunting for programs or projects could take note of a New Year's message from their state board president. Otto Yntema, Kalamazoo, president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, lists several challenges for 1963.

"With the children born during the war years flooding our high schools and entering our colleges, our legislature must provide increased appropriations for elementary, secondary and higher education," Yntema says. He emphasized that, providing a balanced school program that will meet the needs of potential dropouts, average and gifted students, confronts every school district in the state.

The state PTA president says the increasing divorce rate and the effects of unemployment, urbanization and segregated housing upon the welfare of children make it essential that Michigan PTA improve and give greater emphasis to home and family life programs.

In addition, the proposed constitution directly concerns the welfare of children in the home, school and community, Yntema says. He urges each PTA to give this issue serious consideration prior to the April election.

Where To Store The Christmas Toys?

BY KAY SHERWOOD

Newspaper Enterprise Association After Christmas jollity, the first order of the day is to find housing for the new toys, the science sets and games. Neatness, at best a hard-won virtue in most youngsters, suffers a resounding setback after Santa has dumped his pack.

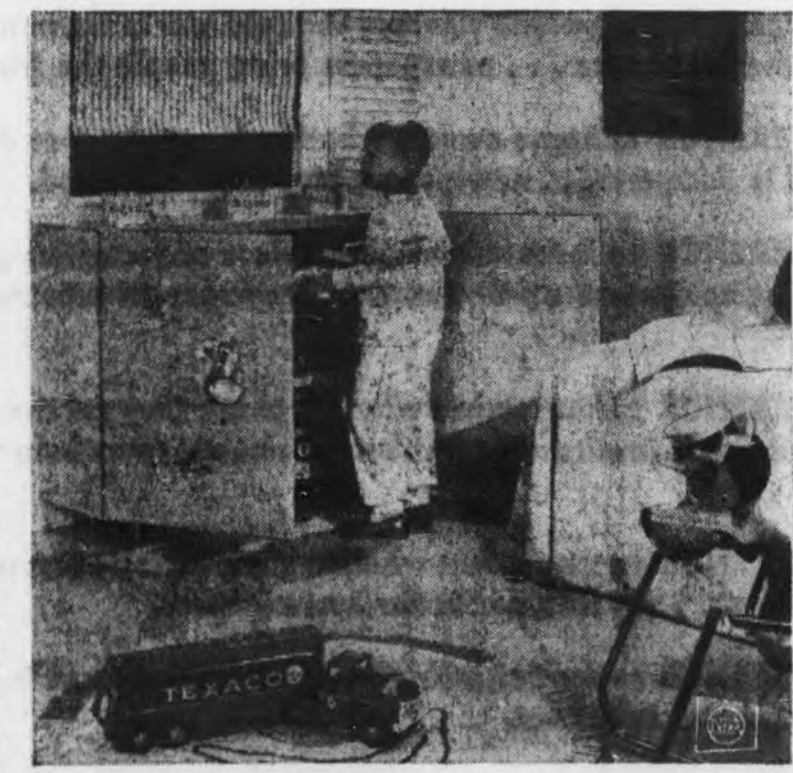

I trust we were all foresighted enough to encourage a pre-Christmas weeding out of playthings no longer in use. Even with this effort, the problems of keeping playthings in some sort of order are sizable.

Boxes Often Filmy

For one thing, I have found it difficult to lay hands on strong but not too expensive storage boxes. One clever design I saw advertised proved on inspection to be so filmy that I doubted it would last a week.

Another point is that different types of playthings require different types of storage. The six-year-old, deep into doll motherhood, needs a corner where doll bed, chair, stove can be set up permanently. Closed or hidden storage seems best for the multiple-wheel toys, little cars, plastic armies, clay modeling and all those unclassifiable knick-knacks. Science sets, microscopes or similarly delicate instruments should have a special home of their own near the work table or desk.

A possible solution for sturdy cabinet storage which had not occurred to me until recently is the use of ordinary steel cabinets of the type we see in the kitchen. Steel cabinets are available in many sizes on legs or flush bases. They come in a variety of finishes and can be home-decorated by a child with cut-outs. These can pose, every other mother who has searched for parts that have fallen out the split corners of the box. Because these boxes often give way first at the corners, I try to remember to reinforce them at once with plastic or masking tape. I've also discovered that strong clear plastic freezer bags are excellent for keeping a group of small plastic figures together.

Michigamme Legion Post Buys Ambulance For Township Service

MICHIGAMME — Commander Richard Wedin of the Anderson-Paquette American Legion Post, announces that ambulance service for Michigamme Township and the surrounding area is now available.

The Legion also deserves great praise for providing and maintaining the Youth Center located on our main street, directly opposite the IGA Store, where the young people of the town may meet and find entertainment each evening between 7 and 9:30. It is equipped with television, ping-pong table, record-player for dancing, and a two-way club pool table, as well as other devices with which teenagers may entertain themselves much as they would at home, but, in this case, in company with a congenial group of their own age.

The ambulance will be manned on a 24-hour schedule by both Legion members and residents of the community.

Candy bars and soft drinks are on sale at the Youth Center at regular prices, and a Legionnaire is always on hand to supervise activities and to give advice when needed.

Cards soon will be distributed throughout the area listing the names and telephone numbers of persons to call in cases where the ambulance is needed. The ambulance, fully equipped, is a welcome addition to the community, which formerly was dependent upon out-of-town service. The service will be available now on very short notice.

"The Legion Post is to be highly commended for its foresight and community spirit in purchasing and providing this vehicle for use of the public," an official of the township declared.

The sole candidate for a vacancy on the township board of review is Julius Johnson. No petition has been filed for justice of the peace and George Hakala is the only candidate for one of two constable posts.

Spurr Township Supervisor Henry Salvador did not file a petition for re-election after serving a single two-year term on the county board. Former Supervisor Arthur Wiljanen and Township Treasurer Richard Wedin will battle for the office. Township Clerk Edward M. Benti is unopposed in his bid for re-election.

Perry Issues L'Anse State Police Report

L'ANSE — The nine officers of the state police post here made a total of 45 arrests and investigated 57 complaints during December, according to a report released yesterday by Sgt. Orley L. Perry, commanding officer.

Troopers worked a total of 2,167 hours in 214 man-days, averaging over 10 hours per day. A breakdown of this figure shows that 246 hours were spent investigating various complaints, 927 hours were consumed on traffic patrol and 629 hours spent on administration and supervision. An additional 216 hours were for night duty assignments, 30 hours for training, 74 hours for fatigue duty and the remaining 38 hours for miscellaneous jobs.

Post cars were driven 8,090 miles on other traffic work, 2,495 miles on complaint work and 225 miles on miscellaneous duties, for a monthly total of 11,170 miles. The cars were out on traffic patrol duty 691 hours during the month.

Officers investigated 45 automobiles, issued verbal warnings to 107 motorists and assisted five others. They also completed 117 property and 193 liquor inspections and 174 miscellaneous chores.

"During the 10-day holiday period, all pass days were canceled, officers drew extra duty and patrols were concentrated in high accident areas," Perry reported.

Areas in which bleeder lines are located are those in which freeze-ups most commonly occur.

Personnel pumped out hydrants on Maas and Merry Sts. as well as those in the Buffalo Location, repaired hydrants on Merry St. and at the Breitung Mine, thawed out hydrants on the County Road and Maas St. and set up hydrant boxes throughout the city.

Repairs were made to the 12-inch sewer serving Furnace Location, and two one-inch tapplings were installed in Sunrise Location. Other activities including reading meters and answering calls from customers.

During December, industrial, business and residential water demands amounted to 29,561,000 gallons. The peak demand for a single day of 1,148,000 gallons was recorded on Dec. 28, and the low of 753,000 gallons on Dec. 2.

Completed prior to the Christmas holidays, students made winter hats, and the second 10-week section will be devoted to instruction in making spring hats.

Mrs. Ina Woolley will serve as instructor for the millinery program and the class will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 Tuesday nights in Room A-5 of the Negaunee High School. Loyola, Bradley '5s' Show Muscles Again; Braves Upset Tulsa

Chicago Loyola's fast-stepping frontmen and Bradley's always-unbridled Braves are gunning for the same rival—Cincinnati.

The Ramblers, currently second to Cincinnati in the national college basketball rankings, are after that top rating. And the Braves, who've finished right behind the Bearcats in the Missouri Valley Conference for five straight seasons, are looking to shake the runner-up role this year.

Both look forward strides Thursday night. All-seeing Loyola, a whirlwind 100-point-a-game outfit, went over the century mark for the seventh time in posting its 12th victory of the season, 103-58 over Marshall. Bradley opened its conference schedule with a 72-58 upset of Tulsa.

In other highlights—Miami of Florida's unbeaten Hurricanes won their ninth in a row, 67-59 over St. John's of New York; West Virginia remained atop the Southern Conference, struggling past VMI 86-74; and the Southwest Conference scramble opened with the defending co-champions, Texas Tech and Southern Methodist, having contrasting results. Tech won for the first time in nine starts this season, shading Texas Christian 69-66, while Arkansas nipped SMU 73-71.

Bradley trailed 33-28 at the half, after a 1-3-1 zone failed to stop the hot-shooting Hurricanes. But the Braves came out to shoot 68 percent from the field in the second half. Mack Herndon led Bradley with 28 points.

The AP board of eight sports writers and sportscasters tapped the Titans of Westminster for the No. 1 spot by naming the Pennsylvania team on two first-place ballots, two seconds and two fifths for a leading total of 50 points.

The top 10 on the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, 8 for third etc., with first place votes and records through Dec. 29 in parenthesis:

1. Westminster, Pa. (2) (6-1) 50
2. Wittenberg, O. (6-1) 42
3. Grambling, La. (4) (6-1) 40
4. Southeast Mo. (8-0) 34
5. Tennessee State (2) (6-2) 34
6. Prairie View A&M (9-1) 29
7. Northern Mich. (5-1) 28
8. Gannon, Pa. (5-1) 24
9. Hofstra (8-3) 24
10. Bethany, W.Va. (4-1) 16

Shue (6-2) Asks NBA Rule Changes

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gene Shue of the New York Knickerbockers, a nine-year veteran of the National Basketball Association, thinks it's about time to rejuvenate the professional game.

Indicating he is at least partially in agreement with critics who say the game is dull, Shue blames tall players, excessive fouling and judgment calls by officials.

"Big men are killing the game," Shue said before Thursday night's game with the Syracuse Nationals. "We ought to take the game back outside from under the basket."

Shue, who at 6-foot-2 is one of the smaller players in the league, scored 18 points as the Knicks held off a last quarter rally and defeated Syracuse 123-115.

Shue suggested that players be ejected from the game after committing four fouls, rather than the six now allowed, and that two free throws be awarded for all fouls.

The Knicks backcourt star also suggested the rule makers spell out personal fouls more clearly, cutting down on the number of judgment calls by officials.

Shue also proposed several changes to help cut down on the number of fouls, which he called "the biggest difficulty" of the pro game.

NFL Championship Game To Replace Orange Bowl? Informal Talks Under Way

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
NEW YORK (NEA)—Since the Green Bay Packers are established as the champions of polar football, in the world's largest home freezer, it's time for the National Football League to turn on the heat to make the play better and the live spectators comfortable.

Informal talks have already begun probing the possibility of playing the championship game annually in Miami's Orange Bowl. It would be a New Year's Day fiesta in lieu of the current collegiate competition in that sun-drenched stadium.

The Orange Bowl's contract with the Big Eight Conference expires after next year's game and leaves the field open for the pros to move in. This was an idea of the late Bert Bell when he was commissioner and Pete Rozelle, the current, progressive impresario, also favors conducting the showpiece of the league in a setting conducive to good football.

The tension building up to the Giant-Packers meeting should convince any promoter that the championship playoff has become the greatest single attraction in sports for generating excitement. The Orange Bowl people, who already stage the superluous Playoff Bowl featuring the second place teams, aren't oblivious to the impact.

From a weather standpoint, a Miami site makes sense. The last two title games in the sub-freezing temperatures of Green Bay and New York, complicated by swirling, frigid winds, drastically reduced the efficiency level which is the main attraction of pro ball. A player in a championship game shouldn't have to beat his body and dance up and down between plays to keep warm.

A neutral site would obviate the home team factor. In the electronic age there is no deprivation for loyal fans, since the championship game comes to them via television. They'd even be spared the sacrificial rite of a trip to Philadelphia and Connecticut on a Sunday to get around the blackout, if New York were the home team.

If the Orange Bowl (capacity: 76,305) can fill up for Oklahoma and Alabama, it should have no trouble selling all seats for New York and Green Bay. A guy could save all his weekend trips to Connecticut motels for the fare to a title game.

From a practical standpoint, it may be the only way to deterrone the Packers. They're built for polar going and conditioned by the frost that seeps into the Wisconsin turf starting in early December.

Hillsdale rallies to trip Central in last seconds

HILLSDALE (AP)—Hillsdale took the lead for the first time with 30 seconds remaining and held on to edge Central Michigan 65-64 in a basketball game here Thursday night.

Central jumped to a 13-3 lead, led by as much as 20 points at one time in the second period, and held a 37-28 halftime edge.

Baskets by John Sipson and Phil Rabaja gave Hillsdale a one point lead, and two free throws by Charlie Works padded the lead before the Chippewas came back for a basket before the final buzzer.

Dave Nelson of Central Michigan led all scorers with 19 points. Rabaja paced Hillsdale with 18.

Stan Signs Again, Eyes '64 As Well

SE. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals may never be quite as colorful when Stan Musial retires from baseball, but the change won't happen this year—and may not be in 1964 either.

The 42-year-old Cardinal star signed his 22nd contract with the club Thursday and indicated from the way he feels now, he may be around at this time next year to sign No. 23.

Never Felt Better
"I've never felt better," said Musial, who played in 15 seasons last year and hit 330, his best mark since 1958. "If I have a good year I'll keep on playing."

"I've been playing on a year-to-year basis and I'd like to keep it that way. I'd like to keep playing if I can help the team."

Musial signed his first contract as a pitcher back in 1938 for $65 a month. The latest one he signed calls for an estimated $65,000 about the same as last year. This latest contract gives him a total of approximately $1,250,000, the most any player has earned in salary in baseball history.

More on his mind right now is the two singles he needs to become the first player to total 6,000 total bases. And three more doubles will give him Babe Ruth's total of 1,358 on extra base hits.

He already holds about 50 records. He set three major league marks last season, tied one, and broke eight National League records.

Pirate GM Sees New Club As Best Yet

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Joe L. Brown said Thursday he believes the 1963 edition of the Pittsburgh Pirates will be the best in his seven years as general manager.

He predicted that the squad will be better than the 1960 club that won the National League pennant and beat the New York Yankees in the World Series.

In trades after the 1962 season, Brown dealt shortstop Dick Groat to St. Louis, first baseman Dick Stuart to Boston and third baseman Don Hoak to Philadelphia.

Among the players picked up in the deals were pitcher Don Cardwell and infielder Julio Gotay from St. Louis, pitcher Don Schwall from Boston and outfielder Ted Savage from the Phils.

"We have six starting pitchers now," said Brown. "Besides Cardwell and Schwall, Danny (manager) Schwall, Danny (manager) Friend, Al McBean, Earl Francis and Joe Gibbon to call on. And there's Roy Face, Harvey Haddix, Tom Sturdivant, Vernon Law, Bob Veale and Bob Priddy."

Decisive Wins Climax Alpine Training Camp

VAIL, Colo. (AP)—Bud Werner, University of Colorado senior, and Linda Meyers, Bishop, Calif., star, scored decisive victories Thursday in the first downhill race climaxing a 2-week Olympic ski training camp here.

Werner sailed down the mile-long men's course in 61.1 seconds to finish 7-10ths of a second ahead of Dave Gorsuch of Climax, Colo.

Miss Meyers zipped down the shorter women's course in 76.6 seconds to edge teammates Jean Saubert, Lakeview, Ore., and Joan Hannah, Franconia, N.H., who tied for second in 78 seconds.

Not Timed
Chuck Ferries of the University of Denver, Werner's stiffest challenger for U.S. Alpine skiing honors, was disqualified for jumping the starter's signal. He was not timed.

The surprises were Roche Bush, University of Colorado junior, who finished third in the men's race, and Tammy Dix, Spokane, who tied for fourth and fifth with Barbara Ferries of Colorado in the women's contest.

Dear Abby . . .

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am very worried about my 17-year-old daughter. She is going steady with a 10-year-old boy who acts like he owns her. He demands to know every move she makes when he is not with her. He is insanely jealous and accuses her and spies on her, although she is true to him. He tells her how to wear her hair and how to dress. She dominates her completely. I can see what a miserable life she would have if she married him. My daughter thinks she is "in love" with him. How can I make her see how bad he is for her? I am told that if a mother interferes in her daughter's romances at this age she will drive her into marriage.

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Even though pointing out the danger signals is sometimes called "interfering" — interfere anyway! Your daughter's future is at stake. Do it now. Don't wait until she comes back home five years and two babies later and tells you her marriage is on the rocks.

DEAR ABBY: I have a habit of talking to myself out loud and my wife thinks I am going nuts. I acquired that habit while doing border patrol duty on the Mexican border. The only time I talk to myself out loud is when I have a problem — and I have solved many of my problems that way. Now if talking to yourself is a sign of going nuts, please tell me and I will try to break the habit, although I have had it since 1916. Yours truly,

TALKING TO MYSELF
DEAR TALKING: Talking to yourself is not a bad habit. It's ANSWERING yourself that might not be so good. But if you've been getting some good answers since 1916, keep it up.

DEAR ABBY: You can't pick up a magazine or newspaper any more without reading something about HOW TO KEEP A HUSBAND HOME. I've even seen it in your column. The advice runs from rubbing his back to making his favorite pie. After 26 years of marriage I think I can speak with some authority. Just keep him BROKE!

BERNICE

DEAR BERNICE: There is nothing clever about keeping a husband home. You can chain him to the stove and accomplish the same thing. The idea is to keep him HAPPY.

DEAR ABBY: A girl we work with bought a home. It was a very old place and didn't look like much from the outside. We wanted to see the inside so we gave her a surprise house-warming party. She was in the process of remodeling it and wouldn't let us in. I'd like to know if she was right or wrong.

SIX DISAPPOINTED GIRLS
DEAR GIRLS: Your co-worker must have known that you girls surprised her with a party more out of curiosity than generosity. No wonder your housewarming got a cold reception. I don't blame her. CONFIDENTIAL TO PLE-MENIK: Some people are not as "successful" as others because when opportunity is knocking on their front door, they are in the back yard looking for four-leaf clovers.
