

RAHOI BESTS McMANIMAN: State Legislature In Recess

LANSING (AP)—Michigan lawmakers have recessed for the next 10 days while special committees try to decide who is entitled to sit at three legislative desks for the next two years.

Two of the disputed seats were in question because of the closeness of elections in the Upper Peninsula last November. The losers demanded recounts and the House and Senate each appointed committees to supervise the jobs.

In the other case, a House committee has been appointed to determine the fitness of a Democratic representative-elect to sit with the lawmakers.

The Legislature recessed Thursday until the night of Jan. 21 to allow the committees to complete their work.

Lawmakers jammed the House chambers Thursday to hear Gov. George Romney deliver his first "state of the state" address, outlining what he termed a "blueprint for action" calling for split sessions this year.

The House recessed shortly after Romney's speech but a wrangle among Democratic senators over committee assignments almost forced that chamber to return for a session today.

Involved was the question of who should serve as one of the two Democrats on the powerful Appropriations Committee — Sen. Philip Rahoi of Iron Mountain, or Sen. Charles McManiman of Houghton.

Democrats reportedly split 6-5 in their caucus with a faction headed by the minority floor leader Sen. Charles Blondy of Detroit, backing Rahoi and another group—led by Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski — supporting McManiman.

The Republican-controlled Committee on Committees finally decided to keep Rahoi on the Appropriations Committee because he held the edge in the caucus voting and was backed by the minority leader.

As expected, veteran Sen. Elmer Porter, R-Blissfield, was dumped as chairman of the committee, and the job handed to Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, Porter, who had served as chairman for 13 years, remained on the committee as the second-ranking member.

Porter, who has been a member of the senate since 1936, has voted consistently with the so-called conservative bloc. But self-styled "moderates" have captured control of the Republican floor and caucus leadership this year.

Meanwhile, the first measure filed for introduction in the Senate was another "Bowman bill" to prohibit cities from levying an income tax on non-residents.

Rep. Henry Hogan Jr., R-Birmingham, chairman of the five-member committee named to investigate the "fitness" of a new Democratic member-elect, said it will begin hearings in Wayne County on that day.

The Hogan committee was named, after a violent partisan battle at the opening session, to determine whether Leonard Walton, of Wayne County's 12th district, should be allowed to take the oath of office.

Walton faces trial next month on charges that he violated state election laws by permitting distribution of campaign pamphlets urging voters to "re-elect" him.

Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, was named chairman of the re-count committee.

The Strange committee will head north Monday to begin its recount of the balloting in which former Democratic Rep. James Constantini, Iron Mountain, lost his seat to Clifford Perras, a Nadeau Republican, by 95 votes.

The Senate earlier named a re-count committee to conduct a check on the victory of Sen. Charles McManiman, D-Houghton, who defeated Bert Heidem, a Heidem, Hancock Republican, by 277 votes.

Some Republican leaders, like Rep. Wilfred Bassett, R-Jackson, speaker pro tem, said they would want to give close scrutiny to some proposals on controversial legislation before acting.

Rep. James Warner, R-Ypsilanti, a member of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, said he supported the split session idea because "these things can't be done overnight."

Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, called the address "more impressive than anything Romney said during the whole campaign."

"More Demo Support" Rep. Bill Huffman, D-Madison Heights, suggested that Romney's program "might find more support among the Democrats than among members of his own party."

Delay Stirs Speculation Of New Airlift

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A two-day postponement in a ransom cargo flight to Cuba stirred speculation today that another airlift possibly may develop for persons eager to leave Fidel Castro's country.

A Pan American Airways DC6B already laden with 15,000 pounds of medicines, had been scheduled to take off today for Havana, but its departure was postponed until Sunday.

Pan American said the Red Cross, to which the flight was donated, requested the postponement. Spokesmen for the airline said they did not know the reason for the postponement.

In Washington the State Department refused to comment on the postponement and a Red Cross spokesman said he had been advised of the shift in dates but did not know why it had been done.

A DC6B seats more than 100 passengers. Without seats, it can carry nearly 200.

Plans were afoot previously for a special flight to bring 250 Cuban-Americans to Miami, but that flight was canceled abruptly last week.

Eager To Leave Also eager to leave Cuba are more than 20 Americans, imprisoned on various counterrevolutionary charges, and hundreds of relatives of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners who were ransomed for $3 million in badly needed American food and medicine.

Katanga Leader Believed Ready For Truce Talks

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African Press Association reported today that Katanga President Moise Tshombe is believed to have asked his government ministers to suspend all scorched earth plans and meet him in Elisabethville for truce talks with the United Nations.

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga was back under surveillance in his palace Thursday night after making a peace tour to the Rhodesian border and calling on his disorganized troops not to resist U.N. forces.

U.N. officials said Tshombe no longer was under house arrest because he showed willingness to cooperate with the United Nations. But they said he would observe the nightly curfew imposed on Elisabethville on Dec. 30 after U.N. forces seized control of the provincial capital.

Must Be Negotiated A U.N. spokesman in New York said Tshombe will not be restrained otherwise unless he tries to incite Katangans against the United Nations or renews his call for a scorched-earth policy.

Tshombe told newsmen in Mombasa, on the border of Northern Rhodesia, that he made his tour Thursday "to stop bloodshed and prove my good intentions."

But he insisted at a news conference that every movement by U.N. troops in a new direction in his province must be negotiated beforehand. The British consulate in Elisabethville said Tshombe had given a guarantee only for the movement of U.N. troops to Sakania, here the railroad crosses the Rhodesian border 200 miles southeast of Elisabethville.

Apprehensive The U.N. command still was apprehensive about the situation in Kolwezi, the major industrial center 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville, where dihard followers of Tshombe were reported ready to blow up the copper and cobalt plants and a power dam if the U.N. tried to move in.

JFK To Assert U.S. Leadership

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to assert a more vigorous and determined American leadership in world affairs even at the cost of creating major frictions with U.S. allies, especially in Europe.

The President's determination is clearly disclosed in a discussion he held with newsmen in Palm Beach last week, a partial text of which the White House made public Thursday night. As originally reported, the views could not be attributed directly to Kennedy.

What he said apparently represents the hardening of an attitude which has been developing within the administration for many months.

The fact that he said it. In response to a question, emphasizes his present conviction that the United States can get the results it wants on some important issues only by following what amounts to an independent policy.

Kennedy said he thought that "too often in the past we have defined our leadership as an attempt to be rather well regarded in all these countries."

"The fact is," he said, "you can't possibly carry out any policy without causing major frictions."

He said he thought the United States "ought to be more aware" of the fact that "we are going to incur, at intervals, people's displeasure."

Congo Policy As evidence, Kennedy noted that in dealing with the Congo situation the United States has been following a policy "somewhat different" from that of Great Britain and other countries in giving strong support to the United Nations in its effort to bring about unification of the divided African nation.

When he first expressed his views to newsmen at Palm Beach he was talking "for background." This meant that reporters could report the views but could not say directly that the President had stated them at a background news conference.

As comments now on the record they constitute probably the strongest assertion of the need for independent U.S. action on some occasions that a president has made since the United States began to build the present system of alliances 14 years ago.

Winter Belts U.S. With Snow, Cold

(By the Associated Press) Winter's one-two punch—arctic air and blowing snow—hammered broad areas of the nation today. There appeared no immediate general relief.

The icy front extended from the northern Appalachians southwestward through Texas and northward through southern Oregon. Gusty northerly winds swept much of the nation's midsection, causing much drifting of fresh falls of snow.

35 Belo Zero Temperatures plunged to 35 degrees below zero in Drummond, Mont. Readings of 20 below and lower were reported in much of Wyoming and Montana. The below-zero belt stretched from the western Great Lakes through the central and northern Rockies.

It was near zero in northern Texas. The mercury dropped sharply as the frigid air swept southward into the Texas Panhandle and through the Pacific Northwest.

47 Degrees Lower In Laramie, Wyo., the reading of 25 below was 47 degrees lower than Thursday morning.

Snow was whipped into huge drifts in Nebraska, eastern Colorado and western Kansas. More than seven inches of snow fell in Sidney, Neb.

Library Put Off Limits To Students

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Scholarly, gray-haired Katherine Shorey, bolstered by a vote of confidence from the York Library Board, remained firm today in her battle against teen-age socializing at the town library.

"The ban stays," Miss Shorey, the chief librarian said in an interview. She referred to her edict placing library reading room off-limits to junior and senior high school students.

After-School Hangouts Miss Shorey contends that the library had come to rival the corner drug store as an after-school hangout for teen-age romancing—much of it in the semi-darkened basement where old periodicals are kept.

The board met Thursday and wound up expressing general support for Miss Shorey. Another meeting is scheduled next Monday with city and county school officials.

Wave Of Controversy The ban, in effect since Jan. 2, touched off a wave of controversy that included a flurry of student picketing and a threat by the state to cut off some $72,000 in state aid unless a solution is found.

He Found Out The Hard Way

MENOMONIE, Wis. (AP)—Dr. Hyrum M. Smith, specialist in guidance for the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, that there is a Menomonee, Wis., and a Menominee, Mich.

Smith was scheduled to address the Stout State College Guidance Conference here.

He made plane reservations and arrived at his destination—at least he thought he had until he asked a taxi cab driver to take him to the Marion Hotel.

"You're in trouble," the cabbie replied. "You're 240 miles from the Marion Hotel and in the wrong state, too."

A chagrined Smith was at Menominee, Mich. His luggage had gone somewhere else, probably to Menominee Falls, Wis. He managed to charter a private plane for the flight to Menomonee, Wis., and arrived in time for his scheduled appearance.

Out-Of-State Enrollment In Issue At U-M

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The big question on the University of Michigan campus soon may be: "Where did you come from?"

A university official has denied a charge by Rep. William D. Romano, D-Warren, that U-M has gone back on a promise to the legislative audit commission that it would curtail the enrollment of out-of-state students.

The U.M. Michigan State University and the Michigan College of Mining and Technology agreed last year to curb non-resident enrollments, to ensure that prospective Michigan students would not be turned away for lack of space. Figures Pro and Con. But, Romano told the Michigan Daily, the U-M student newspaper, "the figures we have from the University of Michigan for this year are not concurrent with promises the university made last year—the University of Michigan has a one-per cent increase in out-of-state students."

A U-M spokesman, who declined to be identified, cited figures gathered by the audit commission, showing that out-of-state enrollment has dropped from 31.3 per cent of the student body to 29.2 per cent—a decrease of 218 students.

University sources are "always giving out figures that come out the way they want them to," the legislator said earlier. Spot Check.

"The commission may go in for a spot check on U-M figures some time this year," he added. A commission spokesman, who also asked to be anonymous, said the only area in which the U-M failed to live up to the promise was in the case of New York and New Jersey—where many schools refuse to accept Michigan students. Enrollment from these states has increased.

Engineering Problem

One of the phenomena of modern status seeking is the effort to get the mass media to use names that dignify certain employments and professions, like mortician, realtor, custodian, technician, etc.

The word engineer, the NSPE says, tends to be used loosely in the news columns, as "An engineer employed by a plumbing concern accused of submitting rigged bids to the board of education was arrested."

The press should aid all efforts of exactitude in language, but usurpation of a generic name and limiting it to the specifics of a group presents some problems.

The derivation of the name "engineer" shows changes in meaning that complicate the task of the profession in restricting its usage.

K.I. Sawyer AFB Fire Fighters Specialize In Rescue Operations

There's one organization at K. I. Sawyer AFB that specializes in rescue work. It's the base fire department.

The fire department strives to prevent the loss of life, injury to personnel or damage to property by fire. Its job consists of aircraft crash fire fighting, structural fire fighting and fire prevention.

The base fire department is made up of 90 personnel, 17 pieces of fire fighting equipment and two fire stations.

Highly Specialized Field Aircraft crash rescue protection is provided for all aircraft accidents on or near the base.

Today's Special Story This is a highly specialized field. It is extremely hot, fast and dangerous work and requires highly trained personnel.

There is no room for mistakes, no second chances. For this work personnel are trained in fire fighting, how to gain entry and make rescue from all types of Air Force aircraft, how to locate personnel, batteries and fuel cells in the aircraft, and how to "safely" the different types of ejection seats.

Areas Of Training The men receive training in maintenance of their trucks, hydraulics, electricity and munitions. They must have sufficient knowledge of nuclear weapons to be able to recognize the different types, the hazards they present and how to fight fires involving them.

Since seconds may mean the difference between life and death for the aircraft crew members or for the firemen, they are trained to think fast and efficiently.

Precautionary Measures Structural fire fighting usually allows the fireman a little more time to think and work, although it can involve many lives and dollars, and firemen receive many hours of training in combating this type of fire.

The majority of the fire department's time and equipment is used in taking precautionary measures. As in preventive medicine and preventive maintenance, the safest, surest and most economical solution to a problem is to anticipate and forestall it; the best way to combat a fire is to prevent it from starting.

If fire prevention measures could be observed 100 per cent, the requirement for fire truck standbys could be sharply reduced. However, since hazards do exist and the expediency of action may exaggerate or prevent the elimination of a hazard, base fire trucks travel approximately 200 miles a day providing standbys for these operations.

The main goal of a fire prevention program is to eliminate the potential cause of a fire. It is a program that must have the participation of all personnel. All personnel at Sawyer AFB share in the ultimate responsibility of preventing the start of a fire.

Murray Tries To Shake TV Type-Casting

By CENITHA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The most bitter complaint of successful television stars involves a hallowed Hollywood practice called type-casting.

Hugh O'Brian, during the last two seasons of "Wyatt Earp," worried that he would never be able to get away from a horse and six-shooter. Ann Sothern feared she was stuck for life in a comedy role of private secretary.

The problem, unhappily, is not confined to those with important star names. It also afflicts a hardy, skilful and busy group of featured players. These are the television regulars who work so often that their faces are almost as familiar as those of the stars, but whose names get lost somewhere in the long lists of credits.

Such an actor is Murray Hamilton. We've all seen him many times—as a villain in "Gun-smoke," and "The Untouchables," as a psychopathic killer in Alfred Hitchcock shows, as a prosecuting attorney in "The Defenders." He's a pleasant-faced man of 38—looks younger—whose principal career problem is versatility.

"I think that's really hurting," he said. "Once a producer puts you in a role, he never seems to see you doing anything else. After I was first cast as a heavy on 'The Untouchables,' I couldn't ever persuade them that I could also do something else. I could go on doing psychopathic killers forever for another producer."

Hamilton is determined to break the mold, regardless of its penalty in terms of income. He will soon emerge as costar in a Broadway comedy, "The Heroine," whose opening is held up by the New York newspaper strike.

Livonia Mayor Orders 5 Per Cent Tax Cut

LIVONIA (AP)—Mayor Harvey W. Moeke of Livonia recently ordered the city's residential taxes to be cut five per cent, effective on next December's tax bill. The order followed an assessment study on the market value of homes. Moeke said the tax cut would cost the city $75,000 and the school district $200,000. He added that city government and school needs should be met by boosting the tax millage, if required, not by higher valuations.

Mona attracted 11,250 visitors Wednesday and museum officials looked for a pickup in attendance on succeeding days.

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Civil rights will again be a major issue in Congress this year but its majority will not be as great as it was last year.

In the 1960 election, President Kennedy lost the Southern and border states of Florida, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Virginia.

While neither of the Kennedy brothers would sacrifice principle for political advantages in those marginal areas, many in their party will be slow to make an issue of civil rights while the 1964 elections are on the political horizon.

What's Problem? Many Congressmen, not wishing to get themselves or their party involved in a civil rights cock fight at this time, will argue that long-standing laws give Negroes the franchise, that the courts have authorized school desegregation and that the President himself has integrated housing by proclamation.

The issue at this point, they contend, is not up to Congress but up to the attorney general. All Robert Kennedy has to do, they say, is to use the tools in his carpenter's box.

On the other hand, the liberal Democrats will not be content with that pat answer. And the Republicans will be doubly motivated. First, many of them are committed to increasing civil rights for all minority groups and insuring those rights with stronger laws. Second, most of them are also eager to put the Kennedy Administration on the spot: To offer bills strengthening civil rights and then say, "What are the Democrats going to do about it?"

Of Time And Committee The latter group will be in no hurry. It would prefer a showdown in 1964 rather than in 1963.

Meanwhile, the first rumble has begun. Liberal Democrats have begun a move to change the Senate rules on filibustering.

At present, only a two-thirds vote of senators present and voting can choke a filibuster. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (D, Mont.) has proposed that three-fifths of the senators present and voting could end debate. This would change the effective number from 67 to 60.

At the same time, Deputy Majority Leader Hubert H. Humphrey (D, Minn.) has, with Sens. Joseph S. Clark (D, Pa.) and Philip A. Hart (D, Mich.) proposed to permit a majority of the Senate's full membership, 51, to end a filibuster after two weeks and 100 hours of debate.

A filibuster, it should be remembered, may be the only way to block further civil rights legislation. That's why the first civil rights battle will be on the question of changing the Senate rules.

ADA Has Word For President

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — "Every time I feel depressed," says Dr. John P. Roche, new national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, "I go out and read National Review to find out how important we in ADA really are."

National Review is William F. Buckley Jr.'s weekly guide for right-wingers. It looks upon ADA as a kind of Communist cell that runs the government. ADA thinks it's not that important. ADA has written letters to President Kennedy telling him what he ought to do. But he hasn't taken their free advice and hasn't even answered their letters. Fewer than 50 ADAers have been identified in the Kennedy Administration, although they are well dispersed in key jobs.

"We have about 50,000 members — we're very selective," says Roche, with tongue in cheek. "Liberals are rambunctious types. They're not good organizational men. That's what makes them so enjoyable."

The question of how much influence ADA really has is made timely once more by the organization's annual message to the President telling him what he should be for.

Roche, who delivered this message to a small press conference, was elected ADA national chairman last year. He is a Brooklyn boy, a Hofstra A. B. and Cornell Ph.D., Fulbright fellow and tramp professor at half-dozen institutions of higher learning. This year he is visiting professor of political science at University of Chicago.

Senators On National Board Roche says he has no idea how many members of ADA are also members of the next Congress, although his letterhead lists five senators and one representative who are members of his national board and executive committee.

The senators are Clark of Pennsylvania, Humphrey and McCarthy of Minnesota, Morse and Neuberger of Oregon. The Congressman is Jimmy Roosevelt of California. ADAers elected to the new Congress and he believes there is a net addition of about five liberals to the House. "Also," says Dr. Roche, "there are a lot of good people in Congress who are not members of ADA. And if the Republicans want to knock off ultraconservative Democrats in the South, that's all right with us."

All things considered, Roche thinks the new Congress will do right by the ADA program — if the President will just cooperate and exercise the right kind of leadership. Hoards His Personality That's the No. 1 problem from the ADA point of view. President Kennedy was never an ADAer. He knocked off ADA's favorite, Hubert Humphrey, in the West Virginia primary and boasted after he was elected that he was a conservative.

"Conservatism comes two ways," says Roche. "You can have a conservative program or you can have a conservative personality. Kennedy has a program that is 180 degrees to the left of Barry Goldwater and John Tower. But Kennedy hoards his personality like a French peasant hoards his gold. He doesn't fight for all the things he believes in the way he fought for his new trade program. In that battle he used his prestige and he won a tremendous victory."

The things that ADA thinks the President ought to fight for this year include, as a minimum: "Specific civil rights legislation, tax reductions and reform, establishment of a department of urban affairs, medical care for the aged under social security, federal aid to school construction and teachers' salaries, a sweeping attack on the corrosive blight of unemployment, open and energetic support for changes in the rules of the House and Senate."

Paralysis Of Perfection "I am not disappointed in President Kennedy's performance on these issues in the last Congress," Roche explains, "because I didn't expect too much. I have known Kennedy politically for a number of years. There was an argument over a choice between Kennedy and Nixon in 1960."

"But you take your breaks in politics where you find them, and I don't suffer from the paralysis of perfectionism."

PRODDING THE SLEEPING BEAR If it isn't Stewart Udall, it's Phil Hart. Just as our hopes were high that Sleeping Bear might be allowed to lie for awhile because Interior Secretary Udall was off chasing an illegal mongoose, up rises Sen. Hart to shoot them down.

He will reintroduce his plan for making a national park out of the Sleeping Bear area in Leelanau and Benzie Counties, he says. And he hasn't changed a thing that would make the proposal any better than it was the last time around.

All that Hart has done since he first introduced the bill in the summer of 1961 is to add some tourist trails to his old map. These, he says, will tend to keep the tourists away from the private homes in the proposed park.

He has done nothing to soothe the feelings that were so rightfully ruffled last year. His plan calls for taking 77,000 acres of land, when 26,000 acres, as proposed by Rep. John Dingell, would be plenty. The 77,000-acre proposal would wipe out home-building in the area, undermine the foundation for a $250,000 school bond issue, and wind up as a federal land grab with no basis of need.

Nor has he done anything to change the outrageous proposal that the federal government may take over private homes, of which there are some 1,600, in the area. By Hart's bill, unless the two counties pass zoning ordinances which are approved by the secretary of the interior, the government can buy the houses and give the owners 25 years occupancy.

But the final authority on what is fair market value lies with the secretary.

In other words, Udall, who looks upon this as "opening wedge" legislation, would have the authority to reject zoning plans, take over the private housing and tell the owners that they can jump it if they don't like it.

We, like Udall and Hart, want to see the Dunes area preserved. It is a unique geological history of the Ice Age and the formation of the Great Lakes. But it is already partly preserved in two state parks, and a proposal along the lines of the Dingell bill would do what else is needed.

As the Citizens Council of Glen Arbor put it, "In our scramble to preserve shorelines, we must not trample constitutional rights."

Hart, we hope, will have as little luck with his latest version of "Phil's Folly" as he had with the original. — Detroit Free Press.

City Council Orders Police Crackdown On Traffic Law Violators; Too Few Arrests

NEGAUNEE — Tougher enforcement of traffic laws by the Negaunee Police Department, particularly in residential areas, was demanded last night by the Negaunee City Council as the governing body told City Manager Leonard Harris to advise the law enforcement group to "crack down."

Of particular concern to council members were two areas which have been sore spots for some time — Lincoln St. and Ann St., which marks the start of County Road 450 leading to U.S. 41 and K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. However, other areas came in for discussion, as the principal complaint was the failure of drivers to observe speed limits.

Concerned About Children

Councilman Stewart Abbott and Ben Pascoe, both of whom operate business places on Lincoln St., complained that motorists use the thoroughfare as a speedway, and both expressed concern for the safety of children living on the street and who frequently play in front of their houses. A similar complaint was registered regarding Ann St.

Councilman Clarence Trotochaud pointed out that, according to the monthly police department report for December, officers had made only 82 arrests for the month — an average of less than three a day — and that of this total 41 were tickets issued for parking violations.

It was suggested that the police car be stationed at various times on streets intersecting those on which speeding occurs, and that this might result in additional tickets being issued, which in turn would cause motorists to drive more carefully.

$47,790 Surplus In City's Treasury; 2 Sinking Funds Ordered Set Up By Council

NEGAUNEE — Although the exact amount will not be determined until completion of the 1962 municipal audit, the City of Negaunee completed its fiscal and calendar year on Dec. 31 with a surplus of approximately $47,790. Manager Leonard Harris informed the council at a regular meeting last night.

In advising the council of the cash balance, the manager recommended that, in accordance with municipal charter provisions, a utility sinking fund be initiated with a portion of the balance and that the remainder be set aside as a capital improvement sinking fund.

"Although the charter stipulates that sinking funds should be created with maximums of $50,000 for both electric and water utilities, no steps have ever been taken to create these funds," Harris said. "Since we ended the year in the black, and it appears that in the immediate future at least we will be faced with further declines in mining property valuations, I believe we should initiate a utility sinking fund at this time and would recommend investing $10,000 in First National Bank certificates of deposit, which would be earmarked for this purpose.

"I would also suggest investing an additional $35,000 in bank CD's, which would be used as a capital improvement sinking fund."

Reasons cited by the manager for the cash balance were a reduction in payroll expenses, income from the electric utility of approximately $11,000 more than had been anticipated, and higher state aids than were expected.

Before action was taken on the recommendation, Councilman Oliver Maki suggested that consideration be given to utilizing part of the balance to improve street lighting in the business district. In response to a query by Maki, the manager estimated that, by utilizing the present poles, it would be possible to replace business district mercury vapor lights with fluorescent luminaires for approximately $5,000. Harris recommended that the mercury vapor lights be used to replace older types of street lights in various sections of the residential area. Members of the governing body, on motion by Councilman Clarence J. Trotochaud, unanimously approved placing $10,000 in a utility sinking fund, $30,000 in a capital

Addition To Hospital In L'Anse Set For Completion By April 15

L'ANSE — Construction of the half-million-dollar addition to the Baraga County Memorial Hospital here is approximately 60 per cent finished and is scheduled for completion by April 15.

The new 29-bed wing will be used primarily for care of the chronically ill and will include office space for the Baraga County Health Department and for staff physicians.

Overlooks Bay

The main part of the new addition is a two-story structure measuring 130 by 70 feet located on the west side of the hospital overlooking Keweenaw Bay. The upper level contains 13 patients rooms, 11 baths, a large patient lounge, occupational therapy and special treatment rooms and a pharmacy.

The ground floor will house a 24 by 30 foot ultra-modern kitchen, a large dining hall, an 11 by 16 foot walk-in freezer, storage and utility rooms and a 48 by 20 physical therapy suite. In addition, several suites of offices for the health department and two local doctors and a fully equipped laboratory will be located on the lower level.

A separate 50-foot square building contains a 34 by 34 foot laundry, a large boiler room and several storage areas. The laundry is close to completion and will be put into operation shortly.

Section To Be Remodeled
A section of the original building which now houses two suites of doctor's offices will be remodeled after the new wing is completed and ready for occupancy.

Everett Pasino, superintendent for Sacchetti & Dal Santo, general contractor of Iron Mountain, said the job is approximately 60 per cent completed and added that he expects it will be ready for patient occupancy by the middle of April. To date the interior structural work is completed, the elevator is operating, terrazzo flooring has been installed in the entire ground floor and the basic piping work has been finished.

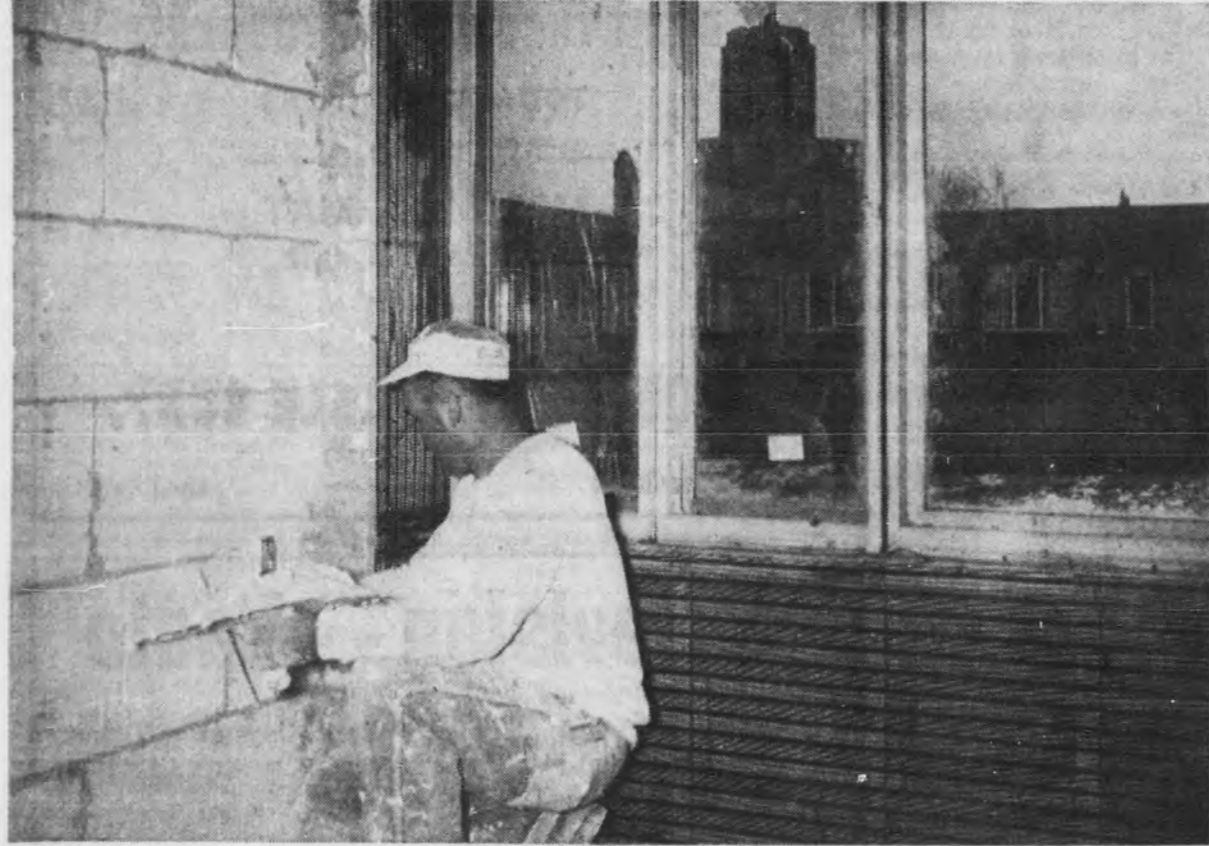

"Most of the metal wall lath is up and about half of the plastering is done," Pasino said. "The kitchen and bathroom fixtures still have to be put in and some electrical work is not finished. Next week the painters will begin work, the second floor tiling will be started and the job of polishing the terrazzo floors will get under way."

Two Major Items

According to Miss Martha Hanson, hospital administrator, $22,500 of the proposed $80,000 equipment budget has been spent for two major items — an $18,000 X-ray machine which was installed in the hospital last year and $4,500 for a giant-sized washing machine, which can wash and extract the water from a 60-pound load in less than an hour.

Over $5,000 worth of special physical therapy and exercise equipment and furnishings for patient rooms, dining rooms and lounges will be purchased from the remaining $37,500. A $1,000 gift from the hospital auxiliary will be used to furnish the main lounge.

Clayton Johnson is shown plastering one of the second-story semi-private rooms in the addition through window. The addition is scheduled for completion by April 15.

How U.S. Savings Bonds Turn home shoppers into home owners

The special dream and lifetime project for millions of Americans is to own their own homes. But the biggest hurdle to jump is a sizeable down payment.

The number of Americans who get over this hurdle increases each year. About 35 million families are in their own homes right now. And for many of them U.S. Savings Bonds made the difference between "shopping for" and "owning" a home.

A habit that pays off

After the war many returning veterans and their families used their Bond reserves for college educations, new business ventures, and down payments on new homes.

Since that time thousands of Americans have used their Bonds to buy, furnish, and modernize their homes.

Bonds for building blocks

U.S. Savings Bonds are guaranteed to grow in value by Uncle Sam. You can buy them where you bank or on the "installment plan" where you work, for as little as $2.50 a week. Your bonds are replaced free if lost or destroyed. And you can get your money, plus interest, anytime you need it.

Every Bond you buy is a share in a stronger America. Why not start saving for your dream home today?

"Savings Bonds and a home belong in everyone's future"

says O. G. Powell, President, National Association of Real Estate Boards
"U.S. Savings Bonds and home ownership are two ways of providing security for the future—a worthy goal for every family and for the nation. A sound economy depends upon thrift. A strong country is a land where men are free in mind, in spirit, and in the right to own property. The nation's nearly 70,000 Realtors urge America's young families to invest in U.S. Savings Bonds as a beginning toward achievement of these goals."

'Experiment' In Christian Living To Be Conducted By 3 Ishpeming Churches

ISHPEMING — An "experiment" in Christian learning will be conducted at the Trinity Lutheran parish house, located on E. Ridge and Fourth Sts., beginning Jan. 15.

This "experiment" offers opportunity for persons to focus attention on one area of concern for an intensive period of study and is being taught by trained pastors and shared with others of varying traditions.

Requirements for those enrolling in one of the courses, which are to be held on Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 on Jan. 15, 22, 29, Feb. 5, 12 and 19, is that they attend all six sessions, read the text book and to read any voluntary reading that may be suggested.

Sponsors of this study are the Trinity Lutheran Church, the United Presbyterian Church and the Wesley Methodist Church.

Cost for the course is $2.50 and application blanks can be obtained from the pastor of each of the churches participating. This includes registration and the cost of the textbook.

Couples may enroll in the same course for the same amount. If they take part in different courses, only the cost of the text will be added to the above figure.

The Rev. Ray L. Miklethun, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church who is teaching Christian doctrine during the study courses, outlined his subject as follows:

"What you believe makes a difference! This has always been the firm conviction of the Christian Church. Doctrine is as important today as ever in the past. For we have seen the rise of 20th century movements that must first be criticized on the basis of their faulty doctrine before they can effectively be opposed. We need lay people who know what they believe and why they believe."

The course will attempt to provide an understanding of the great articles of faith of the church. Some attention will be given to the formulations of great thinkers of the past and efforts made to try to discover their relevance for today, the Rev. Miklethun said.

Among the topics studied will be the doctrines of creation, sin, redemption, the Trinity, the incarnation and the church.

The Rev. John B. Duncan, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, will conduct a study course of the Psalms with a detailed explanation of representative examples.

The history of the Psalter will be considered, including its use in worship and devotion. Pastor Duncan said: "Careful attention will be given to the nature of God revealed in the Psalms and the ways in which He deals with men. The prayers and praise of the Psalter are the response of a deep and abiding faith in the living God, who knows His people personally and is known by them. God has revealed Himself to His people in such a fashion as to assure them that they can come to Him with their joys and sorrows, their needs and concerns."

"Living the Christian Life" is the subject the Rev. Eric Hammar, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church, has chosen for study.

The Rev. Mr. Hammar stated that every day the Christian is confronted by the need to make ethical decisions. "This course," he said, "will seek to lay a foundation on the basis of biblical study, Christian doctrine and history as we seek to come to an understanding of just what it means to be a Christian in the 20th century world."

Saying that they would seek to relate the foundation for Christian ethics to specific situations in which the Christian finds himself confronted each day of his life, Pastor Hammar said they would study the expressions of the Christian faith and way as related to the family, racial and economic relations, politics, and war and peace.

The three participating ministers issued an invitation to anyone interested in these study groups and also stated that, if these study classes prove to be of sufficient appeal, further courses will be offered.

Persons planning to attend the Quaal concert Jan. 15 will be dismissed in time.

Norbie Gridder Added To Basketball Squad For Trip To NMC

DE PERE, Wis. — St. Norbert college basketball coach Romie Kosnar, who just lost Jim Paprocki, his starting forward, for an indefinite period because of an injury, has turned to the football team for help.

Kosnar has announced that Pat Pavelski, a 6'0" star end on the Knights football team for the past three seasons, has answered his invitation to come out for the basketball team. Pavelski has been working out with the team this week, and will possibly make the road trip this weekend when the Knights play a pair of games in the Upper Peninsula.

St. Norbert plays Northern Michigan tonight and Michigan Tech on Saturday afternoon. Pavelski played high school basketball at Regis in Eau Claire, where he was a starting forward. He has been an outstanding football player for the Knights, leading the team in pass receptions during the past year.

Paprocki, a Milwaukee senior, suffered a recurrence of a back injury from last season in holiday action at Oshkosh. His doctor has advised him to remain out of action for an indefinite period, possibly the entire season.

Kosnar has announced that Paprocki's starting forward position will be filled by either of two sophomores from De Pere, Ken Smith or John Patterson.

St. Norbert now has a 5-6 record for the season. The Knights ended a five-game losing streak last weekend, when they defeated Lewis 98-87. Figures through the eleven games show sophomore center Dick Rankin of Appleton leading the team in total points, 144, for a 13.1 average.

Leroy Weyenbush missed one game, but is the top average scorer for the Norbies, at 14.2. Paprocki had scored 13.8 per game; Minton, 12.2; Wisneski, 10.5, giving the team five men regularly hitting in double figures.

Patterson averaged 8.2 in reserve action. Minton had the high individual night to date, 28 against Milwaukee Branch of the University of Wisconsin, while the team hit its high in last week's Lewis game.

Knights' losses include one at Lewis, plus the string—St. Mary's of Minnesota, Winona State, St. Mary's of California (76-75 at Brown County Arena), and Oshkosh and Ripon in the Oshkosh twins' spring list average age under 25

The Minnesota Twins have announced a training camp roster of 46 players including five farmhands summoned for special screening.

A total of 22 pitchers (among them Jim Manning of Trout Creek) and four catchers will report to Manager Sam Mele and his staff at Orlando, Florida, for workouts on February 20. The rest of the squad, 11 infielders and nine outfielders, is to begin conditioning on February 27.

The five non-varsity players will be Pitchers Jim Merritt, Jim Rantz, and Bill Whitby, Catcher Joe McCabe and Outfielder Jimmie Hill. Merritt and Whitby are listed on the roster of the Wilson club of the Carolina League, the other three on Dallas-Fort Worth of the International League.

Rantz, a sinker-balling right-handed relief specialist from the University of Minnesota, was 3-3 at Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League last season and posted a creditable 3.90 earned run average in 51 games.

Merritt, a 19-year-old lefthander drafted from the Dodgers two years ago, was the New York-Penn League's top winner with a 19-8 record at Erie, Pa., and he was also the league's strikeout king with 249. He was 8-3 with a 3.18 ERA in the Florida Instructional League this fall. McCabe, a brilliant prospect from Purdue, and Hill, 1962 Florida Instructional League batting champion at .351, came out of service last summer to post batting marks of .309 and .313 at Vancouver.

The new Tinker Field landscape otherwise will be liberally dotted with many new faces, pointing up the remarkable age average of only 24.8 years per varsity player.

Manager Mele will undoubtedly give special scrutiny to such as Garry Roggenburk, huge lefthanded pitcher whose 2.07 ERA and .765 winning percentage on a 13-4 record were the best in the New York-Penn League; Drafee Pitcher Marv Mecklenberg, lefty, a 14-9 pitcher at Portsmouth, Va., of the Sally League; Lefty Jim Roland, whose 1.99 ERA just missed being the best in the Carolina League where he won 10 and lost 8.

Also, $38,000 Bonus Catcher Paul Ratliff, the Paul Bunyan from Texas who smashed eight homers in his first 24 p.p. games; First Baseman Charlie Keller, III, drafted from the Yankees system where he established promising hitting records, and Pedro (Tony) Oliva, a 350-hitting outfielder at Charlotte in the Sally League and a .444 swatter in a half-season trial with the Twins.

Holiday tournament. Northern hopes to snap a three-game losing streak tonight.

Northern also will host the University of Minnesota-Duluth Monday night, Jan. 14.

The Wildcats, who are unbeaten in five home contests this year, dropped their third road game Tuesday night to powerful Bradley, 91-64, after holding a 38-34 halftime lead. Earlier this week, Northern was upset at Ferris, 86-73.

Final practice sessions showed two probable changes in the starting lineup for Northern Michigan College tonight, when the Wildcats host St. Norbert's College at 8 p.m. on the fieldhouse court.

Coach Stan Albeck may move 6-8 Bill Webb, Marquette freshman, into the starting lineup, as well as Dave Cade, 6-5 junior, along with Gary Silc, Bob Armistead, Jerry Wright.

It would be the first start for Webb, replacing Wayne Lundy, while Cade, regular center a year ago, replaces Duane Soine.

ISHPEMING — Six Ishpeming ski jumpers are leaving today to compete in Minneapolis, Minnesota this coming Sunday on a hill with a record of 181 feet.

Wayne State 'On Road' For Month

Wayne State's basketball team is leaving Detroit today.

And it isn't returning, as it were, until Valentine's Day!

The Tartars will play seven road games over that period, making the sojourn one of the longest in the school's history.

The bus left the Detroit campus at 7:30 a.m. for tonight's game against Thiel, Saturday the Tartars skip 20 miles over to Meadville, Pa., to play Allegheny.

Then they'll snack, ride through the night back to the Motor City, rest up Sunday, and Monday fly to St. Louis, Mo., to play Washington University that evening.

The Tartars return to school for three days, then fly to the Upper Peninsula for Friday and Saturday Jan. 18-19 games against Michigan Tech and Northern Michigan, respectively.

Jan. 26 they take a train to Chicago, Ill., to play the University of Chicago.

Feb. 2; they'll go either by bus or train to Buffalo, N.Y., to play the State University of New York at Buffalo.

For Valentine's Day they'll be home to host Eastern Michigan at Parnish Hall.

A year ago against the seven road opponents, Wayne State had a 4-3 record with all the contests played in Detroit.

The Tartars topped Northern Michigan, 66-65, and lost to Michigan Tech, 74-71. The losses were by a total of ten points.

"I would consider us fortunate to duplicate last year's record against these clubs," Tartar coach Joel Mason says. "We're just too green a team."

Following fall term examinations, Mason received sophomore help in guard Fred Wolcott of Lincoln Park and forward Colin (Kelly) Barnes of Reading, Pa.

Wolcott, a 5-10 sophomore, played in five freshman games last winter and averaged 17 points per game. Barnes, a 6-2 junior, played in only four contests but has "excellent board potential," Mason says.

Mason's tentative first five for the road trip are Wolcott and let-terman Joe Gualtieri, 6-1, at guard; rookies Steve Bentin, 6-2, and Frank Dmuhovskii, 6-7, at forward; and returning squad member Sean Whalen, 6-3, at center.

Howe Scores Pair As Wings Edge Montreal

(By The Associated Press)

They still refer to the retired Maurice Richard as the Babe But of hockey because the Bambino hit the most career home runs, 714, and the Rocket scored the most goals, 544.

But it won't be too long before they pin the Ruth label on Gordie Howe, Detroit's veteran right winger.

Howe is fast closing in on Richard's National Hockey League record. Thursday night, he collected two goals as the Red Wings defeated Montreal, the team for which Richard starred, 3-2. The setback ended the Canadiens' 10-game unbeaten streak.

Charlie Burns' tally at 12:47 of the third period ended the last-place Boston Bruins to whip the pace-setting Chicago Black Hawks 5-4 in the other game scheduled, 25 to 20.

Howe's goals pushed his season's total to 17 and his career aggregate to 519. So he needs only 25 to tie Richard. Gordie's second goal in the seventh minute of the final period snapped a 2-2 tie and moved the Wings to within two points of the third-place Canadiens.

Billy McNeill scored the Wings' other goal while Gilles Tremblay and Bobby Rousseau registered for Montreal.

Rousseau's marker came only nine seconds after the opening face-off and fell one second short of the league record for fastest goal after start of a game. The mark was set by Ron Martin of the old New York Americans on Dec. 4, 1932 and equaled by Toronto's Ted Kennedy on Oct. 24, 1953.

Sawchuk Injured

Terry Sawchuk, the Detroit goalie, had to leave the game in the 16th minute of the second period after suffering an injury to his right ankle. Dennis Rigin replaced him and sparked with 11 saves.

Burns' game-winner came on a lunging 25-foot shot after taking a diagonal pass from defenseman Ed Westfall. Guy Gendron had two goals for the Bruins while Jimmy Williams, a Duluth, Minn. native, and rookie Bob Leiter each had one. The Hawks' marksmen were Stan Mikita, Reg Fleming, Ron Murphy and Wayne Hillman.

Dawn Fraser Top Female Star Of '62

NEW YORK (AP)—Australia's Dawn Fraser, the first woman to break the one minute barrier for the 100-meter swim, today was named Female Athlete of the Year for 1962 in the annual year-end poll of the Associated Press.

At the ripe old age of 25, when most women swimmers long have quit competition for weekend dips, the tall Melbourne blonde scored her breakthrough by churning 110 yards in 59.9 seconds in the Australian trials for the British Empire Games last October.

Broke Record Twice

This broke her own world record of 60 seconds for the 110 yards and 100 meters (109 yards, 1 foot, 1 inch).

Then in the race for the gold medal in the Empire Games at Perth, the strapping champion lowered her mark for 110 yards and 100 meters to 59.6 seconds.

Succeeds Wilma

Miss Fraser, a staff supervisor in the fashion department of a large retail store in Melbourne, succeeds the fabulous Wilma Rudolph, winner of the Athlete of the Year trophy in 1960 and 1961.

Wondrous Wilma, still the world's fastest female sprinter, was a close second this time. Marion Ladewig, the attractive, 48-year-old bowling grandmother and champion from Grand Rapids, Mich., was third; Darlene Hard, top-ranking American women's tennis player was fourth, and Margaret Smith, Australia's outstanding tennis star, was fifth.

Fairly Close

Miss Fraser received 78 first place votes and 377 points (3-21 basis) from a national panel of 280 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll. Miss Rudolph, recently named to head the AAU's All America track and field team, received 66 first place votes and 333 points.

Mrs. Ladewig collected 173 points, Miss Hard 167 and Miss Smith 119.

300 Attend Rites For Great Hitter Rogers Hornsby

HORNBSBY BEND, Tex. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, whose almost matchless ability to swing a baseball bat gained him the sport's highest honors, was buried Thursday in a cemetery in the hill country of central Texas.

The casket containing the Rajah's body was placed in a grave beside that of his parents. More than 100 of his relatives are buried in the same cemetery.

Hornsby, 68, died Saturday in Chicago from a heart condition.

State Legislature Wants To Form Committee For 3rd Lions-Pack Tilt In LA

LANSING (AP) — A final play-off game between the two bitter pro football rivals — the Detroit Lions and the Green Bay Packers — was suggested Thursday by several senators.

The game could be played in Los Angeles if some other large city with good weather and eager football fans, it was suggested.

Promote Olympics

The profits, the senators said, should be used to promote U. S. participation in the Olympic games.

The idea came in the form of a resolution sponsored by Sens. Haskell Nichols of Jackson, Kent Lundgren of Menominee and Harold Hughes of Clare, all Republicans.

The National Football League office said late Thursday that its constitution and bylaws would prohibit such a game.

The proposed resolution called for creation of a special legislative committee to promote the idea with five members each from the House and Senate. The Legislature was asked to appropriate $2,500 for the committee. The resolution was referred to committee for study.

The Lions and Packers split in their regular season series, each winning one.

AAU Wants U.S. Congress To Investigate NCAA 'Sabotage', 'Blackmail'

NEW YORK (AP) — Col. Don Hull of the Amateur Athletic Union, bitterly denouncing a policy statement by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, has called for a congressional investigation of the activities of the rival group.

Hull, executive director of the AAU, characterized a tough, four-point policy statement by the NCAA as a power-grab attempt, charged the NCAA with attempting "to sabotage the major events for the indoor season."

'Blackmail' Attempts

His blistering statement, issued Thursday in the wake of the NCAA convention in Los Angeles, charged the collegiate group with another in the series of NCAA blackmail attempts to destroy the AAU.

At issue was NCAA action Wednesday by which the 600 members are pledged to a policy that calls for withdrawal from membership in the AAU until the situation with that group improves; a boycott of AAU events not sanctioned by three new federations which have invaded fields governed by the AAU; withdrawal of all personnel from AAU committees in basketball, gymnastics and track and field and a limitation on the use of facilities and equipment.

"The long, complex struggle between the two groups has attracted the attention of President Kennedy, who voiced his concern over the adverse effect the squabble may have over the makeup of the 1964 U. S. Olympic team. He has asked Gen. Douglas MacArthur to mediate the dispute. NCAA and AAU officials are expected to meet with MacArthur in the near future.

"At a time when General of the Army Douglas MacArthur has called for the AAU and the NCAA to mediate the track and field controversy, the NCAA had adopted a four-point program designed to torpedo the chances of the United States in all international competitions, including the Pan American and Olympic Games," Hull said.

"The only effective means to get at the root of the NCAA grab for power," Hull continued, "is for a complete investigation of the activities of this association by the Congress of the United States.

"There will go many questions which can only be answered in such an investigation. For example, the International Olympic Committee has questioned the NCAA policy on athletic scholarships.

Liston-Patterson Rematch May Take Place In Court; Sonny Nixes Miami Date

NEW YORK (AP)—Unless this is all a lot of ballyhoo-and it might be—the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston rematch very well may be staged in a courtroom before it reaches a ring.

Patterson, who has the contractual rights to name the date, site and promoter, announced Wednesday that the fight would be held in Miami Beach, April 4, under the promotion of Championship Sports, Inc.

Sonny Says 'No'

Liston's first reaction was that he was less than completely enchanted about it all. Then Thursday he came out with a firm "no."

Which means, at the moment, the fight is off again. Or at least up in the air.

Second, Third-Hand

Actually, neither Patterson nor Liston are making their comments directly. They're coming through attorneys, advisors and such like. Patterson's attorney, Julius November and Liston's advisor, Jack Nilon.

Liston, of course, gained the title of a first-round knockout of Patterson in Chicago Sept. 23. Under the terms of the contract for that fight, Patterson holds the right to name the date, site and promoter. There also is a clause calling for a $1 million penalty in case Liston violates the contract.

Meet In Court

But if Liston won't fight on Patterson's terms:

"They'll go to court," said November. "We don't want to do that. But what else can you do?"

"Sonny met Patterson in the ring and he can meet him in court," replied Nilon in the Liston camp.

Cubs Hire AF Colonel To Co-ordinate 12 Coaches, Off-The-Field Activities

CHICAGO (AP) — Along with three vice presidents, 12 coaches and a record of being in the National League's second division deep freeze since 1946, the managerless Chicago Cubs now have an athletic director.

President P. K. Wrigley, in another baseball innovation, has named that title on Robert V. Whitlow, 43, who stands 6 feet 5, weighs 240 pounds and holds the rank of colonel in the U.S. Air Force.

Marquette City Commission Proceedings

A regular meeting of the Marquette City Commission was held Wednesday, December 26, 1962 at 4:00 o'clock, P. M. Present: Mayor Smith, Commissioners Carlson, Fine, Johnson, Rydholm, and Commissioner Fine. On motion of Commissioner Fine, supported by Commissioner Johnson and unanimously adopted the absence of Commissioner Rydholm was excused. On motion of Commissioner Carlson, supported by Commissioner Johnson and unanimously adopted the bills payable now on file with the City Clerk totaling $75,081.44 which included $35,809.75 net City Payroll and $2,180.70 net Library payroll were approved and ordered paid. A petition signed by six residents of the 800 block of West Fair Avenue was read wherein it was requested that standard boulevard lights be erected in that block instead of mercury vapor type lights. Following a lengthy discussion on this matter wherein the policy of the City as set forth in 1956 was discussed, it was moved by Commissioner Carlson, supported by Commissioner Johnson and unanimously adopted that a letter be sent to the signers of this petition quoting the reasons as set down by the policy of the City. A communication from R. M. Krump, Sales Manager, Stran-Steel, Champion, Inc., was read wherein he explains the reason for the delay in the erection of the warehouse type building on Wright Street. Following a discussion on this matter this communication was ordered received and placed on file. A petition signed by the Trustees of the Bethel Baptist Church was read regarding the parking of motor vehicles in the area of that church. Following a round table discussion of the City Commission, Chief of Police and Acting City Manager Thomas Moore, the Commission unanimously agreed that Chief Hermanson and Acting City Manager Moore cause a meeting of various City Officials and the Trustees of the Bethel Baptist Church to discuss this matter. There being no other business before the Commission at this time, meeting adjourned. EVERETT H. KENT, City Clerk.

the Congo River. Supposedly only Tshombe has the power to order the destruction of the Congo River. But Union Miniere officials fear that the African demagogues may go ahead with the demolition out of sheer bitterness at losing the war or out of panic if U.N. troops approach.

Camelot Pays 7-Week Visit To Motor City

By PHIL THOMAS DETROIT (AP)—"Camelot" is a unique musical—it has a moral. Granted, the moral is heavily sugar-coated, but even the magnificent sets, fine costumes and lovely songs don't completely obscure the point—which is, that a world of law is better than a world of anarchy, that might is not right, and that man's troubles are of his own doing. Here from New York for a seven-week visit, "Camelot" opened at the Fisher Theatre to a sell-out, hugely appreciative audience. Rise And Fall of Arthur. Loosely based on T. H. White's saga, "The Once and Future King," "Camelot" tells of the rise and ultimate fall of King Arthur and his grandly-conceived Round Table at which all men were equal and were sworn to uphold law and justice. William Squire was superb as Arthur. His portrait of the King was a study in low humor at its very best. With a less talented cast surrounding him, Tranchesi easily could have stolen the show. As it was, he managed to steal scene after scene with essentially heavy-handed wit that became light and gay in his hands.

Petitions Circulated For New Election

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Petitions reportedly are being circulated by two Springfield residents for a new election on annexation to Battle Creek. It follows Supreme Court upsetting of a November, 1960, annexation. The decision was handed down last Dec. 31 and leaves a tangle of Battle Creek-Springfield Municipal affairs.

Fear-Riddled Kolwezi Like Powder Keg

KOLWEZI, Katanga (AP)—A barroom brawl in this fear-riddled town could be enough to touch off the dynamite ready to destroy much of Katanga's industrial wealth. Diehard secessionists have placed explosives where they can do the most damage, and white residents fear African troops may set them off without waiting for orders from Katanga President Moise Tshombe. Tshombe's lieutenants have little control over the town. Civil-military administration is teetering. Drunken troops stroll around commandeering cars and behaving much as they please. Everyone's Scared. White civilians, most of them Union Miniere workers, fear the African troops. Foreign mercenaries fear the African troops. The African troops fear the United Nations and almost everything else but unarmed people unable to fight back. The Africans, who tasted bitter defeat when Tshombe left here for Elisabethville, are looking for a scapegoat. White mining men and mercenaries could be their choice. Both groups know it. The whites have to stay but the mercenaries are looking for an escape. Diehards. A few diehard types are with African troops in the huge copper and cobalt plant of Union Miniere and the Nzilo hydroelectric plant and dam, which supply more than half Katanga's mineral output and most of the province's power. They've placed explosives which if fired could paralyze the country. By blowing the dam wall, they could start flood waters rolling north into the rest of Katanga and a wave of water rolling down

Dear Abby . . .

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If I buy one of those senior citizens homes for retired old folks and the woman who has been my darling wife for 44 years drops dead on the golf course because she's not used to all that exercise, and then I marry a cute young chick and we have two or three kiddies, what should I do? They don't allow children at the senior citizens homes for retired folks.

LOOKING AHEAD
DEAR LOOKING: Don't count your chickens before they're hatched. I'll help you solve that problem when the time comes.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and my problem has to do with my mother. I have an older sister and a younger brother. My mother favors my sister because she's the oldest, and she favors my brother because he is the youngest. That leaves me in the middle. I have really tried hard to be nice to my mother but it never turns out right. We just don't seem to get along. What can I do?

MIDDLE CHILD
DEAR MIDDLE CHILD: No matter what position you play in the family game, you see only the drawbacks. The oldest complains that when a fight occurs, it's her fault because she should have known better. The youngest complains because he has to go to bed earlier and can't do what the older kids can do. Frankly, I think you've got the best spot. Just try harder.

DEAR ABBY: My husband flipped his lid because I was up ironing at 2 in the morning. I like to do my work at night when the children are not under foot and as long as it gets done I don't see why he should care when I do it. He said if I didn't watch TV all day I'd get my work done in the daytime. So now he takes a tube out of the set before he goes to work. Abby, I have eight children under 12 and no help, and watching TV during the day (and I don't watch "all day") is my only relaxation. Do you think he's being fair?

PUNISHED
DEAR PUNISHED: Your

husband is behaving like a tyrant. With eight children under 12 and no help, any relaxation you can grab during the day is well earned. Tell him to take care of HIS job and you'll take care of yours.

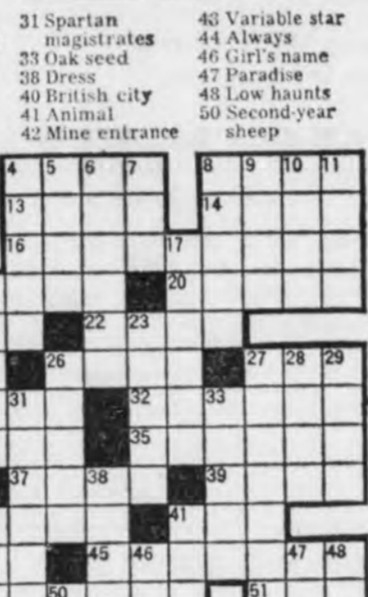

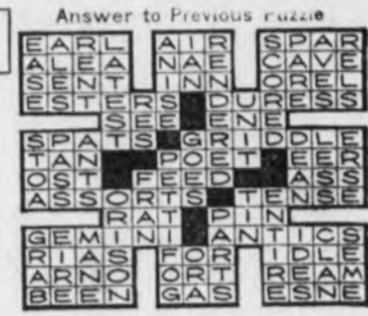

and that my little girl would be good company for her little boy who's the same age. I later heard that she told someone that I was cheap because I never offered to pay her. I thought friends did things for nothing.

STRANGE FRIENDSHIP

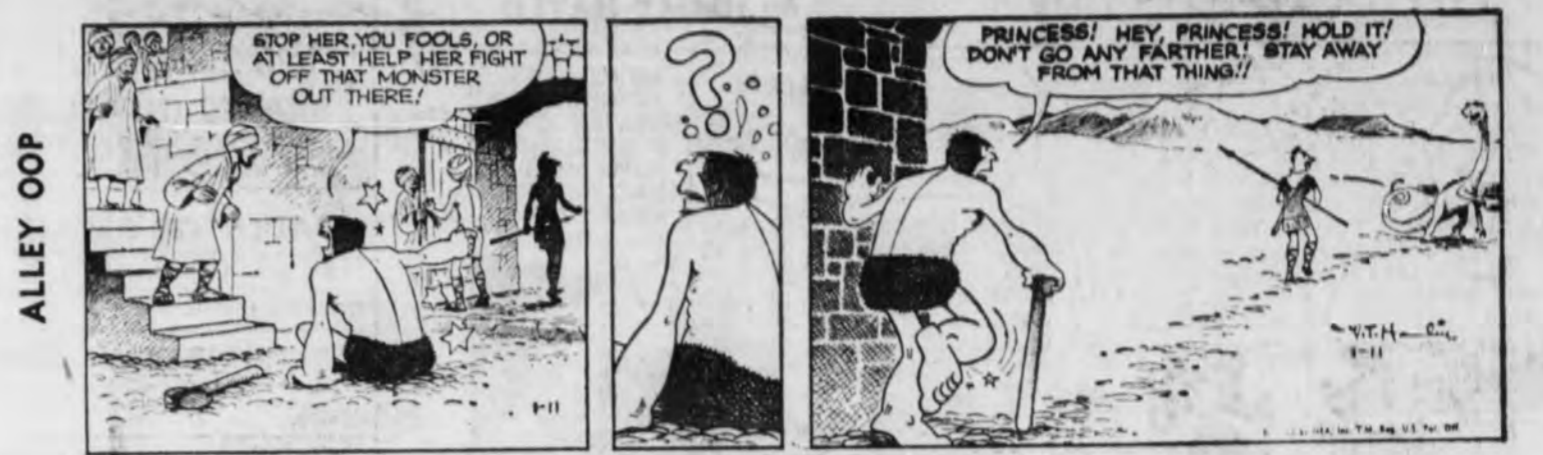

DEAR STRANGE: Friends do. But apparently you put a strain on your friendship by routinely leaving your child with her every day. If she complained behind your back, take the hint and either offer her money or make other arrangements for your child.

There's No Business Like Shmo Business !!

There's been a lot of confusion lately, about the words "Shmo" and "Shmo". Many think they mean the same thing. Nothing could be further from the truth !!

A shmo is a small animal which, when boiled, tastes like chicken, but when broiled comes out steak. Its whiskers make the finest quality tooth-picks, and its eyes make superb shoe buttons. It lays any flavor of cake, but only Grade A milk. It is to be found nowhere. And that's what a Shmo is.

Now, a Shmo is something different. It is to be found in Outer Shmongolia, generally sleeping.
