N-Test Accord Closer As Russ Boss Agrees To On-Site Inspections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union appeared today to be closer to agreement on a nuclear weapons test ban than they have been at any time in almost two years.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has removed a major barrier to serious negotiation by telling President Kennedy that he would accept two or three on-site inspections a year in the Soviet Union as part of a system to prevent cheating.

Reaction in the Senate, where a test ban pact would have to be approved, was heavily cautious. But the general feeling was that in accepting the principle of on-site inspection, Khrushchev's move was encouraging.

Heavy Snowfall Cripples Large Parts Of State

A huge snowfall, coupled with bitter cold, crippled large parts of Michigan today. Many schools closed with rural roads impassable under deep drifts as strong winds piled up the snow.

Way crews fought to keep main roads open. West and Southwest Michigan apparently got the brunt of a storm that blew in over the weekend.

Winds, Snow Continue To Belt England

LONDON (AP) — Freezing winds and snow whipped across Britain today, burying the shivering country deeper in one of its worst winters in recorded history.

The storm blocked roads all the way from the Indiana border to the Straits of Mackinac. A Greyhound bus with a dozen passengers on the way from Mackinac City to Grand Rapids got trapped in a five-foot snow drift north of Traverse City Sunday night.

State police and Antrim County highway workers freed the bus about midnight after a delay of three hours. The National Guard Armory at Holland gave shelter to more than 50 motorists overnight. Their cars had become stalled in the snow.

Cardinal Said 'Fair' After Heart Attack

LONDON (AP) — William Cardinal Godfrey, 73, "had a fair night but his general condition is unchanged," a spokesman at his home said today.

The drifting followed an 8-inch snowfall. Cars couldn't move in drifts as high as 5 feet. Temperatures included 13 below at Escanaba and 11 below at Houghton, both in the Upper Peninsula, 12 below in Niles, 11 below in Jackson and 6 below at Bay City - Saginaw and Lansing.

At the same time the long-range forecast is for 13 to 18 degrees below normal for the entire state. Schools Closed Grand Haven and Holland public schools were the lone Ottawa County holdouts against weather-caused closings.

The Weather

Forecast for Marquette and vicinity: Not so cold and light snow beginning late tonight, diminishing to flurries and turning colder again Tuesday afternoon; low tonight 5 to 10 below and high Tuesday 5 to 10 above.

Forecast for Lake Superior: Southerly winds 12-20 MPH to night, shifting to northwest and increasing to 20-30 MPH Tuesday. Light snow.

Forecast for the rest of the state: A wind-lashed snowstorm off Lake Erie battered broad areas of western New York State Sunday night. Wind gusts up to 50 MPH whipped the snow into blinding clouds, causing heavy drifting and cutting visibility to zero.

Kennedy Defends Fiscal Program Before Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy told Congress today that cutting taxes, despite a huge deficit, is "the best way open to us to increase revenues."

Kennedy devoted the annual economic report, last of his three major messages to the new Congress, to allaying the fears of those legislators who called his fiscal program — the heaviest spending and biggest tax cut in history — "incredible," "a mistake," and "too big."

On the first $25,000 would be dropped to 22 per cent, but the 52 per cent over-all rate would be retained for 1963. Thus companies with small earnings would benefit quickly.

As if in direct response to congressional critics who challenged his plan for a $10-billion net tax reduction in the face of a deficit-laden $98.8-billion budget, Kennedy stressed the need to put idle men, mines and factories back to work.

The anticipated deficit would be roughly three-fourths as big as is now anticipated even if taxes were not reduced, Kennedy said, because a slack economy is not producing enough taxable income and profits.

An effort to cut the deficit by drastic curtailment of spending would be "self-defeating," he said; it would not only endanger the national security but would depress demand, production and employment so that revenues would fall "and leave the government budget still in deficit."

Dockers Accept Panel's Proposal To Settle Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for striking longshoremen have accepted a presidential board's proposals to end the month long, Maine-to-Texas dock tie-up. Ship owners deferred action until Tuesday.

The board's proposal for a 39-cent-an-hour package increase over two years—including 24 cents in wage boosts—was accepted Sunday night by negotiators for union longshoremen who work in ports from Norfolk, Va., northward.

A union spokesman said that even if ship owners and stevedoring companies accept the proposal, the strike could not be considered over until dockworkers along the Southeast and Gulf coasts get the same offer.

Because more than 550 ships are stalled with no one to load or unload cargo, an estimated 20,000 railroad boxcars are backed up along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

Griffin Offers Proposal For National Park

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Sleeping Bear legislation was proposed today by Rep. Robert Griffin, R-Mich. He said he hopes it will bring a speedy solution of the controversy that has been boiling for several years.

His bill, to be introduced Tuesday, would create a national park of about 37,000 acres in Western Michigan. It would include the Manitou Islands, the Sleeping Bear Dunes, and a long stretch of Lake Michigan shoreline.

Griffin said he continues his opposition to the Sleeping Bear measure proposed last year by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich. Griffin said Hart's plan is unnecessarily expensive and would take from private owners vested property rights without just compensation.

Hart would convert 77,000 acres of dunesland to a national recreation area. Hart is expected to introduce a similar bill this year.

Comparing his own bill with the earlier Hart measure, Griffin said there are a number of fundamental differences. Griffin said his bill:

- 1. Would include the Manitou Islands, the Sleeping Bear Dunes and a long stretch of Lake Michigan shoreline which is largely undeveloped and lies west of highways M-109 and M-22, but would not include highly developed inland lake areas.

2. Would cost the taxpayers only $2 to $3 million instead of $12 to $18 million.

3. Would not authorize condemnation of improved property within the park area. However, the government, upon payment of compensation, could acquire a scenic easement requiring property to be maintained, together with an option to buy the property if the owner should ever desire to sell.

4. Would provide for court appointment of qualified independent appraisers, at government expense, when the secretary of the interior and a property owner cannot agree on a fair price.

5. Would require the federal government to make payments in lieu of taxes to local school districts for property removed from tax rolls so long as any prior bonded indebtedness remains outstanding.

6. Would permit hunting and fishing under state laws, with any exceptions requiring approval by the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Ex-Slave Credits God For Longevity On 106th Birthday

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — William Casby, a former slave in Virginia, said he celebrated his 106th birthday anniversary Sunday.

79 Graduate From Northern; Talk Given By U-M Educator

Northern Michigan College graduates who received degrees during mid-year commencement ceremonies Saturday were advised to "continue to educate yourselves through critical inquiry and evaluation of experience."

Dr. Algo Henderson, director of the Center for Study of Higher Education at the University of Michigan, said "the educated man gains freedom by using his ability to define his own objectives and by pursuing them relentlessly."

Dr. Henderson, former president of Antioch College, was the principal speaker at the ceremony honoring 79 graduates.

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern, conferred baccalaureate degrees upon 73 candidates and the master of arts degree upon six candidates.

The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Patrick W. Frankard, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Marquette. Music for the professional and recessional was provided by organist Anita Flancher of Iron River.

Dr. Henderson said it was "through education that men's minds come to grips with the problems of life. A liberating education assists men in reaching a good society and a good life."

People are free insofar as they possess the tools of learning and the techniques of action, Dr. Henderson said.

"People are free when they know how to acquire the knowledge needed for the courses of action they are undertaking at the moment," said Henderson.

'Organize Into Social Groups'

"Persons are not free who are handicapped with unnecessary psychological inhibitions, who are victims of preventable communicable diseases, who harbor irrational prejudices against men of differing views or other cultures or other races, or who practice religious bigotry."

"Peoples become free as they learn how to organize into social groups to secure, on a basis of equality of opportunity for all men, such advantages as adequate physical comfort, health services, educational opportunity, and economic justice, and also leisure time for cultural pursuits."

"Achievements such as these bring about liberation. Men have become free in proportion to their attainment of goals such as these. Education is liberating when it aids in this process."

"These teachings are not liberating because they are not consistent with the best available knowledge, or because they close the door to the discovery of new knowledge.

They tend to limit man's understanding of himself and his environment, and lead to courses of action which do not in the long run have social justification."

Dairymen Of U.P. To Hear Dr. Trout Talk

Dr. G. Malcolm Trout, East Lansing, professor of Dairy Food Science, Michigan State University, and internationally known authority on dairy products, will be the keynote speaker at the 29th annual Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers Association convention at the Northland Hotel this week.

The convention will be held tomorrow and Wednesday and William Jilbert, Calumet, president of the association, will preside.

U. S. Delegate Dr. Trout was the U. S. delegate to the World's Dairy Congress in Stockholm in 1949, the Hague in 1953, and Rome in 1956. He also participated in congresses in London, 1959, and Copenhagen, 1962.

Trout is widely known as a world traveler in dairy circles. One of his outstanding pig-managers was an extensive trip through Russia with, of course, his main interest being the dairy industry.

Dr. Trout's keynote subject will be, "Let's Sell Dairy Products." Formal convention meetings will start at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon, following a registration and get-acquainted period at the Northland.

Other program speakers will be: Frank Koval, Lansing, executive secretary, Michigan Dairy Products Association; Boyd Rice, Lansing secretary-manager, American Dairy Association of Michigan; Earl E. Gulland, marketing administrator, Duluth; George S. McIntyre, director, Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lansing; F. M. Skiver, chief, bureau of dairying, Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lansing.

Charles Stine, Department of Food Science, Michigan State University, East Lansing; D. L. Murray, extension dairyman, Michigan State University, East Lansing; and Jack Little, Michigan State University extension dairyman and director of the U. P. Experiment Station, Chatham.

Recess Ends Tonight For Lawmakers

LANSING (AP) — With some 500 pieces of proposed legislation expected to flow into both chambers during the next three months, the 72nd session of the Michigan Legislature will go to work in earnest today.

Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, will announce his committee appointments and chairmen for the 1963 House as the recess ends at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Senate already has lined up with so-called Republican "moderates" holding down positions of control and the chairmanships of important committees.

Sen. John Fitzgerald, R - Grand Ledge, is expected to introduce a Senate resolution to set April 26 as a tentative date for an end to the regular session, with formal adjournment on June 7.

OK Time Table

Gov. George Romney and key lawmakers from both chambers agreed to the tentative timetable last week.

Gov. Romney proposed the split sessions as a means of clearing out most legislation before dealing with the complicated problem of fiscal and tax reform after Labor Day.

Republicans hold a 23-11 edge in the Senate and a 58-52 margin in the House.

One thing still to be settled is the probe of alleged election practices involving Leonard Walton, a Democrat elected from Wayne County's 12th district.

A five - member House committee, headed by Rep. Henry Hogan, R - Birmingham, closed its hearings on the Walton case in Detroit, Friday and will review its findings here Tuesday.

Disagreement

Disagreement is expected to develop along party lines on several issues despite the Governor's call for lawmakers to approach business in a bi-partisan spirit.

Among the bills already filed for introduction — and on which much debate is expected — is a proposed $1.25 minimum wage law.

Gov. Romney has said he favors a minimum wage, a proposal that Republicans have allowed to die in committee in past sessions.

Green, who gained the House speaker's post without opposition, has decided on a "major shake-up" of the general taxation committee, to include the removal of Rep. Rollo Conlin, R-Tipton, as chairman.

Conlin, considered the outstanding tax expert among lawmakers, is an avowed supporter of a state income tax. Green says he wants a taxation committee with an open mind.

The shakeup promised by Green will include a proposal to increase the committee from 11 to 13 members, with Republicans gaining a 9-4 voting advantage.

tion besides Jilbert are Roy Fassbender, vice president, Bancroft Dairy, Marquette, and Reginald Turner, secretary treasurer, Sault Ste. Marie.

Newspaper Strike Costly For Unions

NEW YORK (AP)—Nine unions are paying nearly $1 million weekly in strike benefits to more than 15,000 members idled by a New York newspaper blackout, a survey showed today. The amount is about two-fifths of their normal wages.

The benefits range from $30 for a single man with no dependents to $120 for others, depending on the union. No Benefits Only the deliverers union among 10 major unions affected by the strike is paying no benefits. Its 2,800 members voted to go with-

20 Machine Tool Operators Complete ARA Course Here

Twenty Upper Peninsula men graduated last week as machine tool operators at the Northern Michigan College Area Training Center.

This was the second section of machine tool operators of the first program approved under the Area Redevelopment Act.

The program consisted of 16 weeks, 40 hours per week, of intensive instruction in the set-up and operation of machine tools consisting of engine lathe, turret lathe, drill press, milling machine, shaper, planer, radical drill, saws, and grinding machines.

The trainees also received classroom instruction in related subjects, such as shop mathematics and blueprint reading. Referred By MESC Trainees were selected and referred to the program, on a Peninsula-wide basis, by the Michigan Employment Security Commission. The training facility was established by Northern, with funds made available by cooperation of the vocational division of the State Department of Public Instruction and the U. S. Office of Education.

The training section of the Area Redevelopment Act is designed to provide unemployed people with training in a specific skill so that they may become gainfully employed, thereby alleviating unemployment and bolstering the economy of the area.

Participating in the graduation ceremony were William Martin, supervisor of Area Training; John Teigen and John Kivela, instructors; Russell Adams, NMC director of business and industrial services; Anton Cossel, of the MESC; and Chester L. Walker of the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Train-

Dear Abby . . .

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column once from a girl who went daffy over a police officer. I can understand it because they all look like a million dollars in their uniforms. But take them out of their uniforms and they are a big nothing. I ought to know. I fell for one of those guys and made a date to meet him off duty. He showed up in an ordinary suit and I was never so disappointed in all my life.

is now 72. We are all married and are scattered around the country. Mother calls me her "favorite" and easiest to get along with. She has lived with me since my marriage 14 years ago. Abby, I am not complaining, but my husband and children and I would like to be alone for a while. Just a few weeks. Mother is not a burden, we just need some privacy. The others have invited her to come for vacations (they've offered to pay her fare), but Mother doesn't like to travel. She is in good health. I wouldn't hurt her for the world, but how can I solve this delicate problem?

UNIFORM HAPPY
DEAR UNIFORM HAPPY: I'll admit that uniforms are disarming. But it works the other way, too. I've heard from men who have fallen for nurses on duty. And when they dated them in their off-duty attire — all the glamour and appeal had gone with the starch.

"THE FAVORITE"
DEAR FAVORITE: Write to your sisters and brothers and suggest they coax her in earnest. With their pulling on one end and your encouraging her to go on the other, your chances for a much deserved breather are excellent.

DEAR ABBY: My mother was left a widow with seven children when I was only 3. She raised us alone (no insurance) and a more unselfish mother never lived. She

DEAR ABBY: My husband is always after me to invite his bosses and their wives to dinner. He thinks the more we see of them socially, the better it will be for him. The few times I have had them to our apartment, I got the impression they didn't want to get too palsy walsy with us, and accepted our invitation only to avoid hurting our feelings. I feel very uncomfortable with them. I would like your opinion of employees who try to socialize with their bosses.

WOMAN'S INTUITION
DEAR INTUITION: If you feel "uncomfortable" in the company of your husband's bosses and their wives, your intuition is probably correct. You should entertain them only to reciprocate THEIR invitations. For a more detailed reply to your very intelligent question, get McCall's February issue and read "How To Help Your Husband Get Ahead." I wrote it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO KEY:
In the words of a wise Irishman: "Better to be quarrelling than lonesome." Stick around.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Tucson Boys Chorus Next Of Concerts

Eduardo Caso and his Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus will appear at the Ishpeming High School Auditorium next Monday evening as the second program of the year's Ishpeming Concert Series.

George Quaal of Quaal Presentations said today that the concert, scheduled for 8:15, is one of the outstanding ones he has booked in several years of arranging for the Ishpeming Concert Series.

The Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus has attained a unique position of popularity and prestige. In concert, on radio, television and on records, the "Ambassadors in Levis" have won a host of admirers "for their fine singing, delightful showmanship and varied programs," Quaal said.

Caso, who founded the Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus in 1939, broke with musical tradition early for he was determined to form a typically American group of boy singers quite unlike their European counterparts. "The conventional type of concert was replaced by an informality which immediately proved popular, for the discipline — obviously the key to choral success — is never too apparent as is to often the case in groups of this kind, frequently to the detriment of complete enjoyment," Quaal said. "This type of presentation has since been copied in some degree by many of the children's organizations on the road today," he added.

German operas made famous the world over by leading boy choirs have been discarded for a group of Western numbers especially arranged by Caso, complete with calf bawls, coyote howls, the clip-clopping of horses, and trick roping.

"Nor was this the only break with tradition, for the somewhat

Christmas Tree Growing Indoors

Mrs. Harold C. Beckman and her 13-year-old son, Robert, were photographed Friday at their home, 1815 Woodridge St., with their Christmas tree, which has been sprouting new branches for several days. Loath to take it down, the Beckmans say they have never heard of a tree growing indoors. (Mining Journal photo).

Teen-Agers: Here's Free Hair-Styling Guide From Hollywood

1. There have been some sweeping changes made in the '63 coiffure story. If you'd like to try these new looks for a New Year, then check P.S. for our free sketch and styling guide. In the meantime keep these styling cues in mind: Hair is tidier, trimmer (2 inches below ears is a favorite length) and taller. As Janet De Gore illustrates, crown is peaked, silhouette head-shaped and interest concentrated in this instance, at the side.

2. Another high-rising hair-do that again spotlights one section of the coiffure is this "coronet cushion." Hair is parted into three equal sections, with the sides turned under. Center is pulled straight back and ends combed over a pouf of crepe hair. Janet, who appears in the CBS-TV series, "The Real McCoy's," finds this quick-to-duplicate coil can be further accented with a jeweled comb or sissy bows.

3. Continuing the style ascent is a peaked evening coil that finds the back of the hair twirled into a French twist, and the sides and front swirled into a spiral shape. Styling secrets to note: Although hair appears head hugging, it has been lightly teased in front to prevent severe look. Also, ends have been feather-brushed, so that they are full-bodied and can be shaped into skyscraper silhouette.

P.S. It's free! Now, you can have our exclusive basic hair set and
