One Injured, One Ticketed In Four Car Wrecks In City

One person was injured, a motorist was given a ticket and eight vehicles were involved in four traffic smashups which occurred in Marquette yesterday.

1. The personal injury wreck took place at 11 yesterday morning on W. College Ave. at Presque Isle Ave. and involved vehicles operated by John F. Peterson, 213 E. Arch St., and Edward E. Bolduc, 353 Blenhuber.

City police said Peterson was driving his taxicab east on College Ave. and going through the intersection when his car hit the left front of the milk truck operated by Bolduc. The latter told officers he was stopped in the intersection, waiting to make a left turn.

Betty Jane Jones, 36, of 230 W. Arch St., a passenger in the taxi, suffered a bruised ankle and was taken to St. Luke's Hospital for treatment.

Extensive damage occurred to the left front fender of the taxi, a 1963 sedan, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker. The left front fender of the truck, a 1957 model, also was damaged.

2. At 9 yesterday morning a city snow plow being driven north on N. Front St. by Ernest Hoppe, 151 Baraga Ave., was involved in a mishap with a car owned by Chester Babcock, 1078 S. Lake St., which was parked on the east side of the street, facing north.

City police said Hoppe was forced to the right, due to congestion caused by a large van, which was parked on the west side of the street, in the 500 block. In going to the right, the scraper blade on the plow struck the left rear fender of Babcock's parked car.

No damage resulted to the truck but the left rear fender of Babcock's 1955 four-door sedan was damaged. It was driven from the scene.

3. An automobile being driven east on W. College Ave. by Margaret C. Cox, 816 W. College, slid out of control on the icy roadway at Lee St., when she attempted to slow down for oncoming traffic, at 12:50 yesterday afternoon.

City police said she tried to slow down for oncoming traffic, since there was practically only one-way traffic near St. Luke's Hospital. In doing so her car slid into an automobile owned by Ruth Kemp, 201 Jewel St., Munising, which was parked on the south side of College.

The right front of the Cox car, a 1962 station wagon, and the left rear of the Kemp vehicle, a 1957 two-door sedan, were damaged. Both were driven from the scene. Icy conditions were blamed for the mishap.

4. At 3:27 yesterday afternoon a car being driven west on Grove St. by Lorraine V. Dupras, Route 1, Grove St., and a city patrol car going in the opposite direction and operated by Sgt. Woodrow Betts were involved in a collision, near the Marquette Golf and Country Club.

Neither driver was able to see the other until the last moment, due to the high winds and blowing snow, and because of the heavy drifting, neither was able to swing out of the way of the other. Both had their lights on at the time.

The left front of the Dupras car, a 1959 station wagon, and the left front of the patrol car, a 1962 sedan, were damaged, and both vehicles were removed by wreckers.

Tech Prexy Calls Budget Plan Too Low

HOUGHTON — Gov. Romney's recommended net operational budget for Michigan College of Mining and Technology for the 1963-64 fiscal year represents a 4.1 per cent increase over the net amount given to the college for operational expenses during the current fiscal year.

Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, Tech president, said: "The recommended appropriation of $3,527,095 is inadequate to meet the needs of our growing enrollment and the requirements of an outstanding technological center."

As an example, Dr. Van Pelt cited a new process developed by Tech's institute of mineral research for the extraction of copper from low grade ores. The process was developed last year and is expected to add at least $3 million a year to the economy of the state.

"To Pay Handsome Dividends" "This research was done on a very low budget, but will pay handsome dividends to the state. This is only one example of the many significant things happening at Michigan Tech in the field of research," the president said.

Gov. Romney's recommendation of $1,483,780 for capital outlay for the Houghton campus includes funds to complete the mathemattics-physics classroom building now under construction.

However, Van Pelt expressed disappointment that the Governor did not recommend capital outlay funds for the Sault Ste. Marie branch campus. The college has requested $556,650 to construct a classroom building to replace one last year in a fire.

'Critical Need' Cited

"The Soo branch has a critical need for this new building," he said. "Following last year's unfortunate fire, readjustments were made to relocate a large number of classes in other temporary quarters. These quarters are inadequate."

"The Soo branch enrollment pressures are just as great, proportionately, as on the Houghton campus. The program at the branch will suffer until such time as the state can find the money for this replacement."

Jury Acquits Woman Of Charge Here

A municipal court jury yesterday found Mary Swenor, 38, of Route 2, Trowbridge Park, not guilty of common prostitution — second offense in municipal court. Mrs. Swenor was arrested by state police Monday. The offense allegedly had occurred Jan. 19. At her municipal court arraignment before Judge Edward H. Dembowski Monday, Mrs. Swenor pleaded not guilty. Bond, set at $100, was posted.

A motion made by Prosecuting Attorney Edward A. Quinnell of Marquette yesterday that the charge be changed from common prostitution to second offense was granted. She was previously convicted in June 1960 for a 90-day jail term.

Witnesses Listed Witnesses for the people yesterday were Charles Overton, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, State Police Trooper Donald Schummer and Margaret Lenore, deputy court clerk. Nickolas E. Bridges, Negaunee.

Feast Of St. Blase Tomorrow; Throat Blessing Scheduled

The ancient custom of blessing of throats is scheduled in Roman Catholic churches in the Marquette area tomorrow — the Feast of St. Blase.
Tradition has it that St. Blase, a physician before he became bishop of Sebaste in Turkey early in the fourth century, performed a cure on a boy who had a fishbone lodged in his throat. Martyred about the year 316, he is the patron saint invoked for throat diseases and also for other physical ailments. His feast in the Latin Church is kept on Feb. 3 and in the Oriental churches on Feb. 11.

Candles Crossed
Priests give the blessing of St. Blase by holding two candles against the throat in the form of St. Andrew's cross.
Pastors of all five local churches have scheduled the blessing after each of the Sunday Masses. At St. Peter's Cathedral and at St. John's Church, there will also be an afternoon blessing, especially for babies and other small children, at 3; and at St. Christopher's Church in Trowbridge Park, there will be a two o'clock blessing. At St. Michael's and at St. Louis the King in Harvey, the blessing is only after the Masses.

More Than 100 Attend Panel Talks

More than 100 persons attended a special panel discussion on the topic "Youth in a Troubled World" Tuesday evening in the First Presbyterian Church.
Participants in the program, arranged by the First Presbyterian Women's Association, were Judge of Probate Michael F. DeFant, Chief of Police Donald C. Hermanson and Leslie Ruohomaki, a juvenile probation officer attached to the probate court. Kenneth W. Brenner was moderator.
The panel covered four main areas, outlined by Brenner in his introductory remarks as:
(1) What are our current problems?
(2) What are we doing about them?
(3) What things should we be doing that we aren't doing?
(4) Where do you, the parents and individual citizens, fit into this picture with the authorities?

Controls In Effect
Chief Hermanson said that delinquency is well controlled in Marquette. Last year, a total of 211 juveniles were apprehended — 176 boys and 35 girls, ranging in age from 5 to 16 years of age. Offenses, he reported, included disorderly conduct, larceny, run-aways, breaking and entering, moral misconduct, liquor and firearm violations, auto theft and skipping school.
Judge DeFant and Ruohomaki discussed the role of the probate court and the probation officer in handling children who get in trouble, noting that the court's juvenile program aims to rehabilitate, protect and guide the child and also to help the parents. The delinquent group can be divided into two groups, they said, children who have set up a pattern of antisocial conduct and dependent or neglected children.
Questions posed by persons attending the discussion included whether the waterfront dance site contributes to the juvenile problem; the value of a youth center and a trade school in helping local boys and girls to adjust properly.
Figures Given
Judge DeFant said that 50 per

Dance Class Plan Here Announced

An instructional class in square dancing for beginners is being undertaken as a project of the City of Marquette's parks and recreation department. It was announced today by James C. Engle, superintendent.
Engle said that all interested persons in the area are invited to participate in the classes, to be conducted by John Rublein.
The initial organization meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the chambers of the Marquette City Commission, Engle reported. "It is important that all persons wishing to take part in the instruction classes attend this meeting so that we can make final plans," he said.
The classes will be held at the Whitman Elementary School each Tuesday evening at 8 — with the exception of the first Tuesday of each month — for a 10-week period.
At present, there are seven active square dance groups in the area, most of which are interested in acquiring new members, Engle noted.

Three Local Organizations Presenting Musical Revue In May With Cast Of 125

Spokesmen for three Marquette organizations today announced plans for their joint production in May of a "follies" type of musical revue with a cast of 125.
Contracted for by the Junior Woman's Service Club, with the support of the Saturday Music Club and the Marquette Community Theater, the show is planned as a combined fund-raising endeavor to finance spring projects of the three organizations. It will be produced by a local cast under the aegis of Jerome H. Cargill Producing Organization, Inc., a New York concern which puts on musical shows for local charities all over the country.

Contract All Set
Mrs. Richard Bolz, president of the Junior Woman's Service Club, completed arrangements with Cargill, Inc., this week after members of her organization, the Saturday Music Club and the Marquette Community Theater gave the revue their endorsement.
Production dates are May 19, 20, 21 and 22 in Gravaer High School's Kaufman Auditorium. Both men and women will be in the cast.
Local talent will be recruited soon for the show, which will have a New York director provided by Cargill. The New York organization also furnishes costumes, scenery, music and scripts.

Top Writers
Songs and skits used in the Cargill productions are by authors who are currently functioning on Broadway and costumes are designed by top New York and Paris costumers who supply the New York revues, a representative of the New York concern told a special committee of the Junior Woman's Service Club at a meeting here. Scenery is from leading studios in the East and the company's directors are experienced in the professional theater.
Hospital auxiliaries, Junior Leagues, Junior Women's Clubs, religious organizations and other groups have sponsored Cargill shows. Two years ago, the Saturday Evening Post carried a feature on one of the concern's "follies," with picture spread in color.

Too Big For One
Mrs. Bolz said that because the Junior Woman's Service Club (which has as its big project this year aid for Bay Cliff Health Camp) was unable to handle sponsorship of the show alone, it enlisted the support of the Music Club and the theater unit.
The entire share of the JWSC funds will go to Bay Cliff; the Saturday Music Club will put its percentage of the proceeds into scholarships for music students at Northern Michigan College and the National Music Camp at Interlochen, and the Marquette Community Theater has earmarked its share for a general fund to promote theater undertakings, notably to help finance a musical next fall.

Meetings
The Marquette Federation of Women's Clubs has scheduled a regular meeting of its executive committee Monday evening at 8 in the Federated Women's Clubhouse.

'Think Big And Think Ahead,' Teeners Told

"Within your generation, 60 million jobs will change in character. Work will be more interesting because machines will do repetitive tasks. The work day and the work week will shorten, giving more time for sports, hobbies, art and further adventures in learning."
This is what Evelyn Mills Duvall told teen-agers, more than 2,000 strong, at a Michigan State University Farmers' Week session Tuesday.
Discussing employment prospects for tomorrow's adults, Mrs. Duvall, author of "Facts of Life and Love for Teenagers" and "When You Marry," noted that education all through life will be a basic part of the future.
Education Job Aid
She pointed out that unemployment hits hardest those who have the least schooling. She said that education is important for getting jobs and increasing earning power, but it is also necessary for adding depth, breadth and meaning to life.
"Stand tall and take a long look at life," Mrs. Duvall told the students. "It's bigger than a part-time job and a jalopy. It's bigger than a date for Saturday night, a steady, or a promise of marriage. It calls for big dreams, big aspirations, big people who care enough about each other and about themselves to prepare well for the future that begins right NOW."
A Marquette delegation, including Dr. Albert S. Mowery, director of the Michigan State University Extension Center here, is in Lansing for Farmers' Week, which opened Monday.
Michael's Church will meet Monday evening at 8 at the home of Mrs. John Molby, 1026 High St. All members are urged to attend.

JCC's Koral Kapers Proceeds To Be Given Bay Cliff Health Camp

ISHPEMING — Bay Cliff Health Camp, the summer therapy center for physically handicapped children of the Upper Peninsula, has been chosen by the Ishpeming-Negaunee Junior Chamber of Commerce as the recipient of the major portion of the proceeds of this year's Koral Kapers...

A complex of 43 buildings, Bay Cliff boasts a staff of instructors who are specialists in their field.

Classes are held in physical and occupational therapy, speech correction, hearing, sight and remedial work in academic subjects. Bay Cliff is not a playground, but is a therapy center where handicapped children can be taught to overcome their disabilities in some degree.

The quota for the camp this summer is set at 170 children who will be housed, fed and clothed from June 24 to Aug. 4.

The Jaycees commended the Negaunee Women's Chorus, Negaunee Male Chorus, Ishpeming Choral Club, the choraleers and the Ishpeming Barbershopers who are donating their time and talents so that all proceeds from the Koral Kapers can be turned over to Bay Cliff and the Ishpeming-Negaunee Retarded Children's Association.

Speaking on behalf of the club, Vern Metzger, president, expressed hope that music lovers will set aside the evening of Feb. 16 for the Koral Kapers.

Reserved seats tickets are available at Johnson's Drug Store in Ishpeming and at Matino's Drug Store, Cronin's Drug Store and Lloyd's Texaco in Negaunee.

Home Economics Teachers, Students To Join Housewives At Journal Cooking Schools

ISHPEMING — The Mining Journal Cooking School and Modern Home Festival will draw one of the largest and most enthusiastic crowds of the year.

In addition to interested housewives, home economics teachers have requested space for their classes and other professional economists based in the Upper Peninsula are going to be present for at least one session in each of the shows presented in Ishpeming and Marquette.

Newspaper Observers Newspapers of the Upper Peninsula are sending observers, because this is a newspaper-sponsored event, and similar ones are planned later in the season elsewhere.

The Mining Journal is presenting the first cooking school of 1963. It is the only newspaper in Wisconsin or Michigan to stage the show four days and divide it into two communities.

Susan Lowe will be in charge of the four-day sessions. She already has visited Marquette, paid her respects to food stores and acquainted them with most of the products to be featured in the recipes she will offer.

She also has visited a number of other stores cooperating with the sponsors of the event, whose participation puts the event beyond a cooking school limit and makes it a festival of modern living.

From every indication, thousands of women already are planning to attend and the word is out: "If you plan to be there, plan to be there early." There will be seats to accommodate more than 1,000 women at each of the sessions. The schools will be held in the National Guard Armory here and in Marquette. Doors open at 1:30 and the program starts at 2 p. m. each day.
