

Mystery Boats Visit Hijacked Latin Freighter

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui spent the night lying to near Maraca Island off the Brazilian coast as pursuing U.S. and Venezuelan warships sped toward the scene.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said what the Communist captors of the vessel were doing off the Brazilian island or why it stopped there remained a mystery. Two small boats visited the freighter Sunday night but there has been no sign of movement since, the Navy said.

The U.S. Defense Department said a tracking American plane saw the 3,127-ton freighter ship stop dead in the water suddenly off the Brazilian island about 7 p.m.

The island lies about 300 miles northwest of the Brazilian port of Belém, where the hijackers had indicated they might seek refuge.

The report from the tracking plane gave no hint of the identity of people in the boats that appeared alongside the freighter.

Stowed Away
Communist gunmen stowed away on the Anzoategui early last week and with the help of one or more members of the crew took over the ship Wednesday after it sailed from Venezuela for New Orleans, La., and Houston, Tex.

The hijackers reportedly made the captain and most of his 35-man crew captive. President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Communist government branded the hijackers mutineers and appealed to friendly nations with forces in the Caribbean to seize the freighter.

Seizure of the vessel appeared to be part of a Communist attempt to force Betancourt to cancel a visit with President Kennedy in Washington this week. Betancourt went ahead with plans to leave for Puerto Rico today and to fly on to Washington Tuesday.

Destroyers in Pursuit
Although Fidel Castro's regime offered the hijackers asylum in Cuba, the ship was located Saturday off the northeast coast of South America. It appeared to be heading for Brazil, where Portuguese rebels who seized the liner

Santa Maria in 1961 found asylum. Venezuelan destroyers sped along the South American coast, trying to intercept the Anzoategui.

The U.S. destroyers Wood and Leary sped out of Trinidad to join in the pursuit.

Film Actor Monte Blue Dead At 73

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Monte Blue, 73, veteran screen actor and circus press agent, died today at Deaconess Hospital, where he had been under treatment after suffering a coronary attack.

Blue, an advance man for the Hamid-Morton Circus, came to Milwaukee last week to publicize the Tripoli Shrine Circus which opens today. He collapsed Thursday.

Flu Attack
A physician said a bad cold and a severe attack of influenza complicated the heart condition from which Blue suffered.

His wife, Betty, was summoned from their home at Beverly Hills, Calif. She was resting in another room when Blue took a sudden turn for the worse. He died at 6:20 a.m. today.

Starred in Westerns
Blue's career in the movies dated back to the silent films. He played a variety of roles but was starred in many Westerns.

Allergy Brings
Pension At 32
BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—Carpenter Leslie Cox has been pensioned off at 3 because he's allergic to wood.

For 14 years Cox worked for the city parks department. Then he started developing a skin rash whenever he handled certain kinds of wood. The parks department had no other job for him. He was pensioned off.

That means he will draw 3 pounds—$34 a week for the next 23 years. Then, at 65, his pension will drop to 2 pounds 11 shillings and 1 penny—slightly over $7. He'll get that for the rest of his life.

Cox says he's going to look for another job—where he doesn't handle wood.

JFK Eyes Hard Fight In 1964

President Kennedy believes his campaign for re-election in 1964 will be a hard fight and cites campaigns of fellow Democratic Presidents Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson and Harry S. Truman, left to right. Kennedy, mindful of his close win in 1960, recalls Cleveland's campaigns in 1884 and 1892, those of Wilson in 1912 and 1916 and Truman's race in 1948. (AP Wirephoto).

Can Legislators Justify Building?

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The vast shadow of a new House office building lies across Capitol Hill these days, and across the desks of members busily seeking ways to whittle President Kennedy's budget.

Those who pause in their pursuit of economy to look at the massive marble structure, still uncompleted, may find themselves haunted by the words of the late Rep. Russell Mack, R-Wash.

"How can any member of the House hereafter criticize the administration for extravagant spending if we ourselves vote approval of this grandiose project?" Mack asked.

How grandiose is the project turning out to be? 3-Room Office Suites
When ready for use in about 18 months, the new building with its three-room office suites for 169 members will have cost $85 million. The members who move into it will be getting their quarters, along with added facilities of the building, at a cost of $483,000 each.

Renovation of the present House office buildings to enlarge their two-room offices to three rooms will bring the total cost of the project to about $100 million.

Since the original aim was to provide an extra room for each of the 435 members, the taxpayers will be spending $230,000 per added office room.

Rayburn's Dream
It was back in 1957 when Rep.

Mack asked his question about extravagant spending on the project. The new office building then was just a gleam in the eye of Speaker Sam Rayburn. A huge hole marked its site.

Mack's question went unanswered. No answer was really needed after Rayburn stated firmly during the 1957 debate: "I know better than any other man in the House that we need this additional room."

Today a 10-story structure—named the Rayburn Building in honor of the late speaker and covering two city blocks—rises from the site that had only a large hole in 1957.

Swimming Pool
The building also will have a swimming pool, nine committee rooms, a cafeteria and five private dining rooms. There will be parking space for 1,600 cars.

Each suite really has a four-room room for a receptionist, and also includes two bathrooms and a built-in refrigerator. The committee rooms will rival movie palaces in elegance and space.

Once the new building is occupied the two existing office buildings will get a top-to-bottom renovation at an estimated cost of $18.5 million. Each member in these will be provided with a three-room suite.

Expansion has not been limited to the House side of the Capitol. The Senate added a second building a few years ago for $25 million, giving each senator at least five rooms, and some, seven.

Labor Favors Quick, Broad Cut In Taxes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Organized labor's high command indicated today it wants a broad quick tax cut to help solve the nation's unemployment problem rather than the gradual reduction proposed by President Kennedy.

Labor union chiefs here today for opening sessions of the AFL-CIO Executive Council said they were convinced Kennedy is right in pushing for a tax slash to help the economy, but wrong in the method he has advocated in Congress.

Lower Bracket
The union leaders are leaning increasingly toward the view the administration should plug for a tax cut that would favor lower bracket taxpayers retroactive to Jan. 1 and omit for the time being any accompanying reforms and loophole plugging.

Walter Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president and head of the Auto Workers Union, called last weekend at a Washington news conference for a $10-billion annual tax cut implemented by the simple formula of granting every taxpayer a $1.53 weekly tax credit.

Alternative
It was reported that AFL-CIO President George Meany is planning an alternative proposal, but pegged to the same idea of concentrating tax relief on the work-er-taxpayer category.

West Berlin Gives Willy Brandt Huge Vote Of Confidence

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners gave their Socialist mayor, Willy Brandt, a smashing vote of confidence Sunday in their first municipal election since the Communists built their Berlin wall.

Brandt's anti-Communist Socialists won 89 of the 140 seats in the city's new Parliament. They had 77 deputies in the 133-seat house elected four years ago.

West Berlin's small Communist party, never represented in Parliament, lost a third of its popular vote. This was blamed largely on the wall. The Communist vote declined from 31,570 in 1959 to 20,887 ballots. In percentage of the total votes, they decreased from 1.9 to 1.3 per cent.

The Christian Democrats, led by Franz Amrehn, deputy mayor in Brandt's coalition government of Socialists and Christian Democrats, won 41 seats, a drop of 14. They lost over 160,000 votes.

The Free Democrats, not represented in the old house, doubled their strength and entered the new city Parliament with 10 deputies.

Political observers agreed that the city election outcome gave no new key to the West German political situation. Berlin, like most big German cities, is a traditional Socialist stronghold. Chancellor Conrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party is strong in small towns and rural areas.

The Christian Democrats are largely a Roman Catholic party. West Berlin is predominantly Protestant.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thruout B. Morton has linked former President Dwight D. Eisenhower with plans for the 1954 overthrow of the pro-Communist government of Guatemala. And he says Eisenhower was ready to make sure it succeeded.

There has been widespread acceptance in the past of the thesis that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency played a role in ousting the leftist regime of former Guatemalan President Jacobo Arbenz Gusman.

Brandt in his first post-election comment said his party is ready to form a new government on as broad a basis as possible. But he told the Christian Democrats and Free Democrats they must adapt themselves to the Socialists' campaign platform if they join his coalition.

This was viewed a broad hint that Brandt will not repeat such concessions to the Christian Democrats as his cancellation of a meeting with Premier Khrushchev during the Soviet leader's visit to East Berlin last January.

million of American children are growing up in frustration, their energies blunted by a society which has nothing for them to do, an educator warned today.

Prof. Willard E. Goslin of Nashville's George Peabody College said: "We are possibly the first people in history with little or no economic use for our children, unless one considers their extensive exploitation in advertising."

Unneeded
Goslin told the American Association of School Administrators: "Our technological advances have rendered them (children) unneeded, if not useless. We have made matters worse by moving to town—nearly 90 per cent of us—where we have automated our kitchens and heating systems and put motors on our lawnmowers."

In his prepared speech, Goslin noted that for 380 years an American youth carried in the wood at age 6, learned to plow at 12, and became a full-fledged farm hand at 16.

"Now, about the only thing we have for him to do is to go to school a few hours a day for about half the days of the year, with time off for football and teachers' meetings," he said.

Suggestions
Goslin called for a nationwide attack on the problem. He suggested:

1. Schools should be opened 12 to 14 hours a day throughout the year with far-reaching adaptations of programs.

2. Parents should try to find work opportunities for their children instead of shielding them from it.

Business and labor should accept their share of the responsibility for furnishing work opportunities for youth.

Rains, Floods
Batter Europe
ROME (AP)—Floods and landslides are leaving their mark on European Mediterranean areas troubled earlier this winter by unaccustomed snow and freezing weather. Seventeen dead were counted today in Italy, Spain and Portugal.

A weekend of cold gales and heavy rain brought a rash of landslides in southern Italy. These claimed seven lives and injured at least 100 persons at Naples and Salerno. Flash floods forced hundreds of Sardinian islanders from their homes.

Youth Gives Life
To Save His Girl
VENICE, Calif. (AP)—Police say David Brimley, 17, pushed his girl friend to safety when a speeding car bore down on them in a crosswalk Sunday. But he didn't have time to save himself, and was killed.

Officers estimated that the car was traveling 90 miles per hour. It ran a red light, police said, and hit another car before it careened into Brimley.

Flee Scene
Brimley was knocked 172 feet. Brimley's date, Paulette Lewis, 16, became hysterical.

After hitting Brimley, the vehicle crashed into two mail boxes and a street sign and knocked down a power pole.

Investigators reported that three young men leaped from the car and fled.

How Far Do U. S. Housewives Walk?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—How far does a housewife walk during a normal day's work?

The question was bound to be asked during all this physical fitness business and 50-mile hikes.

"Oh, 15 at least," said Ted Simmons, an Atlanta Constitution reporter. "My wife Pat is an average housewife—well, almost average—and to hear her tell it she does a good six or eight miles before lunch."

Simmons was talked into getting a pedometer or walking meter and finding out how much ground she covered during a normal day in a relatively small apartment occupied by themselves and their three children.

"She Was Worried"
"I could tell she was worried right from the start," he wrote. "By 11 a.m. she had only done two and a half miles, and she insisted the usually travels that far just trying to get me out of bed."

"As a matter of fact, she implied that I got up considerably more quickly than usual just to cut down on her mileage. This I denied."

Simmons checked the meter at noon and it registered two and three-quarter miles and Pat explained she'd been having a coffee break. At 2:30 p.m. the reporter left for the office. The meter read just over three miles.

"Anyway, the gist of it is, she fell considerably short of the 50-mile mark," he wrote. "I called about 10 p.m. from work, to check again and she said: 'Six and a half miles, wue guy.'"

"Unfortunately I couldn't control the roar of laughter that followed. Unfortunate for me, that is."

"That's about the story. Sorry it didn't turn out as planned. Six and a half miles is pretty good in a small duplex, I guess.

"Anyway, I hope no one mentions physical fitness to me again soon. It's kind of hard to exercise in a doghouse."

STATE GOP PICKS SLATE:

Spring Election Race Begins

LANSING (AP)—Candidates for 10 state offices were off and running today for Michigan's spring election sweepstakes, but the races were overshadowed by the featured event: a proposed new constitution.

Republicans elected their ticket for the April 1 ballot Saturday at a convention free from any major floor excitement.

The 1,535 delegates unanimously elected Arthur Elliott Jr., close associate of Gov. George Romney, as the new GOP state chairman.

Elliott became the only candidate for the office after John Gibbs, Republican campaign coordinator, withdrew from contention when a survey of delegate preference Friday night gave Elliott a margin of about 2-to-1.

Dominant Issue
Elliott, Romney's campaign manager last year, replaced

George Van Peursem, who stepped down after the Governor made it clear he would rather have someone else in the job for the next two years. Van Peursem has disclosed that he will work as a lobbyist for the Michigan Manufacturers Association.

With the spring election just six weeks away, it was obvious the new constitution would be the dominant issue of the campaign.

Romney, delivering the keynote speech to the GOP convention at Grand Rapids, warned of the danger of complacency and urged the delegates to step up efforts to sell the new document to the voters.

Dems In Opposition
The Governor said the opposition had adopted a new approach in their campaign by trying to instill over-confidence among the constitution's supporters.

The Democratic Party has gone on record officially in opposition to the proposed constitution contending it was designed as an instrument to insure Republican control of state government.

GOP candidates include: Circuit Court Judges Donald Holbrook of Clare and Richard Smith of Bay City as "non-partisan" candidates for the State Supreme Court; Dr. Alfred Whitaker of Grosse Pointe and Marshall Noecker of Grosse Pointe Farms for Wayne State University Governors; Stephen Nisbet of Fremont and Arthur Rouse of Boyne City for Michigan State University trustees; Ing White, St. Johns and William Cudlip, Detroit, for University of Michigan Board of Regents; James O'Neil of Livonia for Board of Education; and Raymond Hatch of Okemos for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Negaunee Unit Wins Klondike Scout Derby; 13 Patrols Take Part

Near zero temperatures, wind and deep snow drifts did not keep the Pere Marquette Boy Scouts from competing in their annual district Klondike Derby held Saturday at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Scout patrols from 13 different Marquette and Alger County Troops participated.

The winning Bobcat Patrol, from Troop 346, Negaunee, ran out a total of 46 1/2 points out of a possible 48 point score. Troop 346 is sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Eagles and is led by Oral Pizzola as Scoutmaster. Patrol members are: James Luttinen, Patrol Leader, Jack Hakala, Kenneth Larson, Mike Roti, Doug Wehmanen, Howard Lehto, Tom Belmore, Robert Pizzola and S. Parkkinen.

Second place winner was the Crow Patrol of Troop 314, Gwin, with Vernon Miljour as Scoutmaster. It totaled 45 points. Patrol members are: Pat Miljour, Patrol leader, Dan Demis, William Bemis, Lowell Easley, Lawrence Easley, Michael Miljour and Jan Vercoe. Troop 314 is sponsored by the George D. Gilbert Elementary School Parent Teachers Association.

Third place went to Troop 349, sponsored by a group of citizens near Suomi Location with Francis Miljour as Scoutmaster. The patrol earned a total of 43 1/2 points.

Patrol members are John Larson, Patrol Leader; Jerry Miljour, George Miljour, Tom Kemp, Richard Laituri, J. Sullivan, David Laituri and Ray LaMere.

Runner-up was the Rover Patrol of Troop 332, sponsored by the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church at Munising with Edmond Mitchell as Scoutmaster. The patrol earned a total of 42 7/12 points.

Other Units Entered

Other troops entering patrols in the contest were: 309, Messiah Lutheran Churchmen, Marquette; 348, Immanuel Lutheran Brotherhood, Negaunee; 362, Lions Club, Skandia; 329, Martin J. Lassila Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Ishpeming; 359, Whitman School, PTA, Marquette; 304, St. Peter's Cathedral, Marquette; 305, First Methodist Church, Marquette and the three Air Force Base sponsored Troops 350, 352 and 353.

Co-chairmen of the event were John M. Ohlson and Ray Pajula of Ishpeming. Judging was handled by members of Sea Explorer Ship 303 and Alpha Phi Omega fraternity members from Northern Michigan College.

The three winning patrols will return to the base to compete in the council meet, Saturday, March 20, also at Sawyer. Each of the council's six districts will send their top three winners to this eighteen team event.

Two Persons Injured, Three Ticketed In Area Accidents

Two persons were injured, three motorists were issued tickets and five automobiles were involved in three area traffic accidents which occurred during the week-end.

1. Both injuries resulted from a smashup at 423 Saturday afternoon at the corner of Fair Ave. and Ontario St., in Marquette Township. Involved were cars operated by Noah R. Cousineau, 45, Waldo St., and John Heidtman, 33, of 1983 Granite St., Marquette. State police said Cousineau was driving north on Ontario St. and making a right turn onto Fair Ave. when his car skidded out of control and struck Heidtman's car. Heidtman, traveling west on Fair, was stopping for the stop sign when he saw the other car sliding out of control.

Cousineau complained of back pains and he and his wife, Virginia M., 34, were taken to St. Luke's Hospital in the city ambulance. She was treated and released and he was kept as a patient for x-rays and observation.

The left side of Heidtman's 1961 pickup truck and the front end of Cousineau's 1959 sedan were damaged. Cousineau's car had to be towed from the scene by a wrecker.

Speed Law Violation

State police ticketed Cousineau for a speed law violation.

2. At 3:50 Saturday morning a car driven by Delores M. Ethington, 37, of 135 W. Ohio St., Marquette, backed into an automobile owned by Mrs. Carl Schneider, 700 W. College Ave., Marquette, which was parked in a parking lot.

Failed To Report Crash

Officers said Miss Ethington had backed across the roadway into the Schneider car. Miss Ethington drove off in a westerly direction.

on County Road BAA, but was later apprehended and issued a ticket by state police for failing to report a property damage accident.

The left front of the Schneider car, a 1957 coach, and the right rear of the Ethington vehicle, a 1958 station wagon, were damaged. Both cars were able to be driven from the scene.

3. An automobile being driven west on County Road 502 by Peter MacDougall, 17, of 207 W. Arch St., struck a mail box after going into the ditch, about 100 feet east of U. S. 41, in Negaunee Township, at 10:40 Saturday night.

Didn't Report Crash

There apparently was no damage to MacDougall's car, a 1962 sedan. He didn't stop to identify himself, state police said, but drove off.

However, the owner of the mail box obtained the license number of his car and officers later apprehended MacDougall and issued him a summons for failing to report a property damage accident.

U.S. Income Tax Return Questions

Which Return?

The 1040-A is the card-type return and is the easiest to prepare. Of course, everyone is not eligible to use this simple return. The first restriction on the use of the 1040-A is the amount of gross income. You can use the 1040-A if you had wages, subject to withholding, of less than $10,000.

Your income from interest, dividends or wages not subject to withholding may not exceed $200 in order to use the 1040-A.

If any combination of the above income adds up to $10,000 or over, you may not use the 1040-A, but must use Form 1040.

The instructions which accompany the form you are required to file gives all the "dos" and "don'ts" on its preparation. Read the instructions and if you still have a question, telephone the Marquette Internal Revenue service office.

Minimum wage and overtime underpayments of $314,520 in 1963 employees were found in Western and Upper Michigan for the calendar year which ended on Dec. 31, 1962, by investigators of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

They also found 70 cases where minor children were employed in industry in violation of the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Everyone in the honor guard has another primary job, and practice sessions, which are held about once a week during the summer and when needed during the winter, are held on off-duty time.

Most of the guard's appearances are also during off-duty time or on weekends.

50 Attend Democratic Meet Here

Approximately 50 persons, most of them Democratic Party officials from the 12th Congressional District, attended a district party conference held yesterday afternoon at Northern Michigan College.

Conducting the session, which took place in the NMC Student Center, were Zolton Ferency, new state Democratic Party chairman, and Sanford A. Brown, state treasurer and chairman of the Democratic Party's membership drive.

Against New Constitution

Assisting in arrangements for the session were John P. McNamara, Negaunee, county Democratic Party chairman, and Neil Carlson, Marquette, county Democratic Party secretary.

Brown discussed the current party membership campaign and Ferency stressed the urgency of getting out the vote in the biennial state election on Monday, April 1. Ferency also urged the party faithful to work against adoption of the proposed new constitution. Brown said the party "has its work cut out for it this spring," and said the membership drive will have a lot to do with the success of the election.

Similar meetings were held during the past few days in Escanaba and in several places downstate.

Police Probe Three Traffic Crashes Here

Three traffic mishaps occurred in Marquette during the weekend, with one of them still under investigation today. Six automobiles were involved, but no one was injured.

Reports on the accidents follow: 1. Still under investigation was a crackup which occurred at 10:30 Saturday night in the 500 block of N. Third St. City police said a car owned by Gerald Akkala, 411 E. Prospect St., which was parked on the west side of N. Third St., was damaged when hit by a vehicle being driven south on Third.

Witness To Crash
The driver didn't stop, but a witness to the mishap said he had either a 1953 or 1954 dark colored Ford.

The left rear fender of Akkala's 1952 twodoor sedan was damaged.

2. An automobile being driven north on N. Fourth St. and being turned right onto W. Park St. by Kenneth Mallette, Route 1, Box 843, Marquette, went out of control and slid on the ice into a vehicle which had been parked there by Lawrence Marlowe, 1017 N. Fourth St.

Car Not Under Control
City police said Marlowe's 1962 station wagon had been parked about 60 feet from the intersection, on the south side of the street.

Extensive damage resulted to the left side of the parked car and the right front of Mallette's 1957 twodoor sedan was damaged.

Mallette was ticketed for failing

You Can Still Vote Until 8 This Evening

Registered electors in Marquette were reminded today that they may still vote in today's municipal primary election until 8 tonight. City Clerk Everett H. Kent said any eligible voter who is in line at the polls at 8, when the polls close, will be permitted to vote.

Only contest in today's primary is that for city commissioner. There are six candidates and four of them will be nominated.

The four who receive the most votes in today's balloting will have their names appear on the ballot for the spring primary, on Monday, April 1. The other two candidates will be eliminated from the race.

Up to noon voting was exceptionally light for the primary and candidates were making efforts to lure more voters to the polls. However, the busiest period for any election here is generally in the dinner hour, until close of the polls.

City Paragraphs

City firemen were called out at 4:20 Saturday afternoon to the residence of Harold W. Alholm, 1208 N. Second St., where the cord on an electric automatic washer caught fire. Firemen said a 20-ampere fuse (which was too big for the unit) in the switch box caused a short circuit and resulted in the cord igniting. There was no damage, other than to the cord, and some smoke went into the house. Nothing was used. Firemen, responding with the Nos. 3 (1,000-gallon) and 4 (750-gallon) pumps and the service truck, returned to the station at 4:40 p.m.

CBS-TV Tour Explodes Myth About Monaco

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Monaco, some of us have always thought is a place where younger sons of earls, usually named E. Phillips Oppenheim, casually lose everything at the gaming tables and then stroll gallantly into the Casino gardens and are never seen again.

Romantic Dream But after Sunday night's CBS special, "A Look at Monaco," I know this is all a foolish girl's romantic dream. Monaco is really our town, governed by the folks next door.

Her Serene Highness, Princess Grace, seems to have picked up some sort of a combination British-Riviera accent during the past few years, but she is still more beautiful than any reigning Hollywood queen. She lives—apparently on a perpetual honeymoon—in a colorful little country backed by

Communism Loses Battle In Africa

By HANS BENEDICT VIENNA (AP) — Communism has lost a battle in Africa. The defeat will influence the future course of young nations on the Dark Continent.

The battle was lost in the minds of African students who went behind the Iron Curtain and found Communist talk about the equality of man only a lure.

They are coming back with the same accusation of racial discrimination they once hurled at their white colonial masters.

Chamaians and Ethiopians left Communist Bulgaria last week. They led what may total an estimated 350-500 African students after a series of incidents which exploded into a violent protest demonstration in Sofia.

The Africans, most of them in their 20s, told of racial abuses, forced political indoctrination, police brutality, arrests and fear of deportation. Bulgarian authorities hurriedly

Marquette's Shipping Rate Not Changed

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Great Lakes Freight Bureau Inc. said Sunday its rates for shipping iron ore would be the same in the coming shipping season as they were in 1962.

J. J. Nowicki of Sheboygan, Wis., chairman of the bureau, which represents the ore shipping companies, made the announcement.

The rates, all unchanged from last year, are $2 a gross ton from the head of the lakes to all lower lake ports; $1.50 from Marquette, Mich.; $1.50 from Escanaba, Mich., to Lake Erie ports, and $1.20 from Escanaba to the Chicago district.

nothing serious. Learned Lesson But the young Africans, some of whom one day may guide the destinies of their nations, said on arrival Vienna that they had learned a lesson.

Some had accepted scholarships because they sympathized with communism. Others went to get a free education. Whatever their political affiliations and motives, they all seemed to have been hit where it hurt most—their dignity as colored people.

Stennis Says Blockade May Be Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., says another blockade of Cuba may be necessary if Soviet troops on the Caribbean island cannot be forced out by economic pressure or other means.

Republican National Chairman William Miller says the Kennedy administration should consider reimposing the naval quarantine that led to removal of Soviet bombers and missiles from Cuba late last year.

These views and a welter of other congressional opinion about Cuba came in a series of statements and television interviews over the weekend. The consensus from members of both parties was that Communist subversion in Latin America is a bigger problem than the Soviet troops in Cuba.

Stennis said in a television interview that steps to combat the Soviet position in Cuba should include "first, economic pressure, and getting the Organization of American States to cooperate on that as far as they will. And I think unless we get results otherwise we will be driven to a blockade and one step will have to follow another unless results are obtained."

She had been ticketed by city police Feb. 7 following an accident at the corner of W. Ridge and Pine Sts.

Three-State Fisheries Meet Slated Feb. 26 In Superior

A three-state meeting designed to shoot new life into Lake Superior commercial fishing will be held Feb. 26 at Superior, Wis.

Invitations to attend have been extended to 24 individuals representing government agencies, state universities and commercial fishing organizations in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Plans for the meeting were disclosed by Joseph S. Revis, an economist employed by the Upper Peninsula committee on area problems, at a meeting of UPCAP's commercial fisheries committee here Friday, attended by 19 persons.

Marketing Cooperative

The meeting will be held in the supervisors room of the county courthouse in Superior. Revis said the morning session will be devoted to discussion of a coordinated three-state approach to solving the problems of the hard-hit Superior fishing industry.

An afternoon session will discuss development of a marketing cooperative for Superior fish products from all three states.

General purpose behind the meeting is to seek funds from the area redevelopment administration for a research program to develop new processing techniques and marketing procedures for the Lake Superior cisco, commonly known as the lake herring. The Michigan waters of Superior produce between 3,000,000 and 7,000,000 pounds of this fish annually.

Dr. Peter Tack, head of Michigan State University's department of fisheries, reported on suggested proposals to be advanced at the meeting.

Superior ciscos now are sold largely as animal food at two to four cents a pound, he said. He proposed a study of methods to process and market this catch as frozen fillets for family consumption to complete with ocean fish.

Also attending Friday's meeting were William Jewell, Detroit, ARA Great Lakes representative, and Thomas Angeli, Iron River, ARA field coordinator for the Upper Peninsula.

Fined For Speeding
A fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs were paid by John W. Moffat, Manistique, for speeding. He was ticketed by city police Feb. 4 for driving 55 miles per hour in a 35-MPH zone on West U. S. 41 in the city.

For failure to have his motor vehicle under control, Gerald F. Lawrence, 339 Bluff St., was fined $6.30 and ordered to pay costs of $3.70. City police ticketed him Feb. 9 following an accident on W. Main St.

For a traffic signal violation at the intersection of Front and Washington Sts., Louis E. Beaudoin, 235 W. Ohio St., was fined $6.30 and ordered to pay costs of $3.70. The summons was issued by city police Feb. 9.

For speeding, Gerald H. Kunick, Wright St., was fined $6.30 and ordered to pay costs of $3.70. He was ticketed by city police Feb. 5 on Presque Isle Ave.

Names For Sale

The names of Marquette County residents are worth money. Business firms are willing and anxious to pay from one cent to as much as one dollar apiece for them on mailing lists. The price depends on the selectivity of the particular list and on the comparative value of those on it as prospective purchasers of goods and services.

Easy-to-get listings, such as doctors, lawyers and dentists, can be had for less than two cents a name. On the other hand, if what is wanted is the names of persons in a community who have traveled to Europe within the last five years, that would cost much more.

Most residents of Marquette County appear on one or more lists that are available for a price from companies that are in the business of compiling them. The unsolicited mail these people receive from insurance companies, from charitable organizations, from magazine publishers and from others indicates the number of lists that carry their names.

This is the way they are used. Suppose an investment company wants to pinpoint its approach to Marquette County families with incomes over $10,000. If it were to go to a listing concern that has all the local families in this income bracket, it would be getting 922 names.

Or, it may be a fund-raising organization that is aiming particularly at college graduates. It would find that a full list of such people, locally, would provide 2,022 names.

If some wanted to approach local men who are in the pre-retirement ages of 60 to 64 to interest them in travel, in hobbies or in franchises, he would find that there are 1,037 such prospects in Marquette County.

Others might be interested in new families in town, in families with more than one car or in parents of new babies. All are on lists that are for sale.

Several hundred firms are in the listing business in the United States. They cull the names and addresses that are their stock in trade from newspapers, from public records and from many other sources.

So, if you're wondering how come you get all that unsolicited—and usually unwanted—mail, this is the answer.

HIGHEST COMMON FACTOR

The United Nations, as it stands today, represents the highest common factor of agreement that is possible amongst the nations. It is still evolving. The aspirations, the hopes, the standards of conduct set out in the charter correspond to what the world requires. Such an organization of a universal character matches the needs of the 20th century. — Harold Macmillan.

CHRISTIAN PRACTICE

To my sense the Sermon on the Mount, read each Sunday without comment and obeyed throughout the week, would be enough for Christian practice. — Mary Baker Eddy.

—Marquette County—
Persons not familiar with railroads have no idea of the amount of facilities, and number of mechanics needed to take care of an operation such as the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon. Most of the requirements have been met, and at present 125 men are employed on the premises, and the payroll amounts to $10,000 a month. The buildings consist of the roundhouse, machine shop, smithy, foundry and car shop, and at present three complete ore cars are being turned out each day. The management proposes to manufacture, so far as possible, all that belongs to the rolling stock, including locomotives, and few railroads are in better condition in this particular.

The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Church will give an oyster supper Wednesday next in the basement of the new church. They also will serve up geese, turkeys, roast meats, cakes, pies, etc., all for 75 cents.

We have received our usual assortment of Valentines, some tender and sentimental and others parading our moral and personal deficiencies, of which we need not be reminded. Mr. Fraser's new sawmill, about a mile above the old one on Cherry Creek, south of Chocoma, has doubled his capacity for the manufacture of lumber. He controls the pine on 1,500 acres of land in the neighborhood of his mills, and it stands heavy and thick on the entire tract. He has some thousands of logs on hand now, and one of his big contracts is for the Cleveland Co. Lath and shingle machines are soon to be added to utilize the slabs and edgings.

We learn that a commandery of Knights Templar has recently been organized in Marquette under the name "Lake Superior Commandery No. 30."

If the city marshal would take a walk down Lake St. occasionally and warn teamsters against driving on the sidewalks, and if necessary, parade a few of them up to the recorder's office, he would be but simply discharging a part of his duty.

The surveyors are at work on the branch of the Chicago & North Western Railroad, which is to be run to the Excelsior Mine, four miles from Ishpeming. This mine is on the same range as the Cleveland, Lake Superior and Barnum Mines. The vein at the Barnum is covered rather deep with drift, and dips at an angle of 45 degrees, but nears the surface again at the Excelsior, where it recently has been discovered.

The Methodist Episcopal Church bazaar held in Ishpeming for two days last week was a decided success, net receipts being over $850, more than enough to pay the church's debt and leaving an amount on hand to be expended for an organ.

The fourth entertainment of the Ishpeming Social Club last week brought out a well-filled house and much enjoyment to those who like to "hop up and down" to a fiddle. One of the heaviest businesses done in Negaunee, aside from mining, is that of beer and ale brewing—lager beer and "present use" ale, or heavy beer. The Peninsula Brewery turns out some 25 barrels a day, and the brewery of Hackensack & Co., some 10. It has been stated that the demand for beer is increasing faster than the ratio of population. This is accounted for, not that dissipation is increasing, but that the foreign element in the mines have abandoned whisky in favor of beer, they get so much larger drinks and bigger drunks.

Mr. Hallam of Marquette is putting up some good buildings for the Himrod Mine at Negaunee, embracing boarding houses, blacksmith shop and also docks for the storage of 30,000 tons of ore. The mine is proving up very well.

A post office has been established at Michigamme, on the location occupied by the Michigamme Co., and hereafter all communications can be addressed direct instead of to Champlain.

Psychology Of Work Treated In New Book

ANN ARBOR — One man's work is another man's leisure. A farmer works in a field, and he relaxes on the porch reading a magazine. A magazine editor does just the opposite. He works while reading the magazine and relaxes by tending his garden.

Not Merely Money
However work is defined—and it means different things to different people—the job is important to most of us, explains Dr. Robert L. Kahn, program director of the University of Michigan Survey Research Center (SRC).

Moreover, SRC research indicates that the importance of the job is not merely a matter of money. Dr. Kahn explains in the report, "The Worker in the New Industrial Environment" (50 pp., $3), published by the Foundation for Research on Human Behavior, 1141 E. Catherine St., Ann Arbor.

Empiness Of Non-Work
"Persons in a nationwide sample were asked whether or not they would continue to work even if, by some chance, they had enough money to satisfy all their needs," Kahn writes.

"Eighty per cent of men answered this question by saying they would continue to work. When we asked them about the reasons for their choice, their responses were primarily in terms of avoiding the emptiness of non-work. Individuals want to keep occupied, to keep interested, to avoid being bored. This finding is pretty general for most occupations and ages, and argues a nearly universal need for work."

Definitions Of Work
Wanting to work is not the same as liking one's present job, however, reports the U-M social researcher, who found that two-thirds of the workers did not want to continue on the same job. Typically, these workers would prefer to have a small business of their own.

"While work certainly seems necessary for a balanced emotional life," Kahn observes, "many people are doing kinds of work which they don't want to do."

People across the nation were asked to define work: "About 50 per cent said that work is something that you have to do or something that you don't like. Twenty per cent defined work in terms of something that is productive, or important, or has social value to others."

"Eight per cent defined work in terms of things that are scheduled or routinized or paid for," Kahn adds that factory workers frequently mention the fact that work is something scheduled, timed and paid for. People of high education tend to consider work a duty, something that is necessary and not much fun.

He explains, "It is very likely that attitudes of this kind are bred into the family background before school gets these people, so we are not seeing evidence here of the effects of education, so much as the effects of background characteristics."

Dillon's words were merely another indication that the leaves which still have not budged will be sore and falling before the American public gets the good news, if any, on taxes. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, the frugal Virginia Democrat who heads the Senate Finance Committee, says the tax bill won't reach the Senate floor for debate until after Labor Day at the earliest. And between now and then, Congress will work itself into a state of literal exhaustion as it tries simultaneously to understand the bill and to remodel it to suit its political fancy.

The House, whose loquaciousness is restrained by rules, probably will be able to vote out its version of the bill by June 1. Tully, Prize-Winning Reporter, Succeeds Tucker As 'National Whirligig' Columnist

Andrew Tully, reporter, war correspondent and author of seven books, has taken over the "National Whirligig," the original "news behind the news" column from Washington.

Tully is an aggressive writer who sometimes appears to carry a chip on his shoulder. From experience and the insight of a good reporter, he has an understanding in depth of politics and Washington. His writings are spiced by a sharp sense of humor.

First American In Berlin
He succeeds Ray Tucker who is retiring after having written the column daily for the last 33 years.

Tully, the first American to reach Berlin during the Russian-German battle for the city in 1945, won the Ernie Pyle Award and the Headliner's Award for his series on a visit to the Soviet Union in 1955.

House To Act First
The House, whose loquaciousness is restrained by rules, probably will be able to vote out its version of the bill by June 1. But last year, the Senate Finance Committee struggled through four and a half months of hearings before reporting out a tax bill. This year's bill is far more complicated and affects more people; thus it may linger longer in committee.

But there is a far more important reason why Congress is not tempted to act hastily. It is that so far there has been no strong public clamor for a tax cut. On the contrary, Byrd asserts his mail is running heavily against a cut unless there is a corresponding reduction in spending.

It is true, of course, that as an advocate of a balanced budget, Byrd rarely attracts correspondence from advocates of fiscal irresponsibility, but the fact remains that nobody on Capitol Hill is being seriously harassed by voters demanding tax relief.

The reason for this is obvious enough. It is the seeming remoteness of any decisive action on the President's proposal, plus a cynical belief that if Congress gives relief with one hand it probably will take with the other in the form of tax reform. By now, the American taxpayer is too numb to expect anything good from Washington. And, after all, he refuses to get excited now about a performance which probably won't reach its climax until next October.

Business Loves It
Moreover, the citizen has a right to be confused by the opposing forces lined up for the big battle. He has been told that the Republican Party is the party of big business, but suddenly he has discovered that big business generally is in favor of the Kennedy tax proposal.

The President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy came out in favor of the proposal again the other day, and among the names penned to the endorsement were those of Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co.; Elliott V. Bell, chairman of the executive committee of McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.; Thomas J. Watson Jr., chairman of International Business Machines Corp.; Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel, and Stuart T. Saunders, president of the Norfolk and Western Railroad Co.

The explanation is that business is just like any other taxpayer. It wants relief so it can use more of its money on its own private economy and less on Uncle Sam's.

Republican leadership generally is demanding a cut in spending as a preliminary to a reduction in taxes, but business is disinclined to complicate the situation in such a fashion. It has learned not to hope for the impossible.

Atomic Program Helps Man
At Natick, Mass., the Army Quartermaster Corps has put into service a radiation laboratory that will conduct research on the "pasteurization" of foods with radioisotopes which will keep without refrigeration yet retain their normal taste, consistency and appearance.

Source of the 1,290,000 curies of radium "on tap" in the laboratory is 400 carefully encased slugs of cobalt-60 produced in the Atomic Energy Commission's Savannah River (S.C.) reactors.

If enough radium were available in the world to supply this amount of radiation it would cost an estimated $26 billion. Yet until the end of World War II rare and costly radium was almost the sole source of radiation and application.

Today many kinds of radioisotopes are produced in atomic reactors. They are ray emitting forms of elements that are chemically identical to the stable forms. Use of the radioisotopes is steadily increasing in medicine, industry and science.

The atomic energy program is costly, but in just the area of radiation it is enabling man to do things he could not have imagined doing a relatively few years ago.—Milwaukee Journal.

ADAM'S LEGACY
There is something of the gardener in all men, as befits descendants of Adam, and wherever they go, however barren the land, they try to make green things grow.

It was this instinctive challenge which led scientists at the South Pole station in Antarctica to plant seeds. And there, under the glow of fluorescent lamps and a tungsten bulb, a garden blooms, bright with marigolds and green with ivy.

The polar garden has become an important part of the lonely life at the station. As one scientist says, "It's like home, an earthly green smell — you know what I mean?"

Anyone who has been long without greenery knows exactly what he means. Doubtless, when man reaches the moon, one of the first things he'll do is plant a garden.—San Mateo (Calif.) Times.

Western Unity At The Brink

By WALTER LIPPMANN
There would be less puzzlement about Gen. de Gaulle, I believe, if we began by recognizing that the difference between us is over the cold war. The general writes down to a degree which President Kennedy would not dare to do the military and political threat of the Soviet Union. That is why the general dares, as Mr. Macmillan said on Monday, "to bring the whole Western alliance into great jeopardy."

In the general's view, the balance of power has turned decisively against the Soviet Union, and, consequently, the Western Alliance is obsolescent and of diminishing importance.

Peace Begins To Break Out
Once again, as is usual in human affairs, a wartime coalition begins to break up as peace begins to break out.

The general, it seems to me, is acting today on what is likely to happen, but to happen only in the future. Surely it would be more prudent if in our dealings with Mr. Khrushchev, which are still very difficult and dangerous, the Western Alliance were being consolidated rather than disrupted. But the general has, of course, heard this argument. He is unimpressed by it. However much we may think that Western unity is paramount and imperative, he does not in fact believe that Western unity is paramount and imperative. We shall not move him by crying out that the Western alliance is in danger and that American troops may be withdrawn from Europe.

We may be sure that Gen. de Gaulle, who certainly is not wanting in foresight, has foreseen this possibility. I would suppose he has satisfied himself that what counts most in the Western alliance, the American military commitment in Europe, is bound to remain until Gaullist Europe is strong enough to deal on equal terms with the Soviet Union. He does not have to woo us. For we are already indissolubly married to Europe, and, until the West and the East arrive at an eventual peace, we cannot dissolve this marriage. In the meantime, there is no need to reward us for doing what we have to do.

This is the right context, I would say, in which to study the question of "how," as Life magazine puts it, "we shift our Western nuclear monopoly . . . into (an) alliance of genuine equals . . ."

The inner core of our nuclear monopoly is the fact that only the President of the United States has authority to use our nuclear weapons. Because our nuclear weapons are something like 98 per cent of the nuclear strength of the whole Western alliance, no other nuclear power, neither Britain nor France, can in fact fire a nuclear weapon without the consent of the President of the United States. Neither Gen. de Gaulle nor Prime Minister Macmillan could conceivably use their nuclear weapons unless they knew for certain that they were covered by the United States against Soviet reprisals.

Intolerable For A Great State
This is the American nuclear monopoly and to live under its protection is, says the general, "intolerable for a great state." How are we to arrive at a tolerable relationship? For there will have to be a relationship between European and American nuclear power—at least until that very distant day when Europe has a nuclear power of its own capable of coping with the Soviet Union.

The crucial problem of the relationship turns on the ultimate command decision to use nuclear weapons. The more closely we examine this problem, the clearer it becomes. I submit, that at the final point of decision in war there must be unity of command. Coalitions cannot be conducted by committees in time of war. In the whole process of preparing and planning, there is not only room but need for committees representing the members of the coalition. But when there is war, they must choose a Foch, an Eisenhower, a MacArthur, a Kennedy.

The future we get from the brink, the less do we have to think about unity of command (i. e., monopoly) and the more we can think of a committee of equals. For this reason, it is most unlikely that we shall find now a theoretical solution of the problem posed by our nuclear monopoly. The problem is most acute when war is not imminent. One can say that monopoly, or unity of command, may be intolerable in peacetime. But it is indispensable in wartime. The great controversy today about the monopoly is due primarily to the relaxation of the tension of the cold war. The controversy would evaporate if we were on the brink of a great war.

Ballet Next On Concert Series Here

The Royal Winnipeg Ballet, which is among the best ballet companies of the world, is the next program scheduled by the Community Concert Association. The Canadian company, acclaimed by critics and audiences throughout the United States and Canada, will appear in Northern Michigan College's Kaye Auditorium on March 2. The concert is scheduled for 8:15 p. m. Several Tours The Royal Winnipeg Ballet has undertaken several long tours of Canada and in 1954 completed a long and sensationally successful American tour with Alice Markova. In 1951, the company appeared before Princess Elizabeth, and two years later as Queen Elizabeth II — she granted it permission to use the word "royal" in its name, making it the first "royal" ballet in the British Commonwealth. The company appearing here will be considerably larger than the one which performed at Kaye Auditorium a few years ago. Vocalists and an orchestra are joining the dancers in this year's tour, it was announced. Full Repertoire Largely composed of young Canadian-born and trained dancers, the ballet troupe's repertoire is unusually diversified, embracing the great classical ballets as well as stimulating new works by contemporary choreographers. American audiences have enthusiastically acclaimed the Royal Ballet for its exciting interpretations, sparked by brilliant technique and superb sets and costumes.

Personal Evelyn Gauthier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gauthier, 433 Fisher St., Marquette, participated last week in a variety talent show which opened Sno-Week festivities at the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minn. She was one of a group of three girls who did a parody on "I Enjoy Being a Girl (Ghoul)".

Lines from Lou's by... maggie Recently, a symposium at the University of California Medical Center brought up an interesting subject... women. The auditorium was packed, and the crowd spilled over into another building. Thousands watched the program on TV, and they were swamped with mail. Women were examined from all angles, or is it curves, and the purpose was to find out whether or not women are losing their femininity. In our modern world, with women taking over the role of helping their husbands, raising bright children, doing civic work in the community, being a chauffeur for the whole family, perhaps holding down a job, staying thin, or trying to... it's a thousand wonders we do not lose something... like our minds! A frilly housecoat does not make a woman feminine any more than a pair of blue jeans makes her masculine. It's a deep-down feeling inside, and it doesn't take a group of experts to tell us how to get it... it comes naturally in the Spring! And in Spring a woman's thoughts turn to a bright, new wardrobe from LOU'S. This past week we have unpacked over a hundred cartons of clothes, dresses, coats and that most popular of Spring apparel, the coat-dress ensemble. Come see for yourself. We know you'll be mighty pleased that Spring has arrived when you shop at LOU'S in the center of Marquette.—ADV

Land Management Division Formed By Cleveland-Cliffs

ISHPEMING — Stanley W. Sundeen, manager of research and development for the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., today announced formation of a new department of land management.

Forty-Niners Pick Collick As President

ISHPEMING — Election of officers for 1963 took place at a special meeting of the Order of the Forty-Niners at the Ishpeming National Guard Armory Saturday night.

Newly elected were S/Sgt. Milton Collick, president; Capt. Donald R. Small, vice president; CWO Leonard L. Lorge, secretary; Capt. George J. Hansen, treasurer, and Sgt. Fred D. Gagne, sergeant-at-arms.

The organization was started because of an unusual coincidence. When Headquarters Company, Ishpeming's unit of the 10th Engineer Battalion, was transferred here from Marquette in 1949, it occupied quarters over Narotzky Motors on Main St.

Then, following loss of the old armory by fire in 1959, the unit found itself again meeting in the Narotzky building.

Five Attend Cooperative District Meet

ISHPEMING — A delegation of five persons from the Ishpeming Co-Operative Society attended the district meeting of Central Cooperatives, Inc., held in Gladstone.

They were Elmer Aho, president; Toivo Kivikko and William Goyen, directors; Robert H. Sturm, manager, and Mrs. Sturm.

Sturm said suggestions were made at the meeting that smaller local cooperatives consolidate into multi-store trade area associations.

"Redemption of older issues of Central Cooperatives common stock held by the local co-ops also was attended to at the district meeting," he said.

"CCI pays its patronage refunds to local co-ops in the form of common stock, and the older shares are redeemed for cash. This is the same procedure followed by the Ishpeming Co-op."

Delegates approved, in principle, the proposed merger of Central Cooperatives, Inc., Superior, and Midland Cooperative, Inc., Minneapolis. These two large regional cooperatives, with combined assets of over 35 million dollars, represent affiliated cooperatives in Upper Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and North and South Dakota.

Roy Rosten Helps Save Man's Life

ISHPEMING — Roy Rosten, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosten of Negaunee and who is married to the former Pauline Solka of National Mine, was credited with saving the life of a man who was burned in a gas explosion at a Detroit metals company in Madison Heights, Mich.

Rosten, who resides in Madison Heights, was driving by the Climax Molybdenum Co. building when an employee of the company came running out of the door with his closing alarm.

Rosten and a pedestrian rushed to the man's side, tore off his flaming clothing and rolled him in the snow, after which they wrapped the victim in blankets and rushed him to the Henry Ford Hospital, where he was treated for burns.

Russell Burman, the employee who was burned, was the first to enter the plant for the day. In turning a light switch, he touched off the explosion which apparently was caused by a gas accumulation over the weekend.

Hundreds Lured By Ideal Weather To Sports Area

ISHPEMING — A break in the weather over the weekend, with temperatures edging above the 32-degree mark Sunday, was a welcome change for hundreds of fun-loving sportsmen in Ishpeming.

Skiers dressed in all colors of the rainbow invaded the Al Quaal Recreation Area. Young and old, experienced and inexperienced skiers kept the long tow ropes filled during one of the best days for taking advantage of ideal conditions in the area.

While skiers were making the most of the two ski tows, others were putting the toboggan slide to the test. Comments from those who took the 1,200-foot ride time after time were that the long walk back was well worth it.

Recreation area employees not only look out for the adult groups, but especially see that the children are given a chance to make good use of the cardboard slides and saucer runs located behind the clubhouse.

For those who can't ski or who would rather watch skiing activities, there is a road which has been plowed right to the skiing area. Conditions are favorable for those who enjoy a leisurely jaunt, taking time out to enjoy the natural beauty of the many acres of Ishpeming's winter playground.

Better Health Through Knowledge MUMPS VACCINE Q. Is there a vaccine that will protect children from mumps? A. A mumps vaccine prepared from killed virus has been available for the past few years. Unfortunately, it gives protection for only about a year. A live-virus vaccine is now being tested. If all goes well, the new vaccine, which is expected to give long-term protection, may be available within the next several years. The Russians claim to have perfected such a vaccine but it doesn't meet U.S. safety standards. WHY OPERATIONS ARE EXPLAINED Q. After an examination, our family doctor sent me to a surgeon who recommended that my thyroid be removed. I was willing until he began telling me all the things that could go wrong. Why do doctors try to scare people to death? Is all this necessary? A. It is necessary and it isn't done to frighten patients. No one, not even a doctor, has the legal right to harm a person. But in all operations there is a certain amount of risk and this risk must be explained to, and accepted by, the patient. In the case of thyroid surgery, for example, the patient may lose his voice through no fault of the surgeon. This is an occasional aftermath of thyroid surgery and the patient must agree to accept this risk. The doctor can't assume responsibility for things over which he has no control. It is for such reasons that doctors explain what could happen. The patient can then weigh the risks against the hazards and agree to or refuse the treatment. Dr. Haight was the Republican candidate for representative in the State Legislature from Marquette County at the general election in November. He also was a candidate for the post of delegate to the State Constitutional Convention in 1962 and is a member of the Negaunee Board of Education.

At a meeting held last week, the following temporary officers of the club were named: Jack St. Andre, president; Lee Guizzetti, vice president; Peter Heidemann, secretary; Bruce Hatch, board chairman, and John Thomas, committeeman.

All teen-agers in the area are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

Ruth Spade (above), reading consultant, explains the Gwinn school reading program to superintendents from Marquette and Alger counties at a meeting in Gwinn. Seated to her right is Superintendent of Gwinn Schools William Garrett and Marquette County Superintendent Vance Hiney.

Reading Program In Gwinn Schools Told By Mrs. Spade

GWINN — The reading program of the Gwinn public schools was explained to superintendents from two counties at a meeting at the Gilbert Elementary School here.

Mrs. Ruth Spade outlined the program, its goals and her duties as reading consultant before the Marquette-Alger County Superintendents' Association. She is consultant for the Gilbert School and the junior-senior high school.

"We are trying in Gwinn to provide for each and every child," she told the group. She referred to problems that develop because of the wide ranges in reading abilities that are found among children of the same ages in the same classes.

Three Levels Of Materials
Each classroom is provided with at least three levels of reading material to satisfy differences in reading abilities and interests. In addition, special reading groups are formed where attention is given to children having similar problems.

Pupils in the Gwinn system are tested frequently to determine individual progress. By careful study of test results, the consultant believes, a program can be developed for the individual child that will be of greatest value to him.

Mrs. Spade emphasized the value of looking at each child as an individual challenge and as an individual personality. She also recognizes the importance of the teaching staff in forming a good reading program.

"The personality of the teacher, her creativity and her love for her

Lady Elks To Have Supper Wednesday

NEGAUNEE — Members of the Negaunee Lady Elks will hold a potluck supper at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Elks clubrooms.

In charge of arrangements for the supper is a committee composed of Mrs. Violet Kangas, chairman; Mrs. Virginia Langlois, Mrs. Svea Grayes, Mrs. Helia Roos and Mrs. Ellen Fredrickson.

The committee will provide the dessert. Members are requested to bring their own table service.

ers. She considers it her responsibility to keep informed on research being conducted by others in her field and to be familiar with the best teaching methods and materials available if she is to be of the greatest service to the classroom teacher.

Assists New Teachers

The consultant is particularly interested in assisting new teachers to develop their classroom reading programs. When invited by the teacher, she presents demonstration lessons and assists with lesson plans. She also orders and distributes room library books and materials.

In a written summary of her job, Mrs. Spade said the consultant "should help each teacher recognize the potential and individuality of each student as a contributor to his group. Each child has the right to progress according to his own ability, rate of growth and innate potential. Each child must be accepted at his particular point of development and helped to progress."

William Garrett, superintendent of Gwinn schools, paid tribute to the work being done by Mrs. Spade as he introduced her to the superintendents. He told the group that reading consultants have been valuable additions to the educational program in the Gwinn schools.

Jumping with a sore-foot, Gene Kotlarek of Duluth and the University of Minnesota sailed to a record 322 feet Sunday in winning the Niagara Junior ski jumping tournament at Steamboat Springs, Colo. Ralph Bettella of Ishpeming took the veterans (32-and-older) national title with a pair of 261-foot rides while Jerry Goren, also of Ishpeming, placed fourth in the junior division, reaching 273 and 265 feet. Ishpeming, Munising Riders Among Victors In Junior Ski Jumping At Niagara ISHPEMING — Ray Haglund soared to a first place finish in the Niagara Junior ski jumping tournament yesterday in Niagara, Wis., as he put together leaps of 73 and 75 for a 119.2 total in Class III. Richard Oas of the Munising club, captured first place in Class IV, Gary Sparpana of Iron Mountain took the top spot in Class II and Wayne Wilson, who had the longest jump of the day at 90 feet was the victor in Class I.

Tiger Pickup Team Loses To Hanshin '9'

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — A long season of ball games has begun for Bob Scheffing — and already there are reminders of the tortures the Tiger manager was forced to endure last year.

Scheffing threw a pickup team of Detroit minor leaguers, rookies and Jake Wood at the visiting Hanshin Tigers Sunday. The Japanese nipped his club 6-4 in their opening international exhibition.

It wasn't the result that distressed Scheffing and had him grumbling as he did during last season's mid-summer slide.

What ruffled him was the way it happened. Detroit blew it after leading 4-3 with two out in the ninth and the bases empty.

Walks killed Detroit. Scheffing used three rookie hurlers from the Detroit roster and the Japanese were presented with nine bases on balls. The last two were fatal.

Bob Humphreys, after getting the first two outs in the ninth, surrendered two walks and a ground single, loading the bases. Mike Solomko, a husky former Pittsburgh farmhand and one of two Americans on Hanshin, promptly unloaded them.

He drilled a 425 - foot double to right for three runs.

Ex-Detroit Farmhand The other American, Gene Bacque, made it extra painful for Scheffing. He retired the Tigers in order in the ninth and leaped off the mound as the water so "grin."

Bacque is an ex-Detroit farmhand who was let loose last spring after going no place in five years in the farm system.

He and four other Hanshin pitchers held Detroit to five hits, Jake Impressive Wood had a single and triple and walked on his three other trips. He drove in three of Detroit's four runs.

"Jake and Bill Faul were the only ones who did anything to impress me," said Scheffing.

Paul pitched four scoreless innings and was the only Detroit pitcher who didn't yield a walk.

Hull Romps; Young, Fans In Turmoil

CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Hull, the Chicago Black Hawks' golden jet, is cruising at high speed these days and threatening to win his third National Hockey League scoring title.

Hull pounded in three goals Sunday night to lead the Hawks to a 3-1 victory over Boston and increased their league lead to four points over second place Montreal. It was Hull's second hat trick of the season and ninth of his career.

Nearing Buckle Hull now has scored 17 goals in his last 13 games and has 28 for the season and 57 points, two less than league leader John Bucyk of Boston.

Last year Hull put on a tremendous spree in the second half of the season to finish with a record-breaking 50 goals and win the league scoring title with 84 points.

In other games Sunday night, the Montreal Canadiens surged into second place, with a 6-1 victory over the Detroit Red Wings and the Toronto Maple Leafs dropped to third after bowing to the New York Rangers 4-1.

Back In Trouble DETROIT (AP) — Hot-tempered Howie Young, Detroit Red Wing defenseman, is in trouble again, partly because of his role in a flare-up which caused police to march onto the ice to protect officials.

Screen Officials Twenty-one police officers screened three officials from fans after Sunday night's game who screamed "we want Frank Udvari," the National Hockey League's senior referee.

In a rare role as a forward, Young exploded on the NHL penalty record as Montreal scored to a 6-1 victory over the Red Wings.

Early in the second period, Young drew a major penalty for highsticking J. C. Tremblay. He blew his stack at 10:12 of the same period and was given a spearing minor, a misconduct and a game misconduct.

The 27 penalty minutes in the period boosted him to 210 for the season.

Hadn't Drawn Misdemeanor Young hadn't drawn a misconduct all season and had only three major penalties before breaking loose.

While en route to the penalty box, Young faked a swing at referee Frank Udvari and then threatened the referee verbally and physically while several teammates held him back.

Udvari signaled the misconduct after the swing and then, when Young refused to go to the penalty box, waved him off the ice.

At this point two fans started out of the stands for the officials. Police escorted Udvari and linesmen Bill Morrison and George Hayes off the ice in a hail of confetti cups and programs. Police took the two fans to a separate dressing room for a lecture.

After the game, several hundred fans grouped around the officials' dressing room, chanting "we want Udvari," but 21 policemen were on hand by this time, and they cleared the corridor.

(By the Associated Press) With the end of the regular season in sight, there are only three things left to be decided in the National Basketball Association, other than individual records.

They are: 1. The race between Boston and Los Angeles, the divisional leaders, for the extra $2,000 that goes to the team with the highest percentage. Los Angeles leads .50 to .12.

2. The race between Syracuse and Cincinnati for second place in the Eastern Division and the extra $3,000 that goes to the team finishing runner-up. Syracuse leads Cincinnati by two games. Each has 16 games left to play.

3. The race between Detroit and San Francisco for the third and last playoff spot in the Western Division. Detroit leads by half a game. Detroit has 16 games to play, San Francisco 17. No extra money is given for the finishing third, but the team that does gets $6,000 for making the divisional semifinal playoffs.

Both Syracuse and Cincinnati won Sunday as did Boston. Syracuse whipped Detroit 143-124. Cincinnati defeated New York 70-98 and Boston nipped Chicago 110-99. Boston took St. Louis 114-94 and San Francisco went two overtimes to defeat Los Angeles 122-118.

Ishpeming Takes U.P. High School Nordic Crown

ISHPEMING — Ishpeming High School captured Nordic honors in Upper Peninsula High School skiing, Saturday, joining Marquette Graverat in ending Ironwood's domination of the tourney.

Only Ishpeming, Ironwood and Kingsford entered teams — each representing a major ski-jumping area in the U.P., naturally enough. It was a "dual" meet in cross-country, as Kingsford concentrated on jumping, but while Chris Vinko of the Ski Devils took first place in 16:5, and teammate Don Berlin finished second, Ishpeming had three of the first five finishers, and four of the first seven, to dominate the scoring.

Two Ironwood competitors trailed, and failed to finish. John Nelson of Ishpeming was second in 17:5, followed by Greg Pontil in fourth, Brad Gleason in fifth, and Bob Polkinghorne in seventh. The Hematites thus had three of the five medals awarded in the event and a slender 3.2 per cent scoring edge.

In the jumping, Polkinghorne led the field with 138.5 style-distance points, followed by teammate Bob Jaedecke. Garry Engstrom of Ironwood was third, but Larry Bussone of the Hematites took fourth, and Kingsford entries Dick Larson and Wayne Wilson followed, only a tenth, and two tenths, behind Bussone. Ishpeming again took three medals.

This pushed the next Ironwood entry (Mike Madijak) down to seventh place. Florian Gelm and Joe Moyle of Ishpeming bracketed Fran Packmeyer of Ironwood, so the Hematites had half of the first ten places and a healthy edge in percentage points.

In the over-all Nordic averages, Ishpeming then scored 100 per cent, Ironwood, 95.7. Kingsford was 92.9 in the jumping, but did not enter the hill-and-dale race, so scored 46.5.

Season Wrap-Up Begins; 11 High Schools Complete Regular Basketball Slaters

A flurry of activity in opposite ends of the Upper Peninsula highlights this week's prep basketball program as the regular-season campaign nears its close.

Eleven of the region's 74 high schools end regularly scheduled competition in a 47-game slate offered Tuesday through Saturday nights. All other quintets will be in action at least once the following week before the entire region turns its attention to district tournaments March 5-9.

Champion (16-0), the only all-winning outfit left in the U.P. following Ontonagon's loss to Hancock, still has three games left — all against Mid-Peninsula Conference opponents. Coach Fred Boddy's Indians need one win to take the league crown again.

Escanaba, already assured of at least a tie for the Great Lakes championship, can win it outright if Claddington and Saginaw, St. Marie, The Eskymoos are idle this week and will play Stephenson Feb. 26.

Copper Country Conference action Wednesday and Friday nights should settle the pennant race between Ontonagon and Houghton. The latter plays old-rival Hancock Wednesday; a victory for the Bulls would give the Polar Bears a Claddington and Saginaw, St. Marie, The Eskymoos are idle this week and will play Stephenson Feb. 26.

Mass (10-0) may find its bid for the Porcupine Mountains throne blocked momentarily Thursday on the big White Pine court — where it dropped a holiday tournament test, but will have a second chance at Trout Creek.

Championships already have been won by Niagara, Wis., of the Menominee Range, Ironwood of the Michigan-Wisconsin and Hermansville of the Big Eight. Niagara already has completed its conference schedule. Ironwood finishes at Bessemer this week, while Hermansville takes on Central U.P. League-leading Nahma in a non-conference game.

Nahma, Perkins and Eben are expected to continue their race for top Central League honors right through the wire. In the Little Seven Conference Brimley already has at least a share of the title wrapped up, but must wait until next week — when it helps dedicate Rudyard's new gym — before learning whether it can win it outright.

Besides Ironwood and Hermansville, schools wrapping up regular-season competition this week are Marquette Baraga, Menominee, Bessemer, L'Anse, Michiganme, Felch, Doelle, Chassel and Channing.

Several of the week's contests feature renewal of long-standing rivalries. In addition to the Houghton-Hancock and Ironwood-Bessemer clashes, the list of such attractions includes Baraga-L'Anse, Mass-Trout Creek, Iron River-Crystal Falls.

The schedule: Tuesday — Iron Mountain at Menominee, Chassel at Lake Linden, Bark River at Ontonagon, Saginaw at Claddington, Hancock at National Mine.

Wednesday — Hancock at Houghton, Baraga at L'Anse, Trout Creek at Berg Lake, Mass at White Pine.

Thursday — Marquette Graverat at Goulet, Gladstone at Seault Ste. Marie, Ontonagon at Calumet, Escanaba Holy Name at Kingsford, Lake Linden at Hancock, Iron River at Crystal Falls, Ironwood at Bessemer, Munising at Manistique, Stephenson at Newberry, Crayton Falls, Valedale, L'Anse at Stambaugh, Houghton at Painesdale, St. Ignace at Chobogang, Ashland at Iron River, Saginaw at Claddington, Alpha, Dollar Bay at Baraga, Powers at Bark River, Carnoy at Channing, DeTour at Iron River, Crayton Falls, Ironwood at Cooks at Felch, Republic vs. Doelle at Felch, Treanor at Garden, Grand Marais at Paradise, Nahma at Hermansville, Marquette at Iron Mountain, Saginaw at Newberry at Iron Mountain, Saginaw at Marquette, Baraga at Rapid River, Republic at Treanor.

January Wins Tucson Open By 11 Strokes

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Don January was so far out in front it must have been lonesome. But for $1,450 he can stand the lack of company.

The slim, 33-year-old pro from West Covina, Calif. put together a blistering 22-under-par 266 for the 2 holes of the $25,000 Tucson Open Golf Tourney and breezed in to an 11-stroke victory Sunday.

He described his game as "just to find up and hit it, and when you find it, hit it again." But a careful look at his score card shows his game isn't quite that haphazard. For example, he had only two bogies for the four-day tourney.

Jr. High Playoffs: Ishpeming, St. Paul '5s' Win Titles

Ishpeming and Negaunee St. Paul region as champions of the Marquette County Junior High divisional playoffs, completed Saturday night at two sites.

Ishpeming Phelps romped to the Eastern Division title with a 41-36 decision over Gwinn, after getting away to fast start with some exceptional shooting, at Sidney Adams gym in Marquette. Phelps connected on its first seven shots. Negaunee downed Marquette 62-28, in the preliminary exhibition.

In the Western Division (generally the smaller schools), Negaunee St. Paul downed Dorrville, 45-25 in the final game, on balanced scoring.

'Hat Trick' Not Enough, U-M Tips Tech

(By the Associated Press) John Ivanitz scored the three-goal hat trick for Michigan Tech but it wasn't enough and Michigan won a Western Collegiate Hockey Association game 5-4.

Minnesota crushed Michigan State 6-1 in another WCHA game Saturday night.

Wayne Katusch scored two goals for Michigan, but the winning point came from Gary Butler with 48 seconds remaining.

Michigan now is 3-11-2 in the WCHA and Tech is 8-6-2, good for third place.

Minnesota scored four goals before MSU could get its attack going. The victory left the Gophers hot on leading Denver's trial in the WCHA. Minnesota is 9-4-3 and Denver 11-5.

Mal Orme scored MSU's goal.

Jr. Hockey Playoffs End Tuesday Night

Tuesday evening will bring an end to local Junior Hockey games for the season. It should also bring some exciting and hard fought battles as four trophies are at stake.

In the Pee Wee B division, the Owls and Exchange Club Tigers will meet to decide the trophy winner in their division.

Both teams enter the final game with two wins and no losses in the play-off.

The Owls, who took first place in the regular season, defeated the Bancroft Bears 2-1, and the Wildcats, 3-0. The Tigers shut out the Bears, 1-0, and downed the Wildcats 2-1.

The Carpenters and Standard Oil, tied in play-off games, will be fighting for the Pee Wee A trophy. The Carpenters dropped the Jr. Sentinels and Vollwerth Brebner by scores of 4-0 and 2-1, while Standard Oil defeated the Jr. Sentinels, 2-1, and Vollwerth's, 3-1.

Excitement is promised in the two Bantam games. Mobil holds the edge with four points in the play-off series with Pepsi Cola and the Elks holding two points each. Mobil downed the S. & L. 2-1, and the Elks, 2-0. Pepsi took L. S. & L., 8-2, and were shut out, 5-0, by the Elks.

However, a win by Pepsi over Mobil will put the two teams in a tie for the trophy. A three-way tie could develop if both Pepsi and the Elks win their games. Should a tie develop, the winner will be decided on total goals scored.

In the Midget-Juvenile race, the trophy rides on the outcome of a game between the Lions and the Elks. The two teams each have two wins going into their final game. The Lions defeated Bunny Bread, 7-4, and Bancroft, 5-2. The Elks downed the same teams by scores of 1-0, over Bunny Bread and 7-2 over Bancroft.

Pee Wee B games will get underway at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday when the Bancroft Bears meet the Wildcats. The title game between the Owls and the Exchange Club Tigers will follow at 5:10. The Pee Wee A games start at 5:40 with a no-title game between the Jr. Sentinels and Vollwerth Brebner followed by the battle for the division trophy between the Carpenters and Standard Oil.

The Midget-Juvenile contests are scheduled for 7:00 p. m. and the two Bantam teams will meet for the final games of the evening.

NMC Shoots Well, Outrebounds Knights, But Loses Seventh

Northern Michigan's basketball Wildcats have little time to ponder what they have to do on the road. The NMC hoopers go to Michigan Tech Tuesday night for one of the biggest encounters in the lengthy series with the Huskies.

With the Techmen boasting a 14-2 record and nine straight victories, as compared to a 12-7 record—and a disastrous 1-7 mark on the road — for Northern, the Wildcats may be in a rare "spoilers" role at Sherman gym.

Northern thumped the Tech five early in the year at the NMC fieldhouse, 99-62, for their seventh straight victory over the Huskies.

But that night Doug Scheuneman, 6-6 transfer from Grand Rapids J.C., was not available for fulltime action. Big Doug has averaged 18 points a game, and tallied 30 against Mankato, Saturday night.

"What do you have to do to win on the road?" was the NMC question again Saturday night.

The Wildcats connected on 50 per cent of their shots, outrebounded the St. Norbert's Green Knights by five, and missed only three free throw opportunities. But they dropped a 99-92 decision.

The 'Cats got 22 points from Buddy Armstead, 19 from Wayne Lundy, who again sparked the team in a relief role, 18 from Gary Silc, 11 each from Bob Pecotte and Tim Bullock.

But the Knights had a pair of hot-handed guards. Dave Gagermeir (5-11) scored 30 and Mike Wisneski (5-9) tallied 22. The big Knights—6-5 LeRoy Wevenberg, 6-4 John Patterson, 6-4 Dick Rankin, and 6-6 Dick Kelly — weren't idle all this time either.

It was a 50-50 ball game, in more ways than one, by halftime, and NMC sprinted into a lead shortly thereafter. It didn't hold up, and, trailing with time running out, they pressed and fouled.

A total of 23 fouls were called on the Wildcats — seven more than on the Knights — and the same difference was translated into free throws and into the final margin.

After Tuesday's action at Houghton, Northern hosts Hillsdale, Saturday afternoon, and Lakeland — the tallest team on the schedule — Monday night.

Table with 2 columns: Team, FG FGM PF Tot. Lists scores for Northern and Eastern Tips Ferris.

Other scores from the heavy night's action included Central Michigan 73, Eastern Illinois 53; Dick Kelly .15 0 2 2 30; Gary Silc .15 0 2 2 30; Dick Kelly .15 0 2 2 30; Dick Kelly .15 0 2 2 30; Dick Kelly .15 0 2 2 30.

'Beaning' Shadowed Bump Hadley

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — Irving (Bump) Hadley—dogged by shadowed by the errant pitch which ended the playing career of Hall of Fame catcher Mickey Cochrane—is dead.

A major league pitcher for 16 years, Hadley died Friday of a heart ailment in Lynn Hospital at the age of 59. He had been a resident of nearby Swampscott.

From 1926 through 1940, the 5-foot-11, 180-pound right-hander performed for Washington, St. Louis, Chicago, New York and Philadelphia in the American League and had a brief stint with the New York Giants of the National loop in 1941.

Hadley's lifetime mound record of 161-165 included a dark day in May 1937 when he accidentally hit Detroit's Cochrane on the head with 3-2 pitch. Cochrane was near death for many days and when he recovered he became a non-playing manager for the Tigers until he was fired in 1939.

Hadley had radio and television sports programs in the Boston area following his baseball career and also served as a scout for the Yankees.

Cincy, Loyola, 5 Other 'Top Ten' Colleges Fall On Big Upset Night; Indiana, OSU, Gophers Tighten Race

(By The Associated Press)
In one of the biggest upsets in college basketball history, the name of Dave Stallworth will be written in the biggest letters.
Stallworth fired Wichita to the surprise of surprises Saturday night—a 65-64 conquest of nationally top-ranked Cincinnati. The 6-foot-7 junior poured in an amazing 6 points, including the last seven of the game at Wichita as the Wheatshockers ended the two-time national champions' victory string at 37.

7 Of 10 Lose
Wichita's triumph was tops in a long list of stunners. Second-ranked Loyola of Chicago got knocked off at Bowling Green, 82-75, fourth-ranked Illinois was outscored at Indiana 103-100, sixth-ranked Mississippi State was upended at Florida 73-52, seventh-ranked Colorado lost at Iowa State 73-69 and 10th-ranked Georgia Tech was ambushed at home by Louisville 78-73.
Eighth-ranked Stanford won at California 68-58 but jumped the gun on the upset spree by being nipped by the Bears on its own floor Friday night 61-60.

Duke Remains
That left only three members of the nation's top ten who got through the harrowing weekend unscathed, third-ranked Duke, fifth-ranked Arizona State and ninth-ranked Ohio State.
Duke clinched first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference's regular season race with a 73-60 victory at home over Wake Forest. Arizona State broke its tie with Brigham Young for the Western Athletic Conference lead, romping at BYU Saturday night 104-87 as Joe Caldwell scored 32 points and Art Becker added 27.

OSU Downs U-M
Ohio State, gunning for its fourth straight Big Ten title, tied Illinois for first by potting a 75-53 decision at Michigan. Gary Bradds paced the Buckeyes with 34 points. Despite the loss to Wichita, Cincinnati nailed down at least a tie for the Missouri Valley title as St. Louis fell at Tulsa, 66-65.
Bowling Green had Loyola all the way in dealing the Ramblers their first setback in 2 straight this season. With both Cincinnati and Loyola tripped, there are no major unbeatens left.

The pressure of a 37-game winning streak was lifted from Cincy as the Shockers whipped them Saturday night 65-64. The defeat could help the Bearcats bid for an unprecedented third straight NCAA championship.
But Jucker wasn't so sure. He conceded the streak had to end some time, but snapped: "It didn't have to come in this game. It's never good to lose."
"We had this game in the bag and then . . . well, some will say Wichita just took the ball from us . . . But that isn't the way I saw it . . . Free throws beat us."

Tied For Title
Ironically, Cincy clinched a tie for the Missouri Valley championship even while losing, since St. Louis was upset at Tulsa.
Dave Stallworth, a smooth 6-foot-7 junior, was the toast of Wichita after his 46-point game. He scored all of the last seven points.
The Wolverines fought hard but succumbed to the smothering Buckeye defense, superior shooting and backboard control to lose by their widest margin of the season, 75-68.

MARQUETTE NIGHT OWLS

Dear Abby . . .

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the cat who won't eat meat on Friday. It's no mystery. Animals can count. If an animal is used to getting fish every seventh day, he is puzzled and uneasy if he doesn't get it. When my mother was a girl, she had a pony who knew when it was Sunday. Every other day the pony would take the road to school, but on Sundays the pony would head for the church. Cows can count, too. Otho, when a herd enters the barn, no matter in which order they come in, why does each cow go to her own stall?

DEAR JEAN: All right, I'll agree — animals CAN count. But I am a Iowa girl who had to be told by an Illinois professor that cows could give milk before they calved, so please don't ask me how come a cow knows her own stall.

DEAR ABBY: As a former teacher and college dean, may I add a few words to the young man whose father refused to regard D as a passing grade. Though systems differ, D usually means "passing but unsatisfactory." A former dean of admissions at Harvard summed it up well. "D means 'just got by.' How would you like to eat an egg that is just got by?" Sincerely, John V. D. Southworth

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old son seems to be obsessed with those smutty girlie magazines (pictures of women) and I can't do anything about it. I have found them hidden under his mattress, in his closet and almost everywhere I look. I keep throwing them away, but he keeps buying more. Is this typical of a normal 15-year-old boy's behavior, or is he headed for trouble?

DEAR PALO: All normal 15-year-old boys have a normal curiosity, but your son's curiosity appears to be insatiable. He should be talked to by his father. If he has none, a mature, clean-thinking, intelligent, adult man could relieve the boy's curiosity by encouraging him to ask questions, and freely discussing his fascination with the opposite sex. Excessive preoccupation with sex can be damaging.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)
