Flu Spreads From East To Midwest

(By the Associated Press) Outbreaks of influenza-like disease, hitting epidemic proportions in some Eastern localities, have spread to the Middle West. Respiratory illnesses have been reported to some degree throughout most of the nation.

New York City has an Asian flu epidemic, but it is not as serious as in 1957 when this particular strain swept across the United States for the first time, said Dr. George James, city health commissioner.

In upstate New York, four 40-bed wards of the Veterans Administration hospital at Buffalo were quarantined because of what a doctor termed an outbreak of an acute, flu-like respiratory infection. It has not been diagnosed as Asian flu. In the Buffalo area, five schools reported 10 per cent absenteeism because of illness.

More than 1,000 new cases a day were reported in West Virginia last week.

Flu-like outbreaks spread in Indiana, Michigan, Kansas and Missouri. Kansas reported the disease on the increase in counties which include Kansas City, Topeka and Lawrence, home of the state university.

In the Cincinnati, Ohio, area, about 15 per cent of the area's school children were out Monday, compared with 23 per cent Friday. City health officials said the flu plague may end quickly—within 10 days.

Congress Briefed On Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told senators today that "the Communist threat in Europe is the largest single threat we face in the world."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given congressional leaders a 40-minute briefing on Cuba and Latin America at a swifly called White House meeting that had all the makings of high drama.

Almost a score of legislators, given only a couple of hours of advance warning of the secret session Monday night, slipped in and out of the executive mansion, avoiding reporters. Later, however, those who would talk described it all as a routine report.

One Republican leader, who declined to be quoted by name, brushed it off as a "refresh of the situation in Cuba and Latin America."

He said he viewed it as an attempt to quiet some of the attacks on the administration's Cuban policy.

Kennedy was aided at the briefing by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Central Intelligence Agency chief John A. McCone and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"Just a general intelligence roundup on Cuba" and some other areas, said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., remarked he didn't hear Kennedy was aided at the briefing by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Central Intelligence Agency chief John A. McCone and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"Kremlin control of Cuba is one of the most, if not the most, serious world developments during the past year," Ford said in a report to constituents.

anything particularly new about the Cuban situation and the Soviet military power there but "the general feeling was that things looked a little better."

It seemed like something big might be in the wind when the word leaked down from Capitol Hill that Kennedy had summoned 17 Congress members, mainly from the Armed Forces and Foreign Affairs committees.

There was some speculation that the session was an effort by Kennedy to slam the door on any charges that his foreign policy was more partisan than bipartisan.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., thundered in the Senate Monday that it was obvious "the Kennedy administration wants no part of a bipartisan approach to foreign policy—except when they get into trouble."

Not so, retorted Democratic Leader Mansfield. Republicans, he contended, had been called to the White House for consultations on foreign policy more than 40 times in Kennedy's two years in office.

Boy Scouts Seek Books, Get Excuses

HEWLETT, N. Y. (AP) — A Boy Scout is trustworthy, but he can't do the impossible. Still, a Boy Scout is loyal, so he keeps trying.

Eighteen Boy Scout volunteers were dispatched by the Hewlett-Woodmere Public Library over the weekend to scout for 150 books held by delinquent adult borrowers. The boys blazed a trail across this Long Island community and returned with 15 books.

The librarian, Mrs. Walter Thomson, who knows the problems involved in book-hunting, called the 10 per cent immediate return encouraging. The members of Troop 21 vowed to continue the hunt across the four square miles served by the library over successive weekends.

The scouts gave Mrs. Thomson the following accounting: A dozen borrowers promised to look for missing books; three agreed to pay for lost books; two insisted they had returned the books; a dozen were reported away, and doorbells went unanswered at the other homes.

Anxious Moments Robert Osgard Jr., 12, son of the scoutmaster, reported a few anxious moments when he was confronted by a menacing-looking police dog at the home of one borrower.

The owner finally came out, calmed his pet and read the library's explanatory form letter.

He told the boy: "Son, I returned that book a long time ago. I think you've got a fine idea here, though. Keep after the others."

"Lolita" The missing book is "Lolita."

Deer Involved In 394 U.P. Road Mishaps

EAST LANSING (AP) — One of every six accidents investigated by state police in the Upper Peninsula last year involved a collision between a motor vehicle and a deer, state police report in a special study.

Of 2,436 accidents reported north of the Straits, 394 involved deer. In three state police post areas, hitting deer accounted for nearly one out of four accidents and in one post area the ratio was nearly one out of three.

Contrary to what might be expected, the Conservation Department said, there are more such accidents below the Bay City-Muskegon line, where there are far fewer deer, than in other sections of the state. This is because 90 per cent of the cars registered in the state are in this area and drivers in this populous region do not expect to see deer, the department said.

The Conservation Department said of 4,146 deer accidents reports it received, 966 were in the Upper Peninsula.

Green Bay, Wis. (AP) — A couple and three of their children were found shot to death in their secluded home on the outskirts of Green Bay today.

Police issued an all points bulletin for the arrest of the sixth member of the family, a 16-year-old boy.

Police Chief Elmer Madson said the pickup order was broadcast for Harry "Butch" Hebard, a high school junior with dark, wavy hair.

Madson identified the dead as Jack Hebard, a 38-year-old employee of North Central Air Lines; Mrs. Joyce Hebard, 35, and three of her children by a previous marriage — John Ruddle, 15, and 11-year-old twins, Judy and Janice.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"He was my first serious boy friend," said Paulette Lewis, 15. "We had been going steady one month and 12 days."

Then she began to cry. Paulette told Monday, between tears, of the moment David Brimley sacrificed his life for hers as they walked, hand-in-hand, across an avenue near their homes.

Suddenly a car roared through a red light, glanced off another auto, and hurtled, brakes squealing, at Paulette and David.

"David shouted, 'Look out, he gave me a push,'" Paulette said. "I think he tried to run, but when I recovered my balance, I couldn't see him."

David, 17, who had just gotten his first job and enrolled in his first college course, was hurled 150 feet to his death.

The careening car slid into a power pole and halted. Three young men jumped out and ran. "I looked around," said Paulette, "and saw where the car had hit the pole down the street. I walked down there—" Again she cried—"and found him lying at the curb."

Police drove her home after the accident Sunday night. Her mother, Jean Lewis, called a doctor. He treated the pretty, blonde 10th grader with sedatives.

Police also went to tell David's mother, Lillian Armstrong, a few doors away.

She told a newsman later how her son had just enrolled as a math major at Santa Monica City College and had obtained a part-time job, his first, as a drugstore delivery boy.

'Bug Bite' To Cost RR $625,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—News that the highest court in the land had affirmed his $625,000 damage award in the "bug bite" case brought no joy to James T. Gallick, 61, the legless man's attorney reported.

Gallick's first thoughts reportedly were for an attorney who is seriously ill in another hospital. Attorney Marshall I. Nureberg broke the news of the U.S. Supreme Court decision Monday at Highland View Hospital, where Gallick was admitted in 1958.

When he told the former Baltimore & Ohio railroad employee he had good news, the man's face brightened, Nureberg said, but when Gallick learned that the news concerned his damage award he expressed disappointment.

Nureberg said when court costs and interest at 6 per cent are added to the damage award, which was returned by a Common Pleas court jury June 26, 1959, the railroad will have to pay a total of $750,000.

Nureberg did not say how much would remain after payments of lawyers' fees and after medical bills, which he estimated at $200,000.

Gallick, of suburban Parma, is married and has a grown son. Testifying from a stretcher during the trial, Gallick said he was required to work near a pond infested with vermin and insects while supervising switching operations in Cleveland's flats in 1954.

The insect that bit him never was identified. Gallick told the court the afflicted area above his left knee swelled, and his doctor was unable to do anything about the infection. First one leg then the other was amputated as his entire system became infected, Gallick's attorneys alleged.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A trio of Miami students have devised a machine that measures the smooching power generated by two people kissing. Its called the kissometer.

Its creators, including a bouncy 18-year-old brunette, are having a lot of fun with trial runs. "It all depends on the sparkle inside you, said Tatiana Prilutchi, the only female in her electrical engineering class. "If you feel all tingling inside, your kiss will show it."

The kissometer is rigged with flashing lights and ringing bells. The lowest quality kiss flashes a sign that says, "Dead fish." A casanova embrace will register "Wowee. The hottest smooching registers a "Wowee" and clangs a bell.

"The machine works on scientific principles, said Tatiana, of North Miami Beach. "The couple inside the booth hold an electronically charged probe in their hands. It sends a minute amount of electrical current through their bodies. When their lips meet, the circuit is completed."

The rest is up to the couple.

State Gets 50% Of GM Allocations

DETROIT (AP) — President John F. Gordon of General Motors allocates about 50 per cent of everything to Michigan.

"We have no intention of deviating," he told a news conference Monday, "because it is the most economical way to run our business."

Gordon and Chairman Frederic G. Donner disclosed General Motors will spend $1.325 billion worldwide this year for plants and equipment and for special tools, those suitable for only one model year.

Spending in Michigan will come close to $500 million, they said. They made no attempt at a breakdown of Michigan expenditures. But they did say extensive modernization will be undertaken at the Chevrolet and Fisher Body car and truck assembly plants at Flint and at the Cadillac-Fisher body facilities in Detroit.

Donner observed that General Motors from the first has predicted excellent sales for 1963, as good or better than the seven million cars of 1962, and "we haven't been wrong so far."

Starry-Eyed Space Fans Write NASA

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 13-year-old boy in New York wrote the National Aeronautics and Space Administration: "I would be willing to die for NASA, my country and the seven astronauts."

Another boy, a senior in a Michigan high school, wrote: "My main goal in life is to step foot on an alien planet."

These are but two examples found today in the letters that young people starry-eyed about space. The boys and girls ask serious questions, such as what courses they should be taking in high school and what colleges would be best for preparation for space work.

The NASA answers are in general terms. They advise the young people to talk with their high school counselors and science teachers and read scientific magazines and books. Plan a solid general education, NASA tells them, and master the basic fundamentals of science and mathematics.

To those wanting to be astronauts, NASA has written, "Other factors are the excellence of your academic record in high school and college and the very important qualities of physical fitness and high moral character."

NASA also sends packets of materials to the space fledglings. To some it wrote that it would try to get a spacemobile to stop by their school.

Schools Must Fill Needs Of All Children

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The child with talent and the child deprived by society must be equally the concern of public schools. Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina said today.

All human resources must be tapped in meeting the challenges of the space age, he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

Sanford said North Carolina is just beginning to seek out the gifted child. Special classes last year had over 2,000 students, he said.

"This year we have more than 5,000, and the trend should be to double each year until we include all who have unusual ability," the governor asserted.

He cited special needs of children from rural or slum areas which have not kept pace with the rest of society.

"The schools in which such children find themselves must be adaptable to the children's needs," Sanford said.

"Too long we have put most of our best teachers in the classrooms of the privileged children; more of them should go in the classrooms of these disadvantaged children."

He suggested more pay for teachers in such schools, missionary zeal in teacher colleges, improved testing and guidance programs, and more attention to vocational training in schools serving the areas.

Bernard Kelmer, principal of Furness Junior High School in Philadelphia, said in a speech prepared for the convention that the plight of America's slum children is a national emergency that may become a national calamity.

"Most of the current attempts to meet the needs of the culturally deprived pupil represent little more than a mopping of the floor without bothering to turn off the faucet."

What is needed, he said, is "a shaking to the very roots of our present methods of conducting schools."

"We delude ourselves into believing we are providing equal opportunity while we spend twice as many educational dollars on the suburban child as the slum child," Kilmer said.

PRESIDENT BETANCOURT

2 Americans Approved For Beatification

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Congregation of Rites today approved the beatification of two American Roman Catholic figures, Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton and John M. Neumann, fourth bishop of Philadelphia.

Ceremonies for the beatifications were scheduled next month. Beatification frequently—but not always—is followed by the Church's highest honor, canonization, or sainthood.

Mother Seton, a convert to Catholicism, may become the United States' first native-born saint.

Born in New York in 1774, she turned after her husband's death to the education of youth and to charitable work. She founded the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph in America and died in Emmitsburg, Md., in 1821.

Her beatification is scheduled March 17. Bishop Neumann was born in Bohemia in 1811. After studying for the priesthood in Budweis, he came to America in 1836 and was ordained in New York.

Pope Pius IX named him bishop of Philadelphia in 1852. He died there in 1860.

His beatification is scheduled for March 19, the feast day of St. Joseph.

The way for the beatifications was cleared today as cardinals, prelates and theologians belonging to the Vatican's Congregation of Rites met with Pope John XXIII in the papal throne room.

With the Pope looking on but not voting, the cardinals and prelates approved formally two miracles proposed for the beatification of each figure. The approval of the miracles amounted to approval of the beatifications.

Mother Seton will be the first native-born American to receive this honor.

Two further miracles must be approved for sainthood.

Dem Fails In Bid To Rile GOP

LANSING (AP) — A Democratic critic tried to rile Republicans by taking verbal potshots at Gov. George Romney in the House Monday night but raised laughs instead of tempers.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, first objected when the House was formally given copies of the Governor's special message on economic progress.

"The message had some good points, but if it was intended for the legislature, I don't think it should be delivered before other organizations," O'Brien said. "I heard it last Friday noon."

Romney based his talk before the AFL-CIO legislative convention Friday on the message. O'Brien was told the message was available to House members Friday morning but the House was not in session.

"Take five minutes to go and tell the Governor about it," suggested Rep. Andrew Cobb, R-Elise, referring to the governor's five-minute interviews with citizens.

Parade Plans Postponed By Bad Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of snow and rain, the White House postponed plans for a ceremonial parade through the heart of Washington today honoring President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela. The parade will be held Wednesday instead.

President Kennedy's official welcome for the visiting chief executive was shifted from the south grounds of the White House to the north portico. Thus the two presidents could meet and exchange greetings under cover.

Special Welcome Kennedy ordered the parade as a special welcome to Betancourt, a friend of the United States and a No. 1 Latin-American enemy of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

En route to his meeting with Kennedy, Betancourt received an enthusiastic welcome Monday when he stopped off at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Without mentioning Cuba by name, he told newsmen, "as long as the Communist beachhead in America is not eliminated, we will be exposed to the risk of sabotage."

Without mentioning Cuba by name, he told newsmen, "as long as the Communist beachhead in America is not eliminated, we will be exposed to the risk of sabotage."

But U.S. officials treated the hijacking as virtually a closed incident, showing another Red resort to violence. Betancourt, landing at San Juan to the cheers of thousands, publicly ignored the runaway ship.

From Kennedy's standpoint, the two-day Washington visit of the Venezuelan leader underscored a theme he has been stressing in U.S. policy toward Cuba and Latin America.

In the administration view, Betancourt now stands as the prime example of how to beat communism in the hemisphere. A constitutionally elected president, he got social reforms rolling in Venezuela before the Alliance for Progress aid program came along. For the past year, Venezuela has been foremost target of a mounting Red terror campaign—including assassination attempts on Betancourt.

Latin Drama On High Seas Nearing End

BELEM, Brazil (AP) — Four Brazilian marines left today to board the hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui off the Brazilian coast. The ship later was reported proceeding south toward this port at the mouth of the Amazon River.

BELEM, Brazil (AP) — The high-seas drama of the hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui neared an end today—its aim of preventing President Romulo Betancourt's visit to the United States thwarted and Betancourt's regime apparently still firmly in the saddle.

The ship swung at anchor in Brazilian waters waiting for a Brazilian corvette to escort it 420 miles down the coast to Belem. There was speculation that the ship had halted because it ran out of fuel or had engine trouble.

U.S. craft, hovering outside Brazilian territorial waters, kept the Anzoategui under surveillance but made no attempt to arrest it.

Political Asylum Brazil has promised political asylum to the hijackers when they surrender the vessel. The Venezuelan Foreign Ministry said it will demand their extradition. The ship will be returned to Venezuela presumably with its captain and most of the 35 crewmen.

Second Mate Wilmar Medina Rojas radioed that he was the only crew member involved in the seizure. The other eight men who reportedly carried out the seizure with Medina Rojas apparently were Communist terrorists smuggled aboard before the ship sailed last Tuesday for Houston, Tex., and New Orleans, La. However, it was also reported that some of the crewmen joined the insurgents and will seek asylum in Brazil.

Incumbents Finish First In Municipal Primary Election

Fine, Smith Totals Top 1,000; Menze, Ling Also Nominated

Incumbents led the way in yesterday's municipal primary election, which attracted a surprisingly large turnout of 1,838 voters.

Commissioner Joseph Fine, who led the field when he first ran for the office two years ago, paced the six-candidate race yesterday by polling 1,110 ballots, being followed by Mayor James R. Smith, with 1,098.

Also nominated, and scheduled for the runoff vote in the Monday, April 1, election were Franz Menze, with 582 votes, for third place, and Robert M. Ling, with 436 ballots, for the fourth spot.

Sampalla, Blazina Eliminated

Eliminated from the race were Leonard Sampalla, 912 W. College Ave., owner of the Sampalla Construction Co., who received 246 votes, for fifth place, and Rudolph J. Blazina, 222 N. Fourth St., a disabled former city employee, who received 152 ballots.

Relatively mild weather enabled the big turnout, but observers agreed that the intense interest which had been generated over the power issue probably had most to do with the large number of voters who cast ballots.

Although the voter turnout was 20.3 per cent of the number of registered electors (8,763), it was much higher than expected. It was believed only around 1,000 would vote.

Fine and Smith were 1-2 in every precinct, with Fine finishing on top in the first, second, fifth, sixth, eighth and ninth precincts and Smith leading in the others. Menze was third in every precinct except the first, where he trailed Ling by a slight margin.

But only in the sixth through ninth precincts (the east side, north central and northwest sections of the city) did the two runners-up give the incumbents a chase.

More Contests In Spring

In the spring election a much larger turnout is expected, since there will be more city races (for both commissioner and supervisor, as well as for an uncontested vote for municipal judge) and also the biennial state election.

All returns were in by 8:35 last night, with the eighth precinct being the last to report its totals to City Clerk Everett H. Kent.

Names of Fine, Smith, Menze and Ling will appear on the ballot in the commissioner race in the spring election. The two receiving the most votes in that election will be declared elected for two-year terms, which will begin the week following the election.

Fine, who resides at 332 E. Ridge St., is seeking his second term on the commission. He operates Joe Fine's Newsstand and Hobbycraft Shop.

Smith, 401 Center St., who is employed as a public school teacher, is seeking his third two-year term on the commission. This is his second term as mayor.

Served On Two Boards

Menze, 528 E. Arch St., is president of the Menze Construction Co., Inc. He has served on both the Marquette Planning Commission and the Marquette Board of Review.

Ling, 17 E. Nicolet Blvd., is general manager of Vollwerth-Marquette Co. He is vice president of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce.

City commissioners serve in a dual capacity as supervisors, by self appointment, in accordance with provisions of the city charter, and hence the successful candidates in the spring balloting will serve as both commissions and supervisors.

The other members of the commission are C. Fred Rydholm, Elmer K. Carlson and Steve A. E. Johnson, whose terms expire next year.

Supervisor Candidates

Candidates for supervisor are the two incumbents, Charles T. Beaudry and E. Kenneth Goldsworthy, and Mrs. Margaret Schnorr.

Edward H. Dembowski is unopposed for re-election as municipal judge, for a six-year term beginning Jan. 1, 1964.

The supervisor terms also are for two years. The other elective members of the county board from Marquette are Howard J. Larson, Howard B. Morrison and Richard C. Hammerschmidt.

There are 10 supervisors from Marquette, 10 from Ishpeming, five from Negaunee and one each from the 19 townships.

Clouds Ease Temperature Drop In Area

Cloudy skies prevented temperatures from dropping as low as was expected here last night.

The minimum yesterday and overnight was 9 above, which was typical of most of the Upper Peninsula. However, skies were clear in Calumet and it got down to 6 below there early this morning.

A weak sun was out only about 25 per cent of the time from dawn to dusk here yesterday.

27 Above Yesterday

Yesterday's high temperature was 27. Temperatures dropped continuously during the 24-hour period to midnight last night. The mercury hovered around the nine degree mark all night and at six this morning it slowly began to rise.

Other early morning temperatures were: Marquette County Airport, 5; Sault Ste. Marie, 7; Escanaba, 7; Iron Mountain, 8, and Menominee and Ironwood, 11.

Snowfall yesterday morning totaled 1.2 inches. Although normal amount of snowfall for the month through today is 12 inches, snowfall this month has been only 9.7 inches. For the season, snowfall has amounted to 58.4 inches, but the normal amount so far this season is about 71 inches.

More Snow Due

Marquette's snow depth now stands at 18 inches. It looks like a little more snow is in the offing. Occasional light snow is expected tonight and scattered snow flurries are predicted for tomorrow.

The forecast calls for mostly cloudy skies and a low of from 10 to 15 above tonight. Tomorrow considerable cloudiness and no decided change in temperature, with a high near 20. Colder temperatures are predicted Thursday, along with partly cloudy skies.

Candidates In Six Townships In Area Without Opposition

Candidates in six area townships have been selected without opposition.

There was no balloting required in the primary election yesterday in Marquette, Chocoma, Powell, Sands, Skandia and West Branch Townships, inasmuch as the candidates were chosen, either by caucus or by petitions filed, without any opposition.

However, all candidates will have to be elected in the regular spring election scheduled for Monday, April 1, balloting.

All terms are for two years, except for board of review and trustee, which are for four-year periods.

All supervisors in the six townships will be the same, except for Skandia Township, where John E. Johnson, who has served two terms, declined to seek re-election. Edward Swanson was nominated in his place.

Candidates chosen are as follows:

Marquette Township — Alvin W. Weiland, supervisor; John S. Peterson, clerk; Mrs. Frances Schwemin, treasurer; Max Muelle, trustee; Harris Oust, member, board of review, and George Fezzy, justice of the peace.

Two Given Probation, Third Sent To Jail By Circuit Judge Here

Two defendants in criminal cases were placed on probation and another was sentenced to serve 90 days in the Marquette County Jail by Judge Philip J. Glennie, Alpena, in Marquette County Circuit Court here yesterday afternoon.

Raymond Naylor, 59, Ishpeming, a woodsworker, received the jail term for a third offense drunk and disorderly charge.

He had been held in the county jail in default of bond after being arrested by Ishpeming police for being drunk and disorderly at the Mather Inn Dec. 28. He pled guilty in circuit court Feb. 11 to the third offense charge.

'Jail Best Bet'
Naylor was previously arrested for being drunk and disorderly on Sept. 27 and 28.

Judge Glennie told him: "It seems that your difficulty is that when you leave the woods you come into town and get drunk. You are your own worst enemy and the best thing for you is to keep you in jail until it's time for you to go back into the woods in the spring."

County Board Meeting At 2 Tomorrow

Marquette County's board of supervisors will hold its monthly meeting in the courthouse here beginning at 2 tomorrow afternoon.

With Board Chairman Carl W. Corneliuson, Ishpeming, presiding, the board will hear the reports of the various department heads and elective officers.

To be considered is a grant agreement between the county and the U. S. Government (through the Federal Aviation Commission) for federal participation in the project at the county airport to widen the runways, build a taxiway and do some other lighting and electrical improvements.

The Marquette Post of the American Legion will request an advertising donation, in connection with the Upper Peninsula Legion convention to be held in this city in June.

Taxing Of Federal Lands
A report from the budget and executive committee of the board will be given on the Gogebic County resolution regarding taxing of federal lands.

A request will be made that bids be taken for the sheriff's patrol car.

Graveraet Teacher To Attend State 'Phy Ed' Meeting

Miss E. Lee Weldon, girls' physical education instructor at Graveraet High School, will attend the annual state convention of the Michigan Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation in Lansing Thursday through Saturday.

Miss Weldon is chairman of the association's Upper Peninsula division for girls' and women's sports. She is also U. P. chairman of the Girls Athletic Association.

Speakers at the convention include Clarence "Biggie" Munn, athletic director of Michigan State University, and Dr. Allan Ryan, M.D., a sports medicine expert from Meriden, Conn.

The association is one of the 29 departments of the Michigan Education Association.

Placed on probation, each for two years, were:

Wade Atkins, 22, formerly of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, for writing no-account checks.

Rodger K. Hoskins, 26, Ishpeming, for larceny from a building. Atkins was arrested in April in Escanaba for writing no-account checks. He pleaded guilty.

Restitution Being Made
Atkins appeared in court yesterday with his attorney, John E. McDonald, Marquette. Judge Glennie noted that restitution in the amount of $577.86 is being made.

Adding that Atkins was president of the senior class and a member of the football team at his high school, Judge Glennie said: "We're giving you a break."

Hoskins pled guilty Feb. 11 to a charge of larceny of $100 from the Ishpeming residence of Clarence Hill, where he also lives. He had been released on bond at his arraignment in Ishpeming Municipal Court Dec. 12.

'Type Of Contract'
Judge Glennie ordered that he pay the $100 to Hill and told him that probation is a type of contract between the defendant and the court.

"If you break the contract, the court will place sentence," the judge said.

As in all probation cases, the defendants, during the terms of their probation, (1) must not violate any city ordinances or state and federal laws, (2) must not leave the state without permission of the court or the probation officer, and (3) must report monthly or as often as requested, either in writing or in person, to the probation officer.

Police Ticket Pair In City Car Crackups

Four automobiles were damaged and a pair of motorists were given tickets, but no one was injured, in two traffic accidents in Marquette yesterday.

Worst damage occurred in a wreck at 11:15 last night in the 700 block of Champion St.

City police said a car being driven south on Champion St. by Gerald J. Paquette, 212 Blemluber Ave., smashed into a car owned by John B. McKindles, 1126 N. Third St., which was parked on the west side of the street, facing south.

Car Not Under Control
Paquette told city police he didn't see the parked car.

Extensive damage occurred to the right front of Paquette's automobile, a 1947 two-door sedan, and to the left rear fender of McKindles' car, a 1953 four-door sedan. Both cars were able to be driven from the scene under their own power, however.

City police gave Paquette a ticket for failing to have his car under control.

The other mishap took place at 1:35 yesterday afternoon at the corner of Presque Isle and W. College Aves. and involved automobiles operated by Marguerite Metina, Newberry, and Virginia M. Martin, Route 2, Box 626-B, Marquette.

Traffic Light Violation
City police said Miss Melina was driving west on W. College Ave. and had stopped for the traffic light. When the light turned green she proceeded forward, into the intersection, with her car being hit by the Martin vehicle, which was traveling north on Presque Isle Ave.

The left door and left front fender of the Melina car, a 1959 two-door sedan, and the front bumper of the Martin automobile, a 1959 two-door, were damaged. Both were driven from the scene.

City police ticketed Mrs. Martin for a traffic light violation.

TOUGH PLANT

The slow-growing lichen is practically indestructible. Some lichen colonies have been estimated to be more than 1,000 years old. The plant is formed by two distinct organisms, a fungus which provides salts and water storage and an algae which supplies carbohydrates by photosynthesis.

Fireworks, Torchlight Parade Set For Mardi Gras In City

Fred Steele, manager of Cliffs Ridge ski hill, announced today that the hill will not only sponsor a torch-light parade in participation of Marquette's second annual Mardi Gras celebration this Saturday, but also will begin the festivities with a fireworks display.

Steele noted that the event will begin during the early evening hours and a teen-age dance will follow at the ski hill chalet with the conclusion of the torchlight parade.

"The fireworks display and parade is open to the public and all who wish to attend are most welcome," he said.

Steele also wished to remind the public that tickets for the Mardi Gras coronation ball, to be held beginning at 9 p. m. at the Marquette National Guard Armory, are currently on sale at the ski hill ticket office.

'Carnival Type' Atmosphere

It was also noted that King Rex, his queen, Northern's "all events" queen and candidates, will officially begin the ski hill festivities, which will lend a true "carnival type" atmosphere to the Mardi Gras celebration.

Exact time of the fireworks display and torchlight parade will be announced later this week, he said.

Bills Offered For Expansion Of Economy

LANSING (AP) — Bills aimed at getting action on Gov. George Romney's recommendations to the legislature for economic expansion were introduced in the legislature Monday night.

Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R - Ann Arbor, the sponsor and chairman of the House Committee on Economic Development, said he thought they had a good chance of passage.

"They were prepared on a bipartisan basis," Bursley said. The measures also have the backing of bankers, chambers of commerce and others interested, he said.

The four measures introduced would reorganize the State Department of Economic Development, provide new sources of credit for industry, permit issuance of local revenue bonds for plant construction and aid investment groups by waiving the five mill franchise fee.

Economic Department
Bursley and his committee worked closely with the Governor in preparing the bills. A State Department of Economic Expansion would replace the present economic development department. The executive director would be appointed by the Governor and be directly responsible to him.

Bursley said thoughts are to pay the executive director about $20,000 a year, to attract a capable executive. The post of director, now filled by Robert Myers as acting director, pays $10,500.

Another measure would authorize the establishment of business development corporations able to borrow money, issue bonds and lend money to encourage new businesses and rehabilitate existing ones.

Revenue Bonds
Membership in such development corporations would consist of banking organizations, insurance and surety companies. They would be under the supervision of the State Banking Department. Also aimed at encouraging business was a bill to permit municipalities to issue revenue bonds to build or remodel industrial buildings. These would be leased to businesses with the revenues used to retire the bonds and pay the interest.

Still another business aid was the proposed waiving of the five mill franchise fee for small business corporations licensed under the Federal Small Business Investment Act and business development corporations.

The House postponed further action following preliminary debate

Tech Slates Europe Travel Study Tour

HOUGHTON — The Michigan Tech department of humanities and social studies, in cooperation with the Institute of Extension Services, will offer a travel study tour of Europe this summer, departing from New York on July 30.

The month-long tour will include 10 countries, with participants returning to New York on Aug. 31. Through the institute, tour members may earn three quarters hours of credit in cultural geography if desired, or they may participate on a non-credit basis.

Dr. B. L. Fryxell, head of humanities and social studies, will be tour leader. He has traveled widely on the North American continent and has made two previous trips to Europe. Prior to departure, he will conduct lectures on the countries to be visited. They include Scotland, England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Austria, Italy, Monaco and France.

Price of the tour does not include transportation to New York or lunches throughout the tour. Other meals are included.

Return Aug. 31

The tour will fly from New York to Glasgow, and proceed from there to Edinburgh, London, Amsterdam, Bonn, Heidelberg, Lucerne, Innsbruck, Venice, Florence, Rome, Rapallo, Nice, Lyon and Paris, with side tours scheduled from many of these cities. Transportation from Paris back to New York on Aug. 31 will also be by air.

Fines Totaling $70 Levied In Traffic Court

Seven persons were ordered to pay a total of $70.10 in fines and costs by Judge Edward H. Dem-bowski yesterday in traffic court.

Donald H. Martin, Harvey, was fined $10 and ordered to pay costs of $5.10 for allowing an unlicensed person to operate a motor vehicle. The summons was issued by city police at the corner of Front and Washington Sts. Jan. 29.

Ticketed at the same time and place by city police, Glenn L. Martin, Harvey, was fined $6.30 and ordered to pay costs of $3.70 for "running" a stop signal.

Fined For Speeding

A fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs were paid by Nelson E. Lyons, 908 N. Front St., for speeding. He was ticketed by city police Sunday for driving 40 miles per hour in a 25-MPH zone on N. Third St.

James N. Goetz, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, paid a fine of $8.30 and $3.70 costs for making an improper left turn at the corner of Third and W. Washington Sts. The summons was issued by city police Feb. 9.

For improper passing on Division St., Raymond P. Hutter, 1432 Presque Isle Ave., was fined $6.30 and ordered to pay costs of $3.70. He was ticketed by city police Feb. 11.

Excessive Speed

A fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs were paid by Otis R. Franklin, Sawyer Air Base, for driving with excessive speed for road conditions. The summons was issued by city police following an accident Feb. 4 at the corner of S. Third St. and Baraga Ave.

Mike W. Russell, 529 E. Arch St., paid a fine of $1.30 and $3.70 costs for speeding. The ticket was issued Feb. 2 by city police for driving 35 miles per hour in a 25-MPH zone on N. Third St.

On a bill to permit small loan companies to increase their maximum loans from $500 to $1,500. Rep. Cyril Root, R-Kalamazoo, the sponsor, said this would save people who need a small loan of more than $500 the trouble and extra expense on making multiple small loans.

There would be a reduction in the overall range of the loan although there would be a higher rate for some of the smaller loans.

Opponents objected that the top interest rate of 2½ per cent a month still amounts to 30 per cent a year. Increasing the loan maximum would take business away from banks, they said.

Demo Nominees Rap Romney On Campaign Swing Here

Two nominees for state education posts on the Democratic Ticket in the biennial state election this spring were in Marquette yesterday on their campaign tour of the Upper Peninsula.

They were Gerald Tuchow, Democratic nominee for the State Board of Education (which is the governing body of Northern Michigan College and other regional educational institutions), and Don Stevens, a Democratic member of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, who is seeking re-election.

Election April 1

Both ripped into Republican Gov. George Romney in their meetings with Democratic Party faithful here.

Tuchow's GOP opponent in the April 1 election will be James O'Neil of Livonia and Stevens (with Jan Vanderploeg, North Muskegon incumbent) will be opposed by Republicans Stephen Nisbet of Freemont and Arthur Rouse of Boyne City.

Tuchow said he had much concern for the future of higher education in the Upper Peninsula under Romney's budget.

"Great College At NMC" "We have a great college at Northern that should not be jeopardized by a budget cut when the Upper Peninsula needs a shot in the arm through expanded vocational and job re-training at the college," he said.

Tuchow, an attorney from Flat Rock and chairman of the Michigan State Teachers Tenure Commission, is married and the father of two sons.

Tuchow is a graduate of Wayne State University, the University of Michigan Law School, and served in the Army during the Korean War.

Michigan is erecting a money barrier between young people and higher educational opportunity according to Stevens.

He said that "it is time we return to the concept of education for the many rather than for the chosen few."

"The people of Michigan have charged state government with the responsibility of providing the best in education for their children," he said. "This is denied when tuition rates and other education costs soar beyond the budget of the average family."

Stevens said Michigan must face needs in every phase of the state's educational system as "an investment in opportunities for our children, but also as an investment to produce dividends towards a growing, dynamic state."

Urges Research For U. P.
"Michigan should lead the way in opening the doors of higher educational opportunity," he said, "and instead of gazing at scientific-industrial development in other states, we must get at the business of stimulating the potential existing today in our own colleges and universities."

"Northern Michigan College and Michigan Tech must share in more rapid development of research facilities. The Legislature should immediately establish Northern Michigan College as Northern Michigan University." (A bill to that effect has already passed the House.)

Describing the growth of Michigan community colleges, Stevens emphasized the need for providing more such institutions. He said that enrollment in community colleges has increased from 11,000 to more than 34,000 in the past six years.

U. P. Gets 1st Woman Minister

BESSEMER (AP) — The first woman ever ordained a Presbyterian minister in Michigan will begin her first assignment Sunday at her post here, near the Wisconsin state line.

First In U. P.

She is The Rev. Winifred Lomas, daughter of the Rev. Donald Lomas, pastor of The Bethany United Presbyterian Church of Flint. The attractive, dark-haired young woman was ordained Feb. 12 at Westminster church in Bay City.

She will be the first woman ever to serve as a minister of her faith in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The state's two other woman Presbyterian ministers came into Michigan after being ordained.

They are The Rev. Jean Dimond of Hamtrack Presbyterian Church and The Rev. Margaret Towner, assistant pastor of The First Presbyterian Church in Kalamazoo.

He predicted a great future for the new Grand Valley College.

Against Constitution

Stevens, urging a "no" vote against the proposed new constitution charged that it would deny the people the right to elect governing boards of four more taxpayer-supported colleges and universities, and the state superintendent of public instruction.

"This would erect still another wall between the people and the institutions they own," he said.

Gov. Romney Reports On 1st 6 Weeks

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney believes his administration in Lansing has made a start toward re-establishing what he calls the state's financial integrity.

The Republican Governor beamed with optimism in a television interview Monday night in reporting on his first six weeks in office.

Emphasizing that getting more jobs for Michigan was still his No. 1 goal, Romney expressed belief that prospects for doing this already have improved.

Tax Reform Steps have been taken, he said, to solve some of the controversial issues between labor and management. He cited efforts to compromise a dispute over payment of state unemployment benefits to workers idled by strikes at plants in other states.

He said tax reform can be put into effect easier under the proposed Constitution which will be voted on at the April 1 election. "We must re-establish Michigan's financial integrity," he said. "We've spent more than we've had in the bank. This is immoral and economically unsound."

The Governor said the budget for the next fiscal year will take in more money than the state spends but he remarked, "We've got to do something about our revenue program for the following fiscal year."

Fair Shake? Asked whether Michigan was getting a fair shake on defense jobs, Romney said he considered Defense Secretary Robert McNamara an objective individual and that contracts are awarded

Hard Winter Evidenced By Frozen Lakes

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Michigan got some final, conclusive evidence Monday that it has been a hard winter. Three of the Great Lakes surrounding Michigan — Superior, Huron and Michigan — are virtually ice-covered, said Arthur J. Myers, chief meteorologist of the Sault Ste. Marie Weather Bureau. Myers called this most unusual.

Huge Lake Superior's only open water is a thin slice between Isle Royale and Michipicoten Island measuring about 75 by 25 miles, Myers said. Superior's 400 miles from the Soo to Duluth, Minn., is an "almost solid slate" of ice, Myers said. Superior never has been known to freeze completely.

Lake Huron is practically all ice. The only open water is at the entrance to Georgian Bay and below Great Duck Island on the Canadian side, Myers said. Northern Lake Michigan has floating ice fields around Beaver Island that might freeze together any time and to the south shore ice extends outward to cover more than 50 per cent of the surface, Myers said.

ADC-U Program

Gov. Romney is urging the Legislature to make the ADC-U program available to Michigan. This is a federal program of Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed.

The program stands for many things to which Gov. Romney is personally opposed. Why, then, is he urging the Legislature, which has been rejecting ADC-U, now to adopt it? His position of support for the program is reported to be giving it a strong chance of acceptance by the Legislature, whose Democratic minority is for it, and whose Republican majority will now be split at least by the Romney endorsement.

The Governor says that the people of Michigan should be against further concentration of responsibility in the federal government because it weakens self-government and because Michigan citizens pay at least $2 in taxes for every dollar returned in federal grants.

But he says Michigan's refusal to participate in a federal program can't change a trend.

His message to the Legislature on ADC-U explained that until 1961 the ADC program was limited to children deprived of parents by death, absence or incapacity. In 1961 Congress amended the social security act to extend ADC coverage to families whose need was due to unemployment, and in 1962 its coverage was extended until 1967.

The 1962 amendments give more leeway to the states and place emphasis upon return of the parent to employment. The first appeal is to help sell more power for Washington to the states and the second is to quiet criticism that the act will blanket the chronic unemployed under perpetual support.

Federal participation in ADC-U, in which both parents are eligible for grants, is the same as for other ADC causes; providing a maximum of $20.50 a month for each child and parent living with a child. Additional aid comes from the state.

In June 1962 with only one parent eligible and only 15 states participating, the program covered about 250,000 persons. Four states (Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia) accounted for 88 per cent of the total number of families, and average payments ranged from $67 per family in Washington to $246 per family in Illinois. In most states with comprehensive general welfare programs like Michigan, those transferred from direct relief to ADC-U also tended to be the highest cost cases of families with children.

Michigan, said Gov. Romney, is in a position to benefit from such aid. Last October Detroit had 8,364 family direct relief cases, with 53.8 per cent eligible for ADC-U. Michigan had 16,891 family direct relief cases with more than 9,000 families eligible for ADC-U.

For Michigan, the Governor recommends that all direct relief families with children under 18, where the head of the family is employable but unemployed, and where the head of the family has received unemployment compensation on or after Jan. 1, 1958, be eligible for benefits. Under such eligibility, an estimated 10,130 families in Michigan could get ADC-U, or a total of 50,650 persons.

Such a load would cost under existing direct relief programs $17.7 million a year to state and local units of government. Under ADC-U, the federal government would contribute $12.4 million and the state $7.8 million, and the eligible families would be removed from direct relief. Although the average monthly payment under direct relief of $128 to $166 per family would be increased to an average payment under ADC-U of $167 per family, the state would save almost $9 million.

This "savings," as Gov. Romney noted earlier, is not saving at all because Michigan must pay $2 to get back $1 of federal aid, but the Governor is suggesting that the state adopt the program on a basis of "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

There is a consideration which transcends the saving of tax money spent on welfare, serious as this consideration is with welfare spending in its present proportions. This consideration is the effect on the "beneficiaries."

The present program of direct relief treats unemployment as an interim emergency. It aims only to tide families over until the head of the family is employed again. This makes employment more attractive than aid to most families, but not all. Welfare workers know that the persons who stay on as recipients are the welfare system's greatest failure and responsibility. They have been "helped" into a status of dependent citizenship which strongly and adversely affects them and which can make mendicants of their children.

ADC-U is a serious threat to American self-regard. In the guise of aid to needy children—who even under the present system are sent to employers "for a note to say you haven't got a job for my daddy"—it would make children a ticket to parents' support, instead of the historic and moral reverse of this situation. The implications of this great change are incalculable and should cause its rejection for the good of American character.

That unemployed parents need aid is obvious. They are getting it now. Expand it. Offer them public works employment when private employment fails to give them and their children the stimulation of self-sufficiency. Avoid the dread cynicism of "Joe's had another kid; he's all set now for life."

Stalin's funeral: Malenkov (left) and Beria led Khrushchev was not in sight. The pallbearers on each side of the tyrant's coffin.

10 Years After Death Of Stalin Finds Khrushchev On Tightrope

By LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK — (NEA) — A decade after Stalin's death, Nikita Khrushchev is like a man balancing himself on a tightrope one end of which is held by his "friends" in Moscow and the other by his enemy, Red China's Mao Tse-tung.

The Soviet premier's sudden shifts between threats to "bury" the Free World and soft words of peaceful coexistence are more than a technique for throwing the West off balance.

They reflect the heavy economic and political pressure on him inside Russia and in the Red world. Stood Modestly In Back

When Stalin died in March, 1953, Khrushchev stood modestly at the back of the group of mourners around the dictator's bier. Lavrenti Beria, powerful chief of the secret police, V. M. Molotov, Lenin's only surviving friend, and Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's right-hand man, stood closed to the coffin. Red protocol is strict on such occasions.

It would have taken a wild guess in 1953 to pick the pudgy and self-effacing Khrushchev as future top man in the Kremlin who would one day degrade Stalin's memory in the ranks of international communism. (Dennen forecast Khrushchev's ascendancy for the first time in 1953.—Ed.)

Tyrant's Obedient Tool

Khrushchev owes his entire career to Stalin. He was the tyrant's obedient tool for more than a quarter of a century.

"By lifting his hands against Comrade Stalin, they lifted their hands against the best that humanity possesses. For Stalin is hope; he is expectation; he is the beacon that guides all progressive mankind."

Thus Khrushchev raged in 1936 against the innocent victims of Stalin's great blood purges. He was among the first Red sycophants to call the tyrant a "genius."

Today Khrushchev is engaged in a feud with Mao Tse-tung whom he denounces as a "dogmatic Stalinist."

He makes common cause with the man Stalin hated — Yugoslavia's President Tito.

When his writer first encountered Khrushchev at the 1955 Geneva summit conference he was ostensibly a lowly member of the Russian delegation. Nikolai Bulganin was premier and the Soviet Union's top delegate. But it was the military hero, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, who was Russia's glimmering boy at the Summit conference.

Outfoxed Them All

Khrushchev outfoxed them all in less than two years. He first shot Beria and then exiled Malenkov. He forced Bulganin, Molotov and Zhukov to retire into obscurity.

Khrushchev, at 68, is ruler of one of the world's leading military nations. What does Russia and the Red world look like under his leadership a decade after Stalin?

If it was Khrushchev's idea to make Russia a viable Communist society able to compete with "capitalist" America then he is a long way from success.

God And Free Enterprise

Forty-five years after Lenin banished God and free enterprise to create his collectivist society, Russia continues to be plagued by economic and political troubles.

Eight years ago Khrushchev promised the Russians that they would have as much meat per capita as "capitalist American in 1961." But meat is as scarce on the tables of ordinary Russians in 1963 as it was when the Soviet Premier made his promise.

Families In One Room

Housing and consumer goods are woefully inadequate. Millions of families still live in one room, sharing kitchen and bathroom with neighbors.

Many a worker must still spend an entire month's earnings on a man's suit.

The perennial farm crisis mocks Khrushchev's promise "to beat America in the production of meat, milk and butter."

Abuses Of Power

Reports of shortages and service breakdowns fill the daily Soviet press. They are matched only by the long line of consumers outside the shops.

The Russians, next to the United States, are the strongest military nation on earth. They can send men to conquer space and could create havoc with their atomic weapons.

But if the living standard of any society is measured by the ability of its citizens to obtain a reasonable amount of food, clothing, housing and other essential services then Russia is a failure 45 years after the Revolution.

Each day Moscow's Pravda and Izvestia print articles on the abuses of power by Red officials and their moral turpitude. Here is a warning printed recently in Pravda:

Capital Punishment

"Fraud, bribery, wastefulness and misappropriation of state resources must be stopped. Such acts unfortunately are widespread."

Treason, espionage, acts of terrorism and sabotage have long carried the death penalty in Russia. But in May 1961, the Kremlin introduced capital punishment for such offenses as misappropriation of state property, forgery, assault on prison authorities and terrorism of other prisoners.

Two months later the Supreme Soviet passed a decree imposing the death penalty for more offenses than ever before in peace-

At the summit: Goateed Bulganin was the front headlines. Khrushchev (left) was one step from man, but Marshal Zhukov behind him won the power.

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — If your Daddy was not a great man, it is possible to be sorry for Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., whose Daddy was, and who is about to be put on the rack by the Senate Commerce Committee for persuading President Kennedy to nominate him as undersecretary of commerce.

For Junior all his life has been trying simultaneously both to live down his close relationship to the political genius of the same name. Mostly, he has yielded to the temptation to accept the favors and prerequisites that come to some born of influential sires and, for a politician, he has been careless of some of his associations. Yet, it cannot be much fun to live your life in the shadow of a papa whose achievements you cannot hope to equal. Under such circumstances, a son can be excused if he sighs wearily and does things the easy way.

Ghost Haunts Him

Republicans on the Senate Commerce Committee in particular want to question Junior closely about one phase of his career that smacks of the easy way, with financial trimmings. This is his former role as legal adviser to the late Rafael Trujillo, the coarsely cruel dictator of the Dominican Republic, an assignment which brought young Roosevelt no prestige but did earn him several bags of money.

The argument will be upheld here that a lawyer legally may represent any client he chooses and, indeed, in some circumstances, is ethically bound to represent an evil client who would be otherwise friendless. But there is a school of thought which holds that this does not apply to an American citizen offered legal fees by a brute transplanted from the Inquisition, who could have imported any number of mouthpieces from countries not concerned with Trujillo's political ethics, nor officially nauseated by his collection of torture chambers.

No, the conclusion is inescapable that Trujillo wanted an American lawyer with a prominent and respected name, whose connection with the Dominican regime might deodorize the stench which Trujillo's name planted in American nostrils. However, it would not only be far-fetched, but unfair, to charge that Franklin Junior approved of his client, when obviously, he was interested in a legal fee.

Father Picked His Spots

But this, of course, points up the tragic difference between a great man and the sons he sires. FDR the First was too good a politician to get mixed up with any small-fry thugs because he knew it would come back to haunt him. When, for expediency's sake, he did play footsie with unsavory characters, they were criminals of stature, like Joe Stalin, about time.

Nevertheless, in the view of experts on Russia, things are better under Khrushchev than they were under Stalin 10 years ago.

There is no longer the same widespread terror. The secret police is still powerful, but it no longer plays such an appallingly important part in the lives of ordinary men and women. Most of the slave labor camps where millions of Russians languished under Stalin have been abolished by Khrushchev. Most — but not all.

Compelled To Appear

Despite some "liberalization" the Red dictatorship has not changed its basic nature. Russia continues to be ruled by the Communist oligarchy.

However, Khrushchev does not wield Stalin's absolute power. To stay at the helm in the Kremlin, he is constantly compelled to appease Russia's rising elite of scientists, engineers, technicians, writers and Red Army officers.

Greatest Challenge

Probably the greatest challenge to the Communist dictatorship are the hopes and aspirations of Russia's youth which never really knew the terror of Stalinism.

The Kremlin rulers are realizing belatedly that the policies of the Communist Party will have to undergo alterations to keep the younger generation from abandoning the Soviet system altogether. The primitive, backward and demagogic nature of Marxism-Leninism is becoming increasingly apparent to young Russian intellectuals.

In State Of Moral Crisis

The Soviet youth as a whole is not anti-Communist in a political sense. But the current attitudes of the young Russians represent a potential danger for the Communist regime.

Many young people, Pravda complains, "have a capitalist outlook on life." Their interest in Western culture is so great that many Soviet youths "are only too willing to leave the Soviet Union for the West."

Thus, a decade after Stalin's death, Russia, despite her atomic might, is in a state of moral crisis.

Soviet scientists, it appears, are thinking in terms of a spiritual concept of the universe. Religion, despite years of Red persecution, shows signs of revival.

Then, worst of all, there is Khrushchev's bitter conflict with Mao Tse-tung which is destroying the monolithic structure of International Communism.

Sparring Matches At Home, Abroad

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Factions but not much action, all around.

At home— Nothing much so far in 1963 seems to have gotten off the ground in Washington except the Republicans' attack on the Kennedy Administration's handling of foreign policy, particularly Cuba.

Abroad— Spat and chat in the allied family. President Kennedy says it's due in part to the Russians, because they're quieter. He said "we're enjoying the luxury of internal dissension." But the spat, if it gets bad enough, can wreck the family.

Record Peacetime Budget

Spat and chat in the Communist family, too. Russians and Red Chinese call names, express disgust with each other, but Premier Khrushchev drools over the Chinese ambassador. If the spat gets bad enough, goody Communist family.

Grumbling but not much excitement in Congress when Kennedy sends his record peacetime budget: $98.8 billion. The usual cries: Expenses must be cut. Not much fire in the fust.

Kennedy sends Congress his aid to education program, will soon send one on medical care for the aged. Comparative calm in Congress. Neither program seems to have much chance. No wonder. Kennedy himself was skeptical of their chances before he ever sent them to the Hill.

Tax-Cutting Program

Kennedy sends Congress his tax-cutting program to enable consumers to buy more and business to invest more. This got the most reaction and much, if not most of it, has been sour.

To help it, Kennedy supporters hit on the feeble idea of trying to add two more members to the conservative Senate Finance Committee to liberalize it. The result: Defeat. This is not fighting, this is sparring.

Business chimes in on the opposite side. Ladd Plumley, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, says the plan favors the consumer too much. Amen, says the National Association of Manufacturers.

No Sign Of Tough Fighting

The only real heat so far this year comes from the Republican criticism of Kennedy's foreign doings. It's been unceasing. Irritated, Kennedy is having his supporters tell the Republicans to pipe down. They won't. He stays mild.

In short, Kennedy isn't showing any more sign of tough fighting—the kind former President Truman used to enjoy—than he did in 1961 or 1962.

The Kennedy Administration got into tiffs with Canada and France.

With Canada—because it didn't put American nuclear warheads on American missiles there. With France — because President Charles de Gaulle snubbed the Kennedy offer of missiles on which he'd have to put his own warheads, of which he doesn't have any.

De Gaulle's High-Held Nose

At the same time de Gaulle, whose high-held nose was pointed at the British, too, kept them out of the Common Market. The result: Ever since the Allies have been scrambling for a solution which they haven't found.

Kennedy is trying to set up what he calls a multinational nuclear force although no one—and at this moment perhaps not Kennedy himself—seems to know how this would work because American law requires American control of American nuclear weapons no matter where they are.

And, if things weren't boxed and bottled enough, the Americans and Russians are back where they started years ago on banning nuclear tests: In a sparring match.

Teaching Driver Training

Dear Sir: In answer to the letter from Ethan Newland: If you try hard, I'm sure you can find some aspect of our government which deserves criticism more than does driver training.

True, many parents can do a good job of teaching their children to drive, but the majority of parents, while teaching their youngsters all the skills of being a good driver, also, unwittingly, teach them their own bad driving habits. We aren't all perfect drivers as you claim to be, Mr. Newland. And we can't all bring our children to you for driving instructions.

Most of us, as average parents, don't have the patience with our own children's mistakes as does a trained teacher who can instruct them unemotionally and objectively, the correct way to handle a vehicle.

Thank the Lord that when our children are old enough to drive, they'll have someone better trained than us to teach them.

CEREAL WITH HISTORY

Why don't the cereal manufacturers use the box panels for selling Americanism to our children? They could dramatize stories about Paul Revere, Gettysburg, Washington crossing the Delaware, the great expeditions west, etc. The kids (and some grownups we know who avidly read cereal box panels) would get a stirring picture of this great land of ours at a time when it is needed. And they could tell the story of how America was built with toil, sweat and tears. It would be more beneficial than premiums. — Wausau (Wis.), Record-Herald.

Reasons for the drastic action were given by Dr. Kenneth J. Shoultice, administrator. The hospital is "very overcrowded," he said, and because of the number of upper respiratory cases in the community the hospital wants to give its patients all possible protection against this type of infection. The ban against visitors will be for an indefinite period. The 170-bed hospital had 187 patients when Dr. Shoultice made the announcement.

Tickets For Mardi Gras Ball Ready

Tickets for the Mardi Gras Coronation Ball are now on sale, Jack Dempsey, chairman of the Mardi Gras committee, has announced.

Tickets may be obtained at the Northland Hotel, Stern and Field, Nyquist Jewelry, Cliffs Ridge Ski Hill, Donckers and the Marquette Pharmacy in Marquette. They are also available at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base at the Officers' Club, the NCO Club and the Servicemen's Club.

Dempsey said that either formal attire or costumes are the sartorial vogue for the ball, which will begin at 8 Saturday night at the National Guard Armory. Coronation ceremonies will be a highlight of the evening's program.

Persons planning to attend the ball are advised to get their tickets early. "The tickets are already moving rapidly for this once-a-year event and it's a good idea to get them now," Dempsey said. There will be some sales, however, at the door.

The coronation ceremonies will be even more elaborate this year than at last year's initial Mardi Gras event, the chairman noted.

Chaplain At Sawyer Tells St. Paul's Unit Of Air Base Work

Problems of servicemen and their families at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base were described to members of the Women of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at the organization's February meeting Thursday afternoon by Capt. Jimmie Baggett, Protestant chaplain at Sawyer.

Capt. Baggett said that problems of single servicemen are often connected to their loneliness for home. Many are just out of high school and away from their parents for the first time, he noted, and their troubles often stem from this fact.

The speaker said that the four Protestant and two Catholic chaplains at the air base are constantly being sought out for advice by both the single servicemen and the married couples.

Capt. Baggett emphasized that the USO Center here requires the cooperation of organizations and churches to make it a success. Senior and junior hostesses are needed for the center, he reported.

Dear Abby...

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I helped at a church supper last evening and three other women were there, bustling about in good health, trying to outwork each other. They ALL have mothers in the local rest home and claim they are unable to care for their mothers in their own homes. Is this Christianity today? Whom are they fooling? Surely not God! Those women nauseate me, and I couldn't partake of their hypocritical offering of food to help the Lord. I, up the Lord, indeed. Neglecting their own mothers to go to a church basement and work harder than any cleaning woman. No amount of public slaving will cover up their sins of failing to care for their own mothers. May God forgive them.

OUTRAGED

DEAR OUTRAGED: I cannot know of all the reasons these women do not nurse their own mothers in their own homes. Nor can you. Things are not always as they appear to be. "Judge not — that ye be not judged."

DEAR ABBY: When "Worried Hostess" inquired about how to handle a guest who didn't eat meat, I was delighted with your reply, "Pass the fruit and nuts to him." Being a vegetarian of long standing, I have encountered many such worried hostesses. Nature has provided us with plenty of goodies that man can eat and enjoy without eating meat. I know many nice people consider me "nutty," but I keep reminding myself of what Henri Barbusse said, "If someone sees something half an hour before the others can see it, he is 'nuts' — at least for that half hour." Yours truly,

KARL

DEAR ABBY: I didn't mind when this certain person sent out birth announcements for her first baby, and even for her second, but since 1954 she has had seven children and I am getting very tired of her annual birth announcement because it means a present. She is a nice person, Abby, but enough is enough. Should I send her an anonymous complaint? All I can afford is a five-cent stamp. CAN'T AFFORD HER DEAR CAN'T: The "anonymous" letter is a coward's weapon. Use the five-cent stamp to send her your congratulations and good wishes.

He Almost Broke Toe While Finding $7,410

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—An unidentified Columbus man almost broke a toe finding $7,410.

Noticing a bag lying on the sidewalk, he gave it a hefty kick. The bag didn't budge.

Then he discovered the bag contained money, including lots of coins. He and a companion dragged the heavy bag to a telephone and called police. Arriving about the same time as police was an embarrassed Brinks, Inc., driver who had overlooked the sack while loading several others into an armored truck a little earlier.

Nease, Gasbarro In Tie Vote In Forsyth Supervisor Race; Tembreull Victor In L'Anse

A tie vote for two supervisor candidates in Forsyth Township highlighted results of Monday's primary elections in Marquette County.

In their contest to gain the county board seat being vacated by Anthony Taccolini—who was not a candidate for re-election—Jack Nease and Armand Gasbarro each received 282 votes. The Forsyth Township Board was expected to meet soon and decide how the deadlock will be broken.

Records are not available, but the tie vote certainly was the first one in a supervisor contest in Marquette County in many years. Nease, Austin Location resident, was engaged in two close vote tallies with Taccolini two years ago, however.

He had defeated Taccolini, then the incumbent, in the primary contest, but the latter, running on slips, won over Nease in the general election in April by only two votes. A recount upheld the result.

The turnout in Forsyth Township was unusually large for a primary election, 529 voters casting ballots. Clerks at the polls said two ballots were spoiled because of use of check marks (instead of X's) on two votes cast for Nease. Check marks have been appearing on two ballots in every election for about 10 years, they added, despite clerks' efforts to inform all voters that such marks are invalid.

Other results in Forsyth Township:

Clerk—Margaret Bianchi, 405, Treasurer—Margaret Horrocks, 355.
Justice of Peace—Arthur Burkman, 265; Warren Gardipee, 240.

Members board of review—Reno Filizetti, 380.
Trustees—Jack Ghiardi, 255; Alton Usher, 254.
Constables (four to be elected)—Rocco Meni, 362; John Koski, 362; Bruno Zanetti, 358; David Anderson, 342; Joseph Levandoski, 340.

Neaunee Township
NEAUNEE — Orvo Krook, appointed to the position of supervisor when John Kivela Sr. resigned in January, won nomination for the office in yesterday's primary in Neaunee Township. He polled 127 votes to 32 cast for John R. Sleeman. Krook had served as clerk for 26 years until he was named supervisor.

Other results:
Clerk—Frederick Rosten, 96; Sally Silk, 54.
Treasurer—Thomas Chevrette.
Member board of review—Victor Tullia.

Write-in candidates for other offices did not receive enough votes to qualify them for places on the April ballot.

Humboldt Township
HUMBOLDT — Matt Rautio, incumbent supervisor, defeated Reino J. Tuominen in yesterday's primary election in Humboldt Township. Rautio received 79 votes, Tuominen 15, and Bernhard Ilomaki was given 22 write-in votes.

Champion Township
CHAMPION — Incumbent George N. Beupied led a field of four in yesterday's primary race for the office of supervisor. He received 89 votes to 46 for John E. Pekuri, 45 for Glenn A. Johnson and 5 for Raymond J. Vadnais. Candidates for other offices were unopposed.

Tilden Township
NATIONAL MINE — In the only contest on the Tilden Township primary ballot, Emil A. Havelin was given 72 votes to 17 cast for Clifford B. Trudell for the position of trustee.

Unopposed were Henry A. Potilla and Oscar L. Gholme, members of the board of review.
Write-in votes were cast for the following for the position of constable: Nels Annala, 14; Richard Kjellman, 8; David Carlson, 8, and Henry Aho, 6.

Republic Township
REPUBLIC — Dolphus Vadnais was victorious in Monday's primary race for supervisor in Republic Township, receiving 310 votes to 194 cast for James Hofbauer and 27 for Charles Cernano.

For the position of clerk, Clarence Isacson polled 417 votes and Wiljo Kangas 128.
Other results:

Results of other contests:
Clerk—Gene Warlin, 199; Sigrid Vahamaa, 62.
Trustee—Robert Laakso, 139; Walter Peronto, 122.

Republic Church Circle Conducting Clothing Drive
REPUBLIC — The Naomi Circle of Women of Bethany will hold a clothing drive for the Indian missions in Rapid City, S.D., and Red Lake, Minn. Clothing for any season for all ages from infants to adults is needed.

The Naomi Circle would appreciate clothing donations, as well as cash gifts to help defray the cost of shipping.

The clothing will be packed at the church parlors during the next circle meeting Monday, Feb. 25. Steamship passage from Ireland to America could be bought for as little as $10 in the 1850s.

L'Anse, U.P. Power Agree On 5-Year Contract Details

L'ANSE — Details of a new five-year contract between the Village of L'Anse and the Upper Peninsula Power Co. were agreed upon by councilmen and representatives of the power company at this month's meeting of the village council.

Steven Georgeoff, water and light department superintendent, outlined the need for additional power and explained that much of the village owned generating equipment is in need of extensive repairs.

250 KW Increase
William Veesser, vice president in charge of sales, and Reuben Carre, superintendent of distribution for the power company, offered a five-year contract, which would provide for approximately 450 KW per hour. This will be an increase of 250 KW over the present 200 KW purchased from the Warden Station here.

Georgeoff told the council that the demand for power is steadily rising, and that the village-owned machinery is wearing down fast. "I hope not, but someday soon we may have a complete breakdown," he said. "I don't think the power company would turn us off, but I think we should prepare for it before anything happens."

Three Alternatives Offered
Several months ago U.P. Power officials offered three alternative proposals to the village council, wherein they would furnish either 50, 75 or 100 per cent of the village power requirements. In this prospectus, power company officials claimed that purchase of a larger percentage of its power needs would result in substantial savings to the village.

Veesser stated that the additional 250 KW per hour would approximate the company's offer to provide half the village requirements and could be expected to result in a saving of about $3,700 the first year. The prospectus also indicated that these savings would be increased with each passing year, with the largest saving resulting from purchase of 100 per cent of the village needs.

Achieving Cheapest Rate
The new contract will be drawn up for five years on the WP-1 or wholesale rate, described by Veesser as "the cheapest rate we have," which is given to large industrial users such as the Celotex Corp. here. Veesser further stated, "We want to make sure that any agreement which we enter into with the village will not hurt you—that wouldn't be good for our business."

Came suggested setting up the contract with 450 KW as a minimum, "since load factors are very important." "The combination of high demand and low load factor is what results in high prices," he emphasized. "Try to keep this load factor up to 50 per cent of your needs in order to achieve the

Falk Beats Marcotte
Veteran Arvon Township Supervisor George W. Falk defeated Francis J. Marcotte by nearly three to one, polling 118 votes to Marcotte's 44. Incumbents Mrs. Sylvia Nelson, township treasurer; Mrs. Arlene VanBuren, township clerk; Gordon Hildebrand, board of review, and Edward Emblad, trustee, were all unopposed.

Baraga Village President Lander J. Theobald polled 267 votes to defeat a former councilman, Edward J. Moberg, who got 112 votes.

Incumbent Clerk Harvey W. Raymond Sr. defeated Leslie Tuominen Jr., 237 to 144. Mrs. Anne Eberhardt received 279 votes to defeat former treasurer Mrs. Ida Johnson with 98 votes, for the treasurer's nomination.

Council Results
Three seats on the village council were won by Robert M. Jacobs, with 257; Robert E. Mitchell, 249, and Ulrich P. Mayo Jr., 179. The other candidates were Walfred J. Waara, 167 votes, and George A. Stark, 149.

Edward W. Moberg, incumbent village assessor, was unopposed in his bid for re-election.

2 Cars Damaged, Driver Ticketed In Mishap Near Pelkie
BARAGA — Autos driven by Dennis Poyhonen, 18, Alston, and Mrs. Patricia Mattson, 23, collided at 3:45 yesterday afternoon on the Limestone Mountain road near Pelkie.

The two cars sideswiped on a curve about five miles north of the junction with M-25. State police who investigated the accident ticketed Mrs. Mattson for failure to yield the right of way.

The left front of the Poyhonen car and the front of the Mattson auto were damaged extensively, but both vehicles were driven from the scene of the accident.

cheapest rate." Veesser added that additional power would be available to the village, in case a need for extra power arises in a hurry.

Councilman Kenneth Kent recommended that the village enter into a new five-year contract for purchase of the additional power, with the stipulation that the new contract include the same 90-day cancellation option provided for in the existing contract.

The power company prospectus offered three alternatives was presented to the council several months ago. Action was withheld, pending a full report from an independent engineer, who was authorized to conduct a complete survey of the village power situation and recommend the most economical solution to the problem. A letter from this engineer was read to the council, in which he stated that his report was nearly completed and that he would make a trip to L'Anse in the near future to present his findings in person.

Ishpeming Chamber Endorses Proposed New Constitution

ISHPEMING — Thirteen members of the board of directors of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce, holding their regular meeting in the Mather Inn, voted to endorse the proposed new state constitution.

Lou Laing, reporting for the officers nominating committee, recommended that Kenneth Niemi serve as president; Clotemund Jones, vice president; Raymond Sundblad, treasurer, and William Pierce, secretary.

Directors also voted to have the Ishpeming chamber join the state chamber.

Brought up for discussion was a letter from the Rev. B. Neil Smith, president of the Grand Marais Chamber of Commerce, which said, "May we in the Grand Marais Chamber of Commerce be so bold as to solicit your support for the Pictured Rocks — Grand Sable Dunes National Lakeshore proposal which will be again introduced in Congress this month. "Much attention has been given to the Canadian north shore drive which is luring the tourist away from the Upper Peninsula. A move has been going on to build a south shore drive. We maintain that it must have the facilities to compete with the north shore drive. This proposal of Sen. Hart would certainly be a prime factor."

Fr. Smith added, "At the same time spurring tourist trade and new businesses, we are seeking a strengthening of economy in Grand Marais. The park personnel would certainly give us that economy."

The Ishpeming chamber went on record approving the shoreline drive but not the park. Members of the board of directors of the chamber are Kenneth Niemi, Clotemund Jones, William Pierce, Raymond Sundblad, Juel Caspersen, Walter Hansen, Ogden E. Johnson, Lou Laing, Charles Mitchell, Louis Finard, Emil Aho, Angelo Dell'Angelo, Robert Sturm, Guido Bonetti and Donald Tripp.

7 Courses For Adults In Ishpeming

ISHPEMING — The Ishpeming Parent-Teacher Association will begin its third series of family education courses next week.

Advance registrations were taken last night during a meeting held in the Phelps Intermediate School, and slips will be sent to parents for registration during the week.

Driver training, knitting, women's swimming, adult and children's Spanish, typing, beginning and advanced baton twirling and a class on organ lessons are being offered.

Although classes in social dancing, golf and women's physical fitness have been planned, the teachers selected were unable to teach at this time. If teachers can be found this week, these classes also will be offered.

To date, these family education courses have realized a profit of $400, which has been turned over to the student loan fund for Ishpeming High School students which was originated by C. L. Phelps.

Further information about the courses can be obtained by calling HU 5-5430 during the mornings this week.

Ted Mattson Again Heads BR League

ISHPEMING — Theodore "Ted" Mattson was elected to his fourth consecutive term as president of the Ishpeming Babe Ruth League at a meeting Sunday in the Ishpeming Council Chambers.

"Much was accomplished during this meeting," said Mattson. He added that the league again would be in operation and sanctioned by the national Babe Ruth organization.

Other officers elected for the coming baseball season were Verden Greenwood, vice president; Edmund E. Holmgren, secretary, (who is beginning his fourth consecutive year at this post); Louis Pinard, treasurer, and Mason Chapman, umpire in chief.

A women's auxiliary, with Mrs. Leo Sundberg and Mrs. Joseph Healy serving as chairmen and Mrs. Richard Bergman as treasurer, was formed. The auxiliary announced plans for bake sales in addition to operating the concession stands this summer.

Plans were discussed for improvement of the league for the 1963 season.

Malvasio's 638 Tops Seven 600's In Area

George Malvasio bowled a 638 (230-181-237) in the Marquette Olympic Classic league, Monday night.

Malvasio rallied to top Steve Petros' 618 (207-211-200) as Clifton Lounge racked up a 2,932 with a 1,014 game. Don Pearce bowled 234-204; Dick Andrews, 224-203; Glen Johnson, 220-201; Con Lempeis, 220-200, and Walfrid Johnson, 214-200.

Carl Anderson marked up a 634 (230-193-211) in the Marquette I.S.A.I. league, while Bill Musolf had a 255 game topping off a 602. Floyd Ferguson rolled 609 (216-189-204), and Jack Thomann coupled 204-210. Ten Pins rolled

2,593 (831-886-876). Firemen boosted the team game to a new season's high—961. Negeaunee's 875 league was led by Jim Maino at 622 (222-187-213) and Gene Arsenault's 602 (265-126-211). Don Manning marked up a 256. Vic Violotta, 226; Eino Maki, 224. W. E. Thompson's led the teams with 2,750 (895-972-883).

MARQUETTE MAJOR

Neil Greenleaf posted a 564 (188-170-206) with his third game tying Bob Englund's 106 for high. Virg's Bootery managed a 2,598 (860-854-884) and Ahonen Lumber, an 893.

'Winningest' Tech Five Hosts NMC

HOUGHTON — The winningest team in 46 years of Michigan Tech basketball takes on old rival Northern Michigan College at Sherman gym tonight.

The Huskies (15-2) meet the Wildcats (12-7) at 8 p.m. The game will be broadcast over WDMJ. The Mining Journal station, beginning at 7:55, with Ken Fellow describing the action.

This weekend, Tech will place its NSCC leadership on the line, risking a 7-1 league record at Moorhead State, Friday, and at Bemidji State, Saturday.

One victory would insure at least a tie for the title — something the Huskies have not been able to capture since joining the conference in the 1958-59 school year.

Tech hasn't defeated Northern since that season, either.

Against Winona and Mankato, last weekend, the Huskies got 47 points from big center Doug Scheuneman, who moved into second place in NSCC scoring standings.

In all games, Scheuneman has averaged 18.5 points. The Grand Rapids Junior College transfer student scored only seven in the Tech game at NMC, but was recovering from a leg injury at the time.

Young Relief Pitcher Earns Another Look

LAKELAND (AP) — Larry Foster is one of the faces in the crowd at the Tigers' early camp ... a kid who hopes somebody will notice him.

But dozens of them pass through Tigertown every Spring. They all share the same ambition — to be a Tiger someday, the sooner the better. Most are destined to remain minor leaguers.

"Might Help" But Foster already has been noticed by the man who counts most—Manager Bob Scheffing. "I heard that Foster kid is coming out of the Army soon," Scheffing said one day last summer. "He may be able to help us in 1963."

Scheffing got his first eyeeful of Foster Monday. The young right-hander from Lansing pitched two dazzling innings as Detroit defeated Japan's Hanshin Tigers 9-7. The victory squared the international exhibition series at one-all and was Detroit's first of 1963.

Foster's performance easily was the best so far by any pitcher in camp — on the Detroit roster or not.

"May Earn 'Look'" He retired six batters in order over the last two innings. Foster's work may have earned him a look-see at the Detroit camp which opens officially for batterymen Wednesday.

Foster, who was 3-0 last year at Denver after his release from the Army, currently is on the Syracuse farm roster.

John Ison, another reliever on the Syracuse roster, was the winning pitcher after driving in the deciding run with a single. His base hit to left broke a 6-6 tie in the fifth.

Brown & Wood Detroit's squad, consisting mainly of rookies and minor leaguers, banged out 13 hits. The big belters were Gates Brown, a promising outfielder belonging to Syracuse, and veteran Jake Wood.

Brown had two singles and a triple. Wood slammed a single and a double, giving him four hits for the two games. He has reached base eight times in 10 appearances.

Hanshin Bitter But so far the biggest hitter of all has been Hanshin's Katsumi Fujimoto, a stocky first baseman. He went four-for-five in each game.

Bob Anderson, a former Chicago Cub who Scheffing's banking on in his bullpen, started and worked four innings. He tied in the fourth when he was touched for four hits and two runs.

Two additional games have been scheduled with the Japanese today and Thursday to give Scheffing a better line on his young pitchers. The Hanshin visit winds up this weekend with games Saturday and Sunday.

Joe Jay Gets 'Nice Raise'; Estrada Cut

(By the Associated Press) The Cincinnati Reds didn't waste any time dickering with Joey Jay this winter.

The big right-hander held out a year ago after his 21-10 record helped win the National League baseball pennant for Cincinnati in 1961. He didn't sign until after the start of spring training and although he again won 21 games, the Reds finished third.

Everything was lovey-dovey when Bill DeWitt, president and general manager, announced Jays 1963 signing Monday. Contract terms were not disclosed but DeWitt said Jay had been given a "very substantial raise."

Jay echoed: "That's about it. It was a nice raise."

What is a nice raise? Guesses ranged up to $35,000 compared to the estimated $25,000 the former Milwaukee hurler received in 1962. He was traded by the Braves to the Reds after the 1960 season.

A couple of other right-handers signed for less money Monday as the official opening of spring training drew closer.

Chuck Estrada, who won 18 games for Baltimore in 1960 when the Orioles finished second in the American League, but slumped to 15 in 1961 and only 9 last year, signed for an estimated $16,000, a cut of about $3,000.

Larry Sherry, strictly a relief pitcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers last season, signed for a reported $22,000, off $2,000. It was indicated, however, that if Sherry makes good as a starter, he would receive a new contract.

Bucyk Back Atop NHL Score List

MONTREAL (AP) — Johnny Bucyk of Boston regained sole leadership of the National Hockey League scoring race last week, but look out—Bobby Hull of Chicago is on another late season scoring streak.

Weekly league statistics, released today, show Bucyk on top with 59 points, one ahead of Frank Mahovlich of Toronto, Gordie Howe of Detroit, Murray Oliver of Boston and Jean Beliveau of Montreal who are in a 4-way tie for second at 58.

Right behind them at 56 is Hull who is going at a faster clip than any in recent weeks. He scored 12 goals and five assists in his last 8 games, a pattern similar to his belated surge last season that carried to a record-equaling 30 goal.

Happy To Face Wilhelm? Triandos Is Overjoyed --- Won't Have To Catch Him

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Gus Triandos is one big, happy ballplayer. At long last, he's going to be able to bat against Hoyt Wilhelm.

Any other American League player itching to hit against Wilhelm would be charged with dicker on goofy pills during the off season. Wilhelm has the most agonizing, elusive knuckleball in the major leagues.

"I hate it," muttered Triandos at the Detroit Tigers' early camp, where he reported with a wide grin and a steamrolled physique. "Doesn't Have To Catch Him"

Nobody — not even opposing batters — has suffered more because of Wilhelm's knuckler. Triandos caught it the last 4½ seasons with the Baltimore Orioles.

In that time, Oriole catchers were charged with 91 passed balls while Wilhelm was the pitcher. Triandos made 34 of them. Three times he tied the record of four passed balls in one game.

Catching Wilhelm, now with the Chicago White Sox, was a terrifying experience, according to Triandos.

"It was tough physically," he said. "You'd think about it all the time, worry, and that made it worse."

Felt Heartburn "I always felt dead afterwards."

Ex-Brave Joe Jay didn't need that bat to get a raise out of ex-tiger general manager Bill DeWitt for the 1963 Cincinnati Reds season. Jay won 21 last year, was the only Redleg to top the Yankees in the '61 World Series. (AP).

BASKETBALL TONIGHT Doelle at Champion Eben at National Mine

Nahma Might End CUP 'Jinx' In Cross-Straits Regional

The Central U. P. League could be looking to Nahma High School to beat the jinx that has followed it into post-season play since an inter-Penninsula Class D regional tournament was set up.

Rapid River, two-time champion of the circuit, has been the chief, although not the only, victim. The Rockets got as far as the regional finals in 1961, only to bow there to downstate Bellair. Last year — with an all-veteran team that compiled another perfect league record and lost only three non-conference matches — they didn't even get by their first district opponents. They were eliminated by Eben, which in turn was beaten by Rock.

The latter, like Rapid River, reached the regional championship round, only to lose there to Brimley.

Nahma — once one of the powers of the tiny-school Class E, but unable to get going until this season after that division became part of Class D — currently is locked in a tight race with Perkins and Eben for the Central Cup. The Arrows of Coach Owen Peterson dropped their first and fourth outings to Perkins and Rock, have won 10 straight games since then. Peterson has a small team, numerically, but one which could be a top winner next season regardless of what happens in post-season play this winter. Dick Feathers is the only senior on the quintet.

And in Brian (Pat) Grolean, a 6-4 junior, Peterson has what many coaches consider the year's outstanding player in the Upper Peninsula. He scored 380 points in 22 games in his sophomore year and is the Peninsula's No. 1 scorer with 453 points in 14 contests this winter. His rebounding and ball-handling ability matches his scoring.

Nahma also got into last year's inter-Penninsula regional tournament at Pickford, but lost its first game. The Arrows could make it again, judging by their 12-2 record, but of more immediate concern are an exhibition with Hermansville, Big Eight Conference champion, and three more Central League engagements.

Peterson's cagers can't afford to stumble in any of the remaining contests, since both Perkins and Eben are right on their heels in the league race. Here are the Central League standings, as well as those of other Upper Peninsula conferences:

Cincy Holds 1st, Duke 2nd In Cage Poll

(By the Associated Press) Cincinnati kept a strong hold on its position as the No. 1 college basketball team in the country today despite the upset which snapped its 37-game winning streak.

While the Bearcats were losing their first game since Jan. 10, 1962, to Wichita 65-64 last Saturday night, their closest pursuer for national honors, Loyola of Chicago, also was taking it on the chin. Loyola bowed to Bowling Green 92-75 for its first defeat of the season.

As a result of these developments, The Associated Press' special panel of sports writers and broadcasters decided Cincinnati still should be rated the nation's best team but that Loyola, loser by 17 points, couldn't be figured better than third, behind Duke, which racked up a couple of one-sided victories.

Cincinnati, gunning for its third straight National Collegiate Athletic Association championship, drew 34 of the 42 first-place votes. The other eight went to Duke.

The weekly Top Ten underwent considerable juggling as the result of the rash of upsets. Arizona State moved up into fourth place. Newcomers to the list from last week are Wichita, Auburn and NYU, in 7th, 9th and 10th places, respectively. They replaced No. 7 Colorado, beaten by Iowa State 73-60; No. 8 Stanford, which lost to California 61-60, and No. 10 Georgia Tech, beaten by Louisiana 78-73.

OSU Back To 5th The biggest leap was made by Ohio State, which climbed from ninth to fifth on a 75-68 triumph over Michigan. Illinois surprisingly dropped only two rungs despite losses to Wisconsin and Indiana. Mississippi State also fell a couple of notches after losing to Florida 73-52.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses: 1. Cincinnati (34) 402 2. Duke (8) 321 3. Loyola of Chicago 280 4. Arizona State 212 5. Ohio State 156 6. Illinois 138 7. Wichita 124 8. Mississippi State 85 9. Auburn 82 10. New York University 80

Mississippi State, aiming for a third straight Southeastern Conference crown, posted an 86-75 verdict at Georgia and boosted its over-all record to 18-5. Auburn kept pace with a 63-61 squeaker at home over Tulane to boost its record to 17-2. The victories gave both Mississippi State and Auburn 9-2 league records with idle Georgia Tech still in the running at 7-3. The champion automatically qualifies for the NCAA tournament but it is unlikely that Mississippi State would do because of the state's segregation policies.

11 Colleges Accept Bids To Tourneys

(By the Associated Press) The fields for the two major post-season college basketball tournaments began taking shape today with 11 teams accepting bids to compete in the National Collegiate Athletic Association championship and the National Invitation Tournament.

Eight schools were named for at-large berths Monday in the 25-team NCAA field while three acceptances were received for the 12-team NIT at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The NCAA entrants include Loyola of Chicago and New York University, both ranked among the nation's Top Ten in this week's Associated Press poll.

Loyola, ranked No. 3 with a 22-1 record, will play a first round game in the Midwest regionals. Tenth-ranked NYU, 13-2, is an at-large selection in the East regionals.

Colorado State University, 16-4; Texas Western, 16-5 and Oklahoma City, 15-7, were chosen for the Midwest Regionals. Seattle, 17-4; Oregon State, 14-6 and Utah State, 19-5, will take part in the Far West regionals.

The three teams accepting NIT bids were Miami of Florida, 20-4; Providence, 15-4 and Canisius, 14-4. The tournament will be held March 14-23.

Only three at-large positions remain to be filled in the NCAA bracket, two from the East and the other from the Midwest. One of the Eastern representatives will be the Ivy League champion. Fourteen other conference champions automatically qualify for the tourney.

The opening round regional eliminations get underway at various sites around the country March 9 and March 11. Winners advance to the regional finals at

Big Ten, Big 8, SEC Races Remain In Doubt In Hoop 'Home Stretch'

(By the Associated Press) This is supposed to be the time of the college basketball season when the conference races begin to unscramble and a clearcut leader emerges. But in some of the leagues the standings remain just as jumbled today as they looked at the start of the campaign.

The Big Ten, the Big Eight and the Southeastern conferences all head into the homestretch with the outcome of their races still very much in doubt. Stayed In 1st Ohio State, ranked fifth in the current Associated Press poll, and Illinois, No. 6, both won Monday night and stayed tied for first place in the Big Ten.

Eighth-ranked Mississippi State and Auburn, rated No. 9 national, by posted Southeastern Conference victories and remained tied for the SEC lead. Dropped To 4th Colorado, seventh in the listings a week ago but out of the Top Ten this week, lost to Missouri 60-58 Monday night, and not only lost first place in the tightly bunched Big Eight standings, but tumbled all the way to fourth.

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, the only other member of the new Top Ten to see action, thrashed St. John's in New York 70-47 while rebounding from a 92-75 upset at the hands of Bowling Green Saturday night.

Bradds Scores 31 Ohio State, behind Gary Bradds 31 points, whipped Michigan State 87-77 for its 46th straight home court victory. Illinois, meanwhile, snapped a two-game losing streak and won at Purdue 87-79 as Bill Small collected 32 points.

The Buckeyes, now 16-3 over-all, and the Illini, who are 15-4, are tied for the Big Ten lead with 7-2 records with Minnesota and Indiana right behind.

Gophers Rout Badgers Minnesota, third with a 7-3 mark, turned back Wisconsin 72-48 at Minneapolis as Mel Northway led the way with 22 points. Indiana won on the road, edging Iowa 72-71 for its sixth triumph in nine league starts. Tom Boljarski, 29 points provided the spark.

Mississippi State, aiming for a third straight Southeastern Conference crown, posted an 86-75 verdict at Georgia and boosted its over-all record to 18-5. Auburn kept pace with a 63-61 squeaker at home over Tulane to boost its record to 17-2.

The victories gave both Mississippi State and Auburn 9-2 league records with idle Georgia Tech still in the running at 7-3. The champion automatically qualifies for the NCAA tournament but it is unlikely that Mississippi State would do because of the state's segregation policies.

Ray Bob Careys lay-up with five seconds to play enabled host Missouri to gain its two-point decision over Colorado. Idle Oklahoma State took over first place in the Big Eight with 7-2, followed by Kansas State at 6-2 and Iowa State at 8-3. Colorado, fourth with a 7-3 record, bowed to Iowa State last week.

Loyola of Chicago celebrated its acceptance of a Midwest at-large bid to the NCAA tournament Monday at the expense of St. John's. The Ramblers, whose only loss is to Loyola, were eliminated.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern put down a second half Michigan scramble Monday night to eke out a 63-62 Big Ten basketball victory.

The victory was the third in nine conference games for Northwestern while Michigan suffered its fifth defeat in nine attempts. Rally To Tie Northwestern banged its way into a 33-25 halftime lead and stretched it to 39-27 early in the second half. But Michigan, led by Bill Buntin and John Oosterbaan, Michigan's way into a tie at 50-50 on a basket by Oosterbaan.

A basket by Rich Falk, who led all scorers with 23 points, put Northwestern ahead to stay but the Wildcats never could pull into a comfortable lead.

Goal-Tending Call Hurt The game remained close until Buntin was called for goal tending on a shot by Phil Kelsey to give Northwestern a 62-57 advantage.

Northwestern then hung on and scored only one free throw by Falk while Michigan nipped away on baskets by Buntin, Tom Cole and John Harris. Harris' basket came with nine seconds to play.

Buntin led Michigan with 21 points and picked off 17 rebounds. Spartans Challenge Hot shooting Ohio State built up a 13-point halftime margin and then beat back repeated challenges by the Spartans that cut the lead to only six points with five minutes to play.

The victory boosted Ohio State's conference record to 7-2 and overall mark to 16-3 and was the 46th straight triumph at home for coach Fred Taylor's quintet.

Michigan State fell to a 3-7 showing in the league and 4-12 for the season. Sophomore Marcus Sanders paced the Spartans with 24 points.

Led After 11 Minutes Bradds, the Big Ten's top scorer, dropped in 21 in the first half and his hook shot with 11:00 remaining put the Bucks in front for good at 18-17.

The Spartans kept the score close until the fading minutes of the half when Ohio pulled away to a 33-40 lead at intermission.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

By JIMMY HATLO

By BILL RIGNEY Angels' Manager

(As told to HARRY GRAYSON of NEA) How much more exciting the upcoming season could be than the 1962 campaign, I don't know, for last year was indeed a most gratifying one for the Angels and myself.

Naturally, we were very happy about last season and the progress we made not only with the big club but with the farm system. A number of youngsters in the chain indicated that they have the ability.

I'm often asked to name the one man who had the most to do with the Los Angeles club's surprising showing. The answer has to be Bob Rodgers. There isn't a better catcher in the big leagues and he figures to remain on top for another 15 years. He is a superb handler of pitchers and hits the ball safely when it counts.

Jim Fregosi, who will be 21 as the season opens, is a splendid shortstop who should develop into one of the American League's most exciting players. Fregosi has numerous assets not the least of which is speed.

With Billy Moran at second base, Fregosi gives the Angels a very superior double play combination. No player last year deserved All-Star recognition as much as Moran. If you take a look at Billy's lifetime record, you'll notice that he's always done better the longer he remains with a club. This year will be his third year with the Angels.

What we accomplished in 1962 was done without the services of Kent Hunt and George Thomas, outfielders on whom we had counted. Kenny, who hit 25 home runs and drove in 84 runs for us in 1961, is coming back after an arm injury. George, who took time out for military service, will be with us from the start. If these two regain their form of two years ago, they'll definitely help.

We were fortunate in the injury department last trip although we did lose Ken McBride the last two months. Ken was the best right-hand pitcher in the American League when sidelined and should be sound again.

Including starters, I sent in no fewer than 507 pitchers in 1962, which is par for the course and then some. I feel certain pitchers (or hitters) are better for certain situations.

Dean Chance is a big-strong lad and, like McBride, a potential 20-game winner. For a youngster of 21 to have such control is indeed a rarity. I must consider Bo Belinsky as part of the regular staff. Bo certainly made quite a name for himself last year, but pushing everything else aside, he has a great deal of ability. Don Lee and Earl Gribble will be back as will Tom Morgan. Dan Gainski impressed me tremendously. Jack Spring was good.

Leon Wagner and Lee Thomas stood out at the plate all last year. Albie Pearson, an excellent lead-off man, led the league in runs with 115. With a year under his belt Felix Torres may be up to his already satisfactory batting average.

Jackie Davis, an outfielder acquired from the Phillies, and Bob Sadowski, a young drafted infielder, to strengthen our bench.

Luis, Al Smith To Balance Bird Books

By BILL HITCHCOCK Baltimore Orioles' Manager

(As told to HARRY GRAYSON) One thing is for sure — few balls are going to be hit through the Baltimore infield for the next several years.

The acquisition of shortstop Luis Aparicio, in my opinion, gives the Orioles the best infield in the business. With Jim Gentile at first base, Jerry Adair at second and Brooks Robinson, the game's top hand at third, the inner unit also gives a lot of punch.

I would have to say that for the time being at least the Birds got the better of the deal which brought Aparicio and Al Smith from Chicago in exchange for Ron Hansen, Hoyt Wilhelm, Dave Nicholson and Pete Ward, a bright prospect Al Lopez will employ at third.

Smith is the right-hand batter the Orioles have needed to supplement Jackie Brandt in the batting order. With Gentile and Boog Powell supplying most of the left-hand power, the batting order should now have good balance between right and left.

The Orioles' seventh-place finish in 1962 necessitated significant changes, so President-General Manager Lee MacPhail made five deals through which the Orioles acquired nine new players. These new faces should strengthen the club no end behind the plate and in the infield and outfield. They add speed which the outfit sorely needed and in some areas will materially improve the defense.

Infield depth has been improved by the addition of Bob Johnson and recruit swift Bob Saverine, up from Rochester. It is possible that these two may compete for a regular outfield berth.

Powell, a rookie in 1962, should be one of the American League's most feared hitters. Two other outfielders should also make a contribution to a brighter Baltimore picture. Russ Snyder was the most improved Oriole of last season and the club acquired the fleet-footed, right-hand hitting Joe Gaines from Cincinnati.

Snyder and Gaines run as rapidly as anybody and with Aparicio, Brandt and Saverine, the Orioles will be quicker about than they have been since they entered the league.

Catching was our biggest problem last year, so we acquired Dick Brown from Detroit and John Orsino from San Francisco. Brown is five years younger than Gus Triandos and we hope not so prone to injury. Orsino, only 24, was a 327 power hitter in the Pacific Coast League and among the Puerto Rican League's leaders in batting, home runs and runs-batted-in this winter. Charlie Lau and Hobie Landrith are to battle for one of the probable three berths.

Pitching could still be the Orioles' strongest department. Returning are three young fireballers, Steve Barber, out of the Army and recovered from mononucleosis, Milt Pappas and Chuck Estrada, all of whom had off years in 1962. Robin Roberts is the fourth starter. If Mike McCormick, still only 24, can shake arm miseries, he could point the starting staff.

Stu Miller is counted upon to take up the slack created by Hoyt Wilhelm's departure and will be backed by Wes Stock and Dick Hall. Pete Burnside gives us another left-hander.

Whatever else is needed could be supplied by Dave McNally, a southpaw who pitched a two-hit shutout against Kansas City in his major league bow in September; John Miller, who pitched impressively for the Birds late last season; Buster Narum, 12-4 with 100 strikeouts; and Herm Starrette, who had a 2.65 earned run average in 61 relief trips in Elmira. I have an idea that the Orioles will fly higher and sing louder than they did in 1960-61.

New Starter Could Give Twins Flag?

By SAM MELE

(As told to HARRY GRAYSON) I'll tell you right off what I think of the Minnesota Twins. They could win it all with another good right-hand starting pitcher. I was delighted with our second-place finish in 1962, but am looking forward to improvement in more than one department.

I would like more of our players to be a bit more daring on the bases. A running game causes the opposition to hurry throws and the rush affects their accuracy. But the Twins are a young club which has to get better. A highly important factor in our drive for the American League flag in '62 was our improved defense.

Our infield takes a back seat to no club defensively and the run-producing ability of Vic Power, Bernie Allen, Zolo Versalles and Rich Collins was excellent. This infield, with Allen and Rollins freshmen last trip, will become slicker as the players become more familiar with each other's habits on the field. I felt that Allen and Rollins would stand up last season because they are intelligent lads. Versalles could become the top shortstop in the league this year.

Our outfield packs punch. Harmon Killebrew led the league in home runs with 48 and runs batted in with 126. Bob Allison was one of only two players in the wheel to top the 100 mark in runs batted in and runs scored (102 each) and had 29 home runs. Even ball hawk Lenny Green had his biggest home run output, 14.

A 21-year-old left-hand hitting outfielder whom I expect to carry is Pedro Oliva, who led all base-ball in batting with .410 at Wytheville, Va., of the Appalachian League in his first season as a professional in 1961.

At Charlotte, N. C., of the Sally League last season Oliva hit .350, the fourth highest average in the minors, and then batted .444 in nine games with us. We sent him to the Florida Instructional League and he was second in batting with .347.

Don Mincher will be our long ball left-hand pinch-hitter and I hope to use Oliva against either right or left-hand pitching when we need a base hit.

George Banks, Johnny Goryl and Mincher provide sound infield reserve strength. Young Charlie Keller, a first baseman-outfielder, will get a chance to catch on as a pinch-hitter.

Bill Tuttle is a valuable defensive reserve in the outfield and slugger Jim Lemon is back after a shoulder operation.

Earl Battey gives us the most competent all-around catching job in the business. He is backed up by Jerry Zimmerman. Coming along is Joe McCabe, who hit more than .300 for Vancouver.

Last year, three of our four starting pitchers were left-handed, Jim Kaat, Jack Kralick and Dick Stigman, with the 20-game winner, Camilo Pascual, the only right-hander.

Joe Bonikowski will be out of the Army early in April. He learned a lot last season starting and relieving. He could be the other starting right-hander. Back to handle most our fire fighting are Ray Moore, Les Stange, Bill Pleis and Frank Sullivan.

I can't wait for the new season to start because I know the Twins are going to be in the thick of things.

Stuart, Mejias May Boost Bosox - Pesky

By JOHNNY PESKY Boston Red Sox Manager

(As told to HARRY GRAYSON) Let me start by saying that a generous owner like Tom Yawkey is entitled to something much better than an eighth-place finish in a 10-club wheel.

So are the loyal Boston fans. I hope I have learned to manage in the minors and most certainly am aiming to move an improved Red Sox club forward, say into a fight with the Twins, Angels and White Sox for third place behind the Yankees and Tigers, which I consider the two strongest outfits in the American League.

I'm going to make two predictions. One is that Carl Yastrzemski will develop into a big ballplayer in center field. The other is that Lou Clinton will continue busting the baseball as he did the last part of the 1962 season. I also expect Earl Wilson and Bill Monbouquette to become major league pitching stars.

Naturally I will know more about the Red Sox after spring training, but the fans may look for a highly aggressive team, making full use of what speed it has and the hit and run.

The addition of Dick Stuart and Roman Mejias gives us the right-hand power the lack of which has kept the Red Sox in the second division the past four years.

The acquisition of Dick Williams and Felix Mantilla strengthens our youngster Dave Morehead and I am fully aware of Stuart's reputation as a poor infielder at first base, but remind his detractors that the big guy didn't hurt the Pirates there. And infield defense will be considerably more than adequate now that Eddie Bressoud and Chuck Schilling have had a year as a double play combination.

With Stuart taking some of the burden off Frank Malzone in the batting order, I feel that our outstanding bowlegged third baseman will have an even better year than he did in 1962.

Our outfield of Mejias, Yastrzem-

We have three solid pitching starters in Monbouquette, Gene Conley and Wilson, who won 42 games between them in 1962, supported by Dick Radatz, the most effective relief pitcher in the league, and a bullpen improved by the landing of Jack Lamabe.

We need a left-hand starter, who could come from Arnold Earley, Chet Nichols and newcomers Bill Spanswick and Wilbur Wood. Special attention will be given youngsters Dave Morehead and Stew MacDonald, whom I had in Seattle last trip. Morehead looks like the best after pitching well in the Florida Instructional League, where he was named to the All-Star.

We have two experienced catchers who bat from opposite sides of the plate, Bob Tillman and Russ Nixon. The third catcher could be Archie Skeen, who was batting considerably above .300 for Seattle until he broke his hand.

Koral Kapers Produce $800 For Bay Cliff Health Camp, Retarded Children's Group

By MRS. BERNICE WILLIAMS
ISHPEMING — The Ishpeming-Negaunee Junior Chamber of Commerce should again be congratulated for providing an enjoyable musical evening as well as a profitable one since the 1963 Koral Kapers netted $800 for the Bay Cliff Health Camp and the Ishpeming-Negaunee Retarded Children's Association.

The colorful Ishpeming Barber-shoppers were an excellent choice to open the program and their rich tones were especially good in their theme song, "Keep America Singing." William Wright is the director of Hematite Chapter of SPEBSQSA.

The musical effects in the numbers sung by the Negaunee Women's Choral Club were as varied as the pastel shades of their dresses.

"Calm as the Night" (Bohm) had several especially delicate pianissimos; "So's I Can Write My Name" (Cain) featured some toe-tapping rhythms; the piano accompaniment (played by Mrs. Clifford Warner) and the unusual harmonies of "The Inch Worm" (Loesser) were excellent and the a capella section in "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor" (Berlin) made this a fine number.

Charles Phare of Ishpeming is the director of the Women's Choral Club, which has been in existence since 1940.

The Negaunee Male Chorus, also under the direction of Phare, pleased this reviewer by offering the classical music of the evening, "Great and Glorious," a Haydn selection, and "O Morn of Beauty," arranged from Finlandia (Sibelius), were well presented. The chorus is accompanied by Mrs. Warner.

The "rib-tickler" of the evening proved to be a musical comedy, "The Grasshopper" (Randolph and Clokey), presented by the Choraleers under the direction of Jack Boase and skillfully accompanied by Mrs. Janet Boase. It must have been either the jug that was tipped so frequently or the light high button shoes that caused the Scotch old maid aunt (Donna Domperre) to sing so mournfully in the cracks.

Joan and Bill Lehman and "gobbler," Keith Gaboury, were very fine soloists. The Choraleers as a group achieve blending and tone that is near professional.

Including music from the hills of Kentucky to the stage of the Metropolitan Opera, this production should be seen to be appreciated. As one young lady in the audience put it, "Never in my life have I laughed so much at a funeral."

The last numbers of the program were delightful Broadway numbers sung by the Ishpeming Choral Club under the direction of Dr. J. P. Bertucci.

Paul Coron, tenor soloist, was outstanding in Victor Herbert's "This Alone." Miss Evelyn Jean Tasson is this group's able pianist.

It was a thrill to see all the singers together on the stage for the finale, "God Bless America" (Berlin), directed by Dr. Bertucci. Wonder what sort of program they could produce if they combined forces?

Four Autos Damaged In Two Crashes

MUNISING — Four cars were damaged in two area collisions investigated by Munising state police.

The first occurred at 2:50 a.m. Sunday on the Eben-Traunk road, 500 feet south of Highway M-94 in Rock River Township, when a car driven by David J. Rautanen, Munising, backed into an auto owned by Toivo Johnson, Eben. After the collision, Rautanen left, believing that no damage had been done to the other vehicle. However, he was issued a summons for failing to stop and identify himself at the scene of a property damage accident.

At 6:05 p.m. Sunday on Highway M-28, one mile east of the intersection of M-28 and 94, in Munising Township, a car driven by Carl O. Jensen, Wetmore, which was stalled, was hit from behind by one driven by John A. Branfors, Munising. Branfors told officers he was unable to turn out into the other lane of traffic because a third car was passing him.

423 Pupils Get Dental Examination

NEGAUNEE — Dr. R. J. Sanregret, school dentist, examined a total of 423 pupils in clinics which he conducted in January, according to the monthly report of Mrs. Alice Sivula, Negaunee public schools health supervisor.

Mrs. Sivula made 232 scalp inspections, gave hearing re-checks to 78 students, and administered three Massachusetts vision tests. The report included 12 upper respiratory infections, three cases of chickenpox, and one each of tonsillitis, bronchitis and otitis media. Two pupils submitted to surgery during the month.

Dispensary visits were made by 119 youngsters and three children attended an orthopedic clinic.

During the month, the supervisor visited all schools in the system as well as St. Paul's Parochial School.

According to the monthly report on the milk program, children enrolled in three elementary schools consumed a total of 9,915 pints of milk.

Counseling Service Planned For 800 Students At NHS

NEGAUNEE — Approximately 800 Negaunee junior and senior high school students will have an opportunity to obtain counseling services this year as part of the public schools guidance program, according to a report prepared by Mrs. Patricia Sloan, guidance director.

Mrs. Sloan recently returned to her post following an absence of several weeks during which she was recovering from injuries received in a fall. During her absence, Mrs. Marilyn Flannigan handled the guidance assignment on a temporary basis.

During the first semester of the current school year, Mrs. Flannigan held conferences with all seniors to discuss their plans following graduation from high school and to assist graduates who will attend institutions of higher learning select their courses.

Since returning to her post, Mrs. Sloan has held group guidance sessions with seniors to discuss scholarships, rehabilitation and trade schools.

"The contemporary guidance concept," the director stated in her report, "requires a consideration of the whole student, including his many physical, moral, social, emotional and educational needs. The school counselor is primarily interested in the last of these requirements."

In line with this philosophy, the guidance program for the second semester is arranged in the following manner:

Following group sessions held the last week of January, each member of the junior class will visit the guidance office this month to talk over his individual career plans. Sixty juniors will take the national merit test on March 5. Recruiters will visit the schools in March to explain the various armed forces programs, and eight career talks will be given on beautician work.

March will be set aside for members of the sophomore class and during their individual conferences the results of aptitude tests will be interpreted for these students. Since the test covered such broad areas as verbal, numerical, space relations, abstract reasoning, mechanical, spelling and word usage, it points up individual strengths and weaknesses which can be taken into consideration so that realistic vocational choices can be made.

April will be devoted to the eighth grade. Each student will write an autobiography as an English assignment, which will become part of the permanent record. English classes will be visited with the discussion centered on high school planning. Students will visit the guidance office during the month to discuss their grades, career plans, and high school subjects which may best prepare them for those plans. At the end of the month, parents will be invited to the school and R. K. Richards, principal, will explain the high school program, so they also will be able to aid their sons and daughters in selection of high school subjects.

May will be devoted to the ninth grade with group guidance sessions being held in all classes. This age is primarily interested in social guidance. Small group conferences will be arranged to discuss a variety of subjects.
