the installation. Michigan Supreme Court Justice Michael J. O'Hara of Menominee, who is a sixfooter and who presided, was almost hidden behind a bench, bedecked with flowers sent by well-wishing friends and relatives of the new judge.

The ceremony was marked by the congratulations of the new judge's colleagues and the solemnity of the investiture and the administering of the oath of office. Face Chaos Without Law

But as Justice O'Hara pointed out, it was also a day for recollection. When Judge Davidson took over the bench at the end of the ceremony, he reminisced that he was admitted to the bar in the same courtroom 25 years ago by the late Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell of Negaunce.

Judge Davidson said that Judge Bell taught him that this position is an important cog in the function of law. "Trite as it sounds, it's true that without law we face chaos." Judge Davidson said.

"I will do all in my power to perform my duties in keeping with the dignity and tradition of the office," he added. Past Judges Recalled

Justice O'Hara, who developed a reputation as one of the Peninsula's best-known trial lawyers while operating a one-man law office in his native Menominee, recollected the "judges whose names add luster to the tradition of this circuit."

Presented By DeFant

Judge Davidson was presented by Marquette County Probate Judge Michael F. DeFant of Marquette, senior judicial officer of the county, who added to the tribute to Judge Davidson by saying, 'I have never known him to commit an unethical act or do a petty thing. This is what we call a real judicial temper.

The only sad note in the hour-long ceremony was a fond goodbye said by James P. Clancey, Ishpeming, Judge Davidson's partner for 17 years in the law firm now known as Davidson, Clancey and Hansen.

Marquette and Delta Counties omprise the .25th circuit.

The program was interrupted by Justice O'Hara to have Marquette County Clerk Lloyd Levasseur read a long list of congratulatory telegrams.

Welcomes By Bar Presidents Welcomes were extended by president of the Delta County Bar Association, and Kevin Sheard, Marquette, president of the Mar-

Judge Davidson received the judicial robes from George C. Quinnell, Marquette, senior member of the Marquette County Bar Association, and Robert Bordeau, Marquette, newest member of the county bar.

"This robe is an emblem indicative of the high office to which you have been called," Quinnell said, as he presented the robe with INFANT BOY DIES the best wishes of the Marquette County Bar Association. Other Judges Attend

Among those on hand to congratulate Judge Davidson were John D. Voelker, Ishpeming, former Supreme Court justice and Marquette County prosecuting atorney; Judge George S. Baldwin, Munising, of the 11th judicial circuit (Alger, Chippewa, Luce and choolcraft Counties), and Judge Wright, Ironwood, of he 32nd judicial circuit (Gogebic and Ontonagon Counties).

Judge Davidson was appointed by Gov. George Romney on Feb. 7 to fill the vacancy created by the death Jan. 28 of Carroll C. Rushton of Marquette.

As Sheard noted in the ceremony, Judge Davidson brings to the office the experience of a man who knows the problems of this area but has been "part and parcel of the larger world."

Marquette County Native Born in Champion and reared in Palmer, Judge Davidson spent two years in Chicago while associated with the United States Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. Judge Davidson also served as Marquette County Circuit Court commissioner from 1938 to 1943. He was prosecuting attorney for the county from Oct. 4, 1943, Buy Life Insurance Through Mail Order!

On occasion some companies not licensed to do business in Michigan, try to sell Life Insurance to citizens in this area by mail. Their ads are sometimes misleading, and the buyer often receives a policy that is not what he thinks it is.

We suggest you contact a local respectable licensed agent before attempting to buy Mail Order Insurance. You certainly wouldn't get legal advice by mail. Buying Life Insurance is just as sacred and important to both you and your family.

"Operation Action is to be a welding together of the human resources which are in abundance but have not been tapped," Wilson declared. "We want to eliminate duplication of effort. We need co operation and coordination. balanced effort will lead to a balanced economy.

"We want to expand the total economy of the total area. What is good for one facet of the economy is good for all other facets of the economy.

"This is to be an 'automotive' movement - in the literal definition of self-moving or self-propelled. It will have to be carried out by the people themselves."

Former City Manager Wilson, who is 51 years old and the former city manager of downstate Buchanan, will set up Operation Action offices in the Marquette Club Building on N. Front St. Sponsors of Operation Action have pledged an annual budget of $40,000 for its operation, including $15,000 for Wilson's salary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and their five children will reside at 426 E. Michigan St.

Khrushchev's Fertile Acre

By LEON DENNEN

Newspaper Enterprise Analyst UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. - In the surprising view of Sen. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the United States faces the 'real problem" in West Europe and not in Cuba. In his view, Cuba is merely an "irritation" that "diverts us from Europe." Sen. Fulbright's estimate of the internaional situation does not contribute to a farsighted American foreign policy, according to Communism On Decline The fact is that despite the current rift in the Western alliance—with or without a sulking President de Gaulle-Russia has reached stalemate in Europe where communism is clearly on the decline as a political force. Little room for Red expansion remains in the West without the risk of an atomic conflict.

To be sure there is always the problem of West Berlin which Russia would rather leave unsolved. Like a quack doctor who profits more by kepeing his rich patient ill than well. Nikita Khrushchev does not really seek to end the Berlin crisis. Why should he? The Russians are always in a position to turn the "unsolved crisis" on and off whenever they want to blackmail the West and gain new concessions from the United States.

But there is hardly a country in West Europe today where Moscow could engineer a successful revolution. And the Russians have no illusions about it. Key To Aggressive Policy

The situation is vastly different in the Western Hemisphere. According to Khrushchev's Marxist-Leninist doubletalk, Latin America is already "ripe" for revolution and "national wars of liberation." In this case the Soviet premier agrees even with his Chinese rival, Mao Tse-tung

Cuba will thus remain the key to Soviet aggressive policy in the Western Hemisphere until Communists selze power in some other Latin American country.

This is the chief reason why the Russians are so determined to retain a foothold in Fidel Castro's dictatorship even after their failure to establish missile bases there. In the view unlike his predecessor, filled his of United Nations specialists on Russia, this is personal staff partly with labor also the real significance behind Moscow's including speech writer announcement last December that a Soviet jet (TU-114) made a non-stop flight from Havana to Russia.

Latin America Primary Target Premier Khrushchev, obviously in an attempt to appease President Kennedy, decided to withdraw some Soviet combat troops stationed in Cuba. But at the same time, the Russians are speeding the establishment of direct air communications with Havana without the need to land at "capitalist" airports and risk a search of their airliners carrying weapons to Latin America. Nothing, in fact, illustrates better the Interest of Russia and her East European satellites in the "future" of the Western Hemisphere than the efforts they devote to beaming radio propaganda in Spanish and Portuguese. Latin America is now the primary target of this pernicious form of Red offensive. Broadcasts by Radio Moscow aimed at Latin America increased by 60 per cent between 1960 and 1963. They now total 45 hours a week in Spanish and 17 hours a week in Portuguese. Over the same period the Red Chinese increased their radio propaganda to Latin America by five times. Radio Peking now transmits for 35 hours a week in Spanish and 10 hours a week in Portuguese.

16 Stations At Castro's Disposal A similar stepping up of radio warfare in Latin America has been carried out by Moscow's East European satellites. Together the Red transmissions total over 55 hours a day, or nearly 400 hours a week. In addition, Fidel Castro has 16 stations at his disposal which broadcast over 40 hours a day, mostly in the direction of Latin America. Radio Havana's daily programs include instructions to armed guerrilla groups in Venezuela and Panama. The Cuban broadcasts are tailored to the countries to which they are beamed. The Russians and their satellites would hardly expend such vast sums of money on a bankrupt Cuba and on radio propaganda to Latin America for nothing. They make no secret of their Marxist-Leninist conviction that the next "round of revolutions and national wars of liberation" will occur in Latin America.

Premier Khrushchev's temporary Cuban setback last October, it is now believed, caused the postponement of a series of coordinated revolts in Venezuela, Panama and other Latin American countries.

MAN VS. THE RABBIT

There have been times in history when the test of a man was his ability to club a mate, a saber tooth tiger or a rival knight into submission. Today it seems to be his ability to get his car out of the garage.

The full blooded vital American male has to break out. He leaves the snow in the driveway. He starts from inside the garage because that gives him traction. He backs madly toward the street, caroming off rock borders, trees and snowdrifts. Sometimes he makes it and sometimes he doesn't. But he always tries.

It is in trying that man proves his superiority to the animals. He refuses to be the captive of the elements. Nature can't tell him how to travel. Of course his nose is frozen, V. Chervonenko, as Soviet For- munism's pragmatic approach to his back aches, the tread on his back tires is gone, his disposition and his transmission are both ruined and he owes his neighbor $10 for breaking down a fence.

The machinery consisted of steam boiler and 35 horsepower engine purchased from the Aultman Co. of Canton, Ohio, and inluded a circular steel box with ouffers, a revolving screen feedng the ground stone into a series of baskets on an endless belt. man being can be filled with selfishness and hate, or he can be filled with sincerity and love. Unfortunately, evil is more quickly dispelled from a glass bottle than from the soul of a child. For in the human mind bad thoughts can grow, and as time goes on, it is more difficult to replace them with truth right and wrong at an early age. Of course, by example, "you" can be a tre-

Christ's teachings. With them, you can fill your heart with the essential in-

Worship With The World In The Church Of Your Choice

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Munising held a brief lead, 4-2, early in the opening quarter, but never went ahead after Gladstone quickly moved out in front. Ellis' cagers, however, managed to catch the Braves at 40-all shortly before the end of the third period and again at 45-all midway in the

Despite the fact that Munising couldn't match Gladstone in height - reflected in the 41-15 rebounding edge for the Braves - the Mathers still were able to play their opponents on even terms from the field. The 19-12 advantage enjoyed by Gladstone in free throws provided the margin of victory.

In the final quarter alone, Gladstone sank eight straight free throws; Munising missed on four one-and-one foul shot situations.

The seven-point margin mirrored Munising's improvement in recent games over early-season performances. The Mathers lost to Gladsaone by 25 points in a game at Munising early in De-Box score:

Holappa was to end up with high scoring honors at 22 points, while Johnson had 14. Martin Logan had 20 for Chassell, and Melvin Siira was tough on the boards. Chassell caught a cooled-off Hornet team in the third period, and went into the last eight min-

L'Anse had the ball with eight second left but, thinking the score was still tied, a Hornet took a shot. He missed and Siira was fouled. He made one of his two chances at the line. The first overtime was score-during the cold weather months. Most of these signs will be posted in 1963 to identify conservation projects, and show the way to recreational facilities, historic and scenic sites. North Country Notes

The Winter Of Our Discontent .

THE snowshoe hare season that ended yesterday spanned the coldest rabbit hunting was more of a chore than a delight this year. Seemingly endless days of sub-zero temperatures froze the enthusiasm of many rabbit hunters, and when they did head into the cedar swamps they found their beagles had much difficulty in picking up scent. Compounding the situation was the fact that snowshoeing conditions were far from ideal. Oddly enough, the rabbit season started out fine. During early December the beagle boys hunted without snowshoes or even mittens. But around the time the New Year began a mass of cold air swept out of the North and lingered annoyingly throughout most of January and February, the prime snowshoe hunting months. This development prompts one to look kindly upon the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association's proposal to extend the rabbit season through March to provide an additional 30 days of sport, especially in those winters when hunting conditions The Upper Peninsula Association turn out to be as unfavorable in January and February as they were of Secondary School Principals has

Major Animal Damage Cases, 1962

For years, many people have blamed Br'er Fox as being one of Michigan's most troublesome wildlife members for farmers and other landowners. Truth of the matter is that this bountied animal annually accounts for but a small percentage of all damage complaints registered with the Conservation Department. Although foxes appear to be more plentiful today than 16 years ago when they were put on Michigan's bounty list, this graph of wildlife creatures shows they were involved in less than four percent of 2,274 damage cases handled by conservation officers and trapper-instructors during Three popular game and fur species -squirrels, raccoons, and beavers---prompted more than half of the damage complaints which the Department took care of last year. Even deer figured in more complaints than foxes, with much of their damage occurring in southern Michigan where whiterails are building up in numbers to create increased crop damage problems for farmers. Other animals, involving less than 34 cases per species, accounted for the remaining total of 176 damage complaints.

Commission Gets Requests On U.P. Lands

Approval of a master plan for expanding facilities at the Straits State Park in St. Ignace will be requested at the conservation commission's meeting in Lansing next

The plan calls for development of additional campsites, construction of three toilet and shower buildings, additional picnicking, boat launching and docking facilites. Camping facilities as projected would make approximately 500 sites available for use for both tent and trailers camps in the 120acre park overlooking the Straits of Mackinac and the Mackinac Bridge.
