Publishers, Union Agree To Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives of publishers and striking printers agreed today on a new contract, clearing the way for an end to New York's 91-day-old newspaper shutdown.

Key provisions of the pact are an increase in wages over a two-year period, plus a reduction in hours the second year, for a total package of $12.63.

23-Year-Old Nabbed After Aerial Chase

PONTIAC (AP)—A 23-year-old unlicensed pilot, captured Thursday after a hide-and-seek aerial chase over heavily-populated Oakland County, was held in jail here today on a charge of stealing an airplane.

Police said Laverne Anderson of nearby Plymouth stole the $65,000 Piper Aztec from the Pontiac Airport with the intention of persuading his estranged wife, Geraldine, 23, to return to him. He was armed with a rifle, police said.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said Anderson told him he purchased the rifle a few days ago, planning to force his wife into the plane. As far as the plane would fly and "definitely impress my wife how much I was in love with her."

Anderson said he and his wife were married last November but never lived together.

Anderson, who claims he is a Navy veteran and attended Cleary College at Ypsilanti, although the college says it has no record of him, told Taylor he flew over his wife's home in Livonia Thursday and saw her drive off to work.

Taylor said Anderson then landed the plane at Berz Airport near Birmingham and refueled, charging the gas to Aerodynamics Inc., owners of the plane.

Both a Federal Aviation Agency DC-3 and ADI President Frank McCartney—flying another Aztec—look part in the chase. It began after Milton Berz Jr. learned from a radio in the airport office the plane was stolen.

Forced Off Runway
Berz told police he jumped into his car, drove down to the end of the runway where Anderson was about to take off and attempted to stop him. Berz said Anderson answered with a full throttle, forcing him to leave the runway or be run down.

McCartney said he followed Anderson to Pontiac Airport, where Anderson landed at 1 p.m. and surrendered to authorities who had broadcast an alert describing him as "dangerous and armed."

Bombers

U. S. Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says that even though the Soviet Union is stressing ballistic missiles, the "manned bomber is still the dominant long-range weapons system." Testifying before a Senate committee Thursday on the Air Force's share of the new $55 billion defense budget, LeMay said the U. S. must be able not only to destroy enemy cities but an enemy military force if a general or nuclear war should break out. "As you know," he said, "it doesn't take much of a nuclear force to destroy a large number of enemy cities. But the destruction of enemy cities per se does not protect U. S. and allied lives." His point: That a bomber fleet able to make selective and repeated penetrations is necessary to maintain deterrent power. (AP Wirephoto).

Court Nixes Mixed Union For Police

LANSING (AP)—Police officers cannot join a union which is "non-police" among its members, the Michigan Supreme Court has ruled.

The ruling, one of some 20 decisions handed down Thursday by the high court, overturned a 1961 finding by former Muskegon Circuit Judge Noel Fox.

Involving was an attempt by Local 201 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees to sign up Muskegon police.

But the city's police chief issued a rule which declared no police officer could become a member of a federation or labor union which admits to membership persons who are not members of the Muskegon Police Department.

Fox granted an injunction to prevent enforcement of the police chief's rule.

In reversing the lower court, the Supreme Court declared: "The duly-constituted authorities of the city have concluded that the regulation... is reasonably required in the interests of a fair and impartial administration of the law by those entrusted with its enforcement, without discrimination or partiality."

Accident Brings On Rush To Pay Bills
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—More than 50 residents of Miami Springs scurried to City Hall to pay delinquent water bills Thursday.

"I never saw anything like it," one clerk said. "They came dashing in as fast as they could, with the money in their hands."

The truth was learned. A road grader accidentally cut the main water line into Miami Springs. Many residents thought their water had been cut off because of non-paid bills.

Army Rebs Revolt In Syria

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Pro-Nasser army officers launched a revolt in Syria today and claimed control of the country. But Turkish officials in Ankara received reports of violent street fighting in Damascus.

Western diplomats in Cairo had reports from Damascus that no resistance to the coup had developed in the capital by mid-morning and street demonstrations in support of the army were taking place.

The rebels, broadcasting on Damascus Radio, pledged themselves to forge Arab unity "in the shortest possible time." They condemned Syria's withdrawal without saying they wanted to rejoin the U.A.R.

American Safe
The U.S. Embassy in Cairo reported communications from Damascus indicated all Americans there were safe and were not affected by the coup.

Basheed Houty said the Syrian rebels messaged Iraq that "we are in control" and "there is no need for any action on your part." The rebels said their situation was excellent.

The Turkish foreign ministry said top leaders of the Syrian government, including Premier Khaled El Azem, had taken refuge in the Turkish Embassy in Damascus.

for any action on your part." The rebels said their situation was excellent.

The warnings appeared directed at Israel and pro-Western Jordan. The Israeli army, facing the largest concentration of Syria's army on Israel's northeast frontier, was reported on the alert. But no special emergency measures were announced in Jerusalem.

Hold Headquarters
Reports to Cairo said the rebels held the army headquarters in Damascus and were believed to have arrested the armed forces commander, Gen. Abdel Karim Zahreddin.

Call For Unity
Playing the same martial music that heralded the Iraqi revolt one month ago today, Damascus Radio trumpeted a call for "unity, freedom and socialism."

The former vice president, in a taped television show, said he "could not imagine" former President Dwight D. Eisenhower not providing such air cover. Nixon advocated an oil blockade of Cuba.

Saying President Kennedy has been subjected to some unfair criticism on the invasion, Nixon added: "I think he was wrong in another respect. I think he was wrong, once we committed our power, in not seeing it through and finishing the job."

Jack Paar Show
"And when the suggestion is made that President Eisenhower may or may not have planned air cover, I would only suggest this: I cannot imagine the general, who planned the greatest invasion in history, the invasion of Normandy, allowing those 1,500 brave Cubans to go in the Bay of Pigs there without having first destroyed the enemy air power or providing air cover."

Nixon's appearance on the Jack Paar show was taped last Sunday in New York for showing tonight on NBC-TV. But the program was shown first Thursday night on CTV in Toronto, a Canadian commercial network.

Nixon called for "a political, tactical quarantine of Cuba, of communism in Cuba."

Four Points
Newsday, a Long Island daily newspaper, reported Thursday that last Tuesday during an off-the-record speech at Garden City, N.Y., Nixon advocated an oil blockade of Cuba in recommending a four-point U.S. policy toward Cuba. His four points: removal of all Russian troops, on-site inspection of missile installations, an end to foreign aid to nations which trade with Cuba and a partial blockade to stop all oil shipments to the island.

Mahon Urges Silence On Intelligence
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. George Mahon's plea that public officials keep quiet about American intelligence activities was welcomed news to President Kennedy, and many members of Congress agreed "silence is golden."

The President, it was learned today, was immensely pleased when aides showed him news wire accounts of the Texas Democrat's speech Thursday on the House floor. There was good reason to believe Kennedy began making plans to grab the ball Mahon tossed into the air.

White House sources said, however, that the congressman acted on his own initiative, that Kennedy had no foreknowledge of the blistering attack on look-alike talk.

Mahon, chairman of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, said "officials in Moscow, Peking and Havana must applaud our stupidity in announcing publicly facts which they would gladly spend huge sums of money endeavoring to obtain."

No Examples
He gave no specific examples and said the executive branch and the legislative, Republicans and Democrats alike, "must share the blame" for "making us the laughing stock of the world."

There was an immediate chorus of amens on Capitol Hill.

At the same time, Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., said he had called on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to tell the American people whether Soviet ships recently reported en route to Cuba to remove Soviet troops actually were carrying missiles to the island.

In expressing agreement with Mahon, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said: "I feel that there's too much intelligence given out."

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—This southern Georgia city has repealed all of its segregation ordinances.

Demos Seek Swift Action On Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats called for faster action on President Kennedy's tax cut bill and his various economic proposals today in the wake of a jump in the national jobless rate to 6.1 per cent.

The new figure, reflecting February employment figures, was announced Thursday by the Labor Department. It was the highest seasonally adjusted rate in 14 months and compared with 5.8 per cent in January.

GOP Interpretation
Republicans interpreted the announcement as vindication of the argument that Kennedy has not met the test he set in the 1960 campaign to get the country moving again.

A key figure in the fight over the tax bill who asked not to be identified told a reporter that if the unemployment rate stayed above 6 per cent when the March figures are announced in April, he was certain that House Ways and Means Committee would approve tax reduction. That group now is in the midst of lengthy public hearings on the bill.

Minor Flooding
Minor flooding was reported in some other Eastern and Southern states but the heaviest damage was in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana. The floods, caused by heavy rains and melting snow, were blamed for at least 18 deaths. Property damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

The nation's general weather pattern showed few changes. No heavy rain or snow was reported and temperatures were mostly near normal levels. Cool spots were across Northern areas from the Plains to Maine. It was a little cooler in the Southeast, with temperatures dropping to the upper 30s in extreme northern Florida and much of Dixie north of Florida.

Trouble Spots
Although flood conditions in most of Ohio appeared improved, there were some trouble spots. A mile-long ice jam broke in the Sandusky River in Fremont Thursday night, pushing the stream up to three feet above the 12-foot flood stage.

Huge ice floes 50 feet high were stacked at the north and south ends of Fremont. The river cuts through the city. Mayor Richard Maier declared a state of emergency for the northwest Ohio city of 18,000.

In Pennsylvania, an ice jam formed on the Susquehanna River in the Harrisburg area and residents in lowland areas north of the city were evacuated. Harrisburg, however, appeared in no immediate danger.

Warnings
Flood warnings were issued for areas in central South Carolina. The Broad River crested at 22 feet and the Congaree River rose rapidly to crest at 22 feet, 3 feet above flood stage.

Five counties in West Virginia, hit hard by overflows from the Ohio River and its tributaries earlier this week have been designated as disaster areas by the Small Business Administration in Washington. The counties are Brooke, Hancock, Marshall, Ohio and Wetzel, which will be eligible for federal loans for repairs to property caused by the damaging floods.

Norwich, Conn., also was declared a disaster area in the wake of damaging flood waters which swept into the city of 40,000 Wednesday night after a dam, weakened by heavy rains, broke. The tons of water set off a boiler explosion in a manufacturing plant, killing five persons. One woman drowned in the flood waters and six persons were hospitalized. Damage was estimated at between $2 million and $3 million.

Johnson, 46, entered the hospital Thursday. Friends said biopsy tests indicated a need for immediate surgical treatment.

Paradise Studios, where he is filming "Wives and Lovers," said his doctor has assured Johnson that he will be able to return to work by March 18.

Nationalism's Future Rests With Syrians

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
The tortured heart of Arab nationalism is in Syria, its birthplace. In Syria may be the key to its future.

In the dusty, colorful streets of Damascus, the oldest continuous city in the world, there is a permanent atmosphere of tension and anxiety.

It is a strange atmosphere. You cannot put your finger on just what is wrong. The Damascenes have lived with the feeling for generations and they are fatalistic about it.

Many Explosions
Syria has exploded many times, each time with repercussions throughout the Arab East. In an era of cold war and world tension, the explosions become progressively more dangerous. Unfortunately for Syria, her geography is far too important for her to be left alone in peace.

Syria, the ancient land of the Phoenicians, lies at the eastern end of the Mediterranean with an important, bustling port at Latakia. Across the country run 430 miles of pipeline of the Iraq Petroleum Company, feeding vital fuel to Europe's industry. Syria occupies the western part of the Arab East's fertile crescent, and greater Syria has been a dream of many nationalists.

Clash Evident
The clash between the modern West and the ancient East is evident on all sides. Swank Arabs finger their ever-present beads but look as Western as Chicagoans. In restaurants and cabarets they mingle with dark-skinned bearded sheiks in robes and head-dresses from the provinces or other parts of the Arab East.

Syria is a land of contradictions, rich in the history of Islam and Christianity but splattered with the blood of the eternal clash between East and West.

Syria's wounds are old and old. Once she was a proud nation dominating a vast area. But she has a history of indignities, of colonialism, of big power politics. Hatred rages in the Arab breast for neighboring Israel, the Arabs consider an expression of western imperialism.

History Of Invasions
Syria's history is one of invasions: By the Egyptians, the Assyrians, the Macedonians, the Persians, the Mongols, and finally the Turks of the Ottoman Empire, who ruled the country harshly for 400 years. After World War I the French came to the Levant with a League of Nations mandate.

The Syrians were restless and resentful under the French and there were many disturbances. By the end of World War II, the French could hold out no longer and Syria won her independence in 1946.

U.A.R.
The only semblance of unity Syria achieved in modern times with other Arabs was her brief stay in President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic from March 1958, until September 1961.

It took a deep crisis to bring that about. In 1957 the Russians moved in on Syria with a bang. They signed a technical and economic agreement and began providing the Syrians with arms. A leftist regime was in control and the Communists had a field day.

1957 Crisis
The 1957 crisis arose over tensions with neighboring Turkey, possibly generated by the Russians as a means of lending a helping hand to the Communists in Syria. Damascus began to look like a wartime capital. Syrians now worried about two potential enemies, one in the north—Turkey—and the most feared foe of all—Israel—to the south.

The situation was ready made for the Russians, and they leaped into it eagerly. But there seemed to be a large degree of fear that the Communists were getting entirely too powerful. This apparently played a large part in the willingness of Syrian leaders to let their country be absorbed into Nasser's U.A.R.

1961 Coup
Syria would have been unhappy under the Communists. But she was unhappy under the Egyptians, too. Nasser's forces moved in quickly, abolished Syrian political parties and instituted what seemed a dictatorial rule of Egyptians over Syrians.

Finally, in September, 1961, there was a coup by Syrian army officers, and the Egyptians were turned out.

Fred Alger's Wife Dies At Florida Home

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr., 56, wife of the former Michigan Secretary of State and United States ambassador to Belgium, died Thursday at her winter home in Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Alger, of suburban Grosse Pointe, was the former Suzette de Marigny Dewey, daughter of Charles S. Dewey, a Chicago banker who was assistant to the U.S. Secretary of the Treasury and a financial adviser to the Polish government.

Mrs. Alger met her husband in Warsaw where she moved with her family at the age of 19.

After her husband was defeated for governor by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in 1952, she accompanied him to Belgium where he served as ambassador for former President Eisenhower.

Upon their return from Europe, the Alger's divided their time between their Grosse Pointe and Palm Beach homes.

Services will be Saturday in Palm Beach.

Heart Attack Claims Life Of Ex-Judge

DETROIT (AP)—Former Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Frank B. Ferguson, 69, died of an apparent heart attack Thursday in his daughter's home in nearby Clawson.

Ferguson, whose brother, Homer, is a former Republican senator from Michigan and currently is a judge of the U.S. Court of Military Appeals, retired from the Wayne Circuit bench two years ago. He served there for 16 years.

A resident of Paradise on Whitefish Bay in the Upper Peninsula, he had just returned to Michigan from a Florida vacation.

Ferguson began his public service in 1923 as an assistant prosecutor for Wayne County. He was elected a Common Pleas Court Judge in 1939 and served until 1944 when he defeated Judge William Friedman for a place on the Circuit bench.

A native of Harrison City, Pa., Ferguson came to Detroit to practice law with his brother after graduating from the University of Pittsburgh in 1917.

Services will be held Monday.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today some movement of Soviet troops, possibly in the under way, and the Russians have shipping in position to withdraw several thousand men within the next week.

Rusk also told a news conference that the United States is "turning an important corner" in the long and costly fight against the Communist struggle to seize power in South Viet Nam.

He said the U.S.-supported South Viet Nam forces now "clearly have the initiative."

On a third major point of foreign policy, Rusk asserted bluntly that any nuclear test-ban agreement which may be come possible with the Soviet Union will require the United States to take some risk.

Over 100 At Meet On Superiorland; C-C Backing Given

More than 100 area residents turned out last night at a Marquette Chamber of Commerce-sponsored meeting to ask questions about a recreational project which has mushroomed into proposals so huge that most people can hardly imagine what it would be like.

Superiorland Developer John A. Zerbelt, a certified public accountant from Milwaukee, who is formerly of Marquette, said following the question-and-answer session in the Peter White Public Library auditorium that he felt the meeting "cleared the air" on a lot of questions about the project.

Chamber President Harlan Larson began the meeting by emphasizing: "The chamber encourages this project completely. We feel it will stimulate the economy of the city, county and the entire Upper Peninsula. This is the type of tourist investment that the U.P. has been looking for for a long time."

Probably the most frequently asked question about Superiorland was answered immediately by Zerbelt: "Under Area Redevelopment Administration rules, we can't spend any money until our applications have been approved."

An ARA loan of $195,000, for which application was made in April, for the Marquette and Huron Mountain Railroad Co. was approved Dec. 12. Zerbelt said final approval of two applications, filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission (for the authority to buy the old Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad line from here to Big Bay and for the right to issue securities) is expected by the end of this month.

By the first of April the developers expect to actively begin making orders for supplies. Most of the supplies will be bought locally, Zerbelt said.

Not As Fast As Expected Zerbelt noted that the project is not progressing as fast as had been expected earlier. "We were moving too fast. We want to be completely prepared when we open."

Plans are to open in the spring of 1964, although there is some hope of beginning winter operations this December, Zerbelt said.

"Our objective is to create one of the largest composite recreational centers in the country. If Wisconsin Dells can bring in a million dollars a year, there's no reason that we can't do the same thing in Marquette County," Zerbelt declared.

He noted that between the end of May and the first of October, 700,000 tourists travel through Marquette.

"If we stopped 10 per cent of these tourists," he said, "and they each spent $7 or $8 a day, which is the usual amount for the tourist to spend, that means about $560,000 spent locally for gas, food, lodging and entertainment, just by delaying the tourist here overnight."

Variety For Tourists The whole Superiorland complex includes activities, created over a period of time, all the way from Marquette to Big Bay.

"We realize it's overwhelming, but we feel that the only way to make it successful is to make it big enough to create a national image," Zerbelt said.

Zerbelt added that while the features of the project might draw a very small percentage of tourists if they stood alone, the whole complex will appeal to a wide variety of tourists.

Another question in the minds of many area residents — isn't Marquette too far away to draw huge numbers of people? — was countered by Zerbelt.

"Distance Immaterial Today" "In this day and age, distance doesn't mean a thing. People on vacation don't travel 125 miles from home and say they've had their vacation; they'll drive 4,000 miles to take in all kinds of events, he said.

A federal study shows that 51 million people, or 25 per cent of the total U.S. population, lives within one day's drive of Marquette, Zerbelt added.

Concerning a conflict with the city over property near Presque Isle, near the property leased by Superiorland developers for a Frontierland and jumping off place for the railroad line to Big Bay, Zerbelt said: "We wanted more space for parking, but we aren't going to force the issue."

No Marina Conflict In question was an area of land north of the proposed marina site, but the city commission has declared that no more changes will be made in property near Presque Isle for commercial developments.

Will Employ 600: Zerbelt The total complex would employ 600 persons both summer and winter, Zerbelt said.

He indicated that to man the railroad line, retired railroad personnel would be used. The railroad would also give railroad fans an opportunity to exercise their hobby, Zerbelt said.

He noted that there are 100,000 railroad fans in organized clubs throughout the U.S. "We've already had requests for railroad excursions," Zerbelt said.

Responsibility Of City? Any public improvements, such as sewers and roads in the Frontierland-Presque Isle area, would be the responsibility of the city, Zerbelt said in answer to a question.

"We propose to encourage the city to move ahead in that direction," he added.

Zerbelt also indicated that commercial developments that are compatible with the aims of the project would be encouraged.

Profit Corporation The Presque Isle Industrial Development Corp. is a profit corporation, Zerbelt said. Under Michigan's Corporation Securities law, the number of incorporators must not exceed 25.

Investments in the industrial development corporation will be made in $2,500 packages, Zerbelt said. The $2,500 package includes an investment of $1,712 in the industrial development corporation and common stock investments of $262.50 in the railroad company and $525 in the recreation company.

Non-Dividend Interest Zerbelt said that a Marquette gas station operator who invested $500 in a local corporation's package investment in the Presque Isle Industrial Development Corp. would hold a non-dividend interest in whatever his investment represents.

The hypothetical gas station operator would thus receive tangible benefits in dividends and intangible returns through his share of the tourist trade, Zerbelt asserted.

"Not Asking For Charity" "We're not asking for charity," Zerbelt said. "This would be an investment which should come back in returns."

"When we first proposed a steam railroad operation to Big Bay, qualified brokerage firms said our railroad project was speculative and had a 50-50 chance of success."

"Now that we are developing a large complex, including projects in Big Bay and Marquette, the ARA has said that our project is one of the few to be approved by all of its connected divisions and agencies."

DONALD E. HOLBROOK

Holbrook, GOP-Endorsed For Justice, In Area Tomorrow

Circuit Judge Donald E. Holbrook of Clare, a Republican-endorsed candidate for Michigan Supreme Court justice, will be in Marquette County tomorrow as part of his campaign tour.

Dr. Fred C. Sabin, Marquette county chairman for the Republican Party, said Judge Holbrook is due to arrive by plane at the Marquette County Airport in Negaunee Township at 11 tomorrow morning.

Judge Holbrook will be met at the airport by Walter L. Hansen, Ishpeming, former secretary of the County Republican Committee, and he will speak at a luncheon meeting to be held in the Hotel Northland here at noon.

Persons desiring to attend the luncheon may make arrangements with Hansen, Dr. Sabin said.

At 1:15 in the afternoon Judge Holbrook will appear over WLUC-TV. He is coming here from Clare and following his appearance in the county he will drive to the Copper Country for another campaign talk.

On Monday Judge Holbrook will go to White Pine Mine, in fulfillment of his campaign promise. A member of the union at White Pine made a seconding speech for Judge to Vern Calkins, senior counselor of U. P. Council, so named because it was the first organized in Upper Michigan.

Program By Hawke George Hawke, secretary of the UCT council, will give a financial report and outline his program for the Lenten season.

Delegates also will be chosen to the grand (state) convention of the UCT, to be held on Saturday and Sunday, May 25-26, in Lansing.

A social hour will follow the business session.

Merger Question Postponed At Joint Meeting Of Boards Of Two Mental Health Units

The possibility of merging the Upper Peninsula Adult Mental Health Clinic and the U. P. Child Guidance Clinic was indefinitely postponed, at a special session of the executive committees of both organizations, held yesterday.

Spokesmen for the two agencies expressed the opinion that the question of merger, which had been considered intermittently in the past year, should be shelved until such time as both clinics are completely staffed. Neither is operating with a full complement of professional people, at present.

Also resulting from yesterday's lengthy discussion, which followed a luncheon in the Northern Michigan University Student Center, was a motion in reference to Senate Bill 1074.

Oppose Bill The executive committees of both clinic went on record in opposition to the bill, which provides for eventual total local support of community mental health service programs.

Consensus among those attending was that the Upper Peninsula, at present, is not in a position to provide such financial backing; nor is development of its mental health services far enough along to "go it alone."

As a result, both groups moved to oppose the bill and its provisions, at least at this time.

Marquette Man Elected By State Insurance Agents

Howard H. Larson of Peters and Larson, Marquette, was elected to the executive committee of the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents at a meeting of the association this week in Detroit.

The association includes more than 1,000 independent insurance agencies primarily engaged in the underwriting of property and liability insurance.

The Michigan agents were sent to delegates from the 14 states of the Midwest Territorial Conference of the National Association of Insurance Agents.

The conference meets periodically with insurance companies to improve coverages for public protection.

Stalin Lives On In Hearts Of Georgians

By EDDY GILMORE GORI, Georgia, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Denounced and degraded all over the Soviet Union, Joseph Stalin lives on in the hearts of his fellow Georgians.

Here in his dusty, somewhat down-at-the-heel home town, the two-room cabin where Stalin was born is preserved as a shrine.

Big and shining, the Stalin Museum attracts hundreds of visitors, mostly Georgians, every month.

Investment Program For Superiorland Project Outlined At Meet Here

How an area resident could make a small investment in the Superiorland recreational project was outlined last night at a Superiorland question-and-answer session.

The meeting in Peter White Public Library auditorium was called by Marquette Chamber of Commerce President Harlan Larson in response to a number of inquiries at the chamber office.

John Zerbelt, of Milwaukee and formerly of Marquette, a Superiorland developer, was present to answer questions about the vast project, which includes steam railroad operations from here to Big Bay, a Frontierland in Marquette, and an Alpine Village recreational center in Big Bay.

Small Investments Possible One of the questions included in last night's discussion was the possibility of making small investments in the project.

Zerbelt indicated that small investments could be made through a proposed local corporation, which would in turn invest in the complex. It would be preferable to have the local investment corporation organized under the wing of an organization such as the chamber of commerce, he indicated.

Zerbelt first explained the financing of the railroad operations between here and Big Bay. Investment in the facility, including purchase of the line, expansion, and equipment, will total $300,000.

20 Per Cent By L&E An Area Redevelopment Administration loan, approved Dec. 12, will provide 60 per cent, or $195,000. Twenty per cent, or $60,000, is being invested by Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad Co., the original owner of the railroad line.

Of the remainder of the total expense, $39,500 will be financed through bonds bought by the Presque Isle Industrial Development Co., and $5,500 will be put up by the Thunder Bay Recreation Co., Zerbelt said.

The Marquette and Huron Railroad Co., Inc., a common carrier railroad operating under authority issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Michigan Public Service Commission, will restore the railroad line and haul freight.

May Lease Rental Rights For recreational purposes, the railroad company will lease the rental rights for operation of the line to a recreation company, the Thunder Bay Recreations, Inc.

Man Put On Probation For Non-Support

Neil Dagenais, 23, Johnson's Rooming House, was placed on probation by Judge Edward H. Dembowski in municipal court yesterday on a charge of non-support, a misdemeanor.

Dagenais was placed on probation for a period of 60 days and was ordered to pay costs of $5.10 by March 21. He also was ordered to pay his wife $10 per week.

Found Guilty By Judge Dagenais pleaded not-guilty to the non-support charge in an arraignment Wednesday, but was found guilty after an informal hearing before Judge Dembowski yesterday.

The complaint was signed by the defendant's wife, Mary, for non-support of her and a minor child from Feb. 23 through Tuesday,

City's Review Board Sets Closed, Public Meets This Month

Marquette's board of review will hold its annual closed and open sessions this month.

City Assessor Lincoln J. Lindstrom, who acts as clerk of the board of review, said the closed sessions of the board will take place on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, with the open meetings designated for Monday and Tuesday, March 25 and 26.

The review board meets annually in the city hall to review the assessment roll of the city, prepared by the assessor. During the closed sessions (those not open to the public), the board goes over the entire assessment roll.

In the open sessions in the last week of the month, any person who has a question concerning an assessment may appear before the board, without appointment.

250 Exemption Requests

This year, Lindstrom reported, the board of review has received 250 applications for veterans' or widows' partial exemptions, the most the city has ever received. The comparable figure last year was 234. Prior to 1960 it was under 200.

Lindstrom said eligible persons have until the last day of the board of review session (the 26th) in which to file such an application.

Statute provides that a veteran drawing disability or a widow of a deceased veteran (whether the husband was disabled or not) may obtain a $2,000 exemption on property valuation. The widow is eligible for the exemption as long as she does not remarry.

The assessor pointed out that since a certain number of veterans die each year, the number of widows eligible under this law increases each year.

Lindstrom said no new subdivisions were approved during the past year.

Senobe Named Chairman

In the election, conducted by mail, for board of review chairman, Everett Senobe, 221 Seymour Ave., was elected chairman of the board, succeeding Franz Menze, 528 E. Arch St., who has resigned from the board.

Other members of the board are Thomas Swenor, 231 Jackson St.; Howard C. Schrandt, 342 W. Park St.; Hilmer Anderson, 448 W. Arch St.; and Ben Pederson, 214 E. Hewitt Ave.

Last year the total assessed property valuation for the City of Marquette was $25,915,000.

Fewer and fewer persons are appearing at the public hearings each year, Lindstrom said, with last year only 13 persons showing up to lodge protests or make inquiries concerning the assessment roll.

Charter Regulation Quoted

It was pointed out that persons appearing before the review board should have legitimate grounds for protesting an assessment.

Under Section 9.3 of the city charter, it stipulates that "no exemptions from taxation shall be allowed, except as expressly required or permitted by statute."

In the case of exemptions made to persons who, in the opinion of the assessor, who also is the clerk of the board, and the review board, by reason of poverty are unable to contribute towards the public charges, there is required as a condition to the grant of exemption a trust deed or assignment to the city of all or any part of the real or personal property or insurance of the beneficiary of the exemption.

This trust deed or assignment won't deprive the owner of the property to whom tax exemption

Car Wrecked In Smashup In Marquette

An automobile was wrecked and a motorist was issued a summons, but no one was injured, in a traffic accident at 10:50 yesterday morning in Marquette.

City police said a car being driven north on Lake Shore Blvd. by Nilo P. Rinne, 900 S. Lake St., went out of control when it struck an ice-covered water puddle, about 200 feet north of the road leading to the Upper Peninsula Generating Co. plant.

Utility Pole Broken

Officers said Rinne's car traveled off the east (right) side of the roadway, smashing into and breaking a wooden utility pole and resulting in extensive damage to the right front of his vehicle, a 1957 four-door sedan, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

City police ticketed Rinne for failing to have his car under control.

Airman Mulder Gets Wing Honor

A-2C James L. Mulder, 22, has been named the maintenance man of the month for the 410th Bombardment Wing at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Mulder was nominated by CMSgt. John D. Williams, non-commissioned officer in charge of the 410th Organizational Maintenance Squadron's support branch.

Mulder has been in that section since March, and his performance and progress in training "has been outstanding," according to the nomination.

Williams said Mulder "is extremely proficient in the use and operation of the heavy equipment used by the support branch, and in the towing and parking of the Strategic Air Command aircraft—the KC-135 and the B-52H."

He is also well qualified in any phase of refueling or defueling of the aircraft.

The Holland, Mich., native has completed various maintenance courses in addition to his regular duties, increasing his technical knowledge and his ability and versatility within the section. He has been in the Air Force 18 months.

McBrayer has been commander of the wing since Feb. 27, when Col. William B. Kves was transferred from here to Altus AFB, Okla., to assume command of the 11th Strategic Aerospace Wing.

Ramputi has been director of operations at 2AF since September 1962. He had held the post of director of material there for three months prior to taking over his current position.

Graduate Of Purdue

A native of Beacon, N. Y., Ramputi is a graduate of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. He entered the Army Air Corps in 1940, and served during World War II in the Aleutian and Western Pacific campaigns, where he flew 81 combat missions.

A graduate of the National War College, Colonel Ramputi has been in Strategic Air Command since 1945. Before going to 2AF headquarters, he was commander of the 11th Bombardment Wing at Altus, which has since been renamed the 11th Strategic Aerospace Wing.

While commander there, the wing was awarded the Fairchild Trophy three times. The trophy is symbolic of the outstanding bomb wing in SAC. The Altus wing is the first unit in SAC to ever win the title three times.

Col. and Mrs. Ramputi are the parents of one son.

Col. Ramputi Will Command Sawyer Wing

Col. Frederick R. Ramputi, director of operations at Second Air Force headquarters, Barksdale AFB, La., will assume command of the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC) at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base in May.

The announcement was made by Lt. Gen. John D. Ryan, Second Air Force (2AF) commander. Col. Ramputi will replace Col. Madison M. McBrayer, who will attend the industrial college of the Armed Forces in Washington, D. C.

McBrayer has been commander of the wing since Feb. 27, when Col. William B. Kves was transferred from here to Altus AFB, Okla., to assume command of the 11th Strategic Aerospace Wing.

Funds For Plans For NMU Science Building In Romney's Budget

Funds for the balance due on the new Practical and Fine Arts Building now under construction at Northern Michigan University are included in the recommended 1963-64 general fund capital outlay program of Gov. George W. Romney.

In a separate bill, which is to take immediate effect, and thereby provide the funds immediately, is a sum of $50,000 for Northern, which includes $40,000 for planning a new science building at NMU and $10,000 for planning a new heating plant at Northern.

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern, said the planning money will enable plans and specifications to be drawn up this spring, with construction expected to begin during the next fiscal year.

Recommended in the capital outlay program for the next fiscal year was $1.4 million for the balance of the payment on the Fine Arts Classroom Building, now being constructed on the southwest portion of the campus, in the vicinity of N. Eighth St., north of W. Fair Ave.

Overall cost of the building, being erected by the Herman Gundlach Construction Co. of Houghton, is $2.5 million.

It is the first building completely devoted to classrooms and related uses to be constructed at Northern since prior to World War II. Construction began last September and is scheduled for completion in time for the opening of the university's fall term this year.

Also recommended by the Governor was $1.3 million for a mathematics and physics building at the Michigan College of Mining & Technology campus at Houghton.

Also included among the Upper Peninsula projects is $150,000 to complete plans and start construction of a new library on the Houghton campus.

Health Laboratory

Gov. Romney has also recommended that $125,000 be appropriated for construction of a State Department of Health laboratory, which would be an addition to the State Office Building at Escanaba, and would release space now used at Michigan Tech.

About $58,000 in federal funds will also help finance the building.

The Romney budget also includes $150,000 for completing plans for a new laundry at the Newberry State Hospital, to replace the present facility.

State Park Development

Under the Governor's recommendation that bonding powers for state park development be expanded by $3.5 million, improvements would be made at Porcupine Mountains, Fort Wilkins, Fayette and Brimley State Parks.

A fifth state park in the Upper Peninsula, Indian Lake State Park in Manistiquette, would benefit from a $152,000 campground development project under a $770,000 state parks improvement fund recommended by Romney.

In all, Romney has proposed a $28.9 million capital outlay budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year.

$2.1 Million More

The figure is $2.1 million more than in the state's capital outlay budget for the current year and is in addition to some $1.5 million asked by the Governor for immediate planning for state projects.

The budget includes $22.8 million for education, an increase of $5.9 million over current appropriations.

Romney's capital outlay plan for the next fiscal year also includes 10 major projects to be completed at a total cost of $19.7 million, continuation of 10 others for $14 million and some $4.4 million to start 18 new projects.

Community College Districts

In addition to the 38 projects scheduled for completion, continuation or beginning, the Romney proposal asks for $1 million to be matched by community college districts for construction and $1.8 million for miscellaneous projects.

Seven of the projects listed by the Governor are on the list for which immediate planning and site funds were asked earlier.

Also marked for completion during 1963-64 under the Governor's proposals would be:

The Institute of Science and Technology and a heating plant at the University of Michigan, $772,000 and $700,000; power plant additions at Michigan State University, $800,000, general classroom building, $1 million, and pharmacy building, $375,000, at Wayne State University; physical education facilities at Ferris Institute, $985,000; learning center at Grand Valley College, $820,000, a physical education building at Eastern Michigan University, $924,000; a children's unit at Ypsilanti State Hospital, $200,000, and a Lansing armory, $300,000.

Welcome Respite

The Upper Peninsula this week enjoyed a welcome respite from the extreme cold that has gripped this region for much of the winter. A glance at the calendar showed that spring's arrival officially was only a

Peninsula Perambulator

People are still walking, or should we call it marching now that we're in the month when spring is supposed to begin. Four Niagarans, Wis., high school boys—George Charter and Dennis Pultz, 15; Milo Outcalt, 16, and Terry O'Connell, 19—hiked 50 miles from their home town to Escanaba in 19 hours, "just for the fun of it." A fifth boy, Earl Van Ginkel, started with them, but dropped out with blistered feet after going about 30 miles.

Tribute to George A. Osborn, publisher of the Sault Evening News, came the other night from Clem Brossier of Detroit, Michigan bureau chief for the Associated Press. He lauded Osborn as a leader and humanitarian with a long and imposing list of successes. The Sault Elks Lodge selected Osborn as the recipient of its outstanding citizen award for 1962-63. His newspaper career spans more than 50 years.

The public housing question in Sault Ste. Marie is off and running in a new controversy. The city commission voted to instruct the housing commission to proceed with 200 units of public housing in the Soo. The move was billed as part of the bargaining procedure the city finds itself in as a result of the Feb. 18 vote in favor of a cutback to 50 units for the elderly, instead of the original 200 units proposed. The action followed a lengthy and sometimes heated discussion, with City Attorney John E. LaRock reading a five-page opinion in which he contended the results of the Feb. 18 election are in no way binding on the city contract of June 1962 for construction of the 200 units. "It is my opinion that even though the majority of the voters approved the amendment on Feb. 18, it is your duty as the city commission in charge of the spending of public money to protect the taxpayers whose money would be required to pay the damages if the city contract with the federal government were breached," LaRock said.

Mrs. Charlotte Armstrong, former Vulcan resident, has published a new novel, "A Little Less Than Kin," a story of suspense. A previous novel, "The Unsuspected," was serialized in the Saturday Evening Post and later made into a movie. She also has written short stories, TV and movie scripts and Broadway plays. She now lives in Glendale, Calif.

Moving toward the establishment of the Bay de Noc Community College in Escanaba, trustees met with Richard L. Rinehart, president, recently and discussed courses of study, hiring of faculty and lease of the Escanaba Senior High School building as the initial home for the college. (A new high school has been built). The college will have a degree transfer program covering pre-law, business administration, education, pre-science and secretarial science, plus terminal technical courses.

Mackinac Bridge traffic for February registered an increase of only 10 vehicles over the same month last year. "It is interesting to note," said Prentiss M. Brown, St. Ignace, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, "that passenger car traffic only for February was 4.1 per cent ahead of last year despite the subzero temperatures throughout the month. However, truck traffic was down 12.3 per cent, and as a result the revenues for February were off 3.3 per cent."

Mrs. Irene Johnson of Sagola was awarded a $4,000 damage judgment in Iron County Circuit Court in a suit against Mrs. Alda Bartolameoli, Iron Mountain, former proprietor of the Sagola Clubhouse. Mrs. Johnson sought $100,000 for the death of her son in a car accident in Sagola on July 31, 1961. Mrs. Johnson alleged that the clubhouse, a licensed tavern, sold intoxicants to a Sagola driver prior to the accident. After the driver left the clubhouse, his car reportedly crashed into a parked car in front of the Johnson home. Johnson, standing on the side of the front end of the car with the hood raised, was making some minor motor repairs. He was killed instantly.

couple of weeks away, but no one who knows the Upper Peninsula puts much stock in that, knowing there can be plenty of wintry weather long after spring's formal debut.

Still there is reason to hope that things might be different this year. The Upper Peninsula—along with a lot of the rest of the United States—has undergone a record-breaking winter, and the law of averages dictates that the weather should now change for the better. Certainly no one doubts that Northern Peninsulans have earned a mild spring this year after the kind of winter we've had.

In Marquette the winter was the coldest on record. At last count, we had shivered through 36 days on which the temperature had registered zero or below. Residents of Iron Mountain have had even worse weather—at least 45 days of subzero readings. A number of daily minimum temperature records were set during our cold spells. And a most unenviable record was established on Jan. 31 when the longest period of subzero weather in modern history ended in Marquette after 19 consecutive days of zero or subzero readings.

To the homeowner, the biggest effect of all this ultra-cold weather was on his pocketbook. Furnaces ran almost continuously and fuel bills soared. At the Michigan College of Mining and Technology the central heating plant consumed 1,172 tons of coal in January—45 more tons than the top mark for any previous month.

Many homeowners also had to contend with the nasty inconvenience of frozen water lines. A few days ago Merrill W. Froney, Marquette's water department superintendent, requested all Marquette residents to let water run continuously in their homes to prevent more frozen lines. At that time 494 frozen service lines already had been reported to the water department, an all-time record total. In Sault Ste. Marie the water line freeze-up got so bad that several schools had to be closed.

The cold spell caused speculation on whether Lake Superior might freeze over for the first time in recorded history. At one time last month the big lake was close to setting that unwelcome precedent. Canadian commercial airlines pilots reported only 25 to 75 miles of water visible during late February. Since then, however, pilots at the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base have reported that patches of open water followed the recent spell of warmer weather and wind shifts.

The other Great Lakes also felt the impact of the extended frigid weather. On Lake Michigan the Ann Arbor Railroad ferry has been experiencing its worst winter in half a century. Heavy ice has caused a curtailment in ferry schedules. Cold weather made ice faster than ships could cut channels in the ice. Commercial fishing operations also were impeded by the heavy ice.

This raises the question of when the navigation season will open on Lake Superior and the lower lakes. Predictions are that opening of navigation will be late and that navigation will be fraught with difficulty when it does get under way.

There also is the question of how the heavy ice in Lake Superior will affect Marquette's summer. If all that ice lingers in the lake, it might provide this area with a natural refrigerator well into the summer. Most residents aren't worrying about that right now, though. They're concentrating on enjoying the almost spring-like weather that has come in the wake of the worst winter on record.

BIG VOTE — IN BERLIN

West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, has an election and 89.9 per cent of the electorate votes.

This is a much higher percentage than mustered in elections in homelands of the three powers responsible for freedom in West Berlin — the United States, Britain and France. And it's far, far ahead of the turnout in Detroit's primary.

Nothing makes a man cherish and exercise his right to vote so much as the realization that all around him people have lost that right. It is a lesson we should all take to heart. — Detroit News

Ishpeming's Remarkable History Of Skiing Dates To Jan. 24, 1887

ISHPEMING — The history of skiing in Ishpeming dates to Jan. 24, 1887, when the Norden Ski Club, first group of its kind in the Lake Superior district and one of the first in the United States, was organized here.

Since that date Ishpeming has become known the world over for its brilliant history in skiing. The little city was to become the birthplace of skiing in America, the site of the National Ski Museum and the home of the Ishpeming Ski Club, which has sent more riders to more tournaments and they have taken more prizes — than any other club in America.

Because of the popular reception, a second tournament was held the same year. Skis were long, poles were used and skiers jumped from a hill to the flats.

Of interest in connection with the second tournament was the appearance of a late comer at the meet — a gentleman who arrived too late to be a contestant. He was Carl Tellefsen, who gave an exhibition in which he out-jumped the winner of the meet, Tellefsen, employed in the Ishpeming National Bank, was later to be one of the pioneers in the development of the National Ski Association and its first president.

Ishpeming changed hills for the first time in 1889, when the tournament was held on the Lake Superior Mine hill. In 1891 the first out-of-town riders — four skiers from Red Wing, Minn. — entered a meet in Ishpeming, Eau Claire, Wis., also was represented.

Two successive years of poor skiing weather made tournaments difficult to promote, and the sport fell into a decline. Those who had thoroughly enjoyed the sport deplored this, and they revived skiing here around the turn of the century.

Tournament Association Formed
A group known as the Ishpeming Tournament Association was formed to promote a tournament. They selected the third of Ishpeming's ski hills, Brasswire, and the association staged a tournament considered the most successful that had yet been held in Ishpeming.

This brought a fall flow of confidence to the sponsors, and they met April 18, 1901, to form the Ishpeming Ski Club. Tellefsen, who had been the 1901 tournament chairman, was named president; Albert Oas, secretary; Erick Hoyseth, treasurer and captain; Peter Handberg, second captain, and Thomas Thompson, lieutenant.

Founder Of Junior Skiing
Tellefsen is credited by Oas with being the founder of junior skiing here. The first known boys division was created in Ishpeming, and Tellefsen, according to Oas, was outstanding in his encouragement of boys to adopt skiing as a sport. From that day forward Ishpeming has never lacked newer and younger skiing talent.

On Feb. 21, 1904, the National Ski Association was organized in Ishpeming with Tellefsen as its first president. The Central organization, forerunner of the NSA, had been started in Ishpeming on Jan. 16, 1891.

Askel Holter, Ashland, Wis., first secretary of the NSA (its first treasurer was Erick Hoyseth of Ishpeming) recalled a tournament staged in Ishpeming the day after formation of the NSA. "The tournament," he said, "was not national in scope, as only local talent took part, with exception of several skiers from Red Wing, who were paid by the local club to add color to the tournament.

"It was decided to call the event the next day the National, more as an advertising feature to point to the event slated to be held in 1905. The national officers were elected from local members in comback, opening the season on his home hill with jumps of 211 and 198 to win the city title. Then on to the famous Norge Ski Club tourney in Chicago, where he topped a fast field with jumps of 171 and 196 feet. He also won the Eau Claire tourney.

Heart Breaker
He went on to place second at Ishpeming, with jumps of 232 and 228 and a third place on the same hill with jumps of 229 and 224 feet.

The 1961 heart breaker came during the nationals at Brattleboro, Vt., where he smashed through with jumps of 203 and 200 feet for a total point score of 224-3. This was 4/10ths of a point less than the winning total of 224.7 earned by Ansten Samuelstuen who won the title. He also won the Central U. S. title in 1961 at Duluth with jumps of 193 and 220 feet for a total of 28.5 out of a 240 maximum.

In 1962 Kotlarek, a student at the University of Minnesota, Duluth, concentrated on his studies and found little time for training for ski jumping. He went on, however, to win the Duluth annual invitational with jumps of 202 and 209 feet. At Chicago he placed third and a third at Ishpeming. At Steamboat Springs he made jumps of 310 and 311 and due to falls was eliminated from the top spots.

Even with little time for true training during the 1962 season he topped the field at Madison, Wis., to win the top spot in the Central U. S. jumping event.

Won Iron Mountain Tourney
He went on to Iron Mountain, on March 3, 1962, and won the tourney with leaps of 288 and 310 feet against the top rated Pekka Tirkkonen and Timo Kivela of Finland. On March 4 Tirkkonen out-jumped Kotlarek to win the event. Kotlarek had jumps of 303 and 301 for a second place.

He placed third in the Norge ski tourney at Chicago, first in the Duluth annual, then in the Paul Bietila at Ishpeming. At 10th at Steamboat Springs, where he made falling jumps of 310 and 311 feet.

Smashed Hill Record
Kotlarek climbed right back into the top rankings when he won the 1963 city title event, copped top laurels at the Chicago Norge competition by smashing the hill record.

He landed in second place at Duluth in two days of Olympic try-out-jumping and during the nationals at Steamboat Springs he twice broke the United States hill record with leaps of 318 and 322 feet to top the entire field and win the United States ski jumping title in the senior class.

He returned to Westby, Wis., where he won top honors in the senior division with leaps of 287 and 297 feet.

In 1959 the Duluth youth was voted the nation's no. 1 competitor through the award of the 1959 American Ski Trophy. Eugene Kotlarek will add tremendous strength to the United States Olympic team in the winter games at Innsbruck, Austria, in 1964.

20th Century-Fox Set To Open Studio Again
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Darryl F. Zanuck says he is going to put 20th Century-Fox studio back in the business of making motion pictures.

When he took over the troubled studio last summer practically his first action was to close it.

Zanuck said the studio will make at least 14 movies this year at a cost of $50 million and all but four of them will be filmed in Hollywood.

Zanuck said filming abroad does not save money. "You pay less in salaries but you take twice as long," he said.

Kotlarek Follows Famous Father To Greatness In Skiing World

BY HAROLD A. GRINDEN

Historian
U. S. Ski Association

Eugene Kotlarek (Gene to his fellow skiers), member of the Duluth Ski Club, has been competing in the sport of ski jumping ever since he was eight years old.

Twenty-two-year-old Kotlarek is continuing to follow a pattern of smashing hill records and capturing national titles on a level similar to the one established by his father, George.

John S. Olson left last night for Chicago to purchase a stock of spring goods for the Iron Store. He expects to be absent about two weeks and will visit in Joliet and other points.

—Negaunee—
John Ellis has accepted a position with the Columbia Mining Co. of Hibbing and will leave for that place next Tuesday. Mr. Ellis has been shift boss at the Cambria Mine for seven years.

As early as 1956 young Gene was becoming recognized as a top fliager, and we like to point to the Duluth city ski jumping championship when he made jumps of 189, 199 and 203 feet to win the boys class on the giant hill at Fond du Lac (suburban Duluth).

Smashing Victory
In 1957 he piled up 220 points with two leaps of 108 feet to cop top honors in the Sons of Norway boys event on the small slide at Chester Park. This same year he topped the jumpers in the District 26 high school event and went on to Reno, Nev., to win the Class I (16-17 years) national title for juniors. He made jumps of 133 and 124 feet in the junior nationals.

In 1958 he started the season with a smashing victory on his home hill when he outclassed a fast junior field. He piled up a total score of 223.9 with jumps of 211 and 203. That year he copped the St. Paul tourney and the Paul Bietila championships at Ishpeming and went on to win the United States Junior title with leaps of 264 and 251 at Iron Mountain. He placed 12th in the FIS tryouts at Ishpeming against the top skier in the senior division.

Outclassed Senior Competitors
The year 1959 was another important one for the youthful ski jumping ace. He leaped 199 and 195 to win the honors in the Duluth city championship and went on to build up a total of 234.5 points in the St. Paul title event where he made jumps of 178 and 176.

During the St. Paul tournament he rolled up the highest total point score ever recorded in a St. Paul competition. This was actually 5 1/2 points short of a perfect score. In this competition Kotlarek, as a junior skier, outclassed the entire field on senior competitors by a total of 20.7 points.

Year Of Bad Breaks
On Feb. 27 he went on to Leavenworth, Wash., to defend his U. S. junior title but there landed in second place due to a fall on his second jump. He cleared 299 feet and then fell at 289. Even with a falling jump he scored a total of 206.7 as compared to a total of 212.1 for the winner.

1960 was the year of bad breaks for Kotlarek. In the nationals at Iron Mountain he put together two jumps of 299 and 313 and with a fall on his second jump landed in 15th position. In the Olympic tune-up at Steamboat Springs he landed in third place with jumps of 271 and 298. Then he went on to Leavenworth, where he jumped 308 and 311 feet to win first place. On his second jump he smashed the hill record. Then came utter disaster at Squaw Valley in the Olympic Games where everything seemed to go wrong.

Journey To Europe
This didn't stop the young skiing ace. He went on to Banff the week after the games and against some of the best in the world he placed third with jumps of 278 and 242 feet.

From Banff he went on to Europe placing third at Lahti, Finland, against the top skiers of the country; a second at Ski, Norway, and tied for 19th place in the famous Holmenkollen in Norway.

Ski Flying Ventures
One of the highlights of the tour in Europe was the opportunity to compete on the ski flying hill at Planica, Yugoslavia. In three days of jumping on the big hill young Kotlarek came out in fifth place against the great ski jumpers of Europe. His best jump was 108 1/2 meters (356 feet). The first four places in the special Planica jumping went to Recknagel of Germany; Arne Larson, Norway; Raimo Vitkanen of Finland and Kurt Schramm of Germany.

In 1961 Kotlarek staged a real

GOP Drive To Cut Budget

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Spearheading the Republican drive to cut between $10 billion and $15 billion from President Kennedy's $108 billion budget for next year are Rep. Frank T. Bow of Canton, Ohio, and other GOP members of the House Appropriations Committee.

Bow and his group will operate under Republican congressional leaders, but they will seek support for their budget-cutting from economy-minded Democrats.

Coalition Crisscross
Republicans realize they can't succeed in this operation without Democratic votes, but they played this coalition crisscross game in cutting Truman Administration budgets in the 80th Congress and they think they can do it again.

If the Republicans and their Democratic kindred spirits can make major cuts in next year's budget, they believe it will justify the tax cut both parties want. The President's tax reform program is left out of the operation.

Maurice Stans, President Eisenhower's last Budget Bureau director, has done the research job and compiled the figures which will be used as basic for the Republican-planned cuts. Stans will not take an active part in the operation; he'll stay in the background as an adviser.

Cross Country Commuter
During the past month or so he has been commuting from his Los Angeles home to Washington while making an item-by-item and line-by-line analysis of the Kennedy budget.

Cutting the President's request for $108 billion in new obligatory authority by $10 billion or $15 billion would mean $98 billion to $93 billion figure. The resulting cut in spending for the year beginning next July 1 would be from $4 billion to $6 billion. This would make an administrative expenditure budget of from $93 to $95 billion in place of the President's $99 billion.

Possible economies suggested by Stans do not represent an across-the-board percentage cut. Reductions are considered possible for every major item in the budget, however, including even national defense and exploration of outer space.

Would Cut Space Program
While no figures are being given out now, it is believed that defense cuts will be sought at a little lower percentage figure than for most of the civilian agencies. For smaller agencies, where cuts of less than $500,000 are considered possible, they are indicated as nominal and no great effort will be made to pare them down.

The space program definitely would be cut back to slow down the program and bring it under tighter, more efficient control. The expressed idea is to take the frenzy out of the present crash program.

The $40 billion estimated total cost of putting men on the moon would remain. Whether the mission would be accomplished by 1968 or maybe 1975 isn't considered important.

34 Per Cent Increase
One of the points Republicans are emphasizing in planning these cuts is that they will not result in an austere budget.

Their idea is to stop budget growth for a few years and stabilize expenditures so the economy can catch up. If this isn't done, Republicans say the budget won't be balanced for years.

The point out that Eisenhower submitted an $81 billion new obligatory authority budget for fiscal 1962. Kennedy's $108 billion budget for 1964 is a 34 per cent increase in two years.

"What we need," says one Republican, "is an adding machine on the President's desk so he can keep track of the cost of all the new programs he is asking for."

The Republicans want to stop non-emergency public works and put a moratorium on new projects not essential to security. Government construction—$7 billion in 1962—is estimated at $9 billion for 1964 under the Kennedy budget.

Government civilian employment would be cut back by the GOP economy drive, but it is said this will not endanger national security or public welfare. The idea is to cut the planned 500,000 increase of government personnel by June 30, 1964.

CASTLES IN SPAIN

Dictator Franco is, at the least, a remarkable bargainer. He has prospered despite unpopularity by playing both ends against the middle. At home he has used one power bloc against another. In the war he espoused the Axis cause but refused to fight the Allies. Currently he is offering President de Gaulle a modest defense agreement in return for a push into the Common Market. And he also is playing the United States against Russia, by asking high prices of the former for bases to defend the West against the latter.

The generalissimo is trying to raise the ante for three American air bases and the Rota naval base. To extend the 10-year bases agreement, which ends Sept. 26, Franco is reported seeking Spanish membership in NATO and more than $200,000,000 in military aid. The latter already totals a half-billion in economic assistance.

It is no wonder that Chairman Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee says the new demands would be "completely unjustified." The United States cannot shove Spain down the throats of its NATO allies. The three air bases are not worth heavy payments, if Secretary McNamara is right about the decline of the manned bomber in an age of missiles. The Rota naval base would be useful for Polaris submarines, which Italy presently is reluctant to accept, but Washington officials say they have other bases in mind.

Thus there is no good reason for the United States to beg for castles in Spain. Though the fascist dictator can obstruct the Western alliance, he has no way to turn but toward the West for defense or for trade. It is he that seeks the greater favors, and it is NATO and the Common Market that must set the terms for granting them. Spanish isolation can be ended when the Spanish government is ready to cooperate with Western objectives and principles. The United States need not try to help end it sooner. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Three Graduates Of Tech Get Patents At General Motors

HOUGHTON — Three Michigan Tech graduates have been listed among recent recipients of patents at General Motors, according to the latest issue of the GM Engineering Journal.

They are Arthur F. Bohnhoff, who received his B.S. degree in mechanical engineering in 1938; Ralph M. Stallard, B.S. in electrical engineering in 1957; and Joseph C. Armbrust, B.S. in mechanical engineering in 1953.

Bohnhoff, a senior project engineer in the Saginaw Steering Gear Division, invented a brake booster unit. Stallard, senior production engineer at the Fisher Body Division in Warren, perfected a trim panel joint covering and Armbrust, a foreman at the Fisher Body Division, was responsible for an arm block-up device.

Results Reported On Survey Of Salaries Offered College Seniors; NMU, Tech Included

Despite continuing stiff competition to lure college graduates into the corporate fold, employers are managing to hold the line on beginning salary offers to this year's crop of college seniors.

Figures came from a survey conducted recently by the college placement council, national headquarters of the eight regional placement associations of the U. S. and Canada. Survey statistics include the average dollar value of more than 5,500 offers made to male, first-degree candidates in 11 key curricula.

The survey was based on data from placement officers at 91 selected colleges from coast to coast, including Northern Michigan University and Michigan Tech.

Indicative of the stability in the higher paying categories are the mid-season figures which were released this week.

Two of the top three curricula stayed at exactly the same spot on the salary scale since the council's initial report Jan. 3 — electrical engineering at $604 and physics at $593.

The one exception was aeronautical engineering which dropped $7 to $601 and, as a result, slipped to second place behind electrical engineering.

First Five Listed

Despite a $2 drop to $597 since early January, the aircraft field continued to set the pace in dollar value of average offers by the 16 employer groups covered in the survey.

Others in the first five remained in the same order: electronics and instrument manufacturers, $592; electrical machinery manufacturers, $584; chemicals and drug manufacturers, $497; and metals, $574.

Aircraft Leads In Offers

Aircraft also continued to lead in number of offers but there was a reshuffling in the next four spots. Electronics moved into sec-

To Form Corporation

The four trainees proposed for the Sault is similar to trains used in other U. S. cities, particularly in the south, such as at St. Augustine, Key West and Biloxi. It consists of an automobile designed to look like a locomotive pulling a string of two-wheel trailers designed to look like train coaches.

The two partners, who plan to form a corporation, hope to start their operation June 1 with the trains going past the Soo Locks, Coast Guard Base, the Johnston and Schoolcraft homes and on to Sugar Island.

Rich Historical Background

"We have found these trains are successful only in towns which have a rich historical background and I am certain we have this in the Sault," said Sagrent. He said four conductors will describe all points of interest and those on the tour will be invited to return and visit at completion of the tour.

The depot will be remodeled for curio shop purposes at present, and the lawn area between the depot and Magazine St. will be used for a park and for serving outdoor lunches. The area west of the depot will be used for parking purposes.

10 Qualify For Educational Trip; Contest Ends March 16

Ten newspaperboys have qualified for The Mining Journal's educational trip to Washington, D.C., this spring, including one who has earned enough points to make the journey with all expenses paid.

The newspaper boys are earning points for the trip in the newspaper's economy reading plan contest, which will be concluded next week.

In the contest, boys earn two points for each combination magazine subscription, two points for each Mining Journal subscription and six points for each combination magazine-newspaper subscription sold.

A choice of three or four national magazines, from a list of 40, are being offered to subscribers of The Mining Journal in the contest, at a reduced rate.

Kozlowski Top Carrier

John Kozlowski, 15, a carrier at K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base, is the newspaperboy to earn at least 100 points and thereby win the trip with all expenses paid. Newspaperboys earning at least 50 points qualify for the trip (and may "buy in" the necessary additional points needed to go).

In addition to the 10 who have already qualified, another eight newspaperboys are nearing the 50-point mark and are expected to reach it before the end of the contest on Saturday, March 16.

This is the ninth Mining Journal subscription campaign in which newspaperboys earn points to make educational trips. The group this year will leave here Monday, April 29, by way of the Mackinac Bridge, and will return here Thursday, May 2.

In all, 186 newspaperboys from the tri-county area are competing in the contest.

The trip winners will go on sight-seeing tours while in the Capital, including visits to the House and Senate Chambers and the White House.

Construction Safety Bill Reported Out

LANSING (AP) — More of Gov. George Romney's "top-priority" legislation was on the move in the House today as a remodeled construction safety bill was reported out.

With the controversial federal ADC-U bill — another of the top five administration-backed measures — already passed and in the Senate — House Republican leaders continued to prod their committees to get important House-based legislation ahead of the March 20 deadline.

New Wrinkles

The construction safety bill emerged from the Labor Committee with unanimous support and some significant new wrinkles.

Among them is a "point system" under which licensed construction contractors would be rated annually for safety provisions by the state.

"It's an excellent bill, maybe the best ever," said Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, labor committee chairman.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Harold Hungerford, R - Lansing, was originally a duplicate of a Romney-backed bill still in committee in the Senate.

Amendment

The rating system, added as an amendment in the labor committee, would be handled by a five-member state construction safety commission which the bill also would create.

Licensed contractors would be required to file annual reports with the commission on the total number of man - hours worked by their employees and the total number of injuries costing loss of time in the previous year.

Dear Abby....

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What, in your opinion, is a good line of work for a girl to get into if she is interested in getting a man?

ANXIOUS
DEAR ANXIOUS: Nursing — a man loves a girl who knows how to rub his back. Air line stewardess — where else can you find a man already strapped down?

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a good woman except for one thing. She is a lousy cook. Everything she makes tastes the same. She smokes while she cooks and ashes fall into the food. I am always finding something in my dinner that doesn't belong there. One night the supper is under-cooked and the next night it's burned. She hasn't cooked a good meal since I married her and it's been six years. Any suggestions?

INDIGESTION
DEAR INDIGESTION: Your problem didn't originate in the kitchen, and chances are it can't be solved by me in your mailbox. A woman who doesn't care enough about her husband to TRY to put a good meal in front of him needs more help than I can give her in a letter. If there is a marriage counselor in your area, invite him to dinner.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me how you can keep an old witch of a mother-in-law out of your house? This one has had four husbands. Buried one, divorced one and drove the fourth one crazy. (No joking—he is in a mental institution.) She comes over every day, uninvited, and orders everybody around. She talks incessantly and criticizes everything and everybody. She has two other children who are lucky enough to live out of town, and they treat her like they don't even know she is alive. My husband tells me not to pay any attention to her. How can I accomplish this miracle? I think she needs psychiatric care.

VERY VERY NERVOUS
DEAR NERVOUS: Think of your mother-in-law as someone just two steps ahead of the man in the white coat and your resentment will turn to compassion and your anger to resignation. Do this for your own sanity, or you will beat her to the psychiatrist.

Here is a recent photo of the Karlsruud Chorale which will appear in Ishpeming High School Auditorium on March 20 as the concluding program of the Ishpeming Concert Series arranged by George Quaal Presentations. Each member of the ensemble is a competent professional solist in his own right with an extensive professional background. Edmond Karlsruud, a bass-baritone who stars in the chorale concerts, is pictured, center. Norman Johnson is the director-accompanist for the chorus and

Charles Touchette is the arranger-musical director. The program will include great masterpieces for male chorus as well as many special arrangements by Touchette created especially for the Karlsruud group.

19 Playing In Musical's Orchestra

When the curtain is lowered on each performance next week of the Northern Michigan University all-college production of "Guys and Dolls," the Frank Loesser Broadway-hit musical comedy, much of the credit for an enjoyable evening will undoubtedly go to the members of the pit orchestra.

Nineteen talented musicians, performing under the baton of Dr. Harold L. Wright, head of the NMU music department and general coordinator for the musical, have been assembled for the production. Six of the student musicians are residents of Marquette and the immediate vicinity. These include the concertmaster, Joellyn Keranen; Carol Rheault, cello; and Don Rittenhouse, trumpet, all of Marquette. The other three — from Negaunee — are Andrea Hemmila, Gail Vanni, and Rae Warner, all violinists.

Others Listed

Other students in the orchestra include Larry Baker (trombone), Lake; Donald Bruner (percussion); Livonia; Den Dupuaine clarinet and tenor saxophone; Menominee; Donald Keranen (baritone saxophone), Baraga; Evelyn Peters (trumpet), Charlevoix; Ronald Smith (violin), Detroit; Joe Washburn (french horn), Livonia; Duane Dishaw (piano), Saganaw; Mina Beck (bass clarinet), Negaunee; and Cheryl Ranges (flute), New Rochelle, N. Y.

Three members of the music faculty at Northern will share their talents with the orchestra during the performances. They are Dr. H. Jean Hedlund, alto saxophone; George Papich, bass viol, and Loren Richtmeyer, trumpet.

Show Next Week

The performances of "Guys and Dolls" are scheduled for next Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at Kaye Hall Auditorium. Tickets are now on sale at the University Student Center, and at Johnson's Sporting Goods, Marquette; Violetta's Music Supply, Negaunee; the Style Shop, Ishpeming; and the Red Owl Store, Munising. All seats are reserved.

Assisting Dr. Wright in directing production of the musical are Dr. James L. Rapport, Jerry Stafford, George Papich and Miss Ruth Craig, all of the Northern Michigan faculty, and Naima Prevots, choreographer, whose husband is assigned to K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

received funds from this source when they were established. A board of American bishops passes on the eligibility of churches in small parishes to receive such assistance, Msgr. Casanova said.

$1,000 From Students

Yesterday, a check for $1,000 raised by students at Bishop Baraga Central High School here during the past two months was turned over to the diocesan SPF director for the mission fund. The money, designated for use in this diocese, represented proceeds from several fund-raising projects which the entire school, individual classes and organizations have sponsored in recent weeks.

In addition to Msgr. Zryd and Father Considine, there are 38 other clerics serving as consultants to the Sacred Congregation for Propagation of the Faith in Rome.

Msgr. Zryd, a native of Marquette and widely known throughout the Upper Peninsula, was assigned to Rome three years ago. He holds the rank of protonotary apostolic, which grants him the right to wear certain insignia proper to bishops.

Propagation Of The Faith Post Given To Msgr. Zryd; Another American Named

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph L. Zryd, former vicar general of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette and first pastor of St. Michael's Church here, is one of two American priests named as consultants to the Sacred Congregation for Propagation of the Faith in Rome.

Announcement of Msgr. Zryd's appointment was made a few days ago in Rome, where the former diocesan official is now assigned as rector of the Graduate House of Studies at the North American Association, $5,868.96; and Catholic Near East Association, $708.10. In addition, collections taken for particular missions under the Mission Cooperation Plan included $2,270 for foreign missions, and among other gifts and special bequests was $4,560 for training of native clergy abroad. The remainder, in Mass stipends, was for various other mission programs.

Of monies earmarked for American missions, the Diocese of Marquette has in the past few years drawn an estimated $25,000 annually to help finance church building programs. In this area, St. Michael's, St. Louis the King and St. Christopher's parishes here and St. Pius X Church in North Lake Association, $5,868.96; and Catholic Near East Association, $708.10. In addition, collections taken for particular missions under the Mission Cooperation Plan included $2,270 for foreign missions, and among other gifts and special bequests was $4,560 for training of native clergy abroad. The remainder, in Mass stipends, was for various other mission programs.

Msgr. Casanova is also vice-chancellor of the diocese and pastor of St. Christopher's Church here. He reported today that chief sources for the diocesan mission fund, in addition to memberships in the Society for Propagation of the Faith and the Holy Childhood Association, are the collections taken in churches on Mission Sunday, the third Sunday in October.

Sixty per cent of the U. S. SPF memberships go to the Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, head of the national office in New York City for forwarding to Rome for foreign missions and 40 per cent goes to the American Board of Catholic Missions for distribution in this country, the director said. Division of the Mission Sunday collections is made on the basis of 51 per cent for foreign missions, nine per cent for the Catholic Near East Association, also headquartered in New York City, and 40 per cent for U. S. missions.

Best U.S. Ski Jumpers Set For Olympic Tryouts

Team To Be Picked After 2-Day Tests

ISHPEMING — One of Ishpeming's brightest hours! This mining community, host to innumerable conventions, homecomings and sporting events that have attracted many thousands of visitors over the years, today was prepared for a great influx of Upper Michigan residents interested in seeing America's greatest ski jumpers battle for berths on the 1964 Olympic team.

The Olympic tryouts — six rides per man — will be split into two sections, Saturday and Sunday, with the Paul Bieltla Memorial Tournament being conducted simultaneously with Saturday's competition.

Dinner, Open House, Dance This Weekend

ISHPEMING — Most of the thrills and excitement of an Ishpeming ski tournament take place at Suicide Hill, of course, but other activities are scheduled during the weekend to provide entertainment for skiers, visitors and residents alike.

Preceding tomorrow's start of jumping in the Olympic tryouts will be a dinner and reception this evening for the press and United States Olympic Committee officials. The Ishpeming Ski Club will be host at the affair.

The dinner will be held in the Mather Inn, headquarters for the ski program and the hub around which all of the weekend events are centered.

An "open house" and dance are scheduled for Saturday night.

The "open house" will take place at the United States Ski Hall of Fame, and is for skiers and officials. The Ski Hall of Fame and Museum, however, are open all during the weekend to visitors who wish to see exhibits of trophies and historic skis and equipment. There will be no charge for a tour of the museum, but those who wish to do so may make a silver contribution.

Snow Ball, Dinner

Also on Saturday night is the annual Snow Ball, to be held in the Mather Inn. The public is invited to this affair, which will be highlighted by introduction of skiers competing in the Olympic team tryouts. The skiers and their wives or girlfriends will take part in the grand march.

The public also is invited to the annual ski dinner, set for Sunday evening in the Phelps Intermediate School. Tickets may be obtained at the door. Members of the 1964 American Olympic ski jumping team who will compete in Innsbruck, Austria, next February will be introduced at the dinner and awards presented to winners of the Saturday and Sunday competition.

Topflight Judges To Pick Olympic Jumping Squad

ISHPEMING — The list of judges for the American Olympic Ski Jumping Tryouts — qualified men, all of them — was announced today by Dr. Jack Bieltla, president of the Ishpeming Ski Club, who has been handling preparations for the event for the United States Ski Association.

Judge Important Person At Ski Jumping Events

(Waino Mantyla of Ishpeming is experienced as a competitor and an official in ski jumping circles.)

By WAINO MANTYLA

A ski jumper who intends to enter into this country and overseas training seriously for weeks and months. He therefore has the right to be judged by men who also have trained themselves for the job. It is the duty of every judge to see that each jumper is given every consideration to which he is entitled.

All judges must have a thorough knowledge of the standards of style, and must understand the reasons and results of deviations from the accepted standards of style. This knowledge is obtained through considerable trial judging and the taking of written examinations before being certified as a competent ski jumping judge.

Judge Needs Practice, Too
The judge must be so familiar with ski jumping that he can actually feel himself in the jumper's position at any time on the hill. The judge should know just what causes a jumper to do things he is doing on each jump, and give that jumper credit for his good points and also penalize him for his mistakes.

The judge needs just as much practice as the jumper. He should, therefore, officiate and practice just as often as he possibly can.

Here is what actually happens when a judge goes to work: The judge has a set of sheets for the jumping meet, all prepared numerically. They correspond with the numbers you see on each skier's back.

Inasmuch as a judge is supposed to be very fair and impartial, so should the skiers and spectators be fair to the judge. A ride should never be judged by skiers or spectators from the bottom of the hill. The angle from there is very deceiving, for from there you don't see the takeoff or the position of the skier's body in flight. If you must judge a jump, get near the judges' stand and get as nearly the same view as the judge as possible, and really watch for faults committed, and then remember them so you can give the skier a correct estimate of his jump.

It has often been said that a judge does not enjoy the beauty of a ski jump — he sees only the mistakes in one.

A Jumper's Meditations

By RON PORTALE

ISHPEMING — "Let's go" cries the hearty ski jumper after a nourishing breakfast and a last cup of coffee!

A ski jumper's day begins about the same for everyone as the spirit of competition reaches no limits during the short (for skiers, that is) winter months.

With a pair of eight-foot hickories or laminated "planks" over his shoulder and his head held high, a jumper with an eye for better things in the skiing world is off again for a thrill-packed day on a giant of a hill.

Man Of Courage, Daring

What is a ski jumper? This may be a little tricky to answer because we think there's more to it than saying a ski jumper is one who drops down an incline at top speed, arriving at a drop-off and zooming into space and alighting some 200 to 300 feet below on another steep incline. Well, here's the way we see it. A ski jumper is a man of courage, a man of daring and sometimes a man with a foolhardy way of thinking as he makes the long trek up the steep stairways of a breathtakingly high scaffold of a ski jumping hill.

Ever wonder what a young man's thoughts are as he hurriedly makes his way up for a ride down that only lasts seconds? You can be sure of one thing — he's thinking only of making a good leap, which, of course, takes into consideration many aspects.

What He Worries About

Here are some of the things a skier could meditate on as he stares down the huge scaffold which towers among the northern pines and tall white birches: Better check those bindings; check that crouch, better tighten these boots a bit; sweater and shirt tucked in? Hat on tight? hope these skis are fast enough, maybe I should have used silver paraffin today instead of plain wax or maybe I should have used just shellac. Well, guess it's too late to do anything about that now. There's the flag.

Come on, pour it on, you say to yourself as you begin your descent on a fast firm track. That's it, stay low. Comfortable? Fine, now hit it!!! Oomph!!! ahh, feels good, now hold it — let's get a good landing — plunk in there good — smack . . . fine. Well, that one's over with, wonder what the judges thought. Maybe I was a little weak on that takeoff, thought my tips were a little high, maybe a bit too much jackknife . . .

Just about this time, a ski jumper's thoughts are interrupted by an enthusiastic and appreciative crowd applauding over a stirring performance. (A ski jumper is always harder on himself than the spectators are.) With a sign of relief and a smile on his face, this rider of the "slats" feels his ride wasn't so bad after all. His thought continues:

Wonder how the rest of the field will fare? Guess that jump may put me in a good position, after that. Better try for another smooth one next time, only with a little more push seeing that the track is speeding up now that the sun is dropping behind the hills.

Just about the time a jumper is feeling a bit more confident, the roar of the crowd again breaks through the air following another jumper's performance.

"Wow, that was a real 'beaut.' Guess I'll really have to 'crank' one now." (This is a common expression of skiers who are determined to obtain a maximum amount of spring off the takeoff.)

Must Feel Like Winner

Probably the most important aspect of ski jumping is the jumper's mental attitude. In order to be a consistently good jumper, one must feel he himself is the man to beat. In order to be a winner, one must feel like a winner. There's more to ski jumping than going up to the top of a scaffold and pushing off for a few seconds' ride.

This sport of ski jumping is the same throughout the world. The love of the sport is a compelling factor in how good a person can do. Since ski jumping is an individual sport, one must look out for himself. Sometimes, it takes hours and even days to get the "feel" of a particular hill, because of the tricky takeoffs, the steep inclines on the scaffolding and landing or the terrific wind pressure on many of the larger hills.

Many a ski jumper has hung up his skis for such reasons. Mastery of the smaller hills, but a lack of ability to cope with bigger ones have forced many promising skiers to drop from the skiing spotlight. You can be sure their hearts

Olympic Title For Balfanz?

ISHPEMING — Unless experts miss their guess, spectators at the Olympic trials here Saturday and Sunday may be seeing the next—and also the first American — Olympic ski-jumping champion in action.

No American ever has finished better than fourth in ski jumping. The rider held most likely to bring home his country's first gold or maybe silver or bronze medal from next year's Winter Games at Innsbruck, Austria, is 22-year-old John Balfanz of Minneapolis.

During a nine-week tour competing in European tournaments this winter he beat Europe's best in two tournaments, at Mulbach Austria, and Kouvoila, Finland.

Art Togle, once America's top jumper and the man who will coach the 1964 U.S. ski riders, says of Balfanz:

"John is one of the world's greatest right now, and he is still improving as he acquires experience. . . He is just beginning to tap his great jumping ability."

A 145-pound blond strappingly hardy broader than the combined width of his skis, Balfanz says confidently: "I'm going to give it a try, and I think maybe I can do it. But don't overlook Gene Kotlarek because he rates with the world's best."

Balfanz set a new hill record of 287 feet at Kouvoila, and was fifth at Lappenranta, Finland, where John Bower of Auburn, Maine, became the first American to win the Nordic combined title in a major international tournament.

In the German-Austrian Tournament, held at four different sites, Balfanz was fourth, behind Norway's Toralf Engen, East Germany's Helmut Recknagel (the 1960 Olympic champ) and Austria's Max Bokart.

Normally, the selection committee takes the first six in the trials, but it can pick whoever it wants, and the U.S. Ski Association hopes to send 10 to Europe next winter for pre-Olympics training, naming the six competitors from these.

more dangerous, have the desire to do something out of the ordinary, then place him in an area with ski jumping hills, give him a nudge and say "go to it," and from then on, there's a ski jumper!

Sounds simple, doesn't it? Well, it is, as there's evidence to support these statements. One only has to visit a ski jump and ask the ages of some of the tots attempting to conquer the worst (and you better believe some of these hills are really in rough shape).

We feel a ski jumper is born with the urge to sail off into space just as much as a youngster who has a yen to fly or to run faster or jump higher than his friends.

Emeralds Rally, Catch' Michigamme After Indians Roll Into District 'D' Finals

Champion and Negaunee St. Paul set a collision course for the District Class D championship game, Saturday night, as the Indians repeated their one-sided regular-season win over Republic, 78-55, and St. Paul streaked from behind to down valiant little Michigamme, 59-47.

The Emeralds have lost twice to Champion, but forced the Indians into overtime at home, and lost by just two at Champion.

Scoring champ Billy Koski added 37 points to his total, going 13-for-14 from the free throw line, while his co-starters pretty well split up 36 more.

Clark Sullivan scored 14, Ross Kaleva, Bill McClintock and Bill Prusi, 10 each as the Hawks ended up with a 10-9 mark while the Indians recorded their 21st victory.

Champion moved to a 14-2 lead in the early minutes with four players scoring. Down 19-12 at the quarter, Republic fought back, slashing the lead to a single point, 21-20. Koski scored four, but Kaleva and Prusi matched that for a 25-24.

But somebody put the lid on, right then and there. Bill Koski scored 10, Richie Koski, four, and Republic, nothing, in the rest of the half.

Down 39-24 at the half, Republic couldn't come back again. Michigamme, one of the smallest high schools fielding a basketball team, may have been one foul away from a berth in the finals.

That foul was one Rodney Guizzetti couldn't be induced to commit. The slender St. Paul center picked up three in the first quarter, another midway in the third. He sat out the second period, and the rest of the third.

But it was a hot rod who returned to action in the fourth period, scoring 15 points as the Emeralds hit on nine of 11 shots, while the Eagles went cold, hitting on only one of seven attempts.

At that, Michigamme was the only team in the doubleheader to crack 40 per cent from the field.

St. Paul moved to an 8-2 lead before Coach Ron Collins' Eagles settled down. Michigamme tied the count at 10-all, seconds into the second quarter. The Emeralds moved to a 15-10 lead and again the Eagles settled down. They took the lead with 3:34 left in the half, and moving out in front, 24-19. Jim Innerebner had 16 points in the first two quarters.

Marshall Chancelois and Jalmor Lakonen moved the lead to 30-21. Innerebner made it 10 points and, later, James Lovelace boosted it to ten, 40-30, on a free throw.

The Negaunee parochials were on the move after that. Lonnie St. Aubin and Colin Jacobetti trimmed the lead to 42-34 at the three-quarter mark, and Guizzetti came back into action to tie the score with 6:41 to go.

Lakonen broke the tie with two free throws, but Dominic Jacobetti knotted it with 5:55 left and Guizzetti broke the fifth and last tie with a 20-footer. Rodney added another bucket.

With 4:19 left, Coach Allan Dighera had his Emeralds stalling on offense and pressing on defense. Lakonen hit on an 18-foot jumper to make it 50-46, but the Eagles had

Model Town Wins Thriller Over IHS '5'

NEGAUNEE — "Barn Burners" and "Chiff Hangers" are terms that have been used by sports writers many times to describe the type of ball game played last night at

There will be no reserved seats for the Class B district final between Negaunee and Gwinn at Memorial gymnasium, Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Tournament Manager Dominic Ghiardi said the doors of the basketball arena will open at 6:30 Saturday, for general admission ticket sales.

Memorial Gymnasium in which Gwinn High nipped Ishpeming 66-64 in the semi-finals of the Class B district basketball tournament.

It was a nip and tuck affair throughout the first half in which the score was tied nine times and the lead changed hands on six occasions.

Throughout the closing two periods Gwinn was ahead by margins varying from two to seven points.

Gwinn held a 26-21 edge on field goals, but Ishpeming picked up eight points of the difference from the charity line where the Hematites had 22 points as compared with 14 by the Model Towners.

In the opening period the score was tied at 2, 4, 6 and 8, before Gwinn moved out in front 14-8 on a bucket by Dan Purple and two field goals by Johnny Erickson.

Ishpeming cut the lead to 14-13 on three free throws and a basket by Doug Perttunen. Dave Copley's long set made the count 16-13, but it was nullified by two gift tosses by Les Coduti.

John Peterson's long one-hander beat the buzzer and gave Ishpeming a 17-16 lead at the quarter.

Coach Jerry Erickson's charges tied the score at 17 all on a free throw by Copley as the second period got underway. Purple's tip-in and free throw as he was fouled on the shot gave Gwinn a three point lead, but a gift shot by Wayne Talus and lay-up by Perttunen tied the score again.

Ishpeming moved in front on a pair of free throws by Perttunen and the Hematites held the two point margin until a minute and a half before the intermission when Martin Ghiardi's basket knotted the count at 29 points. Purple came through with another tip-in to send Gwinn ahead 31-29, and John Fallon converted two free throw attempts five seconds before the buzzer to give the Model Towners a four point spread, 33-29, at the halftime break.

Each club picked up six field goals and two free throws in the third quarter as the Model Towners clung to their four point margin.

Johnny Blanck's free throw and a shot from out court by Copley gave the Erickson quint a seven point lead, 50-43 in the opening minute of the last quarter. Perttunen's two free throws were offset by another set shot by Copley, and during the next four minutes the Model Towners retained a five point advantage, leading 62-57 with 2:50 to play.

Perttunen's free throw and Bruce Swanson's bucket made the count 62-60 with 1:45 remaining on the scoreboard clock. With Ishpeming pressing, Swanson was tagged for a foul and Fallon made both free throws to give Gwinn a four point edge once more. The Hematites moved down the court quickly and Perttunen hit on a jump shot from the top of the circle to narrow the gap to two points with 35 seconds to go.

Gwinn stalled for 20 seconds before Ghiardi was fouled. He missed the first shot on a one and one, but Purple went high in the air to tap in the rebound. It turned out to be the winning bucket, as there was still time enough for the Hematites to score again on a shot from beyond the free throw circle by Peterson which made the final count 66-64.

Once again shooting as though they owned Memorial Gym, the Model Towners averaged 43 per cent on 26 field goals in 60 attempts, while Ishpeming hit 36 per cent on 21 for 57. Gwinn was not nearly as impressive from the free throw line making 14 of 25, while Ishpeming converted 22 of 31.

Doug Perttunen took individual scoring honors with 26 points on nine field goals and eight of 12 free throw attempts. John Fallon and Dan Purple led the Gwinn attack with 19 points apiece.

Hornets Tip Jets On FTs, Vikings Down Trout Creek In Copper Country Action

L'ANSE — The L'Anse Hornets made their fifth victory of the season a big one, boosting themselves to the District Class C finals last night as they tipped Painesdale, 62-61, at the Baraga County Armory.

The Jeffers Jets, who had a three-point decision over the Hornets, plus six more victories this season, matched points through two periods but ran into foul — and, more important, free throw — trouble after that.

L'Anse hit on 16 of 20 free throw attempts in the last half, as Jeffers lost Pat Rozich, Dennis Niemi and Eric Paavainen on fouls.

Ted Holappa was 8-for-9 from the line for the game, but Ted Waltalo hit for 10 baskets and 25 points, while Johnson had seven buckets and 18 points. Holappa ended up with 16.

Painesdale, with a four-point edge from the field, got balanced scoring, but their usual top guns, Dennis Niemi and Jerry Maata, missed only 30 between them, and Maata missed three of four attempts from the line.

L'Anse led by four, 45-41, after three periods, and held the advantage up to seven points the rest of the way. A couple of free throws gave them a four-point bulge with time running out, and they could afford to be a little generous.

L'Anse and Houghton (14-3) tangled at 7:30 Saturday night.

Taylor OK, But Pack Ace Takes It Easy

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — "Yeah, I'm getting a little stronger, but not enough for strenuous work yet," drawled Jimmy Taylor in his easy Louisiana voice.

The all-National Football League fullback of the Green Bay Packers walked out of a hospital Jan. 21, recovering from hepatitis — a virus liver affliction.

Clear Of Infection Taylor, 27, said the doctor "says I'm clear of the infection, and I don't expect it will affect me in any way next season."

Taylor said he probably will have to stick to light activity another six weeks to two months. "I hope to be back in full strength in time for the All-Star Game in Chicago next August," Taylor commented.

Upsets Scarce In U.P.; Three District Titles Up For Grabs Tonight

Three district championships were to be decided on Upper Peninsula basketball courts tonight, with 14 other high school quintets battling to reach Saturday's final round.

Of the only games scheduled in those Class D districts, Sault Lorette and St. Ignace will seek to qualify at St. Ignace for next week's regional tests, as will Crystal Falls and Norway at Kingsford.

Nahma and Garden, which came through semi-final engagements last night at Manistique, will pair off for a Class D crown and the right to take part in the inter-Peninsula regional tournament

March 13-16 at St. Ignace. Class A play starts tonight, with Escanaba - Sault and Marquette Gravaet - Menominee games leading toward the Peninsula District title, at the Northern Michigan fieldhouse.

A sidelight on the Redmen-Maroons game is the presence of Jack Nicholas, standout on last year's Gravaet frosh-soph squad, on the Menominee varsity. Jack was moved up to the varsity after pacing the Maroon jayvees most of the season.

The parade of stronger teams into the final district round continued unabated last night. Champion, Brimley, Hermansville, Mass and White Pine—leaders in the Class D brand of Upper Peninsula basketball all season long — took semi-final decisions, along with Class B Gladstone and Rudyard, a couple of highly-regarded outfits.

As usual, Nahma was led by tall "Pat" Broleau, who pumped in 39 points for the top scoring efforts of the U. S. districts to date, while on the same court at Manistique Barry Rochefort laced 31 for Garden. Bill Koski hit 37 for Champion at Marquette and Paul Pavlovich rang up 36 for Marenisco at Wakefield.

No overtime games were played last night, but four of the decisions were by one or two points. Last night's scores:

CLASS B Rudyard 56, Munising 41 (At Negaunee) Gwinn 68, Ishpeming 64 (At Kingsford)

CLASS C Gladstone 59, Iron Mountain 59 (At Baraga) L'Anse 62, Painesdale 61 (At Brimley)

City Police Five Wins 4th In Row

The Marquette City Police won their sixth basketball game — their fourth in a row — when they down a Prison five, 42-30 at Sidney Adams gymnasium.

The Bluecoats will take on the local State Police post, Saturday night.

Van Overloop scored 15, DeMerse, 13, for the City Police, while Greenleaf had 10 for the Prison team.

Frank J. Rodman, tournament manager, announced that Ishpeming Mike's Texaco and Marquette Shoreland Bar are among the early entries received thus far.

Deadline to join the Hermansville tournament is March 13. Ishpeming Mike's has been a familiar team in the Hermansville tournament for many years. Marquette Shoreland Bar has an impressive record in Marquette City League play.

Rudyard High Far Too Tall For Munising

ST. IGNACE — The Munising Mustangs, smaller than nearly all of their opponents this season, ran into the tallest Class B team in the peninsula last night, and dropped a 56-41 decision to the Rudyard Bulldogs, in District tournament play.

Only the second "B" opponent the growing RHS team has met this year, the Mustangs might have made a fight of it, but they tallied only two points in the second quarter, to leave a 35-13 score on the board at the intermission, and it was just too much to erase.

Forced to shoot from outside of the skyscraper zone, the 'Stangs couldn't hit well. Keith Kuenzer paced the team with 16 points, shooting 6-for-7 from the free throw line.

Rudyard won its 14th game in 17 starts. The three losses, by a total of ten points, include two to Brimley, one to Soo Loretto.

Last night, Coach Bill Howes got 16 points from 6-4 Jim Morlock, 12 from 6-4 Joel Ploegstra, and 11 from 6-0 Ron Hintz — the only man under 6-3 in the starting lineup, and thus the only starter the same size as Muning's tallest men. Rudyard now takes on Manistique in the district finals.

BROOKINGS, S. D. (AP)—Michigan Tech meets Nebraska Wesleyan in the first round of the 1963 NCAA Midwest Regional Collegiate Basketball Tournament tonight.

WINTER GAMES LANSING (AP)—Sen. Kent Lunderen, R-Menominee, citing the Upper Peninsula as "the first place of ski jumping in America," proposed a resolution creating a joint legislative committee to cooperate with the Detroit Olympic Committee and investigate the Upper Peninsula for likely sites for the 1968 winter Olympic games.

FINNS BLAST U.S. STOCKHOLM (AP)—Finland gave the United States team a thorough 11-3 trouncing today in the Americans' first game in the World Amateur Ice Hockey Championship. The Finns lost to Russia, 6-1, earlier.

George Hawkins scored 25 points to lead Supply, followed by teammate Bobby Blair with 17, and Bob Brain with 15. Supply hit 33 of 90 field goal attempts, and 10 of 21 free shots.

Narotzky's, Mrs. Branchini, Heinonen-Saari Duo Take 1sts In Snowbelt Bowling Meet

GWINN — Narotzky Motors of Ishpeming with 2,625 retained their first place position in the fourth and final matches rolled in the annual Women's Snowbelt Handicap Tourney at the Gwinn Inn Lanes.

Red Owl of Gwinn with 2,607 still held on to their second place, but third place was taken over by Tommy's Buy-Rite of Negaunee with 2,559 ousting the Beau Chateau's also of Negaunee.

In the double events, Dorothy Heinonen and Ethel Saari of Ishpeming rolling 1,068 took first place followed by R. Morgan and S. Spinner of Gwinn with 1,050 and for third place, Helen St. Arnaud and J. Salli of Negaunee with 1,048.

Sioux Take 2-Goal Lead Over Huskies

GRAND FORKS, N. D. (AP)—The University of North Dakota, displaying a tough defense and strong goal-tending, dumped Michigan Tech 2-0 Thursday night to take a 2-goal lead in the total goal two game Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoff.

Munising Indy Fives Break Tie Sunday

Phillips Real Pro At Third

NBA Pistons, Warriors Square Off

(By the Associated Press) The Detroit Pistons and the San Francisco Warriors, in a battle for the last spot in the National Basketball Association playoffs, meet tonight at Fort Wayne, Ind. And maybe someone will show up with a pair of boxing gloves.

Boosta's '5' Swept Honors In Negaunee

The Negaunee City Basketball season came to an end as Boosta's Sport Shop walked off with the Playoff Title as well as the League Championship.

Winning 24 games and losing one in regular league play, the Sportsmen also were undefeated in exhibition play.

Cubs See 3rd 'Top Rookie' In A Row

Chicago Cubs' Coach (As told to HARRY WATSON of NEA) It is the consensus of the NEA's 12 coaches that the club will come up with its third straight National League Rookie-of-the-Year in 1963.

OSU, Indiana Cap Loop Race With TV Tilt

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Ohio State's Buckeyes, already assured of at least a share of the 1963 Big Ten basketball title, tackle Indiana's upset-minded Hoosiers here tomorrow afternoon seeking a victory which would give them the title outright, a berth in the NCAA Tournament and the distinction of being the first team in more than 50 years to win four consecutive Conference crowns.

Alger Junior High Meet Next Week

EBEN — The 11th annual Alger County Junior High School Basketball tournaments will get underway next Monday night, March 11, and will run three consecutive nights with the championship games scheduled for Thursday night, March 14.

Jr. Basketball

Habs Romp Without 'Boom Boom'

(By the Associated Press) The Montreal Canadiens didn't miss Bernie Boom Boom Geoffrion Thursday night as they crushed the Boston Bruins 8-0 and climbed back into contention for the National Hockey League championship.

Before the game Geoffrion, one of the highest paid players in the NHL, was suspended without pay for five games for throwing his stick and gloves at referee Vern Bueffy in Detroit Tuesday night.

Laitinen Rolls 725 Sizzler

George Laitinen rolled a 725 (255-204-266) gem in the Ishpeming Classic bowling league Wednesday night to top a list of 11 fine matches posted in three leagues.

Needless to say, George wasn't seriously challenged in his own circuit. John Massa bowled 630 (192-233-205), Vernon Vierela, 624 (200-235-189); Vito Bertuccio, 621 (236-210-175); Bill Beard, 609 (182-224-203); "Rockie" Lawson, 606 (177-234-195); Alden Moyle, 605 (170-236-199); Don Warren, 604 (228-175-101); and Elmer Kiellinen, 604 (205-191-208).

Handicap All Events was won by B. Branchini of Gwinn with 1,656 and second place going to M. Connelly of Marquette with 1,613. Scratch All Events was taken by D. Heinonen of Ishpeming with 1,603 and A. Malone of Munising with 1,545 came in second.

Peter Zenti rolled 247-233-170 for a 651 in the Gwinn 850 Scratch League, while Don Pierce had a 609 (216-169-224). Little Lake Mobile Homes rolled 2,749 (984-876-889) for team honors.

Ed Hawkins posted a 695 (182-246-177) in the Marquette Chiefs bowling league. Refinery had a 2,531 pinfall, but Engineers picked up a point on a 912 team game.

Mik Morris and Bob Duquaine bowled a 559, with Mike going 188-150-221 to catch Bob's 173-167-219 score. Frank Smith rolled a 253 high game. Malvasio's posted a 2,624 with a 932 game.

OSU, Indiana Cap Loop Race With TV Tilt

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Ohio State's Buckeyes, already assured of at least a share of the 1963 Big Ten basketball title, tackle Indiana's upset-minded Hoosiers here tomorrow afternoon seeking a victory which would give them the title outright, a berth in the NCAA Tournament and the distinction of being the first team in more than 50 years to win four consecutive Conference crowns.

The climatic wind-up to the Conference season, as the Big Ten regionally televised game-of-the-week, is scheduled for 4:30 p.m., and is virtually certain to attract a season-record audience, as well as a sell-out crowd of more than 10,300.

Among interested viewers, no doubt, will be Illinois fans, who, if the Illini defeat Iowa earlier in the afternoon and the Hoosiers upend the Bucks, would see their team tie for the title and earn an automatic slot in the National Collegiate Tournament.

The Buckeyes, as Big Ten representative the last three seasons, would yield to a co-champion in that event.

Ohio State, by winning, would become the first Conference team since Chicago (1907-10) to win four in a row.

The up-and-down Hoosiers, at a distinct height disadvantage to the Buckeyes but possessing the Conference's best 1-2 punch in Jimmy Rayl and Tom Bolyard, are out of the running for the top spot but could turn their assured third-place tie into undisputed third by pulling the upset.

Biggest problem facing them is throwing up an adequate defense, particularly against 6-8 Gary Bradds, the Big Ten scoring leader. With their lack of a big man the Hoosiers have been highly vulnerable to the opponent's big man all season.

The Hoosiers can score, as proven by their 90.7-point per-game average in Conference play, but their defense almost matches it with an 89.6-point average by opponents.

Three League Titles, NCAA Berths On Line On College Hardwoods

(By the Associated Press) Conference basketball championships and NCAA tournament berths go up for grabs on neutral courts tonight in one-game playoffs involving the leaders in the Ivy League and Ohio Valley Conference while still a third title—the Big Six—could be decided.

The winner in each game goes into NCAA first round tourney play, the Ivy champ against St. Joseph's, Pa., and the Ohio Valley boss against Chicago Loyola.

WBA, State Ortiz-Lane Dates Differ

DETROIT (AP)—The president of the World Boxing Association said Thursday the WBA figures lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz has until June 2 to fight Kerry Lane of Muskegon for the WBA title.

Michigan gave the WBA until April 1 to require a championship match between Lane and Ortiz or face Michigan's departure from the boxing group.

WBA President Charles P. Larson, of Tacoma, Wash., declined to comment on the Michigan ultimatum. But he said Ortiz has until June 2 to defend his title against the Muskegon southpaw.

He said the association requires a new champion to make a title defense within six months against one of the division's first six challengers. Then he has another six months to defend against the No. 1 challenger.

Tigers' Lary May Test Arm Against Chisox On Monday; Open Exhibitions With Twins

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Frank Lary is ready to try his arm against opposing batters. And Manager Bob Scheffing doesn't care if the Detroit Tigers' ace gets bombed.

"How he pitches, if he throws loose and without trouble—that's the big thing," said Scheffing. "I'm looking to see how he throws. It doesn't matter much if he gets racked."

"I remember how he was snorting and fuming through the exhibition games down here in 1951 and he won 23 for us when the season started."

Scheffing announced Thursday Lary will take his first test against competition in his comeback Monday. Lary is scheduled to pitch the first three innings of an exhibition game against the Chicago White Sox at Henley Field.

It could be the most important exhibition game all spring for the Tigers. If Lary works easily without trouble from the shoulder ailment that crippled him all last season, expectations for his successful comeback will soar.

He's been in camp nearly a month and has been throwing hard. There has been none of the pain that cut his victories to only two in 1962.

The decision is still out on the poetry reading contest in a Village coffee house, where Clay was pitted against a group of beatnik poets running heavy to beards and drooping black stockings.

It appeared to boil down to whether as a fighter Clay is a pretty good poet, or whether as a poet he is a pretty good fighter. Clay invaded a coffee house deep in the wilds of the Village, to read an ode or two and call attention to his 10-round fight next Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden against Doug Jones.

"This boy likes to mix. "He will go in six," quoth Cassius, as a warmup. Made The Scene He made the scene—a dungeon where there are at least 1.4 guitars for every person—at lunch time, just as a collection of beats, sports writers and other social outcasts were devouring a repast of cold slaw and chicken wings off paper plates.

A well-placed young lady with eyes the color of fragile china and a matted mess of greasy brown hair read a poem dedicated to Cassius. Likewise Dedicated He responded by reading his poem, dedicated to Cassius. Being a boy with an eye to the future, he wound up this way: "Marcellus vanquished Carthage, Cassius laid Julius Caesar low."

"And Clay will flatten Douglas Jones with a mighty, measured blow. "So when the gong rings and the referee sings out "The Winner!" "Sonny Liston will fall. "And Cassius Marcellus Clay will be the noblest Roman of them all." When he finished, there were few dry eyes in the house. It was pretty smoky in there.

504 Parking 'Tabs' Issued Last Month

ISHPEMING — Issuance of 504 parking tickets—most of them for meter violations—and 22 summonses to motorists for traffic offenses were reported for February in Police Chief Frank Sarvello's monthly report to the Ishpeming City Council.

City police wrote tickets for 381 violations of the parking meter ordinance, 81 for drivers who left their cars parked on streets between 1 and 6 a.m., 27 for motorists who parked in a restricted area, eight for improper parking and two for parking in alleys.

Nine of the municipal court summonses went to drivers for failure to yield the right-of-way. Three were for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead; two each were for improper right-of-way and driving too fast for conditions, and one each for failure to report a property damage accident, defective equipment, failure to have car under control, driving while license was revoked, speeding and disobeying traffic signal.

Fifteen arrests, including two of drivers operating their cars while they were under the influence of intoxicating liquor, were made by Sarvello's officers during the month. The other arrests: Drunk and disorderly, 7; simple assault, 1; breaking and entering at night, 2; simple larceny, 2; attempting to purchase liquor with false identification, 1.

Fines and costs were paid by eight of the persons arrested; four were taken to the county jail; three were turned over to juvenile authorities, and two were bound over to circuit court.

21 Motorists Pay $213.90 In Ishpeming

ISHPEMING — Twenty-one defendants were ordered to pay fines and costs totaling $213.90 in cases brought before Judge Fred Berg in Ishpeming Municipal Court.

Victor O. Gauthier, 65, of 209 S. First St., was fined $30 and $5.10 costs for drunk driving. His license was forwarded to the Secretary of State's office. He was arrested by Ishpeming City Police March 1.

Kenneth E. Millimaki, 35, of 195 Silver St., ticketed in Ishpeming Township by Michigan state police, was fined $25 plus $3.70 costs for reckless driving.

Bradley R. Block, Sawyer AFB, was fined $20, plus $5.10 costs after being arrested for using false identification in Ishpeming.

Fines and costs levied against other drivers for violation of the state motor vehicle code:

Steven L. Pietro, 24, of 603 Vine St., Ishpeming, $15.40, speeding 40 MPH in a 25-mile zone and running a stop sign in Ishpeming.

of setting up a burn-out station at the shops to dismantle electric motors, removing starters and burning away insulation. This station was set up in 1959 and Martin received an initial award of $50 for the suggestion. A review of the savings in 1961 and 1962 have indicated that an additional award was warranted and Martin was presented with another check for $325 based on 20 per cent of the savings.

Ronald Tresseder, who lives at 2011 Washington Ave., is employed in the company's machine shop. In 1961 he was given an award of $60 for his suggestion of creating an indexing jig which has resulted in considerable saving in labor in handling kelly-bars made in the shop. It has been determined now that Tresseder's idea resulted in additional savings during 1962 and he was presented with a check for $155 as his award for these additional savings.

In presenting the checks to Martin and Tresseder, Kimmel thanked them for their interest in submitting these suggestions and said it was encouraging to know that "we had so many employees interested in the suggestion program." He said that awards of this kind were not only nice to receive but they would serve as an inspiration to other employees to also turn in their ideas for consideration.

The suggestion system was established here in March, 1959. Since then 1,093 suggestions have been submitted with 224 being adopted. The awards range from the minimum of $10 to $1,385.00. The maximum award provided by the program is $5,000.
