

Tourney Road Starts For Major Colleges Across Nation Tonight

(By the Associated Press)

Cincinnati's Bearcats and Duke's Blue Devils, who finished first and second in the final Associated Press college basketball poll of the season, start on the road tonight that they hope will lead to a battle between them for the national collegiate championship.

The Bearcats, champions of the Missouri Valley Conference and aiming for an unprecedented third straight national title, open their NCAA tourney play against Texas, champions of the Southwest Conference. The Blue Devils, kings of the Atlantic Coast Conference, tangle with New York University, an independent power ranked ninth nationally.

The two games highlight a full slate of 18 second round games that sees 16 teams in action at four regional sites tonight.

This is the line-up; times are Eastern Standard:

Eastern Regionals, College Park, Md.: Duke, 24-2, vs. NYU, 18-3; West Virginia, 22-7, St. Joseph's Pa., 22-4.

Midwest Regionals, East Lansing, Mich.: Illinois, 19-5, vs. Bowling Green, 19-6; Chicago Loyola, 20-2, vs. Mississippi State, 21-5.

Midwest Regionals, Lawrence, Kan.: Cincinnati, 23-1, vs. Texas, 19-6; Colorado, 18-6, vs. Oklahoma City, 19-8.

Far West Regionals, Provo, Utah: Oregon State, 20-7, vs. San Francisco, 17-8; Arizona State, 25-2, vs. UCLA, 20-7.

Tonight's regional winners play in the quarter-finals Saturday night with the four survivors earning trips to Louisville for the semi-finals and final next week, March 22-23.

Cousy Mark For Assists Falls Quietly

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was difficult Feb. 27, 1959.

The Boston Celtics, on their way to a National Basketball Association Championship, defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 173-139 in a game in which Celtic Cousy scored a record for assists with 28.

Afterwards there was a furor. League President Maurice Podoloff demanded an investigation to see whether the players were carrying out their defensive assignments. The 173 points were the most ever scored by an NBA team in one game. The fuss eventually died down.

Cousy's assist mark was tied Thursday night by Guy Rodgers of San Francisco as the Warriors lost 114-109 to the St. Louis Hawks.

No investigation was ordered. Hardly anyone noticed since the game itself was meaningless. Only 2,261 turned out to watch the last home contest for the Warriors in their first season on the Pacific Coast.

The Warriors already were destined to finish fourth and out of the money in the Western Division while the Hawks had clinched second place but no better.

Need Site, Rights

CHICAGO (AP)—If Chicago is ever again to house a professional basketball team, it will first have to have an adequate playing site plus radio and television rights.

That's the opinion of two of the National Basketball Association's club owners—Ned Irish of the New York Knickerbockers and Bob Short of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Both of these owners voted against moving a franchise back into Chicago in 1961 after an 11-year absence. The Chicago Slugs of the NBA lasted just four years, from 1946 to 1950.

The opinions of Irish and Short came hours after Chicago Zephyr President Dave Trager announced Thursday he was moving the team out of Chicago. Where he is going is anybody's guess.

Although Trager had announced a week ago that Baltimore was the "logical contender," Cleveland, Kansas City and Philadelphia now are in the picture according to Trager.

Trager and six other club owners voted to end the team's two-year stay.

Koufax OK In 5-Inning Mound Test

(By the Associated Press)

A winter's rest apparently has worked the Midas touch on the index finger that tarnished Sandy Koufax' golden arm.

The 27-year-old fireballing left-hander with the amazing strikeout record had everyone wondering what all the concern was about as he pitched and five innings and allowed only three hits and an unearned run in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees Thursday.

Koufax' performance in the exhibition game at the Yankees' Fort Lauderdale, Fla., home base, marked the first time any Dodger pitcher had attempted to go five innings. It was Koufax' second spring workout. He allowed a run and two hits in a previous three-inning stint.

The circulatory ailment that numbed Koufax' finger last year generally is considered the major reason the Dodgers lost the pennant. Before he was sidelined on July 17, Koufax had won 14 games pitched a no-hitter against the New York Mets and struck out 18 batters against the Chicago Cubs.

The Baltimore Orioles remained the lone unbeaten team with a 15-hit attack that subdued Minnesota 11-7 at Miami. It was the Orioles' fifth victory.

The Chicago White Sox and Kansas City A's won their fifth exhibition game. The Sox blasted Pittsburgh 16-5 at Fort Myers with a three-home attack and the A's belted Philadelphia 5-1 at Clearwater behind Ted Bowsfield's pitching and hitting.

heavily used deeryards, deer are so numerous that their influence on the food supply far outweighs that of hares.

In one deeryard in Upper Michigan it was found that even at the height of their periodic increase hares removed only about one percent of the total available food.

 This amounted to about 19 per cent of the amount removed by deer. In the winter of 1960-61, when the hare population began its present decline, the amount of browse removed by hares was only 6 per cent of that removed by deer. In such instances natural production of new food will replace the browse consumed by hares.
 Obviously, the real threat to the winter food supply in deeryards is not snowshoe hares, as might be supposed at first thought, but the deer themselves.

Tightening Up On Tax Exemptions Ordered By Negaunee Council

NEGAUNEE — Faced with loss of tax revenues for operational purposes because of declining iron ore mine valuations, the Negaunee City Council last night took the first of several steps designed to compensate for reduced revenues by tightening up on tax exemptions which have been a tradition here for many years.

Council action resulted from recommendations by the board of review, which held its annual private and public sessions during the past two weeks. Suggestions by the board of review were contained in the following letter to the governing body:

"Many Inequities"
"We wish to report to the Negaunee City Council that, after a very close and thorough scrutiny of the assessment roll for the year 1964, we find many inequities that should be corrected at the earliest possible date in view of the financial situation which faces the City of Negaunee in future years.

"There are, in our opinion, many partial exemptions on the tax roll at the present time that are unwarranted and have no legal basis whatsoever, nor are they based on legitimate need for tax relief. We feel that if there is any economic necessity for granting partial exemptions to persons without the ability to meet the obligations which our taxing procedure places upon them, they may be granted partial relief if they qualify under certain conditions.

"We are recommending, therefore, that commencing in May or June of this year that each individual, of whom there are presently 158 on the tax roll enjoying partial exemptions, be mailed an affidavit which they must have notarized and filed with the city assessor prior to November of 1964 if they wish to continue in their present status. The form of the affidavit will be submitted to the council for approval at a future date.

"Essentially, this form will list the assets of the home owner, the present marital status, whether or not there is any current income, whether or not there are any members of the family now living in the same household who have an income-producing job, the total annual income and the reason for requesting some form of tax relief. The form will also authorize the board of review to investigate any such claims, and if in their opinion there is a bona fide need, then tax relief may be granted.

Recommendations Listed
● "Insofar as possible, full equity be established in taxing procedures.
● "Blanket exemptions for tax relief be abolished.
● "Persons in need of consideration for tax relief be required to file a notarized affidavit annually for board of review consideration."

Following reading of the letter by City Clerk Edward Stevens, councilmen unanimously approved the board of review recommendations.

Merger To Be Considered At Central Co-Op Meeting

ISHPEMING — Several delegates from this area will represent local cooperatives at the 46th annual meeting of Central Cooperatives, Inc., in Duluth Monday and Tuesday, March 18 and 19.

Representing the Ishpeming Co-op are its president, Mrs. Elmer Aho, and Robert Sturm, manager.

Two hundred and fifty local consumer cooperatives, including those in this area, own and operate Central Cooperatives as their merchandise source and service organization.

This year the pioneer regional cooperative will be considering a far-reaching proposal to merge with Midland Cooperatives, Inc., of Minneapolis, a similar and even larger regional co-op.

If approved by both the Midland and Central groups, the merger would "present tremendous opportunities for growth of our consumer goods business into the greatest growth area in the United States," according to CCI President Brynolf Peterson of Aitkin, Minn. He referred to the agricultural-industrial complex building up in southern Wisconsin and northern Minnesota, now now served by food co-ops.

"It would carry a second major challenge to build up our petroleum business in northern areas, the tourist mecca of a large part of the nation's population," Peterson added.

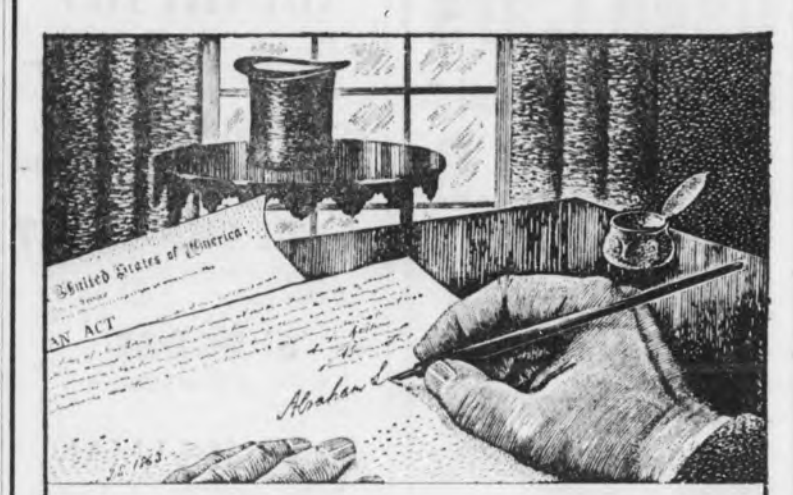

Local Consolidation Studied

Delegates will hear CCI General Manager J. W. Koski report on record sales of the regional, substantial savings and a continued strong financial position. Local co-op sales also showed an area-wide increase, but there will be a special report given on a study of consolidation of local co-ops, to better serve the area.

Main speaker will be A. J. Smaby, general manager of Midland Cooperatives, who will take on the merger theme. Also appearing on the program will be Terry Voorhis, executive director of the Co-op League in Chicago.

Entertaining the delegates at the Monday evening dinner will be the Chieftains Quartet of Cushing.

The Pen That Changed The Course of a Nation

The Country was at war . . . raising money to pay the cost was difficult and promised to become increasingly so . . . faith in our paper money was slipping—this was our Nation's plight in 1863!

Then, on February 25, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln signed the National Currency Act. This Act established the much-needed national currency and restored confidence. It also made possible the development of the dual banking system of national and state commercial banks.

Sparked by this competitive system, American banking has contributed immeasurably to the progress of the Nation, its people, and the world.

Did you ever stop to think that banks provide our Nation with the dollars without which our standard of living could not have been achieved? A nation without banks would be a reasonable facsimile of the Dark Ages.

Did you ever stop to think that a sizable proportion of our homes, schools, hospitals . . . everything that is manufactured, distributed and sold . . . our roads and communications systems . . . are financed by bank credit?

Next time you write a check or deposit in your bank savings account or borrow to help finance your business, a car, a home, or something you want to buy—try to imagine what your life would be like without banks.

Miss Sunne To Enter State Test

NEGAUNEE — Four members of the Negaunee High School varsity debate squad, accompanied by Miss Berlyene Miller, forensics supervisor, and T. G. Williamson, public schools business manager, left this morning for Mt. Pleasant, where Miss Kristine Sunne will represent the local school in the annual Michigan speech scholarship competition Saturday at Central Michigan University.

To qualify for the state contest, which is sponsored by the Detroit Free Press, a student must be a member of a debate squad which finished either first or second in regional scholastic competition. Negaunee High was runner-up this year to Manistique in the Upper Peninsula regional finals held in January at Northern Michigan University.

Last year when Negaunee won the U. P. title, Stephen Adamini represented Negaunee in the scholarship competition. Although he was the only junior taking part in the contest, he finished in the top six in the state event.

The contest opens with a written examination on the debate topic for the current school year, "Resolved that the United States Should Join in the Common Market in the Western Hemisphere."

Following the examination, entries draw for the affirmative of negative side of the question, and have one hour to prepare an extemporaneous speech on the viewpoint they will present. Judges will be members of the Central faculty under direction of Dr. Emil Pister.

In addition to Miss Sunne, members of the debate team making the trip are Stephen Adamini, Diane Collins and John Williamson. The Negaunee representative is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sunne, 1013 Oak St.

In addition to complimenting Coach Jack Taylor of Negaunee High, Coach Allan Dighera of St. Paul and their respective squads for winning championships, the resolution also commended boys representing both schools for exemplifying to the highest degree the principles of fair play and good sportsmanship.

Bungling Beagle

Rudy, a five-year-old Beagle, has been to the veterinarian 12 times. His master, Francis LeMire, Jr., of Dunsmuir, Calif., says Rudy is a good hunting dog but—he has been shot twice, broken his tail twice, had eye surgery, emergency tonsillectomy and intravenous feeding for distemper. Right now Rudy is recovering from an abdominal operation. He ate too much of a too-long dead squirrel. "We keep him for two reasons," says Mrs. LeMire. "We love him—and he represents quite an investment." (AP Wirephoto).

Arab Federation Nearing Reality

CAIRO (AP)—Final details of a union linking the United Arab Republic, Syria and Iraq were being hammered out here today with the main issue still how close the ties should be. U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser seemed certain to head the new federation and his neutralist Arab Socialist views are expected to dominate it. A final communique is expected after today's session which followed a general agreement to unify the three Arab states, worked out at meetings totalling 15 hours. According to reliable sources, the new union would be a federation of the three countries with each retaining its separate identity, but under some form of central government with one chief executive. The agreement must be ratified by plebiscite in the three countries before it can be officially formed. Approval is regarded as virtually certain. The movement toward Arab unity seemed under way again after the blow it received when Syria broke away from Egypt in 1961. Since then, pro-Nasser revolutions have taken over in Syria and Iraq. A new pro-Nasser regime has also risen in Yemen, and its leaders said Friday they would like to join whatever union is set up.

Court Tells Falstaff To Quit Whining

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—A small beagle named Falstaff, who was stripped of his bark by surgery in November, returned to court today and was ordered to quit his whining. Falstaff's owner, Allen B. Murray, 30, a Marin County insurance broker, was told by Judge Leonard A. Thomas to find a way to further mute the dog. Murray was placed on six months probation. A neighbor of Murray's, Mrs. Hilda Johnson, complained in court that she found Falstaff's falsetto howl both "horrendous and horrible." Murray, in answer to a similar past complaint, had Falstaff's vocal chords severed in a November operation. The order to further mute the dog's cry—a sort of plaintive rasp—came after Falstaff was coaxed into a courtroom demonstration. Judge Thomas found the sound "beyond description."

Train Falls On Houses In Japan; 5 Dead

TOKYO (AP)—A seven-coach train tumbled on top of a cluster of houses after slamming into a landslide at the exit of a tunnel 150 mile northwest of Tokyo today, Niigata police said. Fires broke out and minutes later, police said, another landslide shoved the engine into the sea. The train dragged along two coaches which had remained on the beach, police said. Police said five persons were killed, scores injured, and six are missing. An additional 137 persons, police said, have not been accounted for but are not listed yet as missing, since many probably took shelter. Twenty-six houses were crushed by the locomotive, five were destroyed by fire and 32 by the second landslide. Railway officials said there were about 150 passengers on the train.

Marvin Bowman, 22, was wounded in one arm and the abdomen when an Abilene sheriff's revolver discharged accidentally. Bowman and Eli Pickard, 25, the other escapee, were surprised in the hotel room by sheriff's officers who traced the pair through a telegram and telephone call. Bolivian Airliner Missing; 41 Aboard

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A four-engine Bolivian airliner with 41 persons aboard was missing today and believed to have crashed in a sparsely settled area near the Chile-Bolivia border. Chile and Bolivia temporarily shelved their border dispute to join in the search. One American, identified as Leon Bernstein, was included on the list of 36 passengers from 12 countries. Chile and Bolivia broke off diplomatic relations last year, but put aside their differences in the search. The Chilean government supplied military search planes and let Bolivian searchers fly over Chilean territory. Left Noon Friday — The missing plane, a DC6, left the Chilean port of Arica about noon Friday and was due at La Paz, Bolivia, at 1 p. m. EST. It carried enough fuel to last until 4:30 p. m.

2 Youths Blaze Trail Of Death, Destruction In Northern California

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Two teen-agers shot and drove a destructive path through this rural California district Friday, police said, leaving in the wake a highway patrolman dead with a bullet in his neck, a deputy sheriff killed in a grinding automobile crash and a man shot in the groin. The teen-agers lay injured in a hospital. Both faced double murder charges. Solano County sheriff's deputies said Richard Price, 18, a three-time parolee, admitted shooting California Highway Patrolman Charles H. Sorenson, 32, and causing the smashup that killed Sheriff's Deputy Hale Humphrey, 42. 'Look Crummy' — His alleged accomplice was Jack Sikes, 16, who ran away from home five weeks ago. Both are from Sacramento, Calif. "They look crummy, and they don't seem to much care," an officer said bitterly as he described the tall, lean, long-haired youths—whose wild ride, said Price, followed an argument he had with his girl friend. Officers and eyewitnesses said the pair strode into a gas station near Lodi—a town 70 miles east of San Francisco. Price entered the rest room and found William Kempe, 65, of Chewelah, Wash., who was waiting for his car to be repaired. Price pulled a gun, Kempe shoved him, the gun went off and Kempe was shot in the groin. Price and Sikes jumped into a car belonging to Bob McCaulley, 36, co-owner of the station, and sped off. Sorenson heard a lookout alert for the car, spotted it, whipped a quick u-turn and pursued. Thirty miles from Lodi he chased and the chaser roared across the Sacramento River over highway 12's Rio Vista Bridge. But Price drove his car into a telephone pole. The youths raced to a nearby abandoned house. Sorenson followed, gun drawn. He stepped around a corner of the house. Price lifted a gun at point-blank range and killed Sorenson with a bullet in the neck. He and Sikes sped off in the dead officer's car. Twenty miles passed—at speeds estimated to 130 miles an hour. Sheriff's officers had set a roadblock with two trucks and a car six miles east of Fairfield. Price and Sikes plunged into the roadblock and a hail of bullets. Price and Sikes were pulled from the wreckage—apparently saved because they used the car's safety belts—and were taken to a Fairfield hospital. Price was in critical condition. Sikes' condition was fair. Kempe, in another hospital, was reported in good condition.

Frances McCann, 42, an American lyric soprano, was shot to death Friday just inside the locked door of her room in a hotel in Rome, Italy. Police said she was shot by Ernest Roxman, a German resident of the hotel who fired a bullet into his own head and is in critical condition in a Rome hospital. See story on page 5. (AP Wirephoto).

U.S. May Bar Aid To Brazil Because Of Red Infiltration

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official U.S. statement that Communists have bored into Brazil's government put new steam today into a congressional movement to bar aid to the huge, trouble-racked South American country. Pouring more millions into Brazil now would be "an exercise in futility," one congressman said. There were demands that assistance be denied until Brazil cleans house of Reds or extreme leftists in any positions of power, and shows that American aid will not be used to promote Brazilian trade with Russia. Seeking Aid — The U.S. statement about Red infiltration came out at a time when Francisco San Tiago Dantas, Brazilian finance minister, was here trying for multi-million dollar aid. A powerful man in the Brazilian government, he is an advocate of a soft policy toward Communist Cuba. On Thursday, a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee issued a transcript of testimony attributing the following statement to Lincoln Gordon, U.S. Ambassador to Brazil: "Their number (the Communists in Brazil) is small but their influence is much larger than those numbers would suggest. The principal field of infiltration and influence is in the labor unions. Infiltration — In the government itself there has been infiltration. The student movement is another major area of penetration, with the National Student Union now being dominated by Communists." This statement was reported to have brought a hot, indignant reaction in government circles in Brasilia. Evidently, the State Department felt Gordon might meet an embarrassing reception when he returned there. Outlawed — The Communist Party is outlawed in Brazil and no known Communists hold important posts in the government. However, the party operates openly and six men it backed in last October's election won seats in the Chamber of Deputies. Also, left wing nationalists hold several high offices.

Irish Take 4 Days To Honor St. Pat

NEW YORK (AP)—It makes no difference if your name is Green, if you're sportin' a green tie or if you're just plain green with envy (of the Irish—who else?). Almost everybody gets into the St. Patrick's Day spirit. From that long green line up New York's Fifth Avenue to the green ink that the postmistress of Erin, N.Y., will use to cancel stamps—the color is virtually inescapable this time of year. Parades — The four-day holiday observance began Friday when the Rhode Island General Assembly got its Irish up and when the Loyal Irish Sons of Erin held a feast commemorating both St. Pat's day and the Jewish holiday of Purim—and sure there must have been a Green in the crowd. The observance continues with parades today—in New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago, Sunday—in Holyoke, Mass., and Monday—in Boston, among other places. Rhyme With Green — (Surprising, isn't it, that March 16, 17 and 18 all rhyme with you-know-what color?—the same color, incidentally, that they'll

Soviet Ship Leaves Cuba With Troops

HAVANA (AP) — A gleaming white Soviet ship glided north through the Caribbean today carrying up to 2,000 Russian troops home. The 15,286-ton Admiral Nakhimov sailed from here Friday night and, if loaded to capacity, would enable Premier Khrushchev to claim he had technically fulfilled his pledge to President Kennedy to remove "several thousand" troops by mid-March. No Comment — There was no comment at all from Washington on Soviet troop movements out of Cuba—reportedly on direct orders from Kennedy. Four Russian ships had sailed earlier with units of the Soviet armed forces, which the United States estimated numbered 17,500 in Cuba at the beginning of February. The United States said there were 22,500 here at the height of last October's crisis. No Announcement — There was no official announcement on how many persons sailed on the Nakhimov nor what their military classification was.

Plane Lands Near House In Tennessee

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A disabled Navy plane struggling to a landing on one engine, plopped down in a residential section of suburban Millington Friday night and came to rest near a house. Only minor injuries were reported from among the 33 crewmen and Navy and Marine reservists aboard. Residents of the community suffered only shattered nerves and wrecked lawns. Engine Falls — The R4D transport was ferrying the reservists from St. Louis to the Memphis Naval Air Station for weekend training when one of its two engines failed. The pilot was trying to land under emergency conditions in rain and thick fog. The craft skidded across a field encircled by neat brick houses, and only trees in its path kept the big ship from hitting the homes. The plane, with a wing and tail section missing, came to rest about 50 feet from a house. BULLETIN — WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department reported today that two Soviet reconnaissance planes flew over Alaska Friday, in violation of U. S. air space. The United States protested to Moscow today "these overflights of U. S. territory." A note released by the State Department declared the U. S. government "expects that the Soviet government will take all necessary measures to prevent any repetition."

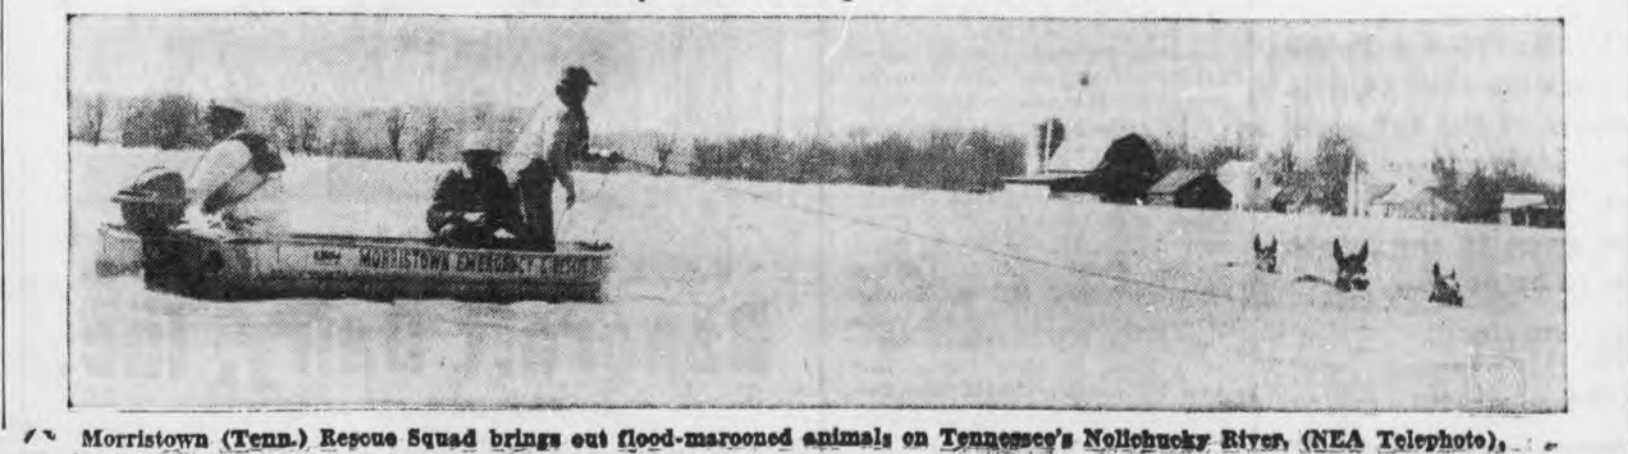

Vice Adm. David L. McDonald, now commander of the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, was appointed commander of U. S. Naval forces in Europe Thursday. At the same time President Kennedy nominated him for promotion to admiral. He will succeed Adm. Harold Page Smith, who will become Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, on May 1. (U. S. Man Lives With Dead Man's Kidney BOSTON (AP)—Last April 5, accountant Melbourne Doucette Jr., 25, received a kidney transplanted from a dead man whose name Doucette doesn't know to this day. Now, 11 months later, Doucette, father of two boys, works in a basement office in his Wakefield home and lives an almost normal life, except for daily check-up visits to a hospital. Beneficiary of an historic surgical operation, Doucette now has lived longer than any other person in America after receiving a kidney from a dead man. A patient in France has survived 14 months. Tells About Operation — He told about the operation—what little he remembers—after doctors at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital disclosed the transplant Friday at a news conference. "They took me into the operating room about 8 o'clock one night, and I told them I wasn't supposed to have an operation," Doucette recalled. "But they said, 'We've got a kidney and you're going to get it,' and then they gave me the needle." Although the doctors won't tell him the name of the donor, Doucette says he believes from conversations with other patients that he was about 30 years old, a father like himself and that he died in the hospital. Doucette has fixed up an office in the basement of his new home, installed an electric typewriter, adding machine and files and now all he needs is more clients. In his spare time he is paneling the cellar. Since he left the hospital in December, Doucette makes daily return visits for various tests. The kidney transplants were pioneered at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Dr. John P. Merrill, who has had a prominent role in the operations, said 61 transplants have been done at the hospital and 29 recipients survived. The first seven patients died but four of the last six survived.

Detroit Pastor Convicted Of Manslaughter

DETROIT (AP)—A 70-year-old Detroit minister was convicted of manslaughter Friday after standing trial a second time for the 1959 shooting of his wife. A Recorder's Court Jury deliberated nearly eight hours before convicting the Rev. Elzie Kaigler in the death of his wife, Clara, 48. Sentenced To Life — Kaigler, former pastor of Miles Fellowship Church, was sentenced to life in prison in 1959 after he was convicted of first-degree murder in his first trial. The Michigan Supreme Court ordered him retried because a tape recording used as evidence against him had been obtained through illegal search and seizure. Quarrel — Mrs. Kaigler was shot to death in their home after a quarrel. Kaigler's defense was that the pistol discharged accidentally as they struggled. Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara set March 29 for sentencing.

Detroit Pastor Convicted Of Manslaughter

DETROIT (AP)—A 70-year-old Detroit minister was convicted of manslaughter Friday after standing trial a second time for the 1959 shooting of his wife. A Recorder's Court Jury deliberated nearly eight hours before convicting the Rev. Elzie Kaigler in the death of his wife, Clara, 48. Sentenced To Life — Kaigler, former pastor of Miles Fellowship Church, was sentenced to life in prison in 1959 after he was convicted of first-degree murder in his first trial. The Michigan Supreme Court ordered him retried because a tape recording used as evidence against him had been obtained through illegal search and seizure. Quarrel — Mrs. Kaigler was shot to death in their home after a quarrel. Kaigler's defense was that the pistol discharged accidentally as they struggled. Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara set March 29 for sentencing.

Flu Hitting Sharply In Schools, Offices, Plants, Survey Shows

Influenza is hitting sharply in the Marquette area, creating high absenteeism in schools, offices and factories, a survey made yesterday afternoon shows.

In most schools the toll is reaching epidemic proportions, with more than 10 per cent of the students out, most of them because of the flu virus.

The flu virus is hitting adults and children alike. In most cases it starts off strong, flooring the victim temporarily, but lingering on for three or four days or so, like a bad cold.

Several physicians can't recall seeing so many cases of the flu in Marquette.

Seven Per Cent At Factories
About seven per cent of the 155 employees at Lake Shore, Inc., have been hit by the flu in the past two weeks, and a similar per centage has been affected at the Cliffs Dow Chemical Co. plant, where over 300 are employed.

Percentages run even higher in some smaller plants and offices, and practically every family has some members either just recovering or just coming down with the flu.

Sophomores Hit Harder
Seniors and juniors aren't hit as hard at Gravenet High School as the sophomores. Sixteen seniors were absent at GHS Wednesday and Thursday, with 181 enrolled. Out of 244 juniors, 19 were absent Wednesday and 28 on Thursday.

Public school authorities said at least three-fourths of the absentees are due to the flu.

Pierce, St. Michael's Totals
At the John D. Pierce School of Northern Michigan University about four or five students were absent in each of the school's nine rooms. Total enrollment is 234.

St. Michael's School has 10 rooms with 399 students, and about five or so students have been absent from each class during the week.

Ten out of 165 pupils at St. John's School were missing from classes yesterday.

Figures from St. Peter's Elementary School were not available, but it was reported by a teacher that there was "quite a few absent" due to the flu.

Record Good At Sandy Knoll
Absenteeism is running high in all of the public grade schools except for Sandy Knoll, where, out of 467 students, only 36 were missing yesterday.

At Parkview School, 43 pupils out of 373 were absent yesterday. Absences were due to families being on vacation trips, said Mrs. Amanda Larson, school principal.

1,000 Expected For U.P. Group Lumberjack Breakfast

Around 1,000 persons formerly of Upper Michigan are expected to attend the fifth annual lumberjack breakfast of the Upper Peninsula Club of Lansing, to be held in Lansing's Civic Center Sunday, March 24.

The northland expatriates and their friends will get the traditional lumber camp meal of flapjacks and all the trimmings.

Speakers will be H. S. Harrison, Cleveland, president of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., and Fordy Anderson, Michigan State University basketball coach. Harrison has been associated with CCI since 1937, becoming president and chief executive officer in June 1961.

In addition to its usual function of honoring Upper Peninsula high school basketball teams and followers in town for the state tournament, this year's affair will also commemorate Northern Michigan College being designated a university by legislative edict.

As usual, the big hall of the Civic Center will be packed with people from all parts of Central and Southern Michigan, gathered to eat flapjacks, hot maple syrup, Big Mac sausages, eggs, fried Iron Mountain potatoes, cinnamon kornets, saffron buns, hardtack, molasses cookies, stewed prunes, peanut butter and coffee — strong enough to tan bark.

This year Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan University, will be master of ceremonies.

The name of the prominent citizen who will receive the annual Lumberjack Award will be announced at the breakfast. Chairmen are Ray Routsala, formerly of Gwinn, retiring club president, and Leo B. Kujala, formerly of Negaunee, the new president.

So that the Northern high school basketball players won't feel lonely, Lansing businessmen will sponsor the attendance of six Lansing area prep teams, the club reports.

Abandoned Stolen Car Found Here

An abandoned stolen car was discovered by a Marquette resident yesterday after he heard the report on the radio.

The car was found by Guy Peterson, 125 N. Fifth St. Peterson told police that he heard the description of the car on the noon news broadcast over WDMJ, The Mining Journal Radio station, and remembered seeing the car parked at the corner of Fifth and Bluff Sts., near his home.

Two sets of foot tracks were found leading from the automobile.

The recovered car is owned by Ronald Paulson, South Range. It was taken at 5:15 p. m. Thursday from a parking space in front of St. Luke's Hospital.

City police investigating the case suspect some connection with another stolen vehicle, which was recovered on the Northern Michigan University campus Thursday night. That car was taken in Houghton Thursday afternoon.

Have You Ever

paid a high premium for a life insurance policy, only to discover, after it's too late (or too costly) to rid yourself of it, that it wasn't what you were led to believe it to be?

Life insurance is your most valuable property and properly programmed with intelligent help from trained personnel, it can be the best investment you will ever own. Beware of the agent who gives you a "pitch" showing a policy to be a supposedly fantastic bargain and leads you to believe you will make a "fast buck." He often sows within you the seeds of discontent with your existing life insurance and you soon find yourself considering dropping your policy in order to replace them with this great new "bargain." There are no bargains as such in insurance, and the only "fast buck" involved is the commission this agent will receive. Remember the permanent life insurance you now own is the best you will ever own. Continued Cooperation Seen By Northern, City Officials As Campus, Enrollment Grow

Northern Michigan University and Marquette city officials foresee "continued cooperation" in matters affecting both the university and the city as Northern's enrollment and physical plant continue to expand.

Following a meeting at which the "close relationship between town and gown" were discussed, both groups predicted "maximum accomplishment through close cooperation and careful planning."

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern, said "the university realizes that it creates problems as well as opportunities as it expands to meet its responsibilities to the residents of Marquette and the Upper Peninsula.

"We have been pleased with the high level of cooperation on the part of citizens, the Marquette Planning Board and the Marquette City Commission said. We look forward to a continuation of this friendly relationship which we are certain will prove to be mutually beneficial."

Benefits Noted
Mayor James R. Smith said "we appreciate the educational and cultural benefits provided by Northern as well as the opportunities created by the university for employment and home ownership.

"By meeting together, we have developed a greater appreciation of the total picture involved, and we are certain that continued cooperation will produce satisfactory solutions to problems that may arise."

City Manager Thomas Moore said "Northern and the City of Marquette have problems that are common to both, such as sanitary and storm sewer lines and automobile traffic. These and other problems have been discussed in a high spirit of cooperation.

"City and university representatives will continue to meet on problems of mutual concern, and we see this exchange of information and ideas as contributing to constructive solutions."

Legislature Asked To Stand Behind U.P. Dairy Industry

LANSING—Michigan shouldn't desert the industries it has in the quest of new ones, a Delta County Dairy farmer told the House Agriculture Committee of the Legislature in a hearing here on a bill to prohibit unfair practices in dairy products marketing.

Clayton Ford of Cornell, representing Delta County dairy farmers, the Michigan Farm Bureau and the Michigan Milk Producers Association, told the hearing chaired by Rep. Andrew W. Cobb (R-Essex). "For the past several years we have heard a great deal about the need for more jobs in Michigan, about the distressed Upper Peninsula and the Area Re-development Administration program to solve our problems.

Threat Of Extinction
"The Upper Peninsula still has a $12 million annual dairy business and it should act to save it. We should not overlook what we've got in trying to get a new industry."

Ford said the Upper Peninsula's dairy industry is under threat of extinction by the pricing practices of Wisconsin dairy farms. "Our milk producers are not opposed to outside competition, and are not looking for milk barriers at the state line," he said. "They only ask a fair chance for fair competition."

Anti-Trust Law Case
"For years we have had problems of discounts and milk price wars. An outside dairy was fined for violation of the anti-trust law a few years ago.

"The new store dock drop plan of milk delivery every other day could — especially in summer — create a problem of milk quality. And how does it happen that some dairies are selling milk in the towns where they process it for as much or more as they are in towns to which they truck it 100 miles away?"

Ford said he had no way of learning actual milk production costs, but that he believed that at present wholesale prices to U.P. stores for milk, Upper Peninsula dairies competing with Wisconsin milk could not stay in business.

The difference between wholesale and retail prices was out of line with good practice. Wholesale prices, now as much as 12 cents a half gallon above retail prices, could be high enough to allow processors to survive and still provide an adequate store profit margin, Ford suggested. U.P. dairies, he said, sell only in the U.P. and have no chance to make up sales losses elsewhere, as do the Wisconsin dairies.

A Grand Rapids dairy industry representative speaking for the bill protested the use of milk and bread, two basic foods, as loss leader items in supermarkets. He cited that three half gallons of milk were selling in Grand Rapids for less than $1 and two loaves of bread for a quarter.

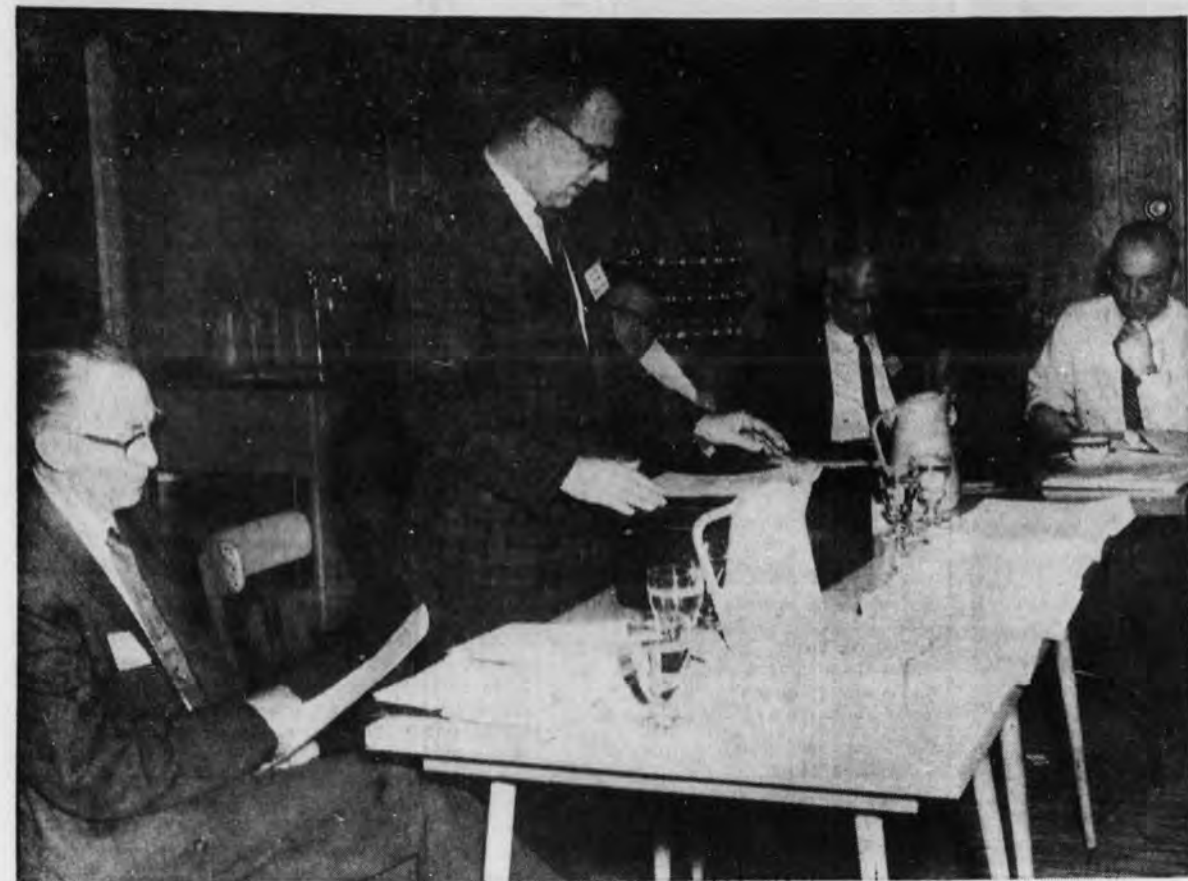

Kept By Swainson
Vetoed by Swainson for House Bill 602 included Glenn Lake, president of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, dairy industry representatives from Detroit and other Lower Peninsula communities, and spectators like George S. McIntyre, state director of agriculture, and Rep. Einar Erlandson (D-Delta) one of the authors of the dairy trade bill.

The bill is similar to one vetoed two years ago by Gov. Swainson, except that it omits a clause requiring that dairy products be priced to provide an 8 per cent profit margin. The earlier bill ran into Detroit milk consumer opposition, founded on fear that it would raise milk prices.

Taken Under Advisement
The new bill would prohibit selling of dairy products below cost of production, granting of secret rebates, equipment, etc. The bill was opposed by a representative of chain stores, who said it would increase prices.

The committee took the hearing testimony under advisement and made no commitment on the fate of the bill, which the dairy industry hopes to have the committee send to the floor of the House for debate and passage.

The Upper Peninsula delegation in support of the bill included, beside Ford, William Jilbert of Calumet, head of the Jilbert Dairy and president of the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers Association; Ed Czajiga, White-Way Dairy, Iron River, and Delta County dairymen Clarence Dittrich, Morton Schire and Federal, state and Michigan State University Extension Service officials attended a meeting on economic recovery planning for the Upper Peninsula, held in the Northwoods Restaurant here yesterday. Syrup Processing Methods Of Past In U.P. Recalled

Discovery and processes of making maple syrup and sugar have been credited to the North American Indians who were subsisting on the product long before the coming of the white man to these shores.

This always was a versatile and important foodstuff, often a means of survival, was an ingredient in cooking, a scurvy preventative and a barter commodity.

Two Vehicles Wrecked In Crackup Here

Two automobiles were wrecked and a motorist was ticketed, but no one was injured, in a traffic smashup at 10 last night in Marquette.

Involved were cars driven by David Etelamaki, Rolling Mill Location, Box 323, Route 1, Negaunee, and Francis Dighera, 310 Pioneer St., Negaunee. Both motorists apparently were returning home from the regional basketball tournament at Northern Michigan University's fieldhouse.

City police said Etelamaki was traveling west on W. Kaye Ave. when his car was struck by Dighera's vehicle, going south on Norway St. after Etelamaki didn't yield the right-of-way. The impact shoved Etelamaki's car into the snowbank on the southwest corner of the intersection.

Extensive damage occurred to the right side and door of Etelamaki's automobile, a 1960 two-door sedan, and to the left front of Dighera's car, also a 1960 two-door sedan. Both cars had to be hauled from the scene by wreckers.

Etelamaki was given a summons by city police for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Well over a century ago, Michigan became a leading producer of maple syrup and sugar, and, according to statistics, never ranked below sixth place in annual output for the United States.

Many new types of equipment have been used in the past few decades to increase efficiency, a far cry from the times when the Indians abandoned their birch bark, "hot rock in birch container" technique in favor of the metal kettles brought here by the colonists, to whom they taught the process. Historians have said that this is strictly a North American industry.

Almost every explorer and missionary from the 1600s, included mention of sugar making and one author said in 1705, "The English and French have been taught about it only a few years, yet it has been known amongst the natives longer any anyone now living can remember."

Alexander Henry, fur trader and adventurer, who wrote in great detail of his trips around Lake Superior in the 1780s, participated in an expedition of the "sugar bush" north of Sault Ste. Marie, Canada and reported, "the party of eight built a house 20 by 14 feet, open at the top, with a door at each end and fireplace in the middle, running its entire length."

"We had 12 boilers, of up to 20 gallons each, collected the sap in birchbark buckets, poured it into large moose hide vats for transportation and kept the kettles going continuously..."

"We returned to the fort after a month, on April 25, with sixteen hundredweight of sugar and 36 gallons of syrup. Though we took time to hunt and fish, sugar was our principal food and we consumed at least three weight."

Sugar Island, on the St. Marys River below Sault Ste. Marie, was famous for many years as a headquarters for making syrup and sugar and in describing a visit there in March 1823 Henry Schoolcraft, Indian agent, said: "It's the season again for making sugar from the rock maple by the Indians and Canadians in this region and the Soo is practically deserted now."

"I joined a party in visiting Mrs. Johnston's camps down the river, driving there in several carriages. About 20 kettles were boiling over an elongated central fire and the whole air of the place resembled a manufactory."

The other details followed closely those given by Alexander Henry over a half century before, but he added that the principal amusement seemed to be pulling candy and eating the sugar in every form.

Schoolcraft didn't mention production figures in this article, but a later author said that Mrs. Johnston annually harvested about a ton of maple sugar and large quantities of syrup. She was the famous Ojibway princess and Schoolcraft's mother-in-law.

For Many Uses Besides the fact that as far back as the early 1800s, maple sugar was regarded, along with furs and fresh and salted fish, as the only important exports of the Lake Superior country, its uses were many and varied.

One historian said that it was used for seasoning fruits, wild rice and boiled vegetables, and mixed with meat and fish. It also was easily transportable, and in the cakes were pressed blueberries, hawthorne berries, and whatever else struck the nomadic Indians' fancy.

The sap was saved as a refreshing drink, it made medicines more palatable and was a remedy for stomach cramps. Johann G. Kohl, German travel writer observed at the Soo in 1857 that it was used extensively in treating scurvy, particularly in the spring when the vegetables had been used up and the main diet was salt pork.

After manufacture of syrup became a "big industry," in the Upper Peninsula, there were a number of sugar camps in the Marquette-Alger County areas, from the turn of the century, such as at Grand Island and Peter White camp at Laughing Whitefish Lake.

This will be the subject of the regular Marquette County Historical Society program over WDMJ, The Mining Journal station, tomorrow at 12:30 p. m.

Leadership Needed In Economic Recovery Of U.P. Cited At Meeting

An area development workshop held in Marquette yesterday emphasized that, although their numbers are down, farmers — and agencies serving them — may still provide major leadership for economic recovery in the Upper Peninsula.

Speakers at the meeting, held at the Northwoods Restaurant, pointed out that landowners influence many of the basic resources that affect the total U. P. economy and also, possibly because they're scattered thin throughout the area, they are encouraged to cooperate and approach problems with a regional concept.

Assistant State Conservationist with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Harold Lakin of East Lansing said: "Today, as never before, farmers must go beyond their farming units to solve problems — and agencies serving them must think in terms of community action as well as on-the-farm service."

U. S. State Agencies Represented Yesterday's meeting was attended by representatives or agents of state and federal agencies connected with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Rural Area Development program and many of those associated with the U. S. Department of Commerce's Area Redevelopment Administration program.

In many U. P. areas, committees of UPCAP, (the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems) and county planning commissions, serve as lay groups to direct both programs.

Although the name has been changed slightly, the U. P. has had a rural development program in progress for six years. Planning efforts have resulted in new wood using plants in Newberry, Gladstone and Iron River, a general upgrading of tourist facilities and services and in some school systems.

A major current concern of U. P. citizens, however, it was stated, is the need for a suggested procedure for processing county overall economic development programs so they will provide more immediate guidance to local development efforts and yet meet standards to qualify for Federal aid.

A welcome change in suggested ARA handling of the "OEDP's" was announced by Arne Ervast of Laurium, field representative for the Michigan Economic Development Department.

The plan did call for preliminary programs to be followed by comprehensive plans. The plan now calls for a continuing process of reviewing the OEDP with emphasis on keeping it updated.

The ARA has established minimum standards for the programs and has emphasized that the policy change doesn't mean a community shouldn't continue research into all possible development opportunities and keep their plans up to date.

There will, however, be no so-called comprehensive program required.

Ervast explained the divisional services of the Michigan Economic Development Department. He added that, since the department is mainly promotionally oriented, it must look to many agencies and institutions to provide technical and planning assistance.

He made special mention of the roles played by Michigan State University county extension directors throughout Michigan.

15-Month Record Told

A report on the 15-month record of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems was made by Abram P. Snyder, community development specialist with the MSU Extension Center in Marquette.

Snyder gave special credit to UPCAP's 14 county delegates and to the 60 industrial, educational and professional people of the U. P. who are serving on technical committees of UPCAP.

Two ARA officials, William Jewell, regional supervisor from Detroit, and Tom Angeli, field coordinator from Iron River, reported on approved and pending projects in the U. P.

Of the eight approved ARA projects in Michigan, three are in the U. P. They are the Marquette and Huron Mountain Railroad, which is associated with Marquette County's Superiorland project; the Copper Peak Recreation

Detroit's View of U.P.

The committee in charge of the Upper Peninsula inaugural for Gov. Romney was delighted when both Detroit newspapers and the wire services sent staff writers to report the ceremonies.

Seldom do U. P. news events get such attention from the mass media. The aftermath has not all been happy, however. Jack Mann of the Free Press wrote a friendly prelude to the affair, a delightful feature on Tommy Quinn's preparations for the Governor's sleighride in the inaugural, and then a philosophical summation.

It was this postlude which started the shooting. It was titled "Romney Will Find No Easy Formula To Help the U. P." Mann wrote: "Gov. Romney's visitation was a real nice clambake. Its theme: 'Pulling Michigan Together,' is a real nice idea. Making it work is going to be harder than saying it." Mr. Mann went on to say that except for politics, the U. P. is more Wisconsin and Chicago oriented than toward the Lower Peninsula and Detroit. He said that Escanaba was relatively prosperous and not typical of the U. P., but added that a quarter of Escanaba wage earners get along on $3,000 or less and that all the fees for all the functions of the inaugural added up to nearly $20.

Maybe you can write as Mr. Mann did about Detroit for Detroiters, but you can't write about the U. P. that way, it seems. Mr. Mann wrote a U. P. friend: "Even Tommy Quinn is scolding me. Almost everyone seems to have missed my point. My purpose was to illustrate that there are very real, specific problems in the U. P. and that they cannot be solved by any amount of generalities, platitudes about 'rowing together'—or even handshakes.

"Pragmatically the purpose was served, insofar as it aroused considerable awareness of the U. P., if not its problems. And awareness comes somewhere around the beginning of wisdom. The irate mail came more from the Lower Peninsula; from people who dearly love the U. P.; almost enough to live there."

Editor Jack Rice of the Houghton Mining Gazette pitched a big snowball from the top of Mont Ripley aimed at the back of Mr. Mann's neck. Mr. Rice said Mr. Mann suggested that after a loving father has given his all, it is time for his offspring to desert him, and reminds the Detroiters that Houghton County once paid half of Michigan's taxes.

When Mr. Mann suggests that "about the only Upper Peninsula people who get to Lansing are the state legislators, because they're paid to get there," Mr. Rice retorts: "Houghton County had a population of 88,000 in 1910 and now has but 35,000. All these people did not die from a plague. Most of them moved to Detroit and they, plus their relatives and friends, make consistent visits to the parents and others who remain here."

It is clear that Mr. Mann does not know the Upper Peninsula well, having visited only one of its cities. Let us hope that he comes back for more inspection and information. He has been nominated for a push off the wrong end of the ski slide because he tried to be insensitive and suggestive, and this is the function of good news-men. If he had been simply superficial and complimentary, as so many hack writers are, he would have served no purpose of aid to the Upper Peninsula except to nourish its vanity, and perhaps its illusion.

His comments must by now have impressed him with the intense loyalty that Upper Peninsulans have for their homeland. A Detroit woman who formerly lived in the Copper Country wrote the Free Press, "If these people in the back country can get along on $3,000 or less—what's so wrong with that? At least they aren't sponging on the state for hand-outs like they do here in the Detroit area. The United States bends backward trying to promote better understanding in foreign countries. Why can't we apply the same procedure on a state level, educating the people of the Lower Peninsula that the U. P. is not only a vacation paradise and a place to escape the city, but a community eager to accommodate industry, fight for economic survival and show its great potential in meeting needs?"

"For the first time a Governor has agreed to open his ears to the needs of these people and his efforts are criticized."

Not really, Mr. Mann is not anti-Romney. He was suggesting that he has great problems. He quoted a man at the Governor's reception who said "This area (the U. P.) has everything. All it needs is money." To which Mr. Mann quipped: "So there's a suggestion: Just send money." This quip is offensive to many Peninsulans, but investment in the Upper Peninsula is an acknowledged need and goal of this area. This is as reasonable an explanation of Mr. Mann's intent as the inference of a dolt.

PUTS PRINCIPLE FIRST

Those aware of the thoughtful and temperate service of Dr. Connor D. Smith, chairman of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, will be impressed by his endorsement of the proposed new constitution for Michigan.

A Democrat with 12 years on the board, Smith's decision is counter to the creed of his political party. Clearly it stems from experience, for he gives as his reason the need of an over-all co-ordinating agency for state institutions of higher learning, impossible under the present 1908 constitution.

Dr. Smith's concern is with the future of education, not with political party gain. We are certain that within his own Democratic Party there are others like him, although some may be lacking in his courage and candor.—Detroit News.

Canadian Physical Fitness Plan Produces Results At Sawyer AFB

"Push yourself away from the table, 'Fat Boy,' and get with the program" has become the unofficial cry of the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC) at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

"Fat Boy" is anyone within the wing who may be a pound or so overweight — or just plain out of condition — and the "program" is the 5BX plan.

Over 900 Members Tested
The 5BX plan, which stands for five basic exercises, has been rapidly spreading throughout the United States after being popularized by the Royal Canadian Air Force. The Air Force in this country has adopted the program, and the local Strategic Air Command wing began testing under 5BX last October.

The results so far have been good, but hint that perhaps today's youth need just a little more physical conditioning.

Over 900 members of the wing have been tested, and only about one per cent of those have not completed the tests satisfactorily. But before all members of the wing "got with the program," there were some trouble areas, according to Capt. Jesse Contreras, chief of the wing's procedural training branch.

One had 100 Failures
"We had over 100 failures at one time," Capt. Contreras said, "and most of them were persons in the 19 to 24 age group. They had just not studied the handbook, and were not in condition to take the tests."

"But after only 10 or 20 days of work, they were able to come back and retest satisfactorily," he added.

To test satisfactorily is no small task, as anyone who has taken part in the program can attest.

A-C Richard Couture, one of a team of four who have been administering the tests at the base gymnasium, admitted having some troubles at the start.

"I have no trouble doing 30 or so pushups but when you have to do 35 — with a handicap between each — I had some trouble. It took me a few weeks to work up to that figure," he said.

Among Weakest Muscles
The airman and officers of the wing between the ages of 19 and 24 have had to do just that, along with four other exercises. Of those who failed, 90 per cent could not complete the required number of pushups. And of the failures, 95 per cent fell within this age category.

Arm and shoulder muscles used in the well-known pushup exercise are among the weakest in the human body, according to Capt. Contreras. They are not used daily for strenuous work, and therefore become weak. The pushup exercise is designed to strengthen these muscles, and wing officials anticipated difficulty within the area.

Concentrated work by those being tested has, however, alleviated the difficulty.

Each of the six charts incorporated into the program has 12 levels of work. The program began in October, and those tested at the outset were tested on the lower levels.

Plan Makes Concessions

However, those persons now being tested are near the peak on the charts. A person between the ages of 19 and 24 works one day on each chart, but those persons in their 40s spend a week on each level. Though testing is on the maximum amount of work which

The National Whirligig

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Don't hold your breath waiting for it, but the time may be approaching when the United States will substitute gumption and common sense for most-eyed wishful thinking in its international relations.

The signs are there to be seen by the interested observer. President Kennedy is talking more about the nation's self-interest in his conferences with foreign service officials. A hard look at foreign aid already has resulted in announcement of a new set of standards to govern its bestowal. And even foreign aid's old friends on Capitol Hill are becoming restive about giveaway programs that do no good.

Kennedy's approach probably is most important, since it is the President who makes foreign policy and who can exert great influence to get it implemented on the hill. JFK is a young man who knows a lot about how effective charity can be when it begins at home and he has been telling our diplomats to stop worrying so much about hurting feelings abroad and concentrate on working for the national interest.

Skin-Toughening

Whenever he gets a chance, which is frequently, Kennedy reiterates his theme that if a nation is going to be a strong leader of the free world it's got to expect to be criticized occasionally by its allies. For example, he emphasizes that while every effort should be made to work with leaders such as France's Charles de Gaulle, our diplomats must remember that their job primarily is to ask the question: What's in it for the United States?

Looking around the world, this new approach can be seen reflected in the present hopefully temporary, stresses and strains on the Western Alliance. At least, that's the way Administration experts tell it.

Less For Frills

From the viewpoint of the taxpayer sucker, the best news is the White House's apparent determination to get tough with some of the countries which have been tossing our aid money around on Cadillac and briches from Saville Row. Kennedy has laid it on the line to the foreign service set by stressing that we are doling out foreign aid funds because it is in the national interest and not because we want to be re-elected International Santa Claus.

could have been accomplished from the time the program began till the present, the plan does make concessions for persons who cannot progress as rapidly as others.

According to hospital authorities here, every person because of varying genetic and environmental influence will have varying ability to progress under the program. The 5BX plan is the method to attain the goals of physical fitness set up by the Air Force and is flexible enough to apply to virtually everyone, no matter what the person's physical condition was at the outset of the program, they add.

11 Minutes Daily

No special equipment is necessary, and only 11 minutes a day is considered an adequate amount of time to complete the daily exercises.

The consensus among the men of the wing is that the program is very helpful. Many who were overweight when the program began have lost extra poundage, feel more comfortable as a result, and their work has reflected the better physical condition.

Besides Airman Couture, A2C Richard Leavitt and A3C Rudolph Peterson have been administering the tests. TSgt. William Rupe has been assisting with the remedial classes.

"Some of those who were tested at first were really straining themselves," Airman Couture reported. "But none of them were about to give up. Once they got with the program, very few had any trouble passing the tests."

Said one young officer who is working on the 5BX:

"I didn't really get with it at the start, but the fellow who lives in the apartment above me was working out every night. I could hear the whole house shake as he did his pushups and running in place. I guess he 'shamed' me into getting started, but I feel a lot better now that I've been working on it."

2 Face Firing Squad For Embezzlement

MOSCOW (AP) — The Lithuanian Supreme Court sentenced two supply officials to the firing squad for embezzling $44,000 worth of state-owned furniture, television sets, cameras and other property.

News Behind The News

Especially in these days of the heavy dollar outgo, the President has warned that Uncle Sam just cannot afford to help poorer countries merely to be a good guy. All such aid, he insists, has to pass the test of whether it helps the U. S.

An immediate result of the pragmatic policy was the announcement by David E. Bell, new head of the Agency for International Development (AID), that foreign aid would be curtailed in countries which refuse to help themselves. The new policy is just words so far, of course, but it shows the Administration at last has grown impatient with foreign politicians who refuse to institute reforms lest their own pocketbooks suffer.

JFK Prodded

President Kennedy has been urging this hard-boiled approach for sometime now, but lest he become absent minded about it, he is being prodded by an assortment of legislators usually friendly to foreign aid. The group is headed by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and includes Sen. J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.), Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) and Sen. Stephen M. Young (D., Ohio). All have served notice that foreign aid is on the congressional hot seat.

Mansfield headed a bipartisan Senate group which issued a report urging that the U. S. clamp down on aid to Southeast Asia. Symington has been fussing about aid to India and Fulbright has been wondering aloud if even the philosophy of foreign aid may be cockeyed. Young has recommended a brutal 20 per cent cut in the fiscal 1964 program.

All this grumbling indicates at the very least that the foreign aid budget will get a real going over in Congress this year. And from the way the President has been talking to the help, he clearly has been trying to tidy up the house in advance.

Tourism Seen As Hope Of U.P.

(The following article was prepared by Tom Downham, a student of Northern Michigan University, to develop his premise that much of the economic hope of this area lies in tourism.—Ed.)

By TOM DOWNHAM

The Upper Peninsula is an economic problem. The mining industry faces serious problems. The lumber industry may never return to support the once wealthy Upper Peninsula.

Is the outlook for the Marquette area and the U. P. to be perennially that of an orphan increasingly dependent on the taxes of Lower Michigan and the federal government to support its people? Will our school systems suffer lack of income to provide improvements? Will our promising young people be forced in even larger numbers to keep moving out of the U. P. to find a "better or more progressive area to raise their families"? These are questions that we face today, and what is done about it will be up to us, and us alone.

What Area Has To Offer
I am presently attending Northern Michigan University. While I do not claim to be a genius in economics, I believe there is an answer to the problems of the Upper Peninsula and particularly Marquette. The answer does not have to be found in text books or in government studies because it can be found by using common sense.

First, let's ask ourselves what the U. P., especially the Marquette area, has to offer that no other area can offer. We lack large factories and we do not export commodities to any great extent. I have heard people say that "the trouble with the U. P. and Marquette is we have no industry." This is a fallacy, because we are sitting on top of and holding back one of the largest industries in the United States and particularly in Michigan. The industry is "tourism."

Over 11,000 Lakes
In the United States last year 97 million Americans traveled and spent $23.2 billion on accommodations, food and other services while on vacation. Michigan hosted 10 million persons, half of them Michigan's own residents, and they spent $650 million. "Tourism" remains among Michigan's top three income producers, and this comparison includes Detroit's automobile industry. There is a market for Michigan to reach. According to the Michigan Tourist Council, this state could attract a one-billion dollar annual tourist revenue.

"If the industry develops an aggressive program," the tourist council stated, "a vigorously promoted vacation travel industry could well supply Michigan, and this means mostly the U. P., with some 50,000 to 100,000 new job opportunities in the next 10 years."

Let's take another look at our rich Upper Peninsula. "Michigan has more than 11,000 inland lakes, 19 million acres of forestland, 61 state parks and recreation areas, more winter sports centers than any other state, the world's greatest bridge, some of the best hunting and fishing in the nation, secluded vacation spots, plush resorts, forest campsgrounds, historic forts and other attractions—all set amid the most magnificent scenery in the world." This is a direct quote from the tourist council, and I know what you're thinking. "Fine, we've had all of this for years. Why hasn't it helped us in the Marquette area? We have tourists but the area is still heading into a deeper depression each day."

Tourist Expenditures
Let me ask you this. How much money is spent by tourists looking at the beautiful scenery at Presque Isle or anywhere near Marquette? This seems to be the city's only recommendation to tourists who ask, "What is there to see in Marquette—why should we stay here for a day or two?" What do we have to offer the tourist besides beautiful scenery? Once a person from out of state travels 400 or 400 miles to see the beautiful scenery, do you think he'll come back to see it again? He will take pictures of it maybe to glue into the family scrap book. How much has Marquette profited in dollars from that tourist's visit? Sure, maybe they bought a tankful of gas and if we're lucky enough maybe they even stopped to eat at one of the city's restaurants. Did you know that it was estimated by the city's chamber of commerce that almost 756,000 tourists drove through Marquette last year? What do you have to show for it, Marquette? Did your employment go down because of the tourists driving through your city? The tourists took a few pictures and then drove to their next picture-taking destination and to areas that provided attractions which called for lengthier visits.

Marquette, what do you have to offer our modern active tourists of today? The tourist has a lot to offer you if you'll only let him. Cities New
You are sitting on top of a gold mine right now. Don't let it get away. It is something which ultimately would provide many jobs to the unemployed and dreams of community prosperity instead of depression. I am speaking of the Superiorland Project.

Here is the answer to Marquette's dream if you would only realize it—a tourist attraction to top all tourist attractions, a potentially nationally famous attraction, a multi-million-dollar gift right at your door step. Here is exactly what the tourist wants and demands. Are we to throw it away and let some other area snatch it up? We could offer the tourists year round activity with beautiful ski hills with modern chair lifts and mile long ski runs, an old-fashioned train ride to Alpine Village (Big Bay), a tour through Marquette's own Frontierland, a cultural center featuring nationally known actors, a summer and winter aqua stadium with shows ranging from water ski shows, log rolling contests and big league hockey, toboggan runs, ski lodge with outside heated pool, a steamship making regular runs to Alpine Village, horse back riding, camping and hiking facilities, an amusement park and many other attractions too numerous to mention. If we could draw 756,000 tourists on just our scenery alone, just think what we could do with this.

Beginning Of Climb?
This isn't a dream unless you, and you alone, through indifference, force the project to go elsewhere. This is a reality because it is happening now. There are people in this city who are against it—Why, I don't know. Since when is industry a non-conforming project to our community? Those who are not openly against it are still very negative. They say it's too big, not possible, or "I'll believe it when I see it." Investors and large corporations are willing to finance Superiorland, but what will they think when they hear that Marquette people are against it?

This project could be just the beginning of the Upper Peninsula climb upward. With the increased money and greater business and with a positive attitude of the people and other industry would then move in, instead of avoiding the community like a plague because

Citizen Action In Education Field Urged By Harden In Talk

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan University, called today for a "new sense of direction in our thinking about education, especially higher education, in Michigan."

Speaking at the 24th Annual Citizens Conference on Education at Lansing's Everett High School, in his first major address since Northern became a university this week, Dr. Harden said "we have procrastinated too long on matters vital to the improvement of the quality and quantity of education in our state."

He urged citizen action on such problems as school reorganization, high school drop-outs, the role of the community college in Michigan's, state-wide system of education, the "wasteful and damaging competition" among publicly-supported institutions of high learning, and "the critical question, uppermost in the minds of Michigan parents and their sons and daughters, of 'who shall go to college?'"

'Short-Changing Youngsters'
Discussing school reorganization, he said "thousands of our young people are being short-changed educationally because some communities refused to adopt an unselfish attitude. I want to know what is best for their youth."

"We cannot afford to permit an accident of geography to determine whether a youngster receives the education he needs. It's time to make certain that every youngster is given the best educational environment we can provide," he said.

High school drop-outs, he said, "causing a drain on our economy and a strain on our social fabric. The drop-out rate intensifies the problems of unemployment, juvenile delinquency, and crime."

30,000 Dropouts In State
Statistics show that Michigan has nearly 30,000 drop-outs in grades 9 through 12, he said.

"To prevent this enormous waste in human resources, we must develop carefully conceived educational programs designed to reach all the children of all the people," he said. "The schools must be able to identify the potential drop-out early and begin remedial efforts quickly. They must discover what their children are and what they can become with the proper education and training."

The community college movement in Michigan is growing, Harden said, and "these institutions can become important to our state-wide program of education beyond the high school. It is time to

One Jailed, Three Fined By City Judge

One person was ordered to spend two days in the Marquette County Jail and three others paid a total of $30 in fines and costs by Judge Edward H. Dembowski in municipal court this week.

Robert P. Houle, 216 Blenheim Ave., was committed to the county jail for two days for making an improper right turn on S. Front St. March 7. Alternative sentence was to pay a fine of $8.50 and $3.70 costs. He was ticketed by city police following an accident.

Fined For Speeding
A fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs were paid by Howard J. Norton, 1506 Lincoln Ave., for speeding. He was ticketed by city police Tuesday for driving 40 miles per hour in a 25-MPH zone on W. Washington St.

Kenneth R. Peterson, 523 E. Hewitt Ave., paid a fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs for speeding. City police ticketed him March 6 for driving 40 miles per hour in a 25-MPH zone on Presque Isle Ave.

For speeding, Edith S. Kreglow, DeGraff, Ohio, was fined $6.30 and ordered to pay $3.70 costs. She was ticketed by state police Sunday for driving 65 miles per hour in a 55-MPH zone on County Road 480 in Sands Township.

Snow, Cold Ahead, But Spring's Due

Although snow flurries and colder temperatures are predicted for tonight and tomorrow, it looks like winter is on the way out.

The cold trend is expected to last only two or three days and warmer temperatures are predicted about Wednesday, Fred Mueller, meteorologist in charge of the U.S. Weather Bureau in the federal building, said today.

The high temperature has been 30 or above every day this week and yesterday the mercury got up to 42 at 3 p.m. The 42-degree reading was the highest temperature here since Dec. 4, when it also was 42.

The minimum temperature yesterday was 17 at 7:30 a.m. but the average temperature for the day was 30, four degrees above normal.

Spring-Like In Daytime
Temperatures during the past week have been low during the night and spring-like during the day, but last night was unusually mild.

Marquette had a minimum overnight reading of 31 and the Marquette County Airport in Negaunee Township reported a low of 28. Other overnight lows were 32 at Calumet, 28 at Escanaba and 20 at Sault Ste. Marie.

The spring breakup is beginning on Marquette streets, bringing huge puddles and lots of splashing. Runoff on the downtown hills, which began in trickles, had increased yesterday to rushing streams.

A trace of precipitation was recorded early this morning, but there has been no measurable snow.

H. C. Treado Honored At Region Meet

Howard C. Treado Sr., Marquette, was honored at a regional dinner meeting of Sun Life Assurance Co. agents held this week at the O'Hare Inn, Chicago.

Treado was honored for his 30 years of service to the company and was presented with a plaque by Ernest Codere, manager of the Chicago branch. Three other insurance agents from the Chicago area also were honored.

All agents from the Chicago area and from the Upper Peninsula were in attendance, as well as company officials from Montreal, Canada, headquarters for the company.

Treado and his wife, Lucille, were guests of the company for the entire trip.

upon. We can afford the necessary investment in both dollars and effort. The one thing we cannot afford is to invest too little too late."

Dr. Harden cited the admissions policy of the University of Illinois as "a forthright application of the right to try. It will admit a student in the lowest quarter of his graduating class if he demonstrates a 25 per cent chance of being out of danger at the end of the first semester."

"Our colleges and universities can ill afford to overlook the highly motivated student who may not have measured up on a computer," Harden said. "The institution which becomes severely and arbitrarily selective, takes the road back to the ivory tower and remains aloof from its public, elects not to stay among the living but invites a gradual demise."

The question of who should go to college will not be answered by educators alone, Harden said. "In the long run, society will make the decision," he said, "and it is my deep conviction that in the U. S. the decision will be to educate the many rather than the few — to develop ways and means of maintaining both quality and quantity in our educational programs."

"The problems confronting Michigan education are real but not incapable of solution. It is time, however, for citizens to express themselves and to help produce the answers to the questions which have been raised."

"I have no doubt that solutions will be found to the problems facing us. We have a great heritage of educational excellence to draw upon."

He listed the "brutal and brutalizing battle for legislative appropriations, the questionable procedures used in the recruitment of students, and the wasteful power struggle to determine which of our major institutions will stand at the apex of our state-wide system" as some of the "detrimental undercurrents now at work."

It is time for the people of Michigan, he said, to "determine whether students are being recruited for curricula which are consistent with their interests, needs, and abilities, or whether recruiters are selling space to fill a college dormitory and a statistic to give to the legislature. They must determine whether recruitment is being conducted primarily to attract more dollars from the legislature to use in programs which make only a remote impact upon the student."

Turning to the question of who shall go to college, Harden said "we are in the midst of a great debate on this subject."

Police Probe Burglary Of Store Here

City police today were investigating a breaking and entering which occurred last night at Cox's Store on N. Third St.

Two minor boys suspected of the theft were apprehended this morning by police. The offense occurred at 1:15 this morning.

Taken from Cox's store was a quantity liquor, beer, candy and gloves. A stamp machine was broken and the change was taken.

The stolen goods were recovered this morning by Patrolmen Eugene Bianchi and William Johnson. City Det. George Johnson and Leslie Ruohomaki, Marquette, county juvenile officer, are continuing the investigation.

South Korean Boss To Call Referendum

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's military strongman, Gen. Chung Hee Park, said today he will call a national referendum on the future of his regime but in the meantime is suspending all political party activities.

Park said in a nationwide television and radio speech that a vote will be held "as soon as possible" on whether his revolutionary government should be extended another four years.

"Measures will be taken to suspend temporarily all political activities since they might hinder proper judgment of the people," he said.

'Transitional Rule'
Park, 45, an army general who rode to power in a May 1961 coup, said "transitional military rule" is necessary to ward off the possibility of another military revolution.

If he wins approval in the referendum, he said, the present military government will be prolonged for four years beginning in August.

Hands Off
If he loses, he said, civilian politicians will be permitted to take over in August and the military will keep hands off.

Earlier the junta reshuffled South Korea's almost powerless civilian cabinet and dropped a strong opponent of continued military rule.

Guild Leaders Vote To Back Wage Proposal

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaders of the nonstriking Newspaper Guild have decided by a one-vote margin to recommend to their membership a publishers' proposal aimed at ending the 99-day newspaper blackout.

The 9-to-8 vote Friday favored a $4.13 a week wage bonus to be added to guild wage scales, starting Oct. 31, 1964, and to extend their contract so its termination date would coincide with that of other newspaper unions.

Individual AFL-CIO guild units will vote Sunday and Monday on the proposed terms.

Vote Sunday
Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, which struck Dec. 8 against four dailies — with the other five shutting down voluntarily — votes Sunday on a separate settlement plan.

Negotiations with seven other newspaper unions still are incomplete. But a guild membership acceptance of a common contract expiration date, plus the wage bonus, was seen as the key to resumption of publication next week by eight newspapers.

Wage Package
The guild previously accepted an $8.50 a week package for its 6,000 editorial and business department members.

A week ago, the 3,000 printers and the New York Publishers Association government should be extended another four years.

"Measures will be taken to suspend temporarily all political activities since they might hinder proper judgment of the people," he said.

Farm Bureau To Hear Talk On 'Con-Con'

Leslie W. Richards, Negaunee, Marquette County delegate to the Constitutional Convention, will speak at 8 p. m. Monday at the Choccolay Township Hall.

The meeting is sponsored by the Marquette-Alger County Farm Bureau.

The Michigan Farm Bureau is one of 20 organizations urging a "yes" vote on the proposed constitution at the April 1 election.

Singer Slain By Lovesick Press Agent

ROME (AP)—"I know it's insane to want to hold on to someone who no longer cares for you."

Police said that was in a letter American opera star Frances McCann had in her purse when she was found shot dead in her room in a Rome hotel. The author, they said, was talent agent Ernest Arthur Boxmann, accused of pumping four bullets into the singer, then shooting himself in the head.

"But for me," the letter continued, "you will always be the most beautiful, adorable woman that God ever created."

Miss McCann, 41, was mature and lovely, with red hair and green eyes. Boxmann, 53, was paunchy and balding.

She was a married woman with four children at home in Altadena, Calif., and a brilliant singing career in Europe.

Ever wonder what's in a soft drink? Seven-Up tells you. Turn the bottle around. There's the story.

Each ingredient is as perfect as nature and science can make it. For example, the lemon and lime oils. Only the very essence, as little as 5% extracted from the peel of the fruit, is delicate enough for 7-Up. Vital, too, is the exclusive way all ingredients are combined to give you more than just a unique flavor.

Uncap a chilled 7-Up. Take a sip. Roll it over your tongue, then swallow. Right away, your mouth and throat feel fresh, awakened. And with the last sip, not only is thirst gone, but you have a fresh-all-over feeling. Now you know what "fresh up" with 7-Up really means!

We put the inside story on the outside

Junior Ski Jumping Tournament On Sunday

ISHPEMING — The Teal Lake ski jumping hill, which is located in the Al Quaal Recreation Area, will be the site for jumping competition by from 50 to 75 junior ski jumpers tomorrow afternoon at 2. It will be the last meet of the year.

Ishpeming Junior Ski Club officials urge a good turnout for this event on the popular slide.

The meet originally was scheduled for "Homicide" Hill on Euclid St. near U.S. 41, but mild weather made it unfit for use. The Teal Lake hill, nestled in the shadows of the surrounding trees in the area, is still in good shape.

The Teal Lake slide for many years has been a stepping stone to better skiing for several youngsters and just about every skier in the area received his start on this jump, where leaps of 80 to 90 feet are possible.

Fans will see a host of up-and-coming Ishpeming riders plus an expected talented entry list from parts of Wisconsin.

Following the ski tourney, dinner will be served in the United States Ski Hall of Fame, located in the Eighth Addition.

Waino Mantyla and Bruce Mantyla will be judging the meet, while Ellsworth (Pinky) Mitchell, head of the Ishpeming Junior Ski Club, is in charge of arrangements.

The junior club has received regular ski instructions each week throughout the winter by senior riders. Jon St. Andre has been very active in the junior club this year, assisting the youngsters in learning the techniques in ski jumping.

Senior Scout Troop 38, under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Kirby, was responsible for the display in the Montgomery Ward window, which had a valentine scrapbook which had been sent to children in the Newberry State Hospital and patients in the Bell Memorial Hospital, plus posters made by the girls in connection with Girl Scouting.

Girl Scout leaders also have displays in Negaunee, in the window of the Sivula Insurance Agency. All troops in the area took part.

Munising Girl Scouts To Open Fund Drive

MUNISING — The Girl Scouts will conduct their first financial drive in this area since 1961, starting on Monday and continuing for six days. Their goal is $1,400.

Council officials stated today that, in order to continue the Scouting program and to meet obligations of the Girl Scout Council, that amount is the minimum needed for the coming year.

Heading the drive are George Goss and Francis Putvin as general chairmen. They will be assisted by the following fund chairmen: Mrs. Ernest Hall, Mrs. Wilfred Seglund, Mrs. Steve Pater and Mrs. John Serr. Mrs. Blinn Hall and Mrs. Adolph Fleck are in charge of publicity.

All funds collected will stay in the Munising council.

There are 150 girls participating in the Scout program in Munising. Eighty-five are enrolled in six Brownie troops, 58 are in four Girl Scout troops and seven girls are members of a senior troop.

The money collected from this drive will help pay a portion of the campership fee for girls attending Timber Trail and the salaries of the leader and her staff during the two weeks it is in session. Handicraft equipment, extra food, milk and insurance for every girl are among the expenses for which funds are needed. Brownie day camp also benefits from this drive.

Variety Show Tonight In L'Anse School Gym

L'ANSE — The highlight of the 14th annual Winter Carnival sponsored by the Golden Eagles Drum and Bugle Corps committee will be a big variety show set for 7:30 p.m. in the L'Anse High School gymnasium.

The show, featuring 23 acts, will be MC'd by Boyd Dowler and Jerry Kramer, star players on the championship Green Bay Packers football club. Included in the evening's entertainment will be performances by the Westernaires and the Sinners, both of K. I. Sawyer AFB, Barbara Schaffer of Iron Mountain and the College Tones dance band of DePere, Wis.

Local talent headliners on the program are Miss Evelyn Connor, Beverly Goudreau, a boys' double quartet, girls' quartet and the state champion Golden Eagles Drum and Bugle Corps. During the show members of the corps and the color guard will be presented with state championship flags by Ralph Van Wagner, Michigan American Legion sergeant-at-arms.

The evening will be climaxed by announcement of the 1963 queen, who will be crowned by Dr. H. J. Winkler of L'Anse. Last year's queen, Mary Ann Suomela, will reign over the festivities until the coronation. Three seniors — Linda Hutula, Anke Riekken and Susan Spanish — and three juniors — Frances Whitman, Kristine Solberg and Maria Nurmela — are contestants for the title.

Admission to the show will be by booster button. Tickets also may be purchased at the door tonight.

Romney Says His Bill Better Than Nothing

EAST LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney said Wednesday his federal Aid to Dependent Children of Unemployed bill may have some weaknesses, but termed it "100 per cent better than no bill at all."

Tadpole Tangle Creates Crisis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A tadpole tangle created a crisis that never will be forgotten at a freight office here.

Deciding to venture into the bullfrog business, Wallace E. Johnson ordered a batch of frogs and tadpoles from a St. Louis firm.

The shipment arrived on a Friday but nobody could locate Johnson to make delivery.

The men at the freight office were nervous wrecks by the time delivery was made on Monday. They had spent the whole weary weekend pouring fresh water over the tadpoles.

The tag, which should have been on the crate with the 12 frogs instead of the one with the 6,000 tad, read:

"Insured for $20 each."

Jobless Rate Rose 6.4% In January

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan's jobless rate rose to 6.4 per cent of the labor force in January, Michigan State University economists report.

The 6.4 percentage figure — 184,000 were unemployed — compared to 5.5 per cent in December and 8.8 per cent in January a year ago, the economists said.

The capsule, carrying a man-sized dummy, pulled away from a rocket sled during a 1,000-mile per hour test run Thursday and shattered in a spill.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
Psalm 83:13-22	Proverbs 21:11-17	Isaiah 47:10-15	Jeremiah 14:10-16	Daniel 1:8-19	Ephesians 2:13-22	Ephesians 3:7-13

NO PLACE TO GO

All dressed up, the expression goes, and no place to go. These boys are hardly "dressed up." But the rest of the description fits them perfectly.

They are two of the millions of American children who are growing up WITHOUT A CHURCH. Boys with the God-given right to grow up in faith... with the American right to worship God freely according to the dictates of their own conscience. But someone hasn't understood their rights.

Parents who make no provision for their children's religious education are, in effect, robbing these children of the most precious heritage of every American. Grownups who, by the tell-tale example of indifference, encourage boys and girls to emulate the Godlessness that the Iron Curtain seeks to foster are undermining the spiritual substance of our nation.

No more serious problem faces America today than the children who on Sunday morning in a land of churches have no place to go.

Honestly, now, are you creating the problem—or helping to conquer it?
