Castro Gets Another Look At Missiles

MOSCOW (AP) — Fidel Castro got another fleeting glimpse today of the types of Soviet rockets Premier Khrushchev pulled out of Cuba last year at President Kennedy's insistence.

The Cuban prime minister appeared with Khrushchev in the place of honor atop the Lenin mausoleum at the annual May Day parade in Red Square.

He appeared to enjoy the military review and workers' parade, which U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler boycotted because of Castro's presence. Kohler watched the celebration on a television set in his residence.

Deeply Offended
Castro conversed animatedly with Khrushchev as the Soviets rolled out a 10-minute review of their military hardware.

Among the weapons that sped past the reviewing stand were 500 to 700-mile range rockets similar to those withdrawn from Cuba during last year's crisis.

The Cuban leader reportedly was deeply offended by Khrushchev's failure to notify him in advance of the decision to withdraw the rockets under American pressure.

Center Of Attraction
Castro, dressed in white shirt, tie and dress uniform for the first time since he arrived in the Soviet Union last weekend, was the center of attraction in Red Square. Khrushchev enthusiastically led him the length of the reviewing stand to let the crowds catch a glimpse of the revolutionary leader.

Castro listened quietly as the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, charged "reactionary circles" of the United States with a policy of aggression and provocations against Cuba "in gross violation of the elementary standards of international law."

Always Ready
Malinovsky declared that Soviet forces are always ready to "ensure the complete defeat of any aggressor who encroaches on the peaceful labor, freedom and independence of the U.S.S.R. and other Socialist countries."

Khrushchev Sends His Assurances To JFK On Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has sent personal good wishes to President Kennedy and assurances that the Soviet envoy in Laos has been told to work with British and American ambassadors to try to settle the Laotian crisis.

That was the oral message Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman said he conveyed Tuesday night to the President. It was the reply to a written message Kennedy had sent Khrushchev.

Harriman, who returned from Moscow Monday night, briefed the President on his 3½-hour talk with Khrushchev.

Jayne Mansfield Granted Mexican Divorce; May Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Freshly divorced in Mexico, Jayne Mansfield arrived home Tuesday night on the arm of Nelson Sordelli, the Brazilian-born night club entertainer who had accompanied her on the trip south of the border.

Sordelli declined to answer questions about when they might wed. "The divorce was granted earlier yesterday in Juarez, Mexico, by Judge Miguel Guerra on grounds of incompatibility."

She was awarded custody of her two children by her ex-husband Mickey Hargitay, Miklos Jr., 4, and Zoltan, 2.

11 To Retrace Steps Of Slain Integrationist

CHAITANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — An integrated group began a walk through the Deep South today—planning to trace the steps of Baltimore postman William L. Moore, who was shot to death near Atlanta, Ala., April 24.

The six white men and five Negro men face almost certain arrest in Alabama.

Each marcher is a member of either the Congress of Racial Equality or the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Marchers are to be accompanied by a truck driven by a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Moore was wearing a placard which proclaimed that Negroes and white persons should be allowed to eat together anywhere.

The "freedom marchers" said they are intent upon walking to Jackson, Miss., to give their integration views to Gov. Ross Barnett.

Memorial To Moore
That was Moore's intention when he was killed. An Alabama grocer, Floyd L. Simpson, has been charged with the slaying.

The walkers plan to set out from the bus station here where Moore began his ill-fated trek. They call their walk a memorial to Moore, a white man.

OAS Studies Situation At Haitian Capital

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — The dispute between Haiti and the Dominican Republic narrowed today while an inter-American peace mission studied the situation in the Haitian capital.

Haitian President Francois Duvalier told a cheering crowd of 10,000 Tuesday night. "No one can dictate to me—I am the personification of the Haitian nation. 'I Will Keep Power'."

"I will keep power," Duvalier declared. "God is the only one who can take it from me."

Duvalier had just finished meeting with the members of the peace mission from the Organization of American States. They came to Port au Prince from Santo Domingo, capital of the Dominican Republic, where Foreign Minister Andres Broussard charged that Duvalier had offered a military base to Communist Cuba, 50 miles away.

In Washington, State Department press officer Lincoln White said he was unaware of any such offer to Prime Minister Fidel Castro. U.S. officials said American forces patrolling the Caribbean would block any effort by Castro's regime to establish military bases in Haiti or send arms there.

Genealogy
Duvalier's regime imposed censorship on outgoing news dispatches shortly after the OAS mission arrived.

The U.S. government protested incidents last week involving U.S. Marines. The wife of a Marine sergeant was mauled and arrested by a Haitian guard and a noise bomb was set off at the home of another Marine sergeant.

Revoked Agreement
Duvalier asked the U.S. Embassy Friday to withdraw the 60-man Marine mission sent here to train Haitian troops. He revoked the training agreement, indicating he considered the mission was involved in an alleged plot by army officers to overthrow him.

The United States has demanded any such involvement but said it would withdraw the mission.

Downstate Hit By Rash Of Strikes
Contractors and union negotiators aided by mediators today sought settlements for a rash of spring strikes and strike threats in Michigan's commercial construction and highway construction industries.

Several carpenter, laborer and iron worker union locals walked off the job at midnight Tuesday in most areas of the southern Lower Peninsula.

Some 2,200 members of the Southwestern Michigan Carpenters Council were on strike in Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Coldwater, Benton Harbor, Holland, Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

Members of Laborers Local 1975 were on strike in Genoa, Lapeer and Shiawassee Counties.

Iron Workers Local 25 representing 1,500 workers in Wayne County and eastern Michigan went on strike at midnight Tuesday against the Steel and Metal Workers' Association. The association represents 50 firms handling commercial construction and bridge work on highway projects.

Members of the Southwestern Michigan Carpenters Council rejected a contract offer from the contractors. Union spokesmen said wages were not the main issue involved in the dispute.

Sen. Dirksen Says Middle East Holds Threat Of WWII

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois today called the Middle East situation "explosive and dangerous" and said it holds the threat of a third world war.

Dirksen thus added his voice to important exhortations of fear of possible Arab aggression against Israel.

"If we expect to maintain peace and to prevent a war erupting in the Middle East, as it always has, we are going to have to monitor the situation very carefully," Dirksen said in an interview.

Legislative Group Ready To Work On New Constitution
LANSING (AP) — An 18-member legislative interim committee is ready to begin its summer-long work on developing legislation to implement the new State Constitution.

Six Republicans and three Democrats from the House were appointed Tuesday to round out the committee, joining nine senators appointed earlier.

Laws needed to activate the Constitution will be considered during the special fiscal reform session to be called by Gov. George Romney after Labor Day. The Constitution is effective Jan. 1, 1964.

State Demos Set To File For Recount
LANSING (AP) — Democrats say they will file Thursday for at least a partial recount of the April Constitution vote.

The Democrats have until midnight Thursday to file for a recount, following official certification of the vote Tuesday by the Board of State Canvassers.

James Vinal, a spokesman for the Democratic State Central Committee, said the party will file for a recount of a minimum of 1,000 of the state's 3,200 precincts and probably more depending on how much money is raised to finance the recount.

$6,000 Raised
More than $6,000 has been raised by the party for the recount with another $4,000 pledged. A complete recount, at $5 a precinct, would cost more than $25,000.

Supporters of the new Constitution will have 48 hours after the Democratic filing to make a counter-filing for any precinct they want counted to protect the 78.29 margin of approval.

Up To Committee
A spokesman for the Republican State Central Committee said a decision on this will be left up to the Coordinating Committee for the New Constitution. The party will offer every precinct the spokesman said.

Yank Team Near Top Of Mt. Everest
KATMANDU, Nepal, AP — The American Everest expedition's first assault team was believed making its final push today toward the summit of the world's highest mountain.

The expedition established Camp Six at 27,800 feet Tuesday, preparatory to an attempt today to reach the 29,028-foot peak, a spokesman in Kathmandu announced.

Two Men
The push to the summit was to be made by two men, drawn from the four Americans and 13 Sherpa porters who made up the expedition's first assault team.

Climbing below them was a second assault team of four Americans and four Sherpas. Two men from this group also were to try for the summit.

House Chiefs Striving For Omnibus Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders of the House Education Committee have given up all hope this year for legislation providing general federal aid to schools. They are dropping it from the administration's education bill.

Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y. and other ranking Democrats have decided it would be futile to ask Congress now to promote aid for public elementary and high schools.

They still hope, however, to keep most of the rest of President Kennedy's comprehensive education bill in one piece, despite pressure from committee Republicans to concentrate on a single section—and to colleges.

Advocates of the proposal to the states for public-school construction and teachers' salaries marks the third straight year Kennedy has been unable to get a vote in the House on what he has called the heart of his education program.

Religious and racial controversies plus widespread opposition to the concept of federal aid to education have built up a formidable opposition that makes the House leadership reluctant to risk a floor fight.

The decision to dump the general school aid provisions was reached Tuesday at a meeting of Powell and his subcommittee chairman.

Omnibus Bill
The committee leaders voted to try for an omnibus bill containing seven sections, most of which expand or continue existing programs.

They include: A one-year extension of aid to school districts crowded because of federal installations, expansion of vocational education, grants for education of handicapped children, expansion of aid to public libraries, grants to improve the quality of teaching, strengthening of federal-state-local cooperative educational research programs, and expansion of student-loan and other provisions of the national defense education act.

Indonesians Take Over In W. N. Guinea
KOTABARU, West Irian (AP) — Indonesian took over West New Guinea, the last remnant of Holland's East Indian empire, today and renamed it West Irian.

The United Nations transferred control of the western half of the world's second largest island at ceremonies in Hollandia, Guyana, Surinam, MacArthur's wartime headquarters.

The peaceful transfer ended 11 years of struggle by Indonesia for the 139,000 square miles of territory and mountains and 700,000 Papuan people, most of them still in the Stone Age. Australia governs Eastern New Guinea.

Renamed
In becoming with Sukarno's policy of erasing traces of Indonesian former Dutch masters, West New Guinea was renamed West Irian (Irian Land). Hollandia, the capital, became Kotabaru, "New Town."

Foreign Minister Subandrio led the delegation of Indonesian officials at the ceremony. The Dutch government did not take part. The Dutch flag was lowered for the last time Dec. 31, three months after the United Nations started administering the territory.

Due Saturday
Sukarno is due here Saturday and will have 12,000 troops on hand to greet him.

U.S. General Raps Degrading Reports About 'Minuteman'

NORTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The director of the Minuteman program says there is "absolutely no truth" to reports that the intercontinental missile cannot carry its payload to targets in the Soviet Union.

In fact, he says, "we have achieved more than was asked in all respects, including range and payload."

This evaluation came from Brig. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips, director of the Minuteman program and a key figure in rushing the solid-fuel missile to combat status ahead of schedule.

Primary Role
Minuteman has leapfrogged earlier-developed liquid-fuel missiles and won the primary role in this nation's defense arsenal. The United States has set several billion dollars that the Minuteman, capable of streaking from bomb-proof silos even while under attack, will prevent nuclear war.

This has been done with little criticism. But reports began cropping up recently that Minuteman had hit a serious snag—that tests have shown it did not have enough power to hurl its warhead the necessary distance.

Interview
In a rare exclusive interview at this headquarters of the Air Force Ballistic Systems Division, Phillips discussed the Minuteman program.

Q. General, can you say if there is any basis to these reports of difficulties?
A. There is not. Absolutely no basis at all.

Q. How do you think these reports originated?
A. Possibly they were based on mistaken information. The distance traveled in test launches on the Atlantic missile range has been announced as 3,000 to 4,000 miles. This is considerably less than the 6,000 miles required of

Monroe Man, 10 Japs Killed In Plane Crash
TOKYO (AP) — Walter Marder, 50, of Monroe, Mich., was killed today in a plane crash.

A furniture maker, Marder was taking a side trip to Tokushima, on Shikoku Island, to visit a furniture factory. The plane in which he was traveling crashed into a mountain on Awaji Island, 49 miles west of Osaka. Ten Japanese aboard also were killed.

Pastor Has Sermon 'For Sinners Only'
CHICOPEE, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. C. W. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the Federated Church, says the sermon at next Sunday's 10:45 a.m. service is "for sinners only and all sinful persons are requested to stay home."

The pastor notified his congregation today that he is making the request "so we may concentrate on sinners, to whom we offer a cordial invitation regardless of how large or small their involvement is."

Rockefeller, Goldwater Invited To Visit State
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Romney said today he has invited Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to visit Michigan.

He said he would like to have the people of Michigan get an opportunity to become better acquainted with Rockefeller and Goldwater.

Jackson Post For Kircher

LANSING (AP) — The provisional appointment of Merwin Kircher, 56, as deputy warden of Southern Michigan Prison was announced today.

Kircher has been serving as assistant deputy warden at the Marquette Prison. He entered the corrections system as a parole officer at Port Huron in 1945.

Kircher will replace Charles Cahill, who submitted his resignation following the recent escape of four inmates described as desperate from Southern Michigan. His resignation is effective June 2.

COLDWATER (AP) — The eight-day search for four criminals who escaped from Southern Michigan Prison was given new life today when a fisherman reported four men tried to break into his car.

State police and Branch County authorities converged on a wooded area two miles east of here. Two of the men seen by the fisherman, they said, fit the descriptions of men wanted in the prison break.

ALAZAN, Mexico (AP) — This small farm community in northern Tamaulipas State is the scene of a battle of humans against nature — and nature appears to have the upper hand.

Virtually all the 750 residents of the Alazan community are ill with diseases ranging from tuberculosis to diarrhea.

They are among thousands of Mexicans in the northern frontier area suffering from malnutrition and dehydration as the result of a prolonged drought and heat wave.

Isolated
The victims are so isolated that doctors and nurses must use pick-up trucks and vehicles with four-wheel drive to reach them with medicine, food and health information.

The farmers know nothing but tilling the soil. They depend on mother nature to make things turn out right. If she fails, they are lost.

No Major Rain
This year, she failed them. There has been no major rain.

The people have no corn to grind to make meal for tortillas. Beans, another staple in their diet, are shriveling to nothing on the vine. Cotton, the major cash crop for the small plot owners, is turning yellow less than six inches out of the seed.

Without corn and beans there is no food. No cotton means no clothes, no oil for lanterns, and no shoes.

The people live in shacks built of boards, in adobe huts, in the shanty lean-tos, and in one-room shanties made out of sticks and mud.

When the crops die, as they are dying, there is no way to restore the fields, because there is no more seed and no money to buy any.

Barnore Murder Trial Jury Still Deliberating
MUSKEGON (AP) — A Muskegon County Circuit Court jury resumed deliberations today in the murder trial of Herman Barnore.

Their closed door session Tuesday lasted 7 hours and 40 minutes without a decision on possible verdicts of second-degree murder, manslaughter, or acquittal for the 49-year-old itinerant handyman.

Barnore is accused in the gunshot death July 5, 1955 of 12-year-old Evanston, Ill., Boy Scout Peter Gorham.

Blue Shield Rate Hike Gets Court Test Today
DETROIT (AP) — Whether Michigan Medical Service (Blue Shield) can hike its rates without the approval of the insurance commissioner was to be tested today in the Wayne County Circuit Court of Judge Theodore Bohn.

The immediate issue in the hearing was whether to make permanent an order preventing Blue Shield from increasing rates to its 3.5 million subscribers.

Freeze Perils Fruit Crops In Michigan

(By the Associated Press)
A sudden spring freeze hit Michigan overnight, dumping snows in upper and western Michigan and menacing some fruit crops.

The Detroit low of 32 today was only 4 degrees above the record May 1 low in 1903.

Snow remained on the ground in the Upper Peninsula, and in Grand Rapids Tuesday 3½ inches fell, the heaviest snowfall ever recorded so late in spring.

(By the Associated Press)
Cool, snowy, rainy and windy weather chilled and dampened the debut of the muggy month of May today in areas from the Midwest into New York State.

Snow

Two persons were killed in traffic accidents on snow-covered highways in Ohio.

Three Inches

AVERAGE GIRL --- 35-25-35:

Computer Sizes Up Females

ATLANTA (AP) — A nose electronics computer was fed distasteful data from a company's annual $30 million individual bra and foundation sales.

The machine came up with these facts worth mentioning about unmentionables:
Women pay as much attention to bra patterns as they do hat styles. High school and college girls like frills and ribbons. After the honeymoon they choose more severe patterns.
Most girls prefer white bras throughout the year, but choose red, blue, black and other colors for Christmas, Easter and Valentine's Day.

Chances 'Good' For City To Get Federal Aid For Steam Plant

Marquette has "a very good chance" to receive a federal grant for half the cost of the planned steam electric generating plant, City Manager Thomas Moore said today.

Moore reported to the city commission that Tom Angel, Iron River, Upper Peninsula coordinator for the Area Redevelopment Administration, said that Marquette's application "is in order" and has "a good chance" for approval.

The city has applied through the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for a grant under the accelerated public works program for a grant which would provide half the cost of the $2,475,000 steam plant.

Pending In Senate

The U. S. Senate this week is considering a bill to appropriate $450,000,000 more for the accelerated public works program. The proposal has already been passed by the House of Representatives.

It is expected that the bill will pass, but until that time, processing of applications for accelerated public works program funds has been held up, Moore said.

"After the appropriation has been approved, our next step will be to get an early review of our application at the Chicago regional office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency," Moore said.

After being reviewed in Chicago, the application would next be sent to the Washington headquarters for serious consideration.

"After being reviewed in Chicago, the application would next be sent to the Washington headquarters for serious consideration."

City officials are optimistic concerning the grant because of the quality of Marquette's application, the need for the steam plant and the fact that so far very few accelerated public works funds have been awarded for projects in this area.

The steam plant will be constructed on the Standard Oil Co. property off S. Lake St. in Lower Harbor.

Mayor C. Fred Hedlund and City Clerk Everett H. Kent were authorized to exercise the city's option on the property at the week's regular city commission meeting.

The commission held another budget preparation meeting last night in the city hall.

The city will pay Standard Oil $23,000, plus some property along County Road 550, near the Birds Eye Veneer Co. plant, in exchange for the steam plant site.

Kiwanis Set Annual Chicken Barbecue For Mothers' Day, May 12

Marquette's Kiwanis Club will hold its annual chicken barbecue on Mothers' Day, Sunday, May 12, it was announced today.

General chairman for the event is the Kiwanis president, Melvin N. Nyquist. The barbecue has been well received during the past few years, with each dinner being supervised by Nyquist.

Kiwanis purposely holds the barbecue on Mothers' Day, to promote the slogan: "Give Moms, wives a day off — take them to the Kiwanis chicken barbecue."

Installation Of Phi Alpha Held At NMU

Formal installation of the Phi Alpha National Social Service Honor Society was held at Northern Michigan University last evening in the Faculty Lounge.

Seventeen students enrolled in the social service curriculum comprise the charter Eta Chapter of the organization.

Dr. Jean R. Pearman, head of the NMU department of economics and sociology, represented the national society in the installation.

Purposes, Objectives Noted

Among the purposes and objectives of the honor society is to improve and further the goals and objectives of social work in the community by encouraging awareness of current developments and practices in the various fields of social work; furthering research and study in social work; and the developing of active communication and positive working relations among schools of social work and the related areas.

David L. Neal, a graduate student in the school of social work at Michigan State University, East Lansing, is the national president.

Serving as faculty advisers to the Northern chapter, besides Prof. Pearman, are Prof. Albert A. Burrows, Associate Prof. Wilton Duckworth, and Paul Vaughn, members of the NMU sociology and economics department.

Charter Members Listed

Charter members of the NMU chapter are:

David Boyd, Marquette; Mary Lou Blomquist, Metropolitan; Richard Carlson, Marquette; Roger Caron, Marquette; Patricia Demman, Sault Ste. Marie; Levi Etelamaki, Palmer; Ernie Gendron II, Iron River; Dolores Johnson, Daggett.

Seldon Kalbfleisch, St. Ignace; Helen Kivisto, Negaunee; Phil Langlois, Negaunee; Kenneth Morin, Gwin; George A. Smith, Marquette; Suann Smith, Gladstone; William Taylor, Marquette; Gloria Tiziani, Ironwood; and Julie Woodbridge, Southfield.

The event will be held again this year in the National Guard Armory, corner of Wright St. and Lincoln Ave., with serving between noon and 2 p. m. and take-out orders being accepted.

All proceeds will be used by Kiwanis for its underprivileged children's activities fund.

"We wish to stress that, as in the past, all money cleared from this barbecue is used for this purpose only," Nyquist stated. "None of the money goes into our general fund; it's all used by the club for underprivileged children's activities."

Youth Programs Named

During the year, Kiwanis holds a party for underprivileged children at Christmas, a picnic for Holy Family Orphans Home, contributes to the Salvation Army children's camps, helps the Bay Cliff Health Camp for handicapped children at Big Bay and carries out other youth activity programs.

"Each year our takeout list seems to get bigger," Nyquist said, "and we want to point out that we again will provide this service."

"Those participating may either enjoy the dinner in the pleasant surroundings of the armory or get the dinner and eat it at home or elsewhere."

Ample Parking Space

Nyquist also noted that there's plenty of parking space in the huge lot at the armory, with the dinner going on "regardless of rain, snow or shine."

"One year we did have snow," Nyquist said, "but our dinner went on as scheduled. Our pit crew will be prepared for anything."

Members of Sea Scout Ship 303, which is sponsored by Kiwanis, will assist members in the kitchen with the serving of the dinner.

Ladies of Kiwanians will assist in the pre-dinner preparations. All members of the club comprise the barbecue committee.

Hospitality Day Set At Police Post

Michigan State police will hold their seventh annual observance of Michigan Week with an open house at all posts on Hospitality Day, Tuesday, May 21.

Sgt. Grant C. Barry, commanding officer of the Marquette post, said that in addition, the state flag as well as the United States flag, will be flown all during the week, which runs from May 19 to 25.

Visiting hours at the Marquette post will be from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. A special welcome is extended to the public to examine the equipment and facilities and find out how the department operates.

Visitors will be escorted on tours by officers, Barry said.

Always Welcome

"Visitors are always welcome at the post, but open house provides a special opportunity to find out how a post is operated," said Barry. "They will learn how we function and the services we perform. Questions are invited and there will be an exhibit."

"To those who do not know the location, the Marquette post is situated on U.S. 41 south, and is easily identified. We'll be waiting to see you."

TV Station Picks Tomlin As Manager

The M and M Broadcasting Co., Green Bay, owners of North Central Broadcasting Co., Channel 6, Marquette, announced today the appointment of James L. Tomlin as general manager of WLUC-TV.

Tomlin, former sales manager of WLUC-TV, has been employed for the last three years as sales promotion manager for WDAY, Green Bay.

Tomlin has been in the broadcast business for the last eight years, starting his career at WISC, Madison, Wis., in 1955.

He will relocate his home and family here.

City Paragraphs

The fire department was summoned at 8:59 yesterday morning to the Cliffs Dow Chemical Co., off Presque Isle Ave., where a box-car of charcoal caught fire. The blaze was extinguished by the plant's fire department. The Nos. 2 (1,000-gallon) and 4 (750-gallon) pumps were driven to the scene, with seven on-duty and six off-duty firemen responding. They returned to the station at 9 a. m.

Two Vehicles Damaged In Area Crackups

Two automobiles were damaged and a motorist was issued a ticket, but no one was injured, in a pair of traffic mishaps reported today by state police from the Marquette post.

At 3:50 yesterday morning a car being driven west on County Road 480 by William E. Mitchell, 21, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, went out of control and traveled off the right side of the highway, smashing into a tree and rolling over.

Speed Law Violation

Mitchell told state police he drove to the left when he saw a tree with its branches partly in his lane. He lost control in swinging back into his own lane after passing the tree. The mishap took place 1.4 miles west of County Road 551, in Sands Township.

Extensive damage resulted to the left front and side of Mitchell's automobile, a 1957 roadster, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

Mitchell was issued a summons by state police for a speed law violation.

Crashes Into Ditch

The other collision occurred at 10:40 Monday evening on County Road JA, 1 of a mile north of the Carp River Bridge in Negaunee Township, but state police didn't receive a report of it until yesterday.

Officers said Uno Kahelin, 57, Route 1, Negaunee, reported he was driving south on Road JA when he attempted to avoid a tree which had blown into the southbound lane of traffic during the storm.

He lost control of his car on the icy roadway and it slid off the east side of the highway, rolling into the ditch.

The front end of Kahelin's 1961

Conservation department officers this morning retrieved the carcass of a deer which had floated up on the Marquette shoreline.

Officers theorized that the deer had run into Lake Superior when it was being chased by dogs. The deer apparently became exhausted and drowned.

A northwesterly wind blew the carcass onto the shore in front of the home of George Wilder, 820 S. Lake St., and Wilder notified city police, who in turn notified conservation officers.

Officers said the carcass had probably floated in the lake for several days.

C-C Divisions Back Pays To Know Drive

Retail and automotive divisions of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce have joined the tourist support behind the 1963 "Pays to Know" hospitality campaign.

Clifton Wagner, chairman of the retail division, and William Evert, chairman of the automotive division said today that since the travel industry aids the total economy of the community, they felt all merchants, sales and service people should be interested in supporting the industry.

Both Wagner and Evert urge all Marquette-area sales and service people to attend one of the two merchandising clinics set for Wednesday, May 8, in the Gravelier High School Auditorium.

Each clinic will last about one hour and 15 minutes, the first starting at 8:30 a. m. and the second is scheduled for 1:30 in the afternoon.

Continuous Program

The Michigan State University Extension Service and the Upper Michigan Tourist Association will conduct the clinic which is to be followed by a continuous six-month hosting program planned to utilize Upper Peninsula attractions to hold tourists in the area longer.

The Marquette campaign is a part of the Upper Peninsula "Pays to Know" program which started last year and which involved 3,000 employees in sales clinics and attractions tours over the U.P.

Three Contracts For Built-In Equipment Awarded By Schools

Three contracts totaling $136,645 for built-in equipment at the Marquette Senior High School were awarded at a special meeting of the board of education in the Gray-Verratt Building this week.

The contract for science laboratory equipment in the new high school was awarded to the second lowest bidder, Classrooms, Inc., Grand Rapids, at $53,999.

For food service equipment, the contract was awarded to the low bidder, Rhoads Equipment Co., Inc., East Wayne, Ind., at $30,600.

The contract for arts and crafts and homemaking equipment was awarded to the second lowest bidder, Classrooms, Inc., at $32,045.

Had Studied Bids

Bids for permanent equipment were opened by the school board March 14. The awarding of the contracts was postponed to allow time for a complete study of the types of equipment named in the proposals.

Bids were also opened March 14 for gymnasium seating, but the equipment named is still being investigated and bidding firms have been asked for an extension of time for the awarding of the contract.

Architect Malcolm Williams of Warren S. Holmes Co., Lansing, reported on the extensive study he made with school officials of installations of the types of equipment named in the bids for contracts awarded.

Suggestions Followed

The recommendations of this study committee were followed by the board in awarding the contracts for the three types of built-in equipment.

In discussing the science laboratory equipment, Williams said that Classrooms, Inc. has a number of very satisfactory installations in schools designed by the Holmes firm.

Science equipment will be installed in the new high school's seven science classrooms, for biology, chemistry, physics, general science and conservation.

Included in the contract are demonstration desks for instructors, student work tables, storage cabinets, science sinks, a fume hood for the chemistry room and a terrarium.

Worked With Firm

Williams also noted that his firm has worked with Rhoads Equipment Co., awarded the contract for food service equipment, and said he was sure the school board would find the equipment satisfactory.

The food service equipment contract includes the high school cafeteria's built-in equipment, such as dishwashing equipment, ranges, a vegetable sink, cooks' table, refrigeration equipment and serving counters.

Williams said that the arts and crafts and homemaking equipment named by Classrooms, Inc., which was awarded that contract, is superior.

Although the bid of Classrooms, Inc., was about $500 higher than that of the low bidder for the contract, Williams said that superior equipment, plus the fact that two of the contractor's employees will supervise the installation made by local skilled labor, would be worth much more than $500 to the school board.

The homemaking contract includes built-in cabinet work in the foods area, built-in equipment in the six-unit kitchens, cabinets in the sewing room, and work counters and other cabinet work in the home furnishings room.

For the new high school's two arts and crafts rooms, plus an office and a storeroom for that department, equipment included in the contract awarded includes cabinets, wall counters, storage room for supplies and projects and work tables.

Specifications Being Drawn

In addition to the gymnasium seating bids already opened, bids for built-in equipment yet to be called for include language laboratory equipment and window shades and draperies. Williams said specifications for bids for the last two items are now being drawn up.

Science Laboratory Proposals

Bids for science laboratory equipment were:

Weber Showcase & Fixture Co., Grand Rapids, $32,960; Classrooms, Inc., $33,999; Milwaukee Equipment Co., $36,132; Speaker & Associates, $37,600; McFadden Corp., Lansing, $39,489; Upper Peninsula Office Supply, Marquette, $50,000; University School Equipment, Ann Arbor, $60,286; and Scheiber Sales Co., Detroit, $60,698.

Food Service Equipment

Proposals for food service equipment were:

Rhoads Equipment Co., Inc., $30,600; Great Lakes Hotel Supply Co., $31,104; Ray Fixture and Refrigeration, $32,925; and John Van Dauge Co., Cincinnati, $37,616.

Arts, Crafts, Homemaking

Offers for arts and crafts and homemaking equipment were:

Wisconsin Kitchen Mart, arts and crafts, $19,574, homemaking, $21,044, combined, $31,618; Classrooms, Inc., arts and crafts, $9,673, homemaking, $22,473, combined, $32,146; McFadden Corp., Lansing, arts and crafts, $19,540, homemaking, $23,000, combined, $32,540.

Speaker and Associates, arts and crafts, $10,269, homemaking, $24,009, combined, $34,278; University School Equipment Co., Ann Arbor, arts and crafts, $10,997, homemaking, $24,529, combined, $35,526; Milwaukee Equipment Co., arts and crafts, $10,356, homemaking, $25,491, combined, $35,847; Schuster Sales Co., Detroit, arts and crafts, $11,928, homemaking, $27,767, combined, $39,695; and Upper Peninsula Office Supply Co., Marquette, arts and crafts, $11,400, homemaking, $30,950, and combined $42,350.

The tallest tree in the world is now believed to be a 308-foot California redwood in Humboldt County, Calif. The new champion of trees as yet unnamed, tops the Founders Tree which just 17 feet in a storm a few years ago.

Over 100 In NMU, MSU Special College Courses

Over 100 Upper Peninsula school teachers are enrolling in special college credit courses in guidance and personnel services which started last week in Iron Mountain, Manistique and Rudyard.

The courses, open to teachers and others interested in earning either graduate or undergraduate credit, are being cooperatively sponsored by Northern Michigan University and Michigan State University.

Students can earn two semester hours of credit at NMU or three term hours at MSU.

MSU Prof. Carl Horn of East Lansing is teaching the course and classes meet once a week in all three locations. Dr. Horn says the unusually large turnout indicates a sincere concern among area teachers and he feels the courses can have a very desirable effect on school programs.

At the first class meeting 40 enrolled at Rudyard, 20 at Manistique and 26 at Iron Mountain. At least five additional registrants were expected at each location this week.

The eminent plant explorer, Dr. Joseph F. Rock, was the first to photograph, map and sketch the little-known gorges of the upper Yangtze, Mekong and Salween rivers.

Pickup In Precinct 4 Tomorrow

Public works department crews will be in Precinct 4 tomorrow, picking up raked-up debris, leaves, brush and other unwanted articles.

Precinct 4 is bounded on the south by Washington St., on the east by Fourth St., on the north by Hewitt Ave. and on the west by the city limits.

Crews are spending one day in each precinct picking up rubbish and raking as the phase of the spring cleanup program.

Residents have been asked to pile leaves and grass in the streets, near the edge of the curbing.

All other brush and trash should be placed near the curb, but not on the street, Howard L. Coppens, public works department superintendent, said.

One of the visiting cadets from the United States Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo., returns from his orientation flight at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base in the F-101 jet fighter-interceptor. With him is one of the pilots of the 42nd Fighter-Interceptor Squadron. Thirty cadets from the academy were hosted at the base by the squadron. At right, Col. James F. Reed, 56th Fighter Wing commander, welcomes the cadets to Sawyer in the base dining hall.—(USAF photos).

Sawyer Wing Host To 30 USAF Cadets

K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base's 56th Fighter Wing played host to 30 cadets from the United States Air Force Academy recently.

The cadets represented the 18th Squadron at the academy. The 56th Fighter Wing has sponsored the 18th since Field Commander Col. James F. Reed visited the academy in 1961 and presented them with the colors and a history of the wing.

Take Orientation Flights
During their visit at Sawyer the cadets toured the SAGE building, were taken for orientation flights in the F-101 jet fighter interceptor and visited with junior officers and their families.

Also during their visit a dinner attended by all the officers of the 56th Fighter Wing was held in the base dining hall.

The purpose of the sponsorship program is to acquaint cadets with members of combat and support units, motivate and train them toward a professional career, and stimulate appreciation of the academy throughout the Air Force.

The Air Force Academy is located high on the east slope of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains about nine miles north of Colorado Springs. There are about 2,400 in the student body with approximately 350 officers making up the faculty.

ing, America is now growing timber faster than it is using it or losing it to fire, insects and diseases. This has brought an enormous collateral boom in conservation and recreational benefits.

Forest industries are the nation's fourth largest. Capital gain change on forest growth, says the industry, would injure the foundation of this economy which provides nearly a million and a half full time jobs.

Seminar For Foreign Students Ends At Northern Tomorrow

A three-day seminar on community development, arranged for visiting foreign students, began at Northern Michigan University yesterday.

The seminar, which will end tomorrow, covers the roles of educational institutions, business and industry, local, state, and federal government agencies, health agencies, and private and regional agencies in community development.

The visiting students are members of a community development class from Michigan State University now on a field trip to the Upper Peninsula.

The students are Marimo A. Ballaqa, Flor G. Batoon, and Onofre C. Espanol of the Philippines; Suwanai Thongnop and Srit Smeekam of Thailand, and S. P. Nair of India.

The students are accompanied by MSU faculty members Stewart Marquis, Dr. John Donoghue, and Dr. Iwao Ishino of the Institute for Community Development, and Edmond Alchin, Lansing, and Abram P. Snyder, Marquette, community development specialists.

Gale Winds Hamper Ship Rescue Bids

Gale winds hampered ship rescue efforts on the Great Lakes at opposite sides of Michigan Tuesday night. Two vessels were stricken in turbulent seas. They were undergoing repairs today.

But, there was no sign of life aboard a boat that capsized in Lake Michigan, a Coast Guard search plane said.

The 25-foot cruiser was found awash, with about two feet of the bow above water, about 30 miles due east of Port Washington, Wis.

20-Foot Waves
Aboard the boat when it left Sheboygan, Wis., Sunday on a return trip to Ludington, Mich., were Albert Boertman, 52, and Arthur Cramer 48.

The Coast Guard Cutter Mesquite moved through stormy waters Tuesday in an attempt to take the stricken cruiser in tow. Waves reached 20 feet, hampering the operation.

In Lake Huron, the Coast Guard Cutter Acacia reached the Canadian tanker Cape Transport about midnight. The cutter fought 20-foot waves for six hours to reach the disabled tanker.

Loses Steering Gear
The Cape Transport reported that high waves had crushed its pilot house and washed away all electronic equipment. Its FM radio was its only means of communication. It reported at 5 p.m. that it had lost its steering gear and direction finder.

The Acacia found the ship 6 1/2 miles off Port Sanilac. The vessel had been upbound, off Harbor Beach in the Thumb area, when it was crippled.

U.P. Fears Loss From Plan To Remove Timber Growth From Capital Gains Taxation

Proposal of the Kennedy Administration to end capital gains tax treatment of timber growth has brought a quick protest from wood industries and timberland owners and raised some serious questions for the Upper Peninsula.

The U.P. is more dependent upon wood industry than any other part of its economy. It is estimated that about $150 million is contributed by wood industry, with iron mining in the next spot at $100 million. The tourist business claims to be a leader, too, but no generally accepted means of gauging its volume has been developed.

Preferred Tax Status
"Capital gain" is a tax status for property held over 6 months. If it increases in value, the difference between cost and sale value is taxed at only half the increase.

Thus capital gain is a preferred tax status given to some properties in recognition of the fact that it required years to achieve this added value, or for some other reason, as, for instance, to encourage investment that brings public benefits.

Code Amended In 1944
The present capital gain treatment of timber is provided for in Section 631 (a) and (b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1944.

Before that enactment, if a taxpayer sold a stand of timber outright, his gain was subject to capital gains tax treatment instead of ordinary income tax treatment. But if the taxpayer cut his timber or sold it under a contract, he wasn't entitled to capital gains.

This was inequitable taxation, and under the pressures of World War II, with reforestation and conservation lagging and a timber famine in sight, Congress amended the Internal Revenue Code in 1944 to give equal treatment on timber growth as capital gains.

Proposed Changes
Now the Administration proposes to change the code to:

1. Limit capital gain and loss treatment for timber owned by individuals to the first $5,000 of capital gain in any year. Gains in excess of that amount would be taxed as ordinary income.

2. Return to taxing all income on timber owned by corporations at ordinary corporate income rates.

3. Subject capital gain to income tax rates where timber is sold outright for a lump sum. (Outright sale of other capital assets like real estate and corporate stocks would still be accorded capital gain and loss treatment.)

4. Assess a capital gain tax at death and then assess the state tax.

Enactment of these proposals, says the Forest Industries Committee on Timber Valuation and Taxation, would be a calamity for the timber industry, to wood manufacturing and distribution and to reforestation and forest management.

Very small timberland owners, who are doing the poorest job of reforestation and forest management, would be allowed capital gains, but in the larger holdings where values have been appreciated the most by good management and investment, timber would be taxed as ordinary income.

Suggested Palliatives
The Treasury Department proposes some palliatives in exchange for this swallop. It suggests an averaging provision covering taxable income over a five-year period, reduction of income tax rates from 20 to 91 per cent to a range of from 14 to 65 per cent, allowing expensing of tree planting costs, reduction of corporate income tax rate from 52 to 47 per cent, and increasing 30 per cent instead of 50 per cent in taxable income at death, within the $5,000 ceiling.

Net result of the proposed changes would be a deadly blow for woodland investors and for wood industry, the committee says. Capital gains tax treatment has been a chief tool of forest improvement in the United States. It made profit an incentive for forest investment.

Enormous Collateral Boon
Capital gain fostered commercial forests, the orderly cutting of mature timber, sustained yield management, a scientific and economic revolution in American forestry which has brought employment to 19,000 professional foresters ($8,500 of them by forest products industries) and stabilized wood industries, the committee says.

Despite the risks in forest grow-

County Man, Free On Bond, Jailed For Reckless Driving

Gerald E. Morris, 25, of 204 S. Pine St., Ishpeming, was sentenced to jail yesterday on a reckless driving charge after his vehicle forced a Marquette police patrol car off the highway.
Morris had been free on bond for a manslaughter charge, which resulted from the death of his wife, Louise, in July.
Morris appeared before Judge Edward H. Dembowski in municipal court and was ordered to spend five days in jail and to pay a fine of $50 and $5.10 costs. Alternative behind the Michigan Department of Conservation office.

3 Others Arrested
Three passengers in the car were arrested for being drunk and disorderly. Melvin D. Garceau, 23; Gary Sparks, 27, and Lauri Tampari, 24, all of Ishpeming, were each ordered by Judge Dembowski to spend five days in jail and pay fines of $15 and $5.10 costs. Alternative sentence to paying the fines and costs is to spend an additional five days in jail.
Jailed On Second Count
Judge Dembowski also ordered Morris to spend two days in jail, to be served consecutively with the reckless driving sentence, for driving with defective brakes.
The ticket was issued by city police at the time of the reckless driving arrest.
Morris' wife died July 3, 1962.

Proposal To Build Mall Topic For Planning Meet Tomorrow

A proposal to construct a mall on W. Washington St., between Third and Fourth Sts., will be discussed at a meeting of the Marquette Area Planning Commission at 7 tomorrow night in the city hall.
Slides of the Kalamazoo mall will be shown by Mrs. Lucille Treado, Marquette, chairman of the area planning commission. The planning commission meetings are open to the public.
A mall is one of the proposals made under the "701 Study" for improving the shopping potential in Marquette.
The study is being made by Vilcan-Leman and Associates, Inc., Southfield, under contract with the City of Marquette and Choccolay and Marquette Townships.

The "701 Study" is derived from Section 701 of the Area Redevelopment Act, which enables the federal government to participate in local planning projects on a 50-50 basis, or as in the case of the Marquette area, a 75-25 basis, because the area in question has been designated a depressed area.
Max Putter, consultant here for Vilcan-Leman, said a study of tourism being made as part of the "701 Study" will be previewed at tomorrow night's meeting.
Largest meteorite known is the Hoba, estimated to weigh between 50 and 70 tons, located near Grootfontein, Southwest Africa.

Pearce Heads Bond Drive In County

Today marks the kick-off of the U. S. Treasury's 1963 freedom bond drive, an intensive nationwide effort to stimulate systematic purchasing of U. S. savings bonds in all American households.

As a part of the national campaign, every family in the county is being asked to buy at least one savings bond before July 4.

Leading civic, fraternal, business, labor, veterans', women's and professional organizations in Marquette County are joining in the effort, according to Ernest L. Pearce, Marquette chairman of the Marquette County Savings Bonds Committee.

He explained that if the families of 50 per cent or more of the members buy at least one bond during the drive period, the organization or club qualifies for a colorful Treasury citation.

Easy To Purchase
The bond may be purchased via the payroll savings plan at work, through the bond-a-month plan at a bank, or over the counter at any financial institution. Or it may be obtained in exchange for a filled album of U. S. saving stamps or received as a refund on one's 1962 income tax. A bond bought by one member of the family counts for all members of the family.

"Savings bonds not only provide an excellent means of building family security," Pearce said, "they also contribute to the economic stability of our nation, and thus to the preservation of freedom. Every buyer can take satisfaction in the knowledge he has contributed to his nation's defense."

Among organizations cooperating in the Freedom Bond Drive are the Lions, Exchange, Kiwanis, Optimists, State Federation of Women's Clubs, Eagles, Moose, Pilots International, American Legion, AFL-CIO Auxiliary, B'nai B'rith and Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Sawyer Group In 65-Mile Hike For Fund For Retarded

Members of the Honor Guard of the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base will join in a march of about 65 miles from the base to Escanaba in behalf of the School Fund for the Retarded Children on Friday.

About 20 men are expected to join the contingent of marchers.

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey, informed of the plans, said preparations are being made to welcome the group.

"They will start out about 4:30 a.m. and are expected to arrive between 8 and 8:30 Friday night," said Harvey. "Escanaba is planning a welcome for them, with the Little German Band out to greet them at the city limits."

It was also reported that Gladstone will greet the Air Force marchers and that a smaller band escort is being arranged there.

Refresher Course Taken By 2 Police

Two troopers from the Marquette post were among the 30 Michigan State Police Underwater Recovery Squad members who took a refresher course this week at the East Lansing headquarters.

Attending the course from here were Troopers LaMar Esh and Charles Foidlhauser, skin divers assigned to Marquette.

The two-day course included a night dive into a water-filled pit near Williamston, a five-mile hike and an extensive physical examination.

The course was held at the Michigan State Police Training Center to Cadillac, May 5.

Cpl. Gerald Gertiser of the Newberry post will be assigned to Flint, effective May 19, with the equivalent rank of detective.

Det. Jack Minard of the Flint post will be transferred to the Newberry post, effective May 19, with the equivalent rank of corporal.

State Slashes Extension Service Funds

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University's cooperative extension service has taken an $80,000 slash in appropriations from the State Legislature.

The service's funds were lowered after a rousing battle between citizens and lawmakers with the Senate approving an investigation while the battle was being fought.

Charges Slated
The final appropriation of $2.29 million is about $100,000 less than was recommended by Gov. George Romney's staff, about $80,000 less than was appropriated last year, and about $10,000 less than was appropriated to the service for the 1960-61 and 1961-62 fiscal years.

Dr. Noel Ralston, extension service director, said there would have to be changes and curtailments in the service because of the appropriation.

"It is the people in the communities who will suffer," Ralston said.

The slash over the size of the appropriation began after the Senate, headed by Frank Beadle, R-Port Huron, recommended a cut in the administration-recommended figure of $2.48 million.

Letters and telephone calls poured in to the senator, and a Senate subcommittee was ordered to check into the "extremely heavy pressures."

Pressure Cited
In a news release, Beadle said "if as much thought and effort is put into sound and sincere planning of the cooperative extension services as has been put into the pressure drive to put the heat on the legislature to restore the cut that was made, much good will come in a 'get your dollar's worth' program."

The appropriations measure then went to the House Ways and Means Committee, headed by Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City, which restored the cut.

But the final appropriation reflected the Senate's thinking, despite the objections of the Michigan Farm Bureau, the state's largest farm organization, and participants in the extension service program.

Ralston said he was unsure of the specific curtailments to be made in the service, but indicated that vacant positions would be left open.

Ninety per cent of the service's budget, he explained, goes to the salaries of personnel either at MSU or in county extension offices.

He said a one per cent pay raise to all personnel would amount to about $38,000. Thus a hike in funds is needed to maintain current services, he said, and a cut hurts that much more.

He said the service has an extension director in 75 of the state's 83 counties. The remaining 8 are divided among four directors.

Upper Peninsula extension service headquarters for MSU are in Marquette.

As for charges that the extension service is full of frills, courses in basket-weaving and the like — Ralston counters that the people who are served by the service, who pay no tuition nor fee, decide what they would like to be instructed in.

Series Of Teas Aimed At Rebuilding Home Of Late Henry Ford Nearly 200 women — social and civic leaders — gathered on the Dearborn campus of the University of Michigan yesterday for the first in a series of teas sponsored by the Women's Committee for the Development of Fair Lane.

A fund-raising drive is currently under way to refurbish Fair Lane, home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, which is on the U-M Dearborn campus.

Mrs. Janie L. Johnson, Dearborn, chairman of the committee, hosted yesterday's affair. Other teas planned for the future will include several for Detroit — area alumnae of the university.

Witnesses Plan 3-Day Assembly

Bruce Turner, Marquette, presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses here, announced today that final arrangements are nearly completed for a three-day assembly opening in Newberry on Friday.

Turner said that virtually all 50 delegates who will be attending from the Marquette area have received notice that rooms have been reserved for them in the Newberry vicinity.

Several delegates from the Marquette Congregation will actively assist in the operation of the assembly by participation on the program and in behind-the-scenes activities in one of the 22 volunteer departments of the convention, according to Turner.

James Penton of Marquette will serve as program chairman Sunday, in addition to his duties as head of the News Service Department. The First Aid Department will be under the direction of Dr. John O. VanZellen of Marquette. Turner, Edward Fairbanks, Daryl Graveloni and Duane Kantola will also appear on the program.

Over 500 persons from 17 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in the Upper Peninsula and North-eastern Wisconsin are expected to attend the gathering at the Community Building in Newberry. The program is comprised of discourses, demonstrations and discussions designed to emphasize the convention theme, "Right Kind of Ministers."

Turner pointed out that the purpose of this assembly is "to better equip each one of Jehovah's Witnesses for his personal ministry which begins with his dedication to God, symbolized by water immersion." A baptismal service will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. for those persons who have made such a dedication.

Climax of the convention will be at 3 p. m. Sunday, when D. G. Bourne, Brookly, N. Y., will deliver an address, "Who Will Win the Struggle for World Supremacy?" His talk, as well as all of the assembly sessions, will be open to the public free of charge.

2 Area Boys Going To 4-H Dairy Event

Five Upper Peninsula 4-H'ers will find out this weekend that dairy marketing is far from simple, when they tackle some real marketing problems during the 26th annual 4-H dairy marketing tour in Detroit.

Norbert DeGroot, 19, Northland, who has participated in 4-H projects for eight years, and Ed Linjala, West Rock, are the two boys from this area who will attend. They will be accompanied to Detroit for the Friday and Saturday sessions by Melvin N. Nyquist, Marquette County-MSU agricultural agent.

During the tour, the youths will sit on boards of directors dealing with milk pricing, will be taken on dairy plant tours and will attend educational sessions. They will hear speakers discuss dairy marketing from the viewpoint of the farmer, dairy-plant worker, processor and consumer.

Glen Lake, North Branch dairyman who is president of both the Michigan Milk Producers' Association and the National Milk Producers' Federation, will be the featured speaker on the two-day program, sponsored by the MMPA.

Four Area Women At Nurse Meet

Four area women are attending a one-day workshop on the campus of Michigan State University today.

The workshop for graduate duty and private duty nurses is sponsored by the Michigan State Nurses' Association.

Attending from the tri-city area are Mrs. Esther Kivisto and Mrs. Helen Mosier, Marquette; Mrs. Karen Wertanen, Negaunee, and Mrs. Evelyn Tassone, Ishpeming. They represent the Marquette-Alger District Nurses' Association.

Two sessions were scheduled, one at 10 this morning, the other at 1:15 this afternoon, with a summary of the day's activities slated at 4:15.

Morning speaker was Dr. Lawrence Borosage, professor in the MSU College of Education. His topic was "Important Factors in Group Productivity."

The afternoon session was to begin with a panel featuring six registered nurses, all of them officers of the sponsoring organization, MSNA.

Wind-up speaker Mary Weinschneider, R.N., director of nursing at Flint's McLaren General Hospital, was scheduled to speak on the S. S. Hope.

Theme of the day-long workshop is "Goals and Roles and Interpersonal Tolls."

How many times when you see a particularly chic and well-groomed woman do you hear someone say, "She must spend a fortune on her clothes?"

This question, posed by Olive G. Sain of the Marquette County-MSU Extension Service, also was answered by her, with these words: "Not necessarily. A flair for fashion, a dramatic way with clothes depends not so much on what you spend as how you spend it."

Learning how to plan a wardrobe, how to buy clothes wisely and how to care for them were three areas among many studied by county women during recent extension classes. The culmination of their efforts to better educate themselves in terms of the latest information on clothing occurred when, 400 strong, they held their 1963 Achievement Day program at the National Guard Armory in Marquette.

The event itself was simply a showcase designed to display the results of extensive months of work carried on in extension classes, Mrs. Sain pointed out. She emphasized that the program offered to women through extension is an intense education program and not merely a collection of basic lessons in sewing, knitting and related fields, although these are included.

Four Phases Of Study Lessons in recent months were devoted to four specific phases of clothesmaking: fitting, use of modern fabrics, creating fashionable wardrobes on a limited budget, and facts on fabrics.

Mrs. Sain said Phase 1 stressed choosing the most becoming styles for the particular individual; the importance of line and color in selecting ready-mades or patterns; and how to alter patterns.

Phase 2 covered the world of textiles, which changes rapidly and continually, requiring new methods for construction. In this regard, county women studied fabric in relation to style of pattern and special sewing techniques.

"The more limited one's income, the more carefully one must plan

The surprise presentation was made before a capacity crowd in the school's multi-purpose room, during the annual music festival program.

Donna Foster Wed To R. D. McLellan In Houghton Rites

The First Presbyterian Church of Houghton was the setting for the April 29 wedding that united Miss Donna Lou Foster and Robert Donald McLellan. The Rev. Lloyd Dalquist performed the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thurston C. Foster of Houghton, former Marquette residents, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. McLellan, Kirkland Lake, Ont., Can.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza, styled with fitted bodice, scoop neckline and long pointed sleeves and trimmed with schiffli, seed pearls and beads. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown headpiece, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with white and yellow orchids.

Miss Betty Hall, Houghton, was maid of honor, and Miss Mary Bergdahl, Atlantic Mine, was bridesmaid. Both wore ballerina-length dresses of jonquil silk chiffon and carried bouquets of yellow and white pom-poms.

The groom's brother, Kenneth, was best man, and his cousin, Carl Roberts, also from Canada, was groomsmen. Gerald Sullivan, Hancock, and Grant Sirola, Laurium, ushered.

Mothers In Blue Mrs. Foster wore a silk organza dress of turquoise blue, while Mrs. McLellan chose a light blue brocade dress. Both wore matching accessories and corsages of white roses.

After a reception in the Douglass House, the couple left on a trip to Niagara Falls. They are now living in Hyattsville, Md.

The bride graduated from John D. Pierce High School and attended Northern Michigan University, where she was affiliated with Beta Omega Tau sorority. For the past five years she has been employed by the Houghton National Bank.

The groom attended McGill University, Montreal, and graduated from Michigan Tech in Houghton, where he was a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. He is employed by Greyhound in Washington, D. C.

Funds realized from the sale are intended to help defray expenses for installation of new lighting fixtures in a classroom at the high school.

Persons wishing to donate clothing or furnishings for sale may take them to the hall Thursday or Friday afternoon or drop them at 322 Rock St.

Additional information is available from Mrs. Mulzer, CA 6-2321, or Mrs. William Roberts, CA 6-8554.

Diamonds A Girl's Best Friend?

Ask any girl who's had both and she's almost sure to agree with these children of Mining Journal photographer Bill Williams that dogs are better any old time. Shown here at their home, 724 Elliott Ave., Ishpeming, are Cathy, 4; Debbie, 6, and Luanne, 5, with Pierre, a year old, and a new girl-dog (with Debbie) whose name is Angel because she flew in the other night. Angel's companion on the flight, Bon-Bon, was ordered by the Williamses for an Ishpeming neighbor. (Journal photo).

Law Day U.S.A.

This is Law Day U.S.A., a time to reaffirm our basic American rights, according to George E. Hill, former Marquette County prosecuting attorney who now is U. S. district attorney for the western district of Michigan, which includes the entire Upper Peninsula. Asked to set forth his views on the significance of the occasion, Mr. Hill wrote:

"Law Day U.S.A. is the time to reaffirm the truths the writers of the Declaration of Independence held to be self-evident.

"We treasure these rights for our own private purposes but more importantly we must realize that without the freedoms of speech, assembly, religion and the press, we cannot govern ourselves intelligently.

"Today we renew our contract—the Constitution, made in the name of 'We, the People'—and demonstrate to the world that these fundamental propositions still hold true and that we are devoted to and respect our system of law.

"One of the finest tributes to self-government in these strife-ridden times is that we have not developed the police state institutions of our Communist enemies but have met the totalitarian challenge with the reaffirmation of our basic conception that the police are the servants, not the masters of the governed, that law alone made by the governed governs all.

"At federal state and local levels of government we are not afflicted with a large, always present bureaucracy of police insensitive to the will of the people; rather, we have a body of dedicated professional law enforcement officers responsive to the will of civil authority, subordinate to that authority and to the laws and policies imposed by it.

"We should contrast the effect of a change of political administration in this country with that in Communist nations. Here the process is orderly, all political leaders being dedicated not only to the policies of their party, but, more basically, to the observance and perpetuation of the law.

"Changes in government in the United States are not achieved by liquidation of opposition leaders and followed by purges directed against the police and the citizenry."

Peninsula Perambulator

The Iron County Road Commission has been dismissed as a defendant in the mine cave-in civil trial under way in Iron County Circuit Court. The road commission was named, along with the City of Gaastra and the Verona and Ticklands Mather Mining Co's, in a suit brought by Mrs. Marie Mantron of Stambaugh. She alleges negligence on the part of the defendants resulted in the cave-in on June 11, 1960, and subsequent injuries she suffered when her car fell into the pit. In asking dismissal for the road commission, Prosecutor Oswald Casanova said the plaintiff had failed to submit evidence linking the commission with the road at the time of the accident. Judge Ernest W. Brown agreed with him.

John Penttila, Crystal Falls Township supervisor, filed with the clerk of Iron County a petition requesting State Tax Commission intervention in the assessment rolls as approved by the county board of supervisors. He was one of three supervisors who voted against assessment figures prepared by boards of review. In his petition, Penttila said the equalized assessments "place a larger portion of the tax burden upon taxable property in Crystal Falls township than it should legally and fairly bear." The Iron County tax picture, admitted by all observers as perhaps the most confusing in the state already is under stress because of appeals by mining companies and others of assessments set by boards of review.

Joseph Singleton, 84, of Newberry, has been charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of Harold L. Glashaw, 33, of St. Ignace, at a Newberry motel. He is being held without bond for appearance in Luce County Circuit Court. Singleton has given no reason and police are unable to determine any motive for the shooting.

The walkathon craze — triggered by President Kennedy's call for physical fitness — has been revived in the Sault Ste. Marie area. The sports committee of the Sault Chamber of Commerce has come up with a proposal for a hike from the north end of the Mackinac Bridge at St. Ignace, starting at midnight Friday, to the International Bridge in the Sault. Cars from the St. Ignace state police post, Chippewa County sheriff's department and Sault police department will serve as escorts during the 50-mile journey. Coffee and sandwiches will be served the walkers before they leave St. Ignace and a dinner in the Sault will await those who finish. Plans for the walkathon were made after nearly 40 students at the Sault branch of Michigan Tech expressed interest in the hike.

Two heads of government, Prime Minister John P. Roberts of Ontario and Governor George Romney of Michigan, have agreed to speak at dedication ceremonies for the new Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge on May 24. The two will make their principal addresses at an international luncheon for 1,000 guests in the Ontario Sault Army at 11 a.m. EST. Romney, in addition, will speak to 3,000 students of Sault Ste. Marie, Ruydard, Pickford and Bramley High Schools at the Pullar Stadium in the Michigan Sault at 2:30 that afternoon.

Sawyer Colonel Posts Excellent Record For Aircraft Maintenance

With the exception of the wing commander, no one person in the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC) at K-1 Sawyer Air Force Base has more personnel under his direct control than does the deputy commander for maintenance (DCM), Col. Raymond O. Roush.

Few have responsibilities of greater or more urgent nature and few in the wing put in more hours than the recently promoted "full bird."

Col. Roush's job is to keep the B-52H "Stratofortresses" and KC-135 "Stratotankers" of the wing in the air. The guided air missiles of the wing also are kept in flying order by those from the maintenance families.

And his "knucklebusters" do their best to keep the aircraft leaping off the runway at precisely the time scheduled. In fact, over 500 of the last KC-135s and B-52Hs marked for take-off left the runway consecutively without a material failure causing a late departure.

Today's Special Story

Looks After 35 Aircraft
There are over 30 tankers and 15 bombers that need to be constantly maintained. Col. Roush does not, of course, test the high-powered jet engines himself. Nor does he physically aid in refueling, netting or towing. He does not check all the electric equipment packed into the aircraft!

(He does fix the bicycles for his three children, however, and he keeps his wife's dishwasher in running order.)

Col. Roush has nearly 1,150 military personnel under his control. These men do the actual work to keep the aircraft in the air. But the wing's maintenance boss is the driving force which insures maintenance is done properly and on schedule.

Supervision Is Key
He was once asked how it is possible for him to keep all the planes of the wing in such excellent running condition day after day and week after week. "Supervision" was the quick reply.

"This supervision is done by five squadron commanders whose mission is aircraft or missile maintenance, as well as the numerous officers who head several division units. Lt. Col. Ralph L. Peters is his assistant, and several non-commissioned officers head maintenance sections.

21 Years In Service
He was assigned to the wing in February 1960, coming here from Chennault AFB, La., where he was assistant DCM. At the time he arrived here, there was no SAC aircraft on the base.

A 21-year military veteran, he completed flight training in 1942. He later spent nearly two years in the European theater during World War II.

Since that time most of his Air Force career has been in the maintenance field.

Daily Staff Meeting
One of his prime sources of information on how aircraft maintenance is performed is his daily maintenance staff meeting. Attending each of these sessions is a maintenance supervisor from each squadron; the job control officer, senior controller from job control, a representative of logistics, reports and analysis, quality control, material control, plans and scheduling, CMSgt. Robert, DCM maintenance supervisor, and Mrs. James Jackson, Col. Roush's secretary.

These persons are daily briefed on the exact status of maintenance currently under way. Each of the divisions is prepared to brief the colonel on its maintenance specialty if he requests it.

From this he can get an overall picture of the status of his aircraft (worth about $250 million), when maintenance under way can be expected to be completed and what problem areas have arisen during the past 24 hours.

Col. Roush has three telephones installed in his quarters in the base and three are stacked on his desk. A lot of his time is spent on these phones taking care of maintenance matters.

He also personally attends many of the take-offs by the wing's aircraft, though they average about 600 a month and many of them are at night.

Frequent Award Winner
His work has paid off. Five times it was repaid by 40th Air Division commander Maj. Gen. Harold E. Hunfeld, who each quarter awards a plaque to the best maintenance directorate in the division. The award has been given six times, and five of those times Col. Roush was the recipient.

Gen. Hunfeld was to present the maintenance award at a conference today. Col. Roush was sure to be on the receiving end again.

Col. Raymond Roush and CMSgt. Robert Baird, maintenance supervisor, discuss problem area which has arisen in the maintenance field. Col. Roush has nearly 1,150 personnel under his control. — (USAF photo.)

Sub Skipper Called Out Of Retirement

WASHINGTON — The Navy has called back from retirement Capt. William R. Anderson, former skipper of the pioneer nuclear submarine Nautilus, to help put together its underwater rescue programs and techniques for salvage from the ocean floor.

Anderson's return to temporary active duty with a new naval group was learned a little more than two weeks after the nuclear submarine Thresher sank a mile and a half under the Atlantic's waves with 129 men.

No Hope Of Salvage
Because of the great depth the Navy holds out no hope for salvaging the Thresher. And the Navy said there are no plans now for Anderson's group to have any direct part in the search to locate the submarine's hull.

Anderson, 41, who had been a Nautilus shipmate of the Thresher's skipper, Lt. Cmdr. John W. Harvey, will head the submarine section of the newly formed group to consolidate all the Navy's oceanographic and deep salvage studies.

Rear Adm. E. C. Stephan, named chairman of the "Deep Submergence Systems Review Group," had asked that Anderson join the organization.

Anderson, whose home is Washington, Tenn., retired from active service last June to work with the Freedom Foundation with headquarters at Valley Forge, Pa.

The Navy has announced that the group will seek to organize into a single program the various widespread studies of the Navy, including plans for deep research vehicles which are now ready for application to operational use.

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — Whenever a citizen's politics, the scene on Capitol Hill begets a feeling of resigned frustration, Congress has been back to work for a week now, after one of its periodic holidays, and it is still a mess.

It is not that Congress is accomplishing so little, but that no one expects it to do much. The capital has reached that dangerous, semi-comatose state in which sterile deadlock within the legislative branch is an accepted fact of life. Politics on the Hill no longer is the art of the possible but the art of accepting the impossible without publicly saying so.

On paper, the Democrats still have a whopping majority in both Houses, but it is no longer news-worthy to print out that in practice the majority becomes a minority. Except on such significant votes as dredging a creek in Lubbock, Texas, the Congress is still controlled by the Solid South and Republican conservatives.

Without the permission of this lightly-knit bloc, President Kennedy's majority is powerless.

Dinosaur Of Speed
The point can be made with some validity that this is a good thing—that the conservative bloc represents the thinking of the people back home. Perhaps it is true that the country is going conservative. President Kennedy himself has taken note of certain trends by veering to the right. But, after all, Kennedy was elected as a liberal, and that should indicate something too.

But in the ponderous atmosphere of Capitol Hill, that is not the issue at point. The issue is that Congress has become too unwieldy to be really effective as a lawmaking institution. The rules are outmoded and, often, vicious in their observance. Divided by prejudice and geography and victimized by the power of its committee chairmen, Congress has reached the point where it takes 10 long months every year before it can produce its legislative moult.

Flood Of Inaction
The national legislature is now about to enter its fifth month of toil, and yet most of the major legislation before it is still locked up in committees. Whether the Kennedy bills are good or bad is not important here; the issue is whether they should be submitted to Congress for action. Some of them will not be—proposals for hospital and nursing care for the aged under social security almost certainly will not see the light of legislative day until next year. Meanwhile, despite Congress' refusal to debate some of the bigger issues, there is little hope the session can be adjourned until well after Labor Day.

From a strictly non-partisan viewpoint, the only solution to this untidy problem is a sweeping reorganization of Congress designed to speed up its work and permit controversial legislation to be put to a vote. Decision by ballot, after all, is one of the fundamentals of this republican form of government.

Costly Incompetents
But here the frustration is just as black. The last time Congress submitted, unhappily, to reorganization was in 1946, and the powers saw to it then that their prerogatives were undisturbed. And since the only meaningful reorganization would be to reduce the powers of the committee chairmen, in order to permit more legislation to reach the floor, reorganization remains a dirty word on the Hill.

Congress is fond to the point of hysteria of reorganizing the executive branch of the government. It is forever tinkering with this or that reorganization or agency. But it staggers along itself under the burden of prejudice basic among its nearly 200 committees and sub-committees and knuckles under to the caprices of the committee chairmen who are the real rulers of the legislative branch.

Thus it is Congress' own fault if it presents a picture to the nation of a passel of loud-mouthed, provincial incompetents. That, however, is small consolation to the taxpayer sucker who picks up the tab for this nonsense.

TVA After Thirty Years!

By PETER EDSON
WASHINGTON —(NEA)— The Tennessee Valley Authority will be 30 years old May 18.

Celebrations and oratory are being planned. Literature on the TVA "experiment" is appearing, pro and con.

Whether you approve of it or not, TVA is admittedly one of the seven wonders of America and an eighth wonder of the world. When the King of Morocco came to the United States, he stopped to see TVA before coming to Washington.

From Varied Viewpoints
At the end of World War II a party of European journalists came to Washington direct from TVA at the end of a transcontinental junket. They were from different political parties, and they had seen through partisan eyes the great Tennessee River with its dams and power lines, electrified farms, navigation channels and flood control works.

To the liberals, TVA showed what a democratic government and society could do when they went to work for the people. To the socialists, TVA was pure Marxism. To the Communists, it was fulfillment of the Leninist-Stalinist dream; only Russia could do it better. To the conservatives, this was big business that could be created only in a free enterprise, capitalistic economy.

They all got into such a heated argument about it that when they reached Washington they weren't speaking to each other.

This illustrates as well as anything the point that TVA is controversial. And in its 30th anniversary observance this month there probably will be some sour notes that it is so anti-American it should be broken up and sold to private power companies.

Woke Industry To Its Potential
The best justification of TVA is that it works. But as a matter of speculation, if a completely unbiased jury could be given the case, it might be found that the competitive private enterprise system owes a great debt to Tennessee Valley Authority.

TVA woke up the private power industry to its potential. It showed what could be done with rural electrification. It showed that lower power rates will increase consumption and increase the sale of electric appliances many times over. It promoted growth.

When TVA legislation was before Congress in 1933, E. A. Yates of Dixon-Yates fame testified in opposition to TVA because there was already a 66 per cent overproduction capacity of private power in the area and he could see no market for more.

Doubled Private Consumption
But within seven years, TVA had doubled the private consumption level. By 1953 it had increased 17 times. Today TVA's total steam and hydroelectric power capacity is over 50 times what it was in 1933.

In 1934 TVA began heating homes with electricity in the town of Norris, with rate schedules designed for it. Private utilities at first regarded this as crazy, but today they vigorously promote it.

TVA's purchase of low-cost foreign electric generating equipment caused American manufacturers to sharpen their pencils and become competitive.

Set International Pattern
Of far more value than its pioneering in the electrical industry, TVA has set a national and international pattern for multiple purpose water control, flood prevention, navigation, recreation, reforestation and the shift of agriculture from row crops like corn and cotton to cover crops that conserve water.

The million tons of cargo carried on the Tennessee River system in 1933 has grown to 12 million tons and will double by 1975.

In 1957, with 25 inches of rainfall in 21 days, TVA met its most severe flood control test by management of stream flow from its 31 dams, six of which are privately owned but TVA operated.

10,000 Miles Of Shoreline
Along the 10,000 miles of shoreline on these artificial lakes and reservoirs, recreation facilities have been provided for 42-million person-days of fun a year at 350 resort and camp areas.

Above everything else, an adequate water supply has been provided for both family and industrial use now and in the years ahead.

Before Congress now is a bill to provide $20 million for financing water resource research and planning to meet the needs of America's still increasing population.

If this money can be used as efficiently as TVA has used its funds over the past 30 years, it should be an investment paying multiple dividends.

MEADER PLEASE NOTE!
We hope that Sen. Proxmire (D-Wis.) is starting a new trend of honesty and integrity in Washington.

Proxmire announced that he has removed his chief aide, Frank Campenni, from the Senate payroll as of April 1 and has repaid to the government the $9,007.85 that Campenni had received since Aug. 27, 1962.

The senator took this action after Wisconsin friends and critics had raised questions about the propriety of Campenni being paid $14,500 a year for working for Proxmire at the same time he was taking graduate work at the University of Wisconsin.

Proxmire said he had concluded the friends and critics were right in contending Campenni's "value to the taxpayer could be justified only when he was in Washington at work on the head-of-staff job for which he had been hired."

As we said at the start, we hope Proxmire is starting a new trend. But we'll believe it only when Rep. George Meader (R-Mich.) takes similar action with respect to his daughter who is being paid $167.54 a month for working for the congressman while attending the University of Florida.

Let's see. That would be $3,183.26 that the congressman would have to repay to the government, since his daughter went on his payroll back in September 1961. How about it, Mr. Congressman?—Detroit News.

Financial Picture Reviewed By Baraga Study Committee

BARAGA — Following consideration of findings made on a tour of the three Baraga Township school buildings, the Baraga school study committee reviewed the financial picture, discussed the recent loss of North Central Association accreditation and its implications and made plans to report the results of the first part of its three-phase study to the school board this month.

John V. Clements, reviewing the financial report which he had presented at the March study committee meeting, declared that financing a $300,000 building program in Baraga Township would result in a 40 per cent increase in local taxes.

"For the sake of discussion, I used $300,000, based on an estimated cost of $250,000 for a grade school and $50,000 for renovation of the high school," he declared. "For a bond issue on a $300,000 program (with bonds figured at four per cent) you have to raise $7,100 each year for every $100,000 worth of construction. This would amount to an additional $21,000 in taxes each year for the next 25 years, or a 40 per cent increase in local taxes. This would be in addition to what we are already raising for school operation."

Must Be Raised Locally

Clements also pointed out that "all our construction costs must be raised locally with no government participation, while only about 25 per cent of the operational budget is supplied by local taxes, with the remaining 75 per cent coming in from state aid. We are going to get a tax increase next year, even though we didn't vote one, because of an increase in state equalized valuations."

Committeeman Albert Koski, who had called for a review of Clements' report, stated: "If our taxes would go up 40 per cent, we will have to find some other solution to the school problem than building. The first thing we should do is see what we have in the way of financing. It is worth for that consideration, we wouldn't have a problem at all."

Committee chairman Russell Carriere cautioned: "The money angle is not our problem. Our job as a committee is to study the whole problem, report our findings and leave it to the board and the voters to decide what should be done."

News Stories Criticized

Carriere and several others voiced strong criticism of recent news stories, which covered details of Baraga's loss of North Central Association accreditation, stating they "didn't think it was right to have this come out in the papers and that the stories looked like a put-up job."

Mrs. Dorothy Jacobs countered: "What the papers carried was true, wasn't it? I think it's far better to have the facts presented in the papers, than to have people passing rumors and not really knowing what's going on."

Mrs. Mary Lee Magnuson, committee secretary, said she felt the papers had done a good job of pointing out that the program itself is fine; that it was the physical facilities which caused the school to be dropped, not the teachers or the quality of instruction.

"Now that we're off the North Central list," she said, "it's going to take more than a new music room to get us back on."

Raymond Stark told the group, "I don't think it (loss of accreditation) is very serious," Raymond Stark said. "What's the difference if we're accredited or not?"

Leander Theobald, committee member and Baraga village president, questioned portions of a letter from Dell C. Boersma of NCA, which accompanied the notification that Baraga had been dropped. "In this letter, which was published, Boersma stated that even fixing up the present building would not solve our problem," he said. "He (Boersma) was recommending consolidation."

When Mrs. Jacobs commented that she was "glad to see" the proposal finally coming out in the open, Clements answered: "It don't think we've ever had an intelligent discussion of consolidation in this county. Nobody has ever tried to sell me on the idea."

Mrs. Jacobs replied, "It's high time we did discuss it. The question we should be primarily concerned with is what's going to be the best for our kids. In June, we will be voting on annexing the county board of education to the Houghton district. County boards of education must consolidate or lose their state aid."

Up To School Board

Carriere cut short discussion of the subject saying, "It's not our place to take up this question; that's up to the school board."

In concluding the meeting Carriere noted, "The first phase of our study — an inventory of what we have, outlining both good and bad — is nearing completion. I want all members to bring in complete reports covering their findings, which will be compiled into a formal report for the school board. The second phase of our job will be finding out what we need in the way of educational facilities, and the final step for this committee will be recommending how we go about getting what we need."

Committee Plans Dinner For Seniors

A county-wide Luther League dinner, honoring this year's high school graduates will be held at the George D. Gilbert Elementary School in Gwinn at 7 p.m. Saturday, May 4. Panel Discussion Set For Practical Nurses

ISHPEMING — The Marquette-Alger Practical Nurses Association will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Union National Bank lounge in Marquette.

Horseshoe Team Tryouts Slated By Rod-Gun Club

NEGAUNEE — Tryouts will be conducted Friday afternoon and all day Saturday for members of the Negaunee Rod and Gun Club who wish to join the organization's horseshoe teams.

If enough players take part in the tryouts, the club will enter two teams in the municipal horseshoe league. Eugene Anderson will act as captain.

A regular meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 Sunday night, when a report on the Upper Peninsula shooting committee meeting will be given.

'School Of Instruction' For VFW Units Thursday

GWINN — The Gwinn Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will be hostess to a "school of instruction" to be conducted by department officers at 7:30 tomorrow night.

Present for the school in New Swanzey — site of the VFW clubhouse — will be Gladys Turner, state auxiliary president; Bethel McDougall, senior vice president; Edith Brown, junior vice president; Evelyn Woodcock, secretary-treasurer; Emma Momber, chaplain, and Romaine Roos, 14th District president.

Purpose of the "school of instruction" Gwinn auxiliary officers said, is to review procedures of the by-laws and ritual and to assist members who may have difficulty with such procedures. A question-and-answer period is scheduled.

Peninsula Pistons Present Custom Car Show May 4, 5

ISHPEMING — The stage is set for the Peninsula Piston Auto Club's Custom Car Show.

The show, first of its kind ever held in Upper Michigan, will be staged in the gymnasium of the National Guard Armory the coming weekend, May 4 and 5.

Club officials announced that several locally owned antique autos would be on display along with many unusual cars being brought here from other parts of the Midwest.

There are seven classes of car types in this classic exhibit of the unusual in four-wheeled transportation.

The first are "Competition" cars which are displayed in shows but usually are dual-purpose machines originally built for drag racing and then "polished" into show pieces.

Excellent body work, paint and chrome are in evidence throughout this class.

In class II are the "Dragsters," strictly one-purpose machines which attain the highest possible speed in the shortest possible time — from a standing start through a measured quarter-mile course.

Autos with comparatively minor body work being done are known as "Conservative Customs" with interiors and engines slightly reworked with emphasis on function and cleanliness.

An automobile which has undergone major modifications, with special grilles and bumpers, will be in Class IV, known as a "Full Custom."

Extensive engine chrome and interior upholstery express the likes and desires of the car owners.

The class V type is known as the "Radical Custom" which breaks completely from the stock automobile. Exterior body modifications are the rule with these "sleekest" of all customs. The ultimate result is an interior many times more plush than the finest furniture, and engines that appear to have been dipped in chrome.

Detroit engineers and stylists often have drawn on ideas expressed in custom cars for future factory models.

Soaking of "Rods" these are broken into two distinct classes: "rived" rods and "sedans," and open roadsters.

Conservation street rods are the backbone of "Hot Rodding," usually being comprised of an early model Ford with a large, much modified, late model V-8 engine.

In class VII are the "Wild Street Rods" which are similar to the "Radical Customs." Most have extensive body work, "way out" interiors, as described by the Pistons, and fully chromed engines.

Many of these also feature outstanding engineering modifications, such as custom suspension and altered frames.

Eliminate Fire Hazards During Clean-Up Week, Negaunee Chief Urges

NEGAUNEE — Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up time is an opportune occasion to eliminate fire hazards, Francis Dighera, chief of the Negaunee Volunteer Fire Department, pointed out today.

In his appeal for participation in the drive, Chief Dighera emphasized that fire kills more children in the home than any other single cause of accidental death.

Many of these tragedies might be prevented with just a minimum amount of precaution, the fire chief noted, stressing that a little more time could be devoted by the majority of householders to elimination of fire hazards.

Statistics show that the majority of home fires start from accumulation of rubbish in the basement or attic, and by getting rid of these articles potential hazards will be greatly reduced," he said.

Dighera recommended that a fix-up program might well include a check of furnaces and other heating units, as well as making repairs to appliances and wiring.

"Shorts resulting from faulty wiring are another cause of fires in the home, and it is important that your electrical switches, wiring, appliances and extension cords are in good working condition," he stated.

Proclamation By Mayor

NEGAUNEE — Attention of Negaunee residents to the 14th annual Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up campaign which gets under way in the community today was called by Mayor Dorste Roos in a proclamation in which he urged all citizens to take part in the improvement program.

Mayor Roos pointed out that the general health and welfare of citizens depends upon good, clean living conditions, and he noted that Negaunee on previous occasions has received national recognition in the Cleanest Towns Contest.

Pointing out that officials of the City of Negaunee and the Negaunee Business and Professional Association, which join in sponsoring the campaign, are justly proud of the recognition received by the community, Mayor Roos requested

Australian Premier's Visit Recalls America's Beginnings

ISHPEMING — Most Americans who talk with the Hon. David Brand, premier of Western Australia on his current tour of the United States, must be reminded of our own country's beginnings.

The premier visited Ishpeming last week as part of his tour.

Although Perth, the capital of Western Australia, was founded in 1829, this huge state still is releasing crown (government-owned) lands to private buyers at the rate of a million acres a year.

The state until recent years was selling land for 5 shillings an acre, but this land is gone. Virgin lands now sell for $1 to $2 an acre, and the state has $22 million acres for release.

The demand for land, said William Mitchell, public relations officer for Premier Brand, is heavy, and when a parcel is released there are six potential buyers for every block. Some of the bidding is from overseas, and a few Americans are among applicants.

Applicant Considerations The land board selects the applicant it believes can make the most effective development of the land, and the price paid is not the only qualification, said Mitchell. Other considerations are experience, pioneering stamina and adequate capital for development.

Farmland quality and prices varies by area. Most of the agricultural land is in the southwestern part of Western Australia, and farm types vary, but most carry on mixed operations, raising grains and grazing sheep and cattle. There's also some arable land in the north.

4,359 Miles Of Coastline Western Australia, one of the six states of Australia (it also has two territories) covers 975,920 square miles. It's nearly four times the size of Texas and has only 754,000 people today, more than half of them in Perth. The country is 1,500 miles long and 1,000 miles wide and has a 4,359-mile coastline.

Most of the rural lands are used in an undeveloped state for sheep and cattle ranches, called "stations." Cropland has grown to 7 million acres and produces 100 million bushels of cereals. Sheep numbers have gone to more than 18 million, and use of fertilizer is increasing.

Guests Of Cliffs A third of West Australia's timber production is for export. Principal hardwoods are jarrah, a tough, structural timber, and karri, cut from trees that grow to a height of 300 feet. Pine plantations are being introduced.

Premier Brand and his wife, Doris, and several aides visited Ishpeming as guests of Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. to inspect Cliffs mine plants, which Western Australia hopes to duplicate in its development of mineral industry.

U-D Grads Test Varsity On Saturday

The University of Detroit Titans will wind up their spring practice with the annual spring scrimmage game against the Titan Oldtimers including several players in professional ranks on Saturday, at 1 p.m. in Titan Stadium.

The Titans will test their new offensive attack led by sophomore quarterback Tom Zientek and the running of junior fullback Fred Beier from Evonnet, Ohio, St. Joseph's High School.

Leading the Oldtimers will be All-American quarterback Jerry Gross, recently signed with the Cleveland Browns. Gross set the Titan passing record in his three years at Detroit and rewrote the football record book.

Gross will have his two favorite receivers of college days at the end positions. Both Steve Stonebreaker and Larry Vargo will play for the Oldtimers team.

Other professional players slated to see action against the varsity are: Bruce Maher, Lions; Grady Alderman, Vikings; Jim Shorter, Browns; Frank Jackunas, Buffalo Bills; Perry Richards, Jets; Jim Cain and Tom Molton of the Canadian League.

Head coach John Idzik has been impressed with the showing of the team in practice. "They have been hitting hard and running well. We are going to miss the passing of Gross but we will run more and use a greater variety of plays."

"Beier has been doing exceptionally well at fullback and we are much stronger at the halfback positions."

"Zientek is a real smart player. He has been playing well under pressure and we're looking forward to a fine season from him."

Idzik expects a tough, competitive game Saturday. "With all the talent the alumni team has I look for an exciting game. It will be the first time we have had to give the boys a real test under fire."

"They've been playing hard against one another in the weekly games but this is different. They're up for the game and will put on a good show."

How to make the conversion from a team with an All-American quarterback to one with a quarterback that has never played a minute of varsity ball is the big headache for Idzik, beginning his second year as head coach at the University of Detroit.

Idzik, who brought the extended motion offense to Detroit, lost his star pupil Gross through graduation and then lost Gross' replacement, junior Ron Bishop, because of scholastic difficulties.

Gross, who was 8th in the nation in total offense last year, was one of the bright spots in an otherwise dull season which saw the Titans drop eight while winning only one.

Twin City Softball Tonight

ISHPEMING — Twin City softball players and managers are reminded of the organization meeting in the City Hall tonight at 7:30.

All teams wishing to enter the league should have a representative present so that plans can be finalized for the May 13 starting date.

Munising Softball Meeting Set For Thursday Night

MUNISING — There will be an organizational meeting for all men interested in forming a softball league at the Moosehead Bar Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Panthers Pounce On Newberry, St. Ignace In Track

PICKFORD — Gary Leach, star Pickford dashman, pulled a muscle in the warm-ups and was sidelined for the Panthers triangular meet with Newberry and St. Ignace. Did it make any difference in the outcome of the meet? Not much.

Pickford 86½, St. Ignace 43½, Newberry 23.

Gary Krueger and John Henderson of Newberry were also sidelined.

Roger Hewer took both hurdle events—the lows in 21.9, the highs in 16.7, while Dick Beacom took the high jump at 5-8 and an 880-yard run heat at 2:18.14, while teammates garnered six other firsts—including a faster 800 heat—to sweep the field.

Hewer's time over the lows was a tenth of a second from equalling the U.P. Class D record.

Tom McKee's 47-2 shot put was eight inches over the Peninsula standard.

The Panthers were to take on Class A Sault Ste. Marie, Monday afternoon.

COWBOY FOR 49ER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Defensive halfback Jim Rillon was traded Tuesday from the San Francisco 49ers to the Dallas Cowboys in the National Football League for linebacker Mike Dowdle, a former 49er draft selection.

position is 225 lb. co-captain Dennis Shaw who showed flashes of greatness last season. Other outstanding linemen returning are John Everly and Dick Johnson at ends, Joe Walderzak at tackle and Ed Greaves at guard.

The interior line should be helped by upcoming freshmen Rich Toriello and Dave Vitall while Fred Lauck of Detroit's Catholic Central will give additional strength at end.

While Idzik says he expects the Titans to be "much improved over last season because of a stronger line with more depth," he adds that "it's too early to say anything with certainty."

Coach Wayne Siekler introduced the members of the varsity football team and complimented the boys on their 5-3 record. He emphasized the fact that mid-way in the season the squad had lost their entire backfield because of injuries.

Members of the junior varsity basketball were introduced by Siekler; junior varsity football by Coach Joe Sacchetti and the track team was introduced by Coach Walfred Michelson and Assistant Coach Emil Leppiah, cheerleaders and the football and basketball queens were introduced by the Team Coach Mrs. Janet Berkel.

The Rev. Anthony Polokowski of Sacred Heart Church offered the invocation and the Benediction was given by Rev. Denis Fuller of the First Methodist Church. Vern Floria was the toastmaster.

Bride Will Spend Honeymoon In Jail

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A young bride had to spend her honeymoon in jail for stealing 22 bars of chocolate on a pre-wedding shopping tour.

The newspaper Express Wic-zorny said the young woman had been arrested in a self-service store in Zabrze after she could not account for the chocolate bars. She was released only to attend her wedding, and then returned to the Zabrze jail, the paper said.

McBride Flirts With No-Hitter, Beats Yanks; Phils' Simmons Tops Braves; Twins Triumph

Ken McBride keeps setting up a rendezvous with fame, but someone is always breaking the date.

The 27-year-old ace of the Los Angeles pitching staff flirted with a no-hitter again Tuesday night, but eventually needed ninth-inning relief help before the Angels were able to subdue the New York Yankees and the reunited Mickey Mantle-Roger Maris combination 6-3.

Holding the Yankees hitless for 1-13 innings, McBride's second no-hitter bid of the season was broken up with one out in the seventh inning when first baseman Les Pepton singled through the middle. To McBride, it was just another broken appointment.

Curt Simmons won his fourth game without a loss, allowing only four hits as St. Louis edged Milwaukee 2-1 and took over first place in the National League with its fourth straight victory and eighth in nine games.

Rain Shapes Tiger Rotation For Yankees

DETROIT (AP)—When he looked ahead at the Tigers' schedule while trying to arrange his pitching rotation for the next Yankee series, Manager Bob Schefling wanted a little cooperation from the weatherman.

"A nice rainout wouldn't hurt us at all," said Schefling while discussing the Tigers' long-range pitching plans last weekend. "I want to get my pitchers set for the Yankees."

First Postponement

Schefling got his cooperation from the weatherman Tuesday with the Tigers' first postponement of the new season. Rain, cold and snow washed out the meeting with the Kansas City Athletics, surprise holders of first place.

"This day off helps us all the way around," said Schefling. "It gives us an extra day to rest up and maybe that's all we've needed to get going."

The postponement enables Schefling to have his three top starters ready for the Yankees' first visit to Detroit next week. The Yanks are here for night games Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Arnie Again

Hank Aguirre, who wants to pitch today against the Washington Senators, will start the first New York game. He'll have four days rest. Jim Bunning and Don Mossi will have three days between turns.

Bunning is set to go Friday night against Baltimore and Tuesday against the Yankees. Mossi will work Saturday's Baltimore game and then face the Yankees next Wednesday night.

"Of course, it may rain another game out and we'll have to work out something different," said Schefling.

Southpaw Effective

But Schefling definitely wants Aguirre and Mossi to face the Yankees. Each holds a victory over New York this season and Schefling feels left-handers generally are more effective against the Yankees.

Schefling's starting plans include another pitching test for Frank Lary. The ex-Yankee killer will pitch Thursday against the Senators. Schefling said, if the weather is suitable, Lary tested his shoulder in two relief innings last Saturday and retired all six batters he faced.

Bobbs Ready

The Tigers expected to have Bubba Phillips off the injured list for today's game. The return of Phillips to third base frees Frank Kostro for first-base duties while Norm Cash is out with his ailing ankle.

Schefling plans to use Kestro against left-handers and Whitey Claude Osteen (0-1), a left hander, Herzog against right-handers. He is to pitch today for Washington against Aguirre (3-1).

NCAA Grid TV Schedule Set For '63

NEW YORK (AP)—All of last year's top ten collegiate football teams will be shown on the 1963 National Collegiate Athletic Association's television schedule.

The games will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Southern California, 1962 national champion, will face Oklahoma on Sept. 28, with No. 2 Wisconsin pitted against Northwestern on Nov. 9.

Opening the schedule on Sept. 14 will be Florida at Georgia Tech, with Alabama at Miami closing it on Dec. 7. All games will be on Saturday except for the Thanksgiving Day Texas at Texas A&M feature.

Nine games will be televised nationally. Five other dates have been set aside for regional telecasts.

The schedule will include at least one appearance each by the cial scattered 11 hits and was backed by a 14-hit Minnesota attack that subdued Baltimore 8-1. Six games were postponed due to rain.

The Yankees got to McBride for their first run in the eighth inning on Cleve Bover's double and Tony Kubek's single. When Mantle and Maris singled opening the ninth, McBride was relieved by Jack Spring. Pepton singled home a run and, after Art Fowler took over for Spring, Elston Howard singled home another. Bover fouled out and pinch hitter Dale Long lined to Albie Pearson, who raced in for the catch and threw to second base to get Pepton for a game-ending double play.

Simmons, lowering his earned run average to 1.25 with his fourth complete game, was tagged for a first-inning homer by the Braves' Frank Bolling in the first inning, then had little difficulty until the eighth inning when pinch hitter Bob Uecker doubled.

Gabrielson Singles
Len Gabrielson followed with a single to right, but George Altman rced in and fired a strong, accurate throw that caught Uecker at the plate as he tried to come around with the tying run.

Julian Javier's fifth-inning homer off starter and loser Denny Lemaster proved to be the deciding run for the Cards.

5 Twin Doubles
Five Twins' doubles off the Orioles' Steve Barber gave Pascual an early 3-0 lead and he held on until Minnesota put it away with a five-run burst in the eighth inning. Pascual drove in two of the runs with a single and Rich Rollins accounted for a pair with a double.

Vern Law Returns To Pirates; Arm 'Best In 2 Years'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Vernon Law is back with Pittsburgh, cautiously optimistic about his chances of regaining the touch that sent him to pitching stardom three years ago.

The Pirates recalled the 33-year-old right-hander from Kingston, N.C., of the Class A Carolina League Tuesday. He was sent there several weeks ago so he could pitch regularly and in warm weather.

Best In Two Years
"My arm is the best it's felt in two years," Law said today, referring to the soreness he has placed in him since he won the Cy Young Award and helped spark the Pirates to the pennant and World Series victory in 1960.

"It would be foolish to say the arm is 100 per cent. After all, in 1960 I had no soreness at all. Naturally I know the sore spots back there, but I don't have the sharp pain that I had in the past two years."

No one could say when Law will receive his first pitching assignment. He won two games at Kingston, going the distance in each on an eight-hitter and a three-hitter.

VIGOROUS FINALE
The Neagane 875 league held its season-end dinner Saturday at the Elks Clubrooms. Porky's Playboys topped the standings this season with an 81-51 record, winning by two points over Torneo's, four over Drewry's. Local 4793 rolled a 2,974 for the season's high match, while Republic '3' had the high team game of 1,951. Bob Anderson bowled the high game, a 270, and Carlo Dellungio's 656 was the high 3-games series.

Pennel Regains Vault Mark, Narrowly Misses At 16-9

MONROE, La. (AP)—Soaring John Pennel says he won't be satisfied until he vaults 16 feet, 9 inches, higher than any human has gone.

The husky, 22-year-old narrowly missed the 16-9 mark Tuesday night in a dual meet. He cleared 16-6 1/2, and reclaimed the pending official world record.

Indoors Doesn't Count
Finland's Pentti Nikula has a 16-8 1/2 effort to his credit. But it came in indoor competition and doesn't count as an official world standard.

Before Pennel started raising the record last March, Nikula held the official mark with a 16-2 3/4 performance outdoors. Pennel has now topped the record three times.

Reigned 4 Days
A University of Washington sophomore, Brian Sternberg, reigned for four days as pole vault king. Sternberg cleared 16-5 1/2 last Saturday in the Penn Relays. Later on Saturday, Pennel went 16-6 1/2 while practicing in the rain to start vaulting at 16 feet in this Saturday's Northeast Louisiana Invitational Track Meet. Pennel is a student at the state-supported school in Monroe.

Gets Too Tired
"I get too tired starting lower," Pennel said after his record 16-6 1/2 leap Tuesday. He started at 15 feet, then went to 16. He cleared the bar easily both times.

Called Conference
Kennedy has written out his resignation as mayor. The NBA has called a news conference today, presumably to announce Kennedy's appointment as successor to Maurice Podoloff, the only chief of the pro league has had since its 1946 founding.

Center Gary Silc, Northern Michigan's All-America honorable mention, was drafted by the Detroit Pistons in the eighth round. Silc is the second Western basketball player in history to be so selected, following Wayne Monson, The Sudbury senior is a pre-law student.

Official act was to preside over the annual draft meeting Tuesday, at which the nine teams picked over a relatively indifferent crop of college stars.

35% Gate Increase
Podoloff also announced a 35 per cent NBA gate increase last season, and a 28 per cent boost in playoff game receipts.

The New York Knicks, cellar team last year, grabbed the only two All-Americans available in the draft, Art Heyman of Duke and Jerry Harkness of Chicago Loyola.

They made Heyman the No. 1 pick after the Cincinnati Royals had tabbed Tom Thacker of the University of Cincinnati as a territorial choice.

Picked Thurmond
San Francisco sprang a surprise naming Nate Thurmond of Bowling Green, a 6-foot-11 center. The Warriors, picking third, had been expected to strengthen their back court, since they have T. J. Wilk Chamberlain at center. Detroit, picking fourth, wanted Thurmond.

ISHPEMING WOMEN'S
Arola's 7-Up posted a 2,407 on games of 784-890 and 733. They also captured the high team game with their 890. Clarann Anderson registered a 540 on games of 194-152 and 194 and Dorothy Heinonen swept past everyone with a 234 high, in the Miracle League.

His offense pretty well set, Kelly is spending most of his spring trying to solidify the Chippewa defense, which was hard hit by letterman losses.

Chief among these was the graduation departure of consensus Little All-American middle guard Ralph Soiffredine, defensive back John Blackstock, guard George Alward, and linebacker George Clayborn.

Missing from the offensive crew will be end Gary Finney, tackles Bob Urchike and Mick Devos, and center John Furman.

Kelly thinks a little shuffling of his existing talent plus a few blossoming spring discoveries will patch things up. Most of all, the cagey Irishman expects some good freshmen prospects to report next fall, where, under Central's rules, they are immediately eligible for varsity competition.

Two lettermen, tackle Glenn Foidie and back Don Bach, both of Bay City, are not on hand for spring practice because of baseball duties.

Gold Medal Harvest May Halt

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—The U.S. raid on track and field gold medals could hit a real snag in the fourth Pan-American Games today with the Yankees facing a battle in all four men's finals and the wrap-up of the decathlon.

Although the U.S.A. captured six of the eight men's events in three track sessions since Saturday, Latin American opposition is bristling in the 200-meter sprint, 400-meter hurdles and 10,000-meter run, while Canadians appear the men to beat in the 800-meter run and the payoff round of the decathlon.

Large Harvest
Meanwhile, the United States continued its monotonous harvest of gold medals with 68 for all sports since the Games started April 20.

For the first time since Cuba's Rafael Fortun Chacon was a double winner in the opening Pan-Am meet at Buenos Aires in 1951, the U.S.A. could suffer a gold medal blanking in both the 100- and 200-meter sprints.

Venezuelans Ready
Cuba's Enrique Figuerola grabbed the 100 meter crown Sunday and Wednesday a pair of Venezuelan — Argemiro Herrera and Rafael Romero — and Trinidad's Cliff Bertrand may gang up on the U.S.' lone 200-meter finalist, Lt. Ollan Cassell of Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

In the 800-meter run, also fancied an American forte, Canada's Don Bertola and Sig Olenann look mighty tough for Ernie Dotson, ex-Kansas runner.

With the decathlon entering its pole vault, 100-meter hurdles, javelin and 1,500 run—it appeared unlikely the half-way leader, Venezuela's Hector Thomas Martinez, could maintain his spritely pace of Tuesday.

Both U.S. contenders, Russ Hodge of Roscoe, N.Y., J. D. Martin of Norman, Okla., are moving into their strong events. But they could have trouble with versatile Doug Gardner, the Canadian champion.

Seek Third Straight
All the Yank pair of balding Pete Mc Ardle, Ireland-born New Yorker, and John Gutknecht, Chapel Hill, N.C., has to beat in the 10,000-meter grind is Argentina's great Osvaldo Suarez, seeking his third successive Pan-Am title, and Canada's Doug Kyle, 1959 runner-up.

California Horsemen Ready Strongest Entry For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Since Santa Anita," said Jacobs, who has helped his father, Hirsch Jacobs, train since 1956.

Jockey Willie Shoemaker came from eight lengths off the pace to take the lead one-eighth mile from the finish in the one-mile $16,200 Trial. He won by three-quarters of a length over Walnut Hill Farm's Gray Pet. Ambush Stable's On My Honor, another California colt, finished third in a field of eight Derby eligibles.

The other California colt that will start in the Derby, B. J. Ruder's Royal Tower, sat out the Trial.

Bonjour ran the distance in 1 minute, 26 and 2/5 seconds over a track classified as good and returned $440 as the favorite.

Tenney said Tuesday night he doesn't care how Candy Spots runs in the Derby, just so he has a lot left for the stretch run.

Simplest Way
Tenney, who trained the 1955 Derby winner Swaps, believes the best way to train a horse is the simplest way. He never knows for sure when Candy Spots will work out.

"If he feels like training a little bit," Tenney said, "we train a little bit. If he doesn't, we just wait for another day when he does."

Losses Then Down
Most trainers carefully sponge their colts down, brushing them very carefully. Tenney just turns a water hose on them and lets it go at that.

Candy Spots and Cain Hay Stable's Never Best second choice at 2-1 to win the Derby, will hold their final workout Thursday. Greenleaf Stable's No Robbery, the third choice, worked his final time Monday.

Everybody knows what unbeaten Candy Spots can do. Bonjour just adds a little long to the cake. Bonjour is greatly improved.

'Pays To Know' Training Clinics For Alger Slated May 13-15-20

MUNISING — "We have finally come to realize that the travel industry is one that affects the complete community and not just those associated with resorts, hotels, motels and restaurants," Munising-Alger Chamber of Commerce President Richard McLaughlin said today in urging area citizens to participate in the 1963 "It Pays To Know" hospitality campaign.

Sales training clinics have been set for May 13, 15 and 20 in the Central Grade School here. At each clinic instructors will present merchandise tips and suggest ways in which residents can host visitors to make them feel welcome in the area. Manuals will be distributed and a slide presentation will feature county attractions and techniques for directing tourists to these attractions.

Later in the spring, sales and service personnel will be certified and will be issued name buttons identifying them as certified hosts of Upper Michigan.

The "Pays To Know" campaign is sponsored by the Munising-Alger Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Upper Michigan Tourist Association and the Michigan State University Extension Service.

"This move to merchandise our community as a total package is the key to the future of industry in the Upper Peninsula and in Alger County," McLaughlin stated.

Munising-Alger Chamber's Membership Climbs To 63

MUNISING — The names of 13 additional paid-up members were announced last night at a meeting of the board of directors of the Munising-Alger Chamber of Commerce, bringing the membership to 63, according to Richard McLaughlin, president.

"At this rate," he said, "we may set a modern-day record for membership by the time the summer season is in full swing." Ken McPherson, Shingleton, chairman of the membership committee, was commended by the board.

A committee is at work on an auction which the chamber will sponsor. The time and dates will be announced later. George Lockard, Gladstone, will handle the auction sale.

A report by John Madigan on the clean-up, fix-up campaign indicated that local merchants will cooperate. A committee will seek support of the community to make it an area-wide program.

The chamber office operates on a limited schedule at present. George Kemp has been employed to operate the building from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Four Fined $37.20 By Harrington

L'ANSE — Four motorists paid fines and court costs amounting to $37.20 when their cases were heard before L'Anse Justice Leo D. Harrington.

John W. Hago, 24, L'Anse, charged with violation of the basic speed law, was ordered to pay a fine of $5 plus $4.30 court costs. Hago was ticketed by sheriff's officers as a result of an auto accident on the Bay Shore Road near the L'Anse Township park last weekend. He also agreed to make restitution of $15 to the township for damage to the park sign, which was knocked down when his auto crashed into it.

Charles R. Budd, 32, Merritt, Mich., a driver for the Red Mill Pellet Co. of Grayling, was fined $5 and $4.30 costs for driving left of the center line. Budd was ticketed by state police following a crash-up of the lumber truck he was driving on U. S. 41 near Baraga in February.

Thomas F. Voskuhl, 20, Baraga, paid $5 and $4.30 for failure to yield the right-of-way on Main St. in L'Anse. Ticketed for speeding 65 miles an hour at night on U. S. 41, Russell C. Oman, 22, Iron River, paid $5 and $4.30 court costs. Voskuhl and Oman received summonses from state police.

Copper City To Buy 1926 Detroit Pumper

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Common Council Monday approved the sale of an obsolete 1926 pumper to the Upper Peninsula village of Copper City. The village's only fire-fighting apparatus was lost in a recent fire. No purchase price was announced.

Alger JCC Election At 7:30 Tonight

MUNISING — The newly organized Alger County Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its first regular meeting at 7:30 tonight in room 234 of Munising High School. All interested men in Alger County between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive are urged to attend. Election of officers will be held.

Richard Keteck, a national director of the Jaycees, Ray Highison, state vice president, and John Pat Miller, president of the Manistique Jaycees, all of Manistique, will be present.

Minuteman

Intercontinental missiles. However, the missiles tested over the Atlantic carried range safety instrumentation which the operational missile will not carry. The instrumentation section is 18 inches long and weighs hundreds of pounds.

Also, there are research requirements for the re-entry vehicle. This, too, means extra weight. We could have impacted at full intercontinental range in every case, but we felt we needed the research data more than we needed the publicity.

O. There were two Minuteman failures last year at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. Can you explain those?

Push It To Limits

A Vandenberg is where the whole missile system is brought together—the missile itself, after preliminary testing at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the ground equipment necessary for launching, and the Air Force crews being trained to man operational sites.

Sometimes at Vandenberg we push the bird to its limits to see what will happen. We subject it to trajectory and heating conditions it would not have to withstand in operational use. Even so, our failures have been surprisingly few, and the causes have all been isolated and corrected.

Improvements? Q. You speak of making corrections. Does this mean that each new wing of 150 to 200 Minutemen incorporates improvements suggested by tests of earlier wings?

A. To some extent. We don't make major changes in every wing, however, for a couple of reasons. One, the original Wing 1 missile exceeds the job for which it was designed. Two, such changes increase crew training time and could cause difficulty in meeting production schedules.

The biggest changes are in the Wing 6 missiles for Grand Forks, N.D., where construction of silos will begin early next year. In these we have improved the second-stage engine, for even greater payload and range, and the guidance.

The guidance is almost unbelievably good in the Wing 1 missile. It has already been disclosed that it can hit a target the size of an airfield runway and when you talk of distances of 5,000 to 6,000 or 7,000 miles, that is almost incredible accuracy. The Wing 6 missiles are even better than that.

Q. You say the Wing 1 missile will do the job—what is the purpose of continued testing and improvement? Do you have hopes that the Minuteman eventually will be able to replace the Atlas and the Titan?

Bigger Bomb? A. In many cases, yes. I would not say that Minuteman can do everything that Titan can do, because Titan carries a much heavier payload.

Q. You mean a bigger bomb, in the range of 50 megatons? A. That, too, is classified. But when you have a certain job to do, you can do it three ways: One, you can use one missile with a tremendous yield. Two, you can use more missiles of smaller yield. Or three, you can send your smaller missiles to the target with greater accuracy. Cost-wise, the payoff for accuracy is greater than the payoff for the other two.

Q. You mean the greater the accuracy, the less the cost of winging out a given target?

Secondary Benefits A. Yes. Accuracy has secondary benefits, too, in reliability and in reduced weight. We know things that we can do to get performance with less guidance weight, and this in turn can be used to increase either payload or range.
