EAST LANSING (AP) — Sgt. Raymond McCormell, 46, a veteran of 22 years with the state police, has been named commander of the racket squad by Commissioner Joseph Childs, effective May 19. McCormell, currently commander of the Jackson Post, succeeds Det. Lt. Carl Robinson, who was suspended on charges of embezzling money confiscated in gambling raids. McCormell was promoted to the rank of detective lieutenant. He will operate out of East Lansing headquarters. Sgt. Matt Hrebec of the Pax Post will assume command at Jackson.

Demos Stun Republicans With Probe

LANSING (AP) — House Democrats catching their Republican colleagues by surprise, today passed a resolution calling for a bipartisan committee to investigate how American Motors Corp., and Gov. George Romney may benefit from the signing of a controversial unemployment compensation bill. Although called into session only as a token move to permit the Senate to confirm an appointment, the Democrats mustered 42 of their 52 House members, enough strength to get the resolution through. Only 14 Republicans were on hand, and they appeared powerless to stop the Democratic maneuver. The resolution calls for a committee to be set up to probe the effects of the so-called Ford-Cantoni bill's provision that certain firms may have their negative balances in the jobless pay fund wiped out. Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit House minority leader, introduced the resolution, bringing protests from the handful of GOP members. "This is highly unethical," complained Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland. Democrats last week criticized the negative balances provision of the bill and demanded Romney explain how he, as a major stockholder in American Motors, would benefit personally if he signed the bill. Romney is expected to sign the bill into law early next week. Negative balances are made up of deficits owed to the unemployment compensation fund by companies whose employment records, in recent years, have caused them to draw out more money than they have paid into the fund in taxes.

Negative Balance
Democrats, in their resolution, said the total negative balance in the fund as of last year was $260 million, and American Motors alone had a negative balance of $1.4 million in the previous year. Meanwhile, the Senate confirmed the appointment of Albert Fortino, 48, an Alma attorney, to the Board of Canvassers.

House Bill
The House-passed bill would raise it immediately to $307 billion, then on July 1 to $309 billion, effective through Aug. 31. Before then, it is generally expected, the ceiling will have to be raised again, especially if Congress passes President Kennedy's tax cut legislation. Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee tentatively scheduled a session for next Wednesday on the debt ceiling.

JOSEPH CARDINAL MINDSZENTY

Reds To Let Mindszenty Go To Rome

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The Vatican, the United States and Hungary's Communist government reportedly have reached an agreement that will allow Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to leave for Rome. High Vatican sources said they expected the 71-year-old Roman Catholic prelate of Hungary in Rome in a few days to assume a high Vatican post. Negotiations fruitful. Informants in Budapest reported Wednesday night that long negotiations proved fruitful. Freeing of the cardinal would remove one barrier to resumption of normal diplomatic relations between the United States and Hungary and would improve relations between the Vatican and the Hungarian government. No information was available on details of the agreement, but it is believed to include other concessions to the Vatican. The Hungarian Communists sentenced the prelate to life imprisonment in 1949 for alleged high treason. Liberated in the 1956 uprising, he took refuge in the U.S. Legation in Budapest when the Soviets crushed the revolt and he has been there ever since.

Penkovsky Executed By Firing Squad
MOSCOW (AP) — Tass said today Oleg Penkovsky has been executed in accordance with the sentence pronounced last Saturday in the spy case involving Greville Wynne, a British businessman. The Soviet news agency said the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet rejected an appeal for clemency by Penkovsky, 44, sentenced to death after being convicted of high treason. He was shot. Penkovsky was a former deputy chief of the State Committee on Scientific Research and Coordination. Wynne, also 44, was sentenced to eight years in confinement. He contended before the military court which tried him with Penkovsky that he had been tricked by the British intelligence service into serving as a courier for Soviet military, political and economic secrets ferreted out by Penkovsky. The court ruled the two were members of a spy network that fed 5,000 films of secret Soviet documents to the West in 16 months.

U.S. Astronaut Gets Green Light To Complete 22-Orbit Mission

NASA Clears Confusion On Space Count

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — When is an orbit not an orbit? When it's a revolution, of course. Except that even then it's called an orbit. Confused? Well, relax—it isn't bothering astronaut Gordon Cooper and it boils down to semantics anyway. An orbit for Cooper is one of two things—both of them different. A Keplerian orbit is a complete circle from one point in space around and back to that same point in space again. But experts at Mercury Control—for simplicity's sake—have used a different measure. They drew an imaginary line, north to south, through Cape Canaveral and measured an orbit as the amount of time it takes Cooper to make it once around and cross that line. The earth rotates in the same direction that Cooper is flying—to the east—and he has to travel a little more than a full circle each time to cross the Cape Canaveral line. Experts at Mercury Control call this an earth-fixed orbit—or a revolution. The Keplerian orbit takes about 88 1/2 minutes. The earth orbit takes five minutes longer, about 93 1/2 minutes—the full circle plus the amount of time it takes to catch up with the Cape Canaveral line.

Imaginary Line
They drew an imaginary line, north to south, through Cape Canaveral and measured an orbit as the amount of time it takes Cooper to make it once around and cross that line.

23 Keplerian Orbits
Cooper's flight—advertised by NASA as a 22-orbit mission—was figured on the basis of almost 22 of the earth-fixed orbits or revolutions. In the traditional sense, he is traveling more than 23 of the circular or Keplerian orbits before he returns to earth.

Racial Pact Supported By Businessmen
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A desegregation pact aimed at ending this industrial city's racial unrest has the backing of some of Alabama's most prominent businessmen. Their names were disclosed Wednesday night amid reports of a budding boycott of stores by white persons opposing the bi-racial agreement. Both white and Negro leaders say they will stick to the agreement despite efforts to influence white shoppers to boycott downtown merchants.

Photos May Show Thresher Debris
PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — An oceanographic scientist said today photographs have been obtained of what appears to be debris on the ocean bottom where the nuclear submarine Thresher is believed lost with 129 men. The announcement was made at Woods Hole, Mass., by Dr. Paul M. Fye, director of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute, who said "it has not been confirmed that these small objects are from the submarine Thresher."

Goldwater Asks Halt To Fund-Raising
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says he has asked three California GOP groups to stop raising presidential campaign funds for him. Goldwater said Wednesday he had written two organizations of volunteers, notifying them he isn't a candidate for the 1964 nomination and that he wants them to halt any fund collection for that purpose. To avoid embarrassment of individuals involved, he didn't name the groups. He said he had reports a third organization was collecting funds, but didn't know its name so had written a GOP county chairman asking him to act. Similar. The action by Goldwater was somewhat similar to that taken by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in calling off the efforts of former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to organize a nomination drive for the New Yorker in California. Goldwater insisted he was acting only in line with his repeated announcements that he is only running for re-election to the Senate next year. "We are still sending back Goldwater for President" checks that come in," he said. "Of course, we're glad to keep contributions made for the senatorial campaign."

150 Americans Die Every Year From Misusing Pesticides
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's Science Advisory Committee contends that every year 150 Americans — half of them children — are killed through misuse of powerful chemical pesticides. To protect humanity and wildlife the committee urges "strong and speedy action to assure more judicious use of chemical pesticides, including a strengthening of federal laws relating to control of their marketing and use. The report was issued late Wednesday by the White House with this accompanying word from the President: "I have already requested the responsible agencies to implement the recommendations in the report, including the preparation of legislation and technical proposals which I shall submit to the Congress. At the Agriculture Department, Secretary Orville L. Freeman said he welcomes recommendations that will strengthen his agency in "its continuing efforts to insure the proper use of pesticides, to increase the efficiency of our agriculture and provide a plentiful and wholesome food supply for all." Among the highlights of the report, prepared by a panel of experts appointed by the Science Advisory Committee: Estimate. The number of nonfatal poisonings can only be estimated, but in California, the nation's biggest user of chemical pesticides, 1,100 workers were sickened by agricultural chemicals in 1959. Substantial mortalities among birds and other wildlife have resulted from many kinds of insect control programs using pesticides. The survey was largely generated by the nationwide discussion and controversy touched off by the book, "Silent Spring." In it, author Rachel Carson, a biologist by profession, criticized what she termed indiscriminate use of chemical pesticides. In Philadelphia, Miss Carson said Wednesday night in a television interview that the pesticide report is "a strong and objective one" and that it is a "vindication of my principal contentions."

Touchdown Slated For 6:20 P.M.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Gordon Cooper, a superbly performing space pilot, sped on toward completion of his marathon 22-orbit flight today heading for an afternoon splashdown in the Pacific Ocean. With astronaut and spacecraft in excellent working order, Mercury Control Center flashed the good word to Cooper during his 16th orbit that he had the green light to go all the way. Touchdown. If there is no emergency hitch, the reverse rockets on Cooper's Faith 7 capsule are to be fired east of Shanghai, China, about 6:02 p. m. Eastern Standard Time to begin a gradual descent to a parachute landing in the Pacific some 80 miles southeast of Midway Island. Touchdown time was scheduled about 6:20 p. m.—12:20 p. m. Midway Time. A large Pacific recovery force, headed by the carrier Kearsarge, waited in the area. The Kearsarge hoped to improve on its record of last Oct. 3, when it had astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. on board just 42 minutes after he landed some 9,000 yards from the craft. Good Night's Sleep. Cooper was waved on for the full flight not long after he awakened from a good night's sleep. Then he went into action as a camera bug. Over the Indian Ocean he pulled out a 35mm robot still camera with a fast lens to photograph the redical light, a weird glow visible on the horizon in the east before sunrise and after sunset. Scientists believe the color pictures will prove a theory that the phenomena is caused by the sun's rays reflecting off dust clouds. "Hello down dere! Did I take pictures, pictures, pictures?" Cooper exclaimed to communications Virgil Grissom on the ground at Guaymas, Mexico. Then he reported he was turning the capsule 260 degrees on its yaw axis to take the "MIT jobs."

8 Pictures
He referred to a series of eight horizon pictures made especially for Massachusetts Institute of Technology which is studying the possibility of using the horizon as a navigation reference point for spacecrafts returning from the moon. "You have my sympathy," Grissom commented. "I'm not complaining," Cooper replied. Grissom then passed on some camera lens setting and filter suggestions from Mercury Control Center. Cooper went about his picture-taking business and sent across the southern United States to the start of his 17th orbit. "Miser" Cape Canaveral contacted Faith 7 at 9:09 a. m. and astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. commented on how well Cooper was conserving his fuel and oxygen. "You sure are a miser on consumables," Shepard said. "You're saving things very well."

Haitian Boss Says He Will Stay In Office
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Haiti's Dictator-President Francois Duvalier insists he will remain in office despite reports abroad that he is planning to flee his rebellion-threatened country. "Haiti will continue under my administration," Duvalier told American correspondents summoned to his palace Wednesday in an apparent effort to scotch reports he intended to flee. By showing himself unshaken, Duvalier, 36, scored a victory over enemies who had sworn to kill him rather than let him begin a new presidential term. Duvalier's constitutional term of office expired Wednesday, but he declared himself re-elected for six more years after a rigged ballot two years ago. Duvalier's regime plans a surge for his inauguration May 22. "Papa Doc" as he is known to the Negro Haitians, may survive that date, too, but foreign observers of Haiti's troubles give him no more than another year at the helm of his impoverished, fear-ridden little nation. Clement Barbot, once Duvalier's right-hand man, has sworn to kill his former chief and is at large somewhere in Haiti with a band of underground fighters. Haitian exiles abroad have been reported planning invasions of the country.

Romney Inks 31 More Bills
LANSING (AP) — Thirty-one more bills were signed into law Wednesday by Gov. George Romney, covering subjects ranging from unemployment compensation to the damming of rivers and streams. Other measures will: Deny unemployment benefits for a worker who engages in a wildcat strike. Provide 100 more circuit judges for Oakland County. Regulate monies for public improvements. Disqualify an individual for unemployment benefits if he is sentenced to jail or prison, except for traffic offenses which result in a sentence of less than 10 days.

Ford Said Negotiating To Buy Ferrari Firm
MODENA, Italy (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reportedly is negotiating to take over the Ferrari firm, maker of racing cars and luxury automobiles, sources here said Wednesday night. The speculation apparently arose from a recent visit by John Ferrari. Modena, the home of Ferrari, is Italy's auto racing capital. Ferrari officials said a group of Ford executives spent a full day in confidential talks with Signor Ferrari two weeks ago.

LANSING — The Board of Education announced today it will begin an investigation of administrative organization and policies at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. Trudy Plans Own Flight
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Gordon Cooper was planning a flight of her own today as her astronaut husband whizzed around the earth, making American space history. Mrs. Cooper, a pretty brunette, said she planned to take her teenage daughters with her when she flies to Hawaii Friday for a reunion with Cooper if his 34-hour, 22-orbit flight ends in the Pacific as scheduled. "Beautiful" Trudy Cooper saw on television Wednesday what she termed a "beautiful" launch for her husband's Faith 7 capsule. She and her two daughters, Camala, 14, and Janita, 13, talked with Cooper by telephone just before the near-perfect blastoff at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Five Juveniles Here Caught For Damaging Houses, Cars, Tires

Five juveniles, ranging in ages from 13 to 16, have been apprehended by city police for doing damage estimated at well in excess of $1,000 to houses and cars.

City Det. George G. Johnson said all were boys, one 16, another 15, another 14 and two 13.

They broke windows in cars, punctured tires, damaged doors to houses and wrecked aerials on a number of automobiles, police said.

Five Others Seized

There's the worst of two serious cases of vandalism in which city police have apprehended juveniles.

Five other juveniles were seized for breaking around 200 windows at the Soo Hardware Co. warehouse, on the south side of the building, in the 1100 block of S. Front St. Some were glass block windows and others regular small panes.

Det. Johnson said the boys, one 15, two 14 and two 13, also smashed the floodlights, with B-B guns and sling shots.

They were caught inside the building by a Soo Hardware employee, after they had forced the sliding door open and entered the building to smoke cigarettes.

Broke Windows Elsewhere

Police said the five youngsters also admitted breaking windows at the Consolidated Fuel & Lumber Co. building near there. These cases of vandalism are still being investigated by city police.

ARA Chief To Speak At Event Here

William Batt, Washington, D.C., administrator of the U.S. Area Development Administration (ARA), will be the principal speaker at the graduation exercises for the ARA classes being conducted in Marquette.

The graduation event will be held at 6:30 Thursday evening, May 23, in the West Hall dining room of the University Center at Northern Michigan University.

In addition to Batt, a number of officials from the national and state offices of the U.S. Department of Labor and the U.S. Office of Education will be in attendance, the announcement said.

Graduating will be trainees enrolled in the welding, machine tool, stenographer and bulldozer training sessions now being conducted in Marquette through the ARA in cooperation with Northern and the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Most Icelanders do not eat herring, for production of which they are world famous. They grind it into meal as livestock food.

Gerling Heads United Chest Canvass Here

John C. Gerling, manager of public relations, for the Marquette exchange, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was named today as chairman of the "roll-out" 1963 United Marquette Community Chest drive.

The appointment was announced by Dr. Albert H. Burrows, president of the United Marquette Community Chest Council.

Gerling was chairman of the industrial division of the United Community Chest last year. He has been active in the Marquette County Economic Development Corp. drive and was a member of the 1962 chamber of commerce membership committee.

Came Here In 1928

He began work with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in Detroit in 1925 and was transferred here as commercial agent in 1928.

Gerling became manager of the telephone exchange here in 1929 and following a military leave of absence during World War II he returned to Marquette.

Last week members of the Community Chest Council announced plans for strengthening their drive this year.

Two Drivers Ticketed In Crashes Here

Two motorists were issued summonses and four automobiles were involved, but no one was injured, in a pair of traffic collisions which occurred in Marquette yesterday and during the night.

Another mishap was reported by state police from the Marquette post, in which a motorist was injured (see story on Page 18). Reports on the collisions follow:

At 1:57 this morning a car being driven south on N. Fourth St. by Paul Ross, Daggett, went out of control, crossing over to the left side of the street and smashing into a car owned by Dean Pardon, Vulcan, which was parked on the east side of the street, facing north, at 1020 N. Fourth.

City police said Pardon's car was shoved about 10 feet by the impact and Ross' continued ahead about 25 feet before coming to a stop.

Extensive damage resulted to the left front of Ross' car, a 1952 four-door, and to the left front of Pardon's automobile, a 1959 convertible. Both vehicles had to be hauled from the scene by wreckers.

Car Not Under Control

City police gave Ross a summons for failing to have his car under control.

An automobile being driven west on W. Washington St. by David Lawrence, Box 48, National Mine, struck a car owned by John Balibier, Jr., 836 W. Washington St., which was parked on the north side of the street, facing west, in the 800 block.

City police said Lawrence reported he momentarily took his eyes off the roadway.

Minor damage resulted to the left rear fender of Balibier's 1962 small foreign model. Apparently no damage occurred to Lawrence's car, a 1954 four-door sedan. Both were driven from the scene under their own power.

City police ticketed Lawrence for failing to have his car under control.

Ten New TB Cases Found In State Daily

ANN ARBOR — Tuberculosis remains one of Michigan's most important diseases and the leading infectious killer of young adults, according to a panel of three University of Michigan doctors.

Every day in Michigan approximately 10 new cases of tuberculosis are discovered.

Unbroken Chain of Infection

The U-M physicians — Dr. George Lawrence of pediatrics and Dr. Robert Green and Dr. Nancy Furstenberg of internal medicine — said the germ that causes TB is somewhat unusual. It apparently cannot exist outside the human body, so there has been an unbroken chain of infection from one person to another throughout the entire history of the disease.

"If the chain can be broken, we can eliminate TB once and for all," they explained.

Symptoms Enumerated

"A child with a positive TB skin test is a leading clue as to where TB patients may be. His contacts are limited to parents, close relatives, a babysitter or possibly a teacher. This is the reason why tuberculin surveys in the schools are so important."

TB symptoms may include cough, weight loss, fatigue and lack of energy. But since these could signal many different diseases, the doctors recommend a tuberculin test — a small "shot" injected under the outer surface of the skin — and chest X-rays for detecting TB.

Modern Treatment

"Not everyone with a positive tuberculin test has active TB. The germ can live in the body for years without becoming active. Therefore, one may become infected the day after birth and not have significant clinically active TB until the 80th year of life," report the doctors.

Treatment today consists of drugs for a prolonged period of time, occasionally combined with surgery on the lungs. After treatment of TB virtually every patient today returns to his normal occupation.

Compared to the past, long periods of hospitalization and invalidism are usually not necessary, the doctors said.

The date 690 B.C. is significant in Japanese history as the date of the founding of Japan by Jimmu Tenno.

Ten New TB Cases Found In State Daily

ANN ARBOR — Tuberculosis remains one of Michigan's most important diseases and the leading infectious killer of young adults, according to a panel of three University of Michigan doctors.

Every day in Michigan approximately 10 new cases of tuberculosis are discovered.

Unbroken Chain of Infection

The U-M physicians — Dr. George Lawrence of pediatrics and Dr. Robert Green and Dr. Nancy Furstenberg of internal medicine — said the germ that causes TB is somewhat unusual. It apparently cannot exist outside the human body, so there has been an unbroken chain of infection from one person to another throughout the entire history of the disease.

"If the chain can be broken, we can eliminate TB once and for all," they explained.

Symptoms Enumerated

"A child with a positive TB skin test is a leading clue as to where TB patients may be. His contacts are limited to parents, close relatives, a babysitter or possibly a teacher. This is the reason why tuberculin surveys in the schools are so important."

TB symptoms may include cough, weight loss, fatigue and lack of energy. But since these could signal many different diseases, the doctors recommend a

Gerling Heads United Chest Canvass Here

John C. Gerling, manager of public relations, for the Marquette exchange, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was named today as chairman of the "roll-out" 1963 United Marquette Community Chest drive.

The appointment was announced by Dr. Albert H. Burrows, president of the United Marquette Community Chest Council.

Gerling was chairman of the industrial division of the United Community Chest last year. He has been active in the Marquette County Economic Development Corp. drive and was a member of the 1962 chamber of commerce membership committee.

Came Here In 1928

He began work with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in Detroit in 1925 and was transferred here as commercial agent in 1928.

Gerling became manager of the telephone exchange here in 1929 and following a military leave of absence during World War II he returned to Marquette.

Last week members of the Community Chest Council announced plans for strengthening their drive this year.

Two Drivers Ticketed In Crashes Here

Two motorists were issued summonses and four automobiles were involved, but no one was injured, in a pair of traffic collisions which occurred in Marquette yesterday and during the night.

Another mishap was reported by state police from the Marquette post, in which a motorist was injured (see story on Page 18). Reports on the collisions follow:

At 1:57 this morning a car being driven south on N. Fourth St. by Paul Ross, Daggett, went out of control, crossing over to the left side of the street and smashing into a car owned by Dean Pardon, Vulcan, which was parked on the east side of the street, facing north, at 1020 N. Fourth.

City police said Pardon's car was shoved about 10 feet by the impact and Ross' continued ahead about 25 feet before coming to a stop.

Extensive damage resulted to the left front of Ross' car, a 1952 four-door, and to the left front of Pardon's automobile, a 1959 convertible. Both vehicles had to be hauled from the scene by wreckers.

Car Not Under Control

City police gave Ross a summons for failing to have his car under control.

An automobile being driven west on W. Washington St. by David Lawrence, Box 48, National Mine, struck a car owned by John Balibier, Jr., 836 W. Washington St., which was parked on the north side of the street, facing west, in the 800 block.

City police said Lawrence reported he momentarily took his eyes off the roadway.

Minor damage resulted to the left rear fender of Balibier's 1962 small foreign model. Apparently no damage occurred to Lawrence's car, a 1954 four-door sedan. Both were driven from the scene under their own power.

City police ticketed Lawrence for failing to have his car under control.

Among the key figures at the "Forum Marquettensis" held at St. Louis Hall, Harvey, yesterday were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George C. Higgins (right), director of the social action department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, Washington, D. C., the principal speaker, and the Rev. Charles J. Carmody, superintendent of Bishop Baraga Central High School and coordinator of the program.—(Mining Journal photo).

Priests Of Diocese Hear Msgr. Higgins

Priests from the Catholic Diocese of Marquette yesterday afternoon attended the "Forum Marquettensis," held in St. Louis Hall, Harvey.

The gathering, second in a series of subscribed lectures on the priestly studies this month, was conducted by the Rt. Rev. George G. Higgins, M.A., Ph.D., director of the social action department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, Washington, D.C.

Coordinating the program was the Rev. Charles J. Carmody, superintendent of Bishop Baraga Central High School.

An expert in the field of social action, Msgr. Higgins presented four 40-minute lectures, each followed by a 15-minute question and answer period.

The meeting ended with a dinner, served in St. Christopher's Hall, Marquette Township.

Msgr. Higgins' topics for the forum, which was entitled "National Social Problems," were: "Current Labor Problems in American Society," "International Problems in the Light of the Recent Encyclical, 'Pacem in Terris' (Peace on Earth)," "Race Relations Viewed Cooperatively by Catholic and Non-Catholic Groups" and "The Role of the Expert (Peritus) in the Second Vatican Council."

Future speakers of national repute who are scheduled for the remainder of this year in the Upper Peninsula diocese are the Rev. Gustav J. Weigel, noted Jesuit, who will appear this summer, and the Rev. John J. Lynch, also of the Society of Jesus, who will appear in the fall.

Marquette, Alger Counties Seen As Legislative District

Cliff Perras was a guest at the Escanaba Rotary Club luncheon this week and he quipped to a friend afterward "I think I'll spend the afternoon in Escanaba campaigning."

Perras lives at Nadeau and represents Menominee and Dickinson Counties in the Michigan Legislature. He is the first representative from Menominee County to represent the Menominee-Dickinson District at Lansing since it was created in 1943.

And he thinks he'll be the last. Hence his quip about doing some campaigning in Delta County. He's sure that the Commission on Legislative Apportionment set up by the new Michigan Constitution is going to redistrict the Upper Peninsula so that Delta and Menominee Counties will be thrown into one new legislative district. At present Delta is a district unto itself with Einar Erlandsen, Democrat, as its representative.

Delta won't remain a legislative district under the new constitution because it doesn't have enough population. The population factor will shrink the Upper Peninsula's present seven legislative districts to five and scramble the present representation by eliminating two representatives and juggling the rest.

Marquette County Closest

Perras suggests that the redistricting plan approved in the Constitutional Convention will probably prevail, or most of it. The new constitution provides that the House shall consist of 110 members elected for two-year terms from single districts apportioned on a basis of population.

Each county which has a population of not less than 7.5 of one per cent of the population of the state shall constitute a separate representative district. This unit is about 57,000 population, says Perras and no U.P. county has it. Marquette is closest with 56,000.

When counties lack the minimum they shall merge with other counties to form a representative district. Perras suggests the likelihood of the Commission on Legislative Apportionment calling for these districts:

Marquette, population 56,000, and Alger, 9,000; 65,004.

Delta, 34,000, and Menominee, 24,600; 58,600.

Chippewa, 32,600; Mackinac 10,800; Schoolcraft, 8,900; Luce, 7,800; 60,288.

Dickinson 23,917; Iron, 17,184; Gogebic, 24,570; 65,471.

Baraga With Copper Country Houghton, 35,654; Keweenaw, 2,417; Baraga, 7,151; Ontonagon, 10,584; 55,796.

A possible variant is joining Menominee with Dickinson and Iron instead of Delta but it has more ties east than west he suggests.

Huhtala From U.P. The Commission on Legislative Apportionment will be chosen by the Republican and Democratic Parties, four members each, one each from the U.P.

The Republicans have named Ralph Huhtala of Iron Mountain as their member from the U.P.

May Itinerary For Planets Given By U-M Professor

ANN ARBOR — Here's the May itinerary for Mars, Saturn, Jupiter and Venus.

The red planet Mars, now between the Beehive cluster of the constellation Cancer and the bright star Regulus in the Sickle of Leo, are moving steadily eastward, University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh says.

By the end of the month Mars will catch up with Regulus and around midnight on May 31 will pass about one degree north of this star. At that time these two objects with nearly equal brightness will appear as a brilliant double star, the color of Mars being much redder.

Saturn will be rising in the southeast around 2 a. m. by the middle of the month and will be found near the eastern corner of Capricornus.

Jupiter, much brighter than Saturn, will be rising almost exactly at the east point, about two hours later.

Venus may still be seen in the morning sky, rising a little north of the east point at about the same time as Jupiter.

Prof. Losh also says that "the day at the end of the month will have only about 15 minutes to go to reach its greatest length in June."

Nonchalant Astronaut Rests Easy

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Call it nonchalance, or just easy going, but sometimes-within the privacy of his sky cabin—it's hard to tell whether astronaut Gordon Cooper is awake or asleep.

Even in the last tense minutes, waiting to blast off, Cooper may have dozed off.

Again—in some quiet moments as he approached the California coast on his second orbit—Cooper dozed off to sleep again.

Finally after 12 hours and 40 minutes in space, Cooper reached the 10-hour period circumscribed as a "don't call me, I'll call you" time in which he could rest undisturbed by calls from the ground.

It took him barely five minutes to relax to the point where his doctors could say it appeared he was asleep.

The doctors say Cooper was very near sleep, if not actually dozing, at a time during the last 60 minutes of his countdown. They watched on the instruments as his breathing rate fell to a sleeping pattern of about 12 breaths a minute, and became very regular, and his heart indicated sleep too.

Fire Chief John W. Myers (in above photo, at left) directs fire fighting operations at the five-apartment dwelling at 351 E. Ridge St., which was damaged by a blaze yesterday afternoon. Firemen in the photo are Jack Ward (on the roof over a sun room), Donald Lawry (at the top of the ladder) and Simon Murphy (second fireman on the ladder). Holding the hose is Louis Kampe, a city light and power lineman who came to disconnect the power and helped battle the blaze. In photo below, firemen are shown battling smoke and flames shooting out from the north and east side of the burning structure. Shortly before these photos were taken

Three Children Rescued From Blaze By Firemen

Three small children were rescued by city firemen from the second floor of a blazing apartment building here yesterday afternoon.

The three, all under three years of age, had been overcome by smoke while they were asleep in the rear (north) bedroom of the apartment house, and firemen rushed two of them to a hospital and had to administer mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the little girl.

The five-apartment house at 351 E. Ridge St. is owned by Joseph Sylvester, Negaunee, and the blaze apparently started in the west upstairs apartment (Apt. C), occupied by the Daniel Berg family.

"Satisfactory" this morning, Timothy Berg, 2½ years old, and his brother, Scott, 3½ months, were taken in Fire Chief John W. Myers' car, which also can serve as an emergency ambulance, to St. Mary's Hospital.

The girl, Susan Berg, 16 months, had to receive mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, administered by Fire Truck Driver Allen Tappenden. She was later taken by city ambulance to St. Luke's Hospital.

St. Luke's officials this morning reported her condition as being "satisfactory." St. Mary's officials said the condition of the two boys this morning was "improved."

Firemen and city police, who went to the scene to direct traffic and maintain order, said the Berg children had been left alone in the apartment. Mrs. Berg told them she had gone next door to visit. Her husband is in the service and attached to K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Chief Myers said the blaze in the building, an old frame structure which measures approximately 26 by 50 feet, apparently originated in the kitchen, alongside the kitchen stove, where a bag of garbage had been placed.

"Someone apparently emptied an ash tray in the garbage bag, and that caused the fire, I believe," Chief Myers said, noting that the blaze had been most intense in that corner.

Child Notices Flames

Firemen were summoned at 4:03 p.m. by phone by Mrs. Bevil Smith, who, with her family, occupies one of the lower apartments (Apt. B) on the east side of the dwelling. Her small child, playing outside, ran in to tell her smoke was coming from the upstairs.

Moments later another call was received, from Percy Till, 411 E. Ridge St., who also had noticed the smoke, while walking by.

Till had run into the dwelling and went upstairs to see if anyone was there, but was forced to return because of the intense smoke already in the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Gert Lamkin occupy Apt. 3, also downstairs, and Marion Luoma has a one-room apartment (Apt. A) in the front, downstairs. Another apartment, on the east side on the second floor, was vacant.

On arrival, firemen had to concentrate on getting the children out of the house, but didn't know the exact location of the bedroom and had a difficult time finding it because they had to go in with oxygen masks, as the second floor was filled with smoke.

Fire Truck Drivers Tappenden and William Powers and Fireman Jack Ward donned the air masks, but Ward and Tappenden had to retreat after running out of air in their 15-minute masks. Powers had a half-hour supply of air and entered the kitchen, but the smoke was so heavy he couldn't see the door.

In a second attempt, about 16 or 17 minutes after receiving the alarm, firemen located the children, with Powers finding them in the bedroom.

Powers handed one child, the

Selective Service Board Here Gives 15-Year Summary Of Men Registered, Classified

Of 8,110 persons registered by the Marquette board of the U. S. Selective Service System since 1948, a total of 7,061 have been classified, including 873 who were inducted and 1,582 who enlisted. Frances A. Drake, clerk in charge of the local board office, announced today.

In her summary of registration statistics, Mrs. Drake said the board also has processed and classified an additional 951 standby reservists. Of that number, 172 were enlisted men, 35 were commissioned males (who are still affiliated with the Standby Reserves), and two were women commissioned as standby reservists.

Classification Breakdown

Mrs. Drake noted that when a reservist fulfills his military obligation and the board receives official information so stating, his records are then cancelled.

A breakdown of the 7,061 persons classified since 1948 showed the following number in each category:

Class 1-A (registrant available for military service) — 166, not examined; 29 examined and found acceptable.

Class 1-C (member of Armed Forces) — 45 inducted and still left in service; 315 enlisted and left in service.

Class 1-D (qualified member of reserve component) — 273.

Class 1-Y (qualified for service only in time of national emergency) — 475.

Class 2-A (occupational deferment) — 110.

Class 2-C (agricultural deferment) — one.

Class 2-S (student deferment) — 102.

Class 3-A (extreme hardship deferment or registrant with a child) — 819.

Class 4-A (registrant with sufficient prior military service) — 807.

Class 4-C (deferment of certain aliens) — three.

Class 4-D (minister of religion or divinity student) — 19.

Class 4-F (registrant not qualified for any military service) — 166.

Class 5-A (registrant over the age of liability for military service) — 3,531.

Steel Tower Will Record Weather Data

MUSKEGON (AP) — A three-legged steel tower—105 feet high but about half of it below water—soon will rise from Lake Michigan a mile offshore here.

The tower, first of its type in the United States, will make scientific recordings of weather data, operating automatically and transmitting its records to a shore station.

The nine-ton tower, which folds up like an umbrella so it can be moved, is the product of the U. S. Weather Bureau, the Lake Survey, and the Public Health Service.

Instruments on the tower will record wind velocity and direction, humidity and air temperature, rainfall, solar radiation, wave heights, and water currents and levels.

Barge

The tower, constructed at the U. S. Engineers boathouse at Fort Wayne in Detroit, was to be trucked to Grand Haven today for loading aboard a derrick barge.

The barge is to take it out on the lake and anchor its three legs to 8,000-pound concrete blocks on the lake bottom.

The University of Michigan will operate the tower under a contract with the weather bureau.

Dr. Leo Bajournas, Lake Survey research director, said the weather tower should do much to help in an understanding of lake weather as well as being an aid to navigation.

Not Much Known

Dr. Bajournas conceded that not too much is known about certain lake weather elements, including the waves and the effects of winds on the waves.

The bureau hopes to be able to make more accurate marine forecasts from the tower's data.

The tower will feed its information to the shore station via electric cables. Magnetic tape will record the data of the station.

The tower is built to withstand winds of up to 70 knots and 12-foot waves. It is expected to be in operation within two months. It will be taken out of lake prior to the first freeze.

This is the way the Hiawatha National Forest's 20-acre area is on the Ogontz River three miles north of U. S. 2. Ranger Mike Griswold is pictured in the stand.

Hiawatha Forest 'Park' Set Up For Quality Pine Seeds

A "park" has been created in the Hiawatha National Forest on the Ogontz River three miles north of U. S. 2 for an unusual purpose.

It is the production of seeds from high quality red pine trees.

The seeds will be used in U. S. Forest Service nurseries to grow young trees to be planted on the Rapid River, Manistique and Munising ranger districts of the forest. There's a similar seed production area in the forest near Sault Ste. Marie for the Soo and St. Ignace ranger districts.

Foresters have always known that trees, like humans and other growing things, vary greatly. Some trees grow faster than others and some develop into more perfect specimens.

It is these "super" trees that federal foresters are cultivating now for the production of seed, so they'll create forests managed into a higher quality stand than those in which nature called the turn. Actually, explains Ranger Mike Griswold of Rapid River, there are many trees in the Hiawatha Forest which are better trees than those in the seed production area, but they are single trees scattered over many miles of woodland, and harvesting of their cones would be difficult.

Blue Paint Banding

So a stand of superior red pines in a concentrated area was chosen. These trees are about 55 years old and they average 58 to 60 feet in height. Loggers and Accelerated Public Works program workers cut out about three quarters of the stand and left this park-like stand of selected trees, all identified by blue paint banding. A commercial cut was made to remove most of the undesired trees, and the work relief program did the clean-up on the rest, after which the brush was burned.

Red pine bear a good seed crop only every 3 to 5 years, usually in three-year cycles, although they may produce cones each year. Cones will be clipped from the seed trees in September of "ring" years of seed production by men who will climb ladders to the limb areas, squirrel about on the limbs and put the cones in a sack on their back. The trees will be equipped with squirrel shields in years of picking and harvesting before ripe so that the foresters and not the rodents get the seeds, which are a squirrel feed.

Spruce Production Area

Ideal age for seed production in red pines, says Griswold, is 50 to 70 years. Each of the trees in the seed production area will have a serial number to assist record keeping on time of ripening and other data. The 20-acre area is expected to produce seeds for a planting program of two million trees a year. Some of these will go into the creation of seed orchards for the production of super trees under conditions of controlled growth.

The soil of the production area is Rubicon sand. It's not the best for pine growth, but seeds from trees grown in it will respond accordingly to better type soils.

The Hiawatha Forest also has a white spruce seed production area on the Stonington Peninsula, but the selected seed trees there have not been given a park treatment because spruce are not windfirm. In this five-acre area some clearing has been done about individual trees to facilitate cone collection.

U-M Ready To Dedicate Quiet Unit

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The world's quietest building is being dedicated at the University of Michigan Monday.

It is the unique $1.75 million Kresge Hearing Research Institute — "the first building ever built from the ground up primarily for hearing and deafness research," says Dr. Merle Lawrence, director of the institute.

The building, which has been in partial use for more than a month now, houses 13 electrically shielded soundproof rooms-within-rooms, an anechoic (echo free) chamber and more than a quarter-million dollars worth of special equipment.

It is sealed off from the sounds of the outside world by double-paneled windows, sound-reducing shutters and extra thick walls.

All pipes and conduits coming in from the outside pass through vibration isolators—blocking the passage of sound into the institute. All motors, fans, air conditioning units are mounted on vibration isolating platforms.

And even the large air-conditioning ducts that carry the twice-filtered air, are lined with acoustical material.

One out of every 10 Americans suffers from a profound hearing disability, Lawrence said, making it the most common of physical disabilities.

The causes are varied and complicated and many of them not yet understood, he said. To complicate things, much of the middle and inner ear are housed in the temporal bone—one of the hardest in the body—which projects about an inch into the skull.

Soundproof Rooms

The necessity of knowing more about the bone and what it houses has given rise to the National Temporal Bone Bank, in which the institute participates.

It's not a bank like skin, eye or blood banks, Lawrence said. Through it persons donate their temporal bones for research after their death.

The soundproof rooms can produce a silence equal to that experienced 30,000 feet above the earth, he said. Built by firms that specialize in soundproof chambers, they are as sound-deadening as modern technology can make them, he added.

"Some visitors have complained," Lawrence said, "that the echo-free chamber made them too aware of the sounds in their own ears. They had never noticed it before, and now they say they're bothered by the noise whenever it is quiet."

Kresge Grant

Lawrence decided to try for the Kresge Foundation grant of $1.75 million for such a research facility when he first heard of it a few years ago.

The working space is devoted to research not only on hearing and deafness, but also on the non-auditory functions of the ears.

An estimated 250 billion gallons of water are consumed in the U. S. every day.

Msgr. Gibbs On Examining Board For Chaplains

The Very Rev. Msgr. Wilbur Gibbs, Marquette, director of Catholic Social Service for the Upper Peninsula, was honored recently by the Michigan Civil Service Commission.

He was appointed to serve on a three-member civil service oral appraisal examining board to screen candidates for the position of institution chaplain. Eighteen of these positions are found in the state civil service in eight state mental hospitals and prisons.

There were 20 candidates interviewed over a two-day period.

Escanaba's Bishop Noa Home Open To Persons Of All Faiths

Escanaba's Bishop Noa Home for Senior Citizens recently was inspected by the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D.D., bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, who announced it would be ready for occupancy at the beginning of summer and would be open to persons of all faiths.

The Rev. Dominic Zadra, Marquette, bishop's secretary, and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin B. Melican, Escanaba, inspected the building, being erected by Menze Construction Co., Inc., Marquette.

"We follow the American pattern of freedom of choice as to religion and education," said Bishop Noa.

"There is no question of religion, race or creed. Everybody can be admitted. It must be remembered that this home serves the purposes of providing housing facilities for senior citizens.

"It is not a religious institution. Naturally religion, according to the choice of the occupant, is respected and used because religion helps in the life of senior citizens.

"A chapel with a chaplain will be a part of the institution, but attendance at religious exercises is entirely optional. Ministers of other religions will certainly be welcome to visit those who are in their spiritual care.

Sisters Of Chartres
"To operate the home I have been able to obtain the services of a religious group of sisters whose headquarters are in Chartres, France, who work all over the world. Their family numbers over 4,000. They are working in the Philippines, Korea, Viet Nam, France, England, Ireland and in the Gaspe Peninsula of Canada. Their headquarters in Marquette will be their first foundation in the United States.

Need For Greater Interest In Politics Theme Of U.P. Meet

IRON MOUNTAIN — Business, industrial and professional leaders of the Upper Peninsula must take an increasing interest in government, in politics and in all areas of enterprise if the economy of the region is to expand and prosper.

This, in a general way, was the theme of a meeting yesterday at the Dickinson Hotel here, where more than 100 representative citizens of the Peninsula participated in a conference covering almost every phase of the region's economy.

Frazier Opened Conference
The conference, designated as "People-Politics-Peninsula," was sponsored by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and its principal objective was to review and inquire into legislative, political and economic trends affecting the future of the Peninsula.

Lincoln B. Frazier of Marquette, vice president of the Michigan State Chamber and president of the Campbell Supply Co. of Marquette, opened the luncheon meeting at noon, with a brief statement of conference objectives.

Eloquent Appeal
Paul D. Bagwell, president of K. S. Funds, a Detroit investment company, submitted an eloquent appeal to all delegates present for greater interest by business, industry and the professions in the affairs of government, through active participation in politics.

"If there are any present who think that government and politics is none of their business," said Bagwell, "then let me remind you that today governments absorb approximately one-third of your income. For some of you it may be one-half, or even two-thirds of your income."

Today Uncle Sam is more than a 50 per cent partner in your corporate earnings. "Politics is nothing more nor less than the means of obtaining needed changes in government. It is the means of achieving good representative government. Politics is basically an educational process. It should provide a forum where issues not only are discussed, but debated. And the end result is an open society, an open public mind; not a closed society nor a closed public mind."

Harry R. Hall, executive vice president of the State Chamber, was chairman of the afternoon session. Walter E. Patenge, State Chamber president, as the first speaker, outlined the program and activity of the chamber, which was organized by leading businessmen of Michigan over three years ago for the express purpose of representing all types of business, at all levels, from all parts of the state.

William A. Wickham, general and legislative counsel for the State Chamber, offered a condensed run-down of the varied legislation in which the State Chamber has been, and is currently interested and involved.

"The legislative branch of state government," Wickham said, "is big business. Big business means expense to you. Total funds appropriated this year for the legislative branch are in excess of two-and-a-half million dollars, and if you relate this to the number of bills enrolled—249, to be exact—during the recent legislative term, it comes to about $9,400 per bill."

Oscar Litterer, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, in a discussion of "Economic Trends in the Upper Peninsula," pointed to the factors which he termed responsible for the relatively slow rate of economic growth and the high rate of unemployment.

The population in Upper Michigan declined during the forties and leveled off, or slightly increased during the fifties. Between the two census years, the population increased in five of the 15 counties of Upper Michigan.

Referring to the out-migration from the Upper Peninsula, particularly in the last decade, the speaker said that this movement is largely the result of greater opportunities for employment outside of the region. Also, from 1950 to 1960, employment in Upper Michigan dropped by about 3,000, partly as an effect of technological improvements, both farm and non-farm, and a lessened demand for ore and lumber.

Expanded Mining Seen
He said: "The dislocation growing out of private enterprise turning to new resources and new techniques has begun to slow down in a few areas. In both copper and iron ore, the mining industry has turned to new resources in Upper Michigan. Consequently, mining activity should begin to expand.

"In agriculture, the present technological transition will continue."

Rail President Speaks
David E. Smucker of Dearborn, president of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad and a director of the Michigan State Chamber, paid tribute to the pioneers of the Upper Peninsula and urged a return to this spirit as an approach to the solution of regional problems. Smucker pointed to the natural resources of the Peninsula and the region's potential in manpower skills.

"Somewhere tonight someone is working on processes which will provide the key for further development of these resources," he said.

The speaker urged a more emphatic voice by Michigan businessmen in the affairs of state government and pleaded for unity in the fight against over-taking and over-spending.

Construction Started On Six-Room Addition To Sandy Knoll School

Construction work has been started on the new six-classroom addition to the Sandy Knoll School. General contractor for the work is Sappala Construction Co. Inc., Marquette. Sappala's contract is in the amount of $77,770, with the overall project, scheduled to be completed by Sept. 1 this year, costing around $116,000. This view shows workers preparing the foundation for the new addition, which will extend southwestward from the present building, toward N. Seventh and W. Ridge Sts.—(Mining Journal photo).

Diagram shows the seven counties included in Marquette's area of economic influence or "trade area." Residents in the 860 square mile primary trade area (dotted area) shop here for their weekly needs and residents in the 4,150 square mile secondary trade area (with diagonal lines) shop here for major goods. Future Vilcan-Leman studies show what percentage of the potential dollars available from the trade areas are being captured here. The next step is to plan the physical needs of the shopping area to capture the trade area's business in the future.

'701 Study' Answers Questions About Marquette's Trade Area

BY MARY WHITE
Of The Journal Staff

We always think of Marquette as the "Queen City of the North," a center for medicine, education and trade.

Just how far away does the influence of Marquette's trade area extend? Who does come to Marquette to shop and how often do they come?

The answers to these questions are included in the first phase of the "701 Study."

The planning firm conducting the "701 Study" needed to know the influence of the Marquette trade area as a basis for a report which comes later in the study.

That report will show whether the Marquette area is living up to its trade potential and what the area needs to improve trade.

The planning firm, Vilcan-Leman and Associates, Inc., Southfield, used a complicated law called Reilly's Law of Retail Gravitation (the extent of the trade area is directly proportional to the respective populations and inversely proportional to the square of the distance between the two).

From Seven Counties
Vilcan-Leman consultant here, Max Putters, came up with the following information:

Depending on Marquette for most of their weekly shopping needs are 31,600 persons.

Even more amazing is that for major shopping goods, items that may require a trip to Marquette every week or perhaps every season, 70,541 persons depend on Marquette. They come from seven counties, an area of 4,150 square miles.

31,600 in Primary Area
The primary trade area boundary outlines an area wherein residents make regular trips to Marquette to purchase a large share of their weekly shopping needs.

The primary trade area is the one that contains an estimated population of 31,600 persons. Since 1940 the primary trade area increased in population by 33 per cent.

The primary trade area encompasses 860 square miles. It extends north to Big Bay, west to the boundary of Negaunee and east to the Delta County line and east to a few miles this side of Munising.

Huge Secondary Area
The secondary trade area is a huge one. Its boundary circumscribes a land area from which residents shop in Marquette for major goods such as furniture, appliances and clothing. They may come to Marquette on a weekly or seasonal basis.

It's interesting to note that secondary trade area shoppers 70,541 people come from seven counties to Marquette. In general however shoppers don't come from the "panhandle" of Marquette County, that part which is bordered by Dickinson, Menominee and Delta Counties.

However, secondary trade area shoppers do come from halfway to Sault Ste. Marie, three-fifths of the way to Houghton, two-thirds of the way to Manistigee and almost halfway to Escanaba.

Population in the secondary trade area has increased from 64,180 in 1940 to 70,541 in 1960. The 1950 trade area population was below the 1940 level, numbering 63,605 persons.

Several communities in the secondary trade area lost population from 1950 to 1960, but the weight of Marquette County's growth contributed to the significant increase. Roughly the secondary trade area increased 10 per cent in population in the past 20 years.

Chicken, Beef Good Store Buys
DETROIT (AP) — The housewife who serves chicken this weekend can serve a main course that costs only about 20 cents a person.

However, beef is an attractive alternative.

Chickens are now at or near their lowest prices of the year, reflecting a 4 per cent rise in production.

Prices are running about the same as last year's seasonal low level of about 39 cents a pound, though surveys show that buyers who snatch up bargain attractions can save as much as 30 per cent.

Beef is another attraction for bargain hunters.

One national chain is running a special of 55 cents a pound on rib roasts this weekend in its New York outlets.

Beef cuts also were lower in most other parts of the country, including the Far West, while pork prices generally were rising.

Cheese Prices Dip
Cottage cheese and several other cheeses are down in price in many markets. Egg and milk prices have slipped a cent or two a quart in some areas.

Vegetable bargains include celery, sweet corn and onions.

Mail Box Improvement Urged Here

Twenty five hundred letters urging mail box improvement are being mailed this week by the Marquette Post Office.

The letters are going out to residents on mounted city routes, rural routes and star routes with delivery and collection service, in connection with a nationwide mailbox improvement campaign.

"Boxes that are properly erected and maintained contribute to efficient, speedy delivery of mail," Postmaster John S. Courtney said.

Convenient, Safe Boxes Best
Patrons are being encouraged to furnish mail receptacles which are convenient and safe to use, neat appearing and which protect the mail.

Courtney noted that boxes should be large enough to hold and protect the volume of mail that present-day patrons receive.

To help assure correct delivery, the patron's name should appear on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if boxes are grouped, Courtney says.

Mounted city, rural and star route carriers will soon be leaving notices advising patrons if their mail receptacles need attention, Courtney said.

police issued the summons May 8 on S. Front St.

Ticketed For Speeding
For speeding, Barry P. Johnson, Route 1, paid a fine of $4.30 and $3.70 costs. City police ticketed him Saturday for driving 50 miles per hour in a 35-MPH zone on S. Front St.

A fine of $4.30 and $3.70 costs were paid by Francis C. L'Huillier, 429 Craig St., for driving 40 miles per hour in a 25-MPH zone on N. Fourth St. City police issued the summons May 5.

Four Drivers Fined Here

Four persons were ordered to pay a total of $40 in fines and costs by Judge Edward H. Dembowski yesterday in Marquette Municipal Court.

Jerry A. Lewis, Star Route 550, was ordered to pay a fine of $10 and $4.30 costs by May 22. He was ticketed by state police May 9 on County Road 550 in Marquette Township for permitting an unlicensed minor to drive.

For driving without an operator's license, Vernon L. White, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, paid a fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs. City

Col. James F. Reed (left) and Col. John M. Kosnosky are shown during the change of command ceremony held at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base yesterday. Kosnosky succeeds Reed as commander of the 56th Fighter Wing. Reed has been reassigned as director of air defense for the 314th Air Division, Osan Air Base, Korea.—(USAF photo).

Reed Yields Command Of Base Wing

At the moment that Astronaut Gordon Cooper began his flight into space, a change of command ceremony took place at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Col. James F. Reed, commander of the 56th Fighter Wing, handed over the wing command to Col. John M. Kosnosky.

Reed has been reassigned to the 314th Air Division at Osan Air Base in Korea.

Police Probe Burglary At Golf Club

City police are investigating the breaking and entering of the Marquette Golf and Country Club building, which occurred between midnight Tuesday night and 9 yesterday morning.

City Det. George G. Johnson said entry to the club building was gained by breaking a 30-14-inch window on the north (in the front) of the building.

The persons or persons involved then crawled into the building through the broken window.

Apparently nothing was stolen, although efforts were made to force the hinges off the liquor storeroom, he added.

including 158 combat hours during World War II. Before assuming command of the wing, Kosnosky was vice commander of the Sault Ste. Marie North American Air Defense Sector.

Col. Richard W. Davania, 56th Sector commander, presided. He commended Reed on his successful management of the 56th Fighter Wing, and asked the 200 officers assembled for their continued high performance support of the new commander.

Stewart Took Pledge Against Spicy Films After 'Anatomy'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Old Chinese proverb say, "Movie star with Mr. Clean image must watch step."

Jimmy Stewart, unlike Fred MacMurray, didn't have his face slapped in public by an irate woman. Fred was the man who got slapped after he appeared as the faithless husband in the movie, "The Apartment." The slapper, a long-time MacMurray fan, was hopping mad about spicy films.

Jimmy heated up a number of old fans too.

But his slapping down came in his fan mail.

"You let us down," a host of people wrote Jimmy after he appeared in the also spicy "Anatomy of a Murder." They were shocked, they said, because they figured the name Jimmy Stewart on a theater marquee assured them of family entertainment.

"That film cured me," Jimmy confessed to us at lunch the other day. "I didn't see it exactly as a shocker. But I understand what those people meant. Since then I've been turning down scripts you just wouldn't believe."

He has been looking for a western and . . .

"Well-l-l — Jimmy draws out "Well" off-screen just as he does on-screen — "Well-l-l), in one script who comes home, kills his father and then betrays his brother's girl."

The answer from Jimmy was "No thanks."

It has been "No thanks" to a dozen other western plots "just as sick," he said.

Picture makers? Jimmy wonders how they won the title.

"They call themselves picture makers," he comments, "but who are they? Making pictures isn't that simple. I think they are all headed for disaster. Just like the 'new wave' in France. It fell apart because the films were too shocking to be released."

Science Grant Given For Tech Physics Research

HOUGHTON — Dr. Rolland O. Keeling Jr., associate professor of physics at Michigan Tech, has been awarded a $19,000 National Science Foundation grant for continuation of research started last year.

His research, entitled "Dielectric Study of Hydrated Nitrates," was initiated a year ago with a $22,800 NSF grant. The project involves fundamental research aimed at determination of crystal structures and understanding the electrical properties of hydrated nitrates.

Keeling has been a member of the Tech faculty since December 1960. He is a graduate of Washburn College, Crawfordville, Ind., where he earned his B. A. degree in physics, and Pennsylvania State University, where he received his M. S. and Ph. D. degrees in physics.

JIMMY STEWART

"I can't filmmakers like Darryl Zanuck or Sam Spiegel or Walt Disney who are giving Hollywood a bad name. It is the fast-buck fellows who have nothing to do with the film industry and the owners of broken down old theaters which should be closed."

"They are turning motion pictures into peep shows."

Now watching his step, like old Chinese proverb say, the veteran star returned to his Mr. Clean image in last summer's hit film, "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation."

He's in front of the camera again now in another family entertainment movie, "Take Her, She's Mine" at 20th Century-Fox. The film is based on the Broadway hit about a father's fears and frustrations, when his dish of a daughter (Sandra Dee) goes off to college. Audrey Meadows plays his wife.

Last summer's "Mr. Hobbs" won Jimmy a best actor award at the Berlin Film Festival, which he attended and which still sends his eyebrows skyward.

"I've never seen," he says, "so many well made pictures about unpleasant things. People in Berlin kept telling me, 'Mr. Hobbs' wasn't exactly a festival picture. After a while I said to myself, 'Well, these people have a point. So I started asking, 'What is a festival picture?'"

"It was funny. I asked and asked. But I never got an answer to that question."

Tech Assigned To Research On Concrete

HOUGHTON—Michigan Tech's institute of mineral research has accepted a new research undertaking from the Michigan State Highway Department that may result in a more durable concrete for highway construction.

Earl Volin, director, said Howard E. Hill, managing director of the State Highway Department, has authorized a project to study the properties of chert aggregates in relation to their harmful effects in concrete.

Chert is a type of compact rock frequently found in gravel deposits in Lower Michigan. It is one of the primary causes of concrete failure. The institute's objective will be to determine what types of cherts cause concrete failure and what can be done to eliminate them from concrete aggregate.

$24,000 For First Year

The study is expected to require two years. Volin said $24,000 will be made available for the first year. Part of the money will be used to purchase a mercury penetration porosimeter needed for the study of cherts.

This is the first project the institute has undertaken for the highway department. It is a result of a project the institute recently completed for the Michigan Sand and Gravel Producers Association. The object of that study was to improve the quality of sand and gravel aggregate used in concrete and devise more efficient quality control methods for meeting rigid concrete specifications.

Institute officials recommended to W. W. McLaughlin, testing and research engineer for the highway department, that additional research be done on cherts in concrete aggregates. The latter, in turn, included that proposal with 14 other research recommendations to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads. All 15 projects were approved, and will be done wholly or in part with federal funds.

Democrats $260,000 In Debt

LANSING (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency said Wednesday the state party was $260,000 in debt.

He announced the figure after a complete audit of State Central Committee obligations.

Ferency said he has taken steps to cut expenses as part of the campaign to get the party out of debt. The state central budget has been reduced about one third—to $150,000 a year.

Largest Item

He said he ordered the audit of party obligations after he "had heard figures of $100,000 and $200,000" and wanted to know just where he "stood."

Largest single item in the debt is $75,000 in printing expenses, including campaign signs, bumper stickers, placards, etc.

"We're asking our regular suppliers to hold off, with a promise we will not run up any additional debt and we'll start paying cash June 1," Ferency said.

The loganberry is named for Judge J. H. Logan, of California, who first grew it in 1881.

Explaining Fish Projects

Cliff Long is a quiet, soft-spoken man, very patient and seldom heckled when presenting a controversial subject to a public gathering. Even when heckled, however, he keeps his calm and goes back patiently over the material to explain it again so there can be more understanding of it.

Mr. Long is a fish specialist, supervisor of fisheries in the Escanaba district for the Michigan Conservation Department. He is a former Marquette resident. When he went to college, we're sure, the accent in all the instruction was upon his learning ichthyology thoroughly so that he could understand it. If he managed that, he could manage the fisheries under his charge as well as anyone with today's scientific knowledge of fish and their environment. (There's still a lot to be learned in both fields.)

In public employment, however, it's not enough for Mr. Long to be good at his job of fisheries management; he must also be good at the job of explaining it to the public, because in self-government like ours, the public decides broad policies of management of resources.

One of the major problems in making Americans even richer is in getting them to understand the scientific revolution so they will accept new techniques and concepts that will nourish the new affluence. Conservation department scientists plan policies for the state, but they must be approved by legislators with little or no scientific savvy.

The legislators are suspicious of change, want the benefits of it to go to their own constituents and—most importantly—are fearful that even if they approve changes which are in the public interest the voters won't understand them and will clobber them at the polls. ("They're killing off the deer." "They've killed off the fish." "We need bounties." "Keep out the trawlers." "Close the season.")

Mr. Long works at this important part of his job, explaining what the scientists are doing, to the public. He cites some opposition to the fisheries division's program of taking spawn (eggs) from spawning fish, hatching the eggs and planting the fish back to the waters from which the spawn was taken, and also in other waters where conditions are favorable for the establishment of walleyes or northern pike.

It's easy to understand, but sports fishermen who know little about fish propagation would relate the taking of spawning fish by conservation department fisheries crews to the relative absence of fish at some times and in some places. "No wonder there are no fish (biting); the conservation department caught them all out to get spawn to ship to hell knows where." Who hasn't heard such statements?

But along comes calm Mr. Long to explain just how many quarts of spawn were taken by conservation workers in Little Bay de Noc waters in the past four years and what was done with them. This is no loose talk. These are the facts.

Mr. Long said that the taking of 62 quarts of walleye eggs this year "represents the yield of no more than 62 adult fish. This is a very small percentage of the total numbers of walleyes and northern pike that move into the spawning grounds each spring. Nearly 100 per cent of the spawning populations of both species spawn naturally on the local grounds."

Here's an example of a lack of understanding causing sportsmen's opposition to a program conceived in their interest and capable of greatly improving the fishery and their sport. They do not understand the potential of the spawn taken from those relatively few fish and planted about to help nature make the species more abundant. They equate the taking of spawning fish with their own lack of fishing success and try to halt a program which is a chief hope of providing more fish and, maybe, even of perpetuating the sport.

White Collar Maladies

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — Compared to the sweatshops of the past, the modern business office would seem a healthy place to earn a dollar. It is comfortable, air-conditioned and so well lighted one can work out a crossword puzzle on the job surreptitiously without danger of eye strain.

But for some reason most offices resemble battlefields and stations. They are full of the walking wounded and incipient stretcher cases.

'Fridayitis' — Naturally, many of the illnesses of the white collar worker are imaginary. He invents them to help pass the time. If you have ever labored in a paper clip salt mine, here are a few swivel chair hypocondriacs you may find familiar:

'Fridayitis' — This guy draws his pay on Thursday so he can have a longer weekend to spend his money.

'Mondayitis' — Very popular with suburbanites this time of year. Also called "The Green Thumb Disease." Victims complain of dizziness and backstrain. Cause: Too much Saturday and Sunday gardening.

'Fridayitis-Mondayitis' — This fellow is mad at the corporation and phones in sick two days a week so he can look for a better job on company time.

'Two Buck Emaciatius' — The office gambler looks like he is suffering from a wasting disease. Actually he is merely suffering from starvation, because he loses all his money at the racetrack.

'Florence Nightingale Syndrome' — The boss' secretary is a mother hen who clucks constantly over the illnesses of others.

'Cleanliness Complex' — He has a phobia that everyone else in the place is trying to push their germs off on him. If you sneeze within 75 feet of him, he rushes to the company medical office, has his throat sprayed, and lies down for an hour.

'Old Grumpy Himself' — Whenever the boss falls ill, the nature of his malady is regarded as top secret. But whatever it is, the only known cure is a week of golfing in Florida.

The trouble with office hypocondriacs is that when anyone comes down with a disease a doctor can actually diagnose, he crawls painfully to work, even though he feels at death's door, for fear everyone else will feel he is malingering.

Fund Drive For Lutheran Home Slated

ISHPEMING — Joseph F. White, Crystal Falls banker, has been named campaign chairman of the upcoming drive for funds to convert the Crystal Inn at Crystal Falls into a modern home for senior citizens of the Upper Peninsula.

The new home, which will be known as the Michigan Manor, will accommodate 110 guests with a separate department housing 30 guests for those who require nursing care by a registered nurse.

White, long an active figure in Upper Peninsula affairs, said he was "enthusiastic about this project and happy to serve as chairman of the campaign. With the highest incidence of residents over 65 in the United States, living in this area, it is imperative that we provide them with a cheerful, modern residence where they may retire in comfort, yet maintain their complete independence."

White further emphasized that, although Michigan Manor was sponsored by a group of dedicated Lutherans, the home will be open equally to everyone regardless of his religious affiliation.

White announced the appointments of Lawrence Robertson as chairman in the Ishpeming area, and L. D. Tucker of Iron Mountain as publicity director for the campaign.

Area chairmen for Iron Mountain, Iron River and Crystal Falls will be appointed with the next few days.

An advance gifts committee in all areas will begin functioning as soon as descriptive literature is off the press. Other men and women will be added to the campaign committee by White as the program develops.

Total cost of the project will be from $300,000 to $350,000, according to officials, with a minimum share for residents of the Upper Peninsula set at $150,000 in cash and/or pledges over a three-year term.

The Lutheran Hospital & Home Society, which will operate the home, has agreed to be responsible for the balance of the money provided the minimum goal is reached.

The society also is underwriting costs of the campaign. All cash and pledges will be kept inviolate and will be 100 per cent reimbursed to the donor if for any reason the minimum goal is not attained and the project is abandoned.

"We state this only for your information," White said. "The need here is so acute that we cannot even think of a failure."

The Lutheran Hospital & Home Society is a non-profit organization which operates 80 institutions in 10 states. It takes no profit from a community. Should there be a profit, it will be reflected in lower rates or in increased services.

An advisory board of outstanding citizens of the Upper Peninsula will be appointed to act as a liaison between the home and the general area after it is opened.

School Site Development Workshop Set

GWINN — Gwin's new school site will be the center of a one-day workshop Saturday, May 18. Teams of educators and administrators from Rudyard, Marquette, Escanaba, Republic, Iron Mountain and Menominee have been invited to have their school sites evaluated by the resource people present.

The workshop, to which about 50 persons are expected, is designed to help schools which wish to improve the instructional potential outside their buildings to gain ideas and counsel. Sponsored by the state Department of Conservation and the State Committee on Conservation Education, advice and counsel will be provided by the Gwin staff, local resource people from the Soil Conservation Service and Conservation Department and members of the state committee, who will spend several days in the Upper Peninsula.

The program, to be conducted under the supervision of Mrs. Maurine Wyatt, Traverse City, will begin at 9 with greetings from Gwin Superintendent, William Garrett. After a review of the concepts of school site planning by Dr. Russell Wilson of the University of Michigan, William Hemmila of the Gwin staff will explain the Gwin program. A tour of the site and lunch at the Gilbert Elementary School will be followed by small group critiques of the visiting schools' sites. Suggestions will be made on the basis of maps, charts, photographs and plans brought by teams from the invited schools. The meeting will be summarized by the State Department of Conservation consultant for the Michigan Department of Conservation.

School site development is rapidly becoming an integral part of the school building program and the advances made in this area by the Gwin Schools strengthens the claim as a "model school for the model town."

GWINN — An added attraction at the Gwin High School band concert Friday night will be the performance of the Gilbert Elementary School band. The concert will begin at 8 p. m. in Memorial Gymnasium.

Featured high school soloists will be Phyllis Hocking and Tana Gay. Miss Hocking will play the baritone solo in Bill Laas' "Skyline Silhouettes," while Miss Gay will play the alto saxophone solo in "Misty" (Erroll Garner). Birmingham Legalities

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's action in Birmingham's racial trouble, whether or not it boils again, has given lawyers something to argue about.

He has sent 3,000 troops into Alabama military bases—near but not in Birmingham—for possible use in Birmingham if there's a repetition in that city of last Saturday night's violence against Negroes and the Negro riot which followed.

President Cites Constitution — The question is: Does he have a right to use troops in such a situation when no federal law, court order or function is specifically involved? The governor of Alabama, George C. Wallace, says no.

He cites the Constitution — Article 4, Section 4 — which says the federal government shall protect a state against "domestic violence" if the legislature or governor asks such protection.

Under such constitutional authority the President could use troops. But Wallace says Kennedy hasn't been asked to intervene with troops or otherwise.

No Special Authority Needed—Yet — The Justice Department says that up to this point the President needed no special authority—either constitutional or by specific statute—for moving troops into Alabama. They haven't intervened in anything.

But, it was explained, if new disorders break out the President could then decide whether to put the troops in Birmingham under authority of a specific law—Article 10, Section 333 of the U. S. Code—which goes back in history.

It says: The President can use troops or "any other means" to suppress domestic violence in a state if it—

"Hinders the execution of the laws of that state, and of the United States within the state, that any part or class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, immunity or protection named in the Constitution and the constituted authorities of that state are unable, fail or refuse to protect that right, privilege or immunity, or to give that protection."

One Thing Seems Obvious — Under the 14th Amendment to the Constitution all citizens are guaranteed the right of equal protection of the laws.

But, despite the explanation at the Justice Department that the President could decide whether to send troops into Birmingham if rioting began, one thing seems obvious.

Kennedy must have already decided to send in the troops if rioting occurs again because he would lose face if he didn't after making the gesture of putting the troops into Alabama.

It can be argued the President hasn't necessarily made such a decision, that he could wait until after rioting started to determine whether it was so out of hand that local police couldn't—or wouldn't—cope with it.

Couldn't Hold Back Now — Yet, if he held back the troops to see how bad the rioting was a number of people could be killed before he made up his mind. That, too, would be an embarrassment to him.

Therefore, it seems plain troops would be used immediately—under Article 10, Section 333—if rioting was renewed.

For this reason the very presence of the troops near Birmingham—although not in it—can be interpreted as a warning to Birmingham extremists not to start anything unless they want the troops in.

Action Without Request — But in view of the constitutional provision that a President could use troops to restore domestic peace in a state—provided a legislative or governor asked for them—how could he justify using Article 10, Section 333, without such a request?

In this case it would have to be on his own decision that Alabama law enforcement officers were unable, failed or refused to protect its citizens.

Article 10, Section 333, is rooted in American history, almost to the very beginning of the government. Presidents repeatedly have sent troops into a state to stop various disturbances—even though a governor protested. But consistently the excuse was to protect some federal law or function or uphold a federal court order.

Protecting 'Freedom Riders' — President Eisenhower at Little Rock in 1957 and Kennedy at the University of Mississippi in 1962 used troops to stop mob violence which was an attempt to block a federal court order that Negroes be admitted to white schools. They relied on Article 10, Section 333.

There was a difference in May 1961, when mobs of white segregationists stoned and beat up a number of "Freedom Riders" going through Alabama on buses from Washington to New Orleans.

At that time the President—through his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—sent more than 600 U. S. marshals into Alabama to protect the riders when Alabama police were slow to do so.

The Justice Department explained the action: To protect interstate commerce (bus transportation) and to see that "other federal rights are given due protection." The governor of Alabama at that time, John Patterson, protested, and, like Gov. Wallace now, said the action was unconstitutional.

The Justice Department didn't say publicly at the time it was acting under Article 10, Section 333, but it can be said accurately this was the case.

If Kennedy uses troops to stop rioting in Birmingham it will—so far as this writer can learn—be the first time a President took such action when no specific federal law, court order or function was at stake. But, as in the Montgomery case, the government could say constitutional protections were.

Psychiatrists say it's not good for a man to keep too much to himself. The Internal Revenue Service says the same thing.—Arcadia (Wis.) News-Leader.

THE SCREECHING BEAGLE

Anyone who passes by my house and hears a horrible screeching beller like a lost soul in torment, be not alarmed, we are not torturing anyone. Our beagle dog has developed a vocal range like of which the canine world has never heard. If he is inside the house when any of the kids are outside he starts screeching. Other dogs bark and howl. Not Joshe. He screeches and screams like the combined sound tracks of all Alfred Hitchcock movies. He is not hurt, but I am sure the neighbors are convinced that we are sticking pins in him or forcing him feet first down the garbage disposer. The darn dog is smart. He knows we'll give him anything to make him shut up.—Marquette County Tribune, Montello, Wis.

Peninsula Perambulator

TAMMY, the tame deer raised by the Harold Sterling family at Garth Shores near Rapid River, has returned to visit the humans who raised her. Abandoned by her mother in the spring of 1961, the fawn was adopted by the Sterlings. She disappeared into the forest that fall, returned last spring, then returned to the forest and the deer herd again last November. In early January she was hit by a car on the highway going up Whitefish Hill near Rapid River. She was recognized by the red ruffe around her neck. Tammy, however, survived the injuries and now is back in the Sterling yard. A little shaggy from the hard winter but otherwise in good health, Tammy will become a mother in late May or early June.

An official of Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. was scheduled to confer with Archie Bachman, Iron River city manager, and other municipal officials to discuss water damage to property owners in the Burns Addition. Heavy rains last week caused the CCI dam near the Spies Mine to burst, sending waters rushing a quarter-mile south into a settling pond owned by Inland Steel Co. The earthen retaining wall of the pond then burst, and waters swept through the Burns Addition, carrying from one silt, mud, branches and other debris into streets, yards and basements. Property owners are considering legal action to recover damages.

The Escanaba Board of Education has called off a scheduled June 10 referendum on a proposed tax levy of three-quarters of a mill for teacher salaries. The decision is in recognition that the proposal was only a stopgap measure and that rather than present such a request now it would be preferable to undertake the study of total district needs. Such a study will begin no later than next Sept. 30.

Dear Abby....

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Don't mothers tell their daughters any more that it isn't proper to telephone boys? Our 16-year-old son happens to be liked by several girls. One called him at 7 in the morning yesterday. Another one called him last night at midnight. (She said she just wanted to "talk" because she couldn't sleep.) Well, his father and I couldn't sleep very well after that, either. I know it isn't our son's fault that he gets these calls, but how do parents go about curbing them?

with your husband, and call a spade a spade. Find out what's gnawing at him. Whatever it is — it's probably not in the cards.

DEAR MOTHER: If your son gets a telephone call from an Early Bird or a Night Owl ONCE, it is not his fault. But if he doesn't tell them to cut out the ill-timed calls, it IS his fault, in which case his parents are justified in "helping" him give the girls the message.

DEAR ABBY: When I was first married, I didn't know anything about playing bridge, but just to please my husband I took lessons, and now I'm better than he is. Although we are usually partners, he resents me. He seems so happy when we lose. I think he purposely overbids his hand so we can't make it. I just don't understand him. We get along very well otherwise. So why does he get so mean and ugly the moment we sit down to play bridge?

CONFIDENTIAL TO MISERABLE: Why, oh why does everyone put the blame on the dentist because dentures don't fit forever? Let's say you had a pair of shoes made—and they were perfect reproductions of your feet—curled toes, crooked toe-nails and all, but then you went barefooted for two years. If your feet broadened, or the arches fell, if you gained or lost weight and the shoes no longer fitted — they rubbed blisters and hurt — would it have been the shoemaker's fault? If one's eye muscles change with age, is it the fault of the ophthalmologist who prescribed two years ago? One must wear dentures to become accustomed to them. And periodic checkups are necessary to detect changes in the gums. Dentures are seldom a "one-shot" affair.

Retired Army General Enters Brooke Hospital

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Retired Gen. Ben Lear, 84, entered the Army's Brooke General Hospital Tuesday night. A Brooke spokesman said he was transferred from a Veterans' Hospital at Memphis Tenn. for a checkup and his condition was good. The general suffered a heart attack last month but had been reported in fine physical shape considering his age.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

This Week - Homegrown Products

BY MRS. INGRID BARTELLI (Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Michigan State University)

Isn't it a thrill to wake up each morning? The birds are singing, the world is turning green, the air smells so clean and fresh, the wild flowers are blooming, the seeds are clear and blue, the trout are biting and the morels are "mushrooming" — and all of this right at our doorstep. Contrast this with what you would see, hear and smell if you lived in a densely populated housing area in one of the larger cities of our country. We're so fortunate to live in Michigan and in that "best" part of Michigan — above the Straits of Mackinac — the Upper Peninsula.

If a high wall were suddenly to appear around our border, isolating Michigan from the rest of the world, we'd make out O. K. Food, of course, would be our first and foremost concern. Over 50 important food crops are produced within our borders, ranging from Apples to Zucchini. Apples, peaches, red tart cherries, dry navy pea beans, cucumbers and blueberries are produced in heavy volume as compared with other states.

State Ratings High

Just how do we rate among other states with the job of producing food for our population? Apples — third in national production. The big four — Jonathan, McIntosh, Northern Spy and — Delicious — which account for 75 per cent of apples produced, help bring the total to 12 million bushels which brought over 21 million dollars to our state last year!

Asparagus — second in national production for processing. Beans — Michigan produces 99 per cent of the nation's annual harvest of dry navy pea beans, 83 per cent of the cranberry beans — mostly grown in the Thumb area of the state. Beef — We're not a ranching state but 643,000 head of cattle and calves were marketed last year. This amounts to 37 per cent of meat consumed within the state. Frankfurters — Michigan is leader in per capita consumption of sausage meats. And we have the strictest sausage meat laws in the nation!

Attending the conference will be all clergy of the diocese, plus three delegates, and three alternates from each parish, as well as one delegate and one alternate from every aided parish and mission. Women of each church parish, and missions, also send delegates.

Dinner, Lunch Set — Opening officially after a service of evening prayer in St. Paul's at 7:45 tomorrow night, the convention will highlight the bishop's annual address and organizational sessions that evening and will reconvene Saturday morning, following Holy Communion at 7:30 and breakfast in the Guild Hall.

A dinner is scheduled at the Northwoods at 6 tomorrow night, and lunch will be served in the First Presbyterian Church at 12:30 p. m. Saturday. Tea in the lounge of St. Paul's will follow adjournment of the convention.

At a meeting Tuesday, members of St. John's Altar and Rosary Society heard reports by Mrs. Henry Caron and Mrs. Joseph Butala, delegates to the recent convention of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women in Houghton.

Two of the speakers were the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D.D., bishop of the Marquette Diocese, and the Rt. Rev. Joseph L. Dunleavy, spiritual moderator of the council, whose talks stressed the theme of the convention, "The Church and I — Today."

Benefits and experiences gained from a vocational retreat were told by three St. John's School students who recently attended a Marygrove retreat sponsored by the altar society: Susan Bernier, Paulette Dupras and Diane Bur.

Circle leaders and committee chairmen reported on their units' activities, and Parliamentarian Mrs. Sam Charter read the amended by-laws and constitution and these were voted on collectively.

Gold Bond Stamp Chairman Mrs. Ernest Dupras asked members to turn in their stamps as early as possible, to aid her in making a more complete report which will be given at the June meeting.

Mrs. Irene Barry, program chairman, entertained with a humorous reading, and Mrs. Albert Theriault sang several selections, accompanied by Mrs. Irene Stratton at the piano.

Hostesses for the evening were members of St. Mary's Circle.

The bride wore a jade blue taffeta dress and hat, beige accessories and a corsage of tea roses. Mrs. Nesbitt wore an apricot-colored taffeta dress and hat, while Mrs. Longworth chose a powder blue two-piece ensemble. Both wore beige accessories and corsages.

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Rushford, Whispering Pines, Harvey, for the bride and groom, who plan to live at 3521 Huron in Dearborn, where he is employed as a technician on the engineering staff of the Ford Motor Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, both of whom are former residents of Iron Mountain, planned a wedding trip through Wisconsin, Illinois and Lower Michigan.

Hebbard, Board President, Outlines Financial Problems Of Ishpeming School System

ISHPEMING — Local financial problems were discussed at the annual dinner given by the Ishpeming School Board for teachers, non-teaching personnel and their husbands and wives.

Speaker at the dinner, which was served in the Phelps Intermediate School, was Arthur T. Hebbard, president of the board.

Presiding over the program was Arthur Hammar Jr., president of the Ishpeming Teachers Association.

Refers To Mining Situation

"We appreciate the annual opportunity to speak to staff members, their wives, husbands and guests, where we have a chance to review the past year and to look a little into the future," Hebbard said.

"In early 1963, area residents were shocked to learn that two steel producers had announced their intentions to sever their partnerships with Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. and drop their connections with the Bunker-Hill and Mather Mines.

"This did not have as strong effect on us as on some of our neighboring communities because we have known for some time that the depletion of one at the Cliffs Shaft Mine was bringing it to a rapid close with the resultant drop in tax income. We have had over two years now to get used to the fact that the Mather Mine 'A' shaft is closed with little likelihood of its reopening under present conditions."

Considered Consolidation

Hebbard said the school system has had to plan as best it could with what information was at hand.

"In long-range planning we have considered the possibility of consolidation with neighboring school systems if such action would be of benefit to both parties concerned," he said. "We have discussed this matter seriously with one of the adjacent township school systems. Superintendent W. C. Peterson has even discussed with Negaunee's superintendent, A. B. Haist, the advantages that might be gained from the consolidation of their two systems.

"These are examples of the long-range thinking we are doing."

"Our city government is in the same financial boat and it may well be that we have to back off for an entirely different approach to our financial problems. Maybe we will have to consider some other manner of local taxation other than property taxes. This is only thinking out loud right now, but it will take a lot of thinking on the part of a great number of people in coming years.

Taxpayers Aware Of Conditions

"Our job right now is to keep abreast of local conditions and to make necessary changes and adjustments as our problems arise; much of the time it will mean almost playing by ear as we are going along."

"One thing we have to be very thankful for is the local pride in our school system that has become almost a tradition. We cannot treat this pride lightly, however, or accept it as a matter of course. I am sure our taxpayers realize what they have to face in the future in the line of increased taxes and I am equally sure they will be willing to accept that responsibility if all of us—board, administration and staff—show them that we are doing all we can to make the best of an increasingly unpleasant situation."

Must Be 'Good Salesmen'

Hebbard said that all school personnel will have to be "good salesmen" for the next few years, while townspeople, who have been sold on Ishpeming's school system for a good many years, will have to be convinced that the system "continuing to be worth the extra tax dollar" they will have to pay to retain it.

After meeting with the salary committee, the board held a special meeting at which the financial situation, for the present as well as the future, was studied. Hebbard said that "good, hard business sense" told the board of education that this was no time for any action at all, but it agreed on a moderate salary adjustment that will go into effect this year.

"We can make no definite predictions as to what we may have to do in the future," Hebbard said. "We may have to take drastic actions on an emergency basis. As I have said, at times we will have to play it by ear as we go along. One thing we know for certain, we want to continue to give our students the best educational advantages possible in a thriving and progressing system. This is the foremost objective in the collective minds of the board and we have no intention of allowing present or future financial crises keeping us from attaining that objective."

"In behalf of the members of the board, I wish to thank you for your cooperation and efforts over the past year and congratulate you for your contribution in helping another group of our young people up one more step toward becoming responsible and knowledgeable citizens."

During the evening, special recognition was given to two teachers who are leaving the school system, Mrs. Dagmar Lindberg is resigning to take over St. Luke's hospital program for mentally retarded children, while Octavius Townsend will take a leave of absence to become full-time president of the Michigan Education Association.

The newest thing in weed killers is an old weapon—fire. An agricultural research center at Plainville, Tex., is experimenting with a "flame cultivator" a huge spider-like machine which spouts fire through metallic lines into low-lying weeds without damaging the soil or crops.

Driver Hurt, Gets Ticket In Smashup

NEGAUNEE — An automobile was wrecked and its driver was injured and issued a summons as a result of a smashup at 9:50 last night on M-35, a half mile south of County Road MW, in Richmond Township.

State police said Carmel Griffin, 38, Champion, was driving north on M-35 and going over a hill and rounding a curve when his car left the roadway on the right side, smashing into a cement bridge.

Griffin suffered lacerations on his forehead and possible broken ribs, and was taken in the state police patrol car to Bell Memorial Hospital, Ishpeming.

Extensive damage occurred to the right, front and right side of his car, a 1960 coach, which was towed from the scene.

Call Accepted By Rev. Lutey To Become Associate Pastor Of Wesley Methodist Church

ISHPEMING — The Rev. Cecil C. Lutey, pastor of the Republic, Champion and Michigamme Methodist Churches for 14 years, has accepted a call to become associate pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church in Ishpeming.

The pastoral relations committee and official board of Wesley Methodist Church extended the invitation to the Rev. Mr. Lutey at its meeting this month. His duties as pastor of Republic, Champion and Michigamme churches will terminate in June.

A new minister will be appointed by Bishop Marshall Reed at the annual conference at Adrian in June.

During the Rev. Mr. Lutey's ministry at Republic, the church was completely remodeled and a new organ installed. The church now has an automatic gas hot air furnace, full basement for Sunday school and social activities and a fully equipped kitchen.

The Champion church also has undergone considerable improvement, including rebuilding of the entire front of the church. There is a natural wood altar and communion rail, new outer and sanctuary doors which make up an attractive entrance. A new organ recently was purchased by members and friends of the church.

In Michigamme, the church has been extensively remodeled and now has a beautiful sanctuary. Last Sunday special services were held at which new pews were dedicated. A new hardwood floor and carpeting add to the improvements and a new organ, donated by Lawrence Paquin in honor of his mother, Mrs. Anna Paquin, is in use.

The pastoral relations committee and official board of Wesley Methodist Church, in extending the invitation to the Rev. Mr. Lutey to become assistant pastor, felt that this assignment will help to relieve some of the pastoral duties of the Rev. Eric Hammar. The Rev. Lutey plans an extended trip through the West before beginning his duties at Wesley Methodist Church in September.

FCA Approval Of Contracts Awaited For Start Of Sewer Jobs In Ishpeming Township

ISHPEMING — Tentative awarding of contracts for the sewer project it will undertake this summer has been approved by the Ishpeming Township Board.

The project will involve three separate construction jobs, including (1) a collection system of laterals and trunks for the entire township; (2) a treatment plant to serve the west platted areas of the township; and (3) a second treatment plant to serve North Ishpeming and the surrounding area.

In that order, bids for the projects were received from the following:

- No. 1 — F. J. Siller, Ann Arbor, $304,783.40; E. E. Trip, Pontiac, $307,054.
- No. 2 — F. J. Siller, $129,827; Bahr Construction Co., $157,500.
- No. 3 — Bahr Construction Co., $64,100; F. J. Siller, $69,750.

In each case, contracts tentatively went to the lower bidder, with final approval up to the Community Facilities Administration's regional office in Chicago. The CFA is the federal agency which approved grants and also purchased part of the bonds issued by the township to pay its share of the project cost.

Township Supervisor Ken Wallmaa said the township is proceeding to deliver special assessment and revenue bonds and when the financing phase of the program has been completed, along with CFA approval, construction can be started. It is expected that work will begin about the middle of June.

"The contractors will be allowed until mid-1964 to complete the projects," he added, "but, if weather conditions are good, it is possible that construction may be finished in December of 1963 and the system placed in operation at that time."

The three construction contracts involved in the project amount to $498,710.40. Engineering and other costs will send total expenditures well over the half-million mark.

Herman Succeeds Taylor As Miner Basketball Coach

Bob Herman, who won three letters each in basketball, baseball and track, and one in football at Neagaunee High, is to return to his alma mater as basketball coach next season.

NEGAUNEE—Robert W. (Bob) Herman, former Neagaunee High School basketball star, will succeed Jack Taylor as NHS coach next year.

A ten-letter winner in Miner sports, Herman will teach science and mathematics in addition to his coaching duties. Taylor will remain as athletic director and physical education instructor.

The Palmer native graduated from Neagaunee High in 1956, after earning all-Great Lakes Conference honors and teaming with Dave Ghiardi (now coaching at Lake Linden) to take the Miners to the State Semifinals.

He attended Michigan Tech for two years, and was a starting guard for Coach Verdie Cox. After transferring to Northern, he played half a year for the Wildcats before concentrating on his studies.

As part of his practice teaching at Northern, Herman coached the Neagaunee freshman team in 1960-61.

Since graduation from college he has coached for two years at Holtton, a Class C high school in the Muskegon area.

Herman, 24, is married to the former Joyce Trehwella.

Taylor, in seven years as the Neagaunee High basketball coach, has racked up a 578 won-lost record (78-57) with the accent on tournament success. He led the Miners to a State championship in his first season at the helm—1957—and to the last three district championships in a row.

In a period of much change in the coaching ranks, his tenure became one of the longest among Upper Peninsula coaches, and one of the most successful.

Jack Taylor will remain as athletic director at Neagaunee High, while giving up his head basketball coaching job.

Negaunee Takes Ten Firsts To Top Royals In Track Meet; Three Dual Winners

NEGAUNEE—Negaunee High took the firsts in wrapping up another dual track meet victory Wednesday, topping Marquette Baraga Central, 84-25.

Two of the Royals' victories were among the better efforts in the area to date—Bruce Pesola ran the half mile in 2:09.53 and Tom LaRue topped the low hurdles in 23.1. LaRue also took the pole vault, at ten feet.

Mike Lenten and Dennis Salmer of Negaunee were also double winners. Lenten took the high hurdles and high jump, while Salmer won the broad jump and 100-yard dash.

John Williamson remained unbeaten in dual quarter-mile competition for the Miners. Mike Smith took the 220. Stuart Anderson won the mile, Vern Jarvi, the shot put at 44.64, and both Miner relay teams won.

Negaunee swept 1-2-3 in the 100, 440, shot and broad jump.

Both teams will compete in the A-B regional at Memorial Field Saturday.

Hendley Hurls Near-Perfect Game At Cards

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bob Hendley made like Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Koufax didn't.

While Koufax was making his first appearance since pitching a no-hitter again to San Francisco, Hendley stole the spotlight by hurling the Braves to a 9-3 triumph over St. Louis Wednesday night and coming within two outs of matching the Koufax 4-day-old masterpiece.

Unsettling Error

Hendley got Julian Javier on a grounder to open the ninth, but pinch-hitter George Altman reached first when Frank Bolling booted his grounder.

That seemed to unsettle Hendley, who was then tagged for a triple to right center by Curt Flood for the first St. Louis hit. Probably His Best

Before Hendley regained his composure, the Cardinals had two more hits and three runs. But nothing could dim the performance of the 24-year-old left-hander, who pitched probably the finest game in his three seasons in the majors.

On My Honor is mentioned, if at all, only as an afterthought. He was the one behind Chateaugay, Never Bend and Candy Spots. Over His Head?

Which is not a knock, exactly, but the attitude would lead you to believe On My Honor hasn't a ghost of a chance to win the $150,000 added race.

It may well be that he is over his head, but Chateaugay was only fifth choice in a field of nine when he won the Derby May 4. On My Honor swept past No Robbery, the second betting choice, and Bonjour, fourth in the odds, on his way to a share of the purse.

After the invincibility of Candy Spots and No Robbery was shattered in the Derby, interest in the 3-year-old racing class turned to whether Chateaugay can be tripped in either the Preakness or the Belmont Stakes next month.

On My Honor might not turn the trick in the Preakness, but a small claim already is looking ahead for him in the Belmont.

Could Be Short

The 1-31-16-mile Preakness could be too short for On My Honor's late rally as was the 1 1/4-mile Derby. However, the 1 1/4-mile Belmont might be right down his alley.

On My Honor was last and more than 16 lengths behind the front running Never Bend after the first three quarters of a mile in the Derby. He trailed by only six lengths at the finish.

4th Derby Colt To Try Again In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Chateaugay drew seven other 3-year-olds today as challengers to his attempt Saturday to annex the 4th Preakness. There was only one surprise entry, William Robinson's Rural Retreat, who finished second in last Saturday's Preakness Prep. If all eight start, the winner will be awarded a whopping $127,500 and the three behind him will divide $52,500.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The "Big Three" from the Kentucky Derby are on everybody's list before Saturday's Preakness at Pimlico. What about the fourth finisher at Louisville?

Philadelphia Group Buys NBA's Nats

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Subject to league approval, the Syracuse Nationals of the National Basketball Association have been sold to a group of Philadelphia businessmen who plan to move the club to Philadelphia.

Sale of the club for $500,000 was announced late Wednesday night by owner Dan Bionasse, who said "It simply got to be impossible to operate." The Nats had been fixtures in Syracuse for 17 years but despite their 48-32 record and second place finish in the Eastern Division last season, the club lost $39,000.

Although the Philadelphia group was not identified, at its request, Bionasse said the sale was handled by the Philadelphia law firm of Richman, Price and Jamieson.

In Philadelphia, Isaac Richman of the firm said the new owners are a group of businessmen not connected before with sports. He said Eddie Gottlieb, former owner of the Philadelphia Warriors is not a member of the group. He refused to identify the businessmen and when asked if he thought the league would approve of them said: "These men are reputable."

Philadelphia has been without an NBA franchise since the Warriors were sold and moved to San Francisco before last season.

Woodard said selection by the two teams would start June 10 and would be completed by July 1, in time for training camps.

Jim Adams is in his sixth season as Army lacrosse coach. Three times the Cadets have won or shared the national collegiate title.

Three 1-Run Decisions In Softball

One-run games are the order of the day as the Tri-City "A" softball league gets going. All four decisions to date have been that close.

Copper Country Dairy downed Marquette Casino, 3-2. Doug Marceau held the dairymen hitless for four innings until Pitcher Les Melka drove in two with a triple. It was tied in the bottom of the seventh, only to have CCD come through when Duane Soime scored on Jim Ghiardi's second hit.

Marquette Prison edged Beau Chateau, 1-0, and Ishpeming Casinos tipped MULIC, 3-2.

More one-sided, but featuring a fine pitching job, was Remillard II's 7-0 victory over South Marquette Merchants, Wednesday. Wilder allowed three hits, and only one runner reached third, while his team rattled off 11 hits—eight in the first three innings—to win. Froyer collected three hits, Wilder, Dewitt and Bill Gorst, two each.

Home runs highlighted play in Ishpeming—Negaunee softball, in the Twin City League, with one game being fairly close and the other a runaway.

In Ishpeming, WJPD walloped the Independents, 15 to 4, collecting 11 hits and 13 walks. Contributing to the downfall of the young Independents were home runs by Carl Pelonpa and "Buster" Pope. Pope went 3 for 3 for the night.

Sherwood Morcom, winning pitcher for the radiomen, hurled a six-hitter while not walking a man. He struck out 7.

Louie Bonetti was the loser but aided his cause with two hits.

CCI continued their winning ways behind the five-hit pitching of Richard Marietti and the slugging of Bruce Dally, who lofted two homers, and Roger Solberg who cleared the barrier with a solo blast in defeating Hill's Auto Mart 5 to 0.

G. Paulson and Ken Paulson did the hurling for Hill's.

In Negaunee, Schlitz defeated Marukes, 11-3, with Sal Tupps getting the pitching win.

Al Jackson sparked two rallies with singles and drove in a run with a sacrifice fly as he won his fourth against three losses for the Mets. Jackson scattered six hits and had allowed only an unearned run when John Bateman brought the Colts close in the ninth with a three-run homer.

Milwaukee's Bob Hendley was within two outs of realizing a pitcher's dream of a no-hitter. Then, according to the young southpaw, "You might say the Flood came."

"I knew I had a no-hitter going and wanted it badly," Hendley said. "I was concentrating so hard from the fifth inning on that I think I was in sort of a trance when I went out for the ninth. Then the roof caved in, but that's the way the ball bounces."

Curt Flood ran the count to two strikes and one ball before he lined a high pitch to right center. With one swing of the bat, he had spoiled a no-hit bid and a shutout to boot.

"He hit a fast ball about letter high on the inside," Hendley said. "I don't see how he hit the ball in that direction. It was a good pitch."

Bottom AFL '11s' Will Get Help From Special Draft

DALLAS (AP)—The two weakest teams in the American Football League—the Oakland Raiders and the New York Jets—will get a boost as result of a plan approved by club owners over the weekend.

Milt Woodard, assistant commissioner, announced Sunday that the two teams will be allowed to pick players from the other six teams in the league—Buffalo, Boston, Houston, San Diego, Denver and Dallas.

Under the plan the Jets could get as many as 24 players from the other clubs and Oakland could get 12.

Woodard said that under the plan the six other clubs would designate 25 veterans and half of their rookie draftees and free agents as unavailable.

One From Each

Oakland and New York then could pick one unprotected veteran from each of the six teams. New York also could pick two available free agents from each team and Oakland one, and New York also would be allowed to pick a rookie draftee from each of the six clubs.

White Sox Send Tigers Reeling Eastward; Nicholson Hits 8th HR

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, floundering in eighth place with little hope of moving up in the immediate future, were idle today after suffering their fourth straight defeat—a 7-4 pasting by the Chicago White Sox—Wednesday night.

Detroit started out on the right foot Wednesday night as it pushed across two runs in the third on a double by Rocky Colavito, a single by Phil Regan, a sacrifice and Don Wert's single. Wert played third base.

Rally in Fifth

Regan kept the White Sox in check until the fifth when Chicago scored four times. Ron Hansen's bases-loaded single was the big blow of the inning.

Dave Nicholson clubbed his eighth home run of the season with a duck on He hit it off reliever Dick Egan in the seventh to account for Chicago's final two runs. The homer gave Nicholson 28 runs batted in this season.

Two Unearned Runs

The Tigers added two unearned runs in the eighth to close out the scoring. The only hit in the inning was a double by Bill Freehan.

Juan Pizarro, with help from Jim Bronson in the eighth, picked up his third victory without a loss. Regan suffered his fourth setback against two victories.

As the Tigers journeyed to Washington, where they'll open with a two-night doubleheader Friday night, they had these points to consider:

They are seven and one-half games behind the front-running White Sox.

They are seven games below the 500 mark.

—Their four losses came after two victories over the New York Yankees and a 14-0 decision over Cleveland. They haven't been able to knock in very many runs since.

The Tigers have lost both games played with Washington so far this season, so they'll have to hustle to snap out of their slump in the four game set there.

Bosox Back In 2nd; NY Tops Twins

By The Associated Press

It was a tough day for the Los Angeles Angels. First they were routed out of their hotel by a fire, they routed out of Fenway Park by a fiery first baseman.

Dick Stuart, who says he's worried about his hitting, drove in seven runs on two homers—one a grand slam—and led Boston to a doubleheader sweep of the Angels, 9-3 and 7-6 Wednesday night.

Stuart's heroics propelled the surprising Red Sox into second place in the American League, one game back of the Chicago White Sox.

Mudcat Milt Win

Mudcat Grant blanked Kansas City 1-0 on a two-hitter for Cleveland and Baltimore whipped Washington 7-1 on Milt Pappas' three-hitter in other night games, while the New York Yankees edged Minnesota 4-3 in the only day game.

Grant allowed only a double by Wayne Causey and a single by Chuck Esegian and retired 13 men in a row over one stretch in his outstanding effort against Kansas City. Tito Francona drove in both Indian runs with a first-inning single.

Pappas, 3-0 for the season, retired 18 Senators in order at one stretch in his three-hitter. He lost his shutout when Ken Retzer hit an eighth inning homer. Jim Gedeon, Jackie Brandt and Jerry Adair had homers for the Orioles.

Broke Tie In 8th

Elston Howard's eighth inning single drove in the tie-breaking run for the Yankees, who handed the stumbling Twins their 11th loss in their last 14 games. Mickey Mantle had a two-run homer in the sixth for the Yanks.

Swanson Near Mile Mark: Field Events Give Redmen Edge Over Ishpeming; 3 1sts For Nyquist

Field events tipped the scales as Marquette Graveret downed Ishpeming, 65 1/6 to 43 5/6, in a dual track meet at Memorial Field, after the host team had dominated the short event, and the visitors had all but swept the long ones.

Sveve Nyquist's three first places for the Redmen, and Bruce Swanson's 4.34 mile highlighted the meet.

Swanson's time was just one-tenth of a second off the Upper Peninsula mile record, set on this same track a year ago by Kenny Johnson of Marquette.

And the Ishpeming junior made it with a 19-second lead over his nearest rival.

Nyquist, also a junior, took the 100-yard dash in 10.7, the low hurdles in 22.5 and the high jump at 5-5.

Bob Pearson took the high hurdles, Roger Zettle ran a 24.3, and the 880-yard relay team ran a good 1:39, including a sweep in the 220, the Redmen piled up a 35-6 margin in the five shorter events.

Ishpeming turned around and outscored Marquette 28-4 in the four events involving more than 220 yards per person.

In addition to Swanson's near-record effort (a 4:33.9 or under would have meant a track record, but the U.P. standard is reserved for Finals competition), Ishpeming swept the half mile, behind Tom Chestnut's 2:06.85, and Bill Norkkoll turned in an exceptional 54.2 in the 440.

Norkkoll started, and Chestnut anchored the mile relay team's 3:44.25 for IHS.

Until the field events results came in, the Hematites were still in the running.

Then Henry Pertunnen took the shot by more than six inches, at 45-2/4, and Bob Phillips won the pole vault. John Carello was first for Ishpeming in the broad jump, at 17-8, but the Redmen outscored the visitors by more than 16 points in four field events.

With the regionals Saturday and the U.P. finals a week after that, times and distances are improving accordingly. The 440, 880 and, of course, the mile time rank with the potential point-scoring efforts across the U.P. this year, as do both winning relay marks and Pertunnen's shot put.

The IHS—Graveret summary:

220yd. High Hurdles: Pearson (M), 24.3; Brogan (I), 18.7.
55yd. Dash: Nyquist (M), Zettle (M), Vogeler (I), 10.7.
880-yd. Run: Chestnut (I), 1:39.
1500-yd. Run: Nyquist (M), 4:33.9.
440-yd. Dash: Norkkoll (I), Soll (M), 54.2; Soll (M), 54.2.
180-yd. Low Hurdles: Nyquist (M), Pearson (M), Gehlhoff (I), 22.5.
220-yd. Dash: Zettle (M), Pappas (M), Piase (M), 24.3.
Mile: B. Swanson (I), Pontu (I), 4:33.9.
Mile Relay: Ishpeming 3:44.25.
880-yd. Relay: Marquette 1:39.
Shot Put: J. Pertunnen (M), Peare (I), Lawrence (M), 45-2/4.
Pole Vault: Phillips (M), Bernard (I), tie between Marana (M) and Coduti (I), 45-2/4.
High Jump: Nyquist (M), tie between Pearson (M), A. Swanson (M), and Pertunnen (I), 45-2/4.
Broad Jump: Carello (I), tie between Soll (M) and Berg (M), 17-8.

Track Regionals Here Saturday For 14 Teams

C. V. (Red) Money of Northern Michigan University, regional meet manager, completed drawings for Saturday's high school track meet at Memorial Field, last night.

Iron Mountain will join the five Marquette County Class A-B track squads, while an eight-team field is slated for Class D—Champion, Chamming, Eben, Felch, Michiganme, National Mine, Republic and Trenary.

Field events will start at 10 a. m. with the Class D pole vault and high jump, the A-B shot put and broad jump.

Preliminaries in the hurdle events and the 100- and 220-yard dashes will also be held in the morning.

The afternoon competition will find Class A-B and D athletes trading field events pits, while the running finals will start at 1:15 in the authorized order.

The radically-changed format of the big school classes makes this year's regional line-up the first of its kind. More often than not, this sextet was split among three different sites in three different classes, until recently.

Only the Mountaineers will be unfamiliar foes in the A-B test. Iron Mountain topped Kingsford in an early dual meet, but was far behind the Flivvers in the Menominee Range Conference meet last weekend.

In the Range meet, the Mountaineers were blanked in the hurdle events and showed only mediocre skill in the field events (since then, Art Stefanelli, who can clear 5-6 in the high jump, has become eligible).

But the Mountaineers have individual standouts in the running events, with the possible exception of the mile.

Ken Lagina is one of the Upper Peninsula top 100 and 220-yard dashmen—possibly the best of all.

Jay Dishnow ranks with the best quarter-milers. Jay's been clocked under 54 seconds, while three teammates also placed in the league meet.

Randy Pilot is among the best in an excellent crop of U.P. half-milers. Randy won the Range meet in 2:04.75, has been clocked a trifle faster. The IM mile relay unit has been clocked in 3:41.4—the fastest in the U.P., if the time is correct—and the 880-relay team in 1:37.9.

Among other A-B regional competitors who rank with the peninsula's leaders:

Steve Nyquist of Graveret in the low hurdles; John Williamson and Gordon Rice of Negaunee in the 440; Tom Chestnut of Ishpeming and Pete DeGabriele of Negaunee in the 880; Bruce Swanson of Ishpeming in the mile; the Miner mile relay team; Vern Jarvi of Negaunee and Grant Phare of Ishpeming in the shot put.

Class D is a question mark, as few of the schools have more than a meet or two under their belts. Republic dominated the Mid-Peninsula Conference meet while Eben was third in the Central League showdown.

Richard Koski's 23.9 time in the 220 for Eben equals the best Class D clocking in the U.P. to date, while improvement by several of the Republic entrants could make them serious challengers in several events.

Big Ten Track Records Facing Real Challenges

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Records in several events appear possible in the Big Ten track championships opening here Friday, without the crack field particularly straining itself.

For example, Purdue spring ace Nate Adams has equalled the Big Ten 100-yard dash record of 9.4 seconds this spring, and he has bettered the conference 220 standard.

The great Jesse Owens holds both marks, with a 21.1 clocking in the 220. Adams has done 20.7 this year, against Michigan May 4.

Iowa's mile relay team of Gary Richards, Scott Rucker, Gary Hollingsworth and Roger Kerr was timed in 3:10.6 in the Kansas Relays. The Big Ten mark is 3:11.7.

Pro Stars Mourn At Lipscomb Rites Held In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, a 290-pound golliath of the National Football League gridiron was amused crowds with his antics for a decade, was buried Wednesday in a ceremony almost as colorful as his career.

The coffin of the 6-foot-6 defensive tackle of the Pittsburgh Steelers was borne down an aisle made of 20 women holding floral tributes, by fellow Negro professional football players. Only hours before in Baltimore, a medical examiner officially ruled his death the result of an overdose of heroin.

Died Friday

Lipscomb, who played for years with the Baltimore Colts, died early last Friday. His undiscarded form was found slumped over a table in the apartment of a friend, who told police the two capped a night of wining and dining by "shooting" heroin.

Lenny Moore and Jim Parker of the Baltimore Colts, Jim Plunkett of the San Diego Chargers, John Henry Johnson of the Pittsburgh Steelers, Richard (Night Train) Lane of the Detroit Lions, John Sample of the Washington Redskins, and Luke Owens of the St. Louis Cardinals carried Lipscomb's casket.

Future Nurses Unit Sets Up Special Exhibit In School

NEGAUNEE — In connection with the first annual nation-wide observance of Future Nurses Day on Friday, the Negaunee High School chapter of the Future Nurses of America has arranged a special exhibit on the first floor corridor of the high school.

Tourist Association Aims For Economic Development

(First of a series) Just as its predecessor before it, the Upper Michigan Tourist Association has the broad aim of general development of the entire 23-county region north of the Mackinac Bridge and the Wisconsin border.

Over the years, many people lost sight of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau's primary purpose. Ken Slater, Hulbert, president of the UMTA, declared following a speech to a group of Michigan State University foreign students during their tour of the region.

Purpose of the Development Bureau was to endeavor to bring about the wise use of land and water resources of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan that they might better administer to the economy of our people.

Over the years, the Development Bureau supported many programs to help in economic improvement of the Upper Peninsula, and often was the motivating factor back of inauguration of services and programs that helped in development of the region.

Among them, Slater listed: Establishment of an agricultural extension program, creation of the State Conservation Department, construction of hard-surfaced highways for the U.P., initiation of state car ferry service and later erection of a bridge at the Straits of Mackinac.

Through the years, the Development Bureau — first financed by county governments and a few large businesses and later receiving state assistance — "did a remarkable job of developing and promoting the economy of Upper Michigan," Slater said.

The Tourist Association president and other officers of the comparatively new organization believe that to get the most effective use of its publicity and advertising programs, cooperation of local groups is necessary.

"Michigan Week" will be the theme for the program to be presented at a meeting of the Skandia Parent-Teacher Association at 7:30 next Monday night.

Three terms as president and 10 years as director of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce are recorded for him.

His lodge, the Christopher Columbus, will host the July 20-21 federation convention. John Fontana and Gino Manzini, lodge officers, are also federation president and secretary, respectively.

The presentation to Pasquinelli adds incentive to the efforts of the lodge to make this the federation's finest meet.

Joined Lodge With Mother Mrs. Lena Sauro, third honoree, became active in Italian-American societies.

Married to the former Florence Basolo of Negaunee, they are the parents of three children, Leonard M., a graduate of Michigan Tech and now with the Motorola Corp. in Minneapolis, and twin daughters, Barbara and Mary, graduates.

It was erroneously reported in the May 10 edition of The Mining Journal, in a story regarding the Ishpeming City Council meeting the preceding night that Mayor Theodore Mattson had stated: "I agree with the city manager that if the City of Ishpeming pays this particular claim (referring to a claim submitted by Bruce Jarvinen) with no real proof of the city being negligent, then the city might be deluged with others."

The Negaunee Male Chorus will hold a dance in the Thimmes Memorial building Saturday, May 18,

Legion Post To Honor Vets On Saturday

NEGAUNEE — Charter members, past commanders and other senior members of the John H. Mitchell American Legion Post will be honored Saturday night when the annual "Old Timers" night is held in the Legion Club.

Organized in October of 1919 as a successor to the Soldiers and Sailors Club, the local post was named in honor of John H. Mitchell, Negaunee's first Gold Star hero.

Included in the group of 15 veterans that requested a charter were Paul Barasa, Paul Moffat, George Whittington, Earl Scanlon, James McAuliffe, Louis Gullackson, John Nelson, Harold Langford, William Viant, Frederick Townsend, George Datson, Henry Leguia, John Rodell, Marvin Wetton and Medri Senial. Of this nucleus, four members—Gullackson, Langford, Nelson, and Scanlon—are still active.

Paul Barasa was elected the first commander. Other chief executives of the post during its 44-year history follow: Clarence Kearns, Albert Belzer, Earl Washmuth, Mervin Wetton, Arthur Hansen, William Cushing, Oral LaCombe Jr., Al Graffitt, Fred Harris, Thomas Curtis, Wesley Jennings, Guy Honkavaara, George Russell, John Scanlon, John P. Collins, Robert A. Gilmour, John Kivela, Reino Lampi, Walter Brostrom, Jerry DeGabriele, Charles Sumner, Howard Lehto, Alvar Kurin, Russell Johnson, John Crabb, Darrell Ostwald and John Wickstrom.

Highlighting the program which will follow a brief business meeting scheduled for 7 p. m. will be a visit by State Commander Joe Paul, Ishpeming. Municipal representatives including Mayor Dorste Roos and members of the Negaunee City Council will attend. Following the program, a spaghetti and meatball supper will be served by Carmelo Russo.

affairs at the age of 17 when she joined the Sault lodge along with her mother, Mrs. John Autero, on its birthday, May 8, 1932. They are the only mother-daughter charter members left in the organization.

A graduate of Sault High in 1932, she has worked as bookkeeper and office manager for Wards for 15 years. In 1941 she married Dennis A. Sauro and they have three children, Betty Officers 3c Dennis A. Jr., aboard the USS Destroyer Long, Frank B., 16, and Paul J., 15, both at Sault High.

Mrs. Sauro capped 30 years of official service to her lodge with the honor of being the first woman president of the Italian Federation, serving in 1962. She has been constant in the promotion of activities intended to interest second-generation Italians in preserving their traditions by participating in the cultural and social programs of the lodge in the Sault and fraternity with the sizable Italian colony across the St. Marys River, in Sault, Canada.

The honors, first such conferred by the Italian government upon Upper Michigan citizens, are richly deserved by those designated. Federation officers stand when informed of the announcement by Consul Della Croce di Dajola. It gives witness to the fact that devotion to national origins is compatible with American citizenship.

Name Change For Highway M-77 Sought

MUNISING — The Rev. B. Neil Smith, president of the Grand Marais Chamber of Commerce, announced today that a resolution adopted at a recent meeting and forwarded to the Michigan Highway Department requests that Highway M-77 be named the "Hiawatha Highway."

In requesting the change, the chamber pointed out that the highway serves an area nationally known for its Indian folk lore, as immortalized by Longfellow. It also serves the national forest named after the Indian Hiawatha.

The highway, which runs from U. S. 2 to Grand Marais, also will serve as an important link in the proposed Pictured Rocks national lakeshore area, Father Smith said. It also serves the federal wildlife reserve at Seney.
