BIRMINGHAM: Dixie Police Probe Theft Of Dynamite

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The Birmingham Board of Education today expelled or suspended 108 Negro pupils who were arrested for participating in desegregation activities.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Authorities are investigating the theft of a large amount of dynamite several days before twin blasts touched off Negro rioting in this city and three sparks of racial unrest all over the nation.

Two cases of dynamite were stolen from a storage house prior to the May 11 bombings of a Negro house and a motel. Sheriff Melvin Bailey disclosed the information, that would be 100 pounds.

"It's a frightening amount," said Bailey. "There is plenty of loose dynamite in this area."

Uneasy Calm An uneasy calm prevailed during the weekend. Nearly 1,300 law enforcement officers were available for duty and potential trouble areas were under heavy patrol.

About 3,000 federal troops, called up by President Kennedy for possible use in Birmingham, were on standby at two Alabama bases.

Gov. George C. Wallace, who has sent about 700 state officers into the city, filed suit Saturday in an effort to block any use of the federal troops.

Brief Meet The President and Wallace met a few hours later at Muscle Shoals, in north Alabama, at a Tennessee Valley Authority anniversary observance.

"We discussed things briefly," Wallace said later at a news conference. Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the discussion was "not unfriendly."

Wallace maintains that state and local authorities are keeping the peace in Birmingham and can put down any disorders that might flare up.

One of the leaders of the desegregation campaign, the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, contended in a talk at a Washington rally that Alabama troopers are trying to "incite Negroes to riot through intimidation and agitation."

PTA Leader Seeks To Aid Needy Tots

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers called today for a massive national attack on the problems of disadvantaged children.

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins told the group's annual convention "our nation cannot prosper half privileged and half deprived."

For perhaps 10 or 11 million children, Mrs. Jenkins said in a keynote address, "the world is a bleak and chilly place."

"They are the children of migrant workers. They are children who crowd the gray areas of our great cities—children of the slums. They are the children of immigrants from Puerto Rico, the South and the depressed areas of our country."

The plight of these children is only one of the problems facing the 47,000 local PTAs, Mrs. Jenkins said.

"Serious problems of group relations exist in the North, South East and West," she added.

Nationwide Problem "School dropouts and unemployed youth are a nationwide problem in both cities and rural areas."

"Relaxed moral standards, shoddy mass media, and materialistic values are a national concern."

Europe OK's Tariff Plan

GENEVA (AP)—The European Common Market countries agreed today to American demands for across-the-board tariff cuts. This apparent reversal of position was aimed at ending the deadlock between the world's two greatest trading blocs.

But at the same time the six European countries demanded that in return the United States agree to an automatic formula for adjusting gaps between high American tariffs and lower European ones.

West German Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard claimed credit for the new proposal, which he said he thought would end the deadlock with the United States.

French Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing said "It's for the Americans to say."

The full session of the 73-nation General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade conference marked time while the Common Market and the Americans jockeyed for position.

Crux of Situation Chairman Hans Schaffner of Switzerland called off an afternoon meeting but agreed to preside at a special evening session of the disputing sides.

A Common Market official said data could be fixed for bargaining talks until the United States and the trade bloc agree on an approach. He said the Common Market would agree to a date if the United States consents to handle the high tariff problem on the same level as its proposals for across-the-board cuts.

On reductions in individual U.S. tariffs they considered too high as well as agreed general cuts.

Percentage Cuts The U.S. delegation has insisted on equal percentage cuts from both sides, with a goal of slashes as high as 50 per cent. It wants to open formal bargaining sessions May 6, 1964.

Rockey To See If Marriage Hurt Chances

WASHINGTON (AP)—An intensive reassessment of the political situation will be the order of the day for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller when he returns from his honeymoon.

What his private pollsters tell him about the political effect of his marriage to divorcee Margaretta Fittler Murphy could have a direct bearing on whether the governor plunges into an active drive for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination or merely coasts along awaiting developments.

If the indications are that his marriage has built up resistance to his nomination, the governor can be expected to tread water for a while until a new canvass can be made this fall. If relatively clear sailing is in prospect, he may step up his campaigning.

Believer In Polls Rockefeller is a great believer in polls. He also is a man who seldoms his politics close to his vest, seldom confiding his plans in advance even to party allies.

For example, he told Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., only 20 minutes before the ceremony that he was going to be married.

Although Rockefeller has made all of the familiar motions of a candidate for the nomination, his remarriage after being divorced last year by his wife of 21 years has injected a new element of doubt about his intentions.

What Rockefeller's marriage has done to his prospects for the nomination and to his chances of beating President Kennedy, if the governor should be the GOP standard bearer, remain a subject of discussion and disagreement.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has adopted a neutral stance on the choice of a nominee, said in a separate interview he thinks the whole matter will blow over in a few weeks.

This is essentially the same view taken in private conversations with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., regarded as a rival of the governor for the nomination.

Goldwater has told friends he thinks if the election were this year the remarriage might damage Rockefeller's chances. But he has said he thinks the issue will be eclipsed in 1964.

Democratic Slant Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., who managed Kennedy's successful 1960 convention bid for the Democratic nomination, came up with a Democratic slant.

Ribicoff said he thinks Rockefeller already has concluded from his private polls that he can't beat Kennedy in 1964 and wants to wait to try for the 1968 GOP nomination.

The governor's marriage has served to spotlight Republican difficulties over the religious issue in a form somewhat different from that which plagued the Democrats when they nominated Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, three years ago.

Frowned Upon Many Republican Catholics might not accept a divorced and remarried man as a GOP candidate.

In the Protestant areas of the Middle West, where Rockefeller has been trying to build up his image as a regular Republican, divorce and remarriage are generally frowned upon. But in the big cities of the industrial states, where he would be expected to have his greatest strength, such matrimonial ventures are not as likely to cause raised eyebrows.

Moreover, the resentment of women voters against the governor's actions might be balanced by the vivacity and attractiveness of the new Mrs. Rockefeller in campaigning with her husband.

Most presidential candidates want their wives along when they go vote gathering. Those without wives, such as the divorced Adlai E. Stevenson in 1952 and 1956, seem to operate at a disadvantage.

U. P. Men Killed In Car Crash

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP)—Three persons, including two from Michigan, were killed near here Sunday night when one automobile crashed into another and the gasoline tank of the lead car exploded.

Marinette County authorities identified the dead as Daniel Walk, 22, of Marinette, and Richard Wautlet, 19, and Michael Kuber, 21, both of Menominee, Mich.

Highway patrolmen said the car which Wautlet and Kuber were in smashed into Walk's car and exploded the gasoline tank on that car. It was not determined which Michigan youth was driving. Walk was alone.

Presbyterians Outline Stand On Key Issues

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Presbyterians, spiritual descendants of John Calvin, generally don't go along with the way he mixed religion with government.

Their view is that each should keep official hands off the other. This position, contrasting greatly with the 16th Century reformer's meshing of religious and political authority in Geneva, was highlighted today in a report before the United Presbyterian General Assembly.

In probably the most clear-cut and detailed delineation ever projected by a church on the American scene, the proposed report marks off some sharp lines between church and state.

The report, up for action by representatives of the 34-million-member denomination, deals with many of the hotly debated church-state issues smoldering in the nation.

Among other things, the report: 1. Opposes religious observances in the public schools, including Bible readings and prayers, which are described as tending "toward indoctrination of meaningless ritual."

2. Disapproves religious displays on public property.

3. Declares that a political candidate's religious affiliation, in itself, should not be a factor in evaluating his fitness for office.

4. Says the churches should not seek restrictive Sunday laws in order to "facilitate Christian observance of the Lord's Day."

5. Criticizes tax exemptions for churches as putting them in a potentially compromising position, and says the church should begin "extricating itself from the position of . . . seeming to be obligated to the state by virtue of special tax privileges extended to it."

6. Opposes direct aid to parochial schools, but favors tax-supported "welfare services to all children," whatever their schools, and urges efforts to find "creative solutions" to present parochial school problems.

7. Calls government efforts to "censor religiously offensive material" a danger not only to "true religion, but to the survival of a free society."

Cows Scared To Death By British Band

HORNCHURCH, England (AP)—The Hornchurch Drum and T trumpet Corps went for a weekend rehearsal in Peter Read's pasture.

Read's 50 cows lifted their heads with interest as bandmaster Brian Keeler raised his baton for John Phillips Sousa's "Semper Fidelis."

The drums crashed out and the horns blared.

Five cows dropped dead. The rest stampeded.

Keeler apologized profusely. "They were obviously terrified by the noise," said Read. But he added that he wouldn't sue "these things happen."

Space Pilot Takes Day Off For Relaxing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—With two days of examinations, a quest for an off-duty day behind him, Astronaut Gordon Cooper planned to do absolutely nothing today except relax.

That's something that comes easy to a man who can doze off while perched atop a rocket set to blast him into space.

Asked at a news conference Sunday if he thought his flight concluded Project Mercury. Cooper replied that it was his personal opinion that great gain would come from an extended Mercury flight.

Then he tossed the question to Dr. Robert C. Seamans, associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

"We are faced with a decision in the next week or so on another Mercury flight," Seamans said, but said it is quite unlikely another Mercury manned mission will be conducted.

"The longer you keep Mercury personnel working on Mercury flights, the longer you delay putting them on the Gemini program," he said.

Tuesday, the laconic Oklahoman with the Huck Finn grin will receive the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Distinguished Service medal from President Kennedy at a ceremony in the White House Rose Garden.

Then he will address a joint session of Congress, and the following day will go to New York for a ticker tape parade.

Today Cooper plans only to rest from the one predictable after effect of his 34-hour cosmic adventure—an onrush of adulation from an admiring populace.

His latest taste of it was a homey and heartfelt welcome by the people of Cocoa Beach who turned out Sunday along a 3 1/2-mile stretch of sun drenched highway and waved flags and bunting and beach towels and hollered "Well done, Gordo."

It was one of the largest crowds ever assembled in this non-lighted sand spit which the astronauts call their home away from home.

The astronaut accepted the plaudits from an open car, waving and grinning his now famous grin. Beside him was his wife, Trudy. Two cars behind were their daughters, Camela, 14, and Janita, 13, smiling in teen-aged embarrassment.

The parade ended at a beach front motel where the girls sat demurely and listened as the father describe his 22-orbit space flight for the benefit of the 700 newsmen who had watched him blast off four days earlier.

In his drawl, Cooper told, orbit by orbit, how he performed his various experiments, made photographs of celestial phenomena and also, much as any other sightseer present, with a spectacular view took snapshots of the magnificent Himalayas.

Minute Detail He told how he was able to see minute detail on the ground more than 100 miles below—a boat and its wake in a river; trucks on a highway; smoke curling from the chimneys of Tibetan villages.

He also described, as matter-of-factly as though it was really nothing at all, how he guided his spacecraft manually back to earth after all the automatic methods had failed.

"I saw the light go on," he said, "and I thought maybe at first I'd just ignore it. But I decided maybe I'd better not. I was afraid it wouldn't go away."

This was the light that signaled the re-entry guidance trouble.

He told also how he catnapped from time to time when the work was done, and how he even caught a few winks during the long count-down before the big Atlas rocket roared off the launching pad.

Witnesses said the four were fishing some 300 feet off Point Atres when the wind whipped up four-foot waves and the boat capsized.

Skin divers and a helicopter searched for the bodies until dark Sunday.

OTTAWA: Terrorists Threaten To Bomb Hotels

OTTAWA (AP)—Terrorist threats to bomb Ottawa hotels brought increased security precautions today as top-ranking diplomats continued arriving in the Canadian capital for the ministerial meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Among those due in today were U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The meeting begins Wednesday. A number of hotels received anonymous letters during the week-end saying hotels housing NATO delegates would be blown up.

Threats It was assumed the threats came from the FLQ (Quebec Liberation Front), the underground group that wants to separate French-speaking Quebec province from Canada. The FLQ has claimed credit for a number of bombings in the past few months in Montreal. So far its violence has been confined to Quebec province. Ottawa is in Ontario, and most of the province's people are of British descent.

Rusk and many of the NATO ministers will be housed at their embassies.

Meeting West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder arranged a meeting with Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin for this morning. The German made clear that he will back the proposal to set up a new NATO command structure to handle national nuclear units in the alliance and to coordinate their operations.

"Germany supports the re-grouping of a part of the alliance's nuclear capability under discussion," he said. "We believe that such cooperation will mean progress in handling the difficult task of nuclear strategy."

Rusk is to see Martin Tuesday. He also will confer with other delegates in advance of the NATO meeting.

Diplomatic sources said there is little doubt that the 15 NATO ministers will approve the new nuclear command.

EMU Faculty, Students Rally Behind School

YPSILANTI (AP)—Students and faculty members rallied behind Eastern Michigan University today, declaring the school is being snubbed by unsupported and adverse publicity.

A student group has demanded release in full of a report on an investigation by the North Central Association conducted at the University last fall.

The State Board of Education issued a statement last Thursday, which it said was based on the accrediting organization's report. In it the board said the university would conduct a year-long self-evaluation, but added later the investigation was routine and the university was not in danger of losing accreditation.

The students complained the statement fails to clear the university.

In a meeting Saturday, faculty members voiced general support for the administration.

1,800,000 Farmers To Vote Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's estimated 1,800,000 wheat farmers will vote Tuesday on whether they want tighter wheat controls to curb production.

This is the 12th referendum since 1941, when the first such vote was taken.

But it was the first time that farmers who grow wheat on 15 acres or less will vote. Heretofore, the voting was restricted to growers of wheat on more than 15 acres.

If two-thirds of the voters approve the new controls, they will go into effect next year. If the program is rejected acreage allotments will continue and price supports will be available at about one-half of parity, or around $1.25 a bushel. There will be no marketing quotas or cash penalties for excess production.

The new program would cut the 1964 wheat acreage 10 per cent from 55 million acres to 49.5 million acres. Wheat would be divided into two price categories.

Police Skindivers Search For Four Drowning Victims

AUGRES (AP)—State police skin divers resumed a search today for four persons who drowned Sunday when their 17-foot fishing boat capsized in Saginaw Bay.

The dead were identified as Wallace Zinck 50, Don Schultz, 40, and his son, Don, Jr., 13, all of Saginaw and August Yde 70, of Au Gres.

Witnesses said the four were fishing some 300 feet off Point Atres when the wind whipped up four-foot waves and the boat capsized.

Skin divers and a helicopter searched for the bodies until dark Sunday.

High Court Rules Wall St. Subject To Antitrust Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that the Securities Exchange Act does not give the New York Stock Exchange immunity from antitrust laws.

Justice Goldberg, delivering the court's majority opinion, said "the antitrust laws are peculiarly appropriate as a check upon anti-competitive acts of exchanges which conflict with their duty to keep their operations and those of their members honest and viable."

The practical effect of the 7-2 decision is to restrict the exchange's regulatory power—through concerted action by its members—over dealings in securities.

At the same time, Goldberg said it was clear that there must be some method of telling a protesting nonmember of the exchange "why a rule is being invoked and allowing him to reply in explanation of his position."

Dissenting Justice Stewart dissented with an opinion in which Justice Harlan joined, making the court's vote 7-2.

Stewart said the court's answer to the problem "is both unsatisfactory and incomplete."

Stewart protested that he thought the court erred in using the antitrust laws "to serve ends that they were never intended to serve. In enforcing the anti-trust law, the court is enforcing a statute under a totally unrelated statute."

Stewart and Harlan said they thought the Securities Exchange Act removed antitrust liability for "any action taken in good faith to effectuate an exchange's statutory duty of self-regulation."

The decision applied specifically to a suit by Municipal Securities Co. Inc. engaged in securities business in Dallas, Tex.

California Frog Leaps To Victory

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP)—If Repo could talk instead of croak, he'd thank all who made it all possible and add that it was real team effort.

Repo is the 1963 international frog jump champion after hopping 13 feet 4 inches Sunday in the annual contest that has its origin in Mark Twain's famous short story, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

His story has humble beginnings. He was picked out of a slough in California's San Joaquin Valley by Leonard Hall, former San Jose State College student.

Special Diet Hall knew a champion when he saw one. He took Repo home and trained him in his stable of jumpers. The stable was an overturned old refrigerator behind his apartment. Repo was fed a special diet of liver and vitamin pills.

Leonard moved on to the real estate business in Walnut Creek with his cousin Merle Hall.

Merle's wife, Carolyn, took Repo to Angels Camp for the annual competition.

Repo is real estate slang for a repossessed home, or one that seems to jump from owner to owner.

Short Of Record Repo's distance—covered in three leaps—fell considerably short of the world's record of 16 feet, 10 inches. If he had bettered that mark it would have been worth $1,000 to Leonard Hall.

The international class title went to an unnamed frog entered by Ola Oshi of Nigeria. The anonymous champ jumped 8 feet, 7 inches, but wouldn't get off its rear legs in the grand finale.

Nevada Gov. Grant Sawyer's Paulette Pete won the governor's class event with leaps that totaled 10 feet, 5 inches. This beat Eureka II, which jumped 5 feet, 8 inches for the glory of California and Gov. Edmund Brown.

Others Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement's frog went 3 feet, 11 inches. Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner's frog traveled only 1 foot, 5 inches.

Russ Pilots, Mechanics To Depart Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Soviet Embassy sources said today the Soviet Union is withdrawing the Soviet pilots and mechanics who have been helping to fly the Soviet-supplied transport planes belonging to the pro-Communist Pathet Lao faction.

The sources said Moscow took this decision when the present crisis between neutralist and Pathet Lao troops erupted in the Plaines des Jarres six weeks ago.

"If we continue to help only one faction we may be accused of interfering in Laos' internal affairs," the Soviets said.

N. Koreans To Discuss Pilots' Fate

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The North Koreans agreed today to meet Wednesday with the United Nations Command to discuss return of two American helicopter pilots forced down behind Communist lines.

The Reds had refused earlier requests from U.S. Gen. Guy S. Myer for the meeting.

The two pilots, Capt. Ben W. Stuts, Florence, Ala., and Capt. Charleton W. Voltz, Frankfort, Mich., were shelled and forced down Friday when their H23 helicopter crossed the Han River estuary. This is the Western boundary of the 155-mile long armistice demarcation line.

Anti-Castro Rebels Raid Cuban Barracks

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A commando unit operating from inside Cuba attacked a militia barracks near Havana to mark Cuba's independence day Sunday, an exile spokesman says.

The underground resistance force raised an anti-Castro battle flag before fleeing, spokesman Segundo Alvarez said. An undetermined number of Castro militiamen were reported killed in the pre-dawn raid.

1,800,000 Farmers To Vote Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's estimated 1,800,000 wheat farmers will vote Tuesday on whether they want tighter wheat controls to curb production.

This is the 12th referendum since 1941, when the first such vote was taken.

But it was the first time that farmers who grow wheat on 15 acres or less will vote. Heretofore, the voting was restricted to growers of wheat on more than 15 acres.

There will be no marketing quotas or cash penalties for excess production.

The new program would cut the 1964 wheat acreage 10 per cent from 55 million acres to 49.5 million acres. Wheat would be divided into two price categories.

Eighty per cent of the 1964 crop would go for domestic food use and exports and would be supported at $2 a bushel. The remainder would go for livestock feed and other non-food uses and would be supported at $1.30 a bushel. A farmer who retires from wheat production a portion of his old allotment would be paid by the government. Any farmers who violated the regulations could be fined and jailed.

The government has tried for more than 25 years to control wheat production with growing and marketing regulations. But with improved farming methods and greater mechanization production has increased steadily.

The government has now 1.3 billion bushels of wheat in storage or under price support loans—representing a year's supply for domestic and export needs. The government's wheat control program cost more than $1 billion last year.

Radcliffe Coeds Stage Panty Raid At Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Sunday night was a balmy spring night of the sort that traditionally prompts such campus madness as panty raids.

Sure enough, there was a panty raid. Only it was staged in reverse by some 30 to 40 girls from Radcliffe College.

The girls marched to Winthrop House at neighboring Harvard College, stood outside its ivied walls and shouted, "BVD's for me."

After an initial barrage of water and a few BVD's the boys poured out of the dormitory and joined their tormentors.

One good raid deserved another and before long some 1,500 students were marching through

Bishop Herman Page To Retire Next Year; Diocese Fixes Budget

The Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, D.D., bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan since 1942, has announced that he will retire on May 3, 1964.

The announcement came as part of the 68th annual convention of the diocese held during the weekend in St. Paul's Church, Marquette.

Bishop Page will submit his resignation to the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church later this year. A special convention will be called after Nov. 3 for the purpose of electing a successor to Bishop Page.

Following the bishop's annual address to the convention, action was taken to increase the diocese's efforts during the coming year in the fields of lay evangelism and youth work.

Individuals were also urged to carefully consider the new proposed tax plan put forth by the federal government as it relates to giving to churches, colleges, hospitals and other institutions and to make their legislators aware of its implications.

The commission submitted its proposed budget for the coming fiscal year at its first statutory budget proposal meeting held on the 6th, the first Monday of May.

Total budget proposed by the city for the coming fiscal year (July 1, 1963 to June 30, 1964) is a record $3,180,157, as compared to the current fiscal year's budget of $3,013,837.34.

No Cause For Action In School 'Beating'

ROGERS CITY (AP)—A ruling citing no basis for criminal action was returned by Prosecutor Elmer Ratka in a case against an Onaway school teacher accused of beating a seventh-grade student.

Ratka said Joe Sturvy, of rural Onaway, had complained that his son, Tim, 14, had been struck with "a rubber hose" by his teacher, Mrs. Ruth Howell.

Ratka said that study of statements from the Onaway city police, who questioned 23 persons in the case, led him to believe there was "nothing to indicate the punishment inflicted was unreasonable."

The prosecutor said Mrs. Howell made in Park Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and evening.

First Ore Boats Of Season Due At Soo Line Dock Tonight

The first two boats of the season are due to take on loads of ore over the Soo Line dock tonight.

Both will be more than two weeks later than the first ore boat that loaded at the Soo Line dock last year: the Thomas F. Patton.

which filled her holds May 2, 1962 and then departed.

Smoke Fills Basement Of Residence Here

Marquette's fire department was called out at 9 Saturday night to the residence of Mrs. Terrence Greenleaf, 107 Furnace St., when some smoke filled the basement of the dwelling.

Fifteen firemen responded, with the No. 2 (1,000-gallon) and 4 (750-gallon) pumps and the service truck. However, there was no fire, only smoke.

Some children had been playing in the basement and burned some newspapers, firemen said. The fire was out on arrival of firemen.

There apparently was no damage, firemen said. They returned to the station at 9:16 p. m.

LANSING (AP)—Sources close to Gov. George Romney said he will veto a jobless pay bill that appears to contradict the deficit or balance provisions of the Ford-Canton Bill.

Brownies Catch Up With Firemen

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—One little troop of Brownies went to visit the fire station and one little troop stayed home.

When the first troop arrived at the station, the fire trucks were speeding away.

After half an hour, Mrs. William R. Delay, troop leader, took the girls back to St. Elizabeth's Catholic church.

There they found the firemen were just leaving after putting out a fire in a ventilating fan—and greatly entertaining the Brownies who stayed home.

How Long Can I Take To Pay Back A Bank Loan?

This is a question not easily answered by a definite period. Banks make various kinds of loans, for different periods of time and wherever possible offer a variety of repayment schedules to fit your budget.

You can take up to three years to repay a car loan, five years for a home modernization loan. We seek, as a member of your financial family, to find the schedule that best fits your situation.

Another thing you can do at a bank. You can arrange to have a checking account and then repay your loan by automatic transfer of funds each month. The simplest possible operation.

And, naturally, a checking account at First National allows you convenient advantages in many other ways. You can pay bills at home and mail the checks. You keep a record of what you spend, it enables you to manage your money, to preserve a budget, to have proof of expenditures.

Genevieve Casey Gives State Library Report At MLA Meeting Here

The Michigan State Library is instituting a program to help build a reservoir of trained librarians to staff public libraries throughout the state.

Miss Genevieve Casey, Lansing, Michigan state librarian, said in a report on the state library delivered at the District 7 (Upper Peninsula) annual meeting of the Michigan Library Association here Saturday that the state library will start a librarian trainee program in September.

Similar Program For U.P.?

In cooperation with Western Michigan University, the state library will place on its staff a group of students who will work in a wide complex of duties for a four-year period. Following this training, the graduates will be required to serve at least two years in public libraries in Michigan, Miss Casey said.

She added that she hoped a similar sort of program can be worked out for the Upper Peninsula in cooperation with Northern Michigan University.

Addressing librarians and trustees from throughout the Upper Peninsula, Miss Casey explained other developments in the library field in Michigan, including these:

- A committee has been formed to study changes that might be made in the distribution formula for state aid to libraries. House Bill 86, which would have established a new formula, died in the House Way and Means Committee in the last session of the Legislature. "It foundered on the rock of finance," Miss Casey said, pointing out that the state administration has asked that no new state services be established until fiscal reform has been completed in the state.
- A joint committee composed of representatives of the Michigan Library Association, State Board for Libraries, Michigan Education Association, State Department of Public Instruction and the Michigan Bar Association is being formed to look into the penal fines system of financial aid for libraries in the hopes of clarifying the system and eliminating competition between school and public libraries for penal fines. "Librarians and school people have to work together," Miss Casey said.

• In an effort to improve library public relations, the state library will make its public information director available to public libraries in the state, beginning in July. He will assist public libraries in handling their public relations problems, including preparation of news releases.

• Miss Casey reported that the staff of the Upper Peninsula Branch of the Michigan State Library, located in Escanaba, is now complete again and that the branch is working on means of stepping up the branch's services to business and industry in the Peninsula.

• Commenting on the pending reorganization of state government, Miss Casey said librarians in Michigan "now have a wonderful opportunity to call the attention of the public to issues of state government." She said the libraries have an important role in the dissemination of information in this area.

Following Miss Casey's remarks, librarians and trustees heard a panel discussion on library problems in which the participants were Mrs. Mary Ann Hanna, Lansing, consultant for the Michigan State Library; F. Van Zanten, Iron Mountain, librarian for Dickinson County; Mrs. Melba Urban, Iron Mountain, assistant librarian, and William Veaser, Houghton, of the Upper Peninsula Power Co.

Mrs. Madalyn Bradford of Decatur, first vice president of the Michigan Library Association, explained the functions of her organization.

Mrs. Jane C. Lucchesi, Painesdale librarian, presided at the morning session, held in the auditorium of the Peter White Public Library.

John B. Dorais, trustee of the Peter White Public Library, presided at a luncheon at the Hotel Clifton that concluded the day's meeting. Ladies attending were presented with orchids flown in from Hawaii through the courtesy of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce.

Bishop Noa Host Prelate For State KC Convention In June

The Most Rev. Allen J. Babcock, bishop of the diocese of Grand Rapids, will be speaker at the state convention dinner of the Knights of Columbus of Michigan, Friday, June 7, in the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

About 800 delegates, state and diocesan K. of C. officials, members of the clergy from throughout Michigan, guests and their ladies will participate in the three-day sessions and celebrations on historic Mackinac Island, June 6-8, says State Deputy John A. Fisher of Detroit, who will preside over the business sessions.

Here Last Weekend

In charge of the convention arrangements and intricate program, including special schedules for entertainment of the ladies, is State Secretary John F. Lahaise of St. Ignace, who was in Marquette the past weekend for the KC regional degree event.

Highlighting the three-day meeting, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William L. Hennes, state chaplain of the Michigan Knights, announces the following, in addition to His Excellency, Bishop Allen J. Babcock:

The Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of the Diocese of Marquette, is host prelate of the gathering, by virtue of the island being in his diocese. For the 11th time out of the past 12 years he has extended his personal hospitality, as well as that of all of the clergy of Marquette Diocese to the K. of C. Conventions, officials said.

The Most Rev. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of the Diocese of Lansing, will celebrate the Pontifical Mass to officially open the convention.

In addition to the main altar, erected annually in the Grand Hotel Auditorium for the convention, four side altars are provided for the convenience of the many priests attending the three-day meetings. These are in addition to the limited facilities available in historic St. Anne's Church on the island.

Msgr. Spelgatti To Give Award

The Rev. William X. Kienzie, editor of the Michigan Catholic, the Archdiocese of Detroit's official publication, will be presented at the Friday night banquet with a plaque, designating his choice as the Michigan Knights of Columbus Journalism Award for 1963.

The presentation will be made by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. David P. Spelgatti, Ishpeming, editor of the Marquette diocese's Northern "Our Sunday Visitor," himself an earlier Journalism award.

Brother Phillip Armstrong, C.S.C., director of Boysville of Michigan, will be present to represent the faculty and student body of Boysville.

LESTER R. INGRAM

Trusty Flees Conservation Camp In U.P.

Lester R. Ingram, 44, a trusty at the Michigan corrections-conservation camp at Porcupine Mountains, Ontonagon County, walked away from the camp about 10 Saturday night.

He was wearing brown pants with a brown striped prison shirt at the time. Up to this morning no trace had been found of him. Law enforcement officers throughout the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin had been alerted as to his escape.

It was the first walkaway from the conservation camps in Upper Michigan this year.

There has been only one other trusty in the U. P. who fled his post, James Major, 27, who escaped from the Mangum Farm in Chocoma Township April 22 and who was captured by sheriff's officers the same night. Last year there were eight walkaways in the U. P.

Wallenstein Promoted By Radio Station

Robert Wallenstein, son of the G. L. Wallensteins of 325 W. Hewitt Ave., has just been made public affairs director and assistant program director of WOWO, Fort Wayne, Ind.

In that city he is known as "Bob Chese" and has been sports director of the station for the past eight years. He has been with the station since 1953.

Native Of Neagunee

He went there as a staff announcer and assisted in play by play hockey and color for Indiana high school basketball. It was through his efforts that hockey was brought to Fort Wayne and has become a major sport in that area, as well as being broadcast play by play.

Wallenstein is a native of Neagunee, but came to Marquette at a very early age. He graduated from Graveret High School and Northern Michigan University with a B.S. degree in business administration with a major in accounting, psychology and speech.

Wallenstein is a life member of Theta Omicron Rho Fraternity. He served 37 months in the U. S. Navy during World War II in the Naval Intelligence Unit of Communications Security, ending with the rate of YN 21 upon discharge.

He was formerly employed by WDMJ, The Mining Journal station.

In both high school and college he received letters in the major sports of football, basketball and track, in minor sport, baseball. He is a recent recipient of a distinguished sportsman's award for his promotion of hockey.

Before leaving Marquette, Wallenstein married Mariel Chase, a registered nurse from Munising. They have four children, Michael, attending the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; Kurt, Karin and David at home in Fort Wayne, where they live at 909 Ferguson St.

For the present Wallenstein will continue some of his sports broadcasting, especially hockey. His new duties will bring him more into the administrative and executive field.

Agriculture Orville Freeman to participate in a special Lake States development conference next fall in Duluth.

Freeman said a trip through the lake states convinced him increased efforts were needed to develop resources, employment and income opportunities in the area.

As a result he appointed a task force to study the situation. The report is completed. Freeman said, and now it remains to determine how opportunity can be translated into successful results.

A Northern Lake States Regional Land and People Conference is scheduled in Duluth for September.

"At this meeting," Freeman said we will discuss action programs and how best our combined efforts can be directed to realize opportunities envisioned in this report, and further, how programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and other federal agencies can be brought to bear more effectively to supplement local and state efforts."

USO Displays In Several Store Windows In Marquette

Marquette County residents shopping in the city this week may view a number of displays on the USO, which are set up in various store windows.

The Marquette County USO committee said the displays have been made possible as part of the USO grand opening, being arranged by members of the Officers Wives Club and the Non-Commissioned Officers Wives Clubs of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Formal Opening Saturday

Formal opening of the center will be held this Saturday.

A great deal of work and artistic design has gone into the arrangements, showing displays from foreign countries, emphasizing the areas where USO serves, the committee said.

There are displays set up at Donckers', the Elder Agency of Firestone Store, Getz Store, Northern Stationers, Quality Hardware, Stern and Field and Western Auto.

'Sense Of USO Contacts'

Men and women will be interested in a number of the items which have been placed on display, the committee said.

"They give not only a sense of USO contacts, but also emphasize the many fronts on which American forces serve," the committee stated.

The ladies of the base are co-operating with the Marquette committee, arranging for details of the formal opening of the Marquette United Service Organizations center.

Art Handicraft Shown

"Many fine and valuable pieces of art and handicraft are on display and the arrangements make an effective presentation of 'USO Throughout the World,'" the committee said.

Commanding officers of the base are working closely with community committee members for an effective opening program and a continuous schedule of USO service for airmen who are in Marquette.

Details of the formal opening will be announced during the week.

Two Vehicles Involved In Mishap Here

Two automobiles were involved, but no one was injured, in a traffic mishap at 3:45 Saturday afternoon in Marquette.

City police said a car being driven south on Champion St. and being turned left onto Genesee St. by L. W. Brumm, 305 E. Michigan St., struck the left rear fender of an automobile operated by Elias Lahtinen, 401 Blenheim Ave., with its right front.

Lahtinen was traveling east on Genesee St. at the time.

Apparently no damage occurred to Brumm's 1962 four-door sedan but the left rear fender of Lahtinen's car, a 1963 four-door sedan, was damaged to a minor extent. Both vehicles were driven from the scene under their own power.

City police ticketed Brumm for a right-of-way violation.

Men and women will be interested in a number of the items which have been placed on display, the committee said.

"They give not only a sense of USO contacts, but also emphasize the many fronts on which American forces serve," the committee stated.

Six Fined, One On Tippy Driving Count

Six persons were ordered to pay a total of $138.70 in fines and costs when they appeared before Judge Edward H. Dembowski last week in municipal court.

For drunk driving, Donald G. Sims, Dorr St., paid a fine of $75 and $5.10 costs. Sims was arrested by city police Thursday following an accident on N. Front St.

License Revoked

As in all drunk driving convictions, Sims' operator's license will be revoked for a period of three months to two years by the office of the secretary of state.

Juanita M. Beer, 19, of 1305 Pine St., was ordered to pay a fine of $10 and $4.30 costs for possession of an altered operator's license (with birth date and hair color changed). She was arrested by state police on U. S. 41 in Marquette April 25.

For drinking beer on a public highway, Nancy Buckmaster, 26, Marble St., Ishpeming, paid a fine of $10 and $4.30 costs. State police made the arrest May 2 on Washington St.

A fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs were paid by James L. Hermans, Escanaba, for making an improper left turn at the intersection of W. Washington and Third Sts. May 11. City police issued the summons.

Car Not Under Control

For failure to have his motor vehicle under control, Paul O. Ross, Daggett, paid a fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs. He was ticketed by city police Thursday on N. Fourth St.

Lawrence S. Menard, Marquette, paid a fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs for failure to yield the right-of-way. He was ticketed by state police yesterday on U. S. 41 in Marquette.

587 Autos Here Given Safety Checks

A total of 587 automobiles in Marquette was given safety checks last Friday and Saturday in a program sponsored by the automobile division of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce.

There were only 75 "rejects" and 10 owners of these cars had the repairs made immediately, so that all but 65 cars had safety stickers applied.

The owners of the other 65 cars may still get the safety stickers by having the suggested repairs made.

Chamberlain Likens Appeal To Bribe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, R-Mich., asserted that an appeal to Michigan farmers to vote yes on Tuesday's wheat referendum sounds like a bribe.

At issue is the question of rigid government controls or few controls.

Chamberlain cited a form letter sent by the Genesee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee to farmers. The letter said adoption of the 1964 program would mean farmers would get a certain amount of dollars for not raising wheat and gave instructions on how to register and vote.

Grant For Study Of Frost Action Awarded To Tech

HOUGHTON — The Michigan Tech department of civil engineering has received a $500 grant for preliminary laboratory study of the effects of spent sulphite liquor on frost action in highway sub-grade soils. The grant was provided by the Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research League. Object is to determine to what extent spent sulphite liquor, when mixed with soils, will reduce frost heaving and spring break-up damage to roads.

The study will be part of the extensive program of frost action research developed during the past several years at Tech. Money will be used to employ student research assistants and to purchase equipment and materials necessary for the study.

The sulphite league was organized in 1939 by a number of paper companies. Its purpose is to find

Police Ticket Operator Of 'Scooter'

A driver and motor scooter operator escaped injury when their vehicles collided on Ontario and Moran Sts. in Trowbridge Park, Marquette Township, at 3:40 yesterday afternoon.

State police who investigated the new uses for spent sulphite liquor, a byproduct of pulp manufacturing.

sued a summons to the scooter operator, Robert Croschere, 17, of 2562 Cherry St., Marquette, for not having license plates on his vehicle.

They said the mishap occurred when Croschere, who had been traveling along a foot path, had control of his scooter, which veered into Ontario St. in a northerly direction and struck a 1951 sedan which had been going south on Ontario, driven by Frank White, 42, of 325 Hampton St., Marquette. White's car was stopped at the intersection at the time.

The right side of the car was damaged but it was able to be driven from the scene. Croschere had to remove the scooter, the frame of which was extensively damaged.

Tourist Association Stymied By 'Half-Throttle' Operations

(Last of a series) "Half-throttle" operations prevent the Upper Michigan Tourist Association from doing a "truly effective job of promoting this region."

Ken Slater, Hubert, president of the organization, put it that way when describing the biggest problem facing UMTA, which since early 1960 has been seeking to promote and develop the economy of the Upper Peninsula. Its work, principally, is to bring more people into the region to enjoy the many recreational advantages found here, but at the same time it has been active in promoting and providing materials to help portray the Peninsula as a good place for location of new industries.

Although UMTA's operations can be compared favorably to the work of the old U. P. Development Bureau, Slater believes its program could be stepped up through greater cooperation of all agencies. In a speech to foreign students from Michigan State University who were on a tour of the Peninsula, he declared:

"The most important problem confronting the UMTA is the siphoning off of funds to many piecemeal and ineffective organizations that operate on a 'spur of the moment' basis. This affects our overall raising of funds in the Upper Peninsula and at the present time we are operating on a budget that is about half throttle instead of having the $100,000 budget required to do a truly effective job of promoting this region."

Responsibility Of All Tourism, he believes, is the best way of luring more people into the region, which could result in development that would attract permanent industry. It's the responsibility of all businesses — not only motel, hotel, restaurant and attractions operators — to cooperate in this program, he said.

To do the job, the tourist association is constantly seeking to alert local retail and wholesale merchants to the opportunity provided through an increased population, even if it is on a temporary basis, as is the case in the tourist industry.

Two-Pronged Problem The "bigness" of Michigan's Upper Peninsula creates a unique two-pronged problem for any promotional agency. Slater put it this way:

"We have only so much money to devote to promotion as we have only 306,000 people scattered over a large area from Ironwood to Sault Ste. Marie, some 300-plus miles. This creates a tremendous problem for a promotional organization because we have only about the total gross income from which to draw our promotional dollars that would be found in a typical county in Southern Michigan of approximately 400,000 persons. Therefore, the promotional dollars available must be used on a regional basis as effectively as possible.

"The amount of travel necessary to carry out our regional promotion can best be realized from the fact that Ken Dorman, manager of our organization, visited various counties of the Upper Peninsula on 391 different occasions during 1962 (not counting 76 trips that had to be made outside the U.P.)."

Just what is the Upper Michigan Tourist Association doing to overcome such problems? First, it is attempting, through its own publicity program and by making use of the extension facilities offered by state colleges and universities, to develop a better understanding by Upper Penninsulans of the importance of the travel industry.

Second, it is seeking to obtain the services, on a volunteer basis, of officers, directors and contact people in the various market areas of Upper Michigan in assisting field representatives to do their job. County and community leaders who are active in the organization can best help the association broaden its financial support on the grass-roots level, Slater believes.

"Only through full cooperation, from the state program through our association to the local level, will we ever obtain the highest benefits from state funds which are available for this work," he declared.

"We cannot use our promotional dollars like a shot from a scatter gun without the proper direction of our regional tourist association in carrying out the state program on the local community level."

Crystal Inn To Be Converted Into Senior Citizens' Home

The Upper Peninsula has a higher percentage of residents over 65 years old than any other part of the United States—yet the facilities to house them are extremely limited. Within a few years, according to reliable statistics, the rate will reach a proportion of one out of every five persons.

Something is being done about this problem in the move to convert the Crystal Inn at Crystal Falls into a modern home for senior citizens of the Upper Peninsula.

Open To All Faiths Joseph F. White, cashier of the First National Bank at Crystal Falls, is fund chairman for a campaign to provide a home which will accommodate 110 guests, with a separate department housing 30 men and women who will require nursing care by registered nurses. The home will be open to persons of all faiths in the Peninsula.

Total cost of converting the hotel into a home for senior citizens is estimated at $300,000 to $350,000. The minimum share for residents of the Upper Peninsula is $150,000 in cash or pledges over a three-year period. The Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society of Fargo, N. D., which will operate the home, will be responsible for the remainder of the money needed for the conversion program, provided the minimum local goal is reached. The society is also underwriting the cost of the fund campaign.

To Be Named Crystal Manor The Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society is a non-profit organization operating 80 institutions in 10 states. An advisory board of outstanding citizens of the Peninsula will be named to counsel with the management and serve as liaison between the home and the area it serves.

Crystal Manor, the name chosen for the new home, will conform fully with the requirements of the Michigan State Board of Health and with regulations of the state fire marshal. The accent throughout will be on cheerful, pleasant living where the guests will come and go as they please, have guests, entertain and be fully independent, White said. Yet close by will be 35 employees to serve each guest, backed by an organization which is foremost in its field, he added.

Rail Talks Resume In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—The railroads and five operating unions, heading the urgent request of President Kennedy, resume bargaining today in their long fight over work rules.

If no agreement is reached before June 12, only new legislation providing for either compulsory arbitration or government seizure of the railroads can block a nationwide rail strike.

'No Time To Be Lost' A three-man emergency board provided the basis for new negotiations in a report to the President last week.

Kennedy, in making the report public, said: "There is no time to be lost for completing their agreement in this critical dispute . . . the ultimate dependence must be upon their own efforts."

The key issue in the battle over what the railroads call "featherbedding" is the fate of 40,000 firemen on freight and yard trains.

A presidential commission last year proposed that the jobs of these firemen be eliminated—with 13,000 low seniority men being dismissed immediately and the other 27,000 jobs being eliminated as men retire, die or move to other jobs.

Financial Health

The financial health of the average Marquette County resident is better than it has been for some time. Evidence of this is seen in the amount of money he has accumulated in bank accounts in the past two years, in the increase in his savings in general and in the control he has maintained over his outstanding debt.

This buildup of savings has created an unprecedented pool of spending power that has favorable portents for the Marquette County population as a whole and for local business in particular. It could spark a big buying surge.

How soon will this power be unleashed and to what extent? These are the big unknowns. They depend upon consumer moods.

Details concerning the increase in individual savings in the local area and elsewhere in the country during the two-year period are contained in figures released by the Federal Reserve System and by other agencies.

As might be expected, the reports show that the amount a family sets aside as savings is directly related to its income. Among families with disposable incomes of $2,500, the ability to save is small. They put away about 2.0 per cent for the purpose.

At $5,000 net income, the rate of savings reaches 4.8 per cent. It rises steadily from this point, reaching more than 20 per cent in the top brackets, it is found.

In Marquette County, where the latest annual figures list net income per family at $3,565, the average rate of savings is 5.5 per cent, based on these findings. It comes to an estimated $306 a year per family. For the community as a whole, savings are running at the rate of $4,341,000 a year.

Throughout Marquette County, according to the Federal Reserve, time deposits in local banks, consisting chiefly of personal savings, rose from $25,828,000 in June 1960 to some $29,592,000 in June 1962. Other types of savings, such as government bonds and shares in savings and loan institutions, also have increased considerably.

Nationally, it is reported, a record $33 billion has been amassed by Americans in the two years, bringing their total savings to $313.8 billion.

Peninsula Perambulator

The pledge total for the new Loretto Catholic Central High School campaign reached the $310,475 mark with a pledge of $50,000 from the Sault Ste. Marie Knights of Columbus Council.

A budget of $300,787.55 was adopted at a special meeting of the Kingsford City Council. That's $15,684.42 less than last year's appropriations. Councilmen said they were reluctant to raise taxes, so decided to use money on hand in the bank to keep the rate down.

"Kangaroo Courts," one of the fun features of the Menominee County centennial celebration, have been inaugurated in three locations throughout the county. Sessions of such "courts" are being held in Menominee, Stephenson and Hermansville every Friday night.

John H. Quigley, 27, pleaded guilty in Escanaba Municipal Court to a charge of selling firecrackers to minors and was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs of $5 or serve 15 days in jail.

Marquette—A junior baseball club has been organized here under the name of the Marquette Juniors. They practice on the grounds near the Cathedral.

A paper is being circulated for subscription to the proposed new driving park, and the number of names already being put down convinces us that it will be a successful enterprise. It is designed to fit up a first class track with all the necessary appliances which, by affording a pleasant drive for owners of steady-going animals, will enable those who draw the lines over fast steppers to thus decide who owns the best trotter.

Best piece of news for the traveling public is that summer railroad travel between here and Chicago will go into effect the 25th of this month. Passengers will then be carried direct through, without the annoying delay of staying overnight at Escanaba, and will leave here at 7:25 a.m., arriving in Chicago the next morning. Leaving Chicago at night, they will arrive here at 6:40 the next evening. With elegant through cars promised on the North Western and no delays, traveling will be a pleasure rather than a bore.

Mr. Lyon has about finished the repairs at the Northwestern Hotel on the lake shore south of Superior St. and it will be open immediately after the arrival of the first boat. Everything looks as neat, clean and smiling as the heart can wish. He has expended about $15,000 on repairs and we believe that, during his administration, this will be the most popular public resort on the lake.

L. P. Crary, Esq., formerly foreman of The Mining Journal job printing department, has concluded to go it alone, all by himself. He will be located in the Adams Block, over the new post office. Len is a good printer, was a faithful employee and has none other than our best wishes.

Fishing has commenced in this locality, and the last few days quite a number of whitefish were caught with hook and line from the railroad pier, where the water is 15 to 20 feet deep. Dr. Taft landed quite a number of brook trout last Thursday "somewhere in the neighborhood."

William H. Green, for a long time master at the roundhouse, here, goes to L'Anse to become superintendent of the western division of the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon Ispheming—Dr. Hall the other day gave us a real treat in a ride after Capt. Johnson's Hambletonian stallion. The animal, though young, shows some remarkably good points, and some day will make a record for himself if his owner concludes to track him, as he is strong, neat and trim, with a firm, easy motion.

Messrs. Decker & Steele, at their yards here, have on hand a large stock of lumber and building material, which is being used up fast in the many new buildings in the course of construction. They are running their sawmill at Eagle Mills at full capacity and are turning out a large quantity of lumber which is shipped to many other points along the railroad.

The American Express Co. has established an office at this place in the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon Railroad depot and appointed J. V. Newman agent. This establishment is a public benefit.

The Ispheming Social Club gave a party last Friday evening, at which they entertained guests from Marquette and points up the road. Music and dancing made the time pass lively and everybody was happy.

Negaunce—For some time past considerable of the scare concerning smallpox has existed here, but the dread is rapidly being brought under control, and there now are only six cases. The city council passed an ordinance that all who have not been vaccinated must have this done, and appointed Dr. McKenzie, Dr. Bradley and Dr. Hirschman to attend to this matter. The latter has had charge of the cases.

We'll wager that more peddlers make Negaunce their headquarters than any other town around. They and their packs crowd every train going west.

We see that Ispheming has baseball on the brain and has got it bad. We wish it understood that we have some good players here and think we can organize a nine that will beat them and anyone in the county. We will soon give them a chance to try us.

The office of the Jackson House is undergoing improvement and the addition for sample room and sleeping apartments is up.

Marquette—The "Colonel Motion Picture" Co. will give an entertainment at the opera house Saturday under the auspices of and for the Morse Hose Co. A large collection of motion pictures will be shown, including the coronation of King Edward, the eruption of Mount Pelée, a Boston "horseless" fire department in action and Capt. Nisson shooting the Whirlpool Rapids. The entertainment comes well recommended.

D. B. Waldo, president of the Northern Normal, has accepted invitations to deliver high school commencement addresses at Manistique, Gladstone, Atlantic Mine, Champion and Humboldt.

Ispheming—During the storm yesterday the home of Ole Oien of the New York Location was struck by lightning, and Mrs. Oien and two children were rendered unconscious by the shock. The house was considerably damaged.

Baseball is practically at a standstill as far as the local team is concerned. The team has not been organized and no games have been scheduled. Everything appears to be waiting on the improvements to the Union Park diamond, which is said to be in unfit condition for games.

Negaunce—It is not generally known that barbers as well as soloemen are amenable to a special Sunday closing law. Complaints have been numerous lately that several of the craft have been in violation of the statute in question, and the barbers who keep within the law are planning to stir things up. The Sunday closing law was passed in 1888. It seems probable that a barber's union may result from the present agitation.

Marquette—It was announced yesterday by the board of review, which is holding its annual session in the city hall this week, that property valuations in this city of Marquette will be reduced 10 per cent this year.

Dr. Glen Blackburn has returned from Gladstone, where last night he delivered the high school commencement address.

The U. S. lighthouse tender Marigold was here yesterday to reset a buoy at the entrance to Presque Isle Harbor, which was moved out of position by ice a week ago. The vessel also loaded the equipment for the Coast Guard station at Munising, which had been stored here this winter, and will leave this morning for that port.

Ispheming—James Nardi has returned from Chicago, where he purchased new fixtures for his beer garden.

Robert Trembath was elected president of the Ispheming Hi-Y Club at the annual election of officers held Wednesday night.

Negaunce—Over 100 Negaunce youths are finding healthful recreation this summer by participating in diamond ball games being played every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at the fairgrounds. Large crowds are attending the contests.

It appears that by far the greater number of Negaunce residents are in no particular rush to change the present form of city government, judging from the number of names signed to petitions circulated here for the last several days.

Projects Started To Save State's Rare Warbler

Somewhere between Michigan and the far-off Bahamas Islands about 1,000 rare members of the songbird family winged their way northward this spring on an annual journey that covered nearly 1,500 miles.

Their destination: The east-central sector of this state's northern Lower Peninsula. Estimated time of arrival of the first contingent was around May 10, with latecomers still arriving. Their collective name: The Kirtland's warbler.

Found In Jack Pine

Highly regarded among ornithologists and bird watchers, this rare songbird might well have been named the Michigan warbler; it has never been found nesting in any other state.

Anyone bent on adding the Kirtland's warbler to his list of bird sightings in the United States will have to seek out dense, young stands of jack pine in the Northern Lower Peninsula's east-central area. For this is where the bird makes its home during the warm weather months.

Today's Special Story

Special Management Area

A big step will be taken by the U. S. Forest Service next month to make sure the Kirtland's warbler will not be evicted from its summer home.

Come June 1 ceremonies will be held at Mio to officially dedicate a 4,000-acre block of Huron National Forest lands in southeastern Oscoda County as a special management area for this likeable little bird.

To Stage Controlled Burns

Actually, the Forest Service's long-range program to preserve and provide more nesting habitat for Kirtland's warblers is already underway. Clear cuttings of merchantable jack pine were started several months ago within a 640-acre section of the area, located near Mack Lake.

Federal foresters plan to follow through on this work by staging heavy plant growth.

Sing With Gusto

During the nesting and incubation period males sing with gusto and persistently, often from perches where they can readily be seen. Most young birds are hatched between middle and late June.

Posing a major threat to the warbler's annual production is the brown-headed cowbird. The female cowbird keeps close tabs on the warbler's nest-building. When the work is done and the coast is clear, Mrs. Cowbird not only removes the warbler's eggs but slyly lays her own in the nest, covering up her crime and leaving the female Kirtland to incubate the eggs.

Average Life Span

Thus, many an unsuspecting warbler has found her efforts have gone for naught and, ironically, more cowbirds have been raised to increase the problem.

Like other small songbirds, the Kirtland's warbler is short-lived. Its average life span is only about two years. Consequently, two or three bad nesting years could be disastrous for this little bird whose population is already considered dangerously low.

Controlled Burns

Under natural conditions, the habitat of the Kirtland's warbler is produced only by forest fires. Ironically, Michigan's steady advances in effective fire suppression, so highly touted for saving other values, have worked against this rare bird.

Other blocks of jack pine have been selected within the Huron National Forest area for management under a five-year cutting cycle. Controlled burns and selective planting will be carried out where natural regeneration fails to meet the bird's nesting needs.

Cowbird Control?

Additional management measures on these lands might include cowbird control, the limited con-

There's going to be a pleasant sort of "homecoming" ceremony for several hundred Kirtland's warblers in Oscoda County shortly after they arrive from their winter retreats in the Bahamas Islands. On June 1 a 4,000-acre block of Huron National Forest lands will be dedicated near Mack Lake by the U. S. Forest Service to preserve another summering place for these rare little birds. The conservation department has already set aside three separate tracts of state-owned jackpine lands, totaling 11 square miles in Crawford, Ogemaw and Oscoda Counties, lands which are being managed first and foremost for Kirtland's warbler nesting habitat.

control of hardwoods through herbicide treatment and creation of small openings in dense stands.

Visits to the new Kirtland's warbler area will be regulated on a permit basis to allow the birds as much privacy as possible during their nesting season. Free permits will be available from the district U. S. Forest Service ranger or Michigan Conservation Department at Mio.

Four Special Areas

Next month's dedication will bring to four the number of special areas set aside in the northeastern Lower Peninsula to help this mite of a bird.

The conservation department, with the cooperation of the Michigan Audubon Society, in 1958 reserved three separate tracts of state-owned jack pine lands which are being managed for the Kirtland's warbler. The lands total 11 square miles in Au Sable State Forest, Crawford County; Thunder Bay River State Forest, Oscoda County; and Ogemaw State Forest, Ogemaw County.

Within these state-managed areas, the department has made special strip plantings on more than 800 acres and arranged cuttings by private operators on nearly 900 acres to lay the groundwork for new nesting places. Most of the trees planted were jack pine seedlings; lesser amounts of young red pine and white spruce were included. They will eventually take up the gap created when older jack pine grows out of the stage preferred by these choosy birds. Most jack pine stands serve as good nesting site for only about 10 years.

To allow for this rather rapid turnover in suitable habitat, the department has developed a 30-year rotation plan on 160-acre tracts.

A good deal of careful planning must go into balancing things out for this small songbird, but what is being done and planned is well worth it, as far as the conservation department and U. S. Forest Service are concerned. Their programs, believed to be the first undertaken in America for the welfare of an endangered songbird species, may well keep the Kirtland's warbler from going the way of the passenger pigeon into oblivion.

The solution of the problem is not one for legislation or treaty, but for voluntary action by the United States' interests in cooperation with their Canadian associates. Canada is the kind of country with which this kind of problem can be handled unselfishly in a spirit of mutually-enlightened self-interest.

Mail Carriers Armed With Dog Bombs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five hundred aerosol spray dog bombs will be given to San Francisco mail carriers to be used against dogs who attack them, a Post Office spokesman said.

The spray cans, about four inches long and shaped like lipsticks, are filled with a solution of mineral oil and oil of capsicum—an extract of cayenne pepper.

Nesting Sites Jealously Defended

Male warblers are first to arrive in Michigan each May and, in typical songbird fashion, they establish "territories" or nesting grounds which are jealously defended. They chase other Kirtland's warblers that fly near them and, at intervals, fill the air with the distinctive sound of their liquid, bubbling song.

Females begin returning to Michigan shortly after the first males arrive, and choose nesting territories staked out by their mates to be. Pre-nesting time lasts about two weeks, or until late May. Nests are made on the ground, usually within a few inches of a jack pine. Favorite spots are hollows rimmed by

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON Members of Congress are scared to ask for a raise in pay, and that is too bad. They need the extra dough, and perhaps if they got it they would stop chiseling Uncle Sam in such matters as the use of counterpart funds and flowers and gift-wrapping at the taxpayers' expense.

A special citizens' committee has recommended that the salaries of members of Congress be raised from $22,500 to $33,000 a year. The recommendation makes sense, because it costs more to live every year. But Congress is so ashamed of its record of extravagance in junkets abroad and in the construction of multimillion dollar office buildings with swimming pools that it hesitates to ask for an honest day's pay for an honest day's work.

Lap Of Luxury

It should be. In making itself comfortable, Congress throws the taxpayers' money around as if it were about to become obsolete. Quite aside from spending $600,000 a year in counterpart funds on foreign junkets and erecting an $82.9 million third House Office Building, it lavishes untold millions on the little things that make life more gracious in Capitol Hill.

Consider, for example, the happy lot of the wife of a member of Congress. She gets all the flowers she wants, free, from the tax-subsidized United States Botanic Gardens. She gets packages wrapped free by having her husband send them to the "folding room" of the House or Senate. She can buy a wide assortment of gifts and other articles at cost in the stationery room of the Capitol. The Taxpayers will pay a photographer to take her picture on the Capitol steps with visiting constituents.

Dad Has It Good Too

Meanwhile, hubby has organized his own little bureaucracy. There are now more than 7,000 persons on the combined staff of the House and Senate. Each is paid an average of $4,000 a month, and the total tab is more than $50 million a year. Sure, the workload is heavier than ever, but 7,000 remains quite a mob to administer to the professional needs of 435 representative and 100 senators.

It is the contention of Sen. Alchen J. Ellender (D., La.) that much of this fat is caused by Congress' preoccupation with creating and maintaining mysterious subcommittees. Ellender insists many of these subcommittees are useless, designed solely to create jobs for worthy constituents. For example, he points out that the Senate Judiciary Committee has 15 regular staff members, while its 14 subcommittees have a combined staff of 150. Every senator on the committee has a subcommittee of his very own.

Billions To Play With

But at least the facts and figures relating to this bureaucracy are a matter of detailed public record. No such accounting is made of the use by Congress of counterpart funds, the money in local currencies available in foreign countries through repayments on aid programs and sales of surplus commodities.

Uncle Sam's holdings in such funds total well over $4 billion, and members of Congress can use this money at will. A congressman can draw counterpart funds on his own say-so, so long as he has a letter of authorization from a committee chairman, and there is no restriction on the amount spent or how it is spent. Nor is there any auditing by the General Accounting Office (GAO) for the simple reason Congress won't furnish GAO with any figures.

Congress assumed a most righteous pose when it passed stringent new rules dealing with expense accounts of businessmen, but it still insists on a blank check for its own petty chiseling. If congressmen chose to turn honest, nobody would begrudge our senators and representatives a few extra dollars in the pay envelopes.

Mr. Pearson And Mr. Kennedy

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The general effect of the meeting at Hyannis Port between the Canadian prime minister and the United States President has been that of a good scrubbing and a cool shower after a muddy brawl. No doubt it takes two to start such a brawl, and a lot of explaining and counter-explaining would be possible. Both governments know that such brawls are intolerable.

The President went as far as proud governments ever go in acknowledging a fault when he joined with Mr. Pearson in stressing "the importance of each country showing regard for the view of the other where attitudes differ." The Canadian prime minister for his part scrubbed out the suspicious nationalism of his predecessor by his very presence at Hyannis Port. For Lester Pearson does not merely approve, after a lifetime of experience, he incarnates, the hope of building "a true community of the Atlantic peoples."

First-Quality Diplomats

Although he and the President promised to settle a number of practical matters, such as the nasty mess about continental defense, they agreed that "the two countries will inevitably have different views on international issues from time to time." It is all to the good that they should have differing views. Nothing could possibly be worse for Canadian-United States relations than that Canada would automatically agree with us.

In many ways, the greatest service that Canada has done the United States in this generation is to produce a crop of first-quality diplomats who have been able to give independent, expert and candid advice. Though on fundamentals they have always been with us, they have stood away from us enough to be free of our own prejudices and excitements. Mr. Pearson is himself one of these diplomats, and from them we have received the kind of intellectual and moral help which can come only from a true ally, never from a sycophant or a client or a satellite.

This is a time when the United States, with its global commitments, is very specially in need of the kind of wisdom and candor which Canada, pre-eminently among all our allies, can give us. The postwar structure of our foreign policy in Europe is profoundly shaken, and the problem of what to do and of what comes after is as much Canada's problem as our own. At the same time, the old isolationist pattern of hemispheric relations is dissolving in the Caribbean and South America, and we shall need greater Canadian participation in the hemispheric affairs and the good offices of Canada in persuading the Europeans and other countries to play their necessary part in this hemisphere.

Great Economic Penetration

It will be a mistake, however, if we concentrate our whole attention on foreign policy. There is a serious problem in the relations between Canada and the United States which is not referred to in the Hyannis Port communiqué. It broods over all our relations. It is the problem of the great United States economic penetration of Canadian industry. It should be said at once that the United States investment in Canadian industry is not sinister. Canada, like the United States in its own period of industrial development, has had to draw capital from abroad. The problem is primarily, perhaps, wholly, one of inducing the great United States interests in Canada to proceed with all deliberate speed to Canadianize the ownership and the direction and the operation of their companies.

It cannot make for the kind of good relations we need to have with Canada that a total of 32 per cent of the capital invested in manufacturing and in mining is controlled in the United States. In certain key industries, the control is even greater: rubber, 80 per cent; electrical machinery, 55 per cent; automobiles and parts, 96 per cent; electrical apparatus, 67 per cent; smelting and refining of non-ferrous ores, 66 per cent.

I have an impression from talking to certain Americans with interests in Canada that they are beginning to realize how undesirable and potentially dangerous is the excessive United States' control of Canadian industry. I hope nobody will do the thing which I remark. Nobody is talking of confiscation or nationalization. But the fact that more than half the capital of Canadian industry is controlled in the United States is a perpetual irritant.

The solution of the problem is not one for legislation or treaty, but for voluntary action by the United States' interests in cooperation with their Canadian associates. Canada is the kind of country with which this kind of problem can be handled unselfishly in a spirit of mutually-enlightened self-interest.

Commends Firemen

Dear Sir:

I think Chief Myers and the members of the Marquette Fire Department deserve a lot of commendation for their proficient handling of local fires, and the recent one in particular.

I had the opportunity to observe them in action, and I think everyone was impressed by their promptness, efficiency and good judgment that can mean the difference between life and death. Many times they are handicapped in their work by lack of cooperation by on-lookers or adverse weather conditions.

The police department also give their full cooperation during these emergencies, and the city is fortunate in having these departments as dedicated and efficient in their work.

Views Of Others

MAN'S BEST FRIEND?

An item in a New York Daily surely will become a souvenir among Southerners.

It tells of a riot among Brown University students over curtailment of social functions. The rioters, the item says, "finally were dispersed by police, who were using clubs and dogs."

A picture of a Brown student chased by a dog is just as deadly to world opinion, we admit, as one of a Birmingham (Ala.) freedom marcher under canine attack. By now, Russia probably believes the dog is the universal American policeman.—Detroit News.

Nine Area Students, 'Prof' Who Taught In City Honored At Tech Convocation Today

Nine Marquette area students were among the 299 Michigan Tech students honored for their scholastic achievement Monday morning at Tech's 11th annual honors convocation in Houghton today.

Dr. J. K. Gustafson, San Francisco, president of the convocation address and received an honorary doctor of engineering degree.

Students from this area honored were:

Warren L. Luoma, son of Warren Luoma, Route 1, Ishpeming, and Mrs. Warren Luoma, 319 E. Johnson St., Ishpeming, received senior class honors achieved by being in the upper five per cent of the class and maintaining at least a 3.3 average out of a possible 4.0.

William J. Bystrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville W. Bystrom, 338

Bluff St., Marquette, received membership into Chi Epsilon national honorary civil engineering fraternity.

Gordon E. Lyon, son of Gordon M. Lyon, 1029 Maple St., Negaunee, received junior class honors and 1961-62 dean's list honors.

James A. Dompierre, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Dompierre, 1008 Pine St., Negaunee, received junior class honors.

Dale A. Hintsala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arne L. Hintsala, Route 1, Negaunee, was honored as a member of Chi Epsilon.

Douglas J. Kivisto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eino Kivisto, Route 1, Negaunee, was honored as a member of Tau Beta Pi society recognizing high achievement in scholarship and leadership in engineering.

Martin E. Isaacson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilho W. Isaacson, 355

Copper St., Negaunee, received honors as a member of Eta Kappa Nu honorary electrical engineering fraternity.

Dennis W. Jarvi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vieko A. Jarvi, Route 1, Negaunee, received the Detroit News Medal in Air Force ROTC presentations.

Lester E. Hendrickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Hendrickson, Republic, received honors as a member of Tau Beta Pi.

Dr. Wilbur M. Haas, associate professor of civil engineering at Tech, and C. Ernest Kemp, assistant professor of geology at the Sault Ste. Marie Branch, also were honored.

Distinguished Teacher

Kemp was presented the 1963 distinguished teacher award and Haas received the faculty research citation. The citations were presented by Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, president.

Dr. Van Pelt cited Kemp for his "effective teaching, inspirational leadership, active contact with two major fields of scientific endeavor, his integrity as a teacher and his interest in students as individuals."

A graduate of Tech, Kemp has been on the Sault Branch faculty since 1946.

Research Leadership

Haas was cited for demonstrated leadership in the field of research. He has been particularly active for several years in research involving frost action on soils, and has recently been named director of a new 18-month study of frost action in highway base and subbase materials. The project will be conducted under a $65,000 contract awarded to Tech under the National Cooperative Highway Research Program.

The teacher award was founded in 1950 as the Faculty Association Distinguished Teacher Award. In 1955 Stanley V. Weed, an alumnus of the college, endowed the Tech Foundation with certain securities, and directed that the income be used each year as a distinguished teacher award.

The faculty research citation was established in 1953 as a means of publicly recognizing faculty members for outstanding research efforts. Recipients are selected by the faculty research committee.

Kemp, born in Bucharest, Rumania, of American parents, served the college as a flight and ground school instructor during World War II, and later was a pilot for the China National Aviation Corp.

Insurance Unit In Area Elects Slate

Eldred Harris, Ishpeming, was elected president of the Marquette-Alger County Life Underwriters' Association, at the group's recent session.

Other officers who will serve during 1963-64 are:

Robert E. Moore, Marquette, vice president; Larry Viall, Ishpeming, secretary; Wilho Partanen, Negaunee; treasurer; Stanley Elder, Marquette, national committee; Paul Goodman, Ishpeming, education chairman; Milo Underhill, Marquette, national quality award chairman; Patrick Lowney, Marquette, program chairman; Viall and Partanen, membership co-chairmen; and Moore, publicity chairman.

Bids Called On $750,000 Tech Building

HOUGHTON — The Michigan Legislature has approved plans for the new $750,000 classroom-laboratory building at Michigan Tech's Sault Ste. Marie Branch, and construction bids will be called for in approximately six weeks.

Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, president of Tech, said bids will be opened and contracts let about mid-July and construction will start as soon as possible thereafter, possibly by Aug. 1.

The building, housing the departments of chemistry, physics and mathematics, will replace a structure destroyed by fire in April 1962. It will be the first new construction on the Sault campus since the branch was established in 1946 on the former site of Ft. Brady.

Demonstration Hall

In 1962 the Legislature appropriated $250,000 for preliminary construction, contingent upon subsequent approval of building plans. In its recent action, the Legislature approved the plans, thus releasing the original appropriation, and appropriated final construction funds of $500,000 for fiscal 1963-64.

One of the outstanding features of the two-story structure will be a hexagonal science lecture-demonstration hall with a seating ca-capacity of 300. It will be used for classes, demonstrations, lectures and convocations.

The building will also include seven classrooms, two major chemistry laboratories, two major physics laboratories and adequate space for supplies and equipment. In addition, several small specialized laboratories will be provided. It was designed by G. Arntzen Architect & Co., Escanaba.

Only land left to the French in North America are the small islands of Miquelon and St. Pierre, about 10 miles south of Newfoundland.

Taught In Marquette

Since beginning his teaching career, he has maintained active contacts with geology and mining through consulting work during summer months. He has been closely identified with explorations for uranium ores in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and the Algoma District of Ontario, and has conducted classes in prospecting on the Sault Campus for the past two years.

For the past three summers he has taught geology at Northern Michigan University in Marquette in earth sciences programs sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Kemp is married and the father of four children. He is active in many campus and civic affairs, as well as several professional organi-

In Army Research Units

Since 1956 he has served as a soils engineering consultant and directed contract research for U. S. Army research groups at the Keweenaw Field Station, located at the Houghton Memorial Airport.

As a result of this association, he has been asked to fill several important committee posts with the Highway Research Board and he has produced several technical reports on frost action in soils.

Another result has been the integration of these research projects into the graduate program of the college. A number of graduate theses and senior research papers have been written based on projects at the Keweenaw Field Station, and the interest created has influenced many of seniors to go on to graduate study.

Conservatives Bid To Draft Goldwater

HOLT, Mich. (AP) — A movement to draft Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination won the support of the newly-formed Conservative Federation of Michigan Saturday.

The group, which claims a membership of 1,200 now and a goal of 20,000 before the end of the year, held its first convention here.

The resolution backing Goldwater for the nomination was adopted by a unanimous voice vote of some 120 members at the convention.

"There just isn't any doubt that most of our members look upon Goldwater as the great hope for the American future," said Arthur Brandt Jr., of Birmingham, who was elected president of the Federation along with other officers and directors.

Criticizes Kennedy

Brandt said in a statement that Goldwater exemplified the conservative philosophy of government.

The group is expected to attempt to line up Goldwater supporters among the Michigan delegates to the Republican National Convention next year.

Rep. August Johansen, R-Mich., criticized President Kennedy for recent actions in the Cuban crisis and for sending troops into Alabama in connection with racial troubles there.

He told the convention that for a few brief days last October it appeared as if the U.S. were taking a stand against Communist actions in Cuba.

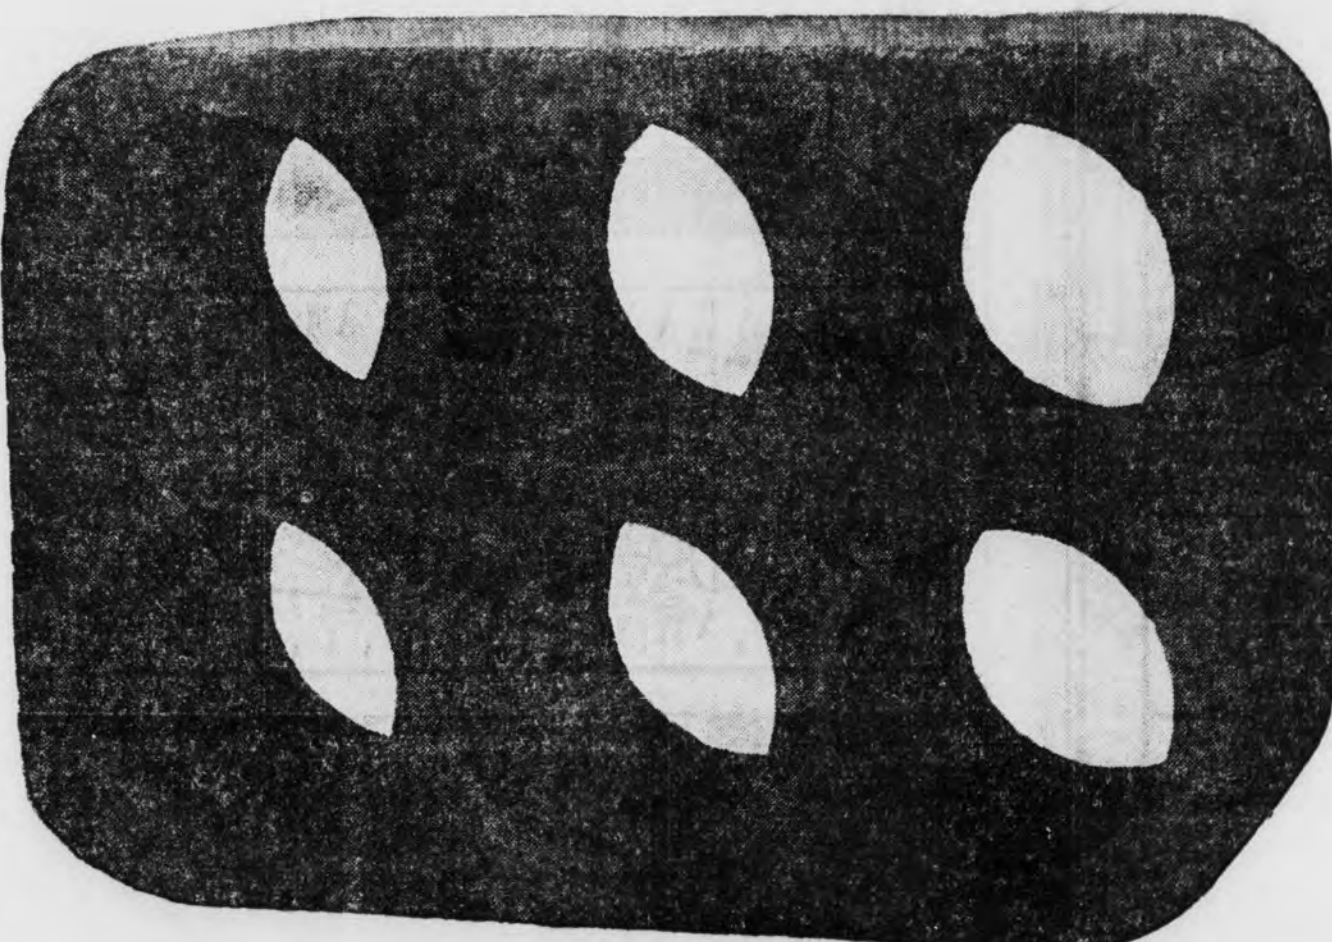

Panel Discussion

"But this firm answer quickly faded out," he declared, "with the announced willingness to give a non-invasion pledge, with abandonment of the demand for on-site inspection, and with the premature lifting of the naval quarantine."

At a panel discussion James Barrett of Birmingham told the convention that it was important to gain control of the party machinery at county conventions as a first step toward getting Conservative candidates nominated for office.

Officers

Officers elected besides Brandt were John Clark, Ann Arbor; Gerald Spencer, Flint, and Mrs. Mary Streit, Detroit, vice-presidents; Mrs. H. A. Burdick, Grand Rapids, secretary; and Hubert Bates, Lansing, treasurer. More than 50 directors also were named.

Michigan makes it... Bell Telephone buys it

What is it? Something you may never see because it's used only under the ground.

Around 200 duct miles of this new concrete conduit—made in Michigan—will be installed this year by Michigan Bell to carry underground telephone cables.

This is just one of Michigan's many diversified products and services used by the Bell Telephone System. Some $58,000,000 worth of Michigan products and services were bought last year by Michigan Bell and Western Electric Company, the Bell System's manufacturing and supply unit.

Purchases were made from more than 1,500 suppliers, mostly small businesses, in some 160 communities throughout the state.

These Michigan-made products and services help us furnish you with the finest telephone service possible. And the dollars we spend on these items each year help provide jobs for Michigan workers and add purchasing power to the economy of our state.

Dear Abby....

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We've been married 16 years. For the past 15 years we have had a camping vacation every summer. I've camped while pregnant, and with children of all ages. We have four children now. The youngest is 2 and the oldest is 15. Our children would like to go to Disneyland. I don't care where we go as long as I don't have to sleep in a tent and go without a real bath for two weeks. What can I do? My husband claims this is the only way we can afford to go. He's now planning to buy another tent, which will cost $110, plus other camping equipment. We already have enough to outfit the Boy Scouts of America. He earns over $12,000 a year.

but not about your husband. What's bugging YOU?

DEAR ABBY: My sister is over 16 years old. She received a letter from a boy she corresponds with. My mother steamed open the envelope, read the letter and revealed it. She is proud of herself for doing it, although she didn't find what she was looking for. Sis and I know that parents have charge over their children's mail until they are 21, but do you think my mother should have read it secretly?

THE OTHER DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: Absolutely not! Parents can preach truthfulness, honesty and integrity from now until dooms-

SERVED MY CAMPING TIME
DEAR SERVED: Compromise. Camp near a nice, modern motel and YOU check in while your husband enjoys the wide open spaces. (Are you sure that before you married him, you never told him you'd "live in a tent"?)

DEAR ABBY: I had the girls over for bridge last evening. Two of them left together and the third one stayed a little longer. My husband was sitting in the den reading the newspaper. When it came time for her to go, she said she wanted to call a taxi. My husband said HE would drive her home. She said absolutely not, she wanted to take a taxi. I got to thinking, WHY wouldn't she let my husband drive her home? Should I worry?

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: Yes --

Evenson-Johnson

Miss Karen Rae Evenson, Escanaba, became the bride of Bradley Avey Johnson, Marquette, at 3:30 p. m., May 11, in the Bethany Lutheran Church of Escanaba.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Alice Evenson, Escanaba, and Gordon Evenson, St. Paul, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson, Marquette.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Waldred E. Nelson before an altar banked with white majestic daisies. Candelabra flanked the chancel.

Don Aronson was organist, and Conrad Beck sang three numbers: "Because," "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her uncle, Charles Smith, Madison, Wis., the bride wore a gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace, styled with pearl-and-sequin-trimmed bodice with square-cut neckline.

The bride graduated from Escanaba Senior High School in 1960 and is now a senior at Augustana Hospital School of Nursing in Chicago. She will graduate from that school in September.

The groom is a 1958 graduate of Graveraet High School, served with the U. S. Army for three years and is now a student at Northern.

'Corner Staging' Among Unique Features Of Six Plays Slated At NMU

The six one-act plays to be presented at Northern Michigan University beginning tomorrow night and continuing through Thursday evening will have four distinguishing characteristics, according to Dr. James L. Rapport of the NMU Speech Department.

Among unique features are their staging, presentation and directing, as well as the experimentation involved.

The plays, according to Dr. Rapport, will be presented on a stage that is triangular in concept. This is known as "corner staging," a new and effective method of theatrical presentation.

Four of the plays, "The Sandbox," "The Informer," "Impromptu," and "The Leader," are from the Theatre of the Absurd. "Considered anti-heroic and unconventional, the plays illustrate the fact that it's impossible to communicate intelligently in our complex civilization," he said.

The final night will feature the works of Brecht, Mosel, Albe and Coward.

The public is invited to attend the plays, which will begin at 8:15 p. m. in Lee Hall Ballroom. There will be no admission charge.

Broadway Brought To Life On Kaufman Stage

By BETTY LOU KUTZMAN Of The Journal Staff

Despite opening to a disappointingly small and cool house, the cast of Giteche Gumee Gaieties last night proved that, given a goal, amateurs can make Broadway come alive — even in a setting as far removed from the Great White Way as Marquette.

Actually, the cast's goal is twofold — to raise money for various worthy causes (Bay Cliff Health Camp, music scholarships and future theatrical productions) and, not the least, to have a ball. The first goal is a good enough reason for everyone to see the show, and the second, perhaps even more so, because it's fun to watch someone having fun.

And that the Gaieties boys and girls did — in a colorful revue that, as its Hollywood director, Michael Pober, quite honestly said, "offers something for everyone."

Accent In 2 Areas

The accent is on choreography and costuming; the former is very well done and the latter is gorgeous. If the show has any major drawback, it's probably the minimum of song. Those featured were without exception high points in the revue: a pair of numbers by Jack Wicklund; "I Enjoy Being a Girl" by Jackie Peters; "Mack the Knife" by Frank Wareham, and a takeoff on Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy by Jackie Peters and Howard Treado Jr.

But the minor shortcoming of too few tunes was offset by the glamor girls and some outstanding dances. Among the best were a Charleston number, a blues production, a rhythmic duet, a some-

KNEE SOCKS 'IN'

Knee socks and walking shoes, as English as heavy tweed and as rustic as berry patches, are invading the city. Two American designers, Bill Blass and David Kidd, encourage their use with woolen suits.

Cable-stitched knee highs in classic stripes, camels, and black sport striped cuffs. Mohairs in brilliant yellow, blue-green or red are combined with less colorful clothes. Chalmere socks have an English rib. There are also tweed knee-highs for city streets.

MUNISING — Mr. and Mrs. Ben Robare of Munising celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently by attending a High Mass of thanksgiving in Sacred Heart Church, requested by their sons, Russell and Jack, and offered by the Rev. Emil Emil Beyer, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robare were married in Garden 50 years ago. The Rev. Fr. LeGalvin officiated at the ceremony.

For the anniversary observance, Mrs. Robare wore a rose and gold print dress with gold accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Her brother, Albie Thibault, acted as best man, replacing Gordon Robare, who served in that capacity 50 years ago. (Photo by Mary Jayne Hallifax.)

Brothers, Sister Reunited In Marquette

Two Marquette men and their sister from England are together again for the first time in 62 years. Gladys Bullock Sweet arrived here from Cornwall last week to visit her brothers, James Bullock Sr. (left above), 609 W. Washington St., and Lot Bullock 380 Algee St., and their families. The last time the three were together was in 1901, the year James left England for the United States. Lot came to this country in 1911. In the intervening years, Mrs. Sweet had seen Jim in 1919, when he returned to England to visit his family, and had seen Lot when he made a trip to Cornwall in 1958. The happy smiles on the faces of the three (in photo above) proves they are delighted at being reunited at one time in Marquette. Mrs. Sweet, a widow whose daughter and three sons live in England, will remain here until September. (Mining Journal photo).

That's what parents often say when told about the decline in our children's physical fitness. To be sure, parents can't assume full responsibility for this problem. But parents should see to it that their children get proper health care—and that physical fitness isn't neglected in schools.

Urge your local school officials to provide a physical education program that calls for at least 15 minutes of vigorous activity every day for all girls and boys. A basic program has been developed that is improving the fitness of our children. It is easy to administer in any school. It costs little to get it started. It can improve any child's physical fitness. If you'd like to know more about this program, write to President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

New Sawyer School Has 610 Pupils

GWINN — The new K. I. Sawyer Elementary School, named in honor of the Air Force base, was built at a cost of $458,700 excluding equipment and plan preparation. The 16 classrooms each have an area of 840 square feet and were constructed at a cost of $13.31 per square foot.

An unusual feature of the building is the heated floor running beneath the two kindergarten rooms. All classrooms except three have adjoining toilet facilities.

Already Overcrowded

Although the school has been in session only since March, rapid growth of the Air Force base has resulted in plans for an 11-room addition. Built for 540 pupils, the building now has an enrollment of 610.

According to William Garrett, superintendent of Gwinn schools, the Sawyer school was designed to minimize maintenance costs and to provide maximum safety from fire. Drapes are of a fiberglass material that is resistant to abrasion and fire, will not fade and are easily cleaned.

Utility Services Underground

All walls are of concrete block construction; all ceilings are of acoustical tile; all floors are covered with asphalt tile; vestibules, shower rooms, toilet rooms and kitchen are of ceramic and quarry tile.

As a safety feature, all utility services to the building have been placed under ground.

The multi-purpose room is designed for use in physical education, sports, dramatic programs and as a cafeteria. A large stage with complex light controls overlooks the room. Beneath the stage are boys' and girls' shower rooms.

Cafeteria Space For 180

The cafeteria will accommodate 180 pupils at one sitting. The kitchen, however, was enlarged to permit preparation of 500 to 600 meals at a time.

The new building includes a clinic, an elementary library and administrative offices.

Third Elementary School In Gwinn District To Be Dedicated Thursday

GWINN — The third of Gwinn's modern elementary schools will be dedicated in ceremonies at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base Tuesday evening.

Dr. Edward Pfau, dean of education at Northern Michigan University, will be the featured speaker at the dedication program, which will begin at 8. The building will be open for public inspection at 7 p. m.

The new school, designated K. I. Sawyer Elementary School, is one of two schools at the Air Force base. It was first used by classes March 25, when Principal Thomas Moss moved the afternoon session of the McDonald School into the new building. For many children the date marked the first full day of classes they ever experienced because of previous split shift scheduling.

Russell Westman, president of the Gwinn Board of Education, will accept the building from Architect Edward Larson during the ceremony. Platform guests will be introduced by Superintendent of Schools William Garrett.

Col. Daniel McLean, commander of Sawyer AFB, will appear on the program to present observations of public education from the point of view of the military. Moss urges all persons interested in public education to attend the dedication. He has sent invitations to all parents of children within his school and to teachers within the Gwinn system.

Invocation and benediction will be delivered by Lt. Col. Boleslaus Karpowicz and Capt. Jimmie Baggett, Sawyer chaplains.

First officers to serve the Parent-Teacher Association of the new school will be T/Sgt. Lindsay Stephens, president; Sgt. Norris Shane, vice president; Mrs. Margie Lytle, secretary, and Mrs. Ann Varn, treasurer. The officers were inducted at a meeting May 14.

Faul Stars In First Major League Start; Bruton Paces Tigers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manager Bob Scheffing has another starter in his pitching rotation today after watching rookie Bill Faul hurl a three-hitter to give the Detroit Tigers a 5-1 victory over the Washington Senators Sunday.

Faul making his first start as a major leaguer, had a one-hit shutout going into the ninth inning.

Spotted Shutout The Nats spoiled his shutout as they put together a walk, a single by Jim King, and a fielder's choice for their only run. Marv Breeding also got a single in the ninth before Faul retired the side.

But the 23-year-old Faul, signed from the University of Cincinnati, still gave Scheffing a lot to smile about as he turned in one of the best pitching performances by a Bengal hurler this season.

Crossfire Effective He walked four, struck out six and had the Senators backing away from his crossfire all afternoon.

When he heard that Faul had taken a nap just before game time, Washington manager Mickey Vernon said, "they should have let him dream."

Dodger Lefties Pace Drive Toward First

In a drive triggered and powered by golden-armed Sandy Koufax and sustained by star finisher Ron Perranoski, the Los Angeles Dodgers have left-handed their way to within one length of the lead in the National League race.

Masterful pitching by the two southpaws paced the Dodgers to a doubleheader sweep Sunday over the New York Mets. Koufax fired a two-hitter for a 1-0 triumph in the opener and Perranoski registered seven scoreless innings of relief in winning the second game 4-2 on Frank Howard's two-run homer in the 13th.

The twin victories made it six straight for the Dodgers, who have won nine of their last 10 and 11 of 13 in a push that leaves them just one game behind San Francisco's first-place Giants.

The Giants salvaged a doubleheader split with Philadelphia when Felipe Alou homered with one out in the ninth for a 6-5 second game decision. Cal McLish blanked San Francisco 3-0 on five hits in the first game.

Elsewhere in the NL—the Milwaukee Braves coasted to an 8-2 romp over Chicago behind old master Warren Spahn after being sent out in the ninth for a 6-5 second game decision. Cal McLish blanked San Francisco 3-0 on five hits in the first game.

Alou won for the Giants when he tagged Ryne Bell with one out in the last of the ninth. The Phils had drawn even in the top of the inning with Jim Lemon's pinch double driving in the tying run. Bob Bolin won in relief.

McLish handed the Giants their second straight shutout in the opener. Doubles by Tony Taylor, Tony Gonzalez and Don Demeter gave Philadelphia two runs in the first inning against loser Jack Fisher.

Spahn was touched for 11 Cub hits, including Jim Schaffer's homer, but still won his sixth of the year and the 333rd of his marvelous career. Eddie Mathews had a homer and three runs batted in for Milwaukee.

The Cubs racked Lew Burdette for three runs on four hits and a walk in the opening inning of the first game and Ellsworth made the lead stand up. Hank Aaron delivered the Milwaukee runs, clinching his 13th homer with one out in the eighth.

Lynch and Robinson batted in three runs each for the Reds, who clinched it against the Cardinals with a five-run sixth. Joe Nuxhall went all the way for Cincinnati, lasting out a 15-hit St. Louis barrage. Bob Gibson yielded all 10 Cincinnati runs.

Mud No Problem As Fairfield Ends Golf Win Drouth

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "I like this red mud," Don Fairfield said Sunday just after he had ended a three-year drought of golf victories with a one-stroke triumph over Julius Boros at Quail Creek Country Club's muggy 7,054-yard course for the Oklahoma City Open title.

Fairfield battled in an intermittent light rain to a 3-under-par closing round 69 and a 72-hole total of 280. A thundershower Sunday morning delayed play for about 45 minutes and the area into bright red, sticky mud.

But the weather conditions didn't bother the 33-year-old Fairfield as he zeroed in on the 280-total he predicted Saturday it would take to win the tournament.

He had to turn back first one challenger then another to grab the $5,300 check, his biggest of the year.

At various times during the day, Bob Rosburg, host pro Ernie Vossler, George Bayer, Don Finsterwald and Miller Barber pulled even.

Miss Wright led from the start in claiming the $1,250 prize money here.

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Leave it to Otto Preminger to enliven the social scene with a swinging capitalist affair for a couple of Communists.

The producer tossed an elegant party for Hollywood's smart set on the roof of the Beverly Hilton. The guest of honor: Ivan Piriev, president of the Soviet filmmakers association, and Lev Julidjanov, a prominent Russian director.

Elegant Meal
As an incidental matter, the party also saluted the end of filming of Preminger's latest movie, "The Cardinal," which was spelled out in carved ice that adorned the hors d'oeuvre table.

The Russians should have much to tell their fellow workers when they get back to Moscow. The meal was elegant, from the traditional Polynesian appetizers with cocktails to the dessert of giant strawberries, served with side dishes of sour cream and brown sugar.

Tribal Customs Of Hollywood
The Russians seemed intrigued by the tribal customs of the Hollywood natives. They had been invited here as part of a Preminger people-to-people program; he had responded after having been the guest of Soviet film makers in Moscow.

Piriev, who occupies the curious position as producer and worker in the Soviet industry, commented through an interpreter that he found Hollywood film making much like that in his country—a bit bigger crews, perhaps.

He added that he and his comrades had seen and been impressed by "Judgement at Nuremberg," "Lawrence of Arabia" and "How the West Was Won" during their visit here. He liked the Cinerama technique in the latter and added predictably that the Soviet Union has its own Cinerama process.

American hits in the Soviet Union? He mentioned "Roman Holiday," "Lili," "Marty" and to a lesser extent, "War and Peace," an American-Italian production. He said that the Russians are going ahead with their own, definitive "War and Peace," which will run four hours.

Cooper Space Tale Study In Contrasts

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper's space tale of his whirlwind world tour is a study in contrasts.

He saw the bamboo-curtained heart of Red China. He nearly saw his own home, hidden by trees, in Houston, Tex.

He saw things as colossal as the Himalayas, and things as puny as houses in India, trucks, a boat, a train.

He awoke startled from his space sleep, forgetting for a moment where he was. Yet he had the greatest presence of mind in flying his spacecraft back to earth through the roasting and dangerous moments of re-entry.

39 At Base Get Regular USAF Offer

Regular Air Force officer appointments have been offered to 39 men in the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC) at K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

A total of 5,274 Air Force officers was on the list released by USAF headquarters. Over 13,000 officers were considered for the regular appointments.

The 39 bomb wing officers all have between two and six years of promotion list service. They were picked by the headquarters USAF central selection boards.

According to USAF, all those with less than three years of active commissioned service on the date of the appointment will be given the regular grade of second lieutenant. All others will be appointed first lieutenants.

26 In Bomb Squadron
Of the wing's selections, 10 are captains and the rest currently hold the grade of first lieutenant. Twenty-six of those offered regular appointment are in the 64th Bombardment Squadron, 11 in the 46th Air Refueling Squadron and two in the 410th Headquarters Squadron Section.

The list follows:
Captains—Norbert L. Budzinski, Alan S. Michael, Paul R. Schmidt, Joseph K. Stapleton and Jack R. Effelmann, all of the 64th Bombardment Squadron; Benjamin W. Carde Jr., James H. Green, Kent M. Robinson and Edward J. Survil, all of the 46th Air Refueling Squadron, and Everett S. Stacy, formerly in the headquarters squadron section, but recently reassigned to another unit.

Writer Plans TV Drama

NEW YORK (AP)—It was certainly dramatic last night on NBC, the attraction being a bit of overacted nonsense called "The Legend of Lilah Clare."

A shy, young girl (Tuesday Weld) named Elsie Brinkmann from Minnesota, catches the eye of a theatrical agent because she looks exactly like a long-dead film femme fatale ("monster, demon, witch-ravishing") named Lilah Clare.

If everybody had played the script tongue-in-cheek, it would have been an acceptable Hollywood satire—and funnier than "Mister Ed."

Tuesday Weld surely is a beautiful little girl, though.

Spare Trip
Radio, as it turned out, was the very best way to follow the Cooper journey in space from the moment the rocket shot out of sight. But a lot of us kept glued to television hoping vainly to see live television pictures of the world below the astronaut.

Picking the network which provided the "best" coverage was rather like choosing the color of a dress, a matter of personal taste. One was about as good as the other, which was generally excellent.

I found Merrill Mueller's running commentary on NBC television to be my favorite—his explanations were clear and he avoided Cape Canaveral jargon—and I also preferred John Chancellor's calm and precise reports on NBC's radio network.

Truce
A truce apparently has been declared between the producers of "Route 66" and its former star, George Maharis, out of the show since November when he had a relapse after hepatitis. Maharis will appear, as a singer, on the June 16 Ed Sullivan Show—an appearance postponed from December, when the "Route 66" people declared that if Maharis was well enough to sing on the Sullivan show, he was well enough to return to his acting job.

CHANGING DIPPER
The Big Dipper today, astronomers have discovered, is a little wider at the top than on the bottom of the cup as compared to about 50,000 B.C., when the opening was narrower than the bottom. Astronomers predict that, in 50,000 A.D., it will hardly look like a dipper any more.

State Winter Tourist Travel Hits New High

Winter tourist travel in Michigan reached record levels during the recently-completed 1962-63 season, according to survey results announced today by the Michigan Tourist Council.

An average increase of 10-15 per cent in winter recreational business was reported by chambers of commerce participating in the council's survey, said William T. McGraw, council director.

"While there were variations among communities, almost all chambers indicated substantial increases over the 1961-62 winter, which had been the state's best winter travel season on record," McGraw said.

Michigan's 86 ski areas—most in the nation—led the upswing in winter tourist business, the survey showed. Ski resorts participating in the survey reported an average increase of 22 per cent in patronage over the previous year.

Significance Noted
"A happy combination of good snowfall, new and improved winter sports facilities and increased promotion of the state's winter recreational advantages produced the banner season," he said. "This increase is especially significant because expansion of autumn and winter tourist business offers a tremendous economic potential for the state, including employment opportunities for thousands of persons."

It is estimated that some 200,000 skiers alone spend approximately $20 million on their sport in Michigan each year—not including expenditures for equipment and clothing.

"This figure may be quite conservative because it involves an average season-long expenditure of only $100 per skier for transportation, food, lodging and other expenses," McGraw said. "Equipment and apparel purchases would boost this total considerably."

The growth in winter recreational travel last season was reflected in State Highway Department studies which showed an increase of some eight per cent in statewide traffic volumes during January and February 1963, over the same months last year.

Various Factors Cited
Among factors cited by the tourist council for the upsurge in winter tourist business were:

The growing popularity of mid-week skiing "package plans" that offer accommodations and facilities at reduced rates.

The increasing trend toward more people taking winter vacations in places of— or in addition to—the traditional summer trip.

Ease of winter travel on Michigan's new interstate freeways, and other well-maintained highways.

Development of more-complete winter resorts, including meals, lodging and social activities close to the ski slopes.

Increased promotional activities by resorts and communities, as well as by regional tourist associations and the state tourist council.

Sipes, David E. Sladovnik, William J. Storing Jr., Jimmy Thalacker and Edward Weber, all of the bomb squadron; Raymond C. Croft, John L. Curry Jr., William K. Hayes, Ernst A. Krusack, Michael W. Malone, Gerald S. Miller and Jerry L. Rundt, all in the tanker outfit.

The single lieutenant from the headquarters squadron section offered the regular appointment was Raymond H. Lepoutre.
