Negroes To Fight School Expulsions In Federal Court

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Negro leaders say they will go to federal court in efforts to void a Birmingham school board order to expel or suspend more than 1,000 Negro pupils who demonstrated against segregation.

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Racial unrest intensified here today as Negro shoppers began a boycott of Greensboro business establishments operated by white merchants. Police arrested 420 demonstrators here and in Durham Monday.

day was not unexpected, and Negro leaders said they planned to fight the move only by legal means.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said on his return from Atlanta, "We will not call for a mass walkout or boycott of the schools, nor will we call for a renewal of demonstrations at this point."

After a meeting with other integration leaders, King said, "We will not seek to correct an unwise act by moving hastily into another unwise act."

The decision by the Negro leaders saved a shaky racial agreement which had been threatened by the school board's handling of the dispute.

Court Order Halts Illegal Ford Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Members of Local 588 of the United Auto Workers were back on the job today after a court order ended a nine-day wildcat strike at the Ford Motor Co. stamping plant in suburban Chicago Heights.

The strike of 3,700 UAW workers, which started over health and safety grievances, had threatened to idle 40,000 production workers in Ford plants in 11 states. The Chicago Heights plant manufactures body panels for assembly plants.

Dougherty's order confirmed the company's contention and a finding by Harry Platt, a permanent referee under the UAW-Ford work contract, that the walkout on May 11 over the grievances was a wildcat strike.

Platt said the strike was in "clear violation" of the existing UAW-Ford work contract.

Platt's finding ordered Local 588, its officers and members to end the strike immediately, withdraw picket lines and cease encouraging or permitting any employees to refrain from working or to strike.

The striking UAW members had voted earlier Monday to ignore a Ford threat of mass dismissal.

Yet "it is not easy to understand the identity of the outsider," the report conceded.

The commission, headed by the Rev. Dr. Robert Beach Cunninghamham, of New York, recommended steps for expanding the church's ministry beyond the parish to focus it increasingly on "the outsider."

Ford-Canton Bill Signed By Governor

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney, ignoring Democratic protests, today signed the controversial Ford-Canton strike benefits bill into law.

Romney's action came after he received information concerning the so-called "negative balances" of the State Unemployment Compensation Fund from a three-man House committee composed solely of Democrats.

"The figures have no relevance to the legislation," the Governor stated.

U.S., Europe Near Tariff Agreement

GENEVA (AP) — U.S. and Common Market delegates said today they had reached virtual agreement on how to cut trade barriers in the Western world. A mood of optimism soared over the tariff conference which had been on the verge of failure.

The American delegation gave much of the credit to West German Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard who reportedly has been sticking up for American ideas in arguments with his Common Market partners.

A U.S. source said Washington has agreed to the European demand that some special rule be adopted for reducing American tariffs which are, in general, higher than European ones.

Differences Small "So the differences between us now are small," said French Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing.

There was hope the conference, which began Thursday, would end today with adoption of a system of tariff negotiations by the conference of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Reports circulated in Rome today that Pope John XXIII had suffered a setback in his illness during the night.

Loyalists Crush Revolt In Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Loyal troops today crushed a former army colonel's second attempt in 15 months to overthrow Turkey's government.

Radio Ankara announced the proclamation of martial law in three cities — Ankara, Istanbul and Izmir.

The revolt, headed by ex-Col. Talat Aydemir, lasted less than 12 hours. Among forces backing him were cadets of the war college, Turkey's West Point.

10 Arrested Radio Ankara announced Aydemir and 10 other top insurgents were arrested. They are expected to be tried shortly.

Seven persons were reported killed and 23 wounded during fighting in the capital. Most of them fell when government forces attacked cadets who defied an ultimatum to return to their barracks and surrender.

Gen. Cevdet Sunay, chief of staff of the Turkish armed forces, said in a broadcast shortly after dawn, "A treacherous attempt by a small group to seize power has been completely crushed."

Agreement Near On Nuclear Force

OTTAWA (AP) — Statesmen of the 15 Atlantic pact powers gathered in Ottawa today to give formal approval to a compromise formula approved by President Charles de Gaulle permitting the formation of an allied nuclear force.

Delegates of France and several other countries said the formula would be set forth in the final communiqué of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's spring meeting of foreign and defense ministers. The three-day meeting opens Wednesday.

Nameless The formula leaves the force nameless and without a command structure of its own. The French said they would block the project if it was portrayed as something new, or extraordinary, or implying fresh commitments.

The conference communiqué reportedly will say that: 1. Britain is assigning her entire 180-plane V-bomber force, complete with hydrogen bombs, to U.S. Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe.

Nuclear Subs 2. The United States is assigning three nuclear-powered submarines, armed with Polaris missiles, to Lemnitzer.

3. These forces will augment tactical strike forces with a nuclear capacity.

4. Other actions are to be taken to improve liaison on nuclear weapons policy between all members of the alliance.

Record Vote Expected On Wheat Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's decision day in the great wheat plan controversy.

After weeks of hot debate, record numbers of farmers—possibly more than 1.5 million—are expected to vote today on a plan to curb wheat production.

Their decision may cast the future of government farm programs, and their costs.

In a nutshell the question is whether wheat farmers want rigid controls and high price supports or no controls and low price supports.

And the referendum's outcome, after the biggest campaign ever waged among farmers, was expected to have widespread economic and political repercussions.

Reports from the wheat areas indicated a close vote. Neither the plan's proponents nor opponents would predict the result as the zero hour approached.

Perhaps overshadowing the EAST LANSING (AP) — A record turnout appeared certain today as Michigan farmers went to the polls to approve or turn down the Democratic administration's proposed 1964 wheat program.

From 35,000 to 45,000 wheat growers were expected to cast ballots if good weather prevails in the state, according to a tentative estimate from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in East Lansing.

wheat proposal itself is the overall question of whether the federal government should plunge deeper into the business of farming or pull away, leaving a more free competitive market system.

Watching today's balloting with sharp interest were President Kennedy, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and other administration leaders, as well as leaders of the major farm and grain trade organizations.

Two-Thirds Needed In the referendum, wheat farmers were asked "yes" or "no" on whether they approved the administration plan designed to halt costly overproduction of wheat.

At least two-thirds of those voting must approve for the plan to become effective for the 1964 crop.

Ballots will be counted today after polls close in some 40,000 farm communities. Results are expected to be known by early Wednesday.

Under the plan, growers would be required to reduce their 1964 wheat output 10 per cent below this year's crop allotments.

Alternative If the plan is defeated, growers would operate under an alternative program which would eliminate all control and offer low supports—possibly $1.25 a bushel—but limited to those who voluntarily reduced plantings to the level set under the rejected plan.

RUDYARD (AP) — An Upper Peninsula airman's 11-month-old twin sons died today in a fire at the family home here, 26 miles south of Sault Ste. Marie.

Robert and William Tracey were the sons of Airman and Mrs. Ernest Tracey. A third child, Ernest Tracey Jr., was hospitalized with burns and was in serious condition. Mrs. Tracey also was hospitalized with shock.

Police said the interior of the home was burned out. Cause of the blaze was not determined immediately.

LANSING (AP) — Special teams of canvassers blanketed the state today to conduct a recount of the votes by which Michigan appeared to have adopted a new Constitution last month.

The canvass of 1,969 precincts in 77 counties is expected to require nearly three weeks, unless it is called off before it is completed.

But the Democratic Party — after waging a vigorous campaign against adoption—filed for a recount of 1,891 of the state's 5,299 precincts.

78 Added Another 78 precincts were added to the total in petitions filed by the Coordinating Committee for the New Constitution, representing 20 non-partisan groups supporting the revised document.

Both sides posted $5 for each precinct they asked to be rechecked—with the Democrats putting up $9,455 and the committee $390. Election officials have estimated the actual cost to be about $50 per precinct.

Refunds If the official vote is overturned by the recount, the Democrats will get their money back.

The Coordinating Committee would receive a refund if the vote stands, and if its request is officially regarded as a counter-petition. This point has not yet been decided, officials said.

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Eight Chippewa Indians did their best Monday to assure sunny skies for Friday's dedication of the new International Bridge linking the U.S. and Canada.

The sun poked through the overcast sky during both dance performances, bridge officials noted.

City Okays Record Budget Of $3,180,157 For 1963-64

Following a public hearing conducted last night in the city hall, the Marquette City Commission adopted a record budget of $3,180,157 for the coming fiscal year.

The budget was made effective by the city in its annual appropriation bill and tax levy, approved for the coming fiscal year, which runs from July 1, 1963 to June 30, 1964.

Although the budget figure is unprecedented, the budget will not involve any increase in taxes for general city purposes, since the additional amount of this year's budget will be realized through the higher assessed property valuation.

The actual budget also is somewhat less than the total figure given, since around $40,000 will have to be applied toward the city's cash deficit.

Same As Tentative Budget

The cash deficit of $200,000 was disclosed in the fall of 1960 and the amount has been reduced each year. This year the city had to borrow $120,000 in tax anticipation notes to meet the cash deficit.

This amount represents a drop of $40,000 from last year's figure, which was $50,000 less than the amount which had to be borrowed on tax anticipation notes in the previous year.

In adopting the budget last night the city commission approved the same one which was submitted at the tentative budget two weeks ago.

The city charter sets the dates for the presentation of the proposed budget (the first Monday of May) and for the adoption of the budget (the third Monday of May).

Approves Tax Levies

On the adoption of the budget,

the commission approved of tax levies of $582,330 for general city operating purposes and for operation and debt of the Peter White Public Library.

The city also adopted the levy of $881,691.25 for the operation of the public school system and for the payment of the school debts.

Acts As Collecting Agency

Mayor C. Fred Rydholm noted that the city commission has "no control over the school budget" but that the city acts as the tax collecting agency for the school board.

In commenting on the city budget, Commissioner Elmer K. Carlson said the budget "may not have all the new equipment and items in it we'd like to have, but it does have a sound fiscal outlook for the next fiscal year, and perhaps in the following year we will be able to get some of these additions."

There were no comments from the gallery in the public hearing on the city budget and only one in the hearing on the school tax levy (see below).

Tax Rate Determined

Adoption of the budget and tax levies last night determined the tax rate for the coming year, which was tentatively announced during the commission's meeting two weeks ago.

The combined city, school and library operating and library levies this year will total $1,164,021.25, which means a rate of $51.92, or $51.915650, to be exact, per each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

This year's tax rate, then, will represent an increase of $6.57425 per each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

4th Year No City Hike

The increase is due to the school building program, approved by the electorate in the bond is-sure a year ago. Both the city operating and library rates will remain the same as last year.

In fact, noted Mayor Rydholm, this is the fourth consecutive year that the general city tax rate has remained at $18.65 per each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

City Assessor Lincoln J. Lindstrom also noted that the $1.50 rate for library operating purposes is fixed by statute and the 50 cents rate for the library debt is the extra millage voted for the new addition to the public library.

Breakdown Of Levies

Following is a breakdown of the tax levies and rates for the coming year.

General city purposes — $525,930 levy and rate of $18.65 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

School operating purposes — $655,000 levy and $23.2695 rate.

School debt — $226,691.25 levy and $8.93879 rate.

Library operating — $42,300 levy and $1.50 rate.

Library debt — $14,100 levy and $1.50 rate.

Last Year's Figures

By comparison, the 1962-63 levies and rates were: General city purposes, $483,314.75 levy and $18.65 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation rate; school operating, $529,000 levy and $20.4129 rate; school debt, $110,877.50 levy and $4.2785 rate; library operating, $38,872.50 levy and $1.50 rate, and library debt, $12,957.50 levy and 50 cents rate.

Assessed Valuation Up

Assessed valuation for the coming fiscal year is $28,200,000, or an increase of $2,285,000 from last year's $25,915,000 figure. Thus the city is getting more taxes per mill levied.

Following is a breakdown of the amounts appropriated for the coming year for city operations, with the amounts appropriated last year for the departments listed in parenthesis:

Department of public affairs — (city manager, city commission, planning and zoning, city hall, municipal court, legal division, city clerk, election expense, street and park lighting, contributions and subsidies, and unclassified) — $246,961 this year (last year $235,768).

Department of accounts and finance — (Division of finance, division of assessment and division of treasury) — $60,029 ($57,967).

Health department — $15,395 ($13,670).

Police department — (including dog wardens) — $135,986 ($113,900).

Fire department — $173,770 ($170,975).

Debt retirement fund contingency — $85,516 (last year $45,372.19 towards the deficit).

Engineering department — $20,500 ($20,700).

Department of public works —

$397,465 ($376,400).

Cemetery and recreational facilities — $151,976 ($126,850).

Recreational administration and activities — $23,450 ($21,350).

Light and power department — $1,457,900 ($1,445,186.72).

Water supply system — $58,850.

Sewage disposal system — $323,825 ($309,622.13 for both the water supply and sewage disposal system last year).

Automobile parking utility — $30,985 ($24,846.30).

Asks To See Charter

Only person to raise a point in the hearings was Charles Croisetiere, W. Grove St., who said he tried to get a copy of the school charter but was unsuccessful.

"Can't we have something to say about it?" he asked. "This (school) item has grown each year and soon it will be up to a million dollars. Our taxes will jump more, but our city (operating) taxes are very reasonable."

Within Minimum

Mayor Rydholm said Marquette's special school charter is one of only 12 in the state, and that the actual school tax increase is around 6.57 mills, which is well within the maximum advertised in the school bond election of eight mills.

"So the school board did hold in well within the maximum," he said.

City Attorney Waldo A. McCrea said a special act of the State Legislature controls the operation of the Marquette School District.

City To Get $10,000 From Shiras Group For Park Projects

An allocation of $10,000 to the City of Marquette for improvement of Shiras Park has been voted by the board of trustees of the Shiras Institute, it was announced today.

Frank J. Russell, president of the Shiras Institute, said the grant was made to the city after a conference of city officials with representatives of the Shiras board.

The Shiras Institute operates a trust fund set up on Sept. 20, 1937, by the late George Shiras III and Frances P. Shiras. Funds are used, in accordance with the regulations of the trust, for the benefit of the public "in the fields of beautification, recreation and cultural activities in Marquette and in Upper Michigan."

Manager Pleased

Through the years, the Shiras Institute has approved a number of grants for various projects in Marquette and elsewhere in the Upper Peninsula.

"We are very pleased to learn of the decision of the Shiras Institute to grant this amount of money for the improvement of Marquette," said City Manager Thomas Moore.

Change House Probable

Moore and City Parks and Recreation Superintendent James C. Engle will make a study of the needs of Shiras Park, known to many as the "Picnic Rocks area."

It is expected that the money will be used for the construction of a change house for bathers and for improvement of sanitary facilities at the park, city officials said.

Before any work is commenced, however, an engineering study of the area will have to be made, to determine the possibility of installing a sewer line or a septic tank.

50 Attend Credit Union Parley Here

Approximately 50 persons attended the fourth annual convention of the Michigan Federation of the National Federation of Federal Employees, held in Marquette during the weekend.

Representatives of most locals in the state were present, along with Miss Mabel Thompson, Cleveland, eighth national vice president of the organization.

Delegates were welcomed by Edward C. Parks, Marquette, president of the federation; Wilbur Pearson, Marquette, convention chairman; Mrs. Anita Manion, Ishpeming, vice president-secretary; and Mrs. Dorothy Makela, treasurer, Marquette.

The convention at the Hotel Northland was opened by an invocation given by Chaplain Arthur Erickson of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, followed by the presentation of colors by four members of the base honor guard.

Three appeals for exceptions to the city zoning ordinance will be heard by the Marquette Board of Appeals at its meeting in the city hall at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

Requests for exceptions to the zoning ordinance are considered and acted on by the appeal board, which is comprised of five members, appointed by the Marquette City Commissions. Rulings are made by a simple majority vote.

Appeals Listed

To be heard tomorrow are appeals for zoning exceptions from the following persons:

George M. Altman Jr., for permission to replace a wood garage with one of concrete block, at 206 E. Hewitt Ave.

Shogren Appointed 4-H Club Agent For Marquette County

Marquette County will have a full-time 4-H club agent beginning next month.

Announcement of the assignment of a 4-H agent to Marquette County was made today by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University. He is Paul W. Shogren Jr.

Marquette County has been without a 4-H agent since 1956, when Douglas S. Turini, Marquette, resigned the post to become assistant farm superintendent of the Marquette State Prison.

Efforts to have a 4-H agent assigned to the county have been made by the Marquette County Board of Supervisors, by Melvin N. Nyquist, Marquette, county extension director for MSU, and other interested groups and individuals since then.

Shogren's appointment is effective June 1.

Shogren received a B.S. degree from Penn State University in 1951 and a B.D. in theology from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary in 1963.

He served in the U. S. Forestry Service in 1954 and 1955 in Oregon.

He spent 16 months in Sweden in 1955 and 1957, working as a logger for a Swedish pulp company as part of an exchange work program. He has served as the director of a Boy Scout camp in Pennsylvania.

He will also serve as a pastor of a rural church near Marquette.

Deer Killed, Car Wrecked In Smashup

An automobile was wrecked and a deer killed in a traffic smashup at 12:05 yesterday afternoon on County Road 480 in Sands Township.

State police said an automobile being driven east on County Road 480 by Jimmie Thalacker, 28, Route 1, Marquette, struck a deer which jumped out from the south (right) side of the highway into the path of his car.

Car Towed Away

The deer was killed and extensive damage resulted to the front end of Thalacker's vehicle, a 1961 compact, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

The mishap occurred one and one-half miles east of County Road 553.

As in all cases where deer are killed on highways, the carcass of the deer was turned over to the Michigan Department of Conservation for disposal.

Shogren Appointed 4-H Club Agent For Marquette County

Marquette County will have a full-time 4-H club agent beginning next month.

Announcement of the assignment of a 4-H agent to Marquette County was made today by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University. He is Paul W. Shogren Jr.

Marquette County has been without a 4-H agent since 1956, when Douglas S. Turini, Marquette, resigned the post to become assistant farm superintendent of the Marquette State Prison.

Efforts to have a 4-H agent assigned to the county have been made by the Marquette County Board of Supervisors, by Melvin N. Nyquist, Marquette, county extension director for MSU, and other interested groups and individuals since then.

Shogren's appointment is effective June 1.

Shogren received a B.S. degree from Penn State University in 1951 and a B.D. in theology from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary in 1963.

He served in the U. S. Forestry Service in 1954 and 1955 in Oregon.

He spent 16 months in Sweden in 1955 and 1957, working as a logger for a Swedish pulp company as part of an exchange work program. He has served as the director of a Boy Scout camp in Pennsylvania.

He will also serve as a pastor of a rural church near Marquette.

3 Appeals To Be Heard By Board

Three appeals for exceptions to the city zoning ordinance will be heard by the Marquette Board of Appeals at its meeting in the city hall at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

Requests for exceptions to the zoning ordinance are considered and acted on by the appeal board, which is comprised of five members, appointed by the Marquette City Commissions. Rulings are made by a simple majority vote.

Appeals Listed

To be heard tomorrow are appeals for zoning exceptions from the following persons:

George M. Altman Jr., for permission to replace a wood garage with one of concrete block, at 206 E. Hewitt Ave.

James W. Campbell, for permission to construct a two-car garage, measuring 21 by 24 feet, at 1303 West Ave. on Lot 47 and the south half of Lot 46, in Kildahl's Subdivision No. 2.

Vilho Heikkinen, for permission to erect an addition to his home on 279 Jefferson St., Piqua Subdivision.

Deer Killed, Car Wrecked In Smashup

An automobile was wrecked and a deer killed in a traffic smashup at 12:05 yesterday afternoon on County Road 480 in Sands Township.

State police said an automobile being driven east on County Road 480 by Jimmie Thalacker, 28, Route 1, Marquette, struck a deer which jumped out from the south (right) side of the highway into the path of his car.

Car Towed Away

The deer was killed and extensive damage resulted to the front end of Thalacker's vehicle, a 1961 compact, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

The mishap occurred one and one-half miles east of County Road 553.

As in all cases where deer are killed on highways, the carcass of the deer was turned over to the Michigan Department of Conservation for disposal.

City Given Refund On Insurance

Marquette has received $4,553.79 as a rebate from its workmen's compensation policy.

The amount was presented to the city commission at its special budget meeting in the city hall last night by Edward J. Foye Jr., of Foye Insurance Agency, who said this was the first retrospective adjustment under the policy.

Controlled Loss Experience

"The refund is the result of the controlled loss experience for policy year July 1, 1961, to July 1, 1962," Foye said.

"This fine loss experience record reflects the wholehearted cooperation of the city manager and the department heads who have worked so conscientiously with our safety engineering department during that policy year.

"We know that their continued cooperation can be counted on to maintain this excellent loss ratio. This will result in further benefits to the city in the following policy years.

"This cooperation is greatly appreciated by this agency and by the Michigan Mutual Liability Co. (with whom the policy was placed.)"

On Fiscal Year Basis

Foye added that this is part of the City Insurance Association set up.

The workmen's compensation policy runs on a fiscal year basis, and the coming year's program will be taken up some time in June, as the current policy runs out July 1.

State Notes Quality Of U.P. Potato

DETROIT (AP)—A dinner at Detroit Economic Club today honored three stars of Michigan Week — a portable, collapsible camping house, a variety of potato that promises to bring new life into Michigan agriculture, and a community self-help project aimed at upgrading the economy of Gogebic County.

Farm Product Of Year

They were the winners of annual Michigan Week competition, for ideas and developments of the year.

Upper Peninsula farmers and other agricultural experts have demonstrated that the potato, a quality Russet Burbank, can be grown in the U. P. It was selected as the Michigan agricultural product development of the year.

Scheduled to be present to receive Michigan Week awards were Paul Van Damme of Marquette, president of the U. P. Potato Growers Association; Edwin Anderson of Metropolitan, Carl Johnson of Foster City, Willis Owen of Northern Michigan University, Gail Bowers of Stephenson, regional agriculture committee chairman and Frank Molinare, Michigan State University Dickinson County Extension director.

GO-Inc, formed to develop Gogebic County industrially, was selected as the community achievement of the year.

Collapsible House-Tent

Present to receive awards were Charles L. Santini, chairman of the temporary organization during the fund drive, William L. Johnson, Roy Ahonen, the Rev. Louis Cappo, G. A. Dahlen and Phil Ruchmeyer, all of Gogebic County.

The collapsible house-tent, developed by Central Fiber Products Co. of Chelsea, was selected as the product of the year. Present to receive the award for the firm were D. H. Bacon and John Taylor.

James Gooch, Marquette, MSU information specialist and deputy chairman of public relations for the 1963 Michigan Week handled press coverage for the Detroit event.

26,892 Passed Civil Services Exams

LANSING (AP)—The State Civil Service Commission reports that 57,359 persons took state civil service examinations during 1962, 26,892 received passing grades, and 7,100 appointments were made during the year from employment lists prepared by the commission.

chairman of the USO committee, said: "We are indebted to a large number of hard working citizens for the progress that has been made in the USO work and in the program shaping up for Saturday.

"We believe the public will enjoy both parade and program and certainly will be impressed with the USO center potential for serving the needs of the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base personnel.

Circuit Judge Sends One To Prison, Puts Seven On Probation

One man was sent to prison for one to 15 years, seven were placed on probation, sentence in the case of another was delayed, and a tenth was ordered to jail during a session of Marquette County Circuit Court yesterday.

Disposition of the 10 cases heard for sentencing was as follows:

Gerald E. Morris, 25, Ishpeming, one-to-15 year prison term for manslaughter. The maximum is set by statute; the minimum was recommended by Presiding Judge Bernard H. Davidson, Negaunee.

Eino R. Luokkala, 24, Negaunee, three years probation for breaking and entering in the nighttime, also 30 days in the county jail and restitution.

Darrow D. Wright, 23, Flint, formerly of Marquette, three years probation for forgery and must make restitution.

Neal C. Alexander, 17, Marquette, taking automobile, etc., three years probation.

Ronald G. Griffin, 17, Marquette, taking auto, etc., three years probation.

Robert G. Brisson, 27, Negaunee, breaking and entering in the nighttime, two years probation and restitution.

Paul Villeneuve Jr., 18, Ishpeming, unlawfully driving away an automobile, sentence delayed one year but jurisdiction of case retained by court.

Raymond Johns, 48, Marquette, drunk and disorderly — third offense, one year's probation and six months in county jail.

Robert C. Dougherty, 28, Marquette, forgery, three years' probation and restitution.

Donald B. Mannila, 20, Negaunee, parole provision violator, 60 days in county jail, then continued on probation.

The charge of manslaughter against Morris resulted from the death of his wife, Louise, July 3, 1962 in Baraga County Memorial Hospital, "Amie, and followed investigation by the Marquette County Sheriff's Department after the curiosity of another member of the family was aroused by certain wording on the death certificate. Cause of the wife's death was found to be a blood clot resulting from a blow struck by Morris in a tavern brawl in May 1962.

One Year Recommended
In sentencing Morris to a one-to-15-year term, Judge Davidson said he had no control over the maximum prison sentence imposed, since that is set by law at 15 years. However, he said he recommended that the maximum, in this case, not exceed one year, which is the same as the minimum he imposed.

Addressing Luokkala, who was arrested by Negaunee police March 9 for breaking into Cise's Bar, owned by Francisco Paris, and taking beer, candy bars and cigars, the judge commented on college study and surveying experience he had and noted that this was his first appearance in circuit court.

Must Not Drink
Because of these factors and Luokkala's age, Davidson put the defendant on probation, but with several special conditions, in addition to the standard probation conditions. He ordered Luokkala to spend 30 days in the county jail, beginning yesterday, and to make restitution of $38.36 to Paris within 60 days. He also warned him not to drink any intoxicants during the period of his probation.

In the case of Brisson, who was arrested with Luokkala on an identical charge, the judge retained the probationary term to two years but also told Brisson he must make restitution of $38.36 to Paris within 60 days and must refrain from consuming any alcohol while on probation. Brisson, too, was in circuit court for the first time and, in addition, suffers from a chronic disease.

$342 Restitution
Wright, arrested Dec. 24, 1962 following investigation by state and local police, was told to make restitution of $342.16 to the Union National Bank within 30 days. The judge said, "I understand that you are working and that you did spend five days in jail."

He also noted that Wright had not been involved in anything "particularly serious" previously, and that he had decided on probation for these reasons.

Alexander, also appearing in circuit court for the first time, was told by the judge, "Since you have returned to school and because of your youth, the court is inclined to put you on probation." However, he added that Alexander must cooperate in an educational and training program to be set up for him through the probation department.

Both Alexander and Griffin were charged with unlawfully driving away an automobile owned by Walter Kirkula, 520 Summit St., Marquette, and both had entered guilty pleas during the March term of court, after being arrested March 23 by city and state police from Munising.

To Camp Pugsley
A special condition of Griffin's probationary sentence was that he must attend a downstate training school, Camp Pugsley, "for a period not to exceed 12 months."

Judge Davidson, in sentencing Johns to six months in the county jail, after which he will be in a year's probation, commented that the defendant had a "long history of convictions over the years" and that this (drunk and disorderly, third offense) was "a circuit court offense."

He cautioned Johns that he must cooperate in a rehabilitation program that will be set up for his benefit through probation department personnel.

'Extenuating Circumstances'
In the case of Dougherty, the judge remarked, "There are some extenuating circumstances involved in your case but, on the other hand, you do have a previous record of various offenses, and you are now, in fact, on parole for another offense."

In placing Dougherty on probation for three years, Davidson also ordered that the defendant make restitution for "all monies acquired as the result of your forgeries," a total of about $65.

Dougherty was arrested by Detroit police after having forged checks in Township, Negaunee, Ishpeming and other Upper Peninsula points. He was to have been sentenced May 27, after pleading guilty earlier in this term of court, but sentencing was moved up to yesterday.

Year's Extension
Pointing out that Villeneuve had "only one previous offense" and that one was "of a minor nature," the judge delayed imposing a sentence in this case for a period of one year. He said this was because Villeneuve, arrested by Ishpeming police March 23 for automobile theft, is now finishing high school, should graduate in the spring of 1964 and then plans to enter the U.S. Navy.

However, Judge Davidson made it clear he would retain jurisdiction to impose sentence in Villeneuve's case, if it becomes necessary, and intended to be kept informed by the probation officer of the defendant's activities during the year.

Conditions Emphasized
Standard conditions in all cases of probation include strict adherence to several rules, which the judge read to all seven persons so sentenced. He warned that their probation standing could be revoked if they violated any law or ordinance of Michigan, any other state or the federal government; if they left the state without the court's consent; if they failed to report to their probation officer, as indicated; or if they engaged in any anti-social conduct.

In imposing a 60-day jail sentence on Mannila, who had violated the provision of his probation a number of times, according to Probation Officer Don Small, the judge said, "You are not making a very good attempt to live up to the terms of your probation to become a good member of society."

'Get Some Sense'
He noted that the court had the authority to revoke Mannila's probation and send him to prison but that it was inclined to give him another chance "to see if you can't get some sense into your head."

Mannila will continue on probation after completing the 60-day jail sentence ordered.

In other circuit court business yesterday, a jury trial in an auto negligence case involving a suit brought by Frank Santora against Bruce and Garfield Kintgen was postponed on the request of counsel for both sides: Waldo McCrea, Marquette, for the plaintiff, and E. J. Thomas, Ishpeming, for the defendant.

Charges Against State Pilot In U.P. Dismissed

Richard Moulton, Newberry, was charged with allegedly "buzzing" commercial fishermen on the ice of Whitefish Bay during the past winter while attempting to land his

City Judge Jails Three, Fines Three

Three men were given jail sentences totaling 35 days, and three others paid a total of $40.10 in fines and costs, on their arraignments in Marquette Municipal Court before Judge Edward H. Dembowski yesterday.

Stiffest sentence — 15 days in the county jail — was handed to Frank A. Berry, 18, of 307 Sandstone St., Marquette, who appeared on two counts: being a minor in possession of intoxicants in a motor vehicle; and having defective equipment on his car.

Mandatory Term
Arrested by city police May 18 at the corner of Spring and Fifth Sts., Berry pleaded guilty to both

Firemen Get 3 Calls During Dinner Hour

Marquette firemen had a busy time during the dinner hour yesterday afternoon, getting three calls, two of them because of trouble in kitchens.

1. At 5:35 yesterday afternoon firemen were summoned to the residence of Raymond Potts, 523 Pine St., where some grease in a pan on the stove caught fire.

Nothing was used as the pan of grease had been carried outside by Mrs. Potts, but some smoke had resulted in the house.

The Nos. 2 (1,000-gallon) and 4 (750-gallon) pumps were driven to the scene and six firemen responded to the call. They returned to the station at 5:49 p.m.

2. Firemen were called at 5:38 p.m. to an area north of the baseball diamonds on Memorial Field, on school-owned property, north of E. Fair Ave., where some brush and grass had caught fire. Origin of the blaze was not learned.

Out On Arrival
However, the blaze was out on arrival. The No. 5 (500-gallon) pumper had been driven to the scene and was returned to the station at 5:51 p.m.

3. At 5:58 p.m. firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Orrin Stack, 905 Lee St., where some grease boiled over on the stove.

Smoke Ejector Used
No fire fighting equipment was used but firemen used the smoke ejector (a portable fan) to clear the house of smoke.

Three firemen responded with the No. 2 pumper and returned to the station at 6:30 p.m.

plane to check the fishermen, who were lifting nets.

The complaint was brought by Robert Gordon, Brimley, a commercial fisherman, Gordon did not appear at the hearing at which Justice Beamish dismissed the charges.

charges He was given a mandatory 10-day jail term on the first count and was ordered to pay a $10 fine and $5.10 costs or spend five days in jail on the second count. Unable to pay, he was committed and is to serve the terms consecutively.

In lieu of payment of a $50 fine and $4.30 costs, imposed after he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving, Albert B. Belmore, 39, of 531 Oak St., was committed to the county jail for 10 days. The arrest was made by state police May 17 on U. S. 41 within the city limits of Marquette.

License Revoked
As in all drunk driving convictions, Belmore's driver's license will be revoked by the Secretary of State for a period of not less than three months nor more than two years.

The third man jailed was John Monhead Jr., 29, Route 1, Box 550, Marquette, who appeared in court on two summonses: one issued by state police who charged him with giving a false report of a stolen car, a misdemeanor; and the other issued by city police, for having no operator's license on his person.

State police arrested Monhead May 17 in Marquette Township on the false report charge, for which he was given a mandatory five-day jail sentence by Judge Dembowski.

Appearing in court Saturday after a failure-to-answer report has been filed on him for the ticket issued Oct. 16, 1962 on S. Third St. by city police, Monhead was ordered to pay a fine of $5 and $5.10 court costs or spend another five days in jail. He could not pay and was ordered to put in the two jail terms consecutively.

A fine of $15 and costs of $5.10 were paid by Robert J. Croschere, 17, of 2502 Cherry St., Marquette, after he pleaded guilty to a charge of simple larceny. He was arrested by City Detective George Johnson May 13 for taking copper wire valued at less than $100 from a parcel of city property.

Two drivers paid fines of $6.30 and costs of $3.70 apiece, after they received tickets from city police officers: Paul R. Olsen, Star Route, Box 14, Gwinn, for driving to the left of the centerline on N. Third St., April 20; and Floyd C. Rintala, Box 185, Palmer, for speeding (40 miles per hour in a 25-MPH zone) on W. Washington St., May 5.

Harden Cites Northern's Role In Economic Life Of Region

Northern Michigan University's role in the economic life of the Upper Peninsula was discussed by Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of NMU, at a meeting of the U.P. Educational Planning Committee in Escanaba recently.

"In the 1962-63 school year, Northern has had more research grants and gifts from foundations than the total operating budget of the school when I went there in 1956," Harden said.

The grants came from the National Science Foundation, the Area Redevelopment Administration, the Atomic Energy Commission and other agencies and foundations. A gift of $180,000 under the will of the late Mrs. Frank J. Russell Sr. was "the largest bequest that the university has received," said Dr. Harden, "free dollars to invest in our young people."

Research Function
Defining the role of NMU in the economic life of the Peninsula, Harden said that the university has a program embracing research, instruction and service. "The research function is of primary importance to us," he said.

In training teachers NMU thinks it very important to develop critical thinking attitudes. Because only a third of high school graduates go to college it puts a heavy responsibility upon high school teaching to create a literate citizenry in a democracy.

"One of the most important problems in Michigan and the United States," said Harden, "is employment. One of the functions of education is to make people marketable in terms of skills.

"Most of us can't comprehend the changes that have taken place in the profile of the labor in the United States. It is identified with another problem — the farm problem, which affects all parts of economic life. In the decade 1950-60 the productivity of American farms increased 81 per cent. The farm population — many of them uneducated or undereducated — dropped from 7.4 to 5.5 million in those 10 years.

"They went north to complete with the miners, foresters and others for city jobs. The South lost 1.5 million Negro workers. The South for the first time has no longer a rural population, but now has an urban population.

Replaced By Machines
"This week 35,000 men and women in America were replaced by machines, 800,000 people will move in the next 30 days to new jobs involuntarily, because they have to, and 400,000 will move to different labor market areas because there's no place else to go.

"Northern suggests that education beyond high school is a must. Technology is replacing many employees. It's not that their jobs are gone, but new skills are sought. One of the greatest problems is job obsolescence. White collar jobs are no longer secure. We are putting in a computer at Northern that will do the work of 20 secretaries.

"The next decade will see people going back to school at a regular rate every three or four years. We are going to have to prepare many more public service and extension programs. Courses for credit will no longer be the aim."

Details For Recount In County Given

Robert M. Montgomery, secretary of the board of state canvassers, said the recount of 16 precincts in Marquette County, as pertains to the state constitution referendum vote cast in the biennial state election April 1, will begin at 8 a. m. Thursday in the courthouse here.

He said that ballot wrappers (from paper precincts), automatic voting envelopes (from machine precincts) and two recount statement books per precinct must be furnished by the county. The state will furnish all other supplies required for the recount.

All statement books, poll books and tally sheets (from paper ballot precincts) are to be available at the recount. Montgomery informed the Marquette County board of canvassers.

Must Furnish 'Steno'

He noted also that the county is to furnish a stenographer or court reporter for the recount, which is expected to require only the one day to complete. The county also must supply sufficient personnel to raise and open machines and deliver ballot boxes to the board of county canvassers.

Machines will be counted at their location, paper ballots at the courthouse.

Fifteen of the precincts are to be recounted on petition of the State Democratic party, which opposed the adoption of the new constitution. All but two of those precincts are machine precincts.

The 16th precinct, Chocoley, where paper ballots also were cast, will be recounted on petition of the Coordinating Committee for the New Constitution, a maneuver which establishes the committee's right to participate in the recount procedure.

Precincts being counted on petition of the Democratic Party include Nos. 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 in Marquette; Nos. 4 and 5 in Negaunee; Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 in Ishpeming Township precincts.

During the state election con-con carried in Marquette and Ishpeming, but was defeated in Negaunee. Chocoley Township was the only township to approve the proposal.

Correction Noted

In a previous Mining Journal story, it was incorrectly reported that the constitutional proposition in Marquette County was approved April 1 by a majority of over 1,200, with 5,124 "yes" votes and 3,860 "no" votes cast. Actually, the proposal was defeated countywide by 834 votes, on the basis of 5,122 "no" votes and 4,288 "yes" votes.

The con-con proposal was adopted by a margin of around 11,000 votes in the state election.

Ward Wants Big Parking Area Built

Montgomery Ward & Co. would like to do some "sizable remodeling" of its store in Marquette, and would first like the city to provide additional parking in the vicinity of the store.

J. A. Lippmann, Chicago, of the regional staff of Wards, suggested the city converting, into municipal parking, the area directly behind (north) of the Ward store, starting behind the Hotel Clifton and going west along Bluff St., to N. Third St.

"The best customer turnover

Forest Station Issues 40th Annual Report

The Lake States Forest Experiment Station's newly-published annual report, condensing 40 years of trials and accomplishments into its opening pages, tells how an original staff of five pioneering scientists, headquartered on the St. Paul Campus of the University of Minnesota, began to cope with the most important forestry problems in the Lake States area.

Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota all depended heavily upon their forest industries for economic well-being, yet their timber reserves were dwindling. Unchecked fires were destroying the seedlings that should have become future forests.

Frustrating Work

In the Dakotas shelterbelts were being planted to protect the soil and crops, but many were failures because of insufficient knowledge would be achieved if this area were a city metered lot, rather than a privately owned rented lot as part of the area now is," he said. "If this area were leveled, it would make for easy winter time parking, also."

He also suggested the city converting into a municipal parking site the area directly behind Wards auto service, on N. Front St., extending west along Bluff St. to St. John's School and all the way back (north) to W. Ridge St. This area also would need to be city metered and maintained.

Would Be 'First Line' Unit

He said these needs not only will help Wards, but "also all stores in Marquette and, of course, particularly the stores on Washington St."

"Our company can spend a small amount 'fixing up' or a considerable amount remodeling giving Marquette a first line brand new downtown department store."

He said the proposals are in line with the proposals being extended by the Viljean-Leman planners here.

However, the commission's thinking was reflected in a statement by Commissioner James R. Smith, who said there "is no money set aside for this project and a good share of the land in question is now taxable property, and by giving it into a parking area we would be reducing the tax rolls. We'd stand to lose in this matter."

Mayor C. Fred Rydholm noted that the area the Ward official refers to "is a very big one."

The commission, at the suggestion of Commissioner Elmer K. Carlson, voted to have the Ward official notified that the city is in no position at this time to undertake such a program.

of what and how to plant.

These were some of the problems that were first attacked by experiment station scientists. The work was frustrating at first—experiments were destroyed by fire and, occasionally, others had to be abandoned because of insufficient funds and lack of manpower. But the original staff scored enough successes to show that forestry research is, indeed, a paying investment.

First Forest Inventory

By the mid-thirties the forest area burned annually was reduced by 75 per cent, partially through the contributions of research. In 1940 the first regionwide forest inventory was completed. The forest research staff published hundreds of research reports that helped public and private foresters to plant, manage and harvest their timber crops.

As the years passed, more and more requests were directed to the station for information on widely varied problems. The station gradually added qualified persons to its staff who could cope with the many specialized problems in insect, disease, fire, watershed management, wildlife habitat, utilization, marketing, engineering, genetics, recreation and soils.

11 Field Stations

Today, after 40 years, the Lake States station has 11 field stations in its four-state territory. It also has 12 experimental forests and watersheds upon which many diverse experiments are conducted.

The experiment station has broadened its research program to meet the problems that multiple use management encounters on the region's forests. Its 40th report presents, through text, drawings and photographs, the results obtained in recently completed research.

The report may be obtained from the Lake States Forest Experiment Station, St. Paul Campus, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, Minn.

Tree Planting Project Set At 7 Tonight

More than 1,000 red pine seedlings were planted in a cooperative project conducted at the Marquette County Citizens' Home over the weekend, and another 1,000 trees are slated for planting there tonight. The public is invited to watch.

Cooperating in the tree planting program are Boy Scout Troop 359 of Marquette; the Marquette County Soil Conservation District; the Marquette Kiwanis Club, and the Marquette County Social Welfare Department.

Representatives of the four organizations handplanted the seedlings over the weekend, but the trees to be put in the ground at 7 tonight will be machine-planted.

The current program is an extension of a planting project begun five years ago by the social welfare department and the soil conservation district.

Red pine seedlings used over the weekend were planted by boys under the direction of Scout Leader Kenneth Pierson of the Kiwanis Club.

two of his four vice-chairmen: Richard R. Bur and Edward A. Quinnell. Hexco said he expects to name corresponding chairmen before the organization meeting of the advanced gifts division, slated at 11 tomorrow morning in the Hotel Northland.

At that session 16 vice-chairmen will meet with the four co-chairmen of the division, and each will select five workers to aid him.

Hilton also reported on a special meeting of the hospital advisory board, which he heads. Held yesterday morning in the Northland, it featured progress reports on the campaign for funds and produced 100 per cent subscription participation by members.

$5,000 Pledged

Commenting that the amount pledged reached $5,000, Hilton said, "I am gratified by your response."

"Your 100 per cent participation assures all Marquette County of your deep loyalty to St. Mary's and to its plans to acquire a building that will help the mentally ill obtain the psychiatric treatment needed to restore them to normal health."

Superior Service Award Presented To Dickerman

M. B. Dickerman, director of the Lake States Forest Experiment Station, was among the 101 persons honored in Washington, D.C., recently by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

He received a Superior Service Award. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson delivered the ceremony address and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman presented the award.

Dickerman was cited "For outstanding achievement in mobilizing the Lake States regional resources for cooperative research, including the intensive training of departmental employees; and for significant improvement in federal research facilities." The experiment station is responsible for U.S. Forest Service research work in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota. With headquarters on the St. Paul Campus of the University of Minnesota, the station has field projects, laboratories and experimental forests throughout its four-state territory.

The average American is said to spend $91 annually for meat.

A sure cure for insomnia

You've heard the joke, "The best cure for insomnia is a good night's sleep." Not funny to someone suffering "white nights," but true, nonetheless. Too-frequent use of sleeping pills can be bad. Even if they do not cause true addiction they may have a strong psychological effect. Users sometimes come to depend on them. So sleeping pills—any kind—should be taken only when a physician prescribes, and only in the amount directed.

Officers Named By GHS Classes

Shown above reviewing various magazines sold by this year's senior class at Graveret High School as part of a fund-raising drive are officers of the Class of 1964, elected recently. From left are Peter LaVoy, vice-president; Lynn Kellstrom, secretary;

John Urbina, treasurer, and Dwight Johnson, president. Officers for next year are named annually by juniors and sophomores at Graveret prior to the close of the school year so that class activities can get underway smoothly at the start of the fall term.

Masses For Ascension Day Listed

Extra Masses have been scheduled in local Roman Catholic churches Thursday, the Feast of the Ascension, it was announced today by pastors of churches in Marquette, Trowbridge Park, Harvey and Big Bay. The feast is a holy day of obligation, one of six on the church calendar.

Both the Mass schedule for Thursday and hours during which confessions will be heard tomorrow and Thursday were announced by area pastors. The schedules follow: St. Peter's Cathedral: Masses at 5:30, 7 and 8 a. m.; 12:15 and 8 p. m. Confessions tomorrow from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 9 p. m.

St. John's Church: Masses at 8 and 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. Confessions from 3 to 5 and 7:15 to 8:30 p. m. tomorrow. St. Michael's: Masses at 6 and 8 a. m.; 12 noon and 8 p. m. Confessions tomorrow evening from 7 to 8.

St. Christopher's, Trowbridge Park: Masses at 7 and 8 a. m. and at 8 p. m. Confessions tomorrow evening beginning at 7. St. Louis the King, Harvey: Masses at 8 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Confessions after the novena devotions tomorrow night and before the 8 o'clock Mass on Thursday.

St. Mary's, Big Bay: Low Mass at 7:30 p. m. Confessions will be heard prior to the Mass, beginning at 7. Biblical Foundation Thursday's feast, fortieth day after Easter Sunday, commemorates the ascension of Christ into heaven, told in the Gospels of Mark, 16: 19 and Luke, 24:51, and in the Acts of the Apostles, 1:1-14. Tradition designates Mount Olivet, near Bethany, as the place where Christ left the earth.

One of the universal feasts of the Catholic Church, Ascension Day ranks with those of the Passion and Resurrection as among the most solemn on the church calendar. Observance of the Ascension is known to be of great antiquity. Although no documentary evidence of its commemoration exists prior to the fifth century, St. Augustine (354-430) cited it as being of apostolic origin and wrote that it was universally celebrated by the church "long before his time."

From the Feast of the Ascension until the Feast of Pentecost, the Catholic Church solemnly observes the novena in honor of the Holy Spirit, with special novena prayers to be said in each church. The Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, has designated these prayers in his diocese for the intention of vocations to the religious life.

Parish Picnic Plans Made By Altar Unit At St. Christopher's

Plans for the annual St. Christopher's parish picnic were outlined at a recent meeting of St. Christopher's Altar Society.

Mrs. John F. O'Neill, society president, reports that the picnic is coinciding this year with the ninth anniversary of the founding of St. Christopher's, which serves Roman Catholic families in the Trowbridge Park area, on June 30, 1954.

Also on the agenda for the meeting were two reports on the annual convention of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women held April 27 and 28 in Houghton. They were given by Mrs. O'Neill, official delegate from St. Christopher's Altar Society, and Mrs. J. O. Simon, who also attended as a representative of the unit.

Mrs. Peter Calvert requested that all members turn in their Gold Bond stamps and certificates at the next meeting and the group named Mrs. Simon as publicity chairman.

Prior to the business meeting, the Very Rev. Msgr. Arnold L. Casanova read the Acts of the Apostles, 1:1-14, pertaining to Christ's Ascension into Heaven. The scriptural "men of Galilee, why do you stand here looking up to Heaven?" precipitated a discussion on Catholic action.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by members of St. Anthony's Circle.

Timber Tax Development

The Upper Peninsula's wood industries, fearful of a catastrophe in U.P. forestry if President Kennedy's proposal in tax reform for removal of the capital gain provision on timber income prevailed, protested the proposal strongly.

Congressman Victor A. Knox informs The Mining Journal, "I have had an opportunity to discuss the President's tax proposal with the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means (Rep. Knox is a member), and he has informed me that it is not his intention to bring the proposal before the committee for consideration, and that there will be no such provision in any tax bill that may be reported from the committee."

"I opposed the President's proposal and realize the great damage that would be done to the timber industry if the method of taxing was to be changed."

Removal of capital gain would have been immediately hurtful, but its long range implications were most to be feared. It would have removed a strong incentive to invest in the growing of timber necessarily a long range venture attended by many uncertainties and not presently regarded as a top prospect for investment returns.

Pasty Promotion

The May issue of Dodge News Magazine, which goes to 700,000 families each month, devotes two pages to an article "From the North Country: The Pasty. A meal you can carry in your pocket."

"Michigan's Upper Peninsula," it explains, "is famous for its exciting wilderness deer hunting, scenic Great Lakes shoreline, sparkling waterfalls and the Mighty Mac, the world's longest suspension bridge. But it is also famous for another item: The Pasty, a kind of complete meal you can carry in your pocket."

The story tells of Cornish Cousin Jenny, who made pasties for her Cousin Jack Jenk to take to the mine. "Today most of the mines have played out, but pasties are still going strong," says the author, Jerry Chippetta of Lansing. "There are many pasty stands in the Upper Peninsula. These are popular stops with the hunters, fishermen, vacationers and others who venture into Michigan's famous North Country."

Pasty makers and eaters form a cult. The late Walter Gries of Ishpeming claimed to have a pasty recipe handed down directly from King Arthur of Tintagel (Queen Guinevere wasn't much of a cook) and he used to distribute so many mimeographed pasty menus on his downstate trips to attend meetings of the State Welfare Commission and State Board of Education that many persons down there thought that Upper Peninsulans live on a straight diet of pasties.

There are many schools of pasty making — Ernest Pearce of Marquette always thought that Mr. Gries' recipe was a mile long on suet — but all are agreed that this is one of the world's great foods and that — after Cornish — it is to be found at its best in the Upper Peninsula. It has many virtues. It can be used as a body stove when taken from the oven and carried to work in a miner's shirt, and it is reputed to be the only food that's edible after being thrown down a mine shaft.

One of the delights of the Upper Peninsula, it is widely available. If you ask for a little meat pie no one will know what you're after, but if you say, "How about a pasty?" you'll be cooking with hardwood.

Views Of Others

IT'S STASSEN AGAIN

One thing about Harold Stassen, the one-time "boy wonder" of American politics. No matter how many times he gets smacked, he keeps asking for it again. He says that some of his supporters have asked permission to enter him in the Republican presidential primaries in New Hampshire and some other states, and he may let them.

Stassen had a fast rising career in Minnesota. He tried for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948 and 1952 and didn't come close. He made a valiant try for acclaim as disarmament director in the Eisenhower Administration, but the Russians and John Foster Dulles did to him what the political kingmakers did. They clobbered him.

In 1956 he decided belatedly that Richard Nixon should not be renominated as Vice President. He went to the Republican convention and staged a big fight. But Eisenhower pulled the rug out from under him and Stassen found himself in the humiliating position of joining in nominating and praising the man he had opposed. Later, he sought the Republican nomination for governor in Pennsylvania and was swamped by a virtually unknown pretzel manufacturer. It's doubtful that Stassen, dreaming again, has Rockefeller, Goldwater, Romney or even Nixon trembling in their political boots at the threat that his candidacy would pose. The most puzzling thing is not Stassen's continued ambition, but his "supporters" who propose that he run again.

As of 1956 he was the loneliest man in the Republican convention hall. — Milwaukee Journal

Research Key Factor In Michigan's Iron Mining

(This is the first in a series of articles on research activities in the Upper Peninsula that will be published in The Mining Journal in connection with Michigan Week. The author, Dr. Stanley W. Sundeen of Ishpeming, is manager of research and ore development for the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. — Ed.)

BY DR. STANLEY W. SUNDEEN

The words "iron mining" conjure a picture in the average person's mind of angular hard frames with spoked sheave wheels silhouetted against the sky and tough hard-helmeted men being lowered into the earth to wrest the red ore from the rock which imprisons it. Or it may mean a big electric shovel hating into banks of blast-ore and the same tough hard-helmeted men getting the ore to and from the rock which imprisons it.

Iron mining is not likely to conjure a research laboratory, its apparatus, and the highly trained engineer or scholar. Yet today the latter is a true picture. Herbert C. Hoover has stated, "within my lifetime, the mining engineering has been transformed from a trade to a profession."

Revolutionary Change Certainly, within the last 20 years the iron mining industry in the Lake Superior district has experienced a change so dramatic as to classify it a revolution.

Today's Special Story

For example, Thomas Edison researched and designed a process for concentrating low grade Humboldt ore in 1887. In that case a mill was actually built by Edison at the site of the Humboldt Mine, but the scheme was not economic.

When first destroyed the mill, Humboldt low grade ore had to wait for its beneficiation until the phenomenon of froth flotation was researched and invented in 1906 and finally applied to Humboldt ore through research by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. in studies carried on from 1947 to 1954.

Successful Global Search

The changed aspect of the iron mining industry, now almost epitomized by the research man and his laboratory, has come about from the interplay between research and the shrinkage of the world we live in through vastly improved communications and systems of bulk transportation. Even before World War II, steel companies became concerned about the long-range supply of iron ore from the Lake Superior district.

Much of the new ore found is higher grade than the Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota iron ores that had been the mainstay of the steel mills, and by 1960 the imports had risen to 34,600,000 tons out of a total of 102,000,000 tons consumed. Concurrently, with the search for new sources of iron ore, there was the research for economic methods of producing a better iron ore product from the low grade resources of the Lake Superior district.

Many different research projects were involved in the development of the pelletizing process, and it is worth examining some of the steps that had to be taken before pellets came into being.

Side Glances

ed to establish the existence of an iron-bearing rock in mineable quantities and attitudes.

2. Mineralogical research had to follow and generally this meant cutting slices of the rock and preparing polished surfaces of the rock for microscopic examination. The iron-bearing minerals and their size, relative quantity and associated worthless minerals were factors determined by such study.

3. The mineralogical and textural characteristics often indicate the most likely avenue of metallurgical mineral dressing research for beneficiation of the iron-bearing rock. It must be remembered that the fundamental processes which may be under selection for a test of their effectiveness as a beneficiation technique are usually the outgrowth of much earlier research studies. Undoubtedly, part of Edison's interest in trying to beneficiate Humboldt ore in 1887 stemmed from his interest in the design of a magnet. The technique of magnetic separation was well developed by 1925 with many types of apparatus available. Similarly, froth flotation was invented and patented in 1906 and has been the subject of research endeavor to this day. It is because of this research work on the principles of the phenomenon, which involve a complex combination of the laws of surface chemistry, colloidal chemistry, crystallography and physics which are not yet fully understood, that Cleveland-Cliffs had available a tool for research on the Humboldt and Republic ores.

4. Mineralogical and textural characteristics also indicate the probable degree of fineness to which a low grade iron-bearing rock must be ground in order to set the iron mineral free from the useless minerals with which it is interlocked.

5. Presuming that a magnetic method, or froth flotation scheme, or gravity system or combinations of these techniques developed through long research, are usable on the low grade ore, there remains the essential requirement of putting the concentrate of iron mineral into a physical form that is usable by the steel mills. In short, the concentrate which may be finer than face powder must be agglomerated. Techniques used for this have been sintering, briquetting and pelletizing. Of these, pelletizing seemed the best process for Michigan concentrate ores. The original research on the process dates back to 1913 when A. G. Andersson in Sweden made pellets of iron concentrates. In this country the early significant research was carried out at the Minnesota Mines Experiment Station at the University of Minnesota in the early 1940's. Thus again, a tool or technique almost unproven on Michigan ores, was available for research and tests in Michigan when competition demanded the better product.

As a result of this long chain of research including the last decade's application of a prior century's hard won techniques, the Lake Superior iron ore district has won a partial competitive position. In Minnesota, Reserve and Erie Mining Cos. now have an output capacity in excess of 15,000,000 tons of pellets annually. In Michigan there are three mines producing pellets at a rated capacity of 4,150,000 tons annually — Humboldt and Republic Mines of Cleveland-Cliffs on the Marquette Range, and the Cleveland Mine operated by M. A. Hanna Co. in the Felch district. Another 1,200,000 ton per year plant will be completed by year end at the Empire Mine also operated by Cleveland-Cliffs on the Marquette Range. By 1965 there should be between eight and nine million tons of pellets produced annually from Michigan mines. While many factors join to bring this about, it is self-evident that research is a key factor that develops the techniques and proved their applicability to Michigan ore reserves.

Centers Of Research

Noteworthy public research facilities working on Michigan iron ore industry problems are the Michigan Mineral Research Institute associated with the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton and the U. S. Bureau of Mines Research Center at Minneapolis. Private research aimed at Michigan iron ores is carried out in the laboratories of several of the mining companies. Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. has a research laboratory in Nezaunee. Cleveland-Cliffs has a research laboratory in Ishpeming and a pilot plant testing facility near Negaunee. Other companies do work on Michigan ores in their home base laboratories. It can be conservatively estimated that well in excess of a million dollars per year is currently being expended in research directly involving Michigan iron ores. Probably much more than $5,000,000 per year is being spent on research that is related to the general technologies of iron ore beneficiation, agglomeration and utilization.

Because of the research endeavor there has arisen an apparent paradox in the iron ore industry in

'I Stand On My Constitutional Right To Knock Your Block Off'

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — There never should have been any serious trouble in Haiti. But in dealing with problems south of Florida, President Kennedy has been besieged with the counsel of people who bestow the same kind of idiotic affection on Latin American politicians that they waste on calypso music.

Strange Choice

It is almost ridiculous to recall that the OAS was organized to keep the crooks out of power in Latin America, since the assignment was like appointing Al Capone to stamp out bootlegging. But that was the idea, and the Haitian mess is the predictable result of sending a bunch of Stage Door Johnnies on a cop's errand.

It is therefore of some interest to learn, belatedly, that at least one person of influence in the Administration has accepted this view of life. This would be Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who seems to have discovered that the OAS is a paper tiger. Fulbright is a liberal Democrat who has been forced to take the position of the shoeless Southerner on the integration issue to keep his job in Washington, but who otherwise often notices what is going on in the world.

No Goods

Fulbright has peered over his Rhodes Scholar spectacles long enough to take in the situation and declare that the OAS has displayed "a considerable amount of apathy" toward the Haitian crisis. As an authentic egghead, Fulbright can be excused for his understatement; from the mouth of a political roughneck like Barry Goldwater his comment would emerge with the denunciatory tone these OAS weaklings deserve.

Translated, then, it can be said that Fulbright regards the OAS as a bunch of no good bums with the courage of an anemic mouse. The OAS, Fulbright allows, has not shown "much determination or concern about a chaotic situation." He suggests that the OAS "does have a great responsibility and should assume responsibility. It is time for them to show a little more concern about developments in the hemisphere."

No Action

Even allowing for its mildness, this kind of talk is comforting to the American public as a sign that a spokesman for the Administration's foreign policy might be getting fed up. The OAS might have been a good deal on paper, but it has never done an honest day's work to earn its keep. The United States forced it into imposing economic sanctions on the late Dominican dictator, Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina, and presented its startled members with a fait accompli when it ordered Khrushchev to get his missiles out of Cuba last October. But the OAS has never done a hand's turn on its own initiative.

Instead of getting loaded at cocktail parties every hour on the hour, this playboys' club should have gone into Haiti a year ago and thrown the dictator, Duvalier, out on his varnished britches. It had the troops to do the job and the blessings of ordinary citizens in its member-countries. Instead, it waited until there was murder committed openly, and then wrung its hands and donned sack-cloth by Brooks Brothers.

The United States should stop expecting anything but a collective hangover from this clutch of dilettantes.

Why Gregory Went South

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — Comedian Dick Gregory's arrest in Birmingham, Ala., for leading an anti-segregation march came after his appearance in Washington before the Americans for Democratic Action convention.

He said here then that he was going to Birmingham — that he had to go.

Child Of Depression This 31-year-old St. Louis-born child of depression is bringing a new element into the 100-year-old debate on race relations.

He calls this controversy "The Internal Monster. No foreign country can defeat it for us. We've got to defeat it ourselves." "But if we do," he concludes on a more inspirational note, in sharp contrast to his usual line of bitter humor and irony, "it will then be the America the Beautiful that I learned to dream about when I was a kid five years old."

Like Shock Treatment Satire and sarcasm are tricky tools for any writer or speaker to use. But there are times when there are far more effective than righteously moralizing, sanctimonious preaching or appeals to reason.

When a situation has become so bad that it is ridiculous, cold sarcasm can be like a shock treatment to restore sanity.

That is the Dick Gregory method. You may not like it. But you have to recognize it as a fact of life.

Crusading Leader Gregory is no longer just a night club entertainer doing an act which is what he started out to be.

With his relief work in Mississippi and his forays into Alabama after the police dog attacks and use of high pressure hoses there, Gregory has become a crusading leader.

He can evoke sardonic laughter at what goes on in the South. But he voices his scorn at what goes on in the North, too.

First Negro Astronaut "I've got to go to Alabama," he declared to the ADA audience, and he was the only one in the ultra liberal audience of civil rights crusaders who said it.

He wryly observed that: "They have just picked the first Negro astronaut. There will be no trouble in blasting him off. His problem is to get from California to Cape Canaveral. I was hoping we'd get a Negro airline pilot but we didn't."

"We jumped from the back of the bus to the moon in one hop."

"Why did I go to Mississippi?" he asks, and answers: "If America would go to war tonight I'd go and I'd lie on the ground and shoot at some guy I've never met. I had to go to Mississippi."

Getting Close To Whites "When I was in Mississippi a policeman took my arm and led me across the street against a red light. I can't get that kind of service up North."

"When I was driving along in Mississippi I kept both eyes open — and that's a must. I stopped in front of one of the big houses where the whites live. And then about 200 yards back I saw the shacks where the colored people live. We can't get that close up North."

"In Greenwood, Miss., a town of 24,000, there is a hospital with 133 beds. A total of 138 of them are for whites, though there are 20,000 Negroes there and not one Negro doctor."

"They talk about the Negro crime rate. We never lynched anybody. And watch television. What about Naked City and Gangbusters and the westerns?"

Three Ways To Live "There are only three ways to live — to work, to borrow or to steal. That's human nature."

"They talk about all the Negroes on relief. I was on relief for 20 years. There are thousands on relief. But give us jobs, give us schools and give us houses and we can relieve the white man of relief."

"This is not pretty stuff. But it needs to be heard."

Hal Opens Up His Mail Bag

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It pays to keep your credit good. It has been found that people who are poor credit risks are also more accident prone.

Speaking of accidents, did you know twice as many persons die in bathtubs as in swimming pools.

The television aerial has become a new status symbol in Japan. To impress their neighbors, poor families erect an aerial over their shacks whether they actually have a television set.

Bothered by "that tired feeling?" In four out of five cases, doctors say, the cause isn't organic but neurotic. Nothing wears you down like worrying.

Drop-Outs Some 35 per cent of college-age Americans are now enrolled in an institution of higher learning. But a third will drop out before earning a degree.

Ever wonder how butterflies got their name? Because of an old folk belief that they stole butter and milk.

Other quotable notables: "What if a man is buried alive from time to time? For every such person there are a hundred dead men walking the earth." — Georg C. Lichtenberg. Buddha, who at one time of his life died on a grain of rice a day, finally died of acute indigestion.

We're still an inventive people. The U.S. Patent Office gets 300 applications a day for new products.

Experiments at Iowa State University indicate the husbands most influential in determining family decisions are those able to outtalk their wives. What'll science find out next?

Don't leave your car unlocked. Thieves are now stealing a million dollars worth of autos daily.

In America we buy a coffin and use it only once. But economy-minded Koreans purchase their coffins while alive and use them as clothes chests.

How long do your household appliances last? The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports washing machines should last 11 years; refrigerators, 16 years; electric sewing machines, 24 years; vacuum cleaners, 15 to 18 years; toasters, 15 years and television sets, 11 years. "Children have become so expensive only those on relief can afford them." — Arnold H. Glasow.

Revenue, Service Problems Outlined By Negaunee Mayor

NEGAUNEE — Problems confronting the City of Negaunee were discussed by Mayor Dorste Roos in connection with a Michigan Week Government Day luncheon held yesterday by the Negaunee Business and Professional Association at Gurchinoff Fine Foods.

Mayor Roos told NBPA members that the major concern of the municipal administration at present is how to reduce operating costs so that they may be kept in balance with the sharp cut in revenues resulting from the decrease in taxes paid by iron ore mining companies.

Garbage Collection Curtailed
"Your council already has approved curtailment of the garbage collection, which enabled eliminating one truck and one collection crew, and this cutback by and large has been accepted very well by our citizens," Mayor Roos said.

During sessions of the board of review, the council took a long, hard look at the numerous widow's tax exemptions, the mayor noted, as he revealed plans for sending out a questionnaire in September to all of these property owners on which they will be required to furnish information regarding their incomes and cite reasons why they should continue to be exempt from tax payments.

To End Replacements
"Another step in curtailing costs will be combining of jobs as personnel reach retirement age, which will eliminate replacements," the mayor added. He estimated that if an average of three employees retire per year, the saving would amount to $12,000 or slightly in excess of this total.

"He have authorized curtailment of the shower program at Jackson Park and approved a rental fee of $10 for use of the park lodge, which should save an estimated $5,000 this year.

"In the immediate future, we do not anticipate any major capital outlay for equipment, as due to the policy in effect for the last several years of continually replacing older vehicles, all of our equipment is comparatively new and in good condition.

"Our hope is to save at least $50,000 this year in operating costs, which can be carried over as a surplus to help defray costs of the 1964 budget.

Tighter Pinch In 1965
"We believe we have made adequate provisions for next year and our principal concern right now is 1965, when the full impact of the tax cut will hit. We expect the three-year period from 1965 through 1967 to be the most crucial, because if present plans of mining companies materialize, city income from specific taxes should start to increase in 1968."

President Robert P. Stoll advised the membership that he planned to appoint program committees to make arrangements for each of the luncheon meetings during the ensuing year. He named Burt Parolini and John Gerling as committee members for the June meeting.

Mrs. Yelland Again Heads Central PTA

NEGAUNEE—All officers were re-elected by the Central Grade School Parent-Teacher Association at its final meeting of the current school year, held following a pot-luck supper in the school activity room.

Following the balloting, Principal Donald MacDonald installed the following officers, who will serve during the 1963-64 school year: Mrs. Jeanette Yelland, president; Mrs. Marion Olson, vice president; Mrs. Barbara Hill, secretary, and Mrs. Marie Lyons, treasurer.

Mrs. Yelland presented a report on the state PTA convention held recently at Kalamazoo.

Alan Ahola, art instructor, presented poppy poster contest awards to the following Central Grade students: Lynn Tikinen, first; Kathy Marra, second, and Lynn Sager, third.

The program, arranged by Chairman Donald Ellis, including vocal selections by the Negaunee High School triple trio and senior ensemble under direction of Miss Mary Trolia, and group singing.

Supt. A. E. Haist, who will retire at the end of the current year, discussed the importance of the PTA program in bringing about a closer relationship between parents and teachers, and expressed his appreciation to the Central Grade unit for its fine cooperation during his tenure in Negaunee.

OPEN THURS. 'TIL 9

Tommy Bridges, ace of the Tiger mound staff through the team's greatest years, and the late "Kiki" Cuyler of Harrisville, National League hitting star, will enter the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame...

'Hall' Fete Wednesday In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A dozen of the 25 living members of the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame are expected to attend the induction of the shrine's three newest members Wednesday.

Tommy Bridges, former Detroit Tiger pitcher; Guy Houston, long-time football coach at Flint Northern High School; and Kiki Cuyler, late National League hitting star will be enshrined at the annual Hall of Fame luncheon in a Detroit restaurant.

Bridges was one of the great right-handed star pitchers of the American League over a quarter of a century ago and was a 20-game winner for three successive seasons—1934-35-36, the first two of which were pennant winning years for the Tigers.

Cuyler was a lifetime resident of Harrisville, Mich., and was one of the great outfielders in the history of the National League. He had a lifetime batting average of .321 and besides his robust hitting, he was known for his brilliant base stealing and rifle-like arm.

Houston, who retires this year as principal of Flint Northern High School, was one of the greatest high school coaches in the history of Michigan. He was football coach at Flint Northern for 24 years where his teams had TEN undefeated seasons.

Bill Fischer of the A's leads major league pitchers with a 6-0 record. (AP)

'Humpty-Dumpty' Fischer Paces AL Moundsmen

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Fischer is a modest man in an age when many become round shouldered from patting themselves on the back. Bailing at 32, he seems almost embarrassed to be leading a major league pitchers with a 6-0 record for the Kansas City A's.

He would be nice to stay like this, just once, he said, and added with a shrug, "But it's impossible to go through a whole year and not lose a game."

From Marathon, Wisconsin In the 15 years since he left Marathon Wis., and rode 40 miles to Wisconsin Rapids for his first job in Class D at $150 a month, Fischer has seen them all, from bus league to jets.

"I never missed a step," he said. "Every class, D, C, B, A, Double A, Triple A and the majors. Eleven years in the White Sox chain and four big league clubs."

Just Medicine "I'm 32. I'm not going to be a star. I'm just a mediocre pitcher. Thanks to Eddie Lopat (manager of the A's) I have come up with a new pitch, a slow curve. I can get it over the plate for a strike five out of six times. That is the difference in me."

What is so different about a slow curve? "After looking at me for seven years, the hitters remember," Fischer explained. "They knew I threw two pitches, an ordinary fast ball and an ordinary slider. Lopat told me I had to come up with something different. He taught me his slow curve in five minutes."

Drott, Pappas Show Mound 'Diplomas'

Milt Pappas and Dick Drott pitch in two different worlds, but both are students of the same school.

Pappas, 24-year-old Baltimore right-hander who earned his Paul Richards diploma a few years back, and Drott, a 26-year-old Houston right-hander who graduated from the Paul Richards school only recently, came up with outstanding pitching performances Monday night.

Pappas limited Detroit to five hits, pitching Baltimore into a tie for the American League lead by blanking the Tigers 6-0. Drott checked Pittsburgh on the same amount of hits as Houston defeated the Pirates 2-0 in the only National League game scheduled.

In the other AL games, Chicago's White Sox moved up into the top spot with the Orioles by edging Washington 5-4. Minnesota dropped Boston from first to fourth by downing the Red Sox 6-5 and Cleveland whipped the Los Angeles Angels 7-5. New York and Kansas City were idle.

Drott, a Richards reclamation project now that he's the Colts' general manager, surprised teachers even more, pitching his first complete game in 23 starts over four years—since June 14, 1959. And it followed by only three days the no-hitter pitched by Houston's Don Nottetball, still another Richards' pupil.

The White Sox scored the decisive runs in the sixth inning on a single by Floyd Robinson, Joe Cunningham's double and sacrifice flies by Dave Nicholson and Charlie Maxwell, but needed Jim Brosnan's 2-1-3 innings of tight relief pitching to subdue the Senators. Brosnan now has allowed only one earned run in 11 1-3 innings since he was acquired from Cincinnati two weeks ago.

Batley Caps Uprising A three-run homer by Earl Batley that capped a four-run first inning uprising and solo shots by Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew powered the Twins and dropped the Red Sox all the way down to fourth place.

Reliever Bill Dailey retired the last seven men in order to preserve the triumph for Camilo Pascual, now 5-4.

Consecutive third inning homers by Willie Kirkland and Tito Francona gave the Indians a lead they never relinquished. Despite the addition of four unearned runs, Cleveland held to hold on as Leon Wagner drove in five runs for Los Angeles with two homers. They were the 12th and 13th for the AL leader.

TWILIGHT LEOP

All members of the Marquette Twilight League are asked to attend a meeting at 8 tonight at the Marquette Golf and Country Club.

Mauri Wills of the Dodgers stole his 104 bases in 68 games during 1962.

Orioles 'Gopher' That Tiger Pitching --Hit Four In Victory

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore fell one home run shy of a club record Monday as it hit four in a 6-0 baseball victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Detroit starter Phil Regan allowed four hits in the three innings he worked. Three of them were for the circuit.

Gentile's 8th, Brandt's 6th Jim Gentile opened the scoring with a solo homer—his eighth—leading off the second inning.

After Boog Powell walked, Jackie Brandt clouted his sixth home run of the season and scored behind Powell.

Adair's Second In the third, Jerry Adair picked on another Regan offering and hit his second homer of the season.

Powell singled to center later in the inning for the only other hit off Regan.

And Powell's Eighth The Orioles scored their last two runs in the fifth off reliever Bob Anderson as Powell blasted his eighth off the year after Gentile had walked.

Pappas, now 4-0, gave up five hits—two of them singles by Dick McAuliffe—and walked three. He was at his best in the clutch, though, as the Tigers stranded nine men.

2 On, None Out Jake Wood opened the game by drawing a walk, and promptly stole second. Billy Bruton also walked. Pappas then got Al Kaline, Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito on flies to the outfield.

The Tigers put two men on base again in the fourth. Bill Freehan doubled with one away and moved to third on McAuliffe's first single. Pappas struck out Don Wert and got pinch-hitter Frank Kostro to line out.

Detroit had three base runners from the fourth inning on.

Cashed Kicked Out Cash was ejected from the game in the eighth inning after being called out on strikes. Umpire Jim Honochick thumbed the Tiger first baseman out after Cash kicked a baseball lying on the ground after the third strike.

Mickey Lolich was manager Bob Scheffing's choice for tonight's second game of the series. It will be Lolich's major league starting debut. Chuck Estranda was slated to start for the Orioles, who share first place in the American League with Chicago.

The game at the prison starts at 6:45, the Negaunee tilt at 7:30, the other games at 8:15.

Flivs Favored: A-B Track Records In Danger

Destructive-minded track fans—the kind who like to see records broken in wholesale lots—are hoping for good weather the last half of this week.

Why? Because a break from the weatherman will mean trouble—right here in the Queen City—for the keepers of the record book.

In the Class A-B list, five records have already been surpassed in dual, conference or regional races. Two more have been equalled, and three more have approached within a tenth of a second.

That leaves three events—the two hurdles and the shot put—in which there may be no changes made.

Keen competition seems sure to drive the dash and middle distance marks down. In fact, a good split-up of talent in the 440 and 880-yard run heat could make for some classic duels.

Ken Lagina of Iron Mountain claims a 10.2 running of the 100-yard dash, equalling the official record, but Jim Cummings of Rudyard and Dan Schram of Gladstone have both been clocked in 10.3 this past week, when Lagina was running a pair of 10.7's, and four other U.P. dashmen can get under 10.6 to help push him.

Cummings has a 22.7—one-tenth of the U.P. standards—in the 220.

Jay Dishnow of IM ran a 53.6—3/10th of the mark—in the 440 earlier this year, but took a second to John Williamson of Negaunee in the regionals here. Five men claim times within a second of the record.

Randy Pilon of Iron Mountain ran a 2:03.5 in the regionals Saturday at Memorial Field. That's a tenth under the record and he had a devil of a time winning his heat. Six men can be expected under 2:05.

Bruce Swanson has come within a tenth of the U.P. mile mark, with a 4:34, but no one has come within 11 seconds of that time, so he may have to provide his own strongest competition.

Iron Mountain's mile relay team equalled the U.P. standard of 3:40.6, Saturday.

Kingsford has been clocked in a 1:34.8 performance of the half mile relay—and that's fourth under the record.

Dick Bertinski of the Flivvers has a 21-6 broad jump to his credit—five inches past the mark.

Dan Purple of Gwinn and Art Stefanelli of Iron Mountain have cleared 6-0—better than an inch over the U.P. record for the high jump.

Mike Pancheri of Kingsford has pole vaulted 12-3—more than six inches higher than the peninsula record.

Projecting the year's best winning times into a regional meet, the team scoring shapes up as being well-split.

Kingsford ranks as a favorite, although they may not score as many as 40 points. Iron Mountain, which luckily didn't have to face the Flivvers in the regionals, should be a strong second—if all the Mountaineers come through.

Third place looks like a toss-up among a handful of schools. But individual honors are up for grabs in many events.

Eldon Johnson has posted the best hurdle times to date. The Kingsford boy has a 15.6 listed in the high hurdles, while four more have been clocked under 16.6.

Miley Distinger has the best shot put to date at 50-1 1/2, while three others have topped 46 feet.

Behind Cummings, 46 dashmen have been clocked in 23.7 or faster in the 220.

It may take better than a 55-second time to get a point in the 440; better than a 2:10 for a point

Brimley Coach Quits; Won 3 Regional Titles

Jack Brighton of Brimley, one of the peninsula's best basketball coaches, has resigned.

Brighton, who posted a 124-43 record in eight years in charge of the Bays, submitted his resignation to the Brimley board of education Friday.

Under Brighton, the Bays won three regional championships, four district titles, enjoyed statewide poll recognition in five seasons, won three Little Seven conference championships.

Tech Athletes Score Well In Studies

HOUGHTON—At Michigan Tech it has again been proven that scholarship and athletics, brains and brawn, are compatible.

Administrators and coaches have long been besieged with the question, "Are athletics worth while academically?" At Michigan Tech, an engineering school sponsoring a full intercollegiate sports program, a survey showed that the college's 123 letter winners for the present year compiled a weighted average for all years enrolled in college of 2.49.

During the past fall and winter terms, these same lettermen compiled a 2.39 weighted average as against the all college average of 2.25 for the same period. In checks made earlier, Michigan Tech athletes have consistently carried higher weighted averages than the all college average.

Records also show that the fall-winter terms are the toughest for athletes, what with seven sports active, six of them overlapping both terms.

By sports, the fall-winter terms combined showed the golfers leading the pack with a 2.99 average. Trailing in order were basketball, skiing, track, swimming, hockey, wrestling, rifle, football, and tennis.

The survey showed that 17 athletes are carrying a 3.0 or better average for all terms of college work.

During the fall of 1962, 23 lettermen averaged 3.0 or better with one showing 4.0. This same athlete, Robert Diest of Wyanetette, a hockey and golf letterman, again compiled a 4.0 to head the list of twenty-one 3.0 athletes.

He has compiled three consecutive 4.0 terms and carries a four year weighted average of 3.78.

Other athletes who averaged 3.0 or better during either the fall or winter term, or both, include Larry Laurich, Ron Felzer, Bill Bystrom all of Marquette, and Warren Luoma of Ishpeming.

In the 880; better than a 4:56 in the mile; better than 3:45 in the mile relay; about a 1:39 in the half-mile relay.

Five broad jumpers have topped 19-10; six high jumpers have cleared 5-9; nine pole vaulters have topped 11 feet.

NMU-Bradley Game Shifted To February Date

Northern Michigan has moved from an early-season to the last home game on the Bradley University basketball schedule, next season.

Northern is to play at Peoria Feb. 29, 1964, according to Athletic Director John Meinen.

Discounting injury and scholastic difficulties, Coach Chuck Orsborn, with a seven season record of 153-41 (.788), figures to have nine men returning from the varsity which finished the 1962-63 race with a 17-9 mark. Included in the nine is Mack Herndon who has one semester of eligibility remaining and who led the Braves this past season with 591-points for a 22.7 average. He has been drafted by the Cincinnati Royals.

Other varsity returnees are Joe Strawder who is a definite All-American candidate, Rich Donley, Rich Williams, Bobby West, Steve Day, Lawrence Tart, Leon Hall, and Ron Patterson.

At the same time, the frosh of this past season were 13-2 and had some leading varsity possibilities.

Gleason, Katharine Hepburn Seen As Ideal Casting For Film On Babe Didrickson's Life

NEW YORK (AP)—George Zaharias, projecting a movie on the life of the great Babe Didrickson Zaharias, wants Katharine Hepburn and Jackie Gleason to play the title roles in "The Babe and I."

"Jackie would be perfect to play me," George said delightedly. "He's about my size and knows golf. Miss Hepburn is a tall, athletic-looking woman like the Babe. It would be ideal casting."

George Zaharias is a man who lives with a memory.

He is a gargantuan former wrestler once known as "The Crying Greek." He weighs around 300 pounds and wears a size 56 suit, the jacket of which won't button over his bulging waistline. His dark hair is thinning and has flecks of gray. Both ears are gorgeously cauliflowerered. He has shoulders like an ox and hands like hams.

But tears cloud his eyes when he recalls his life with the "Babe," the greatest woman athlete who ever lived. She died of cancer Sept. 27, 1956.

"I thought I could go on and make a life of my own," George said. "I found I couldn't. We were a team. I dedicated my life to her. Now I can't break the chain. I think of her every day."

Always In Shadow In 1960, Zaharias married again—his new bride being one of the Babe's best friends and with a strangely striking resemblance. It didn't last. "She was a wonderful woman," George said. "But she couldn't stand always being in the Babe's shadow."

The wild may never see a woman athlete to compare with Babe Didrickson Zaharias. She broke two world records in the 1932 Olympics. She was an All-America basketball forward. She excelled in billiards, swimming, diving, bowling, fencing, polo, lacrosse and even such male sports as football and boxing.
