CARDINALS EYE SUCCESSOR: World Mourns Pope John

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The high and the lowly paid homage to Pope John XXIII in procession past his bier at the Vatican today, symbolizing the mourning of millions around the world.

The body of the pontiff, 81, who died Monday night after four days of agonizing suffering from a stomach tumor and peritonitis, was to be transferred this evening across St. Peter's Square to St. Peter's Basilica for wider public viewing.

Prelates, diplomats and citizens of Vatican City, including the street sweepers and gardeners with whom Pope John liked to chat, called at the papal apartment in tribute while cardinals began preparations to choose a new supreme ruler for the world's half-billion Roman Catholics.

The cardinals, now administering church affairs, scheduled their first business meeting for Wednesday. The meetings, called general congregations, will be held every day for handling routine affairs and arrangements for the conclave that will elect the new pope.

Vatican press officials said the formal nine-day mourning period will start Wednesday. The Vatican's master of ceremonial set the date, they said, and the cardinals are expected to ratify it in their opening business meeting. This would carry the period through the feast day of Corpus Christi June 13, though it might be interrupted for that occasion.

The Pope's body lay in state in an antechamber. The body was dressed in red pontifical robes, with a golden bishop's miter on the head and red slippers on the feet. The catafalque was low, resting only two feet from the floor.

Pope John's face was white. His lips had a pleasant expression—almost a faint smile. His hands, in red gloves, were folded over his pectoral cross.

Two guards stood at the head of the catafalque and 10 Swiss guards and 10 palatine guards of honor stood along the walls.

At three small portable altars priests said Requiem Masses continually in hushed tones.

President Antonio Segni and Premier Amintore Fanfani of Italy paid their respects at the catafalque.

L'Osservatore Roma, the Vatican newspaper, said it would publish over the next several days a series of unpublished writings and thoughts of Pope John.

Cardinals and diplomats walked in a steady stream up the royal staircase from the bronze door to the papal apartment. The cardinals were in mourning purple, the diplomats in formal dress.

The Vatican made no announcement of the date for the state funeral. It probably will be toward the end of the nine-day period of official mourning.

As they mourned, the cardinals began daily meetings to deal with the routine affairs of the church and to plan the conclave that will meet between June 18 and June 21 to elect Pope John's successor.

The first meeting was attended only by cardinals who were in Rome when the Pope died. Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, French-born dean of the College of Cardinals, sent formal notice of the Pope's death to the other 81 members of the sacred college and summoned them to Rome.

Ecumenical Council

He must decide whether to continue the Ecumenical Council

Men split by different beliefs in politics, religion, social justice and economics joined to pay tribute to the "Pope of unity and peace."

Presidents and dictators, kings and queens, democracies and Communist states—all sent their condolences to the Vatican.

Protestants, Jews, Moslems, Buddhists and non-believers joined the world's half billion Catholics in expressions of grief for the humble pontiff.

The only ones not reported to have sent messages of sorrow were the militant Communists in the Chinese camp.

Premier Khrushchev, an avowed believer in no God, told the Vatican, "We retain good memories of John XXIII." President Kennedy, a Catholic, said the Pope left "a new legacy of purpose and courage for the future."

Churches filled everywhere as their bells pealed the news of the Pope's death. Parisians heard 81 tolls from the great bell in Notre Dame Cathedral, one for each year of the Pope's life.

Official periods of mourning were declared from Rome, Manila and Buenos Aires. Lebanon, a land of Moslems as well as Christians, went into official mourning. Many government functions were canceled. National election campaigns in Argentina and Peru came to a halt out of respect for the Pope. Places of amusement closed in Catholic lands.

Flags of many nations and of the United Nations were lowered to half mast.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, a Buddhist, said the Pope represented "the very embodiment of mankind's own aspirations in this uncertain period of history."

"Fruitful Activity"

The Moslem president of the U.N. General Assembly, Muhammad Zafrulla Khan, said the world lost "a great humanitarian to whose heart the welfare of the average man was very close."

Said the Soviet news agency Tass: "The reign of John the Twenty-Third was marked by fruitful activity for the sake of consolidating peace and peaceful cooperation among nations. World public opinion welcomes the Pope's recent encyclical, 'Peace on Earth,' which was aimed at doing away with the danger of war."

Queen Elizabeth II, titular head of the churches of England and Scotland, expressed deep sorrow, as did West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, French President Charles de Gaulle and Japanese Emperor Hirohito.

Securities Overhaul Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed overhaul and tightening of the securities laws—one of the most sweeping in the history of investor protection legislation—was sent to Congress today by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The proposals filed today would extend to thousands of corporations whose stock is bought and sold "over the counter"—instead of on the organized exchanges—the full-disclosure and financial reporting requirements which now apply only to stocks listed on the exchanges.

Tighten Standard

Tighten the standards of character, training and experience required of persons newly entering the business as broker-dealers, representatives or salesmen, and enlarge SEC's disciplinary controls over broker-dealers and their employees.

Curb to some extent some abuses which have occurred in "hot issues"—new stocks whose prices have soared beyond normal patterns of movement—by requiring that prospective buyers be furnished with prospectuses, giving full financial information, for not less than 90 days after the stock is issued. The present requirement is 40 days.

Colin Kelly III To Graduate From USMA

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Colin P. Kelly III, whose father's valor etched his name into the nation's history, has vowed to bear the name "with distinction and honor, but not trade on that name."

"I am trying to be my own man," Cadet Capt. Kelly, 23, told newsmen Monday at the U.S. Military Academy. "I'm very proud of my father's name and very proud to be a Kelly."

Kelly, nicknamed Corky, is the son of the first American hero of World War II. He will be commissioned a second lieutenant Wednesday.

316th in Class

The 6-foot, 165-pound cadet from Media, Pa., joins the Long Gray Line of 24,920 West Point graduates since 1802. He stands 316th in a class of 504. His father was 248th in the 298-cadet class of 1937.

On June 22, the publicity-shy Kelly will marry Mary Margaret Cooper of Goshen, N.Y.

Kelly never knew his father, whose picture hangs on the wall of Church Hall here. Kelly was 19 months old when Capt. Colin P. Kelly Jr., a B-17 bomber pilot, was killed in action Dec. 10, 1941, just three days after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

The pilot ordered his crew to bail out of his bullet-riddled aircraft after an attack on a Japanese warship. He went down with the plane.

FDR Letter

His heir's career subsequently became the concern of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

On MacArthur's suggestion, Roosevelt on Dec. 18, 1941, wrote a letter "to the President of the United States in 1956," asking an Academy appointment for young Kelly.

The independence of young Kelly prevented Eisenhower from honoring the request. The youth chose to compete for an appointment as the son of a deceased veteran.

"I wanted to prove that I could do it on my own," Kelly explained. "If I wasn't qualified, I don't think it would be right to take a place from somebody who was qualified."

Military Career

Kelly plans to follow a military career, but doesn't intend to remain in service if he finds he does not measure up to his fellow officers.

Airliner Down, No Sign Of Life

At Least 8 From State Aboard DC7

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—At least eight persons from Michigan, including the wife and four daughters of an Air Force career man, are listed among the 101 persons aboard a plane missing in the Gulf of Alaska.

The wife of Airman First Class Robert Scott and his four daughters were among 29 civilians aboard the missing plane. The other three Michiganders are young servicemen.

Native Of Caro

Scott, a native of Caro, who lived most of his life in Bay City before joining the Air Force at the age of 17, preceded his family from a Florida assignment to Alaska.

His wife, Madeline, 26, a native of Liverpool, England, and their daughters, Sharon, 9, Carol Sue, 4, and Debra, 7, and Janice, 2, were flying to join him.

Scott's sister, Mrs. Alice Meistrup of Bay City, received a telegram from Col. John Dyas, acting director of military personnel at Anchorage, saying "your sister-in-law and her four daughters . . . are missing in flight."

15-Year Veteran

Scott began his Air Force career 15 years ago. He had lived in Bay City recently with his wife and four daughters.

The three men reported missing all had joined the armed forces less than a year ago.

One of them, Pvt. Robert A. Delonjay, 19, of Onekama, joined the Army only four months ago. He was graduated from Onekama High last year.

The other two men listed, both 18, held the rank of Airman third class in the Air Force. They are Paul Reyes of Muskegon and Charles Couch of Cassopolis.

Joined 8 Months Ago

Couch joined the service eight months ago after being graduated from Cassopolis High. He had attended service school in Texas before leaving for his Alaskan assignment.

Couch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore K. Couch of Cassopolis, said they knew their son was missing before they received official notification. They studied their son's flight schedule he had mailed to them and found it agreed with news reports on the missing airliner.

4 Other Children

Theodore Couch works for Material Handling Corp. at a plant over the Indiana state line from Cassopolis. The Couches have four other children.

Reyes joined the Air Force after being graduated from Muskegon High. His brother, John, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Reyes, had seen him off at a Muskegon airport on the trip to his Alaskan assignment.

Delonjay's father, Louis, an employee of the Century Boat manufacturing plant in Marquette, said he learned from a newsman only this morning that his son was listed as a passenger on the plane.

Rocky Says He's Still In Running

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller said today he still considered himself among the ranks of potential candidates for the Republican nomination for president next year.

He said he did not accept the view that his recent marriage had diminished his prospects of winning.

JFK Backs World Fight On Hunger

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today no nation or citizen can feel satisfied or secure as long as "half of humanity is still undernourished or hungry."

In an address at the opening of the World Food Congress, Kennedy said the United States pledges full support to achieve freedom from hunger.

"We have it within our power to win this battle," he told 1,200 delegates from more than 100 nations. "It is a more important, more glorious battle than any other in the history of man—for it involves the power to build, rather than destroy."

During the past decade, Kennedy said, the United States, through its food-for-peace program, has contributed more than $12 billion of food and fiber to less fortunate peoples. He said the program now brings food to 100 million persons in 100 countries.

101 Persons On Missing NW Plane

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Scattered debris from a military-chartered airliner was found today 60 miles off the British Columbia coast. There was no sign any of the 101 men, women and children survived.

Search vessel crews recovered life jackets, luggage, clothing and a metal piece at the scene where the Northwest Airlines DC7 apparently plunged into the Pacific.

Discovery of the metal section, 5 feet by 16 feet, seemed to wipe out the last faint hope that the plane might have stayed aloft long enough for use of life rafts.

Monday night a Canadian pilot had sighted uninflated life rafts. Officers on a Coast Guard cutter at the scene, 60 miles west of Graham Island, B.C., identified the debris as from the plane.

The four-engine plane left McCord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash., at 8:30 a.m. Monday for Elmendorf.

The last message from the pilot, Capt. Albert Olson of Sumner, Wash., came two hours, 36 minutes later. He radioed the air station at Sandspit, B.C., for permission to climb from 14,000 to 18,000 feet.

Another airliner was northbound at 18,000 one minute behind but air control tried to message Olson to go to 16,000. There was no response. After that neither the ground station nor the other plane could contact the DC7.

The missing plane carried six inflatable life rafts with capacities of 20 passengers each. It also carried 100 life jackets.

The Coast Guard said a person could not live in the 40-degree water more than 10 to 15 minutes.

The passenger list showed 63 Army and Navy men, 29 dependents and one Air Force civilian. The plane had a crew of 6.

Negroes Seek Injunction In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Negro attorneys are taking to a federal appeals court their request for an immediate injunction to strike down the segregated school system in racially troubled Birmingham.

Attorney W. L. Williams Jr. said the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans would be asked for a preliminary injunction pending an appeal of a lower court ruling. Notice of appeal was filed Monday.

U.S. Dist. Judge Seybourn H. Lynne refused last Tuesday to order school desegregation but warned he would order submission of an integration plan unless school officials administer a state pupil placement law without discrimination this fall.

Decision Wednesday

Lynne held that the complainants in a 1960 suit had not exhausted their remedies under the placement law which has been held at fare value by the U.S. Supreme Court.

In another court battle, Lynne heard Justice Department attorneys press Monday for an injunction against interfering with scheduled enrollment of Negroes at the University of Alabama next week.

Lynne said he hoped to hand down a decision by Wednesday.

The university trustees announced acceptance of a third Negro student for the summer session opening Monday. The trustees said James A. Hood 29, of East Gadsden, Ala., probably would enroll at the same time Vivian J. Malone, also 29, of Mobile, arrives at the main campus in Tuscaloosa.

Lakes Captain Dead At 85

PORT COLBORNE, Ont. (AP)—Capt. Robert Scott Misener, 85, died Monday after a career that spanned 70 years on the Great Lakes and saw him rise from a $15-a-month deckhand to operator of one of the Lakes' largest fleets.

His death in a hospital here, where he had been under treatment for a heart condition, came two weeks before he was to have received an award as the Great Lakes' "Man of the Year." He was selected in a poll of marine editors in newspapers around the lakes for his outstanding contribution to lake shipping.

At his death, he was president and general manager of Scott Miamer Steamships Limited with a fleet of 12 lake vessels and total assets of more than $25,000,000.

Wives Support Shorter Week For Troopers

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—State senators were confronted with a forest of legislative traffic signs when they arrived at the Senate chamber Monday.

About 75 wives of state policemen were manning the gallery in a show of support for a shorter work week for their husbands.

Many carried signs similar to those which state troopers place along the highways—but with a difference.

"Vote carefully — the trooper you save may be mine."

"Seat belts save lives—reasonable hours save wives."

The wives were backing a bill that would reduce the maximum work week of state policemen to 50 hours.

Ernest Borgnine Divorced By Wife

(By the Associated Press)

Actor Ernest Borgnine, 45, was divorced Monday by Mexican actress Katy Jurado, 39, in Los Angeles.

Borgnine did not contest the action. The wife waived alimony but will receive $37,500 cash plus jewelry, furs and other assets.

They were married in 1939 and separated last Aug. 17.

Hoffa, Aides Indicted By Grand Jury

CHICAGO (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamsters' Union head, and seven associates were indicted today by a federal grand jury that charged them with fraudulently obtaining more than $20 million in loans from the Central States Pension Fund.

The indictment contained 28 counts and followed two years of investigation by the grand jury and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It charged the eight men diverted more than $1 million from the loans for their personal benefit. The total allegedly diverted included at least $100,000 which the government charged was used to help extricate Hoffa from personal financial involvement.

This included his operations in Sun Valley, Inc., a Florida homes development in Brevard County.

World Loses Great Force For Peace

LONDON (AP)—A worldwide outpouring of sorrow at the death of Pope John XXIII symbolized today the pontiff's striving for unity and peace in the world.

The Pope's death seemed to bring much of the divided world together—at least temporarily—as no other event in recent history had.

Men split by different beliefs in politics, religion, social justice and economics joined to pay tribute to the "Pope of unity and peace."

Presidents and dictators, kings and queens, democracies and Communist states—all sent their condolences to the Vatican.

Protestants, Jews, Moslems, Buddhists and non-believers joined the world's half billion Catholics in expressions of grief for the humble pontiff.

The only ones not reported to have sent messages of sorrow were the militant Communists in the Chinese camp.

Premier Khrushchev, an avowed believer in no God, told the Vatican, "We retain good memories of John XXIII." President Kennedy, a Catholic, said the Pope left "a new legacy of purpose and courage for the future."

POPE JOHN

which Pope John convened last fall and which was suspended automatically at his death. The council's aim was greater Christian unity, and it is considered almost certain that the new Pope will summon the church's 2,400 bishops back to Rome to resume its work.

The new Pope also must decide whether to move along the path of better relations with Communist governments which Pope John had opened in hopes of raising the plight of Catholics behind the Iron Curtain.

Twice Daily

The cardinals will vote twice daily in the Sistine Chapel until two thirds of the princes of the church agree on a choice. Although neither a lesser prelate nor a non-Italian is barred, the new Pope probably will be an Italian and a cardinal.

The favorite among the "papabile"—those considered likely papal candidates—is Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, 65, archbishop of Milan and the first cardinal created by Pope John.

Although he was not a cardinal at the time, he was mentioned often as a papal prospect before the 1958 conclave that chose Pope John to succeed Pope Pius XII.

Three men will be missing from the election conclave. They are the three cardinals Pope John named three years ago in petto—literally in his breast, or in secret.

The Pope died without revealing their names. There was some speculation that he left their names in a document to be opened by his successor.

Dems Threaten Referendum On Redistricting Plan

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature prepared to reconvene today under threat of a referendum to be sought by Democrats if it enacts a Republican-sponsored plan for congressional reapportionment.

As lawmakers gathered in the capital for a scheduled three-day session and final adjournment, Democratic State Chairman Zoltan Ferency made an 11th-hour plea for a "bi-partisan meeting" on the issue.

But Gov. George Romney quickly reaffirmed his intention to stand by the redistricting plan in its present form.

Ferency asked the Governor to meet with Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski and legislative leaders from both parties to discuss making changes in the reapportionment bill's Wayne County portion.

The redistricting plan, to set up the 19th district to which Michigan is entitled under the 1960 U.S. census, has been hanging fire since April 27, when a drafting error stalled its passage before the Legislature recessed.

Democrats, counting on the possibility that the bare voting edge held by Republicans then may have diminished because of pressure from congressmen unhappy with the bill, have tried several times to compromise.

They would let the Republicans divvy up outstate districts while keeping Wayne County, traditionally a Democratic stronghold, for themselves.

Any plan, to pass the Legislature, will need 18 votes in the Senate and 56 in the House.

4 Major Defects

Ferency said the present plan—which was written by Wayne County Republican officials—has four major defects, chief among them the isolation of Negroes into a single congressional district.

He said its reshaping of the six Wayne County districts also would result in "dilution of the voting strength" of the area's Polish community by putting Hamtramck into a heavily Negro district.

Ferency also complained that the bill would "arbitrarily split" political subdivisions—such as the city of Dearborn—and "destroy the concept of population as a basis for re-districting."

If none of these "deficiencies" were corrected, Ferency said, "the Democratic Party may be compelled to take this question to the people in the form of a referendum in order that they may determine what is best for them."

Kinville, LaBonte Seeking Re-election To City School Board

Two incumbents have filed nominating petitions for re-election as trustees on the Marquette Board of Education.

The annual school election will be conducted next Monday in Marquette.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is the close of business at the Gravelaert High School tomorrow (5 p. m.). In accordance with the school charter, the deadline is five days prior to the election.

Terms of Paul J. Kinville, 123 W. Ridge St., and Mark LaBonte, 810 N. Third St., will expire this month. Both have filed nominating petitions for re-election. All terms are for three-year periods.

Kinville is currently serving as secretary of the board and is now in his fourth term on the board. Need 50 Signatures term on the school board.

Each candidate's petition must bear the signatures of at least 50 qualified school-city electors. Any qualified city elector also is a qualified school voter.

Other members of the school board are Herman E. Olson, 429 E. Michigan St., president of the board; Mrs. Richard Sonderegger, 328 E. Ridge St., treasurer, and Charles W. Niemi, 221 S. Front St., trustee.

Olson was re-elected to a three-year term last year. Terms of Mrs. Sonderegger and Niemi will expire in June 1964.

Polling places for the election will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. Monday, the same times as the polling places are open for city or general elections.

There will be two voting precincts open for the election. The north precinct will be located in the gymnasium of the Gravelaert High School and the south precinct will be located in the city hall's municipal court room.

All electors residing on Ridge St. and north of Ridge may cast ballots in the north precinct and all those living south of Ridge may vote in the south precinct.

Should there be more than four candidates, the two receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected for the three-year terms.

Cool Weather, Fog Blamed On Lake Wind

Grumbles of "It's almost like London" could be heard in Marquette yesterday during the intermittent periods of fog.

At times the visibility was down to less than an eighth of a mile. Early this morning visibility was a quarter of a mile, when the fog prevailed.

The fog's to blame, notes Meteorologist Emil Ellingson, on the off-lake winds, which also held down the city's temperature considerably, as it was about 10 degrees warmer inland.

Winds were variable all day here yesterday, with the east and northeast winds bringing in the misty stuff off Lake Superior. A shift to from the north or southeast would push it away and enable the mercury to climb.

The temperature did get up to 65 degrees, but the low here yesterday was 49, and the mean reading of 57 was only a degree above normal. This was in sharp contrast to the year's highest reading of 88 degrees, recorded here Sunday.

However, yesterday was the fifth day in a row with a mean temperature above normal.

74 At Airport

It was 74 yesterday at the county airport, with the low being only 55. Temperatures also were in the mid or high 70s in Calumet, Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie yesterday, although Sault's 46 was the lowest official reading in Upper Michigan.

Ellingson said it was not expected to get much above the mid-60s along the lake again this afternoon, although inland the temperature would be around 80.

Tonight's minimum will be in the 50s and tomorrow, with a southeast wind expected, it'll be about 80 in Marquette also.

More fog is expected in the Marquette area again tonight, as the off-lake winds are predicted.

Year's Rainfall Below Normal

A low pressure trough which this morning was centered over North Dakota and moving eastward was causing the area's balmy weather, intermingled with showers.

Scattered showers, incidentally, are expected tomorrow and again Thursday, when it also will be warm here.

The 81 of an inch of rain which fell here Sunday is double the normal amount for the entire first five days, but for the year precipitation (which includes snow reduced to water) totals only 8.56, or three inches below normal.

U.P. Municipal League Meet Set June 20

Marquette's city commission received its final reminder this week of the 25th annual Upper Peninsula meeting of the Michigan Municipal League, to be held Thursday and Friday, June 20 and 21, in Escanaba-Gladstone.

Robert E. Fryer, Ann Arbor, league director, asked the commission to notify him as to who would attend from Marquette.

The league will hold its state meeting on Mackinac Island again this September. The U.P. session is generally held the third week of June. In 1947 the league held its state meeting in Marquette.

Dinner speaker for the U.P. meeting will be Glenn S. Allen Jr., controller of Michigan. Allen is a past president of the league, having served in the office in 1948 and 1959, while a Kalamazoo city commissioner. He also was a delegate to the state Constitutional Convention last year.

William G. Kirby, Grosse Pointe Farms city councilman, is president of the state organization. Harold J. Vanierbergh, Escanaba, is a member of the board of trustees.

The commission will take action on the communication at its first regular meeting in June.

Youth Waives Hearing In City Court

James C. Morrissey, 19, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, who was apprehended by state police Friday night, was arraigned in municipal court yesterday on an automobile theft count.

Judge Edward H. Dembowski bound Morrissey over to the September term of Marquette County Circuit Court. Morrissey waived preliminary examination. He was committed to the county jail in default of $250 bond.

Spotted Moments Later

The state police post was notified Friday night by Carl Nelson, Harvey, that his 1955 station wagon had been stolen. Troopers spotted the car a few minutes later on U. S. 41 southeast of the post. When two patrol cars converged on the stolen auto, Morrissey turned to the right into a field.

All four tires on the car were flattened when the car crossed the railroad tracks. Morrissey left the stalled car, jumped down a 25-foot embankment at the lake shore and fled down the beach on foot.

Pursued On Foot

Four state police officers pursued on foot and Morrissey jumped into the lake and started to swim out.

Michigan Tech's 1963 engineer refresher course ended last week with 69 participants awarded certificates for completion of the eight instructional sessions of the course, some of which were held here.

Offered by Tech's Institute of Extension Services, the course is designed as a subject matter review prior to taking professional engineer exams. These exams will be conducted by the Michigan State Board of Registration for Architects, Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors next week.

The weekly sessions of the course were offered in two sections — one in Marquette and the other at Michigan Tech in Houghton. Twenty-seven of those enrolled were already engaged in engineering pursuits, while the remainder were Tech students.

R. H. Carlson, E. J. Langsford, D. O. Wilson, M. J. Marin, E. C. Rozar, and J. W. Lehto, all of Ishpeming.

Most members of the student group will take the engineer-in-training examination which will be given by the state board.

Problem Of Communications Thwarts U.S. Export Drive

ESCANABA — The greatest problem of the federal government in its effort to increase America's export business is communications. It can't get its message over to American businessmen, Lawrence Goode of the U. S. Department of Commerce's Detroit field office told an Upper Peninsula export workshop here.

The problem of interesting Americans in the profits to be made in selling their products abroad is not limited to Michigan, said I. Paul Teserero of the International Division of the National Bank of Detroit. Of 14,000 commercial banks in the United States, only 44 use the credit insurance services of the Export-Import Bank extensively.

Mostly In English
Teserero asked businessmen to inquire of their local commercial banks about export financing. All of them have the information available through their correspondent banks, said Teserero. (A commercial bank is any bank which accepts deposits, handles checks, makes loans.)

"Let the bank worry about financial arrangements and let the forwarder worry about shipping," said Teserero in encouraging business interest in the export trade. Ninety per cent of correspondence in export, he said, is in English. He explained that his bank wrote to 70 countries for a Lower Michigan manufacturer of hospital beds seeking orders abroad and that the firm now is selling its products in 37 of the countries.

Astronomical Possibilities
"These services are available to you free of charge, and the possibilities of volume are astronomical," said Teserero. "Let the manufacturer talk to his local bank and let him go to his corresponding bank. There is no charge for this. Tell your banker to find out."

Frank A. Alter, manager of the Department of Commerce Michigan field office in Detroit, said, "We find that export business is much more profitable than domestic business."
Lots Of Free Counsel
Goode counseled businessmen fearful of involvement in red tape of government controls, international financing and shipping that the process has been organized and simplified; that there is lots of free counsel available on how to handle sales, financing, insurance and shipping.

A White Pine Copper Co. official who asked a Port Authority official where he could contact a forwarder got 25 phone calls in one hour from forwarders after making the inquiry.

Only 5 per cent (strategic goods) of export items require an export license and even they are not usually barred, but the U. S. government wants to know about their volume.

Lowest Export Ratio
Alter said that the United States has the lowest ratio of exports to Gross National Product of any major country. Only 4 per cent of U. S. manufactures are sold to other countries. In Germany the figure is 17 per cent, in France it's 12, Belgium-Luxembourg 29, Japan 10.

For five years America's competitors have been increasing their economic growth at a much faster rate than the United States. Since 1959 hourly wages have increased 59 per cent in the U. S. and 123 per cent in Germany. World trade volume is estimated at $20 billion, and the U. S. has 60 per cent of it, or $12 billion. Ten years ago we had 75 per cent of it.

Surprised By Variety
Official policy of the U. S. government is to promote sales of American products around the world in trade fairs and other showings at government expense. American businessmen who participate in these efforts get the profits.

The foreign trade experts of the Commerce Department who talked to U. P. businessmen in Escanaba expected the U. P. to have mostly lumber for export and were somewhat surprised to learn the variety of its manufactures represented at the workshop, including "a preponderance of machinery and equipment," air compressors, drills, hydraulic crushers, paint, helicopters, etc.

JFK To Push For Voluntary Desegregation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to push for voluntary desegregation of hotels, restaurants, stores and theaters when he meets at the White House today with 100 businessmen who have outlets in the South.

Whether or not his persuasive approach works, the President is likely to go ahead with plans to ask Congress to approve a heavy package of civil rights bills.

Agreement in principle on a civil rights package was reached at a conference Monday between the President and Democratic congressional leaders, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., reported.

Humphrey, the acting Democratic leader, said the bills would include legislation to ban racial segregation both in private business and in public facilities. One objective, he said, would be to give the attorney general power to start a federal court suit on behalf of any individual denied his civil rights.

Kennedy's special message on civil rights will be his second to Congress this year. The first was on Feb. 28.

A great deal has happened since then: Negro picketing, rioting, and arrests in Birmingham, Jackson, Tallahassee, Philadelphia and other cities. These events have convinced Kennedy that more is needed than the mild proposals he sent to Congress in February.

But the President reportedly has rejected all suggestions that he make some more dramatic gesture than another special message to Congress.

The civil rights package, as outlined by Humphrey, would include:

1. A prohibition on discrimination by private businesses in interstate commerce.

2. A prohibition on discrimination by all public accommodations such as swimming pools, railroad stations, and bus depots.

3. Federal aid to desegregated school districts needing financial help.

4. Power for the attorney general to institute suits on behalf of individuals who have been denied their civil rights.

5. A renewal of proposals first made in February, including increased protection of voting rights and an extension of the life and powers of the Civil Rights Commission.

Sea Scouts Complete Cruise; Plan Rendezvous, Two Trips

Marquette Sea Scouts, members of Ship 303, cruised to Munising over the weekend aboard their 23-foot sloop, "Polaris."

The group's skipper is Donald Chinnery and sponsor is the Kiwanis Club.

The crew for the weekend trip consisted of Jim Berglund, Dennis Ward, Bruce Makinen, Frank Ross, Lee Tanch, Jim McVannell, Petty Officer Jim Warner and Chinnery.

During the trip to Munising the group received instruction in night navigation and the use of the compass and the marine radiotelephone. Fog encountered on the return to Marquette Harbor gave the youths practice in the use of the compass and navigation aids.

Highlights of the story in Munising included a cruise to Pictured Rocks and a visit to the Coast Guard Station.

Ship 303 is now planning its annual cruise to Isle Royale, in July.

In cooperation with Marquette Explorer Scout Post 309, the group will sponsor the second Lake Superior Rendezvous here on Aug. 31.

Membership in Ship 303 is open to all boys between the ages of 14 and 18. Prospective members are welcome at the rendezvous landing on E. Main St., Chinnery said.

The group has four boats, the "Polaris," and 18-foot and a 21-foot sailboat and a 14-foot outboard boat, which are kept in Marquette's Lower Harbor.

State Leaders Praise Pope

(By the Associated Press) Michigan civil and religious leaders—both Catholic and Protestant—today mourned the death of Pope John XXIII as the loss of a warm, compassionate churchman dedicated to human betterment and religious unity. He was praised for breaking down "many a wall of division and separation and for his sincere and deep interest and concern for those in need and for the underprivileged throughout the world."

Rt. Rev. Charles E. Bennisson, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Michigan, said: "While the death of Pope John XXIII is mourned by the entire world, we can really only be most grateful for the witness he has borne for Christ

"As supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, he broke down many a wall of division and separation. The Vatican Council which he convened—the first in nearly a hundred years—has already done much for the causes of Christian unity."

"He ranks among the truly great of this century and among the greatest of his predecessors."

Governor: Untimely
Gov. George Romney, a prominent Mormon Church leader, said: "What an untimely and unfortunate loss for our troubled world, particularly because of his exceptional ability and his dedication to human betterment, peace among nations, and religious tolerance and understanding."

'True Friend'
The Most Rev. Allen J. Babcock, bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Grand Rapids, said: "In the death of His Holiness, Pope John XXIII, the world has lost a great spiritual father and a true friend. His outstanding efforts toward encouraging friendly discussion among various religious groups with the hope of furthering church unity have been a source of edification throughout the world."

"He will go down in history not only because he convoked the second Vatican Council but also because he insisted that the attitude of the council be one of pastoral approach to all subjects to be discussed during the sessions of the council."

Detroit's Mayor, Jerome P. Cavanagh, said: "I am greatly saddened by the passing of Pope John XXIII. In the few short years of his reign he made a tremendous impact upon the world. His recent encyclical on peace will have a profound effect for generations to come."

Dr. Duane N. Vore, head of the Michigan Conference of the United Church of Christ, said: "The death of John XXIII marks the passing of one of the world's great church leaders. His vision, courage, depth of Christian understanding and compassion were an inspiration for all men of good will. Protestants as well as Roman Catholics found his challenge to Christian thought and action of the highest worth."

Henry Ford II said, "Pope John XXIII has left a deep and permanent imprint on our times and our world. His contributions to peace, to understanding and to good will among men will stand forever as a lasting memorial to a great and inspiring leader."

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said: "The cause of world peace and human freedom lost a gallant champion. Pope John XXIII was a great and a good man and in his passing the people of the world have lost a dedicated spiritual leader and a timeless advocate of peace, freedom and social justice."

In Washington, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., commented: "At a moment when this world needs voices who can move us toward peace, both as between nations, and as between races and religions, the Holy Father is taken from us"

Methodist Bishop Marshall R. Reed of Detroit said, "I think Pope John gave remarkable leadership to the cause of Christianity. He moved out into the area of an ecumenical spirit and service which will be of remarkable value to Christianity for years to come. For this, all branches of Christendom will be forever indebted to him."

The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Enrich, Episcopal bishop, praised the personality of the Pope as the driving force behind the new striving for unity in all the world's Christian Churches. He said, "Pope John's great mark of character was an outgoing love, which revealed itself in a new attitude toward other Christians, a desire for the renewal of the Church and a passion for peace."

"As bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Detroit, I extend to our Roman Catholic brethren the sympathy of the diocese on the death of their beloved Pontiff."

Bishop Noa To Offer Mass For Pope John; Lauds Church Leader

A Pontifical Requiem Mass for Pope John XXIII will be offered by the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D.D., bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, at 11 Wednesday morning in St. Peter's Cathedral.

Bishop Noa also issued a statement following the announcement of the Pope's death, praising the leader of the Catholic Church.

Officers Of Mass
Officers of the Mass assisting Bishop Noa will be the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Nolan B. McKeever, rector of St. Peter's and vicar general of the diocese, as assistant priest; the Rev. Norbert P. LaCasse, assistant pastor of St. Michael's Church, as the deacon, and the Rev. Ellis Zimmer, OFM, Cap., chaplain of St. Mary's Hospital, as the subdeacon.

The assistant deacons will be the Rev. Raymond J. Garin, pastor of St. John's Church, and the Rev. David Harris, pastor of St. Louis Church, Harvey.

Bells-Tolled Here
First master of ceremonies will be the Rev. Dominic A. Zadra, secretary to the bishop, and second master of ceremonies will be the Rev. Raymond Moncher, assistant at St. Peter's.

When the official report of the Pope's passing was received in Marquette, bells in all Catholic churches were tolled in his honor.

Statement By Bishop
Following is Bishop Noa's statement on the Pope's passing:

The staunch and sturdy son of a farmer—Pope John XXIII. He was born in humble circumstances and he reached the highest position that a man can reach in the Church, but he kept his two feet on the ground always.

He died during the Pentecostal celebrations. Pentecost is the great Feast of the Church, marking the birthday of the Church. Pope John XXIII can be justly called the Pentecostal Pope of the 20th century.

His greatest achievement was the convocation of the Ecumenical Council. By it and in it he desired to evoke the spirit of Christ into the life of the Church, its renewal, reform and newness of life.

Newness To Religious World
By his strong appeal for union among Christians, indeed among all men, he brought about a newness over the entire religious world. Indeed man spoke freely and eloquently that the spirit of Christ, the spirit of God, was working among men and on men. He was not a scholar, or statesman, or diplomat. He was a shepherd. The Latin "pastor" translated means shepherd.

He was elected. It is reported as a sort of "substitute" or "interlude"—candidate, one who would fill the place until the cardinals were called upon to choose someone more permanent and better endowed. In the few years of his rule, he has accomplished more than any of his predecessor accomplished over many years. He brought fresh air into the church. It would seem as if he turned a switch which caused the many forces and talents in the church to bring about air-conditioning into the life of the church.

It is reported that in his last hours of suffering and in his struggle with death, he was offering everything for the intention of the council. It was not necessary to report a matter of this sort. From the hour and day when he announced the convocation of the council all of his thoughts and actions were directed to its promotion. There was no need for anyone to tell the world that this was the case at the end of his life.

Pope John XXIII accomplished a revolution in the church. In many an affair he turned things upside down, in fact at times he seemed to be a supreme master in this, but he never turned things topsy-turvy, he never caused confusion.

'An Incurable Optimist'
He was an incurable optimist. Some very talented old-timers, churchmen, might have referred to him as a simpleton, but by his tact and kindness and common good sense he won all that was needed.

In his revolution for the church he has stripped the church of an accumulation of worn-out trimmings of centuries. His convocation of the council can be called an act of faith in God and obedience to His laws.

The epoch-making Ecumenical Council of the church held under this Holy Father can be called truly "Pope John's Council."

Pope John

From the high pinnacle occupied by the supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, it is difficult to appear at once a great religious leader and a warm human being. Pope John XXIII achieved that distinction in his brief 4 1/2 years as Pope.

Possessed of a winning friendliness, he sought from the outset to invest the papacy with a deep sense of humanity. That he succeeded is attested by the fact that millions of poor everywhere responded to him with great feeling.

Pope John was stoutly orthodox in his Catholicism. But evidently he did not think it necessary to stress this by holding himself and his office austere and aloof.

He did not fear to innovate. He called an Ecumenical Council, only the 21st ever to be summoned in some 20 centuries of Catholic history. He consecrated a bishop, using an ancient Greek rite which was novel to Rome. There were many other such touches.

The warmth of his spirit was felt when he visited prisoners in a Rome jail, when he raised the salaries of many in the Vatican, when he broke the old tradition that the Pope must eat alone.

Not all his changes were liberalizing. Many reforms were, in fact, a return to older largely forgotten ways of doing. In this respect he showed an abiding concern for the historical continuity of the exalted post he held.

Pope John did not forget either that his position gave him rare opportunity to speak to the world as an advocate of peace, of order, of sound morality. His various pronouncements were a powerful force for good in an age that desperately needs that influence.

influence.

At 60, Pope John was unknown to the world. Sixteen years later he ascended to the Pope's chair. Many thought his advanced age would make of him a kind of "transition Pope" who would have slight effect on the course of Catholicism and religion generally.

Pope John confounded the doubters. He toiled with great vigor and full heart. His years at the pinnacle were few. But his imprint on the spiritual life of the world was great.

Another Great Bridge

Opening of the great International Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie completes the bridging of the Upper Peninsula with its land ties. It is connected with Wisconsin over the Montreal River in the west between Hurley and Ironwood by a U. S. 2 bridge four-laned in 1962; over the Brule River between Florence and Crystal Falls, over the Menominee at Niagara, Faithorn, Nathan, McAllister and Menominee; over the Straits of Mackinac with Lower Michigan at St. Ignace, and now over the St. Marys River with Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada.

One of the greatest bridges in the Peninsula is the vertical lift bridge over Portage Lake between Houghton and Hancock. It connects Keweenawland with the rest of the Upper Peninsula. It cost $11 million and was completed in 1960.

The Mackinac Bridge is the Peninsula's greatest; it cost $100 million. The International Bridge between the Saults is the second greatest, cost $20 million.

Many areas are proud of their bridges and take a part of their identity from them. In San Francisco the pride in the Golden Gate that opens San Francisco Bay to the Pacific is now shared with the Golden Gate Bridge. At the Firth of Forth in Scotland the pride in the great tubular steel railroad bridge there has now been topped by that in a huge suspension bridge to carry motor traffic.

The Hudson River at New York, once spanned in suspension only by the famed Brooklyn Bridge (which Brooklyn Bartender Steve Brody immortalized even more than its designers), is now so much bridged that it looks like a stapler.

The great bridges of the Upper Peninsula are among the impressive man-made sights of the Midwest. They vary widely in design and they are all in spectacular settings.

Big Mac between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace bridges the connection between Lakes Michigan and Huron with Fort Michilimackinac on the south and Old Fort Mackinac on the north, and Fort DeBaudette still to raise its palisades on Pointe St. Ignace. This bridge was the longest suspension bridge between anchorages in the world when it was completed in 1957 and is still one of the greatest monuments to engineering skill in the world.

Tourists needn't go to Duluth any more to see a lift bridge. One of the most famed admits shipping from Lake Superior to its harbor. At Houghton a newer span over Portage Lake lets ships pass by lifting its double decked span one floor on the Peninsula's greatest elevator. Quincy Hill and the long ridge of the Keweenaw and its spectacular Brockway Mountain Drive lie ahead for the motorist.

And now the fast little ferries that used to shuttle between the Saults are gone and traffic moves high in the air over the famed St. Marys ship canal, the rapids and the Canadian canal on the International Bridge. The bridge removes the last water hazard in the scenic drive around Lake Superior. Now the tourist can travel by highway all the way.

The Upper Peninsula has many other bridge attractions, like the Cut River Bridge and the Manistiquie River siphon bridge on U. S. 2; the Sturgeon River bridge on U. S. 41 near Alberta. This is a fascinating necklace of the Water Wonderland to which the Sault now adds a bright bead in the International Bridge.

Pastoral Pope's Legacy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Pope John XXIII said he preferred the medicine of mercy rather than that of severity, and he used it to minister to the ills of the world.

He had been ruler of the Roman Catholic Church for less than five years when death came. That wasn't long enough to bring about a recovery to the world's troubles. He hardly had time to do more than write out a few prescriptions in his eight encyclicals and his Ecumenical Council.

Good Will Among Non-Catholics
Yet, it is doubtful any Pope in more than a century gave such a sense of vitality to the Catholic Church or created so much good will among the non-Catholics of the world, both those with a belief in God and those without any.

As he lay dying—he said he was prepared and had his bags packed—Catholics, Protestants, non-Christians and atheistic Communists alike regrettably— He had tried to open the door to unity—at least unity in the sense of better understanding—between the Catholic and non-Catholic worlds. Real unity is still a dream. Disunity was too deep for a quick solution.

Extremely Contemporary
John, out of a peasant family in Italy, was a pastoral Pope, warm, humble, extremely contemporary and optimistic. He went to work at once.

Pope Leo XIII, on the night the cardinals elected him in 1878, immediately sat down and wrote Chancellor Bismarck in Germany where Catholics suffered under repressive legislation. This opened negotiations and in a few years Bismarck lifted the legislation.

John, within a day after his election Nov. 4, 1958, went on the radio to plead for peace.

He began efforts toward some form of working arrangement between the Vatican and Communist governments—in the interest of peace of Catholics behind the Iron Curtain—and his efforts seemed well received in Russia.

Called Ecumenical Council
In almost no time he did what no other Pope had done in almost 1000 years: He called an Ecumenical Council, a meeting of the cardinals, bishops and leaders of the church. More than 2,500 went to Rome to take part in the first session.

It was different from other such councils. Protestants and representatives of the Greek and Russian Orthodox churches were invited as observers. More than 40 Protestants and two delegates from the Russian church went.

The council lasted from Oct. 11 to Dec. 8, 1962 and then recessed until next Sept. 8. It's possible John's successor will postpone the next session but very unlikely he will cancel it.

Opened Access On New Road
The council had several purposes, among them some church reforms, like letting priests say parts of the Mass and administer the sacraments in their own tongues instead of all in Latin, and beginning closer relations with the Protestant world.

What John did, since any hope of unity he had could hardly be achieved in his lifetime or perhaps in several lifetimes, was to open access on a new road for Popes coming after him.

Encyclicals are circular letters to Catholics. But even here John broke new ground. His two most famous encyclicals were Mater et Magistra (Mother and Teacher) and Pacem in Terris (Peace on Earth).

Broad Social Program
He addressed the latter not only to Catholics but "to all men of good will." So far as this writer can learn, this was unprecedented in church history. He delivered Pacem in Terris last April 11.

He called for peace, disarmament, an end to nuclear weapons and a worldwide organization with power enough to assure peace and the general welfare. In addition he asked for a broad social program—really a cradle-to-the-grave program—to be sure the needs of no one are neglected.

Acknowledged Changing Times
All three Popes favored labor unions. Leo and Pius condemned doctrinaire socialism. John acknowledged that changing times and needs have made it necessary for governments, on behalf of the general welfare, to do many things which once were supposed to be the private domain of free enterprise.

But John, like Pius XI, warned against interference by any state with the legitimate freedoms of individuals and voluntary groups. But, where Leo and Pius were outspoken in their denunciation of communism and socialism, John in Pacem in Terris never mentioned communism by name although making it clear he opposed its doctrine.

He seemed to indicate that while Communist doctrine won't change, its practice may. He said that it would be impossible to accept the doctrine if it might be possible to deal cautiously with the practice.

Moscow praised the encyclical but printed only the parts which suited it.

WHAT IS A FARMER?

A farmer is a paradox—he is an overall executive with his home; his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a purchasing agent in an old hat; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; . . . a production expert with a surplus; and a manager battling a price-cost squeeze.

He manages more capital than most of the businessmen in town. He likes sunshine, good foods. He is not much for droughts, ditches, throughways, experts, weeds, the 8-hour day or helping with housework.

A farmer must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capacities amid the possibility that a late spring can bring his business to a standstill. You can reduce his acreage but not his ambition. . . .

Might as well put up with him. He is your countryman — a denim-dressed, business-wise, fast-growing statesman of stature. And when he comes in at noon, having spent the energy of his hope he can be recharged any with the magic words: "The market's up." —Cato (N. Y.) Citizen.

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — As if it didn't have its hands full with Congress, the Administration has been challenged from within in its efforts to free the nation's railroads from most federal regulation over minimum freight rates.

Thumbing its collective nose at President Kennedy's ambitious transportation program, the Interstate Commerce Commission is unanimously opposing two bills which would permit all carriers to lower certain rates without governmental approval. It is ICC's opinion that the artificial minimum rates, now applied only to railroads, not only should be maintained but should be applied also to all other carriers as a bar to monopolistic throat-cutting.

Trucks Have Advantage
Recently, railroad men have had some apparent success in selling their bill of goods to members of Congress. But now, with the ICC throwing its road block, Congress undoubtedly will take another, harder look at the legislation.

Truckers now have the right to lower rates without government approval when hauling agricultural products and large lines have the right when carrying bulk commodities such as grain or petroleum. The railroads insist that to "restore fair competition," all three carriers should be the sole arbiters of rates in these two categories.

Rails Losing Freight
In an era when the railroads are sick an crying for the doctor, their argument has a certain pathetic validity. In 1962, for the first time in history, ICC-regulated intercity truckers took in more gross freight revenues than all the nation's Class I railroads. And all intercity trucks, including unregulated and private haulers, accounted for over twice as much freight business as the railroads. Moreover, freight volume moving over rivers and canals increased nearly four times during the postwar period.

This, in essence, is the railroads' answer to the cries that permitting them to cut rates willy-nilly would lead to monopoly by the bigger roads. They insist that with the rise of the trucking and barge business, rail monopoly is no longer possible, end, anyway, there is always resort to the antitrust laws against any destructive competition. In reply, their opponents assert that by the time a small company made its way through the maze of antitrust machinery it

Consumer Pays
But it remains true that the consumer is a victim of this artificial rail rate ceiling, originally imposed when the railroads were virtually alone in the hauling field. In recent years, railroads have developed new hopper cars for carrying grain at reduced costs, but because of ICC regulations they have not been able to pass on these savings — as much as 60 per cent on multiple-car shipments — to the shipper. Even in a country accustomed to governmental idiosyncrasy, this makes no sense.

In the savage jungle of big business competition, of course, Congress is not inclined to accept any side's case at face value. There are always the hidden gimmicks, such as private agreements among carriers, which make a black-and-white appraisal perilous. But this is a matter that cries for a wide-open debate, with strict attention to details. Congress already has waited 30 years too long to tackle the problem of a deteriorating rail system.

Six Services Sunday For NMU 'Grads'

Baccalaureate services for the 280 members of the Class of 1963 at Northern Michigan University will be held in six Marquette churches Sunday.

Each member of the graduating class has been sent a letter signed by the Rev. Norbert W. Smith, president of the Marquette Ministerial Association, and the Rev. Stephen Mannie, O.F.M. Cap, Newman Club chaplain at Northern, advising them of the schedule of services.

"After serious study and consultation with community religious leaders," the clergymen's letter said, "Dr. Harden has requested that a baccalaureate service be offered in the churches of the community. We therefore, sincerely invite you and your family to the church of your choice on this important occasion. This will be your opportunity to thank God for the benefits of a higher education and to ask His blessings on the use of your talents."

The schedule follows: First Methodist — 9 a. m. First Presbyterian — 11 a. m. Messiah Lutheran — 9:30 a. m. St. Mark's Lutheran — 11 a. m. St. Michael's Catholic — 8 a. m. St. Paul's Episcopal — 9:30 a. m. The women graduates are asked to wear their caps and gowns but the men in the class will not require their caps. The hospital also received a check for five dollars from the unit this year, as did the Michigan Chapter for Cystic Fibrosis.

The main work of the Eight and Forty, it was announced has been caring for the needs of tubercular children on national, state and local levels. BHS Graduation Speaker Says Education Concept Unchanged Through Years

The comprehensive concept of education has not changed since the time of Plato because people have not changed substantially in their interests, desires and dreams through the years, the Rev. Glenn G. Weber told 74 graduates of Bishop Baraga Central High School in his commencement address Sunday afternoon.

Speaking at St. Peter's Cathedral, where the exercises were held, Father Weber, who holds a master's degree in education from Northern Michigan University, told the Baraga seniors that "the same fundamental questions dealing with our very being run through the minds of modern generations that occupied the minds of men and women ages ago." These questions relate to God's existence and his relationship to man, the meaning of life and death, the nature of joy and the function of pleasure and the criteria with which human society, the family and civil society are ruled, he said.

Objectives Same Father Weber, who is guidance director at Baraga, a member of the school's board of pastors and assistant editor of the Northern Michigan edition of Our Sunday Visitor, pointed out that educational objectives in Catholic schools are the same today as they were back in 1852 when the pastoral letter of the First Plenary Council of Baltimore cited the importance of religious as well as secular instruction and warned against the unhappy consequences "if children, while they advance in human sciences, are not also taught the science of the saints."

The speaker said that Catholic education in today's "fantastically technological space age" is still based on the philosophy of seeking out the truth, natural as well as supernatural, and said that in today's world graduates of Catholic schools might well consider the writings 70 years ago of Archbishop John Ireland.

Quotes Prelate Father Weber noted that in 1893, the St. Paul (Minn.) prelate said: "The discoveries of the age, whether in minute animalcules or in vast fiery orbs, demonstrate God... the fruits of all historical research, of all social and moral inquiry, give us Christ rising from the dead and raising the world from the dead."

Citing the responsibility of the church in education, Father Weber told his listeners that today the prelate's statements still apply: "The age has not a sufficiency of knowledge and the need of the hour, the duty of the church, is to stimulate the age to deeper researches, to more extensive surveys, until it has left untouched no particle of matter that may conceal a secret, no incident of history, no act in the life of humanity, that may solve a problem. The age loves knowledge; let us be patrons of knowledge. Let us be the most learned historians, the most experienced scientists, the most acute philosophers; and history, science and philosophy will not be divorced from religion..."

Patience 'Must' Students in high school should avoid making judgments about the importance or unimportance of certain studies in the light of "what appears immediately useful" because they do not yet know what life has in store for them or how their careers will develop. "Do you think," he said, "that astronaut Gordon Cooper foresaw as a high school graduate that he would have to put so much of his mathematical, scientific principles and data to work, as well as his those qualities in his character of perseverance, of ability to act promptly and accurately to emergency, and to have the faith in God that such a risk into the unknown necessarily requires?"

"Spiritual Importance" Father Weber quoted Charles Malik of Lebanon in a speech before the United Nations to emphasize his point that the spiritual qualities men and women possess will influence the space age.

Drama Director

Vance Paul, who will direct "Summer and Smoke," the drama of the Deep South by Tennessee Williams which the Marquette Community Theater is producing in July, is shown here with the script of the play, to be cast this week. Paul will meet tonight with members of the theater unit in the Chamber of Commerce building. Readings from the play will follow the regular monthly business meeting.

as well as their scientific knowledge. Malik said, the priest told his listeners, that: "The question, therefore, which confronts you is not who has this bomb or the other, but who can develop a type of person who will sum up in his character such qualities of understanding and of humility, of truth, of humor, of universal sympathy, of capacity for friendship and love that he will be admired and respected even by those who might otherwise envy and hate him..."

Could you guess what's good about a headache?

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is: a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong... perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom—valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin—but even that's worth knowing.

Alger Residents To Vote Monday On Annexation Of School District

MUNISING — Next Monday, qualified voters of Alger County will go to the polls to act on the proposed annexation of the Alger Intermediate School District to the Marquette Intermediate School District.

G. Vance Hiney, Negaunee, Marquette County Intermediate School District superintendent, said the proposal grew out of a law written by the Michigan Legislature last year and slated to take effect in 1965.

It requires that all schools expecting state aid should be within a district including a minimum of 5,000 school children, unless (1) the county involved is willing to furnish all funds for school operation (for example, without state aid for special education, etc.); or (2) the county involved already is receiving state aid for special education.

Two Chief Benefits

According to Hiney, annexation as proposed would provide two outstanding benefits, without removing jurisdiction of Alger schools from Alger residents. He said that the combined intermediate district would stand to gain in terms of additional state aid funds that is, both together would receive more money than either singly, and expansion of special services would be possible, to the benefit of both districts.

Following is a comparison made by the Alger Intermediate School Board to acquaint electors with conditions now existing and with conditions which would exist should annexation be approved in balloting June 10.

Present Setup

At present the Alger Intermediate School District has less than 2,500 pupils; no state aid for special education; a budget of about $10,000, which costs about 2 mills, but will cost 5 mills in 1965, when state aid is curtailed; no special services; a five-member board elected by a committee composed of one member from each public school board; a county superintendent, with $4,800 of his salary being paid by the state (this aid will be withdrawn in 1965, if annexation to another county fails); and millage allocated by the Alger County allocation board.

With the combination of the two intermediate school districts, the following benefits would be derived: An intermediate school district of over 15,000 pupils; state aid for special education; a budget of about $22,000 costing about 125 mills or less (low millage due to large valuation in Marquette County); special services for Alger's physically handicapped, speech defective and retarded pupils; a seven-man board elected by popular vote in combined counties, including two qualified electors from Alger County, would be selected to sit on the combined board; a county superintendent and his assistant will work entire district, with state aid for both; and millage will be allocated by the county allocation board.

This new setup, the board explained, is separate from the Alger public school districts and in no way will interfere with the present control and administration of the public school districts.

In 1962 the state legislature passed an act known as the Intermediate School District Act. This act changes the names of present county school districts to "Intermediate School Districts." The act states that any district having less than 5,000 pupils in membership in 1965 and thereafter will not receive any state aid; further that the school districts will continue to exist but the county will have to pay the full cost of operation, which at present in Alger is $9,162. State aid has been $4,800.

Combination Plan

The act provides, however, that if two districts combine to bring their enrollment above 5,000 pupils, not only the $4,800 toward the superintendent's salary will be provided, but also additional money for additional services, such as $3,500 for each of the counties to aid in the transition and 75 per cent or up to $5,100 for each special program initiated involving 5,000 pupils.

"In regard to the question of annexation of the Alger County Intermediate District with Marquette," Kemp Brown, Alger intermediate superintendent said, "the old question of local autonomy keeps rearing its ugly head; but what many people do not understand is that the intermediate district is not an operating district, but is a service district."

"It is thought that the board members will all come from Marquette County and therefore Alger County will not have representation after the first few years. Under the intermediate law this is not possible, because the newly-formed board is not a Marquette County board, nor is it an Alger County board, but a board representing the whole area of both counties, and under the law it cannot distinguish between or fail to heed the needs of any part of the area over which it has jurisdiction. It is our opinion that the situation will never come where all the board members are from Marquette County, but even if it does, we cannot see where this would have a harmful effect on our area."

"Certainly the position of board members will never be at a point where an Alger resident cannot run for office, and certainly a person from Alger will have as good a chance or maybe better, than if he were from Marquette. The experience throughout the state seems to follow this pattern, and the ex-

Incumbent Seeks School Board Post

NEGAUNEE — Lawrence C. Collins, a resident of Richmond Township, will be one of five candidates seeking two seats on the Negaunee Board of Education during the annual Negaunee School District election Monday, June 10.

Collins, an incumbent, was appointed to the board in November of last year to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Harold Mathews of Palmer. Richmond Township has been represented on the school board since it was enlarged to experience of smaller districts annexed to larger districts has seemed to follow this pattern. It has been proved that annexation does not put the smaller districts at a disadvantage.

"Too Small"

"In summarizing, he must remember that in order for us to even exist as an intermediate school district, we must combine to make a membership of 5,000. After serious study and consideration by many school people, it is felt that the best choice is for us to annex with Marquette. If we do not do it now, it may come to the point where we will cease to have any choice in the matter, but the state will have to come in and make the choice for us. Later they may have to tell us with whom we will combine."

"This annexation will make it possible for our children to get some of the advantages that are already available to larger districts. We are too small to go it alone and we are too small to get the help from the state that will be forthcoming in the future under a combination."

seven members. The township school district was annexed to Negaunee five years ago.

A native of Negaunee, Collins attended the local public schools. He has resided in Palmer since 1913, with the exception of five years spent in Iron River with the M. A. Hanna Co. At Palmer, he was superintendent of the Richmond Mine operated by Hanna from 1932 until the property closed in 1956.

On Richmond Board

He was a member of the Richmond Township School Board for 12 years before the district was annexed to Negaunee. He also served nine years as a member of the Marquette County Board of Education.

In announcing his candidacy, Collins said, "I believe it is important that Richmond Township continue to have representation on the Negaunee Board of Education, especially in view of developments at the new open pit Empire Mine located in the township, which will have a radical effect as far as increasing school district revenue is concerned in the years ahead."

Chicago Blanks Angels; Nearing Top In American

(By the Associated Press) Isn't it about time the hitters started catching up with the pitchers? This season's trend of the men on the mound dominating the men in the batters' box continued Monday night as three right-handers straggled their way to impressive victories in the only major league action.

holding the Los Angeles Dodgers hitless for 7-1-3 innings in a 2-1 triumph over the slumping National League contenders. The 20-game loser of last season, backed by rookie Rusty Staub's first big league homer, finished with a two-hit job and the Dodgers finished with their fifth straight loss.

Staub blasted Long One. Dick Tracewski was the culprit, with a clean single to center. Then in the ninth, Jim Gilliam led off with a triple and eventually scored on Tommy Davis' sacrifice fly. The burly fast-baller now is 3-6. Staub connected for a 400-foot shot following a walk to Carl Warwick in the fourth for the decisive blow off Don Drysdale, who struck out 12 and gave up seven hits in seven innings as his record fell to 6-6.

Tigers Turn Down All Offers:

Indians Want Colavito Back; May Be Traded Before 1964

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Colavito is back in Cleveland, where the Indians fans and General Manager Gabe Paul love him dearly, but he's still a Tiger. And the Tigers are going to live or die with the Rock in left field for the rest of this season at least, said Jim Campbell, Detroit's general manager. Campbell has been with the Tigers throughout their current road trip, talking trade at each stop. No doubt he'll huddle with Paul while the Tigers are in Cleveland for games tonight and Wednesday night.

Packers To End Thanksgiving Day Game With Lions

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Green Bay Packers will terminate the traditional Thanksgiving Day game with the Detroit Lions after the 1963 contest, Packer Coach Vince Lombardi said Monday. After 1963 the game against the Lions will have to be rotated among other National Football League teams but will continue to be played in Detroit, he added. "It's not worth it to us," Lombardi said. He explained that for the past two years the Packers got no more out of the nationally televised game than any other NFL team. Prior to that, they received an extra $10,000. Lombardi said the Lions had the advantage of playing the game at home while the Packers found it difficult to prepare for the contest because of travel time and other factors.

Track Control Squabble May Force Cancellation Of American-Russ Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—The war for control of track in this country exploded anew today, with the United States team that will oppose the Russians in Moscow in July caught squarely in the fallout. In the latest move in the alphabet soup battle, the nation's largest college conference, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, in effect ruled that its athletes should not compete in the national Amateur Athletic Union track championships, where the U.S. team for Russia will be picked.

asked its members to stay out of AAU championships unless the AAU asked the Federation for sanction. The AAU contends that this is dual sanction, and flatly refuses. To Comply With Request. College athletic directors in the area immediately said they would comply with the ECAC request, and pull their athletes out of AAU meets, including the New York Athletic Club games next Saturday.

Could Force Cancellation

In California, there were indications the powerful Big Six Conference would follow suit, and Payton Jordan, who will coach the U.S. team against Russia, said the move might cancel the trip to Moscow. The AAU leveled a charge that the colleges, who are battling the old amateur organization for track control, are out to wreck the American team and will be glad to do so.

State Quits World Boxing Association

MUSKOGON (AP)—David I. Gudelsky, chairman of the Michigan State Athletic Board of Control, and heavyweight Cassius Clay have in common a penchant for calling their shots. In his first attempt Monday Gudelsky pulled Michigan from membership in the World Boxing Association as he threatened earlier—because veteran Muskegon southpaw lightweight Kenny Lane was denied a title fight.

State Quits World Boxing Association

He commented after Dr. Larson indicated that his organization planned no immediate stripping of the title from Ortiz. The WBA is an outgrowth of the defunct National Boxing Association. It earlier ordered Ortiz to sign by June 2 for a title bout with Lane or forfeit his crown. Ortiz, 26, won the title from aging Joe Brown a year ago. He has defended twice since that time. Both his challengers ranked lower than Lane.

Tiger Fans Boo Him

Tiger fans took to booing Rocky Colavito during the club's futile start this season, and in Detroit his name isn't magic at the box office. Attendance is off 100,000 from 1962 at Tiger Stadium. The Detroit fans expect him to hit home runs—and he's got only five with the season more than one-fourth over.

Beat Cards In Exhibition

Manager Bob Scheffing nominated rookie Mickey Lolich (1-1) to pitch for the Tigers. Barry Lantieri (1-2) or Mudcat Grant (3-5) will pitch for the Indians. The Tigers Monday night routed the Cardinals by scoring seven times in the fifth inning. Bobby Phillips, who'd been benched by Scheffing for light hitting, featured the outburst with a three-run homer.

Mark Thomas, PGA assistant tournament supervisor, said he spoke to Nicklaus on the telephone and was told the National Open and Masters champion would have to miss the tournament due to his child's illness. Nicklaus also reportedly is eager to get some practice time in at Brookline, Mass., where he'll defend his National Open title in two weeks.

Steel Output Continues Edging Higher

contrast with a year ago when steelmakers poured only 1.58 million tons of steel. June production probably won't equal the 11.5 million ingot tons produced in May. It may even top 2.2 million tons. A slowing down is expected because of the prospects for a steel labor settlement and the upcoming vacation season. But heavy shipments of finished steel are seen for June. Tonnage will be close to the eight million tons that Steel estimates the industry shipped in May—regardless of what happens on the labor front. It there's a settlement this week or next, users will try to defer some of the tonnage that's scheduled for June delivery, but they won't have much success. Reason: Most of the steel they have ordered has been melted and is moving through finishing mills. Once in process, it can't be held back. Although steel demand has fallen from the peak it reached in late April, there has been no letup in consumption. Bookings have dropped only because of a slowdown in inventory buying. Products in best demand are sheets (cold rolled, hot rolled and galvanized), long ternes, wide plates and bars. Orders for wire products and tubular goods are improving seasonally.

Output for the week was estimated at 2,630,000 tons, about 4,000 tons above the previous week's. Production this week is expected to be about the same—quite a

Dear Abby....

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband's older sister is one for the books. She lives near me and drops in to visit quite often. Lately she has been getting "hot flashes" — she tears off her blouse or her dress (or whatever she is wearing) and pulls off her beads and earrings like a woman possessed. I have an 11-year-old son and I don't want her undressing in front of him. I have to be on my guard constantly and when she starts having a hot flash I get the boy out of the room, but fast. Now this sister-in-law was widowed in the past year, and I think these flashes are way overdue as a bid for sympathy. Can't her doctor give her shots or pills to help her? She claims he can't.

How can I put a stop to it? Or is this something a second wife must learn to live with?

WIFE NUMBER TWO
DEAR WIFE: An unresolved suspicion is neither healthy nor fun to live with. If your husband does not appreciate these calls, he can put a stop to them by telling his "ex" in more emphatic language. If he "enjoys" them, you have another problem. You are competing with a poor loser who might be angling for another bout.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I have been going steady for three years and plan to be married this fall. When I was 15 I

I NEEDED STATES OF AMERICA FEDERAL POLICE COMMISSION. The Commission of Application for the States of America Public Notice is hereby given that application has been filed under the Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. 791a-791d, for the construction of a 2,000-kilowatt hydroelectric project on the Upper Grand River, Marquette County, Michigan. The project consists of a storage dam and powerhouse. The powerhouse has a storage capacity of about 200,000 gallons. The dam is about 2,000 feet long and 30 feet high. The project is located in Marquette County, Michigan. The project is owned by the States of America. The project is being developed by the States of America. The project is being developed by the States of America.

SISTER-IN-LAW
DEAR SIS: I have a "hot flash" for you, lady. What helps some women is of no help to others. Your sister-in-law needs sympathy and understanding, not criticism.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for eight months now, and happily, except for one thing. My husband still gets phone calls from his ex-wife. They had no children so there are no family or financial ties to discuss. About three months ago I thought the calls had stopped, but I happened to come home for lunch the other day and she called again. My husband seemed embarrassed and got rid of her quickly. I told him he could stop these calls by telling her bluntly he didn't wish to speak to her, but he claims he has already told her that. I trusted him completely until this last call. Do you suppose he enjoys knowing his "ex" is still carrying the torch?

am now 22), I had a child out of wedlock. My parents are raising her as their own child. Everyone thinks she is my younger sister. I told my boy friend about it, and he said he didn't care about the past. I believe him, too. Abby, before I marry him I think his parents should be told about my mistake. He says he won't tell them, and as long as my parents plan to raise my little girl as their own, no one needs to know all about me. Am I right? Or do you agree with my boy friend?

TROUBLED CONSCIENCE

DEAR TROUBLED: I agree with your boy friend.
