

Ad Altare Dei Award Given City Scout

Eagle Scout Fred Pleaugh of Troop 333, Marquette, has the Ad Altare Dei award pinned on him by the Rev. Thomas Coleman, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Cathedral. The award was presented by Father Coleman to Pleaugh in recent ceremonies held in the cathedral. This distinction is the highest religious award in Boy Scouting, and is presented only after the recipient has provided unusual service to his church and has completed rigorous requirements over an extended period of time. The troop is sponsored by the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.—(The Wood photo).

Three Persons Hurt, Three Given Tickets In Area Car Crackups

Three persons were injured, three motorists were issued summonses and four automobiles were damaged in three area traffic wrecks reported this morning by state police from the Marquette post.

There also were two collisions in Marquette (see other local traffic story) and state police also probed a mishap in Negaunee (see story on Page 16). Reports on this area's wrecks follow:

1. At 12:20 this morning an automobile being driven south on County Road 510 by Donald Collins, 18, Palmer, went out of control as he was rounding a sharp left curve, with his car going into the ditch on the right side of the highway and smashing into a tree. Collins suffered multiple bruises about his body and a possible fracture of his right leg and a passenger, Michael Larson, 19, Route 1, Negaunee, sustained deep lacerations on his head, multiple bruises and a fracture of his left leg.

They were taken in the city ambulance to St. Mary's Hospital here.

Collins told state police an oncoming vehicle appeared to be on his side of the road, causing him to swerve to the right. However, officers said skid marks at the scene indicated there was no other vehicle involved. Collins was issued a summons for violation of the basic speed law.

Extensive damage occurred to the right side and front end of Collins' car, a 1953 sedan, which had to be towed from the scene by a wrecker.

The wreck occurred three and a half miles north of U.S. 41, in Negaunee Township.

2. Gary Anderson, 17, Palmer, who notified state police of the Collins mishap, got into an accident himself, at 12:30 p.m., while returning to the scene of the crash after going to a phone, state police said.

Driving north on County Road 510, about three miles north of U.S. 41, also in Negaunee Township, state police said, Anderson lost control of his car on a sharp left curve, with the vehicle traveling off the right side of the highway and striking a rock cliff.

Anderson sustained lacerations about his upper right arm and multiple bruises on his body and also was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in the city ambulance.

Considerable damage occurred to the front end of his car a 1955 coach, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

State police ticketed Anderson for a speed law violation.

3. At 4:43 yesterday afternoon a car being driven west on U.S. 41 by James Lowney Jr., 48, Houghton, smashed into an automobile operated by Edwin Shadford, 68, Ann Arbor, at County Road 492, in Marquette Township.

State police said Shadford had driven out from a parking lot on the north (right) side of the highway, onto U.S. 41, into the path of Lowney's vehicle.

Extensive damage occurred to the right front of Lowney's car, a 1963 sedan, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker. The left rear of Shadford's 1958 coach was damaged. The latter vehicle was removed from the scene by the owner.

State police issued Shadford a

Six-Week Reading Class Set At NMU

Northern Michigan University, in cooperation with the Marquette Public School System, will sponsor a summer reading program from Monday, June 24, to Friday, Aug. 2.

Open to graduate students and upperclassmen, the six-week program will consist of two courses: "Laboratory Practice in Remedial Reading" and "Diagnosis of Reading Difficulties." Four hours of graduate or undergraduate credit may be earned.

Held At Sandy Knoll

Designed to help teachers understand the nature and causes of reading difficulties, and to gain skill in the use of diagnostic techniques, the program will be held daily at the Sandy Knoll Elementary School from 8:30 a. m. to noon.

Each participating teacher also will work under supervision with two children who are having difficulty to read.

The children will be students from the Marquette Public Schools or John D. Pierce.

Instructor for the program for the second year in a row will be Richard A. Stumpe, elementary principal, St. Louis (Mo.) Public Schools. He also is a supervisor for the Division of Curriculum and Educational Research.

Area Cooperation Needed To Get U.P. Missile Base; Balks, Steps Taken Noted

Close cooperation from various groups throughout the region will be necessary to have a Minute Man missile base established in the Upper Peninsula.

The conclusion was reached at a meeting of approximately 60 business and professional leaders from most of the Upper Peninsula's 15 counties, held in the Hotel Northland yesterday afternoon.

To this end, a committee is being organized which will have one representative from each of the region's 15 counties serving as a contact or liaison man in the efforts to persuade the U. S. Department of Defense establish a missile base in the Peninsula.

At yesterday's session, hosted by the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, which has been working behind the scenes on the project for two years, the exhaustive efforts made by the chamber's military affairs committee, in general, and by Homer Hilton Jr., in particular, to have such a base constructed in Upper Michigan were noted.

Need For United Action Told

Principal remarks were delivered by Hilton, who is vice president of the Union National Bank and a member of the chamber committee, which is chaired by John L. Farley, regional commercial superintendent for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. here, and also includes Herman E. Olson, first vice president of the First National Bank & Trust Co.

Hilton's address pointed up the necessity for cooperation among the U. P. counties in order to get a missile base, since individual efforts will "not be enough" to convince or persuade the "powers that be" in Washington, D. C., of the value and necessity for erecting such a military establishment in the region.

Farley, who served as toastmaster for the session, at which 11 of the 15 counties in the U. P. had representatives in attendance, noted that this project "transcends county lines" and that it "has reached the plateau of politics."

He added: "Actually, any location in the United States is a feasible site for a missile base, so it is a question of who'll get the construction program (we certainly hope these missile bases will never have to be placed into action)."

"This is a depressed area, and we're trying to work on the theme that the U. P. as an entity wants and needs such a base."

Can Benefit Entire Region

Farley noted that counties have, in the past and still are, working by themselves on projects to improve their economies. Here, he said, is a program which can benefit the entire region, if the region cooperates and is successful in its venture.

After hearing Hilton's report (see other story), Farley noted: "This isn't exactly optimistic, but at least we know where we stand. However, the Minute Man missile base, per se, is not the only target which can help our economy."

Couldn't Get Both

Here Farley was referring to the possibility of the U. P. getting a Nike X, anti-missile missile base, established in the region. Because of the military aspects involved, there would not be any chance of any one region getting both a missile and an anti-missile missile base; hence there is the question of whether to concentrate on one program or the other.

Asked what the Minute Man missile complex (as the program is referred to) would mean to the economy, Hilton said: "The main benefits which would accrue would be the construction of the silos (to hold the missiles). Once they are in the ground, there's little maintenance required."

However, he added, the construction costs in other areas have been listed at $600 million or more.

Many Benefits Accrue

Harlan Larson, president of the Marquette Chamber, a motel proprietor here, noted that other benefits would accrue should a missile base be constructed in the region, such as additional permanent residents, new road networks, etc.

"It's hard to say exactly what will happen in the future," he pointed out, "but such a program would be bound to help the region."

Hilton noted that the government's survey team which spent some time in the U. P. last July was "well impressed with the electric power network in the region."

Efforts to have the base established in the U. P. should not be premised solely on the fact that the U. P. is a depressed area or that the base will be built where the "most political pressure" is exerted, according to Tom Angeli, Iron River, regional coordinator for the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Would Employ 4,000

Such theories, he cautioned, could work in reverse for the region's efforts. Angeli suggested other avenues, such as Nathan Associates, technical advisors to the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems, as being probed in efforts to aid the program.

It was noted that should the U. P. get a missile base, it probably would result in employment of around 4,000 persons for a four year period.

Rain Follows Heat In City, With Cooler Weather Due

Sultry temperatures were followed by rain yesterday, with more showers, but cooler temperatures, are in the offing for Marquette.

Fog moved in early this morning and reduced visibility to as low as one-sixteenth of a mile in the downtown area. However, the fog lifted gradually and by 8:30 visibility was up to half a mile.

The mercury went up to 86 at 11:30 yesterday morning and it was muggy until showers began. The first shower came at 1:15 p.m. and the mercury dropped to 71 at one.

Temperatures were the warmest in the Upper Peninsula here yesterday and overnight they were the coolest.

The mercury also hit 86 at the Marquette County Airport yesterday. It was 84 in Sault Ste. Marie and 72 in Escanaba. Overnight the low was 47 at 6 a.m. and other lows were 57 at the county airport, 52 at Calumet, 60 at Escanaba and 62 at the Soo.

Fourth Day In 80s

Yesterday was the fourth day that the temperature reached 80 or above in Marquette this year. Others were May 31 and last Friday and Saturday.

With an average temperature yesterday of 13 degrees above normal, the average temperature so far this month is nine degrees above normal.

Intermittent showers occurred throughout the afternoon yesterday and until 9:30 in the evening. Total rainfall yesterday was one-fifth of an inch and about three-fourths of the rain fell in a 10 minute thunder shower after 4 p.m.

Rain began again at 5:30 this morning and it amounted to .07 of an inch.

So far this month rainfall has amounted to 1.08 inches, as against a normal for the period of .62 of an inch. For the year, precipitation has totaled 8.83 inches and normal is 11.73.

Little Change Seen

Temperatures weren't so warm in Marquette today because of light winds off Lake Superior, but it was warmer in areas away from the lake.

Showers and scattered thunderstorms are predicted again for tonight and tomorrow and little change in conditions is seen for Saturday.

GOP To Back Civil Rights Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican senators have promised to support additional civil rights legislation. But they remained mute on whether they would try to crush a Southern filibuster.

The Republican position was hammered out Wednesday at the second of two conferences promoted by Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, an ardent supporter of civil rights legislation.

Statement

No agreement was reached at the initial two-hour meeting. Then, at the end of a three-hour session in late afternoon, the Republicans approved a statement saying they will "support further appropriate legislation required to help solve the problems of our nation in the field of civil rights."

Not all the 33 Republican senators attended the closed meetings—the exact number present could not be determined—and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference, said there was some division on adopting the statement.

Voice Vote

"I couldn't say it was unanimous," he said, "but I can truthfully say I am confident the ayes carried it."

Approved by voice vote, the policy statement is not binding on the GOP senators, he said.

Background, Efforts Made In U.P. Missile Program Told

Intensive efforts made and the complex problem involved in a program to obtain a missile base for the Upper Peninsula were explained here yesterday afternoon by Homer Hilton Jr.

Hilton addressed the meeting of U. P. business and professional leaders (see other story), held in the Northland Hotel. With 22 years of active and reserve duty in the armed forces, it was pointed out by the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, Hilton is ideally suited for the type of work being done to this end.

Transferred from the Army's military intelligence five years ago, when the Air Force was setting up a judge advocate's division, he is presently assigned to the 30th Air Division, but attached (in the reserve) to K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base as a staff judge advocate.

His contacts with the USAF and with U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart has helped him in the cause.

First Surveys Recalled

In discussing the chronological record of events in the missile base matter, Hilton said this area first became interested in the possibility of establishing a Minute Man Missile Base for the U. P. in the fall of 1961.

The Air Force began making surveys in this area in early 1961, but completed only five surveys through the end of the year.

In February 1962 Sen. Hart reported that the USAF notified him it was not interested in this area "because it was too close to Canada," but this argument was easily punctured by mere comparison of locations of other missile bases with the U. P.

Changed Objections

In March last year the USAF changed its objections to the U. P. to geological grounds, basing them on what Hilton termed "an inadequate study the Army Corps of Engineers had made in 1956, which, Hilton added, reported only three abandoned underground mines in the construction of the site.

After that the principal benefit would be a tie-in of the missile site with either K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base in Marquette County or Kincheloe AFB, Sault Ste. Marie.

Soo At Work Too

The Chippewa County delegation (largest there, with seven, aside from Marquette County's group) reported it, too, had been working quietly behind the scenes to get a missile base (for its area).

The Soo group said it was not aware of Marquette County efforts and that much of its work apparently had been duplicated.

Harmonious Action Asked

Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, asked for comment, suggested the Soo-Marquette interests working together, with the balance of the Peninsula supporting their efforts.

Lawrence Rubin, St. Ignace, executive secretary of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said he wondered if the efforts to get a missile base weren't being wasted, "inasmuch as it appears as though the U. P. has been called out and it's like trying to get an umpire to change his mind."

Rubin said he believes there's more opportunity in the region being ideally for a Nike X program.

At any rate, the delegates (representing all counties but Gogebic, Baraga and Alger) agreed to work with Farley and arrange for a committee or commission, which would include one member from each county and support the cooperative program.

The Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, Menominee, formerly of Marquette, who is bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan, gave the invocation and the benediction.

and by Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. Hilton said he believed the sitting team could have obtained more comprehensive information if it had established contacts prior to coming here.

Go To Washington

Matters drifted, he said, until the chamber here formed the special committee to explore the situation, especially because of the announcement of the closing of the SAGE unit at Sawyer.

As a result, the Marquette Chamber sent Nielson and Hilton to Washington to discuss the matter with Sens. Hart and Patrick V. McNamara and Pentagon officials. "We were quite discouraged with the tenor of the meeting," Hilton said.

He said the AF objected to the high cost of drilling into rock, which would be found in Upper Michigan, notwithstanding the fact that this had been done in the cases of Colorado and Montana and the fact that it was, relatively speaking, incidental to the overall program, because of its vast budget.

Nielson said he was not satisfied as to the accuracy of the final conclusions of the AF concerning the geology of the area, and that data will be compiled on the rate of water seepage in various mines, etc. A field team will make tests for Tech this summer.

Road Costs Cited

Hilton said the Air Force spokesmen said the road building program in the U. P. "would be too expensive, probably costing $30 to $50 million," to build a 1,000-mile network, with representatives of Sen. McNamara reminding them that McNamara was chairman of the public works committee of the Senate, and that if they needed money for roads "they'd get it."

As a result of these studies and the Washington meetings, the Marquette Chamber decided to call the U. P. session here, noting that political action can be more effective if many are banded together.

Hilton pointed out that of 18 areas surveyed for Minute Man missile sites through July 20, 1962, nine were in states where a senator was on the appropriations committee of the Senate and two in areas where a senator was on the public works committee.

Among the states where studies for sites have been made are Missouri (Sen. Stuart Symington, armed services and foreign relations committees chairman), Montana (Sen. Mike Mansfield, majority leader and appropriations and foreign relations committees), California (Sen. Thomas Kuchel, appropriations), and Colorado (Sen. Gordon Allott, appropriations).

Hilton said he wasn't sure whether the U. P. objective should be to push on the Minute Man missile base program or strive for the Nike X (defensive weapon).

"One thing is sure," he concluded, "if we do nothing, we'll get nothing."

Dear Abby....

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'm no kid (33) and have had enough experience in this line to know better, but I am in a jam. I started seeing a young woman (she is 25) and we hit it off fine. You know, Abby, when the lights are low a guy makes a lot of "campaign promises," and I guess I did tell her we'd be married in the future. Well, what does this dizzy dame do but go out and buy herself an "engagement ring." She took it to the office where we both work and announced our "engagement." She's telling everybody we'll be married around Thanksgiving. We did talk about it, but I wasn't that definite. I really don't want to marry her or anybody else at the moment. What do I do now?

DEAR ABBY: I'm a girl who is almost 12 years old and my mother never told me the "facts of life." How can I get her to tell me soon? If she finds out I already know, she will kill me.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who is almost 12 years old and my mother never told me the "facts of life." How can I get her to tell me soon? If she finds out I already know, she will kill me.

giving social security checks and that I do not have to withhold any more social security taxes. I am still withholding the taxes but he insists that I should not. Who is correct in this matter? — P. F.

Answer: You are, Mr. P. F. As long as a person works under social security, you are required to report social security taxes for him regardless of his age and even though he is receiving social security payments.

were killed in a wreck last year. I have been taking care of their two children since then and get a social security check for them every month. Another son of mine wants to adopt the children. Would that stop their social security checks? — F. H.

Answer: No. They can be adopted by an uncle, aunt, grandparent, or stepparent without losing their social security payments. If they were adopted by anyone else, the benefit payment would have to be stopped.

use of the facilities at St. Michael's for three years with the possibility of an extension. However, it is hoped that by 1966 the Newman organization will have its own building on property it has acquired on the north side of the NMU campus.

Capacity Crowd At Circus, Parkview School's Windup

A standing-room-only crowd packed the multi-purpose room of Parkview School Monday evening to watch the school's 371 pupils participate in the final PTA-sponsored event of the school year — an all-school circus.

Prefacing the circus numbers was "The Star Spangled Banner," played by the 60-piece kindergarten band under the direction of kindergarten Judy Plough, all decked out for the occasion in proper costume, including high hats with plumes. The band, wearing red and white soldier hats, later played "Parade of the Wood- en Soldiers."

Calumet Man Exonerated In Kiviniemi's Death

CALUMET — Phillip Kiviniemi, 28, of Calumet, who died early Thursday morning following a minor fight with James S. Waara, 26, of Calumet, died from a congenital defect of the cerebral artery, a pathologist's report indicates.

Stephen Condon, prosecuting attorney, reported that the report makes an inquest into the death unnecessary. The report, which followed an autopsy, revealed that Kiviniemi's cerebral artery ruptured during the scuffle, causing death. Kiviniemi suffered abrasions on the right eyebrow and eyelids and on the skin of the right thigh during the fight. These were not considered serious enough to have resulted in death, the report disclosed.

Litter-caused fires cost the country over $70 million annually, says Keep America Beautiful, Inc. The nonprofit organization also says between 750 and 800 Americans are killed and some 75,000 injured every year as a result of cars hitting or swerving to avoid objects dropped on highways by litterbugs.
