Gov. George Romney and his three top financial and legal experts will be in Marquette this Saturday for one of a two-week series of 16 regional meetings scheduled throughout the state to acquaint the public with Michigan's need for fiscal reform.

Representatives of industry, business, labor, education, agriculture, women's groups, the press, chambers of commerce and professional groups have been invited by the Governor to meet with the group and participate in a general discussion of fiscal reform and hear the Governor's views on why reform is needed.

The area meeting is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the University Center of Northern Michigan University, according to Wyndal H. Hudson, executive director of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, who is in charge of local arrangements for the meeting.

Representatives from Gogebic, Ontonagon, Keweenaw, Houghton, Iron, Baraga, Marquette, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta, Alger, Schoolcraft, Lapeer, Mackinac and Chippewa Counties have been invited to attend.

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks plate odor. THE DEADLY HOURS

Statistics, like those in The Travelers 1962 highway safety fact book, "Cowboys and Engines," prove that the hours between midnight and 6 in the morning are deadly. Last year 2,360 men and women died on the nation's highways during this period. Drivers, dulled by lack of sleep or "a couple of drinks," or lulled by the comparative absence of traffic, brought death to themselves and others.

Don't forget it's during the late and early hours when few drive, that many die.

Five Persons Hurt, Two Given Tickets In Area Car Crashes

Five persons were injured, two drivers received summonses and five motor vehicles were damaged in four area traffic wrecks investigated during the weekend in this area by state police.

1. Three injuries occurred in a smashup at 7:25 Saturday evening on U.S. 41, about 500 feet west of County Road 1111, in Marquette Township.

State police said a car being driven east on U.S. 41 by Tom Hawkins, 21, K. L. Sawyer Air Force Base, went out of control, traveling off the north (left) side of the highway, recrossing to the right (south) side, going off and mashing into a tree.

Hawkins suffered lacerations on his face and right leg, a fracture of his nose and a possible spine injury. David Vandervort, 19, Sawyer Base, sustained contusions of his left eye. Jennifer Haines, 13, of 120 E. Peck St., Negaunee, received lacerations on her forehead.

The latter two were passengers in the car. They were taken to St. Mary's Hospital here in the Marquette city ambulance.

Kept Open For Probe

Extensive damage occurred to the front end of Hawkins' car, a 1957 sedan, which had to be towed from the scene by a wrecker.

State police kept the accident open for investigation.

2. At 1:30 Saturday afternoon an automobile being driven west on U.S. 41 by John Luhta Jr., 28, Route 1, Negaunee, struck a car operated by William Lammi, 21, Route 1, Negaunee, when the latter, driving in the right (outside) lane, attempted to make a left turn onto County Road 561, in Negaunee Township, as Luhta started to pass him.

Arthur Rivers, 28, Palmer, and Richard Parkkonen, 29, of 608 Baldwin Ave., Negaunee, both riding in Luhta's car, suffered minor cuts and bruises and sought their own treatment.

Extensive damage resulted to the front end of Luhta's automobile, a 1962 coach, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

The rear end of Lammi's 1959 coach was damaged. The latter was driven from the scene under its own power.

Lammi was issued a ticket by state police for failing to signal a left turn.

3. An automobile being driven south on County Road 345 by Gerald Ketola, 33, Princeton, smashed into an earth embankment, at County Road 177, in West Branch Township, when Ketola failed to negotiate a left turn.

State police ticketed Ketola for violation of the basic speed law.

4. At 2 a.m., Saturday an automobile being driven north on U.S. 41 by Michael Bodenus, 20, of 828 High St., Marquette, struck a deer which ran out from the east (right) side of the highway, into the path of his car, a half mile north of M-94, in Skandia Township.

The front end of Bodenus' car, a 1962 convertible, was extensively damaged and the vehicle was towed from the scene by a wrecker.

Courts May Lay Claims On Indians

PETOSKEY (AP)—Michigan Indians have been told that state probate courts may lay claims against Indian children who stand to benefit from an anticipated $15 million in government land settlements.

Speakers at the 13th annual tribal council of the Northern Michigan Ottawa Association on the weekend said this was possible.

Both probate courts and county welfare departments may lay claims against Indian children who are public wards, the speakers said. The claims would be made as reimbursement for expenses, they said.

Settlements from the government are anticipated from litigation by Ottawa and Chippewa Indians over an 1836 land treaty under which the U. S. government acquired Indian property. The Indians ceded the land.

A decision is expected in January.

Ferris Honors City Native With Degree

William R. Clulo, a native of Marquette and a retired executive of Dow Chemical Co. in Midland, has received an honorary doctor of science degree from Ferris Institute, Big Rapids.

Clulo is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. Clulo of Marquette. He is married to the former Carinne Jacques of Marquette.

Clulo retired from Dow Chemical Co. this month, following a career-climaxing assignment as financial director of Dow Uniquinosa in Spain.

A 1918 graduate of Ferris, Clulo served the Midland firm for nearly 20 years, progressing from a post on the accounting staff to administrative positions with the parent company as well as several subsidiaries.

Aided In Curriculum

Prior to the two-year assignment in Spain, he served as treasurer and assistant secretary of Dow Chemical International Limited.

In 1960 Clulo played a major role in the formation of a committee of top-ranked professionals to assist and support the Ferris Institute marketing curriculum. Clulo then served as a charter member of the committee.

ary from the Indians Claims Commission in Washington before which the Indians have brought suit.

Five hundred Indians attended the council at the Emmet County fair grounds. The Indian association claims 5,000 members.

Darrell Carney of Muskegon said the commitment papers of a 14-year-old Muskegon Indian girl state that any monies due her from Indian claims are to go to the state and "shall not be reimbursable."

Ward Of Court

Carney said the girl recently was made a ward of the court by Probate Judge Robert Cavanaugh and placed in an institution at Adrian.

Anthony Chingman of Lansing, association interpreter, said the children should not be penalized because of conditions over which they had no control.

William Hennessy, retired Flint police captain who is a member of a committee looking after children's awards, said the protection of minor Indian children may have to be taken to courts higher than the probate courts.

Report Meet For St. Mary's Drive Slated

Next report meeting for the St. Mary's Hospital psychiatric unit campaign will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Northland Hotel.

A total of $26,000 in 103 subscriptions has been donated so far in the campaign, Marquette County Probate Judge Michael F. DeFaut, general chairman, said.

Forty-five per cent of the total to date, or $11,780, has been collected by the team of Patrick L. Bennett and Franz Menze of the advanced gifts division. Reporting with a total of 41 subscriptions, they said, "We just saw the people and told them how important the psychiatric unit is."

Breakdown Given

A breakdown of totals so far shows:

Advanced gifts, 37 subscriptions, $19,165 (combined total); general gifts, women — 23 subscriptions, $4,670; men — 4 subscriptions, $475; Northern Michigan University, 10 subscriptions, $360; Ishpeming, one subscription, $1,000; clubs and organizations, one subscription, $1,000; labor, two subscriptions, $65; St. Mary's Hospital, four subscriptions, $320.

The psychiatric unit will cost about $300,000 and construction will begin this year. About one-half of the cost will be provided by the federal government through the Hill-Burton Act and the balance will be covered through public subscription.

Firemen Put Out Grass Blaze In Bulk Plant Area

Marquette's fire department Saturday afternoon extinguished a grass blaze in an area near the Texas Co. bulk plant, off S. Lake St.

Cause of the blaze was unknown. The fire was burning along the fence of the bulk plant and was noticed by a railroad crew working near by, firemen said.

Firemen, summoned at 4:36 p.m., extinguished the blaze by use of a booster hose off the No. 5 (500-gallon) pumper. Seven firemen responded, with the No. 2 (1,000-gallon) pumper also being driven to the scene. They returned to the station at 5 p.m.

In 1928 the dollar bill was shrunk from 7.4 by 3.1 inches to approximately 6.1 by 2.6 inches.

Dingell Bill Would Fight Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government would be empowered to file damage suits for destruction of fish and waterfowl because of pollution of navigable waters under a bill proposed today by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich.

"I need not point out," Dingell said in a speech for the House, "that under the Constitution the navigable waters of America are expressly reserved to the federal government and that failure of our government to act bears major responsibility for this continuing series of grisly losses to pollution."

His bill, Dingell added, "is aimed at meeting this failure."

"Since willful and grossly negligent men persist in destruction of this precious resource," he said, "It appears the only thing which can be done is to afford this new weapon to the Secretary of the Interior to protect the interests of all sportsmen, outdoorsmen and lovers of nature."

The Dingell proposal also would authorize the secretary to seek injunctive relief to abate pollution activities as common nuisances.

Work is being done in the upper harbor of Marquette as part of a $115,000 maintenance project being carried out by the United States Army Corps of Engineers. At left is the tug, Duluth, which is stationed in the upper harbor as part of the "Operation Rehabilitation" for the work, as the job is referred to. The Duluth is acting as a tender for the derrick Coleman, shown above, with its extensive pieces of equipment and machinery. The Coleman is used for placing rocks around the cement cribbing of the upper breakwater. The entire project will take an estimated 3,000 tons of quarry rock.—(Mining Journal photos).

Harbor Maintenance Project Under Way In Marquette

A $115,000 maintenance job will be completed in the Marquette harbor within two weeks by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Working at the breakwater is a 16-member crew from the Corps of Engineers Lake Superior office in Duluth. A derrick, the Coleman, and a tug, the Duluth, are stationed in the upper harbor for the duration of the project. Norman Nelson, master of the Coleman, is in charge of the project.

Purpose of the work is to reinforce the cement cribbing of the breakwater to protect it from being chipped away by ice and water. The cribbing is being reinforced with rocks which are being hauled from the Longyear quarry, located four miles north of the city limits on County Road 530, by trucks to barges tied up at Presque Isle harbor's oil dock. The barges then transport the rock around the breakwater to the derrick which drops them into po-

Graduate Of NMU Given College Post

Ivan J. Fende, a graduate student at Northern Michigan University and a native of Channing, has been awarded a graduate teaching assistantship in geography at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee for the 1963-64 academic year.

Fende, who received his bachelor's degree from Northern in January, will be a candidate for the master's degree at UW-M.

A 1954 graduate of Channing High School and a U.S. Coast Guard veteran, Fende is an assistant in the NMU Geography Department, a member of the Blue Key National Honor Fraternity and is past president of the Veterans' Club.

According to Nelson, the entire job will take an estimated 3,000 tons of quarry rock. After the work is completed, the breakwater will be in first class condition for years to come, Nelson said.

The tug Duluth, captained by James Rosenbaum, is tending the derrick Coleman while the project is in process.

Uffelman's Crew Tops In Bomb Unit

For its high performance under the 410th Bombardment Wing's crew rating plan, the B-52H crew commanded by Capt. Jack R. Uffelman has been selected "Crew of the Quarter" for the 644th Bombardment Squadron at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Each of the crews in the squadron compete quarterly under the crew rating plan for the honor.

Included are all phases of flying such as minimum proficiency training requirements, bombing reliability, navigation, electronic counter-measures activity, combat crew effectiveness and crew testing.

Besides Uffelman, others on the crew are Capt. James Lewis, the co-pilot and Joseph McGuekin, radar navigator; 1st Lt. Robert Burgess, navigator, and William Johnson, electronic counter-measures officer, and A1C Denton C. Washington, gunner.

Newest Member Of Crew

Uffelman is the newest member of the B-52H "Stratofortress" crew originally formed in January 1962.

He replaced Major R. H. Smith as aircraft commander in March, a month after McGuekin took over from Capt. Howard Davidson as the radar navigator.

The squadron's top crew was to participate in the Spanish-American Friendship Days at Moron Air Base, Spain, this month. However, the observance was cancelled in keeping with the official Spanish period of mourning for Pope John XXIII.

OASI Questions And Answers

Editor's Note: If you would like to know how the Social Security law affects you, write the Social Security Question Box, P. O. Box 719, Marquette, Michigan. Your answer will appear in future editions of the Question Box, or you will receive a direct reply from the Marquette Social Security Office if you so specify and furnish your name and address.

Q. "I pay a woman $30 a week to clean my home and take care of my invalid mother. How and when do I report this for social security purposes?" — M. K.

Answer: Your employee's wages must be reported on a quarterly tax return filed with the director of internal revenue. A return is due no later than one month following the quarter of employment. Social security deductions of 3% per cent from the employee's pay plus an equal tax contribution by the employer must accompany the tax return. You should get in touch with your nearest social security or internal revenue service office for specific details.

Q. "I will be 65 years old next month. I have had about six years of work under social security, but have not worked at all during the last two years. Am I eligible for a monthly social security benefit?" — J. J.

Answer: Yes, Mr. J. J. A man your age needs only three years of social security work credits to qualify for a monthly retirement benefit. You should contact your nearest social security office immediately for assistance in completing an application for benefits.

Q. "My husband worked under social security for at least five years before his death in 1945. I never asked about a social security payment because I understood I would get some help when I got old. I still have his social security number. Can I get a widow's monthly benefit when I am 62 years old?" — Mrs. H. B.

Answer: Yes, Mrs. H. B. Any widow whose husband died before the year 1958 can get widow's payments if her husband had one and a half years (six calendar quarters) of work under social security. You should contact your nearest social security office a couple of months before you reach age 62. Take with you your marriage certificate, some proof of your age, and your husband's social security number.

Q. "I am a widow 53 years old. My 12-year-old daughter and I have each drawn $55 a month from social security since my husband died in 1937. If I died, would she continue to get social security and, if so, how much?" — Mrs. C. B.

Answer: Your daughter would continue to get her checks until she reached age 18 unless she married or started to work and her earnings were too high to allow any social security payments. She would continue to get the same amount she now receives.

Two Drivers Ticketed In Mishaps Here

Two motorists were issued tickets and five automobiles were damaged, but no one was hurt, in three traffic mishaps in Marquette during the weekend.

All of the collisions here took place Saturday. There also were four other traffic mishaps in the area, investigated by state police, during the weekend (see other local traffic story). Reports on the city accidents follow.

1. At 9:55 Saturday morning a car being backed into a parking space on the south side of W. Washington St., in the middle of the 100 block, by Stewart M. Cochran, Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, crashed into an automobile owned by Robert W. Schneck, 212 W. Kave Ave., which was parked at the curb.

City police said Cochran reported he took his foot off the gas pedal to apply the brake, but his foot slipped, going on the accelerator and causing the vehicle to speed backward into the parked car.

Extensive damage resulted to the hood, grill and front bumper of Schneck's car, a 1956 sedan, and minor damage resulted to the left rear and bumper guard of Cochran's automobile, a 1963 sedan. Both cars were driven from the scene under their own power.

A parking meter also was knocked down by Cochran's car. Cochran was issued a ticket by city police for failing to have his car under control.

2. An automobile being driven out from a private parking lot on the west side of St. Third St. by William A. Reynolds, 214 Mesnard St., struck a car operated by William K. Layden, 1742 Tracy Ave., near the Spring St. intersection at 12:25 Saturday afternoon.

City police said Layden was headed south on Third St. and was stopped in the traffic lane, waiting for northbound traffic to clear so he could make a left turn onto Spring St. Reynolds told officers he didn't see Layden's car in time.

Failed To Stop In Time
The rear bumper of Layden's 1963 sedan and the front bumper of Reynolds' car, a 1959 sedan, were damaged to a minor extent, city police said. Both vehicles were driven from the scene under their own power.

Reynolds was ticketed by city police for failing to stop in an assured clear distance ahead.

3. At 12:40 Saturday afternoon city police received a report of a hit-and-run accident which had occurred in the 100 block of W. Baraga Ave.

Clara T. Ferguson, 2122 W. Fair Ave., told city police she had parked her car on the north side of Baraga Ave. in the morning and when she returned in the afternoon she noticed the right front door of the vehicle, a 1960 sedan, was damaged.

Police, who kept the mishap open for investigation, said the car apparently had been damaged when another motorist had been attempting to park.

Kincheloe Sergeant Named Division's 'Airman Of Year'

Selected the 1963 "airman of the year" representative for the 30th Air Division is Chief MS Edward Leksa Jr. of the Sault Ste. Marie Air Defense Sector, which includes K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Leksa, a member of the 507th Fighter Wing at Kincheloe AFB, Sault Ste. Marie, was among four noncommissioned officers who were considered for the award by a 30th Air Division board of officers and noncommissioned officers.

Among those considered by the 30th board were CMSgt. Alfred P. Cerullo, Chicago Air Defense Sector; MSgt. Robert C. Minegar, 4631st Support Squadron, and CMSgt. Walter J. Nentl, Duluth Air Defense Sector.

Leksa now becomes the 30th Air Division nominee who will compete in June with other division-level representatives for "Airman of the Year" in the Air Defense Command.

Guest At Convention
The winners at the ADC-level selection will, along with other major command "Airman of the Year" winners, be a guest at the annual Air Force Association convention scheduled Sept. 11-14 at Washington, D.C.

A veteran of 20 years' military service, Leksa has been assigned to Kincheloe less than a year. However, he has held a number of positions in the 507th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance

Printer Ends 52-Year Career

Harry J. Leske (above) locked up his final form at the Stenglein Printing Co. shop on S. Front St. at noon Saturday and retired after 52 years as a printer. A native of Marquette, Leske worked for The Mining Journal as a printer and pressman from 1911 to 1923, then spent five years in Iron Mountain before taking a position with Stenglein in 1928. He and Mrs. Leske, who retired in February as secretary to C. T. Dellaas, have no definite plans for the future, but they will continue to live in Marquette. (Mining Journal photo).

Ex-Convict Forces Way Into Convent

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"Pray for me, pray for me, please stop making noise and I won't hurt you."

Police said a Michigan parolee spoke these words after breaking into St. Vincent De Paul Convent Sunday and awakening the Mother Squadron, including NCOIC of the Fabrication Branch, NCOIC Ground Safety, and NCOIC Field Maintenance Section.

Leksa was nominated for Division "Airman of the Year" "because of his management ability, dedication to job, counseling of young airmen, demonstration of mature judgment in making decisions, and display of exceptional insight and diplomacy in human relations." Air Force spokesmen said.

Integrationists Keep Up Drive In Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Negroes and whites are continuing their quiet, orderly march for equal housing opportunities here.

Some 200 Ann Arbor residents—two-thirds of them white—have picketed the Ann Arbor City Hall during regular meetings of the City Council for the past two weeks, and plan to continue tonight and next Monday.

A fair housing ordinance has passed the first reading—the first of two steps needed for council passage. A committee of council members now is studying the proposed ordinance and amendments put forth in public hearings by civil rights leaders.

Sponsors
The picketing is being sponsored said the man clasped a hand over her mouth as she started screaming for help.

Police said the man fled downstairs, cut his hand trying to break through a kitchen window screen and finally got out of the convent by kicking down an aluminum screen door.

Shortly after, police arrested Timothy Talley, an ex-convict. They said he admitted breaking into the convent.

Talley, on parole from a 1959 morals and assault conviction in Jackson, Mich., was held without bail on charges of burglary and assault and battery. Talley moved to Philadelphia in January, police said.

by the Ann Arbor Area Fair Housing Association-Core and backed by the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and another civil rights group—the Committee for Housing Legislation.

"The pickets have been instructed not to exchange remarks with by-standers," said Albert H. Wheeler, chairman of the local NAACP chapter and a professor of bacteriology and dermatology at the University of Michigan.

"These are to be particularly non-violent, non-agitating demonstrations."

Future Demonstrations
"Negroes have constituted only about one-third of the pickets," he added. "We have not put on a push among our people; but there will be more in future demonstrations."

Anna Holden, secretary of the Fair Housing Association and an assistant in research at the U-M Survey Research Center, said the picketing will continue at least through the June 24 council meeting.

Pickets are demanding a stronger ordinance than was proposed by the council's Human Relations Commission, a bi-racial group.

Ordinance
The ordinance, as first proposed, would forbid discrimination by owners of five or more units (houses or lots) that were contiguous, and by owners of publicly assisted (FHA or VA) housing—provided the assistance was received after the effective date of the ordinance.

County Tax Problem Created By National Forests In U. P. Has Parallel In U. S. Wetlands Plan

(The problem of federal land ownership in relation to county tax revenues prompted Congressman John B. Bennett of Ontonagon to propose last week an increase in federal payments made in lieu of taxes to counties in which national forest lands are located. A similar problem has stalled a program to acquire prairies wetlands to boost waterfowl production in the United States. The problem is described in the following article by John Madison and Ed Kozlicky of the conservation department of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. — Ed.)

Many farmers within the U. S. duck factory recent being balked in their efforts to transform wetlands into croplands. Under law, no farmer in an officially classified "wetlands county" may be given federal drainage aid on areas that the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife considers valuable to wildlife. If the bureau blocks the farmer's application for drainage aid, it must offer to buy or lease his land within a year. If such an offer is made and refused, the farmer cannot again apply for drainage assistance for five years.

The new federal duck program is bogging down. There's enough money at the moment, but apparently money isn't enough. Any federal purchase of wetlands must be approved by the governor of the state. In North Dakota the governor will not sanction such purchases until they are approved by county commissioners who, in some cases, have taken a solid stand against federal wetlands acquisition. In such counties the commissioners refuse permission to a farmer to sell his wetlands to the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

In other words, a farmer may not be eligible for federal drainage aid, yet cannot sell his wetlands to the bureau. He might grant an easement on the wetlands to the bureau, thus providing income from that land to himself and some tax revenue to the county, but at this juncture he often throws up his hands in disgust, doing nothing until the day when some sort of drainage aid appears.

Two Factor Involved The hopeful new program is being hamstrung by two broad factors: 1. The reluctance of taxpayers and public officials to have wetlands dropped from county tax rolls when those lands are bought by the government. 2. The confusion and uncertainty which many farmers feel in having their farms included in

Half Of U.S. Spenders Hold 5% Of Assets

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Despite steadily climbing incomes for certain segments of the American population, half of the family spending units hold only about five per cent of the nation's assets, the University of Michigan Survey Research Center reports. This portion of the population receives 35 to 40 per cent of the nation's income "but shares little in the material wealth of the country. . . and is dependent on current income for well-being." the SRC said in its newly released "1962 Survey of Consumer Finances." The 17th annual survey, in which thousands of families across the nation were interviewed, showed a five per cent increase in the number of families with incomes of $10,000 or more over a four-year period.

It climbed from eight to 13 per cent from 1957 to 1961. These families received 35 per cent of the national income, the report said.

Some farmers also are opposing the entire federal wetlands acquisition program on the grounds that it includes them in classified "wetlands counties." They fear that this label will lower the value of farms that face the threat of condemnation. As of now, this threat is remote. The National Whirligig News Behind The News

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Wait a minute now, Mac, aren't women getting too important around here? I admit that they are prettier than men and occasionally can fry an edible hamburger, but I do not want a girl getting involved in our foreign policy merely because she is somebody's wife.

Side Glances

During the 1960 campaign it sometimes seemed that it was not Dick Nixon who was running for President, but wife Pat, who was pictured as a one-woman brain trust who also kept a neat house. Currently, the salons and the saloons are buzzing with speculation as to whether Happy Murphy Rockefeller can make it to the White House. She's running with some fellow named Norman, or Nelson, or some such. Miss Eisenhower, you hear, would have made a better President if she hadn't done her boondoggle in blushing pink.

Congressional Log Jam

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— For the President to send a major civil rights message to Congress this late in the session is to pile a new burden on an already overloaded Senate and House.

It will take the rest of this year and much of the next session to dig out from under the existing load before it's time to elect a new Congress in the fall of 1964.

120 Bills In Hopper

Developments in race relations during the past few months, however, give additional civil rights legislation a new number one priority. There is every likelihood that this program will run into delay. Another Senate filibuster is a possibility, leaving up action on other must legislation.

There are over 130 civil rights bills the congressional hopper right now. Nobody has a concrete answer to race relations and no single piece of legislation is going to solve the situation. A piecemeal approach is possible, with a voting rights bill coming first and other measures later.

35 New Public Laws Signed

Before the civil rights issue became critical, passage of a tax cut bill had the number one priority. A new tax law of some kind is considered certain to pass. Whether it will look anything like the President's recommendations is doubtful, but it may include some minor reforms.

Views Of Others

Gov. Wallace's Brief Moment "Forever" to Gov. Wallace of Alabama turned out to be a short day. He stood in the doorway of the registration hall at the University of Alabama and held up his hand as a barrier when federal authorities approached. He thus apparently fulfilled by his own satisfaction his many promises to personally bar Negroes from registering. But not long after, his state National Guard was federalized and Wallace departed — charging that the nation was threatened by military dictatorship.

Three From Area Attend Craft Parley

A delegation of three from the Upper Peninsula attended the Michigan Craftmen's Council meeting held over the weekend at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

Attending from the area were Anita E. Meyland, Marquette, official delegate from the Upper Peninsula Crafts Council; Esther Ferns of the Northern Michigan University home economics department here, and Charles Follo, president of the U. P. Crafts Council, Escanaba.

The annual meeting, which was for the north central region of the American Craftmen's Council, was sponsored by the Michigan Craftmen's Council and several departments of Michigan State University.

Among program features were weaving, hand-spinning, yarn dyeing, silversmithing, enameling and pottery demonstrations and talks and panel discussions on various aspects of the crafts. Of particular interest was the showing of slides of the work of Hamada Shoji, one of the world's greatest living potters, by another Japanese potter, Hiroko Oba, and a demonstration of the "throwing" of clay into shapes.

Weaving Program
The meeting concluded with a program by the Michigan League of Handweavers in which Mrs. Meyland and Mrs. Ferns are particularly interested. Both are to be the first weaving students of Dorothea Buell, a well known weaver, at her newly-opened weaving studio at Buellwood.

Mrs. Meyland extended an invitation to the Michigan Craftmen's Council to hold its 1964 meeting in Northern Michigan University's new Fine Arts Center at the time of the U. P. Crafts Council meeting May 2, 1964.

End Of Home Razing Sought By Councilman Trotochaud

NEGAUNEE — Disturbed by the fact that Negaunee is losing so many residential dwellings because of mining operations, City Councilman Clarence J. Trotochaud has suggested a meeting of municipal representatives with Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. officials in an attempt to halt future razing of homes.
Trotochaud at the June council meeting pointed out that over the last several years the community has lost from 300 to 500 families as a result of homes being torn down and no provision being made to make other dwellings available to residents who were forced to move.
"I understand that the company now is planning to tear down 11 additional homes in the Brown Ave. area," he said. "To my knowledge, the city has never denied any requests made by Cleveland-Cliffs under the council-man-ager form of government, and I think it is high time CCI gave us the reasons why these dwellings are being eliminated."
Councilman Ben Pascoe supported Trotochaud's proposal and requested Manager Leonard Harris to arrange a meeting with Cliffs officials in regard to the problem.
Delinquent Taxes Collected
"With Cleveland-Cliffs' generous land holdings in the community, I believe the company has a moral obligation to provide a new plat for homes," Pascoe declared.
"There are several young men in the city who would build homes if they could procure lots on which to place them."
Harris, in reporting on a program to clean up delinquent taxes, noted that, except where homes have been torn down or people have moved from the city, all delinquent taxes have been collected.

THIS TRIANGLE REPRESENTS FEMALE LOGIC IN BRA DESIGN

This triangle is the logical (a woman's kind of logic) basis of a new Formfit bra design called Fiesta. The idea is this:
For freedom and comfort, A BRA SHOULD MOVE WHERE THE BODY MOVES; for shaping and lift, A BRA SHOULD NOT MOVE WHERE THE BODY DOESN'T MOVE.

Formfit Fiesta has Lycra* elastic sections everywhere you move. They move in the same direction you move. The underarm elastic triangle moves slantwise because you move "on the bias" whenever you stretch or reach or bend.
It has firm sections where you don't move. Fabric, seams, circling-stitching shape where a girl should be shaped. Lift, hold a high, gently rounded line.
Style 548. Lycra* elastic with cotton broadcloth—A32 to C44.

Topographic Mapping Project Under Way In South Part Of County

GWINN — Engineering field parties of the Topographic Division, U. S. Geological Survey, are now engaged in surveying operations for the preparation of accurate topographic maps of most of Marinette County, Wis., and Menominee County, Mich. Also included are small portions of Delta and Marquette Counties.

The mapping is part of a continuing nation-wide program that has been under way for many years, the objective of which is to complete and maintain a series of standard topographic maps covering the United States and its Possessions.

The mapping in this vicinity is sponsored entirely by federal funds; however, the states of Wisconsin and Michigan do have co-operative mapping programs with the U. S. Geological Survey, matching their funds on a 50-50 basis.

The finished topographic maps are published in rectangular sheets, or maps, called quadrangles. They show roads, trails, houses, political boundaries, and all other man-made features, as well as lakes, ponds, the courses of streams and other water features. In addition, these maps depict the shape and slope of the land surface, its hills and valleys, and give its altitude above mean sea level. Quadrangle maps of adjacent areas can be joined to show any desired area, such as a county, city or a school district.

Topographic maps serve as a basis for the study and solution of many problems relating to activities that are affected by the character and relief of the earth's surface. The problems may include water or mineral resources, location of industrial sites, prospecting and mining, engineering construction of all types, urban planning, military requirements and recreation.

Good maps facilitate development of all projects that deal with the land, including flood control, watershed studies and irrigation. They are used extensively by industry when available in advance planning for proposed industrial sites, noting from the maps such factors as access highways and railroads, water supply and labor availability.

41 Cases Of Disease Last Month

NEGAUNEE — Forty-one cases of contagious diseases occurred in the Negaunee public schools in May, according to the final 1962-63 academic year report by Mrs. Alice Sivula, health supervisor, to be presented at a special meeting of the Negaunee Board of Education tonight.

Included in the list of diseases were 24 cases of mumps, nine of upper respiratory infections, one of measles and one of infectious hepatitis.

All public and parochial school buildings were visited during the month by the supervisor, who also held conferences with nursing, hearing, vision and nutrition consultants, plus meetings with representatives from the probate court, Child Guidance Clinic, Michigan Crippled Children's Commission and Bay Cliff Health Camp.

Nine students attended an orthopedic clinic and two children a cardiac clinic. Dispensary visits were made by 184 pupils and Mrs. Sivula made 60 scalp inspections.

Dr. R. J. Sanregret, school dentist, gave a series of 25 dental health talks to students of various age levels, and Massachusetts vision tests were given to four pupils.

Obituary

MRS. CHARLES BROCK — Services for Mrs. Charles (Helen) Brock, who died Friday evening in Green Bay, Wis., were held at 2 this afternoon in St. John's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Judson Mather officiated and burial was made in Negaunee Cemetery. Pallbearers were Samuel, Stephen and Donald Mrdenovich, Harry Willis, Charles Jensen and Bertil Agnoli.

NEW YORK GAS

Enough gas is consumed annually by the 1.3 million users of a New York gas utility concern to keep one burner of a modern gas range lighted for more than 500,000 years. These consumers burn more than 100 million cubic feet of natural gas on an average day.

at Rolla, Mo. There are 12 other states in the central region, lying in the central portion of the United States and extending from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

General-Purpose Value

The survey's long-range aim is to see the country accurately mapped, and although any one mapping project may be partially related to a particular development program or a specific need, their mapping is done essentially because the maps have a general-purpose value, and because it is sound economy to have them on hand for any specific planning that future developments or investigations might require.

In preparation of these maps, the most modern engineering methods are employed. Aerial photography and precise photogrammetric instruments are part of the basic mapping process, but field surveys are still required at two stages.

The first of these is to establish control points — that is, elevations above sea level and geographic positions. The second is to check the accuracy of the maps as drawn from the aerial photographs, and to complete the identification and classification of buildings, roads and streams, political boundaries and other features.

The second stage is in progress here. The project area consists of 2,384 square miles of mapping, 1,904 square miles of which is left to be completed this season, and is bounded roughly by Peshtigo and Pound, Wis., on the south, and Norway and Gwinn on the north. Operations are directed from the project office, located in the Stephenson building in Marinette.

How To Obtain Maps

More than 20,000 topographic maps have been published by the Geological Survey and several million copies are distributed annually. Available without charge are state indexes showing areas covered by published maps, a folder describing topographic maps and a brochure entitled "The Geological Survey."

Standard topographical quadrangle maps are available at 30 cents a copy and may be ordered from the U. S. Geological Survey, Map Information Office, Washington 25, D. C. or through the respective state geologist in Madison or Lansing. Father Shot To Death By Sister-In-Law

ALBION (AP) — A father of three children was shot to death by his sister-in-law in what authorities called an apparent argument over the food served him by his wife.

Doris Gene Mattox, 25, the sister-in-law, was held on a formal charge of murder.

Prosecutor Noble O. Moore of Calhoun County said Miss Mattox admitted shooting Miles Ferguson, 46, her brother-in-law, when the latter tried to throw eggs in the face of his wife, Mildred.

Ferguson was shot three times outside the home five and a half miles north of here with a .22 calibre rifle. He was shot in the back, neck and mouth.

Prosecutor Moore said Miss Mattox and her sister, Mildred, told him that Ferguson threw a plate of hot beans in his wife's face while complaining over lunch being served him. He had been drinking, the women said.

He left the house and upon returning to another lunch of eggs and biscuits complained again, the sisters said.

Meanwhile, Miss Mattox had loaded the gun and said she would shoot Ferguson if he made further trouble, Moore said.

After he disdained the eggs and biscuits, Mrs. Ferguson went outside to drive the car to a store and her husband followed her, trying to throw the eggs in her face, Miss Mattox said.

Prosecutor Moore said Miss Mattox then shot Ferguson.

Both the Ferguson women have been employees of a glass factory. Miss Mattox lived at their home, taking care of the children, aged 5 to 12, in their absence.

School Fund Plan Called 'Ridiculous'

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan from 1929 to 1951, has called Michigan's method of appropriating state funds to colleges and universities "a ridiculous system."

The annual battle for appropriations in the legislature "requires a state university president, honest or otherwise, to do battle every year with smooth and well-equipped lobbyists of powerful interests for funds to support one of our most important social responsibilities," he says in his autobiography, "Naturalist in Two Worlds," just published by The University Press.

"I have suggested that a better procedure would be for the legislature to appropriate a lump sum for the universities, the money to be apportioned to the several institutions by a grants committee composed of representatives of the governing boards. So far the proposal has fallen on deaf ears," he added.

Republicans Eye Michigan Income Tax

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Seven Republican leaders of the State Senate who have challenged the party's "Old Guard" talked about a state income tax at a conference.

As far as was known, the members of the group didn't commit themselves.

But they did discuss an income tax as a method for providing the fiscal reform which Republican Gov. George Romney and the party leadership has pledged.

Other methods, including abolition of the business activities tax, also were considered.

Sen. Farrell E. Roberts of Pontiac predicted Michigan would have an income tax by 1965.

On the subject of tax changes in general, Sen. Stanley G. Thayer of Ann Arbor said "you have to go out to your people and talk to them in order to develop a climate of understanding."

Others in the group were Sens. William G. Milliken of Traverse City, Thomas F. Schweigert of Peotonek, Robert Vander Lian of Grand Rapids, John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge and Frederick Hilbert of Wayland.

MUNISING — Judgments rendered by Circuit Judge George S. Baldwin totaled $25,405.88, three men were placed on probation and one paid fines and costs amounting to $321.92 during the June term of Alger County Circuit Court held here the past week.

Kenneth R. Stebelton, Shingleton, was placed on probation for a period of two years for driving an automobile while his license was revoked (third offense). Two other Shingleton men, Ronald A. Long and Frank E. Clot, who entered pleas of guilty to charges of breaking and entering in the daytime, were each placed on probation for two and one-half years.

Ronald Tritton, Munising, paid $521.02 for violation of probation.

Gerald Steinhoff, Munising, owner and operator of Dutch's

The Alger County Department of Social Welfare and Ernest and Albert Monhead were granted judgments totaling $16,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Pruzsac. The amount of the judgment was based on medical and hospital expenses incurred following an accident in July, 1962, in which the Monhead boys were struck by a truck driven by Pruzsac while they were walking along the highway west of Munising. Both boys at the time of the accident were welfare clients and the department stood the expenses.

Edward E. Schummen Jr., Grand Rapids, was found guilty in a paternity case. He was ordered to pay $600 and court costs of $18. Members of the jury which heard the case were Judith Brisson, Vera
