Gwinn Man Killed In Car Crash

One young man was killed and two others from Marquette County were injured in a traffic wreck which occurred at 12:15 this morning on County Road 557, about 10 miles south of County Road EA, in Wells Township.

Killed almost instantly in the smashup was Gary Warren Nyquist, 21, of 207 Carbon St., Gwinn, whose death apparently was caused by head injuries.

The victim was riding in an automobile operated by John Brady Mitchell, 19, Box 697, Gwinn, state police said. Officers said Mitchell was driving north on Road 557 and apparently lost control of his car on a right curve, with the vehicle traveling onto the shoulder and into the ditch and going for a considerable distance before rolling over.

All Thrown From Car
All three persons riding in the car were thrown from the vehicle.

Mitchell suffered lacerations on his head and multiple bruises about his head and body. Richard J. Onto, 21, Box 123, Princeton, another passenger, suffered possible chest injuries and bruises about his chest.

They were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Marquette, in the Gwinn ambulance.

State Police Troopers Charles Feldhauser and Jerry Friend of the Marquette Post responded to the call, made by Max Fralick, Gwinn. Fralick was driving by and saw Onto walking on the road.

Onto told him about the accident and they drove to the scene, Fralick then calling state police. Dr. S. J. Green, Gwinn, deputy medical examiner, was summoned.

Car Total Wreck
Mitchell's car, a 1956 sedan, was a total wreck, state police said, and had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

It was the eighth traffic fatality in Marquette County this year. There were 13 in Marquette County in 1962.

The accident was kept open for investigation.

Student At Northern
Born Oct. 25, 1941, in Gwinn, Mr. Nyquist was a lifelong resident of Gwinn and had been a student at Northern Michigan University.

He was a member of the Gwinn Methodist Church and of the Industrial Arts Club at Northern.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nyquist, Gwinn; two brothers, Galen, at home, and Corp. Donald P. Nyquist, in the U.S. Marines and stationed in California, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mabel White, Chicago.

The body was taken to the Biorck and Zhukie Funeral Home, 104-106 N. Michigan, for arrangements for services will be announced later.

State Employee Total Doubles In 10 Years

EAST LANSING (AP) — The numbers of state employees in Michigan nearly doubled in the past 10 years (72,970 in 1962, 38,717 in 1952) a Michigan State University professor reports.

Total government employment in Michigan in 1962 was 352,412, Kruger said, while in 1952 the figure stood at 244,526.

East German Soldiers Flee To West Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Three East German soldiers, including two border guards, fled to West Berlin during the night, West Berlin police said.

More Earth Tremors In Yugoslavia

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Fresh earth tremors rocked quake-shattered Skopje at dawn today, touching off widespread alarm among survivors.

Thousands sleeping in the open or in tents started up in panic and dashed for open areas among many refused to lie down again after the tremors passed. They walked the streets until dawn.

The tremors toppled a few weakened walls but no serious new damage was reported.

Rescue officials said today there is no more hope for life under the ruins of Skopje, smashed six days ago by the worst earthquake in Yugoslav history.

About 1,000 bodies have been recovered. The final toll will probably reach 2,000, authorities said.

British Coed Victimized By 'Skivvy'

DETROIT (AP) — A 20-year-old London College student was the victim of a "gallant guide" who stole $120 from her after guiding her to the top floor of Detroit's Cobo Hall Wednesday.

Gay Cooper, 20, of Chesterfield, Derbyshire, England, told this story to police.

She is touring the United States on a 90-days-for-99-dollars bus ticket.

She entered Cobo Hall—a convention hall on the city's riverfront—and saw a man wearing a checked shirt.

"I thought he was a skivvy," she said, explaining that a skivvy in England is a tour guide.

The man gave her a tour of Cobo Hall and then told her to close her eyes because he had a surprise for her.

When she opened her eyes, the man was gone and so was her purse.

Wife Wins Divorce From U.S. Justice

GOLDENDALE, Wash. (AP) — Mrs. Mercedes H. Douglas, 46, won an uncontested divorce Wednesday from Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court on the ground of cruelty.

The couple was married in 1954. The marriage was the second for both Mrs. Douglas and the 64-year-old jurist.

Ward Near Death; In Iron Lung

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Stephen Ward was placed in an iron lung with bronchial pneumonia and was reported near death tonight.

Convicted on two vice charges growing out of Britain's sex and security scandal, the society osteopath was in a deep coma from an overdose of drugs taken on the last day of his trial Wednesday.

Throat Surgery
The pneumonia developed after throat surgery this morning to ease his breathing.

Ward was unaware that a jury in the Old Bailey Court had convicted him on two counts of living off prostitution.

Ward, 50, was being drip-fed through a vein with a nutrient solution containing a heart stimulant.

A morning medical bulletin issued by St. Stephen's Hospital said Ward was "still grievously or critically ill and still deeply unconscious."

Breathes Through Tube
Ward had been breathing through a tube thrust down his throat.

W. Mayne Butcher, a hospital official, said surgeons performed a tracheotomy, which consists of making an opening into the windpipe.

Ward, 50, an artist and osteopath with friends in high places, was taken to the hospital Wednesday after swallowing a massive dose of barbiturate.

A few hours earlier he had told friends he believed his trial was an act of political revenge for his triggering the Profumo scandal.

John D. Profumo, 48, resigned from the House of Commons and as secretary of state for war in June after admitting an affair with Ward's protegee, prostitute Christine Keeler, 21. Ward had written Home Secretary Henry Brooke and the newspapers that Profumo had lied when he denied the affair earlier.

"Somebody had to be sacrificed and that someone was me," Ward said.

As he lay unconscious with police at his bedside, a jury in the Old Bailey Court found him guilty on two counts of living off the prostitution of Christine and Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies, 18. His attorneys said they would appeal.

Ward was acquitted on one charge of living off the prostitution of Vicky Barrett and two of procuring underage girls.

Charges Held Over
Two further charges against Ward of counseling and procuring the commission of an abortion were not pressed. The court ruled these charges would be held over to September, after the summer recess, when prosecutor Mervyn Griffith-Jones will decide whether to proceed with them.

Sentencing was postponed until Ward can be brought into court. Doctors said that would be at least a week. He could get seven years in prison on each count.

Ike Cautions GOP On Nuclear Pact

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has flipped on a caution light for Republicans maneuvering gingerly into position for Senate consideration of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Eisenhower's statement in New York Wednesday that the agreement between the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain to halt all but underground tests has "some advantages and some disadvantages" just about sums up the majority opinion among Senate Republicans.

So, too, did his refusal to take a stand on the pact until military men and scientists have testified fully about all aspects of it.

In language similar to the call by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois for a "minute examination" of the treaty's implications, Eisenhower added:

"We must listen very closely." Eisenhower's noncommittal position obviously was disappointing to President Kennedy and Democratic congressional leaders. They would have liked an endorsement which might nudge GOP senators along toward a favorable vote.

Beneficiary
For a time it looked as though the President would have difficulty in getting GOP representation at the Moscow signing ceremonies. But he was able to persuade Sens. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and George D. Aiken, R-Vt., to join the delegation which leaves Friday.

It stuck in many Republican minds that if the Senate ratifies the treaty, Kennedy would be the political beneficiary in next year's campaign of any easing of world tensions that might accompany the action.

Partly because of this and partly because they want to satisfy as well as they can constituents who are suspicious of possible Soviet trickery, Republicans generally want to get a full accounting of the views of the military men and scientists to weigh along with those of Kennedy's diplomatic representatives.

Strike Cuts Off Milk Deliveries To Western U.P.

IRON RIVER (AP) — Commercial deliveries of milk to the western part of the Upper Peninsula halted today when Teamsters Local 328 struck the Fairmont Foods Inc. plants here.

The strike developed from a company proposal to reduce the pay of route drivers handling commercial accounts. The drivers have been working since June 1 without a contract, union officials said.

The Fairmont strike began Wednesday in Green Bay, Wis., at the company headquarters, when contract negotiations were broken off.

4 Policemen Hurt In Race Disturbance

CHICAGO (AP) — Four policemen were injured one reported seriously, Wednesday night as about 100 policemen tried to prevent further racial disturbances in a South Side district.

About 500 persons, most of them white, appeared for the third straight night in the district.

The trouble centers about a block from an apartment building into which two Negro families moved in earlier this week. The immediate neighborhood is predominantly white.

Police arrested 33 persons, including seven juveniles. One Negro was arrested.

The arrests were made for refusal to obey police orders to disperse. Minor fights broke out between the policemen and several persons.

The policemen were injured when they were hit with bricks and stones as they sought to make arrests.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's Negroes "will go the full way" in the drive for civil rights, says the president of the National Urban League.

Henry Steeger, New York magazine publisher and a Caucasian, told a news conference Wednesday that increased Negro militancy and further rioting, bloodshed and picketing will result unless promises to the Negroes are fulfilled.

Steeger said both current times and the tone of the league's national conference here demand greater militancy within the interracial league itself.

NEW YORK (AP) — Pickets returned to their demonstration at a Brooklyn hospital site today with a new tactic and apparently sobered up by the nearness of a riot.

Yet they chanted "police brutality must go" as they paraded in demand for more jobs for Negroes and Puerto Ricans in publicly Downstate Medical Center construction site.

Other pickets who sat in the hospital driveway blocking a truck left when policemen advised them they were courting arrest.

N. Korea Accuses Yanks Of Plotting War Provocations

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea accused the United States today of "war provocation plots" in this divided peninsula. It ignored the Red suicide squad that slipped into South Korea this week and killed three U.S. soldiers.

The North Korean Foreign Ministry

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today compared the leaders of Red China to "bellicose imperialists."

Atomic Weapons

"By playing up the nonexistent threat from the North," said the Communist broadcast, "the U. S. imperialists are foolishly trying to camouflage the war provocation plots they are hatching in the South."

North Korea said the Americans are trying to justify "aggressive acts of their own." It said the United States has heightened tension by introducing "atomic weapons and guided missiles and turning South Korea into an atomic base, scrapping and violating the Korea armistice agreement."

No Mention Of Ambush

American commanders in Korea admit they possess weapons capable of firing nuclear warheads, they normally decline comment on whether nuclear warheads are stored in Korea.

The broadcast made no mention of the ambush killing of two U.S. soldiers just south of the demilitarized zone Monday or the skirmish six miles farther south Tuesday in which another American, a South Korean policeman and four North Koreans died. The U. S. command said the North Koreans were carrying weapons used in the ambush Monday.

Denounced
The United States denounced the ambush as a "vicious, unprovoked attack."

U.S. Army patrols aided by spotlights searched the banks of the Imjin River along the demilitarized zone for more Communist infiltrators.

South Korean Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun said Monday's ambush was a futile effort to force the American troops to withdraw from the Korean front.

Yanks Hope To Tame Hurricanes

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. scientists may find out in the next three months whether man can hope to tame hurricanes.

Experiments two years ago suggested to Navy and Weather Bureau experts that seeding clouds with silver iodide crystals could soften the destructive winds.

From now until Nov. 1 the scientists will attempt to duplicate the 1961 experiments conducted while Hurricane Esther was raging.

Next Step
"If the results of the experiment duplicate those of 1961," the Navy said, "an important step will have been taken in the battle to ameliorate the destructive fury of hurricanes." The next step, the Navy said, will be to seek ways of magnifying the scale of the experiment and thus the reduction of winds.

The experiment is called Stormfury and got its start seven years ago after catastrophic hurricanes struck the U.S. East Coast.

11 Airplanes
Eleven airplanes will be used in this year's operation, seven supplied by the Navy and four by the weather bureau.

Silver iodide crystals are similar in structure to ice crystals. When silver iodide is ejected into clouds, moisture gathers on the crystals and freezes. In the process, energy is released in the form of latent heat.

In the 1961 test, visual and radar observations indicated that a relatively small "chimney" near the eye serves as the primary energy source of a hurricane.

Seeding
These discoveries suggested that a balance of forces in the storm might be altered by seeding in this small area, no larger than 200 square miles, and causing conversion of water to ice crystals.

The pioneer experiments produced dramatic changes in wind velocity, although they lasted only a brief time.

Auto-Truck Crash Kills 10 Persons

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A fiery car-truck collision near Genoa Wednesday night took the lives of 10 persons, eight of them children, wiping out the family of Felix Campos, a migrant crop worker.

The 10 had been out for a night at the movies. No one in the six-year-old station wagon survived.

The Campos had been working on the farm of Emil Weibert near Elmore, Ohio.

Released
Charles Strong, 38, of Swanton, jumped from the flaming cab of his semitrailer after the crash.

The highway patrol quoted Strong as saying the car tried to pass another vehicle and hit his head. Strong was released from the hospital after treatment.

Five of the children were members of the Campos family. The parents of the other three were Mrs. and Mrs. Camilo Chico.

Killed in the crash on Ohio 51 were Campos, 41, of Florida City, Fla., his wife, Catalina 36, and their children, Maria, 14, Joseph, 12, Rosa, 10, and David, 5, along with James Chico, 7, his brother, Raoul, 12, and sister, Guadalupe, 8.

The fifth Campos child, Theresa, 7, died today.

Union Leader Raps Notion On Race Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — C. J. Haggerty, president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, today branded as "plain nonsense" the notion that job discrimination against Negroes is far more prevalent in construction than in other industries.

Employment figures presented recently to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz "showed a completely opposite picture," Haggerty said.

'Plans For Progress'
For comparison with the construction industry, Haggerty cited a study of employment practices of 65 firms representing a cross-section of U.S. industries. The 65 firms are participating in the "plans for progress" program—a drive for voluntary adoption of a nondiscriminatory hiring policy.

Haggerty said the study, made by the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, showed last December that only 12,110 or 2.6 per cent of the 65 companies' 2.5 million employees were nonwhites.

Similar Survey
A month ago Haggerty said, the Labor Department made a similar survey of federal construction jobs in 47 selected cities and found a ratio of 53 per cent of Negro journeymen and apprentices to total men employed.

"The survey showed Negro employment on these jobs, including lesser skilled labor, came to 17 per cent of the total," said Haggerty.

Higher Percentage
The President's committee study included huge automobile, aircraft, telephone and electrical manufacturing companies which "have blatantly advertised their nondiscriminatory policies with regard to hiring and employment," Haggerty said.

Yet, the record clearly shows that the building trades offer employment opportunities to a much higher percentage of Negro craftsmen.

Most Tourist Business Here Up For Season

Every available tourist accommodation within a range of 30 miles from Marquette was filled nine nights during the month of July, reports Wyndal H. Hudson, executive director of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce.

Most motel owners in the area report that this tourist season (June 15-Sept. 15) is the busiest that they ever seen it. They have been filled up 95 per cent of the time.

Some feel that if they had 50 more beds that they could still fill them, because they get so many calls for accommodations after they have filled up for the night.

More Gasoline Sold

Some filling station operators feel that they have sold more gasoline this summer than they did last summer, but the rest of the business is somewhat off, such as grease jobs, oil changes, tires, etc.

The chamber has offered a new service to the tourists this summer by employing a girl to come on after 5 p.m., who at that time calls the motels, hotels and tourist homes to find out how many available beds they have left.

So, when a tourist stops in at the chamber, the chamber knows just where to direct them for a night's stay.

One of the reasons for the increase in tourists in the Marquette area is because the chamber has made them aware of attractions which can be found in Marquette, Hudson believes.

"They all come back from the island saying, 'That sure is nice' and I haven't heard one tourist say he was disappointed in the drive around the island," Larson noted.

The biggest tourist attraction in the Marquette area is Presque Isle Park," stated Harlan Larson, president of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, and he noted that an added bonus for visitors to the island is activity at the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad Co. ore dock.

"They all come back from the island saying, 'That sure is nice' and I haven't heard one tourist say he was disappointed in the drive around the island," Larson noted.

Retailers Comments

A number of retailers in the city feel that the tourists may be staying in the area overnight, but they are not spending any money in the stores in this area.

Hudson points out that the tourist stopping at the chamber for information is 10 to 15 per cent ahead of July in 1962. There have been around 300 visitors weekly to the office for information.

The fact that Marquette has some areas where agate rocks may be found has attracted a number of tourists, he said. The chamber directs those interested to Presque Isle Park.

Another great tourist attraction, stated Hudson, will be the island's nature trails, when they are finished within the next week or two.

"However," Larson commented, "the chamber feels that one whole segment of the tourist trade is passing by this community. The chamber feels that the community is losing a lot of tourist dollars because we don't have sufficient facilities here for trailer parking."

"Judging from the number of trailers that have been passing through town, a trailer court today could easily accommodate 50 trailers at night. Persons who travel with trailers are completely bypassing this area because we don't have facilities for them."

ARCHIBALD B. SHAW

Shaw To Hold NMU Seminar On Education

Dr. Archibald B. Shaw, editor of the education executives' Overview Magazine and American School and University Yearbook, will conduct a seminar in secondary education at Northern Michigan University Monday Aug. 5, to Friday, Aug. 16.

The author of "The Random Falls Idea" and a contributor to the Bookshelf and Forum magazines among others, Dr. Shaw will analyze the major issues or problems in secondary education today and their relationship to organization, administration, and curriculum planning.

A former superintendent of schools in Scarsdale, N.Y., Shaw received his master's degree from Boston University and his doctor's in education from New York University.

He has served as a visiting lecturer at more than 40 colleges and universities throughout the country including Harvard, Temple, Auburn and the University of Chicago.

Served During War

A life member of the National Education Association, Shaw is a former mathematics teacher, principal, and Boy Scout executive. During World War II he was a lieutenant and was awarded seven battle stars while serving in the Pacific Theater.

Currently the Associate Secretary of the American Association of School Administrators, Washington, D.C., he is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union, American Legion, Educational Press Association of America and is an honorary life member of the New York State Council of Superintendents.

Toastmasters Open Drive For Members

A drive to obtain new members has been launched by the Speakers Toastmaster's Club, which is made up of men from the Marquette area.

"Toastmastering develops the characteristics businessmen look for in prospective employees," Robert Sturm, Ishpeming president of the club, said.

Any man over the age of 21 who is interested in joining the club has been asked to contact Sturm: Paul Bourgeois, Marquette, club secretary, or Roger Brown, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, who organized the group.

At a recent family picnic held by the club, Lewis Turner, Akron, Ohio, a past president of Toastmaster's International, was guest speaker. Turner, a former superintendent of schools in Akron, has spent the past four years as a professional speaker.

Turner noted that toastmastering "is a means of self-improvement, an excellent way of meeting friends and is inexpensive as compared to public speaking courses."

HAROLD C. CLOSE

Imperial Potentate To Attend Ahmed's Ceremonial Aug. 10

Approximately 500 Shriners and their wives will be in Marquette on Saturday, Aug. 10, for the traditional Shrine Summer Ceremonial. Speaker and principal attraction for the event will be Harold C. Close, imperial potentate of the Ancient and Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of North America, from Sphinx Temple, Hartford, Conn.

This year's ceremonial is being designated as the Harold C. Close Ceremonial in honor of the imperial potentate. This will be the first time in several years that an imperial potentate of Shrinedom has visited Marquette, although since World War II Ahmed Shrine Temple has hosted visits of several imperial potentates.

Day-long activities are planned for the ceremonial beginning with registration in the Masonic Temple at 8:30 in the morning and continuing through the day, being climaxed with Shrine entertainment in the Graveret High School's Kaufman Auditorium.

Highlight of the ceremonial from a public standpoint will be the parade in downtown Marquette, which will include the following Ahmed units: hand, patrol, clowns, mounted patrol and floats. This will begin at 1:30 in the afternoon, starting on Bluff St., between N. Front and N. Third Sts.

The line of march for the parade will be west on Bluff St. to N. Fourth St., south on Fourth to N. Washington St., east on Washington to Front St., south on S. Front to Baraga Ave., circling on Baraga and returning north on Front to Washington and west on Washington to the Masonic Temple, where the parade will end.

Class Of 50 Candidates

George D. Winfree, Marquette recorder for Ahmed Temple, said a class of 50 candidates, from every section of the Upper Peninsula, is expected to be inducted into the Shrine on the day of the ceremonial.

In addition to the imperial potentate, guests will include the imperial recorder of the Shrine, George Saunders, Chicago, and his wife; the imperial assistant r a b b a n, Charles Merrill, Detroit, and his wife; Frank Butcher, London, Ontario, Canada, president of the Great Lakes Shrine Association, and his wife, along with representatives from a number of other Shrine Temples from Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

Special programs will be held during the day for the nobles, nobles and the ladies.

St. Luke's Party

At 10:30 a. m. a Shrine party will be held at St. Luke's Hospital for the crippled children at St. Luke's. The principal program of the Shrine is assistance to crippled children, and there now are 17 Shrine hospitals for crippled children, located in various points throughout North America.

Admittance to the hospitals is granted regardless of race, color or creed. Recently, Shrinedom appropriated money to construct three additional hospitals, all of which will specialize in child burns.

Born in Somerville, Mass., Close, 63, was raised in Waterbury, Conn., and in 1931 he organized and became president of the Waterbury Manufacturing Co.

After 21 years as president and treasurer of the company, which fabricates brass goods, he retired from the business. He served two terms as director of the National Sewing Machine Products Association and is a past president of the Waterbury Rotary Club.

For eight years he was a member of the Connecticut Development Commission. He has served as director of several Connecticut

Record Tax Collection For One Day Made In Marquette

A record tax collection was made here Tuesday, a study and tabulation of receipts yesterday revealed.

City Treasurer Glen B. Wilson said collections of taxes Tuesday totaled $330,019.08, more than twice the previous daily record. The previous mark was $152,000, exactly a year ago.

Tomorrow is the deadline for payment of city and school taxes without penalty. After tomorrow, a one per cent collection fee will be imposed against all unpaid taxes, and the penalty fee goes up one per cent a month on the first of each month thereafter, Wilson noted.

Yesterday also was another heavy day, although not coming close to Tuesday's record. Wilson said, "Yesterday's receipts were around $20,000 by mail and another $40,000 in cash and checks received at the office in the city hall."

Collections up to yesterday totaled $519,937.31 out of a total school tax levy of $881,701.11, leaving an uncollected balance on school taxes of $361,763.80.

75 Per Cent Collected

Payments of city, library and delinquent special assessments (the latter being shifted to the tax rolls as of July 1) totaled $358,481.86 up to yesterday, as against the total levy of $608,884.70. This left an uncollected balance of $250,402.84.

Last Friday the treasurer reported that less than a quarter of the city-school taxes had been paid. Collections through yesterday will run around 75 per cent.

County Taxes Due 1

Tax rolls are retained by the city treasurer until March 1, when corporations and as president of a real estate firm.

Masonic Background

Early in his career, Close became a Master Mason, in Thomaston, Conn. Following his term as master, he served as treasurer for 25 consecutive years. He is a member of the Scottish Rite and of Knights Templar; the Royal Order of Jesters, Hartford, and the Cabiri.

He was potentate of Sphinx Temple in 1951 and was elected imperial outer guard of the Imperial Council of Shrinedom in New York City in 1953, the first noble from Connecticut to be elected to the imperial line.

He and his wife, the former Elizabeth Bennett, New York, reside in Scotland, Conn.

Minor damage occurred to the rear bumper of the Murray car, a 1959 two-door foreign model, and apparently no damage occurred to Glass' automobile, a 1956 four-door sedan. Both cars were driven from the scene under their own power.

County taxes become due and payable on Dec. 1.

Three vehicles were involved and a motorist was given a ticket, but no one was injured, in a pair of traffic mishaps which occurred in Marquette yesterday.

At 7:20 last evening an automobile being driven north on S. Front St. by James T. Bess, 1575 Erie St., went out of control and smashed into a traffic control sign and a tree stump on the northwest corner of the intersection.

Bess told city police he lost control of his car while attempting to avoid a pedestrian who had stopped in the middle of the crosswalk.

Car Not Under Control

Extensive damage occurred to the right front of Bess' automobile, a 1954 four-door sedan, which had to be towed from the scene by a wrecker.

City police issued Bess a summons for failing to have his car under control.

An automobile being driven east on W. Washington St. by Thomas F. Glass, 347 Bluff St., struck the rear end of a car operated by Ruth E. Murray, 3194 Lake Shore Blvd., in the 200 block, when she stopped for traffic ahead of her.

Hearing In Airport Controversy Opens Again Before CAB

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another chapter in the controversy over proposals for regional airports for various cities in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan opens today.

After a three-week stand in Wisconsin, a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing on the proposals resumes here before Examiner Edward T. Stodola.

Concerned over the number of individual airports being built to serve smaller communities over the national, the CAB has proposed a system of regional airports, each of which would serve two or more cities.

Involved in this case are regional airport proposals for these combinations of cities:

Appleton-Oshkosh, Wis.; Ashland, Wis.-Ironwood, Mich.; Clintonville-Green Bay, Wis.; LaCrosse, Wis.-Winona, Minn.; Land O'Lakes - Rhinelander, Wis.; Marshfield-Wausau, Wis.; Marshfield-Wisconsin Rapids - Stevens Point, Wis.; and Wausau - Wisconsin Rapids-Stevens Point.

UPPER PENINSULA STATE FAIR, ESCANABA

The Rev. Glen G. Weber, who next week will begin his new duties as superintendent of Bishop Baraga Central High School in Marquette, receives congratulations from his immediate predecessor, the Rev. Charles J. Carmody, who is being granted a leave of absence for a program of teaching and continued studies. From left are Sister Mary Pelagia, principal of Baraga; Father Carmody, Father Weber and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Nolan B. McKeivitt, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, vicar general of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette and president of the Marquette Board of Pastors, which oversees the operations of Baraga High School. — (Mining Journal photo.)

Fr. Carmody 'On Loan' To Loyola; Fr. Weber Successor

The Rev. Charles J. Carmody, superintendent of Bishop Baraga Central High School, who is being granted a leave of absence, will leave Marquette later this month for his program of teaching and continued education in Chicago.

Father Carmody, who has been superintendent of Baraga six years, will be teaching (Theology at Loyola University, Chicago) and continue studies in education (at the University of Chicago) while on leave from the Catholic Diocese of Marquette.

He is being succeeded in the Baraga superintendency post by the Rev. Glen W. Weber, assistant editor of the Northern Michigan Edition of Our Sunday Visitor and pastor of St. Mary's Church, Big Bay.

Father Carmody's program of teaching and continued studies is planned in order for him to gain more experience and education as a background for his work in the education field. He will be "on loan" to Loyola for a period of several years.

Father Carmody is a native of Chicago and has served in the Upper Peninsula since 1950 and in Marquette since June 1957. Schools Attended

After attending Visitation Grade School, Quigley Preparatory Seminary and DeLaSalle Institute, Chicago, he attended the Salvatorian Seminary, St. Nazianz, Wis.; St. Paul (Minn.) Seminary, where he received his bachelor of arts degree in philosophy and classical languages, his master of arts degree in history and his graduate in Theology degree.

He took graduate studies in education at Loyola.

Prior to coming to Marquette, Father Carmody served as assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Sault Ste. Marie, and St. John's Church, Garden, and was vice rector of the Marygrove Retreat Center for the diocese (1951-53), di-

Four Sawyer Squadrons Get Unit's Honors

Three maintenance squadrons and a tactical squadron assigned to the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC) at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base have been awarded plaques symbolic of their top finish in the 40th Air Division Management Control System.

Awarded plaques from the division were the 410th Airborne Missile Maintenance Squadron, 410 Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron, 69th Munitions Maintenance Squadron and the 644th Air Refueling Squadron.

The four squadrons were highest in the respective areas of competition with units of the other three wings in the division. The awards were for the April-June quarter.

Also Won In First Quarter

It was the fifth 40th Air Division title for the tanker unit, fourth for the armament and electronics maintenance squadron, third for the munitions outfit and the first for the missile squadron. Each of the first three named squadrons won the award during the first quarter of this year, also.

The 46th Air Refueling Squadron, commanded by Lt. Col. Ronald L. Brumbaugh, last week was named best in Second Air Force under the Strategic Air Command Management Control System. The tanker unit tied with a squadron at Bergstrom AFB, Texas, for the honor.

Unit Leaders Named

Brig. Gen. John A. Roberts, division commander, presented the plaques to Col. Frederick R. Ramputti, wing commander, who in turn presented the plaques to the respective squadron commanders.

Lt. Col. Arthur J. Orillion Jr., heads the missile unit, Lt. Col. Joseph J. Knoczynski the armament and electronics squadron, and Lt. Col. William E. Fish is commander of the munitions maintenance outfit.

PYRAMID'S AREA

The base of the Great Pyramid of Giza, Egypt, covers about 13 acres and its top point stands about 451 feet above the ground, having been reduced by 30 feet during the centuries.

St. Ambrose, NMU Degrees

Father Weber, a native of Saunemin, Ill., attended St. John's Provincial Seminary, Plymouth, Mich., and received his bachelor of arts degree from St. Ambrose College, Davenport, Iowa.

In June 1962 Father Weber received his master of arts degree in education from Northern Michigan University. He also attended the University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill.

Father Weber has served as assistant pastor of St. Ignatius Church, Houghton, and as Newman Club chaplain for Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

In 1956 Father Weber was transferred to Marquette, to become assistant editor of the Northern Michigan Edition of Our Sunday Visitor. For several years he also served as Newman Club chaplain for Northern.

In addition to his other duties, Father Weber has served as and will continue to be pastor of St. Mary's Church, Big Bay.

Father Weber has been director of guidance services at Baraga since 1958.

MARQUETTE

An Eskimo dog team and sled contrast with a modern ski-equipped airplane as a means of transportation in Alaska. This scene and many others of the natural wonders of the 49th state will be shown in a two-hour color film, "Alaska, America's Wonderland," scheduled in Marquette next week.

Color Film On Wonders Of Alaska Will Be Shown Here

A three-night showing of a two-hour narrated color film on the natural wonders of Alaska will be presented Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 6-8, in the Kaufman Auditorium, starting at 8.

Marquette Firefighters Association, Local 643, is sponsoring the showings. Proceeds will be used for Marquette youth activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Langley of Medford, Ore., made the film over a period of seven years and will be here to present their finished product.

The film takes armchair travelers, sportsmen and youngsters on a scenic tour of Alaska. Viewers will see the "Inside Passage," towns and villages, Eskimoland and Alaskan industries. Wildlife is shown in native habitat. No game is killed in the movie.

One of the highlights of the film is the breakup of Lake George, considered the eighth wonder of the world. Lake George is the world's only self-filling and self-emptying lake. It is 14 miles long, two miles wide and some 300 feet deep. The Langleys took three years to film the sequence of the one-year cycle, which is shown on the screen for about 15 minutes.

Varied Program Slated For City Band Concert Tonight

Marquette's city band concert at 7:30 this evening at Presque Isle Park bandshell climaxes several programs presented this week by the band.

Tuesday evening the band presented its annual concert for the patients at Morgan Heights Sanatorium and Medical Section. Last night a program was presented for the children at Bay Cliff Health Camp in Big Bay. It was the second time that the band played at Bay Cliff this summer.

Tonight's program includes popular selections and the music of the masters, Director T. Ray Uhlinger said.

Featured Overture
For a featured overture, the band will present the colorful "Rienzi" overture by the celebrated German opera composer Richard Wagner. "This music has long been a favorite of symphony orchestras and it is typical of the dramatic writing of Wagner," Uhlinger said.

The music of Johann Sebastian Bach is the basis of much of the music which followed his compositions in the 17th and 18th centuries. His choral melody "If Thou Be Near," transcribed for concert band by R. L. Moehlmann, will be presented tonight.

Folk Songs
Folk songs will be featured tonight in a composition by R. Vaughan Williams, one of England's most prolific contemporary composers. His "Folk Song Suite" to be presented tonight, includes a march, "Seventeen Come Sunday," "My Bonny Boy" and "Folk Songs from Somerset."

The music of Rimsky-Korsakov, the 19th century Russian composer, is for the most part joyous and gay. His art is said to be "rooted in the Russian soil." From his opera-ballet, "Mlada," the band

Goldwater Opens Fire On Directive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has opened fire on a Pentagon directive that could split segregated communities off limits for servicemen.

The Arizona Republican, regarded as a leading contender for his party's 1964 presidential nomination, rocketed a "police state" charge Wednesday at Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

There was no immediate comment from Kennedy, who has been a favorite target for Southerners who oppose the administration's civil rights program.

Goldwater Charges
Goldwater told the Senate that a directive authorizing commanders to bar servicemen's visits to segregated areas near military bases "started in the attorney general's office."

He said teams headed by Alfred B. Pitt, assistant secretary of defense for civil rights, had visited base areas "completely armed with dossiers on businessmen in the community. Complete with every figure the committee can get out of income tax returns."

Denies Claim
A Defense Department spokesman promptly denied that Pitt or any members of his group have had information on businessmen taken from income tax records or the files of any government agency.

Goldwater proposed an investigation into "the directive and those people who have pushed it and the full use of the power of the police state by the attorney general."

Phony Sale Mail Cited By Chamber

Marquette's Chamber of Commerce today called attention to what it termed "a new racket—the use of official looking 'public notice' mailings to sell the so-called 'distress' merchandise."

Wyndal H. Hudson, executive director of the chamber, said that the public notice headings are similar in style to legal notices and auction and bankruptcy announcements. The implication is that the merchandise is being sacrificed at a fraction of its worth to satisfy the claims of creditors.

"Actually," Hudson stated "this is merely a ruse to hoodwink the public." In a typical example the mailing notes that several tons of brand new cookware with a "list price" of $199.50 must be sacrificed for $35, impliedly to satisfy creditors' claims.

"Fictitious Price"
"This merchandise is being regularly sold throughout the country in large volume for $35 by means of this deceptive gimnick," said Hudson, noting that the list price of $199.50 is "wholly fictitious."

He said that these "public notices" are the latest in a series of deceptive sales stratagems employed by certain cookware promoters to fool the public.

"Other versions exposed by the National Better Business Bureau, with which the chamber is affiliated, through membership include the sale of cookware from a hotel suite for a few days by hit-and-run salesmen who claim to be disposing of their goods at a sacrifice because their companies are no longer selling by means of home demonstrations," Hudson said.

Another fictitious version requires the promoter to dupe a warehouse or freight carrier into publishing an ad offering cookware at an alleged bargain price because it is "unclaimed freight," he said.

Bogus Disposal Sales

Still other reasons given for bogus disposal sales represent that the "distributor is giving up franchise," or that goods offered were "not picked up by our agents," or that the merchandise would have to go to a "sacrifice in order to settle this estate," etc.

WELL DRILLING
EUGENE M. KORPI

"Whatever the stated reason," Hudson said, "misuse of the 'distress' appeal in merchandising is a scheme to flim-flam the public and a betrayal of public confidence in advertising."

Coffee and bananas lead Guatemala's exports, followed by cotton and chicle gum.

Water Still Needed For Area's Crops

Small grain harvesting, although behind last year's pace, was the main activity on Michigan's farms during the past week, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

In Upper Michigan, despite recent rains, more water is needed to assure good crops. The service said barley is 90 per cent harvested, about 45 per cent of the wheat is in compared to 85 per cent last year, and oats are about 15 per cent harvested compared to 30 per cent last year.

Wheats, Oats Delayed

Recent rains, the service said have delayed the wheat and oat harvest. Grain test weights are light where moisture had been short, it added.

The rains improved soil moisture for most of the state and row crops continued to improve.

But some water shortages still exist in the Upper Peninsula, southeast and scattered west central areas and some northern and south-central areas suffered hail and wind damage.

The raspberry crop is poor in northern and southern areas because of spring frosts, the service said.

The tart cherry harvest was continuing in the northwest. Early apples are starting to be picked, and peach and plum harvesting was due to start this week.

Benefit For Bay Cliff Set Sunday

Marquette area residents are invited to attend the benefit picnic and barbecue to be held in L'Anse Township Park this Sunday afternoon beginning at 1.

George N. Spear Jr., Marquette Legion Post commander, said other Legion groups are encouraging participation in the program.

All proceeds will be given to the Bay Cliff Health Camp, Big Bay.

Patrick Ellico, L'Anse Legion Post commander, is in charge of the event, which is being supported by all Legion posts in the district.

"The public and Legionnaires from all posts are urged to attend the old-fashioned picnic with their families," Ellico said.

Menu Given

On the menu are chicken, home-made beans, potato salad and other refreshments, followed by an evening of outdoor dancing and music.

Games for children will be supervised by the physical education department of the L'Anse High School and yacht rides on Lake Superior will be conducted all afternoon.

In addition, a concert will be given by the L'Anse Post's Golden Eagle Drum and Bugle Corps.

Mackie May Run For Governor

LANSING (AP)—Highway Commissioner John Mackie says he would consider running for governor or for Congress in 1964 if the legislature, in implementing the new constitution, decides to abolish his job at the end of this year.

And any proposal to wipe out his job or limit his powers until his term of office expires would be "a 100 per cent blatant political move," Mackie said.

He reacted defiantly Wednesday to a suggestion by Sen. Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft, that the legislature may either abolish the job or strip him of his authority.

Could Enact Law

Brown is chairman of an agency sub-committee of a larger legislative committee studying implementation of the constitution in the special fall session.

He said the legislature could enact a law abolishing Mackie's $17,500-a-year job, or limiting his powers and duties, when the new four-member bi-partisan highway commission is created under the constitution.

Unless this is done, said Brown, Mackie could continue to exercise his authority until he goes out of office on June 30, 1965.

Included On List

"I have fully intended to finish out my term but if Mr. Brown and the others decide I should be thrown out of the job, then I will have to change my plans," Mackie said.

"This means I would consider running for another political office—governor or congress."

Mackie's name is usually included on the list of potential Democratic candidates for governor and he has been regarded as one who might make a challenge in 1966.

Ionia Police Seek Reformatory Escapee

IONIA — Police are seeking a Detroit man who escaped from the Ionia State Reformatory where he was serving a 7½ to 20-year sentence for assault.

Officials said Alfred Eads, 23, apparently jumped off a truck that was returning a group of inmates from a work detail outside the reformatory Tuesday.

Sidewalk Circus In Marquette Called Big Success; Parades Held

Clifton Wagner, chairman of the retail division of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored yesterday's Sidewalk Circus Day, said today that merchants reported the event drew the "largest buying crowd" that Marquette has ever had at a sidewalk sales promotion. Above, two

Chief wore gold badge instead of tin one.

SAN ANSELMO, Calif. (AP) — Fire Chief Nello Marcucci retired after 33 years' service and gave his gold badge to his successor. "I bought the badge myself," he said. "The city gave me a tin one."

Armed Forces

Navy BT-3 Thomas Richer, son of Mrs. Cecelia Richer, 117 E. Ridge St., Marquette, was the only man aboard the USS Eversole who passed the GED test for college level educational development. Fourteen others who took the test failed. Richer is stationed in Long Beach, Calif.

Fire Razes Top Floor Of Meat Packing Firm

GROSSE POINTE (AP) — The top floor of a three-story home owned by a Detroit meat packing firm executive was destroyed by fire Wednesday, causing damages estimated at $100,000. The owner, A. Richard Stanny, executive of Stanny, Livingston & Morris Co., and his family were away on a combined business-vacation trip at the time of the fire.

rotates crops on 67 acres. He's done all this to squeeze the most possible production out of his rolling acres to feed his 33-cow Holstein herd.

Diversified Program

At the Joe Paluch farm south of Norway, the touring farmers saw another dairy operation. But they were most impressed by the way Paluch improves both his soil and his cash income picture by including cabbage and snap beans in his crop rotation.

A new modern ranch-type home (toured by the wives) served to emphasize the success of the Paluch diversified farming program. Paluch, along with other Dickinson County farmers, markets his beans and cabbage through the Norway Canning Cooperative.

At a luncheon-stop speech, MSU Extension Economist Arthur Mauch of Lansing reviewing myths about agriculture, pointed out that agriculture is not a declining industry, emphasized that food costs are comparatively low and said farmers contribute greatly to the general economy.

At 'Potato Factory'

The last tour stop was at the Alfred Oelke "potato factory" farm where visitors saw a 90-acre field of the famed Russet Burbank thriving on an old sandy airport strip that was once considered hardly capable of growing blueberries.

Heavy applications of fertilizer and an unlimited supply of water for irrigating has turned the abandoned airport into one of the most productive potato farms in the Great Lakes area.

Potato Processing

The Oelke stop also gave farmers a glimpse into the future of potato processing and merchandising. The famed Russet Burbank which won the U. P. top state honors in this year's Michigan Week contest, are cleaned and are then electrically sorted to assure size uniformity. The first Michigan producer to "count pack" potatoes for the choosier restaurant and hotel trade, Oelke places a given number of the choice bakers in boxes that are shipped throughout the United States.

The tour was arranged by Dickinson County farmers with the aid of County Extension Director Frank Molinare, Hartwig, and Quentin Peterson of the Dickinson County Soil Conservation District.

H. S. Peterson, Iron Mountain District Forester with the Michigan Conservation Department, also spoke to the group.

Lady Forester Touring Areas In Peninsula

That once familiar expression, "a tobacco-chewing old forster," won't do at all in describing the new order of things in the woodlands.

For instance a personable young woman, Miss Emma Kurelich, Milwaukee, is touring the Hiawatha National Forest this week to familiarize herself with its resources. She's doing the same with other forests of the Region 9 which serves nine states in the Midwest.

Miss Kurelich — shades of Daniel Boone, Natty Bumppo and Paul Bunyan — is an information specialist in charge of women's activities for the U. S. Forest Service regional headquarters at Milwaukee. Her very office is an indication of the changes in the forests and exemplification of the U. S. Forest Service's dedication to multiple use of the federal forests.

Increasingly Interested

Women and women's organizations are increasingly interested in the nation's forests, says Miss Kurelich. Many forest plantations have been sponsored by women's clubs and in Illinois women's organizations sponsored forest nature trails and helped finance them.

Conservation education has an enlarging place in women's club programming. Women are interested in natural resources and in education of children for the wise use of these resources.

Add Conservation Subjects

"Many clubs," said Miss Kurelich, "want to add conservation subjects to their fine arts and other interests, but don't know just where to go so we help them. We have several new publications including 'Your Club Can Open the Door To Conservation Education,' and 'How To Hold A Good Conservation Meeting,' and others.

"Many women's groups have gone far beyond a casual interest in conservation education and are taking part in action programs on conservation problems. Wisconsin women, for instance, are working

Michigan Real Estate Chapter Holds Meet Here

Members of the Michigan Chapter of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers are holding their first Upper Peninsula meeting in Marquette. The session began yesterday and was to be concluded this afternoon. Present at the business meeting at the Northland Hotel yesterday were (from left) Robert J. Heinzen, Detroit, secretary-treasurer; Allen H. Shaffer, Battle Creek, president; Earl H. Closser, Marquette, first vice president, and Don M. Pearce, Marquette. — (Mining Journal photo.)

Two In Base SAC Bomb Wing Retire

Capt. Jesse Contreras and SSgt. John A. Barbe, both members of the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC) at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, retired from the United States Air Force this week.

The two were honored at a wing commander's call held in the base theater. Col. Frederick R. Rampull, wing commander, presented the retirement certificates to the two men.

22 Years In Service

Contreras ended nearly 22 years of active federal military service. He began his career in 1941 following graduation from Southwest Texas State College.

Contreras, who retired in the grade of major, received a commission in 1943. He served the remainder of World War II in the Asiatic Pacific as an intelligence officer. He later served tours in South America and Korea attached to Air Force Advisory Groups.

Contreras spent seven years in Albany, N. Y., and Pittsburgh, Pa., serving in various capacities, including commander of an Air Reserve Wing and Group.

He came here in 1961 and has been chief of the ground training branch in the directorate of operations since that time.

Served In Africa

Barbe, a gunner in the 644th Bombardment Squadron, also entered service in 1941. He served in the maintenance field until becoming a gunner in 1950.

He served in Africa during World War II, and later served a two-year tour in Japan.

He came here in 1961 and has been a gunner in the bomb squadron since that time.

Twister Hits In 4 Counties Below Straits

CADILLAC (AP) — A roaring tornado mauled several buildings, tossed a panel truck to telephone-wire height and threatened at least four counties in northern Michigan—but injured no one—Wednesday night.

The tornado missed a residential area in Cadillac, where it concentrated its punch. It also bypassed the Northern District Fair nearby and the Clare County Fair in Harrison before dying in the cool night air.

Residents watched the funnel form out of swirling clouds and roar eastward across the north side of Cadillac, where it tore the roof off a highway department sign shop and flattened a scrap material warehouse.

The twister also damaged a glass shop and a service station and folded up a 100-foot tall Westford County Highway Department radio tower.

Whirling Around

"It was whirling around so much you couldn't tell which way it was going," one Cadillac woman said.

The funnel passed over a residential area and then veered south, with two state police cars racing it to warn farmers in the area.

Police followed the tornado about 20 miles to the Calre-Oscoda County border. Funnel sightings also were reported in Midland County and the Weather Bureau issued warnings to Gladwin, Arenac, Saginaw and Bay Counties to the east.

No Serious Damage

There were no further serious damage reports, however.

Westford County Sheriff Paul Lance was on the scene when the twister cut a swath 50 yards wide and about one-quarter mile long in the north business section of Cadillac.

"I was driving northward at the time, when I saw the twister come booming out of a dark cloud," Lance said. "It hit so suddenly that I had to gun my car backwards to get out of its path.

"I saw a Highway Department sign truck picked up like a toy, lifted as high as the telephone wires and thrown back down on its roof," he said.

Phone Service Cut

The funnel cut its swath across U. S. 131, where there was moving traffic.

Power was cut out in a surrounding area and telephone service was interrupted.

Thunderstorms hit most of the state and hail was reported in several areas.

High winds at Greenville in Montcalm County knocked down a wall at the Gibson Refrigerator plant and turned over two semi-trailer trucks.

State police said some trees were felled in Van Buren and Allegan Counties.

Study Depicts State As Good Place To Live

DETROIT (AP)—The U. S. Census Bureau, in a detailed study of Michigan residents, confirms what most state chambers of commerce have been saying for years—Michigan is a good place to live.

The report released today is a detailed breakdown of facts and figures involving Michigan residents from all walks of life. The statistics were gathered during the 1960 census.

Since 1860, people have flocked to Michigan, increasing the state's population ten-fold. In 1860 the state's population was 750,000 and in 1960 was 7.5 million.

The nation's population increased only a little more than five-fold in the last 100 years— from 35 million to 185 million.

Perhaps one reason for Michigan's population boom beating the national rate is that incomes are generally higher in Michigan.

The census report shows that more than 52 per cent of the families in the state have incomes of $6,000 or more. The figure is 5 per cent higher than the national average. The report also states that there are 4 per cent fewer families in Michigan with incomes under $3,000 than in the rest of the country.

Employment

Seven per cent more Michigan men aged 25 to 65 are employed than are men of the same age group in the rest of the country, said the report.

Michigan women between the ages of 15 and 24 were having almost twice as many babies in 1960 as women that age were in 1940, according to figures. The birth rate increase of almost 100 per cent is equal to the national boom in births.

Non-White Population

The 1960 census shows that Michigan's non-white population has more than doubled in the last 20 years. About 9 per cent of the state's population now is non-white, up 5 per cent since 1940, the report states. About 12 per cent of the nation's population is made up of non-white persons, an increase of slightly more than one per cent in the last two decades.

5-Year-Old Drowns In Lake Michigan

FRANKFORT (AP) — Five-year-old John Squires of Grand Rapids drowned in Lake Michigan Tuesday during a family swimming outing at the municipal bathing beach. His body was recovered in 5-1/2 feet of water.

Victim Identified As Ontario Woman

BELLE RIVER, Ont. (AP)—A woman who drowned Saturday in Lake St. Clair was identified Tuesday as Mrs. Margaret Lesperance, 27, of Belle River, a city 12 miles east of Windsor. Mrs. Lesperance's body was found floating in the lake Monday. Tony Cerato, 56, of Belle River, drowned when he dived into the lake to try to save her Saturday.

Model Plane Event Slated At U.P. Fair

ESCANABA — The model airplane contest, which attracted thousands of spectators last year, will be held at the Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba on Friday, Aug. 16.

The contest will be governed by the rules of the Academy of Model Aeronautics in both the stunt and combat flying classifications. Model plane enthusiasts need not be members of the AMA to compete, but they must be residents of the Upper Peninsula.

Trophies To Be Given

Trophies will be awarded to the first three place winners in both the stunt and combat classes in each of the age groups.

Junior contestants under 16 years of age will compete separately from the senior class which is open to all over 16 years of age.

Model plane owners who are interested in taking part in the contest may get complete details and rules by writing to Robert M. Richards, 521 S. 17th St., Escanaba.

The Negro Problem

The three great social changes in America of this time are the migration from the farms, the increasing urbanization which has changed us from a predominantly rural people to one that lives mostly in big cities and, currently and most emotionally tense and moralistic of the three, the revolt of American Negroes against second class citizenship.

America has always had a double standard on the Negro question. Since Revolutionary days the stirring words of Patrick Henry have been a rallying cry for Americans: "Give me liberty, or give me death." But Patrick Henry was from slave-holding Virginia where the Negroes had no liberty.

In the years since then there has been some progress in giving our Negro citizens, freed by Abraham Lincoln's proclamation in the Civil War from slavery, full citizenship. But most of them are a long way from it still and there's lots of discrimination against even those who have been politically emancipated, and even against those who have attained fame, great stature and wealth.

The problem of bringing the Negro and white people of America into a balance of respect and opportunity is a very difficult one. Great progress has been made recently because of the militancy of our Negroes in their demands for equal opportunities and an end to discrimination against them. But this militancy has created a great national danger. It has tended unfairly to discredit and to push from positions of influence the leaders of the long fight for moderation in the Negro cause and to give the reins to a new generation of Negro leaders who are going to play rough.

Here in the North where there are so few Negroes and no large problems of integrating public facilities, we can discuss the Negro question without the pressures that bear on any such deliberations in the South. But even here it is obvious from the talk that true integration is a very difficult thing to achieve in a short period and that we should accord the effort an immense good will.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, testifying on proposed legislation to extend civil rights, said frankly and courageously that if he were treated as Negroes he'd demonstrate, too. Mr. Rusk is from Georgia. So is Sen. Richard Russell, a man of great prestige and authority in the U. S. Senate.

It's to be expected that a Gov. Barnett of Mississippi or a Gov. Wallace of Alabama might be a white supremacist, but when Sen. Russell of Georgia refuses to give his great influence to a responsible solution to the Negro problem, America is clearly in deep trouble.

Here in the North we hear much of "If the Negroes would only be reasonable they'd be treated fairly." And there is a real danger that extremists in the Negro leadership may retard their cause by disorders or pressures that will offend lawmakers.

There has been some effort to make political capital of this national crisis by suggesting that President Kennedy and his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, have sparked the Negro revolt. This is as phony as the suggestion that it is Communism inspired, although obviously the Communists will make what capital they can of it.

Southern political leaders are acting as though the Negro problem would be solved if President Kennedy would warn them on the need for law and order. This is to assume that the Negroes have no grievances. President Kennedy didn't invent their problems and he hasn't incited them, knowing full well that this would be sowing a political whirlwind. His hand was forced by the Negro demonstrations and he's now proposing legislation to extend civil rights.

A test of intention for all Americans who deplore the Negro disturbances is for them to question whether they have deplored discrimination against Negroes.

Tourist Parks

I have heard complaints of roadside tables being placed along public roads for public use with no facilities for the disposal of garbage, either human or otherwise, so a person does not dare step into the brush a few feet away or enjoy his food for flies. If these facilities cannot be provided, neither should tables be placed there.

Anyone interested in promoting a tourist industry or just plain community appreciation for their parks should take a trip to Grand Marais, a small community of 500 residents, that boasts of its possession of one of the best parks of any community.

Running along the shores of Lake Superior, its unspoiled beauty of many types of trees is accented by well-kept grounds, kept clean and the grass cut in spite of the large number of people who use it. It is well-lighted all night, and tables, stoves and bathroom facilities are plentiful for the large number of campers with trailers and tents who park there all summer. One end of the park contains a playground with slides and equipment for basketball, baseball and tennis.

On inquiry as to how such a small community can afford such a park layout, I was told that an active chamber of commerce believes it pays off in benefits to the community.

People who own canines might as well get ready to pay the tax, $1 for males and $3 for females, as the provision of the ordinance in this respect is to be enforced again, after it has been allowed to be a dead letter for the past 12 months. No dog list was prepared last year, because the returns from this source had been insignificant in 1901. This spring, however, a list was made again, and Marshal Maney is at once to begin the work of collecting the tax and killing off the canines that no one will stand sponsor for.

Declaring that the school situation is the most challenging Michigan ever has had to face in education, Dr. Paul Voelker of Lansing, state superintendent of public instruction, told the Marquette Rotary Club yesterday noon at the Hotel Northland that unless $15,000,000 is forthcoming from some source in the state many of its schools will be unable to run during the coming school year.

Representatives of Delta and Menominee Counties and the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, meeting in Escanaba yesterday, adopted a resolution which stated in effect: That the State of Michigan, in allocating money received from the federal government for highway work in Marquette, Menominee and Delta Counties, specify that it be spent for three separate projects.

Twelve more employees in Marquette yesterday pledged their support to President Roosevelt's national recovery movement.

Remittance of highway funds owing to the County of Marquette was forwarded yesterday from Lansing to the county treasurer from the State Highway Department in the amount of $19,789.78. This remittance covers the amount due to the county as a refund, under the McAbitt Act, that represents the third quarter of the total amount due to the county, under his act, for the year 1933.

—Ishpeming—
The Marquette County Road Commission, joining President Roosevelt's drive to increase wages and shorten working hours, today announced that, effective Aug. 1, the base pay for all men employed on county highway projects will be boosted to 40 cents an hour and the work schedule will be reduced to eight hours a day.

Five steam shovels of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. were busy loading iron ore in the Negaunee-Ishpeming district today and a sixth shovel was in operation at Gwinn, indicating that another active shipping week is in prospect. The Cambria Hartford Mine, property of the Republic Steel Corp. here, is continuing to operate two shovels, and one is also being shipped from the Imperial Mine at Michigamme, property of the Ford Motor Co.

Potato crops planted by residents participating in the county poor commission's "Help Yourself First" gardening campaign are being hit by leaf hoppers, and to combat the situation William R. The Deepening Crisis (2):

Segregationists Present Their Opinions On Status Of Negroes

EDITOR'S NOTE—What is the naked basis of the white man's resistance to integration of the Negro in America? Here is a hard look at the core of the problem, often hidden behind polite reasons and rationalizations. Second of a special series of articles comprehensively surveying both sides of today's racial crisis.

BY REILMAN MORIN

MACON COUNTY, Ala. (AP)—It is not uncommon in the South to hear a segregationist say that, by and large, he likes the Negro. He sees the inconsistency between having an affection for Negroes and at the same time defending a system that denies them full equality.

Today's Special Story

"The Negroes as a whole just aren't ready yet," he says. "It's not their fault, but that's the way it is at this point." A composite of many conversations with the thoughtful type of segregationist goes pretty much like this:

"When I was a kid, my best friend was a colored boy. We played together, fished together, slept side by side on hunting trips. I was in and out of his house every day and he was in mine, eating from the same kitchen table.

Harmonious Relationship
"After we grew up, I paid his hospital bills and loaned him money when he needed it. I went to the weddings and funerals in his family and he came to ours. On Saturday night, when he got into trouble with the law, who went to the jail at 2 a.m. and bailed him out? I did."

It was a comfortable, harmonious relationship, he says. Even today, while racial strife rises toward the danger point in many places, you can still see this relationship between individual Negroes and whites in the south.

Whites Outnumbered 5 to 1
Here is a cotton plantation deep in Alabama. It is about 10 miles from the nearest community, the nearest sheriff or policeman. In the county, Negroes outnumber the whites, five to one.

The doors of the planter's home are never locked. When he has to travel, he tells the Negro foreman, "I'll be away a few days. You look after things around here."

'Gettin' Along Jes' Fine'
Driving into the plantation, you see a softball game in a field near the planter's house. Three of his children, including a girl, are playing with the children of the Negro "hoe hands."

Some miles away, in a corner of the plantation, an aged Negro woman sits, rocking, on the porch. She is the widow of a "hoe hand" who worked here many years. The house is hers as long as she lives. The planter asks if she is all right. "Gettin' along jes' fine," she says.

A little scene takes place in the cotton fields. As the Negroes stop work for their mid-day meal, the planter slips a dollar bill into a woman's hand. He tells a man to "drive her to the store."

'Uncle Tom-ism'
"For some reason, she had brought no food to the fields that morning. "Maybe she hasn't got any money," the planter says, "or maybe she just plain forgot. But I sure can't see her go without eating."

In the winter, when the fields are bare, he finds other work on the plantation for his "hoe hands." They have to eat in the winter, too.

The integrationist calls this "Uncle Tom-ism," and the militant Negro says it is "paternalism," archaic, degrading the Negro, numbing his effort to develop himself.

Bonus At Christmas
Let's look further. The planter frequently works in the fields beside the "hoe hands." The relationship appears completely comfortable. Little jokes—in language largely unintelligible to a Yankee—pass between them. They agree that the cotton looks good.

"Way I figure," says the Negro foreman, "the better the boss does, the better we do." There will be a bonus for them at Christmas.

Ridden With Fear, Hatred
He has been on this plantation 24 years, another man for 17, several others for 8 to 10 years. Not all segregationists, of course, profess to like Negroes.

There is the bigot, ridden with fear and hatred of the Negro, clutching his prejudices. He is the night-rider, shooting indiscriminately into Negro homes, dumping garbage on the front porch of white integrationists.

Scrawls 'Hate Letters'
"To anyone who pleads for reason and good will in the struggle over civil rights, he scrawls a "hate letter." It is misspelled, ungrammatical, frequently obscene, dripping venom.

"That type of white man," says a Southern newspaper woman, "is at the bottom of the scale and he knows it. The only thing that separates him from an equally poor, uneducated Negro is the color of his skin. He has to look down on somebody so he looks down on the Negro."

'Still Need Guidance'
But what about the segregationist who says he has a genuine affection for his Negro friends? How does he square this with the fact of injustice and inequality? He begins with a basic premise, a conviction that underlies most of his attitudes—that, by and large, the Negro has not yet reached a stage of development where he is ready for full equality.

"No race on earth ever made so much progress in 100 years as the Negroes have made," he says. "But they did it with the guidance of the white man and they still need our guidance."

Flowing from that comes his opposition to integrated schools. "The Negro doesn't have the same capacity for learning," he says. "Moreover, his home environment is seldom conducive to study. So why should my children be held back to his pace? They're both better off in schools where they can advance at their own pace."

The segregationist also says that Negro children frequently come to school unshowered and wearing dirty clothes. He says they come from homes with a high rate of illegitimacy and adds, "I don't want my kids sitting next to kids who talk openly about what they have seen at home."

Marriage Issue
For similar reasons, he doesn't want his wife and daughter to sit next to a Negro in a movie theater or a lunch counter, use the same fitting rooms in a store, or the same rest rooms.

Does he really believe the Negro's ultimate goal is to "marry your daughter?" Yes, he does. He's convinced of it.

Voting Qualifications
As to the Negro's right to vote, one segregationist said, "There's no reason why their best people shouldn't vote, those who are educated, literate, and able to make a judgment on candidates and issues. But there aren't many with those qualifications."

So it goes, consistently, over point after point—the assertion that the Negro's level of development is not yet at a stage where he is ready for full equality.

"What he is asking," segregationists say, "is the rights without the responsibilities."

I once asked a Southern newspaper editor, a segregationist, to itemize the five or six principal reasons why so many Southerners believe in segregation. On the back of an envelope, he set down the various points. Leading his list was one word: "Habit."

Next: The Church's role.

Singer Wins Court Order For Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Mary Ford has won a court order for $2,500 a month alimony from her husband and former music partner, Les Paul.

Miss Ford, 38, who said she is penniless and has been living with relatives in El Monte, Calif., testified that during the last few years she and Paul, 47, made records and personal appearances together, with annual income ranging from $250,000 to $500,000.

They have been separated since last June 19. She said Paul controls all the assets and lives in their 29-room mansion in Mahwah, N.J., with their 3-year-old son, Robert.

The alimony order was made pending trial of Miss Ford's separate maintenance suit, which charges cruelty.

JALAPIES

The expression "jalopy" for an automobile originated in the 1900s. Because of a shortage of autos in Mexico, many were shipped to Jalapa, Mexico, for resale and thus arose the corrupted term "jalopy" meaning an old automobile.

Partition Of Germany

The point which troubles the West Germans is not that they wish to weaken the solemn commitment to their own allies. It is that in some respect they wish to avoid indirect recognition of the division of Germany, which Mr. K. is asking for would, as Dr. Von Brentano has just put it, "lead to a freezing of the unsatisfactory political situation in the world, particularly in Europe."

In my view, this freezing will not be prevented by diplomatic nit-picking about how much recognition of East Germany is involved in every agreement between Eastern and Western Europe. The fact is that the partition of Germany is now frozen and has been frozen for years, and the West German rule of refusing to accept any measure, however limited, to increase intercourse between the two Germans is the reason why the West has never had any policy realistically designed to unfreeze the partition.

What we should be doing now, I believe, is to take a positive instead of a negative line. Instead of the nit-picking to avoid indirect recognition of the division of Germany, we should open up the long, difficult, but not necessarily hopeless, discussion of the terms of German reunification. If the Germans are to become reunified, they are bound to pay a price for it.

Sometime in the not too distant future there will be Germans who are more interested in reunification than in the small business about the degree of diplomatic recognition. Then we shall begin to find out whether Mr. Khrushchev will and can prevent the reunification of Germany.

1st, 2nd Steps In Test Ban

By WALTER LIPPMANN

While the first step does not take us all the way or indeed very far, it is crucial. For it shows which way we have decided to go. And so, while it is quite true that the political test ban does not mean that there is peace and no further danger of war, it does mean that the two great nuclear powers have agreed that neither will go all out in the effort to achieve absolute nuclear superiority and with it total world supremacy.

This agreement does not end the race of armaments. But it changes radically the race of armaments—its purpose and its pace. As long as there is no limit on testing, particularly in the atmosphere, there is a high premium on the effort to search for an absolute weapon—say an anti-missile missile which could destroy the deterrent of the adversary or some kind of super-bomb which, launched without notice, could annihilate the adversary.

Slows Up Weapon Search
While the proposed test ban does not prohibit entirely the search for the absolute weapon, it slows up that search sufficiently to make it most improbable that either country will produce the absolute weapon. For while the search can continue in the laboratories and under the cover of the present scientific prospect that this will produce the absolute weapon.

So far-reaching an agreement would not have been arrived at, we must assume, if both countries had not learned from their experiments and their studies that even with unlimited testing in the atmosphere there was no reasonable chance of a breakthrough to the absolute weapon.

If the chance of a breakthrough in the atmosphere would be so dazzlingly great and the penalty so horrible that neither country would have been willing to give up the search. We are entitled to believe that both countries have accepted the ban because they have learned that the search is so dangerous, so costly and so useless.

In renouncing the search for the absolute weapon, the Soviet Union and the United States are accepting as unchangeable, if tolerable, the existence of an effective balance of nuclear forces between them. We are mutually deterred from striking at each other, and the nuclear stalemate prevents either of us from demanding an unconditional surrender from the other. We are compelled to co-exist, however uncomfortably and unamiably, since neither of us has absolute power and both of us would be irreparably hurt if either of us acted as if he had absolute power.

Can Move With Deliberation
After everything useful, cautionary and prudential has been said about how this treaty is only a first step, there is no doubt that it is a very important step.

What about the second step? Here we may move with deliberation. For we may remind ourselves that there is a considerable difference between first steps and second steps. The first step has set the general direction, if that direction is west, then the direction is not east, south or north. Once the direction has been set, say in Chicago, to go west, there are many goals and paths that can be taken all in the direction of the Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Khrushchev is asking that the second step be a non-aggression pact. But he has not made the test ban conditional upon any specific non-aggression pact. This was reassuring, and it was wise in that it recognizes how much more important is the test ban itself than is any political agreement that could come from it. For, as I have been arguing, the test ban is a virtual renunciation of the search for an absolute weapon and for political supremacy, then the draft proposal is itself a great non-aggression pact.

As regards West Germany, which the Russians fear so much, Moscow should remember that there has existed for nearly nine years as complete a commitment to non-aggression as the lawyers could devise. Before West Germany was admitted to NATO, it issued a declaration that "the German Federal Republic undertakes never to have recourse to force to achieve the reunification or the modification of the present boundaries of the German Federal Republic and to resolve by peaceful means any disputes which may arise between the federal republic and the other states."

There is no reason why this same declaration, redrafted to commit all the NATO states, should not be made parallel with a comparable declaration by the Soviet government and its European allies.

Partition Of Germany
The point which troubles the West Germans is not that they wish to weaken the solemn commitment to their own allies. It is that in some respect they wish to avoid indirect recognition of the division of Germany, which Mr. K. is asking for would, as Dr. Von Brentano has just put it, "lead to a freezing of the unsatisfactory political situation in the world, particularly in Europe."

In my view, this freezing will not be prevented by diplomatic nit-picking about how much recognition of East Germany is involved in every agreement between Eastern and Western Europe. The fact is that the partition of Germany is now frozen and has been frozen for years, and the West German rule of refusing to accept any measure, however limited, to increase intercourse between the two Germans is the reason why the West has never had any policy realistically designed to unfreeze the partition.

What we should be doing now, I believe, is to take a positive instead of a negative line. Instead of the nit-picking to avoid indirect recognition of the division of Germany, we should open up the long, difficult, but not necessarily hopeless, discussion of the terms of German reunification. If the Germans are to become reunified, they are bound to pay a price for it.

Sometime in the not too distant future there will be Germans who are more interested in reunification than in the small business about the degree of diplomatic recognition. Then we shall begin to find out whether Mr. Khrushchev will and can prevent the reunification of Germany.

PIQUE NO HELP NOW

Much of Congress' bad mood is attributed to the President's civil rights proposals. It is feared that Southern Democrats are going to show their anger over these proposals by automatically voting against Mr. Kennedy's legislative program.

If this is so, it does not reflect credit on the Southern congressmen. To vote against wholly unrelated legislation out of pique about the civil rights controversy is hardly a judicious and even handed way to fill the high office of membership in congress. Moreover, it is hardly a service to the states and districts that elected them.—Atlantic Constitution,

'Petticoat Junction' To Debut

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After CBS' "Beverly Hillsbillies" topped last winter's popularity ratings, the network announced that Bea Benaderet, man-hunting Cousin Pearl in the show, would star in a new series called "Ozark Widow."

This led to speculation whether television was ready for two comedies. But the title of the show has been changed to "Petticoat Junction" and it bears not the slightest resemblance to "Hillbillies."

Miss Benaderet, a skillful actress in any role, developed a new character, primarily by reading the first script 75 times.

Locale Vague
"It is in no way at all the child of 'Beverly Hillsbillies,'" she said Tuesday. "It's comedy, but it's not farcical, and the comedy stems from character development."

The locale is deliberately vague so the viewer's own background and memories can place it. Bea plays an attractive, gray-haired mother of three and owner of a small town boarding house. Many plots revolve around passengers on a railroad spur line. Clothes are unobtrusively modern; accents are easy but not recognizable. Deep South or Down East.

"The show walks a rather fine line between legitimate situations and comedy," Bea said. "It's tongue-in-cheek but never unkind."

ABC has dreamed up a novel introduction for its "Breaking Point" series about psychiatrists. It's a two-part story that starts on "Ben Casey" Sept. 9. The patient is referred to the doctor in "Breaking Point," which premieres a week later at the same time. Casey then moves to Wednesday night, starting Sept. 18.

An eight-year-old girl attempts to teach her family cook how to ride a bicycle in Bostwick, Ga., symbolizing the sincere warmth that exists between individual members of the two races in parts of the South. Adult segregationists, who sometimes share the same feelings toward individual Negroes, say the Negro has not developed sufficiently for equal rights. Negro leaders label this attitude "Uncle Tom-ism" and maintain it prevents progress toward equality. (AP Wirephoto)

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON

The limited test-ban treaty with the Soviet Union will be ratified by the Senate because that body is not composed entirely of myopic idiots. The treaty is not perfect, but it is a beginning, and it is an arrangement proposed by both Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

Of course, the Soviet Union can waltz on the agreement, as it has waltzed on so many agreements in the past. But if we take that attitude, there is no point in trying to do anything in behalf of world peace. We have got to assume that Khrushchev is going along with it because it is in the Soviet Union's interest to do so, and proceed from there.

Assuming the Kremlin's good faith, then, the agreement becomes at least reasonably attractive. It will prevent further pollution of the atmosphere with radioactive fallout, and it will bring to a halt one field of activity in the nuclear armaments race. While it will not end the Cold War nor the threat of Communist aggression, it could set the stage for other agreements which would further relieve world tensions.

Our Own Programs
Eisenhower proposed a ban of tests in the atmosphere, which can be detected without on-site inspections. President Kennedy nearly a year ago added to this proposal a suggestion that tests also be prohibited in water and in outer space, and it is this combination which Khrushchev has accepted.

Among other reasons for accepting the treaty is the fact that the U. S. would look silly turning down a proposition of its own making.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican conservative who relishes the role of obstructionist, has made much of the fact that the treaty would allow the Soviet Union to carry out underground testing and to build up tactical nuclear weapons, "a field in which we are ahead." But the treaty gives the United States the same rights, and presumably we would make certain our lead was protected.

Dear Abby...

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is keeping me broke putting gas in his car, and hamburgers in his stomach. It all started when he said he wanted to take me to a drive-in movie, but didn't have enough money to put gas in his car. I wanted to go, so I told him I'd put the gas in. I thought he understood it was a "loan," but he never offered to pay me back. The next time we were together he said he was hungry (so was I), but he was broke so I came up with the money for hamburgers. Now, every time we go out, he is broke and I do the paying. We both work. He lives at home (free) and has a new car. I am 22 and he is 24. I feel like I am paying him to take me out. What now?

DEAR ABBY: I don't really care whether "Huntsville" is a nut or not for wanting to donate his body for scientific research, but will you please tell me what is wrong with people who claim to love humanity but won't leave their eyes to an eye bank when they die?

DEAR TILLIE: Either take him as he is or let him be. He sounds like a collector's item.

DEAR ABBY: I am 64 but could pass for 50. I have been widowed for 12 years and am now keeping company with a bachelor. He claims to be 35. But he'll never see 60 again I'm sure. He wants to marry me but I am stalling. He's too tight to go to a regular barbershop so he bought himself one of those do-it-yourself barber kits and cuts his own hair. It's so chopped off and chewed up looking I'm almost ashamed to be seen with him. The automobile he drives is so old people stop us all

In a few hours after death will make it possible for two blind persons to see. Removing the cornea WILL NOT disfigure the deceased donor one iota. There are long lists of people who remain blind for lack of donors. How many of those who won't leave their eyes after death would turn down a cornea transplant if THEY were blind?

ALEXANDRIA

DEAR ALEXANDRIA: Your question is a good one. And if this item inspires only ONE person to telephone his local eye doctor—or Lions Club, which has spear-headed the Aid-to-Sightless movement—it will be well worth the space in this paper.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. Z.: I wouldn't let that poor excuse for a man on my front porch. And if you sign for your daughter to marry him, knowing that he lied about having a wife and family, you, Madame, should have your head examined.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Sister Alrose Honored By County Unit

Marquette County Chapter for Retarded Children today pays tribute to Sister Mary Alrose, C.S.A., who has been a teacher in the opportunity room at the Holy Family Home in Marquette the past seven years.

Sister Alrose left the home early last spring to attend Marquette University in Milwaukee, where she is working on her doctor's degree in education.

To Become Principal
After completing the course at Marquette University, Sister Alrose will be assigned as school principal at North Fond du Lac, Wis.

Sister Alrose has studied at Cardinal Stritch College and previously at Marquette University. She did her laboratory teaching at St. Coletta School in Jefferson, Wis. She has a master's degree in education.

'Great Asset To Chapter'
She has been secretary for the county chapter for retarded children for the past three years. C. J. Urbanski, president of the chapter, said that the organization will be greatly miss the work done by Sister Alrose. "She has been one of the greatest assets this chapter has ever had," he stated.

The group of nine nuns who taught at Holy Family Home is leaving today for different stations throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

New Stations
Following is a list of the new stations of the nuns: Sister Concordia, teacher at Kewaskum, Wis.; Sister Cordelia, nurse at Boyle's Home for the Aged, Fond du Lac; Sisters Alene and Olga, mother-house in Fond du Lac; Sister Agnes Rita, New London, Wis.; Sister Kevin, St. Joseph's, Wis.; Sister Eva, Houghton; Sister Carolyn, Bellant, Wis.; and Sister Martha, St. Joseph's Spring Academy, Fond du Lac.

Here's How Vegetables Rank In Popularity

BY MRS. INGRID BARTELLI
Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Michigan State University

It's often hard to tell how old a person is by looking at her — there's too much effective camouflage on the market. But often the words we speak are a dead giveaway. Just what do you say when you ask for fresh beans at your grocery store? Do you ask for fresh beans, green beans, wax beans, snap beans or string beans?

Well, if you ask for "string beans," you're outdated. Not very many years ago, though, "string" beans were all there was in the line of green or wax beans. But today there are no string beans. The string, the fiber running down the top of the bean pod, has been bred right out of the seed we get today. The colors are the same, green and wax, but the strings are gone. The first of these bean seeds were labeled "stringless" green or wax beans but more often than not the "stringless" isn't even attached to the name any more. We just take it for granted that the strings are gone.

An Important Term
"Snap beans" is a descriptive term used frequently for fresh beans. It's an important term, too, because the "snap" that's in the beans determines the quality. If you try to break it in two, the bean bends, folds or gets crushed — it means it's either wilted, or too old — in either case, poor quality. The "snap" in the bean means it is fresh, crisp and just the right stage for cooking, canning or freezing.

There can be a difference in the amount of "snap" in beans harvested from the garden, too, depending on the time of day they're picked and the temperature at the time. The intense heat and lack of moisture we've experienced have taken the "snap" out of most everything and all of us.

How would you guess that snap beans ranked in order of popularity as measured by consumption? In 1960 we mortals consumed 2.6

First Sisters De Chartres Begin Duties In Marquette

Four nuns in the order of the Sisters of St. Paul de Chartres have arrived in Marquette to assume duties in the Catholic Diocese of Marquette.

The four represent the first of the contingent due here. Five other sisters are expected to arrive in August and September. Headquarters for the order will be the Holy Family Orphan Home here. For orphanage, Noa Home

Sisters will care for the orphanage and for the Bishop Noa Senior Citizens Home in Escanaba, which will be opened by November.

The latter, a long-term nursing care institution, is named after the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D.D., bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette.

The Sisters of St. Agnes, who have cared for the orphans here many years, are leaving this week on new assignments.

From Philippines
Sister Bernadette Charles, who actually came here earlier, was born in France and has been in the Philippine Islands for the past two years, recently going to Quebec, Canada.

Arriving yesterday by plane from France were three sisters in the order, Sisters Philomena of the Cross, Bernadette and Ignatius. All three were born in Ireland.

In Korea 28 Years
Sister Philomena of the Cross has vast nursing experience, particularly with the orphans in Korea, where she has served for 28 years. Her previous assignment was in St. Paul's Convent School, Stafford, England.

Sister Bernadette has had long nursing experience in the Hospital de Lonjumeau, Seine et Oise, France.

Sister Ignatius has been a practical nurse in Nantes, France.

Ellen Carrier's Paintings Seen At Chalet In August

Mrs. Ellen Carrier, West Branch Township, will have four of her paintings hung at the Chalet for the month of August.

The paintings are "The Old Runway," "Spring Flood," "River Road" and "Old Homestead."

Mrs. Carrier is an amateur artist and is a member of the Lake Superior Creative Arts Association.

LETUCE RANKS SECOND
Next in line? Lettuce, 18.5 pounds per person per year. Then watermelon! Fooled you, didn't we? But watermelon is heavy, and tons of it are consumed just for the sheer joy of eating.

Next comes tomatoes with 12.1 pounds per person per year (these figures include the processed forms as well as the fresh). Then onions, cabbage, cantaloupe, sweet corn, celery, sweet potatoes and carrots line up before we get to the 12th place winner, which is snap beans.

Trick To Cooking
Did you ever notice how the color of green beans changes as you cook them? In some cases the color intensifies to a most appealing, crisp looking deep green. This is what we hope for. But it doesn't always work that way. Sometimes the finished product is grayish yellow and soggy looking from improper cooking.

There's a trick to cooking green vegetables as there is for yellow vegetables, or red vegetables. If you're not sure of the success secrets, they're all in a bulletin for you for the asking. It's called "How to Prepare and Serve Vegetables." We have vegetable canning and freezing directions, too. Just write to Mrs. Ingrid Bartelli, MSU Extension Center, 700 W. Bluff St., Marquette.

4-H Camp Program Summarized

With the 4-H Club Week at Camp Shaw completed last Friday and the last week of the tri-county 4-H camp at Sawyer Lake ending on July 19, summer camping for 4-H'ers is about over, stated Paul Shogren, Marquette 4-H Extension agent.

The last week at Camp Molinare, Sawyer Lake 4-H Camp, had 80 campers from Dickinson, Iron and Marquette Counties participating. Thirty campers were from Marquette County. They were Bruce Browers, Ricky Greenleaf, Dan Meister, James Johnson and Nancy Priebe, all of Marquette; Jim Kaukola, Carol Niemala and Ellen Bakka, all of Rock; Barbara Gutzman, Linda Hooper, Betty Rock, Joan Michaud, Barbara Vahamaa, Kathy Peltier, Christine Pearce, Peter Starkey, Kenneth Beck, Michael Carriere, David Lappi, Thomas Lappi, Roger Latalva, Darrell Peltier and Donald Niemi of Champion; Galen Nyquist, David Bailey and Tom Plimpton of Gwinn, and Becky Lakanen, Ne-gaunce.

Activities Listed
Counselors from Marquette County assisting the camp staff to make camp an enjoyable experience were Joan Fress and Louis Olen, Gwinn, and Sam Turri, Ne-gaunce.

The campers participated in tree identification and insect hikes, heard lectures from the Soil Conservation Service (conserving soil), U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries (sea lamprey eradication) and Michigan State Police (gun safety). In addition, there was swimming, organized recreation and work with plastic material. All in all, the 80 campers were able to enjoy themselves, become acquainted with other 4-H'ers and learn something about the conservation of natural resources.

4-H Club Week at Camp Shaw was another part of experience for the 150 delegates who attended. There were conducted elimination contests for demonstration teams: dairy, garden and land judging teams; dress revue candidates, talent contestants and public speaking participants. The following attended and competed from Marquette County: Rita DeGroot, Northland; Mary DeVoght, Nancy Hill and Janice Kamppinen, Marquette; Holly Lindberg, Carlshend; Pat Orjala, Ishpeming, and Louis Olen, Gwinn. In addition to participating in eliminations which would qualify them for State Fair participation, the delegates explored career opportunities and learned about tourist attractions of the Upper Peninsula.

Three Marquette County delegates came out on top in the eliminations. Rita DeGroot became the girl 4-H representative in the achievement interviews (based on outstanding 4-H participation). Janice Kamppinen received a blue ribbon for her performance in the "Share the Fun" (talent) contest and Louis Olen was elected to the Key Club for his 4-H achievement.

All in all, the camping was available to all interested 4-H'ers, and for those attending camp it was a rewarding experience," Shogren said.

Don't Let Bundle Of Joy Make You Bundle Of Nerves

(This is the second in a series of articles by Mrs. Mary Vekeer of the Visiting Nurse Association, who is coordinator of a pilot study project in Marquette under the sponsorship of the Michigan Department of Health. — Ed.)

BY MARY VEKEER, R.N.
When you bring your little bundle of joy home from the hospital, don't let yourself become a bundle of nerves!

Many times, new mothers find themselves feeling mighty blue several days after coming home with the new baby. Don't be alarmed. This is common with mothers with first babies. After all, a big change has taken place in your family life. It suddenly shifts to one side, and all activity revolves about a little one who sleeps and cries at frequent intervals.

Adequate Rest Needed
Be sure you plan time with your husband — he needs a little attention, too. Perhaps you could do the bath about an hour before hubby arrives home; then the baby is refreshed and smells like a little rose. Newborns are known to sleep 18 out of 24 hours, so a bath would leave him relaxed and drowsy. Result: You have a chance to get yourself in gear before the arrival of the bread winner. It is

Physiological Changes
There are many physiological changes taking place in you. New mothers don't snap back overnight. Be careful to take time to eat a well-balanced diet. This helps maintain strength and health. Don't fret about meticulous schedules. Baby will get a message over when he feels hungry. Remember, you are in a position to arrange schedules to suit yourself. You don't need to follow a book. Follow your own instincts and heart.

Thai Student Helps U. P. Stage Group

HOUGHTON — A pretty, young school teacher from Thailand took some time off from studying at Michigan Tech this week to lend a helping hand to the Keweenaw Playhouse.

Miss Bhani Visissobha, enrolled in a 10-week summer institute on computers sponsored by the National Science Foundation, was asked to serve as a technical consultant as the Playhouse prepared to open "The King and I."

Our Greatest King
This Rodgers and Hammerstein musical drama is set in Siam (now Thailand) about a century ago. It depicts the involvements that arise when King Mongkut imports a British teacher, Anna Leon-owens, to teach English to the royal wives and children.

"The musical is based on the book "Anna and the King of Siam" by Margaret Landon.

"He was our greatest king," said Miss Visissobha of the show's leading character. "He was the first monarch to open the doors of Siam to the West."

Was Buddhist Priest
"Before ascending the throne," she explained, "he had been a Buddhist priest for 20 years. He knew English and, as shown in the musical, had a deep interest in science. He even taught himself astronomy from English texts. He was also deeply concerned about European policy and was the first Siamese king to send ambassadors abroad."

Miss Visissobha helped add authenticity to the show in various ways — from makeup for the cast to minute hand gestures used in traditional Siamese dances.

Of the elaborate, traditional costumes for the show, Miss Visissobha pointed out such clothes are ceremonial occasions, such as a king's coronation. The present king, she said, dresses in a suit and tie, much like any well-dressed businessman here or abroad.

Fulbright Scholar
Miss Visissobha saw to it the cast retained the traditional dance gestures, but said today's Thailand teenagers do the same type of dances as American teenagers, including the twist. "Make-up," she said, "is also similar to that used here," adding that the cast's make-up, particularly the dramatic upswipe line at the end of the eyebrows, is comparable to stage make-up in Thailand.

Miss Visissobha, a mathematics instructor at the University of Chulalongkorn in Bangkok, has been studying in America for about two years under a Fulbright scholarship. She is scheduled to return home in September.

Don't fret about meticulous schedules. Baby will get a message over when he feels hungry. Remember, you are in a position to arrange schedules to suit yourself. You don't need to follow a book. Follow your own instincts and heart.

If you have any questions about caring for your baby, call the Visiting Nurse Society.

Brenner Family Honor Guests At Farewell Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brenner and daughter, Cathie, were honored at a farewell reception Monday evening in the First Presbyterian Church. Approximately 150 friends attended.

Brenner has accepted a teaching position in the J. Sterling Morton High School and Junior College at Cicero, Ill., beginning in September.

While in Marquette, the Brenners have been very active in community and church affairs. Mrs. Brenner is currently secretary for the First Presbyterian Church. Her husband is superintendent of the Sunday school, on the board of trustees and served on the pastor nominating committee.

On behalf of many friends, Milo Underhill expressed in a brief address appreciation of their faithful, sincere and cheerful services and wished them a successful and happy future.

The church parlors were decorated with many bouquets of summer flowers and candlelight. A center tea table was covered by a bright blue cloth and featured a three-tiered centerpiece of crystal filled with pastel roses and small sprigs of garden flowers accompanied by crystal candle holders.

At one side, the punch table with a matching cloth had silver candelabra and a garland of leaves and white blossoms around the silver punch bowl. Arrangements for decorations were made by Mrs. Matthew Bennett and Mrs. John McDonald.

Pouring at the tea table were Mrs. William Cushing, Mrs. Almon Vedder, Mrs. Harlow Clark and Mrs. Leslie Van Dine. Serving punch were Misses Carole Camilli, Nina Meyers, Julianne Nelsen and Carol Griewe.

The Brenners' new address will be 7146 Riverside Dr., Berwyn, Ill.

Miss Wanska Wins Nurse Scholarship

Miss Sharon Wanska, a 1961 graduate of St. Luke's School of Nursing, has been awarded a Katherine Tuck Scholarship of $2,000 to enable her to study full time in the college of nursing at Wayne State University.

Two scholarships were available to registered nurses who are residents of Michigan and who are admissible to the general nursing program at Wayne and able to begin full time study in the fall of 1963. They were awarded on a competitive basis with regard to scholastic achievement and professional promise.

Organized Nurse Club
Since graduation, Miss Wanska worked in the Munising Hospital for one year. She returned to Marquette a year ago in order to enroll at Northern Michigan University to start work toward her degree. She has worked part time on St. Luke's staff while attending Northern. When she completes her course at Wayne, she will receive a B.S. in nursing.

Miss Wanska is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wanska of Chatham and a graduate of Eben High School.

Since her graduation from St. Luke's, she helped organize a Future Nurse Club in Eben High School and is the nurse advisor of that group.

Shingleton Man Killed In Crash Near Munising

MUNISING — A Shingleton man was killed and his car was completely demolished early this morning on M-94, four-tenths of a mile south of the intersection with M-28.

The fatal accident was reported to the Munising State Police Post at 5:50 this morning by a passing motorist.

Failed To Negotiate Turn
The victim was Paul F. Howard, 50. According to officers, Howard was traveling east and failed to negotiate a turn.

The car ran off the right side of the roadway, into a guard post and rolled over several times.

When found, the car was lying on its top in Wagner Creek. The driver was pronounced dead.

Golden Eagles Will Compete In Illinois

L'ANSE — The L'Anse Golden Eagles Drum and Bugle Corps leave tomorrow for Park Ridge, Ill., where they will compete with some of the finest junior drum corps in the nation at the "Drums in the Sky" contest Sunday evening at the Main East High School, Des Plaines, Ill.

The corps also will be guests at the Illinois State Drum and Bugle Corps final competition on Saturday.

The Golden Eagles, Michigan state runners-up, will be the only Michigan corps to take part in Sunday's competition, which will feature such top-flight groups as the Norwood Park Imperials, the Chicago Cavaliers, Chicago Black Knights, Royal Aires, Cougars and the Chi-Angels.

The corps will return to L'Anse Monday night.

The Eagles are busy practicing for their annual "Night of Music," which will be held here later this month. The group has also been invited to put on a marching exhibition at Grand Forks, N. D., later this month, but no final decision has been reached as yet on whether they will make the trip.

Car Hits Truck From Behind West Of Nestoria Road

L'ANSE — At 2:35 yesterday afternoon, an auto driven by Margaret R. Danielson, 16, of Michigamme slammed into the rear of a conservation department truck operated by Burt Hanson, 41, Skandia, on U.S. 41, half a mile west of the Nestoria Road.

According to state police officers, Miss Danielson came up over the brow of a hill behind Hanson, who was driving slowly, and skidded into the rear end of the truck, crumpling a front fender, and the Danielson car was driven away under its own power.

Private-Eye Series Gets An Overhaul

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The name will be the same—"77 Sunset Strip"—but fans of the five-year-old ABC private-eye hour won't recognize the show when it returns for a new season Sept. 29.

Teams of script surgeons directed by Jack Webb, now head of television production at Warner Bros. Studios, have made drastic repairs.

Departed are all but one of the private detectives. Also banished are the show's gimmicks: The hair-combing or tick-talking parking lot jockeys, the comedy gumshoe, even the pretty French telephone operator.

Sole Survivor
Efrem Zimbalist Jr., sole survivor of the major operation, completed Wednesday a scene with Joseph Schildkraut in "77 Sunset Strip" and threaded his way over cables and around cameras to talk about it.

"It's part of the new regime here," Zimbalist said. "The idea is to bring the show closer to reality."

Next season Zimbalist will still be playing Stuart Bailey, private detective, but his character will change and he'll even have new offices. No explanation will be offered about the disappearance of his former co-stars, Roger Smith and Ed Byrnes.

Setback
Zimbalist, a handsome, dark-haired man with a quiet manner, was known to have been unhappy about the show in previous seasons. Under contract to Warners, he now seems satisfied—if not exactly ecstatic—about his heavier role and the new format.

ABC's "Travels of Jaimie McPheeters" had a setback recently when its producer, Robert Sparks, died of a heart attack. Danny Thomas has decided to be his own at the scene of the wreck. Traveled 560 Feet

The vehicle traveled a total of 560 feet after it left the highway.

This is the second fatal accident for Alger County this year.

The body was taken to the Bowman-Hallifax Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Assault Case Sent Up To Circuit Court

L'ANSE — Gordon Keski, 25, of Michigamme, charged with assault and resisting arrest by Michigamme Township Constable Ambrose Paquette, was bound over to the September term of Baraga County Circuit Court in his preliminary hearing Tuesday afternoon before L'Anse Justice of the Peace Steven P. Markovich.

The charges were brought against Keski as a result of a fist fight which climaxed Paquette's efforts to arrest him for speeding in Michigamme, near the Marquette-Baraga County line.

Trooper Testifies
Paquette has testified that he chased Keski across the county line, where he attempted to arrest him on a speeding charge. He told the court that Keski opened the door, cursed at him and proceeded to hit him in the head, giving him a black eye and a bloody nose and breaking his glasses. Paquette then swung back, hitting Keski. Keski was convicted of the speeding charge in a Marquette County court, but Paquette signed his complaint against the defendant in a L'Anse court for assaulting him on this side of the county line.

Keski's original hearing, held before Justice Markovich last week, was recessed until Tuesday of this week to provide time for additional investigation. State Police Trooper James Miller, using highway department maps, gave additional testimony Tuesday to substantiate his previous testimony that the assault took place in Baraga County, 207 feet this side of the county line.

As at the first hearing, Keski's attorney, William G. Konstenius, L'Anse, moved for dismissal of the case on four grounds: (1) that there was a dispute over whether the offense was committed in Baraga or Marquette County; (2) if the offense was committed in Baraga County, his client could not be charged with resisting arrest because Paquette has no authority here; (3) that Keski had the right of self defense since Paquette approached him and (4) that since Keski already has been tried in Marquette County on a speeding charge, trying him now in a Baraga County court constitutes double jeopardy. Markovich denied the motion for dismissal.

Prosecuting Attorney F. Hubert Mather contended that any law enforcement officer, including a township constable, is entitled to make such an arrest on the other side of the county line when he is engaged in "fresh pursuit" of an offender. He cited a section of the law which provides that arrest made within 100 rods (1,650 feet) on either side of the county line may be prosecuted in either county.

Keski, who has been held in the Baraga County jail under $500 bond, was freed on a reduced bond of $100 in order that he may return to work until his scheduled circuit court appearance.

4th Annual Barbecue Set In Republic

REPUBLIC — The Men's Club of St. Augustine Parish will sponsor its fourth annual chicken barbecue Sunday, with serving taking place from noon until 3 p.m.

The half-chicken portions will be prepared over a 53-foot charcoal broiler especially constructed for the annual event, according to Claude Parkinson, club president. Takeout orders will also be provided.

"Activities that afternoon will include games and booths of various kinds," said Clarence Duhamel, chairman of the event. The committee heads include Clifford Laabs, ticket chairman; Walter McClintock and Daniel Ringuette, prize chairman; Duhamel, barbecue; Leonard Gardner, games; Raymond and Paul Venn, grounds chairman. The kitchen committee is headed by Mrs. Russell Oien and members of the Altar Society.

The Rev. Otto J. Sartorelli will be the celebrant of a High Mass at 10 a.m. The Mass will be sung by members of St. Peter's Cathedral choir.

More Stringent Ethics Code For NHS Pupils Approved

NEGAUNEE — As a result of a series of special meetings held to discuss existing policies covering conduct of students at the high school level, the Negaunee Board of Education has authorized a more stringent code of ethics for pupils representing Negaunee High School in extracurricular activities.

Following a discussion that lasted more than two hours at a special meeting this week, Superintendent Robert E. Northey was instructed to prepare a final draft of policies which were suggested for consideration by board members at their regular meeting on Monday, Aug. 12.

It was recommended by board members that the final draft of policies clearly outline "what should be expected of students who enjoy the privilege of representing Negaunee High School in extracurricular programs that are presented locally or held in other cities."

Ladder Purchase Approved
Before acting on the problem, the board invited the high school principal, guidance personnel and members of the coaching staff to list their suggestions regarding policies that should be adopted. Coaches also were asked for their views concerning training rules that members of high school varsity and jayvee teams should be expected to observe.

Purchase of a telescopic ladder was approved by the board for changing lights in the school auditorium and at Memorial Gymnasium. The apparatus will be used also to clean places that cannot safely be reached by members of the custodial staff with ordinary ladders.

In other action, the board authorized the business manager to dispose of salvage materials resulting from the remodeling program at high school locker rooms and lavatories and approved employment of Mrs. Anna Anderson as custodian at the Kirkpatrick School in Palmer.

Dr. Holmio Guest Pastor At Bethany

REPUBLIC — Dr. Armas K. E. Holmio of Hancock will be the guest pastor at Bethany Lutheran Church in Republic Sunday.

He will conduct two services with Holy Communion; one in Finnish at 8 a.m. and the 9:30 English Worship.

He also will conduct the 11 a.m. Communion service at Champion Lutheran Church, pastor Les Niemi announced.

Dr. Holmio is an instructor at Suomi College. He was ordained by the Lutheran Church of Finland and is a former Suomi Seminary professor. His major field is history, and he is the author of a number of books.

The public is invited to Bethany Lutheran Church, Republic, or Champion Lutheran Church.

Eben, Trenary Men Alger Soil Directors

CHATHAM — Robert Smith of Eben and Joe Ostanek of Trenary were elected to the board of directors of the Alger Soil Conservation District at the Annual meeting at the Chatham Town Hall.

Smith and Ostanek were elected to three-year terms. Other directors are Walter Maki, Eben; Edgar Schierschmidt, Munising. Eighty-seven persons attended the meeting and 58 landowners voted.

Activities Enumerated

Most of the district work in the past year was aimed at planning and applying sound conservation practices in the county, it was noted in the annual report. Other activities the district was engaged in were: Development of a soil survey report for the City of Munising; active participation in development of a continuing overall economic development plan; initiation of a road drainage study with the county road commission; distribution of educational materials to county schools; distribution of church bulletins on soil stewardship to county pastors for use on Soil Stewardship Sunday and conservation tours to show and explain conservation practices applied in the district.

Elmer Kangas, work unit conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Ontonagon, was the main speaker. Kangas showed slides and gave talk on his recent trip to England and Finland. Many of the problems of soil management in Finland are similar to those in the Alger district, he said. Drainage and woodland management are being carried out extensively. Without adequate drainage, much of the land in Finland would have little agricultural value, he said. Slides also were shown of many of the famous buildings and historic sites in Finland and England.

Praised District
Other speakers were John Campana, Alger County extension director; Don Pelligrini, work unit conservationist, Chatham, and Delbert Meister, area conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, Marquette.

Meister praised the soil district for its work in developing the Munising soil survey and for working with the county planning commission to develop a continuing overall economic development plan.

Established In 1959
Also included in the evening program was the presenting of an award of merit to Wilho Salo of Eben. Julius Sivula, ASCA county committee chairman, presented the award. It read: "In recognition of outstanding contribution to the conservation effort in Alger County, through effective use of the Agricultural Conservation Program in 1962." The award was signed by Orville Freeman, secretary of agriculture.

The Alger Soil Conservation District was established July 10, 1959, to help local landowners solve their problems in soil and water conservation. Since its beginning, 162 landowners have become cooperators.

B&PW Schedules Picnic August 12 At Three Lakes

ISHPEMING — The second picnic of the Homeatic Business and Professional Women's Club will be held Monday, Aug. 12, at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lundin on Beauford Lake, Three Lakes.

Members are reminded to bring their own steak or hamburgers to grill. The rest of the menu will be furnished by the committee. Members also are asked to bring their own silver, cup and plate.

Olive Andilla, membership chairman, reminded members to submit names of prospective members to her by Friday, Aug. 9. New members will be inducted at the first regular meeting of the club, which will be held on Monday, Sept. 9, in the Mather Inn.

The July picnic was held on Monday, July 22, at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. George Kenward, on the Dead River Basin.

Obituary

VINCENT DINLIO

ISHPEMING — Vincent Dinlio, 705 Theodore St., Loves Park, Ill., a former resident of Ishpeming, died Saturday in St. Anthony's Hospital, Rockford, Ill., after a long illness. He was 73.

He was born Dec. 21, 1889, in Capetrano, Italy.

Mr. Dinlio, who also had been a resident of Iron Mountain, was an iron ore miner for 25 years, retiring in 1957.

Survivors include his wife, Adalgisa; three daughters, Mrs. Milburn Fowler, Republic; Mrs. Howard Johnson, Loves Park, and Mrs. Robert Isoz, Rockford; one son, Lt. Col. Wilho Dinlio, Barkdale Air Force Base, La.; three sisters, Mrs. Vincent C. Cerasoli, Mrs. Josephine Silvarali and Mrs. Ida Alleva, all of Italy, and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday in St. Bridget's Catholic Church, Loves Park. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Rockford.

Marquette, Alger School District Borrowings OK'd

Borrowings against anticipated 1963-64 state school aid were approved by the State Department of Public Instruction for two more school districts in Marquette County and one in Alger County.

Latest borrowings approved included $9,000 for Michigamme and $1,500 for Powell Township, both in Marquette County, and $16,000 for Mathias Township in Alger County.

Other borrowings approved for Upper Peninsula school districts were $68,000 for Crystal Falls in Iron County and $10,000 for Mellen in Menominee County.

Total borrowings approved to date this year in Michigan amount to $10,030,000.

Fifteen Republic Students To Attend U.P. Music Camp

REPUBLIC — Seven members of the Republic White Rockettes and eight members of the Republic Central High School Band will attend the annual Upper Peninsula High School Music Camp at Northern Michigan University Aug. 5-10.

The Rockettes are Lucia Lalvala, Charlene Koski, Mary Ann Fowler, Antoinette Koski, Ann McClintock, Rose McClintock and Christine Johnson.

Band members are Virginia Sevegnv, Judith Pasbrig, Marilyn Sullivan, Joann Mackey, Kristine Peterson, Ginny Oien, Jeanette Perna and Cathy Dawson.

The Republic Community Services and Youth Organization made it possible for the students to attend the camp by paying half of their expenses.

U.S. Tightening Up Overseas Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says it is tightening up overseas operations by closing 13 consulates, but emphasizes that the action "does not reflect any change whatsoever in U.S. relationships with the countries or areas" involved.

The announcement said closing the consulates will save this country more than $500,000 a year and that will result in "more effective administration" of foreign operations.

Tigers Waste Good Hurling; Move Deeper Into 8th Place

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers are idle today. Their bats have been idle for the past three days.

In three games at Baltimore, the Tigers managed to score only two unearned runs on 12 hits. They wasted two fine pitching performances.

Slide Deeper
The result: losses No. 57, 58 and 59 in 102 games and a slide deeper into ninth place. The Tigers now are 3½ games behind eighth-place Kansas City.

Mickey Lolich lost a three-hitter, 2-1 Monday night when the Tigers had only two hits against former Michigan State star Robin Roberts. They were blasted 9-0 Tuesday night.

Frank Lary lost Wednesday night, 2-1 giving up five of six Orioles hits. Baltimore's Steve Barber, who also gave up six hits, picked up the credit for the Orioles' 10th victory in 12 games against Detroit this season.

Came In First
All the scoring came in the first inning. Russ Snyder, who helped Detroit score an unearned run with an error Monday, donated another run by dropping Dick McAuliffe's fly after Don Wert had walked.

Wert went to third when Al Kaline grounded into a double play and scored on Rocky Colavito's broken ball single.

Lary gave up three of his five hits in the Orioles' half of the first. Singles by Luis Aparicio and Snyder and a walk to Boog Powell loaded the bases with none out.

Tie-Breaker
One run scored when Jim Gentile hit into a force play, and the tie-breaker came across on a single by Al Smith.

After Jerry Adair singled to open the second inning, Lary didn't allow another hit until Adair doubled in the eighth. Lary was removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

It was one of Lary's best pitching performances since he returned from Knoxville of the Sally League. Since returning to the Tigers, Lary has allowed only 12 earned runs in 37 innings — a 2.92 ERA. He is 1-5 for the season.

None Past Second
Barber, who had lost three of his last four decisions, didn't permit a Tiger runner past second base after the first inning. He now is 14-8 for the third-place Orioles, who now are just one game behind the second-place Chicago White Sox.

The seventh-place Cleveland Indians came to town Friday night for the opener of a four-game series.

LEE JOHNSON

Gwinn Coach Introduced To Residents

GWINN — Lee Johnson, the new head football coach at Gwinn High School, was introduced to local residents at an orientation meeting on Monday evening in the school gymnasium.

Approximately 125 parents, candidates and fans attended the meeting.

Coach Johnson gave a detailed account of the behavior expected of players reporting for practice, both on and off the gridiron.

He emphasized four basic aspects of a good team which will guide his coaching efforts, including condition of players, knowledge of how to play better football than the opponent, the right desire to win and the team attitude with which a player gives his best efforts for the good of the team, and not for himself as an individual.

Regulations
Johnson also explained ten rules, as set up by the Athletic Board to cover the participating players, including general behavior, curfew hours, absence from practice sessions and care of equipment.

Johnson demonstrated on the blackboard his plans for basic strategy for offense, defense and passing. He announced that equipment would be issued on Thursday, August 8; seniors will receive equipment from 8 to 10 a.m., and juniors from 10 to noon.

Practice will start on Monday, August 12, and will be split into double sessions, running from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

(By The Associated Press)

Put Paul Foytack's feat high on that list of baseball's dubious distinctions.

The Los Angeles Angels' right-hander became the first pitcher in major league history to give up four straight home runs in a single inning Wednesday night — an unwanted achievement if ever there was one.

Bombarded By Four
Foytack was bombarded in the second game of a doubleheader at Cleveland when Woodie Held, pitcher Pedro Ramos, Tito Francona and Larry Brown socked successive homers in the sixth inning.

The rapid-fire barrage climaxed a night of long-range hitting for the Indians as they swept the Angels, 10-1 and 9-5.

The four consecutive homers in an inning set an American League record and tied the major league mark established by Milwaukee in June 1961. But the Braves hit four in a row against two different Cincinnati pitchers — so Foytack's feat is a first.

Total Of Seven
All told, the Indians whizzed seven homers in the doubleheader. Fred Whitfield won the opener with a shot in the eighth inning and also hit a grand slam in the second game, and Ramos hit a pair in the nightcap.

College All-Stars Plan Aerial Play Against Green Bay

CHICAGO (AP) — A massive air attack appears to be the College All-Stars' best weapon against the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers Friday night — but even Coach Otto Graham doesn't know who will lead it.

After a dress rehearsal under the lights of Soldier Field Wednesday night, Graham still was speculating about his starting quarterback.

Four Available
The four at his command are Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker of Oregon State; Wisconsin's Ron Vanderkelen; Mississippi's Glyn Griffing, who goes on both offense and defense; and Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian.

The Packers, who dismantled the All-Stars last year 42-20 in the three-touchdown burst in the last quarter, still rule about a 14-point favorite. Their ace fullback, Jim Taylor, has tested his injured knee and says he is ready.

Televised
The game, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., for the 30th year, will be broadcast and televised by ABC starting at 8:45 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

The NFL champions have won the last four games in the series and hold a 19-8 victory edge. There have been two ties.

CHICAGO (AP) — Ed Budde of Michigan State, 6-foot-5, 260-pound offensive lineman, was selected by teammates Tuesday as a co-captain of the College All-Stars for their game against the Green Bay Packers Friday night.

Legion Mets Split Two In Negaunee

NEGAUNEE — The American Legion Mets won one and lost one in Negaunee Babe Ruth play Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Shamrocks routed the Mets, 9-1 in Tuesday's contest, scoring all their runs in the first three innings, as walks, poor Mets fielding and singles, coupled with a double by Martin Hannekin, did the damage. Steve Parkkonen had two hits for three times at bat for the Mets, but took the loss as the losing pitcher. Don Evans took the Shamrock win, striking out nine men.

Unusual Win
The Mets recovered themselves by defeating the Tigers Wednesday, in an unusual way. The Tigers held a 7-1 lead in the sixth inning, when the teams were told to hurry the play because of threatening weather. Due to an absent manager, the Tigers lost discipline for a moment, and wound up with 11 men on the playing field, disagreeing about the ones to play the various positions.

After two warnings from the umpires, the game was called, and in a discussion after the game, the Tigers manager agreed with the umpires that the game should be awarded to the Mets, in view of the conduct of Tiger players. The unearned win gave the Mets a 4-6 record at the end of the season in BR action.

Marquette Entry In LSL Playoffs Sunday Afternoon

Marquette will enter the Lake Superior League playoffs on Sunday afternoon, in a contest with the Commanders of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. The game will be played at the North Marquette diamond, and will begin at 2:30.

Angels Pitcher Gets Record He Doesn't Want; Gives Up 4 Straight Indian Homers

Also in the AL—Tom Tresh's homer with two out in the bottom of the ninth gave New York's first-place Yankees a 3-2 decision over Kansas City, the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 5-2, Baltimore beat Detroit, 2-1; and Minnesota tripped Boston 9-5.

Whitfield Settles It
Barry Latman pitched a four-hitter for the Indians in the opener at Cleveland, settled by Whitfield's homer off Fred Newman in the eighth.

In the second game Ramos' first homer and the grand slam by Whitfield came in the third inning, giving Cleveland a 5-1 lead, and it went to 9-1 with the Tribe's four-in-a-row in the sixth.

Ralph Terry held the Athletics to five hits, but they bunched two of them and two sacrifice flies for a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning. Tresh pulled it out for the Yanks however, with his clutch homer off reliever Ted Bowsfield in the ninth.

Big Fifth
The White Sox beat the Senators with a four-run fifth inning highlighted by Jim Landis' two-run triple. Ray Herbert, who won it with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm, blanked Washington until Don Zimmer homered with one on in the seventh. The loser was Claude Osteen.

Coach Satisfied With Cubs' Play

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Head Coach Bob Kennedy admits he's "tickled pink" with the way his surprising Chicago Cubs are playing despite their fourth-place position in the National League standings.

"They're giving me everything possible to give and no one could ask more of anyone," Kennedy said after the Cubs edged the Milwaukee Braves 3-2 on the powder of Ron Santo Wednesday night.

The victory secured the Cubs hold on fourth with a 56-48 record, seven games back of pace-setting Los Angeles. Starting the month of August a year ago they had a 39-66 mark and were in eighth place, 31½ games behind.

The Cubs flashed their fiery determination in refusing to quit before a crowd of 27,919, the second largest paid turnout at County Stadium this season. After losing a 2-0 lead in the eighth inning, they bounced back to even the three-game series with a run in the ninth.

Babe Ruth Tourney Nears Close Today

PORT HURON (AP) — Defending champion Northwest Detroit was scheduled to face Garden City today in what could be the final game of the state Babe Ruth baseball tournament.

Northwest Detroit qualified to meet Garden City, the only unbeaten team in the double elimination tourney, by defeating Algona 9-0 Wednesday.

Algona scored all its seven runs in the first inning. But the Detroit team rallied with an eight-run third inning, sparked by Tom Rae's two-run home run. Rae also picked up two other hits.

Dennis Doran pitched a five-hitter and aided his own cause with two hits and two runs batted in.

Should Northwest Detroit win today, the final game of the tournament will be played tomorrow. The state champion qualifies for the regional tournament at Eau Claire, Wis., Aug. 6.

More Auto Workers

Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corp. employs guard Hubert "Bill" Benson, Oak Park, Ill., senior; tackle George Haislip, Warren junior and reserve center Mike Currie, Detroit senior, who is the brother of Dan Currie, 1957 All-America center.

Also working in Lansing is half-back Harry Ammon, Holt junior, who is employed at Auto-AR Industries.

Miscellaneous jobs are held by Ed Tom Krzeminski, Beaver Falls, Pa., junior, Imperial Title; fullback Eddie Cotton, New York City sophomore, McDonald Dairy Co.; and center Harold Lucas, 260-pound Detroit sophomore, state highway department. All three are attending summer school.

Working for the city of Lansing are sophomore halfback Bruce Look, brother of 1959 All-America quarterback Dean Look, and fullback Joe Begeny, Tonawanda, N.Y., senior.

Doubles Net Play In City Tonight

Play begins tonight in the Men's Doubles Tennis Tournament, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, on the University Courts.

Players are asked to get matches under way by 6 p.m., or as soon after that time as possible.

There are no entry fees, but each doubles team must furnish a new can of balls as play begins, with winners keeping theirs for future play.

Tournament semi-finals are scheduled for Saturday, and finals will be played on Sunday afternoon.

The meet will consist of 14 entries, paired as follows for tonight's matches:

- 1. John Beldo - Gordon LeDuc
- 2. Bye
- 3. Charles Byrd - Milton Johnson
- 4. Robert Brumm - Paul Bystrom
- 5. Robert Clark - Frank Koski

Heyman Gives New Hope In NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Heyman, the most sought-after college basketball player in the country, has come to terms with the team that needs him the most—New York's lowly Knicks of the National Basketball Association.

"I only hope I can live up to their expectations," the 6-foot-5 Heyman said Tuesday after signing a two-year contract with New York coach Eddie Donovan, who personally scouted and signed the Duke All-America.

"Playing ball is a challenge, but I don't mind," Heyman said by telephone from Duke, where he is taking summer courses.

MSU Gridders Working Hard For Summer

EAST LANSING — Some people use the summer to relax and take vacations—but not ambitious Michigan State football players.

Eleven members of this tough-fibered group are working in industry and on construction jobs while five others have miscellaneous summer jobs in the Lansing area.

Hard Work, Study
Six of the players also are attending summer classes at MSU besides holding part-time jobs.

"Most of the guys who have physical labor jobs are working pretty hard," Burt Smith, freshman football coach, said, "and this is helping them get in shape for the football season."

Among those who have their work cut out for them on construction jobs just like they will on the gridiron this fall are full-back Roger Lopes, Honolulu, Hawaii, senior, and guard Earl Lattimer, a 218-pound senior from Dallas, Texas. Both also are attending classes.

Helping erect campus dormitories and other new campus buildings are guard Steve Mellinger, South Bend, Ind., senior, and rookie tackle Jack Schindler, Iron River, sophomore.

Lansing automotive industries have employed seven State players.

Booting specialist Lou Bobich, Woodville, Pa., junior; halfback Ron Rubick, Mammoth, senior, and defense specialist Charney Mijovank, East Conemaugh, Pa. junior, all work at Reo Motor Truck Division. Bobich takes summer courses besides.

Negaunee Play Sees Local 4793 Win First Tilt Of Season In LL

NEGAUNEE — In Tuesday night's Little League action in Negaunee, Township downed the Eagles, 8-0, behind the fine hurling of George Granlund, and the Elks defeated the Rod & Gun Club, 4-2, in an excellently played ball game.

Granlund Hurls
Granlund allowed the Eagles one single in the first inning, and then went on to pitch hitless ball throughout the game, striking out 14 of the remaining batters in the process.

David Rivers and Richard Wickstrom contributed triples, to knock in two runs each, leading the winners' hitting.

In a fine display of skill, the Elks took the Rod & Gun Club, 4-2, behind the pitching of George Prusi, who was helped out by reliever Bruce Hoen in the third inning. Hoen came in with one out and two runners on base; he allowed one run to score on a walk, then proceeded to fan the next two batters to retire the losers before irreparable damage could be done.

Local Wins First
In a make-up doubleheader Wednesday night, the Local 4793 team won their first game of the season, by defeating VFW, 9-5. The Local nine scored two runs in the first inning on a clutch single by Allan Keto, who was to collect three hits for four opportunities.

VFW came back to score three runs in their turn in the first, on two singles and a double by Richard Duocul. Local tied the score at 3-3 in the second on a walk and a Keto triple.

The third inning was a big one for Local, as six runs scored in five singles with clutch hitting by Johnny Torreano, who doubled, and a Keto single, thus making it 9-3 in Local's favor.

VFW attempted to catch up with the increasing lead held by Local, and managed to bring in single runs in the third and fourth innings, but it was too late by then. Reliever Mickey Havola took the win for Local in this game.

VFW Revenge
In the second game of the double tilt, VFW took revenge to the tune of a 9-3 rout. The Local squad scored first in the first inning, on two singles, but VFW established a 3-0 lead in their turn at bat on two singles and a double by Dexter Stille.

Local scored again in the second and third innings on clutch doubles by Torreano and Bruce Luoma, but Scott Gleason kept the Local batters from obtaining any more trips to home plate.

VFW then settled down to scoring, and went ahead to two in the fourth inning, on two errors, two walks, and singles by Stille and Mike Pateirno.

Leaders At Bat
Heavy hitters on the Local team were Keto, who was five for seven tries for both games, and Torreano, who collected four hits in six trips. Stille had four for six, Duocul two doubles and a triple, and Pateirno three for five opportunities on the VFW batting roster.

Roger Craig May Bring Yet Another Loss Record To Mets, Has Lost 17 In Row

Roger Craig, the major league's No. 1 pitching pauper, stands today one step away from etching yet another entry into the New York Mets' lengthy log of negative statistics.

The hapless hurler with the "I gotta pitch a shutout to get a tie" motto spun a six-hitter Wednesday night against National League-leading Los Angeles but came away with a 5-3 defeat and his 17th consecutive loss.

The triumph increasing the Dodgers' lead over second-place San Francisco to 4½ games, shackled Craig with his 19th defeat and extended a winless streak that dates from his second victory on April 29.

Just one loss removed from becoming a two-time 20-game loser, Craig also has closed in on a league record for successive setbacks that has escaped being matched for over half a century.

In 1910, Clifton Curtis of the then Boston Braves lost 18 in a row.

Wild Pitch Hurls
Craig, a 32-year-old right-hander, became the loser when the Dodgers pushed across two runs in the fourth inning with the aid of an error and a wild pitch.

Triandos Feted For Birthday; Boored In Party

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore sports writers booted the Detroit Tigers' Gus Triandos Tuesday — to make him feel at home at his 33rd birthday party.

Triandos used to receive boos from Baltimore fans during his Oriole playing days.

"The Baltimore Sports Reporters Association, however, gave him a cake, too. It was decorated with a baseball diamond, including players.

Sadistic Humor
"Dropped up beside it was a big picture of Hoyt Wilhelm, whose fluttering knuckleball caused problems for the big catcher when they were Oriole teammates.

"You guys have a sadistic sense of humor?" Triandos asked.

Reporters asked Triandos if Charlie Dressen made any changes since taking over as Tiger manager.

"Yes, he's taken me about completely out of the lineup," Triandos said.

Goes Down Laughing
"How about batting against Wilhelm, now with Chicago?"

"It feels better swinging against him, although I've struck out every time. I just go down swinging and laughing," said Gus.

"Although I hate to admit it," Triandos said, "I'm glad to be here. I miss Baltimore and the friends I made, but I didn't enjoy playing here."

'What's Funny?'
As the festivities were starting, someone read a July 30 horoscope, which said anyone born on the date "could be an athlete."

"As the luncheon guests roared with laughter, Gus called out: 'What's so funny? I could be.'"
