'Pupniks' In Demand

The White House has been deluged with more than 5,000 requests for one of these puppies, the four offspring of Pushinka — mongrel daughter of a Russian space dog — and Charlie, Caroline Kennedy's Welsh Terrier. The polite answer: "Nothing doing." The dogs have been dubbed "pupniks" due to their origin and five-year-old Caroline, still seeking a name for a fourth pup, calls the others, Streaker, Blackie and White Tips. The picture of the puppies and their mother was made July 9 on the executive mansion lawn and released Tuesday by the White House. News photographers were refused permission to make the photograph. U.S. To Retaliate In 'Chicken War'

EDITOR'S NOTE — The United States says it will retaliate against the European Common Market for boosting tariffs against U. S. poultry. The action raises new fears that international trade is in trouble. The following story analyzes developments.

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The lowly chicken is causing an international fight.

The United States, after weeks of wrangling with the European Common Market, announced on Tuesday it will retaliate against tariff increases on American poultry.

The government, if a settlement is not reached, will raise duties against European products to equal the loss of $46 million a year in American poultry exports.

The U.S. move would affect the prices Americans pay for imports, but the dollar amount isn't nearly as important as what the action means. The lost poultry sales are only a fraction of the $5.6 billion worth of U.S. goods exported to European Common Market countries each year.

The move reflects a new American attitude and tactic — a get-tough policy. It also reflects these newly complicated circumstances in world trade.

The Common Market has asserted itself as a strong-willed equal in trade dealings with the United States.

Europe's farm blocs have made it clear they are keeping a sharp eye out for their own interests, which often clash with those of America.

Europe, having trouble working out its own agricultural policy, has resisted U.S. efforts to link agricultural and industrial products in trade talks.

Protectionist sentiment in the United States—in the shoe and textile industries especially—shows signs of rallying. Some trade observers question the wisdom of retaliation. They say the situation is far too complicated to be solved merely by acting tough.

Others agree with Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., that the United States might be "out-traded and sold down the river unless we adopt a hard line."

This kind of tariff raising reverberates around the non-Common world because of international trade rules that say all cuts and boosts must be applied to everyone.

Most observers doubt there will be more than a round or two of tariff retaliations. Still, they say, negotiations can be expected to move pretty slowly. Negotiators on both sides will be defensive, cautious and sensitive to public opinion.

'Trade, Not Aid'

In the early post-war years, Americans grew progressively wakened toward liberalizing world trade. The idea of "trade, not aid" to get ravaged nations going again was appealing. When low-priced imports began brightening American shop counters, buyers were pleased anew.

Then, early this year, France vetoed British membership in the Common Market. Complaints were lodged against American investments in Europe.

France asserted its ambitions to sell its farm surpluses to Common Market neighbors. American negotiators, asking that farm goods be tied to industrial goods in trade talks, hit a brick wall.

Then German farmers asked protection against the cheap chickens of America's automated hatcheries. They got a higher levy. When American negotiators complained, the tariff was hiked even higher.

MISSISSIPPI PRIMARY:

Johnson, Coleman Face Runoff Race

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Former Governor J.P. Coleman and Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson braced today for a runoff campaign to see which will be the Democratic nominee for governor.

Mounting official returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary apparently made them the top two men in a four-man race.

With 1,453 of 1,882 precincts reported, Johnson had 110,987 votes to Coleman's 94,966.

The number three man in the race, Charles Sullivan, had 79,153. Robert Mason of Magee, a 65-year-old welder who runs for fun, had 1,704.

Runoff Election

The runoff election will be held Aug. 29. Under the state's primary system, a runoff matching the two top men is held whenever no one in a race can muster a majority.

A 30-year-old Negro student at the University of Mississippi, James H. Meredith, figured large in the campaign.

Johnson once barred Meredith from entering Ole Miss a few days before the desegregation crisis at the school that flamed into a campus riot last Sept. 30.

Red Hot Race

Meredith also figured in the red hot race for state attorney general. Joe Patterson, bidding for re-election, apparently won over charges that he didn't try hard enough to keep Meredith out.

It was a two-man race with Patterson opposed by State Sen. John McLauren, who was Gov. Ross Barnett's spokesman at times during the Ole Miss uprisings.

The count, with 1,346 of 1,882 precincts reporting, gave Patterson 147,226 and McLaurin 103,855. In the lieutenant governor's race, Carroll Gartin forged far in front. The number two spot was held by Evelyn Gandy with Troy Watkins third.

'VICTORY IN SIGHT': Rights Lobbyists Redouble Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lobbyists for civil rights legislation redoubled their efforts today upon being told that "victory is in sight." But it was acknowledged that the votes to get a "meaningful" bill through Congress are far from clinched.

Delegates to a strategy conference called by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People scheduled a round of conferences with Congress members.

'Light Of Victory'

Speaking to the conference Tuesday night, Victor Reuther acknowledged that a "larger number of converts" is needed, but said "we can see the light of victory."

Reuther is executive assistant to his brother Walter, president of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers. Walter Reuther was to be the speaker but was delayed in getting here.

The great problem is how to get a bill past the expected Senate filibuster by Southerners. Clamping down on the filibuster would require a two-thirds majority—67 if all 100 senators voted.

60 Votes

"The way I count votes," said Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., "I think we've got 60 right now. Assuming the full membership is on the floor, we'll need seven more."

But Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., said he is "always more pessimistic than many of my friends" on mustering votes to end a filibuster.

Republicans

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., told NAACP delegates: "Anybody who says Republicans cannot be counted upon to help is not telling the truth." He figured that about one-third of the 33 Republican senators are firmly committed to all of President Kennedy's bill "and more too." Another third are against it, he said, and one third are undecided.

Scott remarked that no Republican in living memory has filibustered.

150 Soldiers Airlifted To Cap Haitien

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Gen. Leon Cantave was reported leading his Haitian rebel invaders in a southwest thrust beyond Cap Haitien today, apparently trying to cut off the north coast and northwest part of the Negro republic.

President Francois Duvalier airlifted at least 150 soldiers from Port au Prince over the rebel lines to the vicinity of Cap Haitien. Associated Press correspondent Robert Berrellez reported from the Haitian capital.

The approximately 500 invaders, their ranks reportedly swelled by Haitian army deserters, were said to be advancing in two columns after apparently deciding against storming Cap Haitien, 90 miles north of Port au Prince.

An unconfirmed report said another rebel force had landed at St. Marc, a port about 40 miles northwest of Port au Prince and due southwest of Cap Haitien, Haiti's second largest city.

Duvalier is known to have a strong post at Hinche, an inland city midway between Port au Prince and Cap Haitien but separated from St. Marc by mountains.

In Washington, the Council of the Organization of American States Tuesday ordered its special committee on the earlier Dominican-Haitian dispute to investigate Haiti's new charges that the invaders came from the Dominican Republic. The nations share the island of Hispaniola.

Arturo Calvanti, Dominican ambassador to the OAS, told the council that Haitian charges were unfounded.

Paul Verna, the invaders' spokesman in Santo Domingo, said earlier an island off the Haitian coast was the staging site for the invasion. However, a number of the officers of the invasion force had been living in Santo Domingo.

The Duvalier regime declared northeast Haiti—scene of the initial invasion Monday—a war zone and imposed a nighttime curfew on Cap Haitien.

Port au Prince, Duvalier's stronghold, did not report war tensions. Berrellez reported in a censored dispatch. He said bars and cafes were open and thousands of Haitians strolled the streets as usual.

The Haitian government radio warned Americans to pull out of the war zone, but the approximately 20 American families on sisal plantations near Phaeton were believed in no immediate danger.

Reports reaching the U.S. State Department said the Americans did not pull out. Gilon Curtis Jr., US. charge d'affaires in Port au Prince, advised the State Department he contacted the families and "they seem to be experiencing no problem as the result of any military operations in the vicinity."

Series Of Rapes Terrorize City

HALLANDALE, Fla. (AP) — Armed officers are maintaining a dusk-to-dawn patrol in this southeast Florida coastal city, terrorized by a series of rapes.

Mayor John D. Steel said "a state of panic" exists. Three women reported they were raped in their homes during the past two weeks, and there were two other attempted rapes. Eight other rapes and numerous attempts have been reported in recent months.

"He's a sick animal," the mayor said. "Let's pray to God we get him."

Group Asks Tax Break For U.S. Citizens With Roller-Coaster Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has recommended giving a tax break to persons with roller-coaster incomes, such as authors, entertainers, professional athletes and lawyers.

Polishing and fitting together the pieces of the tax cut and revision legislation, the committee Tuesday spelled out a provision to give special consideration to a taxpayer whose income shoots up in one year more than a third above his average for the previous four years.

U.S. Senate Approves Military Pay Raise Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has approved unanimously a pay raise for practically everyone in the armed forces except recruits, apprentice seamen and privates with less than two years service.

The measure, which would increase military payrolls more than $1.2 billion a year, goes to the House, which has passed a similar but slightly less generous bill.

Usually a Senate-House conference committee works out differences between similar bills. But Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., who steered the pay raise through the Senate Tuesday by an 84-0 vote, said he hopes a conference will not be necessary this time and that the House will accept the Senate bill.

House Chairman

The decision on what the House will do probably rests with Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, who rules with a firm hand.

The Senate and House bills would provide increases to most active duty personnel, to reservists and National Guardsmen and to those drawing military retirement pay.

The Senate version would cost $1,227,330,000 a year, about $5 million more than that of the House.

The increases—the first since 1958—would begin Oct. 1 under the Senate bill.

Under the Senate bill, enlisted men would get boosts of $5 to $120 monthly. Raises for officers would range from $60 to $120 monthly.

The Senate and House bills would provide similar increases for the U.S. Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey and Public Health Service, which base their pay on military schedules. This would cost the taxpayers an additional $30,084,000 annually.

Both would provide the largest dollar and percentage raises for lieutenants, captains, majors and lieutenant colonels among officers and corporals, sergeants and other skilled technicians in the enlisted grades.

But the Senate bill would apply some of these boosts to young officers and noncoms with less than two years service and give them larger increases at times in their careers when they face the decision of re-enlisting or returning to civilian life.

The House version would limit pay increases to active personnel with more than two years service. Its theory was that many short-termers are merely serving out an obligation resulting from the draft.

Approved for the first time by both Senate and House is an extra $55 a month for any officer or enlisted man on cold war duty who is subject to enemy fire or similar hazard in such places as Viet Nam and South Korea.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Murder In Death Of Teacher

DETROIT (AP) — Accused of strangling a 55-year-old school teacher and then drowning the dying woman in a bathtub, Robert T. Bradley, 16, of Wyandotte, pleaded guilty to murder Tuesday.

Trombley did not plead guilty to a specific degree of murder, however, in the death of Mrs. Beulah Sechler of Wyandotte last March 8.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Edward S. Piggins began taking testimony from witnesses to determine the degree of murder.

'Mother Vote' Worries Republican Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans have assessed the political implications of the limited nuclear test ban treaty and most are expected to wind up voting for its ratification.

An influential Republican senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he and a majority of his colleagues have reached the conclusion that "we can't afford politically to vote against this treaty."

'Mother Vote'

"There are a number of risks involved that I don't like to see us take as a nation," he said. "But if the Joint Chiefs of Staff say that, on balance, it is acceptable—and I believe they will—we won't have any choice but to support it."

He attributed this in part to what he called the "mother vote," women who have feared that nuclear fallout might result in deformed children and who believe the treaty may eliminate this danger.

Seek GOP Backing

As a result, the senator said, after extensive hearings beginning Monday he expects to see opposition virtually collapse. Democratic leaders have said they are confident of getting the necessary support of two-thirds of those voting. But they have been wooing GOP backing in order to attain overwhelming approval.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he has had 5,000 letters, divided equally for and against ratification.

Opposition

Dirksen told a news conference Tuesday he had the Senate Republican Policy Committee staff poll the administrative assistants of 42 senators. He said the staff found 20 whose mail favored ratification, 14 whose mail opposed it and 8 evenly divided.

Another senator said that most of the opposition mail was coming from the Midwest and Rocky Mountain states.

Confident

Gen. James F. Collins, above, Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Army Pacific Command, expressed full confidence in the American troops guarding the Korean Demilitarized Zone Tuesday. He also said that there has been no indication that the latest outbreak of fighting was initiated by the Chinese Communists. Collins returned to Okinawa Tuesday from a tour of Korea, South Viet Nam and Japan. (AP Wirephoto)

Entertainers Debate Negro Religious Sect In Song Duel Over Jazzed Up Gospel Songs

NEW YORK (AP)—Are jazzed-up gospel songs blasphemous? The question was debated Tuesday night in front of the Sweet Charity, a supper club in the Times Square theater district.

A Negro religious group gathered before the club on West 46th Street and sang Negro spirituals for 2½ hours to protest the club's "prostituting of religious songs and symbols of the church."

The club's entertainers and waitresses—the latter called "angels"—and wearing skimpy costumes with wings—came outside to engage in a song duel.

Onlookers Take Sides

"Oh, when the saints, go 'narchin' in," sang the 22 employees, in the same fashion as the jazzed-up gospel songs which the club features.

The church group responded: "Swing low, sweet chariot, comin' for to carry me home. . ."

Theatergoers, with nothing to do during intermission, flocked over. They quickly took sides, singing with the group they championed.

One "angel" carried a sign reading, "Have Gospel Song, Will Travel."

Another held a sign saying, "We practice integration — Your picketing is discrimination in reverse."

The Rev. C. S. Stamps of the Metropolitan Baptist Church in Harlem, who led the religious group, said the club was "blaspheming religious hymns." His supporters carried signs saying "Religious songs should not be used in a place of this nature."

Legitimate Fare

A club spokesman said many of the so-called gospel hymns were written by Tin Pan Alley composers and are legitimate nightclub fare.

Iron Ore Shipments From Marquette Top Last Year's Totals

Ore shipments over Marquette's two railroad docks so far this season are slightly ahead of last year's pace, indicating that this will be an average shipping season, dock agents reported today.

Since the 1963 shipping season began, 219 ore carriers have docked here to take on a total of 882,678 tons of iron ore.

Cancellation Notices Mailed To Delinquent Voters Here

Notices of cancellation of voter registration are being mailed by the city clerk's office to registered voters who have not gone to the polls within the past two years.

Files in December to make the cancellations. However, because of the new law, the office is now cancelling the registration of persons who voted for the last time in any election prior to the 1961 spring election.

Rainfall Below Normal; Cool Weather Due

Temperatures dropped here following a thunderstorm last night, which preceded the passage through the Upper Peninsula of a cold front from the west.

The thunderstorm began at 5:48 p. m. and lasted until 10:08 here. It increased the year's precipitation to 14.31 inches, which is still over four inches below normal.

More rain is still needed to improve lawns and help gardens and crops, as the general pattern of a dry summer, since the week's rain ended June 19, continues.

Meteorologist Emil Ellingson said yesterday's high here was 86, with a low of 67 and the mean reading of 77 being nine degrees above normal, making the month's average 42 degrees above. It has been 50 or higher four of six days this month, with the 91 degree reading Monday being the highest.

It was a pleasant night for sleeping, with the low being 62, and the high today expected to be in the low 70s. Tonight it'll be in the mid-50s, with a high in the upper 70s tomorrow.

The long-range forecast for this area calls for temperatures to average near or below the extremes of 76 and 59 through Monday, with a warming trend over the weekend and cooler weather again Monday.

Rainfall during the period also will be light, totaling .10 of an inch or less, in scattered showers Sunday.

City Sanitarian Ronald S. Maitland is urging residents to destroy ragweed plants before they have a chance to pollinate and effect hay fever sufferers. Common (the low variety) is shown above in the left two pictures, before (at left) and after pollination. At right is giant ragweed, most common in this area, before and (at right) after pollination. The plants must be destroyed at least within the first two weeks of August to avoid pollination.

Ragweed Nears Pollination In City; Daily Pollen Counts Being Taken By Sanitarian

Ragweed in this area is within a few days of pollination and City Sanitarian Ronald S. Maitland began this week to take the daily pollen count.

As soon as results of the atmospheric sampling are affirmative, the count will appear each day in The Mining Journal for the preceding 24-hour period.

The hay fever season begins around the middle of August and continues until the middle of September, when microscopic spores are being released by ragweed plants.

Comfortable For Most Patients

Fortunately, most of the Upper Peninsula, including the Marquette area, is sufficiently free from ragweed to be comfortable for the average hay fever sufferer.

However, some people are affected by only one pollen grain. One ragweed plant can pollute the air with from five to eight billion grains of pollen.

Ragweed plants must be destroyed within the first two weeks of August to avoid pollination, before the small, colorless flowers appear on the plants.

Plants can be destroyed by pulling them up by the roots, cutting with a mower, sickle or scythe, or spraying with a weed killer.

The weed grows wild in fields, vacant lots, unkept yards and along highways. Pollen from the flower spikes becomes wind borne and can travel great distances.

Maitland will use a standard technique to take the atmospheric pollen sampling. The count will be computed on the basis of the number of pollen grains found per one square centimeter.

The usual location for the sampling apparatus is the center of an unobstructed roof of a tall building near the center of a community. Marquette's pollen count will be taken on the roof of the federal building.

Maitland will use an ordinary microscopic slide, covered with a thin film of petroleum jelly. Slides will be exposed for periods of 24 hours, starting at the same time each morning.

Following the 24-hour period, the slide is removed and another hung in its place. Maitland will then identify and count the pollen under a microscope.

The MacMillan arctic expedition of 1925 marked the first extensive use of aircraft in polar exploration.

Plenty Of Rooms In U.P. For Tourists

Despite an obvious upsurge in the number of summer visitors, there's still plenty of room in the Upper Peninsula for tourists.

"Sure, some resorts are 'booked solid' for weeks in advance, but that's not unusual," Ken Dorman, secretary-manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, which is headquartered in Marquette, said today in refuting rumors from outside the region that accommodations are not available without advance reservations.

"Because of the great increase in the number of facilities constructed the last 10 years, ample accommodations can be found in almost any area of the U.P.," he added.

"Any report of crowded conditions is generally untrue, although one section or another may be filled on occasion.

Get Lodging Early

"Resorts, motels and hotels are found in greater numbers than ever before, and their operators are eager to serve visitors from Lower Michigan and other states." Dorman suggested that motorists obtain lodging places in mid- or late afternoon, rather than wait until night, and then spend evenings enjoying the scenic wonders to be found in any part of the peninsula.

River Flows Of Peninsula Major Economic Resource

River flows are like money in the bank for the areas that have them in large and sustained volume.

The importance of water to industry, recreation and other elements of the economy has always been evident, but it comes into increasing importance because of the huge demands of modern industry for it as a coolant, vehicle for materials, dilutant and for other uses, and because fresh water is in diminishing supply.

Not much is known about our rivers flows in terms of exact data. To be reliable, flow statistics should cover years so that averages are available to show reliability of the flow before investment of many millions of dollars in industrial facilities whose operations are dependent upon water.

State Study Given
The Michigan Water Resources Commission in cooperation with the University of Michigan has published a study, "Drought Flow of Michigan Streams" which reports characteristics of the larger rivers of the Upper Peninsula including the Iron, Ontonagon, Sturgeon, Tahquamenon, Black, Manistique, Escanaba and Menominee.

The study found that the streams draining the Upper Peninsula, with some exceptions, show moderately good normal drought flow yields, but as reflected by the once in a 10 year yield and the variability ratio, disclose considerable variation from year to year and are subject to occasional severe drought.

These periods of low water are a concern of industries which seek a portion of stream flow for their usage, as well as for recreational needs for boating, fish habitat, etc.

Stream Gaging Stations
The study held that for stream gaging stations with less than 10 years of continuous record, detailed statistical analyses are not warranted, but short term records of drought flow have been tabulated for all gages and relationships established between the short record and a nearby long term gage.

Relative to other areas of the nation, Michigan's stream gaging program had a late start and few gaging records precede the early 1930s, so Michigan's records represent a short period sample of drought experience.

While major interest of the study is in stream flow, the variations in drought observed are explainable only in a broader framework of hydrological cycle: Evaporation—condensation—precipitation.

From Atmosphere
Practically all water which man is concerned originates as water vapor in the atmosphere. As the vapor rises and is cooled, condensation results in cloud formations in which droplets form, grow in size and eventually fall as rain or snow.

Some precipitation is reconverted to water vapor during its fall and some is intercepted by vegetation and is evaporated. Of the residual precipitation reaching the ground some infiltrates, some runs off over the surface to natural stream channels, some evaporates from water and land areas, and some is taken up by the root system of vegetation and turned to the atmosphere as water vapor through the process of transpiration.

Concerning Surface Runoff
When the rate of precipitation exceeds the rate of infiltration, surface runoff occurs, the excess draining to the channels of the creeks, streams and major river system with outlets into the inland lakes and the ocean.

The fate of that portion of precipitation which is absorbed and infiltrates is more complex. Some remains in the upper soil subject to evaporation and transpiration (evaporizing by vegetation.) Some may penetrate to lower levels and form great reservoirs of underground water, saturating the porous rock or soil. The surface of the saturated zone is the water table.

Depending on local geology, ground water moves slowly to outlets where the water table meets lakes and streambeds and is returned to the body of surface water. It is this ground water contribution which maintains stream flow during the dry weather periods. The size and variance of this source of water primarily determines the flow characteristic of streams.

Average annual precipitation in the Upper Peninsula is 29 inches increasing from 28 inches in the south to 30 inches along Lake Superior. Precipitation increases southward to 34 inches in the southernmost part of Michigan.

The Peninsula's watershed divide is much nearer Lake Superior than Lake Michigan. The Water Resources Commission study map shows only the Presque Isle, Iron and Ontonagon Rivers flowing into Superior west of Keweenaw and the Sturgeon flowing into Keweenaw Bay.

From that point all the way across the Peninsula to Whitefish Bay on the east there is no river drainage system shown, although the Huron, Yellow Dog, Dead, Carp, Au Train, Sucker, Two Hearted and other sizeable streams flow into Superior.

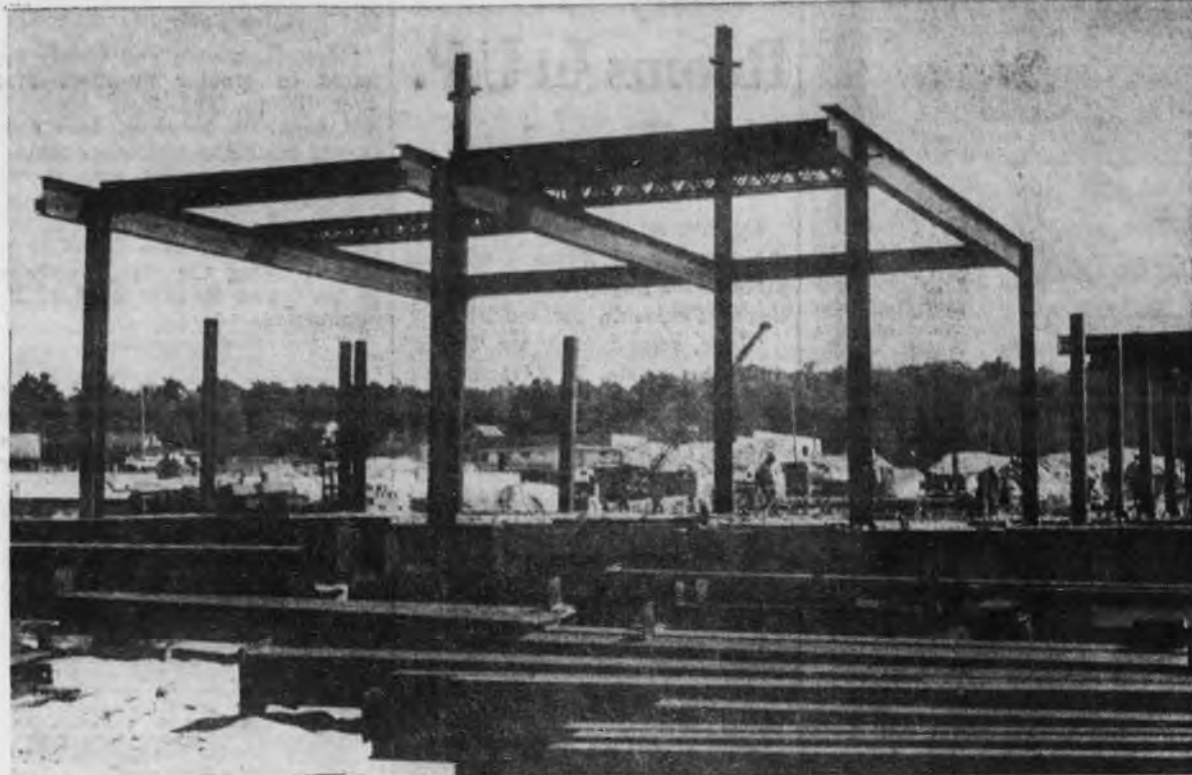

The bigger drainage systems flow into Lake Michigan. They include the Menominee, biggest of the Peninsula, the Cedar, Ford, Rapid, Whitefish, Manistique, Black, Carp and Pine.

Area Drained
The Menominee basin drains an area of about 4,012 square miles, about two-thirds in Michigan and the rest in Wisconsin. It drains parts of Baraga, Iron, Marquette, Dickson and Menominee Counties and flow has been highly regulated by power developments. As result the low flows reported for many of the gages in the basin are not natural drought discharges, but releases of artificial storage.

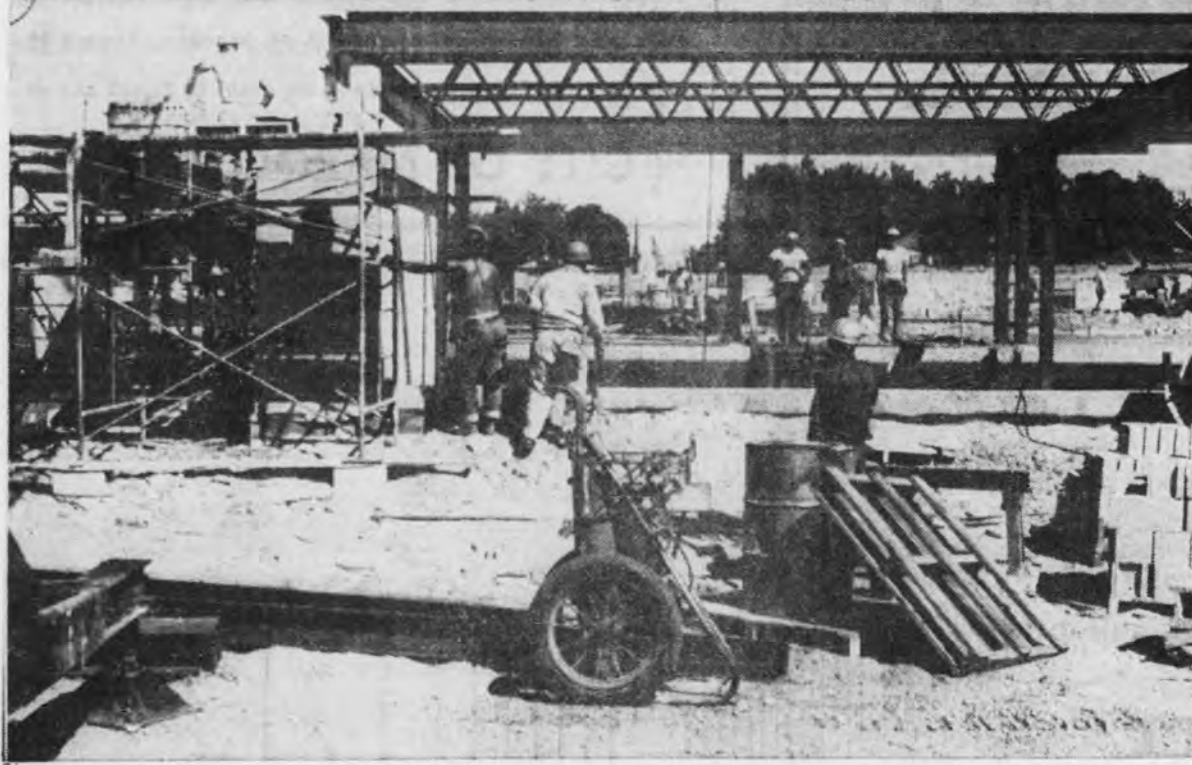

The Escanaba River basin drains approximately 830 square miles in Dickinson, Marquette and Delta Counties. The basin is elongated and irregular in shape, measures 67 miles by 26 miles wide at its widest.

The Manistique basin drains 1,415 square miles in Delta, Alger, Schoolcraft, Luce and Mackinac

Superstructure Rising For New High School

Caspien Construction Co. of Caspien has the general construction contract for the high school, at $1,544,000. Electrical and mechanical contracts, totaling roughly $720,000, were let separately. Completion date for the work is the fall of 1964. — (Mining Journal photos.)

City's Power Load Here Up 7.7 Per Cent

Marquette's light and power department kilowatt hour load was 7.7 per cent higher last week than it was during the same week last year, City Manager Thomas Moore states in his weekly report on municipal department activities.

Last week light and power department line crews continued work along U. S. 41 at Green Garden in connection with highway construction, replaced a pole at Presque Isle Park, built a three-pole extension to a new customer at the Bancroft location and installed a new pole on Rock St.

Water received at the hydro-electric plants was less than the previous week and less than during the same week a year ago. Elevation at the Hoist Pond dropped two-tenths of a foot and was 4.2 feet higher than at the same time last year and 7.2 feet from the top of the dam.

Other Departments
Excerpts from the reports of other municipal departments follow:

USAF Medal Awarded To Base Officer

An Air Force Commendation Medal for meritorious service has been presented to Capt. Jesse Contreras, a former member of the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC) at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, who retired from the U. S. Air Force this week.

Col. Gene F. Ohlenst, vice commander of the Strategic Air Command wing, presented the medal to Contreras at a special ceremony on the day of his retirement.

Contreras, who ended nearly 22 years of active federal military service as chief of the ground training branch in the directorate of operations at Sawyer from April 1961 to this month.

"During this period he demonstrated exceptional professional ability, planning skill, and devotion to duty in implementing training procedures that enabled his organization to attain combat ready status in advance of the schedule date," according to the citation received from Second Air Force headquarters.

Effective Use Of Simulators
Contreras was also cited for the effective use made of the mobile training simulators for the KC-135 and B-52 aircraft.

The simulators arrive here periodically and give air crews practice in emergency situations and other flying aspects without the actual flying.

Because of the effective programming and scheduling of aircrews of the 46th Air Refueling Squadron and the 644th Bombardment Squadron for ground training, all noncombat ready crews of the two units were upgraded in a minimum of time.

"CHARGE IT" AT KRESGE'S

Final Municipal Band Concert Of Season Slated Tomorrow

Marquette's final band concert of the summer will be presented tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the Presque Isle Park band shell.

In addition to the weekly Thursday evening concerts, the municipal band has appeared this summer in two parades, participated in the July Fourth program at Memorial Field and in a Flag Day ceremony at Memorial Field.

Other performances of the city band this summer under the baton of Director T. Ray Uhlinger were two concerts at Bay Cliff Health Camp in Big Bay and a presentation at Morgan Heights Sanatorium.

Featured Overture
Featured overture tomorrow night will be "Concord" by Ralph Herman, a contemporary composer and a native of Milwaukee.

City Man Sentenced On Assault Count

A charge of felonious assault against Clifford Chamberlain, 35, Adams Hotel, was reduced to simple assault in municipal court yesterday and Chamberlain pleaded guilty to the reduced assault charge.

Judge Edward H. Dembowski sentenced Chamberlain to a 15-day term in the Marquette County Jail. Chamberlain was given credit for time spent in jail while awaiting his appearance in court yesterday and released.

Had Asked For Hearing

City police arrested Chamberlain July 20, after being called to the Adams Hotel to investigate a disturbance, during which Chamberlain had assaulted Andrew A. Dohrn, also of the Adams Hotel.

Chamberlain was arraigned in municipal court July 22 on the charge of felonious assault. He requested preliminary examination, which had been scheduled for yesterday.

Yesterday the charge was reduced, following the recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Edward A. Quinnell, Marquette.

Man Injured When Struck By Automobile

A pedestrian was injured in an accident at 9:07 last night on W. Washington St., in the middle of the 400 block.

City police said George M. Carlson, 46, of 105 1/2 E. Arch St., was walking across the street, from south to north, when hit by a 1962 four-door sedan being driven west on Washington St. by Marcial J. Foise Jr., 617 Snow St., Negaunee.

Officers said it was raining at the time and traffic was heavy, and neither the pedestrian nor the motorist saw the other.

The impact caused Carlson to be knocked to the pavement, city police said. He suffered abrasions on his left hand and forearm and sought his own treatment.

Foise was driving slow at the time, police said, and slammed on his brakes when he saw the pedestrian, but it was too late to avoid the mishap.

The overture was published in 1962.

"Herman has had a distinguished career as an instrumentalist with name bands such as Freddy Martin and Jimmy Dorsey. He studied under Vittorio Giannini of the Juillard School of Music and has been an arranger for the major broadcasting companies," Uhlinger noted.

Moore Soloist
Robert E. Moore, Marquette, will be trumpet soloist for the final program. Moore's participation in music began in the Marquette Public Schools and was continued at Michigan State University.

He has also had considerable experience in the professional music field. His selection tomorrow night is "Soliloquy For Trumpet," by the contemporary American composer, John Morrissey.

17th Century Compositions
Music of the 17th century will be featured tomorrow night at Presque Isle Park.

Compositions from the 17th century will include the classic "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," from Cantata 147 by Johann Sebastian Bach; "Trumpet Tune," by the English composer Henry Purcell; "Gavotte," a typical dance of the 17th century by George Frederick Handel; "Aria" by Antonio Tenaglia and "Psalm XVIII," by Benedetto Marcello.

New Orleans Festival
A tone journey down the Mississippi River, and musical themes from the annual New Orleans festival will be presented in "Mardi Gras" from Ferde Grofe's "Mississippi Suite."

Grofe scored "The Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin for its premier performance while he was a member of the famous Paul Whiteman Orchestra. Since that time he has been active as a composer and guest conductor and possibly his best known composition is "Grand Canyon Suite," Uhlinger said.

From the world of musical comedy, the city band will present selections from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific."

Other selections programmed tomorrow night are "Night Wind", a tone picture by Ronald Thielen; "Clarinet," "Escapade" by Russell Ward and Leroy Anderson's ever-popular "Sleigh Ride".

Marches which will be presented tomorrow night include the opening march, "The Billboard," by John Klorer and a concert march, "Centennial," by Meredith Willson. The Presque Isle Park concerts traditionally close with a John Philip Sousa march and the final Sousa march of the summer will be the immortal "Stars and Stripes Forever."

PHONE EXTRAS
Viennese telephone subscribers can dial a number and have a baby sitter recite fairy tales and sing children's songs. Other services include medical hints, help in doing crossword puzzles, film program information, snow and skiing reports, dictation for shorthand practice and help with a child's homework.

State Employees Association Meet Set Here Tomorrow

Two state officials of the Michigan State Employees Association will address a meeting of the Marquette County Chapter of the MSEA, to be held at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the Union National Bank Lounge.

Coming for the session are Wayne Gilmore, Gaylord, president of the state association, and John Doyle, Lansing, executive secretary of the organization.

There are approximately 125 employees in Marquette County who are members of the association.

Takeoff Total In SAC Wing Exceeds 500

Consecutive on-time takeoffs without a materiel failure of B-52H aircraft assigned to the 410th Bombardment Wing at K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base stands at 515. Col. Howard Jarrell, the wing's deputy commander for maintenance, said that last late takeoff for one of the huge "Stratofortresses" was in January. Since that time the last 515 have taken off at the pre-assigned time.

Jarrell believes the string may be a Strategic Air Command record for the "H" model. The B-52 has been modified several times since it was added to the SAC inventory and the "H" model is the most sophisticated B-52 in the force.

According to Jarrell, there are more systems in the B-52H that could fail because of materiel than in any of the earlier models.

Carries Complex Equipment
He said the 515 consecutive on-time takeoffs is particularly significant because the bomber, a complete weapons system in itself, carries more complex equipment than earlier manufactured B-52s, and the failure of one small component part could cause a late takeoff.

Excellent coordination from maintenance ground crews and the flight crews of the 644th Bombardment Squadron at Sawyer was necessary to achieve the high mark, he added.

Land area of the Union's 50 states total 3,549,000 square miles, of which about 1,850,000 square miles is farms.

Public Employment

The extent of the social revolution in which we're involved can be gauged by a glancing statistic: Government employment in Michigan has increased two-fifths in the past 10 years.

In 1952 there were 244,526 public employees in Michigan and in 1962 there were 352,412. Population, of course, was expanding only a fraction of that proportion, so other causes must also be sought. They are national defense, the trend toward city living, increased technology and the public acceptance of more public services.

Growth in education, state hospitals and highways account for over half of Michigan's expansion in state public employment, says Dr. Daniel H. Kruger, professor of labor relations at Michigan State University.

Whereas about one-fourth of total government employment nationally is federal, in Michigan it is only about one-eighth of the total. There are two ways of looking at this. One is to rejoice that we have been able to keep federal employment down in the state, but this is behaving like Pollyanna, who was so glad she broke her arm. The other is to note that although Michigan is one of the states that pays the federal government more in taxes than it gets back in federal services, it got much less than the norm in federal employment. In short, we paid for the federal jobs but politics distributed them elsewhere.

During the past decade total public employment in the nation increased more than 30 per cent, and in Michigan it increased more than 65 per cent. Employment in state government averaged 55 per cent increase, but in Michigan it was nearly 90 per cent.

The growth in local government averaged three-fifths for the nation and two-fifths for Michigan, with education accounting for a big part of the increase.

Dr. Kruger expects public employment to grow in the future. The citizen, already complaining about the size of his taxes, hopes it isn't true. Dr. Kruger says the government payroll will increase because the citizens demand more and better services from government. Many citizens will disclaim this while calling for the services that necessitate the taxes.

While Michigan has had this big increase in government employment, it has had no such collateral increase in private employment. This will be interpreted in some quarters as a loss of private employment to a government take-over, but this hits off target. Even Britain, where our system of private enterprise largely evolved, never permitted its theoretical model of free enterprise to take over the national economy. We can assume that government is a monster only if we assume that it is no longer responsible to the will of the people, and there are many indications that actually it is too sensitively responsive to public demands, on short notice and for brief benefits.

A critical factor is missing from Dr. Kruger's review if we are to judge the efficiency and justification for this big boost in government jobs. How much are these government workers turning in for their pay? Is it as good a buy as that of the private employer?

Health note: In the United States only one out of 10,000 who get measles dies of it. In Africa, one out of two dies.

Unique village: The community of Gildersleeve, Alaska, is built on 17 log rafts, which are towed from place to place when logging is to be done.

Unemployment is strictly a human problem at present. The number of jobs for performing animals has increased 600 per cent since 1950.

A. F. Koepcke, who is looking after the management of the Marquette City and Presque Isle Street Railway Co., is in receipt of welcome news, no less than that the last of the gearing for the six new cars has been received in St. Louis from Chicago, and the modern trolleys will be shipped to Marquette this week. It will be possible to put them on the run as soon as they are received, as the new 250-horsepower generator has been installed, and the new feed wire is connected. The school board, at its last meeting, decided to build a two-story addition to the west side of the Fisher St. School for the accommodation of the kindergarten that is to be started the coming fall for the benefit of the South Marquette people. The addition will be of solid brick and will cost about $2,500. J. D. Chubb was authorized to prepare plans.

At a meeting of the city council, the board of public works submitted a recommendation, adopted at its last meeting, designed to encourage the building of cement walks, by providing that the cost be divided into two payments.

The "blue eagle" army of businessmen pledged to support President Roosevelt's re-employment campaign was increased here Saturday by an enlistment of eight merchants, making a grand total of 172 in Marquette who have promised to back the nation in an effort toward industrial recovery.

—Negaunee—
Eleven more Negaunee employers became eligible yesterday to display Blue Eagle banners in their establishments after signing the President's re-employment agreement. The "honorary roll" at the post office here now totals 47.

Marquette County History Museum Plays Important Role In Promoting Tourism

Marquette County Historical Society

Among the many busy spots in Marquette engaged in entertaining the flood of summer visitors is the museum of the Marquette County Historical Society on N. Front St. next door to the Peter White Public Library.

The museum is open Mondays through Fridays, 9 to 12 and 1 to 4:30. A small admission charge is made; however, no one is refused admission because of inability to pay — all are welcome. Children, unaccompanied by an adult, are admitted free Friday afternoons throughout the year.

region that they might be better versed on the subject upon their return to their teaching duties in the fall. There was a long question and answer period, enhancing their knowledge of the region, and without any doubt many school children of the Lower Peninsula will become better acquainted with the northern section of their state during the coming school year.

Dr. Irene D. Neu, who has been invited to lecture on American history at the University of Illinois this coming year, found much valuable material for her forthcoming paper on the Sault Canal lands. Robert A. Thom, an artist from the Lower Peninsula, was well pleased with background material available in the library for a series of paintings which he is to do on Michigan history. Dr. Julius Wolff of the University of Minnesota at Duluth, a descendant of one of Marquette's early families, the Maneyns, has been interested in his subject being shipwrecks on Lake Superior. Dr. Wolff is unique in the fact that he always brings along with him one of his outstanding students to assist him in his research, one who can only profit by such an association.

Through the generosity of a public-spirited citizen, it has been possible to keep the John Burt House open for visitors this summer, the hours being from 8:30 to 5:30 throughout the entire week. This little stone house, depicting life as it was lived in Marquette over a hundred years ago, is located at 220 Craig St.

The staff members of the society not only entertain their many summer visitors in the museum and library, but upon their departure provide these students with literature pertinent to the area. They are directed to the many places of interest, both local and throughout the Upper Peninsula, with the hope that their visit to Marquette has been wholly rewarding.

Not only has the Marquette County Historical Society entertained hundreds of visitors already this summer, but an unusual number of researchers as well. During the first months of the school year quite a few high school students came to the society seeking material on local history for talks or papers. Northern Michigan University was well represented by a number of students. The only regret of these students is that they give to the society a copy of their term papers. As in past years, many excellent historical papers have been prepared.

To Miss Mary Pelissier the society is indebted for her research and paper covering "The Charcoal Industry in the Marquette Area." covering the production of charcoal for use in the early forges and blast furnaces. Miss Veronica Garceau prepared an unusually interesting paper, "Historical Importance of My Street," writing on the business activities of Superior St., long before its name was changed to Baraga Ave. The "Marquette Branch Prison" was thoroughly covered by Robert S. Montague, who prepared a rather comprehensive article on this institution from its inception by the Legislature in 1885 until the present day. Waino Luha wrote on the "History of Iron Ore Deposits" in the Marquette area, somewhat brief, but nevertheless of value and importance for future researchers.

Among these outstanding papers was one by Michael Jay Cory, who chose "The Roots of Culture" as his subject. He brings out the fact that the pioneers and early settlers of the region were people of culture. He wrote, "It is these people, the brave foresighted pioneers, who have given Marquette its character and have been responsible for its growth and success." Ray Johnson went a bit farther to prepare an excellent article, "The Pictured Rocks," relating that the first white man to see this remarkable formation was Pierre Radisson in 1638. Last, but not least, Conway Kenneth Fellow of the WDMJ radio staff selected for his subject, "An Early History of the Michigan School for the Blind," gathering together under one cover much material on the establishment of this important institution at Lansing. Fellow has just received his B. A. from Northern, and it is understood that he will shortly retire as a radio announcer and enter the educational field. During June Herbert Brink, a graduate student at the University of Michigan, spent quite a number of days in the Longyear Research Library collecting material on Marquette's foremost citizen, Peter White, the subject of his doctorate thesis.

Not only have these students taken advantage of the resources of the Longyear Collection, but other others in the educational field and in other cultural pursuits have enjoyed the use of this collection.

Time Running Out For Duvalier

BY JAMES MARLOWE
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — In Louisiana there's an old saying: "God hates ugly." It means you'll get yours in time, if you're a heel or you hurt people. Yet Francois (Papa Doc) Duvalier, who isn't pretty, is still Haiti's dictator.

But time is running out. He's had trouble aplenty. He's made plenty. Monday before dawn about 800 exiled Haitian officers and soldiers reportedly landed and started an invasion of this island which Columbus liked.

It is his flop, Duvalier can expect something else. His opposition within Haiti has been chopped to pieces by mass arrests, exile, murder and political blackmail. He's too hated to sleep well.

Last month young rebels fought his regime in the mountains until they were crushed. He had a crisis in April with an Army plot against him. It failed. But his Army suffered 700 officers fled.

He doesn't trust his army, about 5,000 men trained mainly in police work. He has his own militia, the dreaded Ton-Ton Macoutes (Creole for bogymen). He had a crisis with the United States too.

Negro-Mulatto Bitterness
He was elected in 1957, supposedly for seven years, not because he was loved but because Haiti's Negro masses had to choose between Duvalier, a Negro, and a white man, the worst in the country. The bitterness between Negroes, mostly illiterate, and the better-educated mulattoes goes back almost to the beginning of the country.

But when his term was up May 15, he decided to stay a few years more. He claimed that an election two years ago legally extended his rule. This country was self-extended anyway for having supported this dictator. He was in Latin America's best diplomatic relations with him. This was an empty gesture.

He crushed his opponents and kept office. Then, even though the State Department said he had imposed a reign of terror, it resumed relations with him June 3.

But Duvalier pulled Uncle Sam's whiskers, a popular tactic in Haiti which remembers that U. S. Marines occupied the country from 1915 to 1934. Duvalier demanded that Ambassador Raymond L. Thurston be withdrawn. The United States withdrew him.

Duvalier had had trouble with the United States before that. Last March he threw out Marine Col. Robert Heintz, former boss of the U. S. Military mission in Haiti.

Heintz angered Duvalier a year ago by writing a letter — which leaked out — by army chief of staff Col. Jean Rene Boucaut. Heintz allegedly deplored Duvalier's downgrading of the regular army in favor of a civilian militia and demanded that the militia be dissolved. It wasn't.

Finances Suffering
Duvalier began a purge that ousted or exiled almost all his pro-U. S. officers. He got even tougher. He ordered the U. S. Navy and Air Force to leave Haiti. He said he left July 26. Remaining in Port au Prince are only the U. S. military attaché, Major John Warren, and seven Marine guards.

The country is in bad shape. Its finances are suffering. Government employees are discontented with their pay cut.

Private and public investment has disappeared in the past two years. So has tourism, which produced roughly $8 million a year, about a quarter of the national budget. American dollar aid has been withdrawn. Beggars are everywhere.

300 To Square Mile
Haiti's 4 million people, in a country the size of Maryland, live 300 to a square mile. Columbus called the island — now divided into Haiti and the Dominican Republic — Hispaniola. But Haiti, the Indian word for Place of Mountains, stuck. Columbus loved the simple, gentle Indians he found there. He said "they love their neighbors as themselves."

Within 30 years most of the Indians were dead. When the Spaniards moved out, the French moved in. So did pirates, and Haiti was used as an unloading wharf for slaves from Africa.

In 1804 the slaves rose up, killed or drove out the whites, set up their own government, and chose an illiterate slave who had led them, Jean Jacques Dessalines, governor for life. He had his own self-owned emperor, said, "I, only I, am noble."

Bloody History Of Dictatorship
The island has had a bloody history of dictatorship, with very few good intervals, ever since.

The National Whirligig

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's proposal for new immigration legislation threatens to make sense out of a snobbish, wasteful and outmoded law dating back to 1924 when Americans were suspicious of any foreigner who did not come from northwestern Europe.

Kennedy is seeking to abolish the boorish "national origins" system of selecting immigrants on the basis of the ethnic composition of the United States in 1920. When the nation was predominantly white Anglo-Saxon Protestant. This would be accomplished gradually, over a five-year period, with existing national quotas reduced by 20 per cent yearly and the quota numbers salvaged from this cut going into a reserve pool for redistribution according to the new system.

News Behind The News

Today, Italians and Greeks are forced to wait for years for an immigration visa. And yet Great Britain and Ireland between them sent to the U. S. only 28,218 of the 83,117 immigrants allotted them in fiscal 1962.

Under Kennedy's plan, priority would be given to Uncle Sam's best interest in accepting immigrants. First call would go to those with exceptional skills, training or education, who could be expected to contribute to the nation's economy. Second on the list would be those persons related to individuals already in the U. S., and then the quota would be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

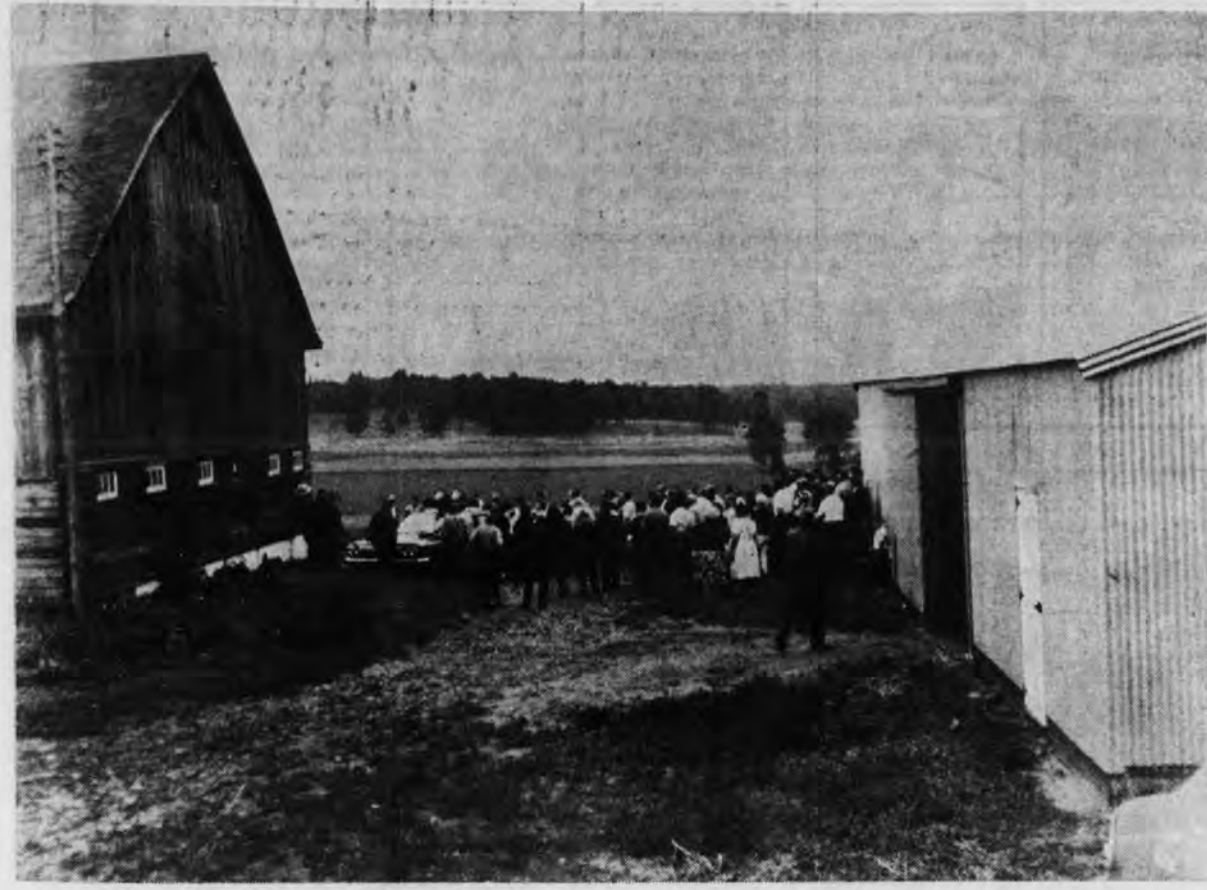

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, predicted at a National Press Club luncheon the other day that, in five years, large nuclear plants will be producing electricity as cheaply as that generated by any other source in areas such as New England.

How good a prophet Seaborg is, only time will tell. But he should be given the benefit of the doubt. If we must spend millions in New England, it looks like a much better gamble to bet on nuclear power than on that old dream to harness the Bay of Fundy, which Secretary of the Interior Udall has just revived. — Milwaukee Sentinel

DISCOMBOLATING, ISN'T IT?
We've only recently become aware, or fairly so, to that recent product of the Pentagon word mill — use of the word "escalate" as a verb to convey the idea of moving from a lower to a higher plane or category. Thus, a Cuban crisis is escalated into a nuclear threat or a Sino-Soviet tiff into a Marxist rupture, and so forth. And now comes the latest creation of Pentagon lexicographers — deprojectmanagized.

This little gem was dropped into the laps of the capital's newsmen during a briefing by a general on operations of the Army materiel command. When the command sets up a project, he said it appoints a project manager to supervise it. And when his task is finished — phased out would be more typical Pentagonese — then the project is deprojectmanagized.

Now that's what we call real escalation, wordwise. — Toledo Blade

This is part of the crowd of hundreds on the fourth annual Upper Peninsula Farm Management Tour on its visit to the Iver Alfredson Farm at Waucedah. The visitors looked to the rolling fields beyond, strip cropped with alfalfa, corn and oats for the farm's dairy operation. An old dairy barn, renovated and enlarged, is at left, and at right is a new pole type free span machine shed.

Alfredson Family Created Good Life Farm In U.P.

By JEAN WORTH
Journal Special Correspondence

WAUCEDAH — Michigan State University farm specialists picked out the Iver Alfredson farm here in Dickinson County as one of the show places on the recent 4th annual Upper Peninsula Farm Tour.

The farm isn't an "agricultural plant of the future" sort of thing. Why was it picked as an example of good Upper Peninsula farming? Created Good Life.

Presumably because Iver Alfredson and his wife, Ella, and their children have created a good life there. The hundreds of persons on the farm tour were impressed that this was true.

There's a new (1954) home on the farm and a new silo, a barn cleaner and some new sheds, but the farm plan is not spanking new. Rather, it is an example of adaptation of old buildings to better usage, and that goes for the farm fields, too.

Covers 330 Acres

The crowd which assembled on the farm tour stood between the dairy barn and a new machine shed and looked down a long, hillside across strip crops of oats, alfalfa and corn. The farm has 330 acres, 174 of them cleared, and where there's forest Alfredson is managing it as a tree farm.

"You can't always afford new buildings," he said, "so he's renovated the old ones. He has a herd of 35 milking cows and he doesn't plan to make it any bigger. A few years ago most American dairymen tried to hedge every expense increase or income drop by adding a few cows to the herd, but this gimmick, applied nationally, only enlarged the dairy industry's problem of surplus.

Big Machinery Investment
"I don't think so," said Alfredson when asked about herd increase. "Just better cows," he said.

He's got a big investment in farm machinery. "If it wasn't for FHA (Farm Home Administration — a federal government loan agency) I couldn't be here," he said. "I use some short term credit, too."

Amazingly Productive

The Upper Peninsula has lost a lot of its farms, as has the nation. There isn't the need for as many farms, because the good ones have become so amazingly productive. But America still needs farms and is in the economic process of wringing out the poor ones by making them unprofitable. Survival in farming requires sharp management and a considerable investment, and even then the return for labor and investment won't be as large as in some other businesses, but this is a good way of life for persons who like its freedom and challenges.

Alfredson's father, Carl Oscar Alfredson, was born in Varmland, Sweden, and came to the United States when he was 18. He lived with an uncle in Iron Mountain, worked in the woods and in the mines. His son, Iver, was born in Iron Mountain. The father bought a little farm and moved his family onto it when Iver was 7. There were seven children in the family, and the mother, too, had come from Varmland. Her maiden name was Anna Anderson, and she came to America when she was three years old.

Still Clearing Land

Iver wed Ella Van Pembroke of Aurora, Florence County, Wis., who was raised on a farm there. They settled on a small farm near Aurora and in 1956 bought the farm they're on now. It was opened by a man named Berg who cleared only five acres and built a house and barn. John Karpinsky was the next owner. He raised a family there and did most of the clearing.

Iver Alfredson still is clearing. He and his wife are raising a family of five there. Gerald is in his second year at Michigan State University. Judy, 18, has another year in high school. Joyce is 10, Carl 5 and Elliott 3.

Iver Alfredson will be 52 in September. He laughed as much as anyone when MSU Farm Economist Rick Hartwig of Marquette told the farm tourists about the farmer who had a cow which limped sometimes. He asked a vet what to do about it and the veterinarian said, "The next time she walks natural, sell her."

Romney Gets GOP Views On Finances

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—The "moment of truth" was near today for Gov. George Romney's hopes of achieving fiscal reform for Michigan, including a possible state income tax.

Romney, who has been discussing Michigan's financial picture with legislators for the past several weeks, plunges into his final three days of talks this afternoon at the Governor's Summer residence on Mackinac Island.

But this time, key Republican lawmakers will make up the discussion group — members of the powerful house and senate taxation committees, floor leaders, caucus chairmen and the speaker of the house.

GOP Views

Romney told newsmen he wants to get the views of the GOP leaders on what kind of program they favor for meeting the state's present and long-range financial needs.

The purported need for an increase in taxes is reflected in Romney's estimate that Michigan's current $550 million general fund budget will have to be increased to at least $610 million in the 1964-65 fiscal year to maintain state services for an expanding population.

Democrats contend, however, that Romney's estimate is too low and the budget should be increased to at least $642 million, with the state taking on a larger share of public education costs.

Pointed Advice

Although Romney isn't saying so, political observers are virtually agreed that in the next three days the Governor will get some pointed advice on how far he can go in proposing new taxes to the special session next month without risking defeat.

Romney emerged from his second day of talks with Democratic lawmakers in Detroit Tuesday, and told reporters he was "very much encouraged" by what he said were indications of a willingness to cooperate.

The Governor said the discussions centered around three approaches—local option taxes, new state taxes with an accompanying increase in state aid to local governments, or a combination of the two.

'Hodge-Podge'

Democrats said Romney told the closed-door meeting that the program he presents to the Legislature will contain specific proposals.

The Democrats have taken a caucus position opposing any tax program that will allow what they term a "hodge-podge" of city income taxes, indicating that they would prefer a statewide income tax—if such proves necessary.

State 'Ag' Body Slates U.P. Meeting

ESCANABA — The five-member State Agricultural Commission, which establishes the policies of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, will hold its August meeting here next Monday and Tuesday in the City-State Building. Interested persons are welcome.

The Monday session will begin at 4 p.m., following a 1 p.m. meeting that will be attended by commissioners regarding the necessity for use of the seal of quality on Michigan potatoes. The meeting on Tuesday will convene at 9 a.m., with time out for a 12:30 p.m. luncheon at the Sherman hotel with agricultural leaders of the area.

To Go To Fair

The agenda may be concluded early enough Tuesday so as to permit commissioners to go on a tour of points of agricultural interest in nearby sections of the Upper Peninsula. The following day is the Governor's luncheon at the Upper Peninsula State Fair.

The current commission is made up of Edward J. Wright, Saginaw Guernsey cattle breeder, chairman; R. K. Stout, Marshall Jersey cattle breeder, vice chairman; Mrs. Kay D. Slek of Iron Mountain, representing consumers, secretary; Archie M. Murphy, East Jordan dairyman; and Blaque C. Kairk, Quincy livestock farmer.

Members of the commission are appointed for six-year staggered terms by the Governor, subject to Senate confirmation. Under the law the political division of the membership must be as even as possible, and one member must be from the Upper Peninsula.

The duties of the Michigan Department of Agriculture are many and varied. The department enforces more than 100 laws and an almost equal number of regulations.

Many of these are in the area of consumer protection. Few state agencies affect the daily lives of as many citizens as does this department. Division within the dairy, finance, foods and standards, laboratory, livestock disease control, and plant industry.

Responsibilities Cited

Some of the responsibilities of the department are fruit and vegetable inspection; the certification of nursery stock; the accuracy of weighing and measuring devices; testing the purity and vitality of seeds; the wholesomeness of food and drink; enforcement of pure food laws; egg and poultry grading; the testing of feeds, fertilizers, pesticides and other economic poisons; and prevention of the spread of animal or plant pests or diseases.

City KCs Host Area-Wide Initiation

Over 50 persons took part in the area-wide initiation for first degree Knights of Columbus, at an event hosted by the Marquette Council of the KCs.

Councils represented at the program, conducted in the KC Hall here, were Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee and Newberry. Each had candidates inducted into the order.

The Marquette Council first degree team, headed by Wayne Balmes, was in charge of the initiation. Members of the team included Paul Riopelle, Walter Hackett, Leo Fleury, John B. Dorais, Thomas Musolf, Edward Beaudry, Conrad Murk, Dale Wilson and George Shorkey.

Named After LaHaie

The event was part of a statewide initiation conducted in honor of State Deputy John LaHaie of St. Ignace, a frequent visitor to Marquette for KC events.

Thomas Brennan of Newberry, the KC's membership chairman for the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, made the arrangements for the session.

Riopelle, who is district KC deputy, was in charge of local arrangements.

Shooting Stars Flash August Skies

ANN ARBOR — In August a star-gazer's eyes turn to shooting stars.

The meteors, most of them no larger than the head of a pin, will be darting across the August night skies at a higher rate than at any other time of the year, says University of Michigan Astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

They will reach their peak in the early morning hours of Aug. 12 when as many as one per minute may be detected.

A flashing meteor looks as bright as the North Star because of its high-speed entry into the earth's atmosphere — probably around 40 miles per second, Prof. Losh explains.

Meteors, mostly pieces of iron and stone, become visible only when they plunge into the earth's atmosphere, and the resulting friction sets them burning. Most meteors never reach the earth.

Intersect At 10 P.M.

"Although they may appear in any part of the sky, their paths, when traced back, seem to intersect in the northern where the constellation of Perseus rises around 10 p.m.," says Prof. Losh. "Hence they are called Perseid meteors."

"The best time to look for shooting stars is after midnight when we are on the forward side of the earth in its revolution and are exposed to those incoming meteors."

"The Perseids have often been called the 'Tears of St. Lawrence', because his feast falls on Aug. 10. Today we know that comets and meteors are related. What created comets is not known, but because there are comets we have meteors."

U-M Professor Speaks To Venezuelan Students

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Prof. Albert Wheeler, a professor of bacteriology at the University of Michigan, told 14 student leaders from Venezuela recently that the civil rights issue in the United States is just one of the problems of a democratic society. He said that in a few years it will be completely solved.

Pipe Champion Wins On 16th Anniversary

FLINT (AP) — On the same day John Toler, 36, of Flint, celebrated his 16th wedding anniversary, won the world's pipe smoking championship.

Toler kept his pipe going for one hour 26 minutes and 2 seconds in winning the contest of the 15th annual convention of the International Association of Pipe Smokers Clubs Saturday.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Pursuant to the requirements of Act 143, Public Acts of 1959, notice is hereby given that on August 21, 1963 at 1:00 p.m. in the City Council Chambers, City Hall, at Negaunee, Michigan, a public hearing will be held by the Water Resources Commission on the application of The Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company, operating agent for Empire Mining Company, for a permit to divert that quantity of water which is made available by a reservoir on Schweitzer Creek that is dammed in Sec. 2, T. 46 N., R. 27 W., excepting for a minimum flow of 1,400 gallons per minute to be maintained in Schweitzer Creek at the U. S. Geological Survey gaging station in Sec. 1, T. 46 N., R. 27 W.; said diverted water to be used in the beneficiation of low grade iron ores.

The Commission may grant the permit upon finding the following conditions: (1) That the proposed diversion of water is necessary for the mining of substantial deposits of low grade iron ore and that other feasible and economical methods of obtaining a continuing supply of water therefor are not available to the applicant; (2) That the proposed diversion of waters will not unreasonably impair the interest of the public or riparians in lands or waters of beneficial public use thereof, and will not endanger public health or safety; (3) That the proposed diversion of waters will not unreasonably impair the interest of the public or riparians in lands or waters of beneficial public use thereof, and will not endanger public health or safety; (4) That the proposed diversion of waters will not unreasonably impair the interest of the public or riparians in lands or waters of beneficial public use thereof, and will not endanger public health or safety.

ROBERT W. FREDRIKSON

New L'Anse Superintendent Trying To Fill 6 Vacancies

L'ANSE — Robert W. Fredrikson, L'Anse's new superintendent of schools who arrived here Aug. 1, already is up to his neck in work.

Tackling the first — and perhaps the toughest immediate job — he's seeking to fill the six vacancies on the L'Anse faculty. They are second, third, fifth and sixth grade teachers, junior high and athletic coach, and high school English teacher.

Full of enthusiasm for his new position, Fredrikson, 36, views the job as a real challenge. "I want to get thoroughly acquainted here and look at the problems of the district objectively before I begin making any recommendations," he said.

Began Downstate

Fredrikson came to L'Anse from the Inland Lakes Consolidated School District at Indian River, Mich., where he had just completed his first year as superintendent.

During his term as superintendent at Inland Lakes, a successful millage issue to bond the school district for $325,000 to build additions to both the elementary and high schools was passed. In addition, Fredrikson was involved in annexation of several primary districts to the Inland Lakes district and in the implementation of a special education program for county students, which is to be taught at Inland Lakes High.

A native of Rook, Fredrikson is a 1954 graduate of Northern Michigan University. He received his master's degree in school administration from Michigan State University and is working toward an educational specialist degree from MSU.

Began Teaching In 1954

He began his academic career as a commercial instructor at the Kingsley area schools, where he taught all the business education courses in 1954 and 1955. The following year he was named principal and served in that capacity until 1960. Fredrikson accepted the post of high school principal at Inland Lakes in 1960, was elevated to the post of assistant superintendent and principal the following year and in 1962 was named superintendent.

Fredrikson was selected by a unanimous vote of the L'Anse Township Board of Education last June from a field of 14 applicants to fill the post vacated July 1 by C. J. Sullivan, who retired after serving 26 years as superintendent of schools.

Fredrikson said he feels that more emphasis should be placed

Man Held On Check Charge; Jail Inmate Gets New Term

L'ANSE — L'Anse Justice Steven P. Markovich collected fines and court costs amounting to $73.40 from five persons, sent another to jail for 20 days, while a seventh was bound over to the next term of Baraga County Circuit Court.

Paul C. Fulk, 48, Magnolia, N. J., charged with attempting to defraud, was bound over to the September term of circuit court after waiving preliminary examination. The complaint, signed by a L'Anse motel operator, stated that Fulk feloniously issued a check for $15, written on the First National Bank of Camden, N. Y., in which he has no account or credit.

State police here said Fulk was apprehended by troopers from Gladstone Monday afternoon and was brought back to Baraga County yesterday by Sheriff Harold Heikkinen.

Fulk is being held in Baraga County jail until he is able to post $500 cash bond.

Albert Dahlstrom, 61, L'Anse, charged with walking away from an inmate work project, was sentenced to serve an additional 20 days in the county jail. Dahlstrom, originally given a 10-day term on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, drew a mandatory double sentence for the walkaway. He had only three days of the original 10-day sentence to complete when he walked off the job.

Charged with resisting arrest and being drunk and disorderly, John Erickson, 18, Skanee, was ordered to pay a $25 fine plus $8-20 court costs or spend 30 days in the county jail. Erickson ran away from sheriff's officers who arrested him Saturday night at a L'Anse tavern for being drunk and disorderly. He was apprehended at his home Sunday and held in jail here until his arraignment Monday morning.

Martin C. Curtis, 20, Pequaming, charged as a minor in possession of beer, paid a $10 fine and $4.30 court costs. He was arrested by state police in L'Anse.

Ticketed by village officers for violation of the basic speed law on Broad St. in L'Anse, Donald Perrow, 23, L'Anse, was fined $5 and $4.30. An identical fine and costs were paid by Patrick R. Field, 18, L'Anse, who received a summons from state police for violation of the basic speed law (too fast for conditions) following an auto accident late last month.

Ticketed by state police for making an improper right hand turn from L'Anse Ave. onto U. S. 41, Guy C. Whaley, 61, L'Anse, paid a $3 fine plus $4.30 court costs.

providing comprehensive vocational training in the schools, which will prepare students who do not plan to go on to higher education for skilled and semi-skilled jobs.

"In this field, our objective should be to provide more than just run-of-the-mill shop courses — we ought to be able to offer training which will enable boys and girls to go out after graduation and get a decent job," he explained.

Notes Over-Emphasis

He also noted that, in his opinion, there has been an over-emphasis in recent years on science and math, with a resultant neglect of other academic subjects such as English, social studies and languages.

He spoke glowingly of results achieved at Inland Lakes in the field of adult education, where classes were offered in metal shop, machine shop, drafting, a variety of business, and stenographic courses and foreign languages.

Vessel Freight Rates Cut, Oliver Revises Ore Prices

DULUTH, Minn. — Oliver Iron Mining Division today announced that, because of the 10-cent decrease in lake vessel freight rates from $2 to $1.90 from head of Lake Superior to lower lake ports, it has revised its schedule of ore prices, effective Aug. 1.

Christian F. Beukema, president of the United States Steel mining division, said, "Deliveries of prior sales subsequent to Aug. 1 and additional 1963 sales of ore for current or 1964 delivery will be made in accordance with the modified price schedules."

Beukema said the decrease in vessel freight rate is comparable to an equal decrease in the Lake Erie base price of iron ore. The new price schedules do not affect upper lakes port or mine prices for standard base ores of 51.50 percent natural iron content in effect since 1962.

All of Oliver's customers for ores delivered at mine, upper lake ports and lower lake ports have been advised of the change in price schedules.

Lightning Bolt Kills Pontiac Man Near Michigamme Beach

MICHIGAMME — A bolt of lightning struck and instantly killed a Pontiac man vacationing on Lake Michigamme shortly after 9 p.m. Tuesday.

When the bolt struck, Warren Felix Cloutier, 49, the victim, was standing with his brother, DeWard, 39, also of Pontiac in front of their tent during the severe electrical storm which lashed Baraga and Marquette Counties last night. The two had pitched their tent at the base of a 70-foot poplar tree in the camping area on Michigamme Beach, located on the west end of the lake in Surr Township, Baraga County, earlier in the day. The bolt which killed Warren Cloutier also struck the base of the tree, Marquette state police who investigated reported.

The younger Cloutier, stunned by the bolt, sought help from another camping party in the area. State police were called at 9:40 p.m.

DeWard Cloutier was taken to Bell Memorial Hospital, Ishpeming for observation.

Dr. Paul Van Riper, Champion, pronounced the older brother dead. The body was taken to the Bjork & Zhulkie Funeral Home and was to be sent to Pontiac today.

26 Take Part In Negaunee Debate Work

NEGAUNEE — As a supplementary education program, Negaunee High School this week is conducting a summer debate workshop with the course including work on debate theory, logic and reasoning, informational research techniques, organization and development of speeches, and oral communication skills.

Part of the research time by the 26 students taking part is being spent in the Negaunee Public Library in order to create a greater student awareness of the scope of the facility. The workshop will culminate in a practice tournament consisting of four rounds, with participants receiving individual critiques.

Miss Berlyene Miller, workshop director, has arranged for a negative team composed of Diane Collins and Kristine Sunne to represent Negaunee High in an exhibition debate at Marquette against a team from the Northern Michigan University high school debate workshop.

Debate topic for the 1963-64 school year in the State of Michigan is "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Provide Essential Medical Care for All Citizens at Public Expense."

Assisting Miss Miller with the workshop is Stephen Adami, a former Negaunee High debater. Evaluators for the practice tourney session on Friday, in addition to Miss Miller and Adami, will be Miss Susan Richards, Miss Sherrill Yelland, Thomas Baldini and David Lindstrom.

Summer Swimming Program In Negaunee Ends Next Week

NEGAUNEE — Next week will mark the close of the summer swimming program — sponsored jointly this year by the City of Negaunee and Negaunee public schools — Director Marshall Phillips disclosed in his July activities report submitted yesterday to City Manager Leonard Harris.

Phillips revealed that final trips to Van Riper State Park on Lake Michigan will be made Tuesday and Thursday with youngsters spending all day at Champion Beach on both days.

With ideal weather prevailing for the 1963 program, attendance has resulted in two bus loads of non-swimmers and one of swimmers being transported to Champhion Beach each week. "Cooperation and conduct of the youngsters, both in the buses and while at the beach, has been excellent," Phillips said.

Highlighting Youth Center activities in July was a record hop held with the cooperation of Radio Station WJPD, Ishpeming, for the benefit of Bay Cliff Health Camp.

Proceeds totaled $100, which will be turned over to Bay Cliff officials. Plans are now being made by the Youth Center governing board for a series of fall dances. Canteen receipts for the month were $324.29 and an additional at 2:30 Tuesday morning. Because of the amount of equipment involved, an estimate of the loss was not immediately available.

$183.25 was taken in at the door. Both amounts were deposited in the city treasury.

Playing cards were donated for the old timers room by Frank Matthews Sr. During July 3,395 youngsters attended Youth Center activities, bringing the total attendance to date for 1963 to 20,168.

Storm Hits L'Anse Area

L'ANSE-BARAGA — A severe squall flayed the towns of L'Anse and Baraga and the surrounding area early last night, dumping approximately one-third of an inch of rain on the area within 10 minutes. Power was knocked out in both villages for a short period, and outlying areas were without electricity while village crews worked to repair damaged lines. A number of trees were broken or blown down, but no major damage was reported.

More Than 500 Families To Attend Picnic Sunday

NEGAUNEE — Arrangements have been completed for the third annual Negaunee Township community picnic, to be held Sunday, Aug. 11, at the Township Community Center.

Mrs. Laila Rivers, publicity chairman for the Community Center board of directors, sponsoring group, announced today that replies from registration cards mailed out by the board about three weeks ago indicate that more than 500 township families will be on hand for the event. The cards will be used to register guests as they arrive. Mrs. Sigrid Uitto and Mrs. Pearl Gramlund will be in charge of registration.

Persons planning to attend are reminded by Mrs. Rivers that the chicken barbecue dinner will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Residents are asked to enter the building on arriving and sign the registers, at which time they will receive their dinner tickets.

The program will include greetings from township officials, a softball game, horseshoes and musical entertainment. Playground facilities will be available for smaller children.

Tigers Set AL Record; Have Played 11 Games In Row Without Error

DETROIT (AP)—Plus factors have been so much of a novelty for the Tigers this season that their own achievements sometimes astonish them.

"Really? That's amazing," said wide-eyed Al Kaline Tuesday night when informed the Tigers had just set an American League record by playing 11 straight games without an error.

No Idea

"I had no idea 11 games would be the record," seconded General Manager Jim Campbell. "I thought it would be more."

Establishing a league longevity record for perfect fielding was one plus factor in the Tigers' 10-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. There were plenty more in a rare 1-0-for-1963 display of prowess.

1. Frank Lary pitched his sixth strong game since coming back from the minors and for a change was the winner.

2. The Tigers banged out 16 hits. 3. Every Tiger in the lineup had at least one hit.

4. George Smith, the newest Tiger, had two doubles and a triple and three runs batted in in his second major league game.

5. Rocky Colavito hit a home run.

6. The Tigers finally executed a squeeze play.

The 11 games without an error also equaled the major league record set in 1953 by Cincinnati. Baltimore's club of last year held the old American League standard of 10. Detroit has won only six of the 11 games in the errorless streak.

"I think Dick McAuliffe's play at shortstop is the big reason for it," said Kaline, who rates as the league's top fielding outfielder. "He's tightened up the whole infield."

Gave Up Nine

Lary matching last year's output of two victories, gave up nine hits, but pitched out of trouble in all but the third inning. He's pitched 46 innings since his return to the majors and has given up only 13 runs — an earned run average of 2.54.

Doubles by Smith featured two and three-run rallies by the Tigers in the fourth and fifth innings. He drove in a run with a triple in the seventh.

Hot Streak

Colavito, on a hot streak in his last six games, belted a two-run homer — his 16th — in the eighth and singled in a run in the first.

Lary executed the perfectly placed suicide squeeze bunt with Smith racing in from third in the fifth. The pitcher also had two singles and two RBI. Bill Freehan singled three times.

The Tigers go after the major league errorless mark today in an encore with the lumping Red Sox. Jim Bunning (8-11) was to pitch for Detroit against Chet Nichols (1-1).

Rain Spoils District Tourney Tilts

District Softball Tournament play went into its second night last evening, with several games interrupted by rain.

In Class A action at the Negaunee playgrounds last night, the game between Marquette Casino and Joe's Bar was called after 3 1/2 innings due to torrential rain. The Casino team led, 5-4 at that point, and the remainder of the game will be played tonight at the Playgrounds, beginning at 6.

Lead Lost

In the second game of the night at Negaunee playgrounds, the South Marquette Merchants lost a 2-1 lead they had held into the third inning, to lose to the Happy Hour Bar of Gwin by a final score of 5-1.

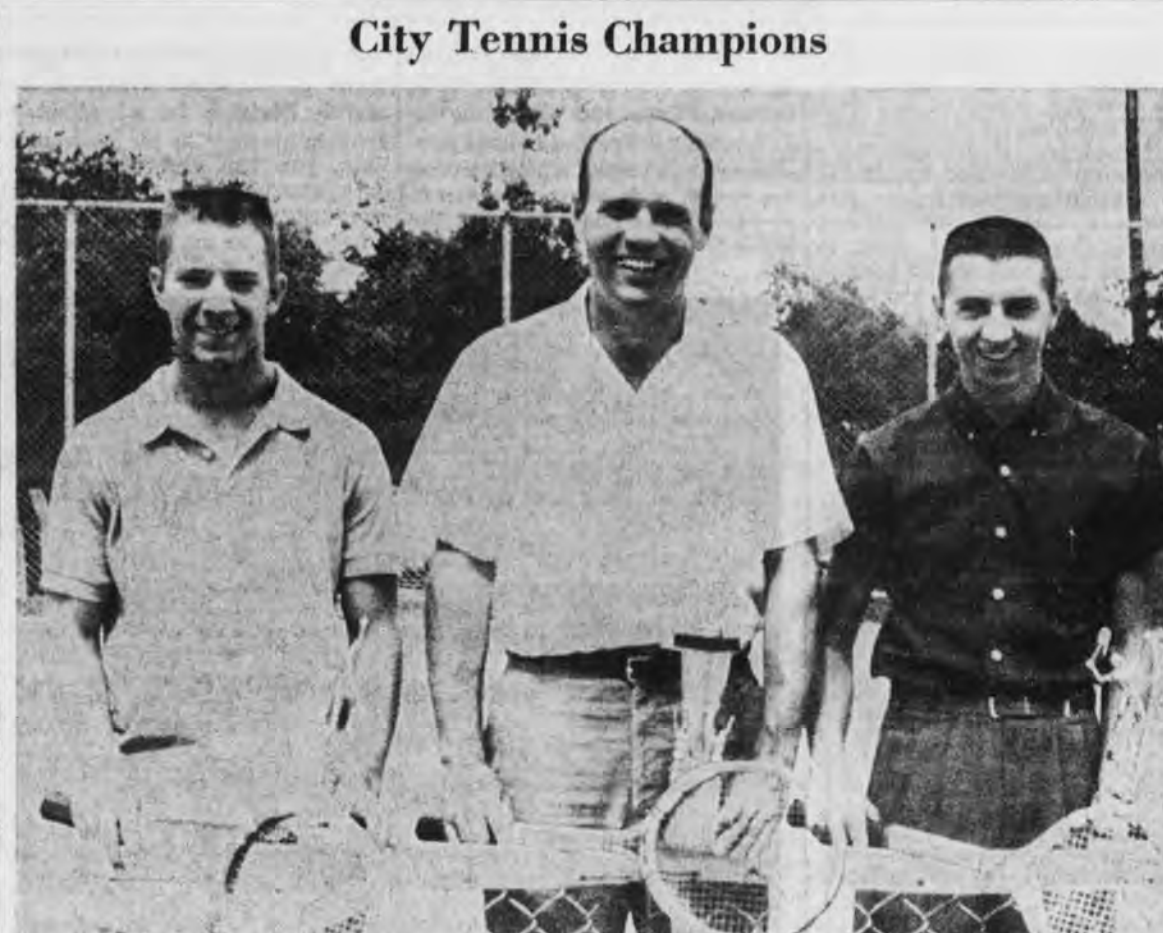

The winners rallied in the third inning to bring in three runs on two walks and a wild pitch. The game was clinched for Happy Hour in the fifth by a run brought in on a walk and two singles. The Merchants attempted to regain the lead in the seventh, scoring one run, but the runner who would have tied the game had he come in failed to beat out a throw and was caught for the final out.

In the first Loser's Bracket game at LaCombe Field in Negaunee, Eben Bosch defeated Herb's Flyers, 4-0, despite the losers' greater hitting collection. Herb's accumulated six hits, but failed to turn any of them into runs, while the winners made all four of their hits count. Harold Johnson took the win.

Rain interrupted the second game at LaCombe between Munising K of C and Munising Dreyer's after four innings of play. An 8-8 tie existed as the game was broken up, and the contest will be played to its finish in Munising.

Class B and C action at Hurley Field in Marquette last night saw to more than four runs.

Chatham appeared to have the game well in hand from the beginning in the second contest at Hurley, gaining five runs in the first inning to Beau Chateau's effort which produced two runs. Rain again interrupted play, and the game will have to be finished at a later date.

Northern Michigan Golf Open Begins Saturday For 200 Sawyer Chiefs Win In Sunday's LSL Semi-Finals

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—The 25th annual Northern Michigan Open, a 36-hole medal play tournament, will be played Saturday and Sunday at the Cheboygan Golf and Country Club with nearly 200 pros and amateurs from across the state shooting for the top prize.

If the event is won by a professional, he'll be awarded $175. Compete For Equipment

Myrt Riggs, the tournament chairman, said amateurs in the event will be competing for more than $1,000 worth of prizes, mostly golf equipment.

Riggs said the tournament committee also will supply each golfer with a steak dinner.

Mickey McMillen, an amateur from Midland, will be seeking his third straight Northern Michigan Open championship at par 36-36-72 Cheboygan CC.

Eddie Karcheski, a Traverse City pro, will be shooting for his sixth championship.

In the Lake Superior League semi-finals Sunday night, the Chiefs of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base defeated Republic, 12-4 in a game that was slow to show any definite scoring trends.

Republic scored first on a solo homer by C. Hendrickson in the second inning, and the Chiefs responded by tying the score in their turn at bat. Republic led again in the fifth, 3-1, until the Chiefs once more tipped the score in their favor, 4-3. From that point on, the Chiefs added more runs with each inning, putting the game out of reach.

With Marquette's victory over the Commanders on Sunday, the semi-finals were closed, and the championship game remains to be played, between Marquette and the Chiefs. Due to their trip to Carswell Air Force Base in Texas to play in the 2nd Air Force championships, the Chiefs will postpone the Lake Superior League playoff game until their return.

Federal Boxing Commission Need Voiced By Lane

SACINAW (AP)—Lightweight boxer Kenny Lane advocates establishment of a federal boxing commission in order to get rid of what he calls evils in the sport.

Lane, Muskegon veteran in training here for his Aug. 19 bout with Paulie Armstead of Los Angeles, said Saturday control of boxing must be taken away from "unethical promoters and managers." He said a federal commission also could protect against undercover deals.

Lane said boxing needs more men like Michigan's commissioner Dave Gudelsky and promoters Julius Piazza and Hank Steinert and his own trainers, Pete Petrosky and Charlie Rodriguez.

Adrian squeezed past Flint, 3-1, then blasted Escanaba, 16-9, in the second round.

Flint eliminated Ludington with an 11-5 victory in the other second round game of the double elimination tournament.

Senate Adopts Olympics Sites Resolutions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today endorsed Tuesday resolutions asking that the 1968 Olympic Games be held in the United States.

It adopted two resolutions to give government sanction to prospective invitations by the U. S. Olympic Committee to 1. hold the principal games in 1968 at Detroit and 2. stage the winter games at Lake Placid, N. Y.

The second resolution now goes to the White House. It has already been adopted by the House.

called more than five or six all last season.

Plum said his limited use of the checkoff—changing a play after the team lines up and sees how the defense is deployed—was because he was afraid he'd confuse some of his teammates.

Garner Takes Lead In Seniors Meet

DETROIT (AP)—George Garner of Detroit fired a four-over par 72 on the south course of the Detroit Golf Club and took the lead in the Michigan Seniors golf championship Tuesday.

Defending champion George Haggarty, who won the Seniors' spring event, and Dr. Donald Jaffar registered 78s, six over par on the north course.

Following the meeting, all candidates will receive physical examinations in the offices of Dr. Archie Narotzky and Dr. James Tobin. Dr. Narotzky served as the team doctor for the 1962 football campaign.

The candidates are asked to bring money to cover the insurance fees. If players do not wish to be covered by the High School insurance, they must bring a written statement from their parents before they can begin practice.

Coach Marana will be aided by assistant coach Edward Koski, Junior varsity coaches are Duane Phillips and William Voelz.

Ishpeming Grid Prospects To Meet Saturday

ISHPEMING — Bruno Marana, football coach at Ishpeming High School, announced yesterday that all candidates for the varsity and junior varsity football squads are to meet Saturday at 9 a.m. in the alcove of the High School Gymnasium.

Following the meeting, all candidates will receive physical examinations in the offices of Dr. Archie Narotzky and Dr. James Tobin. Dr. Narotzky served as the team doctor for the 1962 football campaign.

The candidates are asked to bring money to cover the insurance fees. If players do not wish to be covered by the High School insurance, they must bring a written statement from their parents before they can begin practice.

Coach Marana will be aided by assistant coach Edward Koski, Junior varsity coaches are Duane Phillips and William Voelz.

Plum Plans To Add One TD Per Game; Will Use Checkoff

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (AP)—Milt Plum's goal is to get the Lions one more touchdown per game—and he figures he can help achieve it by changing his mind more often.

The Detroit quarterback, who calls every play and handles the ball each time, believes his newness to the team lines up and sees how the defense is deployed—was because he was afraid he'd confuse some of his teammates.

Not Much Time

"We didn't have much time to work on checkoffs last year in training camp," Plum said. "I was new here and almost everybody was a stranger to me. So we had enough just getting the plays down."

The Lions' top three rookies—Darryl Sanders, Roy Williams and Larry Ferguson—reported to Coach George Wilson yesterday following playing in the College All-Star's victory over Green Bay.

Chopped Five

Wilson chopped five players from the squad, including Western Michigan's John Lomakoski, who also was released shortly after last season began.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ed Lopat's contract as manager of the Kansas City Athletics has been extended through the 1965 season. Lopat became manager last fall under a two-year contract.

General Manager Pat Friday asked Lopat Sunday if he would like to sign for an additional year. Salary terms were not disclosed.

First Escanaba Pro Bout In 20 Years Aug. 31

ESCANABA (AP)—The first professional boxing match in Escanaba in the last 20 years will be a battle for the vacant Michigan middleweight championship.

On Aug. 31, Jim Davis, 24, of Detroit, will meet Pete Basonic, 21, of Manistique, in the 3,000-seat Escanaba High School gym.

Basonic is a former six-time Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves champion and the victor in his six professional fights. Davis has won all 12 of his professional fights.

ISHPEMING — The Four Spares registered a 2,057 high team match and a 733 high team game to lead bowlers in the Summer Mixed League on the Miracle Lanes.

The Spares rolled 684 and 640 on games of 210, 181 and 190, led the distaff bowling for the night. Bruce Kostamo led the men's bowling with a 590 total on games of 158, 197 and 235.

Tony Oien rolled a 205 game and Bill Heard a 210.

Wilhelm Flutterball Confuses Catcher, Ump; Hoyt Gets Shower

By the Associated Press

Hoyt Wilhelm, the 40-year-old knuckleball specialist on whose aging arm rest the American League hopes of the Chicago White Sox, confused batter, catcher and official scorer alike in a 4-3 loss to Kansas City Tuesday night.

Flutterball

The score was tied 3-3 going into the bottom of the ninth when Wilhelm let go with a flutterball that flew past batter Gino Cimoli or a third strike and flicked past Camilo Carreon and his oversized catcher's mitt for what was scored a passed ball.

Cimoli wound up on first and Wilhelm wound up under a shower after another wild pitch. Cimoli eventually scored the decisive run on a single by George Alusik off Jim Brosnan and promptly told the official scorer the pitch on which he struck out was four feet wide of the plate.

The passed ball ruling was changed and Wilhelm was credited with another wild pitch to go along with his 2-7 record and 2.90 earned run average. And that is part of the reason the White Sox trail front-running New York by eight games.

The Yankees got a brilliant pitching performance from Stan Williams, who hurled a 1-0, one-hit shutout over Washington at the Senators won the opener of a twin-nighter 8-5 on a four-homer barrage against White Ford.

Cleveland Whipped

Third-place Baltimore, 8½ back, whipped Cleveland, 6-4 as Jim Gentile drove in four runs with a pair of homers. Detroit rookie George Smith collected a triple and two doubles in a 10-1 walloping of Boston and Minnesota.

Wilhelm got his chance for a victory when a two-run homer by Charlie Maxwell tied the score in the top of the ninth.

Rapped Two

Chuck Cottier rapped two homers, including a three-run shot in the sixth that snapped a 5-5 tie, and Don Lock and Chuck Hinton one each for the Senators in the first game as Ford lost his third straight in quest of victory No. 17.

In the nightcap, Williams allowed only a double by Don Blasingame in the third, striking out 11, walking one and retiring the last 19 in order. The Yankees scored in the eighth on Tony Kubek's triple off Benny Daniels and a sacrifice fly by Bobby Richardson.

Batting Binge Boosts Mays Into Old Form; Hits .400

By the Associated Press

He may have been Woeiful Willie for a while, but there's no doubt that he's once again the Magnificent Mays.

Willie admitted at All-Star Game time that he was pretty woeiful about his sub-par .271 batting average, far below his .315 lifetime mark and one of his poorest half-year showings in the majors.

Mays Of Old

But the San Francisco Giant centerfielder in the last few weeks has been the Mays of old. At the moment he's in one of his periodic batting binges, with a 10-game streak in which he's batting .400.

That spurt has boosted his average to .290 and has helped keep the Giants in the running in the National League.

Willie had three hits, including a triple, and scored one Tuesday in the Giants' 3-1 victory over Houston, which kept them in a tie with St. Louis for second place, five games back of leading Los Angeles.

Dodgers Keep Lead

The Dodgers kept their lead with a 4-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis held off New York's Mets 4-3, Pittsburgh blanketed Milwaukee 3-0 and Cincinnati and Philadelphia split, the Reds winning the first 6-4 in 10 innings and the Phillies the nightcap 7-1.

Mays' three-hit performance against the Colts gave him six hits in the last two games and 18 for 45 in his current streak. In that stretch, he has scored 13 runs, driven in 11 and had two doubles, two triples and six homers, boosting his season total to 28.

Needed Relief

Jim Duffalo, 4-0, stopped the Colts on six hits, but needed the sharp relief help of Don Larsen in the ninth.

Shortstop Maury Wills stroked four straight hits, including a double in leading the Dodgers over the Cubs. Don Drysdale won his 14th.

St. Louis had 11 hits, but had to work hard to stand off the Mets, who were down 4-1 but scrambled back. The Cards scored their first run on a fielder's choice when Stan Musial beat a throw to first on a potential double play grounder and their second on a wild pitch. The third was set up by a wild pitch and the fourth was moved into position by a base

Petes Lake Recreation Area In Hiawatha National Forest Popular Alger Tourist Spot

MUNISING — With the tourist season at its peak in this area, Petes Lake, located in the Hiawatha National Forest, 17 miles south of Munising, has become one of the more popular camping and picnic sites, according to Floyd Roberts, Munising district ranger for the U. S. Forest Service.

The area includes 25 acres of land bordering the lake, which is 100 acres in size. Original work there by the Forest Service was started in 1939 with the drilling of wells, brushing and general clean-up. In 1957 twenty camp units were installed, along with a boat landing and a series of roads. During 1962-63, crews have been busy cleaning up picnic and swimming area, constructing bath houses, excavating to improve the bathing beach, adding additional wells to insure an adequate water supply, constructing a new road and parking area for 12 additional units.

To date, approximately $50,000 has been spent by the Forest Service on this area, with funds coming from the public works program the past two years. Registrations at the park show that from 80 to 100 persons from Upper and Lower Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin use its facilities daily. The federal government has passed a law limiting use of the park by vacationers to 15 days, in an effort to make the facilities available to more people.

A survey of the lake has been made by the State Fisheries Research Division in an effort to provide ample fish for sportsmen. Bass, pan fish and walleyes are being caught there. Additional improvements will continue to be made as funds become available, Roberts said.
