

FRED E. CAMPBELL

Sgt. Campbell Gets Sawyer 'NCO' Award

Non-commissioned officer for August for K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base is S-Sgt. Fred E. Campbell, a member of the 410th Combat Defense Squadron.

The new NCO of the month is communicator plotter for the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC) here. The communicator plotter is the "hub" of all security operations for the wing.

At the wing's central security control, he directs the operation of the mobile strike team, which communicates with him by means of a two way radio, in resolving any situation which might arise.

In addition, he must keep a log of all events that occur during his tour of duty and various other jobs.

In 'Error-Free Manner' According to squadron officials, the communicator plotter must be a mature individual, capable, and with the ability to work under extreme pressure in an error-free manner.

The New Straitsville, Ohio, native has been in the Air Force since 1956. He had previously served ten years in the United States Navy. Most of his military career has been in the security field.

Campbell, who came to Sawyer from Okinawa in June, 1962 is married and has three children. Finished Several Schools

He has completed a number of service schools in both the Air Force and the Navy, the most recent being the combative measures instructor training (Judo) course at Stead AFB, Nevada. The NCO of the month holds several service ribbons, and has been presented a citation from the secretary of the Navy for outstanding achievement in athletics. He was the pitcher in the all-Navy softball tournament in 1949.

State Okays 2 Peninsula Road Jobs

LANSING — A construction project to ease a traffic bottleneck at the intersection of U. S. 10 and I-75 just west of Bay City is among projects totaling nearly $5.6 million approved by the Highway Department.

A bid of $93,607, Sargent Construction Co. of Saginaw was low for the job.

Other projects and low bidders included: Houghton County, 4.3 miles of grading, culverts and paving on U. S. 41 from the Houghton-Baraga County Line, Thornton Co., Hancock, $642,696.

Keweenaw County, 9.8 miles of grading, culverts and paving on U. S. 41, I. L. Whitehead, Sault Ste. Marie, $204,482.

2nd Annual Regional Apprenticeship Meet Set Here This Week

Approximately 300 persons are expected to take part in the second annual Northern Michigan Apprenticeship and Training Conference, which will be held at Northern Michigan University this Thursday and Friday.

Conference plans were announced by Dr. Claud A. Bosworth, vice president of public services for the University; Robert Winger, Lansing, division of vocational education, State Department of Public Instruction, and William Price, Lansing, supervisor for the state of Michigan Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, U. S. Department of Labor.

The conference, initiated by Northern in 1962, will now become an annual event for the motivation of labor, management, and education in the state of Michigan to work together in developing and conducting apprenticeship training programs.

Purposes of the conference are: (1) To emphasize the importance of the contribution that apprenticeship training can provide in preparing our manpower to meet the challenge of the 60s by raising the level of skills and technical know-how.

(2) To acquaint labor and management with the training services

Estimated Cost For City Project Told

Estimated costs of the sanitary sewer and water extension projects for Altamont and Hampton Sts. were reported today by the city engineering department.

Next Monday a public hearing to determine the necessity of the public improvement project will be conducted by the city commission during its regular meeting.

Work Outlined
The proposed improvement consists primarily of installing an approximate 325 lineal foot extension of the sanitary sewer on Hampton St., from the existing manhole west of Adams St. to the intersection of Hampton and Altamont Sts., and the installation of approximately 1,075 feet of six-inch water main in Altamont St., from Craig to Hampton Sts., and in Hampton, from Altamont to Adams.

There presently exists in Hampton St., west from Adams St., about 730 lineal feet of three-quarter-inch water line, which serves seven properties, with the resultant lack of water pressure and quantity. City Engineer M. J. Keranen said the proposed water main installation should correct this situation.

Costs of the improvement were listed by the engineer as follows: Total $5,110.

Eight-inch sewer, 280 lineal feet, $840; two manholes, $500; 12 sanitary wyes, $120; six-inch water main, 1,075 lineal feet, $3,225; one hydrant, $200, and three six-inch gate valves, $225.

Total cost of the work is estimated at $5,110, of which the property owners' share would be $4,197.50 and the city's share $912.50.

ticeship programs and to strengthen apprenticeship programs now in existence in the mining, manufacturing, construction, railroad, forestry, utility, and service industries in Michigan, especially in Northern Michigan.

Planning Committee
The planning committee for the conference — consisting of William E. Martin, supervisor of area training at Northern, and Chester L. Walker, representative of the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training in Marquette, serving as co-chairmen; and Russell W. Adams, director of business and industrial services at Northern; Ivan Brown, Iron Mountain, staff representative, UAW-CIO; William J. Born, White Pine Copper Co.; Hector L. Delude, Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training; Joseph J. Stanton, Marquette, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; William A. McGraw, Green Bay, Northern Hardwood and Pine Manufacturers Association.

Edward C. Prast, Saginaw, Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training; Russell Young, Marquette, Cleveland Council of Carpenters; John A. Hessel, Marquette ironworkers; Sigurd O. Nelson Sr., Marquette bricklayers; William

Price, Lansing, Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training; William Morrow, Marquette, operating engineers; Dwight Leavitt, Houghton, U. P. Power Company; Jack Myers, Labor Consultant at Northern, and, William Wright, conference director at Northern — met April 3 to outline a program to meet the objectives of the conference.

Theme Noted
The theme for this year's conference is "Quality Training to Share America's Future."

Resource people from the national, state, and area levels will be in attendance to assist in the meetings and work with conferees solving problems related to apprenticeship training.

To accommodate the large number of people expected this year, Northern is making dormitory and dining facilities available. Anyone interested in attending should contact Walker, 109 N. Front St., Room 232, Marquette, for information.

The American Legion Post of Marquette will hold a regular meeting at 8 tomorrow evening in the clubrooms.

Minimum Wage Proposal Collides With U.P. Economics

By JEAN WORTH
Journal Special Correspondent
ESCANABA — The effort to enact a Michigan minimum wage act collided with Upper Peninsula economics in the hotel business in a Legislature committee hearing for the Upper Peninsula in Escanaba recently.

The hearing revealed the push of unions to upgrade the income of their members and the defensive position of some U.P. hoteliers caused by the marginal income on their investments.

Iron Inn, Iron River, 45 rooms, 22 employees, said waitresses' 75 cents an hour and tips brought them near a wage minimum.

Erwin Thate of Erwin's Restaurant, Iron Mountain, 15 employees, said its labor costs would be increased more than $11,000 a year if the act were enacted.

Rance Mason, Houghton, said 30 odd U.P. movie theaters aren't opposed to the act but want exceptions as most U.P. picture theaters are part time operations staffed by many students and pensioners employed only a few hours a week.

Escanaba, with 16,000 population, has only one indoor movie house operating, he cited. Mason said the movie business needs exemption from the minimum wage act in its service staff.

Have To Live With Tipping
Glenn Anderson of the Dickinson Hotel, Iron Mountain, 69 rooms, said it had built its employment from 12 employees at time of purchase by the present ownership in 1944 to 65, of whom 41 are part time, the rest regularly scheduled.

Three-Month Season
Armando Villanelli, manager of the Douglass House, Houghton, said it had netted a profit of only $5,418 in 1962 on a gross income of $233,000.

Three persons were ordered to pay $40 in fines and costs by Judge Edward H. Dembowksi in municipal court yesterday for traffic violations.

Peace Corps Tests Here On Saturday

Marquette will be one of six sites in the Upper Peninsula for a new round of U.S. Peace Corps placement tests this Saturday.

Language training is helpful for those interested in becoming volunteers, but more than a fourth of the Peace Corps present volunteers never had studied a language previously.

The placement test which is to be given Saturday consists of a half-hour section on general aptitude and another of the same length on modern language aptitude.

Candidates with a background in French or Spanish must take an additional one-hour proficiency test. The Peace Corps placement test now being administered replaces a longer one which required four to eight hours to complete.

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney and Democratic leaders settled their dispute over legislative apportionment Monday, agreeing to terms under which a temporary commission will be at work by next week.

That made a total of 369 blazes, which have burned 1,809 acres of land in the U.P. state protection area, for the year. By comparison, in the same period last year, there were 205 fires, blackening 434 acres of land.

Two in Baraga District
Two blazes burned 3 of an acre in the Baraga District (comprised of Baraga, Gogebic, Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon Counties), with the district having 90 fires, blackening 144.8 acres of land, so far this season.

17 Projects Already Finished By Chamber During Year: Hudson

With four more months left in 1963, the chamber of commerce's 11-point program for the year has evolved into 17 projects already successfully completed, Wyndal H. Hudson, chamber of commerce executive director, reports. Hudson gave an appraisal of the year at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club, held in the Clifton Hotel yesterday afternoon. He noted that when Chamber President Harlan Larson outlined the 11-point program at the chamber's annual dinner in January, the plans for the year looked "almost insurmountable." Two Not Developed Two of the projects included in the 11-point program have not been developed. However, under the direction of Larson the 300-member chamber has given its support to several large projects over and above the 11 planned for this year, Hudson said. "If we are to have expanding and prosperous communities in the Upper Peninsula, somebody has to do some straight, sharp thinking and some high powered promoting and the right kind of community leadership has to be developed. This is the chamber's job," Hudson said. Sees More Programs "In the next four months another half dozen projects will be made possible by the support of the people of this area." The two projects included in the 11-point program which have not yet been tackled by the chamber are a clean-up, fix-up program and a fishing derby. Projects in addition to the original plans for 1963 include: Support For Conventions Support and aid to 12 major conventions (those attended by 200 to 3,000 persons) so far this year; a style show directed by the chamber at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base in March; a Girl Scout recognition day held in March, which was attended by 1,300 girls; support of the Fourth of July celebration. Formal support, plus support through public meetings and financial organizations to Superiorland; representation at the four major midwest sports and travel shows, held this year at Detroit, Milwaukee, Indianapolis and Chicago. Missile Site Support A Christmas tree burning held Jan. 6; the appearance of Gov. George Romney here for a tax reform meeting; support of a missile site planning meeting and the organization of a committee for promotion of a missile site in the U.P. A project which was included in the original 11-point program and is still in the planning stages is an auto show. The show, which promises to be a large promotion, will be held in February at the National Guard Armory, Hudson said. Chamber projects planned for this year which have been completed include a scholastic achievement program, with a dinner honoring the city's top 26

Pollen Count For City

Ragweed pollen count for the 24-hour period from yesterday morning through this morning was the highest it's been so far this year. City Sanitarian Ronald S. Maitland said the count this morning was 32 grains of pollen per 3.6 square centimeters. Southerly winds yesterday probably increased the pollen in the atmosphere, Maitland said. The count stood at zero late last week and an affirmative count, nine, has been registered only once before today. The city sanitarian takes a daily pollen count Tuesday through Friday during the hay fever season from the roof of the federal building. The season generally lasts from mid-August through mid-September.

Costume Jewelry For Next Season To Jingle-Jangle

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jubilant at a wake in the jewelry industry, ecstatic over the death of the nothing dress and its accompanying string of pearls.

Their total disrespect for the demise of this understated, under-decorated shell of a dress in fashion is proper revenge. The style was murder to the costume jewelry business.

Now bauble-makers are buoyant over the boy look, turtlenecks and short sleeves; and the girl look — turban and chemise, both of which must jingle-jangle with bangles for the full effect.

Generally, in terms of the next season's jewelry fashions this means that pins, beads, bracelets and earrings will be larger, brighter, richer more authentic-looking, and noisier.

Ears In View

Specifically, the new style decrees from the showrooms of the garment district here and in Paris have had this influence on jewelry designs:

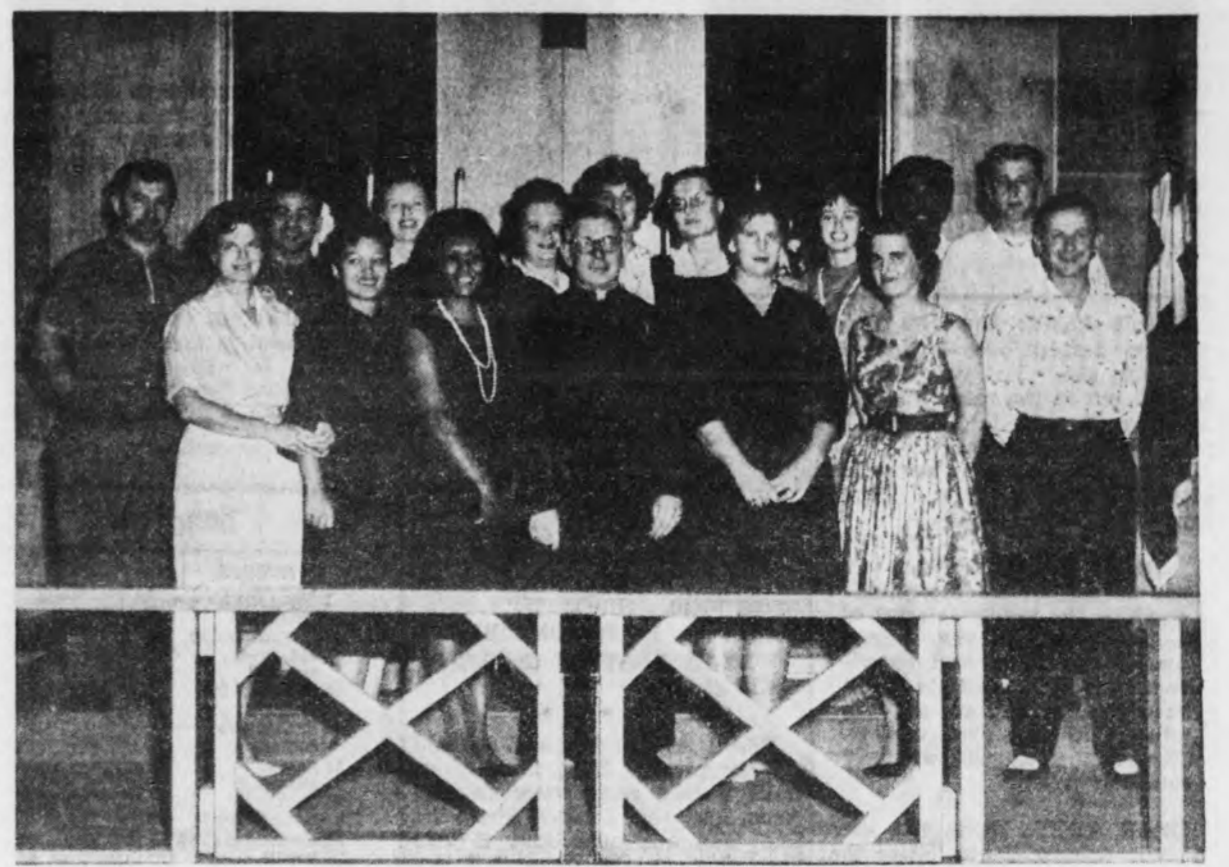

Hair styles and hats have brought ears into focus. Hair swept up from the ears, or hair-covering turbans are now signals to get rid of small beari button earring in exchange for big, bold or platter types for daytime, and long, skinny, shoulder-dangling kinds for night time.

A womanly penchant for manish hats worn back, Balenciaga-style, or coquettishly on top the American way, calls for sportive tin, fur or leather earrings to keep femininity frivolously in mind.

Necks Out Of Sight

Mock turtle necklines on dresses and blouses have inspired jewelry makers to make high-rising, close neckline beads, sometimes giant-sized single strands.

Base Choir Is Third In ADC Contest

Italian Fashions For Fall And Winter

The Eleanora Garnett fashion house of Rome includes an afternoon two-piece dress of cyclamen-red wool, left, with sleeves trimmed in mink, in its fall and winter fashions. The outfit at right is an afternoon dress of heavy mustard-colored wool, with a small jacket trimmed with black beaver and worn with a small hat also of black beaver. It is a creation of the Lancetti fashion house of Rome. Both creations were presented at the Florence show of Italian fashions. (AP Wirephoto.)

Meetings

The Eight Et Forty Club will hold a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, in the home of Mrs. Peter E. Leaf, 729 Snow St., Negaunee. All members are asked to attend. There will be an election of officers for the ensuing year.

Classes In Ballet To Be Given At Air Base In Fall

A program of cultural development and physical exercise is now available to the children of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base personnel through classical ballet classes conducted by Mrs. Elly Thorlaxson in the Silver Wings Service Club.

Mrs. Thorlaxson, a native of Reykjavik, Iceland, has studied under some of the world's most famous teachers in some of the best schools. Among these are Hans Beck, ballet master of the Royal Theatre of Copenhagen, and the late Adolph Bolm, Hollywood choreographer and partner of Anna Pavlova, internationally-known prima ballerina.

Mrs. Thorlaxson, who has taught in her own school in Iceland, will be opening a studio in Marquette this fall.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Michels and family of Falls Church, Va., are in Marquette visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Armstrong, 101 Genesee St.

Daniel Rupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Rupp, Marquette, is visiting his parents prior to his profession of solemn vows in the Augustinian Order on Sept. 4 at Tolentine College, Olympia Fields, Ill. On Sept. 12 he will leave New York city for four years of further study in Rome, in preparation for his ordination to the priesthood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson have returned to Alabama after a visit with his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Richardson, Hargrave Apartment W, Front St., Marquette. They are both employed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in Huntsville, Alabama.

Teacher From Haiti Has Hopes For Countrywomen

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Mrs. Fortuna Guery, a small, lively, bespectacled schoolteacher from Haiti, has high hopes for the women of her country.

"Look," she exclaimed the other day on a visit to New York, "many more women are studying at the university, more are voting in the last five years, many more are working outside the home."

"There are many women in governmental offices as secretaries, two women are deputies in the legislature, one is minister plenipotentiary at Brussels and one is a consular official."

Represents Country

Mrs. Guery (pronounced gay-ree) was on her way home from Washington where she attended the joint 75th anniversary conference of the National Council of Women of the United States and the International Council of Women. She has represented her country many times at international conferences.

In Port-au-Prince she's president of the National Council of Women of Haiti, which she founded in 1959 to work for equality of the sexes, rights of women, and education for everyone.

"It's not very easy to organize women," the French-speaking Mrs. Guery said through an interpreter.

"In our council we total not much more than a hundred. You see, they're so busy in their own fields. It's difficult to find time in addition to home and family responsibilities to give to a women's organization."

Conducts Finishing School

Mrs. Guery, who has been teaching since she was 17, has been professor at a normal school and superintendent of schools in Port-au-Prince. She retired in 1950, but now conducts a finishing school for girls.

Five years ago she started a literacy school for children and adults. She not only gives her time free, but helps find jobs for the adults.

A widow for four years, she has a son and a "delicious" granddaughter 1 year old. Her son is a photographer as his father was, but is a lawyer as well.

The political turmoil in Haiti was one subject she preferred to leave strictly alone.

Losing Tourists

"But because of exaggerated reports of what's going on," she said indignantly, "many small craftsman who counted on tourist trade for survival are suffering. Tourists now are going to Trinidad or Jamaica who used to go to Haiti. And those places don't compare with Haiti, where there's never great heat, always a breeze, lots of good hotels, the fruit is especially fragrant..."

Feeling she was getting too lyrical about her native land, she grinned and stopped.

Dear Abby....

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I added up all the time I spent baby-sitting with my little sister last year and figured it out at the rate of 50 cents an hour. It came to $361.50. That is what my mother owes me. I am 15 and can use the money for clothes. Do you think I should send her a bill?

Mrs. Canoga Park on her question, "Why don't Americans fly flags any more?" I am a Marine recruiting sergeant. On Memorial Day I made a three-minute guest appearance on TV. I offered a FREE booklet on "How to Respect and Display Our Flag." In a city whose population is 250,996 only NINE booklets were requested. People show their colors by not flying them.

DEAR FIFTEEN: Since you are so expert at "figuring," combine the yearly salaries of a cook, housekeeper, nurse, teacher, preacher and chauffeur and then multiply it by your age. THAT, my dear, is what YOU owe your mother. Now, do you still want to send her a bill?

LOST SOME BLOOD
DEAR LOST: Is the offer still good?
DEAR ABBY: I intend to hold up my vote at the polling place until a flag is in view in that room. Last year I asked where the flag was and was told it was "probably in the closet." I am sure our Bill of Rights was not

DEAR ABBY: Have you space in your column for a letter that might save someone's life? Another woman and I were driving to a restaurant for a lobster dinner. The restaurant was only two miles from my home, so I wore my high heels. I hadn't gone far when one of my heels got caught in the rug of the automobile. When I tried to free it, my shoe jammed between the brake and the gas pedal. The harder I tried to stop, the faster we went. The car went out of control and we hit a house and knocked down a 50-foot chimney. Fortunately, no one was killed, but we will both be hospitalized for the rest of the summer. And heaven knows when we'll get that lobster dinner.

JERRIE
DEAR JERRIE: Thanks for the letter warning. Forget the lobster and be thankful you didn't get ankle food!
DEAR ABBY: A big hand to Kenneth Niemi (at far right), president of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce, is dwarfed by visitors to Ishpeming and western half of Marquette, the sign erected by the chamber's Tourist Division.

New Sign Advertis Ishpeming

ISHPEMING—A new sign advertising Ishpeming has been erected south of Marquette, just outside of Skandia, by the Tourist Division of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce. The 10-by-40-foot sign was placed there in an attempt to lure more tourists to this city.

Erection of such a sign marks completion of the first of many projects to be undertaken by the Tourist Division to promote Ishpeming and the western half of Marquette County.

Red, black, yellow, blue and orange lettering creates a pleasing and striking sign which can be seen from quite a distance.

As motorists approach Skandia, the sign is located on the right of the highway.

Directly responsible for its erection were Andrew Dellangello, chairman of the tourist division; George Bonovich, architect; Walter Scanlon, secretary-manager of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce who coordinated efforts in placing the sign, and Robert Paquette, painter of the sign.

Plans for the sign were made many months ago by the active tourist group, Kenneth Niemi, president of the chamber, said.

Gwinn Grade Registration Schedule Set

GWINN—Registration of kindergarten and elementary children (grades one through six) who will attend the Gwinn schools for the first time this fall will begin tomorrow. However, parents who registered their children early at any Gwinn school need not report a second time.

At the Gilbert Elementary School, registration will be conducted tomorrow and Thursday from 1 to 3:30 p. m. Both the McDonald and K. I. Sawyer schools will accept registrations week days this week and next week during the same hours.

Only those junior and senior high school students who are new to the Gwinn School District are required to register at the high school library Aug. 22, 23 or 24. An article in Monday's Mining Journal indicated that all high school students must register on one of those dates. However, students who have been attending school in the Gwinn system already are registered.

Pupils entering the fifth grade and living at the following locations will attend the McDonald school:

Trailer Court, Mitchell, Neptune, Lightning, Kaydel, Marauder, Invader, Gooneybird, Havoc, Globemaster, Liberator, Stratofort (numbers 400 and above) and Skybolt.

Superintendent William G. Garrett announces that the three elementary schools will be on identical time schedules with classes beginning at 9:15 a. m. and ending at 3:45 p. m. Teachers will report to their buildings one-half hour before classes begin and will remain 15 minutes after dismissal.

State law demands that all children attending in any public school.

Three New Teachers Hired At L'Anse; School Chief Has Three More Vacancies To Fill

L'ANSE—The L'Anse Board of Education approved the hiring of three new teachers, discussed next year's millage requirements and officially honored Mrs. Hattie M. Delgoffe at this month's meeting.

New Superintendent Robert W. Fredrikson, attending his first board meeting, reported that his initial week on the job was devoted to trying to fill vacancies on the faculty. He told the board he has succeeded in filling three of the six spots and that he has contacted several candidates for the three elementary teaching posts still open.

Mrs. Sherman Gingrich of Baraga will teach fifth grade this year. Mrs. James Magnuson, also of Baraga, will teach high school English on a half-time basis and Bernard T. Kioski has been engaged to take over the junior high school vacancy.

The board gave Fredrikson full authority to hire the remaining teachers he needs without prior board approval, since time is growing short.

Fredrikson also reported that he had studied the budget for the coming year, and recommended that the school district levy 11 mills rather than the proposed 10½, since he said the smaller levy would probably result in a deficit of approximately $5,000 next year.

Carlo Heikkinen, board trustee and the school representative on this year's county allocation board, explained that a new tax valuation system will go into effect the coming year. He added: "The allocation board members felt we should try to 'hold the line' with 10½ mills if possible, since the new tax department set-up will benefit us. The school board made a kind of gentlemen's agreement (after a large increase in Michigan for the first time shall submit either a statement signed by a physician that they have been immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis and poliomyelitis; a statement signed by one parent or guardian to the effect that the child has not been immunized because of religious convictions or other objections to immunization; or a request that the local health department give the needed protective injections.

Hot Lunch Program—School officials urge parents to provide physical examinations for their children before enrolling them in school.

Both the Gilbert and McDonald schools will provide hot meals during one-hour lunch periods. Weekly meal tickets will be purchased by pupils for $1.25. At the Gilbert school lunch program will begin Tuesday, Sept. 3; at McDonald, Wednesday, Sept. 4. No lunch program will be available at the Sawyer school until equipment is installed in the kitchen.

A daily milk program will be started at all three schools beginning Monday, Sept. 9. Monthly milk tickets will be sold for 40 cents.

Pupils in kindergarten through grade four living at the following locations will attend the McDonald school:

Avenger, Canberra, Commando, Dagger, Dart, Electra, Explorer, Falcon, Fortress, Globemaster, Gooneybird, Havoc, Hustler, Invader, Jupiter, Kaydel, Liberator (401-526), Lightning, Marauder, Mitchell, Mustang (478 and above), Neptune, Packet, Quail, Sabre, Sidewinder, Skybolt, Starfire, Stratofort (358-452), Thunderchief (248-254), Thunderbolt and Voodoo.

Registration At Negaunee August 29-30

NEGAUNEE—Registration of students not previously enrolled for the 1963-64 school year will be held at all buildings in the Negaunee School District Thursday and Friday, Aug. 29-30. Supt. Robert E. Northey announced today.

A pre-registration was held last spring for youngsters who will attend kindergarten for the first time this fall, and those who were not enrolled at that time may register on the two days designated for other grades.

When registering kindergarten pupils, parents are reminded by Supt. Northey that they should bring with them birth certificates and immunization records for these children.

The special registration period also is designed to accommodate students transferring from one school to another within the district and those who moved into the area from other districts during the summer.

It is particularly important, the superintendent emphasized, that pupils at the junior-senior high level register in advance in order that proper planning may be given to selection of their courses. "With all of the other duties that must be taken care of in the principal's office on the opening day of school, it will be impossible to handle students who wait until that day to register," Supt. Northey said.

Registrations will be accepted from 9 a. m. to noon at the offices of principals in the high school, Central Grade and Lakeview Schools in Negaunee, and the Kirkpatrick School at Palmer.

Dance Wednesday Night In Parking Lot

ISHPEMING—The Parents Club of the Ishpeming Blue Notes Drums and Bugle Corps will conduct a "record hop" Wednesday night at 8 in the Miners' Bank parking lot.

George A. Custer, who died with his men in the Little Big Horn massacre at the age of 37, was the youngest Union general in the Civil War. He was 23 when given the rank of brigadier general.

Six Members Of Blue Notes Given Medals

Aspens Called 'Cinderella' Trees Of State Forestry

There is not in the literature of Michigan a book like "Aspens," just published by the University of Michigan Press ($7.50, 272 pages) on paper approximately 50 per cent aspen content. And there can be few books in American literature like it.

It is a book about two species of aspen that grow in the lake states—Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota—and it is unprecedented in its scope of treatment, from the aspen of history and superstitious association with the Cross of Calvary to today's "weed" tree that became a forest Cinderella so much esteemed commercially that there is industrial concern about its perpetuation.

The authors of "Aspens," Dr. Samuel A. Graham, professor emeritus of economic zoology at the University of Michigan; Dr. Casey E. Westell Jr. and Dr. Robert P. Harrison, tell what technology can do to the value of a tree.

Until recent years aspens were looked upon as forest weeds of little value. There was some use of aspens from earliest settlement, but only a small fraction of the available supply was used. By 1909 more than 245,000 cords of "poplar" was used in the nation, most of it for book and magazine paper.

Shortly after World War I a Cloquet, Minn., mill made white paper from aspen and since then the increase in use of this wood for pulping in the lake states has been spectacular. From fewer than 100,000 cords used in 1936, harvest jumped to nearly 1,500,000 cords in 1961, with Michigan leading in production with 560,000 cords, Wisconsin contributing 530,000 and Minnesota 368,000.

Danger Of Shortage
In 1949 American Box Board Co. converted from straw to aspen in manufacture of paper and a huge aspen market opened in Lower Michigan. Almost overnight a wood that had been of low value or worthless became a valuable commodity. Foresters at first thought that there was no danger of future shortage of aspen, but "Aspens" authors say it isn't so, although aspens cover more than two million acres in the Lower Peninsula alone.

The cut of aspen in the Lower Peninsula has grown from 80,000 cords in 1949 to a volume expected to reach 600,000 cords in this decade. The authors suggest that this new income can be greatly augmented by forest management using new knowledge. They suggest that by establishing desirable strains of aspen the productivity of stands can be doubled and probably tripled.

"We hope soon to see deer populations regulated in the interests of both the deer herd and the forests," say the authors hopefully.

Not All Poplars Are Aspens
All aspens are poplars, but all poplars aren't called aspens. Besides the trembling aspen and bigtooth aspen, Michigan's poplars are the cottonwood and the balsam of gilead, which loggers call "balm."

The wood of bigtooth and trembling aspen is identical, but the trees differ considerably. The bark of the bigtooth is yellow and its leaves are larger. Both trees reproduce from seed and by root suckers. When aspens are cut or killed by fire their roots send up suckers prolifically to start a new stand, as many as 40,000 to 80,000 an acre. These suckers are a chief deer feed in Michigan although not the most highly preferred food. When deer overbrowse a stand repeatedly it is killed.

When established, aspen stands can be perpetuated indefinitely by suckering following fires, but in the absence of fire, balsam, spruce, cedar, possibly white pine and eventually maples and hemlock would replace them. Foresters value the once-desired aspen above white pine now because it is so fast growing and easily marketable, but forest management will be necessary to perpetuate it and keep out red maple and other lower value trees.
