Drillers Nearing Miners

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Drilling of the new escape hole for the three trapped miners moved at a steady pace today, but the two of them in communication with the surface were considerably less talkative than usual. The voices of Henry Throne, 28, and David Fellin, 58, seemed as strong as usual, but they seemed to be pre-occupied with their own thoughts as the 12-inch drill headed for their 14-by-9-foot chamber, 331 feet underground. Two previous escape hole tries have failed, the latest one Thursday.

If all goes well, the 12-inch drill will break through around noon today. The next step would be to enlarge the hole to 17 inches. This probably will take another 30 hours.

A second drilling rig, much smaller than the 10-story-high one boring the escape hole, is drilling a four-inch-hole toward the area where Louis Bova, 48, is believed trapped.

Bova was separated from the others by about 25 feet of debris after a cave-in 10 days ago — about 9 a.m. Aug. 13.

A six-inch lifeline hole reached Throne and Fellin last Sunday, but Bova has had no food since the cave-in except what he might have had with him.

Trone and Fellin sleep fitfully at random times.

Two mechanical breakdowns delayed the escape hole drilling for a total of 3½ hours before dawn today.

Union Ends Ford Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Settlement of strike in the Chicago Heights, Ill., Ford Motor Co. plant which idled more than 30,000 workers in five states was announced jointly today by the company and the United Auto Workers Union.

The strike of 3,750 UAW members at the stamping plant which began Aug. 15 was resolved by settlement of all 74 grievances which were the cause of the walk-out, the officials said.

Local 588 of the union agreed to stop picketing immediately and preparations were begun at once for reopening of the closed plant which supplies body panels for all Ford passenger cars except Lincoln Continentals.

Mideast Dispute Brought To U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel and Syria square off in the U.N. Security Council today, each accusing the other of aggression.

The special council session had been set for Monday but was advanced at the insistence of Israeli Ambassador Michael Comay. He claimed Syrian guns shelled two Israeli settlements near the Syrian border Wednesday night.

It was the first time in 10 years that Israel had originated a complaint in the council instead of following up Arab charges with counter charges.

In preliminary talks with council members, Comay said the 11-nation group's action would show whether Israel could get satisfaction from the council, where the Soviet Union has exercised its veto occasionally on behalf of the Arabs.

The Israeli Parliament said Wednesday night that Israel would exercise its right of self defense unless the council halted the alleged Syrian aggression.

Both Israel's and Syria's current complaints allege military aggression inside the demilitarized zone north of the Sea of Galilee. The zone is forbidden ground to all military forces under the 1949 armistice agreement between Israel and Syria, last of the Arab nations to stop fighting in the Palestine war.

Israel claims the area as her territory. Syria contests the claim and accuses Israel of making "repeated attempts to annex this area by force."

TORONTO (AP) — Anglicans have been urged to forget their past "fear, anxiety and suspicion" of the Roman Catholic Church in favor of the new spirit of Christian unity.

"Reunion may be very far away," said The Very Rev. C. H. W. de Soya, archdeacon of Colombo, Ceylon, "but real breakthroughs in relations between the Roman Catholic Church and the rest of us have occurred."

Archdeacon de Soya stressed the prospects of closer relations between the churches Thursday, as the 11 day Anglican World Congress neared its close.

Today's sessions are the last formal meetings of the congress. Delegates will hear ideas for action from 27 study groups set up at the beginning of the conference and approve a "message" summing up the spirit of the congress.

When the Ways and Means Committee backed up and adopted a portion of the recommendation on oil and gas taxation, Mrs. Griffiths let it be known she might agree to reconsider the dividend question. But she refused to give a proxy and made no flat commitment.

The arguments and the final vote went on behind closed doors, but the word is that Mrs. Griffiths swung to the administration side.

She reportedly switched only after (1) she was convinced that a compromise on the dividend action would spare most families with stock holdings of up to $5,000 from extra tax and (2) after Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., assured her of their conviction the bill could not pass in the House without some action on dividends.

JFK Suffers Stunning Setback On His Foreign Aid Money Bill

Judge Orders Dixie Schools To Integrate

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Charleston has been ordered to admit 11 Negroes to its all-white schools on Sept. 3. School officials reluctantly bowed to the ruling Thursday by U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Martin Jr.

Two white high schools and two white grammar schools in this port city, smoldering from summer-long racial demonstrations, will be integrated.

Judge Martin ordered covered 13 students involved in the original integration suit, but one has graduated from high school and another has moved from the district.

District trustees decided to go along with the order and admit the 11 Negroes. But they instructed attorneys to appeal the ruling.

Laurence O.H. Stoney, board chairman, said it remains to be seen whether the school system can be operated in 1964. He urged all residents to respect the board's decision "and to maintain and observe proper discipline."

All secondary schools in South Carolina are segregated.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee, working against a Thursday strike deadline, approved today a bill providing for binding arbitration to settle the deadlocked dispute over railroad work rules.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee votes today on whether to bring out a bill which Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., says probably will provide for "reasonable arbitration" of the railroad work rules dispute now headed for a strike showdown in six days.

The exact form the bill will take remained a question, but Magnuson indicated it could be cast in one of several molds.

The first possibility, he pointed out, would be to follow the lines laid down by President Kennedy in proposing the four-year long rail jobs dispute be turned over to the Interstate Commerce Commission for issuance of work rules effective for two years.

Another possibility would be to set up an arbitration panel somewhat along the lines suggested a week ago by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. The question here would be whether to ask the panel to solve just the two key issues — job eliminations and makeup of train crews — or to ask it to solve all the issues.

Republicans Cut $1 Billion Off Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats handed the Kennedy administration a stunning defeat today by slashing more than $1 billion from the foreign aid authorization bill.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Democratic forces in strong control, the House has given all but final approval to President Kennedy's $4.1-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

A group of Republicans bent on slashing the money total in the controversial bill was beaten at every turn Thursday night.

A final roll call vote was postponed until today under a technicality invoked by a Republican.

The Senate has been considering a foreign aid bill of its own in committee. This was interrupted by the hearings on the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, and the Senate committee is not expected to get back to foreign aid for at least several weeks.

While administration leaders held the line on the $4.1-billion authorization, their fight for this year is far from over.

Still to come is the appropriation bill that furnishes the actual money for the fiscal year which started July 1.

That is in the hands of Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., a vigorous foe of the foreign aid program.

Because of his efforts to cut the appropriation, the money bill has had little relation to the authorization bill for many years. It has been estimated that this year the appropriation may be as much as a billion dollars less than the authorization.

The three-day debate on the foreign aid authorization produced all the off-beat oratory on both sides that has accompanied this program every year since it began after World War II as the Marshall Plan.

When all was said and done, these major amendments were agreed to:

• A ban on any aid to countries which ship to Cuba either by sea or by air. Several competing versions were offered by Florida congressmen, but the winner was by a Democrat, Rep. Dante B. Fascell.

• A one-year ban on any U. S. aid for a controversial steel mill at Bokaro, India, which would require an initial U. S. loan of $512 million. This amendment, by Rep. William S. Brockmeyer, R-Mich., did not mention Bokaro by name, but was tailored to cover it. It had bipartisan support.

• A minimum interest rate of 2 per cent on loans from the Development Loan Fund. This would apply to about 70 per cent of the $1.5-billion program, which makes loans now at three-fourths of 1 per cent. Administration strategists hope to get it knocked out in conference with the Senate.

• A provision that 50 per cent of development loan funds be used "for purposes of economic development through private enterprise." This was denied by Democrats as possibly hampering such aid, particularly in the Alliance For Progress.

Dred Scott's Descendant To Go To Court

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A descendant of America's most famous slave will go into court Tuesday, charging city officials discriminated against him in demoting him from police sergeant to patrolman.

He is Dred Scott Madison, 41, great-grandson of the Negro slave whose legal battle for freedom led to the nickname "Dred Scott Amendments" on the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments to the Constitution.

Madison will ask Superior Court to overrule his temporary suspension and demotion last year. His petition for a trial without jury comes 106 years after his great-grandfather was denied freedom by the U. S. Supreme Court. The court's ruling and accompanying opinion has been called "the trigger" for the Civil War.

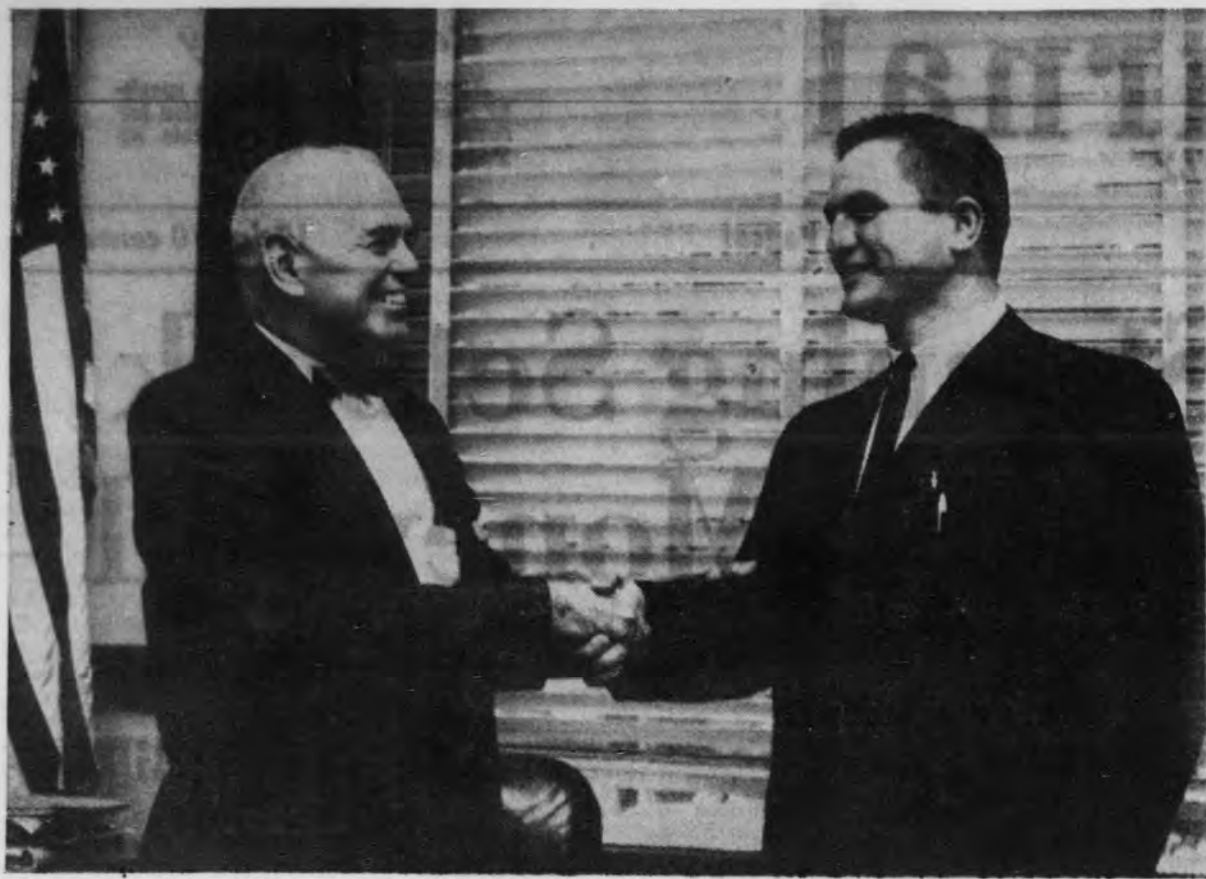

Madison was ordered suspended for 30 days and demoted from sergeant to patrolman by City Manager George E. Bean a year ago. The 15-year police veteran was accused of conduct unbecoming an officer. Alleged family trouble involving Madison and his wife was given as the reason for the disciplinary action.

Hermanson Resigns As Chief; Becomes Detective Captain

Chief of Police Donald C. Hermanson has resigned as chief to accept the position of captain in charge of the Marquette Police Department Detective Bureau.

The announcement was made jointly today by City Manager Thomas Moore and Chief Hermanson. The change is effective Tuesday, Sept. 3, at which time Matt Tervola, assistant chief, will head the department on an interim basis.

"It has been my honor to serve as chief of police and in making this decision, I believe that I can be more effective and better able to serve the city in an investigative position," Hermanson said.

Hermanson, 34, has been a member of the Marquette Police Department since 1952 and was named head of the department on the retirement, July 1, 1962, of Don McCormick.

Manager's Statement
In accepting the resignation of Hermanson as chief, City Manager Moore stated: "I note that you are resigning because you prefer to work as captain in charge of the Marquette Police Department Detective Bureau."

"In view of your desire, I am hereby accepting your resignation as chief of police and I hereby assign you as captain in charge of the detective bureau, and you will, naturally, be under the orders and supervision of the chief of police of the Marquette Police Department."

Moore added that "it is good to know that you wish to serve as a captain in the detective bureau, because your past performance and training fits you so ably in this capacity."

The city manager said Tervola would serve as acting chief until a permanent appointment is made. Well Trained For Work

He added that Hermanson has made a very good record as a police officer in general and as a detective in particular, and that he is especially suited and trained for this field.

"We are very happy that he wants to continue in the department as captain of the detective bureau," Moore said.

Hermanson is a native of Marquette and a 1945 graduate of Graveraet High School. He served in the U.S. Marine Corps after graduation and was recalled to duty following the outbreak of the Korean War, during which he served 17 months. Most of his service in the police department was as detective.

Hermanson is a graduate of

the Federal Bureau of Investigation's national academy in Washington, D.C., and he was the first Upper Peninsula native to complete the three-month FBI course. He attended the FBI school from August to November, in 1954.

Hermanson is married to the former Lily Ann Molby and they have two children, Laura, 6, and Donald C. II, 4. They reside at 1809 W. Fair Ave.

Policeman Since 1937
Tervola began work with the police department on May 15, 1937 and was promoted to sergeant Nov. 1, 1953. He was named assistant chief of police in May 1961.

A Marquette native, Tervola was in the gasoline business before entering police work. He served in the U.S. Army during

Five Persons Injured, Three Issued Tickets, Five Autos Damaged In Area Smashups

Five persons were injured, three motorists were issued summonses and five automobiles were damaged in three area traffic smashups reported this morning by city and state police.

1. At 11:35 last night a car being driven south on County Road 350 by Frank J. Tonella, 39, of 105 W. College Ave., Marquette, went out of control as he was rounding a right curve, about three and a half miles north of the Marquette

Search For Felon Centers Near Mohawk

State police today were concentrating their search for Harold Jones, 36, who escaped from the Marquette State Prison's Honor Camp Sunday night, in the area north of Mohawk, in the Keweenaw Peninsula.

Sgt. Grant C. Barry, Marquette post commander, said the search was shifted there after it was learned that an automobile which had been stolen south of Trenay Wednesday night was found abandoned near Mohawk yesterday afternoon.

Was Spotted Near Trenay
Earlier this week state police had been informed that a person answering to Jones' description was seen at a camp near Trenay. He had been spotted after nightfall but fled into the brush.

Officers said a hitchhiker was seen near Mohawk yesterday, but again ran into the woods when a police car approached.

Police Dog Used
In an effort to press the manhunt, Trooper John Rohwetter of the Marquette post, who handles the state police dog, went to the Copper Country to participate in the search.

Jones, serving a 15 to 30-year term for burglary, was a third offender.

The prison has offered the usual $50 reward for information leading to the apprehension of the escapee.

World War II and was stationed in North Africa and Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Tervola reside at 107 Adams St. and have a daughter, Mrs. Jeanette Blumberg, Marquette.

city limits, in Marquette Township. The automobile went off the left side of the highway, flipping over and winding up on its top, state police said.

Tonella, who was thrown from the car, according to state police, suffered a broken collarbone and multiple cuts and bruises about his head and body.

Tonella was taken in the city ambulance to St. Luke's Hospital, where his condition this morning was listed as being "good."

Speed Law Violation
Officers said his car, a 1960 station wagon, was practically a total wreck, with its top, rear, and both sides extensively damaged. It was removed from the scene by a wrecker.

State police issued Tonella a ticket for driving at an excessive rate of speed.

2. An automobile being driven south on S. Third St. by Muriel C. Pawlowski, Box 323, Tannery Addition, Munising, was struck on the left side by a car operated by Warner A. Sipila, Box 34, Eben, who was traveling west on Spring St., at 11:18 yesterday morning.

Sipila, 58, suffered a small cut on his right forehead. Jill Pawlowski, 19, riding with her mother, suffered a sore chest. The youngster was taken in the city ambulance to St. Mary's Hospital and Sipila sought his own treatment.

Extensive damage occurred to both the left side of the Pawlowski vehicle, a 1963 twodoor sedan, and to the front end of Sipila's automobile, a 1961 fourdoor sedan. Both automobiles had to be removed from the scene by wreckers.

Right-Of-Way Violation
City police gave Sipila a summons for a right-of-way violation.

3. At 3:50 yesterday morning an automobile being driven west on U. S. 41 by Carleton Sprinkle, 28, Port Huron, collided with a car operated by Frederick Sawyer, 77, Minneapolis, a mile west of the Marquette city limits, in Marquette Township.

Marilyn Sprinkle, 22, riding with her husband, suffered a cut on her nose and a possible head injury.

Mrs. Sprinkle was taken by a passing motorist to St. Luke's Hospital.

State police said the mishap occurred when Sawyer made a left turn as Sprinkle was passing him.

Considerable damage resulted to the front end of Sprinkle's car, a 1962 coach, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker. The left rear of Sawyer's vehicle, a 1954 sedan, was damaged. The car was driven from the scene under its own power.

State police gave Sawyer a ticket for making an improper left turn.

Among the key persons at the second annual Northern Michigan Apprenticeship and Training Conference which was concluded here this afternoon are these people. From left, standing, are Max F. Demand For Skilled Persons High; U.P. Ideal For Some Industries, Covert Asserts Educators must shape the lives of young students so that they can face the realities of the world ahead of them, a Ford Motor Co. executive said here yesterday.

He also made note of the opportunities for industry in the Upper Peninsula.

Max F. Covert, Dearborn, Ford's training supervisor for manufacturing services, was keynote speaker at the opening general session of the second Northern Michigan Apprenticeship and Training Conference at Northern Michigan University.

Purpose Of Conference

Purpose of the conference, initiated last year by NMU, is to motivate labor, management, and education in the state to work together in developing and conducting apprenticeship training programs. The meeting ended this afternoon.

Speaking on "Quality Training to Shape America's Future," Covert emphasized that youth must be prepared to face the growing demand for "skills pertaining to all activities in our fast moving world."

The trend toward mechanization is evident in farming, which has changed from horse-pulled equipment to automated equipment, and in the space industry, he noted.

"Closer to home lies the area that most of us are familiar with, industry and its advances in complexity," he said.

"In visiting a Ford plant recently, I was surprised to learn that more than 85 per cent of the 2,800 machines were equipped with complicated hydraulic, pneumatic, mechanical and electronic components. This trend is an excellent indicator of the need for additional skills," Covert pointed out.

However, studies and forecasts tend to present statistical summaries and trends without specifically pointing out areas of development and advance which might affect an area such as the Upper Peninsula, and have a powerful bearing on employment opportunities for young people, he said.

Among some of the developments currently expanding are functional drafting, numerical control, electric discharge machining, miniaturization of electronic equipment, solid state controllers and many others.

"Functional drafting and true position dimensioning are the main topics in the drafting world today," he said. "While drafting machines at $100,000 each, which require as much time to process the work as to draw it, are unlikely to affect your drawing courses, functional drafting, however, should be considered."

"While it represents new applications, not new concepts, it is growing in use because the method of making and storing drawings in industry has changed radically."

Must 'Unlearn' Skills
The tendency for lines and small letters to close up makes the elimination of unnecessary lines and the use of larger letters imperative. Less cluttered systems of dimensioning also become necessary. A drafting instructor and his students should be aware of these changes in the field, he said. Otherwise if the boy later gets a job as a draftsman, it becomes necessary to "unlearn" the skills mastered so painstakingly.

Numerical control represents an extension of computer control into the precision machining field, Covert said. A machine so operated provides adjustment of table holding a piece of stock in two or more dimensions and adjustment of the head holding the cutting tool as well.

Technical Field
The machine tool builders have pursued the design to machines which will produce dies or parts made of tough steel in a similar manner. These pieces are given the requisite finish by electrical discharge machining, another rapidly developing technical field.

"Here again necessity compels the adoption of new methods," he said. "One of our major automobile producers last year listed 116 car models available to customers. Such variety compels either a great degree of part interchangeability or the expenditure of impossible budgeted amounts for tooling."

"Since customers become more discerning and more demanding, year by year, the move to numerical control in the tooling field becomes the answer to the problem. Each company will naturally adopt the new methods to its own objectives."

Numerical Control

Electrical discharge machining is the handmaiden of numerical control because it is the manner in which perfect finishes are obtained, he said. Essentially it represents the removal of particles of metal which are vaporized and immediately absorbed in a dielectric fluid which is constantly agitated and flushes the removed metal from the area of discharge. This process already is well developed and being tried in new applications, Covert reported.

Very hard, formerly "unmachinable," metals can be "machined" by this process into the most intricate forms. Electrodes may be made of copper or brass, of compressed powdered metal and lately of almost any material sprayed with carbon, he noted. Since both electrodes wear away, the form electrode may be built up with carbon repeatedly and shaped easily until the hard metal being worked reaches its final shape.

Intricate Molds
Forging dies and very intricate molds, which will withstand almost endless wear and use, are now easy to make, he observed.

"To recite a list of areas in which skilled men will be needed resulting from new technical advances would require all the time at my disposal," Covert said. "However, some fields have characteristics for which this area would represent an ideal location for manufacture."

"Miniaturized electronic equipment requires little material and when finished, has little weight or bulk. Industrial water resources are not required and shipping costs are trivial. An inducement for such a manufacturer to locate a plant is a supply of trained or partly trained workers and the assurance that training personnel and facilities are available.

"As citizens of the area, as well as educators, it would be in the public interest if you gentlemen investigated industries of this type and could collectively guarantee the training aspect as an inducement for manufacturers to chose this area the location of new plants."

North Carolina, however, has established several technical schools and community colleges for the very purpose of insuring trained workers and training facilities as an inducement. Michigan, especially Upper Michigan, might well follow this example, he said.

Suggestions Given

"In discussing these new techniques of manufacturing, we necessarily create a need for personnel," Covert said. "How does this need for personnel affect education and industry? To begin with, education institutions play an important part in grooming our young people for various skills used in industry."

"I might also add that education is doing a very good job in this respect. Your question might be 'How can education institutions do a better job?' A few suggestions are as follows:

- A closer working relationship between industry and education.
- "A survey of course curricula to meet the needs of industry within your community."
- "Establish 'career days' for all high school students to make the student aware of offerings in the business field."
- "Visitations on the part of teacher groups to industry to become aware of new developments in the field."
- "Establishment of better college courses familiarizing student teachers with training in industry."
- "Liaison between industry and school coordinators for leading students into available vocations of their choice."

'Industry Does Care'

He said he often heard the remark "Industry doesn't care what we give the student, it will train him whatever way they wish." He asserted that industry does care.

"Industry would like very much to have people trained," Covert said. "This is the job of educators. In the past, companies have had to train people for their own particular need of skills, however, industry is only in the training business because it has to be, not because it wishes to be."

First Case Of Dutch Elm Disease Reported In Marquette County

The first case of Dutch elm disease ever reported in Marquette County came to light yesterday afternoon.

Mel Nyquist, Marquette, county extension director, received word from the State Agriculture Department's Dutch Elm Disease Control Laboratory in Lansing that a case of the disease was confirmed in a sample of an elm tree sent to the laboratory for analysis.

The tree was one that was removed from the yard of the Marquette County Courthouse and destroyed.

Dutch elm disease is caused by a fungus that kills native elms. The only other case of the disease known to have been found in the Upper Peninsula was reported in Menominee County last year. It was discovered in a load of firewood a farmer brought from Illinois to Carney.

"Unless effective control measures are undertaken, the disease could damage all other elm trees in Marquette in a short time," Nyquist said.

In Michigan Since 1950

The first elms known to die of Dutch elm disease in Michigan were found in Detroit during the summer of 1950. Since then it has spread to other southern parts of the state.

To keep the disease from spreading in a community, the first infections must be found soon after they occur, and control measures must be promptly applied. Necessary control measures require a program of sanitation and spraying over an indefinite period of time.

The most noticeable sign of the disease is the wilting of one or more branches of infected trees. The wilting leaves become yellow and, later, turn brown when dead. Branches with dead, brown leaves may hang among the green foliage of healthy branches, a further sign that the trees may have the disease.

The tiny spores ("seeds") of the Dutch elm fungus germinate in the water-conducting tissues of the living elm tree. As the fungus grows, it causes the tree to form gums which plug the water-conducting tissues. This condition causes the tree to wilt and die.

Many trees die in the same season that infection occurs — some are killed within a few weeks. Only a few live longer than the second or third season. All elms are susceptible, but the native elms more so than the Asiatic species.

Naming Highest Peak

"Baraga County boasts the highest peak in Michigan, Mt. Wilderness," the Grand Rapids Press pointed out in a recent editorial. "But a majority of the people up there don't like its name; they want to call it Mt. Curwood, in honor of the late James Oliver Curwood, an Owosso resident who wrote numerous romantic novels about Northern Michigan and Canada. But whether the name would mean much to the present generation, let alone later ones, we have some doubts.

"As novels of their type go, the Curwood books weren't bad. But most critics would agree, we suspect, that Stewart Edward White's Michigan novels were better. And there are some other Michigan novelists noted for their outdoor books who might challenge Curwood for the distinction of being given a permanent place on Michigan's map. Among the deceased are Rex Beach and James B. Hendryx; among the living, Harold Titus and Dale VanEyre.

"We aren't suggesting that a mountain, bay, river or anything else be named for all of these writers; only that there are several whose work can be compared favorably with Curwood's. Any new name given the state's tallest peak ought to stand out by itself."

The editorial misses the point. The people of Baraga County voted to name the peak Mt. Curwood instead of Mt. Beach or Mt. Hendryx or Mt. Somebody Else simply because James Oliver Curwood once had a hunting camp in the vicinity of the mountain. Selection of the Curwood name does not imply that he was Michigan's most outstanding novelist, as the editorial suggests. Rather, it appropriately commemorates a well-known person who was identified with the area. This is how many of our authentic place names originate, and it is hard to find fault with this practice.

We agree with the Grand Rapids Press that there are several Michigan novelists whose work can be compared favorably with Curwood's. The most outstanding of these is Ernest Hemingway, who once lived in the northern Lower Peninsula and made fishing excursions to the Upper Peninsula. His place in American literature is vastly more secure than that of any of the writers heretofore mentioned. If a geographical entity in the vicinity of one of Hemingway's old haunts in Michigan were to be named for him, there would be no cause for criticism.

Influencing Government

If the Upper Peninsula wants to win friends and influence people, it can do better than read Dale Carnegie. It might, for instance, watch the maneuvers of Rep. John F. Toepp (R-Cadillac), who recently made a tour of the Upper Peninsula to inform himself upon its economy and legislative needs.

Rep. Toepp represents Wexford and Manistee Counties in the Legislature. They are resort areas, and the Legislature can help them considerably with helpful legislation if it will.

To help along the process, Rep. Toepp conceived the idea of inviting the Legislature to be guests of his district on a winter junket. It is a noted snow resort country, with famed Caberfae as a featured offering. There are too many legislators to be entertained, with their wives and local hosts at one party, so Rep. Toepp will divide the state lawmakers into two bodies by lot, inviting one for Jan. 10, 1964, and the other for the following year.

There'll be no partisan line between Republicans and Democrats for the party; they'll all be one big happy family, leaving Lansing on Friday afternoon and returning on Sunday.

The venture will cost the district $5,000 or $6,000, but the area is the biggest ski resort east of Sun Valley, with 34 runs and 90,000 skiers last winter and it has learned to venture boldly in order to promote its business. People of the district will buy dinner tickets to help host the legislators and their wives, who will go back to Lansing knowing much more about the Caberfae country, its opportunities and its problems.

Hiawatha Forest APW Program Created Jobs In Six U. P. Counties

The Accelerated Public Works funds which were allotted to the Hiawatha National Forest for use from Nov. 1, 1962, through June 30, 1963, created 1,690 man months of employment, according to Sherwood C. Trotter, Escanaba, forest supervisor.

Alger County benefited from 275 of these man months employment, Chippewa County had 353 man months, Delta County had 372 man months, Mackinac County had 326 man months, Marquette County had 120 man months and Schoolcraft County had 244 man months.

420 Peak Employment

A maximum of 429 were employed at one time on this program on the Hiawatha National Forest. The peak employment was during the winter when other employment was at its lowest ebb.

Many labor skills were used in these Accelerated Public Works projects. Seven hundred man months of employment were used on land treatment measures. These included timber stand improvement, tree planting, game habitat improvement, and insect control projects. These activities speeded up the national forest program of making the area more productive.

Other Projects Listed

Man months of employment on road construction projects total 194.

Other construction work required 617 man months of work. These projects included new recreation areas, three clothes change buildings at swimming beaches, a new field laboratory at the Upper Peninsula Experimental Forest, addition to the forest research facilities in Marquette and construction of forest fire control accessways.

The balance of 79 man months was used in the maintenance of existing facilities on the national forest. This included road maintenance, maintenance of existing fire control accessways and maintenance of ranger station headquarters.

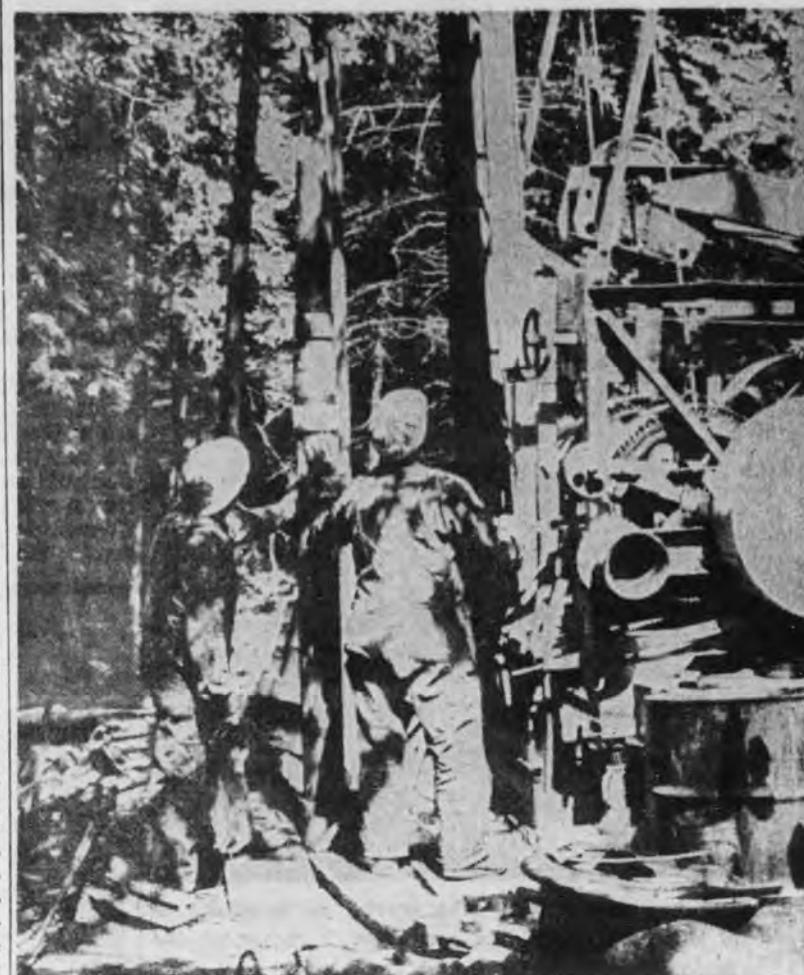

The road work will permit greater use of the forest. Timber operators can more economically harvest the forest products and the recreationists and sportsman have more area open to them. The entire national forest program was accelerated by the work. A large amount of the work was done by crews hired by the Forest Service. All this work terminated at the end of the fiscal year on June 30, 1963.

Some Still Employed

Some of the work was done by local contractors. A small number of men are still employed on some of the contract projects. All the contract money was obligated in contracts awarded before the close of the fiscal year.

The Accelerated Public Works program, signed into law by President Kennedy on Sept. 14, 1962, was designed to help in the initiation and speed-up of state, local and federal public works projects that would help provide immediate useful work for the unemployed and underemployed in labor surplus areas. The Area Redevelopment Administration of the Department of Commerce and the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture cooperated in the program on the Hiawatha National Forest.

Local contractor was hired to drill well to serve the historic Peninsula Point Recreation Area in the Hiawatha National Forest under an Accelerated Public Works contract.

Work team is shown developing a wildlife food area on the Rapid River District of the Hiawatha National Forest in Delta County.

Controlled burning of jack pine slash on the Rapid River District of the Hiawatha National Forest, prepared the area for planting and eliminated insect infestation. Burning by the U.S. Forest Service, following removal of merchantable timber.

Today's Special Story

Whirligig

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Congress has its hand in the consumer's pocket again. Pressured by the so-called "fair trade" lobbies, it is quite likely to pass a law eliminating price competition in the sale of branded or trademarked products.

This legislative monster is euphemistically tagged the "quality stabilization" bill, and it has already been steamrolled through the House Commerce Committee by Chairman Oren Harris (D., Ark.). It is now in the Senate Commerce Committee, where the anti-consumer lobbies are breathing down the legislative neck.

These lobbyists assert that all they want to do is "protect the integrity" of brand-name products by permitting manufacturers to fix retail prices. This is shameless and arrogant baloney. What they really want to do is force the buying public to pay more for their products.

Today the consumer can shop around for the best buy in, say, his favorite brand of aspirin tablets. Under the proposed law, he would pay the same high price for that brand no matter where he bought it, to "protect" the brand name from being "degraded" by a low price tag.

The familiar cry is going up that such legislation would protect the "little man" from the big, bad discount houses. It is supposed to help the neighborhood store stay in business in competition with merchants operating on the principle of smaller profit margin but a higher volume of sales.

This argument is phony as a three-dollar bill. Chairman Emmanuel Celler (D., N. Y.) of the House Judiciary Committee has dug up the facts and has reported that the rate of business failure in states with so-called "fair trade" statutes generally has been higher than that in states where there are no such statutes.

Moreover, these "fair trade" laws just haven't worked. Over the past 30 years, they have been adopted by 45 states and they have proved so impractical that most of the states have repealed them, or their courts have found them unconstitutional.

John E. Horne, when chief of the Small Business Administration, said "there would seem to be no real reason" for the SBA to support the pending legislation. It would, he says, "introduce rigidities into a system which has developed great strength on the basis of its flexibility."

And former Assistant Attorney General Lee Loewinger declared last year that such a measure would make of retailers "distributive appendages of the manufacturers," depriving them of their right to set their own prices and profit margins.

Engineers Produce 'Light' Nuclear Blast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Engineers at North American Aviation's Columbus Division have devised a method of producing a simulated nuclear explosion with harmless light waves in order to study the effects of deadly thermal radiation on aircraft.

A large globe made of milk glass is used to simulate the blast. A specially designed incandescent lamp is placed inside the globe and a long glass tube-like probe is used to represent the aircraft in the tests.

By raising or lowering the globe, engineers can simulate explosions at any altitude. The glass probe can be moved to positions representing various altitudes and distances from the core of the blast.

The probe is attached to a recorder which registers the amount of light collected by the probe. Engineers then can determine mathematically the amount of radiation experienced.

U.S. Judge Subpoenas Union Pension Records

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal judge has subpoenaed the Teamsters Union's Central States Pension Fund records for investigation of possible violations in Detroit of the anti-kickback section of a new pensions plan disclosure act.

Transactions between the fund and four Detroit-area firms will be investigated the court said.

The Trouble In South Viet Nam

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — South Viet Nam is the perfect example of this country's dilemma in trying to deal with a dictatorship in a backward country which it hopes to keep out of communism.

For years the United States has pampered, placated and pacified South Viet Nam's dictator President Ngo Dinh Diem while he warred against the Communist guerrillas of North Viet Nam. This has been true since he took over in 1955.

Yet, in those years he couldn't have lasted without American help or perhaps even escaped alive.

Onslaught Condemned
But the United States was afraid to antagonize him. It felt it knew of no other leader who could rally the South Vietnamese against the Reds. Now suddenly the United States gets tough.

It has condemned his onslaught against the Vietnamese Buddhists who make up 70 per cent of the 14.5 million people. Some of Diem's generals are Buddhists. So are some members of the so-called Assembly, Diem rules by decree.

He and his family — his brothers and his powerful sister-in-law, Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, are his closest advisers — run the country. All are Roman Catholics. Vietnamese democracy has been called "Diemocracy."

Persecution Charges Denied
Diem denies the Buddhists' charges of religious persecution. Five of them have burned themselves to death in protest. Mrs. Nhu calls them fanatics and says she would clap hands if 30 monks barbecued themselves.

The United States is again motivated by fear in criticizing Diem's treatment of the Buddhists: Fear that his tactics will lose him support among the people and jeopardize the whole war against communism.

Where this new toughness will lead, or how long it will last, is unpredictable. But if the United States had been tougher with Diem long ago, Viet Nam might now be a better bulwark against communism.

Short Life Expectancy
Put yourself in the position of the poor, illiterate Vietnamese masses with a short life expectancy because of disease and lack of medical care. They have not known much about freedom, except perhaps freedom to die, and nothing at all about democracy or communism.

This ignorance about the laws explains the peasants' great lack of interest in the war. If you were a peasant and had to make a choice between the two, you'd pick the one that promised the most for you and your family.

To be persuasive, the Diem government would have to give tangible evidence, in reforms and programs, of what being on the non-Communist side could mean. Diem has given the people few reforms or programs. The American government has done extremely little talking about them either.

U.S. Spent $2.5 Billion
Diem, an aristocrat, has been mainly concerned with fighting the guerrillas and keeping power. He has a secret police to help him keep it. Mrs. Nhu said frankly not long ago her family has money and wants power.

Since Diem took over eight years ago this country has put over $2.5 billion into Viet Nam. It has more than 12,000 troops there, a number of whom have been killed.

That war, which now has no end in sight, might be going differently if the United States long ago had gotten tough with Diem and demanded he put in reforms and programs that would give the peasants a good reason for being non-Communist.

Report By Senators
This year four senators who visited Viet Nam returned and said in a report: "Present political practices in Viet Nam do not appear to be mobilizing the potential capacities for able and self-sacrificing leadership on a substantial scale."

"The government of Viet Nam and our policies, particularly in the design and administration of aid, must bear a substantial, a very substantial, share of the responsibility."

In one form or another the Viet Nam kind of problem haunts the United States around the world in backward countries, or not so backward ones, where it is giving aid to frustrate communism.

It's how to get a dictatorship, or a ruling rich elite, to give the masses programs for a better way of life as visible cause for preferring not to be Communist.

IT'S JUST ADAM POWELL

Echoing from the past, the voice in Harlem's Abyssinian Baptist Church still had a familiar ring. American Negroes should "blindly follow black leadership"; in the civil rights struggle, white liberals "must accept a secondary role."

Over the years Adam Clayton Powell has parlayed his racist demagoguery into a heap of high living. But the chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee has seen more responsible Negro leaders pass him by, till now it's almost pathetic to see him grasp at their coattails.

White liberals, we trust, won't be too shocked by Mr. Powell's efforts to consign them to second class citizenship in a rights effort that needs everyone's cooperation. His own credentials as a leader have grown somewhat tarnished by disuse. And now, on what could be the eve of victory, Adam seems a bit lost.

He won't be missed. — New York Herald Tribune

APARTHEID

Adlai Stevenson made a remarkable speech on South African apartheid which was too easily lost among the weekend's distractions. "Just as my country is determined to wipe out discrimination (against Negroes) in our society, it will support efforts to . . . remove the evil business of apartheid not only from our agenda but from the continent of Africa."

He told the United Nations Security Council that three years of efforts to persuade South Africa, within the U.N. and by individual countries, has accomplished "zero"; that there is "a deadlock between the overwhelming majority of mankind and the Republic of South Africa"; that its government is "on a collision course toward ultimate disaster." He announced a complete arms ban by the United States though he rejected other measures of boycott.

We agree with Ambassador Stevenson that there must be an alternative to explosion and bloodshed in South Africa, and that its best alternative is "to change course and embark on a policy of national reconciliation and emancipation." — Christian Science Monitor.

The association was organized several months ago, and its workings to date have justified the expectations of its promoters, in addition to fathering a belief that the organization will be permanent.

Marquette will try its luck on the baseball diamond again tomorrow, when the locals will meet Crystal Falls for the first time this season. The Crystal Falls men are a fast bunch, who are doing their best to get games with the strong Copper Country teams.

The big assembly hall in the third story of the F. Braasard and Co.'s new block on Cleveland Ave. will fill a great want here. The floor surface of the main room will be 52 feet in width by 97 in length. The platforms at the front will not be more than six or seven feet in width, just enough to accommodate an orchestra of 10 or 12 pieces. The Anderson Hall has the largest floor surface of any assembly room at present in use in Ishpeming. It is 40 feet by 60 feet, exclusive of the platforms, which occupy six feet of the entire front.

A repetition of the safe cracking episode at Palmer was evidently nipped in the bud here Thursday night. Shortly after 9 two men were discovered trying to gain entrance to the Savings Bank Store. They likely intended to force open a window in the second story, but their ladder fell to the ground and made such a clatter that it woke up a woman living in an adjoining building. She saw the figures of the two men plainly, and they must have seen her as they ran away. It was impossible for the woman to distinguish them.

Just like mother used to make and all the good things associated with grandmother's table will be shown in tempting array at the Marquette County Fair, which opens Aug. 29 and continues through Sept. 2. Mrs. Belle Markham is superintendent of the home economics department of the fair and declared yesterday that the food exhibit would be very interesting.

In all the times you have been fishing have you ever had an experience like this? The time is just before dawn. The place is high up on the upper reaches of the Choccolay River, and the person is Fred Goldenstedt, a member of Marquette's fishing fraternity. Approaching the stream in the faint light that marks the coming of day, Goldenstedt's attention was arrested by a faint humming sound. Thinking nothing was amiss, he dismissed it from his mind and proceeded toward the river, but as he advanced to the bank the hum increased. He looked to right and to left but could see nothing. Then he chanced to look down at his feet. What he saw was enough to scare anyone. Bees were swarming around his boots getting ready for an attack. What to do? A step, a jump and into the river with bees close behind. Downstream he went, but he had proceeded but a few feet when a huge black form loomed up in the stream directly ahead. A black bear turned and looked him straight in the eye, and the bees closed in on the rear. What a choice — bees or bear? The bear looked like the best bet, so Goldenstedt advanced. The

Through the efforts of the newly organized Electrical Safety League and A. T. A checkup by Peter J. Trudell, Negaunee postmaster, today revealed that 120 employees in this city have joined in the NRA drive inaugurated by President Roosevelt to create more jobs and adjust wages and working conditions of employees.

Sawmill operators in Upper Michigan anticipate a decided increase in the demand for hardwood lumber, such as birch, hard maple, soft maple, basswood, soft elm and rock elm, in the immediate future. Business in the northern hardwood division of the industry has been quiet due to the usual July and August slackening in demand from the wood-using industries and the fact that both buyers and sellers were waiting for approval of the code.

John E. Horne, when chief of the Small Business Administration, said "there would seem to be no real reason" for the SBA to support the pending legislation. It would, he says, "introduce rigidities into a system which has developed great strength on the basis of its flexibility."

And former Assistant Attorney General Lee Loewinger declared last year that such a measure would make of retailers "distributive appendages of the manufacturers," depriving them of their right to set their own prices and profit margins.

Dictation of prices by manufacturers already has been outlawed by the Supreme Court in the McCleskey and Robbins drug case. But even if it had not, Congress has no right to prevent the consumer, in this day of high prices, from discovering an occasional bargain in cough syrup or even in hooch.

Bay Cliff's 30th Annual Camping Season Rated Highly Successful

The 30th annual camping season at Bay Cliff Health Camp near Big Bay ended recently and was described by camp officials as one of the most successful on record.

A total of 171 handicapped children from every county in the Upper Peninsula attended this year's six-week session of the camp.

For many of the youngsters, the special classes they attend at Bay Cliff represent the only therapy service they receive during the entire year. Of the 171 campers, no less than 127 do not receive special services in a regularly established program in their home communities, Bay Cliff spokesmen said.

Among the 120 speech therapy cases (compared with only 76 five years ago) were 13 children with cleft palate and/or lip and 32 who were deaf or hard of hearing. They attended speech therapy classes every day. In cooperation with Northern Michigan University, the camp was able to utilize the services of Dr. Dale Lundeen of Marquette, who supervised and instructed 10 student therapists at Bay Cliff for the six-week period.

Many of the 32 children in the hearing class were learning to use hearing aids for the first time and learning communication skills to overcome the effect of hearing loss. Lois Leacock, Flint, was the hearing therapist.

Dental Program Inaugurated

Every half hour from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., five days a week, twelve campers in the physical therapy program were busy exercising to improve coordination, sitting and standing balance, gait, muscle function and other treatments for the handicapped.

Flouride treatment was offered this year for the first time at Bay Cliff, and 129 children received treatments. Sponsored by the United Cerebral Palsy Fund and the C. S. Mott Foundation of Flint, a two-week dental program was made possible this year. Dr. Roger Noonan, dentist for the Mott Foundation, X-rayed and charted the teeth of all campers.

Three major improvements were carried out at the camp this year:

- Shrine Workshop, The Shrine

513-POUND GAIN

The 171 youngsters who attended Bay Cliff Health Camp this summer gained a total of 513 pounds during their six-week stay at the camp. That averages out to three pounds per child, or half a pound each per week.

ers of the Ahmed Temple in Marquette made possible a fine new workshop, housed in a large, fire-proof building equipped with indoor toilet facilities.

• Laundry. This year, for the first time in the camp's history, Bay Cliff was able to have its laundry done at the camp. In previous years the laundry was taken into Marquette. A substantial savings to the camp resulted from installation of a new automatic washer and dryer.

• Hydrotherapy Pool. Construction was undertaken on a pool to serve a three-fold purpose—as a water reservoir for fire protection, as a facility for hydrotherapy and as a water recreation area for campers. The pool was named for Irving Edwards, a Houghton County citizen who worked diligently in the interests of crippled children.

One of the camping season highlights was the Fourth of July celebration, which featured a parade staged by the children, with races and relays for the whole camp that evening.

Alger County sent 12 children to Bay Cliff; Baraga County, 9; Chippewa, 16; Delta, 12; Dickinson, 14; Gogebic, 5; Houghton, 22; Iron, 11; Keweenaw, 2; Luce, 9; Mackinac, 6; Marquette, 28; Menominee, 9; Ontonagon, 8, and Schoolcraft, 8.

Also appearing as speakers are Gene Brenneis, Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, president-elect of the student MEA; Robert R. Richards, Lansing, state consultant for student MEA programs; Dick Kleyn, Ann Arbor, University of Michigan; Rose Kurzyniec, Warren, Student MEA past-president, and William E. Wright, director of conferences, NMU public services division.

Pollen Count For City

Marquette's latest ragweed pollen count stands at 29 grains per 3.6 square centimeters, City Sanitarian Ronald S. Maitland said today.

The figure represents the count for the 24-hour period from Wednesday morning through yesterday morning.

Maitland said that an accurate count could not be taken this morning, because rain last night washed dust off the sampling apparatus, leaving no trace of pollen.

The count of 29 taken yesterday morning is the highest so far this season.

Maitland uses the technique for atmospheric pollen sampling approved by the pollen and mold committee of the research council of the American Academy of Allergy.

In his technique the recommended location for the sampling apparatus is the center of an unobstructed roof of a tall, flat-top building near the center of a community.

Marquette's pollen count is taken from the roof of the federal building.

Public School Offices Open Next Week For Registration

Offices in all five of Marquette's public elementary schools will be open next week from Tuesday through Friday for registration of new pupils not previously enrolled.

Olive G. Fox, elementary supervisor for the Marquette Public Schools, called the attention of parents to the fact that new children coming into a school system must show a record of immunizations signed by a physician.

In addition, she said, children entering kindergarten must secure a complete physical examination before beginning school.

Parents also should bring their child's birth certificate to be checked by the principal. Forms for the physical examination may be obtained from the principal.

Principals Listed

Miss Fox listed the five respective grade school principals, as follows: Fisher School, Mrs. Helen Johnson; Lakeside School, John Arenz; Parkview School, Miss Helen Watson, and Whitman School, Ralph Barber.

Miss Fox will temporarily assume the duties of Mrs. Amanda Larson at Sandy Knoll School.

All principals may be reached by telephoning CAnal 6-6526.

The elementary supervisor also noted that Michigan law requires a child to be five years old by Dec. 1, 1963, in order to be eligible for kindergarten this year.

Classes were held in speech therapy for 120 of the children, in booster hose off the No. 2 (1,000-gallon) pumper. Children playing with matches were blamed for the fire. A small area was burned. Four firemen responded to the call and they returned to the station at 11:35 a. m. year's six-week session of the non-profit, non-denominational institution.

Dear Abby....

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to blow off a little steam about the ridiculous practice of businesses that give kiddies candy suckers when they come in with their mothers. I find myself avoiding the places where this is done. I don't know of one mother who approves of it. If she refuses to let the child accept the sucker, she is "mean." If she accepts it, she is building her child's dental bill and spoiling the child's appetite for the next meal. Doctors, believe it or not, are among the worst offenders. Banks, grocery stores and shoe stores run a close second.

DEAR IRATE: Telephone (or write a note) to the "offenders" and suggest they give out balloons instead. But don't hold your breath.

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon and many problems have come up. My family is small. My future husband comes from a very large family. His mother gave my mother a list of 66 "close relatives" she wants invited to the wedding supper. My father says he is willing to pay for OUR side of the family, but he is not feeding 66 strangers. Abby, how can I tell my future in-laws this? I am ashamed to tell my boyfriend.

DEAR ABBY: People are always so reluctant to take a loved one with a mental disorder to a psychiatrist for treatment. If they only realized what an injustice they are doing to that person! With all the wonderful drugs and treatments they have today, there's no reason for mental cases to go on living miserable lives when they could be normal and happy. Believe me, I know because we had it in our family. Mental illness sometimes takes on strange forms and is hard to recognize as such. Then, too, some people refuse to accept the truth and will admit to anything but a mental illness. I only wish we had taken the step ISHPEMING — United in a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Saturday were Judy Helen Bye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Bye, and William Carl Franson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Franson.

Bouquets of white gladioli decorated the altar of Trinity Lutheran Church for the candlelight service. The Rev. R. L. Miklethun officiated.

Mrs. Arthur Quayle sang "Wedding Prayer" (Dunlop) and "Lord, Jesus Christ Be Present" (Bach). Mrs. L. E. Harris, organist, played "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" (Bach) for the processional and "Glory to God in the Highest" for the postlude.

Bride's Gown

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant, waist-length gown of cascading lace ruffles over satin. It was topped with a redingote of Chantilly lace. She wore a Swedish crown of sequins and pearls, which secured her fingertip veil of pure silk, bridal illusion. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom, and carried a colonial bouquet of white and yellow roses.

The gown had previously been worn by her sister, Mrs. Donald Price of Negaunee.

Mrs. Price was the maid of honor, and Joyce Franson, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid. They were gowned in silk satin, detailed with scooped neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and fitted bodice. Their bell shaped skirts were adorned with appliques of rosebuds and leaves. Mrs. Price wore gold and Miss Franson was in willow green. They wore French bouffant veils attached to forward

New Miss Michigan Visits Detroit For First Time

DETROIT — The newest reigning "Queen of Michigan" is having the time of her young life seeing the major city of her domain for the first time in her 22 years.

She is Kathleen Kay McLaughlin of Ishpeming, whose laughing Irish eyes understandably have taken on additional new sparkle since she was recently named Miss Michigan of 1963 at the state finals in Muskegon.

'Kathy' is visiting here to grace her sponsor's float in the Michigan State Fair parade this evening, and soon journeys to Atlantic City, for the Miss America finals on Sept. 7.

Quite naturally, she hopes to repeat the success of Nancy Ann Fleming of Montague, who in 1960 was named Miss America.

Kathy simply describes her talent forte, a prerequisite for each Miss America contestant, as a dramatic poetry reading, an excerpt set to music, which helped her attain the state title. Her subject poem is Stephen Vincent Benet's "Western Star."

Sincere And Dedicated

Behind her unassuming attitude lies some very genuine real life drama and selflessness. A sincere and dedicated young lady, Kathy hopes to graduate from the University of Minnesota with a special teaching certificate requiring five years of college-level study and thereafter devote her warm personality and professional talents to teaching at the elementary level, retarded, deaf and blind children. For this reason, she has no present plans for marriage and raising a family of her own.

A $1,000 scholarship from the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Detroit, Inc., a regular state winner's prize, will help her accomplish her schooling goal. She'll resume her education and final year when she relinquishes her title.

Born In Minneapolis

Brown-eyed, brunet Miss McLaughlin is no pampered beauty or family pet. She has always carried her own weight (now 120 pounds on a 34-23-35, 5 foot 6 3/4-inch frame) by working part-time throughout her teens and continuing still. Babysitting, alternating with clerking in home town department and drug stores. Girl Scout camp counselling and dining room chores, help pay her room and board bill at school. Once she also conducted her own "Holiday Children Program" on WLUC-TV, Marquette.

Kathy was born Feb. 22, 1941, in Minneapolis, and moved with her family to the Upper Peninsula in 1955, graduating from Ishpeming High School in June 1959.

While there, she was a member of the National Honor Society for excellence in her studies and also found time for sports and cheerleading. She was a class officer and staff member of the school paper and yearbook. A typical Michigan outdoors lover, she still finds some time for bowling and swimming and occasionally for the good golf she plays in the low fifties (nine holes, of course). She also favors reading, good music, travel, discussion and knitting and "just loves meeting all kinds of people."

Many Times A Queen

She won her first title in 1958 when chosen high school Homecoming Queen and later also held the Ishpeming Snow Queen title in the winter of '59. She was selected Sweetheart of Sigma Chi during her junior year in college, in the fall of '61, and during the summer of 1962 was named official hostess at the Midwest Logging Congress in her home town. The Miss Ishpeming title in that community's first Miss America preliminary pageant came to her last summer. With it she earned the right to represent Ishpeming in the Miss Upper Peninsula Pageant, which she also won. At the Miss Michigan Pageant in Muskegon as Miss Upper Peninsula, she became the first Upper Peninsula beauty to capture the crown.

There are four others in her family, including her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. (nee Ruth Fleet-ham) McLaughlin, a brother Mike, 17, and a sister Patricia, 13. A happy and close-knit family, they all enjoy competitive sports. The family has traveled extensively over the entire U. S., camping out on annual vacations, won. At Kathy's family address is 219 Spruce St., Ishpeming, but she'll stay in Muskegon for the year of her reign.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Faye Christine Millimaki to Dale Matthew Kari. Parents of the couple are Alfred Millimaki and the late Mrs. Millimaki, Ishpeming, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kari, also of Ishpeming. No wedding date has been set.

Dr. Schuller Addresses Lutherans

In his lecture to the 30th convention of the North Wisconsin district of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, the Rev. David Schuller, professor at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo., urged the pastors and delegates to re-think the relation of the church and the world.

He stated before the assembly that "ours is a confused and bewildered generation. We have more things; but at the same time, we face greater difficulties in answering questions about the purpose of life. The problem of so many is that they have no faith to live by."

Dr. Schuller also spoke of the necessity for the church of maintaining a pattern of withdrawal and return. "Christians," he stated, "withdraw for worship, for common life and corporate witness. Then back in the mainstream of life they are to minister."

In speaking of the Christian life, Prof. Schuller said it is to be understood "as a re-enactment from below of the servant shape of Jesus Christ. Christ Himself is

GRAND RAPIDS — Marriage vows were exchanged on Aug. 16 in the Woodward Avenue Baptist Church, Grand Rapids, by Idamae Ann Kyser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dykstra, Grand Rapids, and Leonard William Isaacson, Grand Rapids, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Isaacson, 626 Lake St., Negaunee.

The 8 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Victor Matthews and the Rev. John Isaacson.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a chapel-length gown of peau de soie, designed with an empire bodice and Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt was trimmed with embroidered panels. Her waist-length veil was adorned with three cabbage roses. The bride carried a cascade of white and pink sweetheart roses.

Attendants Gowned Alike

The bride chose a her maid of honor Bonnie Van Noord. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Howard Kyser, sister-in-law of the bride, Hene Johnson and Joy DeYoung. All of the attendants were gowned alike in peppermint sheath dresses with matching overskirts. Their veils were of a matching color secured to a flat bow. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations.

A brother of the groom, John Isaacson, was best man, and groomsmen were Howard Kyser, brother of the bride, Victor Matthews Jr. and David Haaksma.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickensheets, aunt and uncle of the bride, served as mistress and master of ceremonies at the reception held in the church parlors after the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Upper Michigan and Wisconsin, the couple will reside in Muskegon, where both teach.

U. P. Nursing Workshop To Be Held In Newberry

LANSING — All Upper Peninsula nurses have been invited to attend a two-day workshop on mental illness sponsored jointly by the Michigan Department of Health and the Michigan Department of Mental Health at the Newberry State Hospital on Sept. 11 and 12.

According to Claire L. Coriveau, nursing consultant with the state health department, who is helping organize the program, the workshop will deal with basic concepts of psychiatry, some practical considerations in the use of drugs in psychiatric therapy, commitment and discharge procedures, the restoration of patients' civil rights and other legal considerations, county referral, family care and other community mental health programs. Nurses attending the conference will also hear Dr. R. R. Cameron, medical superintendent of the hospital, tell of the past history of the institution, its current operation and future goals, followed by reports from the various department heads.

Miss Coriveau said that the workshop is being held because of many requests for such a program expressed at previous nursing sessions. She said that registered professional and licensed practical nurses working in hospitals, nursing homes, county medical care facilities, schools, public health and other governmental agencies are invited.

Ishpeming Man, 58, Drowns In Lake; Divers Find Body

ISHPEMING — Toivo John Pesola, 58, Ishpeming, drowned late yesterday afternoon in Big Perch Lake, southwest of Ishpeming in Ely Township.

State police skindivers recovered the body at 9:05 this morning. Two officers conducted dragging operations last night until it became too dark, then at daybreak two skindivers resumed the search. Mr. Pesola and his family were at their camp on Big Perch Lake.

The victim apparently was trying out a new outboard motor and had traveled around the lake several times when he either fell or was thrown from the motorboat, state police said.

Persons on shore at the time said they heard the victim shouting for help and saw that the boat had overturned. However, by the time they reached the boat, Pesola had gone under.

Bernie Bjorne of Negaunee notified state police of the accident, which occurred at 5 p. m.

Mr. Pesola was employed at Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co.'s Barnum Mine, where he had worked nearly 30 years.

Jackson Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

New High School Building In Gwinn Nearing Completion

GWINN — The new high school building under construction here is being completed nearly on schedule, according to figures released by Supt. William G. Garrett. He does not, however, expect the building to be occupied until after Christmas vacation.

When ground was broken last year, contractors set a target date of November this year for completion. With 78 per cent of the construction time past, general contractors have completed an estimated 81 per cent of their work; mechanical contractors, 83 per cent, and electrical contractors, 73 per cent.

Building Exterior Unique

All exterior sidewalks have been completely and blacktopping is nearly completed. Approximately 90 per cent of the rough grading also has been done.

A unique feature of the exterior of the building is decorative concave steel paneling forming a pattern of alternating blue and white bordering the roof lines of some wings of the building. One workman commented that Gwinn is one of only two schools in existence for which such panels have been designed.

Terrazzo tiling has been used extensively throughout the building in hallways and work areas. School officials hope that the terrazzo will simplify cleaning and will result in reduced janitorial, cleaning and wax costs.

Arriving in Gwinn on Highway M-35, visitors will note that the school is set on an angle to the highway with the front facing away from the highway and toward a 50-acre wooded area being developed into an outdoor laboratory. A large blacktopped parking area is adjacent to the highway and to the school's service entrances, the gymnasium and football field.

2-Million-Dollar Project

Buses will load and unload students from a curved driveway that swings past the front entrance and then forms a loop and returns to the highway. All entrances are provided with canopies to provide protection in bad weather. Approximately two million dollars is being spent on the new school. Except for the gymnasium and cafeteria, the silhouette is one story with wings extending from a central portion housing offices and a large library-communications area.

Provisions have been made for a possible future addition of a junior high school wing to the building.

Township's Picnic Called 'Huge Success'

NEGAUNEE — Results of the third annual township picnic were analyzed by members of the Negaunee Township Community Center Committee at a meeting held last night, and all termed the program a "huge success."

Approximately 525 residents attended the picnic, and all activities were well patronized. Numerous compliments were received in regard to the chicken barbecue, which was prepared and served by Boy Scout Explorers Post 342 and Girl Scout Troops 51 and 68.

Community Center

Purpose of the picnics is to acquaint township residents, many of whom have moved into the area during the past five years, with facilities available at the Community Center, which may be utilized by all residents.

Originally designed as a rural school, the building became the property of the township board in 1954 when school district electors approved a proposal that it be turned over to the township.

In 1955 a committee of six was organized to formulate plans for renovating the structure and converting it to a Community Center. The committee consisted of Burton Boyum, Mrs. Laila Rivers, Mrs. Elvi Hyry, Reino Laitinen, Mrs. Sannie Luokkala and Marvin Wommer.

At the regular township election held in April of 1955, a levy of two mills was approved for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a Community Center. The levy went into effect the following year, and as revenues were received they were invested in bonds with the interest on these investments being used to defray costs of the picnic.

'Community Project'

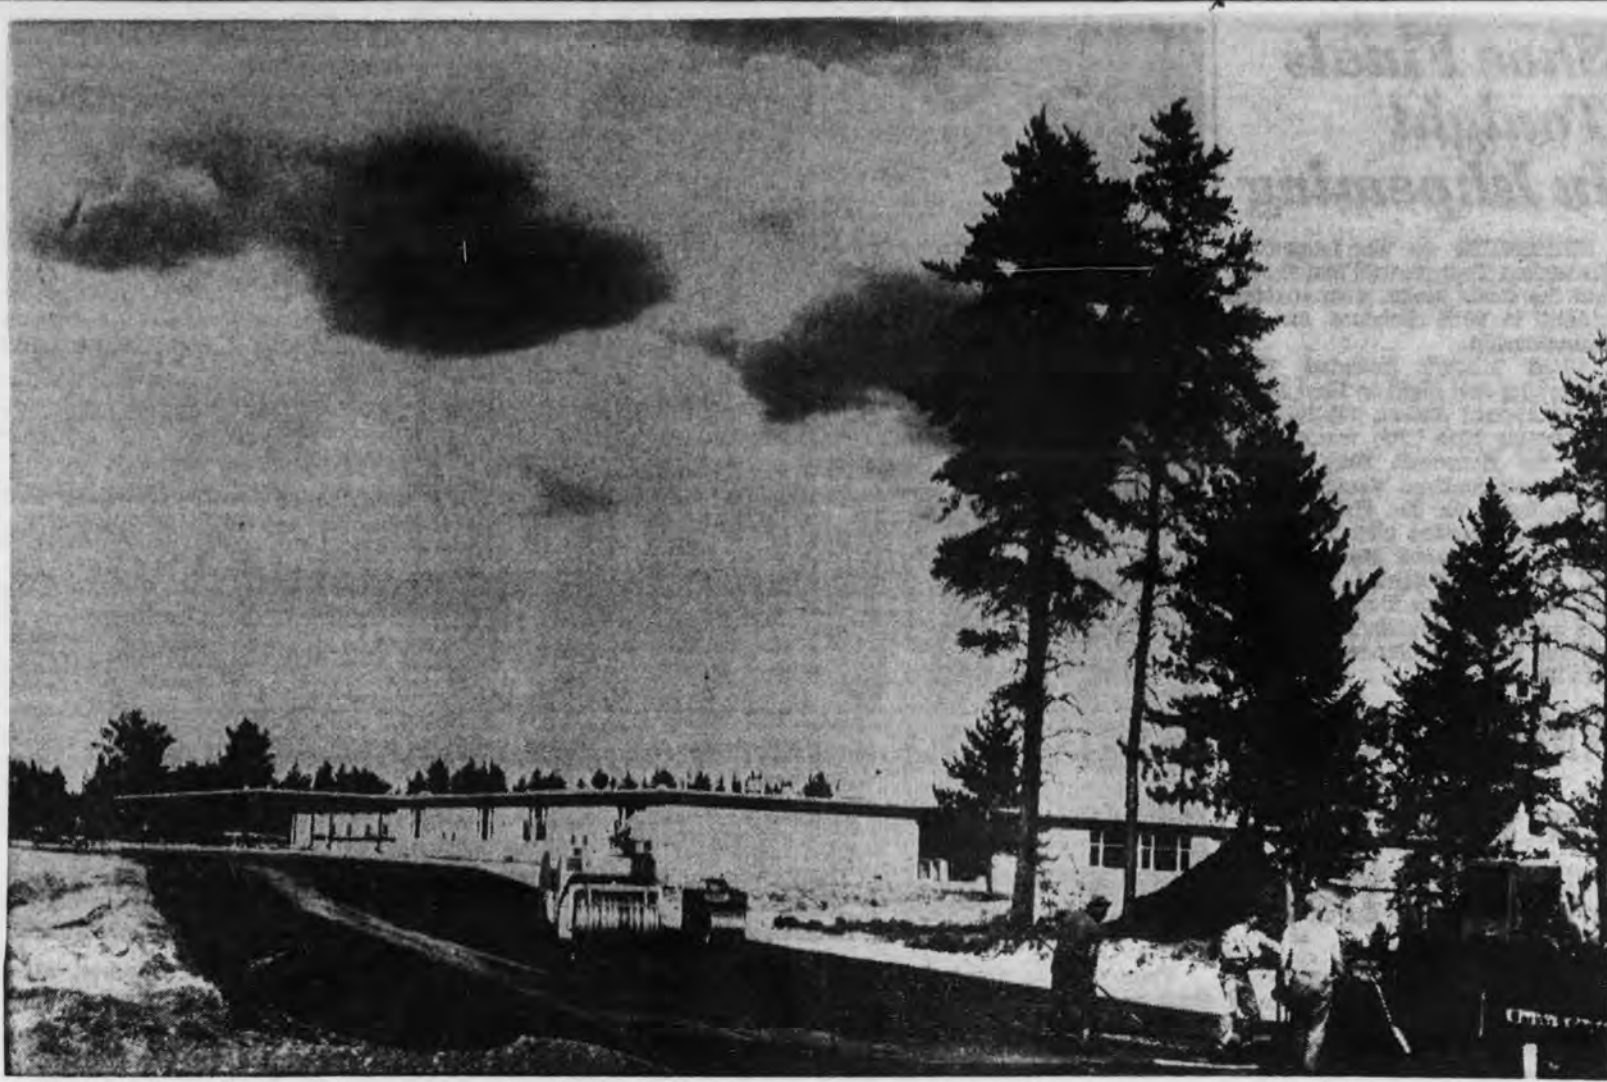

Reviewing the history of the program at the picnic, Boyum, committee chairman, noted that at the outset money was scarce, and that all work in connection with the renovation program was accomplished with volunteer labor in a series of work bees in which the majority of residents spent at least one day on the project.

"Thus, we believe that this is really a community project, as practically everyone had a hand in making it center usable," Boyum said. "Without the cooperation of all, it could not have been accomplished."

In 1959 a permanent board was established to supervise operation of the Community Center. Elected as members of the Center Committee were Boyum, Mrs. Rivers, Wommer, Fred Rosten, Laitinen and Mrs. Florence Korby. Changes in board personnel have occurred during the past four years, and the present membership is comprised of Mrs. Rivers, Boyum, Mrs. Korby, Mrs. Esther Mattson, Jarl Kivela and Clark Wickstrom. Others, who have served on the committee are Roland Hill, Donald Nurmi and Mrs. Arlene Kivela.

"We wish to emphasize once again that the Community Center is available for the use of all township residents," Boyum said. "Application blanks may be procured and reservations made by calling Mrs. Korby at GR 5-6302."

"We also desire to express our appreciation to the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and parents for the work they did in making the third annual picnic such an outstanding success."

Workmen are shown blacktopping road leading to new high school being constructed in Gwinn. The building, the fourth educational facility built for the school district in five years, will be ready for use after Jan. 1.

Gwinn Schedules Orientation Program For New Teachers

GWINN — The 27 faculty members who are to teach in the Gwinn school system for the first time will report to their assigned buildings Thursday, Aug. 29, for the first of a two-day orientation program.

The following morning the entire Gwinn faculty will meet at the Gilbert Elementary School. The pre-school teacher orientation program was approved this week by the administrative council following a series of meetings devoted to planning the coming year. Supt. William Garrett has appointed Tom Rood, director of information services of the Gwinn schools, as general chairman of the program.

The council is composed of Garrett, assistant superintendent Bredson Willis and Principals Edythe Haynes, Ruth Spade, Thomas Moss and Henry Sherry and Assistant Principal Donald Wachter.

New teachers will meet at their buildings at 9 a.m. for a coffee and social hour before attending sessions at which school policies and procedures will be outlined.

A general meeting will be held Aug. 30 beginning with a get-acquainted session at 9 a.m. Miss Carlton, vice president of the Gwinn chapter of the Michigan Education Association, will welcome the faculty at the general meeting. Supt. Garrett will speak on "The Years Ahead," and Willis will discuss "Past, Present and Future."

Elementary School Unit To Be Razed

BARAGA — The Baraga Township Board of Education has authorized application for a loan of up to $25,000 for school operating expenses and has made tentative plans to have the abandoned frame elementary school torn down and burned during the Christmas vacation.

The board gave Superintendent E. E. Erickson the go-ahead to borrow up to $25,000 for operating capital, against the school district's anticipated state aid. As often happens when state aid payments are late, the district finds itself in financially hard pressed unless such a loan can be negotiated. Prior approval of the board will enable the superintendent to borrow any sum up to and including the $25,000 when and if it becomes necessary.

Guard To Raze Building

Tentative plans for having the local National Guard unit demolish and burn the abandoned elementary school in Baraga were discussed earlier this summer, the board advertised for bids for salvage of the old wooden building. Two wrecking companies expressed interest in tearing the building down for a fee, but the board agreed that, since the school cannot be sold, it should ask the Guard to take over the project during the Christmas holiday season.

Robert Jacobs, board member and also commanding officer of the Baraga Guard unit, assured the board that Guard equipment and manpower could be made available for the project.

Erickson, reporting on his inquiry to the office of the state fire marshal regarding the availability of purchasing a used spiral tube fire escape for the Pelkie School, said the marshal no longer will approve this type of escape tube.

Music Teacher Hired

Erickson also told the board he had been successful in his search for a music teacher to replace Donald Beckman. The board approved his hiring of Rudolph Radocy, who is a graduate of Ohio State University and holds a master's degree in music from the University of Michigan.

In other business, the board approved a contribution of $100 to the Copper Country Child Guidance Clinic, okayed rental of a driver education car from the Baraga County Motor Club at a price of $25 per month and authorized Erickson to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Association of School Administrators to be held in Detroit next month.

IN APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends, and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement. We especially thank the staff of the Francis A. Bell Memorial Hospital, the pastor, the organist, pallbearers, those who sent flowers, cards, and all who assisted in any way.

Qualifying Sunday At Wawonowin

ISHPEMING — Qualifying rounds in the 1963 Wawonowin Men's Championship Golf Tournament will be played Sunday.

The 16 low scores will qualify for the championship flight, which will enter match play on Saturday, Aug. 31 in a playoff.

The eight winners in the playoff will form the championship flight for the tourney, and the eight losers will make up the first flight. Personnel for the other flights will be determined by handicap; however, all golfers are urged to play a qualifying round, as prizes will be offered for low net and low medalist scores.

Contestants must play the qualifying rounds with at least one other member of the club.

The tourney will be completed on Sept. 1 and 2, with a smorgasbord for members and their families slated for Monday evening, Sept. 2, at 7. Those planning to attend should notify the club's pro.

Bowling Meeting

The Queen City Women's Bowling League will hold an organizational meeting this Tuesday in the lounge of the Union National Bank, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Coffee will be served.

Dodger Lead Shortened By Cardinals Despite Flood's Running Error

(By the Associated Press) The St. Louis Cardinals, almost left high and dry by Curt Flood, took off for Houston today after salvaging the finale of a three-game set with National League-leading Los Angeles and temporarily at least, throwing the Dodgers' runaway chances overboard.

Despite a base-running boner by the sure-footed Flood, the Cardinals kept the Dodgers from building their lead to a whopping 8½ games by edging the front-runners 3-2 Thursday night in a game punctuated by missed opportunities.

Retreated From Score Flood, racing around third on Bill White's hit with the score tied 2-2 in the fifth, missed the bag and had to retreat. By the time Flood, who had four hits for the night, retraced his steps, it was too late to try and score.

As it turned out, the Cardinals snapped the tie in the sixth on a double by Ken Boyer and Julian Javier's single, ending the Dodgers' winning streak at seven games and trimming their lead to 6½ games.

The Cardinals, who came into Los Angeles only 5½ games back and riding a three-game winning streak, now will be looking to make up ground against the Colts

Shoe Finals Tonight In Ishpeming

ISHPEMING — The Ishpeming Horseshoe Tournament has moved into the finals stage, with contests tonight in both divisions for the championship.

Allied Movers defeated West Ishpeming last night in East Division semi-final action, 7½-2½, and the Venice Nite Club team swept past the Roosevelt Bar, 8½-1½. Allied will confront Venice tonight in the finals for the division title.

In West Division play last night, Rendezvous downed Maruke's, 6-4 and Club 41 defeated Negaunee Rod & Gun by an identical score, thus setting up tonight's title competition between Rendezvous and Club 41.

The Marquette area is well represented, both in number of teams and quality of ballplayers on them. Marquette Joe's Bar, winners of the 1963 Dewey Hanson trophy, Woody's Bar of Ishpeming, sparked by Werner Maki's record-breaking pitching, Negaunee Copper Country Bar and Negaunee MULIC are traveling to Crystal Falls, and stand an excellent chance of bringing the U. P. softball championship back to this area.

Teams from the area will meet strong competition from Al & Sal's of Iron River, and Woody's of Ishpeming will have the dubious honor of meeting this menacing squad in the opener of the tourney at 7:30 tonight.

The Iron River team won the 1963 Class B district championship earlier in the season, upsetting the favored Iron Mountain Bosch nine. The win enabled them to move into Class A competition for this tourney.

Woody's took the Tri-City Class A title this season, and collected another tournament victory in the Rhineland, Wis. invitational. . . a performance that promises stern opposition to the Iron River team this evening.

Following the tourney opener, Copper Country Dairy will confront Marquette Joe's Bar in Game 2 of the winner's bracket. Play will continue Saturday with MULIC facing Canadian Soo Carlins' at noon, followed by a match between Marquette Casino and Michigan's Moo Bosch, in games 3 and 4, respectively.

The winners of Games 2 and 3 will play at 6 p. m. tomorrow, followed by a 7:30 tilt between the winners of Games 1 and 4.

Loser's Bracket Loser's Bracket games begin tomorrow, with the loser of Game 3 meeting the loser of Game 2 at 3 p. m., and the loser of Game 1 facing the loser of Game 4 at 4:30. Saturday's play in this bracket will include a matching of the winner of the second Loser game with the loser of Game 7.

The tourney will consist of at least 14 games, with a 15th possibly needed to determine the champion on the basis of won-lost standings. The championship contest will begin at 7 p. m. Sunday, with the extra game immediately following if necessary.

NMU Gridders To Work Out Twice A Day

Sixty-five football candidates, the largest group to report since the largest group to report since coach F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca took the helm at Northern Michigan University in 1957, will begin two-a-day drills this Monday.

The drills, which will continue without a break until Northern opens its season at home against the State College of Iowa Sept. 14, includes push-ups, sit-ups, chin-ups, sprints, one-mile runs and chalk talks. The two-hour sessions will be held behind the NMU physical education building at 9:30 a. m. and again at 3:30 p. m.

Included in the group of returnees is the nucleus of the 1962 Wildcat line which limited its opponents to 63 points in nine games—the fewest points yielded by a Ferzacca-coached club.

Northern's nine-game schedule includes four conference contests—State College of Iowa (7-1-1), Parsons (9-0), Central Michigan (6-4) and Omaha (8-1-1). All are home games except Omaha.

During his first six seasons at Northern, Ferzacca's football teams have compiled a record of 34 wins, 16 losses and one tie and have been ranked among the top twenty small-college teams for the last four consecutive years.

Other members of the NMU coaching staff are: Pat Naughton, assistant coach; Gildo Canale, trainer; and Mike Mileski, graduate assistant.

Eighty-two persons have entered the Marquette Golf and Country Club's men's tournament, the qualifying rounds for which will be held tomorrow and Sunday.

The entry list this year exceeds last year's by 25. Of the 82 entries in the tourney, 16 have indicated they will compete in nine-hole matches. The others will be the customary 18-hole matches.

The 33 low qualifiers after tomorrow's qualifying rounds will play an additional 18 holes on Sunday and the 16 low scorers at the end of 36 holes will comprise the championship flight in the Labor Day weekend tournament, with play getting under way on Saturday, Aug. 31.

Five Prizes Each Flight The balance of the qualifiers will be put in flights of eight men each, and all will play for identical prizes. There will be five prizes in each flight.

The tournament committee noted that William J. (Bill) Connors, defending champion, has yielded his No. 1 seeded spot (his privilege as defending champion) in order to compete for the medal prize.

Best 36-hole score in the qualifying rounds this weekend.

Boros Shares Top Spot With Others

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Julius Boros, Miller Barber and Johnny Pott, three Southern gentlemen with hot putters, went into the second round of the $50,000 American Golf Classic today tied for the lead.

All three shot three-under-par 67s in the opening round Thursday while the pre-tournament favorites, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, could do no better than match par.

Two strokes behind the leaders were Jay Hebert, Australian Bruce Crampton, Gay Brewer Jr., Dave Hill, Al Geiberger and Dave Marr.

Equaling par with Palmer and Nicklaus were George Bayer, Ed Furgol, Ted Kroll and Rex Baxter Jr. Eleven others, including Gary Player who returned from a month's rest, were tied with 71s while southpaw Bob Charles, the British Open champion, was in a group of seven with 72s.

Four of this area's best golfers, friends since their younger days, when all were caddies at the Marquette Golf and Country Club, will be among those competing for the men's championship in the club tournament. Qualifying rounds open tomorrow. Shown in front of the clubhouse at the course are, from left, William J. (Bill) Connors,

New L'Anse Coach Has NMU Degree

L'ANSE — William Popp, 25, has assumed the duties of assistant football coach and varsity basketball coach at L'Anse High School. Popp received his bachelor of science degree in Physical Education from Northern Michigan University this year, having transferred to NMU from Arizona State University.

Coach Popp graduated from Franklin High in Johnstown, Pa. in 1957, and began his college work a football scholarship at Fort Union Military Academy, moving on to Arizona on another football scholarship.

Popp comes from a large family of ten, which lives in a small coal and steel town outside Johnstown, Pa. He has two brothers who preceded him in the coaching field, and who have moved up from coaching successful high school teams to present jobs with college squads.

Says Popp: "After the smoke and dirt of a town in Pennsylvania, I cannot think of a better place to live than the Upper Peninsula." The new coach is married, and the young couple are expecting their first child.

When Ted Kluszewski hit 49 home runs in 1954 he was the first Cincinnati Red to lead the National League in homers since Frank Odwell turned the trick with nine in 1905.

Negaunee Champions In Legion

NEGAUNEE — The Negaunee American Legion team has been given the league championship title, based upon their record of eight wins and two losses for the 1963 season.

The team was to have played Marquette for the title, but the latter squad failed to schedule a game within a reasonable time after the regular season's end, and it was decided to award the title to Negaunee.

The Marquette Legion team has one game left to play, and will travel to Treenary Sunday for that contest.

At the end of the season, with the exception of Marquette's incomplete schedule, the standings are as follows:

W	L	Games Out
Negaunee	2	2
Marquette	6	2 1
Treenary	5	4 2½
Gwin	5	5 3
Harvey	2	6 5½
Ishpeming	2	8 6

Negaunee earlier was eliminated by Marquette and Stambaugh in the double elimination District Legion Tournament, but compiled a 10-4 record for the season in all games played.

Dressen Puts Pitchers On Trial In Series With A's; All To Hurl

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tiger pitchers are on trial, possibly with their jobs next year at stake, as the Tigers start tonight on a flurry of 25 games in the next 20 days.

The judge for the 11 men is manager Charlie Dressen, who plans to ask every one of the pitchers to take the stand—either as a starter or reliever—in the next three weeks.

No Delay In Trial "Everybody is sound now," Dressen said. "We're rested and ready." That means the judge is overruling motions for delay of trial, with the baseball season three-fourths gone.

The Tigers dropped a place in the standings Thursday night when Kansas City beat last-place Washington and moved into seventh, one percentage point ahead of Detroit.

Low Carpenter and rookie Terry Zang ran the teams that alternated on offense while the defense had no respite.

The Packers were scheduled to go to Milwaukee this morning and go through a drill in County Stadium later.

Mich. Man Ties First In Tourney

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Bryan Garman, Mendon, Mich., and Richard Ward, LaMesa, Calif., shared first place in the novice division today as they entered the fourth round of the 18th International Junior Chamber of Commerce Golf Tournament.

Garman shot a 74 Thursday, while Ward had a 77. Each has a 227 total for the first three rounds.

John Richard, Ann Arbor, Mich., shot a 75 Thursday and is in a sixth place tie in the Open division. His 220 total is seven strokes off the pace set by Jeff Riley, Panama, and Don Iverson, La-Crosse, Wis.

Sioux Indians Get New Medicine Man

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Quam, a 23-year-old Zuni Indian and the first Indian graduate of the University of Cincinnati pharmacy school, will return to the reservation at Pine Ridge, S. D.

"I wanted to work with my people and this was the best way to do it," Quam said. "There are many older Indians who don't want to have anything to do with new medicine or new methods."

"Maybe I will be a good example to them. I hope so."

'Uncommon Efforts' Needed To Up State's Image: Harden

"Uncommon efforts to solve common problems" are needed to improve Michigan's tarnished economic image, Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan University, said yesterday at Mackinac Island.

Harden, speaking at the annual conference of the Association of Executives of Michigan, said the task will require the "determined and intelligent effort of many thoughtful and interested people drawn from business and industry, labor, education, and the lay public."

Harden said confusion and conflict contributed to Michigan's woeful economic image. "We Look For Scapagoats" "Instead of seeking solutions, we looked for scapegoats," he said. "We blamed Soapy, Gus and Walter. We blamed the Republican Senate, and we blamed the educators and the lobbyists. While we were enroached in these recriminations, Michigan's reputation suffered tragically."

Michigan now is on the mend, he said, "but where Michigan goes from here depends upon the willingness of management, labor, government, and the public to help heal the old wounds and restore Michigan to its place of leadership among the states." The deterioration of Michigan's public image was a "demoralizing experience" Harden said, adding, "We became identified as the 'welfare state.' Industry began leaving for a more 'favorable climate.' Educators from other states found Michigan a happy hunting ground for teaching and research talent.

Financial Scene: Monetary Policy Change Due To Start

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Another move to bring U.S. Treasury monetary policy closer in step with Federal Reserve credit management and with corporate financing needs will start next week.

Changing the present quarterly issues of one-year Treasury bills to a monthly offering seems at first glance like a routine matter of interest only to government security dealers.

"Automatic Turnover" But it could go well beyond that. It is further evidence of the important part monetary policy will play in meeting the problems that becloud the economic outlook.

The change to what the Treasury dubs "a more or less automatic turnover basis" might have a role in tackling the twin financial problems: curbing the outflow of gold and dollars abroad by firmer control over short-term loans and interest rates, and the simultaneous encouragement of economic growth at home through comparatively easy long-term credit.

This is a tricky task at best but one that the money managers see as ever more pressing.

The monthly bill offering is another in a string of monetary changes, in the last few months.

Market Tightened Early in the year the Federal Reserve began to tighten the short-term money market, if only by foregoing steps that would ease it. The result was a slow rise in yields of short-term securities, such as the 91-day bills and six-months bills the Treasury issues.

The aim, now acknowledged, was to make returns here look more attractive to those with idle funds which they had been shipping abroad where yields were higher. This added to the surplus of dollars in foreign hands, part of which were turned in from time to time for gold held by the U.S. Treasury.

Discount Rate Upped Then a month ago the Federal Reserve went another step and raised its discount rate from 3 per cent to 3.5 per cent. This is what it charges member banks for loans which they in turn can use in making short-term loans to business.

Such hikes in the discount rate usually make all such borrowing a little more expensive, or at least a little harder to get.

for reason, we saw the spectacle of bitterness drive at least one industry out of the Upper Peninsula. "Labor demanded more state services and higher taxes on business and industry, so we had a payless payday."

"Management sought tighter controls over unions, so we had strikes and threats of strikes."

"Meanwhile, the electronics industry, the missile industry, the great research and development centers passed us by for the West Coast. We remained the automotive center, and our economy ebbed and flowed with the six- or seven-million car year."

"We were given a wide berth by new industry, and we neglected existing industry."

Improved Tax Structure "But the situation changes when we substitute cooperation for recrimination," he said.

Harden cited the improved tax structure in the iron ore industry as an example of cooperation on the part of labor, management, and government. The new tax structure, he said, has encouraged the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. to invest more money, to ship more pellets, to strengthen underground mining operations and to preserve jobs.

The White Pine Copper Co. has provided 1,600 jobs in what was formerly a ghost community.

Menominee Industry The Enstrom Corp. is building helicopters in Menominee as the result of a favorable community attitude toward industry.

An Iron River toy manufacturer is improving its situation with help from Walker Cislser, president of the Detroit Edison Co. and chairman of Operation Action — U. P., an organization devoted to economic growth and progress in the Upper Peninsula.

Ironwood, battling a depressed economy, raised more than $100,000 to chart a new course for economic development.

"Michigan citizens are beginning to believe in themselves again," Harden said, "but it will take strong leadership to improve the Michigan image."

From Many Sources This leadership must come, he said, from many sources. "It must come from state government, with the executive and legislative branches working in harmony instead of discord. It must come from enlightened management, as exemplified by Walker Cislser, William Day, Fred McIntyre, Dan Gerber, Lyle Townsend, Carl Gerstacker, Al Aymond, Stuart Harrison, Roblee Martin, and many others working for a united rather than a divided state.

"Labor must recognize its responsibilities to the economic life of our state and be willing to produce an honest day's work for an honest day's wage."

"Leaders in education must reassess their role in changing the image of Michigan. The greatest research and industrial complex in the world should be in the Ann Arbor, East Lansing, and Detroit triangle."

Northern Seeks Programs "Other publicity-supported institutions should remember their public responsibilities."

Northern Michigan University, he said, will redouble its community and educational efforts through such programs as the Sears-Roebuck Foundation grant for community development; the Mott Foundation grant for a community school study; and the Area Training Center programs for re-training undertrained and under-educated workers in new skills, enabling them to participate in and benefit from the new technology in business and industry.

To Take Courage "Rebuilding the Michigan image will take courage," he told the association executives. "You who are in key positions in your communities or your organizations must live dangerously in your leadership responsibilities."

"It is only through the leadership of men of integrity and purpose, willing to face issues squarely and to make uncommon efforts in support of the common good, that Michigan will reclaim the respect and high esteem she so richly deserves."

Chicago's Iroquois Theater fire of 1903 took a toll of 602 lives, most victims being trampled to death.

U. S. Senators Patrick McNamara and Philip A. Hart, both of Michigan, said that the funds are in addition of $735,000 previously allotted for work in the Hiawatha National Forest under the Accelerated Public Works Act.

Work in the forest through Accelerated Public Works funds began last fall. Activities have included land treatment measures to make the area more productive, road construction projects, general construction, and maintenance of existing facilities.

An addition to the forest research facilities in Marquette was part of last winter's program. Michigan's share of Accelerated Public Works fund allocations announced yesterday is $1,320,000. Most of Michigan's allocation, $1,030,000, will go to projects in the Ottawa National Forest in the western Upper Peninsula.

Many plants in the large spurge family are somewhat poisonous to sensitive skins of foraging animals.
