

George Johnson Appointed Chief Of Police Here

New Marquette chief of police is George G. Johnson, formerly city detective and a member of the police department since 1955.

City Manager Thomas Moore moved Johnson up to the head city law enforcement post today. The appointment is effective tomorrow and is subject to the confirmation of the city commission.

Tervola Assistant Chief

The appointment was necessitated by the resignation last week of Donald C. Hermanson, who resigned to accept the position of captain in charge of the detective bureau.

Matt Tervola will continue to be assistant chief of police, Moore said.

In appointing the new chief, Moore said, "I believe he is the logical person for the position. Johnson is firm, but fair, and he will continue to uphold the excellent record of our police department."

Last July 1 he was promoted to detective, a post he held through today.

Attended Police Schools

Johnson attended the five-week police officers juvenile school held at Northern Michigan University in 1961, the four-week basic police officers school held at Michigan State University in 1956 and the 12-week "law of arrests" police school conducted by Attorney George C. Quinnell of Marquette. He also has attended area police schools conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The new chief is a member of St. Christopher's Parish, the Elks Lodge and the Marquette County Law Enforcement Association.

He is married to the former Carmen Aguado of Los Angeles. They have four children, Elizabeth Ann, 8; Roger Edwin, 6; Curtis David, 4, and Susan Lynn, 2. The family resides at 1712 Kildahl Ave.

3 More Youths Charged In Beer Parties, Break-In Cases

Petitions are being filed for the appearance in juvenile court of three more boys involved in break-ins and beer parties held this summer in a woods near Quarry Pool, city police said.

Two of the juveniles admitted breaking into the Vollwerth-Marquette Co., Division St., and taking meat which was eaten at the drinking parties. The third juvenile admitted breaking into Ward Beverage Co., police said.

16 Charged So Far

In all, 10 juveniles and six youths over the age of 16 have been charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime, at the Ward Beverage Co., the General Tire Co., the Standard Oil Co. bulk storage plant and Vollwerth's.

These boys were members of a gang which supplied stolen beer for at least 50 minors who attended mass drinking parties held in a secluded wooded area between S. Front St. and Quarry Pool.

About 100 Cases Stolen

City police said the parties had been going on since the last week of June. Gang members have admitted entering the beverage company warehouse 22 times. It is estimated that about 100 cases of beer were stolen.

More arrests will be made in connection with the break-ins, police said.

The two 16-year-old boys who admitted breaking into Vollwerth's told police they entered the plant on July 17 and Aug. 2. They said that two youths, already charged with breaking into the Ward Beverage Co., were connected with the break-ins at Vollwerth's.

Two boxes of wieners and two cases of bologna were taken at each entry at Vollwerth's, police said.

The juvenile who admitted the entry at Ward Beverage Co. said he entered the warehouse July 6, along with another youth who has already been charged and took a case of beer, police said.

At an arraignment before Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski yesterday, Fosmoe demanded the preliminary examination. He was released from the Marquette County Jail after posting $500 bond.

U-M Information Officer Tells Impressions Of U.P. Tour

BY JEAN WORTH Journal Special Correspondence Cleland B. Wyllie, director of informational services at the University of Michigan, has finished his latest tour of the Upper Peninsula with a conviction.

direct link to the campus at East Lansing is its extension staff, which administers both MSU's continuing education program and the cooperative extension program of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

With MSU moving its U.P. Extension Center onto the Northern Michigan University campus at Marquette in the new year, a change in extension activities collaboration can be looked for.

Wyllie has been shoring up the university's relations in a visit to newspaper editors and other mass communicators. He has had his ear to windward for echoes of commendation or criticism of the university and has observed in the Upper Peninsula the spectacular growth of Northern Michigan University, its changing relationship with Michigan State University and the general complexion of the public acceptance of the state's institutions of higher education.

One of Wyllie's enthusiasms is the University of Michigan Press Club, of which he has been the secretary since founding. He noted on his U.P. tour that a similar organization to serve the Upper Peninsula is being born under the friendly auspices of Northern Michigan University.

Charles Follo is the University of Michigan's director of extension services station in the Upper Peninsula, and no one knows the U.P. education scene better than he, but he works solo except for what educational talent he can entice to the U.P. from the Ann Arbor campus.

Wyllie cited that when U.S. Plywood Corp. investigated a plant site at Gaylord in the top of the Lower Peninsula, the local MSU alumni got a water quality report from MSU. U-M was thoroughly qualified to supply the same service; where were the U-M alumni?

The University of Michigan is Michigan's oldest institution of higher education and dates to 1817, when Michigan was still a territory and many years before it achieved statehood and admission to the Union in 1837.

Circuit Court Opens Here Next Tuesday; 97 Cases On Calendar

Marquette County's September term of circuit court will open here Tuesday, with Judge Bernard H. Davidson of Negaunee presiding.

Judge Davidson is judge of the 25th Judicial Circuit, which includes Marquette and Delta Counties.

A busy term is scheduled, with 97 cases listed on the court calendar issued by County Clerk Lloyd LeVasseur, Marquette, who also serves as circuit court clerk.

Cases include 15 criminal, 20 auto negligence, 13 general civil, 10 divorce and 39 "no progress" cases.

As has been the case in the past, however, several matters are expected to be added to the court docket when Judge Davidson reads the calendar, beginning at 9:30 Tuesday morning.

"No Progress" Cases The "no progress" section covers those cases in which no progress has been made for more than a year.

Of the 39 "no progress" cases listed on the September term docket, four are criminal, five are auto negligence, 12 are general civil and 18 are divorce proceedings.

Landis Under Treatment For 'Habit'

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has imposed on James M. Landis a 30-day sentence on income tax charges and disclosed that the former Harvard Law School dean is under psychiatric care for a "habit" he found "difficult to control."

Landis, 63, adviser to three presidents, is a former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission and Civil Aeronautics Board. He was brought into court Friday from the Neurological Institute of Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center.

Pleaded Guilty Judge Sylvester J. Ryan referred during sentencing to Landis' treatment for a "habit" but did not elaborate.

Landis pleaded guilty Aug. 2 to failure to file income tax returns on time from 1956 to 1960, a period in which his gross income was $360,927. The U.S. attorney's office said Landis, while under investigation, paid $94,492 in taxes penalties and interest during 1961-62, but still owes $76,401.

Girl Runs Into Vehicle, Suffers Minor Injuries A 14-year-old girl received minor injuries yesterday at 1:45 p. m. when she ran across S. Front St. and into the left front fender of a station wagon driven by Louis DePetro, 1829 Presque Isle Ave., city police said.

The pedestrian, Sharon Lee Anderson, 321 W. Washington St., ran from the west side of the street. Police said she apparently intended to run between two cars waiting to make a left turn onto W. Washington St. The DePetro car was heading north in the "thru" lane.

The girl was knocked to the pavement. She received bruises on the right knee and sought her own treatment. The DePetro car received a small dent on the left front fender.

delinquent returns by saying that his client, now a New York lawyer, had thrown himself completely into public service and had ignored his personal problems.

Landis was taken to the U.S. Public Health Service hospital on Staten Island where, a spokesman said, he will continue psychiatric treatment.

Landis was an adviser to Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman and, in 1961, to President Kennedy.

3 Leap For Lives When Plane Lands In Tree, Burns DETROIT (AP) — Three men leaped for their lives Thursday when their disabled plane crashlanded on a tree and burst into flames. The single-engine Beechcraft Bonanza's fuselage stuck in the branches of a giant elm 30 feet above ground in a cemetery near the landing strip of Detroit City Airport.

Minor Injuries Minor injuries were suffered by the occupants. They were the pilot, Berl Robinson, 55, of St. Clair Shores; Lloyd Cummings, 37, of Flushing, and Charles Stahl, 38, of Toledo, Ohio.

When the engine quit near the landing field, Robinson said, "I knew we couldn't make the field, so I pulled up in a slow stall to break the speed and set down in the trees as easy as I could."

Draft Law Deferments Discussed

Information submitted to the local draft board may result in a registrant being placed in either a deferred or an exempt class, Paul A. Ameen, Ishpeming, Marquette County Draft Board chairman, said today.

The county's selective service board is located in the post office building here. No deferment or exemption is permanent, Ameen said. These classifications end when the conditions on which they are based no longer exist in any individual case.

State Group Ends Work On Election Code

CADILLAC (AP)—A legislative subcommittee finished work Friday on some 200 proposed amendments aimed at bringing the state election code in line with Michigan's new Constitution.

Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, subcommittee chairman, said the major work of the group's three-day meeting here was arranging a fall election for offices which previously had a spring election.

Noting a new constitutional provision requiring all elections to be canvassed by a bi-partisan board, Strange said the subcommittee felt county boards of canvassers could handle the job. This would eliminate a need for separate canvassing boards, he added.

As far as men without military services are concerned, the largest exempt group is made up of ministers of religion and theological students.

On the other hand, deferments affect a great many men. Largest deferred group is that made up of men who are not qualified for service in the Armed Forces—

Two types of student deferments are provided. Deferment in Class II-S is for full-time students who are making normal progress in their studies.

Occupational deferments are used, for example, to avoid aggravating the teacher shortage and to insure an adequate supply of scientific, engineering, and technical personnel in the defense effort.

Fathers who are not physicians, dentists or veterinarians are deferred for fatherhood by itself.

Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, subcommittee chairman, said the three-day meeting is "primarily a polishing session."

The seven-man panel is working on ways to implement the new election pattern of the Constitution. It will make its recommendations to a full committee for relay to the Legislature.

Bid Opening Sept. 24 For School Job

Bids for a Fisher School construction project, which includes erection of a fence, construction of a retaining wall and enlargement of the playground area, will be opened at the September meeting of the board of education.

It is estimated that the cost of the project will not exceed $7,000.

Project Delayed
The school board approved specifications for the project this week at its August meeting and called for bids Sept. 24. It is hoped that the work can be completed this fall, Superintendent of Schools Henry J. Bothwell said.

The project had to be delayed until grading for the U. S. 41 - M-29 bypass west of Champion St. was completed.

Only playground area at Fisher School now is a rough hill on the southwest side of the school. The project will enlarge the playground by approximately 7,000 square feet.

Besides enlarging the small playground, the retaining wall will eliminate a water runoff problem on adjacent properties.

The retaining wall be constructed on the south boundary of the school property, and a six-foot fence will enclose the playground on the south, east and west. The fence will be 300 feet in length.

U.S. Orders Menominee River Parley

LANSING (AP) — The federal government has called a conference on pollution of the Menominee River much to the puzzlement of the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

Lorin Oeming, executive secretary of the commission, said he has encountered a blank wall in all efforts to discover the reason for the meeting, set for Nov. 6 in Menominee by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

As far as Michigan is concerned, Oeming said, "we know of no pollution contributed to these waters which is endangering health or welfare" in either Michigan or Wisconsin.

The Menominee River forms the Michigan-Wisconsin border from the confluence of the Brule and Michigan Rivers to its outlet into Green Bay at Menominee.

Despite the mystery, the commission Thursday voted to send Oeming and its chairman, Irving Ronk, to the conference.

Detroit Pair Seek Rights Showdown

EDITOR'S NOTE: The conflict between the two men is not a test of their wills but a test of their ability to choose his tenants and customers in an old one, and Michigan finds itself facing it. Here are some of the recent Michigan developments in this struggle.

By KEN SINER
DETROIT (AP)—"Any person willfully interfering with such rights of any property owner shall be punished by fine not to exceed $500 or by imprisonment not to exceed 90 days."

This second paraphrase with its familiar civil rights ring, is from an NAACP-backed "open occupancy" proposal facing Detroit's Common Council.

The first phrase, in the name of property owners, is the product of two long-time Detroit residents who are pushing energetically for a showdown in the conflict between minority rights and property rights.

The two are Millard Lutz, 46, a heating contractor and father of six, and Thomas Poindexter, 50, attorney and politician. Both are home owners. Both say they are enrolled in the Democratic party but "don't represent the current thinking of the state, local, and certainly the national, Democratic leadership."

Working feverishly for their new organization, the Greater Detroit Homeowners' Council, Lutz and Poindexter have forced the issue to a vote in Detroit. They are hard at work on the same technique at the state level.

When they presented their proposed "ordinance defining rights of Detroit residents and residential property owners," it was accompanied—unlike the "open occupancy" proposal—with petitions containing enough signatures so that if the Common Council did not pass it verbatim, the issue had to go before the electorate.

The Common Council did not act, and now the issue must, by law, be on a ballot at the next city election.

The statewide effort, with a goal of 222,000 petition signatures, is backed by the Michigan Real Estate Association.

The petitions, distributed by the thousands throughout Upper and Lower Michigan, call for limiting the recently-formed Civil Rights Commission's powers.

Regarding property owners, the legislation would require the state to "recognize, respect and protect..."

75,000 Signatures
If Lutz and Poindexter get enough signatures, the Legislature will have to choose between passing the proposal into law, word-for-word, or putting the issue to a statewide vote.

Sunday, Lutz said he had 75,000 signatures from Detroit registered voters alone, and that the first returns from outstate are expected Tuesday.

The two men say their organization, formed last Spring during their successful fight against a school millage increase in Detroit, is not a racist group.

"We only hope to convince politicians that racial politics is not good politics," said Poindexter.

Michigan's NAACP, told the Common Council during hearings on the "open occupancy" proposal that "legislation must reach and correct the racial discrimination and segregation practices of the owner, builder, banker and real estate broker."

Poindexter, speaking on public accommodations before the Senate Commerce Committee in Washington last month, said this: "The people of Detroit have accepted voluntary integration as outlined by Supreme Court decisions. But they firmly oppose forced integration by government decree, such as... as the so-called open occupancy laws."

In these terms are the basic issues stated. The voters of Detroit, and maybe all of Michigan, will have to take sides.

Let's go to Church Sunday

Plant a crop in deep, rich soil and you plant a crop that will flourish. Something gives it life. Sun and rain, yes, and certainly rich, abundant soil... and yet, something more, something that gives it the ability to seek and use strength.

Someone gives US life... nourishing food, warm comfortable shelter, these help certainly. But still... something else. Our souls reach far below the surface of everyday existence to find our deeper faith in God's wisdom and power.

We place ourselves at His mercy. We seek Him often in prayer and worship, and "times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord."

Having found this fountain of faith, like the harvest, we point ever heavenward to share with others our discovery.

Worship With The World In The Church Of Your Choice

Dear Abby....

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when your father gets out a bar of soap and tries to wash off eye make-up you don't have on? Abby, this happens at least once a week. Sometimes I have to go to church with bloodshot eyes, and when my friends ask me what's wrong it's hard to think up something different every week. I am almost 15 and I don't think my father realizes that I am beginning to look like my mother, who is very beautiful. I promise to take your advice.

ratty stuffed teddy bear she's had since she was three. All the years she went to summer camp she dragged that shabby-looking teddy bear along. I've been after her to throw it away, but she won't do it. Should I "accidentally" throw it out while cleaning house? I am afraid that her refusal to give babyish toys might retard her emotional growth.

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR WORRIED: Don't worry. And don't "accidentally" throw out the teddy bear. It apparently provides you a daughter with the feeling of security she needs. If she shows other signs of "emotional retardation," talk to your doctor about it. Your nagging could do her more harm than sleeping with the teddy bear.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PFC.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Cook, an aunt of the bride, of Munising. Mrs. James Trumbull, Warren, and Mrs. Eugene Spaulding, Munising, a cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They all wore dresses of yellow taffeta and carried bouquets of white pom-poms and yellow ribbon tufts.

MUNISING — Marriage vows were exchanged Saturday in the Sacred Heart Church by Jayne Therese Cook, daughter of Mrs. Lloyd Cook, 206 E. Superior St., Munising, and Delbert Fredrick Compton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Compton, Fir St., Munising.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Vernon Johnson, Pontiac, wore a floor-length gown of nylon organza and lace. The bodice featured lace scallops and sequins as trim, scooped neckline and long sleeves, pointed at the wrists. The controlled fullness of the skirt was accented by panels of lace and a large bow at the back. Her elbow-length veil was secured to a tiara of miniature pearls. The bride carried a prayer book centered with a corsage of white carnations and red sweetheart roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Acting as best man was Harley Compton, Racine, a brother of the groom. James Trumbull, Warren, and Robert Cook, Munising, uncle of the bride, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Michael Cromell, cousin of the bride, and Richard Boyak, both of Munising.

A dinner and reception which followed, attended by 350 guests, were held in the Moose Lodge hall.

The bride is a graduate of Mather High School and is presently employed as a secretary at the Michigan State University Extension Service.

The groom is a graduate of Mather High School and is attending Northern Michigan University. He is treasurer of the Zeta Chi Iota Fraternity and vice president of the Future Business Leaders of Northern Michigan University.

After a wedding trip to Wisconsin Dells, Wis., the couple will reside at 514 W. Munising Ave., Munising.

Use Extreme Caution, Chief Urges For School Opening

ISHPEMING — "Exercise extreme caution and reduce speed," Police Chief Frank Sarvello today advised drivers in preparing for the opening of schools next Tuesday.

The chief said that restriction signs have been put up on S. Pine St. governing parking on the street during school hours.

"South Pine is a very busy street," Sarvello said, and will be especially busy now that St. John's School will be in operation."

He cautioned motorists to be extremely aware of youngsters going to and coming from school each day.

"Ishpeming has been fortunate in that no serious accidents have occurred within the last few years," the chief said.

"With the increased number of workers in the city because of several construction projects, children also are urged to be careful and practice safety themselves."

A final reminder from the Ishpeming Police Department concerns the school bus ordinance.

Drivers are reminded that they must stop when flashers on a bus are in operation and must not proceed until a signal is given by the bus drivers or when his flashers are turned off.

Work On Recreation Areas In Ottawa Forest Completed

KENTON — Work has been completed on expansion and construction of two recreation areas in the Kenton district of the Ottawa National Forest. These are the Norway Lake camp and picnic ground and the Kidney Lake campground.

The Norway Lake camp picnic ground is located approximately seven miles south of Sidnaw. Work completed at this site involved expansion of the campground from 12 to 30 family camp units. A family unit consists of a parking spur, fireplace, tent pad and a table. The site includes a swimming beach with a change house, a large picnic area and a boat landing. Included with these facilities are a water supply and toilets.

The Kidney Lake campground is eight miles south of Sidnaw. Construction at this site involved completion of 25 family camp units, a small picnic site and a boat landing. Also included are associated water and toilet facilities.

Expansion and construction of Norway and Kidney Lake recreation areas will provide for the increasing demand of outdoor recreation facilities. Recreation is one of the multiple uses of national forests.

DULUTH, Minn. — A regional Great Lakes conference on land and people set for Duluth Sept. 10-11 will involve three program participants from each of Michigan's peninsulas.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman announced that six Michigan persons had been invited to serve on panels or workshop at the Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota economic progress conference.

From the Lower Peninsula, program participants will be George Wheeler of Mt. Pleasant, Edward F. Gould of West Branch and Paul M. Barrett of Lansing. Key participants from the Upper Peninsula will be Lynn Sandberg of L'Anse-au-Loup, Harold Dettman of St. Ignace and Dr. Gene Hesterberg of Houghton.

Mediators Enter Limestone Plant Dispute In State

ROGERS CITY, Mich. (AP) — United Mine Workers representatives and officials of the Michigan Limestone Division of U. S. Steel Corp. met with federal and state mediators late this week for the first time since the plant was struck last Saturday night.

The strike, first at the calcite plant since it was founded in 1912, began after a breakdown in negotiations over wages and work schedules.

Pickets appeared at plant gates at 10 p.m. Saturday, forcing the plant to close down. A company spokesman immediately issued a statement in which he said the UMW local representing employees at the plant had rejected the firm's latest offer. He described it as offering liberal wage increases, as well as improved hospital benefits and insurance.

'For Sale' Sign Placed On U. P. Mine

CRYSTAL FALLS — Sale of equipment and buildings of the Lawrence Mine and underground ore property near Crystal Falls is now under way through Pickands Mather & Co., managing agent.

Development of the mine, owned by Verona Mining Co., was started by PM in early 1952. Work was suspended in May, 1954, and the mine was kept on a standby basis until December, 1962, when it was permanently closed by Verona.

The closing was caused by lack of demand for the grade of ore available at the Lawrence.

Only a small tonnage of ore encountered in development was brought to the surface and shipped.

Dr. Erickson will be associated with Dr. Jess Hill Love, director of the foundation, which is a community-sponsored center for the treatment of neoplastic diseases.

He graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Michigan in 1951. His postgraduate residency training in radiology was accomplished at Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago and at the Virginia Mason Hospital in Seattle, Wash.

At the Bell Hospital since 1956, Dr. Erickson has been associated with Dr. T. Boyd Boltho and Dr. James M. Carter in the practice of radiology in Marquette County and surrounding areas.

Kingsford Clobbers Marquette, 39-0 In Season Opener

Berlinski, Mongrain Spark Flivver Rout Of Graveraet

By CHARLES GABEL

Kingsford doesn't do too well on extra points.

But when you have enough sixes, the ones take care of themselves, and when you have a Dick Berlinski in your backfield, you don't toss and turn at night over bad snafus on placements — you just dream about still another full season with this kid doing everything but taking tickets for you.

Lesson No. 1

One Flivver not apt to misfire, the junior speedster carried the ball 22 times for 160 yards last night, as Coach Rae Drake's big Kingsford club gave the rebuilding Redmen of Marquette Graveraet a rude Lesson No. 1, by a 39-0 score.

Growing into a genuine old-fashioned triple-threat back, Berlinski forced defenders to key on him, boosting Gary Mongrain (no disgrace as a halfback, either) to a six-yards-per-carry average.

Unless he's sidelined for a valve job, this Flivver is bound to rewrite the records.

Graveraet gained only 97 yards on the ground as a team. But then they carried the ball only six more times than Berlinski did, as Kingsford kept the ball.

The other statistics are equally lopsided. Graveraet didn't lose yardage, except when trying to pass. When they passed, they had more completions but less yardage than the Flivvs. In penalty yardage, too, the Flivvers had a big lead.

A fumble in the backfield kept the Redmen from a first down in the first series. After the punt, the Flivvs marched 56 yards in 11 plays, with Mongrain stretching for the last five. A low pass from center kept it at 6-0, with 4:05 left in the first quarter.

Pass Caught

Dick Freeman brushed aside blockers to catch Jim Hinak before he could launch a third-down Graveraet pass, and the second of seven Redmen punts was forced. The Flivvs marched 57 yards in 10 plays, despite a penalty that wiped out a 48-yard sprint by Berlinski.

A 29-yard pass from Randy Brockington to Ron Tortelli was a key, and Berlinski covered the last 22 of four straight carries. He also kicked the point; 13-0 with 1:40 gone in the second quarter.

Marc Hagerty caught Hinak on an attempted third-down pass, and an almost-blocked punt rolled out on the home 45, but the Flivvers were held, and punted into the end zone.

Two plays later, Brockington recovered a fumble on Marquette 24, and four plays after that, fullback Roger Scott scored from the one-yard line. Berlinski kicked, making it 20-0 with 3:10 left in the half.

Hinak returned the kickoff to the 37, and the Redmen moved quickly into Fliv territory. Passes to Bob Pearson and Steve Nyquist plus runs by Millman pushed the ball to the 20, but time ran out.

Kickoff Returned

Mongrain streaked 58 yards with the second half kickoff, finally being caught from behind by Pete Holm on the Red's 22. They scored in four, with Mongrain going the last eight behind excellent blocking. The point try failed. It was 26-0, just 2:40 into the second half.

Marquette moved well, but gobbled on a fourth down at midfield and lost. Kingsford moved 45 yards in 10 plays. A 15-yard penalty interrupted Berlinski's gaining of 46 yards in three plays, but he scored with 1:50 gone in the last quarter. A bad pass from center kept the score at 32-0.

A jarring tackle and a fumble wiped out a 23-yard run back by Hinak, but the Redmen held. Jerry Perttunen handed the Flivvs a minus six and two passes were incomplete.

Neither team could move the ball, as many reserves now saw action, until Dick McCarthy, Flivv reserve quarterback, hit Larry Hisman for a 31-yard aerial gain. A pass interference penalty moved the ball to the Marquette 10, and a pass to Hisman scored. John Strutz ran the point, which made the final 39-0 game score, with only 2:30 left to play.

In four games with Kingsford since 1955, last night's Kingsford win was the first at Memorial Field.

Munising Men Face Gwinn In '63 Opener

By RON PORTALE

ISHPEMING — Iron Mountain and Ishpeming fans were treated to a good football game in perfect gridiron weather at the Ishpeming Playgrounds last night, as the Hematites emerged victorious in their season opener with Iron Mountain, 12-6.

Quarterbacks Bill Sauter of the Mountaineers and Dennis Garceau of Ishpeming handled their teams well as both squads showed mid-season form.

Pacers

Pacing the Iron Mountain attack were Dick Dewey, Tom Haben and Jim Lindstrom, while Bill Norkoll tore up the turf for the inspired Blue and White.

The Hematites and Mountaineers battled it out on event terms in the first quarter, both teams failing to score.

Early in the second quarter, Iron Mountain took over after stopping an Ishpeming drive on their 25-yard line. Following a Bruce Swanson punt which Tom Haben took on the 40 and returned to the 44, the Mountaineers began to roll. Combination plays using Haben, Lindstrom and Dewey brought the ball to the 13-yard stripe, and two plays later, Haben powered his way through for the touchdown; the extra point try was unsuccessful, making the score Iron Mountain 6, Ishpeming 0.

Ishpeming speedster Les Coduti received the kickoff and carried the ball to the Ishpeming 37. Bill Arsenault, IHS fullback, carried to the 42 and a Dennis Garceau pass to Bruce Swanson brought it to midfield.

With a first down on the 50, Norkoll carried for three yards. A Mountaineer penalty brought the ball to the 30-yard point. Norkoll again carried the work load, as he ripped his way for 21 yards in two carries, setting it up for a well-executed picture pass play from Swanson to Coduti in the end zone. The extra point effort failed, resulting in a 6-6 tie, and the first half ended without further scoring.

In the third quarter, Iron Mountain, having obtained the ball on the 23-yard line, marched up to the 50 and were stopped. Ishpeming took over again, but failed to make substantial progress. Both teams exchanged as the meter on the line dug in to hold the hard-running backs of both squads.

This quarter saw some bruising tackles and fine defensive play by both teams, with the lines doing a magnificent job of stopping the major menacing backs, Norkoll of Ishpeming and Lindstrom of Iron Mountain.

Swanson took an Iron Mountain punt on the 30-yard stripe to start the fourth quarter, and from that point, the Hematites steamrolled 70 yards for their second touchdown, benefitting from big yardage gains by Arsenault and Norkoll.

Hard-driving Norkoll, who racked up 116 yards for the night, went in for this final tally, resulting in the game score of 12-6. The extra point try was blocked by Mountaineer Gary Roberts.

In the statistics aspect of the game, the teams fared about equally well, with a slight Mountaineer edge in rushing.

Twins Take Second Killebrew Clashes Up On Stuart

(By the Associated Press)

Diek Stuart could do worse than listen to the words of wisdom from old Satch Paige.

"Don't look back," the ageless wonder once warned. "Something may be gaining on you."

It is. His name is Harmon Killebrew and he's fast closing on Stuart in the race for the American League home run championship.

Killebrew cracked a 3-3 tie with his 33rd homer in the seventh inning of Friday night's game with Chicago. It propelled Minnesota to a 5-3 victory over the White Sox, vaulted the Twins past Chicago to second place and pulled Killebrew to within two of Stuart's league-leading total of 35.

The Twins' Bob Allison followed Killebrew's shot immediately with his 20th homer as the Twins tied one major league record and set two American League marks.

In other games, the leading New York Yankees beat Baltimore 4-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Al Downing, Cleveland edged Detroit 5-4 and broke the Tigers' eight-game winning string, Los Angeles whipped Kansas City, 6-2 and Don Zimmer's grand-slam homer led Washington to a 7-0 rout of Boston.

Records Set

The back-to-back shots by Killebrew and Allison gave the Twins 19 homers in their last five games, tying a major league record set by the New York Giants in 1954. Minnesota also set two American League records with 24 homers in its last 10 games and 20 in its last six.

Tigers Lose On Brown Homer In Ninth; No Big Damage

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, surging into fifth place with an eight-game winning streak, were in the midst of a comeback.

But how can you come back against a last-of-the-ninth, two-out, game-winning home run?

The Tigers came back once and tied things at 4-4 in the eighth inning.

Brown Bashes Tie

But their eight-game winning string snapped an inning later Friday night when Larry Brown belted reliever Terry Fox's pitch over the fence, giving the Cleveland Indians a 5-4 victory.

No real harm was done. The Tigers still lead the Indians by two games in the battle for fifth place, and the two teams are even against each other for the season, 7-7.

The Tigers came to Cleveland after a successful home stand of nine victories in ten games. In the second inning, it looked like they were exporting their rampage.

Norm Cash singled, George Thomas doubled and George Smith doubled them both home.

The Tigers added a run in the third when Dick McAuliffe singled and Rocky Colavito doubled him home.

A sacrifice fly by John Romano brought in the first Cleveland run in the fourth inning and the Indians tied it at 3-3 on Vic Davalillo's two-run double in the fifth.

Ahead In Sixth

Cleveland went ahead in the sixth as Max Alvis singled, took second on a grounder and scored on Mike de la Hoz' single.

Colavito took care of that in the eighth. His single brought Don Wert home after Wert singled and moved to second on an infield out.

The infield out erased Bubba Phillips at second base on an attempted sacrifice by McAuliffe. Phillips was batting for Bunning and Fox, who was pitching for Bunning, took the loss. He now is 6-5.

Gary Bell was happier with his 6-5 record. He stopped the Tiger uprising in the eighth by getting Cash to ground into a force play and stayed in for the ninth inning and the victory.

Al Kaline's American League batting lead also was a casualty in the Tiger loss. Kaline went 0-for-4, his 16-game hitting streak ending, and fell to three percentage points to .320. Boston's Carl

Drysdale Hits Help Dodgers Drop Giants

(By the Associated Press)

Don Drysdale, sticking another feather in his cap, may have struck the final pin in San Francisco's pennant hopes 330 days after the Great Collapse.

Drysdale scattered nine hits and rapped a key single that drove in the tie-breaking run as the Los Angeles Dodgers stretched their National League lead to a commanding seven games by knocking out the Giants, 3-1 Friday night.

Drop Into Third

The victory gave the Dodgers the first two games of the four-game set with the Giants and dropped the defending champions into third place, 7 1/2 games behind. The St. Louis Cardinals, 11-7 winners at Philadelphia, took over second place, seven lengths back.

Drysdale, who last year won the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the majors with a 25-9 record but couldn't get the job done alone, has had a somewhat less spectacular season this year. However, his credentials are impressive.

The 27-year-old right-hander now has won 17 games against 15 losses while again proving the workhorse of the staff with 210 1/3 innings pitched — most in the majors.

Aiston Chuckling

Most important, he probably has Manager Walt Aiston chuckling inwardly for the first time since Oct. 3, 1962, when the Giants wrote the closing chapter on the Great Collapse by winning the deciding game of the pennant playoff from the Dodgers.

While the Cards and Giants were changing places, Milwaukee stepped into fourth place over the Phillies with a 3-1 victory against the New York Mets. Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and Houston defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-1.

Juan Marichal, 19-8, started for the Giants, seeking his 20th victory, but Drysdale put the Dodgers ahead to stay when his single up the middle drove in Johnny Roseboro in the fifth to snap a 1-1 tie. Jim Gilliam drove in the other Dodger runs.

Homer Wrapped It Up

Two-run singles by Curt Flood and Dick Groat featured the Cardinals' tie-breaking rally in the seventh before Ken Boyer wrapped it up with a three-run ninth-inning homer. Boyer, who collected four runs batted in, had driven in the tying run in the sixth with a single following Groat's triple. Don Demeter, Bobby Wine and Earl Averil homered for the Phillies. Ray Sadecki, 8-5, was the winner with Ray Culp, 11-11, the loser.

Mylchreest Leads Stambaugh To Win Over Negaunee

By TOM PELLOW

STAMBAUGH — Don Mylchreest, an All U.P. second string choice last fall, started staking a strong claim for first string honors this year at Nelson Field last night when he led the Stambaugh Hilltoppers to a 19-0 win over the Negaunee Miners.

Mylchreest was the big difference in what otherwise would have been two evenly matched clubs. Coach Don McDonald's 195 pound block-buster averaged eight yards per carry as he picked up 169 yards in 21 attempts. He scored two of the Stambaugh touchdowns on runs of 21 and 25 yards, and set up the third on a 35-yard return with a pass interception. In between times, he ran the extra point and was the outstanding player on the field defensively.

Stambaugh roled up all of its 257 yards on the ground, as the Hilltoppers passed only twice for the night. Negaunee with a net yardage gained a total of 195 yards, picked up 161 on the ground and 34 via the aerial route.

Pete DeGabriele, playing his first game at quarterback, attempted 13 passes, but it wasn't his fault that the completion percentage wasn't much higher. Several times DeGabriele put the ball right in the hands of his receivers only to have them drop it, and two costly offside penalties nullified a pair of completions that would have put the Maize and Blue in scoring position.

Stambaugh scored first with 1:42 to play in the opening quarter. Following recovery of a fumble on the Negaunee 30, Steve Shepleh, a sophomore halfback, and Mylchreest collaborated for nine yards in two attempts before Mylchreest went up the middle on a quick opener for the touchdown. He added the extra point on a slant off tackle. Score: Stambaugh 7, Negaunee 0.

That wrapped up the scoring for the first half, although with two minutes to play before the intermission Doug Maki electrified the crowd with an 80 yard run from his own 10, but the Negaunee senior halfback fumbled when he was hit with Stambaugh recovering.

Strategy that backfired led to the second Stambaugh tally. With fourth and one on the 29, Negaunee elected to go for the first down early in the third quarter. DeGabriele was stopped short on a quarterback sneak with the Hilltoppers taking over. Shepleh picked up four yards on the first play and then Mylchreest went up the middle 25 yards into touchdown territory. He was stopped on a plunge for the extra point. Score: Stambaugh 13, Negaunee 0.

With 4:40 remaining on the clock in the final period, Mylchreest went 56 yards on an off tackle jaunt before he was pulled down on the Negaunee 25. The scoring threat ended when Anderson, sophomore quarterback replacement for Stambaugh, fumbled attempting to hand off on the following play with Negaunee recovering.

Two plays later the Hilltoppers were right back knocking on the door. Mylchreest picked off a DeGabriele aerial intended for Stu Anderson and ran it back 30 yards to the Negaunee 10. Seilo on a handoff reached the two, and then Anderson scored on a quarterback sneak. The plunge for the extra point was stopped to make his final count Stambaugh 19, Negaunee 0.

APW Program Will Give U.P. 15 Fishing Sites

Nearly $50,000 in federal money, allocated under the Accelerated Public Works program, matched with an equal amount appropriated by the Legislature, and augmented by Michigan Department of Conservation know-how, equipment and man-power, will provide 15 new public fishing sites in the Upper Peninsula this summer.

Two of these sites — one on the Silver River north of L'Anse and another on King Lake east of Covington — are under construction in Baraga County now. Other sites being developed under this APW program are located on Pike Lake in Marquette County, Round Lake and Garden Bay in Delta County, Menominee River in Menominee County, Snyder and Ashford Lakes and two sites on the Manistique River in Schoolcraft County, Grand Sable Lake in Alger County, Duck and Clear Water Lakes in Gogebic County, Deer Lake and Net River in Iron County.

Local Laborers

These 15 were picked for development from the many public fishing sites in the Upper Peninsula, which the department has thus far been unable to develop because of budget restrictions. Fish division personnel selected and designed the sites, and the actual construction work is being done under the direction of field administration personnel with fire fighting equipment.

As in all APW projects, a large share of the total cost of the job must be expended for local labor. Each of the two Baraga County development projects employs four local laborers, who work under the supervision of a department of conservation job foreman. Fire Officer Lloyd Hooper, assigned to the Baraga headquarters, is supervisor of construction on both jobs.

Average Cost $5,000

In the U.P., the cost of developing fishing sites such as these, complete with the necessary access roads and other facilities, has averaged about $5,000 over the years.

On the Silver River site, workmen have brushed out an area of several acres and constructed an access road to a launching ramp and turn-around at the river's edge where fishermen may put their boats into the water. Plans also call for construction of sanitary facilities and an out-size gravelled parking lot adjacent to the Skanee Road to accommodate the large crowds of dippers who descend on the river during the annual spring smelt runs. This site will provide access, not only to the river, but also to the lower end of Huron Bay, which boasts fine angling for a wide variety of game fish.

The King Lake site will be sufficiently large to provide for boat launching and ample parking space and may also be used for short-term camping, even though the facilities are very limited. For many years large numbers of anglers who wished to fish King Lake have been unable to reach it because of the very poor condition of several miles of access road leading in to it. The Baraga County Road Commission is cooperating with the department to put this stretch of road in good drivable condition.

Conservation Prison Camp At Eglin AFB

The Air Force and the Department of Justice have established a federal prison camp at Eglin Air Force Base in Florida and expect to use the 250 minimum custody prisoners there to carry out fish and wildlife conservation projects as well as real property improvement and maintenance work on the 400,000-acre base.

Similar camps have been located at Maxwell Air Force Base since 1930 and Donaldson Air Force Base since 1958.

Quick Shots

At least 108 deer were killed by cars on highways in the Upper Peninsula last month, according to the Marquette regional office of the conservation department.

A total of 395 animals was bountied in the Upper Peninsula last month, said B. A. Stephansky, Marquette, regional field administration supervisor for the conservation department. By species, there were 156 coyotes, 33 bobcats and 206 foxes.

Some $140,000 in tax-reverted lands in Northern Michigan will be auctioned next month by the conservation department. The opening sale will be held Sept. 17 in the courthouse in Houghton. It will include 300 units in Baraga, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron and Ontonagon Counties. Another 105 parcels in Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Mackinac, Menominee and Schoolcraft Counties will be offered for sale Sept. 18 in the courthouse in Iron Mountain.

Miss Jeanne Valiquette of Bark River says she knows little about fishing, but she attached a frog to a red and white spoon and caught a 15-pound northern pike in Bass Lake near Munising the other day. The fish measured 43 inches in length.

Michigan hunters should find applications for antlerless deer hunting permits at their local sporting license dealers by mid-September, the conservation department says. They will have through Oct. 10 to postmark applications.

1,300 Attended Lectures Given At Van Riper Park

Approximately 1,300 Van Riper State Park visitors have attended 13 slide-lecture programs of one-hour duration held there on Monday and Thursday nights since early July.

The lectures, covering "what to see" in the Upper Peninsula beginning at St. Ignace and ending at Ironwood, were conducted by Park Ranger William Leonard, high school teacher from Rochester, Mich., who is in his third year at Van Riper State Park.

This interpretive program is directed in the Upper Peninsula by former Fort Wilkins State Park manager, Mac Firmodia, now Upper Peninsula's naturalist for the department of conservation.

1930 and Donaldson Air Force Base since 1958.

Conservation Department's sand-caster is shown in operation at Cranberry Lake marsh 12 miles south of Newberry during machine's first use in Upper Peninsula. Caster burr digs into ground and casts sand curtain high in the sky.

Sand Caster Used For First Time In Peninsula For Fire Control

A sand-caster was used for the first time in the Upper Peninsula this week to plow fire lines and control flames.

An experimental machine developed at the conservation department's forest fire experiment station in Roscommon, the machine was used in burning bogs in Luce County and on the Delta-Menominee County line to boost blueberry production.

The machine consists of a tractor and a separate unit for throwing sand.

It casts sand into the air the way a snow-go tosses snow from roads. It can throw four cubic yards of earth a minute, and as earth normally has about 14 per cent water content, this is equivalent to 65 gallons of water a minute. "That," said John A. Angulum, Marquette, assistant regional field administration supervisor for the department, "is comparable to the output of a pretty good-sized pump."

The caster can be rotated to direct the cast of sand, and the machine can be operated backward so that it casts to the rear. The sand is thrown in a curtain that rises to 30 feet. It is fairly effective up to 35 feet and gives some coverage up to 80 feet.

The machine can be used in advance of an unmanageable fire to toss sand and reduce the flammability so the fire can be brought under control, and it also can be used in direct attack on fires.

Restoring Blueberry Production The caster was first used this week at the Cranberry Lake marsh south of Newberry. It then was employed in a burn at the Seven-Mile Marsh in the Menominee State Forest. Plans call for it to be used also in burning the big Durow Marsh, also in the Menominee State Forest.

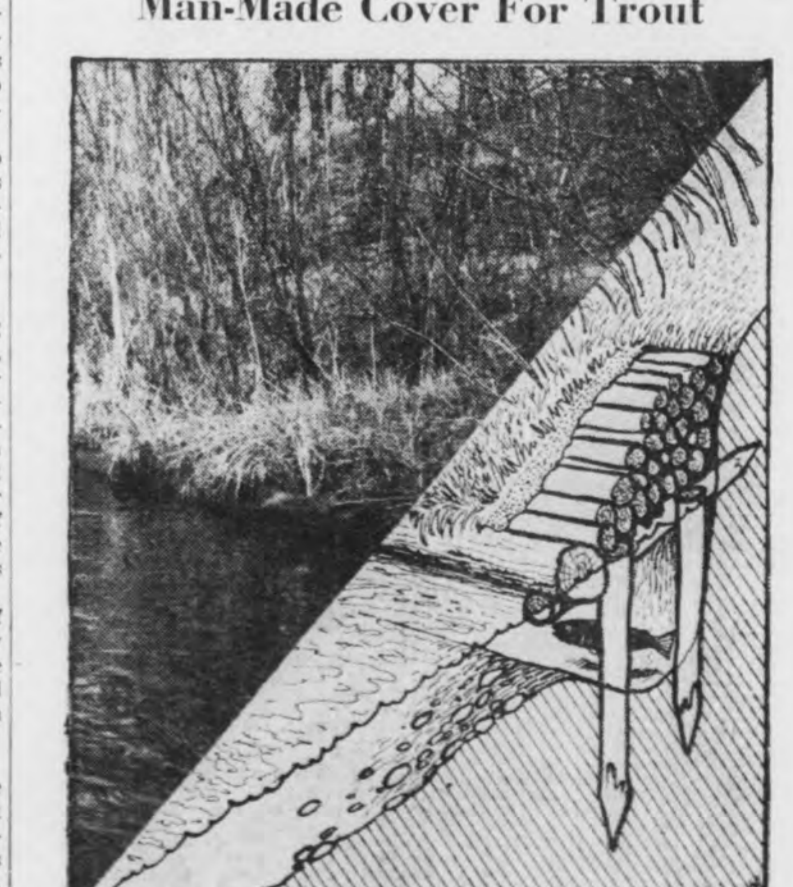

There are thousands of acres of blueberry bogs in the Menominee State Forest, and the current experiments are aimed at restoring the blueberry bushes to full production of fruit by burning off the old wood.

"Blueberries are like strawberries," Angulum said. "They only bear heavily for a few years and then must be renewed. Joe Rahilly of Newberry reported that in two years after a fire in the Cranberry Lake marsh 30,000 cases of blueberries were harvested from the marsh. We've found that bushes bear about 100 per cent the first year after fire, 60 per cent the second year and only 30 per cent the third year. The decline is that fast."

'THE WASHER'

The raccoon gets its name from the fact that it washes its food before eating it. The name raccoon is a derivation of the Indian name "arathcone" meaning "the washer."

Man-Made Cover For Trout

More often than not, many of the conservation department's stream improvements go unnoticed by fishermen. And that's the way these projects are planned — to provide man-made changes which look like the work of nature's forces. The log sod cover shown above is a good case in point; without the aid of this hand drawing, the project's natural "finish" hides the work of men which has produced a place of escape for trout, and shored up an unstable stream bank. The log sod cover has been anchored by driving several posts into the stream bottom. So-called "whaler" logs were spiked to these posts; freshly-cut logs and poles were then fastened to the whalers. After lodging a large log along the outer edge, department workers slogged the structure up the bank. They added finishing touches by sodding the entire structure. New impetus has been thrust behind this and a host of other stream projects by the Accelerated Public Works program which is being financed 50-50 by state and federal funds.

U.P. Senator's Attack On 'Any Deer' Hunts Answered

BY JAMES A. O. CROWE In Detroit News

Critics who still insist that shooting of doe and fawn deer is wiping out Michigan's deer probably won't read this.

But Robert J. Furlong, conservation commission secretary, has written one of the best summations of the justifications for antlerless deer hunting we have ever seen.

'Public Be Damned' Charge It was in the form of a letter to Sen. Charles O. McManiman (D-Houghton), chronic black cloud on the commission's horizon.

McManiman, bitter foe of antlerless deer hunting in the Upper Peninsula, at least had written the commission that in permitting such hunting, it was carrying on "with the attitude of 'the public be damned'."

Average 92,600 A Year "You have not presented conclusive evidence or explained to the people any true facts or true figures as to why we should have a doe season," he wrote.

In a four-and-a-half-page reply, Furlong said that "since large-scale antlerless deer hunting began in 1952, Michigan hunters have killed over 1,000,000 deer — 92,600 a year on the average. We believe this fact alone proves the program successful."

Started As Conservation Officer "It certainly establishes that controlled antlerless deer shooting does not ruin hunting. Frankly, we are puzzled as to why this fact is not apparent to those who say the deer herd is being exterminated."

Furlong, who was appointed to his present position in April, has spent most of his life in conservation and related work. He started his career as a conservation officer.

'Should Harvest Surplus' "We must face the sobering fact," he wrote to McManiman, "that the number of deer in Michigan does not depend on the decisions of the conservation commission or of the Legislature or on the whim of the deer hunters. It depends on the amount of deer food in the Michigan forests. If there were plenty of food, we could protect the does and fawns and the herd would increase."

"But there is NOT plenty of food. The winter range can carry only so many deer. The rest are surplus, and this surplus should be harvested or it will go down the drain."

Off-Told Story "This year we know that there is a huntable surplus of at least 35,000 deer in the Upper Peninsula. There are at least six times as many antlerless deer as bucks, so a legal kill of half bucks and half antlerless deer, many of which are males, cannot dangerously reduce the breeding herd."

The commission and its employees have made every effort to explain the need for the program for 30 years, Furlong wrote. These efforts included meetings with sportsmen, legislators, labor groups, farm groups and many others. Pamphlets and bulletins by the thousands have been distributed and newspapers, radio and television stations have been telling the story for years.

Large Bass Landed In Johnson Lake

Airman 2-c Emil Wasniewski of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, who resides on Johnson Lake near Gwinn, caught a four-and-a-half pound smallmouth bass on the lake this week.

It measured 21 inches in length and had a girth of 15 inches. Wasniewski caught the bass on a homemade casting plug. The weight was certified by Conservation Officer Frank J. Marshall of Gwinn.

Similar camps have been located at Maxwell Air Force Base since

Much At Stake In State Forests' Future

Already one of Michigan's most valuable public assets, state forests are destined to play an even greater role in meeting the demands of a growing population during future years. By the turn of the century, multiple use of these publicly-owned lands will produce an estimated $435 million in annual income payments to the people of Michigan. Come the year 2000, recreational use of state forests is expected to be 16 times greater than it is today. The projected forecast indicates these lands will host 75 per cent more hunters and fishermen than they do now. Demands for state forest timber will continue to soar. It is anticipated that pulpwood production will multiply five times, sawlog output will treble, and the yield of other wood products will double by 2000. Stopped-up management programs of the conservation department will lead the way in answering the bigger and more varied demands that loom ahead on all fronts of the state forest scene.

Oscar Sundquist, Crystal Falls, has been named field administration supervisor for the Crystal Falls district of the conservation department, and Conservation Officer Robert W. Timmer, Ironwood, has been chosen as assistant district supervisor.

Sundquist, a veteran department employee, has been acting district supervisor since the retirement of Claude Smith early this year.
