Can We Believe Valachi's Story On U.S. Crime?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like a tourist guide, Joseph Valachi has led the nation on a dark tour of the underworld for an insider's peek at its secrets and murders. But can he be believed?

Yes, says Sen. John L. McClellan, who is chairman of the investigating subcommittee hearing Valachi's rasping tale of vengeance.

"He's a dirty liar," says John C. Montana, a delegate to the notorious gangland convention at Apalachin, N. Y.

Besides its shock value, has Valachi's testimony turned up anything new? Is it helping the fight against organized crime?

"I think there are more important things to claim the attention of Congress," says Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., who has criticized the subcommittee before.

A Justice Department spokesman doesn't feel that way. Much of the 60-year-old mobster's testimony "could be used in court if strongly corroborated," he said.

"There is very little new to us," said a New York police official, who added: "His testimony serves to make some things clear. But this does not mean that it is of such a nature that we can go to court and prosecute a case."

Valachi Due To Testify On Dope Racket

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Valachi is billed for another day and a half in the limelight — longer if he can sing well enough about the narcotics racket.

In a switch of plans, Sen. John L. McClellan, the Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Investigations subcommittee, put off until Tuesday the questioning of Valachi about the big money narcotics rackets in which members of the secret criminal society known as La Cosa Nostra were involved.

McClellan told reporters he is trying to expedite the hearings. Present prospects, he said, are that Valachi can wind up "in a day or a day and a half" as the investigation's star witness.

But this estimate, McClellan emphasized, depends on how much evidence Valachi can give about narcotics rackets.

Pair Indicted For Brooklyn Gang Killing

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP) — A Suffolk County grand jury Wednesday night indicted two men, charging them with the Aug. 9 slaying of Louis Mariani, 26.

Anthony (Fat Tony) Regina, 29 of Commack, N. Y., and John J. (Moose) Battista, 47, of Brooklyn, were charged with first degree murder in the Aug. 9 slaying of Louis Mariani, 26.

Named By Valachi

Battista and Regina are described by authorities as members of a Brooklyn gang formerly headed by the late Joseph Profaci and now led by his brother-in-law, Joseph Magliocco.

Joseph Valachi, testifying at a Senate hearing in Washington, has Magliocco as one of five top leaders in New York of Cosa Nostra, a nationwide crime society.

Mariani, a member of Brooklyn's Gallo mob, was shot in front of a shopping center at Port Jefferson on Long Island. May Have Been Mistake

Yank, 8 Vietnamese Killed In Red Ambush

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — An American special forces captain and eight Vietnamese soldiers were killed today when Communist guerrillas ambushed their truck, a U.S. spokesman reported.

The captain was the 60th American to die in combat in Viet Nam. Four Americans are missing in action and 53 have died of other causes.

Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, who one year ago escaped from Arizona State Hospital at Phoenix, is shown here as she appeared at her trial in 1932. Mrs. Judd, convicted of the mutilation slaying of two Phoenix women, was known as the "Tiger Woman" at the time of her trial. But today no one seems concerned that she is still missing. She is now 57. (AP Wirephoto).

Hurricane Aims Punch At Haiti

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Flora, potentially the most deadly storm to roar out of the tropical Atlantic in two years, aimed her 140-mile-an-hour fury today at the Negro nation of Haiti.

A heavy loss of life and great property destruction was likely in Haiti, the weather bureau said, because there are few places where her people can hide from the storm.

Beyond Haiti, in the path of the hurricane, lay Cuba's Oriente Province and the United States Navy base at Guantanamo Base. The Cuban radio broadcast a warning to residents of Oriente, mountainous birthplace of Fidel Castro's revolution, to prepare for the storm.

Around Flora's eye raged the most vicious winds any hurricane has generated since Carla slammed Texas and Louisiana Sept. 14, 1961.

Carla killed 43 persons in four states and launched one of this country's greatest migrations, the flight of 400,000 persons from the lowlands of the Gulf Coast.

In a morning report, the weather bureau at San Juan said Flora was centered near latitude 16.5 north, longitude 72.0 west, or about 140 miles south-southeast of Port Au Prince, the capital of Haiti.

News In Brief

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A Norwegian grain freighter caught fire today, but with Coast Guard help the crew was able to put out the blaze in five hours. The Fred Christianson, downbound from Port Arthur, Ont., had passed through the Soo Locks and was in the lower St. Marys River when fire was discovered in a cargo hold. The vessel returned to the Sault Ste. Marie harbor, where Coast Guard firefighters joined the ship's crew.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed legislation that would clear the way for radio and television debates next year by the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates. The measure would suspend for 60 days preceding the Nov. 3 election the Federal Communication Commission requirement that radio and television stations provide equal time for all candidates for public office if time is provided for any of them.

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy stayed in seclusion in her vacation villa today, but informed sources said she would pay a tea-time call on the Greek royal family. It was learned that Mrs. Kennedy, accompanied by her brother-in-law and sister, Price Stanislas and Princess Lee Radziwill, would have afternoon tea with King Paul and Queen Frederika at the palace.

'400' Rams Freight Train In Marinette, Wis.; 32 Hurt

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP) — A Chicago and North Western Railway passenger train, en route from Chicago to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, hit an open switch and plowed into a freight train Wednesday night, injuring 32 persons, including a Marquette woman, her son and daughter, and a man from K. I. Sawyer AFB.

The passenger train known as the Peninsula 400, struck the freight train on the southern outskirts of this northeastern Wisconsin city. The freight had pulled to a side track to let the northbound train pass.

Only one of the 32, Eugene Ravet, 56 Marinette, was listed in critical condition following the collision at 9:55 Wednesday night. His condition was reported improved today.

Among the Michigan persons injured were Mrs. Robert Lesser, her son Robert, 6, and daughter, Vicki, 7, of Marquette and John Fells, 41, of K. I. Sawyer AFB.

Other Michigan persons included: J. P. LaFave, Escanaba, conductor of the 400; George Olson, 67, Escanaba, engineer of the 400; Leslie Ranguette, Fayette, fireman on the freight train; Robert Aggen, 22, Carney; Wesley Ranshorn 79, Escanaba; and George Law, Menominee.

Mrs. Lesser and the two children, returning to Marquette from Denver, Colo., were not hospitalized following the accident. However, they did suffer cuts, bumps and bruises and will seek medical attention in Marquette.

Fells was reportedly released from Marinette General Hospital today.

Cushman

Robert Branam of Escanaba, fireman of the passenger train, said it had slowed down for the Marinette depot and slowed a bit more when a switch crew was seen working nearby. He said one thing saved the passenger train's front end crew — the locomotive hit an empty steel car which acted as a cushion as it was crumpled.

Other crew members said the passenger train was traveling about 25 miles an hour when the freight was spotted. They said the light was green on one switch and they did not see a light on a second switch. The passenger train crashed into the freight, up setting three freight cars and derailling another. The engine of the passenger train derailed but passenger cars remained on the track.

N-Weapons Ban In Space Seen Possible

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko have indicated a possibility of agreement to ban nuclear weapons from orbiting space satellites. But their talks so far have produced no specific accord on that or any other issue.

Rusk and Gromyko met for a three-hour discussion over dinner Wednesday night at the Soviet mission to the United Nations.

'Cordial Atmosphere'

U.S. sources commented on the "cordial atmosphere" of the parley, the first exclusively U.S.-Soviet high-level meeting since the signing of the limited test ban treaty two months ago.

They said Gromyko appears interested in some further limited disarmament accord, though just what remains unclear.

It was tentatively agreed that Gromyko would go to Washington sometime next week for further talks, including a meeting with President Kennedy.

JFK Helps To Dedicate Flood Dam

— President Kennedy dedicated a power and flood control dam today and declared a determination that "we shall continue to move ahead" to build the strength and greatness of America.

He said power and flood control projects, often denounced by opponents as pork barrel boondoggle and white elephant, will continue to operate for the good of the country long after their critics are gone.

Speech

Kennedy spoke at the dedication of the Greers Ferry Dam, on the Little Red River near this north central Arkansas community.

The President flew to Arkansas for the dam dedication and an afternoon speech at Little Rock, where the school integration issue first flamed into a collision between the powers of state and federal government six years ago.

Play Down Politicking

White House sources tended to play down any emphasis on outright politicking in Kennedy's quick trip to Arkansas—a state he carried in 1960.

State Department Reports Honduras Military Coup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today a military coup has taken place in Honduras.

The department said it was advised that the chief of armed forces issued orders to take over the government and that shortly afterward the presidential palace was surrounded by military police.

President Ramon Villeda Morales, the State Department said, telephoned the U. S. ambassador, Charles R. Burrows, that the coup was under way.

There had been reports for weeks that the government of Villeda Morales had been threatened with overthrow by military forces, presumably in an effort to prevent presidential elections scheduled for Oct. 15.

Defense Department officials said word reaching here indicated the overthrow had been bloodless so far and that all was quiet in the Honduran capital as of a few hours ago.

Fact-Finders To Report On Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Less than 24 hours after two presidential racial fact-finders landed in Birmingham Sept. 24 a bomb exploded in a Negro neighborhood.

Since then, there has been a flurry of court activity and the arrest of three white men in the over-all bombing investigation.

The fact-finders, former Army Secretary Kenneth Royall and former Army football coach Earl Blaik, have been meeting with every segment of Birmingham life.

President Kennedy sent the two men here to try to get at the core of the racial trouble in this big steel city.

'Friendly Guests'

On their arrival, Royall and Blaik described themselves as "friendly guests." They were greeted cordially by Mayor Albert Boutwell.

Mostly they have sat and listened to anyone who would talk to them. Details of the conversations have been kept secret. They will make them known in a report to the President.

Royall and Blaik are expected to present a secret summation of their findings to the mayor and City Council Friday.

People Impressed

Although content of the conferences with local leaders has not been released, enough has seeped through to give an impression that the fact-finding team and the townspeople were impressed.

One utilities official who talked with Royall and Blaik said that they expressed surprise at the extent of integration — forced and voluntary — which the city has undergone.

Honesty Pays Off For 2 Brothers In Massachusetts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Believing that honesty should pay, the Senate has voted to reward two Massachusetts brothers for turning in bonds and $1,200 in cash found in an old paint can.

The brothers, Edwin Bennett, now 16, and Bruce, 11, of Sunderland, spotted the cache in September 1959 in a barn on property their father, Warren D. Bennett, had just purchased.

Recluse

The original owner was Teodor Ancewicz, a recluse who died in 1950 after willing the bonds and money to the government.

After the litigation, the government received $1,200 as a result of the boys' discovery. The boys got nothing.

Wednesday the Senate sent a bill to the White House that would reward each with $50 for "honesty and integrity."

Rudyard Man Killed In Tractor Mishap

RUDYARD (AP) — Ernest Austhos Jr., 31, of Rudyard, was killed Wednesday when his farm tractor went out of control and overturned in a ditch alongside a Chippewa County road.

Wheat Sale Favored By Sen. Dirksen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said today he is inclined to support gold-on-the-barrel sale of wheat to Russia if some fringe benefits are involved.

This statement in an interview indicated that President Kennedy might be able to rally the kind of GOP leadership support associates said he wants before he decides on any deal with the Soviets.

No Offer

So far, neither the White House nor the Kremlin has given any word that Russia has offered to buy American wheat. In Winnipeg, Leonid Matveev, head of the Soviet grain board and chief negotiator in Russia's $500 million purchase of Canadian wheat, said Russia is not likely to buy U.S. wheat.

Dirksen said he believes the American people would feel more comfortable about any wheat transaction with the Kremlin if the Russians were to make concessions of some kind in connection with it.

McNamara Reports On S. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's military advisers have told him the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam is going well enough that it may be possible to withdraw most of the American forces there in two years, the White House reports.

In a statement issued only hours after the return from Viet Nam of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, there was no indication of any dramatic change of American policy toward the South Viet Nam government.

'Deeply Serious'

The two officials said the political situation in South Viet Nam remains "deeply serious."

But they predicted that by the end of this year the U.S. training program for Vietnamese would have reached the point where 1,000 military personnel assigned to South Viet Nam can be withdrawn.

The White House said Wednesday night's declaration was approved by Kennedy on the basis of recommendations of McNamara and Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

'Major Interest'

It said that South Viet Nam's security remains "a major interest of the United States as of other free nations" and that putting down the Viet Cong insurgency is the chief objective of U.S. policy there.

In the five-point policy statement, the White House said that while the Diem government's repressive actions against Buddhists "have not yet significantly affected the military effort they could do so in the future."

McNamara and Taylor, the statement said, expressed belief "that the major part of the United States military task can be completed by the end of 1965."

The United States is believed to have about 15,000 troops there.

Ex-Lover Claims Christine Keeler Had An Abortion

LONDON (AP) — An ex-lover of Christine Keeler declared today she became pregnant by him last spring and underwent an abortion to avoid having the baby.

Aloysius "Lucky" Gordon, 32, a Jamaican, made this statement at a hearing of charges that Christine and three others committed perjury and conspired to subvert justice in order to put him in prison.

Scuffle

Gordon said Christine's pregnancy was the reason he engaged in a scuffle with her in an apartment building last April 17. He swore, however, that he did not inflict on her the injuries — including a cut eye — which led to his conviction on an assault charge which she lodged against him.

Population Boom Hampers Bid To Cut State Spending

(By the Associated Press)

Gov. Romney told some 400 citizens Wednesday night his administration is doing everything possible to cut state spending—"but you people keep having more kids."

"You tell me how to educate 53,000 more kids this year than last at the same dollar level," Romney told a meeting at Grand Rapids.

"Public officials are not responsible for the kids," Romney added, "but they are there. So are more senior citizens. The state is committed to the care of these."

School Property Tax

"You can't devise a tax program to keep pace with economic growth and population growth is even more difficult," the Governor said. "Why should we defer making our tax program more just? What can we accomplish by putting it off?"

The issue of school property tax earlier provoked the first

Full Control Assumed By Ben Bella

ALGIERS (AP) — President Ahmed Ben Bella announced today he has assumed full powers to deal with the Berber mutiny in the Kabylie Mountains. He indicated he intended to try persuasion and moral pressures from Algeria's Arab majority.

Pledged to avoid bloodshed, Ben Bella said regular army troops will not be used against the insurgents.

The president made his announcement before a reduced National Assembly, meeting two hours behind schedule.

"I assume full powers under Article 59 of our Constitution," Ben Bella said.

"The troops of the people's army will not be used against the sister population of Kabylie. I call upon all militants to go back to their homes. Problems exist, but if they are to be discussed let this be done in calm, not in the mountains with machineguns in hand."

Vertical Takeoff Plane Crashes; Pilot Killed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Britain's first vertical takeoff plane, the SC-1, crashed from 20 feet over a runway Wednesday, killing test pilot John Richard Green, 31.

Cooper Gives Vivid Report Of Color Spectacle In Space

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The wonderful sights and colors of space were described vividly today by astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. in the final report on his 22-orbit mission.

The report, presented at a conference summarizing the results of the Mercury man-in-space project, contained no new disclosures on Cooper's flight of last May 15-16.

"I never tired of looking at the sunsets," remarked the 36-year-old Air Force major, who saw 22 of them during America's longest manned space flight.

Bright White

"As the sun begins to get down towards the horizon, it is very bright white. . . . It is a very bright white; almost the bluish white color of an arc lamp. As it begins to impinge on the horizon, it undergoes a spreading, or flattening effect. The sky begins to get quite dark. . . . This light spreading out from the sun is a bright orange color which moves out under a narrow band of bright blue that is always visible throughout the daylight period.

Gold-Orange Band

"As the sun sets farther, it is replaced by a bright gold-orange band which extends out for some distance on either side, defining the horizon even more clearly. The sun goes below the horizon rapidly, and the orange band still persists but gets considerably fainter as the black sky bounded by dark blue bands follows it down."

Cooper said that at night he could see lightning flashing within groups of clouds.

Moon

The moon, he reported, was quite bright at night. But in daytime it was a lightish blue color.

"When there is no moon," he said, "the earth is darker than the sky; there is a difference in the two blacks. In general, there is more light from the

415 Students Attend Parkview; Crowded School Setup Noted

Enrollment this year at the Marquette Public Schools' Parkview Elementary School on E. Hewitt Ave. is 415.

Enrollment at Parkview School on the day the school census was taken last fall was 391.

Third Largest

The school is the third largest of the five public elementary schools. Sandy Knoll and Whitman Schools each have larger enrollment.

Parkview is the only elementary school in the public school system that will have cramped conditions this year. Miss Olive Fox, elementary school supervisor, said.

More serious overcrowding problems had existed at Whitman and Sandy Knoll for the past several years, but a six-room addition to Whitman School was completed before school started this fall and construction of similar six-room addition at Sandy Knoll is nearing completion.

In One Class

The public elementary school class with the largest enrollment is at Parkview. A sixth grade classroom at Parkview holds 44 pupils.

Miss Fox noted that several classes at Whitman School had enrollments of more than 40 last year, before the addition there was completed. However, the Parkview sixth grade section is the only class with more than 40 this year.

In addition, one class at Parkview is conducted in the school library, Miss Fox said. Library books for the school are shelved in a corridor. Because the library is smaller than a regular classroom, it holds few more than 15 students.

A third grade class of 17 students is conducted in the library this year, necessitating an overbalanced registration of 36 in the other third grade section, Miss Fox said.

Bigger Kindergarten

Last year a second grade class of 18 pupils was conducted in the school library and the other second grade section consisted of 35 pupils.

Enrollment at Parkview was boosted this year by a kindergarten registration that was 21 students larger than last year. An additional kindergarten class was formed this year, with sessions held in the morning, noon and afternoon.

Enrollment Totals

Enrollment by grade at Parkview follows, with a breakdown of registration in each classroom in parentheses:

Kindergarten, 87, (28, 29, 30); first, 58 (29, 29); second, 58 (28, 30); third, 53 (17, 36); fourth, 62 (30, 32); fifth, 53 (26, 27); and sixth, 44.

Similar official enrollment figures for last year were:

Kindergarten, 66 (33, 33); first, 62 (31, 31); second, 53 (18, 35); third, 66 (33, 33); fourth, 58 (27, 31); fifth, 32; sixth, 29; combination fifth-sixth grade, 29 (11 in fifth grade and 14 in sixth grade).

Miss Fox noted that although the breakdown of placements in the sections of a grade might be uneven on the day the official census is taken, the registration in the sections of each grade tends to become balanced as students enter or leave the school during the year.

60 Persons Expected For U.P. Scout Council Leaders Weekend Training Session

Approximately 60 adult leaders, Scoutmasters, assistant Scoutmasters and troop committeemen are expected to attend the first annual Scout Skills Training Program to be held this weekend by the Hiawathaland (Upper Peninsula) Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The training session will take place at Camp Red Buck, according to R. Ralph Smith, Marquette, council Scout executive. The three-day course is offered by the council's leadership training committee.

Pere Marquette District's training chairman, Marvin Kibson of Marquette will be working with the other five district training chairmen and Council Chairman Ken Sannes of Nigara, Wis., to staff the course.

Beginning after dinner tomorrow evening, the course will run through Sunday morning. The major emphasis of the course will be troop operation and will consist of sharing ideas, personal and group study, discussion and practice of about 20 different "skills," according to the committee announcement.

The men will be formed into to patrols, issued equipment and will camp in tents during the event.

Program highlights will be the "Scout Trail" where about 15 different skills will be taught by graduates of the eight-day Wood Badge training session, a campfire program on Saturday night and religious services in the camp chapel area on Sunday morning.

Area Men On Program

Some of the other area men on the program are: Perry B. Hatch, Marquette veteran Scoutmaster, in charge of the campfire program; Donald Chinery, Marquette, in charge of signalling instruction; Norris Shanne, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, in charge of feeding arrangements; and Vernon Miljour of Gwinn, helping with the registrations and other assignments.

Sannes, in his announcement to the Scouters, stressed the fact that Scouting's many skills and methods developed over the years "have been well tested and proven and that those Scouters who know these skills and methods use them to build very successful Scout Troops, and at the same time receive greater satisfaction from being a Scout leader."

Construction Work On 11-Mile U.S. 41 Project Under Way

Start of construction on a $1.3 million project to modernize approximately 11 miles of U.S. 41, southeast of Marquette, has been started, it was announced today.

Officials of the Michigan State Highway Department said the portion of U.S. 41 included in the improvement project begins at the top of "Green Garden Hill" and proceeds south through Skandia, to the M-94 intersection.

Grading work will be done by the A. Lindberg & Sons Construction Co., Ishpeming, and paving will be done by the L. W. Brumm Construction Co., Ironwood represented Anderson.

Plaintiff in the case was K. Berandt, administratrix of the estate of J. Harland Burnette, who was killed in the accident at the intersection of Arch and N. Front Sts.

The jury deliberated 85 minutes yesterday afternoon before returning the verdict in favor of the defendant.

Attorney for the plaintiff was Roscoe W. Baldwin, Marquette. Circuit Judge George S. Baldwin, Munising, presided during the trial.

Marquette County Judge Bernard H. Davidson, who disqualified himself from the case, is presiding in Alger County Circuit Court this week.

Jury Rules 'No Cause' In Case Here

A 12-member jury in Marquette County Circuit Court ruled "no cause of action" here yesterday in a damage suit which resulted from a fatal accident in Marquette on Oct. 24, 1961.

Defendant in the case was Jerry Paul Anderson, Iron Mountain. Walter L. Hansen of Ishpeming and Jack Jacobs of

Judge Kent Sends Palmore To Prison On Federal Count

A St. Ignace man convicted of impersonating a Coast Guard officer was given a stern lesson in honesty by U.S. District Court Judge W. Wallace Kent of Kalamazoo in federal court here yesterday afternoon.

Sitting that he has never considered probation for a defendant who has "added offenses to offenses by lying on the witness stand," Judge Kent sentenced Saxton A. Palmore, 47, to an 18-month term in a federal penal institution.

"The court is satisfied that a respondent has never before in this courtroom falsified testimony to a greater degree than you have," Judge Kent told Palmore.

Found Guilty By Jury

Palmore was found guilty by a federal court jury here Tuesday afternoon of impersonating a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Coast Guard in order to secure entry to the officers mess and to obtain other privileges at Kincheloe Air Force Base, near Sault Ste. Marie.

District Attorney George E. Hill of Grand Rapids and Marquette conducted the case for the U.S. Government and Robert E. Plunkette, Detroit, was the attorney for the defendant. "Never Tolerate Perjury"

Palmore was convicted on three of four counts and he was sentenced to spend 18 months in prison on each of the three counts, with the terms to be served concurrently.

"In addition to the offenses for which you were found guilty, you added offenses by committing perjury. We've never tolerated that in this court. We have the utmost sympathy for any respondent who tells the truth," Judge Kent told Palmore.

"You've been in trouble for a good many years and the time has now come for you to decide how you're going to live in the future. My strong recommendation to you is that if you ever get in trouble again, you tell the truth."

Judge Kent stated that the "adverse result of the respondent" was in no way a reflection on his attorney.

3 Vehicles Damaged In Area Crashes

Three automobiles were damaged and a motorist was ticketed, but no one was injured, in a pair of area traffic mishaps reported this morning by city and state police.

Another accident occurred near Republic yesterday and was probed by state police (see story on Page 20). Reports on this area's collisions follow:

1. At 10:20 last night a car being driven west on County Road JC by Robert Brock, 16, Route 1, Marquette, went out of control after it went off the right shoulder of the highway and he tried to get it back on.

The car rolled over on the highway, just west of County Road JB, in Negaunee Township.

State police cited Brock for a speed law violation and he will appear in Marquette County Probate Court on the charge.

Read about the copper company Security Analyst C. C. Bailey discusses in Paine, Webber's new Research Bulletin

This integrated copper company, says Mr. Bailey in Research Bulletin #177, has achieved a major success in its chief mining and refining project. The company, he feels, faces a bright future as a leading U. S. copper producer.

In 1964 it should, he believes, produce considerable gains in earnings—as much as 30% to 60% above 1963 estimates—resulting from lowered costs and larger volume in the relocated and rehabilitated Fabricating Division, plus further progress at the company's largest and most productive mine. Over a period of years, both of these divisions, in his opinion, afford substantial growth potential.

FBI Firearms School Being Held In City

Sgt. Michael Dooley (above) of the Marquette Police Department is shown at target practice yesterday during the FBI firearms school for area police officers. The school, which ends tomorrow, is hosted by the Marquette department. Practice and demonstration sessions are being held at the city's sand pit off Wright St., with lectures and film demonstrations held at the Marquette National Guard Armory. Below, FBI Special Agent Carl M. Bresko, Detroit, demonstrates shooting procedure at the firearms school. Standing in background is Marquette Police Sgt. Woodrow Betts. Sixty law enforcement officers are receiving training in safety rules and fundamentals of shooting, with special classes in riot control, tear gas guns and grenades.—(Mining Journal photos).

Man Hurt In Hunt Mishap In Powell

This area's first hunting accident of the small game season was reported this morning by state police from the Marquette post.

The victim was Elwin Pearce, 53, Huron Mountain Club, Big Bay, who was accidentally shot while hunting at 5 p. m. Tuesday in Powell Township. Two pellets from a shotgun were lodged in his right leg and one pellet in his left arm.

Pearce was shot by James Bullock, 24, of 115 High St., Marquette, and was taken to St. Luke's Hospital here.

State police said Pearce was walking down a road hunting and Bullock, unaware anyone else was around, was on the same road but around a bend. When a partridge flew up, Bullock fired, with some of the pellets striking Pearce, officers said.

Meat Values At Stores This Week

DETROIT (AP) — Meat fans will find mouth-watering variety at economical prices at the nation's food stores this weekend.

Prices are lower for many cuts of beef and pork. Chicken and turkey specials are widespread. And some areas are also featuring lamb and veal.

Heavy marketings of cattle and hogs, with cattle volume hitting record levels at times, have brought many prices down.

Ribs On Beef

One national chain is featuring ribs on beef at 59 cents a pound in its New York outlets. If offers boneless top and bottom round roasts at 85 cents.

On the West Coast, wholesale prices on beef loins are down as much as five cents a pound.

Stew beef and rump roasts are particularly attractive in the Midwest. Veal shoulder roasts are another Midwest feature.

Buy On Lamb Roasts

Lamb roasts are tagged 69 cents a pound at one Eastern chain and some other areas also have lamb features.

Turkey prices are attractive as the pre-holiday marketing push begins. Broiler-fryers and

Purchase Of 2-Way Radio Equipment For Police OK'd

Contract for the provision of two-way radio equipment for the police department was awarded to Motorola, Inc., by the Marquette City Commission this week.

Motorola was low bidder for the transistorized equipment at a net price of $2,723.50. Other bidder was General Electric Corp., at a net price of $2,995.

The equipment will replace the two-way radio equipment now used by the police department. It includes four mobile transmitter units, in addition to base station equipment.

Before awarding the contract the commission rescinded a motion approved last week at a special meeting which awarded the contract to General Electric.

Errors In Bids

City Manager Thomas Moore stated that after the contract was awarded last week he found errors in both bids and an error on his own part.

Largest error was that General Electric did not meet specifications, by bidding on a transmitter with radio tubes rather than the required transistorized equipment.

Received Corrected Proposals
Moore said that he telephoned both companies and asked for corrected proposals.

"After bids are opened we place ourselves in a position of bargaining. The request for corrected proposals resulted in a low bid which was $288 lower than the corrected low figure," Moore said.

Lot Sold

Also at this week's meeting, the commission:

- Sold a lot at the end of Freestone St. for $500 to Rudolph K. Heikkala, who wishes to re-route Oriana Creek through the lot in connection with his planned construction project on Furnace St.

- Approved bills payable for September totaling $189,421.22, of which $36,083.69 is the city payroll.

- Referred to the city manager for study and report a petition for the extension of a sewer main west on Craig St. to the intersection with Altamont St. from Owen Alfred Pederson, 402 Altamont St.
- Referred to the city manager, attorney and clerk for report at the next meeting a proposed resolution from the Detroit Bank & Trust Co. which authorizes certain city officials to withdraw securities or to direct the purchase or selling of securities, in connection with steam electric generating plant bonds.

- Referred to the city engineer and public works superintendent a complaint that Woodlawn Ave. is "shaking cars to pieces."

Heard a report from the city manager, who said he is preparing data to send to the Michigan State Highway Department with a request for some kind of fencing to protect pedestrians crossing the Champion and Altamont Sts. bridges over the U.S. 41 bypass.

The Atlantic City boardwalk was opened in 1870 and was a mile long and eight feet wide.

Fair Eyes Dairy, Beef Show Split

ESCANABA — Chief among items discussed by the U. P. State Fair Board of managers at a recent meeting was a proposal to hold two separate dairy and beef shows.

Lack of space was given as the reason for a study of the matter which Secretary-Manager Ray LaPorte was directed to make by the board.

Under the plan, 4-H cattle and beef entries would be entered a day early, judged and released on Wednesday night with the open class cattle exhibits being shown the remainder of the week.

Advantages Named

Some of the advantages listed were that the 4-H Cattle Barn could be released for use as a general exhibition building to house other 4-H, home economics, floriculture and agriculture exhibits. This in turn would provide additional space in the buildings being used at present, for commercial exhibitors and for displays of industrial manufacturers, locally produced handicraft and tourism exhibits.

It was pointed out that exhibitors of cattle in both 4-H and open class would not have to spend the entire week at the fair taking care of their cattle, but would earn the same premiums now being paid.

Review Budget

The board reviewed the operating budget for the fiscal year 1964-65 which was increased to $120,115 to allow for additional increases in premiums which it is expected will be needed for the 1964 fair, Aug. 18 - 23.

Noting that receipts were not keeping pace with expenditures the board also authorized a study of the policies in effect at other Michigan fairs with respect to "free stickers" for exhibitors and employees, as a possible means of increasing revenues and controlling certain abuses in this area.

Bushmen of the Kalahari wasteland in southern Africa use an arrow poison so potent that one drop can kill a man if it enters the bloodstream. The primitive tribesmen get the poison from the pupa of a beetle.

Jimmy Hoffa's Outlook

James Riddle Hoffa, the head of the nation's biggest union, the 1.7 million member Teamsters, came to the Upper Peninsula last week to dedicate the new headquarters of Local 328 in Escanaba. The union, which has jurisdiction in the Upper Peninsula and Northeastern Wisconsin, was celebrating its 25th anniversary and its growth from a membership of 200 to one of about 3,000.

No other union has had such growth in the area. Some of the older unions have shrunk in membership with decline of employment in their crafts. The Teamsters have 17 trade divisions and Hoffa says they're growing in all of them, and especially in industry and in warehousing and supermarkets.

The Teamsters appeal to membership apparently is its spectacular ability to get more than the going rate. It is in a highly strategic spot to do this because it has most of the trucking industry organized and as Hoffa said in three early months of this year the trucks moved more freight in the United States than the railroads.

Hoffa is a supremely pragmatic; he's out to take care of his union and fighting anyone who gets in the way. Asked if the union had any special regard for a depressed area — the UAW, for instance, took a 10 per cent pay cut for a year or more at a Menominee industry to help it survive — Hoffa said no, that the union wasn't responsible for the community and that if it lacked economic growth, that wasn't the union's fault and its members had to pay as much for groceries or houses or cars as in prosperous areas so they should get as much pay.

This logic is unassailable as union self-interest and it is part of the cloth of which the Teamsters have made their suit. "There is not a person in this room who is not looking for selfish self-preservation," Hoffa told 500 Teamster diners. "You wouldn't be human unless you were."

This is the power struggle that underlies Hoffa's quarrel with government. Government is charged with the welfare of the whole society; he is devoted to the income of his union. If Hoffa were charged with responsibility for the entire economy instead of just that of the nation's biggest union he would have to take some new tacks and he could be expected to take them with bold venture.

He is an immensely able leader who keeps all the directness of his old truck dock days in administering huge affairs. He has an immense respect for education — he says he makes up all his own speeches but has them researched carefully, "you make one mistake and you're dead" — but not much respect for many professors. He's a teetotaler, a voracious reader who believes the prophets of change so thoroughly that he's aiming his union for conditions in the year 2000.

He's 50 and maturing, but he probably keeps his great immediate effectiveness for the teamsters because he remains such a single purpose man. Maybe he doesn't paraphrase Engine Charlie Wilson of GM and say that what's good for the Teamsters is good for the nation, but he acts as though he believed it.

Unionism changes like all other things and Hoffa is now devoting increasing millions of his huge resources to what he calls political education. Ostensibly for members of the Teamsters, it is intended to educate members of Congress more. Hoffa told his unionists that the gains of 25 years at the bargaining tables can be lost overnight in anti-union legislation. This collision was inevitable. Hoffa says that the President and his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, are carrying on a vendetta but they're at the government's bargaining table.

Calumet state police have received a complaint from a Ripley ski hill and dislodging large rocks down the hillside. One large boulder rolled down the hill and went through a sand pile where a young child had been playing only minutes before, continued onward and struck the porch of the woman's home.

Kent T. Lundgren, Menominee, state senator from the 30th district, has been named to a committee of senators who will go to Baden Baden, Germany, the coming weekend to submit an invitation to the Olympic games committee to bring the Olympics to Michigan — probably Detroit — in 1968.

State police at Wakefield and Ontonagon County Coroner Willard Driscoll are attempting to determine the cause of a fire that took the life of a Paynesville man, Hjalmer Kaars, 47, and destroyed his cedar log home. Kaars apparently was asleep at the time of the fire, officers said.

Edward S. Johnson, 76, Calumet, admired by Copper Country residents for his fortitude despite handicaps and misfortune, died this week. A native of Calumet, he suffered one of several misfortunes at the age of 17 when he fell from a scaffold in the Mohawk mill, permanently injuring his back. Despite that handicap, he rode a bicycle, took part in amateur boxing and was an ice skater for 55 years. As a cyclist, he once rode 114 miles in one day. Johnson lost an eye when hit by a snowball in 1936 and four years ago recovered from a broken hip.

The three-year court battle by the resort area of Spread Eagle (located in Wisconsin just across the state line from Iron Mountain) to secede from the Town of Florence is all over, with the Town of Florence as the jubilant winner. On an appeal filed by a Spread Eagle representative, the Wisconsin Supreme Court denied the motion for a rehearing of the court's previous decision against setting up a new town area and ordered the Spread Eagle group to pay court costs. Spread Eagle's only move would be to appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, but the cost of such action appears to be prohibitive.

Recently The Mining Journal suggested in an editorial that a Rod and Gun Club be organized in this county, comprising a membership of all the sportsmen in the three cities and the principal townships. It would be an effective aid to the game wardens in the protection of the game and fish, as well as an excellent medium for securing the propagation of the native species and possible the introduction of new game. The plan is no new one in the north country, Houghton County having such an association. The Mining Journal has received a letter from W. G. Mather, president of the Cleveland Cliffs Co., in which he expresses his hearty approval of the scheme.

Large increases in ore shipments out of the Marquette harbor last month over last year, both for month and season, were shown yesterday when reports compiled at the L. S. & I. dock office at Presque Isle and the South Shore dock office revealed that 632,607 tons were taken out in 80 boats last month and 1,810,830 tons had been shipped in 247 boats so far this season.

The October term of federal court will open at 9:30 a.m. today in the postoffice building with the grand jury session. Judge Fred M. Raymond will preside and following the meeting of the grand jury, hearings on motions will be held, after which jurors will be called for civil and criminal cases.

Only 13 of the 33 soliciting teams that started the ninth annual Community Chest drive here a week ago today have finished their work and it was apparent, after a check-up of the records in campaign headquarters last evening, that a final report on the results of the canvass cannot be made before the end of this week.

The people on Lincoln St. think that their thoroughfare has become of sufficient importance to merit more attention from the city. The street, they claim, is in little better condition than a rear lane, being poorly graded and imperfectly drained. In bad weather it is full of mud holes and difficult to traverse. The residents in that part of town also want more and better sidewalks. There are only a few rods of walk on the street, and that small portion is badly out of repair, making a well worn toe path along by the side of the wagon way preferable for pedestrians.

Talk Business --- That Fellow's From Internal Revenue

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Several developments of recent days give heart to the taxpayer who feels the national security could be adequately protected without spending nearly half of the annual Federal budget on military needs.

Item: The Senate cut $1.4 billion from the Administration's request of $48.7 billion for defense, although its bill was still $258 million more than the House had voted.

Item: A House Appropriations subcommittee reduced the space budget from the $5.7 billion asked to $5.1 billion.

Item: The Pentagon announced a mammoth airlift of sions now stationed in Germany and back next month, indicating the time may be growing closer when the U. S. can withdraw some of the six divisions now stationed in Germany.

Item: The Pentagon is studying its nuclear stockpile to see whether any cutback in weapons procurement is justified.

May Bring Men Home
Of these developments, the most significant are the airlift and the Pentagon's look-see at its nuclear stockpile. The airlift to Germany is to be performed, hopefully, in three days by 240 Air Force transports in an operation to find out how fast the U. S. can transport in time of emergency. If it is discovered that such an operation is possible without major snafus, the withdrawal of American troops from various parts of the world will become an inevitability, leading to the saving of hundreds of millions of dollars.

Since 1961, the U. S. airlift capacity has increased 60 per cent, and Defense Secretary McNamara has said that programs over the next several years "will about quadruple our 1961 capacity."

Uranium Cut Back
Meanwhile, there are signs the Pentagon is beginning to feel the U. S. has an "overkill capacity" in nuclear weapons—more nuclear hardware and warheads than are needed. In September, 1961, the Atomic Energy Commission took cognizance of the growing situation by cutting back its production of uranium 235, the vital material of nuclear warheads. And as a result it is now using 17 per cent less power for its diffusion plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Portsmouth, O., and Paducah, Ky.

McNamara always has been unwilling to admit there is an overkill capacity. But in reporting the study of the stockpile he noted that if a cut back is indicated it would be "reflected" in the fiscal 1965 budget which goes to Congress next January.

New York's Fall Fiesta

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — No one is quite sober in Manhattan in October.

Everyone drinks the wine of new possibility.

Anything can happen; everything does.

New York City advertises herself as a summer festival, but she is even more of a fall fiesta.

Her fugitive children troop back from their summer hide-aways, mosquito-scarred and full of tales of country adventure. But they really don't start living again until they cross the Bronx line, or enter the Lincoln tunnel and leave New Jersey behind. Any time spent anywhere but here doesn't count — it's a period in a cocoon.

Broadway
A fresh glitter comes to tawdry Broadway. Old shows close. New shows open — and some close. But in Tin Pan Alley the pianos go on tinkling forever.

On Fifth Avenue, the fabulous store windows drip with furs and jewels. Along the Bowery, bums shiver and wonder where they'll get an overcoat. In expensive restaurants the gin and tonic gives way to the vodka martini.

One Big Party
Life itself is just one big cocktail party in the big town now. Everyone from Park Avenue Cinderellas to Greenwich Village beatniks shares a feeling of exultant intoxication, for no one is quite sober in Manhattan in October.

Who'd want to be?

The Over-Ask
Another indication that the military traditionally asks for more money than it can spend was found in the amendment to the Defense budget offered by Sen. Richard B. Russell, (D.-Ga.), and passed by a voice vote. The amendment trimmed $31.7 million from Army aircraft funds—money Russell said the Army told him it didn't need. And, of course, the cut in space funds was a direct result of President Kennedy's suggestion that the U. S. and Soviet Union conduct a joint expedition to the moon.

These developments, together with the President's recent order exempting married men from the draft, all are part of a new attitude toward defense spending engendered partly by the nuclear test-ban treaty with the Soviet Union. There is on Capitol Hill a feeling that perhaps the time has come when the nation at last can safely indulge itself in few economies in the Cold War Budget. If the approach to cut backs is prudent, as it should be, Uncle Sam can still save his citizenry some big money.

Red China Regime Unstable

By JOSEPH ALSOP
HONG KONG — Among the expert China-watchers who pursue their difficult specialty here in Hong Kong, a most interesting new trend has appeared in the past year. In brief, doubts are beginning to be expressed about the future stability of the Communist regime in China.

This is all the more striking, because no such doubts were to be heard among the China-watchers in 1961 or 1962, when the paranoid follies of the "great leap forward" had brought Communist China to the very brink of immediate catastrophe.

Today, in contrast, there is general agreement that life is a little better in China. In particular, the food intake of the peasantry has risen from the starvation level of 1400 to 1500 calories per day to the simple-misery level of 1600 to 1700 calories per day.

Vegetables are more freely available, from the peasants' tiny private plots. There is some pork to be had. Where there used to be almost no cooking oil at all, the people in an average rural community may now receive as much as two ounces a month.

Not Impressive
The improvement is not impressive. But those who have experienced life in an internment camp — the nearest thing to life in present-day China — will know how much even such a trifling improvement can mean. Why then are doubts expressed today, when none were heard before?

The answer is inherent in the cause of the improvement of Chinese living conditions. In brief, like Stalin before him, Mao Tse-tung tried to gain resources for building a great industrial power base by ruthlessly squeezing China's teeming millions of peasants. But unlike Stalin, Mao failed in this grim attempt.

On the brink of catastrophe, Mao recoiled in fear. The squeeze on the peasantry was relaxed. The industrial expansion program was junked. Production from existing industrial plant was allowed to drop, or rather to plunge downwards, to a level of between 30 and 40 per cent of capacity, where it remains today. And since the state was taking less of the produce of the land, the people got more.

In other words, as one of the wisest men of this city has put it, "the Chinese Communist leaders have been frightened by the disaster of the great leap into accepting a no-existent situation."

Stagnant Agriculture
A stagnant agriculture, an industry whose wheels are barely turning over, and no serious program of current capital outlays to give hope of future progress — this is a "no-exit situation" in the most literal sense of the phrase. Yet this is the present situation of Communist China today.

Furthermore, the doors that might provide an exit appear to be locked and barred. This year's harvest will be about the same as last year's, which was not particularly good; and there are reasons for thinking that the harvests of subsequent years may grow worse rather than better.

Western businessmen are flocking to Peking, seeking trade opportunities created by the Sino-Soviet split. But the Chinese meanwhile are preparing to pay for imports with exports of cheap textiles, soybeans, and canned meats!

In sum, there is no margin now for investment in growth, and there are almost no prospects of such a margin being created in the future. Yet China cannot indefinitely bump along the bottom, at the present level of wretchedness. The truth is that the bottom is not yet in sight.

This is true because just about everything in China, from the clothes on the backs of the people to the more complex weapons of the armed forces, is in more and more urgent need of replacement. Yet no replacements are in sight.

For a matter of five years, the people have been patching their garments and replacing their cloth shoes on a ration of about two yards of cotton cloth per year. Since 1959, the armed forces have been patching and cannibalizing the airplanes and tanks and other higher weapons that used to come from Russia but come no longer and are not produced in China.

Area Of Transportation
Transport is another area of dangerous non-replacement. Above all, there is the entire Chinese industrial plant, almost exclusively designed around Russian or Eastern satellite equipment, with no spare parts sources, let alone replacement sources, for any of the factories' machines.

If there are no replacements, and if there is not even enough margin to provide replacements, further deterioration, gradual but cruel and remorseless, must unavoidably occur. And so the doubts are heard, simply because wretchedness, stagnation, and deterioration, all combined, do not appear a very good recipe for stability.

Artist Seeks To Preserve Wildlife

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON — Peter Scott passionately wants to preserve the wild life of the world — not so much for the sake of the animals as for the sake of man.

Scott, a gentle, personable man, has crowded many interesting "lives" into his 53 years. His current great interest is the World Wildlife Fund, for which he is chairman of the British national appeal.

He says, "Man's survival depends not only on his capacity to avoid blowing himself up, but also on his capacity to stop making deserts and dust bowls, to preserve and replant forests, and to husband the earth's renewable resources."

Can't Do Without
Scott believes that natural history adds to the enjoyment of life.

"I want my children's grandchildren to be able to get enjoyment from it," he remarked in an interview. "That in turn means that we have got to conserve wild life in the world of natural history so there will be animals in the future."

"Man can not do without natural things."

Scott said he wants to make it clear that this isn't a "case of animals versus man, with me on the side of the animals."

"Conservation is for man — for the long-term benefit of mankind, and to ignore it is short-sighted and improvident."

Tough Cat Survives 2-Month Trip In Crate

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A tough little gray cat from Canada astonished veterinarians here by surviving a two-months' journey from Montreal sealed in a crate.

A docker in a warehouse noticed movement behind a knot-hole in the crate.

The crate was opened and the cat emerged, thin but little the worse except for a raging thirst.

He supervises 5,000 wild geese and 2,500 ducks and swans. They can't fly away because they are pinioned (feathers of one wing clipped). The collection of 147 breeds is the largest in the world.

Amid these wild fowl in Gloucestershire, Scott resides along with his wife and three children.

Scott related how his father wrote to his mother from Antarctica in 1912 just before his death and said "make the boy interested in natural history. It's better than games."

He soon became interested. Today he says: "For all my life I have been interested in natural history."

Man's Best Competition
Scott believes that the best sports are against the elements and not against man.

That may explain why he is so fascinated with gliding, in which field he is rated fourth in Britain.

Or with yachting. He won a bronze medal in the 1936 Olympic Games and is three times international 14-foot dinghy champion. He also is president of the International Yacht Racing Union.

His paintings have been exhibited at the Royal Academy and other galleries; his television programs have a very high viewer rating; he has done a radio show for children once a month for 16 years; he has found time to accept the post as admiral of the Manx herding fleet which means he has to visit the Isle of Man once a year; he is the active leader of wild life appeals, etc., etc.

How does he find time for everything?
"I have a good secretary," he answered modestly.

Fourteen of 16 students arrested at a beer party held in a vacant farmhouse appeared before Judge Edward H. Dembowski in municipal court yesterday on liquor violation charges.

Fourteen of the students who were arraigned yesterday attend Northern Michigan University. The two others attend Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Houghton.

They were arrested at 9:30 Saturday night by state police and conservation department officers. A state police patrol has spotted activity at the vacant farm-

Mercury Skids Here After Rain; Cool Weather Ahead

Rain struck a low blow to the Marquette area weather picture yesterday and knocked down temperatures in the process.

The mercury has been gradually sliding down the thermometer since it reached the record-breaking high of 85 Tuesday.

18-Degree Drop
The rainstorm yesterday afternoon gave the mercury a big push downward, with an 18-degree temperature drop between 1 and 3 p.m.

Showers yesterday afternoon, which ranged from a few sprinkles to a heavy drizzle, amounted to .15 of an inch of precipitation. Overnight another .02 of an inch of rain fell.

After only a few light showers during the last half of September, precipitation for the year still lags way behind the normal amount through today. So far this year precipitation has amounted to 18.59 inches and normal amount for the period is 24.36 inches.

10 Degrees Above Normal
High temperature yesterday was a pleasant 74 degrees at 1 p.m. The rainfall began at 2 p.m. and with the added help of a weak cold front, the temperature dropped to 56 at 3 p.m.

Low before midnight was 53 degrees, making the average temperature yesterday 64, which was 10 degrees above normal.

The mercury dropped into the 40s after midnight and the minimum overnight was 47. Other overnight lows were 44 at the Marquette County Airport (where precipitation totaled .13 of an inch yesterday) and 50 at Escanaba (where precipitation totaled .23 of an inch yesterday).

Temperatures were expected to remain cool today, with a high between 55 and 60 predicted. Partial clearing is predicted for tonight, with fair skies and cool temperatures. Low tonight will be between 40 and 45.

Showers Tomorrow
A few showers are expected to develop in the late afternoon or evening tomorrow, but warmer temperatures are predicted. Maximum tomorrow is expected to be near 70.

Saturday is expected to be a little cooler, but no rain is forecast, making it ideal for persons planning to go to a football game.

Michigan's Harvest In Full Swing

Got Jobless Benefits
In the latter case, court officials said he was charged with having been paid $42 in unemployment benefits for a week in April 1961, when in fact he had received $50 in wages that week.

He was released on a personal recognizance bond of $500.

more than 50 per cent dented or mature. Another one third was dented but not yet hard. About 90 per cent of the corn was mature as of September ended a year ago.

Two thirds of the dry bean crop was harvested with activities both in navies and early colored varieties.

Potato Harvest
Harvesting had started on the earliest fields of soybeans and sugar beets. The late potato harvest was one fourth completed, slightly behind last year at this time.

The grape harvest was nearing a peak volume. The McIntosh apple harvest nearly was ended in southern areas and well underway in west-central and northwestern Michigan. The harvesting of Jonathan and delicious varieties was in full swing in the southwest areas and had started in the northern areas.

Onion topping and the head lettuce harvest were nearly finished. The celery harvest was expected to be active for another two weeks. The cabbage, carrot and cauliflower harvests continued.

Suggitt, Community Planner, To Address Tourist Unit Here

One of the state's most qualified men in the field of community planning and analysis will address the Upper Michigan Tourist Association during its annual convention here next Wednesday, Oct. 9.

UMTA members from throughout the Upper Peninsula will hear Dr. Frank W. Suggitt, Lansing, at a noon luncheon in the Hotel Northland. His talk will follow morning presentation of the association's program and committee meetings and precede an afternoon business session.

Dr. Suggitt has had 20 years professional planning work involving preparation of comprehensive community plans for municipal, county, regional, metropolitan and state areas, and has been in wide demand as a speaker for planning and development, tourism and travel, conservation, community service, and adult education and extension groups.

Receiving his bachelor's degree at Michigan State University and his master's and doctor's degrees at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., he

U.P. Power Praised For '62 Report

Upper Peninsula Power Co. was among a group of leading industries across the nation who recently received special recognition for their 1962 annual report presentation to shareholders.

According to an announcement by John H. Warden, Houghton, president, the utility firm is the recipient of the 1963 merit award certificate from Financial World, one of the country's most prominent investment and business weekly publications.

Annual Award
The award which is made annually, is given in various classifications of business and industry. The power company's award was in the category of electric public utilities and reads as follows:

"In recognition of the excellence of its 1962 annual report to shareholders, this certificate is presented to the Upper Peninsula Power Co., selected on the basis of content, design and typography from among five thousand entries in the 23rd annual report survey conducted during 1963."

5,000 Copies Out
Over five thousand copies of the company's 1962 annual report were distributed to shareholders and other interested individuals located in every state of the union, the District of Columbia and some foreign countries.

In addition to presenting a factual, yet simple and understandable story of the company's operations to its shareholders, the 1962 report featured a salute to the wood products industry, one of the biggest businesses in the Upper Peninsula.

30 Counties Eligible For U.S. Loans

EAST LANSING (AP)—Thirty Michigan counties have been designated "emergency areas" eligible for emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration, reports State FHA Director Nyle Katz.

Emergency loans carry a three per cent rate of interest instead of the FHA's usual five per cent rate, Katz said.

Last year, the director noted, no counties received the emergency designation. But at least four weather occurrences this year have caused severe crop damage, he added.

Additional Benefits
Katz listed the damaging weather conditions as: Severe freezes in April and May, a hard windstorm in Kent County in June, extreme drought in some areas and damaging hailstorms in others.

Two additional benefits afforded by the emergency status, Katz said, are that new funds are made available by the government for loans and that larger business units than the family farm may apply for loans.

spent seven years in professional graduate and undergraduate instruction in rural, regional, watershed and economic development planning while professor and head of MSU's department of resource development.

Included were field supervision of state-wide, regional and county cooperative extension agents specializing in county and community planning from 1952 to 1960.

Served On USAF Body
Suggitt was a member of committees which established Michigan State's institute of community services, resource development extension program, and tourist and resort extension and research service, serving as project leader of the last two. His related work experience includes three years in photography with the U. S. Army Air Force and membership on a Governor's committee on metropolitan problems.

"Besides conducting market analysis and interregional comparative advantage studies of Michigan's manufacturing, tourism and agriculture, he undertook a survey and made recommendations for Gogebic County and is now doing similar work for Mackinac County.

"We hope many of our members will attend the Oct. 9 meeting to hear Dr. Suggitt."

Storms Strike Downstate Areas; Damage Heavy

(By the Associated Press)
Strong winds caused damage in several Michigan cities Wednesday night as a band of thunderstorms swept across the southern Lower Peninsula. The Weather Bureau at Detroit said 70 mile an hour winds were reported at Lansing and Fowlerville, and 65-70 mile gusts howled over the Pontiac airport. A movie screen was blown down at the Ottawa Drive-in Theater at Spring Lake near Grand Haven. The theater had gone out of business. No injuries were reported. At Lansing, Police Lt. Okey Peterson said 70 mile wind gusts felled power lines and trees and blew out a department store window on the city's southwest side. "We were really dumbfounded when the storm hit," Peterson said. "We had no warning whatsoever. This could have

Applications Open In Navy College Plan

Applications are now being accepted from high school seniors and graduates in this area to compete for some 2,000 openings in the United States Navy's four year college training program. The program is the regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps. The Navy will pay for all tuition, books and other instructional expenses, plus $50 a month for up to four years. For applicants who compete successfully, according to Vice Admiral W. R. Smedberg III, Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington, D.C.

Supplements Officer Output
The NROTC is designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy. The program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular Navy commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice from among the 52 colleges with an NROTC unit.

NROTC units are established at Marquette University in Milwaukee and at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. After successfully completing a four year college course, the NROTC student receives a commission as an officer in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a career officer with the Navy.

Nov. 22 Deadline
High school seniors and graduates who will have reached their 17th but not their 21st birthday on June 30, 1964, may apply for the NROTC competitive examinations. Students already enrolled in college are eligible.

Those who successfully complete the written examination will be interviewed and given a medical examination early in 1964. Successful candidates will start their NROTC school program in September 1964.

Applications to compete must be submitted prior to Nov. 22. Application forms, along with detailed instructions for submission and a booklet explaining the NROTC program, may be obtained through any high school or the Marquette Navy recruiting station.

Search Started Near Soo For Research Capsule

SAULT STE. MARIE — A search plane and a Coast Guard boat were assigned today to search Whitefish Bay for a 400-pound capsule carrying high altitude research gear.

The capsule, with sufficient plastic foam to make it float, was carried by a balloon sent aloft Monday at Minneapolis by Winzen Research Corp. in a research project being carried out for the U. S. Navy.

It was followed by radar and a tracking plane to Whitefish Bay, at the eastern end of Lake Superior.

The three principal fertilizers are phosphorous, nitrogen and potash.

Community Chest Agency: United Fund Supported Start Of USO Unit Here

During the past year, the Michigan United Fund, Marquette County Chapter, supported the beginning of a USO (United Service Organization) in Marquette with an expenditure of $5,400.

This and other information on the Michigan United Fund is noted by John L. Farley, area chairman, in commenting on the organization and the need for its primary source of revenue — the United Marquette Community Chest.

The Michigan United Fund is one of the Chest's nine recipient agencies and its allocation for the coming year is $8,650.

In a report submitted by Farley, it was stated that Michigan United Fund agencies expend their funds in five broad areas of service:

Research — Michigan United Fund agencies invest heavily in research projects to discover the causes of and improved treatments for: Heart and circulatory disorders, arthritis and rheumatism, kidney disease, mental disturbance, polio, cancer, cerebral palsy, diabetes, epilepsy, multiple sclerosis, mental retardation and loss of hearing. Some now use electronic data processing equipment to correlate clinical data. This new statistical approach is already pointing the way toward sharper diagnosis and quicker therapy.

Financial Scene:
U.S. Steps
Told If Gold Run Begins

Editor's Note — There are three ways to stop any run on our gold reserves if one should start. Sam Dawson, AP Business News Analyst, in this fourth of five articles on the balance of payments problem tells why bankers think the United States won't, and shouldn't, take such extreme steps.

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — If a concerted drive on U. S. gold stocks really gets rolling — unlikely as that is — what could we do? Other nations hold 20 billion worth of dollar credits that theoretically could be turned in to the U. S. Treasury with a demand for payment in gold. And we now have $15.5 billion of that metal, with 12 billion of it a legal reserve for U. S. currency.

The United States could free the currency reserve. The additional $12 billion of gold available to settle foreign claims presumably would halt the drive.

The United States could suspend payment in gold and hold onto its hoard.

The United States could devalue the dollar. Since 1933 the legal price of gold has been $35 an ounce. If Congress doubled the price, our store would be valued at $31 billion, more than enough to settle the 20 billion in foreign dollars claims which over night would have lost half of their value in gold.

Moves Unlikely Now

American monetary experts think any of the three moves most unlikely now — just as they are confident steps will be taken to make any run on reserves a very far-out threat indeed.

Freeing the reserves backing our currency has been advocated both here and abroad. But it runs up against strong traditional opposition. George S. Moore, president of First National City Bank, New York, points out that "any prolonged debate in Congress over the enactment of such legislation would further damage confidence in the dollar."

Reasons Cited

Why the need for suspension of gold payments is unlikely to arise is summed up by Dr. M. A. Kriz, senior economist of the same bank: "of the $20 billion of short-term liabilities to foreigners, $12 billion is held by governments and central banks. They have a vital stake in maintaining the present monetary system. Foreign commercial banks, businesses and individuals holding the other $8 billion of short-term dollars need large working balances in dollars in their day-to-day business and for prospective dollar needs."

Since World War II many governments have counted dollars right along with gold as monetary reserves backing their own currencies. Loss of confidence — suspension — devaluation — would play hob with international settlements. That is why other nations are as determined as Washington that none of these things happens.

Others Would Follow

First off, the principal monetary nations probably would devalue their currencies right along with us. The payments problem would be right where it was, except for the loss of value in gold of their dollar reserves. And since only Congress could change the price of gold in dollars, while the debate was on other nations would dump their dollar holdings fast.

Tomorrow — How effective are the measures we've already tried?

referral systems to make maximum use of existing resources of facilities and trained personnel. Modest expenditures for planning and coordinating result in major economies.

Services to Individuals and Communities — Certain of the Michigan United Fund agencies engage in varying degree in providing services directly to individuals. They operate or participate in rehabilitation programs, handle adoptions and boarding care for children, assist unmarried mothers, operate mobile units for clinical evaluations and detection, supply leader dogs to the blind and serve victims of various disabilities. The actual services to individuals and communities to the area in 1962 are the following: Arthritis & Rheumatism Foundation, $21.34; United Cerebral Palsy Association, $2,574; Michigan Children's Aid Society, $14,891; Michigan Diabetes Association, $4.13; Michigan Epilepsy Center & Association, $168; Michigan Association for Better Hearing, $8,042.32; Multiple Sclerosis Society of Michigan, $50.16; Worldwide United Service Organizations (USO), $4,169.13; and the local USO, $5,400. Michigan United Fund agencies are thus known to have rendered services to individuals and communities in the area in 1962 in excess of $29,920.03.

9 District Court Split Suggested

LANSING (AP) — A recommendation that Michigan's new appellate court be split into nine districts of roughly equal population is being forwarded to the legislative committee studying implementation of the new Constitution.

The question of districts for the court was resolved as two subcommittees of the basic 18-member group met Wednesday. On a split vote, the judiciary subcommittee headed by Sen. Farrell Roberts, R-Pontiac, approved the plan whereby the court would have six outstate districts and three in Wayne County.

Effective Date

At the same time, the subcommittee agreed to recommend that the court be put into operation as of April 1, 1964, with its nine posts to be filled temporarily by retired judges appointed by the Michigan Supreme Court.

These judges would serve until successors were elected in the 1964 primary and general elections on non-partisan ballots. The interim judges would not be eligible to run.

Sen. Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft, said the subcommittee still faces the job of drawing boundaries for the court districts and is "a long way from having anything settled."

Intermediate Position

The appellate court will occupy an intermediate position between circuit courts and the Michigan Supreme Court. The choice on districting lies between nine single-judge districts and three districts of three judges each.

Under the new Constitution, appellate court districts must not only be approximately equal in population but also must follow county lines.

At the height of Atlantis' power and glory, tradition has it, the legendary island-continent sank into the sea.

Mayors Issue Proclamation On Hiring Handicapped

Mayors of four area cities have proclaimed the week beginning next Sunday as "Employment of the Physically Handicapped" week.

This observance was created by Congress in 1945 and has been observed annually. The mayors' action follows that of President Kennedy and Gov. Romney in using this period to bring nationwide attention to the gains made in securing employment for qualified handicapped workers.

Issuing the joint proclamation...

The mayors express the hope that this will continue not only through this week but throughout the year.

"Equal opportunity for employment is basic to our belief in human dignity and should never be denied to any person because of physical impairment," the mayors stated.

"We call upon our people to observe the week of Oct. 6 through 12, as Employ the Handicapped Week, and to cooperate with the Governor's committee on employment of the handicapped and the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

"We also urge other public officials, as well as leaders of industry, labor, civic, veterans, agricultural, women's scientific professional and all other interested organizations and individuals, to participate actively in this observance.

ation were Mayors C. Fred Rydholm of Marquette, Theodore R. Mattson of Ishpeming, Earl Makela of Negaunee and Leo Gariepy of Munising.

The American conviction that every individual is entitled to an employment opportunity equal to his ability has become the standard with most employers, they asserted.

"The advocacy of the principle that all job applicants—disabled or not—should be considered upon their ability to do a job is not only sound personnel practice, but is a part of the enlightened human relations program found in many industries," they added.

The National Association of Manufacturers, the AFL-CIO, and many other groups have developed and endorsed plans through which the handicapped can make their contributions to the nation's massive production, whether it be in the field of business, industry or professions.

Special Education Building Being Razed

Marquette Public Schools' old special education building on E. Ridge St. is being razed by Robert Gerardi of G and L Home Builders of Negaunee, who purchased the eight-lot Howard-Froebel property this spring. The residence was purchased by the public schools in 1900 for future expansion of the Howard - Froebel School. The building was used for special education classes until the school was vacated in the fall of 1960 and was then used for storage space until this spring.—(Mining Journal photo).

Leadership Topic For Meeting Of Teachers In U. P.

An experiment in leadership training for teachers will be conducted at Escanaba's Sherman Hotel Oct. 11, when the Department of Classroom Teachers holds its leadership convolve for DCT Areas 16, 17 and 18.

The DCT, an affiliate of the Michigan Education Association, is holding six such conferences throughout the state this fall. The Escanaba workshop is expected to attract over 200 teachers.

Cecil C. Elmore, MEA assistant executive secretary in charge of programs, said: "One of the main purposes of the convolves is to acquaint classroom teachers with the program of the DCT. The reactivated DCT program is directed toward new horizons for the classroom teacher, and we are concentrating our efforts in the areas of teacher welfare and the improvement of instruction methods. We hope these convolves will bring the services of the DCT closer to the on-the-job classroom instructor."

Registration for the afternoon and evening conference will begin at 1:30 p.m. The session will be opened by DCT President Richard Wirth, Detroit, who will discuss "Leadership and the Program of DCT."

A symposium on active membership is next on the agenda. DCT President-Elect Florence Mason, Manistee, will speak on the National Education Association's project on instruction. Membership, legislation and publications will be discussed by the chairmen of those respective committees.

A presentation of position papers stating the DCT stand on crucial issues in education will be included in the program as well as group meetings on organization, welfare and curriculum. An evening "cracker barrel" session will close the conference.

The entire Upper Peninsula is included in DCT Areas 16, 17 and 18.

The hearing will be conducted tomorrow by the State House of Representatives general taxation committee.

It will convene at 10 a.m. in the Vista Room of the Northern Michigan University Center.

Need Copy Of Statement

Larson urged chamber members to appear at the committee hearing and to send a copy of statements made to the House taxation committee to the chamber office.

The Marquette chamber will be represented at the hearing by Larson, Robert M. Ling, first vice president, and Directors Lincoln B. Frazier and Jack McCracken.

"The Michigan Chamber of Commerce is making a thorough analysis of tax reform proposals," Larson noted. "The state chamber's position will be announced as soon as this study, which will incorporate information from local surveys, is completed."

Hallfrisch-Johnson

(Photo by Lemon's Studio)

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday by Jonda Joy Hallfrisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert F. Hallfrisch, 912 Jefferson St., and Neil Raymond Johnson, Port Washington, Wis., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walfrid H. Johnson, 729 W. Kaye Ave. Fall shades of chrysanthemums, pompons and gladioli decorated the altar of the First Methodist Church for the candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Norbert W. Smith, pastor. Miss Alice Darling, Appleton, Wis., soloist, sang "Song of Ruth," before the service and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Leland O. Steele, sister of the bride, Iron Mountain, and Philip Doan Wineland, Hudson, Mich., a friend of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of lace. The dress featured lily point sleeves and a jeweled neckline adorned with seed pearls and crystals. Her chapel train of slipper satin was attached to a cummerbund at the waist. Three satin cabbage roses secured her elbow-length veil. The bride carried a crescent shaped cascade bouquet of gladioli, flowers and feathered mums and ivy centered on a Bible.

The matron of honor's dress was a street-length moss green matelasse brocade frock, with three-quarter-length sleeves, adorned with cabbage roses at the waistline. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of bronze and yellow mums.

The mother of the bride wore

Jews To Celebrate Feast Of Tabernacles

A children's service at 11 a.m. and an adult service at 8 p.m. will be held Sunday in the Temple Beth Shalom, Ishpeming, to celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles.

Sukkot, or the Feast of Tabernacles, was originally a festival which required pilgrimage to the Temple in Jerusalem. The holiday commences on the 15th of Tishri.

This year the holiday lasts from Oct. 3 through Oct. 8. It is connected with the season of the harvest and its completion once served as a thanksgiving for the fruit ingathering, as well as the general bounty of nature in the year which had passed.

The custom of constructing sukkah, or booths, presumably dated from the time when the Israelites lived in booths during the fruit harvest. There was much symbolism as well as utility inherent in the sukkah structure. For instance, it is a safeguard against the forces of nature; it is a thanksgiving monument to the Lord for his giving to mankind that for which he has labored throughout the year.

The sukkah is an unusual building, it has three sides consisting of leaves and/or branches, and the roof is not fully covered. The latter, according to tradition, is so constructed that man may see the stars in the Heaven at night when he is lying within it, and may know that God is above watching over him. In early times, the sukkah served as a abode for the male Jew throughout the entire holiday.

Former Member Of DAR Honored At Meet Here

The Marquette Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its fall luncheon meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. S. Bice Jr., Middle Island Point.

The programs for the year were distributed by Mrs. H. A. Clark, Mrs. F. C. Dando, Mrs. F. J. Kepler and Mrs. Lawrence Hill, the program committee. "Be Strong and of a Good Courage," Deuteronomy 31:6, is the theme for the year.

The regent, Mrs. Hill, presided at the meeting. A tribute to the memory of Mrs. Ella Brown Spooner, (Charles Cutler), a former member of the chapter who died Sept. 18, 1963, was read by Mrs. J. W. Adriaance. In closing she read one of Mrs. Spooner's poems, "Summer Sunset."

After the reading of committee reports Mrs. Hill read letters of DAR news intended to inform the members. Resolutions which were passed by the 72 Continental Congress National Society, DAR, in April, were read including rededication.

The producer will be happy to hear what you would like in the way of a product and pack because his sales to you determine if he continues to produce potatoes or not.

Apples, of course, are the biggest news in fruit. Michigan ranks third in the nation in apple production, concentrating in four varieties which account for 75 per cent of apples produced. The big four include McIntosh, Delicious, Northern Spy and Jonathan.

Do you often wonder what variety of apple is best for a specific use? If so, we'll be glad to send you information on selecting by variety, suggested use and season. Included also is information on yield, care and selection. Write to Mrs. Ingrid Bartelli, MSU, U. P. Extension Center, Box 719A, Marquette.

Are there really women in this world who say... "I dread Fall; it gives me a feeling of melancholy?"

It would seem to us that it is the beginning of everything. Just look at the women's page of the paper and read all the announcements of PTA meetings, card parties, dances, style shows... really just a few of the things listed. The one and only thing to do is to be ready for whatever comes along...

If you want to feel and look like a different person, just place your body under the influence of a good girdle. In our case, we suggest the PLAYTEX; it is absolutely the smoothest fitting garment, unboned, comes in several different styles and will DO things for you and yours!

Once you find yourself neatly fitted into this girdle, and the pounds have just melted from your middle and hips, then you will want to try on one of the new demi-fit cupioni dresses which just arrived. They are lightweight enough to wear right now during our lovely Indian summer, yet have the Fall look about them. Also just received; a lovely ensemble consisting of a roll-collared, long sleeved black jersey sheath (fully lined) under a black and white leather trimmed tweed cape.

Let us help you select your new fall and winter wardrobe, from the perfect foundation out. You will find them all at LOU'S in the center of Marquette.—Adv.

4-H Clubs Saluting Parents Of Members

By PAUL W. SHOIGREN County Extension Agent, 4-H Club Work

As part of its continuing program of involving the whole family in the 4-H enterprise, Michigan 4-H week this year is saluting the parents of 4-H club members. This theme of parent appreciation is in addition to the emphasis on career guidance of the 4-H program. Therefore, the 4-H parents are to be congratulated for their cooperation with their 4-H club members. This is one of the strong points of the 4-H program as one looks over the actual working of a 4-H project and involvement in club activities.

Salvation Army Band To Entertain At Prison

In connection with the visit this coming weekend of the famed Detroit Citadel Band of the Salvation Army to the Marquette-Ishpeming Area, the aggregation is scheduled to present a concert at the Marquette State Prison next Sunday morning, through the cooperation of Warden Raymond J. Buchkoe and the Rev. Eugene LeVine.

Protestant chaplain at the prison, according to Maj. R. B. Sharp, Marquette Area Commander of the Salvation Army. Major Sharp states that the Detroit combination is considered among the finest Salvation Army Bands in the United States. The band appeared in this area two years ago and won high acclaim from its well received program of marches, special arrangements of hymns, special brass excerpts from the classics, and a variety of solo items, instrumental and vocal.

Salvation Army Bands are unique in the field of bands as they are composed entirely of brass instruments—the music being composed, arranged and transcribed for 17 parts brass and percussion. Performance Saturday Sunday morning will be the band's only visit to Marquette. Major Sharp points out, however, that a public music festival featuring the Detroit Citadel Band will take place this Saturday in the Lakeview School Auditorium in Negaunee at 3 p.m.

Major Sharp states that the band is directed by bandmaster Hannibal Orchard, a former resident of Marquette and Ishpeming. Also accompanying the band will be Major James MacLean, commander of the Detroit Citadel Corps, who will serve as chairman of the band's appearance. Major Raymond Carroll, divisional secretary for Wisconsin and Upper Michigan division of the Army from Milwaukee, will also officially be in attendance in connection with the band's visit to this area.

Vegetables, Fruits At Peak This Month

By MRS. INGRID BARTELLI Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Michigan State University

October is a good month in which to get hungry. Harvest time abundance exists in our food stores. Apples, grapes and pears are in peak supply along with plenty of cranberries, bananas and first-of-the-season grapefruit.

The vegetable counter will be dominated by peak supply brussels sprouts, carrots, cauliflower, escarole, leeks, potatoes, pumpkin and squash, with abundant supplies of tomatoes, turnips, cabbage and beets.

There will be large supplies of broiler-fryer chickens and more live turkeys coming to market, with fewer frozen turkeys from storage stocks.

Small Eggs A Better Buy October promises plenty of beef, increasing supplies of pork and lamb at lower prices as seasonal slaughter increases. Small eggs and medium size eggs generally prove the better buy (if it's pounds of eggs you consider) during the fall months.

All this and maybe partridge, duck or goose too!

When you plan your October meals, you'll want to include pork more often as the cool weather whets appetites and prices on pork cuts decrease. Most stores will feature some pork cut. Pork prices should continue to go down for the next few months.

Bacon prices are coming down again after mid-summer highs.

Consumers will enjoy the increased supply of lamb this month, although there will not be quite as much as last year.

Ponti Bags 160-Pound Doe

John Ponti, 675 Elliott Ave., Eighth Addition, was one of Ishpeming's first successful archers when the 1963 bow and arrow hunting season opened Tuesday. He's shown with the 160-pound doe he bagged at 7:45 a.m. while hunting south of the city with a fellow school teacher, Ed Koski. Both are members of the Tomahawk Bowmen. Forty At Wood Seasoning Group Meet In Munising MUNISING — The fall meeting of the Wisconsin-Michigan Wood Seasoning Association opened in Munising today with approximately 40 members attending.

The technical meeting started at 1:30 p.m. in the Forest Inn and will be followed by an informal dinner this evening.

Friday morning the group will tour the new Fox-Cliffs sawmill at Forrest Center east of Munising, where the facilities include the most modern lumber dry kilns and predryers.

The Wisconsin - Michigan Wood Seasoning Association was created in 1954 under the sponsorship of the Forest Products Research Division of Michigan Tech, which has continued to provide secretarial service since that time.

Carl W. Danielson Jr., assistant professor of forest products research at Tech, is currently serving as secretary and Homer Grondine, manager of the Ripley Pin Co., Ripley, is president of the group. Dr. Herford Garland, director of Tech's Forest Products Research Division, also will attend.

The association's membership is made up of individuals involved in lumber drying in sawmills and wood-using industries of Upper Michigan and northern Wisconsin. Its purpose is the promotion of improved seasoning, storage and handling techniques for wood through the exchange of ideas and discussion of mutual problems.

The group conducts meetings three times yearly and membership is not required for attendance.

New War Memorial Planned

L'ANSE — Plans for replacement of the old servicemen's honor roll with a memorial to all L'Anse people who have served this nation in wartime were made at a meeting of village representatives with officials of the Veterans of World War I, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

"The weatherbeaten honor roll will be replaced by a memorial of modern design with a 4-by-6-foot plaque of amber granite surrounded by native Leke Superior stone," a spokesman for the combined groups declared. "The memorial, which will be six feet high by 10 feet long overall, will be built on the village hall lawn, with the flagpole in the immediate background."

Douglas Loosemore will be in charge of building the memorial and will be assisted by other veterans.

To defray the cost of the granite plaque, it was decided that the four veterans' organizations would solicit donations from veterans, families of veterans and the general public. In addition, the veterans' groups also will contact former L'Anse servicemen and women who have left the area so they, too, may contribute to the memorial.

Berlinski Of Kingsford Racing Toward Scoring Crown; Some Competition

BY JAMES TRETHERWEY
Of The Journal Staff

With three games left, Kingsford flash Dick Berlinski is racing toward the Upper Peninsula high school grid scoring crown.

He added touchdown jaunts of 10 and 20 yards from scrimmage and a 75-yard punt return, in addition to scoring three extra points, in the Flippers' 34-0 rout of Iron River last Saturday to run his season's total to 90 points. That's already over the total (81 points) that won the U. P. title for Hancock's Gary Hauswirth last fall.

Eight Letters

Berlinski, a 188-pound junior who already has earned eight varsity letters at Kingsford, was held to 108 yards rushing in 24 attempts by Iron River—his lowest of the season. He has gained an even 800 yards to date.

Coach Rae Drake and other football mentors around the region regard Berlinski as one of the best backs developed in the Peninsula in several years. As a freshman he scored 12 extra points, then added 78 last season. Both he and a teammate, Don Edens—now a freshman zizzer at Northern Michigan University—were runners-up to Hauswirth in the 1962 scoring race.

Regarded as excellent college material over in the eastern end of the U. P. is a Sault St. Marie Loretto halfback, Jack Spuhler, who probably could have taken over the point lead last week. After notching 35 points in his first three games—including touchdown sprints of 85, 60, 40 and 25 yards—Spuhler went for 34, 12 and 21-yard scoring runs the first three times he had his hands on the ball in Loretto's 77-12 blitz of Engadine.

He let a substitute, Frank Groben, take over, and the latter took advantage of the opportunity to turn in touchdown gallops of 50, 58, 57 and 34 yards.

Both Berlinski and Spuhler will undergo tougher tests this week when unbeaten Kingsford tangles with all-winning Escanaba Holy Name and Loretto, with a 4-0 record, takes on bigger Rudyard.

In the western end of the Peninsula, Gobege R. Range coaches are singing the praises of Quarterback Terry Salmi, who has guided Wakefield to a 4-1 record and the runner-up spot behind Ironwood in the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference.

Salmi already has thrown eight touchdown passes. His latest scoring effort was a six-yard toss to Halfback Mickey Giacofci with just 15 seconds left to play in the first half. Salmi kicking the extra point to give Wakefield a 7-6 conference victory over Superior (Wis.) East.

Final Game Slated In MPAC Today

The Mid-Peninsula Athletic Conference fall baseball program moves into its final phases tonight, following important victories by Negaunee St. Paul and National Mine teams Tuesday evening.

St. Paul rolled up another win over Republic, outpitching them 11-3 for a 10-3 final score. The winners took a 2-0 lead in the first inning, but Republic tied the game in the second. The knot was untied in the fourth inning, when St. Paul batters blasted in six runs to take a permanent lead.

Bob Bath pitched his first game for Republic, hurling well until the St. Paul rally in the fourth resulted in Jim Fowler relieving him for the remainder of the game. Bath took the loss, and St. Paul's Rod Guizzetti took the win, the eighth straight in as many games for the phenomenal squad.

Battle For Second

While St. Paul's team clinched first place in the conference last week, a fierce battle has been raging between Republic and National Mine for second spot position. The latter team defeated Champion, 8-6, Tuesday night to tie for second place with the help of Republic's loss to St. Paul.

Winning National Mine pitcher Brian Brown contributed three of the squad's hits, smashing a double, a single and a home run, while Dave Wourenmaa and Douglas Kari knocked triples. Kari also lined two singles in the winning effort.

Tonight's final action in the regular schedule will pit National Mine against St. Paul and Republic against the winless Champion team, and will decide the second-place winner. The standings to date are as follows:

W	L
St. Paul	8 0
Nat'l Mine	4 4
Republic	4 4
Champion	0 8

Tech Meets St. Cloud This Week

HOUGHTON — Having disposed of the defending NIC champion Winona State, 16-14 last weekend, the Michigan Tech Huskies can turn their sights on pass-minded St. Cloud State.

The Techmen, 1-0 in NIC play and 2-1 overall, will meet St. Cloud at Houghton Saturday. In the seven-game series with St. Cloud, Tech has taken five and tied one of the games.

Coach Bill Lucier reported that his squad came out of the Winona game in good shape and should be ready to go full blast on the ground against St. Cloud's predominantly aerial attack.

Lane-Ortiz Bout Talks Collapsed

MUSKOGON (AP) — A lightweight title fight between Muskogon's Kenny Lane and champion Carlos Ortiz is still up in the air. Lane's manager, Pete Petrosky, vows he'll still keep trying for it, despite being rebuffed Wednesday by Promoter George Parnassus of Los Angeles.

"I'm going to stay right on them," Petrosky said, declaring he still had hopes.

Petrosky and Parnassus split on terms for the fight after Lane's manager announced agreement to a title bout on the West Coast later this month.

Ortiz accepted a guarantee of $50,000 but Parnassus rejected Lane's demands and said negotiations had collapsed.

Petrosky said he first demanded $10,000 for Lane plus 20 per cent of the net gate and 20 per cent of television proceeds, along with $1,000 training expenses. He said he later cut this, eliminating the 20 per cent of the gate.

Repeating a charge that Ortiz wants "no part of Lane" because he means he'd lose his crown, Petrosky said he would try to contact Parnassus again.

Parnassus said he would not go beyond the $10,000 offered Lane. He said he would not agree to any added percentage deal on either the gate or TV.

"Petrosky's demands are out of the question," Parnassus said. "Lane means nothing at the gate. He only drew $16,150 against the No. 2 contender, Paulie Armstrong, recently in Saginaw, Mich., causing the promoters to lose heavily."

Wings Take Exhibition

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP) — Parker MacDonald's second goal broke a 2-2 tie midway in the third period and the Detroit Red Wings scored a 4-2 victory Wednesday night over their Pittsburgh farm team.

The victory over the Hornets of the American Hockey League gave the National Hockey League Red Wings a 7-1-2 exhibition season record. Detroit opens NHL regular season play Oct. 10 against Chicago at Detroit.

Detroit's Gordie Howe scored his 14th goal of the exhibition season and Alex Delvecchio also tallied for the Wings. Hank Ciesla and Bob Dillabough scored for Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK (AP) — Trying to be a good guy has landed New York Yankee pitching coach Johnny Sain in a hospital for the duration of the World Series.

Sain suffered a broken jaw Tuesday night, on the eve of the opener, when he tried to break up a fight between a friend and another man.

Roseboro An Unsung Hero?

There are those who say that pitching is 90 per cent of the game of baseball, and the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax lends credence to the theory, having fanned 15 Yankees for a World Series record in Tuesday's opener. But catcher Johnny Roseboro's three run homer in the second inning of the game meant a lot to the Dodger cause, giving them the greater part of the winning 5-2 score. (NEA Telephoto).

Koufax Performance Sets Series Record

NEW YORK (AP) — I thought I made quite a few bad pitches I got away with."

With those self-critical words Dodger dandy Sandy Koufax wrapped up one of the most striking World Series performances in the history of the 60-year-old baseball classic.

Koufax hummed his array of fastballs, changes and curves past the New York Yankees in the series opener Wednesday and struck out a record 15 batters en route to a 5-2 Los Angeles victory.

Didn't Feel Good

"To tell the truth," said Koufax after surpassing the 14 strikeouts posted by former Dodger Carl Erskine against the Yankees exactly 10 years before, "I didn't feel as good as I would have liked."

"After batting practice," said Koufax, "I became conscious of the fact this was an important game. I don't know how intense I was but I was trying to do a good job."

After he struck out nine in four innings, "I started to feel tired," Koufax said, "then I lost my rhythm."

Pitching coach Joe Becker said "I told him he was trying to force himself. I noticed his coordination wasn't good in the sixth inning and he was overstriding."

Koufax corrected that.

After strikeouts 13 and 14—Pinch hitter Phil Linz and Bobby Richardson—Tom Tresh tagged the next pitch for a homer and the Yankees' two runs.

Koufax then walked Mickey Mantle and Dodger manager Walter Alton hustled out to the mound. "I told Sandy I didn't want him to pitch too fine to Maris. I said even if Maris hits one out of here, we're not hurt." Maris grounded out.

Aware

"I didn't think about the strikeout record," Koufax said. "But when I came off after the eighth, I saw they had flashed the note on the score board."

World Series Notes

NEW YORK (AP) — Figuring the series:

Roger Maris of the Yankees went hitless in four times at bat in the opener and his World Series average dipped to .184. The veteran outfielder has only 14 hits in 76 tries covering 20 Series games. Maris batted .267 in the 1960 Series, .103 in 1961, the year he hit 61 homers, and .174 in 1962.

With a running time of two hours and nine minutes, Wednesday's was the fastest moving opening game since 1948 when Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves bested Cleveland's Bobby Feller 1-0 in only 1 hour and 42 minutes.

Koufax Digit Almost Lost Last Season!

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Dodger team physicians said today they came within a day or two of having to think seriously about amputating the forefinger of Sandy Koufax' pitching hand last year.

But they said a new drug, or a combination of remedies, saved the finger and Sandy's career—and no doubt made the Dodgers part of the show instead of part of the audience at the 1963 World Series.

Koufax, who beat the Yankees in the series opener Wednesday, was disabled in the middle of the 1962 season by a circulatory disorder in his left forefinger. The flow of blood was reduced to a fraction of normal by constriction of an artery leading to the finger from the palm. At first the finger was so sensitive Koufax couldn't touch anything with it. Then it went dead.

Here's a close look at the regular season records of today's probable pitchers: The Dodgers' Johnny Podres won 14 games, lost 12 with 64 walks, 133 strikeouts, 10 complete games, five shutouts and a 3.55 earned run average. The Yankees' Al Downing had a 13-5 record, 80 walks, 171 strikeouts, 10 complete games, four shutouts and a 2.56 ERA.

Sonny Says Bombings Killed Tour

DENVER (AP) — Smiling and scowling at times, heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston told a news conference Wednesday the pressure of questions about racial disturbances caused him to fly home suddenly from London Sept. 18 at the height of a successful international tour.

"Everything I went," Liston said, "they would ask me over and over, 'What about the Alabama bombing?'"

Liston, a Negro, said he got "real nervous when they'd be asking me about the race problem because I just didn't know how to answer them."

Headache

The champion said he "had a tremendous headache from all the questions and I just decided to come back home. I didn't bother to ask anybody—I just told the people traveling with me, 'My daughter's sick. We're going home.'"

At the time Liston gave that reason to London reporters, it was confirmed in Denver that his daughter, Eleanor, 13, was not ill but was attending school.

Questioned about his statement at the Denver Airport upon his return two weeks ago that he was "ashamed to say I'm in America," Liston said he did not mean that.

He intended to say, Liston said, that "I'm ashamed of the way America's acting" in the racial bombings. Liston said he was tired upon his Denver return and "quite frankly I blew up ... if I hurt anybody's feelings, I'm sorry."

Liston said he will discuss with his adviser, Jack Nilon, in Philadelphia the possibility of resuming the abbreviated exhibition tour that touched Finland, Norway and Sweden before the unexpected ending in London.

Mustangs On The Move On Weekend

MUNISING — Fresh from last week's victory over the Gladstone Braves, the Munising Mustangs will travel to Stephenson to meet the Eagles at 8:30 Friday evening in another Great Lakes Conference game.

Coach Wayne Sickler announced this week that Pat Rousseau, who has been out of action with a shoulder injury since Munising's first game, will join his mates in the backfield for Friday contest.

Seeking their first win in four starts, the Munising JV's will pack their gear and go to Manistowic Friday to meet the Emerald "B" squad. Game time is 8:30 p. m.

Bob Nussbaumer of the Detroit Lion coaching staff, still holds the pass receiving record for the Washington Redskins. He caught 47 passes for 625 yards in 1947.

Argument Over Kick Continues

FLINT (AP) — The controversy over Michigan's longest prep field goal gained momentum today after Flint Holy Redeemer's Rob LaMietle kicked one 50 yards last Sunday in a 29-6 victory over host Bay City St. James.

One "champ" was dethroned and another crowned. It was discovered that Battle Creek Central's Jim Yore, credited Wednesday with a record 58-yard boot about 10 days ago, had kicked only a 38-yarder.

Surpassed

However, LaMietle's long one was surpassed by Cheboygan Catholic's Joe Poirier Nov. 1, 1957, in a 10-0 victory over Alcona.

The ball was reported to have traveled at least 53 yards from the point of the kick to the goal posts.

A re-examination of the records showed that Yore had been given more than he had coming.

Two of the Ivy League's football captains are centers. They are Yale's George Humphrey from Chagrin Falls, Ohio, and Penn's Fred Jaffin from Ambler, Pa.
