Plan Winter Parking Now, Chief Advises

Overnight parking bans and snow tires are hard to remember during this fall's unseasonably warm weather, but Police Chief George G. Johnson warned Marquette drivers today that it's "later than they think."

"This warm weather just can't last forever and we hope Marquette drivers won't be unprepared for the first snowfall," Chief Johnson said.

Overnight parking bans will go into effect on Marquette streets with the first heavy snowfall, Johnson said. He asked drivers to make arrangements now for off-street parking or garage space.

During the winter, parking is banned on city streets between the hours of 1 and 6 a.m.

Winterize Cars

The overnight parking bans are necessary so that the streets can be plowed and the bans will be strictly enforced by the police department, Johnson said.

To avoid unnecessary traffic tie-ups on Marquette's hills during the first snowfall, drivers should put on snow tires now, Johnson said.

He also suggested that drivers have their cars winterized now, to avoid the last-minute rush.

RUSSELL CHREST

City Man Elected To Highest Office By State's Arch Masons

Russell A. Chrest of Marquette today was elected Michigan's 196th grand high priest of the Royal Arch Masons of Michigan at their closing session of the 115th annual convocation, held in Port Huron.

Chrest is the ninth Upper Peninsula Arch Mason to achieve this honor and the third from Marquette. Others from Marquette were Charles D. Blanchard, who served in 1911, and Dr. William H. Vanderstine, who served in 1923. Other U. P. men were from Iron Mountain, Escanaba, Ishpeming, Bessemer and Crystal Falls.

He was the unanimous choice of the 600 delegates representing Michigan's 30,000 Arch Masons, members of the state's 150 active chapters.

Born in Stambaugh, Chrest, 42, is the son of an Armenian immigrant, the late George Chrest, who was a Mason and cosmetologist here and in Iron Mountain, and who served as high priest of commanderies in both cities.

Chrest is a charter member of the Marquette Jaycees and was its vice president before retirement. He is a charter member of the Marquette County Marine Corps League and served as its commander.

He is a past commander of the Marquette Veterans' Council and served as chairman of the Marquette Memorial Day program in 1957, 1958 and 1959. He is the leading knight in the Elks Lodge.

Chrest entered Masonry in 1944, while in Iron Mountain, and received the entered apprentice degree May 9, 1944, the fellowcraft degree Jan. 1, 1945, and the master Mason degree Feb. 13, 1945. He came to Marquette in January 1947 and is the Marquette Lodge's junior deacon.

Chrest was made a mark Mason Jan. 31, 1947, and received the past master degree April 25, 1947, the most excellent degree Dec. 15, 1947 and the Royal Arch degree Feb. 27, 1948. He served as excellent high warden.

Northern Peninsula Leads State In Book Circulation

The Upper Peninsula leads the state in library circulation. The State Library reports public libraries in Lower Michigan circulated 4.6 books per person during fiscal 1961-62. In the same period the U. P. libraries circulated 6.5 books per person. On a per capita basis, the U. P. circulated 28 per cent more books than the rest of the state.

Faster Living Pace

Libraries generally circulate more books per capita in less heavily populated regions than in great urban centers. Detroit Public Library, for example, circulated three books per capita, and the 10 largest public libraries in the state circulated 3.6 books per person, well under the state average. The reason for this difference is probably the faster pace of living in the heavily urbanized area, says Albert Halcli, Escanaba, director of the U. P. branch of the State Library. Higher wages and the concentration of people create a demand for varied forms of recreation and entertainment, which in turn draw people away from the homeliner and more leisurely practice of reading.

"The U. P., however, not only outdistanced the great metropolitan centers, but also led its sister region, the 27 northern counties of Lower Michigan," said Halcli. "This region is similar to our own in population, size and general character. There, too, books circulated at a greater rate than in Southern Michigan. But the rate, 5.6, is still lower than that of our own region. The U. P., then, has a distinct superiority as a region, in the circulation of library books.

County Relief Costs Drop In Month; Surplus Food Provided To 4,162 Persons

Relief costs for Marquette County dropped last month.

Relief expenditures for the county totaled $58,648.91, or $110.62 less than for September a year ago, reports James B. Scanlon, Negaunee, director of the Marquette County Social Welfare Department.

However, direct relief expenses last month totaled $12,494.67, or $646.73 less than for the previous month, and social welfare commitments amounted to $46,154.24, or $2,483.92 under the August figure.

1,194 Families Aided
During the month 327 families on relief and 867 non-relief families, representing 4,162 persons, received surplus food.

Commodities distributed during September were beans, butter, cheese, peanut butter, white flour, dried milk, chopped meat, roiled wheat and lard totaling 53,835 pounds and bearing a total retail value of $16,171.52.

Charges incurred in the surplus commodity program were $238.80 for the outlet stores and $1,180.76 for trucking. However,

Scanlon observed, 30 per cent of the total cost of $1,419.56 will be reimbursed to the county from the state under the 70-30 cost sharing program for direct relief.

Trucking charges include all costs for processing and handling the commodities at the distribution center.

Hospitalization Big Figure
Hospitalization, which constitutes around two-thirds of the social welfare costs, are paid for by the county, and no reimbursement for these expenses is received from the state.

Principal Costs Given
Principal expense items last month were $1,757.70 for food; shelter, $585; nursing, medical, dental, $727.20; hospitalization, $39,939.54; cash aid, $914.40, and miscellaneous, burial and transportation, $6,497.77.

Per capita costs for relief in the county during September ranged from none for Sands Township and lows of 8.9 cents for Chococlay Township and 19.1 cents for Negaunee Township to highs of $7.03 for Wells Township and $5.07 for Turin Township.

The cities' per capita costs for the month were Negaunee, $1.12; Ishpeming, 90.5 cents, and Marquette, 84.5 cents.

There were 15 residents in the County Citizens Home here during the month. Cost of the upkeep of the institution for the month was $2,521.31.

The September case load was 263, or 15 under a year ago and 48 less than the year's monthly average, which is running eight under the 1962 monthly average.

2 Injured, 2 Ticketed In Collisions

Two persons were injured, two motorists were issued summonses and three automobiles were damaged in a pair of area traffic accidents reported this morning by state police from the Marquette post.

At 10 last night a car being driven north on County Road 541 by Edward Thompson, 22, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, went out of control and traveled off the left side of the highway on a left curve.

Thompson's car rolled over, going down an embankment, about a tenth of a mile west of U. S. 41, in Skandia Township.

Thompson suffered abrasions on the left side of his forehead and a passenger, Johnny Lake, 21, also of Sawyer, sustained a bruised left knee. They were taken to the Sawyer Base Hospital in the state police patrol car.

Extensive damage resulted to both sides and the top of Thompson's automobile, a 1960 sedan, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

Driving Too Fast
State police ticketed Thompson for violation of the basic speed law — driving too fast for conditions.

An automobile being driven west on U.S. 41 by Michael Bodenus, 21, of 828 High St., Marquette, smashed into a car operated by Calvin Kuhn, 26, Sawyer Base, about 75 feet east of County Road 541, in Marquette Township, at 1:25 yesterday afternoon.

Speed Law Violation
State police said Kuhn, going about 10 miles an hour, said he signalled for a left turn and moved into the left lane. Bodenus said he didn't see Kuhn signalling.
The right front of Bodenus' 1962 station wagon and the left rear of Kuhn's 1956 coach were damaged. Both cars were driven from the scene under their own power.
State police gave Bodenus a ticket for a speed law violation.

Development Bureau Had Vital U.P. Role Five Decades

For the nearly half century it was in existence, the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau played a vital part in the economy of this region along varied lines, and became a nationally known institution. It finally ceased to function in 1959, shortly after which the Upper Michigan Tourist Association was formed to carry on this phase of the work.

The earlier objective was "to advertise to the world the advantages of our territory both agriculturally and industrially," and it wasn't until after World War I that much attention was paid to summer visitors.

Then as roads got better and the state purchased its first auto ferry, the number increased rapidly. Previously the railroads and passenger steamers had done their own advertising.

Cloverland Magazine

Roger M. Andrews, publisher of the Menominee Herald Leader, in the early 1900s had seen the need for a publication of some kind to attract settlers by telling them of the splendid opportunities in all of the 15 counties, one of the reasons he started the Cloverland Magazine in 1905.

Its success soon led him to promote the idea of an agency to further this work. First attempt was made in 1908 when he sent letters to newspaper editors and numerous prominent citizens in the Peninsula, outlining such a plan.

Nothing was done about it until February 1911, when another appeal by Andrews, aided by several enthusiastic boosters, including George McCormick, also of Menominee; Thornton A. Green, Ontonagon; and Alton T. Roberts, Marquette, brought action, with the result that at a two-day session in Menominee, attended by over 300, and with all counties represented, the bureau was formally organized, "to better administer to the economy of our people."

By that fall, considerable had been accomplished, and at the annual meeting in 1912 it was reported there were 2,500 members signed up, contributions had come in well, and $25,000 had been collected, a soil survey map, and booklets entitled, "Seven Million Fertile Acres," and "Cloverland," describing the possibilities for successful agriculture in each county, were printed and thousands distributed, particularly at the Chicago Land Show, where a U.P. booth was maintained for three weeks. Theodore Quinby was hired as secretary.

Tourist Volume Rose

In the earlier annual reports the word "tourist" was not even mentioned, but John A. Doelle, secretary-manager from 1918 to 1921, said by the time he left to become state commissioner of agriculture, the influx of visitors had "daily become a matter of wonder and comment to the residents," and this angle was being stressed.

He also announced that the Development Bureau would become the Upper Peninsula office of the State Department of Agriculture, and as such would receive $8,000 for its maintenance.

George Bishop's Regime
George E. Bishop of Marquette took over then and worked tirelessly for the betterment of the Peninsula up to the day of his retirement in 1937, bringing national recognition to the organization.

After his first year he said that more attention was being given to the tourist traffic than any other of the bureau's activities, and he noted a 100 per cent increase. The state purchased its first auto ferry in 1923, and then the big rush was on.

The bureau weathered a number of periods of financial troubles, but continued to print and distribute countless thousands of booklets, over the years, among them fishing and golfing guides, highway information and maps, the Development Bureau News, and finally the fancy Lure Book.

Winter sports also were emphasized with a winter Lure Book, pamphlets and sponsorship of a sports association continued, and, of course, booths at numerous travel shows in Chicago and Detroit were always maintained.

Becomes 'Hiawathaland'
The name "Cloverland" was dropped in 1927 in favor of "Hiawathaland," as it was felt that this sounded too agricultural and did not describe adequately enough the recreational advantages of the Peninsula.

Outlining the bureau's accomplishments up to 1950 in a booklet, Bishop listed a number of facts of its past history such as that it was one of the oldest non-profit, area serving organizations in the United States, and had by no means neglected agriculture and industry in its widespread activities.

This will be the topic of the regular Marquette County Historical Society program over WDMJ, The Mining Journal radio station, tomorrow at 12:30 p. m.

Jaycees Meeting On Orientation Slated Monday

Marquette Jaycees will hold an orientation meeting for young men interested in joining the organization at their regular meeting at 8 Monday evening in the Marquette Chamber of Commerce building.

The session will include a business program and a talk on the purpose of the Jaycees. An informal discussion will follow the meeting, with a question and answer period slated. Those interested in submitting membership applications may do so at the meeting, Jaycee officers said.

Sportsman's Bar held first place for the third consecutive week in Marquette Independent Cribbage League play, with a 27 point total.

High game, Belmore and Winslow of Remillard's, 1209. Meyers and Meyers of Park, low game, 1052.

Schedule: Sportsman's at Ant-Blatz and Casino at Schlitz.

The cost of implementing the state ski safety law is borne by charges to individual operators. They pay $2 per application to operate rope tow facilities, $5 for T-bar and $15 for chair lifts. Inspection of the facilities range in cost from $8 for rope tow installations to $25 for T-bars and $30 for chair lifts.

Bocks, manager of Caberfae Ski Area here, says application and inspection costs would total approximately $600 at Caberfae.

KC-135 Crew From Sawyer Had Role In Record Flight

A KC-135 Stratotanker flown by a crew from the 46th Air Refueling Squadron at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base played an important part in the recent international speed record set by a B-58 Hustler of the Strategic Air Command.

Crew J-16, commanded by Maj. James S. Barrie, provided the fourth refueling of the fast-moving aircraft near Keflavik, Iceland. Five KC-135s of the command refueled the Hustler on its record-breaking journey at supersonic speeds.

The B-58, the newest manned weapons system in the SAC inventory, streaked 8,028 miles from Tokyo to London in an elapsed time of eight hours, 35 minutes.

938 MPH Average
The aircraft, assigned to the 305th Bombardment Wing, Bunker Hill AFB, Ind., flew an average of 938 miles an hour in setting the international mark formerly held by an English aircraft. The former mark, set in 1957, stood at 17 hours 42 minutes at an average speed of 335.7 miles an hour.

Other members of Major Barrie's crew taking part in the air refueling were Capt. Albert R. Trautmann, co-pilot; Capt. Conrad L. Guevara, navigator; and TSgt. Wilbur R. Holmes, boom operator. The 46th Air Refueling Squadron, of which the men are members, is assigned to the 410th Bombardment Wing here.

Historic Event

Lt. Gen. David Wade, commander of Second Air Force, parent unit of the 305th Bombardment Wing as well as the 410th Bomb Wing, said "the record breaking flight from Tokyo to London is another first for Second Air Force."

"This history making event was a team effort requiring the highest standards and professional skill of many officers and airmen. All of Second Air Force is proud and joins me in extending our heartfelt congratulations to the crew and personnel who supported this significant achievement," he added.

Also refueling the B-58 were crews from the SAC units at Kinchloe AFB, Sault Ste. Marie, and Wurtsmith AFB, Osoda.

Soil Inventory, Conference Reports Given At SCS Meet

Reports on soil inventory data and on the regional conference on land and people were made at the Marquette County Soil Conservation District meeting held in the Federal Building here this week.

Thaddeus (Ted) Piwowar, Marquette, work unit conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, reported on the regional meet.

A new Soil Conservation District co-operator was approved. Directors present were Harold Sarrikko and Arvo Johnson, Ewing Township; Lawrence C. Ewing, Chocoley Township, and Paul Van Damme of Watson. Also present was Melvin N. Nyquist, Marquette County extension director for Michigan State University.

The new district co-operator approved is Elsie Wilson, who had approved 40 acres in Michi-game Township for membership as a co-operator. Report on Conference

Piwowar reported the conference, held in Duluth, sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture was attended by 1,500.

High enthusiasm, alert responses, and active participation were sincere testimonials to the importance of the conference, an importance underscored by the attendance of President Kennedy, Piwowar said.

He reported that the conference goal was to develop a coordinated plan of action, shaped and implemented by local leaders, tailored to regional needs, desires, and capabilities to usher in a new era of prosperity for the people of the Northern Great Lakes Region.

The soil inventory was prepared by Robert Johnson, Marquette, soil scientist, and Piwowar, in cooperation with the district, at the request of the Marquette Area Planning Commission.

The commission is currently preparing a comprehensive master development plan for the City of Marquette and Marquette and Chocoley Townships.

"Purpose of the report is to present basic data regarding soil and land conditions which can be used as a general planning tool in guiding future land development," Piwowar said.

Although not scheduled or financed under Section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954, as are other planning studies for the Marquette area, the report is a valuable basic data resource, he said.

It became apparent, as work on the area plan progressed, that a soil study would be an invaluable source of data. A cooperative venture to catalog this information was undertaken resulting in the publication of the report.

In order to best integrate the data with other planning studies now being prepared, the soil inventory was published by the planning consultants — Vilcan, Leman & Associates, Inc., Southfield.

Nearly Half Of New Tech Students At Top Of Class

HOUGHTON — Almost half of Michigan Tech's 805 new students enrolled this fall were in the top 20 per cent of their high school graduating classes, according to Tech's freshman class profile of 1963.

Specifically, 23 per cent were in the top tenth of their graduating classes, 23.6 per cent in the second tenth and another 20.5 per cent in the third tenth. Only 8.4 per cent of all new students, including transfers, ranked below the half-way mark in their high school classes.

The Freshman Profile, a Michigan Tech brochure, is a statistical picture of the new student group accepted by Tech for the 1963-64 academic year. It is intended primarily for the use of secondary school counselors in advising future candidates for admission to the College.

No Entrance Exams

Since Tech requires no entrance exams, the registrar's office works closely with high school counselors and administrators in the selection of applicants. These references are valuable, says Registrar T. C. Sermon, in evaluating such important qualities as motivation, sense of purpose and intellectual curiosity.

For the 1963-64 year, Sermon's staff processed 1,749 applications for admittance. Of these, 805 were enrolled.

Electrical Field Popular

Most popular field with Tech's 1963 crop of new students is electrical engineering, with an enrollment of 153. This was followed by mechanical engineering, 143, and civil engineering, 100.

Other fields: chemical engineering, 69; forestry, 57; business and engineering administration, 49; mathematics, 34; metallurgical engineering, 33; chemistry, 20; geology, 14; med-

Tests Show Otherwise

It's long been thought, they said, that alcohol helped the heart by dilating coronary arteries which bring blood to the heart muscle tissue itself. This expansion of arteries is thought to increase the flow of blood to a damaged heart.

But the tests with dogs do not bear this out, they said. When the animals were given alcohol, their hearts pumped out more blood by working harder. At the same time, the flow of blood through the coronary arteries decreased. This meant the heart muscle was receiving less oxygen while it was doing more work.

Varying Amounts

Some dogs were given the equivalent of a cocktail in alcoholic content — an amount a man could consume and still not have more alcohol in his bloodstream than is legal for driving a car.

Other dogs received enough alcohol to make a man dead drunk.

The coronary blood flow decreased almost directly in proportion to the amount of alcohol, Drs. Degerli and Webb said.

Lesson From New Hampshire

Handcrafting has been recommended to the Upper Peninsula many times, and the area has developed a respectable number of quality handcraft shops over the years, but the business has never really caught fire here.

It is such a complement of the tourist business and it seems such a "natural" to employ some of our artistic unemployed, and particularly underemployed and retirees, that the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems (UPCAP) has studied its problems. Robert Nathan Associates, assigned by the Area Redevelopment Administration to UPCAP as a technical assistance service, sponsored a recent visit to the League of New Hampshire Arts and Crafts Fair at Wolfeboro, N. H., by Mrs. Ruth M. Scherer, Sault Ste. Marie weaver, and Joseph Revis, Nathan Associates economist. They went to see what New Hampshire, a leader in handcrafting, had to offer the Upper Peninsula in handcraft business development.

Their judgment: It has a lot. The handcrafters of New Hampshire make the kind of handcrafts that are made in the Upper Peninsula. Mr. Revis was surprised that in an area that produces much wood, there weren't more wood products at Wolfeboro. The products included the familiar ceramics, silverware, rugs, furniture, weaving, etc. Mr. Revis thought the use of native stones in jewelry there was less sophisticated than the best of the Upper Peninsula's production in this field.

In 1932 New Hampshire craftsmen sold $8,000 worth of handcrafts. Last year they sold more than $200,000 worth. How they did it should interest U. P. craftsmen, who have already launched an action program to organize a crafts fair to stimulate sales and to develop a systematic marketing organization.

Craftsmen don't like to have their products "juried" (judged by a jury of other craftsmen), but a jurying system has been at the heart of New Hampshire's handcraft improvement. There jurying is on a local basis for local sale and on a state basis for state sale, and there is provisional approval which permits sale of an approved product and full acceptance, which means that a craftsman's line is approved for sale.

New Hampshire has been so successful with its process of upgrading its craftsmen and their products that it has lost some of its best artisans to other areas. What the program has meant to the state can be judged from the involvement of about 800 persons in it, as craftsmen and as salesmen. Most of the products are made at home, many in isolated areas. Free classes of instruction in making handcrafts helped develop the skills and the business which Mrs. Sherer and Mr. Revis saw.

Our Upper Peninsula craftsmen have been organized for several years in the U. P. Crafts Council, which promotes an annual exhibit. The next one will be held next spring at Northern Michigan University here. Under the stimulation of new officers, UPCAP support and increasing general interest, the Crafts Council can be expected to have a big new impact on the stocks of the Upper Peninsula's gift shops. The council has more than 50 members now, more than half of them craftsmen, and Peninsula exports should soon include more beaten copper bowls, wood whatnots, agate rings, fine pottery and curios.

Madame Nhu Coverage

Dear Sir:

Who decides what makes front page news? I was amazed to see that your paper carried long write-ups complete with pictures of Madame Nhu, describing in great detail what she wore, what inane remarks she made on many silly subjects; yet when a real news item appeared on our country's dealings with her, you hid it in an obscure spot on Page 4. I think your readers should have been much more interested in knowing that our government cut off aid to the troops that were raiding against the Buddhists than in pictures of personalities.

Babe Ruth League

Dear Sir:

The Marquette Babe Ruth League wishes to take this opportunity to extend belated but heartfelt gratitude to all the people who backed our efforts during the 1963 season. We feel this season was a success, not only because of the fine boys participating, but because of the generous response from our sponsors, parents and fans. Also, in particular, we want to thank The Mining Journal for the publicity so readily given our activities and games.

Good fun was enjoyed by all, and a great deal of work was accomplished, and not least of all, our Babe Ruth all-star team won the Upper Peninsula championship for the first time. Thanks to the generosity of the above-mentioned parties, we were able to send this team to the state tournaments in Port Huron, where they proved they were not only true champions, but gentlemen of the first quality. Marquette can be truly proud of these boys. They represented our city well.

Our activities are not completely over. One more important piece of business remains. Our officers are working hard to have a memorable awards dinner Sunday. We hope these 12, 14 and 15-year-old boys will remember 1963 with a warm feeling, because the adults who were fortunate to be a part of it want to thank all 90 of them for a summer we won't soon forget.

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — No one should bet his shirt on how anything will come out in South Korea, but at the moment the national election is a victory of sorts for United States policy despite the fact it was won by the military strongman, Chung Hee Park.

Uncle Sam had been pressuring Park for months to call the election to restore civilian rule in place of Park's military dictatorship, and the fact it was held at all is on the credit side. Moreover, experts on the scene agreed that the voting was the freest and most peaceable in all the 15-year history of the Korean Republic, which practically calls for bonfires and champagne toasts.

It is tempting, also, to find encouragement in the fact that Park got no mandate, polling only 45 per cent of the votes against former President Yun Po-sun and three candidates of minor parties. Since it is almost certain Park and his plug-uglies stole more than a few votes, his margin should cause the general to think twice before shooting all his opponents on sight. Koreans are a volatile lot politically, and with 55 per cent of the voters unhappy with the election result Park will have to live with fear of the same kind of coup by which he gained power in 1961.

Progressive, But—
Park does have possibilities. When he took over he initiated a five-year plan for industrial development, sought to improve relations with Japan and pardoned a passel of the nearly 30,000 political prisoners arrested when the junta seized power. He has shown an appreciation of Korea's economic troubles and he has tried to relieve the lot of the average citizen.

But Park reacts like most generals when the pressure is on. He has tampered with the press and at one time banned all political activity. When he scheduled the election he immediately went to work to rig the show, retiring from the Army a few weeks before the voting so he could run for president as a civilian. Twice he jailed his chief critic, the retired general, war hero and former premier Song Yo Yang, who took the hint and retired from the presidential race.

On election eve Park also announced a political maneuver that affected adversely the American taxpayer's pocket book. He told the voters he had bought $8.3 million worth of Canadian and Australian grain to ease a "food shortage." Aside from the fact the shortage was mythical — Uncle Sam recently had given Korea 1.1 million tons of grain and there had been a bumper rice crop — Park had spent dollars provided by the U. S. to bolster Korea's dwindling foreign exchange reserve. With Korea costing the U. S. $80 million a year, this made no hit at the State Department.

U. S. Hand On Brake
So it will behoove State to keep a watchful eye on the ineffectual Gen. Park, a man who likes to show his independence of American aid. There probably will be considerable turmoil during the next few weeks preceding the National Assembly elections next month, and Park can be expected to pull out all the political stops in an attempt to pack the Assembly.

But Uncle Sam has the necessary weapon to keep Park in line—if he will be ungentlemanly enough to use it. This, of course, is our aid program, without which no Korean president, or dictator, could stay in power. Our attitude has stiffened in recent months as to whether use of such a weapon is sporting, and it may be that Park has gotten the point. If he has not, our diplomats should make it again—this time by ringing the grave train to a screeching halt.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — You get a frantic phone call at the office from your extra frantic wife, who says, "Well, they just got Orval."

In addition to anger and concern, you are filled with curiosity. The methods "they" might use for getting Orval are important because you have never been able to get him yourself. "How did they get him?" I asked.

"They shot him. He has three bullet holes in his side," called Sheriff.

You are enraged. You call the sheriff and get him on the way to extract three bullets from the side of a brown and tan, sway-backed, cross-eyed, lop-eared, bow-legged dog who should have happened to someone else.

It turned out Orval hadn't been shot. The vet said he had been in an argument with another dog. Seventeen stitches put him back together and he ran his repair bill past $50.

Two weeks earlier he had caught a Volkswagen. After stitching, he appeared to have been cut in half and put back together, and he still looks that way.

Bolivia Making Progress

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — America is still the melting pot. Anybody can come here — bad, indifferent or good — speak a piece of his mind, get an audience, get away with it.

This has been proved again by the American visits of President Josip Broz Tito of Yugoslavia, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu of Viet Nam and now President Victor Paz Estenssoro of Bolivia. Picketed On Washington Visits

Tito and Mme. Nhu have made enemies in the United States. Both were therefore picketed on their Washington visits and inhospitable things were said about them. But this is a country of full freedom of speech — both ways.

Tito got invited to the White House. He was restrained, polite, grateful. Mme. Nhu — who didn't get invited to the White House — was voluble, charming, contradictory, honest in some of her criticisms of America, unjust in others.

But for the fact that Mme. Nhu's husband in Viet Nam was taking actions against the Buddhists which belied his wife's honeyed words in America, she might have been invited to the White House, too. This could have been in the spirit of mutual apology and forgiveness, to get on with winning the war.

That is what's really important — fighting the Communists — not indulging in personalities and mud slinging.

So with these unpleasant incidents out of the way, there is a change in pattern with the official White House visit of Paz, who brings only friendship, good news and a more hopeful outlook on Commie fighting.

Egghed Professor of Economics

Dr. Paz is an egghed professor of economics, a lawyer, and founder of the National Revolutionary Movement of Bolivia in 1941. He was exiled from his country from 1946 to 1952, when he returned to become its president after a real political, social and economic revolution that overthrew the old feudal autocracy in the poorhouse of the Andes.

Paz ruled four years without a congress and by decree nationalized the tin mines, gave suffrage to a population of four million — two-thirds illiterate and three-fourths Indian — instituted land reform, diversified the economy.

He encouraged organization of labor unions. At first they were dominated by Communists, and there is still a Communist leadership in some of the unions.

But Communist membership has dwindled, and the claim is now made that Castro efforts to infiltrate the labor movement have failed. For the Bolivian economy, after 10 years, is beginning to grow.

Indians Descending To Valleys

The army of 10,000 men has been put to work a third of the time as a kind of Corps of Engineers or Peace Corps. They help the campesinos — the country people — with the digging of wells and building schools and access roads into the jungles.

The Indians who have lived in the 10,000 to 15,000-foot Andean highlands are beginning to come down into the valleys to become farmers and ranchers.

Bolivia hopes to be self-sufficient in food in the foreseeable future.

With cooperation from West Germany, the Inter-American Bank and the Alliance for Progress, a consortium has been formed to help finance this development.

Not Over The Mountain Yet

The alliance doesn't like talk about "showcase" countries that demonstrate how American aid can help underdeveloped countries. But Bolivia today is said to come as close to that designation as any other.

It is not over the mountain yet. But it is one Latin American country which does not seem to be in a great danger of a take-over by either the Communists or a military junta.

After his first term as president, Dr. Paz was out of office for four years. He was elected again in 1960.

The story he tells in the United States now is considered good news from an area where most of the news lately has been bad. And it takes away the bad taste left by Tito and Mme. Nhu.

Nothing Fails Like Success

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

For the last few years the leaders of organized labor have had thrown up to them more and more evidence that the labor movement as such is not advancing at pace with a growing nation.

Overall union membership is relatively static. Automation's inroads into such fields as steel and coal have sharply cut the strength of once great unions. Labor's organizing efforts have not taken big hold in the expanding service trades and other white collar fields.

Candid Self-Examination

But this, it would seem, is only part of the story. Recently some key members of the United Auto Workers undertook some candid self-examination in a discussion joined in by representatives of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

Some fairly stunning comment on the trend among unions emerged from that conversation, now reported in print by the center.

Since the end of World War II, it was stressed, unions have been winning fewer and fewer elections as plant bargaining agents.

In case after countless case, local union memberships in dispute over wages and working conditions have refused to accept international union leaders' recommendations on specifics — or on whether or not to tangle with a company.

Some fairly stunning comment on the trend among unions emerged from that conversation, now reported in print by the center.

Since the end of World War II, it was stressed, unions have been winning fewer and fewer elections as plant bargaining agents.

FRESH AND PURE

Appleton is the second large city in the Fox River valley to decide that its future water needs can best be met by tapping Lake Michigan. Green Bay recently completed a pipe line to the lake.

Appleton's pipe line, to cost in the neighborhood of 18 million dollars, will be somewhat longer than Green Bay's, since Appleton is about 10 miles farther from Lake Michigan than is Green Bay.

As populations continue to expand and pollution problems multiply, more and more Wisconsin cities will take advantage of almost limitless supply of pure, fresh water along the state's eastern border.

Millions of people in the west and southwest — California, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Texas — would pay fantastic prices for the water resources with which we are blessed, and which we take so much for granted. — (Milwaukee Sentinel.)

All clothes should be clean and in usable condition and should be packed in boxes and tied securely and labeled for Lutheran World Relief.

Other Protestant churches are invited to take part in this drive. The Lutheran World Relief clothing boxcar will be located at the Champion Soo Line depot, and the loading date is Wednesday, Nov. 6, between 9 a.m. and noon.

$100 Bond Forfeited In Driving Case

NEGAUNEE — Bond of $100 posted by Clifford Ristimaa of Marquette following his arrest by city police on a drunk driving charge was ordered forfeited by Judge William Haupt yesterday after Ristimaa failed to appear for his trial in municipal court.

Ristimaa at the time of his arraignment had entered a plea of innocent and was released to await trial after posting bond of $100 set by Judge Haupt.

Other Cases James Knight of Negaunee, who was arrested by local officers for driving during a period in which his operator's license was revoked, entered a guilty plea. He was ordered to pay a $25 fine, plus $5.10 costs, and was sentenced to serve two days in the county jail, which is mandatory for the offense.

Four other drivers ticketed by officers for violations of the state motor vehicle code also entered guilty pleas. Fines and costs amounting to $8.70 apiece were paid by Russell Carrier of Champion for passing on a yellow line, Harold Brumm of K. I. Sawyer Air Base for exceeding the speed limit, Robert Wolf and Vincent Romano, both of Marquette, for ignoring stop signs.

Guilty pleas were entered by two drivers ticketed by state police. Amella Bennett of Negaunee, charged with speeding, and Charles Dunne of Negaunee, who was arrested for driving on the wrong side of the road, each paid a $5 fine and $3.70 court costs.

Jim Branch works in our local bank. I've known him for years. We went to school together. But I never felt I could come right out and ask him why he never goes to church. One night when we both happened to get into a confidential frame of mind, the words came easier.

He told me that — of all things — it was because he hated this business of passing the plate for money. He said he saw enough money at the bank all week without seeing it worshipped on Sunday too.

I admit this shocked me. That's why I told him, frankly, that I thought he'd completely missed the point. I told him our minister once said that it gives him a good feeling when he receives the collection; not because this is money but because the people are giving the fruit of their own efforts to God. In the old days, it might have been a sheep, or the choicest fruits and vegetables from the harvest. Today, it's dollars and cents. But the motive is still the same, and it's a good motive.

I saw Jim at the morning service a couple of weeks ago, and something tells me that it won't be long before he'll be getting the point... not missing it!

Giants, Colts At Crucial Point In Pro Loop Season

(By the Associated Press) The Buffalo Bills have to be the tough luck club of pro football this season.

Going into tonight's home game with the Boston Patriots, the Bills already have lost seven men for the season. The latest was Roger Kochman, former Penn State halfback, who never will play football again after suffering a knee separation.

The list of Buffalo's maimed and wounded will see no more service this year. Includes halfbacks Wray Carlton, Fred Brown and Kochman, defensive backs Billy Atkins and Jim Johnson, linebacker Jim Moss and tackle Dick Hudson.

Boston Tied For Lead

The Bills, picked by many to win the Eastern Division of the American Football League, take a disappointing 24-1 record into the game with Boston. The Pats were shaken early by injuries to quarterback Babe Parilli but have moved into a tie for the division lead with a 4-3 record with Parilli back in action.

New York's Jets, losers of two straight on the road after an auspicious start, face the battered Denver Broncos at the Polo Grounds in the other Saturday night pro game. The Jets are favored.

Seven games in the National Football League and two more in the AFL will complete the pro schedule Sunday.

Giants, Colts Need Wins

Both the New York Giants and Baltimore Colts approach the do-or-die point. The Giants must win at Cleveland to stay alive in the Eastern Conference. A defeat would drop them three full games back of the unbeaten Browns. Baltimore also must beat Green Bay to stay in the race in the Western Conference where the Packers and Chicago

Yanks Trail In Cup Play

PARIS (AP) — Retief Waltman, a little known South African golfer, shrugged off talk that Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer still would take the Canada Cup trophy and said: "No matter how well the Americans are playing, I'm sure we can take them."

Waltman, a 25-year-old former mounted policeman, and Gary Player led the team standings at the end of the second with a total of 27.

Nicklaus and Palmer are in a three-way tie for second place with a 27. Canadian Stan Leonard and Al Balding and Spaniards Sebastian Miguel and Ramon Sota also have 27 totals.

Players from 3 countries play one more round today and another Sunday to decide the team and individual competitions.

Player and Balding are in a tie for the individual prize with a two-round total of 138. They are followed by Miguel, Sota, Palmer, Nicklaus and Waltman at 139.

Waltman joined with Player for this tournament after threatening to quit big-time golf three or four times because he thought he would never hit the big time.

Bears share the lead at 5-1.

Philadelphia limps into Chicago to meet the Bears, still smarting after that upset in San Francisco. Charlie Johnson of St. Louis and Norm Sneed of Washington will be the opposing pitchers at Washington where everybody scores. Carter 'Won,' But Archer Gets Middleweight Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — It was like old times at the Garden—no television, a good-sized crowd, noisy fans, a controversial split decision, and a blast from the loser.

Joey Archer, the handsome pride of the Bronx, used a snapping left jab and fast feet to gain an upset, 2-1 verdict from the officials over aggressive, harder-hitting Rubin Carter of Paterson, N.J., in a lively 10-round Friday night.

Writers Favor Carter

Boxing writers polled at the ringside had it 9-5 in favor of Carter, the 2-1 betting choice.

The first non-TV show since colorful Cassius Clay packed the house seven months ago drew 8,592 customers and $36,417.

Clay and Doug Jones lured a capacity crowd of 18,732 and $104,943.

With the victory over the fighter who had been ranked as the No. 1 middleweight contender by the World Boxing Association, Archer said "I'm going to see the boxing commission Mon-

Koufax Winner Of Young Award

BOSTON (AP) — To the surprise of no one in baseball, Sandy Koufax won the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the major leagues.

And just as his team, the Los Angeles Dodgers, swept the World Series from the New York Yankees in four straight games so, too, did the stylish southpaw sweep the voting by the designated committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

It was Koufax No. 1 on all the 20 ballots cast, the first unanimous choice since Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick established the award eight years ago.

KAWOLICS NAMED COACH

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Eddie Kawolics, 55, has been named coach of the United States team for the world bowling tournament to be held in Mexico City, Nov. 3-10.

Kawolics, a veteran of 31 American Bowling Congress tournaments, is ineligible to compete, however, because he is a professional bowler.

Ex-Texas Griddler To Fill Schmidt's Linebacking Spot

DETROIT (AP) — Pressed for linebackers because of an injury to team captain Joe Schmidt, the Detroit Lions football club Friday picked up Monte Lee on waivers.

Lee, a 6-foot-4, 220-pounder, played with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1961. Later that year he became the property of St. Louis Cardinals. Lee served a stint in the Army and was released two weeks ago.

The Cardinals put the 25-year-old former University of Texas player on the waiver list this week. The Lions were the only National Football League team to claim him.

Schmidt, a bulwark of the Lions' defense, dislocated his left shoulder in last Sunday's game with Baltimore. He is expected to be sidelined at least two or three weeks.

Mantle To Stay In N. Y. Hospital During Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — Yankee center fielder Mickey Mantle will remain hospitalized over the weekend in his recovery from surgery on his left knee.

"I had hoped to leave this morning," Mantle said Friday, "but when I got up and walked around on it a little, it was pretty sore. So I'll hang around here a couple more days and let it get stronger."

The $100,000-a-year outfielder was operated on Oct. 18 for damaged ligaments in his knee. He suffered the injury at the same time he broke his left foot after running into the left center fence at Baltimore in June.

Ice Machines Blow Fuses; No Ski Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A ski jumping contest on an iced-incline in Dodger Stadium was postponed Friday night. The reason: insufficient ice.

Three of four ice-making machines blew fuses, and the fourth wasn't up to the job of icing the entire 165-foot ski run.

Three thousand fans got rain-check tickets for shows scheduled Saturday and Sunday.

Gene Shue Back In Knick Lineup

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Shue, who played 1,712 points during the 1959-60 season set a National Basketball Association scoring record for guards, signed Friday for another year with the New York Knicks.

Shue, 32, a nine-year veteran in the NBA, announced his retirement last spring after playing one season with the Knicks. He was playing for the Detroit Pistons when he set his scoring record. A Detroit-New York trade in the summer of 1962 sent Shue to the Knicks in exchange for Darral Imhoff and cash.

Five-Year Stay At MSU Assured Duffy Daugherty

EAST LANSING (AP) — A statement unanimously approved by Michigan State University's trustees proclaimed that "for the next five years at least, Duffy Daugherty will be head football coach."

The statement was addressed to "all concerned" and was issued at a trustees' meeting jointly by MSU President John Hannah, Athletic Director Clarence Munn and Athletic Council Chairman John Fuzak.

The vote of confidence apparently was in answer to rumors that Daugherty was being sounded out by other universities hoping to sign him as coach.

One Baraga Griddler On C-C Eleven

L'ANSE — Only one Baraga County player, Baraga High School senior Pat Kamarainen, was picked for a berth on the Copper Country Conference's 1963 all-star team.

Kamarainen, 5-foot-11 and 190 pounds, tied with two others, Ontonagon's Jim Londo and Houghton's John Kelly, for a guard spot.

The remainder of the team was comprised of Don Stipech, Houghton; Jim Parker, Hancock; and Larry Makima, Ontonagon, ends (tie); Don Spear, Hancock; and Lee Biekola, Houghton, tackles; Tom Landress, Ontonagon, center; John Fryxell and John Juntikka, Houghton; Roy Corbell, Ontonagon; and Burt Seligmann, Hancock, backs.

Gaining spots on the second team were Adrian Jenoff, L'Anse au Loup, and John Mansfield, Baraga, back. Among those receiving honorable mention were Brian Alatalo and Larry Kangas, Baraga; Ray McDonald, Dave Marion and Mike Brogan, L'Anse.

Other league results: Vega Major — Ken Sager 234 game, Don Manning 628 match; Porky's Playboys 952 game and 2,706 match.

USC Example Of Why Best Teams Need Football Breaks

By HARRY GRAYSON, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Southern California this season graphically illustrates that even the best football teams need the breaks to go through a season unbeaten.

There is so little time. While the time of games is 60 minutes, stopwatches have proven that the ball actually is in play no more than 17 or 18 minutes. A college team plays no more than 10 games. The strongest baseball team should win, playing a 162-game schedule, but in college football things have to be put together again in a hurry when something goes wrong.

Before the Southern California game, Woody Hayes, the irrepressible Ohio State coach, said he didn't see how anybody could beat the Trojans. This is how practically everybody felt before the Trojans settled down to beat a Colorado team of which little was expected. Next everybody was amazed when the Oklahoma Sooners controlled the ball long enough to edge Southern California. Troy bounced back somewhat to shade Michigan State.

Johnny McKay, the harassed head man, threatened to bench widely publicized USC stars when Notre Dame ripped the cloak of invincibility into shreds, outscrambling his all-conquering tigers of 1962.

That did it. Southern California lived up to advance notices and then some by rubbing Ohio State from the ranks of the unbeaten with a 407-yard offensive. A lot of close observers considered this one of Woody Hayes' quicker varieties, but never in the coach's 13 years in Columbus have the Buckeyes managed so little offense and given up so much defensively.

Old Ohio State people returned from Los Angeles calling this Southern California array the finest they have seen since the late Michigan teams which won 19 straight in 1947-48. Roger Staubach of Navy, they insisted, couldn't be any better than Pete Beathard running left and throwing right among numerous other things.

When Notre Dame dealt Southern California its second reverse with a field goal in the final minutes, a Los Angeles radio announcer suggested that Hal Besole, the 6-5, 221-pound all-American end, visit a psychiatrist. Someone else said he should have his eyes examined.

Besole dropped Beathard passes in the end zone, you see, that would have beaten Oklahoma and Notre Dame. Had he caught them, the Southern California record would have been 5 and 0 after the smashing victory over Ohio State and people would be calling the Trojans a wonder team again.

Hal Besole caught key passes against Ohio State and everybody forgot about the Trojans reading their press clippings, which they were richly entitled to do.

WINS A FOURTH TIME

LIDO BEACH, N.Y. (AP) — Doug Ford, former Masters and PGA champion, has won the Metropolitan Golfers' Association title for the fourth time. He did it with rounds of 67, 72, 74, 77 and beat Steve Deeter and Buck Adams by seven strokes. First prize was $1,000.

'House Of David' Park May Become Auto Graveyard

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — The baseball park where the "Bearded Babe Ruth" and his bearded teammates once drew overflow crowds may soon become a graveyard for automobiles.

The park belongs to the House of David, a religious cult which was started in 1906 and once had 1,500 members. It now has less than 100.

And the once-famous House of David semi-professional baseball team halted operations in the city 1950s.

The squad, which ran up huge winning records against the best professional and semi-pro teams in the 1920s and 1930s, was led by player-manager Doc Tally — "The Bearded Babe Ruth."

From 1920 until World War II started in 1941, the team played 150 to 185 games a year, traveling more than 30,000 miles each year and becoming one of the best known semi-pro teams in the country.

The team also toured Mexico, Hawaii, Canada, Puerto Rico, and Cuba, besides playing in every state at least 12 times.

Tally pitched more than 400 games during his 29-season career and never lost more than seven games a season.

Illini Drive 62 Yards In 4th Period To Beat UCLA, 18-12

(By the Associated Press)

The college football season hits the halfway mark this weekend with Texas, Wisconsin and Pitt, the nation's 1-2-3 teams, meeting Rice, Ohio State and Navy.

Illinois, No. 4, came from behind to beat UCLA, 18-12, in an intercollegiate game Friday night at Los Angeles. Richmond and Virginia Military battled to a 7-7 tie in a Southern Conference game at Richmond.

UCLA Rallies In Third

Behind 10-0 at the half, underdog UCLA stunned the Illini with two third-period touchdowns by Byron Nelson to go ahead 12-10. The Big Ten team pulled it out in the last quarter on a 62-yard march that ended with fullback Jim Grabowski diving over from the 1. Rich Callaghan grabbed a pass from Fred Custardo for a two-point conversion to wind up the scoring.

Illinois' first-half points came on a 21-yard run by Sam Price and Jim Plankenhorn's 25-yard field goal. Nelson's touchdowns for UCLA came on a 24-yard run with an intercepted pass and on a seven-yard aerial he caught from Larry Zeno.

Buckeyes On Rebound?

The No. 1 Texas Longhorns, who have won five straight, have no illusions about Rice. The underdog Owls spoiled a perfect season for the Longhorns a year ago by gaining a 14-14 tie. This is a night game at Austin.

The No. 2 Wisconsin Badgers 4-0, are at home to Ohio State and they fear the Buckeyes may be on the rebound after losing to Southern California last week.

Pitt, also 4-0, invades Navy at Annapolis. The meeting between the No. 3 and No. 10 ranked teams pits two of the country's best players against each other—Paul Martha of Pitt and Roger Staubach of Navy.

Notre Dame Game On TV

Those who like to watch their college football with their feet propped up at home on Saturdays can take in the Notre Dame at Stanford game on national television, starting at 3:30 p.m. EST.

Pairings for the remainder of the top ten in the Associated Press poll find Mississippi, No. 5, at Vanderbilt; Houston at Alabama, No. 6; Oklahoma, No. 7 at Kansas State and Michigan State at Northwestern, No. 8. Auburn, No. 8, has an open date.

Also, Dartmouth puts its 15-game winning streak on the line against Harvard and Princeton, unbeaten and untied like Dartmouth, tagles with Cornell is

Flint Beats Bay City '11'

(By the Associated Press)

Michigan's top two rated high school football teams battled almost to a standoff Friday night, but No. 1 Flint Central came from behind twice and clinched victory over Bay City Central with a last-second pass interception.

Flint's margin was 25-18 in a game that followed the pattern set in two previous battles between the two squads for the No. 1 rating. Flint won 13-12 in 1955 and the teams tied 13-13 in 1959.

Otherwise, it was a good night for giant-killers and even No. 1-ranked C-D power Kalamazoo St. Augustine had a chance to play that role. It beat No. 6 Class B team Plainwell 26-0.

In Class B, fifth-ranked West Bloomfield lost to Clarkston 20-13.

Junior halfback George Hoey led Flint Central's attack with three touchdowns—one on a 63-yard punt return. It also was Hoey who picked off a Bay City pass, when Flint held only a 19-18 lead, and ran it back 35 yards for a touchdown as the clock ran out.

Class B's top teams both won easily as Willow Run beat Romulus 27-8 and Bad Axe trounced Frankmunth, its closest rival in the Thumb B Conference, 39-0.

In the No. 3 slots, Lansing Sexton beat Jackson 31-14 in Class A. Hillsdale downed Sturgis 62-6 in Class B and St. Charles beat Merrill 40-0 in Class C-D.

Eastern Downs Adrian, 13-0

YPSILANTI (AP) — Terry Hurley scored one touchdown and Jeff Barth got the other as Eastern Michigan rolled over Adrian 13-0 in a non-conference football game Friday night.

Hurley, who racked up 84 yards in 20 carries, scored the Hurons' first touchdown on an eight-yard run that capped a 69-yard drive in the third quarter.

In the final quarter, EMU marched 50 yards and Barth went over from the one to score.

Fairbanks Now Backfield Coach At Houston

Ford's 6-Million Offer For Lions OK'd By Directors

DETROIT (AP) — Stockholders of the Detroit Lions were urged Friday to let a Ford take sole possession of the driver's seat of the National Football League club.

In a unanimous vote, 13 Lions' directors accepted William Clay Ford's offer to buy the club for $6 million.

Up To Stockholders

The directors recommended that the 144 stockholders of the Detroit Football Co. make the deal official at a meeting Nov. 22. Stockholders' approval is necessary—though it's considered a formality—before the 38-year-old Ford can become sole owner of the club.

Ford, a member of the Ford automotive family, greeted the board's recommendation with these words—"I am absolutely pleased."

"I've given a lot of thought to changes," Ford said, "but I have to get the stockholders' approval before I do anything."

Job For Paul Brown?

He was asked to comment on reports that Paul Brown, former coach of the Cleveland Browns, was being considered as a replacement for Lions' General Manager Edwin Anderson.

"I've made no commitments to anyone so far," Ford replied. He added, however, that Lions' Coach George Wilson is secure in his job, despite Detroit's lackluster showing this season. Considered championship contenders in pre-season speculation, the Lions have fizzled with only two victories in six starts.

President For 2 Years

"I certainly have no plans to get rid of George Wilson," the automobile company executive said.

Ford has been Lions' president since 1961.

Ford is a grandson of Henry Ford, founder of Ford Motor Co. His brother, Henry II, is board chairman of the firm, and William Clay himself is a Ford vice president and director.

Track Body Approves No-Strings Policy

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Track and Field Federation has given the green light to its student athletes to compete in any meets they want without strings attached.

The shift in policy, announced by USTF executive director Charles (Chic) Werner, gets the college trackmen off a hot seat in the prolonged battle with the AAU.

The policy, approved by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was named an arbitrator by President Kennedy a year ago in the feud between the federation and the AAU, will be in effect until Nov. 1, 1964.

The USTF says the year of truce would make it possible for the U.S. to be represented by its best athletes in the 1964 Olympics at Tokyo.

A STURDY STURGEON

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Fishing only six weeks, Ray Logan, 34, of Oakland, caught an 8-foot, 214-pound sturgeon. "I weigh 250 pounds myself and I'm worn out," Logan said after a 2 1/2 hour battle.

The conference will be opened by A. B. Cook, Lansing, chief of the Michigan Conservation Department's fish division. The group will be welcomed to Iron Mountain by Mayor Jack Gingress, after which Conservation Commissioner Leland W. Hooker, Houghton, will deliver the welcoming address.

Rock, Mineral Club Workshop Slated Sunday

An earth science workshop will be conducted by the Ishpeming Rock and Mineral Club Sunday.

Those attending should report at the Ishpeming Ski Museum at 2:30 p.m. dressed in field clothes. Club members and anyone interested in getting acquainted with rock collecting are invited.

Lunch will be served following the meeting, and Baraga Counties. There were 9,385 applications for a quota of 4,681 permits in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wisner of downstate Fremont decided to spend their honeymoon hunting bears near Brimley in Chippewa County, and Wisner bagged a 200-pound bear during their stay there.

Excellent catches of Menominees are still being taken north of Newberry when winds are from the south.

Bounties were paid last month on 1,567 animals trapped in the Upper Peninsula, according to B. A. Stephansky, Marquette, regional field administration supervisor for the conservation department.

Michigan's bears are a tourist attraction that should be better advertised, says the State Highway Department. Taking a poll of tourists, the department found many surprised at the number of bears in the state.

The Senate Conservation Committee meets in Kalamazoo Monday to investigate reports of extensive crop damage because of the rapid expansion of the deer herd.

Development work has started under the Accelerated Public Works program which will add some 140 campsites for recreationists and sportsmen by next summer at seven state forest campgrounds in Northern Michigan.

Legislation to ban all trapping during September and October to protect hunting dogs from coyote, bobcat and fox traps probably will be introduced in the next term.

Reader's Corner

Grand Island Hunts

Dear Sir: All dwellers in the Upper Peninsula may not be aware of it, but the deer hunters and those dwelling along the southern shore of Lake Superior have some one take them out to Grand Island to shoot deer.

Some residents place blocks of salt for the deer during the summer and fall, and it is in these spots that the hunters are shooting deer.

Coyote Caught In U.P. Came From Beaver Island

Proof that coyotes travel long distances across the ice in winter is furnished by a recent incident in the eastern Upper Peninsula.

Bear Killed With .22

One shot from a .22 caliber rifle was all that Richard Peterson, County Road 550, Marquette, needed to kill this black bear while hunting south of Big Bay.

Sandhill cranes aren't exactly as thick as English sparrows in Michigan, and a sandhill that's friendly is a downright rarity.

Applicants Exceed Quota In 5 U.P. 'Any Deer' Areas

Drawings were held this week in Lansing to determine the successful applicants for "any deer" hunting permits in five of the 11 special areas in the Upper Peninsula.

Young Biologists Take 7-Mile Hike

One hundred and fifteen of the 156 members of the Young Biologists Club of Graveraet High School in Marquette recently took part in a seven-mile hike from County Road 480 to the large dam on the Carp River.

Trout Luck Good In Dead River Basin

Rainbow and brown trout fishing has been good on the Dead River Basin north of Ishpeming, according to the conservation department.

Some trout up to 24 inches in length have been landed there recently.

Fairly good success on rainbows was reported off the rocks at Laughing Fish Point, north of Deerton, on gold spoons, daredevils and night crawlers.

Perch fishing continued good on Goose Lake, east of Negawee. Fair perch success was experienced on AuTrain Lake and Basin.

Big Crane Reared By Man In U.P.

Sandhill cranes aren't exactly as thick as English sparrows in Michigan, and a sandhill that's friendly is a downright rarity.

For the record, Gale didn't want to "adopt" Charlie — doesn't believe in adopting wild young things — but he was "stuck with" the still-legged, spear-beaked, oversize version of a heron.

Like Solitude Earl Dennis found Charlie in his yard and enlisted the help of a neighbor, Gale, in trying to pull the fuzzy fledgling through.

Sandhill cranes once were very common through the Lower Peninsula, but thinned greatly under hunting and civilization.

Charlie eats tulip bulbs, any left-over bait or unguarded catches of panfish, flies along behind Gale's truck, meets boats, begs handouts.

From Thursday, Oct. 10, to Friday, Oct. 18 he took only a goshawk, a Cooper's hawk, a tiercel peregrine (duck hawk) and a great horned owl.

Michigan's 'Hawk Man' Back In U.P. To Capture Birds Of Prey

(Northern Michigan Outdoors published a story about Al Knutsen several years ago when he was trapping hawks on Whitefish Point in Chippewa County.

Baited With Pigeons

Knutsen used the Delta County Park at the tip of Stonington for his current project, with the old lighthouse tower as a lookout on the beach where he set 10 live traps for migrating hawks.

From Thursday, Oct. 10, to Friday, Oct. 18 he took only a goshawk, a Cooper's hawk, a tiercel peregrine (duck hawk) and a great horned owl.

Excessive Mortality

Two lakes subject to excessive fish mortality will be open at any time throughout 1964 to hook and line fishing for all fish of any kind or size.

Prize Of Collection

The tiercel peregrine which was a prize of Knutsen's collection was a passage (immature) bird born on the Arctic tundra.

Knutsen is collecting under a conservation department permit. He is seeking six goshawks, peregrines, rough-legged hawks and red-tailed hawks.

Birds Indicated Rank

The falcons are the most famed birds of prey, and this led many centuries ago to their use in hunting.

Special U.P. Fishing Rules Announced

Special fishing regulations for certain Upper Peninsula waters have been announced by the conservation department.

The department listed eight waters open to the sparing of ciscoes, whitefish, suckers and carp from Oct. 15 to Dec. 31.
