Western Allies Expect More Red Roadblocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite their bitter protests, the Western Allies expect Russia to throw more roadblocks across the highway into Berlin.

Vietnamese In Need Of Strong Boss

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The passing of the Diem government in South Viet Nam has created a power vacuum that could lead to more instability and upheaval.

Dems Seek Legislative Tax Action

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Democratic party moved today to take fiscal reform out of Gov. Romney's hands and have lawmakers instead put together a program that could win bi-partisan support.

The top elected Democrat, Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, said Romney "is not the man to deal with if we are to salvage the possibilities of fiscal reform."

In a private meeting that followed a 1 1/2-hour joint House-Senate Democratic caucus, Lesinski and other party leaders decided to call for "volunteers" for a committee to work out new proposals, using existing bills as a framework.

Republican leaders, the Democrats said, will be invited to sit in the meetings and help with the proposals.

The Weather

Forecast for Marquette and vicinity: Clearing and a little cooler tonight, lows near 32 inland to around 40 near the lake...

The big change is that the nation is now ruled by a committee instead of a family.

But there is no guarantee this committee will work harmoniously. And in the absence of an established political leader in the group, some observers feel the generals may eventually fall to wrangling.

Despite the naming of civilians to a provisional government, the generals will continue to hold the real power for a long time, according to present indications.

One general on the junta said Wednesday he thought it might be 6 to 12 months before a civilian government with full power could be elected.

This leaves a lot of time for political juggling or even a counter-coup.

The provisional government is not made up of strong political personalities. Nguyen Ngoc Tho, the premier, has been a career bureaucrat since 1950.

All national policies for the time being will be made by the military revolutionary committee of generals headed by Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh.

Minh, 47, while highly respected, is difficult to identify as a national leader. In his own words he is "a soldier, not a politician."

The junta unquestionably will fight hard to crush the Communist guerrillas they have been fighting the past four years.

But their problems are massive. They still must face huge deficit spending and a precarious economy, even with massive U.S. aid.

The Viet Cong has by no means tossed in the towel. The junta will have to do some unpopular things, the sting of which will be noticeable after the honeymoon of freedom from the Ngo family is over.

"Someone must take a strong hand here before long, because the Vietnamese are basically like the French—each citizen is a political party unto himself," a longtime Saigon resident said.

diplomatic note of arbitrary and unjustified action in delaying an American Army convoy for 42 hours.

Neither the protest nor the fact that the Americans eventually were allowed to proceed means that this gloomy chapter of U.S.-Soviet relations can be closed, authoritative sources warned.

This is the result of the first, hasty assessment of this latest Soviet attempt to make the United States, Britain and France accept Russia's rules on the autobahn, the highway connecting Berlin with the West.

The 12-vehicle convoy with 24 drivers and co-drivers, carrying 20 "passengers" or troops, was held up at the Marienborn checkpoint on the western end of the autobahn.

The Soviets first requested that the passengers dismount, then said they would be satisfied if the tail-gates of some of the vehicles would be lowered.

The basis for this refusal is Western insistence that the Soviets can make a headcount of passengers by simply looking into the vehicles if the troops number less than 30.

Hoffa had previously announced a demand that management build and maintain a $1-million dental and optical care center for union members.

Hoffa, who announced the demands Wednesday after hashing out details with a 75-man committee representing all Teamsters locals, called the proposals "a tremendous step forward" for his union.

Teamsters truck drivers, helpers, mechanics, clerks and other employees to be covered by the contract now average about $3.17 an hour plus $6 a week in pension benefits and $3.50 a week for health and welfare.

Hoffa, at a news conference, repeated earlier statements that there is no danger of a nationwide truck strike.

He also said he does not expect the trucking industry to absorb the Teamsters' demands without raising rates.

He said he hopes to start negotiations early in December in Chicago.

Hoffa said the vote was "practically unanimous" among the more than 400,000 union members affected for the nationwide negotiations except for locals in New York and San Francisco representing about 6,000 members who voted against it.

Teamsters pay scales, now set up under regional contracts, range from $3.05 an hour to $3.28 an hour.

The new demands would raise the minimum scale in the first year to $3.21, the second year to $3.38 and the third year to $3.55.

The nationwide contract would expire Feb. 1, 1967.

Russians Oct. 29, the officials said.

Concerning the Soviet leader's second remark, the comment in Washington is that the convoy commander insisted on the "established procedure" right from the outset.

Teamsters To Demand Pay Raises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union will serve the nation's trucking industry with contract demands for about $250 million a year in increased pay and fringe benefits for more than 400,000 workers.

Teamsters President James R. Hoffa said the proposed three-year "master contract" to be mailed out Friday to representatives of 16,000 trucking firms is the biggest single labor agreement ever proposed.

1. Pay increases of 15 cents an hour per man per year for three years.

2. $1 more a week for pensions and $1 more a week for health and welfare.

3. Other fringe benefits including three days off with pay in case of death in a union member's immediate family.

Later vacation benefits, pay for jury service, two more paid holidays and 10 cents an hour for rental care.

Hoffa had previously announced a demand that management build and maintain a $1-million dental and optical care center for union members.

Madam Nhu Has Ample Resources

WASHINGTON (AP) — A qualified source close to Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu's family today described the former First Lady of South Viet Nam as a clever businesswoman with ample resources in other countries, including a villa on the French Riviera.

Reports from Los Angeles said Mrs. Nhu is deeply concerned about her financial outlook. This was greeted with some skepticism by the source, who asked not to be identified.

Mrs. Nhu recently purchased a villa on the French Riviera from her brother-in-law, Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc. He is attending the Ecumenical Congress in Rome and also has been looking after Mrs. Nhu's three younger children since their arrival from Saigon.

A source close to Mrs. Nhu said Tuesday in Los Angeles that when she left Saigon five weeks ago she had $5,000 spending money for herself, her daughter and her secretary. He said she had no money banked abroad and that the only member of the family who had control over large sums of money was the archbishop and that was "church money."

In London, Ngo Dinh Luyen, Viet Nam's former ambassador to Britain, said Wednesday night he would not be surprised if Mrs. Nhu, who is his sister-in-law, had run out of money in the United States. He said all her wealth probably is held in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Nhu's husband, Dinh Nhu, the country's real strongman, and his brother President Ngo Dinh Diem in the coup last week.

A reliable source said Nhu planned to return to Viet Nam before the final election is held under new ruling group.

South Viet Nam's First Lady believes she can gain political power in her country with the aid of the officers, the source said.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Nhu ported to have received phone call since the former Vice President R. Nixon.

Nixon explored, among things, the failure of officials in South Viet Nam to grant asylum to another of the deposed president Diem's brother, Can.

Mrs. Nhu moved to a new quarters Wednesday in the lavish hillside home and Mrs. Allen Chung, Angeles' wealthy district of Bel-Air. Her eldest child, Li, and her secretary.

Rocky Declares Candidacy For GOP Nomination

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for president today and said he would enter the New Hampshire and other presidential preference primaries between now and the Republican National convention next July.

"I have reached this decision because I believe that vital principles are at stake in the next presidential election," Rockefeller said in a statement to a gathering of newsmen at the state capitol.

Rockefeller renewed his charge that the national administration of Democratic President Kennedy had failed to understand and meet "the menace of international communism," to stimulate the economy and to strengthen the unity of the free world.

Rockefeller did not refer in his first statement to his role as the underdog in what has been the undeclared contest for the nomination.

Nor did he refer to his divorce and remarriage, which have been largely blamed for his currently poor standing in polls on the nomination.

Rockefeller proposed that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and other potential candidates also enter the New Hampshire primary.

"It is my sincere hope that other candidates will make use of the primary so that all of their views will be clearly known," he said.

The New Hampshire primary presents an excellent opportunity to do so, forthrightly and undiluted by fence-straddling or doubletalk of any kind.

Rockefeller, who did not mention Goldwater by name, has been challenging the Arizona senator to join him in a series of debates to determine what positions the Republican party should take on major issues.

The governor arranged to leave for New Hampshire immediately after his announcement.

BULLETIN

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted an American engineer and a Russian chauffeur today on three counts of conspiring to transmit information to the Soviet Union relating to this country's national defense.

The jury returned the indictments against John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, an engineer handling a secret Air Force contract, and Igor A. Ivanov, 33, chauffeur for a Russian trading company. Conviction could mean the death penalty.

Named as co-conspirators but not as co-defendants in the indictment were three members of the Soviet delegation staff at the United Nations who have been expelled from the United States.

The three were protected by diplomatic immunity.

3 U. P. Men Die In Crash

ESCANABA (AP) — An auto crash in thick fog killed three men and seriously injured another today.

The victims were Dale Manske, 26, of Glandstone, and Robert Orzel, 24, and Robert West, 24, of Escanaba, police said.

Harold Peterson, 28, of Gladstone, the only survivor, was in serious condition at St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba.

The car occupied by the four men skidded off a side road and across M 35 in heavy fog at the south city limits, striking a tree, police said.

11 Germans Freed From Iron Mine

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — Eleven men were rescued today from a flooded iron mine two weeks after they were entombed and given up for dead.

A huge drilling rig broke through early today to the gallery 183 feet below the surface where they had taken refuge when disaster struck Oct. 21.

The shaft was quickly reinforced by steel tubing, and one by one the bearded, haggard men were brought to the surface.

Bay De Noc College Opens Its Doors For 1st Time

By RICHARD L. RINEHART
President
Bay de Noc Community College

Bay de Noc Community College at Escanaba was voted into existence in November of 1962 by the electorate of Delta County after two years of intensive study and an additional 10 years of general discussion in the county. Some 200 people contributed to the study and served on committees under the over-all chairmanship of Arthur Slaughter.

The initial impetus and spark for the college was provided by Joseph Heirman, whose efforts led to the formation of the study committee. Other leadership in developing the college was provided by Charles Folio, Hagle Quarstrom, Dr. Albert Jenke, Robert Groos, James Dotsch and Clayton Ford, all of whom were members of the first board of trustees of the college.

In addition to this group, other individuals and organizations in Delta County, as well as Dr. Max Smith of Michigan State University and Dr. Raymond Young of the University of Michigan, provided essential guidance, enthusiasm and understanding of the college that led to the successful vote last November. Of particular importance was a bequest of $100,000 from Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, secured through the efforts of John Lemmer.

The college receives financial support from the State of Michigan, from a tax levy on Delta County, from tuition and gifts. The state aid and the county support provide a little more than one third each, and the tuition provides a little less than one third of the operating costs. The capital outlay money comes equally from gifts and state matching money.

I was the first full time employee. I was appointed president of the college in February and began on April 1, 1963.

Opening Day Set

A decision was made in late April of 1963 to begin classes this fall and a statement of purposes and functions and a catalog describing courses and registration procedures were prepared in May. After a hectic summer of building, construction, establishment of procedures and policies, procurement of equipment, supplies, books, a library and enrollment of students, classes began on Sept. 16 for the first time.

One hundred and forty full time and 100 part time students registered in liberal arts, science, secretarial, business and technical programs.

Full time faculty members were recruited and these are supplemented by nine part time faculty members to handle day and evening classes.

Like most community colleges, there are no residence facilities on campus. However, an estimated 30 to 50 students are renting rooms in Escanaba. While the student body is small in comparison with other community colleges, Bay de Noc is a very significant institution, because it fills a very definite need in the Upper Peninsula. In the past, students would have had to travel long distances and, as a consequence, only 20 per cent of the high school graduates went on to college.

It is already apparent that the percentage of students who are now able to obtain the benefits of higher education will increase to 50 per cent or more.

The college is located in a building vacated by the Escanaba High School on April 22, 1963. It leases this building from the area school board and has renovated it extensively.

U.S. Experts Testify On Pollution

MENOMINEE (AP) — Experts from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) testified Wednesday that a study of the Menominee River last summer showed evidence of pollution.

The testimony came at the opening session of the HEW's conference on pollution of the Menominee River, which serves as the dividing line between Michigan and Wisconsin.

More than 150 state, municipal and industrial leaders from the two states attended the session. It was held over the objection of Nicholas E. Olds, assistant state attorney for Michigan, who questioned federal jurisdiction in the matter.

HEW representative Murray Stein told Olds that Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze was compelled to call such a conference when HEW experts reported their study of the river showed evidence of pollution.

State Representatives
Representing Michigan at the conference were Michigan Water Resources Commission Chairman Irving Ronk and two other members of the commission, Executive Secretary

Loring F. Oeming and James Gilmore Jr.

Wisconsin had three representatives at the opening session.

Disclaim HEW Report
Giving their side of the story, Michigan and Wisconsin disclaimed the river's pollution was as critical as implied in a report of a survey last August by technicians of HEW. The report contended pollution in the Menominee River and its tributary, the Brule, was evident.

Wisconsin joined Michigan in questioning federal jurisdiction in the case.

James D. McDermott, an assistant attorney general from Madison, Wis., questioned the constitutionality of the Water Pollution Act. He argued that federal control over navigable waters does not include recreational uses or pollution. He said the question, however, had never been raised in the courts.

Stein replied these arguments were brought up and discussed when Congress enacted the statute. He said the question never had been in the courts perhaps because persons interested in litigation "probably realized it wouldn't be worth the money to go down to ignominious defeat."

Police Set Up Teletype Network

DETROIT (AP) — A southeastern Michigan police teletype network, linking 72 police departments and four sheriff's offices to the State Police headquarters and identification bureau at East Lansing, has been completed. Wayne County Sheriff Peter L. Buback said the new system would provide much speedier communication of crime-fighting information. Previously, southeastern Michigan police agencies depended on telephone or radio relay.

CCI Display In Lobby Of 1st National

Of interest to all Marquette County residents is the display of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. in the lobby of the First National Bank & Trust Co., as part of the bank's centennial parade of community resources.

There is both historical and current presentation.

Highlighting is an illuminated animated display which shows pictures of the low grade beneficiation plants in Marquette County including the mighty Empire Mine which is now getting into production.

Animating displays revolving in synchronization show the production flow from raw material, carries the viewer through the several operations of preparation and beneficiation to the final pelletization. Old Scenes

Below these are the displays showing iron ore as it is introduced into the pelletizing plants, the fineness of the recovered ores before being made into pellets and a quantity of the pellets ready for the down lake furnaces.

For the historically minded there are pictures of mines still highlighted in the storied romance of the iron ore industry. The old Lake Angeline and Salisbury mines are among them. Old open pits and some of the underground scenes showing old and relatively new means of timbering drifts in the soft ore mines and some of the slopes of the hard ore operations also are shown.

Delinquency Case Ends In Jail Term

Charles D. Boyd, 21, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, was ordered to spend 30 days in the Marquette County Jail by Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski yesterday on two counts of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

On a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year old girl, following an arrest made by city police early Tuesday morning, Boyd entered Bothwell succeeds John R. Kivisto, principal of Ishpeming High School, as head of the county TB unit.

The jail term is to be served consecutively with a 30-day term for a conviction Oct. 3 in municipal court on a similar charge. On that charge, Boyd was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and $7.50 costs, and alternative sentence to paying the fine and costs was to spend 30 days in jail.

Leaders For Dystrophy Drive Picked

Mrs. Esther Williams, campaign chairman for the 1963 Thanksgiving March for Muscular Dystrophy, announced today the appointment of district leaders for the annual fundraising drive by Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc.

The district leaders will recruit volunteers and give them specific assignments in the house-to-house canvass to be held in Marquette during the week of Nov. 10. The kick-off will be Tuesday night, Nov. 12.

Nationwide Appeal

The local campaign is part of a nationwide appeal for funds to provide all-out research into the crippling, fatal disease which afflicts more than 200,000 Americans, most of whom are children.

Calling on residents of Marquette to enlist as volunteers in the march, Mrs. Williams said, "It's the American way to help neighbors in distress. Who is in greater need than the child doomed to helplessness and early death by muscular dystrophy? I earnestly urge the people of Marquette to help by volunteering to support the March for Muscular Dystrophy."

Those wishing to offer their services may call Mrs. Loren E. Marlowe, campaign co-chairman, at 226-7068.

Auto Layoffs Reflect Seasonal Slowdown

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Last Friday's layoff of 1,200 Studebaker Corp. hourly workers reflected only a seasonal slowdown in auto production, Studebaker officials said Wednesday.

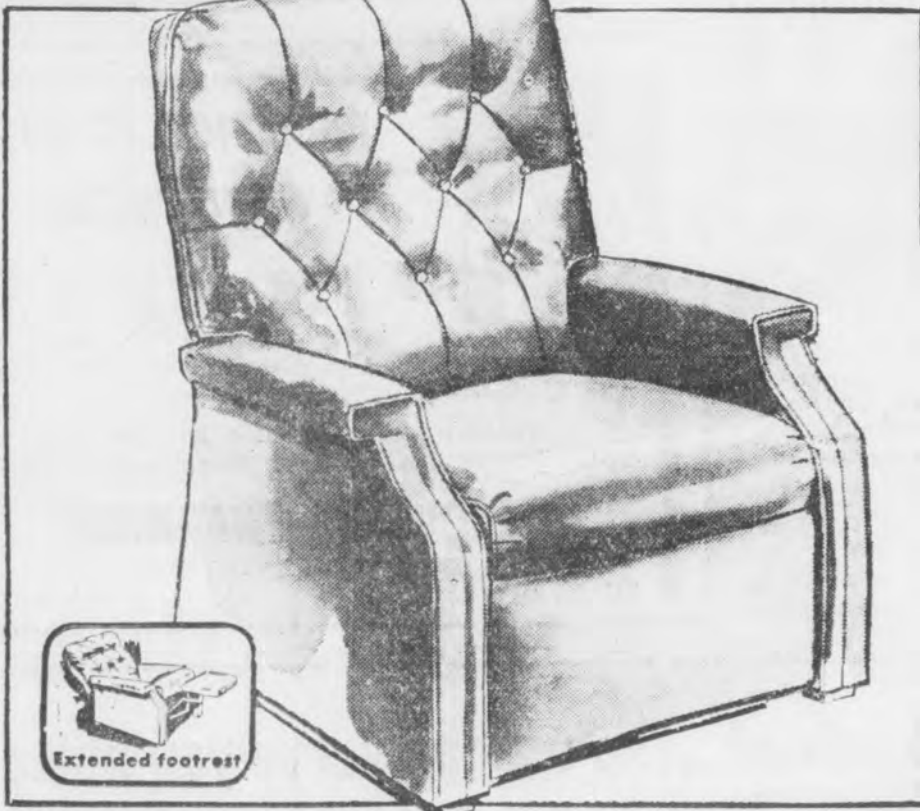

A spokesman said the layoff came about six weeks earlier this year than in the past because Studebaker unveiled its 1964 models earlier. He said sales levels were paralleling last year's trends.

About one-sixth of Studebaker's hourly workers were laid off Friday as the production line was cut back from 60 cars an hour to 40-45.

New Methodist Building To Be Ready In February

Members of the parish of the First Methodist Church expect to occupy the church's religious education and office building by the first of February.

The new building, under construction directly east of the Methodist Church on E. Ridge St., includes 16 classrooms, complete with blackboards and children's sinks; a social room with kitchen, a pastor's study, assistant pastor's study and secretary's office.

To Cost $250,000

Work on the building was begun the middle of June and the corner stone was laid Sunday noon. General contractor is Menze Construction Co., Inc., Marquette.

Cost of the education and office building, including furnishings, will be $250,000. It is being financed by voluntary contributions from members of the congregation. The parish is beginning the fifth year of its pledge program.

The church school now holds sessions in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church, in the Federated Women's Club building and in the office of W. L. Casler, in addition to the church building, the Rev. Norbert W. Smith said.

Deer Legs Clue In Arrest Of St. Ignace Trio

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Three St. Ignace men awaited Circuit Court trial today on a charge of conspiracy to violate state game laws.

James LaVake, 20; Arnold Visnaw, 36, and James St. Onge, 20, were arrested by city police, who said they saw the legs of a deer sticking out of the trunk of the car the men were driving.

They waived examination in justice court and were held in Mackinac County Jail when they could not post bond.

Scotland has raised the famous black, hornless cattle known as Angus for more than 200 years.

Three Autos Involved In Area Mishaps

Three automobiles were involved, but no one was hurt, in a pair of area traffic accidents reported this morning by city and state police.

At 2:50 yesterday afternoon an automobile being driven west on W. Fair Ave. by Michael H. Nelsen, 22, of 358 Harrison St., struck a car operated by Juliet A. Nowak, 19, of 128 E. Magnetic St., at the N. Third St. corner.

City police said Nelsen reported he tried to drive around the Nowak car. She told officers she had stopped at the north curbing on Fair Ave. to discharge a passenger and then drove out into the lane of traffic, not seeing him approaching.

The right front of the Nelsen car, a 1958 sedan, was damaged. Apparently no damage resulted to the Nowak automobile, a 1958 station wagon. Both vehicles were driven from the Car-Deer Accident

The other mishap took place at 1 yesterday morning on U.S. 41, just north of the Marquette-Alger County line, in Skandia Township.

State police said a car being driven north on U.S. 41 by Lois Stice, 34, Charleston, Ind., struck a deer which ran out from the east (right side) of the highway in front of the vehicle.

The front end of the car, a 1961 coach, was damaged, and the automobile was driven from the scene under its own power.

The deer was killed and its carcass was turned over to the Michigan Department of Conservation for disposal.

Financial Scene:

Will Stock Margin Rule Cut Trading?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Higher stock margin requirements may cut trading volume on the nation's exchanges and also the amount of profit a speculator may hope for— if he guesses right. And it's the speculator, as distinguished from the investor, that the Federal Reserve Board has in mind in raising the cash ante to 70 per cent from 50 per cent in buying stocks.

But the effect on stock prices themselves of changing the margin rules may be only temporary, if past experience is a guide. And the Fed, in truth, disavows any interest in swaying price trends.

Most stock buyers, whether individuals or institutions, probably will be affected very little, since they usually buy for cash as an investment.

Exchange officials stress that the percentage of the daily volume done on credit, although usually rising in boiling markets, is probably smaller than most onlookers suspect.

And exchanges and their member brokerage houses also have margin rules, usually calling for more cash to be put up well before a stock's price drops to the official margin set by the Fed.

But that regulator of credit notes that the total credit volume—borrowing from broker or from banks to buy stock—has risen 43 per cent in the last year to about $7 billion. In that period consumer credit, more familiar to most families, was going up 10 per cent.

Those who buy on margin usually do so because that way they can make more money than if they pay cash—if they've chosen the right stocks. They can lose more, too, if they've picked lemons.

Suppose you have $1,000 for stock buying. If the price of your choice is $100, say, you can buy 10 shares for cash. Monday, when the margin was 50 per cent, you could have bought—or got part equity in—20 shares. If the price goes up to $125 as you hope, you've made $25, minus commissions, if you paid cash. But you've made $50, minus commissions and interest on the loan, if you bought on margin.

If the stock drops sharply in price, of course, you may find your broker selling it and wiping out your account.

Attracted By Bull Markets

Today, with the margin at 70 per cent, you can't buy 20 shares on margin with your $1,000. You'd need $1,400 in cash plus the $600 your broker lent you. And the price would have to rise higher for you to get the same yield on the cash involved.

That's why it's bull markets that attract margin traders.

And it's the recent bull marking

State Police File Report For October

Officers of the Marquette post of the Michigan State Police issued 237 traffic tickets and made 19 other arrests last month, Sgt. Grant C. Barry, post commander, reports.

The 17 officers stationed here worked 374 "man days" during October. A breakdown shows that 1,522 "man hours" were spent on traffic patrol and other traffic work and 682 on investigation of complaints.

In addition, officers spent 157 hours on report writing, five hours on desk assignment, 998 hours on administration and

New Research Bulletin tells why we believe GENERAL TELEPHONE & ELECTRONICS is now particularly attractive as a quality investment for long-term growth

Under the leadership of Donald C. Power, General Telephone has become the largest independent telephone holding company in America... and a leading producer of communications and electronics equipment. Its progress in recent years is perhaps illustrated most graphically by its dividend payout. On a per share basis, higher payments have been made in every year of the past decade. Today, General Telephone appears to us to be in a stronger position than at any other time in its history. And, under its highly capable management, the company stands—we believe—on the threshold of impressive new growth over the next five years in per share earnings.

Contributing heavily, we believe, to General Telephone's future are its many telephone subsidiaries, operating in 32 states and generally located in the rapidly-growing smaller cities and suburban and rural areas. The manufacturing subsidiaries also appear to offer excellent potential. One subsidiary—Sylvania—looks for substantial growth in its home electronics products, lighting business, and widely diversified defense contracts. Another subsidiary—Automatic Electric, the largest supplier of communications equipment and services to the independent telephone industry—is expected to play an important part in the dynamic area of business communications.

In its research and development program, General Telephone is opening up new areas in microminiaturization and the application of electronics to the switching of communications channels.

We believe General Telephone & Electronics is a growth-oriented company. If you would like to learn more about it, send for your free copy of our informative Research Bulletin No. 199. Mail this advertisement with your name and address.

Is America selling out?

America WILL... if it doesn't develop enough future leaders now. They are needed to hold our position in science, in business and jobs, in living standards.

Where do we get leaders? Higher education trains most of them. But colleges are facing higher costs. Many need classrooms, laboratories and competent teachers.

To hold our lead we must back our colleges. Either we help them meet costs or we... sell out.

Boy Killed Because He Wants To Die

WALLED LAKE (AP)—Police said a 16-year-old boy told them he fired a rifle out a window Wednesday and killed a youth he never had seen before because "you would have to come get me and I wanted to be killed."

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies identified the boy as Charles Morris of Walled Lake. Morris' home is across the street from a construction site where Kenneth Beebe, 18, of Shelby Township, was shot.

Beebe was working in a trench when a bullet struck him. He then tried to flee. A second shot missed but a third hit him.

Beebe's father, Robert, also a construction worker, returned to the construction site 15 minutes after the shooting and found his son lying on his back.

"I didn't know what happened," the father said. "I don't think anybody had any idea at first that he got shot. It sounded like an explosion and everybody thought he hit something while he was digging the trench."

"Call My Mom"

Police surrounded the Morris home. They said the boy threw a note from a window that said: "Call my mom."

His mother, Mrs. Russell Wager, was shopping. Before police could reach her, Morris threw out another note, officers said.

"I don't have any guns," it said.

Police went in and arrested the boy.

Copper Harbor Project Slated For Spring Start

MILWAUKEE — Plans call for construction of the Copper Harbor Corp.'s year-round recreational facility to begin next spring, according to Bruce P. Reid, Milwaukee, corporation president.

"We hope to have the facilities open for the winter season of 1964-65," Reid said after the Area Redevelopment Administration this week approved a loan of $625,000 to build the $1,407,590 facility at Copper Harbor, Mich.

The ARA has estimated the project will create 100 direct and related permanent jobs in the area.

"The project not only will originally create employment in the Upper Peninsula, but we hope that it will act as a catalyst for the entire area, attracting new trade and new visitors to this beautiful location," Reid said.

"We feel that a year around resort of the magnitude now planned will be unique, not only to the Upper Peninsula, but to the Midwest. Copper Harbor is ideally situated to cater to the large Midwestern population centers and to the tourist visiting Isle Royale National Park and the Upper Peninsula."

The ARA loan will enable the Copper Harbor Corp. to develop skiing facilities, provide eating and sleeping accommodations and undertake other improvements.

Peaceful lakeside scene near Mendota Lighthouse at Bete Gris in Keweenaw County is subject for prize-winning picture

Marquette Photographer Places First In Contest

A Marquette woman and a Park Ridge, Ill., man — both submitting pictures of marine scenes — today were declared winners in the Upper Michigan Tourist Association's 1963 scenic photographic contest.

Awarded first prize of $100 in the color division was Mrs. Fern White, Route 1, Box 671FE, Marquette, while a similar amount went to Lee Timonen, 1505 Good St., Park Ridge, in the black-and-white division of the event.

Lighthouse Point Scene
Mrs. White's prize-winning picture was a winter scene at Lighthouse Point on Lake Superior at Marquette. Timonen's entry was a picture of Mendota Lighthouse at tiny Bete Gris in Keweenaw County.

Color division — Alan R. Larsen, Vulcan, Mich., "Tahquamenon's Tumbling Waters" (slide), second; John A. McGrath, Birmingham, Mich., night photo of Mackinac Bridge, and Merrill Fronzy, Marquette, Presque Isle scene (slide) tied for third.

Black-and-white division — Dinty Moore, Box 19, East Detroit, Upper Michigan snowfall scene, second, and Joe Kirkish, Houghton, McLean State Park scene, third.
"The commercial photographers who judged the entries were impressed with many of the entries, which came from a large number of states," an Upper Michigan Tourist Association representative said in announcing the list of winners. "We were especially pleased with the scenic appeal and recreational lure captured by visitors in many pictures."

Orion Stalks Across Sky In November

ANN ARBOR — November skywatchers will see "the tallest and most beautiful of men." His name is Orion (The Hunter), and most people agree that "there is nothing in the whole starry realm that the unaided eye beholds to equal the splendor and beauty of this majestic constellation." University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh says.

Easy To Locate
Orion comes over the horizon around 9 p. m. to stride across the southern sky. He is easy to locate because of the many bright stars that make up his figure and because he looks like the Hunter that he is supposed to represent.

Look first at the three stars, about equal in brightness and arranged in steps, which make up Orion's belt. Their striking appearance attracted almost universal attention since the dawn of history.
"String Of Pearls"
The Arabs called the belt stars "the string of pearls"; the Eskimos thought they represented the three steps cut in a snow bank and the Greenlanders imagined them as three seal hunters lost at sea and placed in the sky, Prof. Losh says.
The "belt" stars are enclosed in a large four-sided figure, the corners being marked by conspicuous stars. At the upper left-hand corner is the reddish Betelgeuse, representing Orion's right shoulder. At the lower right-hand corner is a flashing white sun called Rigel which marks Orion's left foot.
On the old star maps Orion is represented as holding a lion's

Critic Pans High-Rated TV Comedy

NEW YORK (AP) — Television viewers seeking light entertainment on Wednesday nights are not given much choice by the major networks. They can brace themselves for 90 minutes of "The Virginian," a classic Western, on NBC. Or, if they don't dig gunplay, they can turn to ABC for situation comedy, long-playing, "Ozzie and Harriet" and The Patty skin before him and a shield. In his right hand is a club, raised high, threatening to strike the Bull (Taurus) that is charging upon him. Faint stars mark both the club and the lion's skin. Accompanying the Hunter are his two faithful dogs, Canis Major and Canis Minor.

Third place in contest went to Joe Kirkish, Houghton, who used sprawling limbs of a large tree to photograph young couple romping through shaded lane of McLean State Park in Upper Michigan's Copper Country.

placement on NBC is Jack Paar, who could extend his present hour variety show to 90 minutes.
NBC also will cancel "People Will Talk," a complicated audience participation show, next month—and replace it with a game show. The daytime half-hour of ceremonies. The pilot film was made with Arthur Godfrey, who wisely pulled out.

'Hollywood And The Stars'
The idea of making a weekly half-hour series out of old motion picture clips seemed a natural. But as NBC's Monday night "Hollywood and the Stars" has worked out, it appears to be repeating in bits and pieces, material which its producers have used, with greater style and sharpness, in their TV specials of last season.

A report from Mrs. Lucille Treado, Chairman, Marquette City Planning Board was read wherein that Board recommends that a request to rezone Lots 16 and 17 in block 7 of Woodlawn Park Addition be denied, this being spot zoning. On motion of Commissioner Johnson, supported by Commissioner Carlson and unanimously adopted the City Commission postpone action on this matter of rezoning until the Commission can investigate this matter further.
A report from Everett H. Kent, Acting Chairman, Marquette City Planning Board was read regarding a matter of rezoning a parcel of land at the western City limits and informs the Commission of recommend- ed amendments to the zoning ordinance by adding specific details to Section I of that ordinance. Following considerable discussion on this matter it was moved by Commissioner Smith, supported by Commissioner Johnson and unanimously adopted that the City Commission consider the rezoning of a parcel of land extending eastward from the West City limits some 290 feet (more or less) and bounded by Westwood Road and U.S. 41, from General Residence to General Business and directed the Clerk to set a date for a public hearing on this matter of rezoning.
The Commission then proceeded to discuss the matter of amending the zoning ordinance by adding a paragraph described as Paragraph I which would govern the set back of buildings in a General Business District abutting a residential district and providing for an obscuring wall or fence of a specific height and also governing the lighting of a business area of this nature. Following a round table discussion on this matter wherein the Commission unanimously agreed that basically the purpose of this campaign is a worthy one, it was moved by Commissioner Carlson, supported by Commissioner Smith and unanimously adopted that the matter of erecting the flagpole and platform be referred to the City Manager with power to act. It was then moved by Commissioner Carlson, supported by Commissioner Smith and unanimously adopted that the Fraternity members be allowed to solicit contributions throughout the downtown area during this United Marquette Community Chest Drive.
A communication from George T. Bergren, Industrial and Real Estate Commissioner, Soo Line Railroad Company was read wherein he submits standard form agreements granting the City permission to install a water line over and across Soo Line property at the intersection of Hidge Street and the railroad Company right-of-way. Coppers for a Dance Permit to be allowed in conjunction with his 1963 Class B Hotel and SDM License located at 101-105 W. Baraga Avenue, Marquette, Michigan. City Clerk Everett H. Kent informed the Commission that no Class B License exists at that address. On motion of Commissioner Smith, supported by Commissioner Johnson and unanimously adopted that this request be denied.
A report from City Manager Thomas Moore was read regarding bids received for a loader with the back hoe attachment. In his report Mr. Moore concurs with the recommendation of the Superintendent of the Water Department and recommends that the bid of Painter Equipment Corporation in the sum of $12,677.28 be accepted, they being the low bidder meeting all specifications. Commissioner Carlson abstained discussion of this matter because of Section 5.11 (financial interest) of the Charter. Following a question and answer discussion on the matter of the purchase of this piece of equipment the representatives of two companies bidding on this equipment addressed the Commission regarding their respective machines. There being no meeting of minds on this particular matter, the Commission unanimously agreed to continue the discussion of the purchase of this equipment at a later date.
A report from City Manager Thomas Moore was read regarding the relocation of a chain link fence on Center street west of Lynn Avenue. In his report Mr. Moore incorporates the recommendation of the City Engineer to let the contract for the moving of this fence to N. R. Hognisto at a price of $604.20. In his report Mr. Moore also recommends that the Marquette City Commission formally request dedication for street right-of-way purposes a portion of the Marquette County Road Commission property namely: 33 feet of the west 309.9 feet of the northwest quarter of Section 15, Township 48N, Range 23W. This would complete Center Street west of Lincoln Avenue. On motion of Commissioner Fine, supported by Commissioner Johnson and unanimously adopted the County be contacted requesting the dedication of the forementioned property.
The matter of the next Regular Commission Meeting falling on a holiday was discussed. It was then moved by Commissioner Johnson, supported by Commissioner Fine and unanimously adopted that in view of the fact the next Regular Commission meeting falls on a holiday, the meeting be scheduled for 4:30 P. M. on November 7, 1963.
Mayor Rydholm reminded the Commission of the marvelous record set by Miss Norma Ross as an instructor in the school system for a considerable number of years. On motion of Commissioner Carlson, supported by Commissioner Smith and unanimously adopted the City Clerk was directed to draw a resolution of appreciation and forward the same to Miss Ross.
City Manager Thomas Moore read a communication from the Michigan State Highway Commission which was in answer to his letter regarding the petition received for fencing at the overpass on Champion and Alton streets.
There being no other business before the Commission at this time, meeting adjourned.

Credit Stock Buying

The Federal Reserve Board this week clamped down on the use of credit to buy stocks. Effective Wednesday, it ordered that all buyers of stocks on partial credit must put up at least 70 per cent of the price of the stock.

In itself, this action is warranted. The board, concerned over the soaring stock market, is seeking to check speculators and protect the economy.

What is difficult to understand, however, is why the board was so tardy in taking its action. The record shows that stock market credit has increased by 43 per cent in the last 15 months. Certainly, the board was aware of this marked increase long ago.

Hunting Fiction

The deer hunters have been running the biggest, fattest fake in history in the Upper Peninsula, and it's about time it was punctured.

They have repeated so often the statement that "you cannot do any business in the Upper Peninsula in the last two weeks in November because everyone's deer hunting," that it has come to be accepted as fact.

It's fiction. After the first three days of the deer hunt, it's hard to find hunters in the woods. In the last week of the season the woods are a morgue. A deer that wanted to commit suicide would have a hard time finding a hunter to help with the rites.

There's a flurry of hunting on weekends in some areas, but most of the hunters leave the woods after that first big blast at the opening. It is then that most deer are killed. Hunters explain that the heavy early kill results because the deer are less wary then, but another strong factor is the number of hunters in the woods. It's definitely less safe for a deer then than later on — and for a hunter, too!

And yet every club, business and church knows that there's a great cry and hallooing if a meeting is scheduled for the period of the deer hunt. Even people who think a marriage in Lent is OK will balk at a meeting during the deer hunt.

Since very few or none of them will be hunting throughout the season, there must be another reason for the prohibition. Maybe it's just a fine opportunity to shoot a hole in the social calendar and not be blamed for it.

Peninsula Perambulator

In a move aimed at stopping the wave of vandalism at Iron Mountain's Cemetery Park, the city council of Iron Mountain has ordered cemetery gates closed at night. In recent weeks vandals have needlessly destroyed or removed flowers from graves and indulged in other senseless acts.

When a boy, Paul Rhoades of Cooks always wanted a Shetland pony. Today at 70 he is living in retirement on the former George Roberts farm and raises them. Rhoades has owned the Cooks property 20 years and has 41 Shetland ponies of various ages. All of his ponies are blooded animals and registered.

60 Years Ago

—Marquette— The annual influx of outside hunters to the Upper Peninsula is now in full swing, and before the end of the week fully 1,000 of them will have been handled by the South Shore road, via Mackinaw, from Lower Michigan, and will have been safely placed at the various hunting grounds east of Marquette and west of St. Ignace and the Soo. Few of the visitors get as far west as this county, and most of the hunting here is done by the people resident in this region. Seney is one of the favorite stopping places.

—Ispheming— The fire department was called out shortly after 1 yesterday afternoon to fight a blaze in Mrs. McGreevy's dwelling between Pearl St. and Cleveland Ave. On the way to the fire the hook and ladder truck was overturned while rounding the corner at Pearl and First Sts. The horses were going at top speed. The chemical extinguishers were thrown off and the firemen were dumped into the street. Will-—Marquette— A request for immediate state action on a proposal to construct a grade for U.S. 41 on a new route approximately parallel to Lake St. between Hampton St. and a point a short distance beyond the Carp River bridge as a winter work project to help relieve unemployment in the city will be carried directly to the State Highway Department tomorrow by two representatives of Marquette.

Not only lumber from the Upper Peninsula's forests, but also a large tonnage of iron is being used in the construction and equipment of the many Civilian Conservation Corps camps being erected for winter use north of the Straits, it was pointed out here yesterday by H. H. Fellow, sheet metal contractor, and Levine Brothers, plumbing contractors, who are working on contracts at several of the camps.

—Ispheming— Armed with several clues, members of the Marquette detachment of the Michigan State Police today were pursuing their investigation of one of the most daring house robberies to take place in this vicinity for a number of

But it's unfair to the deer. They're already blamed for overpopulating, eating Farmer Jones' apples and avoiding the venison kettle. To be charged with responsibility for voiding two weeks of the year is too much. The hunters are hedging. They can't stand two weeks of deer hunting, but they're glad to stretch three days of hunting into a two-week excuse for avoiding needless meetings.

The book publishing trade is happy about the new practice of publishing "no books." They look just like books, but they're lacking the elements that make up a conventional book — plot, characters, insight, etc. "No books" are pretensions like the memoirs of Debbie Reynolds and Groucho Marx's views on foreign policy. If it weren't for "no books," the book lists would be much shorter.

If we're going to put affairs in order we should add "no hunters" to "no books" among our modern phenomena. They're the fellows who can't attend a meeting after mid-November because of the deer hunt, but who can't be found in the woods.

Christmas Legend

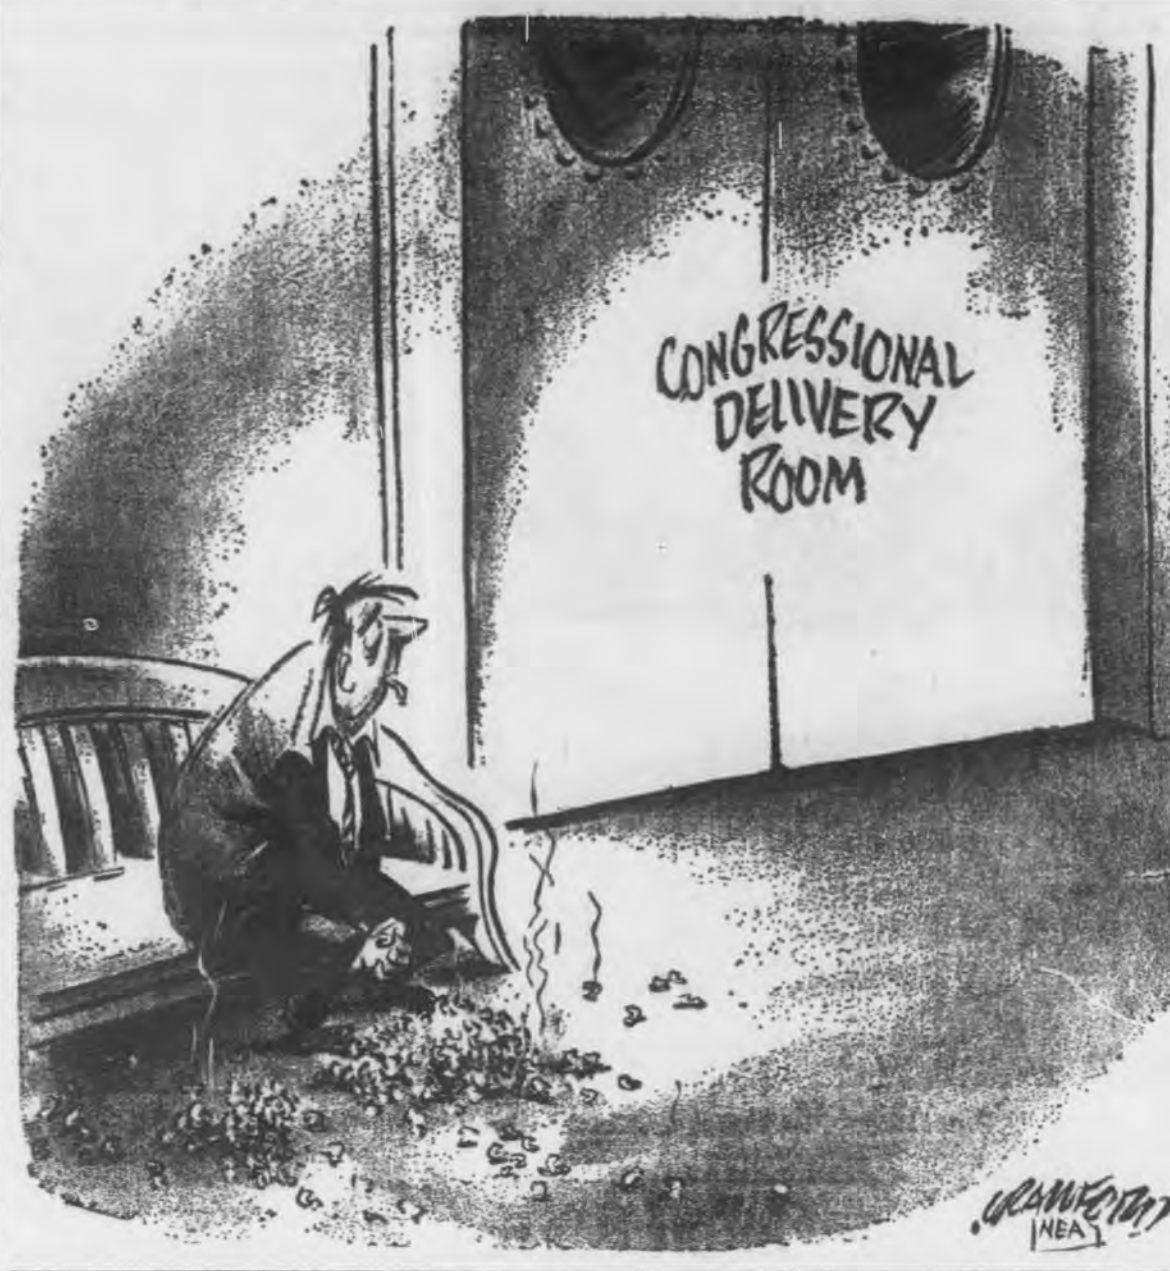

Dear Sir: Recent articles in The Mining Journal prompt me to add my bit. Oct. 30: "Rushing The Yule Season;" Oct. 15: "Yule Season Promotion Meetings Set, Ispheming." Most specifically, the editorial in the Oct. 30 edition, "The Christmas Spirit." This hit me where I hope it hit a lot of others. Not in my pocket-book, but very close to my heart. The last paragraph was very well taken. The final sentence was what made me do some real thinking: "What we need is to build a fire within ourselves which will illumine even the task of Christmas shopping with the light of the meaning of Christmas."

What is the MEANING of Christmas? "Peace on Earth, Good will toward ALL Men." Perhaps we need some tangible reminder of what Christmas really means. In Bethlehem, Pa., the people decided to do this in a very wonderful way. The "Legend of the Christmas Candle" has made a very real impression on those of us who are privileged to witness the legend in real life. Each home on Christmas Eve sets a light in a window. One light alone is so small, but the glow that shines forth as every home puts forth its one light is a sight never to be forgotten. The glow can be seen for miles as you approach this small coal town in the black, dirty, coal country of our United States. Poor people as to worldly wealth? Perhaps. But rich in their knowledge that they have the means of the "light of the true meaning of Christmas." Here is the legend:

Long ago an old shoemaker lived in a cottage on the edge of a village. Although he was poor and had little to share, each evening he placed a candle in his window as a welcome sign for travelers. War came, yet his light never wavered and somehow, in all the village, only the shoemaker was at peace with the world. "But how can peace come from a candle?" they asked. "The candle is a symbol of peace," he replied, "because light and peace are one."

Christmas Eve came, and the people, longing more than ever for peace, remembered the shoemaker's candle. Every village placed a candle in his window, and on Christmas morning, as if by miracle, a messenger brought news of the war's end. The people thanked God and vowed that in remembrance they would always place lighted candles in their windows on the eve of the Christ Child's Birthday.

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's 1964 campaign problems are being spelled out in the liberal revolt against his $11 billion tax cut program in the Senate Finance Committee.

With the liberals snapping at his heels, JFK will find it hard to placate the conservatives with sweet talk about reducing federal expenditures. In the Senate, men like Paul Douglas of Illinois and Albert Gore of Tennessee attack the tax cut bill almost daily as a sop to the rich and as a betrayal of the Democratic party's ancient platform of "social justice."

Indeed, Gore says there should be no tax cut at all, but instead an increase in federal spending on public works and area redevelopment projects, which he says are less costly and more effective because they can be aimed at specific areas where the need is greatest.

Wants Liberal Label Kennedy's approach, of course has been to try to persuade the conservatives that if they go along with a tax cut he'll make the big effort to cut spending. Meanwhile, he has hammered at the theme that the tax cut would give private enterprise the green light to go ahead with expansion plans and obviate the necessity of government spending to bolster the economy.

But Gore et al want the Democrats to go to the country next year as a liberal party, not as a conservative-conglomerate of moderates. Gore is even invoking the name of the party's modern patron saint, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to put pressure on the administration. When the Tennessee cries that the tax bill is a "repudiation" of FDR, Kennedy has to wince. Despite all that jazz about the "new moderation," the mere mention of the Roosevelt name is worth big bags of votes in the hinterlands.

Biggest Benefit To Rich Gore and Douglas are correct when they say the tax bill will benefit the rich man more than the poor man. But this is merely a fact of life, since the rich man pays more taxes in the first place, and any reduction in his taxes will give him more dollars relief.

But that is not the point of the Kennedy tax cut program — and this is politically unfortunate for the President. The point is that by relaxing the tax burden on industry and the rich man, business will expand, more people will be employed, more goods produced and more people will have more money with which to buy those goods.

Most fiscal experts go along with this thinking, but fiscal experts don't have many votes. And it is hard to explain to the average Joe, toiling at a lathe, that putting an extra $100,000 in his boss pocket by a 10 per cent tax cut eventually will turn out to be a good thing for the working stiff.

Raising Exemption Popular Instead, the working stiff is enchanted by such Gore proposals as increasing the $600 personal exemption to $1,000. That represents instant dough in his pocket. Yet people like Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon point out that this not only would cost more than the $11 billion revenue loss in the administration's bill, but would do little if anything to stimulate business investment.

From here in, no matter what happens to the tax bill, Kennedy will be on a spot. If the bill passes without any significant changes, the liberals will sink in their tents. If amendments are voted to give the "little guy" a better break, the conservatives will cry that JFK has neglected the problem of stimulating business expansion. For a President who has been struggling to assume a posture of fiscal responsibility while clinging to the traditions of FDR, this is no fun.

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Cary Grant has decided to learn how to cook.

"Maybe if I learn how to cook, somebody'll marry me if I play my cards wrong," he said lightly.

Got Scout Merit Badge "I once got a Scout merit badge for cooking. But about all I remember now is that you have to cook things longer at a mountain altitude."

"If a man really goes into it, he makes a better cook than a woman. Take Danny Kaye—he's fantastic. My cook is rather jealous of his ability."

Agless Actor As a first step in acquiring culinary skill, Grant is having a modern electric kitchen installed in his hilltop home north of Beverly Hills.

The agless movie actor, who recently completed his 61st starring film, was in a merry mood.

'Star Of Year' Award The evening before had been notable. The Theater Owners of America had presented Cary with their "Star of the Year" award. Two young ladies also had followed him into the men's washroom to kiss him—an impromptu award for which he had no prepared speech or ready ad lib.

Now, the morning after, as he dressed for a luncheon date, Cary pranced around his hotel suite as gay a college sophomore.

Views Of Others LUCKY AMERICANS Whereas Americans must keep only 11 digits in proper sequence when dialing long distance direct, telephone users who wish to call people on a growing European international direct dialing network must keep track of 13 numerals.

David M. Nichol of the Chicago Daily News foreign service discovered recently that he could call his boss in Paris from Bonn without going through a long distance operator. First he had to dial 900 to tie into an international relay in Dusseldorf. Then he dialed the code number for France, which is 33. Next came 0073 for the Paris opera exchange, and last, four numbers for the boss' office.

Americans have another advantage besides the fewer digits to remember. One might make a mistake and dial the code number 205 instead of 206, for instance, and get a person in Alabama instead of a party in western Washington. The accent of the answer would be different, but still it would be understandable English. Imagine the frustration of a Frenchman or a German who made a similar error and got someone on the line with whom he could not communicate at all. Our direct dialing may not be so bad, after all. — Portland Oregonian

Bathroom Baritone

As he went under the shower, he sang "Mother Machree" in a bathroom baritone that would never win him a Metropolitan Opera audition. He emerged a few moments later clad in a white towel.

Time is scattering more and more gray hairs on his head, but he still has the youthful build of a pro football halfback — lean, tanned and muscular.

Meditation On Horseback Asked if he could touch his knuckles to the floor, Cary said he'd never tried, then bent easily down several times and knuckled the living room rug without strain.

"I don't take any regular exercise—I just move around," he said. "And I ride a lot. You can meditate well on a horse."

Tidbits Of Information "I'm credited with living on a strict diet, but I really don't. I just try to please my stomach. I eat whatever I want whenever I want — but sometimes I go two days without eating at all."

As he completed his dressing chores, Cary gave tidbits of information about himself: "I don't believe in luck. People make their own life by setting up their own problems."

"My biggest failing? Talking when I should be listening, I suppose."

Smiling and now faultlessly attired, he left for his luncheon date, looking as much like a matinee idol as he did 25 years ago—still charming and cheerful at 59.

Farewell To Diem Regime

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON — What happened in Saigon was bound to happen, for the tragically simple reason that Ngo Dinh Nhu finally lost all grip on reality, while President Ngo Dinh Diem, though sane enough himself, nonetheless saw the outer world through the half-mad eyes of his brother.

Even in Washington, halfway around the world, it is easy to imagine the climate of the last days and weeks of the Diem regime. As long as two months ago, when this reporter was in Saigon, the army leaders were already beginning to rally around Gen. Duong Van Minh, because they had already concluded that President Diem's government was no longer viable.

Nhu Dared Not Strike Preventively Even then it was clear that if Diem did not take the "needed steps to make his government viable once more," the army leaders would eventually take steps to find a new government. From that time until the grim climax, the preparations for the coup d'etat went forward without interruption, spurred onwards in recent weeks by the cuts in American aid to Viet Nam.

The tension must have been all but unbearable in the last fortnight or so. For by then Ngo Dinh Nhu of course knew that something was afoot, yet dared not strike preventively for fear of causing a counter-strike; while the coup leaders of course knew of Nhu's knowledge, yet neither dared nor desired to turn back. So each side continued without flinching, like mere automata in the hard grip of fate, until the final roar of tank artillery.

This is a sad end. The fashion, nowadays, is to forget the debt owed to Ngo Dinh Diem. Yet Diem alone had the guts to put down the gangster "sets" that the French had used as allies in the Indo-China War. And Diem alone had the sturdiness and determination that assured South Viet Nam's survival in the frat chaotic years. Without Diem, indeed, Saigon today would almost certainly be ruled from Hanoi. The Communists themselves for years expected South Viet Nam to fall to them automatically, like a ripe fruit. They only launched the present civil war when Diem left them no room for doubt that their happy expectations would never be realized.

Hero Of The Breast-Beaters

In those early days, when this reporter was also in Saigon, Diem, the brave nationalist, was the hero of the breast-beaters, and the target for the breast-beaters' indignation were the wicked French colonialists, who then hated Diem. But as breast-beaters always need someone or something to be indignant about, and as the French faded from the scene and only Diem was left, the breast-beaters naturally turned on Diem at last.

In truth, the breast-beaters played a major role in this tragedy, not least because they strongly influenced the first American reaction, when the Communists finally gave the signal for a full-scale civil war. As a sample of the futile twaddle talked in the U. S. embassy in Saigon at that critical moment, it is only necessary to record one fact.

When the war began in bloody earnest, President Diem decided to arm the civil guard, whose members have suffered more casualties by now than any other force fighting the Communists. Yet for months on end, this decision of Diem's met with angry, obstinate American resistance on the singular ground that an armed police force did not conform with the best and highest principles of Asian democracy.

Onward From Folly To Folly

The recent tragedy was directly rooted in that time before President Kennedy imposed more order and realism on U. S. policy in Viet Nam. Ngo Dinh Nhu, in particular, was permanently warped by his memories of the earlier period. He could never take advantage of the new opportunity that was offered to him in 1961 because he could never quite believe the opportunity was real in view of what had gone before. In the conduct of the war, the team of Ambassador Frederick Nolting and Gen. Paul Harkins made great progress. But in the politics of Saigon and in his dealings with the United States Nhu plunged onward from folly to folly, always dragging Diem behind him. And so the end came at last for both Nhu and Diem — the end which might well have been averted by more practical common sense at the outset.

The question now, it must be added, is whether practical common sense or the outcries of the breast-beaters to prevail in Washington. As was unavoidable, the Diem regime has been supplanted by a military junta. Procuring efficient, honest, energetic government from a military junta is not easy at the best of times.

This difficult task will be rendered all but impossible if Washington uses its vast leverage in Saigon to satisfy the breast-beaters by seeking to stage a virtuous comedy of civil government. Creating a workable civil government in Viet Nam is simply not feasible in the midst of civil war. Let the war be won first, as it can be won, and let the Vietnamese settle their own political affairs thereafter. These are the practical rules to follow, whatever the breast-beaters may say.

Congress And Foreign Aid

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's like a gloomy class in arithmetic; subtract, add a little, subtract, subtract. This is the way Congress handles foreign aid, as it did in the past and is doing now.

One thing is sure: The President gets less than he asked. Hostility to the program grows yearly, in and out of Congress, as it has since it started in 1947. Its worst now. The aid in 16 years has gone over $100 billion. Tactics and figures tell the mood and the story.

Quick With The Clippers Last year President Kennedy asked almost $5 billion. The House, always quicker with the clippers than the Senate, cut it fiercely. The alarmed Senate voted more than the House although less than Kennedy requested.

Because the two houses differed, they had to reach a compromise. The result: Congress voted roughly $4.8 billion, or again roughly, $200 million below Kennedy's figure of almost $5 billion.

But—and this is an important point—this was only the starting point. This was just Congress voting its authorization on how much could be spent. It was the ceiling. Congress still hadn't voted a dime for spending.

It had to do this in the next step: Its appropriation bill. Some more pulling and hauling between the two houses, another compromise, and finally Congress voted about $4 billion, or $1 billion less than Kennedy's figure.

Clay Committee Report This year the same problem but with complications because Kennedy meanwhile had appointed a committee of distinguished citizens, headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, to examine the whole foreign aid program and make recommendations.

Last January Kennedy asked $4.9 billion, or almost as much as the year before. But then the Clay committee came in with its report which seemed to suggest, although this all got confused, Kennedy could do with $4.4 billion.

Met With Decision One of the most constant critics of foreign aid in Congress met this suggestion with some derision. This was Rep. Otto Passman, D-La. He said the committee suggestion was "absolutely meaningless."

He observed that Congress "cuts the President's foreign aid request an average of $1 billion each year."

Kennedy, repeatedly quick to compromise when he runs into trouble in Congress, compromised. Bowing to the Clay proposal, he said that instead of asking $4.9 billion he would settle for $4.5 billion. The House got to work.

On Aug. 25 House Republicans and Southern Democrats made Passman a good prophet by voting only $3.5 billion, or $1 billion less than Kennedy asked.

Denounced Republicans Kennedy, as he has before when his own Democrats teamed up with Republicans to give him a drubbing, denounced the Republicans and called the House action "shortsighted, irresponsible, and dangerously partisan."

Even Clay came to his rescue and said such a cut could "badly damage the U.S. position in the free world."

Chilling Coldness This criticism, in view of what followed, may have taken some of the economy out of the Republicans although, besides some outright opposition, there is a chilling coldness in the Senate to foreign aid.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee rejected the House figure of $3.5 billion—the billion-dollar cut—and decided on $4.2 billion, which is $300 million less than Kennedy asked but $700 million more than the House thought right.

But then the committee's bill went to the full Senate floor where a fight has been going on for days to chop the committee's figure. Finally Democratic and Republican leaders got together and decided.

What the House approved was too little but what Kennedy and the Foreign Relations Committee suggested was too much. So the two parties leaders said foreign aid should be $3.8 billion. The fight goes on; the Senate hasn't voted.

Inevitable Compromise If it votes more than the House, there will have to be the inevitable compromise. But, when all that's finished, this will still be just the authorization, or top-limit figure, on foreign aid.

Then the two houses will have to vote the actual money to be spent in an appropriation bill. And, like last year, it may be $1 billion less than Kennedy wanted, which will mean even a smaller total than last year.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am in hot water with a very good friend of mine. I have known for years that he has worn a toupee, which is the only toupee I've ever seen that looks like the person's own hair. I told a group of men at my club that he wore a toupee. (Some were surprised, many were not.) Later, when I saw my friend, he let me know in no uncertain terms that he did not appreciate my telling people that he wore a toupee. I did not mean to be unkind. I simply stated a fact. I didn't think he'd mind. Was I wrong?

in this way? Or am I wrong?
 NOT MOVING
 DEAR NOT: Moving over a seat or two in order to accommodate people who wish to sit together is, in my opinion, so slight an inconvenience that it is rude to refuse.

DEAR ABBY: Three weeks ago my husband died of cancer. I can't find the words to tell you how much I loved him. When it became obvious to him that he was dying, he asked me to promise him that I would not grieve and that I would not let others who loved him grieve over his death. I am 36. It was his last wish that there be no public type funeral. He requested that our minister say a little prayer with only those present who had to do the actual labor in burying him. He did not want me, our children or even his parents to "see" him buried. I promised him and he died in my arms. I discussed it with our minister and everything was carried out according to my husband's wishes. Now, my husband's family and even friends and neighbors are saying hateful things about me. Abby, I thought I was doing the right thing. Did I?

KEEP MY PROMISE
 DEAR KEEP PROMISE:

CHECKING
 DEAR CHECKING: Yes, you should have checked with him first. If he didn't "mind" — why do you think he would wear a toupee?

DEAR ABBY: So often when I am eating my lunch at a counter, two or three people will come in and ask if I would move down a seat or two so they can all sit together. I don't always feel like moving because it involves moving my purse and perhaps some packages. Also, I am usually absorbed in reading something, and I don't like to be interrupted. I used to move without a moment's hesitation, but the more I thought about it, the more I realized that it was just plain rude of people to ask me to move, and I quit doing it. Now when I refuse the request, everyone in the place (especially the waitresses) glare at me as though I were the rude one. Why do strangers feel it is owed them to be accommodated

Yes, have no regrets.
 CONFIDENTIAL TO WILLIE: Some bachelors do change, but it's not a natural process. It usually takes a good woman to change them.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

ANCIENT SCROLLS

The Dead Sea scrolls, discovered in 1947, are at least 1,900 years old, according to every test of modern science, including carbon-14 dating. Except for a few previously discovered fragments, these Biblical works antedate oldest known Hebrew manuscripts of the Old Testament by 1,000 years.

Potatoes Nutritious, Economical To Serve

By MRS. INGRID BARTELLI
Consumer Marketing
Information Agent, Michigan
State University

My family feels they don't have a complete meal set before them unless cooked potatoes are included. I'm glad about that because I know my crew will not only have that "satisfied feeling" when their meal is finished, but they will also have met much of their nutritional requirement for the day—most of their vitamin C and much of their iron, vitamin B1 and niacin requirements, besides traces of most of the remaining nutrients.

I'm not worried about my family putting on weight when they eat potatoes because I know there are no more calories in an average-sized cooked potato than an apple, orange, banana or half a grapefruit. For those who are watching their weight, I try to control the amount of fat added in gravy or dressing for the spuds. Actually, the calorie content of a potato is far less than its nutrient contribution of iron, vitamin B1, niacin and vitamin C. Every calorie you eat in the form of potato more than pays its way in nutrient contribution. This is an important key to being well-nourished. Be sure that the nutrient contribution of what you eat is greater than the calorie content.

Another reason I'm so happy my family enjoys potatoes in their meals is their economy. What other major food items could I purchase for as little as two or three to six or seven cents a pound?

There are so many interesting and different ways to prepare potatoes. Each year I marvel at the ingenuity of our "cooks" in the Upper Peninsula when they compete for honors in the potato cook-off at the U.P. Potato Show. If you're interested in new recipes for potatoes, I'll be glad to mail to you the recipes of the competitors in the cook-off this year. Send your request to Mrs. Ingrid Bartelli, MSU U.P. Extension Center, P.O. Box 719, Marquette.

Potato Show Winners
Among the baked goods recipes there is one for cheese potato bread submitted by Mrs. Dominic Novara of Kingsford, a Polish dish called "Maja Haulski" submitted by Mrs. Kenneth Olson of Sagola (one of the top winners), several variations of rolls submitted by Mrs. Viljo Macki of Luce County, Mrs. Ruth Nara of Hancock, Mrs. William Olson of Gladstone and Mrs. Howard Bolduc of Marquette. Mrs. Walter Olson of Crystal Falls was another winner with her prune horns.

You'll also enjoy the potato puffs from Mrs. Roland Sloat of Iron River, the potatoes supreme casserole by Mrs. William Letts of Marquette, the fresh carrot stuffed baked potato from Mrs. Joseph Grzybowski of Bark River, the carrot-potato wafers submitted by Mrs. Jack Fenton of Hancock and the potato-soup skillet supper by Mrs. Rena Cornell of Luce County.

Mrs. Bessolo To Take Part In St. Louis Meeting

Mrs. S. James Bessolo, Neaunee, president of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, has gone to St. Louis, Mo., to participate in the 50th anniversary meeting of the Mississippi Valley Conference of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, now in session. She will take part in a panel discussion with presidents of the other state federations in the conference — Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska, Ohio, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri.

Climaxing the conclave will be an address by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Also attending the conference from Michigan is Mrs. Zajo Woodford Schroeder, Grosse Pointe, general federation chairman on legislation and attorney for the Michigan federation.

St. Peter's Group Elects '64 Officers

The ladies of St. Peter's Altar Society elected officers for 1964 at a meeting Monday evening. The official slate was presented and accepted as follows: Mrs. Burt Carlston, president; Mrs. Barbara Sweeney, vice president; Mrs. Dwyer, recording secretary; Mildred Bral, treasurer, and Mrs. Leo Bruce, membership chairman.

Rev. Casanova Honored At Farewell Party

The Very Rev. Msgr. A. L. Casanova was honored at a farewell party recently by the parish members of St. Christopher's Catholic Church. A miniature representing Msgr. Casanova, flanked by six white tapers, was a main attraction at the party held in the parish hall. He was presented with a purse as a token of gratitude for his many years of service at St. Christopher's. St. Margaret Mary's Circle hosted the event. Lunch was served from a rose centered table with silver services.

Reception For Rev. Capizzi Held At Sawyer

The Rev. Joseph L. Capizzi, newly assigned chaplain at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, was officially welcomed to the parish at a reception Tuesday in the chapel annex. Among the 75 who welcomed Fr. Capizzi were the Rev. B. P. Karpowicz, the Rev. Arthur Erickson, the Rev. Frank Metcalf and the Rev. Owen Hope, O.M.I., a missionary priest from Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Homemaking Tips

Plain baked custard becomes extra special when it's served with a topping of spiced whipped cream. Adding a suspicion of nutmeg and cloves to the sweetened cream does the trick. Always use cornstarch, rather than flour, to thicken the gravy of a chinese dish. Cornstarch gives the smooth, glossy and clear finish that such a sauce or gravy needs. Mold grated carrots and crushed pineapple in orange gelatin and serve, accompanied by crisp greens and mayonnaise, as a salad. Dipping fish filets in lemon juice before broiling adds flavor.

Concert Series Starts With Canadian Ballet In Fine Performance

By ALLAN S. COLES
Of The Journal Staff

ISHPEMING — The 1963-64 Ishpeming Concert Series got under way last night with a tremendous sparkle and success, as the National Ballet of Canada played to a nearly full house of delighted concert-goers.

The troupe demonstrated a facility for versatility and artistry, combining disparate types of ballet to form a program as varied as this reviewer has ever seen, performing with spirit and high ability.

Delightful Opening
The evening's performance opened with the truly delightful "One in Five," with music by the Strausses and choreography by Ray Powell. The number combined elements of comedy, pantomime and descriptive dance in a pastiche designed to entertain and amuse the audience, and was carried off very well to good audience reaction.

This was followed by pas de deux from "Don Quixote," the music by Minkus and choreography by After M. Petipa. Although the dancing was not particularly impressive, due to a lack of finesse and grace, the entire effort was successful to a degree, benefiting from the typically light music and the obvious efforts of Martine van Hamel and Lawrence Adams to infuse the performance with a liveliness and grace that was late in coming.

It should be mentioned here that the lack of precision and timing which was apparent in the early segments of the program were quite probably due to the effects of the long bus trip which the troupe made to Ishpeming, arriving a bare hour and a half before curtain time. The stiffness resulting from the trip soon disappeared, and the ability of the dancers shone without hindrance after the first two presentations.

Highlight
The highlight of the program from the musical/choreographical standpoint was no doubt the third number, "Judgment of Paris." Anthony Tudor has done a magnificent job of choreography in this piece, blending the ironic music of Kurt Weill with a setting which penetrates the musical content to its heart and uses it symbolically, resulting in a powerful but light drama in dance.

It would be hard to overstate the quality of either "Judgment of Paris" or the performance given by the dancers... it is easy to see why the piece has taken critics by storm and why it is such a valuable part of the troupe's repertory.

The first intermission was followed by "Concerto Barocco," a piece of contrast which was of great interest, as it combines the baroque music of J. S. Bach with the modern choreography of George Balanchine. The dance patterns reflect to a great degree the structure of Bach's

"Concerto in D Minor for Two Violins," with asymmetrical, sometimes surrealistic patterns underlining the contrapuntal line of the music.

Violinists Excellent
The violinists, Victoria Polley and Louis Sherman, did a wonderful job, providing a warm, full interpretation of the score in close conjunction with the dance. The marriage of Balanchine's choreography with Bach's music is highly successful and the 11-member group of dancers did a beautiful job with the weaving, shifting patterns invented by the choreographer.

The successes of "Judgment of Paris" and "Concerto Barocco" were followed by a third highlight of the program, as Galina Samstova and Earl Kraul thrilled the audience with their performance of Pas de Deux from "Le Corsair." The music is by Riccardo Drigo, with choreography by Robert Klavin, and is in turn liting, romantic and dashing. The dancers did a magnificent job, demonstrating a grace and flowing strength that all but eclipsed the performances of other dancers in the program. The Western world is indeed fortunate to have Miss Samstova, and Kraul's exuberant power and natural flow of emotion make him an excellent partner.

Capped
The program was capped with "Les Rendez-vous," a ballet divertimento with music by Frederick Ashton. The score is light and pretty, and the company danced through the various segments of the piece with a lightheartedness and grace which does them all credit. The small stage hampered movement to some extent, as it did in "Concerto Barocco," but the performance did not seem to suffer to any significant extent. "Judgment of Paris," "Concerto Barocco" and the performances of Miss Samstova and Earl Kraul stick in one's mind as the highlights of the program, and the high level of performance by the members of the company in these varied pieces did more to demonstrate versatile ability of the company than did anything else.

The overall performance of the troupe was amazingly fine, considering the size of the stage, which considerably forestalled movement, and one wishes for the opportunity to see this company on a large stage with a full range of sets and props.

It was a highly enjoyable and successful evening, and kicked off the Ishpeming Concert Series in fine fashion. It is a shame that the house was not full, from both financial and esthetic standpoints, for I am sure that I would not have missed it for anything. Thank you very much, Mr. Quaal.

City Seeks Stop-Go Light For Dangerous Intersection

ISHPEMING — Emil Aho, chairman of the traffic safety committee in the City of Ishpeming and a member of the Ishpeming City Council, last night called for action to relieve a dangerous condition at the intersection of U. S. 41 and Second St.

"We are deeply concerned over the excessive number of accidents at this intersection and feel that pressure must be applied to the State Highway Department to alleviate this problem at this particular site," he told the city council at a regular meeting.

Aho read a letter from Police Chief Frank Sarvello concerning this area of the city in which 18 persons were injured in auto accidents within the last year. Nine persons were injured this week.

Sarvello pointed out that 10 accidents have occurred at this intersection since Jan. 1, 1963. The city's request for a stop-go signal was turned down by the State Highway Department.

City Orders Grader For $21,500

ISHPEMING — The City of Ishpeming approved purchase of a Caterpillar 12-E grader from the Brebner Machinery Co. last night, although the price was $1,900 above the lowest qualified bid submitted by the Bark River Culvert & Equipment Co.

The council agreed on purchase of the grader at a cost of $21,500 after hearing an opinion by the city grader operator and the public works superintendent that, "after weighing all factors concerned, the grader from the Brebner Machinery Co. would be most suitable."

Ishpeming's grader operator pointed out that the Caterpillar model has been used in Ishpeming for several years and proved to be an efficient piece of equipment.

Although Bernard Draskowsky, a representative of Bark River Culvert & Equipment, elaborated on qualifications of a Galion T-500 grader which was priced at $19,600, the council followed the recommendation of the public works department.

Thieves Get Cash, Goods At Covington

COVINGTON — State police from L'Anse are investigating the breaking and entering of two Covington business establishments and the attempted entering of a third earlier this week.

The Covington Oil Co., owned by Eino Makela, Covington, was entered sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning. Makela reported the theft of at least four boxes of candy bars, flashlights, potato chips, cigars and approximately $16 in change, taken from his cash register.

The thieves gained entrance to the building by breaking through two windows in the basement level garage and reaching through the broken panes to unlock the door.

Also broken into Monday night was the Watton Co-op at Covington, owned by Reino Nurkkila. A board on the side of a shed which covers the stairway leading to the basement was broken out to permit the entry. Nurkkila told officers an undetermined amount in pennies, nickels and dimes had been stolen, adding he was unable to state if any merchandise was missing without taking inventory.

In addition, an attempt to enter the Seppala IGA store in Covington was made the same night. Officers said two ladders had been moved to the rear window and an attempt made to remove the store window. Apparently the thieves also tried to get into the basement by breaking a window, but were unable to gain entrance to the building.

State police officers noted a similarity in the method of operation between these three cases and the breaking and entering of the Coast-to-Coast store in L'Anse early Sunday morning. At that time thieves stole over $200 of merchandise, including two saddle guns, two pairs of expensive leather hunting boots, two hunting jackets, two hatchets, wool socks and a valuable hunting knife.

An intensive investigation of the four crimes is continuing.

Alger C-C To Promote 'Rocks' Bill

MUNISING — Developments on the Pictured Rocks park proposal, in particular the economic survey conducted by Michigan State University, were discussed at a regular meeting of the board of directors of the Munising Chamber of Commerce.

A committee was appointed to select a slate of officers and board members, where necessary, to be ratified at the annual meeting in January.

Regarding the Pictured Rocks park proposal, the board agreed that the chamber will concentrate its efforts to keep alive interest and enthusiasm being generated for the proposal.

The chamber, acting as an agency representing the people of Alger County, hopes to expedite approval of this project and plans to obtain expressions of opinion from all C-C members. A correspondence campaign to keep residents of the county aware of all developments is under way. The chamber also will act as a clearance house for all interested individuals, whether for or against the proposal.

The Grand Marais Chamber of Commerce has been active in this matter, and the Munising chamber plans to work closely with it.

State Police Dog Helps Nab Convict

MUNISING — Eddie E. Slone, fugitive from Camp Cusino, was nabbed at 9:40 yesterday morning by two state police troopers and the state police dog M-77 in the Seney Wildlife Refuge, just west of Germfask.

After being seen by an unidentified motorist on M-77, the state police dog, Rip; John Rohwetter, trooper in charge of the dog from the Marquette post, and Robert Ruohonen, Munising trooper, went to the area and apprehended Slone.

The two troopers and the dog waited until Slone approached their hiding place. He started to run, but they threatened to let the dog loose. He then surrendered without resistance.

Slone was returned to Marquette State Prison, where he was placed in segregation, pending prosecution on prison break charges.

He will be tried in Alger County since Camp Cusino is located in this county. Later he will be transferred to the reception center at Jackson State Prison.

Besides losing his trusteeship, Slone also will lose all the "good time" he has acquired since his imprisonment. Prison Warden Raymond J. Buchkoe stated.

He was sentenced last Aug. 2 from Calhoun County to two to four years for larceny from a building and transferred to the Upper Michigan prison camp program last Oct. 2 from the Lower Michigan camp program.

Need For Change Shown In Water Department Report Given By Munising Manager

MUNISING — At its meeting Tuesday, the Munising City Commission accepted bids for fuel supplies, approved City Manager Richard Larsen's recommendation for appointment of a city treasurer, received a detailed report of the water department and was brought up to date on activities of the Community Building project.

The commission also ordered City Attorney Charles Stark to prepare necessary papers for the purchase of the Ed White property, located on the west side of the city adjacent to the city water tank. City water lines also cross this land.

The purchase price agreed upon is $3,000, with $1,000 to be paid down and $1,000 a year with no interest.

Hill Named Treasurer

After reviewing six applications for the position of city treasurer, Larsen recommended Kenneth I. Hill for the office on a part-time basis at a salary of $1,000 a year.

In the Community Building project report, it was estimated that young people of the city had worked a total of 1,277 hours, Junior Chamber of Commerce members 80 hours, Lions Club members 60 hours and Paper Mill Union members 75 hours. Contributions for the center have been received from Kimberly-Clark Corp., cost of cement floor; Lions Club, ceiling tile and lumber; and Rotary Club, electrical material. Miscellaneous items donated include refrigerators, stove, juke box, lamps, tables and rugs.

Four dances have been held for teen-agers, and cooperation from parents and teen-agers alike has been good, Larsen pointed out.

Water Department Report

The special report of the water department gave members of the commission a complete picture of that division of city operations. Larsen noted that revenues in the department amounted to $35,199 in 1958 and $36,256 in 1963. Expenditures for the same two periods were $24,840 and $33,435, respectively. In 1958 with a contribution from the general fund of $9,734 there remained a deficit of $2,913. However, for the first six months of this year, without a handout from the general fund, the deficit amounts to $18,530.

Those facts outline the problem facing the City of Munising, Larsen said, adding: "Briefly, revenues have been deposited in a water receiving fund account as collected; operating expenses for these years have been below actual water sales, with the past year's margin only $12. This small margin is due to the rough winter experienced here in Munising. Contributions to the debt retirement fund have far exceeded available remaining balances, and no money has been available for improvements, extensions, enlargements or major repairs to the water systems."

Excessive Loss

For the first quarter of 1963 water pumpage amounted to 142,186 gallons, water billed to customers for the same period was 64,310, free use and loss due to the faulty system totaled 77,876 or 54.77 per cent of the total amount of water pumped. This condition has prevailed in Munising since 1955, Larsen pointed out. It is not too unusual for a loss factor to vary from 10 to 20 per cent in a year if logical explanation can be given, he said. However, a loss factor of 30 per cent or greater is excessive and should not be allowed to continue.

Reasons for the conditions outlined by the city manager are:

- The city water tank is leaking badly and should be drained, welded and inner lined.
- Known water loss in the system exists in some areas of swamp type soil.
- Approximately 62 homes are unnumbered and 101 have plugged meters. The occupants are paying their water bills on undetermined water usage.
- Approximately 101 meters should be replaced within the next year.
- Approximately 280 meters should be replaced within the next five years in addition to the more urgent replacements.
- Approximately 695 lineal feet of six-inch, 482 lineal feet of four-inch and 826 lineal feet of two-inch or less water line should be installed or replaced.
- Nine fire hydrants should be either repaired or replaced.
- Approximately 783 lineal feet of new six-inch water service should be installed to more adequately serve residents of Munising.

The cost of the above installations, replacements and repairs was estimated at $29,040, Larsen asked the commissioners to study his report and determine whether a rate study should be made, and whether the manager or a consultant should make this study.

A special meeting of the commission will be held Tuesday, Nov. 19, at which time a youth commission will be ap-

Legion Post Membership Drive Opens

NEGAUNEE — With appointment of a special committee to direct its membership drive, the Negaunee American Legion Post has its enrollment campaign for 1964 well under way, Commander Marshall Phillips disclosed today.

Phillips, committee chairman, pointed out that the drive will place special emphasis on 1954 as the 45th anniversary year of the American Legion, which was founded in 1919 by veterans of World War I.

The local post is joining nearly 17,000 community organizations of the Legion throughout the nation and in several overseas countries in the world's largest annual membership enrollment campaign every undertaken by a veterans' organization.

"In order to devote as much time and effort as possible to our community service programs, we are planning to have the bulk of our annual membership drive completed by the middle of the month," Commander Phillips said. "We are accepting dues payments for the coming year now from those Legionnaires and eligible veterans who like to be known as 'early birds' as our early membership enrollment in Negaunee will help the Michigan Department in its bid for 'early bird' honors."

The post has a membership goal of 211 for 1964. Veterans who saw service in World War I, World War II or the Korean War and who reside in Negaunee, Palmer or Negaunee Township are invited to join the local post.

Boy Scout Fund Drive In Baraga To Begin Friday

BARAGA — The annual fund drive of Hiawathaland Council, Boy Scouts of America, in the village and township of Baraga will begin this Friday.

Chairman and solicitors have been selected and will make calls on homes and business places. The drive is expected to be over the early part of next week. A spokesman expressed hope that response will be generous as funds are needed to carry on the work of the council in promoting better Scouting in the area.

There are two units in the township, Pack 219 and Troop 219, serving some 50 Cubs and Scouts.

Elston Howard Named Most Valuable Player In AL; First Negro

BOSTON (AP) — Elston Howard, the take-charge catcher who spurred the hobbled New York Yankees to a fourth straight pennant, became the first Negro ever named the American League's Most Valuable Player Thursday.

The National League MVP has been a Negro 11 times in the past 15 years.

Howard amassed 245 points to 148 for runner-up Al Kaline of Detroit. The versatile backstop drew 15 first-place votes and was named on all 20 ballots cast by a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

a .287 batting average. The 6-foot-2, 205-pounder paced AL receivers with a .994 fielding average, was fifth in the league with 28 homers and eighth in runs batted in with 85.

"When something like this happens, it makes baseball worthwhile," said Howard from his Teaneck, N.J. home into which he has just moved. "This is the greatest. You know, I was offered 35 or 40 college scholarships when I was in high school. I'm not sorry about choosing baseball, not now, especially."

The son of a New Madrid, Mo. high school principal, the 33-year-old Howard was master of the big, timely hit throughout the season.

Howard, who led the Yankees at bat against the Dodgers, got four of his five hits off Koufax, spoiling Sandy's bid for a no-hitter in the opener, and fanned only once against the strikeout king.

Perfect Game

Pictured above is M Sgt. Shorty Henderson of K. I. Sawyer, who rolled a perfect 300 game Sunday night in the K. I. Sawyer Mixed Doubles Bowling League. Henderson, bowling on the Henderson & Simmons team, actually had a string of 16 strikes, from the tenth frame of the first game he bowled through a perfect second game and into the first frame of his third game. It was Henderson's third 300 game since 1960. He has been bowling in league competition for nine years, and carries a current average of 193. The 300 game was the first ever recorded at the base bowling alley. (USAF photo.)

Close Wins Seen In Hoop Action

ISHPEMING — Although scores were held down Tuesday night in the Ishpeming Independent Basketball League, some close games were recorded.

In the first clash of the evening, Mike's Texaco edged Allied Movers, 52-50, on John Marietti's bucket with five seconds remaining in the game.

Also aiding Mike's cause were Paul Oja and Richard Marietti, who dropped in 15 points apiece. Dave Anderson led the losers with 14 points.

DeRochas suffered their first defeat against sharpshooting Selin's squad by a 40-38 count as Junior Aytte raced in for a score just before the final buzzer. Loren Bess racked up 12 points for Selin's, while Fred Body accounted for 12 for the losers.

Woody's gained a 51-40 win over Harper Motors as Werner Maki struck for 18 points. Marvin Koski of Hooper's had eight points.

Next week, DeRochas will play A & C in the first clash. Hooper Motors will meet Mike's in the second, and Woody's will confront Selin's in the finale.

In 66 years of intercollegiate football, Wyoming has won 216 games, lost 247 and tied 24.

Negaunee Roundball League Play Begins

NEGAUNEE — Regular basketball league play began Tuesday night in the Negaunee High Gymnasium with three games being played. The league, consisting of eight teams this season, plays Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

In the first game, Prudential Insurance outlasted the Palmer Mets to take the win, 55-48. Ray Ranta's outstanding floor game contributed greatly to his team's victory.

Bosch Beer was soundly trounced in the second encounter by a determined Hotel Bar team, 44-26. Putting up a strong defense which held their opponents to just 14 points for three quarters, the Barmen coasted to an easy victory. Ron Wigg led both teams with 17 points. The irony of it all was that Bosch Beer was given credit for a win because of a violation of league rules by the Hotel Bar.

In a well-played game, Boosta's Sport Shop defeated a well-balanced Herby's Bar team, 40-32 in the final contest of the evening. The smoothly-operating squad from the Base could not find the scoring range and had to settle for second best, but in dropping this contest served notice to the rest of the league that they would be the team to beat. Bruce Stevens dropped in 19 points for the defending champs and Bob Burkhardt had 10 points for Herby's.

FORT WAYNE WINS — Fort Wayne scored three goals in the third period to beat Muskegon 6-5 Wednesday night.

It was the Komets' first victory in three International Hockey League games. The Zephyrs suffered their fourth loss.

Tobin Rote AFL Player Of Week After 53-7 Rout

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobin Rote showed the kids how the game is played Saturday when he passed for 369 yards and three touchdowns and scored once in San Diego's 53-7 rout of the New York Jets. If that doesn't make a man Player of the Week in the American Football League, what does?

Rote's bailout man, John Hadl, was the first AFL star a few weeks back but there was no need of any help against the Jets. The 35-year-old quarterback, a pro since 1950 at Green Bay, Detroit and Toronto, completed 21 of 29 passes.

Detroit fans never will forget how Rote stepped into the quarterback job in 1957 after Bobby Layne was forced out with a broken leg. Tobin led the Lions to a 59-14 rambler over Cleveland in the NFL championship game.

Rote probably will be in another title game Dec. 22 because his San Diego team leads the Western Division of the AFL by 1 1/2 games with a 6-2 record and six to go.

Bob Suci, Boston defensive back, should get an award for the most satisfying moment of the week. Released by the Houston Oilers in the final cut, the second-year pro from Michigan State made an interception and ran 98 yards for Boston's fourth touchdown Friday night in a 45-3 shocker over Houston.

Needed No Help — Rote's bailout man, John Hadl, was the first AFL star a few weeks back but there was no need of any help against the Jets.

Michigan Works On Air Game — ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan football team, not satisfied that its passing attack is seven times better than it was a year ago, worked on its aerial game in Wednesday's practice.

Junior Bob Timberlake was throwing to his ends and halfbacks as the Wolverines polished their offense for Saturday's encounter with rugged Illinois.

Three Each — Timberlake and Bob Chandler each has thrown three touchdowns this season and one TD aerial is credited to Frosty Evashevski. Last year, Michigan scored just one touchdown by passing.

Michigan's main concentration continues to be on defense, however. The Wolverines expect trouble from Illinois' powerful runners at Champaign, Ill.

Bettor Collects Record Winnings — WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph Mariano, a once-a-week bettor from Waterbury, Conn., won $79,660.30 on the twin double at Roosevelt Raceway Wednesday night, the biggest twin double payoff on record.

Sinatra Opens First Golf Tourney Today

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Frank Sinatra's first golf tournament opened today on a course that has so many driving hazards it may be condemned by the National Safety Council.

On the average golf course, there may be out-of-bounds markers on four or five fairways. But at Canyon Country Club, scene of the $50,000 Sinatra Open, there are markers on 17 of the 18. And the one that has no out-of-bounds has a lake on one side.

Unintimidated, 136 professionals set out today on the first round of the 72-hole event, the 42nd of 43 tournaments on the 1963 PGA tour.

Obviously, the course favors the man with a consistently straight drive. And among those in the field with this competence are Mason Rudolph, Al Geiberger, Jay Herbert, Tommy Bolt, Bill Casper Jr., Doug Sanders, Billy Maxwell, Dow Finsterwald and Gay Brewer.

But the four-day tournament will not be just a driving test. The greens at Canyon Country Club are enormous. One, No. 4, is 192 feet long — nearly two-thirds the length of a football field.

Will Need 276 — Sponsor Sinatra, who has been playing golf regularly for about 2 1/2 years, figures it will take a 276 to win. Par is 71, and 276 would be eight under.

Seventeen of this year's top 25 money-winners are in the field. Among those absent are Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros and Gary Player, who rank first, second, third and fifth in earnings, in that order.

The big name among the older players here is Sam Snead, who doesn't often get this far west. Sam hasn't won a PGA tournament this year but ranks 17th among money-winners with $28,109.57.

Dodgers Could Have Won Flag By Big Margin

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As soon as the Dodgers won the World Series in four straight, general manager E. J. (Buzze) Bavasi said:

"If they had played this well all year they would have won the National League pennant by 30 games."

"And I believe him," said Charles Dillon (Casey) Stengel. Figure out also the odds against those two fish being caught, 14 days apart, by the same angler.

Michigan State has an even 1,200 yards rushing. The full-back import from Hawaii has 450 of these yards — more than a third of the total.

With passing quarterback Steve Juday gone, it is figured State will have to depend more and more on the running game against Purdue this Saturday and from now on in.

Lopes made his yardage on 92 carries. Lewis, second with 321 yards gained rushing, has 60 carries.

Many-Named Lopes Punches Out Third Of Spartan Yards

EAST LANSING (AP) — "The Big Moose" ... "Pineapple" ... "The Hawaiian Punch" — these are some of the nicknames given Michigan State's Roger Lopes.

There's a saying that if a fellow has a lot of nicknames, you can be sure people like him. The Spartan coaches and players sure like Roger.

While the opposition has been intent on defending against the spectacular sprinting of Sperm Lewis, Big Roger has been punching away for some amazing yardage.

Kramer Runs In Practice For Vikings

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Tight end Ron Kramer ran without signs of any trouble Wednesday as the Green Bay Packers got down to serious work in preparation for Sunday's National Football League meeting with the Minnesota Vikings.

Kramer, who missed last Sunday's 33-14 victory over Pittsburgh because of a knee and ankle injuries, romped through the drill and indicated he will be ready for the Vikings.

Starr Working — Quarterback Bart Starr, who suffered a broken bone in his right hand in St. Louis Oct. 20, continued to work out while wearing a splint to protect the injury. He tossed the ball on the sidelines. Starr is scheduled to have the hand examined later this week.

Pistons Snap Loss Streak; Boston Wins

(By the Associated Press) Make it seven in a row for Boston in the National Basketball Association in their usual manner, and make it six in a row for St. Louis in an unusual manner.

The Hawks did it with missed foul shots. The Celtics remained unbeaten behind a brigade of double figure scorers, overwhelming Cincinnati's Royals 139-121 Wednesday night. The Hawks, however, needed every point they could get in a 112-110 victory over Baltimore.

They got them from the foul line, making 22 of 24. And the two that missed were tapped in by Zelmo Beaty for two-points. That little extra was the margin of victory.

Michigan State worked on pass defense in practice Wednesday night, particularly on rushing the passer. The Spartans will fly to Lafayette, Ind., Friday afternoon in advance of the meeting with Purdue.

Sam Jones was high for the Celtics with 28 points while Tom Sanders contributed 19 and Willie Naulls 16. Oscar Robertson was tops for the Royals with 24 while Jerry Lucas added 20 and pulled down 19 rebounds, the same as Boston's Bill Russell.

Dave DeBusschere's sprained ankle took most of the joy out of the Boston victory. The former University of Detroit basketball star was injured in the fourth period.

Without Howell — The Pistons already were playing without forward Bailey Howell, who jammed a finger in a game last weekend. Coach Charley Wolf estimated DeBusschere's injury may keep him out of action for two weeks.

The costly injuries came as the Pistons pulled themselves out of the NBA's Western Division cellar. The victory over the 76ers, Eastern Division tail-enders and the only team Detroit has been able to beat this season, was the Pistons' first in four Convention Arena outings.

Besides being named MVP for the year because of his expert play in the backfield, Radcliffe was chosen team captain, was selected for the first team of the All-Great Lakes Conference squad and was an honorable mention back in the U. P. selections. Radcliffe was a Mustang star on both offense and defense from the halfback position. The trophy was presented at an annual letters awards program recently. (Dick Hallfax photo.)
