Japanese Leftists Use 2 Disasters As Political Issue

TOKYO (AP)—Leftist cries of government neglect and the smell of funeral incense hung heavily over Japan today as bereaved families arranged services for more than 600 persons killed in a coal mine explosion and triple train crash.

Socialist and Democratic Socialist politicians seized on the double disaster as a major campaign issue in national parliamentary elections only 10 days off.

The leftists held Premier Hayato Ikeda's conservative government responsible for the tragedies, charging the accidents resulted from the government's "one-sided policy to protect monopoly capitalist classes" at the expense of workers' lives.

The coal dust explosion in the mine at Omuta, on the southern island of Kyushu, killed 449 miners, injured about 450 and left 7 unaccounted for, the Mitsui Mining Co. said. Police said, however, they had counted 452 bodies.

The train wreck six hours later and 600 miles to the north killed 162 persons, including William Scott, 28, of Colorado Springs, Colo., who was studying in Tokyo. At least 70 were injured.

Two persons were injured today in another train wreck. A slow-moving passenger train ran into another passenger train that had halted half a mile out of the Hiroshima station.

Full Responsibility Although the pressure was on Ikeda, the president of Japan National Railways, Reisuke Ishida, said he was accepting full responsibility for Saturday's disaster and would resign.

Both leftist parties announced Masons Have Big Chicago Breakfast

CHICAGO (AP)—More than 12,800 Masons and their families ate breakfast in McCormick Place Sunday in what was described by officials as the biggest breakfast ever served under one roof.

Bishops Renew Debate

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Bishops at the Vatican Ecumenical Council argued anew today over reform of the Roman Curia and split sharply on a new issue: whether aged bishops should be forced to resign their sees.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, alluding to a flareup that occurred in the council Friday when a German cardinal called for basic reform of the curia's Holy Office, told the 2,300 council fathers that they had no power to propose modifications or corrections in curia procedures.

Warning The question of curia reform and the suggestion for bishop retirement provisions came as a draft schema on "Bishops and Diocesan Government."

At one point in the debate, Carlo Cardinal Confaloni of Cologne, Germany, brought the matter to a head Friday when he denounced the Holy Office and called for its revision.

Joseph Cardinal Frings of Cologne, Germany, brought the matter to a head Friday when he denounced the Holy Office and called for its revision.

LANSING (AP)—Republican State Committee Chairman Charles Harmon has accused his party's state chairman of "begging for Democratic votes to pass an unnecessary tax."

Plane Takes Photos Of Cuban Kidnaping

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A slow-moving, unarmed Coast Guard patrol plane defied guns trained on it by Cuban militiamen and scored a major propaganda victory over the Fidel Castro regime.

Photographs taken by the crew of the twin-engine amphibious plane showed the world a Cuban raiding party kidnaping 19 refugees from Anguilla Cay, a desolate British island 40 miles off Cuba's north coast.

Photos showed a Russian-built helicopter on the ground and two Russian-made PT-type boats speeding from the island with the refugees aboard. One photo showed three men in one boat with their automatic rifles aimed at the U.S. aircraft.

Catching the Cubans in the daylight raid is regarded by the Coast Guard's Miami Air Station as the most exciting thing that has happened since Castro came to power.

Hatchet Man Role For Goldwater?

ST. CLAIR SHORES (AP)—The Republicans may be using Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to do a pre-convention "hatchet job" for the party's real candidate for president in 1964, says Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich.

"Hate, Vilification" In a speech Sunday, Hart also charged the Republican leadership with encouraging a campaign of "hate and vilification" by the radical right.

"By then the damage we have been done. The tenets of the right wing may well have set the tone for the elections of 1964."

Nixon Seen As Possible Darkhorse

NEW YORK (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower sees Richard M. Nixon as a possible darkhorse candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

"Now if there should be one of those deadlocks at the national convention . . . I think (Nixon) would be one of the likely persons to be examined and approached because he is after all a very knowledgeable and a very courageous type of person."

Not Available Nixon, vice president under Eisenhower for eight years, was not available for comment.

He has said repeatedly he has no interest in running again for the presidency. He lost to John F. Kennedy three years ago.

Eisenhower noted Nixon's statements of disinterest when he appeared on the Columbia Broadcasting Co.'s "Face the Nation" program.

News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Everett M. Dirksen and George A. Smathers were confident the economy will continue operating in high gear even if there is no tax cut until 1964. Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, and Smathers, Florida who is secretary of the Democratic Conference, agreed in an interview that there is no economic downturn in sight.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will hold a news conference at 11 a.m. (EST) Thursday, the White House announced today. This will be Kennedy's first morning news conference since March 6.

Slain During Fight On Way To School

A 14-year-old Marquette boy was fatally stabbed in a fight with another boy before school this morning.

Victim was William ("Billy") Erb, the son of State Police Trooper and Mrs. LaMar A. Erb of Lakewood.

He was stabbed by Michael DePietro, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel DePietro, 540 Bluff St. The boy was being questioned by police officers this morning but most questioning had to be delayed until his parents could be present.

Taken To Hospital The stabbing occurred between 7:15 and 7:30 in front of a home on Ohio St., just west of Third St.

Billy Erb was dead on arrival at St. Luke's Hospital. He was taken to the hospital by John Perault, a school traffic officer who stands duty at the corner of Third and Ohio Sts.

Dr. R. Leonard Carefoot, county medical examiner, was performing a post mortem this morning. "It looks as though he was stabbed through the heart," City Police Sgt. Michael Dooley said.

Fight Started Friday "This fight actually started Friday. In fact, the two boys were involved in a fistfight in school Friday and the fight was broken up by a teacher. The boys then agreed to meet this morning and fight it out," Sgt. Dooley said.

Investigating officers were not sure what the boys were fighting over.

Questioning Witnesses "Apparently it started this morning as a fistfight. However, the DePietro boy had a knife, and one thing led to another," Sgt. Dooley said.

The knife was a low-cost Swedish-made hunting knife, which was carried in a sheath. The blade was five to six inches long.

At least one adult and several students witnessed the stabbing. Officers were questioning witnesses this morning, but they had not yet questioned the school traffic officer and did not know if he was on duty at the time of the fight.

Native Of Kalamazoo Investigating the stabbing are city and state police officers, sheriff's officers and the juvenile division of Marquette County Probate Court.

William R. Erb was born Nov. 18, 1950, in Kalamazoo. He was a resident of Lakewood for three years and was a student at the Gravenet Junior High School.

He was a member of the Southern Baptist Church, Harvey.

Guards Nab Inmate In Escape Attempt At Jackson Prison

JACKSON (AP)—Southern Michigan Prison guards said today they caught Elmer Crachy, 36, attempting a prison break Saturday night from his cell in Block 15.

Crachy, serving a term for burglary from Van Buren County, was one of four prisoners who were recaptured after escaping from the prison last April.

Prison guards said they found Crachy using a hacksaw in his latest attempt.

Negro Set To Enter Primary

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Zuber, a Negro leader in the fight against Northern school segregation, has announced he will enter the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary as an independent.

Zuber, an attorney, said at his home in Harlem Sunday night he wants to provide a forum for the expression of Negro views.

During the past five years, Zuber has become an expert in de facto school segregation—created by housing patterns. He has won school integration cases in New York City and New Rochelle, N.Y.; and Englewood and Newark, N.J., and is fighting a similar suit in Chicago.

Two Students Plan To Launch Satellite

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—In this day of billion dollar space budgets, two junior college students with begged and borrowed rockets and instruments say they are on the verge of becoming the first private individuals to launch an earth satellite.

They had a dress rehearsal of their balloon-lifted scheme in the Nevada desert Sunday and the two backyard scientists reported everything A-O-K.

2 Hunters Wounded; 13 More Lost, But Located, In Peninsula

Two more hunters were wounded and 13 others became lost, but were subsequently located, as the deer hunting season in the Upper Peninsula (west of M-77) entered its third day today.

There have been no hunting fatalities reported in the U. P. so far, with all three gunshot accidents being non-fatal. However, three hunters have died of heart attacks in the woods.

The 13 hunters who became lost over the weekend increased the season's total to 15. All have been located. (Two were lost Friday night, on the eve of the season, and were located Saturday.)

Meanwhile, the Michigan Conservation Department's regional office here reports that hunting conditions throughout the U. P. are "good to fair," with the only snow on the ground being in Gogebic County. The temperature is between 35 and 40 and skies are overcast over the balance of the region.

John Kampinen, Marquette, regional dispatcher for the department, said most roads are still in good shape, although some are becoming slippery.

22 Deer Recovered
The legal kill is normal to light in most areas, with the illegal kill being heavier than usual, with 22 illegally killed deer recovered in the region so far, compared to 11 last year. There have been 138 arrests this season, as against 117 last year at this time.

Kampinen reported that 329 deer and five bears have been transported southward across the Mackinac Bridge up to 8 this morning, compared to 254 deer and five bears last year.

Six permits have been issued to carry deer through Wisconsin.

Hunters Should Register
Fifteen emergency messages have been delivered by conservation officers to hunters in the region. State police also are delivering emergency messages, and all hunters have been urged to register with one of the departments before going hunting.

Heart Attack Deaths
Dead from heart attacks were the following hunters:

1. Stanley Phillips, 64, Waukegan, Ill., who succumbed at 11 Saturday morning in Grant Township, Keweenaw County.

2. Everett Clouse, 46, Lake Orion, who was found dead by his brother in a pickup camper truck, in Bay de Noc Township, Delta County, yesterday.

3. Joseph M. Yalacki, 49, Grand Rapids, who was found dead at 2:05 yesterday afternoon, in the woods, 3.1 miles east of M-94 and near the Floodwood Road, Sagola Township, Dickinson County, after he had shot a bear, dressed it and began walking for help.

Hunting Accidents
Newest gunshot victims are: Curtis C. Nelson, 23, Manton, who was shot by a hunting companion, Marvin W. Powell, 24, also of Manton, in Germfask Township, Schoolcraft County, at 4:30 Saturday afternoon.

Stuart Salters, 33, New Haven, who was shot by a hunting companion, James Sposato, 29, Waterford, while they were riding in a car headed for town, in Cornell Township, Delta County, at 2 this morning.

State police said Nelson was struck in the upper right arm by a .308 rifle, in dense cover. The trigger on Powell's gun caught in some brush, discharging it, officers said.

Nelson was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, Manistique.

State police said Sposato pointed his rifle to the floor of the car and pulled the trigger, with the blast going through Salters' right foot and into his left foot. He was reported in "fair condition" today in St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba.

Lost Hunters
The reports of lost hunters for the region follow:

1. Oscar Miller, 42, Battle Creek, became lost at 11 Saturday morning, three miles north of Osear Lake, in Felch Township, Dickinson County. He was located at 8 Saturday night by a lumberjack and taken to Ishpeming.

2. Lost in the same area was Elton Brandt, 18, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, who was the object of a search by state police, sheriff's officers and conservation personnel, before walking out of the woods, yesterday.

terday. He had been lost since 1 p.m., Saturday.

3. Also lost in the same area, after dark Saturday, was Dick Kay, 22, Houghton. State police used the penetrator (the siren type unit whose signal can be heard three or four miles) to contact him. Kay walked out the next morning.

4. Edward Funk, 32, Muskegon, became lost Saturday while hunting in Bergland Township, Ontonagon County. He was located at 9:04 yesterday morning.

5. Ollie Bigley, 50, Ecorse, became lost at 4 Saturday afternoon and was guided out of the woods by use of the state police penetrator at 10:25 yesterday morning. He had been lost in Garden Township, Delta County.

6. Archie Cyrr, 63, Clauson, became lost north of M-28, off the Driggs Road, in Seney Township, Schoolcraft County, yesterday and was located at 7:30 last evening.

7. Lost in the Cole Creek area, near Au Train Lake, since 3:30 yesterday afternoon was Neil Rinj, 15, Detroit. He was found at 7 last evening.

8. James Ranta, 19, Route 1, Negaunee, became lost at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, five miles away from M-35, near the Charley Lake Road, and walked out of the woods by himself later in the day.

9. Thure Johnson, 63, of 20082 Fair Ave., Marquette, became lost in Ishpeming Township, off the Little Puck River, near County Road 510, yesterday, but walked out by himself after dark.

10. Three Marquette hunters, Frank Kallio, 42, and his son, Bob, 17, of 251 Alger St., and Bruce Bestie, 15, of 355 Alger St., became lost at 2 yesterday afternoon in the Nick Segan slash area, Onota Township, Alger County, and walked out of the woods at 8 this morning.

Searched All Night
Searching parties had looked for them through much of the night, with the state police penetrator being used in an effort to locate them.

11. Hilding Stenson, 65, Detroit, became lost in the Kelly Lake area, eight miles southwest of Baraga, at 7:45 yesterday morning. He was located at 11 last night, on a freshly cut logging road, about two and a half miles from a camp owned by his brother, Theodore. He had built a fire and heard the state police siren.

Pair Lost
HOUGHTON LAKE (AP) — State police helped two Grand Rapids area men and a boy to safety today after the trio became lost while hunting and spent the night in Dead Stream Swamp northeast of Lake City.

The Houghton Lake Post reported a trooper with a walkie-talkie met Calvin Smith, 24, his 7-year-old son, Clifford, and companion Benny Green, 24, and guided them out of the woods.

State police contacted the trio about 1 a.m. today by electronic megaphone and answering gunshots by the hunters but were unable to locate them until daylight.

Why College Presidents Get Gray

CHICAGO (AP) — Why college presidents get gray:

There will be 40 per cent more high school graduates in 1965 than there were in 1963.

A larger percentage of those graduates will go on to college. Ninety percent of the American public believes all boys should go to college, 77 per cent believes all girls should.

National defense and space science threaten to dominate the campus scene, at the expense of the humanities and arts.

Meeting
These facts, figures and opinions are being discussed at the annual meeting of the Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. The 97 institutions represented enroll 27 per cent of all the nation's college and university students.

William C. Eckerman of the University of Michigan told the meeting Sunday night a national survey indicates 96 per cent of the public believes a college education is more important now than it was 30 years ago. Survey Still Underway

Fr. Hofmann Dies At 60 In Hancock

The Rev. Frederick L. Hofmann, pastor of St. Anne's, Chassell, since June 1954, died yesterday morning in St. Joseph's Medical Center in Hancock. He was 60 years old.

Solemn funeral services will be held in St. Anne's Wednesday. Burial will be made in the Portage Township Cemetery. The body will be in the church from tomorrow afternoon until 11 a.m. services.

Chicago Native
A native of Chicago, he was ordained at St. Mary of the Lake Seminary, Mundelein, Ill., in 1928, and came to the Marquette Catholic Diocese in 1939.

He served as an assistant at St. Mary's of Wakefield, St. Sebastian's of Bessemer, St. Gregory of Newberry, St. John's, 1941-42 and as administrator or pastor of Holy Rosary in Grand Marais, St. Anthony's of Gwin, St. Mary's of Rockland, St. Stephen's of Loretto, St. Mary's of Hermansville, St. Mary's and Holy Family in Atlantic Mine and South Range, but spent the major part of his Upper Peninsula tenure in Chassell, where he was administrator at St. Ann's from 1943 to 1948, in addition to the past nine years as pastor.

Heve the most important thing about such an education is "training for a good job." The next most often quoted reasons for going to college were "social acceptance" and "getting to know the right people."

The survey, by Michigan's Survey Research Center is still under way. Final tabulations will be reported next summer.

Even those who approve of college education—in general had some criticisms, Eckerman said.

Three Ticketed, Six Cars Damaged In City Accidents

Three motorists were issued tickets and six automobiles were damaged, but no one was injured, in four traffic mishaps which occurred in Marquette during the weekend.

Two injuries resulted in five shipping area accidents (see story on Page 10) and another wreck occurred on County Road 550 (see other local traffic accident story). Results of the city mishaps follow:

1. At 11:35 last night a car being driven east on Baraga Ave. and being turned right into S. Front St. by Shirley B. Patzer, 35, Detroit, struck an automobile traveling south on Front and being operated by Janice L. Shorkey, 18, of 344 Genesee St.

Minor damage resulted to the right front of the Shorkey car, a 1958 fourdoor sedan, and to the left front bumper of the Patzer vehicle, a 1959 fourdoor sedan. Both vehicles were driven from the scene under their own power.

Mrs. Patzer was issued a ticket by city police for a right-of-way violation.

2. An automobile being driven west on W. Magnetic St. by Gary W. Jordan, 20, Pontiac, went out of control at the N. Eighth St. intersection, smashing into the curbing on the south (left) side of the roadway. The smashup occurred at 3:05 yesterday morning.

Both left wheel and wheels on the car, a 1959 two-door sedan, were damaged and the vehicle had to be removed from the scene by a wrecker.

City police issued Jordan a summons for failing to have his car under control.

3. At 11:50 Saturday morning a car being driven away from the curbing by Michael R. Roberts, 23, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, bumped into a truck being driven west on W. Washington St. by Laudy W. Harrison, 54, Flint, in the 200 block.

City police issued Harrison a ticket for a right-of-way violation. The right side of Harrison's 1962 pickup truck and the left front fender of Roberts' 1961 two-door sedan were damaged. Both cars were driven from the scene under their own power.

Roberts was ticketed by city police for a right-of-way violation.

4. An automobile being driven west on W. Washington St. by John M. Robertson, 21, of 1003 W. Bluff St. was struck on the right side by a car passing him on the right in the Fourth St. intersection.

The other driver didn't stop. Minor damage resulted to the right front fender of Robertson's 1963 sedan. The accident was kept open for investigation.

Army statistics show that inductees today are an inch and a quarter taller and 18 pounds heavier than the doughboys of the First World War.

Ford Mill In Big Bay Seen As Tourist Site

Henry Ford's sawmill at Big Bay will buzz again, but with tourists instead of saws, according to Robert Lyons, Big Bay owner of the property.

The sawmill, located on the shore of Lake Independence, once fed Upper Peninsula lumber to the Ford body plant in Kingsford, but it's been inactive since 1951.

The mill property is now planned to be the site of a cultural center and part of the Superiorland recreational facilities.

To Begin Next Summer

Immediate plans for Superiorland are concentrated on the development of the Marquette and Huron Mountain Railroad Co.'s facilities, including steam locomotives and a renovated line between Marquette and Big Bay.

The facilities will be leased to Thunder Bay Recreations, Inc., for operation of a tourist railroad and railroad fan club, scheduled to begin next summer.

Long-range Superiorland plans are centered around the tourist railroad, with a Frontierland development in Marquette and an Alpine Village high-class resort and cultural center in Big Bay.

Thunder Bay Recreations, Inc., has been granted an option to purchase the 17 acres of the Ford mill property adjacent to the village of Big Bay from the owner, Robert Lyons. This property, at the western end of the sawmill location, is intended as the site of the Alpine Village cultural center.

Under the agreement with Lyons, a restaurant, marina, stable and hotel would be constructed on 25 acres of the sawmill property owned by Lyons.

According to the agreement between Lyons and officers of the recreation and tourist company, final plans for use of the property must be made by April 1, so that construction may proceed in 1964.

Year-Round Operation

All of the facilities planned for the sawmill property would be in keeping with the Alpine Village motif, Lyons said. Except for the marina, operations on the sawmill property would be year-round.

Lyons said that the existing Ford shop building would be enlarged and converted to a middle-class lodging facility. He explained that in contrast to the deluxe tourist facilities planned for Alpine Village, this hotel would appeal to the middle class family.

The agreement also calls for the construction of a fancy small-boat marina on Lake Independence. The marina would enclose approximately one acre of water area and would boast 600 feet of docking space and an adjoining service building, Lyons said.

450 Seat Restaurant

Also planned is a restaurant with a seating for 450 persons in the main, family style dining room. An adjoining wing would include a steak house with a seating capacity of 220 and a rathskeller, Lyons said.

Major form of transportation planned for Alpine Village is horse-drawn conveyance and a stable would be built on the Ford mill property to service the entire village, he said. The stable would have housing for 50 horses with conveyances, including multiple-seat buggies.

Area residents say they'd hate to lose the Big Bay landmark, which ice fishermen use as a sighting point for the location of fishing holes.

However, Alpine Village developers are faced with the problems of justifying the existence of a 196-foot chimney in a Swiss village.

Lyons said that the development of the chimney as a lookout tower, with an exterior, glassed-in elevator car, is under consideration.

City's Crews Set For First Big Snowstorm

Snowstorms are not a taboo subject in Marquette by all means, but most residents prefer not to talk about them until the time comes to pick up the shovel to clear the walks. However, the snow plowing crews here can't wait until the first big storm comes to prepare themselves and their equipment for that inevitable event.

70 Miles

"We're all ready to go when the first snowstorm comes," Public Works Superintendent Howard L. Coppens said today.

The public works department has the he-man job of maintaining the city's 70 miles of streets and keeping them drivable during the winter.

Of the department's 39 employees, an average of 15 men work directly on street maintenance, winter and summer, he said.

Almost as soon as the last trace of snow melts from the ground in the spring, public works department personnel begin repairing the department's snow removal equipment in preparation for the next onslaught of snow.

Coppens said that the department's winter-duty equipment maintenance program has been completed, sand and salt boxes have been installed on trucks, and salt and chloride is being stockpiled.

Mild Weather Helped

This fall's mild weather has been a boon for the public works department, Coppens said.

"Some falls we've had to hurry to get snow plowing and curb markers for fences up at the last minute," he noted. "Because of the good weather, we've also been able to put the gravel streets in better shape for winter."

Two of the department's trucks have permanently attached

ed sand and salt boxes. Portable boxes have been installed on the other trucks.

Portable Units Efficient

"We hope to be able to purchase more of the portable-type sand and salt units next year," Coppens said. "They're more efficient, safer and more economical."

In the newer units, the material is agitated in the box, but the two old units require a man on the "cat walk" to poke the sand or salt out of the box, Coppens said.

Grand Stockpile

As soon as the snow comes, the department's power shovel will be moved from the gravel pit to the city's sand pit near the No. 2 power plant. A gravel stockpile at the Wright St. warehouse is used for gravel needed during the winter months.

"Later on in the winter, about January or February, we'll begin to stockpile sand so that it can be mixed with chloride at the pit," Coppens said. When it gets very cold the sand just blows away when it is dumped on the hard-packed snow and ice, so we mix it with chloride to partially melt the hard surface and hold the sand down."

Some New Units

Salt and chloride are now being stored at the department's warehouse on Wright St.

The public works department's fight with the snow will be aided this year by two new trucks purchased last year, Coppens said. However, the department also operates with trucks which date back to the 1930s, including one 1933 model.

Snow removal equipment includes two Sno-Go units for blowing snow which are operated with 1949 and 1936 model trucks.

Heavy Duty Trucks

Heavy duty plowing units with all-wheel drive include eight trucks, 1955, 1937, 1935 and 1939 models, plus 1951 and 1956 units and the two 1963 trucks which are equipped with both plows and underbody scrapers. These heavy plows are used only during the winter months.

The department also has three two-wheel drive plowing units equipped with underbody scrapers. These plows are used for light snowfalls of up to four inches and also can be used during the summer months.

There also are three sidewalk plows, two 1957 models and a 1959 unit.

Sealcoating Program

"When the snow melts next spring we'll reap the benefits of our sealcoating program," Coppens said. This summer the public works department launched and completed a large portion of a two-year sealcoating project to preserve the city's streets.

The most troublesome blocks on the city's streets were sealcoated this year, Coppens said. "Usually we have one crew working steadily on street patching, but since we finished sealcoating this summer we've only had to do sporadic patching. This means that crew is available for constructive work, rather than repair work," Coppens said.

"Our sealcoating program is very much appreciated by the citizens. I've had numerous telephone calls from people and the department even got a thank you card."

Construction Projects

Until the snow flies, the public works department is continuing with construction projects, he said.

This week crews will work north of W. Fair Ave. and west of Lincoln Ave., making streets in which a storm sewer is being installed passable.

Bi-Partisan Meet Set On Tax Reform

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney, replying to Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, is inviting the Democrats to "have as much information as possible" on tax reform background prior to Tuesday's tentatively scheduled bi-partisan meeting.

The Republican chief executive made the suggestion in a letter Sunday in which he replied to and agreed with some of Lesinski's Saturday comments.

"The people," Romney said, "are more interested in results than in maneuvering for credit or blame. I hope our joint meeting Tuesday will be fruitful."

'Only Now'

This was an apparent rejoinder to Lesinski's charge that Romney has sought Democratic help "only now" for his tax reform program after he had "failed" to pass it without Democratic aid.

Denying this, Romney said the Democrats had been given repeated invitations since last June to talk taxes with Republicans.

The exchange of weekend letters came as Tuesday's proposed meeting hung in the balance.

Party caucuses tonight hold the answer to the tentatively programmed Tuesday meeting between the Romney group and Democratic leaders.

'Needed Now'

Romney prefaced his "credit or blame" comment by saying "tax reform is needed now. It is attainable now if you and your Democratic associates are willing."

Lesinski had told Romney he felt the Democrats would support a tax reform program which would include a state income tax but at the same time exclude any local income tax.

This was one of five objectives which Lesinski listed as essential to any program including a 2 per cent flat rate personal income tax and a 3 1/2 per cent income tax on corporations. It bars cities from levying income taxes against industries but not against individuals.

Difficult To Justify

Romney told Lesinski he found it difficult to justify a higher state income tax that would aid local communities as against a program including local option.

"Experience shows," he said, "that relatively few communities have demonstrated need for the revenue which the higher state tax would produce."

Lesinski's letter did not mention specifically a higher state income tax than proposed.

'Hypocritical'

On Lesinski's proposal for "adequate funds" for schools and mental health, Romney said he agreed with the lieutenant governor that it would be "hypocritical" for the Legislature to pass a tax reform program now and come back to the voters next year for more money.

On other points, including tax relief for the beer industry and for elderly citizens on property, Romney repeated previous statements.

Anchorage is the largest city in Alaska.

2 Squadrons At Sawyer Win Plaques

Two squadrons assigned to the 410th Bombardment Wing at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base have won plaques for their top finishes in the 40th Air Division Commander's Management Program.

The two, the 410th Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron and the 69th Munitions Maintenance Squadron, won in competition with their counterparts at the other division bases.

The competition was for the July-September quarter.

Given By General

Brig. Gen. John A. Roberts, division commander, presented the two plaques to Col. Frederick R. Ramputi, wing commander, at a division commander's conference at Selfridge AFB, Mich. Clemens, recently, Ramputi, passed the plaques on to the winning squadrons.

Lt. Col. Joseph J. Knofczynski accepted the armament and electronics maintenance squadron plaque and Capt. Robert Adams received the munitions maintenance squadron plaque.

Cooler Weather, With Rain Or Snow, Due This Week

Cooler temperatures and snow flurries or rain showers are in store for Marquette area residents most of this week.

There were traces of rain yesterday and early this morning and these occasional periods of precipitation were typical of what will occur throughout the week, Meteorologist Roland Wendlick, said today.

If temperatures are cold enough, the rain showers will turn to snow flurries. This is most likely to happen during the evening and early morning hours, he said.

Ground Temperature Warm

However, there isn't expected to be enough snow this week to make good tracking for the deer hunters.

"The forecast doesn't call for any snow that would cover the ground. The ground temperature hasn't been cold enough to hold snow, although it might be cold by the beginning of next week," Wendlick said.

A mixture of rain and snow was falling this morning at the Marquette County Airport in Negaunee Township, where the temperature was 36 degrees, at Calumet, where it was 38, and at Ironwood, where it was 33.

Most of the snow and rain showers in this area this week will occur along the south shore of Lake Superior, Wendlick said.

'Low' Over Lake

The cooler trend began yesterday. The temperature started to drop at 8 yesterday morning and this morning the mercury had varied only about two degrees from the 40-degree mark, the reading at noon yesterday.

Wendlick explained that a low center situated between Lake Superior and Hudson Bay is pushing cold air across Lake Superior, where the air picks up moisture. In addition, a high pressure area moving southward from Western Canada will keep temperatures down.

Above Normal Readings

Saturday the extreme temperatures were 49 and 40, averaging 45, which was eight degrees above normal. Yesterday's extremes were 46 and 40, for an average of 43, seven above normal.

Rainfall over the weekend totaled .18 of an inch Saturday and a trace yesterday.

Long-Range Outlook

Temperatures are expected to average near the normal extremes of 40 and 29 during the next five days. The cooler trend is expected to last through Wednesday, with slightly warmer temperatures Thursday and Friday and cooler temperatures again Saturday.

Precipitation during the next five days is expected to total one-fourth of an inch, in frequent periods of light snow or rain.

TWTWTW Adds Spice To TV Diet

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television - Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Fonda, host of Sunday night's NBC special, "That Was The Week That Was," explained that the hour was designed to help the audience "keep your thumb on the nose of the news."

And for 60 minutes a group of talented performers poked fun as just about every topical target in sight, from Charles de Gaulle to debutante parties. Some of the sharpest satirical thrusts were directed at American politics.

On behalf of his squadron, Major Robert L. Feldscher, commander of the 69th, was not here the day of the presentation.

Scoring Basis

The division program scores various areas including airman retention, ground safety, weight control, physical fitness, among others.

The 69th has won the division plaque each time it has been given in the last 15 months. Knofczynski's unit has won it every time it's been given in 1963.

Man Badly Injured In '550' Crash

A Marquette man was critically injured and his car was wrecked in a traffic smashup which occurred at 1:50 yesterday morning on County Road 550, in Powell Township.

State police said Kenneth Randolph Peterson, 28, of 523 E. Hewitt Ave., Marquette, was driving south on Road 550 and lost control of his automobile on a left curve, about two and a half miles north of the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad Co. crossing.

Condition Critical

Officers said his car went off the right side of the highway, smashing into and severing a big pine tree.

Peterson suffered head and severe internal injuries and was taken in the Marquette city ambulance to St. Luke's Hospital here, where his condition this morning was reported as being critical.

The tree fell onto some power lines leading to Big Bay when the wreck occurred, disrupting electrical service to the village, state police said.

The car, a 1957 convertible, was practically demolished, state police said, and had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

City Firemen Called Out Two Times

Marquette's fire department was called out twice Saturday, but no serious damage resulted in either instance.

At 9:30 a. m. firemen were called to the Cliffs Dow Chemical Co., off Presque Isle Ave., where a boxcar loaded with charcoal caught fire.

Spontaneous Combustion

Six city firemen responded to the call in the Nos. 2 (1,000-gallon) and 4 (750-gallon) pumps and they and the plant's firemen put out the blaze. City firemen used the booster hose off the No. 2 pumper.

The blaze was blamed on spontaneous combustion. Damage was minor. City firemen returned to the station at 9:55 a. m.

City firemen also were called out at 11:50 p. m. to the Superior Trailer Court, Choccolay Township, where an oil space heater in a trailer owned by Robert Carmen became overheated.

Blondeau is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Blondeau.—(Mining Journal photo.)

Two In Next Draft Call For County

Eight Upper Peninsula counties will provide 28 of the 662 registrants required for induction into the Army during December. Announcement of the next month's quotas was made today by State Selective Service headquarters in Lansing. Marquette County's quotas for December will be two draftees. This week the county sent four men to the regional induction center in Milwaukee for induction and 11 others registered with the county draft board went there for pre-induction physical examinations.

Following are the other U.P. counties' listed with quotas for December: Alger, two; Chippewa, eight; Delta, six; Gogebic, four; Houghton, three; Menominee, one, and Ontonagon, two.

No quotas were listed for Keweenaw, Baraga, Iron, Dickinson, Schoolcraft, Luce or Mackinac Counties.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Meteorologist William R. Chassee, 40, assigned to the U. S. Weather Bureau here, was the best weather forecaster in the United States for 1962.

He was named the top forecaster among 274 weathermen competing in the national bureau's practice forecast program for 1962.

The program calls for temperature and precipitation forecasts on 24 U. S. cities. Chassee was off by as little as 1.7 degrees for a 12-hour

Cavanagh Wants Split Of Surplus

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit vows he will fight for a city share in a state surplus which he says could reach $130 million next year if Gov. George Romney's tax program is adopted.

The mayor said Saturday his estimate was based on personal study of the program and in talks with University of Michigan economist Harvey A. Brazier. Cavanagh, who opposes parts of Romney's tax reform plan, took issue with the Governor's prediction that there would be a $25 million surplus in the state treasury by the end of the current fiscal year next July 1.

under the proposal the state sales tax on food and drugs would not be cut off until June 30. Cavanagh says this would give Michigan a non-recurring bonanza for six months of up to $70 million. The mayor also says Romney's advisors are $10 to $15 million low on income tax revenue projections, because they were based on 1960 federal income tax returns. "Flat Year" "We know that 1960 was a flat year economically," Cavanagh said. The snowy or white owl of the arctic is one of the few owls that hunts by day.

Buck Bag

The Mining Journal's traditional deer season "Buck Bag" column will be printed daily again this year. It will contain "news in brief" items of those hunters who have successfully filled their 1963 licenses and other bits of information related to the deer season.

Persons in the Marquette area may call 226-6594 to report their luck. Those in the Ishpeming area may call 486-4401; those in the Negaunee area may phone 524-3855; and those in the L'Anse area may phone 524-3855; and those in the Munising area may phone 387-3010. Items also may be mailed direct to the Buck Bag, The Mining Journal, Marquette.

Frank Taccolini, 947 Pine St., Negaunee, dropped a 160 pound doe at 11 a.m. Sunday near Ralph in Dickinson County. It was the second deer he has shot since he has been hunting. Louis F. Taccolini, 719 W. Ridge St., Marquette, who was hunting with his father, Frank, near Ralph, shot a 170 pound, eight point buck, his first, at 7:45 a.m. Sunday.

Financial Scene: Job, Price, Profit Links In U.S. Noted

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Jobs, prices, profits and business growth plans — all are tied in some degree to the slow but steady whittling down of the nation's idle production capacity. The gap in recent years between how much of its resources an industry was using and how much it would like to use — almost never 100 per cent, as you might think — has been credited with: —Holding down prices because of the competition, to the joy of the consumer, but to the frustration of a company plagued by rising operating costs. —Crimping profits in ratio to sales. —Keeping business spending more modest than the planners would like if economic growth is to hit a pace that will make enough more jobs to trim the unemployment rolls. Activity And Optimism Most industries are closing the gap between activity and the optimum use of the facilities they built in the middle and late 1950s. But some are slipping a little. On the average, industry still has room for improvement.

How much of their capacity various industries are using, compared with the operating rate they prefer is plotted in a survey by McGraw-Hill publishing company's department of economics.

The optimum rate isn't 100 per cent because machines, like people, get the sniffles and have to be repaired or checked, and because the oldest equipment or plant rarely is the most profitable to operate.

Paper, Pulp Industry
The highest preferred rate is 97 per cent. In the paper and pulp industry, actual usage is 94 per cent, a nice climb from the 89 per cent at the end of 1962.

Textiles, operating at 95 per cent of capacity, are within one point of the most profitable pace of 96 per cent. Petroleum and coal products, at 93 per cent, are crowding the 95 per cent optimum. Autos, trucks and parts have climbed to 90 per cent, against a 96 per cent preferred level.

For all manufacturing the average optimum is 92 per cent and current usage 85 per cent.

Boosting Sales
Business confidence in boosting sales next year is strong enough to lead manufacturing companies to plan an average addition of 4 per cent to capacity. The survey says this calls for an outlay of $40.7 billion, but the increase over 1963 would be smaller than in recent years. The majority of the spending will be for modernization rather than additional plants.

Better Child Health

In Marquette County, early childhood is no longer as hazardous a time of life as it once was. A child born here today has a much better chance of getting through his first year successfully than do those born in most other communities.

After passing the first milestone, the average local child may look forward to another 67.6 years of life, if a boy, and to 73.8 years, if a girl.

The dramatic gains in child health and longevity are attributed to the advances made by medical science in controlling infectious diseases. Other contributing factors have been the progress made in health and safety education and the improvement in the general standard of living.

The findings are contained in the latest report by the U. S. Children's Bureau, based on data gathered from all parts of the country. It shows that, in Marquette County, the loss of children in the first year of life has been relatively low. There were 12.6 such deaths locally for every 1,000 live births in 1960. Not included were stillbirths or deaths of non-residents.

By comparison, the infant mortality rate in the rest of the United States averaged 26.0 per 1,000 births, and, in the State of Michigan, 24.1.

Spectacular victories have been chalked up locally over the four principal childhood diseases — measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough — and over poliomyelitis. Influenza and pneumonia have also fallen off, but they are still causing much trouble.

In the matter of infant mortality, the United States, despite its great gains, stands no better than 11th among 15 leading nations, according to statistics compiled by the United Nations. The Netherlands and Sweden have the best record, with 15.3 deaths per 1,000 live births. Germany is last, with 29.2.

In Marquette County, there has been a drop of 57.8 per cent in the infant mortality rate within a period of 12 years, the government report shows. It is a greater improvement than that recorded in many areas of the country. The United States drop amounted to 18.7 per cent and that in the State of Michigan to 19.7 per cent.

In the field of child health, major efforts are still necessary to cope with the physical and mental disabilities and impairments that occur so frequently.

Californian Writes

Dear Sir:

I'm cashier in a large restaurant here in Alhambra, Calif. A few weeks ago I got to chatting with a couple that came in for lunch. Come to find out, they were formerly from Ishpeming. They said they receive The Mining Journal from a party in Los Angeles after he reads them. So now your paper has a welcome reader in myself also.

I was formerly from Kingsford. I was drafted into the Army and took my physical at Marquette in 1945. My aunt and uncle live in Marquette. I spent my happy hours in your city, and two years ago when home on visit I did get to Marquette to see all your wonderful tourist spots.

Marquette made the large Los Angeles radio and TV stations with its recorded low weather reports Sunday and Monday here.

My brother, Les Kangas, song writer and publisher in San Gabriel, Calif., has had a write-up in your paper and is currently writing songs for the Clinger Sisters now on the Danny Kaye Show and the Osborn Brothers, who appear on Jamie McPheeters' TV show on Sundays. So a lot of old Northern Michigan former residents still have their hearts in the land of those northern pines.

On Tuesday contractor and architect Alfred Green stopped most of his operations for the season. The work on the First National Bank in this city has been finished and that on the new bank building in Negaunee discontinued, so over 100 men were discharged. The Superior Building Association, of which Mr. Green is the head, will, during the winter, do but little, other than getting their machinery ready and in place for the opening of business in the spring. As building material is cheap now and labor can be had at small wages, the present winter will be an excellent time for capitalists to start putting up dwelling houses for rent. The demand in the spring probably will be great and there probably will not soon again be a time when they can be built as cheaply.

We have several times spoken of the desirability of having the houses properly numbered and the streets labeled. Their work has been done at a trifling expense and the advantages to be derived are many. At present Mr. George Hasbrouck, who has had experience in this business, is in Marquette and intends to canvass with a view of furnishing the numbers. Each lot should be numbered, no matter if there is no house upon it, and the expense, no doubt, will be willingly borne by owners. It would be a good move on the part of the city council now to direct the labeling of the streets at the same time.

Again we say that the system of withdrawing money from banks since the panic is a bad feature from several viewpoints. Even though a private bank might fail, the other institutions are safe, you derive interest, this money helps business, while hoarded in your house or pocket, it earns nothing, depresses trade and places you in constant danger of being robbed or murdered.

Not enough snow in Marquette for sleighing as yet, though our neighbors to the west have plenty.

If you want to go to Negaunee in short order, get Anderson to hook up one of his fast lively horses and you will be there before you know it.

Regardless of the general cry of hard times this fall a couple of our merchants like Charley Anderson of the Ishpeming Square Dealing Clothing Store and the Union Store, both of whom sell merchandise at prices to suit the times, report that business continues fairly lively. Most of this is due to the drafts issued by the mining companies, which furnish a good circulating medium as they are accepted as cash in most places.

After Negaunee and Escanaba have settled the question of superiority between their respective fire engines, let them come here and our fire department will clean 'em both out with our Holly waterworks.

We learn that Mr. E. Young, one of the surveying party of the Milwaukee and Northern Railway, was in Michigan last week, having walked up through the woods accompanied by an Indian guide. They had a rough time on the journey, especially from Badwater, a distance of 40 miles through rough country, which took them a week and his friends feared he was lost. The survey was through to that point when he left.

The Champion furnace is out of blast for a new hearth and other repairs. She will blow in again in the course of three or four weeks.

Taylor & Maas of the new City Drugstore have a fine assortment of toys of various kinds, among them a variety of elegant mechanical toys. Parents, who will soon be searching for appropriate holiday goods, should by all means pay a visit to this store.

Notwithstanding the times, the restaurant men of Negaunee evidently intend to keep up with the rest of the world, according to a paragraph in the Escanaba Tribune, which says also that Tom Curry and Si Clark both keep neat and orderly places where the tired and hungry stranger can refresh himself with flesh, fish and fowl, to say nothing of the exhilarating beverages they dispense to those who are thirsty.

The deer hunters, judging from all reports from different parts of the county and by the number of carcasses already brought to town, have made an excellent start with the season's slaughter. Hunting is said to be first-class, despite the absence of snow in any quantity. There was a covering on the ground in some parts of the county Sunday, but it was not general or very heavy, and what there was of it disappeared yesterday. Nevertheless, the hunters report excellent success, due likely to the abundance of the game, for the deer are said to be unusually numerous.

Isaac Gustafson arrived home Sunday morning after spending two years in the Nome Gold District of Alaska. He expects to remain here for the winter, returning to the gold fields in June. Mr. Gustafson is a thorough believer in the future of the Nome gold deposits. He says that mining will be carried on there after the present generation is in its graves. The Nome gold fields have passed beyond the stage of a mere prospect and adventurer's paradise and have a recognized place among the great gold-producing centers of the world.

Members of the sewer committee have been holding frequent consultations of late in regard to a petition presented at the last meeting of the aldermen by the Breitung mining interests. They want to empty the water pumped from the workings into the sewer, but it is feared that the sewer will be taxed beyond its capacity if the request is granted, causing serious trouble in the spring and fall. The mine yields a good deal of water, five pumps being constantly operated to remove it.

When the automotive retail code goes into effect in Marquette in the near future, under NRA, the gamble in bargaining on a used car trade when purchasing a new one will be at an end, according to automobile dealers of this city.

While the number of persons receiving work relief from the Marquette County Emergency Welfare Relief Commission in October was approximately the same as in the two preceding months, it is believed that reopening of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co.'s mines on the Marquette Range, occurred with increased woods operations, may reduce the welfare list by 50 per cent in the county by the end of November.

After rehearsing for over a month under the direction of George C. Drew, members of the large cast in "The American Legion Minstrel Mimics of 1933" are ready to make their bow to the public at 8:15 Friday night in the Ishpeming High School auditorium.

—Negaunee—

"Negaunee youngsters have discovered a new method of endangering their lives," Robert Veale, chief of police said today, as he issued a warning to parents that their children are hanging on the rear bumpers of automobiles halted at stop signs and sliding on their feet as the cars gain momentum.

"Pilgrimage," featuring Henrietta Crossman, Marian Nixon, Heather Angel and Norman Foster, will be shown again Friday and Saturday at the Vista Theatre.

News Behind The News

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — I do not know anything about those three Unknowns they're making speeches over today, but I doubt that they were heroes. It is far more important to remind ourselves today that they were men.

Death is not a snob. In wartime especially it comes to the heroes and the cowards with the same icy neutrality. All death asks is that a man be serving his country on the battlefield.

It is considered good taste, of course, to regard the Unknown Soldier as a hero, a man of gallantry and high morality. But it is comforting to realize that isn't necessarily so.

Just An Average Guy

Because he is Unknown, he could have been any kind of a man. He could have been a bum who stole his pals' cigarettes or a chronic goldbrick. Perhaps, back home, he was a wife-beater or a noisy drunk. His neighborhood may have been glad to see him march off to war.

He died in battle, but who can prove he was brave? Courage is a quality found in few ordinary men, and even those who have it in high degree are often robbed of it by the un-speakable violence of war. A decent and brave man can become an animal huddling under the torment of an artillery barrage. It is then he realizes that even bravery is no defense against a bursting shell or a well-aimed bullet.

None Knows His Thoughts

No, because this dead fighting man was chosen at random, the chances are good that he was quite an ordinary individual, with an ordinary man's faults and fears. He probably did not want to fight and may even have believed he looked a little silly in a uniform. Perhaps he'd had a little fun with a French girl and a bottle of wine, but the odds are he would have preferred somebody named Molly and a can of beer back in Iowa or the Bronx.

This does not mean necessarily that he was a coward or a shirker, but merely that he was human. Among his other evils, war is uncomfortable. No one will ever know what thoughts filled the Unknown serviceman's mind at the moment of death, but it is almost certain he was uncomfortable and gloomily pondering the fact. Being a soldier, he was more likely to have been thinking about a good job than about a wife or girl friend.

Fought For Survival

The speech makers mean well, but it is doubtful if it ever occurred to this soldier, even in moments of comparative serenity, that he was fighting for democracy. Soldiers wage war because they're in the middle of one and there's no escape. Idealists are rare in a front-line company because it's hard to see a bright new tomorrow when today is filled with danger. You do not fire a machine gun for democracy's sake but to destroy someone who is trying to destroy you.

And that, it seems to me, is the whole point of having an Unknown or three of them. Lying there "in honored glory . . . known but to God," he is the symbol not of glorious victory nor of man's dedicated courage, but of something disturbingly simple. He is an affidavit certifying the awful truth that to the Sudden Death that prowls a battlefield no man has a name.

Life With A Packrat

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK — I'm not worried about whether I married a man or a mouse. What I'm wondering is if I married a man or a packrat.

My husband doesn't just bring home the bacon. He brings home everything else he can get his hands on, too. And once the stuff is on the premises he wants to keep it there.

If he had his way, nothing would ever be thrown out except orange peelings and coffee grounds. He is absolutely convinced everything else will come in handy some day.

All our friends have been briefed never to dispose of anything without first consulting him. In this way we have come into possession of such choice items as an old electric phonograph with no tubes, a metal bookcase with most of the shelves missing and a massive solid oak headboard from someone's discarded bed.

I admit some of these odds and ends he collects have come in handy in the past when he did a lot of building for our children. He once made a wagon out of nothing but scraps of lumber, wheels from old carriages and tricycles, and even rehabilitated bolts and nails. It held six kids. He looked pretty smug when he painted it with some red paint I had been urging him for years to throw away.

But with a son away in college and a daughter well past the dollhouse stage, I don't expect there will be heavy demands on his toy-building capacities from now on.

Still, it's impossible to get him to part with all the old apple crates, heavy chains, bed slats, sea shells and chipped flower pots he has collected.

We were taking a walk one evening and came across some large boxes discarded behind a store.

"What nice, big nails," murmured my companion. "Seems a shame not to salvage them."

Whereupon he shed the jacket I had just given him for his birthday and went to work prying the crates apart and hammering out the nails. He tied the nails in a handkerchief and we continued our walk.

It was only after we reached home that he discovered he'd left his jacket at the scene. We went back but it wasn't there.

"Too bad about the jacket," I sympathized. "It might have come in handy."

EXPLORATORY MUSIC

The restrained sort of cultural explosion going on in this country is having reverberations in some interesting places. A furniture-manufacturing firm in Virginia, for instance, has employed a composer to create a small concerto in its behalf.

This opus, marking the company's 75th anniversary, is called, appropriately enough, "Anniversary Concerto 75." Its sponsors describe it, cautiously, as "an exploratory thing," but Howard Mitchell, conductor of the National Symphony Orchestra which is to perform the work soon, hails it as "the first serious music ever commissioned by an American industrial company for concert presentation."

If this sprightly experiment is successful, it may well have some beneficial effects on the arts and artists, and it could even win new friends for the company and its products. We also think Washington, home of the National Symphony, should not overlook the possibilities for promoting its products.

For a lulling start, how about commissioning a "Welfare Waltz," a "Medicare Mazurka" or an "Area Redevelopment Rumba"? Or perhaps wrap it all up in a more serious "Variations on a Theme by Norman Thomas." — Wall Street Journal

SAVING OF ABU SIMBEL

The long-awaited work from Cairo in regard to the salvaging of the 3,000-year-old Nubian temples of Abu Simbel is good. The work of moving to higher ground the Pharaoh monuments that otherwise would be inundated by the Aswan dam waters is to begin next week. This marks a triumph for UNESCO and its contributing members, particularly the United States which pledged a third of the $36,000,000 raised for the difficult engineering feat. The United States' prompt aid in this undertaking should serve to undo some of the mischief that resulted from our failure to help Egypt build the Aswan dam. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Side Glances

The Shots In His Locker

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's announcement of his presidential candidacy is comically unsurprising, in the usual manner of formal political unveilings. But some very real surprises are likely to follow this announcement later on.

To begin with, there is at least a possibility that the New York governor will surprise the wisecracks, who are now so confidently predicting that he will take a bad beating from Sen. Barry Goldwater in both the crucial primaries in New Hampshire and California.

Goldwater Also Has Handicap

Gov. Rockefeller has a heavy, admitted handicap in his re-marriage. Even so, the elaborate advance polls of the Rockefeller organization show that the present Goldwater lead in the two key primary states is no greater than the initial lead of Gov. Averell Harriman in New York in 1958, which Rockefeller then overcame. In addition, Sen. Goldwater also has a heavy handicap, as yet unadmitted.

In brief, the senator has until recently been taken quite literally to face value as a handsome, vital fellow around whom Republican right-wingers could rally with ease. Only in the last month or so has attention begun to turn from the Goldwater package to the actual contents of that package.

Two successive major stirs have thus been caused, first because the senator generally announced that he would like to sell the Tennessee Valley Authority to private enterprise and then because the senator blithely remarked that, if he had his way, U. S. field commanders overseas would be authorized to use nuclear warheads whenever they saw fit.

It Sounds Different Now

This is, in fact, the sort of thing Sen. Goldwater has been saying for years. But it sounds different, somehow, and it has a lot more impact now that the senator has come to be regarded as a serious presidential contender.

It remains to be seen what the full effect will be, but it will hardly be helpful when the Goldwater program gets equal billing with the Goldwater personality — as is sure to happen in the end. Meanwhile, Gov. Rockefeller also seems likely to have more on-the-spot help in the key primaries than most people now suppose.

In California, in particular, the fact that former Sen. William Knowland is planning to lead a pro-Goldwater slate of convention delegates is already widely advertised. But it is probably more significant that California's greatest Republican vote-getter of recent years, Sen. Thomas Kuchel, will almost certainly head the pro-Rockefeller slate.

Strong Civil Rights Amendment

Sen. Kuchel's motive for plunging into the contest — if he does so — will not be a passionate attachment to the Rockefeller cause. It will instead be a feeling that there will be very little room for men like himself in a Republican party that chooses Sen. Goldwater for its standard-bearer.

This feeling of Sen. Kuchel's, in turn, points to the other surprise which the Rockefeller candidacy is quite certain to produce, whether or not the governor's showing in the primary fights exceeds present expectations.

The plain truth is that Gov. Rockefeller is grimly determined to go on to the convention, even if he loses in both New Hampshire and California, and to challenge his fellow Republicans to say, in plain terms, what kind of party they want. The main vehicle of his challenge will be a very strong civil rights amendment.

Even if Rockefeller by then has only a scattering of delegates outside New York, he will still be able to count on wide support in the big states for a strong Republican stand on civil rights. In Pennsylvania, for instance, Gov. William Scranton is already planning to name Sen. Hugh Scott to the platform committee. And Scott will surely stand foursquare with Rockefeller. Sen. Goldwater's very different notion of a suitable civil rights plank in the Republican platform was set forth in an interview in U. S. News and World Report, in which he advocated "a simple statement like 'we believe in the freedom of the individual.'"

Goldwater Electoral Strategy

"All right," the senator continued somewhat astonishingly, "Sen. Javits can take that in New York and apply it to civil rights, the Negro question and everything else. I can take it and apply it to the 'right to work.' I can apply it to state's rights."

What Sen. Goldwater cannot take, however, is the kind of strong, specific civil rights plank Gov. Rockefeller is determined to fight for to the bitter end. The whole Goldwater electoral strategy is based on carrying the Southern states and ignoring the Northern Negro voters "because we can't get their votes anyway." Hence, giving way to Rockefeller will knock the Goldwater strategy into a cocked hat.

In other words, Rockefeller means to corner Goldwater on the issues and to make him stand up and be counted without benefit of charm or vitality. This approach may not nominate Rockefeller, but the possibility that it may stop Goldwater should not be overlooked.

Do-Nothing Performance

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress just got a belt in the face by one of its own members for not getting done with the work it was sent to Washington to do.

This is not the first Congress to drag its feet. But this one is a prize dawdler. Last week Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., attacked the do-nothing performance of Democrats and Republicans alike, and lashed the leaders.

Roosevelt's Complaint

It was like an echo, but more ferocious, of President Roosevelt's anger when he got fed up with the "good fellowship" in Congress and complained to his own Democratic House leaders.

Roosevelt's complaint was in a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn and the then House majority leader, John McCormack, the present speaker who succeeded Rayburn. Roosevelt said:

Suggested Night Sessions

"What I want to get across to both of you before the next session begins is that good fellowship for the sake of good fellowship alone, an easy life to avoid criticism, an acceptance of defeat before an issue has been joined, make, all of them, less for party success and for national safety than a few drag-down and knock-out fights and an unwillingness to accept defeat without a fight."

Since Congress hadn't been able to get its work done in day sessions, Roosevelt suggested they have night sessions, too. And that was one of Dodd's ideas last week.

First Senate Term

The 56-year-old Dodd, one-time FBI agent and government prosecutor, is serving his first Senate term. His freshman status didn't deter him. He started off by asking, "Why are we not working later?"

In one of the greatest understatements of the year he said: "I am conscious of the fact that my statement will be construed as criticizing the leadership and, indeed, I am." This was his complaint, boiled down:

Crux Of The Matter

Congress isn't doing what it is being paid to do, which is work; it is keeping bankers' hours while bills need to be produced money to run the government lie unpassed.

He said "of our major objectives this session—a tax cut, a civil rights bill, a general aid to education bill and a Medicare bill—none have a real chance of enactment this year."

Tore At Both Leaders

All through his talk he tore at the Senate leaders of both parties: His own leader, Montana's Mike Mansfield of the Democrats and Illinois' Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader.

Dodd first cushioned the blow on Mansfield by calling him gentle, then roundly condemned him for not doing his job of leading. He was even harsher on Dirksen, once called the "Wizard of Ooze" by one of his critics for his soothing voice.

Dirksen Said Plenty

"The Republican leadership is so soft, so cozy, that it does not count for much. I hear the minority go along all the time, in dulcet tones, voiced by the minority leader — whatever the (Kennedy) administration wants."

Both Mansfield and Dirksen were absent from the Senate floor when Dodd attacked. Next day Mansfield said almost nothing in reply but Dirksen said plenty and it wasn't soft, cozy or dulcet.

'Skunk At Lawn Party'

He said "quite a number of things can induce cerebral incoherence. I don't think I ever encountered anything quite so incoherent in the Congressional Record."

Then just before the Senate locked up Thursday night — it worked that night—Dodd tried to creep away a bit from what he said. He got up and told the other senators "that all day Thursday he had 'felt like a skunk at a lawn party.'"

Turnabout

He said Mansfield got in touch with him and wanted to go see him. "It made me feel like a peanut," Dodd said. Then two things happened which probably couldn't have happened anywhere except in the Senate.

Dodd, after the fierce blows he threw at Mansfield and Dirksen, said "we do have wonderful men to lead us," and—the Senate applauded him.

Eight Fined, One Jailed By Justice

Eight persons paid a total of $90 in fines and costs and another was given a 30-day jail sentence when they appeared before Justice George J. Fezzey in Marquette Township Court. Stiffest sentence was meted out to Ernest Niemi, 50, Suomi Location, Negaunee, who was charged with tipsy driving. Niemi was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Marquette County Jail. Alternative sentence was to pay a $104.90 fine. State police arrested him Nov. 6 on M-35, in Forsyth Township.

As in all tipsy driving cases, Niemi's operator's license will be automatically revoked by the secretary of state's office for a period of three months to two years. Willard L. Danley, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, paid a $20 fine for improper overtaking and passing. He was ticketed by state police Oct. 15 on County Road 553, in Sands Township.

Defective Equipment
For driving with a defective trailer hitch, Henry D. Trzeccin, Wetmore, paid a $10 fine. State police ticketed him Oct. 25 on County Road 550, in Powell Township.

Agnes M. Burch, 1723 Fitch Ave., Marquette, was fined $10 for an improper turn from the wrong lane. She was ticketed by state police Nov. 4 on U. S. 41, in Marquette Township.

For allowing an unlicensed minor to drive, Ronald J. Mattila, Route 1, Republic, paid a $10 fine. State police issued him the summons Nov. 2 on U. S. 41, in Negaunee Township.

Speeding Counts
The following persons, ticketed by state police, paid the amounts listed for speeding: Paul H. Rosendahl, Minneapolis, $10; Robert H. Chevalier, 610 Norway St., Marquette, $10; Ronald G. Klumb, Route 2, Marquette, $10; and Shirley A. St. Onge, Route 1, Marquette, $10.

Will U. P. Get More Interstate Highway System Mileage?

By JEAN WORTH
Journal Special Correspondence

LANSING — What's the chance of the Upper Peninsula getting some of the interstate highway system mileage if the federal program is extended beyond its 41,000 mile commitment by 1972?

And where would an interstate route go in the U. P. if one were to be built west from St. Ignace — on the route of U. S. 2 or M-28, or across the middle of the Peninsula between them?

U. P. Has 53 Miles
These questions asked of top Michigan State Highway Department officials don't bring any full answers, but the explanations of the department's position indicate what could happen.

The only part of the interstate system in the Upper Peninsula at the present time is the 53 miles from St. Ignace to Sault Ste. Marie. Michigan's total mileage in this national system of superhighways is 1,900 miles and it expects to have its share of the system completed—even in Detroit—by 1970. Some states, neighboring Indiana among them, are far behind in their interstate system construction.

Nathan Associates Report
Highway officials noted with interest the recent report of Robert Nathan Associates to the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems that its study of U. P. transportation made it difficult to justify an east-west thruway in the Upper Peninsula on a basis of existing traffic counts. The Nathan economists were concerned with the influence of thruway traffic on tourist stops.

The highway department has its own processes for determining highway needs. Its need studies now reach to 1980 and indicate need for continuing enlargement of highway capacity in Michigan, including the Upper Peninsula, says John Murray, department information officer. But there are no construction plans beyond 1970 because it isn't known how much money will be available.

Eligibility Factors
The things that determine eligibility of a route for interstate highway system construction are traffic volume and continuity. The top of the Lower Peninsula could not qualify for inclusion in the system, nor can the U. P. section, on traffic alone, but rate inclusion on the continuity factor.

All the interstate routes run across the country, either east-west or north-south. Under an extension of the interstate system some highways might be included which serve less than a coast to coast, or border to border need, but for U. S. 2 to qualify, for instance, it would have to link up with a Canadian route or be accepted as less than a coast-to-coast route. It now runs from the Sault to Seattle and no interstate highways now qualify for inclusion in the system as an extension of a highway in Canada or Mexico.

Greatest Immediate Concern
Murray said that the intrastate routes are the greatest immediate concern of the State Highway Department. Department needs studies cover every mile of the state and county road systems and figure their adequacy in terms of:

1. Present traffic.
2. Estimated traffic over a 20-year period.

These findings create a sufficiency rating for every mile of paved surface highway in Michigan and the state, which hit a record 3,500,000 cars and trucks in October, now has a sufficiency of 70 per cent of need. It's estimated the state will have nearly 6 million vehicles by 1980.

America's big need...

dollars for diplomas

College graduates were never so important as today. Never has Uncle Sam needed leaders so urgently.

But higher education is facing problems. The cost of leadership has gone up. Colleges face shortages. More and more young people are applying for college training. Let's give dollars for diplomas. Let's give the colleges the classrooms, laboratories and teachers they need.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our mother remarried two years ago. My brother, my sister and I are all in the teen-age group and we get quite a few telephone calls. Well, here is the problem. Our last name is Henderson, but our mother changed her name to Lupawitz when she married again. Our stepfather is a very nice man, but he wants us to answer the telephone, "Lupawitz's residence." When we do, the other person says, "Sorry, I've got the wrong number," and hangs up. Don't you think we should be able to answer the telephone, Henderson's residence?

MISSING CALLS

DEAR MISSING: Ask your stepfather if you can't just say "Hello" and not make a federal case out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Is there such a thing as a person being able to drive another person out of her mind? If there is, I think that is what is happening to me. I have an aunt who takes pleasure in saying things that hurt me. Like when I had my second child — it was another girl. She marched into my hospital room and said, "Oh, I wish you had a boy for your husband. He looks soooooo disappointed."

On another occasion, when she saw my daughter all dressed up in her Sunday best, she remarked, "Such a pretty dress. Pity the child is so fat she doesn't look good in anything!" That woman has hurt me deeper than anyone I've ever known, and I've never done a thing to deserve it. My husband says, "Pay no attention to her — she's ignorant!" How can you get along with a person like that? She lives near me and visits often.

DEAR SICK: If your aunt were only ignorant, you could forgive her. She's vicious. Why try to get along with her. Try getting along WITHOUT her. You'll live longer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband asked me what I wanted for my 12th wedding anniversary and I said, "A divorce." I know it is out of the question because of my religion, but I really would almost rather be alone with the kids than living like this. I am 29 and we have six kids, which I have had to raise practically by myself. I am tired of covering up for my husband when he is late from work, or on a weekend binge. I have nobody to blame but myself because I ran off and married this guy against my parents' wishes. I was 17 and he was 19. Please keep telling young people not to rush into marriage. Forever is a long time.

SORRY NOW

Dr. Thorpe Speaks At Family Relations Meet

The U. P. Chapter of the Council on Family Relations workshop held Friday at the Northland Hotel was attended by approximately 40 people representing various areas in the Upper Peninsula. Mrs. Olive Sain, president of the chapter, opened the morning session, which was represented by various professions and organizations, such as school, health and welfare departments and universities. A considerable number of parents also attended the meeting. The U. P. Chapter on Family Relations was organized for improving life of U. P. families and to better coordinate the schools and agencies in this area to work together on family relations problems. Main Speaker Dr. Alice Thorpe, the main speaker at the workshop, delivered an address at the morning session on "National and International Patterns of Mobility." She defined mobility and mentioned that geographic mobility was one of many kinds in present day America. Other types of mobility mentioned by Dr. Thorpe were occupational, social, economic, educational, intellectual and moral mobility. All of these types of mobility are interrelated, according to Dr. Thorpe, and have profound effects on family happiness in America.

LaCrosse-Denofre Wedding Held In Negaunee

NEGAUNEE — Mr. and Mrs. Vernie LaCrosse announce the marriage of their daughter, Judith Ann, to Jere Joseph Denofre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Denofre, Ishpeming. The Rev. Donald Hartman was the celebrant of the nuptial Mass in the Sacred Heart Church, Champion. The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose her niece, Cheryl LaCrosse, as her bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Peter Airaudi, Negaunee. Stanley LaCrosse, Champion, ushered. The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of taffeta and chiffon with lace bodice and three-quarter-length sleeves. She wore a tiara of pearls and sequins and carried a cascade of yellow and white chrysanthemums. Miss LaCrosse wore an aqua taffeta gown, detailed with V-neckline and short sleeves. Yellow and white chrysanthemums made up her colonial bouquet. A wedding reception for 300 guests was held at the Rendezvous. The wedding dinner was served in the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Denofre are residing in Alexandria, Va., where he is stationed with the U. S. Coast Guard. Mrs. Denofre is a graduate of the Champion High School and her husband of St. Paul's School, Negaunee.

Music Club Will Hear Dean Niemi

The regular meeting of the Saturday Music Club will be held tomorrow evening. The program, which will begin at 8:15 after a short business meeting, has been planned by Dean Allen Niemi of Northern Michigan University and will feature music by Mendelssohn. Assisting Dean Niemi will be members of NMU's music faculty and three students of music education at NMU. They are Jacquelyn Withey, Paradise, sophomore in music education; Arlene Gordaniar, Southgate, sophomore in music education; and Duane Dishaw, Sagola, junior in music education. The program is as follows: "Mendelssohn the Composer" — Jean Hedlund. String trio — "Allegro from Trio in D Minor, Op. 49." Allan L. Niemi, violin, Erick Sharr, violoncello, and Harold E. Wright, piano. Vocal duet — "I Waited for the Lord," Arlene Gordaniar, soprano; Jacquelyn Withey, soprano, and Duane Dishaw, accompanist. Violin solo — "Andante from Concerto in E Minor, Op. 64." Allan L. Niemi, Mrs. Norman Matthews, accompanist. Piano solo — "Prelude in E Minor, Op. 35." George Whitfield. Group sing — "Cast Thy Burden," from "Elijah, Op. 70." Harold E. Wright, accompanist, David Streetman, director. Following the program, refreshments will be served by Mesdames John Sullivan, Ernest Rosten and H. I. Sharp.

Rev. Hasenberg To Address Baraga HS Group

Addressing the Bishop Baraga Central High School Home and School Association at its November meeting Wednesday will be the Rev. Aloysius Hasenberg, pastor of St. Rita's Catholic Church, Trenary, and acting superintendent of schools for the Catholic Diocese of Marquette. The title of his talk will be "Give Them Something To Live For." A faculty-parents consultation period will take place at 7:30 p.m. The regular meeting will begin at 8:15 in St. Peter's Cathedral Hall. Sister Mary Bernard's group of second-year typewriting students will demonstrate the relative importance of speed and accuracy in building typewriting skill. Those participating will be Mary Bourgeois, Dorothy Chantelais, Edward Farry, Mary Lou Jachovick, Sue Lawrence, Patsy Neimeyer, James Wealton and Roger Welch. Carmelo Portale's first-year typewriting students will demonstrate correct techniques in typewriting. They are Karen Anick, Kathy Deschaine, Steve Dupras, Tom La Rue, Arturo Olazabal, Henry Powers, Celeste Strielmen and Nancy Tessier. Phyllis Garceau will be chairman of both groups. Following the meeting, refreshments will be served by a committee of mothers of the senior class, directed by Mrs. Arthur St. Onge.

Mrs. Beightol To Address Skandia PTA

The Skandia Parents Teachers Association will meet in the school tonight at 7:30. A business meeting will be conducted. A program is planned for the evening in which Mrs. Sally Beightol, president of the McDonald School PTA of Gwin, will be the main speaker. Lunch will be served.

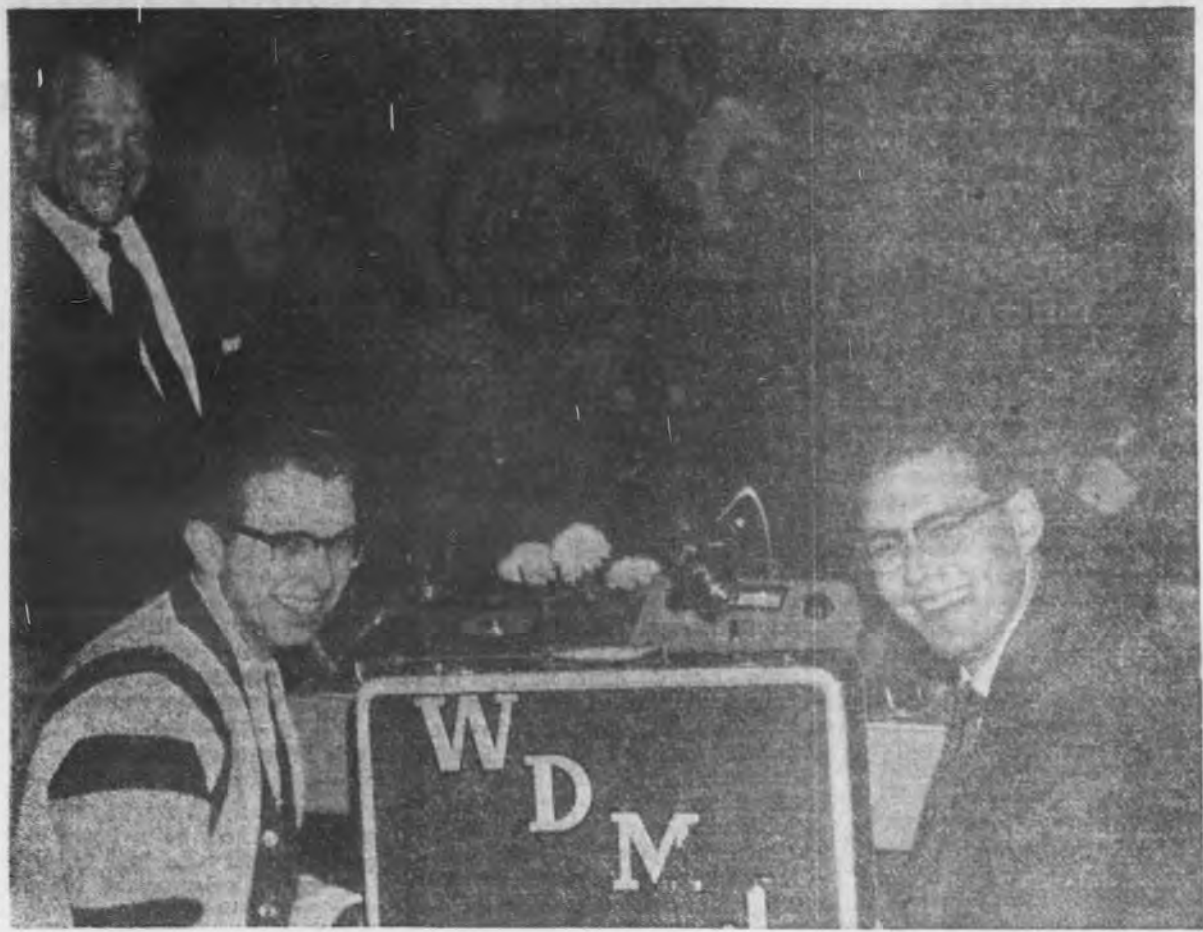

NMU Student Wives To See Hairstyling Show

The student wives of Northern Michigan University will hold their monthly meeting tomorrow evening at 7 in the Union National Bank Lounge. A hairstyling show will be the highlight of the evening and will be followed by a business meeting. Plans will be made for the annual ladies' Christmas party and children's party. A bake sale will also be arranged. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Homemaking Tips

If you bake muffins or cup cakes often, it is worth having on hand paper liners for the pans. To avoid cracking the egg shells, start eggs that are to be soft- or hard-cooked in cold water. If fat accumulates in the skillet when you are pan-broiling meat, pour it off. If you cook the meat in the fat, you won't be pan-broiling, you'll be frying! When you are pan-frying chops, slash the fat around the edges to keep them from curling.

WDMJ Record Hop At Newberry Hospital

A two-hour record hop was presented to the patients of the Newberry State Hospital Thursday night. Approximately 300 inmates of the hospital attended and took part in twist and polka contests. Eldon Wallace, standing, program director of WDMJ; Dick Thompson, left, and Jim LaFortune, staff announcers of WDMJ, gave voluntarily of their time to the spontaneous affair. Not pictured is Leroy Sheller, staff announcer of WDMJ, who also took part in the record hop. Each patient was presented with a small gift arranged through Marquette merchants. The WDMJ staff regularly conducts record hops at the Bishop Baraga Central High School each Friday evening.

Church Youth Give Program At Women's Club

Members of the High School Westminister Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church presented the program for monthly meeting of the Women's Association Thursday. The theme for the evening was "Christian Education," with Mrs. Earl Hilton serving as chairman and moderator. Mrs. Hilton briefly summarized the five phases of the work of the board of Christian Education in the Presbyterian Church. These are: Field services, vocations and the ministry, parish education, higher education and publications.

Following this introduction, Mary Snyder discussed the new middle high camp, held at Presbytery Point for the first time this year, which she attended. This session is for ninth grade students. About 30 young people from throughout Michigan were present. Miss Snyder stressed the initiation of a program of action on civil rights which will be carried back to the local communities by the high school students.

David Clark was a representative of the First Presbyterian Church at the National Presbyterian Youth Conference held at Purdue University in June and attended by 1,500 high school students and 500 leaders. He discussed highlights of the program, important persons present and some of the experiences which impressed him the most.

Three selections in "folk singing" style were presented by David Clark and Richard Seeger, who played a guitar. The numbers were "Scotch Ballad of the Highwayman," "Blowing in the Wind" and the African ballad "Cumba-ya." Miss Helen Stringer, Christian education director, showed slides of the Alma College campus and gave a brief history of its development and growth.

The devotional portion of the program was presented by the youth fellowship choir of 30 members. Allan Bingham is director and Robert Berryman is accompanist. The selections were "Jacob's Ladder," "Now the Day is Over" and "Donna Nobis Parum." Mrs. Hilton read a portion of scripture and concluded with a prayer. Refreshments were served following the program. Mrs. J. H. Kline conducted a brief business meeting of the association.

Jayettes Hold Monthly Meeting Tomorrow Night

The Marquette Jayettes' monthly business meeting will be held in the Clifton Hotel tomorrow at 8 p.m. Mrs. Gary Dahlke, local chairman, will report on the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, a state service project. Letters from the Salvation Army and the Business and Professional Women's Club will be read and discussed. Also on the agenda are plans for a potluck supper to be held Nov. 26 for new members. Preparations for the annual Christmas project will be presented by Mrs. Barry Ellis, president, and a discussion period will follow. The Michigan Jayette Newsletter will be received. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Gary Dahlke and Mrs. John Dahlke.

Eggs Benedictine often appear on restaurant menus; this dish is a combination of toasted English muffins, hot slices of cooked ham, poached eggs and Hollandaise sauce.

Cheese Cake Rated As Favorite Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor No matter how many recipes for cheese cake we offer, cooks cry for more. Looks as if apple pie might be losing its place as America's favorite dessert. This cheese cake is the old-fashioned kind, its texture lighter than modern concoctions super-rich with cream cheese. And in the way of fine cooks since cheese cake was evolved, this recipe calls for the delightful flavor of fresh lemon. The vanilla wafer crust used as the base tastes best when the cake is chilled only briefly, so plan to serve this dessert to guests soon after baking. OLD-FASHIONED CHEESE CAKE 8 ounces cream cheese 1/4 cup plus 3 tablespoons sugar 2 tablespoons flour 1/4 teaspoon salt 5 large eggs, separated 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice 1/2 cup heavy cream 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar Vanilla Wafer Crust Beat cheese until fluffy; beat

The young German immigrant's empathy for the plump woman dates back to his teen years when his mother operated a little custom shop in the garment district. Eventually, he withdrew his accrued savings, some $1600; borrowed the first name of Grace Kelly and the last of Elizabeth Taylor ("the two most beautiful, although not heavy, women I know in the world.") as a name for his company; hired himself a young designer (Keith Adams) and began his pioneering in styles for the heavy woman.

Stout Women To Have Variety Of Fashions

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Fashion Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Don't assume that the stout woman in clumsy shoes and grandmotherly dress lost her fashion consciousness along with her waistline. If she did not care about style, asks Arthur Kohler, would she make up 90 per cent of the women's club audiences across the country and wistfully watch manikins promenading in apparel suitable only for the lucky 10 per cent? This intense young half-size manufacturer is the bridegroom of a reed-thin former British model but he is thoroughly and sincerely in love with, and respectful of, and defensive about all other women well endowed with flesh. "They usually have the most beautiful faces, lovely complexions and marvelous full necks—not the caved-in and bony kind," he says. But he has other, less ethereal reasons for waxing ecstatic over plump women. The half-size woman represents the potential growth, the

Two Injured, Six Autos Damaged In Area Wrecks

ISHPEMING — Two injuries resulted and six cars were damaged in five Ishpeming area accidents reported this morning by state police from the Marquette post.

At 2 Saturday afternoon a car being driven west on U.S. 41 by Thomas Knitviva, 21, Iron River, went out of control when a truck in front of him was turned left without a signal being made. He applied his brakes and his car struck the shoulder, rolling over.

Greta Orchard, 19, Iron River, a passenger, complained of pains and sought her own treatment. The mishap took place at County Road 496, in Ishpeming Township. The top and sides of Knitviva's 1956 sedan were damaged. The vehicle was towed from the scene.

The other injury occurred in a smashup at 3:20 Saturday morning on County Road 607, about 5.8 miles north of County Road 496, in Michigan Township.

State police said Raymond Taskes, 51, Traunuk, was driving north on Road 607 when he was blinded by the headlights of an oncoming car. He turned to the right, with his car hitting some loose gravel and a utility pole on the shoulder and then rolling over.

Dickey Taskes, 21, riding with his father, suffered a slight laceration on his forehead and bruises about his face when his head struck the windshield.

Extensive damage resulted to the front end, top and right side of Taskes's 1961 sedan, which was removed from the scene by a wrecker.

At 7:20 Saturday morning a car being driven east on U.S. 41 by Ogden A. Anderson, 45, Iron Mountain, struck an automobile operated by Paul C. Mitchell, 53, of 601 N. Main St., Ishpeming, at County Road 496, in Ishpeming Township.

State police said they were in a line of four cars and all stopped when the first driver signaled and then turned left. The other three then speeded up, but the first turned right without signaling. Mitchell stopped and Anderson tried to stop, turning right, but his car bumped Mitchell's.

The right rear of Mitchell's 1962 station wagon and the left front of Anderson's 1959 sedan were extensively damaged. Anderson's was hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

A car being driven south on County Road 478 by Robert A. Kindstrand, 37, of 217 Iron St., Negaunee, was struck by a deer which ran out from the east (left) side of the highway, four-tenths of a mile south of U.S. 41, Ely Township, at 10:45 Saturday night.

The deer fled into the woods. The left rear and side of Kindstrand's 1962 coach were damaged.

At 5:45 Saturday afternoon a car being driven west on County Road 496 by Richard A. Stetson, Route 1, Champion, struck some trees, one-tenth of a mile west of County Road CKC, in Ely Township.

Stetson told state police a tire blew out, causing his car to go out of control. Extensive damage resulted to the front end and right side of Stetson's 1962 coach, which was hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

Hanna President Predicts Groveland Mine Expansion

IRON RIVER — A shift from conventional to pellet operations, continued life of underground mines in the Iron River area and expansion of the Groveland mine were predicted by W. A. Marting, president of the Hanna Mining Co., in an optimistic address before 400 employees at the annual Hanna "Old Timers" dinner at the armory here.

Marting, speaking on the topic "Shake Hands with Tomorrow," told employees the company has every hope that with the help of employees "there is a long and profitable future in Michigan underground mines" and that given even a slight increase in steel production requirements, the Groveland mine "can and will be expanded."

Cannon Miners Placed — Marting noted that with expansion already undertaken at Groveland, it has been possible to call back all men laid off at the Cannon underground mine in Stambaugh a year ago, and to place them at other underground mines or at Groveland.

"There are other bright spots for those employed in the Michigan undergrounds," the Hanna president said.

"First, we have a wealth of experience here in this district in building and operating concentrators and pellet furnaces. The company has invested many millions of dollars into research to develop advanced mining and treating methods.

"That experience and research could be used to good advantage at our underground properties."

More Steel Production — In reviewing the recent economic history of iron mining, Marting pointed out that projections by the steel industry in the early 1950s indicated that steel production would reach 140 million ingot tons by this time in the 1960s. And based on these estimates, he said, the iron ore industry began to develop the necessary raw materials.

"Because of the depletion of Lake Superior district high grade ores, some companies had to go to other states and countries for their iron units. Others developed iron units in low grade taconite plants in Minnesota. Hanna opened the Cannon mine here as a replacement for and expansion of the Bengal-Tully production. We also moved ahead with the Jasper plants at Groveland and Moose as well as developing properties in other areas. For the most part, the new properties featured high grade natural ores."

Competition in steel from foreign producers as well as from other products and a reduction of per capita consumption has resulted in the steel industry producing under a hundred million tons a year now rather than the expected 140 million, Marting said, adding: "What this means to us is that a tremendously expanded mining industry is ready to supply iron ore to a steel industry that is operating at the same rate."

Forced To Economize — At the same time, he said, the steel industry was forced to exercise every economy possible and research proved out that if a sized, high grade iron ore feed was charged into a blast furnace, that furnace's production could be substantially increased. Marting further explained that high grade ores began to dominate until taconite pellets became available. And since pellets came into the iron ore market, "there's been a change in philosophy of blast furnace practice. Because of the over-supply of iron ore, steelmakers can pick and choose—and they're choosing pellets when and wherever they can. What this has meant to those of us who have the majority of our holdings in conventional ores is that we are going to a transition period. We'll have to shift from conventional operations to pellet operations."

Discussing his company's work toward that transition, Marting said, "there's a great deal of room for speculation. Research is now taking place, exploring the technical and economic possibilities of upgrading a nd pelletizing underground ores."

Marting noted that more than 35 million dollars was spent in development of Groveland, which now employs more than 300 men, "all because of new techniques and demands."

Steel Grows—Groveland Grows — "There is," he said, "a great chance for expansion of Groveland. All we need is a little expansion of the steel industry."

"If there is growth in the steel industry, we will expand Groveland."

With reference to Hanna's underground mines, Marting said "As we see it, next year should be just as good as this year."

He noted that while eventually the whole ore industry will be converted to pellets, he still sees a strong position for underground mining.

Much work is being done, he said, on a process for pelletizing underground ores. Tests have been good, he added, and "we are aiming for continued production of underground mines."

Marting said, however, that in order for underground mines to survive economically, "we must

State Police Arrest 89 In October

L'ANSE — The 11 troopers assigned to the L'Anse state police post made 89 arrests and investigated a total of 65 complaints, including five received from other posts, in October.

Officers worked a total of 2,000 man-hours in 218 man-days, spending 735 hours on traffic patrol and an additional 45 hours on other traffic work. They devoted 289 hours to investigation of various complaints, two hours to report writing and 613 hours to administration and supervision. Training work consumed 51 hours, 190 hours were spent on fatigue work and the remaining 85 hours were devoted to miscellaneous duties.

Patrol cars assigned to the post were driven 7,320 miles during 515 hours on traffic patrol, 1,330 miles on traffic complaint work, another 2,485 miles on investigation of other complaints, and 1,235 miles in pursuit of miscellaneous duties, for a monthly total of 12,680 miles. The troopers arrested 53 persons for traffic offenses, 11 on other patrol arrests and an additional 25 persons were arrested on various complaints. They investigated 48 autos, assisted 20 motorists and issued verbal warnings to 147 other drivers. The officers also completed 186 property and 123 liquor inspections and 150 miscellaneous assignments during the month. The troopers drew extra duty on Halloween, but there were no disturbances in either L'Anse or Baraga which required their attention.

The Spanish-speaking population of the Dominican Republic, some 3,014,000, lives in some 19,000 square miles, nearly the size of Vermont and New Hampshire combined.

IN APPRECIATION

We gratefully acknowledge all the kindness shown us in our recent sorrow, the passing of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Liisa Koski.

Our special thanks to Rev. Leslie Niemi, Mrs. Victor Jarvis, Mrs. Mary Karlin, pallbearers, those who donated and drove cars, sent flowers, cards and donations, the ladies who served at the church, and all others who sought to ease our sorrow. Their many acts of kindness will always be remembered.

Parent-Teacher Sessions Set In Negaunee Schools

NEGAUNEE — Annual parent-teacher conferences slated for Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons will feature the observance of American Education Week in Negaunee public schools, Supt. Robert E. Northey announced today.

Classes will be dismissed in all buildings at noon on both days in order to provide opportunity for parents to consult with teachers regarding progress being made by their children and any individual problems that the students may have.

Conferences Scheduled

In the lower grades, conferences are scheduled by appointment, and forms indicating times at which these meetings will be held have been sent home with pupils to parents.

At the junior-senior high level, individual appointments have not been set up, but an "open house" type of program of the hot lunch program in the school cafeteria.

Following the dinner, an illustrated lecture on her trip to Alaska will be presented by Miss Miriam Carter, a member of the Central Grade faculty. A short business session will follow.

Bethel Lutheran Women To Meet Tomorrow Night

ISHPEMING — Bethel Lutheran Church women will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night.

The Priscilla Circle will present a skit entitled "The Lord's Prayer Done by Candles." Election of officers will be held.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Edwin Harvala, chairman; Mrs. Richard Harvala, Mrs. Hugo Harvala, Mrs. William Eliason and Mrs. Ensio Kauppila.

The executive committee will meet at 6:30.

City Water Crews Ready For Winter

NEGAUNEE — Personnel in the municipal water utility started preparing for the winter season in October according to the monthly department activities report submitted by Foreman Edward Wernholm to Manager Leonard Harris.

Lines at the city cemetery were drained and all sewers in the municipality were flushed.

Service lines were repaired on Jackson, Clark, Kanter and Queen Sts. Other repairs included a main in Patch Location and two lines at the Community Building.

Installations consisted of two catch basins on Sheldon St., 260 feet of three-quarter-inch pipe and 83 feet of one and one-quarter-inch, both in the Patch Location, where an overflow pipe for the main sewer also was installed.

2,506 Get Health Tests In Alger

MUNISING — Dr. R. A. Tearnan, director of the Alger-Schoolcraft Health Department, announced today that 2,506 persons in the county took advantage of free health screening examinations the past month.

They were tested for tuberculosis, diabetes, lung defects, heart abnormalities and venereal disease in the screening program which ended Nov. 8.

Dr. Tearnan stated that all persons whose tests did not indicate any of the diseases would receive results of their tests through the mail as soon as they were available. In the case of persons whose tests were positive, their physicians would be notified and they would arrange for additional tests.

"We certainly hope that persons who do not hear right away will not become anxious and assume that something is wrong," Dr. Tearnan said. "It often takes weeks before the tests can be processed and we urge everyone to be patient and not worry."

Dr. Tearnan and the health department staff thanked volunteers who assisted in registration of persons who were examined at the mobile unit.

Lions Birthday Calendar Project Begun In L'Anse

L'ANSE — The community birthday calendar program, sponsored each year by the L'Anse Lions Club, is again under way, according to announcement by Martin Goudreau, King Lion.

The birthdays and anniversaries of members of subscribing families and regular meeting dates of contributing organizations are listed on the large monthly date sheets, along with holidays and special events. These listings serve as handy reminders of birthdates of family and friends and of civic functions.

Assisting Goudreau in the project is Curtis C. Menard, general chairman of the birthday calendar drive.

Orders for next year's calendars may be placed now with any member of the Lions Club.

Ishpeming-Negaunee Girl Scout Leader Meetings Set

ISHPEMING-NEGAUNEE — Negaunee and Ishpeming Girl Scout neighborhood associations will be meeting this week to get additional training in program changes which became effective in September. All registered adults, whether they are troop leaders, assistant leaders, neighborhood service team members or troop committee members are members of a neighborhood association. In addition, members of the board or board committees who live in a neighborhood also are invited.

The Negaunee Neighborhood Association will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Kirkpatrick School at Palmer. The Negaunee neighborhood includes all of the City of Negaunee, Negaunee Township, Palmer and Suomi Location. Training in actual skills as well as in the changes which have taken place in the Girl Scout program will be covered in this training session.

Mrs. U'Ren, Negaunee Native, Dies

NEGAUNEE — A Negaunee native, Mrs. Alice Mabel U'Ren, 77, died last week at her home in Eaton Rapids.

She was born Dec. 19, 1885, in Negaunee and was a resident of Lansing for 37 years. She moved to Eaton Rapids a year ago.

She was a member of the Grace Methodist Church and the following organizations, Order of Eastern Star, Rebekah Lodge and the Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem.

Survivors are four sons, Darwin of Lansing, Arthur of Eaton Rapids, Kenneth of Flowerville and Alvin of Ishpeming; two daughters, Mrs. Alice Muriel Richards of Ishpeming and Mrs. Eleanor Clark of Lansing; 17 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren; four brothers, Thomas and Arthur Roberts of Negaunee, Russell Roberts of Lansing and Leslie Roberts of Mason, and three sisters, Mrs. George Bowden of Ishpeming, Mrs. Ruth Rogers of Negaunee and Mrs. Thomas Stanaway of Lansing.

Services and burial took place in Lansing Saturday.

Steel Output Continuing To Climb

CLEVELAND — Steel production is at the highest November level in five years with the exception of 1961, Steel magazine reported today.

Output this week is expected to inch higher than the 1,950,000 ingot tons that the magazine estimates were made last week. Operations were close to 83.5 per cent of unofficial capacity.

The steel market is stronger than steelmakers anticipated earlier in the year, and it doesn't seem to be weakening.

Automakers are offsetting seasonal factors by ordering extra tonnage for November and December delivery as they continue their assault on production records. They're aiming to build 740,000 cars this month — 8 per cent more than they assembled in November, 1962.

Appliance manufacturers, machinery builders and industrial equipment makers are continuing to give the market strong support.

Shipments At Peak Since '57 The year's shipments may be the largest since those of 1957, Steel reports.

If steelmakers can ship as much tonnage this month as they did in October (about 6 million tons), they'll be well on their way to a successful quarter.

Their shipments will fall in December (because of curtailments due to holidays and taxes some states levy on year-end inventories).

But if December shipments reach 5.5 million tons, the fourth quarter's figure will be 17.5 million tons and the year's total, 76 million tons — and the best since 1957.

Scrap Price Higher Metalworking prices continue to churn.

Steel's price composite on steelmaking scrap rose 67 cents to $26.67 a gross ton last week. The increase reflected more buying for export.

Selective price advancements have been announced by companies making wheels and rings, axles, metal clad switchgear, polyethylene resins and copper tubes.

But one producer reduced prices on thin tin plate to bring them to levels of competing makers.

Producers of high strength bolts and large rivets are concerned about last month's price increases on wire rods. Rod mills didn't raise base prices but did hike extra charges for rod sizes overlapping small carbon bars whose prices previously were raised. Fastener makers fear they'll have a hard time passing increases along to customers.

Resignation Accepted, 9 Nurses Reinstated

CAIRO, Ga. (AP) — Officials of Cairo's only hospital have accepted the resignation of the hospital administrator, W. H. Strickland, and reinstated nine registered nurses who quit in a dispute.

The action recently brought an end to the disagreement which had left the 31-bed hospital with one part-time nurse since last Friday.

Pupils Study 'Outdoors' In Classroom

Relationship between field trips through Gwinn schools' outdoor laboratory and classroom activities is illustrated by the display in Mrs. Fern Lindstrom's fifth grade room at the Gilbert school. Materials were collected from the "lab," identified and put on display. The class used the stack of science books held by Deborah Long as research material to gather information about the displays. At right, Albert Zierk holds thank-you letters written by the class to William Hemmilla, high school conservation teacher who conducted the pupils through the outdoor laboratory.

Two Escape Injury In Road Crash; Two Cars Wrecked

L'ANSE — Two cars were wrecked and three others damaged in three accidents in the area over the weekend.

Cars driven by Alex N. Rajala, 72, Covington, and David Simonson, 24, Dollar Bay, were wrecked in a collision on U. S. 14 near Covington at 9:35 Friday morning. Sheriff's department officers who investigated said Rajala had pulled out of a side road, directly into the path of the Simonson vehicle. Rajala told officers he looked before starting across the road but did not see the other car.

The front ends of both cars were demolished and they had to be towed from the scene of the accident.

Sheriff Harold Heikkinen credited the use of seat belts with saving Simonson and his passenger, Dennis Patterson, 24 Centralia, Wash. from at least serious injury. "That was a bad wreck, and they would surely have been seriously hurt if they hadn't been wearing belts. As it was, they didn't even get scratched or bruised," Heikkinen reported.

At 12:30 Friday night a car driven by Gust V. Soli Jr., 49, L'Anse crashed into another operated by Ewing P. Goff, 28, Sawyer AFB, on U. S. 41 just north of Baraga. State police officers stated that Soli started to make a left turn off the highway into the entrance of the Soli saw mill just as Goff began to pass. The Soli car plowed into the right front fender of the other car, causing considerable damage to both vehicles. Soli was ticketed for making an improper left turn.

Deane D. Petroff, 16, Stambaugh, struck and killed a deer on U.S. 41 four miles south of the junction with M-28 at 7:30 Friday night. The front of Petroff's auto was damaged, but he was able to drive it away. The carcass of the deer was turned over to the State Conservation Department for disposal.

Superintendent William Garrett (left, back row) and members of alumni steering committee plan celebration and reunion to coincide with dedication of Gwinn's new high school. Tentative date is July 18, 1964.

Big Celebration, Reunion Planned At Gwinn For High School Dedication In '64

GWINN — Dedication of Gwinn's new high school could become one of the town's biggest celebrations within recent years if plans of Superintendent William Garrett and a Gwinn High School alumni steering committee are carried to completion.

Every graduate ever to receive a diploma from Gwinn will be invited to attend combined class reunions and the high school dedication. The tentative date is July 18, 1964.

Garrett has called together representatives of graduating classes to act as a steering committee to plan the reunion-dedication and to act as contacts of alumni. Norman Hocking and Brideson Willis were named co-chairmen of the committee.

Suggested activities include a dinner dance and parade in addition to the dedication program. Committees still to be formed will be the contact, finance, program, banquet, parade, arrangements, dance, historic and liaison committees. Tom Rood has been named to head the publicity committee. Mrs. Edythe Haynes was named secretary of the steering committee.

Former teachers, principals, superintendents, school board members, custodians, secretaries and bus drivers of the system are to be invited. During the day members of the graduating classes will meet with old classmates. The evening will be climaxed by the dance which will follow the dinner and formal dedication.

Members of the steering committee are Garrett, Willis, Hocking, Rood, Mrs. Haynes and Gerry Stille, Mrs. Myrtle Norden, Roy Anderson, Jacob Winter, Mrs. Lucille Oien, Mrs. Marie Suardini, Mrs. Edna Hocking, Mrs. Ida Juidici, Mrs. Ann Filizetti, Charles Erickson, Mrs. Marie Sauer, Mike Musatto, Ed Norden and Mrs. Isabel Vercellino.

L'Anse Teacher Confabs With Parents On Tuesday

L'ANSE — The first series of individual parent-teacher conferences for L'Anse elementary school pupils will be held here all day Tuesday as part of the observance of National Education Week. Parents will be asked to call at the school to pick up their children's report cards and to discuss the youngsters' academic progress and growth during 10-minute interviews with the teachers.

Inasmuch as conferences are scheduled for the full day, all elementary school classes (kindergarten through sixth grade) have been canceled for Tuesday.

None To Be Sent Home

This new system of marking and reporting progress, adopted by the board of education at the beginning of the school year, replaces the old method of issuing report cards which the students take home for signature every six weeks.

No report cards will be sent home with the students; parents must call for them at the school and take time to discuss the grades and possible means of helping their children to improve their work.

All conferences have been carefully scheduled to avoid the need for delay on the part of the visitors, so all parents are urged to appear promptly at the appointed time for their interviews. Letters listing the time of each conference and the teacher's name and room number were sent home with the elementary pupils on Friday.

Two conferences of this type have been scheduled for the current academic year: the first, set for the end of the first 10-week marking period, will be on Tuesday, while the other will be held at the close of the third marking period.

High School Interviews

"Open house" also will be held at the high school Thursday night, Nov. 14, to give parents of seventh through twelfth grade pupils an opportunity to confer with their teachers and to examine their work. All high school teachers will be available for private interviews in the classrooms from 7:30 through 9:30.

Superintendent Robert W. Frederikson has urged good attendance and full cooperation on the part of all parents. "I will be deeply disappointed if the parents of our students don't take part in this important program," he stated.

Members of the Future Teachers Club will serve as guides to direct and escort visitors to the proper rooms Thursday.

Refreshments will be served Tuesday morning and afternoon and on Thursday night following the interviews.

Two Fined In Venison, Fish Cases

MUNISING — Two local men arrested by conservation officers paid fines and costs amounting to $121 when they were arraigned in justice court before Judge Walter Jonas. One also was given a jail term.

James DesArmo pleaded guilty to a charge of having illegal venison in his possession. He was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs totaling $13 and was sent to jail for five days.

John Bjork paid a total of $58 in fines and court costs for having a box of whitefish in his possession during the closed season.

Refreshments will be served Tuesday morning and afternoon and on Thursday night following the interviews.

Northern Ends Season 4-4-1 With 49-8 Win Over Macalester

MSU Has Inside Track For Rose Bowl Chance

CHICAGO (AP)—The Spartans of Michigan State have the inside track towards the Big Ten football championship and the coveted Rose Bowl bid, but Ohio State and Illinois remain strong contenders for both title and the trip.

MSU's 23-0 victory over Purdue Saturday left the Spartans in the position of needing only a victory over Illinois Nov. 16 to gain at least a share of the title and represent the Big Ten in Pasadena New Year's Day.

MSU took the league lead with a 4-0-1 record while Illinois fumbled away its opportunity in a 14-8 loss to Michigan. Ohio State dropped a 10-7 decision to

Seniors Spark Wildcat Win With Fine Play As Northern Records Fall

Records fell and the unusual was the Wildcat Saturday afternoon as the Northern Michigan University Wildcat wound their 1963 football season with a resounding 49-8 victory over Macalester College of St. Paul at Memorial Field, and a 4-4-1 slate.

Among other things, the Wildcats accomplished the following noteworthy acts:

1. The team set a new season passing record of 983 yards, to eclipse the old 924-yard record set in 1960.
2. Bill Rademacher hauled down seven passes, two of them for Northern touchdowns, to set a new season pass reception record with 29 receptions for 372 yards. The old 22-reception record for 318 yards was set in 1951 by Mike Mileski.
3. Fullback Don Bangert capped his last game for Northern, a pass to Art Wenzlaff which in the end zone for Northern's final tally of the game.
4. Junior quarterback Terry Nyquist completed 10 of 18 passes for 164 yards to do the major part of the work toward breaking the old team passing record, and booted seven out of seven conversions.

Bork Will Stand In Pro Draft

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—After a brilliant college football career, Northern Illinois quarterback George Bork seems destined to stand in a pro football draft.

The slim, 21-year-old physical education major from Arlington Heights, Ill., is the first college passer to exceed 3,000 yards in a single season.

Several national records fell under his aerial bombs Saturday as his Huskies capped an undefeated nine-game with a 27-22 victory over Central Michigan University.

It cemented Northern Illinois' ranking as No. 1 small college team in the nation and earned them the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (I-IAC) championship.

Northern Illinois officials rate Bork "a strong student" and a young man who wears his national prominence modestly. He also is an outstanding basketball player.

Bump's 'Hex' Over Brother Continues

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan coach Bump Elliott continues his "hex" over his younger brother, and the Wolverines find themselves in fifth place in the Big Ten as they prepare to meet Iowa on Saturday.

Bump called Michigan's 14-8 comeback victory over Illinois Saturday "the most satisfying of my wins over Pete."

Pete, who saw his team dropped from a tie for first in the Big Ten to take anything away from the Michigan effort. "They outplayed us and outdid us. I didn't think we were very sharp and they were," he added.

Michigan outplayed the fighting Illinois throughout the first half as a combination of ball control and Joe O'Donnell's punting kept Illinois deep in its own territory for much of the first two periods. But it took a fumble recovery late in the game to pull Michigan ahead.

The Illini did not get into Michigan territory until the tail end of the second quarter, after Michigan had taken a 7-0 lead. Not until then did the outstuffed Illini get their initial first down.

The Wolverines scored their first touchdown early in the second quarter after marching 55 yards in 16 plays. Dick Rindfuss slanted over left tackle from two yards out for the TD.

Michigan was faced with five third-down plays in the drive, and quarterback Bob Timberlake expertly called the right fuses' touchdown also came on third down.

Illinois marched 92 yards in the third quarter for its only score of the game. Fullback Al Wheatland squeaked in on his second try from less than a yard out. Quarterback Mike Taliaferro ran around left end for the two extra points.

Michigan did not threaten again until John Rowan pounced on the ball after Halfback Jim Warren fumbled a pitchout by Taliaferro late in the last quarter. The ball seemed to sail behind the fleet Illinois back, and he fell backwards trying to field it.

Rindfuss gained two yards, and John Henderson caught a pass on the 3.

Three plays later, after Timberlake went a yard for a first down, Mel Anthony drove over left guard for the go-ahead touchdown. Timberlake added the point.

Illinois' highly-touted defensive team, which had thrown enemy quarterbacks 35 times in six games, recovered 13 fumbles and intercepted eight passes, was well off the mark Saturday.

Timberlake was thrown for losses only three times. Michigan did not lose the ball at all during the game. Illinois left guard and only two of Timberlake's passes fell into enemy hands.

Michigan, now 2-2-1 in the Big Ten and 3-3-1 overall still has a lot to say about the eventual Big Ten champion, Michigan State is the current leader.

Ohio State is a contender and has to face Northwestern and Michigan MSU has one league game left, that with Illinois in the last game of the season.

Michigan, which has not finished in the first division since it shared fifth place in 1950, now has its sights set on its first winning season since its 6-3 record of 1961.

Prudential Squad Still Undefeated In Negaunee Play

NEGAUNEE — In games played Thursday night in the Negaunee City Basketball League, Russo Brothers, led by Red Bath, outran their older opponents to take an easy 53-38 win.

In the game of the evening, Prudential Insurance remained undefeated by downing Bosch Beer, 77-75 in a double overtime session. The first half was evenly matched with an 18-18 quarter. Prudential went ahead 33-34 at half time, but the more experienced Bosch five came back to a seven-point lead at the end of the third period and started to play control ball.

Displaying excellent outcourt shooting, Salmio and Robare helped to tie up the score with less than a minute to play. Choosing to hold the ball and try for the last shot, Bosch failed to score and the game went into the first overtime.

Bosch jumped into a four-point lead but could not control the ball as Don Luckala scored from out and then stole the ball to tie it up on a lay up shot as the buzzer sounded the end of the initial overtime.

Next week's schedule is as follows:

Tuesday: Palmer Mets vs. Herb's Bar, Bosch Beer vs. Prudential, and Boosta's vs. Prudential.

Thursday: Boosta's vs. Hotel Bar, Prudential vs. Russo's and Bosch vs. Herb's Bar.

No waste was wasted, as a Nyquist to Blum aerial moved the ball to Macalester's 33 in a 19-yard gain. Rademacher stayed open long enough on the next play to snare a Nyquist pass and lunge easily across the goal line for another TD. Nyquist's boot made it 35-0 with three minutes left in the half.

The Scots tried valiantly to gain a TD in the remaining few minutes, aided by excellent passing by quarterback Stolski, but could not get beyond NMU's 40 before time ran out.

The Wildcats came back after half time intermission to find the field lights on because of darkness, but had no trouble in mounting another scoring drive early in the third quarter. Blum and Bangert bulled the way to Macalester's eight-yard stripe and Nyquist got off a beauty to Schmitt in the end zone for another TD. The conversion resulted in a 42-0 NMU lead.

Best Drive

Macalester responded with their best drive to that point in the game, but could not get under way against top tackling by Jack Mauro, Jim Decker, Pat Stump and Bill Hamor, losing their opportunity on a fumble recovered by Wenzlaff.

Things looked safe for Northern, but reserve quarterback Jerry McCulloch fumbled on the first attempt to move the ball out of NMU territory, and the Scots recovered to resume the drive.

The end of the third quarter found the Scots on Northern's 22, thanks to hard running by Shaughnessy and Stolski's passing. The play tightened in the opening seconds of the final period, and the fierce action actually raised clouds of dust from the muddy field.

Fine Stand

One of the finest defensive stands ever taken by a Northern team ensued as Macalester moved to within six inches of the Wildcat goal line. Four successive attempts to cross Northern's goal line failed as Decker, Stump, Mauro and Hamor mobbed runners at the scrimmage line, and Northern took possession.

The Scots were score-hungry, however, and Nyquist was forced to punt, giving possession to Macalester on the NMU 30 where they began another crushing drive toward the Wildcat goal.

Scot Success

Another tremendous defensive stand by the entire NMU squad held Macalester up for several plays, but the smarting Scots were not to be denied, scoring on a run by Roger Nelson around right end. Nelson ran the extra point, and Macalester's scoring was completed.

In a fitting farewell to Northern, Don Bangert uncorked a perfect aerial to Wenzlaff in the end zone from the three-yard line for NMU's final tally of the game, and Nyquist's kick made it 49-8 with less than a minute to play.

Macalester could not use the remaining time, as jubilant Wildcats hit Shaughnessy for an 11-yard loss and prevented any kind of forward movement. The horn sounded the end of the game shortly thereafter, and Northern played its last game of the year.

Fine Farewell

The 10 seniors on the Wildcat team played excellent ball throughout the game, apparently determined to make a fine last showing, which they did. Bangert, Rademacher, St. Jean, Wenzlaff, Hamor, LaPorte, LaPointe, Mauro and Ferris played with fire and determination, putting on a defensive display on two occasions which eclipses the terrific performance against Hillsdale.

The statistics need no explanation and describe the type of rushing play and passing success enjoyed by the Wildcats beyond all doubt. Here they are:

Lions Began Too Late Saturday; Now 4-5 In NFL

BALTIMORE (AP)—A comeback team by reputation, the Detroit Lions got started too late against the Baltimore Colts.

Now, because of Sunday's 24-21 setback, the Lions are 4-5 on the National Football League's season record.

Passing master Johnny Unitas won a duel with Detroit's Earl Morrall, ex-lion Jim Martin kicked a Baltimore field goal, and the Lions got up their steam too late.

That was it

That was about the story of Sunday's battle in which Detroit's two-game winning streak was broken and the Colts took the Lions' measure for a second time this season.

Unitas, who made good on 11 of 15 passes in the first half for 274 yards, pitched the Colts into a quick 17-0 lead in the first quarter — including Martin's field goal — and Detroit never could catch up despite a first-class Morrall performance.

As in the teams' first meeting, Martin's field goal made the difference on the score board. He booted four in the Colts' 25-21 triumph Oct. 20 at Detroit.

Good Completions

Unitas completed 17 of 24 passes for 351 yards. Morrall, running the team for a third straight game, hit on 22 of 34 for 257 yards.

The Lions, who scored the game's only second-half touchdown after Baltimore took a 24-14 halftime lead, missed out on several opportunities.

Baltimore had gained its insurmountable lead with Unitas throwing touchdown passes of 64 yards to Ray Berry and 42 yards to John Mackey around Martin's 25-yard placement in the first period and a four-yard touchdown smash by Lenny Moore in the second period.

TD Didn't Help

With Detroit behind 17-0 Morrall threw 20 yards to Gail Cogdill for a touchdown, but the Colts retaliated with a 64-yard march that ended in Moore's score. The Lions again came back with a 44-yard march capped by Tom Watkins' one-yard touchdown smash before the half ended.

Detroit executed a 76-yard touchdown march in seven plays in the third period with Morrall passing 10 yards to Terry Barr for the last score of the game.

"We had a lot of opportunities in the second half. We just couldn't take care of them," Coach George Wilson said.

Weekend Will Be Remembered For Mark Snaps

Michigan's 1963 small college football season will be remembered for its records-smashing Nov. 9 weekend.

An invader, quarterback George Bork of Northern Illinois, had the biggest starring role.

Bork, leading the I-IAC champions to a 27-22 victory over Central Michigan, completed 43 of 68 forward passes for an NCAA season record of 244 of 374 and 3,077 total yardage—first time any player has passed for 3,000 yards. His 43 against Central were good for 416 yards.

Nyquist Record

Another quarterback, Northern Michigan's Terry Nyquist, helped set a new Wildcat passing mark Saturday in completing 10 of 18 for 164 yards in a 49-8 rout of Macalester of St. Paul, Minn.

Nyquist's output contributed to a Northern Michigan season record of 983 yards in the air in nine games. Northern completed its season with a 4-4-1 record.

Albion fullback J. B. Elzy established a new school career rushing mark of 2,156 yards by gaining 131 yards in Saturday's 17-6 non-conference triumph over Eastern Michigan. The previous Albion career record was 2,091 yards.

Three In Six

Wayne State, a 1-12-1 team last year, defeated Case Tech 21-10 in the Presidents' Athletic Conference for its third victory in six games.

Kalamazoo, marching 91 and 98 yards for touchdowns, broke Earlham's 21-game winning streak in a 15-2 victory over the Indiana team.

Western Michigan bowed to title contender Ohio U. 26-13 in the Mid-American Conference. Ohio's co-captain Jim Albert scored four touchdowns.

In other games, Hillsdale swamped Ohio Northern 31-14. Hope nipped Eastern Illinois 15-8. Alma lost to Wilmington of Ohio 30-14, and Olivet nosed out Indiana Central 20-13 on a touchdown in the last seven seconds. Fullback Tom German scored it on a fourth-and-one play from the one-yard line to give Olivet its first victory of the season.

Howe can 'Enjoy Life' Again; Snapped Record

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe and the Detroit Red Wings ended two long weeks of frustration Sunday when the All-Star right winger scored a record-setting 545th career goal in a 3-0 National Hockey League victory over Montreal.

Crowd On Feet

Howe's goal, the third scored in the second period by the Red Wings, came with Detroit's Alex Faulkner in the penalty box. The crowd of 15,027 rose to its feet when the red light went on behind Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge and gave Howe a seven-minute ovation.

The goal broke the record of Montreal's Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, who had 544 in 18 NHL seasons. Howe currently is in his 18th season.

Howe tied Richard's mark two weeks ago against the Canadiens. Since that time, the Red Wings were able to win only one of five games—that a 1-0 triumph over New York last Thursday.

Record Tied

While Howe was getting all the attention for his goal, Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk quietly moved into a tie for most career shutouts (94) with former Toronto and Montreal netminder George Hainsworth. Sawchuk also has 10 shutouts in Stanley Cup play.

The game was one of two played in the NHL Sunday. In the other one, Boston ended Chicago's 11-game unbeaten streak with a 4-2 victory. The last-place Bruins got 43 shots at reserve goaltender Denis DeJordy, who was pressed into action because Glenn Hall was sidelined with a stomach disorder.

Before Detroit's second period barrage, Montreal held the upper hand in rough game, marked by 16 penalties, including a major to Faulkner.

But the Red Wings started to roll early in the period and Bruce MacGregor broke the deadlock with a goal from close in at 4:49. Less than a minute later, Faulkner sent Lowell MacDonald's rebound past Hodge and the Canadiens never recovered.

TIGER FIGHTS SOON
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Convention Hall, which has rung with the words of the orators addressing convention delegates, will enclose the sound of gloves pounding bags next week.
World middleweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria and Joey Giardello of Philadelphia signed a contract Thursday to meet in a fight for the title in the Hall Dec. 7. Their contracts also call for them to train in the hall for three weeks before the match.

Halas Not Looking Ahead To Packer Game Next Weekend

CHICAGO (AP)—"I'm glad that one's behind us," said owner-coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears "but don't like seeing what's ahead of us."

Halas' comments concerned his club's narrow 6-0 victory over stubborn Los Angeles Sunday and the upcoming football game against the Green Bay Packers next Sunday. Green Bay defeated Minnesota 28-7 Sunday.

Tied

The Bears, who defeated the Packers 10-3 in the season opener, are tied with Green Bay in the Western Division lead in the National Football League. Each club has an 8-1 record and the upcoming game could determine the divisional championship.

For the Bears, it was the same story it has been all season in their triumph over the Rams. The defense did it again. Six times this year the Bear defense, which Halas considers the best in his club's history, has held the opposition to one touchdown or less while the offense throughout the season has been erratic.

SPITBALLER DEAD

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — Clarence Mitchell, 72, one of the last of baseball's spitball pitchers, died Wednesday of a heart condition. Mitchell pitched for seven different clubs, beginning with Detroit in 1911 and winding up with the New York Giants in 1932.

Assist Credit

Coach and General Manager Sid Abel gave much of the credit for Howe's tally to Billy McNeill, who got the only assist. McNeill got the puck from Howe after Marcel Pronovost got it out of the corner in Detroit territory. McNeill raced down the ice, and passed it over to Howe just as he crossed the blue line.

Howe fired from about 25 feet away and Hodge made a futile kick at the speeding puck, but never touched it.

Hodge turned back 25 shots, while Sawchuk was called on to stop 39.

Coach's Words Proved Wrong In Texas Win

(By the Associated Press) Oh, those things college football coaches say before a game. Darrell Royal, coach of the country's top-ranked Texas Longhorns, said before the Baylor game Saturday "I just don't know if we lack the killer instinct or what, but by not scoring in the second half we've had to sweat out some games we thought we had wrapped up."

Carlisle also passed for 16 yards and ran for 16 in Texas' touchdown drive in the third period. Tom Stockton bucked over from the one to complete the march and virtually assure the Longhorns the SWC title and a berth in the Cotton Bowl.
