Presidents, Kings, Prime Ministers Pay Final Respects

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mourning nation buries John F. Kennedy today on an open hillside sacred with history after a formal farewell from statesmen, countrymen and family. The youthful President, who sought peace in an age of hot and cold wars, finds his own peace beside the nation's heroes in Arlington National Cemetery—in a grave overlooking the memorial of another martyred President, Abraham Lincoln.

Accused Assassin Slain; Police Reveal Evidence

DALLAS, Tex. — Lee Harvey Oswald may have left behind in death a blueprint for the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Oswald was slain Sunday by Jack Ruby, 52, a night club owner and self-appointed executioner, who undertook swift savage reprisal for the Kennedy murder.

Probe Pushed Into Blaze Fatal To 63

NORWALK, Ohio (AP) — The bodies of five of the 63 elderly patients who perished in a fire at the Golden Age Nursing Home near Fitchville, 15 miles southeast of here, remained unidentified today as experts continued an investigation to determine the cause of the blaze.

Johnson Meets World Statesmen After Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson travels the last miles today—and then sets his own course in meetings with a massive array of world statesmen. Everyone watched for clues as to how Johnson would get along with President Charles de Gaulle of France, De Gaulle differed from Kennedy on such great questions as NATO, the European Common Market, and the French government's insistence on its own nuclear force.

Temperature Drops To 19 Here; Coldest Weather This Fall

Marquette area residents experienced their first real wintry weather of the season during the weekend.

The mercury dipped to 32 at midnight Friday night and stayed below the freezing point all weekend. Today the high temperature was expected to be around the freezing mark.

First Below Freezing

It's the first really cold weather of the fall. Up until this weekend the temperature had been above freezing every day and nighttime lows had been in the 30s only a few times during the first few days of November.

Yesterday morning the mercury dropped to 19, the lowest temperature reading so far this fall in Marquette, Meteorologist Fred Mueller said.

At the Marquette County Airport in Negaunee Township, where it's often colder because it's farther from Lake Superior and has higher elevations, the mercury went down to eight Saturday night. That was the lowest temperature at the airport this fall.

34-Degree Drop

Three weeks of way-above-normal temperatures came to an abrupt halt Friday when the mercury sank 24 degrees in a five-hour period. The high Friday of 57 was one degree below the record maximum temperature for the day. It was 56 degrees at 7 p. m. and 32 degrees by midnight.

The reading of 32 at midnight was the minimum for Friday and the maximum for Saturday.

Monday, Low Saturday was 21 and the average was 27, four degrees below normal, making Saturday the first day with below normal temperatures since Nov. 2.

Yesterday, with extremes of 29 and 19, the average was 24, seven degrees below normal. Overnight the low temperature was 23 and the mercury had risen to 25 at daybreak today.

Precipitation Below Normal

Precipitation from Friday through yesterday amounted to .48 of an inch, with 40 of an inch in rain Friday and .08 of an inch in snowfall Saturday. Snowfall over the weekend included an inch Saturday and traces yesterday and this morning.

Precipitation for the month and year are well below normal, with the November figure being 2.21 inches, compared to the norm of 3.76, while the year's accumulation is 21.33, as against the average of 25.17.

Mueller noted that the Marquette area didn't get as much snow in areas east of here because the prevailing winds have been northwesterly. Northwesterly winds cross land, rather than open water, to reach Marquette.

Periods of light snow are forecast for tonight, with lows from 20 to 25. For tomorrow, variable cloudiness, occasional snow flurries and continued cold temperatures are predicted. High tomorrow will be in the upper 20s.

Long-Range Outlook

For the next five days, temperatures are expected to average from three to five degrees above the normal extremes of 34 and 24. A slight warming is expected Wednesday or Thursday, with little change of importance thereafter.

Precipitation this week is expected to total one-fourth to one-half inch, in snow flurries tomorrow and a period of rain or snow about Thursday.

Another Hunter Lost In U.P., Located; Season Ends West Of Highway 77

Another hunter was lost in the Upper Peninsula, but located, during the weekend, with deer season drawing to a close at sundown yesterday in the region, west of M-77.

East of M-77 and downstate, where the season began Nov. 15, the season extends to the end of the week. State police also reported a deer hunter being an apparent drowning victim in Delta County. The victim was identified as being Paul Lewis, 54, Gladstone city clerk, who is believed to have drowned Friday night in Forsyth Lake, Masonville Township.

Officers said Lewis had a camp on an island in the lake and took a party ashore Friday night at 8. He was to have returned to his camp the same night.

Later, another party came but got no reply from a signal. The hunters went to the camp in another boat and the next morning found Lewis' boat abandoned.

Dragging operations were still being conducted in the lake this morning, but officers said it has a muddy bottom.

Most Business Activity At Standstill Here Today

Most business and recreational activities were called off in Marquette today in cooperation with President Lyndon B. Johnson's proclamation naming today as a day of mourning for late President John F. Kennedy.

Cooperating with the Marquette Ministerial Association and the proclamation of Mayor C. Fred Rydholm, the retail division of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce announced today that most stores would be closed all day.

Filling Stations Closed

Only merchants who provide necessary specialized services opened their doors after 1 p. m. today.

Even most gas stations, which normally close only on Christmas Day, were not open this morning.

Federal, county and city offices were closed all day. The Palestra also was closed.

Proclamation Cited

Most stores and offices had originally planned to open at 1 or 2 p. m. today. However, businessmen announced the all-day closing following the proclamation of President Johnson.

All schools were closed today and school officials had urged students to attend services for President Kennedy in the church of their choice today.

City Woman Dies At 72 In Hospital

Miss Loretta Sheridan, 72, of 203 N. Fourth St., died at 7 last evening in the Ferguson Hospital, Newberry, where she was a medical patient for 14 months.

Miss Sheridan was born Oct. 18, 1891, in Marquette, and was a lifelong resident of the city.

She graduated from Baraga High School in 1912. She was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral and was a member of the Altar Society of St. Peter's.

Survivors are three brothers, Leo T., Philip H. and Joseph A. Sheridan, Marquette, and a sister, Miss Eleanor B. Sheridan, Marquette, and a nephew, Wayne T. Balmes, Marquette.

Services Wednesday

Funeral services will be held at 11:15 Wednesday morning in St. Peter's Cathedral. A Solemn Requiem High Mass will be offered. Burial will be made in Holy Cross Cemetery.

The body is in the Fassbender Funeral Home, where friends may call between 7 and 10 tomorrow evening. Liturgical services will be held at 8 tomorrow evening.

Reports, Hearings Set At Commission Meeting Tonight

Several reports are scheduled to be received and some public hearings will be held at the regular meeting of the Marquette City Commission to be held at 7 this evening in the city hall.

A proposed resolution on the application to the Housing and Finance Agency under the Public Works Acceleration Act will be considered by the commission.

Frank T. McKeown, chairman of the Kiwanis Club's Christmas lighting committee, will present a letter concerning this season's contest.

Hospital Asks Rezoning
A communication will be received from Lincoln B. Frazier, president of the board of trustees of St. Luke's Hospital, concerning a request for the rezoning of hospital properties, will be received.

A request for the name of a street will be received from Sepp Hoedlmoser.

Salt Bids Due
Clyde W. Hecox, vice president of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, which is headquartered in Marquette, will speak concerning financial assistance for the organization.

City Manager Thomas Moore will report on bids received for a quantity of salt for the public works department for the winter season.

The commission also will hold public hearings on (1) the proposed rezoning of Lots 16 and 17 in Block 7, Woodlawn Park Addition; (2) the proposed rezoning of property lying eastward from the west city limits, about 290 feet in length, between U. S. 41 and Westwood Rd., and (3) the proposed vacating of two alleys east of Front St., between Mesnard and Genesee Sts., extended.

A resolution on deficiency assessments also will be taken up by the commission.

Driver Hurt, Given Ticket In Smashup

A motorist was injured, his car was wrecked and he was issued a summons in the worst of two area traffic mishaps reported this morning by state police from the Marquette post.

The personal injury accident took place at 1:20 yesterday morning on County Road 553, about three-quarters of a mile south of County Road 480, in Sands Township.

State police said Tommie Mitchell, 24, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, was driving north on Road 553 when he missed a left curve, with the automobile traveling off the right side of the highway and rolling over, landing on its wheels.

Mitchell was injured (the extent of his injuries was not immediately learned) and he was taken by a passing motorist to the base hospital for treatment.

Extensive damage resulted to the top, sides and front end of his car, a 1956 sedan, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

Reckless Driving Count
State police issued Mitchell a summons for reckless driving.

At 1:40 yesterday afternoon a truck being driven east on County Road KP by Kenneth Fortin, 26, of 1812 Longyear Ave., Marquette, was involved in a collision with an oncoming vehicle operated by Ronald Goodreau, 20, of 424 W. Crescent St., Marquette, just west of County Road 550, in Powell Township.

Almost Sideswiped
State police said it was almost a sideswiping accident, due to the narrowness of the road in that area. Goodreau was driving up a grade and was on a curve to the right when the collision took place. Neither driver was able to stop in time, officers said.

The left front of Fortin's 1955 sedan and the left side of Goodreau's 1946 vehicle were damaged. Both vehicles were driven from the scene under their own power.

City Firemen Called Out Four Times

Marquette's fire department was summoned four times during the weekend and early today, but no serious damage resulted.

1. At 6:15 this morning firemen were called to the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad Co.'s changing building off Lake Shore Blvd., where an oil space heater became overheated.

The building became full of smoke, although there was no blaze, and firemen used two smoke ejectors (portable fans) to clear the building of smoke.

Eleven firemen were called out and they responded to the call in the Nos. 2 (1,000-gallon) and 4 (750-gallon) pumper and the service truck. They returned to the station at 6:48 a.m.

2. Firemen were called to the Soo Line Railroad Co. lower yard off S. Front St. at 1:30 yesterday afternoon, when a man reported to firemen that he saw smoke coming from a boxcar on the tracks.

Thursday night discussion group, because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

However, an investigation disclosed there was no fire. Six firemen responded to the call with the Nos. 2 and 4 pumpers and they returned to the station at 1:50 p.m.

3. A chimney blaze at the residence of Emery Dorow, 1724 Wilkinson Ave., was extinguished by city firemen at 8:19 yesterday morning.

Firemen used a pail of water and the booster hose off the service truck to put out the blaze. There apparently was no damage.

Six firemen answered the call in the No. 2 pumper and the service truck. They were back at the station at 8:59 a.m.

4. At 11:38 Saturday morning firemen were called to the corner of Fisher and S. Third Sts., where a truck owned by Nick Segan, Deerton, caught fire.

Emergency Brake On

Firemen said the blaze was due to the fact that the vehicle had been operated with the emergency brake on, causing the brake drum to become overheated. The blaze was out on arrival and nothing was used.

Two men answered the call with the No. 4 pumper and they returned to the station at 11:47 a.m.

Ten Vehicles Involved In Five Accidents In Marquette

Ten vehicles were involved and two motorists were ticketed, but no one was hurt, in five traffic accidents which occurred in Marquette during the weekend.

1. Three automobiles were damaged in what actually was a pair of mishaps at 4:55 Saturday afternoon on S. Front St. Involved were cars operated by Leslie W. Davidson, 30, of 607 Pine St.; Leo N. Schunk, 63, of 711 N. Fourth St., and Frank L. Stickney, 53, of 439 W. Ridge St.

City police said Davidson was driving north on S. Front St. when his car smashed into the vehicle operated by Schunk, who had just parked on the right side of the street, in the 300 block.

Continues On After Crash

Officers said Davidson continued driving north after the mishap and his car slammed into the rear end of the car operated by Stickney, who was stopped for the Washington St. Patrolman Joseph Johnson, who saw the collision, summoned the patrol car and the officers escorted Davidson to the police station. In the police station Davidson became ill and was taken in the city ambulance to St. Mary's Hospital.

The left side of Schunk's 1958 two-door sedan, the rear end of Stickney's 1959 four-door sedan and the front end of Davidson's 1956 two-door sedan were damaged.

The accident was kept open for investigation.

2. At 2:55 Saturday afternoon a car being driven west on E. Hewitt Ave. by Morris R. Donnelly, 49, of 114 E. Ohio St., went out of control in the 100 block and climbed the curbing, smashing into a wooden utility pole which was about two feet from the curbing.

Drunk Driving Count
The utility pole was broken and extensive damage resulted to the front end of Donnelly's car, a 1960 four-door sedan, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker.

City police arrested Donnelly for drunk driving.

3. An automobile being driven east on W. Main St. by Darlene M. Murphy, 20, of 436 E. Michigan St., was struck by a car operated by Earl Prin, 67, of 112 E. College Ave., in the 100 block of Main at 1:25 Saturday afternoon.

Right-Of-Way Violation
City police said the mishap occurred as Prin was crossing over to drive into a parking lot on the south side of Main St. and went in front of her car.

Apparently no damage resulted to the Prin car, a 1963 four-door sedan, but extensive damage occurred to the left rear fender and left side of the Murphy vehicle, a 1961 foreign model, with both vehicles being able to be driven from the scene under their own power.

City police ticketed Prin for a right-of-way violation.

4. A hit-and-run accident occurred at 6:05 Saturday evening on W. Prospect St. City police said a car owned by Lynn F. Novokofski, and parked in front of his house at 209 W. Prospect St., was struck by a pickup truck being driven east on Prospect.

Witnesses obtained a description of the truck and the case was kept open for investigation. The left front of Novokofski's 1958 two-door sedan was damaged.

5. Another hit-and-run mishap was reported at 10:55 Saturday night. It occurred at the corner of N. Third and Bluff Sts., where an automobile owned by Jerry T. Bafford, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, was struck by another vehicle, which a witness said was being driven at a high rate of speed.

The mishap also was kept open for investigation.

better highways save lives

Traffic last Labor Day weekend broke all records—yet there was not a single fatality on Michigan's entire freeway system!

Modern highways are already reducing accidents by as much as 75% when compared with the outmoded roads they replace. It is a well-proved fact: Safety-engineered, easy-to-travel roads save lives. No better way has been found to cut accidents.

Yet today, nearly 50% of Michigan's roads and streets are still inadequate! This is no time to stop or curtail the state's great life-saving highway improvement program. The most effective way to further reduce Michigan's traffic toll is to improve these unsafe roads.

Also contributing to improved highway safety are today's modern concrete pavements. Wet or dry, concrete provides dependable skid resistance. Concrete's light color improves night visibility.

As an investment, too, concrete is first choice. Its long life and ability to take the heaviest traffic save taxes for every motorist.

School Board Will Open Equipment Bids Tomorrow

Bids for movable equipment for the Marquette Senior High School will be opened by the board of education at its November session tomorrow afternoon at 4 in the Graverat building.

In September the school board approved specifications for 57 movable items, listed in 28 groups, to equip the new high school.

Cost of the movable equipment, which includes such articles as tables, chairs, wastebaskets, pencil sharpeners, dumbbells, maps and adding machines, is expected to be upwards of $145,000.

Following the opening of bids for the new high school equipment, teachers and school administrators will begin a lengthy study of the equipment named in the proposals.

Staff Recommendations
School Superintendent Henry J. Bothwell will present the staff's recommendations to the board of education in one or two months.

Of the total cost of the movable equipment, $116,875 will be provided by the federal government. The school district qualifies for the funds because a qualifying percentage of dependents of federal employees attend school here.

Bond Issue Money
The remainder of the cost will be provided by funds from the bond issue approved by the voters in June 1962 for the construction of the new high school.

Because federal funds are being used, the school board must meet several regulations of the U. S. Office of Education in awarding the 28 contracts.

A representative of the U. S. Office of Education will be present tomorrow for the bid opening. He will help school board members to select quality equipment for the new school, Bothwell said.

Staebler Reported Set To Enter Gubernatorial Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indications are strong that Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., will be a candidate for the governorship of Michigan by the first of the year.

Although Staebler, Michigan Democratic national committeeman, is shying away from stating his intentions, some sources say he will make the run even if former Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson tries to recapture his old job.

And the White House, prior to the assassination of President Kennedy, also was reported to have entered the picture.

One source said the White House had been concerned about Michigan in the 1964 presidential election and Kennedy had believed Staebler would make the strongest candidate to run against Republican Gov. George Romney.

Romney defeated Swainson last year 1,420,086 to 1,339,513 or a margin of 80,573. Staebler, running for the at-large House seat, defeated former Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, the Republican nominee, 1,392,221 to 1,282,082, or a margin of 110,139.

Earlier this year Staebler said he would not be a candidate for governor if Swainson decided to make the race. However, those who know the situation say that Staebler now is edging away from this position and has about decided to run for the governorship in any case.

Eye Big Electoral Vote
Kennedy won Michigan in 1960 by a narrow margin over former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and reports were that he wanted the strongest possible state ticket in 1964 in his effort to retain the state's big electoral vote.

Swainson has had strong labor backing, but some contend that his ties with labor are so close that it could be a liability.

Earlier this year Swainson won out in the Democratic state convention in Grand Rapids in having his former executive secretary, Zolton Ferency, named state Democratic chairman.

Armed Forces Personnel

Army PFC Glenn F. Fitzpatrick, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gathering with Christmas Seal campaign-ers from throughout the state in East Lansing recently were Mrs. Doris Campbell (left), Marquette, Christmas Seal campaign chairman for Marquette County; Mrs. Lenore Romney, honorary state Christmas Seal chairman, and Leo H. Roy, Hancock, representative trustee on the state association board. They met to plan for the 1963 Christmas Seal campaign and more intensive efforts to battle the disease.

Yule Seal Campaign Begun By County TB Association

Most Marquette County residents received Christmas seals this month so that the seals may be used for advance gift wrapping and card mailing, Mrs. Doris Campbell, Marquette, county seal campaign chairman, reports.

"We hope that people will make a contribution for the seals and use them to help stamp out tuberculosis and other respiratory disease," Mrs. Campbell said.

$11,300 Goal

The goal for the 1963 Christmas seal campaign is $11,300. "After working out the county tuberculosis association's program for the coming year, we find that $11,300 is necessary if we are to engage in the activities planned to meet our goals," Mrs. Campbell said.

Kearsarge Man Dies In Auto Crash

(By The Associated Press)

Eleven Michigan residents died in accidents on state highways during the weekend.

The fatalities were reported by the Associated Press during the period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Victims not previously reported:

Bufford Gates, 54, of Detroit, died early Sunday in Outer Drive Hospital, Lincoln Park, of injuries suffered Saturday when his car struck a parked car in Lincoln Park.

Charles Gavin, 28, of Milan, was killed Sunday when his car left Oakville - Waltz Road on a curve and struck a pole 12 miles west of Flat Rock in Monroe County.

Delores Prosser, 29, of Battle Creek, was killed Sunday morning in a two-car collision in Calhoun County.

Tansil Gannon, 54, of Montrose was killed in a head-on collision with another car on M 57 in Genesee County near Flint Sunday.

Beverly Young, 18, of Rural Delton was killed Saturday when the car in which she was a passenger missed a curve north of Prairieville in Barry County and rolled over. Three other teen-aged girls in the car were injured.

Arnie Leinonen, 40, of Kearsarge was killed on Trap Rock Valley Road near Calumet in Houghton County Saturday. Police said his wife, Rebecca, was driving when the car went off the road. The door flew open and Leinonen was pinned between it and an embankment, police said.

Ore Shipping Leaders Set To Testify

Twelve Great Lakes area business leaders will go to Washington tomorrow to urge that legislative relief be granted to the hard-pressed United States lake vessel industry, which is caught in a competitive pinch from Canadian and overseas shipowners.

The delegation will include spokesmen for vessel owners, shipyards and other organizations who will testify at a Senate Commerce Committee hearing on Senate Bill 1773.

The bill, introduced by Sen. E. L. Bartlett (D-Alaska), calls for one or more of the following benefits: A credit allowance for obsolete vessels toward new construction or reconstruction; a construction differential sub-

Financial Scene: Business Climate Under Study

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Business seemed getting set to start another big expansion drive — before the shock of President Kennedy's assassination.

Predictions for spending next year for new plant and equipment has ranged from a moderate increase to a possible 10 per cent boost.

Plans may be held up while industrialists assess the new business climate.

Appropriations Boosted

But the first tangible sign of quickening business interest already has come in the language of dollars. Manufacturing firms have sharply boosted their appropriations for capital spending — as much as 45 per cent in some key industries. The total set aside is the highest since 1956, when the last big boom was in full swing.

The greater part of the actual dollar outlay would be made in 1964. And if the appropriation trend that started this summer continues, next year could see a duplication of the outpouring of money by corporations which made 1955-56 a notable expansion era, unchallenged since in year-to-year spending increases.

Appropriations can later be canceled, but mostly they are not. So the $3.2 billion which directors of 602 leading manufacturing firms earmarked in just the last three months for capital spending — if matched by the multitude of firms so far unreported — could mean the 1964 economy can expect a stronger boost than heretofore foreseen.

Spent $39 Billion

This year business spent $39 billion on new equipment or on plant expansion. Private surveys of business inventions show expenditures next year may run from 4 to 10 per cent higher. The Department of Commerce's own survey of intentions for 1964 is due out this week. The most optimistic forecast so far has been for a $43 billion expenditure.

But the money-on-the-barrel-head appropriations, as tabulated by the National Industrial Conference Board, shows that in the July-September quarter money set aside by 602 corporations increased 19 per cent over the second quarter of the year. The total of $3.2 billion approaches the $3.3 billion back in

'Need Help Now'

"Help for the deteriorating lake fleet should be delayed no longer," Vice Admiral James A. Mirschfield, president of the Lake Carriers' Association, asserted.

"More than the continuation of a proud industry is in the balance. The part played by our ships in World War II in delivering vital iron ore for defense when ocean-borne cargoes of imported ore were being sunk by enemy submarines must not be forgotten. The whole nation has a stake in this fleet's future."

No Day Dreaming In This High School

SPEARMAN, Tex. (AP) — The first windowless high school building in the state of Texas was dedicated here recently. The $1 million building covering 75,000 feet of floor space is divided into three units with the latest in air-conditioning and lighting facilities.

Should electric power be disrupted, an emergency unit provides power for the entire building. Classrooms and laboratories are grouped together for maximum efficiency.

Many place names on Australian maps, such as Poonda, Ethel Creek, Walgun and Balfour Downs, indicate not towns or villages but sheep and cattle stations and individual homesteads.

the summer of 1953. In the 1955-56 boom spending suddenly swelled by 22 per cent.

Durable Goods Hike

Significantly perhaps, appropriations this summer by industries turning out durable goods increased 23 per cent over the April-June quarter. Bellwethers are the primary iron and steel firms, up 45 per cent; motor vehicles and equipment, up 35 per cent; fabricated metal products, up 70 per cent; instruments and photographic equipment firms, up 64 per cent.

Economists have been watching closely the trend of business spending because it is the third leg of the economy. The other two — consumer and government spending — have shown but moderate rises.

A definite increase in business spending might give the economy the pepped up growth rate desired if more jobs are to be created.

Uncertainty Of Life Seen Affecting Pigs

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The uncertainties of modern living are beginning to affect pigs, too, Tadeusz Kowalczyk of the University of Wisconsin Department of Veterinary Science told the World Veterinary Congress in Hanover, Germany, recently that stomach ulcers in swine may be related to "psychosomatic" stresses brought about by high pressure modern feeds and swine raising practices.

He said causes of animal ulcers could be similar to those in humans.

City's Light, Power Load Up 4.3 Per Cent In Week

Marquette's light and power department kilowatt hour load was 4.3 per cent higher last week than it was during the same week one year ago.

This and other information concerning the activities last week of municipal departments is included in the weekly report of City Manager Thomas Moore.

Last week light and power department line crews replaced two new poles and relocated a transformer in Lakewood, installed poles and guys for blinker lights on the new bypass and replaced a transformer in Shiras Hills and another at the Marquette State Prison's Mangum Farm.

Elevation Raised
Water received at the hydroelectric plants last week was more than the previous week last year. Elevation at the Hoist Pond was raised four-tenths of a foot and was .05 of a foot lower than the same week last year and 8.7 feet from the top of the dam.

Excerpts from the reports of other departments follow:

Finance — Semi-monthly payroll work done, prepared annual employment report for Bureau of Census and established employees' years of service in cases of breaks in service.

Public works — Worked on special assessment projects on Center St. and Lynn and Neidhart Aves. Graded gravel streets, cleaned manholes and bucketed and rodded sewers.

Health — Complaints with assistance given 47, minor treatments nine, referrals to private physicians 23, first aid supplies transferred to police department, 172.

Fire — Two chimney, two electrical and one other fire. Drill sessions conducted in ladder, hose and hose roller usage.

Engineering — Set stakes and checked construction of storm sewer on Lynn Ave., Waldo St. and Birch Ave. Work is being done by Don Britton on a city contract. Began running a preliminary survey for future improvement of Pioneer Road to the city dump.

Clerk — Issued one city license, 16 dog licenses and four new registrations.

Court — Handled 33 traffic violations, three misdemeanors and five civil cases. The violations bureau handled 58 meter and 40 restricted parking violations.

Police — Arrests, misdemeanors 4, traffic 129, accidents 10. Investigations, disturbances 9, juvenile disturbances 3, traffic complaints 28. One break-in and 10 larcenies were reported. Four cases of vandalism and two prowlers also reported.

Parks and recreation — Cared for deer herd and cleaned buildings and grounds daily at Presque Isle Park, operated ice plant at Palestra and cleaned Lake Shore Blvd. and parks of litter.

Water and sewage — Made a two-inch tap on Wright St. and four three-quarter inch taps on Neidhart Ave. Repaired two half inch service lines on Birch St. and removed and replaced a section of four and six inch line on Fair and Birch Aves. to facilitate installation of storm drain. During the week 14,127,000 gallons of water were pumped.

Assessor — Spread delinquent taxes on tax and assessment roll. Completed special assessment roll adjustments for refunds or deficiencies.

The word "carat" means the weight of a carob tree seed, used long ago to weigh diamonds. The metric carat, equal to 1/142 ounce, now is in general use.

Four County Students In NMU Unit

Four Marquette County students at Northern Michigan University have been elected to the NMU Student Council for the 1963-64 season.

The council is comprised of 16 representatives — four from each class — and the president. The members are elected by the student body at an open campus election.

Students from the Marquette area serving on the council include Jean Wilson, 913 W. Magnetic, Marquette; Pat Holman, Negaunee, and Jan Keto, 116 Rock, Marquette, representatives of the freshman class, and John St. Andre, Ishpeming, a senior class representative, and member-at-large of the executive committee.

Regional Republican Meet Set In Marquette Monday; State Chairman To Be Here

To strengthen grass-roots level liaison with every Republican county chairman in Michigan, Arthur G. Elliott Jr., Bloomfield Hills, GOP state chairman, is embarking on a series of monthly meetings throughout the state.

He will meet with GOP party leaders in the Upper Peninsula on Monday in Marquette. The 6 p. m. dinner meeting will be held at the Northland Hotel.

Counties participating in the Marquette meeting will be Gogebic, Ontonagon, Houghton, Keweenaw, Baraga, Iron, Marquette, Dickinson, Alger, Delta, Menominee, Schoolcraft, Luce, Mackinac and Chippewa.

Convinced that effective election campaign — and eventual victories — begin at the local level, Elliott says he is starting far in advance of the 1964 political battle to reinforce the lines of communication between GOP headquarters and the local-level forces.

"The first ingredient called for in any recipe for a political victory is 'organization,'" Elliott says. "Whether it be labeled 'aggressive' organization, 'good' organization, 'tight' organization or 'effective' organization — no matter which way you say it, it means the same thing. Unless you have a working organization, you can't win."

'Recipe' Given
Elliott believes that "while other important ingredients necessary to a prize-winning political recipe are 1) candidates, 2) issues and 3) financial support, the one component that assures success is organization. We have the issues. We'll have the candidates. Through fundraising drives we'll have the finances. Now we want to make certain we have the finest organization ever."

Since one of Republican State Central's prime purposes is to be of service, Elliott believes his kitchen-table level meetings will be instrumental in turning out a smooth functioning, unified, vote-producing statewide political organization.

As state chairman, Elliott says he feels it is his duty, as well as the duty of the state central staff, to be of assistance to every single local Republican organization and the growing army of volunteers that comprise the party.

Purpose Given
"I've set up these regularly-scheduled regional meetings for the purpose of giving each county chairman an opportunity to bring to my attention anything which will help produce greater efficiency in our office and the Governor's office."

"At these study-and-work sessions we will work out programs, projects and problems. We will iron out any and all kinks. We will plan strategy. We will discuss matters pertaining to each individual county."

Predicting that "we will go into the 1964 battle a unified, effective statewide political organization," Elliott says "we already have top-notch people at all levels of the Republican Party in Michigan. "We can't help but be victorious in '64."

This Month Marks 50th Anniversary Of Lakes' Worst Storm

This month marks the 50th anniversary of four days which never will be forgotten in Great Lakes shipping circles — four days during which a storm of unprecedented violence swept the entire lakes region.

Two hundred and thirty-five sailors lost their lives, 178 of them on Lake Huron. Eleven steamers and two barges were sunk or stranded and considered total losses. Six other vessels were so badly wrecked that they also were judged to be total losses.

Transportation paralyzed. People ashore were more fortunate, but did not escape the storm's wrath. Transportation was paralyzed, telegraph and telephone lines were put out of commission. Railroad trains, interurban and street cars were stalled by snow and ice. Thousands of persons were marooned. Schools, stores and business offices closed. Life stood still for the duration.

Vessels owners had a hectic time. With no ship-to-shore telephones, and with a breakdown in communications making it almost impossible to check on their ships' whereabouts, they had to weigh rumor and hearsay until the time hard facts would again become available.

Vivid Description. The storm, which began on Saturday, Nov. 8, was believed at the start to be just another fall blow. It continued through the following Tuesday. The following paragraphs from the Lake Carriers' Association annual report of 1913 provide a vivid description of what happened:

"The storm threw a great pall on lake shipping and practically demoralized lake trade for the balance of the season. The storm appears to have begun early on the morning of Nov. 8, striking Lake Superior from the northwest. Vessels generally re-

OASI Questions And Answers

Editor's Note — The U. S. payments deficit has been rising when it was supposed to fall. And in this last of five articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, tells why many bankers think steps to halt the dollar drain have been disappointing — and why they hope new plans being plotted may succeed.

Q. "I operate a business and since my wife's death, I have hired a housekeeper to prepare the meals, do housework, and look after the children. I pay her $25 a week. Do I have to report her wages for social security purposes?"—J. A.

Answer: Yes, you must report her wages and pay the social security tax due. For more information, ask your nearest social security office for leaflet No. 21.

Q. "I hire a woman to do the weekly cleaning. She works from 6 to 8 hours each week and is paid $1 an hour. I understand that I must report her wages for social security since she is paid at least $50 during the three-month calendar quarter. I requested her social security number, but she says she will quit working for me if I report her wages. She is a good worker and I do not want to lose her services. What should I do?"—Mrs. R. S.

Answer: Explain to her the federal law requires you to pay the tax on her earnings and that you must have her social security number. Also, it might be helpful if you asked your nearest social security office for a copy of booklet 24 for your household worker.

This explains how it is to her advantage to have her wages reported. If she again refuses, you should get in touch with your nearest social security or internal revenue office.

mained in port on that lake during the day or sought shelter along the north shore.

Left Marquette Too Soon. "During a lull of a few hours in which it appeared that the sea was going down and that the worst of the blow was over, the bulk freighter H. B. Smith of Marquette, a few hours after leaving port the gale broke out with an increased violence from the northwest, forming heavy seas in which the Smith foundered with all on board.

The Canadian steamer Leafchild also foundered with her crew of 18 on Lake Superior after striking the rocks off Angus Island.

"The greatest havoc, however, was wrought on Lake Huron on Sunday, Nov. 9, and appears to have been the result of a conflict of elements which it was impossible to foresee. The northwest gale had practically died down to a breeze of about 15 miles from the northwest, the sea being quiet, the barometer, however, remaining very low.

Fresh Wind Came Up. "Obviously, in such a condition there was nothing to disturb an experienced navigator on the course that the vessels usually follow in crossing this lake. However, about noon a fresh wind began blowing from the north, shifting to northeast, with increasing velocity until within an hour or two a heavy gale was raging.

"The steamers Charles S. Price, Isaac M. Scott, John A. McGean, Argus and H. M. Hanna Jr., had entered the lake early Sunday morning, upbound, with coal, and the steamers Hydrus and Carruthers entered it downbound early Sunday morning, the former with ore and the latter with grain. The Canadian steamers Wexford and Regina were also making the passage of the lake. What happened to eight of these ships will never be known, as they foundered with every member of the crew.

Entire Crew Saved. "The steamer H. M. Hanna Jr., was thrown upon Port Austin reef in the gale and broke in two, but her entire crew was saved. The last seen of the steamers John A. McGean and the Isaac M. Scott was about 10:30 Sunday morning, somewhat north of Tawas, and it is presumed that when the northeast gale struck them they headed into it in order to endeavor to make the east shore of Lake Huron.

"The testimony of masters is that the waves were at least 35 feet high and followed each other in quick succession, three waves ordinarily coming one right after the other. They were considerably shorter than the waves that are usually formed by the ordinary gale. Being of such height and hurled with such force and such rapid succession, the ships must have been subjected to incredible punishment. Masters also relate that the wind and sea were frequently in conflict, the wind blowing one way and the sea running in the opposite direction. This would indicate a storm of cyclonic character. It was unusual and unprecedented, and it may be centuries before such a combination of forces may be experienced again."

At Least He Wasn't Stung By The Bee. CANAAN, Conn. — When truck driver Steven Stack, 35, of Watertown swatted at a bee, he lost control of his truck. The truck smashed into a pole, knocked down four fence posts and a highway sign. The truck's front was smashed, and Stack received a ticket for failure to stay in lane.

Police said Stack had one consolation — he wasn't stung.

Independent Stores Adopt Own Brand Of Trade Stamp

By A. F. MAHAN Associated Press Staff Writer

FRANKFORT (AP) — Grocer Webb Fairchild still thinks trading stamps are a nuisance, but he and fellow merchants in this Lake Michigan port now are flooding the Frankfort countryside with them.

These stamps are different from those distributed elsewhere. These are home-sponsored, home-redeemed "Frankfort Saving Stamps."

A filled book is worth $2.50 and, with only a couple of so exceptions, any merchant in town will redeem them for whatever you want off his shelves.

A few merchants in this town of 1,690 grudgingly had given stamps for years. Nobody really pushed distribution until a national food chain broke its long-standing, no-stamp policy and induced some independents here to adopt its brand of stamps.

A housewives' rush developed for the stamp-givers.

Can't Beat 'Em, Join 'Em

"So," says Webb Fairchild, "my dad, Charles, and I decided if you can't beat 'em, join 'em. But dang if we were going to make some stamp-company rich in the process. We began talking it over with our fellow members of the Chamber of Commerce."

Frankfort Saving Stamps made their debut May 6 in time to catch the summer tourist trade that flocks in from near-by Crystal Lake and elsewhere from the surrounding resort country.

One stamp is given for each 25 cents spent. A $1 purchase will get you four.

The stamps pointed up the value of summer-visitor trade. One customer who'd been here only two months presented four books for redemption — and it takes $210 worth of purchases to acquire enough stamps to fill one book.

Seventeen merchants, including the town's two restaurants, now give home-grown stamps. The Frankfort State Savings Bank is broker for the stamps and also redeems filled books for merchant-givers.

A merchant pays the bank $7 for enough stamps to cover $500 worth of purchases. After a book is redeemed for $2.50 in merchandise, he can take it to the bank and get $2.50 cash.

Couldn't a book-holder redeem at the bank for cash?

"No," said the younger Fairchild. "If we did that then we'd lose the profit we'd make out of the $2.50 trade-in purchase."

Buy Yule Decorations

The Frankfort Saving Stamps plan now is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, and 25 cents out of the $7 that a merchant pays for a $500 book of stamps goes into a special fund set up to buy Christmas decorations for the town.

As of mid-November, Fairchild reported more than $150 in the Christmas kitty.

Merchants can buy enough of these home-grown stamps to cover a $1 purchase for about a cent and a quarter. Fairchild said they would cost more if bought from a regular trading stamp concern.

Besides, the stamp company instead of the merchants would benefit from the 15 per cent of stamps which are lost, burned or otherwise destroyed and never redeemed. On top of that, a company's redemption center would be reaping the difference between the list price at which it distributes "gifts" and the wholesale price which it pays for them.

Catches On Quickly

When a Frankfort merchant redeems, he redeems at whatever price a particular item is marked on his counter — and, of course, he'd figured in a profit when he marked it.

The home-grown idea caught on quickly. A drug store which had adopted the chain grocery's stamps, switched to Frankfort. Another which was giving two name-brand stamps quit them both and adopted Frankfort.

A local grocer competitor of Fairchild's gave up one of two name-brand stamps and substituted Frankfort. A department store switched from the chain grocer's brand to local.

News of Frankfort's plan has got around, now several other smaller Michigan towns are inquiring about the mechanics of setting up something similar.

Engineer For Dow Residing In Marquette

The Dow Chemical Co. has assigned John R. Knudson to Marquette in order to service the company's interests in the mining industry in the Upper Peninsula.

Knudson is transferring here from Virginia, Minn., where he has been based with Dow for the past three years. Dow has a pilot plant in Virginia for the manufacture of a new line of metallized explosives. Knudson is responsible for technical service on the explosives with mining companies in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Knudson and their two daughters are residing at 811 Kaye Ave.

Knudson is a graduate of the University of North Dakota, where he earned a degree in mining engineering. He was associated with the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. as a mining engineer for 10 years before joining Dow in 1960.

and all improved slopes over the summer.

The Boyne Highlands development will give the Harbor Springs-Petoskey-Boyer City region a sixth ski resort. Others are Boyne Mountain, Thunder Mountain, Wallow Hills, Avalanche and Nub's Nob.

Expansion Next Year

Construction began at Boyne Highlands May 18 and project manager J. L. Dilworth forecast confidently in late November it would open Dec. 26 with 70 extra large double rooms available plus both dining and cafeteria facilities. Plans call for adding 100 more rooms next year and for a total of 350 eventually.

Designed by architect James Livingston of Ann Arbor, who also designed the Boyne Mountain lodge, Boyne Highlands will have Michigan's first lifts carrying three persons per chair. They can carry 3,600 skiers an hour.

Unless your pay is at the executive level, you likely won't want to grab Mama and the kids and run up to either Shanty Creek or Boyne Highlands. Currently the Highlands is booking only for a five-day ski-week at $125.

This fee covers food, lodging, instruction and ski tows.

If the budget is limited, you may find Caberfae, outside Cadillac, more to your liking. Caberfae has 33 ski runs and you can pick and choose among a variety of prices and accommodations provided by motels that dot the Cadillac area. You can arrange a ski-week at Caberfae through the Cadillac Chamber of Commerce for $75 each.

Buck Bag

With the season closing yesterday in the western end of Upper Michigan, buck bag items continue to be received by this newspaper, and the reports will be published as long as they are submitted.

Bob Hanford, 324 E. Park St., Marquette, bagged his first buck in 11 years of hunting, when he dropped a 200-pound, 10-point buck Thursday at 2 p.m., while hunting near Ralph in Dickinson County.

Getting his first deer after hunting for two years was Peter Peterson, a junior at the Negaunee High School. Peterson downed a 110-pound spikehorn buck Sunday morning in the Sands Plains area.

Terry Tripp, Big Bay, a senior at Graveraet High School, shot a 198-pound, eight-point buck Sunday while hunting in Powell Township. This is Terry's first year hunting after a two year lapse.

Big Ski Resort Opens Downstate

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PETOSKEY (AP) — Michigan, which already claims to lead the nation with 85 ski areas, is adding a resort this year that likely will be its most picturesque, and one into which developers have vowed they will pour $10 million in eight years.

It is Boyne Highlands, which lies off Little Traverse Bay about midway between Petoskey and Harbor Springs.

Resembles Bavarian Village

It resembles a Bavarian Alps village and is scheduled to open Dec. 26. It is being developed by Everett Kircher, owner of the posh Boyne Mountain Lodge at nearby Boyne Falls.

Kircher estimates that $1.5 million in private funds are going into Boyne Highlands this year and says the investment will total $10 million when development is completed in 1970.

Boyne Highlands is the second multimillion-dollar new development started in northwestern Lower Michigan in the last two years.

The other is Shanty Creek, near Bellaire, in which Detroit's Roy Deskin estimates more than $3 million already has been invested and which still is abuilding.

Built Atop Ski Runs

Shanty Creek's lodge, which opened in mid-season last year, resembles a Swiss chalet, with four hotel wings running from it. Unlike most lodges, it is built at the top of the ski runs instead of at the foot.

White skiing will be their No. 1 attractions, both the swank resorts are planning year-around operations and mapping programs to fit into other seasons.

There hardly is a ski area anywhere in Michigan that hasn't added improvements over the last year. And in addition to Boyne Highlands, four other new resorts are to operate in West Michigan this season.

They are: Carousel Mountain, four miles west of Holland; Moon Ridge, two miles south of Lakeview; Pando, 12 miles northeast of Grand Rapids, and Timber Ridge, 13 miles northeast of Kalamazoo.

Lighted For Night Skiing

Major improvements in eastern Lower Michigan include a new lodge, with restaurant, at Snowsnake Mountain, near Harrison, and a new heated swimming pool and expanded lodge accommodations at Snow Valley, outside Gaylord. Sylvan Knob at Gaylord has added new chalet lodging units.

All nine southeastern Michigan resorts will be lighted for night skiing this season and the Irish Hills Sports Park has added a 200-bed dormitory. The southeastern areas all have artificial snow-making machines

2 Varieties Of Peaches Developed

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — Two new redskins have joined the Haven family of peaches.

They are the "Glohaven" and the "Cresthaven," both developed by Stanley Johnston and J. E. Moulton, Michigan State University horticulturists at the agricultural experiment station here.

"Glohaven is a general purpose variety," they report. "It is suitable for fresh market and for processing, either by canning or freezing."

"Cresthaven should sell well on the fresh market, and it freezes exceptionally well. It has too much red in the pit cavity to be suitable for commercial canning. However, it makes a satisfactory home-canned product."

Red Variety Popular

Both varieties have lots of the red skin color that's become popular on the fresh market since the introduction of the "Redhaven" peach in 1940.

The other members of the "Haven" family, which Johnston began developing in 1924, are the Halehaven, Kalhaven, Fairhaven, Sunhaven and Richhaven.

The Haven varieties now in production account for at least 20 per cent of the peach crop produced in the U. S., according to MSU spokesmen.

The Haven varieties originally were developed to compete with the Elberta line, which in 1916 accounted for 80 per cent of America's fresh market peach production.

But MSU spokesmen say the Haven varieties spread the peach market over a wider range of time by maturing before the Elberta, by these margins: Sunhaven ripens 40 days ahead of Elberta; Redhaven 30 days; Fairhaven, 20 days; Richhaven 17 days; Halehaven 14 days; and Kalhaven 4 days.

Both "freestone" Type

The new varieties, which will be available in small numbers next spring, both ripen earlier than Elberta — Glohaven by two weeks and Cresthaven by one week.

Both also are "freestone" peaches. Their stone is entirely free and can be pitted easily on a mechanical pitting machine. The characteristic also makes them more popular on the fresh market.

State Patrol Training Almost Too Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials of Ohio's State Highway Patrol are proud of the organization's thorough training program for young patrolmen.

They have found that after about four years, a patrolman becomes a well-rounded police officer. To their despair, however, they have found that the program, along with a relatively low pay scale, is responsible for a great many resignations.

Insurance companies scouting for trained accident investigators are waving job offers in front of patrolmen in intensive recruiting programs, and a record number of resignations — perhaps as many as 75 — is expected this year.

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (AP) — A museum of fire fighting equipment, including a hand-drawn, hand-pumped engine that took part in battling the great Chicago fire of 1871, has opened in this southern Wisconsin resort city.

Name of the museum: "The Hall of Flame."

The ancient Egyptian temple of Kalabsha, near Aswan, bears an inscription of about A.D. 249 sternly ordering herders to keep pigs out of the holy place.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Warring politicians in India's largest state are now to have a woman chief executive.
Plump, plain Mrs. Sucheta Kripalani will be the first woman chief minister in India's history.

Roses Bloom In Deer Season

High Stepping Workouts Trim, Tone Figures

1. Sis-boom-bah! Give a yell for some up-in-the-air exercises as rousing as a cheerleader's leap and as circulation-boosting as a run around the block. Designed for the healthy young athlete, here are some high-stepping workouts that trim and tone and add zest-appeal to regular routines. Utilizing a "win team" action, lunge forth on the right foot, simultaneously swinging right arm overhead. Keep left arm back. Alternate legs; perform 10 stretch-steps. 2. Another rally routine, demonstrated by Charla Doherty, is a series of energetic hops.

Be sure both feet leave the floor together, and that you're at least four inches off the ground. The young actress, seen in the 20th film, "Take Her, She's Mine," practiced six exhilarating jumps. 3. Now for another wake-up workout that tones lazy muscles! March in place at a snappy-paced tempo. Try to lift knee higher with each strut step. Practice six times, then vary rhythm and perform an additional six more steps in slow motion.

Sandy Harju, Lynn Beatchamp and Donna Wilkins. Miss Jean Reader, St. Luke's instructor, who was a one-time secretary of the club also was invited. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Nursing.

Large Families Have Giant Size Problems

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Newsfeatures Writer

Children are not cheaper by the dozen. Many hands do not make a light work, especially when those hands are tiny, curious, and sometimes sticky. Parents many times blessed have the logical multiplication of expense, housework and child-rearing dilemmas, despite the stories you may have read in which organization, cooperation, and early self-reliance solve everything.

Large families have giant-sized needs for guidance, but they are the forgotten families in a country geared economically and socially to the so-called average household with two or three youngsters. A group of intelligent and conscientious parents from Norwalk, Conn., can vouch for that. Each with at least five offspring, they have formed an organization called Parents of Large Families (POLF).

Robert Anderson, a jovial father of eight, and Stanley Borner, also with eight lively young offspring, originated the idea during daily discussions while commuting into New York together. Since the fellow travelers had benefited by sharing mutual problems, they were inspired to distribute a newsletter among other king-sized households in the community to sample the interest in exchanging ideas. They were amazed at a turnout of 16 families at the first meeting.

Not in the Books — Still, where else today but among other super-households could such parents hope to find experiences to match their own? "The shortcuts I need can't be found in the home economics books," protests Mrs. George Pratt, mother of six, including twins. Nor is the child care advice she wants in the baby books.

Usually it's the bank book that lacks what Mrs. Stanley Borner could use to keep her active youngsters on par with their friends from average-sized families. "I know you shouldn't keep up with the Jones, but when the kids' friends are going to a football game, it's hard at their age to understand that buying five tickets at a time is not easy for one breadwinner."

Co-founder Anderson's chief concern is that the individual development of a child in a large family could be hampered unless parents take steps. Learn from Experience — Who is to tell them what steps not other parents who have traveled the same crowded roads? Other common problems the new group plans to exchange ideas on are finances, discipline, assignment of chores, sibling rivalry, and parental favoritism. These are the usual discordant factions in any average family, but they become more pressing on a larger scale, sticking with the big family a longer time. "A mother of two or three has to deal with certain emotional stages of her children,"

Mrs. Borner explains. Once the kids outgrow these, she is free of the problem. We never are. As soon as one child is out of a phase, another one is in it."

Sharing the burden of housework and infant care with the older girls, and putting the boys to work as soon as they are old enough used to be one way big families got along. But today the parents of a large family are just as conscious of the importance of education and social development as the next. Or more so.

Emphasis Changes — Most prefer that their older ones apply their time to school projects (and possibly earn a scholarship) than to diapering baby brothers and sisters, or hustling grocery deliveries. Mrs. Borner sighed appreciatively on her end of the telephone in her quiet Norwalk home. "I've waited 17 years for an afternoon like this when I could talk in peace." Her eight are at last all in school.

Many other mothers are still waiting for precious time for self development and recreation away from the home and family. What to do about this lack in the lives of these extra-busy mothers is another problem POLF members plan to explore at future meetings. When they come up with the answer, mothers fresh out of time with one or two babes in arms, will want to hear it, too.

Ernest Pesolas Take 1st Place In Bridge Event

In Superior Duplicate Bridge Club play Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pesola took first place with a score of 59.72. The team of Mrs. Milo Burglund-Mrs. Ray Windus was second with 56.48. In third place were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schmeltzer with 54.16. The two teams of Mrs. Thomas Robinson-Adelaide Jurmu and Mrs. Nathan Narotzky-Ray Windus tied for fourth and fifth places with a 50.92 score.

Most Sealskin Coats Have Origin In South Africa

CAPTOWN, South Africa (AP)—Many of the sealskin coats worn by American women have their origin in a small island in False Bay, not far from the Cape Town seaside suburb of Kalk Bay. Since June this year more than 4,000 seals have been clubbed or shot on Seal Island. Giving these figures here, the skipper of the government sealer Malgas, C.H.P. de Kock, said most of the skins go to the United States after being salted and cured. The False Bay seal, he said, does not produce fur as thick as that of the Arctic seal, but the skin has a much better and more attractive color and is much in demand among American women.

Doctor's Daughter

Mrs. Kripalani is a doctor's daughter who brought up her younger brothers and sisters after their father died. She is a life-long social worker who has faced earthquakes and religious riots without flinching. She spent two terms in prison under the British for political activities.

A university teacher for eight years, she also won election to Parliament twice, once on an Opposition ticket and the next time with Congress backing. She has been labor minister in the U.P. cabinet since 1960. She clearly considers her new job a tall order, but one which may yield to her energy. "I am in a position to look at this objectively," she says about the faction fight. "Perhaps I will be able to soothe their feelings."

She owes her advancement to a shakeup called the Kamaraj Plan (after its proposer, Madras Chief minister Kumaraswami Kamaraj). Under it, a number of national and state politicians resigned office recently to go into organizational work. Rejuvenate Party — The purpose is to rejuvenate the Congress Party which is admittedly getting fat and lazy after 15 years in power. Sucheta Kripalani says she proposed the same idea four or five years ago "but people just laughed."

At 35, she is a vigorous person who starts her working day at 5 a.m. She wears homespun saris, parts her hair in Victorian style and goes to the movies Lines from Lou's by ... maggie

Ken writing for a change. As I'm sitting at the typewriter my mind is in a turmoil over Friday's events. No matter that it has happened three times previously in our history, it still comes as tremendous shock that some person would take the life of the President. And even if he did this under the mistaken guise of trying to protect the country, or is an idiot and out fanatic of a political party that caters to violence (as seems to be the case), what god did he expect it to do? In a dictatorship there would be a scramble to take over the country, since no dictator dares have a man ready to take over. But in these United States our government flows on. In modern times, when the Vice-President must be of the same party as the President, the same basic policy continues, though this was not true in our early history.

Now we must look forward. Our government continues and our new President will have many things dumped into his lap for decisions. An election year is approaching, but we do hope that the members of the Congress will be fair enough to give the President a chance to show what he can do, before jumping all over him. If there was ever a need for the Congress to think about what is best for the country and let the "Party" take second seat, it is now. If any solice can be taken, at least in terms of government, we find that the seven Vice-Presidents who have taken over upon the death of the President have been better than average in taking up the reigns of government, which does not reflect in any way upon their predecessors. We must express our deep sorrow to Mrs. Kennedy and the family. We must wish the very best of luck to President Lyndon Johnson. May his days in office be proud days for himself and for this nation. — Adv.

82-Year-Old Ishpeming Woman Dies

ISHPEMING — Mrs. Alma K. Ollikainen, 82, of 412 Jasper St., died last night in the Bell Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient three days. She was born March 12, 1881, in Toysa, Finland, and lived here 47 years.

Mrs. Ollikainen was a member of the Bethel Lutheran Church and the Ladies of Maccabee.

Survivors include one son, William Ollikainen of Negaunee; two daughters, Mrs. Hebert J. (Alice) Skewis and Mrs. Arvo (Hilda) Loytmaki of Ishpeming; four grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

The body is in the Bjork & Zhukie Funeral Home, where friends may call after 4 p.m. tomorrow.

Services will be held in the funeral home Wednesday at 2 p.m., the Rev. Albert Hautamaki officiating.

Burial will be in the Ishpeming Cemetery.

East African Antelope Study Begun

Wildebeest in Tanganyika's Ngorongoro Crater are surprisingly diurnal homebodies. The bushy-tailed antelopes prefer a closed association herd in which the same individuals are regularly together. Each herd occupies a specific territory of 100-yard radius or less. Some herd members seldom venture outside their tiny home zone. The lead bull keeps out trespassers, even fellow wildebeest from nearby herds.

Such behavior is probably not typical of migratory wildebeest on the African plains, but it may be the normal pattern where favorable climate and vegetation permit year-round occupancy of an area, according to Richard D. Estes, zoologist at Cornell University.

Three-Year Study

Over the last six months, Estes has kept close, daily check on 12 small wildebeest herds in one of Ngorongoro's small grassy valleys. Some 8,000 wildebeest, zebra, giraffe, gazelle and rhino inhabit the well-watered grass and forested plain of the 130-square-mile extinct crater's floor.

Estes' observations are part of a proposed three-year antelope behavior study sponsored by the National Geographic Society. Other supporters include the New York Zoological Society, Tanganyika Game Division and Cornell University.

Bulls Defend Domain

Research on the wildebeest or gnu may have important application to wildlife management and game cropping all over East Africa. Limitations in raising domestic cattle has spurred efforts to ranch wild animals.

Estes established a permanent base camp in the Ngorongoro Crater in late January, then selected wildebeest herds whose members could be easily recognized by their twisted or broken horns, bobbed tails or distinctive facial markings. Statistics were kept on 12 herds — about 160 animals.

Estes observed that each herd had its own almost sacrosanct territory. The master bull, when not grazing, chasing or fighting, stood near the center, usually a well-defined stamp of bare ground. Bulls defended their domain by a highly ritualized sequence of displays, ranging from headshaking to butting. Injuries were rare.

Females Wander Most

During a five-month period, bulls remained within 100 yards (and usually half that distance) of their stamps in 94 per cent of all observations. Adult females moved frequently and calfless cows wandered off the most.

If the most-active males occupy year-round territories, Estes suggests that permanent territory may be a key to reproductive success in the crater. Bachelor herds kept to the less-favorable hillsides and high grass areas on the outer boundaries of the occupied range.

While emphasis has so far been on the wildebeest as the ecologically most important plains animal, Estes hopes to expand the National Geographic study to include zebra, eland and gazelle.

RAYMOND A. DURAND

Republic Native Fills VP's Post

REPUBLIC — Raymond A. Durand, formerly of Republic, has been elected to the new post of vice president, marketing administration, for the Valve Division of Rockwell Manufacturing Co., in Pittsburgh, according to an announcement made today by G. T. Bowman, vice president and general manager of the division.

In his new position, Durand will be responsible for all administrative activities of the Valve Division's marketing functions.

Durand joined Edward Valves, Inc., East Chicago, Ind., in 1937 and was named vice president, sales, in 1961. The company became a subsidiary of Rockwell in 1945.

Durand is a native of Republic and lived here until he entered Northern Michigan University in 1926. He also attended the University of Chicago and is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the American Petroleum Institute and the East Chicago, Ind., Chamber of Commerce.

Durand will be located at the company's headquarters, the Rockwell Building, Pittsburgh. He presently resides at 7124 Forest Ave., Hammond, Ind.

CCI Declares $1.12 Dividend On Preferred Stock

CLEVELAND — Directors of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. declared the regular dividend of $1.125 per share on the preferred stock payable Dec. 15 to shareholders of record Dec. 2.

A quarterly dividend of 50 cents and an extra dividend of 45 cents per share were declared on the common stock, payable Dec. 15 to shareholders of record Dec. 2, making a total of $2 for the year. In the fourth quarter of 1962 the dividend was 35 cents quarterly and 60 cents extra. This represents a change in policy, and it is expected that dividends will be distributed equally throughout the year rather than smaller quarterly payments and a large extra at the year-end.

2 Negaunee Motorists Get Tickets

ISHPEMING — Two Negaunee motorists were ticketed in separate traffic accidents in this city over the weekend.

On Saturday afternoon, Charles Boogren, 1105 Oak St., Negaunee, was ticketed after his car struck one driven by Ruth L. Hager of 619 E. Ridge St. in Ishpeming.

The Hager car was stopped at a stop sign. Both cars received minor damage.

Boogren was cited for failure to have his car under control.

Dale Olson, County Road 480 in Negaunee, was ticketed at 10 p.m. yesterday after striking a parked car in Ishpeming.

Olson struck a car owned by James Moyle of 116 Oak St.

Ishpeming police officers cited Olson for leaving the scene of a property damage accident and for not having an operator's license.

Both cars were damaged.

$3.30 Dividend Declared By Michigan Gas Co.

THREE RIVERS — At a meeting of the board of directors of Michigan Gas and Electric Co., a combination cash and stock dividend of $3.30 per share on its common stock for the fourth quarter of 1963 was declared. In 1962, Michigan Gas and Electric's last quarter payment, in stock and cash, also aggregated $3.30.

Richard L. Rosenthal, chairman of the board, stated that the declaration continues the policy established in 1952 of annual combination cash and stock dividends. The cash dividend will be paid at the rate of 50c per share and the stock dividend portion at $2.80 per share, consisting of 3.1 per cent or 3 1/10 shares for every 100 shares held. The value of the stock component of the dividend is estimated at approximately $2.80 per share based on approximate market value of the stock at date of declaration.

Cruise Ship To Operate Again In '64

MUNISING — The Great Lakes Cruise ship, the S. S. South American, will continue operation during the 1964 cruise season, according to E. J. Goebel, president of the Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay Transit Co. His statement was the result of a unanimous decision by the board of directors at its annual meeting recently.

"The 1963 cruise season was a very successful one in terms of public acceptance," stated Goebel, "and as a result of this, the board action was taken.

Covers 2,200 Miles "All through the 1963 season our offices received hundreds upon hundreds of telephone calls and telegrams asking that we continue our cruises. We are acceding to this popular demand."

During the 1964 season the S. S. South American again will operate on its weekly round-trip cruises between Buffalo, New York and Duluth, Minn., with calls at Detroit, Cleveland, Mackinac Island, Soo Locks, Munising and Houghton.

The round trip cruise covers over 2,200 miles of Great Lakes waterways. In addition, the cruise ship will sail the St. Lawrence Seaway to Quebec in September.

For the many years that the Georgian Bay Line has operated cruise ships on the Great Lakes on 7-day, 5-day and 2-day cruises, many "firsts" have been established. This was the first passenger ship on the Great Lakes to be completely outfitted with sprinklers. It was the first Great Lakes ship to be equipped with radar. The S. S. South American was the first American flag ship to sail the new St. Lawrence Seaway. At the dedication ceremonies the S. S. South American made the same voyage as the Royal Yacht Britannia carrying the royal family and President and Mrs. Eisenhower through the newly opened waterways. And today it is equipped with all of the most modern navigational and safety aids.

and Cuban consuls in September and tried to get a visa.

The newspaper Excelsior attributed its report to a high official source which it did not name.

Oswald died Sunday with a single bullet wound in the side, fired by Ruby as he stepped from a crowd of 200 in the basement of the Dallas City Hall.

'Executioner' Grabbed

"It's too good for him!" someone shouted after the 24-year-old self-styled Communist dropped in his tracks, a single cry of anguish escaping his lips. Police quickly overwhelmed and disarmed Ruby.

It was an incredible climax to the wildest weekend in Dallas history—a savage, sudden moment of raw drama that was caught by national television networks and broadcast with shocking impact into American homes.

"He took Kennedy's death much harder than that of our 88-year-old father five years ago," said Ruby's older sister, Eva Grant. "He couldn't eat Friday. He kept talking about Jackie and the Kennedy kids."

Connally Recovering

Oswald had been formally accused of the sniper assassination of Kennedy last Friday as the President rode beaming beside his wife, Jacqueline Ken-nedly, in a triumphal motorcade through downtown Dallas.

Also wounded in the shooting was Texas Gov. John Connally, who is recovering. Later, authorities said, Oswald shot to death a Dallas policeman, J. D. Tippit, who—wittingly or otherwise—interrupted his getaway flight.

The first reaction of Dallas police to Oswald's murder was to mark the assassination case closed, and concentrate on trying to convict Ruby.

Johnson Orders Full Probe

But federal officials felt otherwise. President Johnson ordered a full government probe of Oswald's slaying, and the FBI proposed further investigation into the presidential assassination with the hope of eventually giving the American people the full story. Later, Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade listed what he said was a complete summary of the evidence against Oswald.

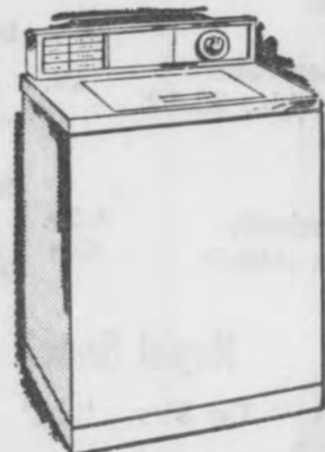

A wild tumult broke out immediately after the shooting of Oswald in the basement of City Hall. But it was nothing compared to the public uproar over the slaying.

Communist propaganda organs abroad promptly depicted Oswald's death as a coverup to mask sinister rightist forces which they blamed for the President's assassination. Moscow bitterly resented the linking of

Inland Subsidiary Plans Pellet Plant In Ontario

ATIHKOKAN, Ont. — Plans have been announced for an iron ore processing and pelletizing plant at Steep Rock Lake to be built by Caland Ore Co., Limited, subsidiary of Inland Steel Co. The plant will be made an integral part of the company's big open pit mine operation on the Falls Bay arm of the lake six miles north of here.

The company estimated that the plant and auxiliary installations will cost $15,000,000. It will have the capacity to process two and a half million tons a year of natural ore converting it into coarse, sized ore and 1,000,000 tons a year of iron ore pellets, both forms highly desirable for blast furnace operations at the steel mill.

First Of Its Kind

The plant will be the first built in Northwestern Ontario for pelletizing ore. It is understood to be the first built anywhere to pelletize ore directly from its natural state without preparatory concentration, a process feasible because of the high iron and low silica content of the Caland ore.

Philip D. Block Jr., vice chairman of Inland and chairman of Caland, who made the announcement, said that the quality of the ore in its natural state is well above acceptable standards for direct shipping ore but that the project is part of a program to improve the physical characteristics of ore supplied to Inland's blast furnaces.

Fortunate Circumstance

Block added that by a fortunate circumstance of the ore's composition the pelletizing will result in driving off water chemically bonded in the ore so that the iron content of the pellets will, in fact, be increased some 15 per cent or more. This, he said, will add to the advantages of the project by reducing freight and handling costs and delivering more iron per ton of raw materials.

The pelletizing plant will be tied into the present ore handling system of the Caland mine which this year shipped 2,000,000 tons of ore to Inland's steel mill at Indiana Harbor, Ind., in the Chicago industrial district at the foot of Lake Michigan. The conveyors which now move the ore from the open pit mining operation to the railroad car loading yard will feed it to the new plant.

Loaded At Port Arthur

Some rearrangement of railroad yard trackage and roadways will be required as well as facilities to fuel the process. One project under consideration to provide fuel is a 50-mile pipeline from the plant site to a junction with the trans-Canada natural gas line near Martin, Ont. The fuel under this proposal would be supplied by Northern Ontario Natural Gas Co.

The Caland mine is served by a six-mile spur of the Canadian National Railroad which carries the ore 140 miles to the lakehead at Port Arthur, where

Alger Honors Memory Of President

MUNISING — Business and civic activities were at a standstill here today in respect to the memory of the late President, John F. Kennedy.

All schools in Alger County were closed, with classes scheduled at the regular time on Tuesday.

Special services were conducted in both Catholic and Protestant churches for the late President.

In cooperation with the various churches and the proclamation issued by Mayor Leo Garlapy, Francis G. Putvin, chairman of the retail merchants' division of the Munising Chamber of Commerce, announced that most all businesses in the city were closing until 1 p.m.

City, county and state offices in the city also remained closed today.

it is loaded on Great Lakes ore carriers for the 700-mile trip to Indiana Harbor. Existing dock facilities at Port Arthur are considered adequate for trans-shipment purposes.

Partner In Empire

The Caland mine came into production in 1960 as the culmination of a 10-year, $60,000,000 exploration and development project during which 160,000,000 cubic yards of clay, silt and gravel had to be dredged from a former lake bottom to expose the iron ore. Including the current season, it has produced almost 6,000,000 tons of ore.

The new plant should start producing pellets and sized ore by late 1965 and will be the third source of pelletized ore for the company, he said. Inland is a participant with nine other Canadian, European and United States companies in the Wabush mines project, a vast low grade property in Labrador due to ship pellets in 1965. It has also joined three other United States companies in the Empire Iron Mining Co., which is scheduled to ship next year from a plant in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan near Negaunee. From the three sources, the company will receive 2,000,000 tons of pellets a year.

Clothing expenditures have risen steadily for two decades. For women and children it averaged $150 in 1960; for men and boys over five, $109.

AL Auxiliary To Hold Services For Mrs. Eldred

Munising Schools Join State Group

MUNISING — William T. MacNeil, superintendent, announced that Munising Public Schools have been awarded a certificate of membership in the Michigan Association of Schools and Colleges.

In a letter to MacNeil, Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, Lansing, said:

"I am most happy to present

August of this year.

Surviving are his wife, Olga; one son, Arvo, Chatham, and one sister in Finland.

The body was removed to the Bowerman-Hallifax Funeral Home, Munising, where friends may call starting at 1 Tuesday afternoon.

Services will be held on Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the funeral home. The Rev. Tuano Jarvinen, Eben, will officiate. Burial will be in the Pine Grove Cemetery, Chatham.

to you, your faculty, board of education, students and community the enclosed certificate of membership in the Michigan Association of Schools and Colleges. This newly formed association incorporates into its plan the basic program of the Michigan Secondary School-College Agreement Program. The central purpose of the agreement was, and is, to free the member high schools of the traditional sequence of subjects formerly required for admission to college, as a means of encouraging experimentation and search for ways to improve the curriculum for all youth. Member colleges have accordingly agreed to disregard the pattern of subjects pursued in considering for admission the graduates of member high schools, providing the principal or his representative can supply other evidence which indicates that the student has the background and readiness to pursue a college program.

"The Constitution of the Michigan Association of Schools and Colleges provides for automatic admission to membership of 279 high schools and about 37 colleges, universities and schools of nursing belonging to the former Agreement Program of Jan. 1, 1963. . . .

"Because you are a member of a group of 279 high schools in the association, you are given a great deal of freedom in adjusting the educational program in your high school to meet the needs of today's youth whether they be college bound or employment bound. These needs can only be determined when you, your faculty, your board of education and your community are completely informed of the rapidly changing world conditions which so vitally affect the secondary program in modern schools. Through this means, the public will be kept alert and they will in turn support you in any necessary curriculum revisions."

GLC To Have Its Showdowns Early In Week's Play

By JAMES E. TRETHERWEY Of The Journal Staff Early showdowns in the big Great Lakes Conference feature the Thanksgiving week basketball menu in the Upper Peninsula...

At least two more teams will enter the ranks of the unbeaten quintets in games that send Marquette Graveret to Sault Ste. Marie, Newberry to Negaunee, Gladstone to Manistique, Superior (Wis.) East at Ironwood, Iron River at Kingsford, Marquette Baraga at Houghton, Newberry at Negaunee, Grand Marais at Michigan...

Redmen Pacing Marquette, Sault, Newberry and Negaunee are unbeaten, with the Marquette Redmen pacing the conference race with two victories. The Marquette-Sault clash will be another collision of hardcourt giants...

Another early-season showdown is due in the Copper Country, where unbeaten Lake Linden and Baraga meet Tuesday in the Vikings' balliwick. Both of the twice-victorious Copper Country teams are on the way up after rebuilding seasons last winter...

Other Copper Country games slated for Tuesday night find Painesdale at Hancock, L'Anse at Ontonagon and Calumet at Dollar Bay.

Rampagers Host The rampaging Eben Eagles host Trenary in a central U.P. League headline. The same night, while the high-flying Negaunee St. Paul Emeralds, with two Mid-Penninsula Conference scalps dangling from their belts, head for Rapid River and an exhibition test Friday.

Marquette Bishop Baraga, going to the Copper Country for a second time to face Houghton Wednesday, will be back home Friday for a homecoming affair with old-rival Gwin. Also featured Friday night will be a Menominee Range Conference clash between Norway and Crystal Falls.

Here's the week's schedule: Tuesday, Nov. 26 - Calumet at Dollar Bay, Painesdale at Hancock, Ashland, Wis., at Bessemer, Lake Linden at Baraga, L'Anse at Ontonagon, Alpha at Vulcan, Crystal Falls at Amasa, Bergland at Mass, Perkins at Carney, Sault Loretto at Cedarville, Champion at National Mine, Felch at Channing, Chassell at Republic, Trenary at Eben, Engadine at Grand Marais, Garden at Nahma, Ironwood St. Ambrose at White Pine, Mercer, Wis., at Marensico. Wednesday, Nov. 27 - Mar-

U.P. High School Divisions Remain Same In 1963-64

By JAMES E. TRETHERWEY Of The Journal Staff For the first time in several years, divisional rosters of Upper Peninsula high schools for athletic competition remain unchanged for 1963-64.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association directory lists four schools in Class A (900 enrollment or more), 18 in Class B (400 to 899), 11 in Class C (225 to 399) and 42 in Class D (less than 225), the same lineup in effect last year. No Varsity Sports While 75 schools are classified, actually one of them - Rockland - no longer engages in interscholastic sports on a varsity level, while Paradise plays only a few basketball games, mostly with junior varieties of larger schools.

The six schools - Gladstone, Gwin, Marquette Baraga, Rudyard, Stambaugh and Stephenson - which moved into Class B last year kept their enrollments above 400. The only school whose classification changed was Norway, which had dipped under 225 for 1962-63 but is above that figure again. However, Norway had elected to compete in a higher class in basketball tournaments a year ago, so that its status is the same for next March tournament play.

With no revision in the number of teams in each class, the Upper Peninsula Athletic Committee probably will fashion much the same tournament lineup for district and regional cage competition. The four Class A schools met in a district meet that carried "U. P. championship" designation, with the winner going to Grand Rapids for regional play, while the victors in four Class B and Class C district meets engaged in Upper Peninsula regional playoffs.

3-Way Tie In Negaunee City League

NEGAUNEE - The lone survivor in the undefeated ranks of the Negaunee City League was tumbled last Tuesday when a young, determined Russo's team outplayed the number one team of the league, Cain's News, 66-54.

Trailing by a small margin throughout the game, Russo's went red hot in the last period, putting on a drive that netted 10 points in five shots. Tim Richards led Russo's scoring with 26 points.

The display of real poise and fine ball control drove the usually well-balanced Cain's team to near panic as they desperately strove to close the ever-widening margin. In winning their first game of the season, Russo's threw the league into a three-way tie with Hotel Bar, Boosta's and Cain's News each sporting one loss.

In a roughly-played second game, Hotel Bar literally pushed their way to a 53-38 victory as Herb's Bar failed to capitalize on gift shots, making only seven out of 16 tries. Dan Burhardt and Ron Wigg each had 21 points for their respective teams. Hotel Bar will meet Boosta's Thursday to see who holds on in first place.

In Tuesday's final game, the Palmer Mets were headed well on the way to upsetting Boosta's. Holding a small lead going into the last quarter, they suddenly went sour. Boosta's, putting up a good defense, held Palmer's scoring ace Jerry Pirikola to a mere two points, to win, 53-41. Terry Parlato was high with 18 points and Bryan Farragh had 11 for the Mets.

The names of 12 U.P. high school gridiron stars appear in the final listings of the Associated Press All-State football selections for 1963 in Classes A, B and C.

In Class A voting, Dennis Porter, the high-scoring Sault Ste. Marie end and kicker, was selected by the AP voters for the All-State first team, and Kingsford's fantastic back Dick Berlinski made the first team in the backfield. Another U.P. first team selection, tackle Richard Bureby of Kingsford, was honorably mentioned by the AP voters, and U.P. first squad member Tom Domes of Gladstone joins him as an honorable mention at guard.

Dan Stipech of Houghton was named to the second team at end, and U.P. Back of the Year Jack Spuhler of Sault Loretto was picked for the second squad backfield.

Dick Sofio of Bessemer, who made the U.P. second team, was an honorable mention in the all-state voting, and Bryan Fargh of Norway earned honorable mention as a back. Escanaba's Dale Horchner, who was named by the U.P. sports writers to the U.P. first team, was also an honorable mention in Class A.

Few Games Played, Some Still Doubt Army-Navy Contest

(By The Associated Press) Most of the nation's major colleges, stunned and shocked by the death of the President, have delayed until this weekend their football day of decision.

Only two teams, Texas and Nebraska, have nailed down major bowl berths and only Nebraska accomplished it last weekend. Still to be decided are both teams in the Rose and Sugar bowls, and the visiting teams in Orange and Cotton bowls.

Most were scheduled for settlement last weekend, but were postponed because of the assassination of President Kennedy. The traditional clash between Army and Navy, scheduled in Philadelphia Saturday, still is in doubt. Officials of both service institutions have expressed a desire to play, however, so the chances of cancellation appear to be remote.

Navy, ranked second at 8-1 and possessing the season's most highly publicized player in quarterback Roger Staubach, is a solid favorite to make it five in a row over Army, 7-2.

The Middies are considered prime candidates for the Cotton Bowl, to oppose top-ranked Texas. The Longhorns, the nation's only major unbeaten, untied team at 9-0, already have clinched the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. They close the regular season against old foe Texas A&M, 2-6-1.

Nebraska won the Big Eight title, its first in 23 years, and clinched the Orange Bowl spot in one of the few games played Saturday. The 10th-ranked Huskers rolled over No. 6 Oklahoma 29-20. The only other member of the top ten in action was No. 9 Auburn, which advanced its record to 8-1 with a 21-15 victory over Florida State. Auburn plays sev-

Royals Batter Calumet 99-74 In First Game

CALUMET - Combining speed and hustle, the Bishop Baraga Royals scrambled to a 99-74 victory over the Calumet Copper Kings Saturday night here to open the season.

Bill Kessel and Dale Berglund took scoring honors with 25 and 23 points, respectively, while Bruce Pesola dumped in 20. Spelling each other at the guard positions were Timmy Richardson, James Wealton, Richie Balmes and Pesola; much credit goes to these four in setting up the fast break and getting the ball to the man with the best shooting opportunity.

Calumet's Mattson and Kittl divided the scoring for their team, with Mattson dumping in 18 points mostly on a fine left-handed jump shot, while Kittl earned an equal number of points on some hard-driving jumpers. Johnson used his height to advantage under the boards for 17 points.

After exchanging baskets in the early minutes, the Royals gradually built up a lead from 12 to 19 points. In the second and third periods, however, the Copper Kings spurred to cut the margin to eight points, but the Royals kept constant pressure on to produce the final winning margin.

Indicative of the speed and hustle of the Bishop Baraga quintet was the fact that they scored 41 field goals, and were called for 28 fouls, as against 15 for Calumet.

This would have to be considered a fine team victory, and the Royals hope to carry this spirit into tough games against Houghton on Wednesday and Gwin on Friday of this week.

GREEN BAY, Wis. - The Green Bay Packers plowed through the San Francisco 49ers at Milwaukee County Stadium Sunday afternoon for their ninth National Football League victory of the season. The score was 28-10.

The paid attendance was 45,905 - just short of capacity - for the Packers' final Milwaukee game of the season. It was a somewhat somber crowd, subdued by national tragedy, on a crisp and beautiful day.

Four In First The Packers scored four touchdowns in the first half, three of them in the second quarter, and took a 28-3 lead at the intermission.

With Starr at quarterback, Green Bay marched 63 yards in 12 plays (despite a five yard penalty), 82 yards in nine plays, 67 yards in seven plays (again despite a penalty which nullified a 21-yard pass) and 27 yards in four plays, with the aid of a penalty.

Starr passed 11 yards to Dowler for the first score. Pitts passed 21 yards to Ron Kramer for the second, Taylor ran 34 yards for the third, and Pitts ran 14 yards for the fourth. Each time, Jerry Kramer converted.

Ran Into Post On the first touchdown, Dowler caught Starr's pass as he ran into the goal post and the defender covering him, Alexander Woodson. On the second, Ron Woodson, Taylor and Pitts Kramer ran over Dowler and made their runs on third down with one yard to go situations.

Spartans Back To Practicing For Illinois

EAST LANSING, Mich. - It was back to the practice field again today for the Michigan State football team, with the Big Ten football title and the Rose Bowl contender still to be decided.

The coaches have the job now of trying to build the Spartans up to a peak of efficiency again for the showdown Thursday with Illinois.

Protests Prompted The conference decider was rescheduled at the last hour Saturday for 1:30 p. m. (EST) on Thursday. Protests about plans to play and wholesale cancellations of other football games prompted the decision to switch dates.

Today's workout will be held in the late afternoon, following the last rites for President Kennedy.

Coach Duffy Daugherty said both teams were frustrated by the off again, on again delay. The MSU squad let off steam Saturday with a brisk workout at the indoor baseball diamond.

The Illinois team, leaving its uniforms and most of its gear behind, flew back to Champaign. The Illini will return to East Lansing again Wednesday afternoon.

The postponement is sure to hurt attendance. Nearly 1,000 tickets were turned in for refund Saturday, mostly by Illinois fans. The conference climax originally was expected to draw a 76,000 sellout. The MSU team banquet, originally scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until next Monday. The most valuable player award and the election of next year's captains will be announced at the dinner.

Time To Heal The delay will give more time to MSU for the healing of such injuries as an ankle twist suffered by center Don Ross, a knee bruise bothering Mike Currie and dislocated finger picked up by punter Lou Bobich.

NFL Plays, 'As JFK Would Have Wanted'

(By The Associated Press) The crowds were sombre. But the stands were filled. That was Sunday, some 48 hours after the assassination of President Kennedy, as the National Football League staged its seven-game program on schedule despite vigorous verbal protests from some quarters and players openly shaken by tragedy. 'Lost A Brother' 'I cried when I heard Mr. Kennedy had been killed,' said San Francisco tackle Bob St. Clair. 'I didn't really want to play,' said Washington receiver Bobby Mitchell. 'I guess I feel like everyone else. I've lost a brother.'

But after memorial ceremonies were conducted before the games at the seven cities, St. Clair and Mitchell and some 500 other NFL players took the field. The stands were filled, with few exceptions. At Pittsburgh, the Steelers played to a 17-17 tie with the Chicago Bears before the biggest crowd of the season at Forbes Field, 36,465. And, at Los Angeles, where the Rams edged Baltimore 17-16, a crowd of 48,555 was on hand, largest since opening day.

Some Vacant Seats Elsewhere, there were some seats left vacant by ticketholders who stayed home, and club spokesmen said refunds would be made to those who had bought tickets but did not attend the games. But there will be few refunds.

A sellout crowd of 62,992 was in New York's Yankee Stadium as St. Louis defeated the Giants 24-17, a sellout of 45,905 at Milwaukee saw Green Bay beat San Francisco 28-10 and 55,096 were at Cleveland as the Browns defeated Dallas 27-17.

At Minneapolis - St. Paul, where 20,000 copies of the Star Spangled Banner were distributed to fans, a crowd of 28,763 witnessed the Vikings' 34-31 victory over Detroit. And the last 1,500 tickets were sold just before game time at Philadelphia, where 60,671 saw Washington's 13-10 victory over the Eagles.

Will Send Ball Redskins' Coach Bill McPeak said the team will send the game ball to the White House as a symbol of the deep feeling the Washington players felt for the late President Kennedy.

'I don't want to be morbid or corny,' said McPeak, 'but I really feel our gang was playing today for President Kennedy and in his memory. 'We were very surprised that Commissioner Pete Rozelle decided to have the game played. We at first thought it a bad idea. But then we were told we were to play, so we decided that this is the way President Kennedy would have wanted it.'

Reaffirmed Rozelle reaffirmed his deci-

Mrs. Kennedy Reluctant To Leave Casket, Mingles With Mourners Near Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy went back for a second look at her husband's casket in the Capitol rotunda and pleading, "Let me walk, let me walk," mingled with crowds that mourned the slain President.

The 34-year-old widow of President Kennedy seemed reluctant to leave his casket. With her two children, she had come in a funeral procession Sunday to lie in state in the Capitol for public viewing by many thousands.

Kneels, Kisses Casket

Mrs. Kennedy, with her daughter Caroline beside her, had knelt and kissed the casket before she departed about 2:30 p.m.

Unexpectedly, she was back about 9 o'clock Sunday night, on the arm of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, as long lines of people waited to pass the President's bier.

She walked slowly by the ropes keeping the public from the casket area and once again knelt and kissed the coffin.

Until she had left it at the Capitol, Mrs. Kennedy had remained near her husband's body since he was slain in Dallas Friday afternoon.

Crowd Comes To Halt

On her sudden nighttime reappearance, the slow-moving crowd came to a halt. When Mrs. Kennedy rose, she turned her tear-stained face and looked for a long moment at the faces of those who came to pay their respects to her late husband.

As she and the attorney general left, Mrs. Kennedy seemed to look searchingly at the faces of the incoming throng.

"Let me walk, let me walk," she said as they descended the Capitol steps. At first Mrs. Kennedy went unrecognized, but soon she was discovered and some followed after her party of police and Secret Service agents.

Arranges Details

It was learned Mrs. Kennedy personally had decided on many of the details of the presidential funeral, including the decision that the mourners would walk some eight blocks from the White House as was done at the funeral of Abraham Lincoln, the President slain about 100 years ago.

TV Permits All To 'Pass' JFK Casket

NEW YORK (AP) — During the quiet time after Sunday's moving and incredible events, television networks sometimes aimed their cameras on the coffin of John F. Kennedy in the Capitol rotunda and showed the stream of people silently and reverently walking past the bier.

By the miracle of television, all Americans could pay their final respects in the same place. This was as it should be. Because of television the public knew, or felt it knew, President Kennedy better than any chief executive before him.

Loss Of Someone We Knew

He had been a television visitor in most of our homes on an almost daily basis for more than three years. His death, therefore, was more than the tragic loss of a President or of a vital, needed young man. It was the loss of someone we felt we knew very well, almost as a member of a family.

We had seen him making formal speeches. We remember his grave warning of the Cuban crisis. But perhaps most of us got to know him best during those informal moments before the cameras—seated in a rocking chair talking informally and off the cuff from his White House office, being interviewed on the lawn of his Hyannis Port home, squinting against the sun and his hair ruffled by a sea wind, wittily parrying reporters' questions in a light moment at a news conference.

Few Will Ever Forget

During these last few days of national nightmare with shock piled on shock, television brought us more sights and sounds few of us will ever forget.

There was the face of self-controlled Jacqueline Kennedy bending to her children during services in the Capitol. There was Caroline putting out a small white gloved hand to touch the coffin during a brief moment with her mother beside the bier. There was that appalling moment when Lee Harvey Oswald was shot down in Dallas police headquarters, as through television, the eyes of the nation were on him and his killer.

The performance of the three networks has been splendid. They covered the mournful events in Washington and the terrible events in Dallas with great crews of men and equipment—even pandemonium at one point Sunday in Dallas—they kept a sense of balance and order.

Dignified Coverage

For the most part, the coverage was done with dignity and good taste.

Regular programming will be resumed Tuesday and most of us will be glad to start picking up the threads of normal life again.

But television's fine performance during these critical days is something that they can be proud of and for which we can be grateful.

Basenji dogs cannot bark, though they can make a whining sound.

Yellow Thunderbird Goes Into Mothballs

MILWAUKEE — The Milwaukee Museum's latest acquisition has gone into mothballs until history catches up with it.

It is a lemon yellow, two seat, 1955 Thunderbird, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lucas of Milwaukee.

Robert Leitz, museum history assistant, said the gift is a bit premature but that the auto will be exhibited eventually as one of America's first post World War II sports-type cars.

Campaign Literature For Trick-Or-Treaters

MEMPHIS — Some politicians will stop at nothing when they are running for office.

For instance, guess what was stuffed into trick-or-treat sacks of innocent little goblins and witches at one Memphis house last Halloween.

Right, Campaign literature.

Ishpeming Retailers Schedule Special Events For Holiday

Four 'Santa Express' Trips On Dec. 7th

ISHPEMING — The Retail Division of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce today announced that Tuesday, Nov. 26, marks the official opening of the Christmas shopping season in Ishpeming.

Wayne Hansen and Jerry Lewis, co-chairmen of the Christmas committee, announced that the retailers are "going all-out this year to provide shoppers with the utmost in values plus an atmosphere which will enhance shopping in the City of Ishpeming."

Ishpeming will not have a "Snow-Mall" this year, but will have a well-planned schedule of events for the convenience of shoppers in the downtown area. Months of planning and careful consideration went into preparation of the schedule.

"The first and most important part of the Christmas holidays, from a business viewpoint, is providing youngsters with a 'treat,' the treat being 'Santa Express' which will give youngsters opportunity to take their first train ride and pick up Santa Claus in the process," they said.

Retailers, after months of planning, announced earlier that they had obtained special railroad cars from the Chicago & North Western Railroad for use Saturday, Dec. 7, in Ishpeming.

The modern double-decker railroad cars will leave Ishpeming four times during the day for the 30-mile journey to pick up Santa.

"Santa's Express" is only the first of many Yule season events arranged for Ishpeming.

Another highlight in what Ishpeming retailers consider the "Christmas city of the Upper Peninsula" will be the lighting contest.

Choral groups also will make several appearances in the city. The first such group to initiate a musical interlude will be the Ishpeming Choral Club, under the direction of Dr. Joseph Bertucci — who for years has provided a professional touch in the field of music for the entire county.

Dr. Bertucci and talented songsters will appear in the Ishpeming High School auditorium to stage a Christmas concert Dec. 8.

Retailers also will announce further details later of the Christmas promotion planned for Ishpeming.

The shopping season calls for extended store hours.

Stores will be open until 9 p. m. tomorrow and Friday, Nov. 29. They also will be open until 9 p. m. on each of these dates: Dec. 2, Dec. 5, Dec. 9, Dec. 12, Dec. 13 and then Monday through Friday, Dec. 16 through Dec. 20, and Monday, Dec. 23.

Santa Claus will appear in Ishpeming on Dec. 14 at 10 a. m. at the Ishpeming Theater to pass out gifts to youngsters. The management of the theater gave the Retail Division a meeting place to help safeguard the hundreds of youngsters who want to see Santa.

Santa also will appear Saturday, Dec. 21, and Tuesday, Dec. 24.

An added incentive for shoppers includes the awarding of prizes each day beginning Tuesday and continuing until Dec. 21.

Four $25 cash prizes a week will be given, making a total of 16. Shoppers have only to register in participating stores throughout the city to be eligible for them.

Drawings will be conducted each week at the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce office on S. First St.

Retailers also announced that the city will be decorated soon with approximately 4,000 feet of evergreen roping and that most of the light standards would be decorated with a five or six-foot evergreen, fully lighted.

'DEAD HERRINGS'

The expression "dead as a herring" originated from the fact that the herring cannot live for very long out of water. Fishermen very seldom see a herring alive because it dies a few minutes after being caught.

Yule Tree Originated In Germany

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The custom of the Christmas tree isn't as old as most people believe. The idea became popular in Germany at the beginning of the 19th Century and slowly spread to other areas of the world.

About 100 years ago, Prince Albert, Queen Victoria's consort from the German province of Saxe-Coburg, introduced the tree to England, where, adorned with ornaments and towering over presents, it became one of the great symbols of the Christmas season.

In 1840, Duchess Helene of Orleans started the tradition in France. Youngsters in France, as well as in Italy, Spain and Portugal, had centered their celebration around the crib and its figures. With the coming of the Christmas tree, many children used small trees, stones and plants to give their manger setting a really natural look.

Mystic Meaning

Next we have the tree sprouting up in Sweden during the latter half of the 19th Century. Setting up a Christmas tree for the birds is one of those customs filled with mystic meaning that lends great

City Crews Installing Decorations

ISHPEMING — Municipal work crews are in the process of putting up Christmas decorations throughout the city.

Edward Farley, superintendent of public works, announced that three and five-man crews have been placing lights and that two other men have been busy making stringers at the public works warehouse.

Approximately 40 wreaths with an equal number of stars will be erected at each of downtown Ishpeming's intersections to lend an attractive appearance to the area. Over 1,200 lights will illuminate the city from the stringers alone.

Farley also stated that a huge evergreen tree would be obtained next week from Mrs. William Lawer, who donated one from her property.

The evergreen, expected to be about 40 feet high, will be set up in the same spot as last year — near the statue of "Old Ish" in the city square.

City workers are expected to finish the task of erecting Christmas decorations by Dec. 2.

charm to the celebration of the season in the Scandinavian countries.

American missionaries brought the tree to the Orient.

The Chinese call Christmas the Festival of the Holy Birth, and the tree is known as the Tree of Light.

It doesn't matter what kind of tree is used or what decorations are put on it, in every country where it is found it symbolizes "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Ishpeming Guard Unit Sparks Michigan's Flag Restoration

ISHPEMING — As a result of efforts which originated in the Upper Peninsula's 107th Engineer Battalion, restoration of over 200 historic battle flags of Michigan units is under way. The project started in the summer of 1961 with a visit to the Capitol in Lansing by Chief Warrant Officer Leonard Lorge, member of battalion headquarters in Ishpeming. Looking through the many flags displayed in the Capitol rotunda for those which might have been carried by Engineer units in the Civil War, Lorge noted the generally poor condition of the flags, since many were little more than shreds of cloth hanging from their staffs.

Read Of N. Y. Project

Not long afterwards he read of a program which the State of New York had undertaken to preserve their battle flags and wrote to National Guard officials in that state for information on their progress. The fact that New York had found a satisfactory process to preserve its flags was important, since it has more than 700 of them, the largest group of Civil War colors and standards in the nation. Armed with details of the restoration process, Lorge discussed the condition of Michigan's flags with Lt. Col. Austin Lindberg, commanding officer of the 107th Engineer Battalion. They decided to prepare a report giving this information and submit it to the Michigan National Guard Association, with a request that the association consider supporting such a project for Michigan and seek legislative action to obtain funds.

Main concern of those who had really studied the flags was that the light silk material had been slowly deteriorating because of the strain placed on the cloth by its own weight. Most had been on display in nitrogen-filled cases since the turn of the century and, left unchecked, eventually would destroy themselves. At about the same time, the chairman of the Michigan Civil War Centennial Observance Commission appointed Solan Weeks, director of the Michigan Historical Commission Museum in Lansing, as chairman of a flag restoration committee whose goals would be about the same as those of the Michigan National Guard Association.

Another member of the headquarters in Ishpeming, Captain George J. Hansen, was appointed as the association's representative to keep the project going. He coordinated with the Historical Commission by making several trips to Lansing and also photographed the flags.

In September he arranged for Col. Frederick P. Todd, director of the West Point Museum, to come to Lansing. This served two purposes. Col. Todd was familiar with the restoration process and could explain it in detail, along with costs involved. In addition, he could assist in the removal of the first group of flags from their cases and train the Historical Commission staff in proper photographing and packing of the flags, since each flag had to be laid out and photographed in color to ensure it was restored to its original design.

$12,000 Allocated For Work

The project received a much-needed shot in the arm by an appropriation of $12,000 by the State Legislature to finance the work.

Under the restoration program, the remains of each flag will be sandwiched between two layers of nylon netting, dyed to correspond to the flag's original colors. The three layers are then stitched together by hand. The nylon netting takes the strain off the flag when it is hanging, and the nylon will not deteriorate with age.

The process is performed by Mrs. Franklin P. Roser of Fort Montgomery, N. Y., who is a nationally recognized expert in this field. When completed, each flag will be bright and strong, the result of at least two weeks of hand work, and could even be used in ceremonies.

It is expected that the restoration will extend over the next three years, because of the amount of hand work required and because of the condition of the flags, which were carried by Michigan units on battlefields of the Civil War, Spanish-American War and both World Wars.

Proper Tribute To Veterans

The program has been cited by legislators as a proper tribute to the Michigan veterans of the past 100 years who served under these flags, and as an excellent part for Michigan to play in the nation's Civil War centennial observances.

In addition to being members of the 107th Engineer Battalion, both Hansen and Lorge are full-time technicians at the battalion's headquarters in Ishpeming.

First of the 211 historic battle flags to be removed from their cases in the Capitol rotunda at Lansing is examined by (from left) Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald, state adjutant general; Col. Frederick P. Todd, director of the West Point museum, and Lt. Col. John C. Stabler, coordinator of the Michigan National Guard Association committee for the flag restoration project proposed by the Upper Peninsula's 107th Engineer Battalion.

Hot Plate On Wheels Hauls Food Products

MILTON, Pa. — A "hot plate on wheels" is what rail transportation specialists jokingly are calling a new railroad tank car that heats its cargo as it travels. Temperatures in excess of 500 degrees are possible in the electrically heated car, says its developer-ACF's Shippers' Car Line Division. It is being used to transport certain food and chemical products such as vegetable oil and pitch that must be heated in transit if they are

Chemical Formula For Meat Sought

WOOSTER, Ohio — For 15 years, state researchers and a large pool of ready volunteers have been downing broiled steaks, prime ribs, pork chops and roasts in the name of science. The project, financed in part by federal grants, seeks a chemical formula for the kind of meat the housewife wants and the producer must market. In defining chemically what is tough or tender, juicy or dry, tasty or offensive, the researchers essentially are asking: What makes a piece of meat taste and smell the way it does? Dr. F. E. Deatherage, agricultural biochemist, is directing the project, only one of its kind in the nation. The work has been done at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station and Ohio State University.

Home Lighting Event Slated In Ishpeming

ISHPEMING — Going all-out to make this Christmas season a memorable one, the Retail Division of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce and the Upper Peninsula Power Co. will sponsor a home lighting contest.

The Hematite Business and Professional Women's Club will handle details for the event, which is scheduled for between Christmas and New Year's.

Mrs. Carmen Waters, chairman of the civic participation committee of the women's club, assisted by Mrs. Edith Board, co-chairman, will coordinate plans for the lighting contest which will cover the Greater Ishpeming area and Ishpeming Township.

Sponsors of the contest announced today that a total of $100 would be given away in prizes to home owners who display the most unusual and most attractive scenes appropriate for this festive time of year.

Members of the civic participation committee of the club have selected six judges for the lighting contest.

They are Jack Boase, faculty member of the Negaunee High School who is an Ishpeming resident; the Rev. Ray L. Miklethun, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Ishpeming; the Rev. Thomas Ruppe, pastor of St. Pius X Church of North Lake; Miss Anna Asgaard, president of the Ishpeming Women's Civic League; Mrs. Victoria Boberg, an active officer in the American Legion Auxiliary, and Mrs. Val Pontti, president of the Ishpeming Parent-Teacher Association.

Members of the Hematite Business and Professional Women's Club urge all home owners to do their part in the city and surrounding area to contribute to the holiday atmosphere which indicates the true Christmas spirit of the majority of residents.

The Retail Division and the Upper Peninsula Power Co. are continuing their efforts again this year to see that Ishpeming lives up to its name as the "Christmas city of the Upper Peninsula."

Brunel, a sultanate under British protection, is expected to join Malaysia in a year or two.

Carols Help Express Joy Of Yuletide

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Christmas is a joyful time of year, and one of the world's oldest ways of expressing joy is through songs.

Even the coldest heart can be reached in the Yule season by the strains of "Silent Night" squeezing through the opening of a stained glass window of a church. Or perhaps a group of carollers standing in the snow will make the day just a bit more pleasant than it might have been for some lonely person.

Dance Carols

There are different types of Christmas carols. For example, we have Nativity carols, prayer carols, dance carols and so on.

As might be expected, the Nativity carol is the largest group.

In the olden days dance carols were the most popular. While it would certainly be a strange sight nowadays, at one time there used to be dancing before the altar in the Cathedral of Seville in Spain. No irreverence was intended as altar boys, to the accompaniment of song and the rattle of castanets, performed their dance. Such actions were finally prohibited in 590, but the custom lingered on in certain areas until the 14th Century and, in England, up to the Reformation.

Organized Caroling

At the present time in the Scandinavian countries, carols are sung as the people take part in a ring-dance around the Christmas tree.

Following the Reformation, most of the old hymns and carols were discarded. As a result, in many parts of the world they were forgotten, until their revival in the 19th Century.

Organized Christmas Eve carolling in Boston began in 1900, when groups of people sang their songs in front of every house with a lighted candle in the window.

Bring Help To Needy

In French Canada, the carollers bring help to the needy. There, young men and women wear old-style country costumes and go from house to house singing and collecting food and clothes for the poor.

Singers in the Slavic countries visit different homes while carrying a huge, lighted star. After the carols, some of the singers perform scenes from the Nativity.

National groups have done much to preserve some of these customs in America.

He Has Confidence In Wife's Intuition

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Earl D. Davis has acquired a lot of confidence in his wife's intuition. He left his billfold in his trouser pocket before leaving. The billfold contained considerable cash from a business sale made after the bank had closed.

When he awoke the following morning the billfold was gone. But the money was safe. Davis' wife had gotten worried and taken the money out of the billfold to hide it in a safe place. The thief just got an empty wallet.

Double-Deckers For 'Santa Express'

Here is a photo of part of one of the double-decker Chicago & North Western Railroad Co. cars which will rumble into Ishpeming to serve as the "Santa Express" on Dec. 7. Four of these modern examples of the best rail transportation in the United States will be used to provide a thrill for youngsters, many of whom have not had opportunity to ride a train. The thrill of the train ride, plus meeting of Santa Claus 30 miles away and accompanying him back to Ishpeming, awaits boys and girls from all of Marquette County. The Retail Division of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce is making the trip available to young and old to convince people that Ishpeming is living up to its reputation as being the "Christmas city of the Upper Peninsula."

They Find New Way To Reach Into 'Space'

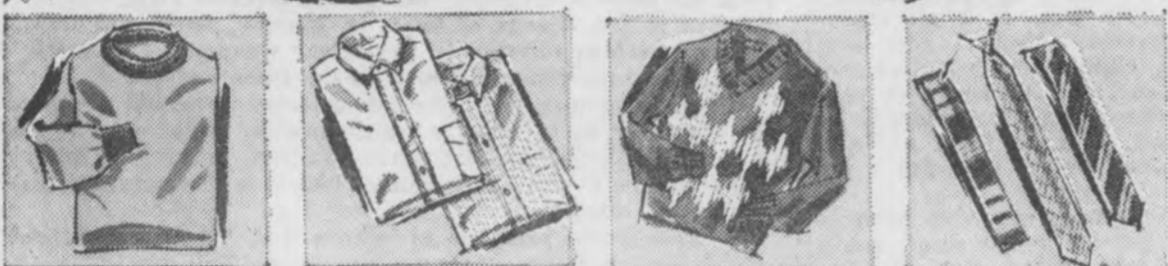

NEW YORK (AP) — Down-to-earth engineers at Honeywell have found a way to reach into "space" by simply thrusting one arm into a pressure suit glove attached to a small plexiglass vacuum chamber. The unit aids engineers who have never experienced the handicap of wearing a pressurized spacesuit yet must design equipment to be used by space-suited astronauts.

It is estimated that 7 to 10 per cent of the retail cost of food goes into packaging.

County Car Count

The effect of the automobile-buying spree of the last two years is clearly visible in Marquette County. It is to be seen in the rise in the local automobile "population" and in the number of shiny late-model cars on the road.

Latest published figures show that there are now more cars in operation in the county, per 100 families, than there are in most sections of the United States. As of the beginning of this year, with some 19,440 passenger cars registered in Marquette County, there were 122 of them for every 100 families. This compares favorably with the ratio in the rest of the United States, where the number of cars per 100 families is 118.

The figures are based on a consumer markets study, taking in every part of the country, made by the Standard Rate and Data Service. Its overall findings show, as would be expected, that there is a close relationship between income and car ownership. In the more prosperous areas there are more cars per family.

The upsurge in Marquette County has resulted in a two-year rise of 4.5 per cent in the number of passenger cars in use. The total has climbed from 18,600 in 1961 to approximately 19,440 at the start of this year, according to the SRDS figures.

The difference represents the net increase in the number of cars, after allowing for the number that were scrapped. The scrap rate has been high lately. The industry reports that nearly five million cars have been junked in the United States in the past year alone. This has been an important factor in the present auto boom. Another has been the trend, in more and more families, to two-car ownership.

The figures indicate that there are now

12 million families in the country with more than one car. That is eight times as many multiple-car owners as in 1949.

What has caused this rise? A number of things have contributed to it. Among them have been the growth of the suburbs, bringing the need for more transportation, the sharp rise in the number of car-hungry teenagers, easier auto financing and larger incomes.

★ THE RAGE TO AUTOMATE

Nothing is sacred any more. First the martini, which in the proper hands is a work of art, falls foul of the madness of the mechanizers and ends up in a dispensing machine. Now the potato, which over the years has become a symbol of Americanism no less American than Indian pudding and Italian sandwiches, gets mashed beyond all recognition by the 20th century's rage to automate. Shortly, the industry tells us, half the year's crop will be factory peeled, factory cut, factory fried and factory frozen. All the housewife will have to do is break open the package of "processed potatoes" and plunk them in the oven.

The child of the future cannot fully enjoy the beauty of baked potatoes, the aroma of home fries or the joys of well browned au gratins. The conveyor belt complex is taking over.

We don't want to return to the days when every potato bug was laboriously hand flicked from the plant with a dash of Paris green, but we don't want to take our nourishment through a tube either. It will drive us to drink automated martinis.—New York Herald Tribune.

★ THE BRIGHT SIDE

The world's knowledge is expected to double between 1960 and 1967, according to declarations made at the annual meeting of the Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges in Chicago. This should reduce by half the number of people who know everything—if you're inclined to look on the bright side.—Minneapolis Morning Tribune.

--- And This Is Just The Warm-Up

Conditions In Moscow

(EDITOR'S NOTE — John Lloyd, an Associated Press correspondent since 1925, was assigned to Moscow in 1934-36. Now general executive for the AP in Europe and Africa, he recently went back to Moscow for a visit. Here are his observations.)

By JOHN LLOYD

LONDON (AP) — If you wanted to buy a chocolate bar and you found it cost $1 you would grumble.

If you found that a very small, scrawny, unattractive chicken cost $3 you wouldn't like it at all.

Especially if you earned $100 a month.

5-Cent Subway Fare

But apartment rent might be $5 or $6 a month. You wouldn't grumble about that. Nor would you object to a 5-cent fare on the subway or bus, anywhere you wanted to go.

You would not like paying two weeks' salary for a new dress or perhaps double that for a new suit. But if you were enthusiastic about everybody being alike and about everybody being lifted, en masse, to a better plane of existence, and were not fussy about the time it took, you might go along with the idea.

Six Million Population

Twenty-seven years ago I was a correspondent in Moscow. Subsequent events took me to various other parts of the world. Only now have I had the opportunity to go back.

A city that in my time claimed two million people has six million today. Very wide avenues, straight as a die, cut through it, and five bridges span the broad river where there were next to none before.

Apartment houses, all exactly the same but nevertheless large, cover a vast area on the outskirts that formerly was a dump. Furious Building Enterprise

Moscow has spread as it has grown in population. A furious building enterprise is going on. People still wait for the chance to get proper living quarters. Proper means small rooms and not many, but there is good heat, there is plumbing and for many people it is more than they had in the past.

Moscow is drab, and the people, from our point of view, dress drably. There is no elegance, no froth. But they appear to be comfortably clad, and they appear, en masse, to be not unhappy with the circumstances.

Drink Heavily

You can compare Russia only to its past. You cannot compare it to the Western world. Our ways of life are totally different, and that is not wholly a matter of the revolution.

Twenty-seven years ago an air of fear cloaked Moscow and other parts of the Soviet Union. That now has been much relieved. It still is not easy to mix freely, but let us remember characteristics of a people as well as those of a state.

Suspicion, mystery, intrigue always were there. Russians drink heavily and sometimes are gay, but Russians in toto are a grim rather than a frivolous people.

Same Old Mustiness

There is the same old mustiness in Moscow that was there 27 years ago. It is an indoor phenomenon, but it gets into your clothes and you feel you are carrying it about with you. It comes from a combination of smoke, lack of fresh air and crowded living. It is not a political thing.

Westerners who visit Moscow are put up in the same hotels used 27 years ago. If any change of paint, polish or carpeting has taken place in that time the artisans were expert at keeping alive old traditions.

Parking No Problem

Traffic is extremely light compared to that in Western cities. Parking is no problem. There are two channels of television. One may be showing a play, an opera or ballet, the other a circus or sports, and there is plenty of politics. By politics I mean that of the state. There are no sweet lovelies and there is no frivolity.

Twenty-seven years ago one would hesitate even to approach the gates of the Kremlin. Now people go in and out without even a check. Tours, with guides, go in to see the elaborate churches and the magnificent museum.

Setback For Romney

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

In Michigan weeks ago, the joke was that somehow or other the special session of the state legislature would end by Nov. 15, when the hunting season began.

The legislators made the deadline. But not many Michigan observers were ready to predict they would achieve it, at so great a cost to the dominant Republican party — and Gov. George Romney — as seems to be the case.

Bitter Battle

The issue in this session was the Governor's tax reform program. The outlook was always doubtful for him. He and everybody else knew he had a bitter battle on his hands. Many Republican conservatives had no taste for the 2 per cent personal income tax which was a key feature of the program.

Yet it was inconceivable to veteran Michigan appraisers that GOP legislators would not give the Governor something he could hang his hat on. The lawmakers confounded these veterans by giving Romney exactly nothing.

Severe Blow

There was, of course, no surprise in the added fact that Democrats spurned Romney's late-hour bids for support, even though they for years have been trying to ram through similar tax proposals.

The blow to Romney — and to Republicans generally — has to be measured as severe. On his fiscal program he staked his entire claim to leadership. He pointedly asked to be judged by his performance in this field.

The Right To Hope

Since his party holds a 23-11 edge in the Michigan Senate and a 53-52 margin in the House, the Governor felt he had a right to hope for success.

The defeat of his tax legislation could be a heavy burden upon him should he be a candidate for re-election next year. While many assume he will be, he has hinted more than once that failure of his key programs might lead him to refuse another race.

Source Of Worry

Romney's modest victory margin in 1962 always has been a source of worry for 1964, when President Kennedy would be on the ticket aiding the Democratic choice.

Michigan's Republican lawmakers now have given Democrats the best issue they could hope for. All the Democrats need say is: "Romney was elected on a promise of leadership. He didn't deliver."

Obviously, too, Romney's place as a presidential dark horse for 1964 is seriously affected by this reverse.

Presumably many of the GOP legislators are happy now — hunting in Michigan's woods and fields. While they are out, perhaps they should look for votes. They may need them badly in 1964.—(NEA)

Views Of Others

A HORSE ON HIM

"Get a horse" used to be the derisive cry early this century when an automobile broke down or got stuck in mud. But carrying a horse in his car got Sherwood Pardee into trouble.

The animal is a miniature, but live, horse only about 36 inches high. Mr. Pardee of Guilford, Conn., had taken out the back seat of an old car so the horse (not a pony?) could ride with him. This it was accustomed to do, often resting its muzzle on his shoulder as he drove.

But a Massachusetts state trooper gave Mr. Pardee a ticket for a traffic violation on the theory that the four-footed passenger interfered with his rear-view vision.

After all, now, with so many horsepower under the hood of a motorcar, can't a man carry just one more little horse in the car? — Christian Science Monitor.

— on some of the plans it has made for furnishing steady work to men now on welfare relief rolls and subject to transfer under the CWA.

The Ishpeming High School affirmative debating team will travel to Iron Mountain Friday night to meet the undefeated negative squad from that city, which last week surmounted its first hurdle in competition with Michigan High School Debating Association teams by defeating Negaunee.

—Negaunee— The choirs of the Bethany Lutheran Church will give a song service at 7:30 Sunday night in the church, to which the public is invited.

One of the outstanding actor families in the United States, Kurt and Marjorie Kuehn and the "Three Kuehnlets," will appear in person on the stage of the Vista Theatre Sunday and Monday.

"Girl Shy," a fast-moving comedy drama, will be presented by the junior class in the Negaunee High School auditorium Friday afternoon and night. A special matinee for grade children will be given at 3:30 and the evening performance will start at 8.

The Two Europes — III

By WALTER LIPPMANN

I talked about Eastern Europe in the two preceding articles. My main point was that the change of generations coincides with the realization that thermonuclear war has to be and probably will be avoided and that this is weakening the discipline which binds Eastern Europe together under the authority of the Soviet Union.

In the West I visited Rome, Paris and London — omitting Bonn, where it seemed to me too early to get any clear view of what is to come after Adenauer.

There is no doubt, I soon realized, that in Western Europe today President de Gaulle is the pivotal figure. The initiative is in his hands. There is little reason to think that the initiative will pass to London or to Bonn. This is not because Gen. de Gaulle is universally loved, or even admired. It is, so I venture to think, because he has seen more of the future than most of his contemporaries, and so much that happens seems to bear him out.

France today is a free country in which representative democratic government has in fact been suspended. Yet no one who has visited Eastern Europe would think of France as a totalitarian dictatorship. It is rather an enlightened monarchy, and there is in France little of the fear which would make the general's opponents, of whom there are plenty, drop their voices and talk in a kind of code language for fear of being overheard.

So far as I could make out, the general's chief instrument to retain his power, apart from his enormous personal prestige, is that he has seized for himself a monopoly of radio and television. His opponents, including the Communist party, are free to print and to talk. But they are cut off from a mass audience by the government's monopoly of broadcasting.

The Gaullist view is, I think, that representative government with its parties and its factions is no longer workable. In the modern age it is unable to provide good government with sufficient authority and independence. Representative government with its parties did not work in postwar France. It has not worked in postwar Italy. Probably it will not work in post-Adenauer Germany. What will come next the Gaullists do not profess to know. But they insist that it must be something which overrides parties and factions and establishes a continuous national authority.

The central political tendency in Italy constitutes a tacit acceptance of the Gaullist finding. The parliamentary system with two-party government, as it comes down to us from the 19th century is, say the Gaullists, now unworkable. It led to Mussolini and to Hitler and might then have led to Stalin.

The Italians are trying to work out what is in reality a suspension of the two-party system. They are trying to form a coalition of all the parties and factions which believe in democracy, or more accurately in personal freedom. This is the inwardness of the so-called "opening to the left."

The Italian center-left coalition is intended to comprise the Catholic party insofar as it is progressive and liberal and the Socialists insofar as they are not Communists and totalitarian. I do not know whether such an Italian coalition can be formed successfully. But I have yet to talk to an Italian who has any plausible idea of an acceptable and workable alternative.

A popular front government would be unacceptable, and a center-right government would be unworkable. If what is wanted is a strong government which is also democratic, then there can be no popular front with the Communists. Nor can there be a front with the rightists, who include what is left of fascism.

In the field of theory and doctrine, moreover, the Italian attempt anticipates correctly, I venture to think, the main tendency among the masses of the people on the Western European continent. The Democratic Socialists are abandoning their Marxist ideology, particularly of the class struggle, and the Christian Democrats are moving away from their former close collaboration with the feudal remnants and the plutocratic lobbies.

As the Socialist parties in Western Europe are ceasing to be Marxist and as the religious parties are becoming more Christian, there is a prospect that such a coalition in Italy, and after the 1965 elections perhaps in Germany, will provide an alternative to the kind of personal rule practiced by Gen. de Gaulle. But it will not be a revival of representative democracy as it comes down from the 19th century.

Turning now to international affairs, the main fact is that Gen. de Gaulle got the jump on all his partners and allies because he was the first to realize and act upon the fact that the postwar era is ending. Early in the day, he saw that, because nuclear war had ceased to be an instrument of Soviet expansionary policy, it had become safe to turn away from the postwar arrangements. In the Gaullist view, this is not due to any change of heart in Moscow, but to the decisive American superiority in nuclear weapons. This estimate, they saw, was confirmed in the Cuban affair.

If we are to understand the real calculation behind the general's insistence on creating a French nuclear striking force, we must begin with the Gaullist conviction that, because of American power, the Soviet Union cannot launch a successful aggressive surprise attack.

No Frenchman pretends to believe that France can afford to match Soviet or American nuclear power. The candid Gaullists with whom I have talked regard their small striking force as "independent" in a special and peculiar sense. Shocking though it may sound to Americans, they expect this small force to give France the ability, on its own initiative, to press the trigger that would compel the United States to go into an all-out war.

Strictly speaking, what France is seeking to create is not an independent French nuclear force, but an independent detonator of the American nuclear force.

In these matters of the life and death of nations and of civilization itself, we can allow no such dangerous illusion to persist. However, I am not sure how seriously the whole business is to be taken. Thus, when I pressed the matter, pointing out that the United States would not surrender its independence to Paris and that we have many ways of asserting our independence, a Gaullist official with whom I was talking admitted quickly enough that France had no intention of pressing its trigger.

Political — Not Military — Instruments

The French are just as much afraid of a nuclear holocaust as are the rest of us. The purpose of creating the trigger, he assured me, is not to pull it — ever — but to negotiate with the United States and the Soviet Union on the basis that France possesses such a trigger and has a finger on it.

I don't think this is going to deceive anybody very much, and there is no need, I conclude, to be too much excited in Washington over the French nuclear deterrent, or over the British. They are not military instruments. They are political instruments. Their main purpose is to give weight to French and British diplomacy in all the steps that will lead up to an eventual accommodation. Though the accommodation is not yet in sight, it is believed to be not too far below the horizon.

In the meantime, the security which results from the existing balance of nuclear power is so great that Gen. de Gaulle feels quite free to dismantle the postwar structure. He does believe in the alliance between Western Europe and the United States — in the commitment to go to war together if war breaks out — and he insists that he proved it in the Cuban crisis. But he does not believe in the NATO establishment which Gen. Eisenhower once commanded. He regards it as obsolete and as an undesirable prolongation of American hegemony in Western Europe.

He does not believe in the ideology of the Common Market and in the political aspirations toward European union which accompanied its birth. And so he may break up the Common Market if Chancellor Erhard does not sacrifice the German farm bloc to the French farm bloc.

He does not believe in the United Nations as a peace-keeping organization, and he has little respect for it as a debating forum, because it contains so many new and weak governments.

He does not believe in negotiating with the Soviet Union now, because he does not think anything will be lost if we do not negotiate.

Moreover, there is a profound difference between his views of West Germany and the current American view. We tend to think of Germany as purged and recovered and as the leading power of Western Europe. The real Gaullist view, so I have come to realize, is that West Germany, after the criminal orgy of Nazism, after the shock of defeat and with the open wounds of partition, is a big, deeply-perturbed invalid who must be nursed, guarded and tranquilized lest he relapse into his old illusions.

That is why the general thinks that our attitude toward West Germany is simple-minded and dangerous.

Bridge abutments are being constructed on Third St. (above) and Euclid Ave. to carry tracks for three railroads in rail relocation project in Ishpeming. Another abutment will be erected next year on Second St.—(Mining Journal photo.)

'Iron Horse' To Take New Route To Aid Mather Mine

(From Cliffs News)
Further extension of underground operations at the Mather Mine, located on the Marquette Range in Michigan, requires that the surface over the mining areas be cleared. This necessitates the relocation of portions of three railroads to release the underground ore remaining below for support of the existing tracks as well as southerly extensions of mining developments. Another important aspect of the relocation will be the safety factor entailed by the elimination of many of the existing grade crossings in the cities of Ishpeming and Negaunee.

Involved are the tracks of the Soo Line Railroad Co., the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. and the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad Co., which now travel over the southerly portion of the Mather Mine. This track relocation, involving tremendous amounts of rock and earth work, bridges and culverts, indicates the faith Cliffs has in the future of the Marquette Range.

Prolonging the life of the mine means continued employment which will have considerable effect on the economies of not only the two cities, but on Marquette County and the Upper Peninsula as well. Initial negotiations with the railroads began in the early 1950's and culminated Oct. 23, 1962, when an agreement was reached between Cliffs and the railroads involved. In 1960, a railroad consulting firm, Walter H. Knapp of Wisconsin, was retained to make the necessary field surveys and, working closely with the railroad engineers, to develop plans and prepare cost estimates. The plans were cooperatively supported by the Ishpeming and Negaunee City Councils. Approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission was received on Aug. 1 of this year. Similar approval will be obtained from the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Based on engineering studies, it was decided to install a single tri-party system of track north of Ishpeming and Negaunee and south of, and roughly paralleling, U.S. 41 to replace the existing tracks of the railroads running along the southern edge of the two cities. An elaborate extension of centralized traffic control will be incorporated to facilitate the tri-party traffic. Construction is moving ahead on schedule with completion set for May, 1965.

Major phases of the railroad relocation project are: Excavation and construction of the railroad roadbed and related structures by A. Lindberg & Sons, Inc., with overhead structures and concrete culverts subcontracted to C. R. Meyer & Son Co.; actual laying of new track by Mannix Co., and the centralized traffic control system to be installed by General Railway Signal Co.

When completed, the relocated tracks will be carried over most of the street crossings in Ishpeming and Negaunee.

Here's Tip For You For Next Halloween

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A tip for next Halloween. If you have to be away from home when the youngsters made their rounds, fill a bag with candy and set it on the porch.

John B. Lowe inaugurated the plan two years ago and found that children have a sense of fairness. A note attached to the bag suggested the trick-or-treaters "Take some. Leave some."

Last Halloween, when Lowe returned home the bag contained more candy than he purchased.

Want To 'Sink' A Carrier In Your Own Living Room?

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Next time you watch one of those action-packed World War II movies on television, pay close attention to the sinking ships, burning vehicles and crashing airplanes. You may want to recreate the same scenes in your home.

Except for the youngsters, most people know that such scenes are usually contrived through a special effects process right on the studio lot and all in miniature. This is known as T-T-P, Table Top Photography.

Hollywood In The Home

Now, thanks to one of America's leading manufacturers of plastic model kits, the home photographer can put together his own Hollywood extravaganza.

While the boys in filmland have quite a bit more equipment to work with, you can now, with any camera, plastic models and a vivid imagination, produce trick shots that will startle your audience.

An authentic setting of an aircraft carrier launching its planes may cost under $2 in props.

Ideal Film

The best results can be obtained with a camera which allows you to see the picture through the viewfinder before it is actually shot. Medium-speed Verichrome Pan or All-Weather Pan film is ideal for T-T-P purposes. You'll also need a tripod, several No. 2 reflector floodlamps and a light meter.

Start with simple shots and work your way up to the more difficult scenes. For example, take an enlarged black and white photo of a runway's end. Between runway and the camera, a model DC-7 is suspended by thin thread or wire; the plane has its wheels extended for landing. In the resulting picture, the aircraft appears to be very much a part of the background.

A bit more difficult to shoot is an aircraft carrier knifing through the water with planes flying overhead.

After putting your model ship together, fashion a "sea" out of aluminum foil. You can form the vessel's "wake" with granulated sugar. You can use stiff wire to mount the planes in formation at a point two to three feet above the carrier. White cotton fluffed around thread can be used to simulate clouds.

By shooting about four feet above the tight-flying planes, the resulting picture will give viewers the sensation of actually flying over a real Navy carrier.

The numbers of different scenes and effects that can be created are countless.

Rosary Case Saves Leg Of 7-Year-Old

BENHAM, Tex. (AP) — A rosary case carried in the right pocket of his jeans is credited with saving the leg of 7-year-old Tommy Lee McIntyre when he was accidentally shot with a .22 caliber bullet.

The bullet shattered the zipper of the rosary case and was in turn shattered, but parts of the zipper had to be removed from Tommy's leg.

Peninsula Bank Yule Club Savings Show $3,262 Gain

ISHPEMING — The Peninsula Bank of Ishpeming today released figures showing a gain of 46 members and $3,262.78 in savings of 1963 Christmas Clubs.

Checks amounting to $110,089.56 went out to 1,098 club members — an average of $100.26 per member.

A Peninsula Bank official revealed the distribution was made as follows:

- 25-cent class — 121 persons saved $1,184.25; 50-cent class — 122 and $2,510; $1 class — 146 and $5,758; $2 class — 230 and $18,312; $3 class — 84 and $11,130; $5 class — 119 and $25,070; $10 class — 46 and $19,060; $20 class — two and $2,000; any-amount class — 228 and $25,065.31.

Some toys adapt themselves to a variety of skill levels, such as this construction set — here designed into a rocket launching unit.

Here's What To Look For In Buying Christmas Toys

By HAROLD SHEEHAN on Dec. 26.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — About $2 billion will be spent on toys in the United States this Christmas season. Some of those dollars will be converted to hours of pleasure and — dare we use the word? — education for the nation's children. Many other dollars will miss the mark, and the toys and games which they buy will languish in the attic beginning

Best Of Intentions

Toys sometimes are designed to catch adults, not children; because adults most often do the buying. Just as some fishing lures are created to catch fishermen, not their finny prey.

How to avoid the pitfalls of toy buying? Not an easy task. But, happily, there exist guidelines to this mission into which parents hurtle themselves each

Most Holly Produced In Oregon

By RICHARD H. SYRING

PORTLAND, Ore. — (NEA) — Christmas always comes early to hundreds of women in packing sheds in western Oregon.

About mid-November, these nimble-fingered workers start packing red-berried holly, fashioning wreaths or putting up bouquets for shipment to all parts of the United States.

Popular Variety

The moist rolling hills produce about 75 per cent of the nation's English holly. That's the variety so popular with Americans at this time of the year. Oregon grows approximately 1,500 acres of holly, Washington about 250 acres, with northern California orchards accounting for the rest of the West Coast production.

By Christmas time, some 1,200,000 pounds of holly will have left these Oregon packing sheds. This is equivalent to 150 rail cars, although truck and air freight now are pressed in to service.

An extra heavy crop, with all boughs well berried, has caused some price cutting. Holly growers complain that this doesn't make them very cheerful, with labor and boxing costs continuing going upwards.

However, there's no lack of buyers. Corporations and other business Christmas-gift givers still present holly.

Dipped In Solution

Ambrose Brownell of Brownell Holly Farms near Portland, who has been in business a half century, explains with a grin, "Once a fellow starts giving holly for Christmas, he's pretty much stuck with the procedure. Once a woman, or a man for that matter, starts receiving holly each season, they begin to expect it each year!"

Holly is trimmed from trees, many 30 feet and higher, which grow in orchard-like rows. It is then brought into dipping sheds, where a solution keeps the berries and foliage fresh for the entire Christmas season.

After a dip, the holly then is dried and ready for packing struct a family drama around the doll or an adventure about the travels of the train.

An extroverted youngster, on the other hand, may prefer one of the new ready-to-fly model planes with an automatic co-pilot. This gives him a chance to demonstrate his flying skill in front of the other boys and share in the excitement with them.

or being made into wreaths, etc.

Stick To Tradition

English-type holly is the American favorite because it has a spiny, ruffled edge. Also, the holly must have lightweight stems. Smooth holly leaves, with pale berries attached to heavy, course stems, never bring a premium price.

Holly selling continues to be a Christmas season procedure. Attempts have been made to make holly popular at Easter or Thanksgiving, but Americans stick to the traditional Christmas season. The American Holly Society has been making some headway, though, in having holly trees planted in parks, cemeteries and along roadways.

Increase Of Nearly $3,000 In Yule Savings At Bank

ISHPEMING — The Miners' First National Bank of IshpeMING reported an increase of nearly $3,000 saved in Christmas Clubs in 1963 when it mailed out checks amounting to $122,691.56 to 1,364 persons. That represents an average of $89.95 per member. The total for 1962 was $119,744.74. The $5-a-week class was the most popular with IshpeMING residents the past year, 159 club members saving $30,965.

The number of members in other classes and the amount saved follow:

25-cent — 164 and $1,347.25;
50-cent — 142 and $2,731; $1 — 184 and $7,620; $2 — 300 and $22,042; $3 — 130 and $16,110; $10 — 30 and $13,900; any-amount class — 255 and $27,976.31.

Police Track Down Car - Piece-By-Piece

AKRON, Ohio — Police have tracked down — piece-by-piece — the car stolen from Robert W. Bennett. They said they found parts (a) installed in another car, (b) in a basement, (c) in a service station and (d) in a vacant lot. "The biggest single piece we can find is the hood," an awed detective commented.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 42 years old, and a bachelor of choice. I am neither ugly nor handsome. I enjoy the company of women occasionally, but I don't want to get married just now. My problem is an intelligent, but extremely aggressive young woman — a Goldwater Republican, by the way, who moved in next door to me. She started the usual neighborly friendship. If she sees a light on in my place, or my car out in front, she runs over to visit. She has offered to cook for me and do my mending (I refused), and her conversation always gets around to marriage. Last week I moved my refrigerator, cooking equipment and TV down to the basement to make it appear that I'm not at home, but I can't fool her. What should I do?

BY HIDING
DEAR IN: Tell her you voted for Kennedy — and move back upstairs.

DEAR ABBY: I had my first baby 18 months ago and I received some very lovely gifts for her. I also bought many nice things for her on my own. I plan on having more children and wants to save all her clothes for my next baby. I have put them away as good as new. My sister-in-law is now pregnant and is due in May. She has two other children, 11 and 9, and didn't plan on this one, so she has nothing saved for it. She is 35 and says this will be her last, so she doesn't intend to go all out buying stuff. She has thrown hints left and right for me to offer my baby's thing. It may sound selfish, but I want to keep these things for my next baby. Once anything is used by her it is a wreck as she doesn't take care of anything. What can I say if she asks? Please advise.

SISTER-IN-LAW
DEAR SIS: Don't give anything unless it is given willingly and cheerfully. She won't "ask." People who hint haven't the courage to ask.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who would like your opinion about something my mother did. Last summer while I was on a trip with my family, I met a very nice boy who was working at the motel where we stayed. My mother looked him over and okayed a movie date. We said we would be back by 11:30. We stopped for a snack after the movie and were only 40 minutes late getting home. Mom didn't want to create a disturbance in the motel so she said she would put off my punishment until we got home. By the time we got home I had forgotten all about it, but Mom hadn't. Out of a clear blue sky she won't let me go to the Thanksgiving dance. Do you think it is fair of her to punish me this way for something I did last summer?

FURIOUS
DEAR FURIOUS: No. She should have punished you when you had it coming.

CONFIDENTIAL TO P. K.: You CAN and MUST quit. Think of the disastrous consequences when your luck runs out.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Christmas Card Avalanche Began 120 Years Ago

By JOHN MORRISSEY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Back in 1843, John Calcott Horsley, an English painter and illustrator, thought it would be appropriate to send a simple greeting to a friend at Christmas. Little did he realize what he was starting.

That first card has mushroomed into an avalanche that this year will see millions of people dashing to mail boxes to deposit the estimated one hundred million Christmas cards that will be mailed between Thanksgiving and Dec. 25, according to the Greeting Card Association.

Over 50,000 Designs
Card senders will be able to make their selections from the more than 50,000 designs that are available. Religious themes and Santa Claus, as usual, lead the preference parade. However, now that Americans have so much time to devote to hobbies, there are cards to be had that will appeal to the golfer, the bowler, the photographer and many others. So, if you like horses, don't be surprised if your greeting comes right from the horse's mouth.

Of course, one must not forget the humorous cards, which seem to be getting more of a play each year. There are even "sick" Christmas cards; they seem to appeal mostly to persons in the same category. Different, Interesting

For art lovers, museums can be a source for cards that are different and interesting. More than ever before, it is now possible to find just the right Yule card for just the right person. There has been a constant increase in the "special" cards, such as greetings for the milkman, the newsboy, the doctor, etc. Nor are the teen-agers forgotten. There are many special cards, such as the one that sends greetings "To a Swell Fellow" wishing him "A Cool Christmas and a Fabulous New Year."

Salvation Army Kettle To Be Set Up Friday

ISHPEMING — The traditional Salvation Army Christmas kettle will appear in the Ishpeming area Friday, Nov. 29, manned by members of the Salvation Army with assistance from representatives of local service clubs.

Lt. Jerold L. Johnson, Salvation Army corps commander, stated today that a goal of $2,000 has been established. He said: "In order that the Salvation Army Christmas goal of $2,000 may be reached, your help is most urgently needed. These and other efforts which will be announced soon will make this Christmas happy and helpful to many.

"Each of us gives a Christmas present to someone. Most of us give Christmas presents to many people, but how many of us extend the boundaries of Christmas beyond our own family circle? How many find a way to include the homeless, the hopeless, and those in failing health and spirit in the joy of our own holiday season?"

"The Salvation Army works

all year 'round to translate the teachings of Christ into practical help for those in need, serving the homeless, the aging, the needy and many others."

In its traditional concern for the less fortunate, the Salvation Army has built a network of social welfare services to help the troubled individual and the troubled family solve the many problems that beset them in an increasingly complex society.

By providing activities for senior citizens, visits to the institutionalized, supervised program for youth, and care and guidance for the unwed mother, the Salvation Army, in neighborhood centers and through religious services, comforts the many by serving the individual.

The corps commander also announced that on Saturday, Dec. 7, the Ishpeming Theater and the Vista Theater of Negaunee will host a Christmas matinee beginning at 10 a. m. The admission price will be an article of canned goods to be used for the traditional Christmas baskets.

Many Being Violated Today: Antique Regulations Still In Effect Would Be Erased By Ordinance Codification

NEGAUNEE — Consideration by the Negaunee City Council of a proposal to codify municipal ordinances focuses attention on local regulations, some of which went into effect shortly after Negaunee became a city in 1873.

Under the present charter, ordinances must be codified periodically. When the governing body decides to proceed with the project, undoubtedly a large number of regulations, which are still in effect, will be wiped out of the books.

It probably would never happen, but under an existing ordinance adopted in 1875 a resident who permitted his horses, mules or swine to run at large in streets and alleys could be fined up to $10, and sentenced to serve not more than five days in the county jail.

Another ordinance passed in 1889 made it unlawful for citizens owning horses to allow them to run at large, and provided a fine of not more than $10, or imprisonment for not more than 20 days.

According to an 1873 regulation, business concerns which remain open after 11 p. m. are violating the law. The same ruling provided that drug stores could be open on Sunday only for the sale of drugs or medicines.

Fire wardens are required to make an annual inspection of all stoves and chimneys, according to a ruling adopted in 1920. In event the wardens find pipes or chimneys unsafe, residents are given five days to put the same in condition, or else they may be fined from $10 to $100.

Back before the days of vaccinations, smallpox was one of the most dreaded diseases, and so the council in 1873 adopted a regulation that any person entering or visiting a house infected with smallpox could be fined from $10 to $50.

Apparently in 1874, the governing body had cause to be concerned with morals of the community for in that year the council passed an ordinance which makes it illegal to operate game houses, practice prostitution on the streets or keep a house of ill fame. Penalties for conviction for violating the ordinance range from $50 to $100 fines, and jail terms of from 10 days to three months.

A study of the ordinance record shows that councils of the last few years were not alone in encountering the dog problem. Early-day ordinances cover such things as driving of dogs on the streets, permitting them to run at large and licensing.

In 1909 the council adopted an ordinance providing for construction and maintenance of electric transmission lines in Negaunee, while a ruling passed 12 years earlier set up the office of city electrician.

Many persons who have remodeled buildings or constructed new homes in the community since the end of World War II are probably unaware of the fact, but they violated the law if they first failed to obtain a permit for wiring or other electrical work from the city electrician. Upon completion of the work they also were required to have an inspection by the electrician, and if they failed to comply with the ordinance they are subject to fines of not more than $100 or jail terms of not more than 90 days.

One year later in 1898, the ordinance to provide for an electrician was amended to include rates for electric current supplied by the municipal lighting plant.

As early as 1881, the council was concerned with payment of fines, and costs of imprisoning persons who did not pay them. The governing body in June of that year adopted an ordinance which provides that any person convicted of violation of any ordinance of the city and confined to the city or county jail for non-payment of fine, shall be employed and set to work upon the streets or public works within the city. The city marshal is charged with the duty of providing such work and occupation until the fine or costs of imprisonment are paid in full.

Other ordinances provide for licensing of auctioneers, forbid the sale of unsound meat, provide that all milk and cream offered for sale in Negaunee shall be delivered only in bottles which shall be cleaned and closed with a suitable stopper, provide for collection of a poll tax of $1 per year per voter, forbid boys to congregate in saloons, and prohibit the use of sling shots or other devices for throwing stones or other hard substances.

Snowplow Crews Ready For Winter

ISHPEMING — "An unmanned public works department is ready for what Mother Nature has to offer in the weather scene," Edward Farley, public works superintendent, declared today.

"We have been fortunate that the weather to date has provided good working conditions," he said. "As long as it continues, we'll finish our Christmas decorating and be able to cope with what we all know must come—snow."

The public works chief pointed out that all winter snow equipment is ready. He listed several pieces of equipment which will "go through their paces."

The city has three Walter snowplow trucks, two Oshkosh snowplow trucks, two Sno-goes, one grader, two front-end loaders, a sidewalk plow and a tractor plow which is used in opening alleys throughout the city.

Farley said a force of 18 men is ready to combat wintry blasts.

To make up for the size of the crews, city workers have had to "double" their duties, Farley said, adding that on several occasions last winter it was doubtful that the work could be handled. Extra shifts were common.

Drivers Polish City's Newest Fire Truck

Tom Paull (left) and Harold Swanson, Ishpeming Fire Department truck drivers, are seen sleeking up the city's newest fire truck. Purchased in the spring of this year, the "Super-Duty" American LaFrance vehicle is the latest and most efficient fire-fighting vehicle on the road today. Equipped with a 1,000-gallon pumper and a 500-gallon booster tank, the fire truck sports power steering, power brakes and a posi-traction rear end. It also is equipped with a three-section, 35-foot-long extension ladder. The department has rolled up 1,422 miles on the vehicle to date.—(Mining Journal photo.)

Bass, Angler Perform Louisville Ceremonial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Al Schansberg performed a ceremonial first cast recently at the opening of a new park lake. A one-pound bass performed a ceremonial first bite and Schansberg reeled it in.

Girl Put Out Lights With Twirl Of Baton

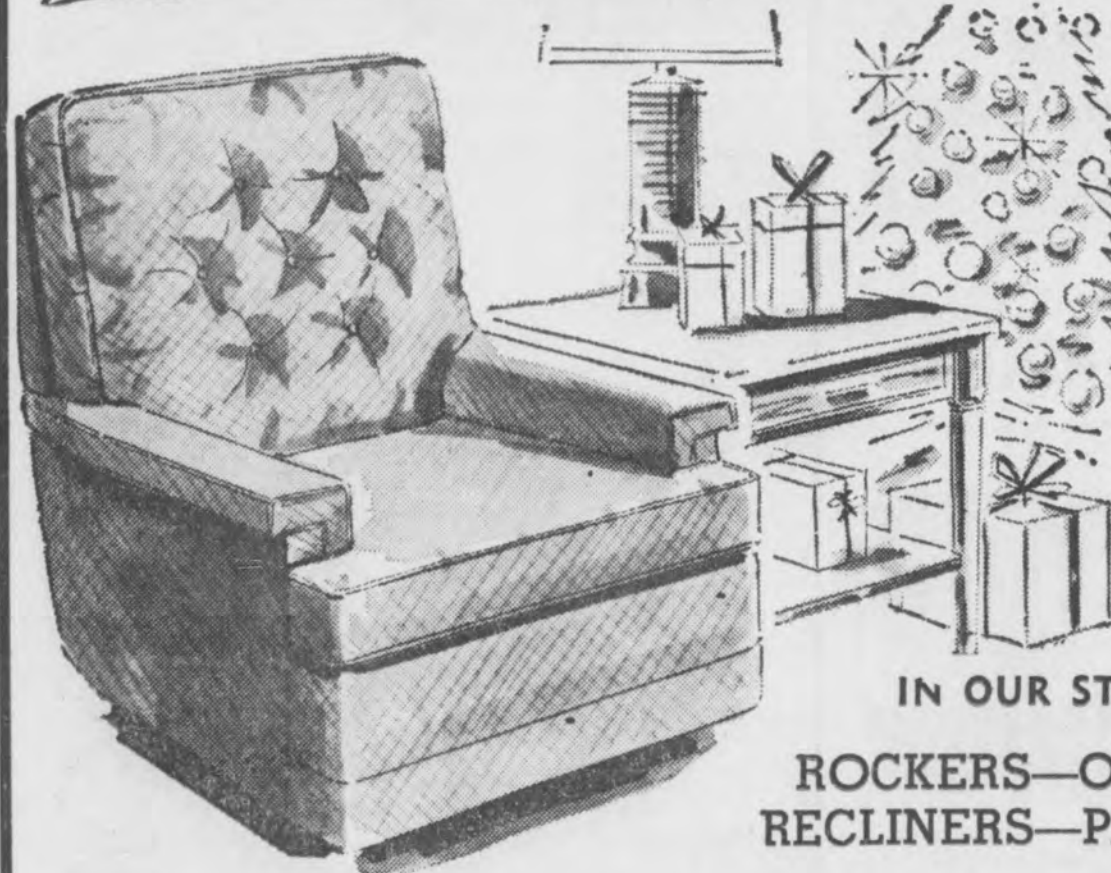

ROSE HILL, Kan. — A twirling baton caused sparks to fly and lights to go out in about half of this southern Kansas community.

Linda Cox, 17, was showing neighbors her twirling ability when a hefty toss sent the baton among electric carrier lines in front of her house.

Maintenance men worked for two hours to restore electric service in the town.
