Lloyd LeVasseur, long-time Marquette County clerk and one of the county's best-known residents, died at 2:25 a.m. today in St. Mary's hospital after an illness of several months. He was 61.

Born April 29, 1902, in Ishpeming, he graduated from the Ishpeming High School in 1920 and was a resident of Marquette since 1926. He resided at 302 E. Prospect St.

First Elected In 1934
Survivors include his wife, May; a daughter, Mary Lynn, Detroit, and a sister, Mrs. Melvin Kindlin, Green Bay, Wis.

Mr. LeVasseur was elected county surveyor on the Democratic ticket in 1934. Two years later, he was elected county clerk, an office he held continuously since then for a total of 26 years.

He was the oldest elective county officer, in point of service, in Marquette County and one of the oldest in the state. Including his election as surveyor, he won 15 consecutive elections.

He also served for the past several years as librarian for the Marquette County Law Library.

On Championship Team
He was a member of the Ishpeming High School basketball team of 1919-20 that won the Upper Peninsula championship and competed in a national tournament in Chicago.

Won State Skeeet Title
He was a charter member of the Marquette Skeeet Club. In 1947, he won the Wisconsin State Skeeet Championship, becoming the first person from the Upper Peninsula to win a state skeet title. In winning the championship, he broke 100 straight targets, the first time this had been done in the history of the Wisconsin tournament. Mr. LeVasseur also won several Upper Peninsula skeet championships.

In 1957, he was fund drive chairman for the Marquette County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The film was based on a novel by his friend, John D. Voelker of Ishpeming. Mr. LeVasseur had a speaking role in the movie, appeared in many scenes and was listed in the film credits.

Burlingame said the program includes "stringent cost and expense reductions" in the auto division, concentration of field sales personnel, curtailment of bidding on defense contracts, and cost reductions in all phases of home office operation.

"I am determined to return Studebaker Corp. to a profitable operating basis," he declared.

High Court Grants Lifer New Trial

LANSING (AP) — By interpreting a 1963 U.S. Supreme Court ruling as having retroactive effect, the Michigan Supreme Court has cleared the way to a new trial for a Montcalm County man serving life for murder.

The court, in a unanimous decision, granted a writ of habeas corpus to Edward J. Palmer, 50, who has served 21 years in prison.

Palmer, formerly of Stanton, was arraigned, pleaded guilty and sentenced all in one day for the fatal beating of Walter Siglow in Macomb County in 1942.

The high court granted the writ on grounds the record showed Palmer never was advised of his right to legal counsel.

Fire Department At Prison Here Ready To Aid Area Units

An inmate-employee fire department at Marquette State Prison protects prison property and stands ready to assist area firefighters or take standby duty for the Marquette fire department.

"The prison's fire department responds to any calls away from the prison when requested by the Marquette fire chief or nearby townships," Warden Raymond J. Buchkoe said. The department averages one "turn-out" a month.

The prison's fire department also frequently remains on standby alert when the Marquette department is called out to a major fire or a fire outside of the city.

Fire chief at the prison is Francis Marshall, who, as the prison's chief engineer, is chief fire marshal and is in charge of the fire prevention and fire-fighting program at the institution.

The fire department's manpower includes Tony Touchinski, who is garage superintendent and assistant chief, and a team of inmates and prison personnel who take on fire fighting duties in addition to their regular work assignments.

The inmate crew is made up of men who are employed near the firefighting equipment. They are trained by the assistant chief.

The assistant chief or another officer is on duty round the clock and seven inmates who work near the garage are trained members of the department.

Inside the walls, a crew of officers and six inmates stand ready to man a hose cart, which is equipped with 400 feet of hose. The cart can be moved quickly if fire breaks out within the walls, and if needed, is supplemented with the fire truck.

City Stores Giving To Lions Drive For Newberry Patients

Most Marquette stores are donating gifts to supplement gifts from residents for the Marquette Lions Club Christmas project for patients at Newberry State Hospital.

Graveraet High School students are gift wrapping the presents given by Marquette merchants.

"Get One Extra" Carl Olson Jr., chairman of the Lions project, said: "We are asking shoppers to buy one extra gift for a patient at Newberry State Hospital and drop the gift into a received at the Town and Country Hardware store or the Northland Appliance Co. Store."

The type of gifts desired include all kinds of toys, such as coloring books, rocking horses, dolls and flashlights for children and clothing and personal items, such as slippers, aprons, combs and pens, for adults, he said.

Olson said the package should carry notification of what the gift is and its size and whether the gift is for a man or woman.

Cases Cited Patients at Newberry State Hospital whom the Lions Club does not want to be forgotten this Christmas include: Fred J., who will be 62 on Christmas Day. He has been in the children's unit for 26 years and had his last visitor 14 years ago. Fred has a hearing and speaking problem. He helps with routine ward work and assists in caring for patients who are unable to help themselves. He would like cigarettes and coffee for Christmas. Dorothy B., who will be 16

Dec. 16. She has resided in the children's unit for three years and has never had a visitor. She spends most of her time in a wheelchair, attends regular school classes and has shown progress in her academic work. She would like nail polish, a comb and brush set, and cosmetics. Phoebe K. is 58 and has been hospitalized since 1916. Her last visitor was in 1940. She assists with routine ward tasks and occasionally does house work and ironing for Newberry residents. She enjoys a sense of independence from meager earnings and buys her own toothpaste and some of her clothing. She would like embroidery work and tea for Christmas.

Reservoir For Irrigation An inmate attends the pumping system at the Honor Camp. A reservoir for irrigation and fire protection was constructed this summer at the Mangum Farm in Chocoley Township. The reservoir provides 250,000 gallons of water for fire fighting.

Extensive Inspection Plan An extensive inspection program at the prison has paid off with only one major fire in the past two years, a fire which destroyed a barn at the Mangum Farm two years ago, the warden said.

The continuous inspection program includes periodic checks for potential hazards and frequent inspections of the prison's sprinkler system and modern, dry-chemical fire extinguishers, Buchkoe stated.

Three More Defendants In Circuit Court Enter Pleas Of Guilty; Sentencing Set

Three more defendants in criminal cases entered pleas of guilty before Judge Bernard H. Davidson in Marquette County Circuit Court yesterday.

Judge Davidson also issued a bench warrant for the arrest of a defendant who failed to appear for arraignment Monday morning when the December term of circuit court opened.

Guilty pleas were taken from George V. Carlson, 18, Route 1, Ishpeming, breaking and entering in the nighttime.

James W. Davidson, 49, an inmate at the Marquette State Prison, felonious assault.

Paul Mendez, 30, New York City, drawing a check without a bank account.

Sentencing Monday

Sentencing for these three defendants and eight others who entered pleas of guilty when they were arraigned Monday will be Monday, Dec. 16.

Carlson, who is free on bond, is charged with a break in August at the Ishpeming Steel Corp. warehouse, the property of Maurice Waskow, North Lake, in the North Lake Location, Ishpeming. He was arrested by state police.

Carlson was bound over to circuit court by Marquette Township Justice George J. Fezey in an arraignment Sept. 8.

Davidson, who was released to the custody of Marquette State Prison Warden Raymond J. Buchhoe following his arraignment yesterday, is charged with assaulting another prisoner with a hammer in the prison yard during a recreation period Nov. 17. Davidson is serving a term at the prison for attempted prison escape at Jackson State Prison in September 1957, where he was serving a 15 to 30 year term for armed robbery in Grand Rapids.

Being Held In Jail

Mendez appeared yesterday with Aaron Lowenstein of Ne-gaunee, who was appointed Monday as his attorney. He is being held in the county jail in default of $500 bond.

He was arrested by Marquette police and charged with writing a $10 check Sept. 30 on the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Marquette, without sufficient funds in the bank. The check was made payable to the Hotel Northland.

Mendez had entered a plea of guilty Monday, but Judge Davidson appointed an attorney for him after Mendez said that he had written the check with the understanding that the hotel would hold the check a few days and that he had subsequently been admitted to a Marquette hospital.

Warrant Issued

Judge Davidson issued the bench warrant for the arrest of Haskel Lytle, 23, Route 1, Champion, who failed to appear for arraignment Monday on a charge of attempted larceny.

Lytle was arrested by state police Oct. 6 in Michigan Township. He is charged with attempting to steal a wallet belonging to Arnold A. Rautiola, Hancock.

He posted $250 bond at an arraignment before Marquette Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski Oct. 21.

Magazine Salesman Pays $100 Fine In Court Here

A fine of $100 and $4.30 costs have been paid by a magazine salesman convicted last week by Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski of a violation of a transient merchant law.

John Korpi, 20, who listed his local address as County Road 550, pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to post the required bond and pay a license fee to operate in Marquette County. Alternative sentence to paying the fine and costs was to spend 30 days in the county jail.

Korpi, a salesman for Periodical Publishers, was arrested by the sheriff's department Nov. 22, following complaints made by residents to the chamber of commerce office.

Sheriff Thomas F. Jernstad said that Korpi had been soliciting magazine sales in Marquette County and the Upper Peninsula since early in November, from headquarters set up in a downtown office.

Procedural Guide

Korpi had hired several local women to canvass by telephone and several men to make follow-up visits, the sheriff said.

Introduced in municipal court as part of the evidence that Korpi was doing business in the county was copy of the procedure which the telephone canvassers and salesmen used.

Conversation procedure for telephone canvassers, according to the evidence introduced in court, followed this pattern:

"We are making an inquiry regarding people's reading habits in your neighborhood. How many newspapers do you folks take? Do you belong to any book clubs? Do you receive any magazines by mail? Which ones are they? How long have you lived at your present address? And that address is—?"

"Another Pleasant Surprise"

"Now my company is giving many of the (men or ladies) I talk to sample copy of either (list of nine magazines). Of course, that is just one copy only, not a subscription. Which one would you like?"

"One of our people will drop it off within the next few days. . . Oh, and by the way, you also have another pleasant surprise coming — so watch for it."

Follow-Up Dialogue

For the second telephone call, the canvassers, according to evidence submitted in court, were instructed to say:

"The reason I called was to ask if our route manager has dropped off your gift copy of . . . He hasn't? (If rural route) He probably got lost again. (If within city) Oh, maybe you weren't home."

"So I'll explain why you will receive this gift. Now, I am not allowed to tell you that you will receive some free magazines, but you have a nice surprise coming."

"Starting next month you are going to receive (list of five magazines) by mail at our expense."

"All five are being mailed out from us now — that's the (name of two magazines which are published weekly and three published monthly).

"Now most of the ladies said fine, but what's the catch? Well, there is none. The publishers make their money on the ads — but I want to ask you this, postal regulations prohibit free and indiscriminate mailing, and it does cost us a certain amount to wrap them, handling and delivery, and altogether this amounts to 45 cents a week as you receive them."

"Now in case you are receiving any of those I have mentioned, it's okay because on the one you receive now you'll get an extra 48 issues, instead of duplicate copies."

Warned Repeatedly

Sheriff Jernstad said today that law enforcement officers have repeatedly warned residents "to investigate the salesman they are dealing with and know what they sign. Chances are, people will do just as well financially if they deal with people they know," he said.

"By his own admission, the salesman in this case does not give away anything," he said.

Four Vehicles Damaged In City Crashes

Four vehicles were damaged and a motorist was ticketed, but no one was injured, in a pair of traffic mishaps in Marquette yesterday.

At 9:25 yesterday morning an automobile being backed out of his driveway by Emil B., Beyer, 58, of 1202 N. Front St., struck a truck which was parked on the west side of the street, facing south.

City police said Beyer's vision was obscured by a frosted rear window. The truck, operated by Joseph A. DePetro, Woodland Ave., was delivering oil.

Obstructed Vision

The left rear panel of the 1959 model truck and the left rear fender of Beyer's 1959 four-door sedan were damaged to a minor extent. Both vehicles were driven from the scene under their own power.

Beyer was ticketed for driving a motor vehicle with an obstructed vision.

The other mishap took place at 11:40 yesterday morning at the corner of W. Washington and Fifth Sts. and involved automobiles operated by David L. Roberts, 17, of 369 W. Park St., and Dorence S. Bonin, 27, of 601 Summit St. Slides On Roadway

City police said Roberts was driving south on Fifth St. and had just made a left turn onto Washington St. when his car slid on the snow-covered roadway, going over the centerline and striking the Bonin vehicle, which was traveling west on Washington.

Bonin saw the other car sliding and had swung as far to the right as possible in an effort to avoid the mishap, city police said.

The left rear fender of Bonin's 1961 station wagon and the left front fender of Roberts' 1962 four-door sedan were damaged. Both vehicles were driven from the scene under their own power.

Pocahontas is said to have saved John Smith a second time by revealing an Indian plot against his life.

Era of Prohibition Ended 30 Years Ago Tomorrow

Journal Special Correspondence

Tomorrow marks the 30th anniversary of the repeal of national prohibition.

It had begun 14 years before in a situation of hope that by legislating alcoholic drinks out of existence they could be prohibited and the great amount of money spent on them could be turned to better uses and the great misery caused by excessive drinking could be done away with.

National Conspiracy

But that didn't happen. A national minority enacted prohibition, and it soon became apparent that it didn't represent the majority will of America. A huge national conspiracy to circumvent the dry law evolved and it brought on a period of lawlessness and corruption which has left an enduring mark on America.

St. Thomas Aquinas, in defining law, said that it is "an ordinance of reason, made by him who has the keeping of the community, for the common good, and promulgated."

Raped By Rockefeller

Prohibition was not an ordinance of reason. It was a great national error. This was clearly evident in the nation's hind-sight, but there are many persons who didn't know at the time of the huge proportions of the illegal liquor traffic and there are many sincere persons today who would vote for prohibition.

Repeal came when moral leaders of the nation like John D. Rockefeller Jr. spoke out publicly against the corruption spawned by prohibition. On Dec. 5, 1933, Utah became the 36th state to ratify the 21st Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which repealed the 18th (Prohibition) Amendment, and prohibition ceased to be a constitutional law of the land. In January, 1934 legal liquor sales began in Michigan.

Violent Reaction

An era was ended which had surprised both drys and wets in the violent reaction of America to the denial of alcoholic drinks. Michigan went dry before Wisconsin did in the state process of adopting national prohibition.

State prohibition went into effect in Michigan on May 1, 1918, and national prohibition didn't go into effect until Jan. 16, 1920. In border towns like Menominee, Iron Mountain and Ironwood, Wet Wisconsin made drinks almost as easy to get in border Michigan as they were in Wisconsin as there was no effective border control of the liquor traffic.

Hearse Full Of Liquor

Menominee liked to tell a story of a funeral which crossed the interstate bridge with the hearse and hacks full of liquor, but there was no need for such stage management to defeat the dry law because cars loaded to the side curtains with liquor weren't stopped.

With national prohibition there was a fear that it might really catch on and prohibit. An elderly brewer of the Peninsula laid down enough bottled beer in sand to last his lifetime.

Illegal Boozemaking

Some wealthy men created basement caches of pre-prohibition whiskey to last them over many holidays, and most of these illicit hoards were raided over the years by thieves because there could be no report to the law officers of the theft of illegal whiskey.

Moonshining caught on slowly. The area had no experience in home distilling and was fearful that the deadly fuses oil of faulty distillation would blind still patrons. But soon there were home distiller and brewer supply stores openly selling cappers and copper tubing and border Michigan as they were in Wisconsin as there was no effective border control of the liquor traffic.

Prescription Racket

The only legal liquor was that prescribed by physicians, who could write a prescription for a pint of spirits for a patient. The prescription cost $3 and the pint cost $3, and a gallon of moonshine could be bought for $4.

The prescription racket was such a flagrant one that some doctors, badgered by their patients for a nip for their health's sake, would sign all the vouchers in their liquor prescription book and leave it at the drug store for their friends' convenience. The pharmacist would fill in the name of the recipient, sometimes picking a name of someone departed from this world.

Overwhelming Vote

Michigan legalized the sale of 3.2 beer in Michigan on April 27, 1933, and later ratified the 21st (Repeal) Amendment legalizing the sale of intoxicating liquor by vote of 850,546 to 287,931.

Michigan elected to become a "monopoly" state, meaning that the state government set up control of the liquor business as the only source of intoxicants in Michigan. State liquor stores opened in 1934, and they offered some dreadful whisky at first, but the quality improved with time.

Taxes Increasingly Heavy

Old Sweepstakes was one of the most sold brands with repeal, its popularity attributable to its low price, just over $1 a quart, rather than its quality.

Picketing Case Appeal Denied By High Court

Michigan's Supreme Court yesterday denied a union petition for leave to appeal a temporary injunction and five contempt of court citations issued last summer in Marquette County Circuit Court by Judge Ernest W. Brown of Iron Mountain.

Judge Brown had issued a temporary injunction against picketing of the Red Wing, an ore carrier owned by Upper Lakes Shipping, Ltd., Toronto, and cited five men, who violated his orders against picketing, for contempt of court.

Requesting the appeal of Judge Brown's decisions were the Great Lakes District of the Seafarers' International Union, District II of the Maritime Engineers Beneficial Association, and the five pickets involved.

The Supreme Court's refusal to allow an appeal in the Red Wing case comes in the same week that the navigation season ends here. The Cliffs Victory, a Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. carrier, is scheduled to be the last to load at the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad Co. dock tomorrow.

It's been a boom year for ore shipping, the Red Wing case brought violence to Marquette and connected Marquette to union interference with the loading of Upper Lakes boats in ports in other states on the Great Lakes.

Dynamite blasts set off last July 26 buckled a Soo Line Railroad Co. track close to the dock approach and ripped a track in the LS&I yard.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is investigating the blasts, which were linked by authorities to the Red Wing case.

Pickets attempted to picket the loading of the Red Wing, including once in a motor boat, the first five times it docked in Marquette this summer. Brown issued the temporary injunction July 17. July 27 was the last time the Red Wing was picketed here and several shipments on the Red Wing were made since then.

Pickets' signs claimed that because the Red Wing is two-thirds American owned, the ship should employ American seamen. Because the ship employs Canadian seamen, the signs stated, jobs of American seamen on the Great Lakes are being lost.

The Red Wing crew belongs to the Canadian Maritime Union, and all-Canadian union. The CMU has been edging the SIU, which is affiliated with the American AFL-CIO, out of several Canadian shipping firms.

Brown stated in his injunctive judgment that the unions' claim that American seamen should be employed on the Red Wing apparently was a guise. Formerly With SIU

"Until April 1962 the unlicensed seamen of the Upper Lakes vessels were represented by the SIU of Canada and it was not until this representation terminated and the employees became members of the CMU that this trouble arose," Brown said.

"The real purpose of the picketing is to coerce Upper Lakes and to compel it and its employees to become members of the SIU."

Cases Recalled
Sentences for the five pickets found guilty of contempt of court were withheld by Brown to allow time to petition the Supreme Court for leave to appeal the case.

They are:
William E. Babbit and William Westbrook, Duluth, arrested July 27 at the LS&I dock, ordered to pay $200 fines and spend 10 days in the county jail, free on $500 bond.

William Grabenauer, Bay Town, Texas, and William Duffy, Duluth, arrested July 4 at the LS&I dock, ordered to pay $200 fines, or spend 15 days in the county jail, free on $500 bond.

Gale Sherbreck, 18, Bay City, arrested July 12 at the Soo Line dock, placed on probation for 90 days and bond of $500 cancelled.

Had Denied Emergency
An MEBA petition for an emergency appeal of the case, which would have resulted in an immediate decision this summer, was denied by the Supreme Court in July.

In the appeal, union attorneys were claiming that the picketing here was lawful because it was not intended to affect the internal economy of the vessel, that a circuit court had no jurisdiction in the incident because it was pre-empted by the National Labor Relations Act, that the circuit court commissioner had no power to issue bench warrants and that the injunction was a denial of the right of freedom of speech.

Lie Detector Test Refused By Robinson

DETROIT (AP) — A former state police lieutenant — who admitted he stole about $5,000 but refused to take a lie detector test on whether he took more — is serving the first six months of four years' probation in the Detroit House of Correction.

Carl W. Robinson, 46, a former detective lieutenant in command of the State Police rackets squad, drew the probationary sentence Tuesday from Recorder's (Criminal) Judge Joseph A. Gillis. He could have been sentenced to five years imprisonment.

Charge
Robinson pleaded guilty Oct. 25 to a charge of larceny by conversion. Originally he had been charged with the more serious crime of embezzlement.

"Because he was a cop, I couldn't send him to Jackson," Gillis said. "He might get killed."

"In his 23 years as an honest officer," Gillis said, "he sent a lot of guys to Jackson who would be more than willing to kill him."

The money Robinson admitted taking was seized in gambling raids and was taken from police safes.

Judge Gillis said he was "not completely satisfied" with presentence reports of probation officers, adding that they showed a $17,000 shortage.

Refuses
"Either Robinson took more," Judge Gillis said, "or there are four or five other state policemen still stealing."

Gillis invited Robinson to take a lie detector test administered by a court-appointed doctor, but Robinson refused.

Bad Check Case Here Dismissed

A motion for nolle prosequi (dismissal) was granted by Judge Bernard H. Davidson of Negaunee yesterday in a bad check charge against James Belongy, 22, of 130 Summit St., Ishpeming.

Judge Davidson granted the motion made in Marquette County Circuit Court by Prosecuting Attorney Edward A. Quinell, Marquette, who said that Belongy had made restitution for the check.

Had 'NSF' Check
Belongy had been arrested by sheriff's officers and charged with writing a check July 23 for which there were not sufficient funds in the bank.

He had been bound over to the current term of circuit court by Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski. He was released from the county jail after posting bond, set at $200.

Belongy had been charged with writing a $175.92 check, made payable to Michigan Bell Telephone Co. The check was addressed to the Peninsula Bank of Ishpeming.

Our Internal Enemy

The Old World regards young America as a place of violence. It has adopted our Wild West for its entertainment more as something now extant and credible than as a grossly fictionalized version of a long gone era.

This reaction to American criminality is so out-of-focus that Americans laugh it off. But Americans in turn are out of focus about the actuality of crime in America.

History may very well say of our times that we spent most of the national budget on defense against the Russians and that our preoccupation with this external threat to our national security diverted attention from the criminals in our midst.

The big criminals have huge resources to be used for bribery of public officials and lots of muscle to enforce their orders. But their greatest strength is in an American public easing its old morality and tolerating "a little crookedness" as inevitable and no great harm.

The situation poses for the American system of justice a growing problem. Is America to be scrupulous in the courts but tolerate an extra-legal system of gangland "justice" that operates by extortion, assassination and intimidation? This situation prevails.

Our American freedoms were come by in such a hard way and over so many centuries — we inherited as well as created our system of justice — that our bar is properly loath to indulge summary justice, insisting upon the use of due process to give the accused all the protections of the law.

"Taking a Fifth" (pleading the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution, which prohibits among other things requiring a person charged with crime to be a witness against himself) has become so commonplace that the implications of the witness' involvement in the crime charged appear not to register upon the public.

Better that a hundred guilty men should go free than that one innocent man should suffer, we say. This is good logic, but the manner of its practice tends to create two systems of justice in America, one within the law and one outside of it.

It will be difficult for America to achieve a judicial sophistication which will enable the nation to cope with modern criminals who pervert the protections of the law. These new enemies are not labeled; they do not openly engage in criminal practices; they infiltrate legitimate businesses.

Peninsula Perambulator

At long last, the City of Iron River and other Iron County municipalities have begun collection of city, county and school taxes.

From The Journal Files

60 Years Ago

—Marquette—
The members of Ahmed Temple of the Mystic Shrine and prospective members took Marquette by storm yesterday and last evening. From all parts of the Upper Peninsula they journeyed to the Queen City, bent on having the best time of the year and making life miserable for another band of brave recruits.

Tuesday evening about 150 ticketholders were on hand. There were only a few women in the assemblage and they were present only as spectators, taking no part in the drawing. Each ticket holder's name was put in a box. John Lacey, George A. Newell and E. E. Scribner were chosen by the crowd to draw the slips from the box. As each person's name was called he came forward and picked out the seats he wished.

30 Years Ago

—Marquette—
Marquette voters will go to the polls today in the annual municipal election to select a new mayor and a new city commissioner — the mayor for a term of five years and the commissioner for three years, the unexpired term of G. A. Carlson, resigned.

—Negaunee—
The businessmen have organized an indoor baseball nine and will soon be ready for games. "We do not consider the Breitung House men on a par with us, but we will play them a game or two just to promote good feeling," said one of the members of the newly organized team yesterday. The businessmen claim the championship in the series of games played by the league last winter and anticipate that they will again carry off the honors.

—Ishpeming—
During the 1933 iron ore shipping season the Inland Steel Co., which has its mining headquarters in Ishpeming, shipped 278,235 gross tons of iron ore from its properties on the Marquette Range and the Cuyuna Range in Minnesota.

'Wonder How Fierce HE Is?'

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — A week has past since President Johnson's noble plea to "put an end to the teaching and the preaching of hate and evil and violence," but another voice still intrudes.

It is the voice of Richard Ely, president of the segregationist Memphis Citizens Council, telling a meeting of Citizens Councils of Tennessee that John F. Kennedy "died a tyrant's death."

All over the world, from Moscow to Singapore, men of good will have expressed the hope that the martyrdom of America's young President would bring a moratorium on hate.

Richard Ely's words were sad enough, but mankind has learned to live with the ugly words of men. What seems impossible to live with are the voices of those children in a Dallas junior high school who cheered the news that President Kennedy had been murdered.

The report of this tragedy by a Dallas Methodist minister, the Rev. William Holmes, seemed unbelievable at first. But it was confirmed by a teacher, Miss Joanna Morgan, who said one of her pupils did applaud the news.

"This was not the majority of opinion by any means," Miss Morgan said. "It's just that this was some students' first reaction."

But some students cheering any President's murder are too many. One student — one member of a human race — cheering a President's murder is one too many. For it was not only a President who slumped forward in that car, mortally wounded; it was a member of the human family, and the thought that even some of those "little children" whom Christ suffered to come unto Him could applaud murder of any human being is more frightening than the murder itself.

"All I have heard tonight is hate," cried an unidentified American at that Citizens Council meeting where Richard Ely called John Kennedy a tyrant. "I condemned you," he cried. "This is not democracy."

But he is wrong. This IS a democracy, because democracy as we know it gives any man the right to say what he thinks without fear of legal punishment. Any restriction of that right, as the world has learned, leads to the rubber truncheons, the midnight arrests of the police state.

The tragedy of Richard Ely and of those school children is not that they were permitted to defame a President or cheer his murder. That is their right under the best and safest system of government ever devised. But it is also a part of that system that some things are not said, some crimes are not applauded.

Those voices remind us that we have a long way to go in this best of all countries. And we shall not get there until Americans have pondered and answered the question of why such voices are still heard and until a vow is taken in every home "from sea to shining sea" to "put an end to the teaching and the preaching of hate and evil and violence."

Christmas Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to Christmas conclusions: Now that Santa Claus is on the horizon, the tidy people who mailed their Christmas cards last October have a problem.

The stores are so thronged with yuletide shoppers they are unable to buy their Easter egg dyes now.

Beware Of Young Lady
If the young lady can't tell you from Adam all the rest of the year, but right now she gives you a dimpling smile everytime you come near, mark her off your list. She's just another selfish dame seeing how many male dopes she can get to spring with Christmas gifts—so she can brag about them to her girl friends.

Women and show business folks tangle more coins into the cups of blind beggars than anybody.

One Sled Per Family
The only Christmas carols most people can sing are those they learned as children. Not one out of 10 men ever learns the words to a new carol after the age of 40.

No matter how many lads there were in a large family,

HONKING AT A QUEEN
Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain makes quite a thing of doing her shopping. She rides in a brougham drawn by a horse. The coachman sits up front, wearing, among other things, a tall hat and a winged collar. Behind the royal equipage is a line of cars whose drivers honk loud and long and to no avail.

'FITNESS' COMES HIGH
Embarrassed congressional junketers now may complain that a New York state legislative committee has made them look like pikers.

The New York committee started out with a $30,000 appropriation, now down to 77 cents. Among its expenses is an item of $4,738 for travel, lodging and meals since April 1. That includes visits to the Cassius Clay-Doug Jones fight at Madison Square Garden, the Liston-Patterson bout at Las Vegas and $414 for meals at Toots Shor's restaurant.

Santa usually left them a total of only one sled—although each of the daughters got her own doll to cherish.

Selecting Yule Tree
A man usually gets the most mufflers for Christmas the month before he retires and moves to Florida.

A philosopher is a husband who realizes early in marriage that, no matter how much care he shows in selecting the family Yule tree, when he lugs it home in triumph his wife, after inspecting it critically, will observe, "It's nice—but it has a wrong side to it."

Tinsel Masterpieces
No husband in history has been able to buy a tree his wife couldn't find has a wrong side. The wise husband learns to bring his wife along on this chore and let her do the choosing.

The tinsel masterpieces today somehow lack the beauty of the trees we recall from our youth. Remember what fun it was to hang them with home-threaded garlands of red cranberries and white popcorn, and crown them with a hand-scissored cardboard star covered with tinfoil?

The Unbreakable Toys
Science has accomplished many wonders, but one of the things it hasn't been able to do is to make a toy that a child can't manage to break within a minute and 37 seconds.

People who say "I hate Christmas" usually don't have much love for anything else either.

Johnson's Next Bridge

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON — As everyone has already said, President Johnson's speech to the joint session of Congress was a remarkable performance — perfectly suitable in the most difficult circumstances, vigorous and inspiring, directly calculated to get results and certain to reassure the vast overseas audience that had been waiting to see what the new leader of the United States would be like.

This Johnson performance was all the more remarkable, it must be added in all frankness, because this sort of thing has never before been the new President's long suit. Inarticulateness has most certainly never been one of his failings, but eloquence has not been one of his gifts either.

Passed First, Very Hard Test
The fact that he attained genuine eloquence, unmarred by a false note, is another proof of the rule that the presidency has a way of stretching a man until he fits the requirements of the office. Eloquence is by no means the primary requirement, but it is a very important requirement; and it is even more important abroad than it is at home.

Hence every sensible American will rejoice that the new President has triumphantly passed his first, very hard test on the world stage, on which modern American Presidents are called upon to represent and speak for this country in a worthy manner. In every respect, Johnson has made a conspicuously successful start.

It is important to underline the success of this beginning, even at the expense of reiterating what is obvious, for a rather simple reason. To be blunt about it, President Johnson has his most dangerous first bridges still ahead of him. Whether his presidency will get off to a completely successful start is still an open question.

Proven Power To Get Things Done
The test will be the one he himself proposed, whether he can "continue" — the word he emphasized so strongly — what President Kennedy began.

President Johnson is a formidable man, with boundless energy and a proven power to get things done. But it is a reasonable prediction that he will be unable to maintain this continuity, which he certainly desires, unless he is able to imitate President Truman in at least one respect.

Truman's first administration was one of the highest periods of the American presidency, above all memorable for its bold and creative new departures. The prime credit must go to the unassuming little man of whom the most mediocre performance was expected by everyone (including, to his shame, this reporter). But this memorable performance would hardly have been within President Truman's reach if he had not wisely kept on duty the many outstanding public servants, like James V. Forrestal, whom he inherited from President Roosevelt.

Line Forming On The Right
President Johnson comes into office just as President Truman did, with a few wise friends and advisors, but with no advisors with direct, detailed, recent experience of the problems he will now confront and with nothing like the personal staff any successful President needs. As in Truman's case, too, Johnson is the kind of ebullient, old-fashioned politician who attracts hordes — and the line is of course forming on the right.

Thus, continuity will depend in part on President Johnson's success in repulsing the hordes (something President Truman did not do very successfully). But continuity will mainly depend on President Johnson's success in continuing to use President Kennedy's best recruits to the public service, in the Truman manner.

This will in fact be more troublesome for Johnson than for Truman. Far more than President Roosevelt, President Kennedy had a strange power of inspiring close personal attachment. President Roosevelt had inspired this sort of attachment in only one exceptionally able man. And President Truman was unable to keep Harry L. Hopkins.

President's Human Problem
Yet almost all the leading, ablest men of the Kennedy administration felt about Kennedy almost as Hopkins felt about Roosevelt, though of course without aspiring to be the sort of presidential alter ego that Hopkins was.

Right there is President Johnson's human problem. He has wisely asked all the best Kennedy public servants to stay on, including the key members of President Kennedy's White House staff. There is no doubt that he wants them to stay on.

In one or two cases, President Johnson may not and perhaps should not get what he wants. For instance, superhuman fortitude will be required, or a grave disaster will be risked, if Attorney General Robert Kennedy tries to serve another man as he served his brother, without afterthoughts or regrets. But in the great majority of cases, the chief men who served President Kennedy have a duty, if only to Kennedy's memory, to help Johnson continue where his predecessor left off.

All the same, President Johnson will need all his exceptional gifts to get safely across the bridge here-in imperfectly described.

Two Presidents Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — There are two Presidents Johnson just as there were two Presidents Kennedy: The public President and the President at work inside the White House.

One is the talking President saying the nice and pleasant things that cheer the American heart even when dressed in generalities and sometimes decorated with the obvious.

Problems And People
The other is the doing President busy with problems and people in the privacy of his office or on the telephone. Sometimes the two presidents overlap and become one because the uses of the presidency have changed.

Before television a president who wanted to get himself and his ideas across to the nation had to depend on public appearances before limited audiences on radio. Most of the time he had to depend on deeds alone.

Filled Two Ambitions
Kennedy, winning the presidency by a slim election margin, felt from the beginning the need to create in the public mind confidence in him and, if possible, affection. The grief at his death showed he filled both ambitions.

It's no wonder he was constantly before the camera. Nor is it any wonder Johnson lost no time going before the public in person on television in his talks to Congress, for example, and his talk on Thanksgiving Day.

Emphasizes Continuity
He had even greater need than Kennedy to reassure the public the presidency was in safe and competent hands. Kennedy was elected to it, Johnson had it thrust upon him.

Knowing that Kennedy had broad public confidence, Johnson from the beginning has sought to identify himself as one with Kennedy and his programs.

Homely Touches
He even adopted some of Kennedy's homely touches, like using the same kind of rocking chair, or dropping in suddenly on friends at their home. There is a chance he may overdo this folksy routine.

In time, as he gets adjusted to the White House and can begin to gauge public reaction to his presidency, he should work out his own techniques in public relations, a field in which he now must have an additional concern.

Endless, Tireless Effort
He will almost certainly seek election next year.

But in his years in Congress Johnson's greatest abilities were not in public speaking or public appearances but in an endless, tireless effort behind the scenes to get done what he wanted done as smoothly as he could.

He has been very shrewd at this.

Opposition To Civil Rights
Johnson told Congress he intended to fight for Kennedy's civil rights and tax-cut programs.

Southern opposition to civil rights has been so strong Johnson knows he can't get that program through this year. He can try in 1964. But he quickly called Negro leaders to conference in the White House.

Talking Economy
Senate opposition to a tax cut, unless the White House reduced government spending, made a cut this year impossible. Johnson at once began talking economy. He talked about it publicly and in the White House.

Views Of Others
This is one example of where the public and private Johnson overlaps. There will, no doubt, be plenty more of it. He is making his private activities publicly known as he goes along.

DIAL YOUR WAY HOME
A Danish inventor has come up with a new type of door lock for the home. It has a telephone type dial, numbered from 1 to 7. All you do to open the lock and door is dial the right numbers. It eliminates fumbling for door keys, the inventor says.

This strikes a chill clean down to our marrow. We cannot remember our own auto license number, let alone the numbers of our telephone, time clock, social security, zip code, postal zone, checking and savings accounts and the direct dial number of Great-un-cle Bellwort in Acusa, Calif.

Tippit Fund Collections Here Reach $236 Level

Contributions to the J. D. Tippit fund here reached the $236 level today, and more were expected.

Chief of Police George G. Johnson said at least one more sizable contribution from a law enforcement organization was expected to boost the collections, being taken for the family of the slain Dallas policeman, J. D. Tippit.

The Marquette Police Department is the only agency in the Upper Peninsula which is accepting donations for the Tippit family. All Marquette police officers and a large number of other persons have contributed to the fund, Johnson said.

The Dallas policeman was allegedly shot and killed by Lee Harvey Oswald, shortly after Oswald allegedly assassinated President Kennedy.

There For Christmas Johnson said contributions for the Tippit fund have been coming in from many sections of the Upper Peninsula. Checks or money orders should be made out to the "J. D. Tippit Fund," he said. All collections will be sent to the Tippit family in time for Christmas, he stated.

Hit $100,000

DALLAS (AP) — Donations tabulated so far for the family of slain Dallas Policeman J. D. Tippit were around the $100,000 mark today as mail started to slack off.

Police Lt. Verne Hipskind said accountants totaled $44,084 in contributions coming into the police station. Money sent to other places now totals $55,000 or more.

Tippit, allegedly shot to death by Lee Harvey Oswald shortly after President Kennedy was assassinated 11 days ago, is survived by a wife and three children.

Hipskind said two sacks of mail came in Monday "and it seems to be letting up a little bit."

Fourteen sacks of letters and donations are left to be counted. Hipskind said contributions coming in for the widow and family of Oswald are being turned over to Secret Service personnel. He could give no estimate of how much Oswald's family has received.

Plymouth, Mass., 37 miles southeast of Boston on Plymouth Bay, is site of the first permanent settlement by Europeans in New England.

Toastmaster Club Slates Unusual Meet

Following the general outline of Toastmasters International, the Speakeasy Toastmasters Club of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base will hold an "extemporaneous meeting" Friday evening at 7:30.

Purpose of the "extemporaneous meeting" is to develop in members the ability to assume responsibility for handling all phases of a business meeting upon short notice.

Members will perform the duties of presiding officer, toastmaster, topic chairman, guest speaker, individual critic and general evaluator without prior notification.

The Toastmasters Club is an organized group of men who seek to increase their self-confidence through improvement of their speaking ability.

Though the ultimate goal of this club is to develop accomplished speakers, most members begin with little or no speech training or experience.

The club meets on the first and third Friday of each month at Sawyer.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law, who is otherwise a very decent and moral person, reads trashy literature. She gets all the confession-type magazines, illustrated with pictures of passionate kissing, or a drunken man ripping the nightgown off his wife. (You know the kind!) What she reads is her business and I really don't hold it against her, but I take my children to visit her often, and I don't want my 10- and 12-year-old daughters getting interested in trash like that. Lately when we go to Grandma's the girls head right for the magazine pile. They adore their Grandmother and I wouldn't have it otherwise, but what can I do?

IN BETWEEN: TELL GRANDMA THAT YOU WOULD RATHER NOT EXPOSE YOUR DAUGHTERS TO SUCH "SO-PHISTICATED" LITERATURE AT THEIR IMPRESSIONABLE AGES AND ASK HER KINDLY TO DITCH HER COLLECTION WHEN YOU VISIT.

DEAR ABBY: There's a very cute girl in my room, but I am sordid. Should I wait for her to drop a book or something before I give her any encouragement.

DEAR D.D.: Wait until she drops a LOOK. She could be "sordid" shy, too.

DEAR ABBY: It grieves me to see a wonderful woman like my stepmother treated the way she is. Abby, she has done things for my father that my real mother never did. He was a drunk when she married him (my mother divorced him) and he hasn't had a drink in over two years. She has worked by his side fixing up his little ranch. All his insurance is still made out to my mother, however. And although she is my real mother, she treated Dad like a dog because of his drinking problem, and finally threw him out. My stepmother made a man of him, and if anything happens to him, she won't get a thing. What can I do?

NO NAME PLEASE: REMIND YOUR FATHER OF HIS DEBT TO HIS SECOND WIFE—YOUR STEPMOTHER. BUT, REMEMBER, HE MAY HAVE RETRIBUTIVE OBLIGATIONS TO YOUR MOTHER. SO PROCEED CAUTIOUSLY.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WARREN: WE ALL STUMBLE AND FALL OCCASIONALLY IN THIS LIFE. BUT A PERSON ISN'T A FAILURE UNTIL HE SAYS SOMEBODY PUSHED HIM.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Violinist Olevsky's Artistry Displayed Here

By ALLAN S. COLES Of The Journal Staff

Not many weeks ago, pianist Richard Cass got the Marquette Community Concerts off to a flying start with a highly successful recital at Kaye Auditorium...

Despite advance notices to the effect that Olevsky's repertoire is huge and embraces works of all periods, including modern and contemporary music...

Olevsky is a finished artist, at least to the extent that he is already first-rate, although young, and has acquired a tone and technical mastery of astounding maturity.

The recital began with Vivaldi's "Suite in A Major." The work was eminently suitable for a beginning, as it gave Olevsky a chance to demonstrate the various facets of his skill.

Olevsky gave an excellent rendering of the Mendelssohn concerto, voicing the clear, noble beginning theme, the romantic second movement and the lovely final section in complete rapport with the composer's intent.

Returning from intermission, Olevsky gave a dancing, singing interpretation to the familiar "Havanaise" of Camille Saint-Saens...

The Paganini-Kreisler "Caprice" followed, and Olevsky gave further testimony of his technical artistry...

With the exception of a slower middle section, the work is one of constant motion in arpeggios, runs and difficult passages.

The audience responded well to this display of technique, calling Olevsky back for two encores.

The "Piece en forme de Habanera" by Ravel was the first work of a modern period Mr. Olevsky played...

Special School Election In Republic January 6th

REPUBLIC—A special school election has been scheduled for Monday, Jan. 6, 1964, by the Republic Central Schools Board of Education.

Purpose of the election is to seek an advisory vote by the people of the Republic School District concerning the tax levy of one additional mill on the state equalized valuation. The additional money obtained by such a levy would be used to provide transportation for participants in extra-curricular activities, provide equipment for and elementary playground at the new school, the building of a baseball diamond and track, and for certain summer recreational programs.

In 1960 voters of Republic Township authorized an additional levy of 17 mills over and above the contribution by the allocation board. However, the board has not found it necessary to levy more than 12 of these 17 mills during the past four years. If the special election on Jan. 6 should show that the people are in favor of an additional levy of one mill to be used as indicated, the additional levy would not be effective until December, 1964.

All voters in the Republic School District are reminded that the last day of registration for this special school election is Monday, Dec. 9.

Any qualified voter who has not registered before 5 p. m. on that date will not be permitted to vote. Residents also are reminded that if they have not voted in any township, state or national election during the past two years their registration has been cancelled by the township and that they must re-register before being eligible to vote.

New registrations and registrations will be accepted by the township clerk, Clarence Isaacson, at his residence.

Steel Production Passes 100-Million-Ton Mark

CLEVELAND — Steel production so far in 1963 already surpasses that of any full year since 1957, Steel magazine said today.

On Thanksgiving Day, ingot production reached the 100-million-ton mark. At the rate mills are pouring steel, the year's output will approximate 108 million tons vs. last year's 98.3 million and 1957's 112.7 million tons.

This week's production is expected to be about the same as the 1,995,000 tons that Steel estimates the industry poured last week, unchanged from the previous week's output despite holiday interruptions.

Steel's price composite on the No. 1 heavy melting grade of scrap (used in steelmaking) was at $26.67 a gross ton last week for the fourth straight week.

Demand Accelerating

Steel demand is accelerating across the board, Steel reported. Producers report conspicuous improvement in many markets and most products. They expect to book more tonnage this month than they sold in November and hope to maintain their current shipping pace the rest of the year.

Automakers are buying heavily for January delivery. So are many other customers — makers of appliances, farm equipment, earth moving machinery, machine tools and railroad cars. Canmakers are also stepping up purchases.

Financial Scene: Productivity Spurt Aids U.S. Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — A big spurt in productivity is being given much of the credit for the longer than average life of the present business upswing.

But the three-year better than usual rise in productivity is being both damned and praised. It is being tied to jobs and unemployment and to wages and prices and also viewed as a weapon in foreign trade battles.

Basic Definition Productivity thus means different things to different people. Its basic definition is how many units can be turned out in a manhour of labor.

To management this means the more units the lower the costs. Thus new equipment can be translated into lower prices, or maintained price margins, in competition with rivals at home or abroad. Or it can mean higher earnings, from which both future expansion and increased dividends can be paid. For labor the recent increase in productivity often goes now by the name of automation. And to many individual workers this has meant a loss of jobs, or the fear that still newer machinery will take away present jobs. This is true both in factories and in offices.

Eye 35-Hour Week Rising productivity is behind the drive for a 35-hour week.

Many Appearances Made By Choraleers

ISHPEMING — The Choraleers of Ishpeming are in the midst of a busy schedule.

Since September the group has sung in Marquette, Ishpeming and Trout Creek. In Marquette they sang for the St. Michael's Sodality and in Ishpeming the group provided entertainment for the "Miss Ishpeming" pageant and for the annual longevity awards dinner for Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. employees.

During October the Choraleers traveled to Trout Creek to perform an hour-long concert.

In November the Choraleers scored a smashing debut with higher fringe benefits, even in some cases a demand for a curb on future mechanization.

For government the rise in production has of late become a guideline for what is permissible, in the public interest, in the way of rising prices and wages. It is also a key factor in the drive for a greater rate of economic growth.

For the money managers the rise in productivity in the United States has been one of the chief helps in keeping American goods competitive in world markets, thus increase exports and reducing by that much the surplus of outflowing dollars over returning dollars—known as the deficit in the balance of payments.

Higher This Year In 1961 productivity gained by 3.3 per cent and in 1962 by 3.9 per cent. The rate this year is believed even higher. Newer equipment now being planned or tested promises still further gains in the unit output per manhour of labor—to the delight of some, to the dread of others.

There have been marked ups and downs in the rate of increase since World War II, but the average has been 3 per cent. This compares with the average of 2.5 per cent from 1919 to 1947.

The trend to greater productivity seems likely to continue. As the bankers say, "there is no reason to think that the education, research, management improvements and technical progress, which are behind the productivity advance, will abate."

So all the gains from this new productivity will be with us. And also most of its problems may remain.

the Northwoods Symphony Orchestra. This concert was presented in Iron River Nov. 3 and again Nov. 17 in Iron Mountain.

The critic's review in the Iron Mountain News stated: "The entire program was light, rhythmic and as played by the orchestra made one want to dance. The Choraleers, in turn, directed by Jack Boase, presented a group of familiar favorites, displaying a blend and tone quality which were outstanding, and again demonstrated that without question they are the top vocal group in the U.P."

With the coming holidays the singers are operating a heavy schedule. They are planning their annual "Parents Night" for Dec. 5. This is the time when parents and relatives who usually miss out on other concerts to fill the much-needed baby-sitting job for the 30 or more children of the Choraleers have a chance to hear them.

On Dec. 10 the group will be entertaining the St. Paul's Home and School Club of Negaunee with a program of secular and Christmas music.

Husbands and wives of Odd Fellows and Rebeccas will host the group in a similar program Dec. 14.

On Dec. 16 the Choraleers will present a program to the Lakeview School Parent - Teacher Association in Negaunee, and on Dec. 22 they will sing at the Mather Inn in Ishpeming for the Tri-City Masons and their wives.

Youth Council Holds 'Most Important Meeting' Dec. 16

ISHPEMING — The Ishpeming Youth Center Council will hold what it calls "our most important meeting" at 7:30 next Monday night, Dec. 16, in the city council chambers.

An invitation to attend has been extended to all member organizations and to any other interested persons concerned with the needs of Ishpeming's youth.

minimum cost to the youth group.

This arrangement was begun on a temporary basis until such time as a suitable site could be found for a youth center. However, a need for larger quarters prompted the Ishpeming Youth Council to ask for use of the Phelps Intermediate School.

Pressed into seeking a youth center of its own, the Ishpeming Youth Center Council has tackled the task of formulating plans for such a building. Numerous meetings have taken place, with discussions centering around the subject of whether the proposed new building should be labeled a youth center building or a community center.

For Use By All Residents Members of the council generally are agreed that the building be known as a community center, a center which could be used to its fullest extent by all of the people of Ishpeming, but with the provision that teenagers would have priority at least two nights a week for dances.

Depending on the amount of response at the Dec. 16 meeting, the Youth Center Council is prepared to make definite plans for financial arrangements. The council has approximately $10,000 saved for such a center. Another $22,500 is in a municipal account for the express use of "youth activities in the city of Ishpeming," a term which was clearly defined by the city council.

haps as few as 2,000. Civilization has been slowly encroaching upon the orangutan's living space, breaking up the large forested areas where the tree-dwelling ape roams and feeds.

Traded In Black Market Even now, unscrupulous trappers conduct a thriving black market in orangutans, selling the rare primates to American and European zoos for as much as $3,000 each.

Those that reach zoos, where they are often restricted to cages and get little exercise, live for an average of about four years. Thus orangutans do not breed often in captivity.

Powerfully Built Apes Orangutans, whose name means "man of the woods," are large, powerfully built apes. A full-grown male weighs up to 200 pounds, stands four and a half feet high, and measures more than seven feet from fingertip to fingertip.

The body is covered with long carrot-colored hair, the eyes are set close together. Adult orangutans usually develop heavy calluses on the cheeks and under the chin.

Tree To Tree Despite their great size, orangutans are more arboreal than chimpanzees or gorillas. They can move from tree to tree faster than a man can run on the ground.

Their movements, however, are cautious. The German zoologist Schlegel and Muller described an orangutan in motion: "The sureness and careful consideration with which he goes to work are impressive. Slowly and carefully he moves himself on a great overhanging branch, lays himself flat upon it and stretches out as far as possible towards his objective, thus testing its strength and its ability to bend under his weight in the desired direction.
